WOODWORK

IN THIS sports age where players and coaches are pressured to win at any cost and to the devil with anybody else, it's not surprising that the old-fashioned virtue of good sportsmanship is harder and harder to spot in athletic contests at any level. This doesn't mean there aren't any, because we hear of them often, and it makes us feel good. Unfortunately I can't remember who it was, but I do recall reading just the other day about a school's student body which took up a collection to help a youth on a rival football team who had been injured.

It's too bad, but just about every school and every team — including ours — has its share of people who don't know the meaning of sportsmanship. We even know of a coach who said earlier this year that he used to give special emblems on the helmets of players who hurt an opposing team's player badly enough that he couldn't return to the game.

Adults, of course, are to blame for the reflected attitudes of players. We've heard a few fans here applaud when another team's youngster was down and hurt. We've heard fans yell things at players and officials that ought to make them ashamed of themselves, in basketball games, in football games, and in Little League baseball.

Well, I really hate to get all this serious. I love to win, and I want the teams I support to play their very hardest and best. But I want them to play fair, and I'm convinced that the great majority of fans of every team in the area feels the same way.

TWO small boys were gazing at a zebra in the zoo. "What a funny animal," said one. "What is it?" "I don't know for sure," said the other. "But I think it's a sports model donkey."

The Sudan Hornets upped their winning streak to five after holding the Lazbuddie team scoreless Friday night in a 53-0 game. With only three conference games remaining, the Hornets have a 5-2-0 season record and 3-0-0 district record. Coach Jackie Stewart's Hornets and the Motley County Matadors of Coach Ray Seclik are the only two undefeated teams in the north zone of District 2-B. However, the title is still up for grabs. The Hornets travel to Nazareth Friday night, and the Matadors take on the Bulldogs at Amherst.

with 1:54 into the first quarter on a one yard run by HB Kyle Martin after a 53 yard drive in only seven plays. The point after kick failed. They scored again in the first quarter with 6:02 on the clock on a 15 yard scamper by HB Richard Tamplin. This play followed a 72 yard drive in nine plays. The running try for two extra points failed.

The third touchdown for Sudan came after only 1:19 of play in the second period on a pass play from QB Mitch Chester of 36 yards to Tamplin, the first play after an interception of a Lazbuddie pass by Kyle Martin. The points after was made on a completed pass to Martin from Chester. The Hornets now led 20-0. They scored again 31 seconds later on a 12 yard run by Danny Williams to climax a 41 yard drive in four plays. Williams carried the ball over also for two extra points.

The fifth touchdown of the half came with 5:11 on the clock. Chester kept the ball on a surprise play with an 11 yard run behind the blocking of linemen. This TD was set up after a 56 yard drive in eight plays. The half ended with 34-0 score in favor of the Hornets.

The Hornets continued to dominate the game during the second half with the Hornet's second team at work during the remainder of the game and Craig Pickett as quarterback. Martin scored in the third quarter on a 27 yard run following a 90 yard drive in 12 plays. A big play in the drive was on fourth down when Pickett got a poor snap and was forced to run. He ran for 23 yards and a first down. The Hornets scored two times in the fourth quarter, once on a one yard run by Brian May, and again on a 32 yard run by Jerry Williams as he broke loose from tackles. Tracy Bowling kicked the extra point which was the only good kick of the night for extras.

The teams were comparable in size with Sudan having only a nine pound per man advantage, but that's where the comparison ended. Sudan netted 28 first downs, Lazbuddie 3, and 555 total yards to 65.

There will not be the usual Pep Rally this Friday due to no school that day. However, about 3:45 p. m. the Pep Squad and Hornet Band will meet at the back of the field house for yell and music as the team boards the bus to leave for Nazareth. All other interested persons are urged to be on hand to help boost the team to another district win.

The JV and junior high football teams lost their games last week to Amherst at the local football field. This week the local JVs will host Nazareth and the junior high team will go to Lazbuddie. Their football season is fast moving to an end also with the game remaining this week. They will host Amherst on October 31 for the title game.

The win Friday night was a big one for Sudan. Coach Stewart stated that our kids didn't know what it was like to win by big scores before the last two weeks, and the wins over Happy and Lazbuddie showed them that football can be a fun game if they play ball.

"It's some team goals before the game and our kids did an outstanding job. Our defensive job was to not let Lazbuddie have but two first downs. Our offensive goal was to get five touchdowns in the first half and three in the second, and we reached that goal," commented Stewart.

He added that every young man on the team did the job that was asked of him. We played our second team the entire second half and they gave a great effort.

Forum Set

A public forum on the 1976 Texas State Plan for Vocational Education will be held by the State Advisory Council for Technical-Vocational Education October 30 in Austin.

The forum is scheduled to begin at 10 a. m. at the Texas Education Agency, 201 East 11th Street.

Approximately 775,000 school-age and adult students across Texas are affected by the State Plan, which governs administration of vocational education.

Treating a child as if he were a special person helps him feel good about himself. Hene Carrington, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas AGM University System, points out.

The Farm Labor Registration Act (FLRA) when passed in 1963 was badly needed. It was designed, and served rather well, to curb the undesirable and sometimes shameful exploitation of migrant farm workers by professional farm labor recruiters and "crew chiefs."

Now there are those who would by means of amendments turn the Act into much more than legislation to curb the activities of the unscrupulous, according to Ed Dean, Field Service Director of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. Dean just returned from a Washington meeting of the National Council of Agricultural Employers (NCAE), of which PCG is a charter member. NCAE officials discussed FLRA amendments pending in the Senate and held conferences with farm state Senators. Dean is the Texas member of the NCAE Board of Directors.

A long list of amendments were passed by the Senate on May 7th. The House, on October 11th, adopted amendments to the Senate amendments and, instead of sending the measure to a House-Senate Conference Committee as is standard procedure, sent it back to the Senate for concurrence with the House action.

The legislation passed by the House and now pending in the Senate removes both of those limitations. In addition, the House amendments exempt from regulation only the regular, full-time employees of farmers, ginners or other processors who supply labor other than for their own employer "on no more than an incidental basis."

This leaves much room for interpretation by the Department of Labor, the agency charged with enforcement of the Act, says Dean. An "unfriendly" interpretation, which is not uncommon in the long history of Labor Department interpretation of laws where agriculture is concerned, "could mean that crew leader registration, record keeping, insurance requirements and other regulations would apply to farm employees doing custom work on a neighborhood farm," Dean said.

NCAE representatives, Dean reports, were able to secure through the Office of Texas Senator Lloyd Bentsen a commitment from the Senate Subcommittee on Agricultural Labor that the subcommittee interpretation of "no more than an incidental basis" would be clearly spelled out during debate on the Senate floor.

Experience has shown that this will be no guarantee that the Act will be administered sensibly, but having the committee intent spelled out in the Congressional Record should help.

The 4-H Foods and Nutrition Series, "Mulligan Stew" will be shown on this broadcast area by 4-H TV, Channel 11. It is being provided by the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas AGM University and the United States Department of Agriculture. "Mulligan Stew" will be shown at 1:00 p. m., each Saturday beginning October 26 and will continue for six Saturdays through November 30 according to Mrs. Dorothy Powell, County Extension Agent.

Boys and girls who enroll in the TV series will be considered a member of the Mulligan Stew 4-H Club. Boys and girls in the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades in Lamb County schools will participate in the series. Each child who enrolls will receive a member guide which provides numerous activities to reinforce and extend the educational value of the series. At the conclusion of the series, each child will be eligible for a completion certificate.

Any boy or girl who is not enrolled in the series through a school can call Mrs. Powell at 385-4004 to request a free member guide to go along with the series.

Miss Penelope S. Mudgett of Austin and Daniel H. Mills of Houston were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at 4:00 p. m. on Saturday, October 19, 1974 in the Immanuel Lutheran Church at Pflugerville. Officiating was the pastor, D. Lee Muehlbrad.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wiley H. Mudgett of Sudan, and Mr. and Mrs. Conway R. Mills of Austin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white illusion over saten with long sleeves, and chapel train of sheer illusion and cotton lace trim. The ballerina length veil was trimmed in lace. She carried a bouquet of red roses and baby's breath tied with red ribbon "love knots".

Two arrangements of red roses flanked the church altar.

Mrs. Lewis M. Quigg of Pueblo, Colo. served her sister as matron of honor. Maid of honor was Miss Ann Walker of Amarillo. Other attendants were Mrs. Randy Jordan of Gainesville; Miss Mary Gilliam, and Miss Christine Mills, sister of the groom, both of Austin. They wore red chiffon dresses over red taffeta and were of fitted wrap-around style with a sheer chiffon shawl-draped collar. They carried long-stemmed red roses trimmed with greenery and ribbon.

The best man was Trey Heep of Austin. Groomsmen were Robert Fikes of Charlotte, Mike Rogers, Steve Ray and Robert Wolf all of Austin.

Following the ceremony, a wedding reception was held in the Educational Hall of the church.

The couple went to San Antonio for their wedding trip and are at home at 5800 Gulfport # 63, Houston.

The bride is a 1969 graduate of Sudan High School, received a B.A. degree in Art Education in 1973 from Baylor University; and is presently employed by the State Bar Association of Austin.

The groom is a graduate of Pflugerville High School and of The University of Texas with a B.A. in Government. He is presently attending Bates College of Law at The University of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Drake visited in El Paso during the weekend with her sister-in-law and niece, Mrs. Thelma Agee and Evelyn, and with other relatives.

Fall and winter fashions show the hemline at the knee and below. Many women may be caught with not enough fabric to let the hem down, Marlene Odle, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, predicts.

Fresh ham is meat from the hind leg of pork which has not been smoked or cured. It tastes and looks more like a pork roast. Mrs. Mary Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

A training school for 110 new State Troopers with the Texas Department of Public Safety will start February 11, 1975, announced Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander. "We have several new benefits to offer qualified aplicants," Bell said. "For instance, the pay during training is $651.00 per month. Upon commission this salary is increased to $743.00 per month; after six months of law enforcement duty this is elevated to $768.00 and further advanced to $820.00 upon completion of 12 months' law enforcement experience.

"Also our selection methods are more liberal, and qualified female applicants are now being accepted for the uniformed services of the DPS. In addition, the Department has been increasingly successful in hiring persons from minority groups."

To qualify for employment in the uniformed ser-

VICES of the DPS, an applicant must be between the ages of 20 and 35; of good moral character; excellent physical condition; weight proportionate to height; visual acuity of 20/40 correctable to 20/20; a citizen of the United States; and a minimum of sixty semester college hours.

"Among the many benefits that troopers enjoy," Bell pointed out, "are two weeks' annual vacation; all holidays provided for by the Legislature; modern, liberal retirement system; group hospitalization and life insurance plans; traveling expenses; longevity pay; and uniforms with all the necessary equipment to perform their duties."

For complete information concerning the position of trooper, training and benefits, Bell asked that those who are interested contact the nearest DPS trooper or DPS office. "In return," he said, "they will receive complete information in regard to the application and employment procedures."

Convention At Amarillo

Texas Baptists are returning to Amarillo for their first convention visit in 27 years.

The passage of time has seen a double in the number of church members and a budget that has increased five-fold.

The annual session of the Baptist General Convention of Texas opens at Amarillo Civic Center at 6:30 p. m. Oct. 29 and runs through noon, Oct. 31.

At the last Amarillo convention in 1947, the state's 3,140 Southern Baptist congregations had 1-million members, compared to today's two million belonging to 4,200 churches and missions.

The convention program will highlight the $20 million budget for 1975 in observance of the 50th anniversary of the Cooperative Program. The 1947 budget was $4 million.

In other business, the messengers will vote on a report by the Institutional Study Committee which has been working for two years to strengthen 26 Texas Baptist institutions from childcare facilities to universities.

The report calls for turning the Human Welfare Commission and the Christian Education Commission into coordinating boards.

A Wichita Falls pastor who took the podium to give a Home Mission report in Amarillo 27 years ago, Dr. James H. Landes, returns this year to focus on "Texas Baptists Today" in his one-year-old role as Texas Baptist executive secretary.

Dr. Ralph Smith of Austin, expected to be re-elected to his second consecutive term as convention president, will address the messengers at the opening session.

The convention will be preceded by meetings of the Woman's Missionary Union which begins at 10 a. m. on Monday at Amarillo's First Baptist Church and Texas Baptist Men, convening across the parking lot that afternoon at Polk Street Methodist Church.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Anderson of Midland visited last week with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rogers and Gaylene. They all visited in Amarillo with their brother, C. C. Baird who recently underwent surgery there.

Bob Drake was in Amarillo Monday on business.

GREAT PLAINS FUNDS AVAILABLE

The Soil Conservation has funds available for long term conservation contracts under the Great Plains Conservation Program. These 3 to 10 year contracts must be written in the next two months.

Some of the conservation practices that can be cost-shared are parallel terraces, diversions, waterways, pasture planting, and irrigation pipelines. The cost-share rate varies with each practice.

The conservation practices that will be needed are determined by the soil type on each individual farm and the landowner's desires. Practices are scheduled over a period of years for the most practical and orderly completion of the contract.

Farmers and ranchers who are interested can get more details by contacting the Soil Conservation Service at the County Courthouse in Littlefield, phone 385-4044.

TDS REPORT

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 12 accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of September, 1974, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person killed and five persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first nine months of 1974 shows a total of 82 accidents resulting in four persons killed and 49 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for September, 1974, shows a total of 471 accidents resulting in 17 persons killed and 213 persons injured as compared to September, 1973 with 601 accidents resulting in 24 persons killed and 364 persons injured. This was 130 less accidents, seven less killed, and 151 less injured in 1974 at the same period of time.

The 17 traffic deaths for the month of September, 1974, occurred in the following counties: two each in Lipscomb, Moore, Farmer, Haskell, and Parker; and one each in Castro, Deaf Smith, Hartley, Oldham, Randall, Hale and Lamb.

Bookmatches were responsible for an estimated 6,000 injuries in the last half of 1972. These injuries required hospital emergency room treatment. Consumers now have a chance to suggest safety standards to the Secretary of the Consumer Product Safety Commission by this month, according to Lynn Bourland, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Think safe. Buy matches and be careful. What "BE CAREFUL" really means.

COST-PRICE SQUEEZE CONTRIBUTES TO INFLATION

Positive action by all food related industries can help make a turn-around in the cost-price squeeze that is crippling our economy and contributing to inflation today, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said recently.

"I am urging every segment of the food chain to look at all production and sales methods for ways to cut costs," said White. "Today, there is too wide a gap between what the farmer receives for his products and the prices being paid by consumers at the retail level."

Commissioner White said he was grateful that his two weeks of negotiations with ranchers and dairymen recently had helped prevent mass slaughters of calves in Texas.

An earlier appeal this year by White to national food chains brought about some renewed efforts to generate sales of meat at competitive prices. "All food stores, wholesalers and processors must take a hard look for methods that will reduce expenses and then pass the savings on to the consumers," White declared. "The gap between farm and retail prices is wider than at any time in the past 30 years."

"Transportation charges could be decreased by revision of shipping methods and removal of some inhibiting and costly national regulations on manufacturing and processing could be deleted and help reduce retail prices.

"Farm prices have dropped at least 18 per cent in the past year and are below production costs in many cases. Yet, corresponding drops have not taken place on food costs. The farmers and the consumers both need a fair break in the market place but the whole system is not responding as it should," White added.

Commissioner White said the Texas Department of Agriculture is working with other state departments and federal agencies in an effort to correct current inequities. "But it requires cooperation from every segment of the food industry," he noted.

On the international level, White has met with representatives of several oil producing countries in an effort to reduce fuel costs for agriculture. "We received a very favorable reception for the idea from representatives of two countries and hope to continue negotiations on cheaper fuel supplies.

Tips on Wood Finishing

HOW TO MAKE A HARVEST WALL DISPLAY

A rough-hewn wooden box you make yourself is the start of an elegant three-dimensional Harvest Wall Display. The box is simple to make with just a hand saw, hammer and small nails. Inside the box, use thin slats of wood as partitions to form as many compartments as your imagination and materials require.

Apply a liberal coat of wood finish in a rustic natural tone or a lively decorator color. Then just fill the compartments with an assortment of beans, seeds and dried flowers.

Secure a lid of glass by nailing a thin frame of finished wood to the inside edges of the box. Attach wire for hanging and your Harvest Display is ready for place of honor.

More handy advice on easy wood finishing is contained in a free 16-page booklet, "Tips on Wood Finishing." Write, Minwax Company, Inc., Dept. AQ, 41 Oak Street, Clifton, New Jersey 07014.

Q. What are triglycerides?
A. Loosely speaking, triglyceride is another word for fat. The fat in our foods and in our bodies is primarily a mixture of a variety of triglycerides. During digestion, food fats are broken down into their component parts which can then be recombined to form the triglycerides characteristic of our bodies. The body also synthesizes fat from carbohydrates especially when caloric intake is higher than caloric expenditure. Several hours after a meal that contains fat, the triglyceride level in the blood normally rises and then gradually drops. In some individuals, however, the blood triglyceride level is continuously high. This tendency may be inherited and is sometimes linked to obesity, diabetes, and coronary heart disease. Continuously high blood triglyceride levels are most likely to occur with a high caloric diet that is rich in carbohydrates but low in fats. Ironically, a diet that is moderately high in fat but restricted in total calories is used to treat a continuously high triglyceride level in the blood.

For more information on the role of fats in your meals, you can write for a free leaflet "Questions & Answers about Corn Oil" available from Dept. GN, P.O. Box 307, Coventry, CT 06238.
