WOODWORK

by Dalton

ON SUNDAY, the Billy Graham Crusade will start its eight-day campaign in Lubbock at Texas Tech's Jones Stadium. We certainly would urge everyone to go to the crusade, although our urging will have little noticeable effect, since the stadium undoubtedly will be filled to overflowing anyway.

One fellow was talking about how much money it must take to operate a crusade on such a scale, and another one nearby commented that it makes no difference, since Billy has a rich Father. He also said he wanted to go out there and see all those big gains made in the stadium, predicting the score would be about 40,000 for the Lord and zero for the Devil every night.

SPEAKING of scoring and football stadiums, it's just about time for Texas' major sport to really get going, and everywhere you go, faithful fans of their local team are hopefully optimistic that this is sure going to be their year. For some, it will be; for others there will be disappointment, but they'll stay out there and support their youngsters anyway.

Some of my own youngsters will be going off to school at Howard College in Big Spring, where they have a very nice football stadium. Howard hasn't lost a football game in the last several years. They dropped the sport about then, and now they have this fine stadium and no football. I think the high school uses it, though.

KNOTHOLES in the Woodwork: The highest denomination notes in circulation are U. S. Federal Reserve Bank notes for $10,000, carrying a picture of Salmon Portland Chase, says the Guinness Book of World Records. I'm surprised it isn't Joe Namath or Jimmy Connors...The Consumer Product Safety folks say more than 5 million aluminum baseball bats with rubber grips sold since 1968 are dangerous because the bat can fly out of the grip. There have been two major injuries and one death...Some guy at a water meeting downstate suggested last weekend that people are flushing their toilets too much. Well, you know, out of sight, out of mind...All of which reminds us that our office restroom certainly could use some updating and upgrading. Some of us have memorized the October 1972 issue of Good Housekeeping from cover to cover.

CHURCH HOLDS ASSEMBLY IN TENNESSEE

LAMB CO. FARM BUREAU TO HOLD CONVENTION SAT.

The Lamb County Farm Bureau Convention will be held in Lamb County's new Agriculture Center in Littlefield on Saturday, Sept. 6. There will be a 12 o'clock noon luncheon for all Farm Bureau members in Lamb County with reservations for the meal in by today (Sept. 4).

Lamb County Farm Bureau feels honored to have the State President, Carol Chapman, speaking. He is a former from Dalhart.

Schedule

The Sudan Hornets met a tough bunch of Eagles from Seagraves last Friday in a scrimmage here. The Hornets played a good first series against the Eagles. However, in the second series the Hornets did not fare so well, as they allowed Seagraves to score their only touchdowns.

Craig Pickett, the starting quarterback for the Hornets, missed the scrimmage due to illness. Edgar Tompkins took over his chores and did a good job. It was the first time he had ever played QB in a game.

The offense still must come up with more consistency. Some plays were executed very good and then there would be a break down.

The first series on defense, the Hornets did a good job holding the Eagles. In the second series was a different story as many of the Hornets began making mistakes. They will learn from these mistakes and will find out that if you make mistakes against a good ball club that they will kill you.

BILL CLAYTON TO SPEAK HERE

Bill Clayton, Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, will be in Lamb County Monday and Tuesday, September 22 and 23 to discuss the proposed new Texas Constitution with area residents. A meeting will be held at the Sudan School on Monday, September 22, from 5:00 until 5:45 p.m. On Tuesday, September 23, the Speaker will have another meeting at the Lamb County Agriculture and Community Building in Littlefield from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Speaker Clayton, who is from Springlake, will comment on the proposed constitutional revisions and will answer any questions people might have on the new charter.

"I'm looking forward to talking with the people in my district about the effect the new constitution will have on us West Texas," said Speaker Clayton.

BAPTIST REVIVAL SET SEPT. 8-14

Rev. M. V. Summers, pastor of the local First Baptist Church, has announced that they have scheduled a revival for September 8-14.

The evangelist will be Rev. Jack Albright, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clayton, N.M. He is a graduate of Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, and of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. He has been pastor of several churches in Texas and New Mexico and enjoys an excellent reputation as a Biblical teacher and preacher.

Paul Williams, evangelistic singer, is minister of music of one of our sister churches in Lubbock. He will be directing the Revival Choir, congregational music and providing the special music for the revival.

Time of services will be 12:00 to 1:00 P.M., a noon meeting Monday through Friday for meal and program; nightly services at 7:30 P.M. for singing and preaching; with Sunday School at 9:45 September 14 to be followed by morning worship at 11:00 with the evening worship to begin at 7:00 P.M.

Rev. Summers states that a nursery will be provided for evening services and invites the public to attend.

REPORT FROM GENERAL TELEPHONE COMPANY

A one-minute rate for all hours and all days, and special calling periods with up to 40 per cent savings over day time rates for customer dialed station-to-station long distance calls placed within Texas can help telephone customers save on toll calls even though all rates have been increased, according to L. L. Porter, traffic director for General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Porter said the rates General Telephone charges customers for intrastate long distance calls were increased August 11 when Southwestern Bell placed new rates in effect. He explained that Bell operates most of the long distance facilities in Texas and establishes statewide rates.

"Even though all of the intrastate rates have increased, customers can save money by taking advantage of the new one-minute rate which is in effect at all times," Porter

After a revised constitution failed to win majority approval by the 1974 Constitutional Convention, the 64th regular session of the legislature passed eight proposals last April completely revising the present document. Under the leadership of Speaker Clayton and Lieutenant Governor Hobby, the legislature built on the work of the Convention and agreed to give Texas voters the opportunity to vote yes or no on each of the revision proposals.

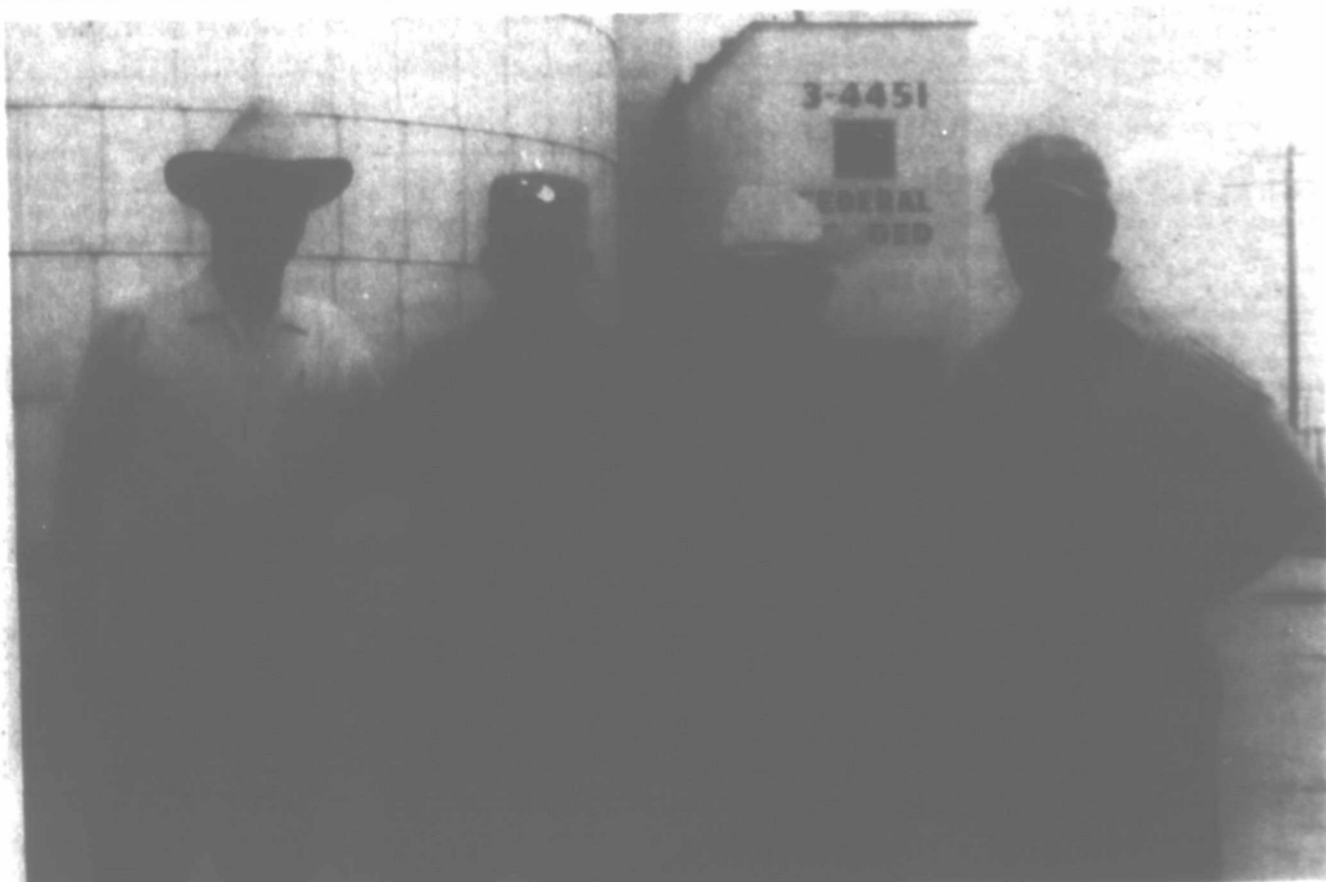

The election deciding the fate of the new constitution will be held November 4. This will be the first time since 1876 that Texas voters have been given the opportunity to vote on a complete constitutional revision proposed constitution in full because every registered voter in the state will receive an information booklet on the constitutional revision. The booklet will contain the full text of the proposed constitution, background information, and an outline comparing the present and the proposed documents. It is being mailed the second week in September by the Secretary of State's office.

He explained that prior to August 11 intrastate calls were charged for a minimum of three minutes plus charges for each additional minute except between 11 p.m. and 8 a.m. when the one-minute rate was in effect. Under the one-minute rate, customers are charged for each minute or fraction of minute they talk.

He continued by saying the day rate in effect from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, is the highest dial in yourself rate in effect. However, he added, the day rate is reduced 30 per cent when the call is placed during the evening hours between 5 p.m. and 11 p.m., Sunday through Friday. In addition, the day rate is lowered 40 per cent for additional savings when the call is dialed by the customer under the night calling period in effect from 11 p.m. until 8 a.m., Monday through Friday, all hours on Saturday and until 5 p.m. Sunday.

Porter pointed out that rates for operator assisted calls have one rate regardless of the hour or day. Operator assisted calls include col-

MYASTHENIA GRAVIS FOUNDATION TO MEET

The Northwest Texas Chapter of the Myasthenia Gravis Foundation, announce the forth-coming MELBA BANDY MASTERS MEMORIAL CLINIC for Myasthenia Gravis patients, Friday September 5, 1975, beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning, at the HI-Plains Hospital,

Hale Center, Texas. This free patient clinic is being funded by a Trust given by the E. E. Masters family of Cotton Center, in memory of Mrs. Melba Masters who was a victim of myasthenia gravis. It is hoped that the fund will be maintained through donations, enabling this free event to become an annual clinic and hopefully semi-annual. The trust fund is set up at the First National Bank of Hale Center, and memorials or contributions may be made directly to the account at the bank.

For the fifth time, Dr. J. E. Tether of Indianapolis Indiana, will be in Hale Center to conduct the all day clinic. Assisting him will be the Medical Staff of HI-Plains Hospital. Dr. Tether is a noted authority on the diagnosis and management of Myasthenia Gravis, having been active in the field of MG for over 20 years. He is a Professor of Neurology at the University of Indiana School of Medicine and is the physician in charge of the Myasthenia Gravis Clinic at the Indiana University Medical Center. He is a member of the National Foundation of Myasthenia Gravis and has served on the Medical Advisory Board since its inception. Dr. Tether is the author of several textbooks and articles on Myasthenia Gravis.

The Northwest Texas Chapter of the Myasthenia Gravis Foundation supports free patient clinics and a Drug Bank where the myasthenic can buy the medicine which is essential in the control of the disease, at less cost. The Chapter sends out educational material for patients, doctors, and nurses upon request. They also handle many letters regarding myasthenia gravis problems. Money is needed to carry on this work which benefits so many people. J. E. McVicker of Muleshoe is Chapter Chairman, and E. E. Masters of Cotton Center is Treasurer.

THEY HAD A FUNERAL BUT NOBODY DIED

The year was 1914. Woodrow Wilson left his cabinet meeting to push a pearl-embossed button. Hundreds of miles away a cannon was electronically activated in the Bayou City. With that boom, a part of Buffalo Bayou officially was christened the Houston Ship Channel.

Houston grew as a major seaport (now third in the nation), as industries began building their plants along the channel banks. And as the city grew and industries multiplied, so did the wastes going into the channel.

But with progress came problems. In the mid-1960's systematic surveys of the channel revealed that there was no oxygen in the water and consequently no marine life.

So a clean-up campaign was launched. In December of 1965, the Texas Water Pollution Control Board, predecessor of the Texas Water Quality Board, adopted an order to control wastes going into the channel. But it was in 1967, when the Texas Water Quality Board was created, that strict requirements were instituted for cities and industries along the channel to clean up their waste discharges.

Even so, in December of 1970 some 100 persons gathered on the banks to pay their last respects to the Ship Channel, declared dead at the age of 56. Cause—suffocation.

But the old girl was only sleeping. She was far from gone.

About two years later some industries began to find their intake lines clogged with shrimp, crabs, oysters and other marine life. And by 1973 some oxygen was present in the entire length of the channel.

Now, five years after the funeral, the Houston Ship Channel has come back to life. Seagulls again are regular visitors, feasting on delicacies in the channel—that umbilical cord which the Texas to the rest of the world.

The channel isn't as clean as it needs to be or as it will be, but we're working on it.

Myasthenia Gravis is a neuromuscular disease characterized by varying weakness of the voluntary muscles of the body. It is aggravated by exertion, emotion, infection, or any kind of stress. It is relieved, in part, by rest and anticholinesterase drugs. Onset may be insidious or sudden. The initial symptom may only be unusual fatigability. This may be accompanied by aching in the neck, back, or legs in milder cases. Ptosis of one or both eyelids, blurred vision due to difficult focus, or actual diplopia are the most frequent early signs and symptoms. Slurring, nasal tones, jaw weakness, and fatigue on chewing may occur early in more severe cases. Many complain of arm fatigue on reaching up, as in case of hair or in shaving. Legs tire on stairs or short walks and may collapse without warning.

If you are a victim of Myasthenia Gravis, or you are an interested person, you are urged to attend the Myasthenia Gravis Free Patient Clinic, Friday September 5, 1975 beginning at 8:00 A.M. at the HI-Plains Hospital, Hale Center, Texas. Appointments may be made by calling the hospital, (806) 839-2471, Ext. 36.

Economists Predict Limited Job Growth For Salesworkers

Salesworkers are expected to increase to 6.5 million by 1985, up from 5.4 million in 1972, but changing sales techniques may limit growth somewhat.

This is the prediction of two labor economists in the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

In 1985, they say, salesworkers will comprise a smaller percentage of the workforce than they did in 1972—6.4 per cent compared to 6.6 per cent. This projected slowdown in growth is due to an expected slowdown in the increase of jobs in trade, which employs more than two-thirds of all salesworkers.

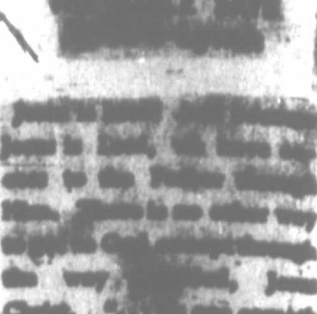

As stores remain open longer and expand into suburban areas, demand will probably increase for salesworkers. But changes in sales practices, such as greater use of self-service check-out counters and vending machines, are expected to slow this increase.

CHURCH ASSEMBLY-----

On Saturday, the young peoples' service was held. Over 6,000 youth were present representing each state and country. The theme was "Greater Is He That is in Youth Than He That is in the World".

The church business meeting was conducted Monday where overseers of the states and countries were appointed. Bishop Hector Ortiz was re-appointed as overseer of West Texas.

West Texas had approximately 108 attending the assembly. These from Sudan were Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Brannan, Ryland and Nancy; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Richards and Donna; Mrs. Vera Richards; Mrs. Alvin Richards and Alvin Richards, Jr.

Jesus came to save his people from their sin. (Matthew 1:21), the saved are added to the church, the church is the body of Christ, the bride of Christ, the organization purchased by the blood of Christ, HOW CAN WE SAY JESUS YES, THE CHURCH NO? Jesus said in Matthew 16:18, "...I will build my church!" This was shortly after his good friend and loved one John the baptizer had been beheaded. (Matthew 14) Let us notice several things about Jesus' statement; First of all, "I" is a personal pronoun. Jesus would build it personally, no one else. Secondly, "will build" is future, the church had not been built yet. Thirdly, "my" is a personal pronoun again, it would belong to Jesus and to no one else. And finally, "church" is singular, there was to be only one! Jesus came to build His church.

He died and purchased people from every tribe and tongue to be in His church (Revelation 5:9). Jesus has all authority as head of His church. Our obligation is to listen to Him in matters concerning His church which he died for and purchased with His own blood.

The Lt Governor's Report

By Bill Hobby

AUSTIN—On July 13, 1882, Jim Hogg later to be one of Texas' greatest governors, wrote to his brother, John "Our cup of joy is overflowing! We have a daughter of as fine proportions and of as angelic mien as ever gracious nature favored a family, and her name is Ima!" Thus the birth of Miss Ima Hogg was noted by an adoring father whose words were to be proven true throughout each day of her 93 years. Not only was her life a joy to her family, but it was also a joy and a blessing to the State of Texas which she so loved. Miss Ima died on 1928, for Miss Ima August 20th in London where she was continuing to pursue her active interest in life, but the countless gifts of love which she gave to Texas and her fellow Texans are a memorial which will live to be enjoyed by many generations to come.

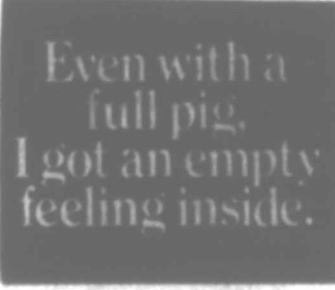

Born in Mineola, Miss Ima studied piano at the University of Texas and at schools in New York and Germany before going to Houston to teach piano in 1909. Her interest in music inspired her to join in founding the Houston Symphony Orchestra.

She helped arrange a trial concert in the New Majestic Theater on June 21, 1913. In December, 1913, the symphony presented its first formal concert. The first season cost the Symphony Society $1,500. Its projected budget for next season is $2.7 million.

In 1968, Miss Ima decided her home, Bayou Bend, to the Houston Museum of Fine Arts. Bayou Bend was built in 1928, for Miss Ima, Governor Hogg's only daughter, and two of her brothers, Mike and Will. The home housed her many invaluable collections, including impressionist and expressionist art works she began collecting in Germany in 1934, Indian arts which contained some 200 Kachina Dolls, and the family's collection of Frederich Remington paintings. She was a founder of the Hogg Foundation for Mental Health and the Houston Child Guidance Center. She served on the Houston School Board from 1943 to 1949. In 1946, Miss Ima became the first woman president of the then 110-year-old Texas Philosophical Society. In 1962, she was named a distinguished alumnus of the University of Texas. In 1966, she was cited for her historical interests by the National Trust for Historic Preservation. She was appointed by President Eisenhower, in 1960, to the advisory committee on the arts for the National Cultural Center in Washington, D.C. Miss Ima Hogg was one of the truly great women of her time. She had great beauty both of face and spirit. Perhaps her most valuable legacies to us were her tremendous enthusiasm for life, her emphasis on the present, her optimism for the future, her love of beauty and her ability to find it in all people and all things.

United States Savings Bonds vs. the Piggy Bank. 1. If the Piggy Bank is stolen, you lose what's in it. That's the way it is with cash. If a Bond is stolen, you get a new one. 2. A Piggy Bank is easy for even the owner to rob. But Bonds can be bought through your Payroll Savings Plan at work, and a little is taken out of each check before you can get your hands on it. 3. The Piggy Bank may look kind and generous, but it won't give you any interest. A U.S. Savings Bond yields 6%, when held to 5-year maturity. 4. The Piggy Bank money just sits there. A Bond helps your country. In summary, you might wonder why grown folks would even use Piggy Banks. It's so much smarter to buy Bonds. Avoid that empty feeling. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds. Series E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

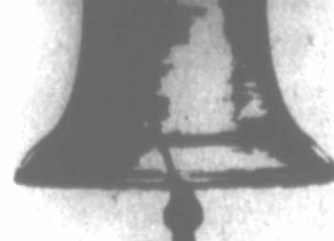

Take stock in America. Join the Payroll Savings Plan. A dollar invested in the government and The Advertising Office.

Animal Health Meeting Set... Cattle On Feed Up Slightly... Milk Production Declines... Next Crop Report Due Sept. 11.

A meeting to discuss proposed changes in brucellosis programs for Texas will be held Sept. 4 at 9:30 a.m. in Room 117, Sam Houston Building, Austin. Members of the Texas Animal Health Commission will listen to comments on proposed changes which would realign state regulations to conform with federal rules.

Brucellosis continues to be a major problem for the livestock industry in Texas.

CATTLE ON FEED in Texas as of Aug. 1 totaled 1,331,000 head, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service at Austin notes. This is a five per cent increase over a month ago, but is 26 per cent below a year ago and about 50 percent lower than 14 months ago.

Nationwide, there were 5,932,000 head of cattle on feed as of Aug. 1. This is down one per cent from a month ago and 15 per cent below the same period a year ago.

Recent increases in feed grains have changed the price outlook for feeders in the coming months. A shortage of fed beef could occur later this year, many feeders warn. This would be caused by a lack of profits among cattle feeders.

MILK PRODUCTION in Texas during July is down two per cent from the same period a month ago and is down one per cent below the previous month. Nationwide, milk production is down 1.4 per cent from a year ago.

WHILE THE AUGUST CROP REPORT has now become history, don't forget that the September crop report will be out shortly. Sept. 11 is the date for its release, and producers, consumers, and speculators will be watching for it eagerly.

Meanwhile, crop harvesting continues in a big way throughout the state. Cotton harvest is picking up speed and with hot, dry weather it should move along rapidly. First bales have been reported in a number of Blackland counties.

Sorghum harvest is now more than half finished throughout the state. Prospects on the High and Low Plains are considered good to excellent. Rainfall in some parts of the state has caused some slowdown of the harvest.

Corn harvest is underway in the southern half. Yields this year for the state read like a midwestern production report. The estimated per acre yield for Texas is 105 bushels per acre. This is the first Texas crop to exceed 100 bushels per acre in 54 years.

Rice harvest is at the half-way completion mark. Yields generally have been satisfactory.

Vegetable harvest is also making a lot of progress throughout the state. On the High Plains, only a few onions remain to be harvested.

In North Texas, harvesting of peas, tomatoes, okra, squash and watermelons continues. Grape and plum harvest is also active.

Spring and summer gardens are becoming victims of hot weather in the central part of the state, but fall vegetable land preparation is underway.

IT CONTINUES TO BE NECESSARY to submit suspected screwworm cases to the fly lab at Mission.

Screwworm activity continues to increase throughout the state, and officials at the fly lab also urge livestock producers to treat wounds on livestock with approved screwworm-control remedies.

And delay surgery on livestock as long as possible, too.

BACKGROUND ON BUSINESS

Graffiti-Proof Shelters

Weather-proof bus and school bus shelters like this are being installed by hundreds of public-minded transit systems throughout the United States. Side panels are constructed of AllianceWall porcelain-on-steel and are both graffiti-proof and vandal resistant. Initial cost is modest and upkeep is practically nil.

Shelters never require painting or other expensive maintenance. They are available in various size modules and can be made up in almost any size, configuration or color. Pre-fabricated and pre-engineered, they can be erected in one hour by three untrained men. A list of firms who manufacture shelters is available free from AllianceWall Corp., Wyncote, Pennsylvania 19095.

Quality Summer Fruit Assured

All fresh California peaches and plums are shipped to market under industry-wide quality regulations established under either federal or state marketing orders. Every shipment is carefully inspected by the Federal-State inspection service to assure the fruit meets these standards. This means several things to the consumer: First, these standards are designed to prevent the harvest of fruit which will not satisfactorily complete the ripening process.

Secondly, these regulations are employed to prevent fruit that is too small from being shipped. Usually the smallest fruits are the least popular as they are often fruits whose growth has been arrested prematurely by harvest, and they are bad bargains for the consumer since they are largely skin and pit or core. Thirdly, these marketing order standards help to prevent the sale of fruit which is unsound because it is decayed or split, is infected with rot, spores or worm damage or is badly scarred or misshapen.

All of these industry-wide standards are intended to protect the consumer and ensure that he or she will be able to buy and enjoy top quality fresh California summer fruits. (NP Features)

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

Austin-Fishermen and tire buyers will appreciate a change which went into effect this week in the state sales tax law.

I strongly endorsed the change which will clear up a provision in the sales tax statutes that allowed double tax on tires and fishing equipment.

I have always believed this action was discriminatory and should never have been in the law at all.

But the way the law specifically was worded, the four percent state tax and one percent city sales tax was added onto the cost of fishing equipment and tires after the federal excise tax had been added on those items.

This was simply a tax, the sales tax, on another tax, the excise tax.

No one really recalls why the law had been written that way when the sales tax was first passed in 1961 but the questions and confusion the provision caused since then have never died down.

In this case, the revenue loss is expected to be around $200,000 a year to the State.

This is not a significant amount to worry over and I think that the change is considerably more important in terms of fair and equitable taxation.

On Wednesday, September 10th the program will be a presentation of the Twenty-third Psalms directed by Ruby Underwood.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend these youth services.

Ruby Underwood.

Services, although still on Wednesdays, will begin at 7:45 P. M. instead of 7:30. This is due to a change in Gleaners meeting time that has been changed from Sunday to Wednesdays at 7:15 P. M.

If Time's Running Out On The Old Water Heater Get Reddy!

How long has it been since you checked your water heater out? Two years? ... Five years? ... Can't remember? ... You depend on your water heater to give you fast, efficient service, and when the old thing gets to be ten years old or more, it's time to replace it.

An electric water heater is the perfect replacement. Fully insulated so water stays hot longer, no flue or vent, so you put it just about anywhere and have extra storage space, too ... and fast recovery ... all this means an electric water heater is the dependable one. Don't let time run out. Buy an electric water heater this week!

We want to give a big thanks to the V. F. W. Ladies Auxiliary for serving afternoon refreshments on Monday, August 25. Cookies, cake and punch were served by Mildred Havers, Faustine Talbot and Todd Elms. Special treats like these are always given a big welcome.

Lynn Earl Slate, 55, and early settler of Sudan, died at 9:00 A.M. Wednesday in Amherst Manor Nursing Home, Amherst, Texas. Funeral services were held at 10:00 A.M. Friday at the First Baptist Church, Sudan, with the Rev. M. V. Swanson, pastor, and the Rev. Wayne Fony of Lubbock officiating.

Burial with Masonic graveside services was in Sudan Cemetery under the direction of Payne Funeral Home of Amherst.

Slate was born in South English, Iowa. He and Mrs. Slate came to Sudan in 1919 where he purchased, and managed the First Mercantile and Post Office. He owned Slater International Tractors from 1936 until 1949. He was a member of the First Baptist Church, and a Mason, and a leader in almost every civic organization in Sudan at various times offering many personal services to people in the early days of Sudan as well as in the days just prior to his death.

Slate was appointed acting postmaster here in 1919, and postmaster in 1920 with Mrs. Slate as assistant postmaster and mail carrier. They donated the land where the present Masonic Hall was Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., with an eye on maintaining and increasing the High Plains' share of the mushrooming market for cotton in the world's open-end spinning mills, will be cooperating September 10 and 11 with the National Cotton Council in the sponsorship of an open-end spinning seminar at Lubbock's Hilton Inn.

The seminar will bring to Lubbock a large number of the world's most knowledgeable and experienced technicians in the field of open-end spinning machinery, and its use, says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "and we think it will be a definite help to PCG's two-pronged push toward increasing demand for this area's cotton and attracting other open-end spinning operations to join the five such mills now in operation or announced for the High Plains area."

For example, Johnson points out, "Our research and that of many others has shown that acceptable and even superior yarns, other things being equal, can be produced on the open-end system from low micronaire cotton, which is normally in abundant supply on the Plains. And the more mill people who come to accept that fact, the more people will become interested in buying High Plains cotton and/or locating a mill in the Plains area."

In addition to airing the present favorable characteristics of High Plains cotton, Johnson continues, the interplay of ideas during the seminar may help to point PCG's agricultural research in directions that will lead to varieties, cultural practices and ginning procedures that will make High Plains cotton even more desirable for open-end spinning.

Joining the NCC and PCG in producing the seminar is the International Institute for Cotton (IIC), Texas Tech University, Cotton Incorporated, the American Textile Manufacturers Institute, U.S. Department of Agriculture, and land-grant universities across the Cotton Belt.

Noted open-end technicians are on the two-day program from England, West Germany, Japan and the U.S.

Foreign speakers will be S. Allen Heap, International Institute for Cotton, Manchester, England; H. Landwehrkamp, Schubert & Salzer Company, Ingolstadt, W. Germany; H. Hergeth, Hergeth Company, Dulmen, W. Germany; and T. Konishi, Daiwa Spinning Company, Osaka, Japan.

U.S. participants include Jack Towery of Texas Tech's Textile Research Center, Lubbock; Clifford W. Palm, Omintex, Charlotte, N.C.; Peter Lund, North Carolina State University; Edward A. Vaughn, Clemson University; Dwight Carlisle, Russell Corporation, Alexander City, Alabama; and Carl Feaster of USDA's Cotton Research Center, Phoenix, Arizona.

Omintex, Russell Corporation, Hergeth, and Schubert and Salzer are companies involved in the manufacture and sales of open-end spinning machinery. Daiwa is one of the largest textile firms in Japan, has several open-end spinning mills there and has broken ground for the construction of an open-end plant at Loveland.

Don Anderson of Sudan, cotton producer delegate to the NCC, past president of PCG and author of the NCC Board resolution which made the seminar possible, will give the welcome and opening statement for the seminar at 8:30 a.m., September 10.

An industry reaction and discussion panel of farmers, cotton breeders, merchants, machinery manufacturers and researchers will conclude the program.

SAFETY TIP

When a young woman is selecting her engagement ring, she should be sure to give the stone—usually a perfectly cut, perfectly clear white diamond—all the protection this valuable token of love deserves. This means that the ring should be strong as well as beautiful. How can a diamond be forever if the ring which holds it isn't?

Since platinum is stronger than other fine metals, it can hold the precious stone most safely and securely. Besides, it's so tough it resists nicks and scratches and it doesn't need polishing, ever. The canny bride-to-be should know, further, that platinum is about the same price as gold, and will enhance her diamond like no other metal. After all, choosing the diamond is only half of choosing the engagement ring. The right setting is always needed for saying "I love you."

Happiness means accepting each day And using it well in God's own way, Not getting frustrated if you find It is not the day you had in mind.

In doing His will happiness lies
With joy that all life's troubles defies,
Give of this joy which you are blessed
And each day will bring you happiness.
