"TEXAS' LAST FRONTIER"

MORTON, COCHRAN COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUG. 19, 1948

NUMBER 25.

Absentee Balloting Closes Tuesday As Second Primary Election Looms

Absentee balloting for the second Democratic Primary Election, Saturday, Aug. 28, will end Tuesday according to the democratic political chart.

All ballots must be in the mail by midnight four days prior to the election. Ballots are secured from and returned to the County Clerk's office.

Voting in this primary will be confined to the runoff for three positions, United States Senator, State Senator of the 30th Senatorial District, and Cochran County Sheriff.

Coke Stevenson, incumbent State Senator and Lyndon Johnson are competing for the U. S. Senatorial post in the fall election. Cochran County supported Johnson in the First Primary and gave Johnson the second highest number of votes for that office.

The Sterling Parrish - Kilmer race for State Senatorial District is expected to be one of the closest in the state. The county voters backed Corbin who lost the total First Primary balloting but Cochran favored another man, Ralph Brock with the second highest total vote. Brock was defeated by Parrish, incumbent, in a close race.

Of course the County Sheriff's race will hold the Cochran County voting limelight since it is the county position to be filled for the November elections.

H. D. (Herman) Crockett, Morton, and W. V. (Son) McKay of Whiteface are candidates for Sheriff after a thrilling First Primary battle that left them winning by a scant margin over defeated candidate, W. M. Harrison and five other candidates.

YOUR NOVEMBER VOTE

One of the most vital issues of the November election in Texas centers about the passing or failure of the eight proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Too many times, due to conditions uncontrollable by the newspaper, these important issues are buried under a welter of legal notices in the paper and never brought to light, although the citizens are asked to vote on them.

It cannot be denied that it is the duty of the citizen to vote but it can be argued that it is better not to vote than to vote, uninformed.

While sincerely hoping you will turn to the legal notices and read these proposed amendments in their entirety, the Tribune provides the following condensation and explanation of these House Joint Resolutions to be voted on by you in November.

H. J. R. 7: In case the candidate for governor should die after the election but before the oath of office has been administered, the candidate for lieutenant governor with the highest number of votes shall fill the office of governor until the next general election is held.

H. J. R. 35: Three thousand dollars of the assessed taxable value on homesteads will be exempted from all state taxes. To become effective January 1, 1951.

Heretofore there was no exemption when property taxes were announced and this will provide ample protection for owners of small, inexpensive homes on whom the present burden of the taxes now fall.

H. J. R. 24: Provides that after January 1, 1951 no state ad valorem tax for general revenue purposes shall be levied. However this amendment provides that counties can levy ad valorem taxes under certain provisions.

H. J. R. 30: Whenever it is deemed necessary by the county, it would have the power to provide employee insurance or workman's compensation for employees at the expense of the county.

This would provide insurance for all county employees who are working for the county at a job for which insurance is considered a necessity. It would also provide for the setting of the rate of payments etc. by the legislature.

H. J. R. 39: Retires the judges and commissioners of the appellate courts and judges of the district and criminal courts with pay after a certain length of service, disability, or upon arrival at a certain age. It also provides for their reassignment to active duty when needed.

Of course the important issue of this bill is that the judges would receive the pay as compensation for their public service to the state.

S. J. R. 2: Creates a Redistricting Board to redistrict the state into senatorial and representative districts if legislature fails to do this every ten years as provided by law.

The thought behind this proposal is that the shifting of population in a ten year period should be recognized by increased representation for the growing sector and decreased representation for the section losing population. Here the legislature would not be able to bypass the question and know that to their own political advantage the state would not be redistricted.

H. J. R. 13: Provides that a woman retains title to all property she had before her marriage; and that she and her husband from time to time may divide their community property so that each owns separate property.

H. J. R. 36: Providing that all counties having a population of 20,000 or more according to the preceding census, shall pay their district and county officials a stated salary.

It would do away with a commonly used method of some larger counties who pay their law enforcement officers on a commission basis. It is a disputed point whether the enforcement officer under this compensation method works for the good of the county or the good of himself.

Wallace Theatres Twenty-five Years Honored With Showing Of Premiere

A gala three day premiere showing of Howard Hawks "Red River" at the local Wallace Theatre has been announced in connection with the 25th anniversary week of the founding of the chain of theatres by Wallace Blankenship.

The blazing, western saga will be shown in Morton Aug. 26, 27, and 28, to open the anniversary week booking of solid class A pictures. It will be the first public theatre showing anywhere in the country, according to local theatre manager, C. R. Middleton.

Approximately 350 towns in the Southwest will feature the premiere showing including several of Wallace's 16 theatres located in 10 towns in the vicinity.

Wallace opened his first theatre, the Wallace in Ropesville, on August 26, 1923. The Morton Wallace was added to the chain in 1935. Another proposed Wallace theatre is already in the stage of construction at Morton. The excavation has been completed and as soon as cross beams arrive actual construction will begin. C. R. Middleton, who took over local managerial reins in March of this year, will be manager of both Wallace Theatres.

A party was held for Mr. Blankenship in Lubbock on August 3 with all theatre managers and well wishers present. At that time Blankenship was given a plaque commemorating his 25 years in theatrical business and the screening of Red River was held for the managers.

An order was placed with the USDA Nursery at Menden, Louisiana by the Morton Work Unit this week for 160,250 trees. These trees will be planted as farmstead and field windbreaks.

Enough trees are on order to plant one continuous windbreak, three rows in depth, sixty miles long. All planting stock will be furnished the cooperators by the Soil Conservation Service through the CYT District free of charge.

Martha Willis presided over the group as chairman at all assemblies. Ruby Nell Willis of Gaines County acted as camp secretary. Thelma Roulain, Lois Wilson and Patsy Edgar were selected by their respective groups to act as group leaders.

Grain Storage Situation Of Prime Importance To Cochran Producers

The grain storage situation is of prime importance to grain sorghum producers of Cochran County. The market price of grain sorghum may take a tumble in view of the 3 1/2 billion bushel corn crop estimated being produced in 1948.

Grain Sorghums may sell for 60 to 70 cents per hundred less than the loan price will be next April. In view of this condition, a farmer will likely be able to build storage for this difference.

If you do store grain at home; check with the A.A.A. Office for purchase agreements, inspection requirements, and other information.

To determine the amount of bushels you want to be able to accommodate, figure the cubic feet first. That is: the length, times the width, times the depth in feet. Then multiply the cubic feet by .8; or multiply by 4 and divide by 5 to get the capacity of the bin in bushels.

To get the weight per hundred basis, to determine A.A.A. payment, County Agent Thompson says to divide the cubic feet by 2.25.

All farmers interested in the grain storage outlook should tune their radios to stations on the Texas Quality Network—WFAA 570; WOAI 1200; KPRC 950; KRIS 1360; KVAL 1490—Thursday morning, August 19th at 6 to 6:15 a. m. The situation will be discussed by J. D. Prewitt, Extension Service; Victor Cade, State PMA Committeeman; G. E. Blewett, Secretary Field and Grain Dealers; and Congressman, Bob Poage, member of the house Committee on Agriculture.

Warning Of Worm Menace To Cotton Issued By Agent

"Better watch these leaf and boll worms closely," County Agent Homer Thompson warns.

A few fields have been observed with leaf worms in limited quantity to date. The leaf worm will chew on the leaves of cotton and the young tender bolls. This condition may increase into serious damage, in a short while.

Two or three inspections a week to determine the amount of damage may be profitable—especially as to when dusting should begin.

If the need to poison is ascertained then dust with 10 percent DDT for both leaf and boll worms. Use from 8 to 12 lbs. per acre depending on the size of the cotton.

Fire Gutted Home Of Bill Williamson Will Be Rebuilt

Debris from the nearly completed $16,000 home of W. W. Williamson, gutted by fire late last Wednesday evening, is being cleared away and according to Mr. Williamson reconstruction will start as soon as possible.

The new home will be built at the same location but a new foundation must be built first. The intense heat of the fire caused the cement in the old foundation to crumble.

Fire which razed the structure at about 5 p. m. Wednesday, Aug. 11, completely destroyed the home which lacked only the brick siding and some detail work to be completed. Damage was estimated at $10,450, but the building was insured.

It was the second time a $10,000 fire had plagued Mr. Williamson in less than three years. On June 18, 1946 the Morton First State Bank of which Mr. Williamson is President, was so severely damaged by a blaze that operations had to be held in another building until the bank was repaired. The damage for that blaze was fixed at approximately $10,000.

Electricians had nearly completed the wiring and painters and paper hangers were almost ready to step back and admire their work on Williamson's home when the fire was noticed. Just where or how the blaze started remained a mystery but many blamed spontaneous combustion.

The building located outside the city limits and too far from any fire hydrant was fiercely ablaze before the fire truck and help could arrive.

The pumper truck was refilled as often as possible but each time they had to leave, the blaze dug a deeper foothold into the building framework.

Keeping the flames under control as well as and as long as possible, the firemen battered in the walls and carried window casings, bathroom fixtures and a heating furnace to safety. A brand new air conditioner, its props burned out from under it, crumbled to the ground.

The ferocity of the flames became so great that for a time the next door home of Joe Nicewarner was endangered. The slow, steady stream of water from a garden hose was played on the roof of Mr. Nicewarner's home to prevent the shingles from catching fire.

When nothing more could be done for Williamson's home a fully loaded fire truck stood by to protect the Nicewarner house from any darting flames.

Mr. Williamson estimated that the insurance would cover all of the loss.

Electricity Saves Money and Crops For All Farmers

"To farmers who make full use of electricity, every season is kilowatt season," say rural electrification specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. "The farmer who uses electricity has a full length start in the race with time and the elements in haying, harvesting, threshing of small grains, cotton picking, and the storing of these crops."

W. S. Allen and W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineers of Texas A. and M. College, point out ways in which electricity can be of help to Texas farmers. Take haying, for example. A farmer can equip his barn with a hay drier and snap his fingers at the weather. In parts of Texas, the specialists point out, hay is cured direct from the fields with little or no loss of the valuable leaves. Better feed is obtained with properly designed and operated drier units, and these same units can be used to dry grains, peanuts and other crops, usually resulting in higher prices and greater profits. The motor that runs the drier will hoist the hay.

In small grains, an electrically operated elevator can save hundreds of man-hours where wheat, oats and barley are major crops. An elevator means no shoveling and little or no lifting. Electricity will move the grain after it is in the bin, too, leaving the farmer and his help free for other duties.

"Electricity will let you use your manpower where you need it most," the extension engineers point out. "It can help you win races against time, save crops and get more dollars from your farm operations."

Swing Of Southwest Farm Markets

Scattered spots of strength contrasted with largely steady to weaker trends at southwest farm markets during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Hog prices advanced anywhere from 50 cents to $2.50 a hundred pounds for the different classes at the various markets. Top butcher hogs sold Monday at $27.50 at San Antonio, $29 at Fort Worth and $30 at Oklahoma City and Wichita, $30 to $30.75 at Kansas City, and $30.50 to $31.50 at Denver.

Texas cattle markets showed gains up to $1 for the week, but other terminals netted mainly losses of 50 cents to $1. Good fed steers sold at $32.50 to $35 at Kansas City Monday. Good and choice grades turned at $35.50 to $38.50 at Denver, and $33 to $37.50 at Wichita. Medium grass steers ranged from $23.50 to $27 at Oklahoma City and San Antonio. Medium steers, yearlings and heifers changed hands at $25 to $30 at Fort Worth, where good yearlings reached $31.50.

Texas grain markets began quoting new crop corn last week at prices about 20 cents a bushel under recent midwest offerings. No. 2 yellow corn closed Monday at $2 to $2.05 a bushel, and white corn $2.25 to $2.30. Wheat and sorghums netted slight gains while oats and barley eased a little. No. 1 hard wheat sold around $2.35 in bulk carlots and No. 2 Texas common points, and No. 2 milo $2.40 to $2.50 a hundred.

After minor fluctuations during the week, cotton closed Monday 50 to 75 cents a bale lower. Spot middling 15 16 inch sold at 31 cents a pound at most southwest markets and 31.05 at New Orleans.

Strong demand for most live poultry and the better grades of eggs kept prices steady to firm during the week. Most markets took fryers at 35 to 40 cents a pound. Egg prices on best candled whites ranged from 45 to 50 cents a dozen at Dallas and Fort Worth. Denver bought current receipts at 40 to 43 1/2, and New Orleans 45 to 48.

Adding Machine Paper at the Tribune Office.

Home-Canned Dill Pickles Should Be on Your Shelves

Put Up Some Kosher Style for Variety in Taste

That craving for Dill Pickles can be satisfied early and often if generous jars of home-canned Dill Pickles are put on the shelf during the height of the pickle season. It's a good idea to put up some jars of Kosher style for variety in taste appeal.

Here are the ingredients for Dill Pickles:
35 to 40 fresh cucumbers
2 tablespoons mixed spices
1/2 pound dill
2 cups salt
2 gallons water
2 cups vinegar

Wash and dry cucumbers. Put a layer of dill and one-half of the spices in a stone jar. Add the cucumbers. Put the remaining spices and dill on top of the cucumbers. Boil salt, water, and vinegar two minutes. Cool to room temperature and pour over cucumbers. Cover with a plate weighted down to hold cucumbers under the brine. Keep at an even temperature (68-72 degrees F.). Remove scum each day. The pickles are ready for canning when they are crisp, uniform in color, and well-flavored with dill. This usually requires from two to four weeks. Test by taste! Pack the cured pickles into hot Ball Jars, cover with hot brine and seal. Note: Strain the brine in which the pickles are cured and boil five minutes, or make fresh brine. If the pickles are to be stored a long time, they should be processed in water bath 15 minutes at simmering.

To make Kosher Pickles, add one small clove garlic, one bay leaf, one-half teaspoon mustard seed, two tablespoons sugar, one piece red pepper, and one-half cup vinegar to one or one and one-half cups of strained brine. Boil two minutes and pour while hot over plain dill pickles after they are packed into the jars.

Palsy Treatment Center To Open Mon. In Lubbock

Lubbock's Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center will open Monday, August 23 with a clinic for the examination of cerebral palsied children. This center is sponsored by the Lubbock Crippled Children's Society and the Rotary Club and the services of the Center are available to any children in the area in need of this care.

Cerebral palsy is also referred to as spastic paralysis and occasionally as birth injury and research has shown that treatment is most effective when started within the first few months of the child's life although children respond to treatment when started at a much later age.

Physicians specializing in the treatment of cerebral palsy will be present at the Center at regular intervals to examine children and order treatment. Physical therapy care will be available daily under the direction of Miss Esther Snell, Director of the Center. Miss Snell is a registered physical therapist, a graduate of Harvard University School of Physical Therapy and for the past two years has been a teaching fellow in physical therapy at Stanford University, California.

The Treatment Center is located at 1317 Tenth Street, Lubbock. Miss Snell will meet with parents and their children at the Center during this week between 1 and 5 p. m. to obtain case histories and make appointments for examinations at the clinic. Further information may be obtained by contacting Miss Snell at the Center or calling Lubbock 6341.

Lillian Williamson reports a good time and plenty of food at the Hall county reunion in McKenzie Park Sunday.

We were invited both as editor and former Hall countian; but we went probably because we were more fascinated as editor since all we remember of Memphis is the wind howling around the corners of the house; and crying the whole three months we were there because we were lonely and homesick that papa beat us with a shovel, stick of stove wood something because we left his mandolin case with the beautiful velvet lining outside and it rained on.

That case never was fit for anything after that, not even doll shoes.

Friday night when we arrived in Dallas, after driving in the night, we felt as if we'd been back to a turn and then warmed up.

The fall clothes being shown are not any longer and one clerk told us that length depended on or less on personal preference.

However coats with padded linings were being shown. Which was strange, after all the effort of us make to keep our hips from showing.

Doc Cox and Crickett Hickman's party last Friday morning Mrs. Timian and Mrs. Barker were so nice.

Neva Kennedy poured coffee as usual looked very smart; she was wearing a sheer red dress and black skirt.

Doc had on a black tunic dress with a beautiful sequin belt.

Mrs. Barker, a lovely brunette wearing a grey dress with white figures, red slippers and a corsage of red roses, her hair was a cute little number set the back of her head.

The other honoree and new-comer Mrs. Timian, has brown beautiful blue grey eyes and a most charming manner. She was wearing a white gabardine frock with brown accessories and a corsage similar to Mrs. Barker's.

Katie Lee Ross looked mighty sweet in a white linen dress. Think she had on something green too, anyway she should have with her gorgeous red hair.

We sat by and gossiped with Mrs. Wolfenberger. She was wearing a very becoming grey and red linen dress with red bag and slippers.

We are often asked how we write our column—we tell the easiest and most interesting way is to use people, we also use ourselves, including experiences, memories, etc. and reading matter by other writers. We don't always use facts as they happen or as they are heard.

We add to or leave out as the occasion demands to make whatever we are telling more interesting. It may not be just the thing to do but we can't help it, any more than we can help breathing.

Expect one of the reasons, (aside from being curious as to how many would miss me) for not writing this column last week was because we fancied for several days that we were dying of broken heart, when come to find out we were just hungry. There isn't much difference; either condition makes a person feel mighty bad. Mattie Ramby had said all along there wasn't anything wrong with us but indigestion.

The spouse remembered our anniversary (late in the day) with a very nice present. He has excellent taste and when he gets some of his girl friends to help make the selection we always wind up with a lovely gift.

However in discussing anniversaries he never fails to say that he can't remember when he wasn't married; while to us it doesn't seem a day over 100 years.

Bill Martin out on Star Route 2 came in Monday to renew his subscription, while here he told us that he missed me last week.

Mrs. Hill and Roy were over in New Mexico last week-end. They brought back a lot of wonderful fruit, she is canning some and Monday eve brought us a whole bunch of apples, peaches, grapes and pears. We certainly love neighbors like that. And we have always been lucky too in getting them.

Tribune, Morton, Cochran County, Texas, Thursday, August 19, 1948

Speaking of luck, we have ideal renters in our guest house. Mrs. Turknett is a grand house-keeper and makes the best orange chiffon cake. Mr. Turknett has worked the yard over out there, particularly the rose garden. He has dug all of the Bermuda out, spaded the roses, fertilized and sprayed. We are so proud of them both.

Judge R. E. Stanford of Waco in renewing his subscription always writes a nice note to us; this time he said, "You really have a fine newspaper—I've noticed many improvements since you and Mr. England took over."

Mrs. E. A. Bradshaw over at Eunice, New Mexico also wrote, "Please extend my subscription another year, tho I don't get to visit often over there I like to keep up with the 'doings' of Mortonites."

Wish these itinerant peddlers who come in here and sell fruit and vegetables on the streets would clean up the mess they make. It isn't very pleasant to have old watermelon rinds, decayed fruit etc littering the streets. Makes flies bad too, and after the city has worked so hard and gone to so much expense trying to get rid of them.

Mrs. J. A. Gowdy sent a card telling us that she didn't write the dishwashing story. It was sent to her by her daughter, Margaret Ellen Slack of Archer, City.

Mrs. Gowdy apparently has a very clever and talented family. We only know Marv Lois Ledbetter, who is not only a charming wife and mother but a talented singer and very pretty girl.

We don't hold it against Mary Lois that her husband, M. C. once told us at a Red Cross meeting that Morton could very well do without us.

We could have been smart Alec and replied that we too had done fairly well for years without Morton but we were flabbergasted with surprise and too we never think of cute answers until later.

The new paving around town certainly is nice and adds so much to the appearance of Morton.

Well nobody we know has been born lately, either that are their parents have had no pictures made. Anyway we haven't any baby pictures for "annegrams presents."

The word that is unspoken, The promise understood, Are never, never broken, But are seldom any good.

REA Line Increase Boosts Market On Home Appliances

With the steady increase in rural electrification, a new and very large electrical appliance market has opened. As soon as the farm or ranch house is wired for electricity, the average family starts to buy electrical equipment.

The Rural Electrification Administration says that the rural housewife first invests in better lighting equipment, such as floor and table lamps. Then comes an electric iron, a radio or a radio-phonograph. Refrigerators and washing machines come next—these are items that are more expensive and usually take a little budgeting.

The installation of an electric water system in the home is usually planned next. Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of Texas A. and M. College, says the electric water system is one of the greatest time and labor savers for the rural homemaker, even though its installation usually comes after the purchase of other items.

Mrs. Claytor points out that with new electrical appliances in the home, care must be taken to prevent plugging too many into one outlet. It pays to have enough outlets, as overloading cuts down on the current, means less power, dim lights and may blow a fuse.

Plenty of conveniently placed outlets will cut down on potential accidents, too, she says, as there will be no need for long extension cords, which are unsightly, inconvenient and dangerous. The best time to install the outlets is when the house is wired.

J. D. Prewit Heads Rural Relief Aid Plan For Needy

The final plans for the state organization of Christian Rural Overseas Program—the rural sister program of CARE—were recently completed at College Station with the election of J. D. Prewit, acting state director of Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, as state chairman, and Dan Russell, professor of rural sociology of Texas A. and M. College, as vice-chairman.

"The organization will be set up on a county level," Mr. Prewit said, "and the actual administration of the program will be carried out there."

The organization, known as CROP, is organized to furnish a channel whereby rural people can take part in overseas relief, particularly for children. It is open to all rural people and is sponsored by the Church World Services.

The Friendship Trains are examples of the type of work sponsored by CROP, and the organization will be able to handle all types of farm commodities and crops, Mr. Prewit said.

The state and executive committees include representatives of Texas churches, commodity groups, and farm organizations, as well as the Texas Home Demonstration Association and the Council of Church Women.

SENATOR PARRISH OPPOSES WATER LEGISLATION NOT APPROVED BY WEST TEXAS FARMERS

Senator Sterling J. Parrish, candidate for re-election to a second term, announced this week that he is strongly opposed to any water legislation except such as may be approved by the farmers of West Texas, acting through the High Plains Water Conservation and Use Association, of which W. O. Fortenberry, of Monroe, is president. Senator Parrish is pictured above (second from right) when he recently inspected the irrigation wells on Mr. Fortenberry's farm near Monroe. Others in the picture are, left to right, Boyd Nicholson, foreman on the Fortenberry farm; Mr. Fortenberry; Walter Emory, a neighboring farmer who has two irrigation wells; and W. O. Fortenberry, Jr.

According to Senator Parrish, a bill will be submitted at the next session of the legislature by the State Board of Water Engineers, in which that bureau will seek to control the underground water of Texas. Parrish stated that, if the bill becomes a law, every farmer who has an irrigation well in the Plains of Texas will be subjected to regulations and automatic controls, the like of which has never been known in this country.

Senator Parrish vigorously opposed a water legislation bill that was in the Senate, and is outspoken in his opposition to any such legislation that does not meet with the approval of the people he represents.

Potash-Nitrogen Deficiencies In Some Texas Soils

"Corn and cotton fields in the East and Central parts of Texas show increasing evidence of potash and nitrogen deficiencies in the soil," M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist of Texas A. and M. College, recently pointed out to county agricultural agents in these areas.

Nitrogen deficiencies are indicated by stunted growth, pale green foliage and a general appearance of unthriftiness. Potash deficiencies are shown in cotton by yellow to brown foliage, particularly on the older leaves, and an increased tendency to shed these leaves; in corn, the deficiency is indicated by marginal firing of older leaves.

To combat these conditions, Mr. Thornton says, two new fertilizers will be on the market next year. One is 4-12-8 and the other is 3-12-12. They can be used to increase the quantity of potash in the base fertilizer and as a side dressing with nitrogen fertilizers on corn, cotton and other crops.

"A legume and phosphate program, supplemented with potash, will often do wonders for the soil," Mr. Thornton said. "The use of the legumes and phosphates build up the organic matter, nitrogen and phosphate, and the addition of one of these new fertilizers will build up the potash content at the same time. If there are fields in your counties where these soil deficiencies have showed up, keep these new fertilizers in mind for use next year."

A motion-picture camera has been developed which can take 11,000,000 frames a second. Sixteen frames is normal.

The rat population of the United States has been estimated at 130,000,000.

Home-Canned Green Beans for Nutritious Meals

Green beans are a low-acid vegetable and should be canned with the use of a pressure cooker because the high temperature is better insurance against spoilage and is also the faster method.

Select beans with crisp and meaty pods. They should be young and tender and brought fresh from the garden or truck patch. Wash, string, and break or cut the pods into two-inch pieces. Boil five minutes and pack into hot Ball jars. Add one teaspoon salt to each quart.

Cover with water in which cooked. Process small young pods 35 minutes and large ones 55 minutes at 10 pounds pressure. With a plentiful supply of home-canned green beans you are always prepared to serve a popular, nutritious green vegetable.

A Certificate of Mixing Accuracy for 1948 has been awarded to Lindsey Feed and Seeds by the Ralston Purina Company, St. Louis, Mo., for the accuracy and uniformity of the custom grinding and mixing service of the local mill.

The efficient feeding of livestock and poultry depends largely on the proper mixing of ingredients, and the award of this Certificate was based on laboratory analysis of samples taken from regular mixes prepared for customers of Lindsey Feed and Seeds. These samples must vary more than one-half of one per cent in order to qualify for the Certificate.

Lindsey Feed and Seeds will post the Certificate in a prominent place as evidence of their ability to service farmers and feeders with custom mixing that will help achieve maximum production.

Two Winter Cover Crop Plans Meet Texas Approval

Two winter cover crop practices have been approved for Texas under the 1949 ACP Program. The specifications of the practices are as follows:

- Pr. 27—Establishing A Satisfactory Cover of Winter Legumes and Rye Grass Seeded in the Fall of 1948 (This Practice must be carried out in accordance with specifications; a good stand and growth must be obtained and not harvested for hay.)
- (Kind of Seed) (Pmt. Rt. P. lb.)
  - (a) Austrian winter and Dixie Wonder Peas .055
  - (b) Hairy Vetch .138
  - (c) Common or Willamette vetch .069
  - (d) Hubam Clover .102
  - (e) Melituous Indica .075
  - (f) Singletary, Caley, or Wild Winter Peas .066
  - (g) Blue Lupine .06
  - (h) Rye Grass .06

Specifications: Winter legume seed must be properly inoculated and seeded not later than Dec. 1, 1948. Phosphate must be applied at a rate of not less than 200 lbs. of 20 percent superphosphate per acre.

The crop must not be harvested for hay. The crop must not be grazed to an extent that will prevent the maintenance of a good cover at all times.

Pr. 28—Turning Under or Leaving on the Land a Satisfactory Stand and Growth of Rye Seeded in the Fall of 1948. (Applicable only to sandy land that is subject to wind erosion)—$1.50 per A.

Specifications: Rye should be seeded at the rate of not less than 40 lbs. per acre. A stand and growth that would justify harvesting as a feed crop must be obtained. The crop must be left on the land or turned under. A volunteer crop will not qualify.

Anyone interested in these practices should come by the office for complete information.

2 cakes dry or compressed yeast soaked in
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1 pint milk
1 cup butter
2 level teaspoons salt
1 cup sugar (honey or corn syrup)
1 1/2 cups chopped nuts, raisins, citron, or candied orange peel, if desired
4 eggs

1/2 level teaspoon ground nutmeg, mace or cardamom
Rind and Juice of 1 lemon
8 to 10 cups of all-purpose flour
Scald milk and cool. Cream together butter, salt and sugar. Add slightly beaten eggs, lemon, spice, lukewarm milk and soaked yeast. Work in flour.

Follow straight dough method, MS 366, keeping dough somewhat softer than for loaf bread. Mold in some of the following shapes, let rise, brush with butter and bake 350 to 375 F.
After she had handed out recipes, Mrs. Freeland from the Lehman Home Demonstration Club said, "Follow me on the Basic Sweet Dough and Variations Sheet and you can't go wrong."

The demonstration on yeast breads was given to the County Line Club, Thursday, July 1 in an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. K. A. Wilson.

After her proclamation, Mrs. Freeland continued to make the various different kinds of buns and rolls closely followed by the members of the club. When scoring time came every score sheet came up with 100 percent, proving Mrs. Freeland a sage as well as a baker.

Mrs. V. V. Williamson took the remaining dough and left over ingredients and fashioned some rolls nicknamed the "Gertrude Special" by club members.

One of the members, Mrs. Willis was so enthused over the success of the baking she carried home rolls and buns for her men folk to eat. She decided that would surely encourage them to take her to more Home Demonstration Meetings.

The next club meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. O. L. Benefield on Thursday, August 18 at the usual time of 3 p. m. A large attendance is invited and expected.

What Is A Church?

Divine "I will build MY church" (Matt. 16:18). The church was founded by Jesus Christ the Son of God. He conceived the idea. He alone founded it.

Godly Its members believe on Christ. They have committed their lives to Him, for time and eternity. Their great desire is to live as He wants them to live.

Christian A church's task is the work her Founder and Saviour wants done in the world—winning all people to faith in Jesus Christ, God's Son.

Winning—The church's big job is to win others to faith in Christ. This is the work of every Christian—soul-winning. This task is also done jointly by church members in public services and by their combined gifts used in missions on foreign fields and in the homeland.

Baptizing—A believer in Christ, wanting to be with other believers, joins the church by baptism. Baptism is a public act by which the believer says that he has given up his sinful way of life, has trusted Christ to save him, and is obeying Christ's commandment in baptism.

Teaching—The new church member wants to live the Jesus way. He wants to learn Christ's rules. The church is a group of people seeking to master the Christian way of life. A New Testament church teaches all of the things Christ commanded.

"LIVING FOR CHRIST"

Noticing a statement that Paul made in Phil. 1:21 we find a great thought concerning living for Christ. "For me to live in Christ, and to die is gain." Here we find that there were two things that were out before Paul and he was considering both of them in his service for the Lord. Would it not be great for us to consider things like that in our own lives, that we might have some consideration for the Lord? If only we could consider as did Paul, the things of life, then our work for the Lord would be much better. The things that happened to Paul were for the furtherance of the Gospel. Men are so different today when it comes to living for Christ. Most of the things done today are against the furtherance of the Gospel, rather than for the advance of the Gospel.

Paul was in a strait between two things as he spoke along this line. He had a desire to depart and be with God and a desire to live. He knew that for him to die would be much better for him. The trials of life would come to an end. He would not have to undergo persecution if only he could go be with the Lord. On the other hand Paul knew that for him to live and abide in the flesh would be far better for his fellow men. In all of Paul's work everything was done for the sake of Christ who died for us. He traveled mile after mile and suffered time after time but he did it all for man's benefit and God's glory. There were three things involved in this problem that was before him. First he could not help but think of his own personal welfare. Yes it would be better for him to go and be with the Lord. Second, the help that he might be to his brethren in leading them in the service for the Lord. Third, the cause of Christ was at stake and surely he would defend the cause of Christ as long as God let him live.

Paul rejoiced in the triumph of the Gospel. There was nothing that gave him more joy than to advance the cause of the Lord and to tell men about Christ. In speaking to Timothy he said, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: Henceforth there is a crown layed up for me at that day. And not to me only but unto all those that love his appearing." My friend let us take courage and live for the Lord. In our living for him, his cause will be advanced among men. Living for Christ is one of the greatest attributes of a human life.

Infant-Mortality
Rates At Lowest
In Texas' History

AUSTIN—Infant and mortality rates in Texas are at their lowest level in the history of the state, according to figures released by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Health Department. Infant mortality has reached a low of 41.2 deaths for every 1000 live births.

Compared to the figures for 1940, this represents a reduction of more than 25 percent. In that year, there were 197,023 live births and 8,085 deaths. But despite these gains, Texas still has the sixth highest infant mortality rate in the United States, with forty-two states reporting lower rates.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, attributes the reduction to the increase in public response to the educational efforts of the Texas State Department of Health.

"We have reason for pride in our reduced infant and maternal mortality when it is realized that the reduction means in excess of 5000 babies are being saved annually which would have otherwise died," Dr. Cox said. "In addition, the birth rate is higher than the 1940 figure by more than 71,000."

The comparison between the live births figures for 1940 and 1947, shows white births up 22,707; Latin American births up 7,186; and Negro births up 3,297. The report also shows maternal mortality has been reduced over 65 percent. In 1940, the rate was 4.6 for every 1000 live births as compared to 1.6 for 1947.

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Personal liberty is often regulated too stringently by the dominating power of public opinion. Fear can be exercised to the extent that the timid heart is covered beyond receiving the privileges that would make life more of a picnic instead of a formal duty. Recently I witnessed an acquaintance whose hair is bleached with the snows of many winters, standing on the street absorbed in the enjoyment of eating ice cream-on-a-stick which usually has wider sales to those of less advanced years. His pleasure was best evidenced by his lack of concern, altho none of the passing crowd appeared to be interested. I think perhaps many of our restrictions are self-imposed and that in this busy world, few even have time for ridicule.

A great new vista of opportunity is being opened to inventors as a by-product of inventions. My personal vote of gratitude and small monetary concession will go to the chemist who develops a chewing gum that has no affinity for artificial dental replacements. I look at the counter displays of attractively-packed confection with the same dismal introspection of an old horse standing knee-deep in lush grass, but resigned after having tried to masticate it without teeth.

The miser is to be pitied more than the pauper. The pauper may earn money and receive pleasure in the things he buys. The miser may attain half of the gold in the world and remain poor because he can not spend it.

Cupid watches the boiling kettle and when the signs are right, tosses man, like a green, squirming lobster, into the scalding waters of love. If cooked to a delightful red, he may be wonderful; if mercy is shown he will probably be poisonous.

Decaying nests of the years where my awkward dreams were hatched are falling from barren trees, scarred and broken from the storms of life. The shadows are on the other side and the flutes of hope have lost their sweetness, except in the echoes in memory's empty canyon. My freckled face burned that Valentine's Day when I read the message concealed in the third-grade speller. A buxom, soft-eyed girl, whose brown, wavy hair dangled over the pencil slot in my desk to sublime distraction, had passed the book back to my hands. The hinged-back heart was cut from ruled pencil paper and colored with wax crayon. Inside was the wonderful four-word question. For a time the room revolved rapidly, then the world was dissolved in a magic solvent which left the two of us on a mountain peak with white clouds drifting below. Words tried to be shaped by my lips in a whisper but surrendered in despair. Beads of perspiration popped from my brow and my clothing felt uncomfortable. The demon of timidity had made me his slave and she never knew the answer. Snow was falling that afternoon as I kicked the flanks of my paint pony in effort to hurry home. The wet flanks felt gentle on my flushed cheeks and the numbness in my hands was trivial, a flame was burning in my heart.

Frequently after harvesting his wild oats a man is unwilling to

The simple things of nature—sunshine, sand, and water—draw two beautiful vacationers. Wearing two-piece cotton bathing suits by Jantzen, they add glamour to nature's beauty. ### Miss Catherine Rush and Ohlen Ray Married Sat.

Miss Catherine Rush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rush, became the bride of Ohlen Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Ray, in a single ring ceremony performed in the parlors of the First Baptist Church of Clovis, New Mexico Saturday afternoon, August 14.

The bride was wearing a gunmetal street length frock and carried a bridal bouquet of pink roses. Her accessories were black. The couple was attended by Miss Bonnie Hanna and J. T. Holloman.

Mr. Ray is a graduate of Brownfield High School and Mrs. Ray graduated from Morton High School last spring.

After a honeymoon trip to Colorado they will live in Morton where he is employed by Rays' Hardware.

Some people find age unpleasant because they are tormented by the squealing rats of memories beneath the debris.

If Congress ever starts sifting crimes of sabotage in West Texas it is possible that great numbers of moths will have to account for their activities during the war. Witnesses will be a number of cowboys whose epithets are not used in polite company. They returned, unlaced their GI issues and replaced them with boots still covered with the dust of war years. When they went to their saddles they found that traitors had been active during their absence. The sheep wool linings had been neatly cut away from the leather skirts.

An innocent man may search long without finding a better witness than innocence.

Former Baseball Star Dies In New York Hospital

George Herman "Babe" Ruth, the greatest slugger in baseball history and the idol of fans from shoe shine boys to presidents, died peacefully in his sleep Monday night.

The 53-year-old Ruth succumbed to cancer in New York's Memorial hospital at 6:01 p. m. (CST), a wasted, shocking caricature of the cocky, spindle-legged husky who for so many years was the terror of every opposing pitcher he faced.

Later it was announced that Ruth died from cancer of the neck.

Death Comes Quietly
The old Bambino's wife and two daughters were at his bedside as the all-time home run hitting champion lapsed quietly into death.

Outside the hospital a platoon of children kept a hushed vigil. Their tears—and occasional sobs—were the first public reaction to the passing of the most colorful figure baseball has known.

The Rev. Thomas H. Kaufman, O. P., of St. Catherine of Siena church of New York, administered the last rites of the Catholic church to the old Yankee star a half hour before death.

In addition to Mrs. Claire Ruth and the Babe's two adopted daughters, Mrs. Richard Flanders of North Conway, N. H., and Mrs. Dorothy Sullivan of New York, those present when Ruth died included:

Mr. and Mrs. Peter De Rose of New York, close friends; Ruth's attorney, Melvin G. Lowenstein; J. Paul Carey, also a close personal friend, and Drs. Hayes Martin and Loton Rasmussen.

Polio Hits New High Past Week With 90 Cases

AUSTIN—Polio hit a new high for a single week in Texas this year when 90 cases were recorded in 3 counties the week ending Aug. 14, the State Health department reported.

For five of the counties it was the first incidence of polio in 1948. The state total climbed to 1,132 cases in 126 counties. Health officials fear the 1948 final figure will exceed the all-time 1943 record of 1,274.

The five counties reporting polio for the first time are all in West Texas or the Panhandle. They are Runnels, 2; Brown and Hamilton 1 each, in West Texas, and Sherman and Swisher, 1 each in the Panhandle.

Totals Are Given

Excluding Harris county, there were only 13 new cases of polio in southeast and South Texas, where the disease has been mostly heavily concentrated in earlier weeks. There were 31 cases in West Texas and the Panhandle. Most of the remaining new cases were in Central Texas.

The previous high total for one week was 89 for the period ending July 10.

The breakdown by counties: Bell 5; Bexar 2; Cameron 3; Childress 2; Dallas 5; Gillespie 5; Gray 5; Howard 2; Lubbock 3; McLennan 3; Navarro 2; Nueces 3; Tarrant 5; Taylor 3; Travis 3; Wichita 2; Willacy 2; Erath, Haskell, Hidalgo, Jefferson, Jim Wells, Limestone, Milam, San Patricio, Wilbarger, and Zavala, 1 each.

"Meet Mr. Average Man" is an amusing article which appeared in the Gileafter Magazine and is quoted by permission of the Gilbert Paper Co., of Menasha, Wisconsin.

The most interesting person in the world is the average man. The average man is 39 around the chest, 40 around the waist, 9 around the golf course and a nuisance around the home.

He gets up first in the morning, is second at the morning newspaper, third in the bathroom and practically misses the bus to town. He wears a conventional gray or brown suit with a white shirt but always thought he'd be at his best in a checkered suit with a dark flannel shirt and a bright red tie. He passes up the French-fried potatoes and the hot rolls at lunch and then eats mince pie to bridge the gap.

He can hit two quail out of five tries, catches an occasional fish, plays poker once a month, opens with a large pair, bluffs when he is winner and doesn't like conversation when he is loser. He complains about taxes, shortages of labor and politics. He has a favorite football team but will take the other team and fourteen points.

He drinks three cups of coffee per day, likes his toast hot and is always going to clean out the garage some Saturday afternoon. He has three false teeth, five fillings, a small cavity and needs a hair cut. He shaves once a day with an extra thrown in on appropriate occasions.

He contributes regularly to the support of his pastor, congressman, poker friends and many others who are not mentioned on his income tax return. He takes reducing exercises regularly three days in a row sometimes and holds his stomach in when people look like they are about to tell him he is getting fat.

He wears the ties people give him for Christmas and knows some stories about the same color. He can't remember much about the Lady of the Lake or Julius Caesar but can do a complete rendition of the Face on the Barroom Floor.

He reads mystery stories and doesn't peek into the back of the book to see how they come out. He likes certain pictures no matter who painted them and couldn't tell you for the life of him what Mrs. Soanso wore at the dance.

He needs a new suit of dinner clothes and there is a rip in his hunting coat. He is supposed to live to be 74, had pains at 22, should have been set at 30 and feels fine at 48. He has sparrows in the attic, termites in the flooring and mice in the pantry.

He's going to buy a small farm some day, just out of town, and live there—and do part of the farm work personally. He was too old to join the army, is too young to enjoy social security and too lazy to exercise down to the correct weight. You meet him every day at the bank, in the store, the office, on the street and in front of the mirror.

P. S. He's a regular guy. You really ought to know him better.

Is America "Ill-Housed"?

If you listen only to boosters for government housing, you will sometime get the miserable feeling that America is in a bad way for shelter and housing. You will be made to feel that the situation is beyond remedy and nothing at all is being done about it. According to the "let-government-do-it" boys, if we don't start throwing billions of tax dollars around for housing projects, then the whole population is at once ill-housed.

That American housing is in a bad way is a view point tremendously warped. It is granted that families are "doubling-up" in many homes and apartments are hard to find in some areas. But America's ability to house its people, through private industry, cannot be doubted. Under private construction methods, this country has done an exceptionally fine job of putting roofs over the heads of its people. It can do an even better job, if government will let it.

Record of Industry

While the year 1947 did not quite reach the peak of our building boom in 1925, it is estimated that 825,000 new homes were built. One family out of every 40 got a new house in 1947. That is an excellent record! The Bureau of Census has reported that 93.2 per cent of all city houses are in satisfactory repair, compared to 88.6 per cent in 1940. Our American housing is steadily improving, despite the many difficulties that have been placed in the way.

One of these problems facing private building is government activity in house construction. Many government projects put up so far are said to have been built because costs were too high for the citizens to undertake them. Yet, because the government is willing to pay these same "high" costs the costs are sure to remain high. In government housing, the difference between the rental income and the actual cost is simply passed on to the taxpayer. The government can't work miracles, but it can levy taxes.

Slum Clearance

If it is the object of federal housing legislation to clear away slums, then I say let communities in which these poor conditions exist clean up their bad sections. Some cities have already put slum clearance programs into effect, without calling on Congress for legislation. Our local governments can do much to stimulate building. Besides requiring property owners to meet good housing standards, they can also eliminate "horse and buggy" building codes that keep costs high.

To assume that Congress, with a public housing bill, can clear away slums, is taking a phony position. There will always be some older and less expensive housing, no matter how much we may build. But if you take charge of the folks with very low incomes and put them in palaces, the rest will be paying the bill for it. Then who gets the premium? This is a beautiful way to get more for-doing-less! You see, the fellow who earns less is better off!

What You Can Do

A public housing bill could in no way relieve the housing shortage. Certainly, this is not the time for the government to come in and bid up prices of the building materials that are available. Right now, a government housing program would no additional skilled labor into the industry, but would simply take the labor that already works for private builders. Do you think these men would produce any more housing, working for the government?

If you want to add to inflation and make it more difficult for private housing to go up; if you want to pay your share of multi-billion dollar expenditures; if you want to risk these experiments while European recovery is costing us billions; if you want a federal bureau to control 10 percent of our housing and keep building prices high; if you want to create a giant bureau for political purposes—then you're for public housing. But the only sane thing to do is to ask your Congressman to oppose public housing bills.

Section 15. All property, both real and personal, of the wife, owned or claimed by her before marriage, and that acquired afterward by gift, devise or descent, shall be the separate property of the wife, and laws shall be passed more clearly defining the rights of the wife, in relation to her separate property as that held in common with her husband, provided that her separate property as that held in common with her husband, without prejudice to her separate property as that held in common with her husband, may from time to time be partitioned between themselves in severalty or into undivided interests all or any part of their community property, whereupon without prejudice to the right of either spouse to such property shall be self-operative and self-executing; but laws may be passed prescribing requirements as to the form and manner of execution of such instruments, and providing for their recording, and for such other reasonable requirements not inconsistent herewith as the Legislature may from time to time consider proper with relation to the subject of this Amendment. ## Farm Stored Corn, Grain Crops Need Weevil Protection, Extension Warns

With the shortages of grain storage space, there probably will be a lot of corn and grain sorghums stored on farms in Texas this year," Dr. H. G. Johnston, extension entomologist of Texas A. M. College, points out. The wise man will start early to protect his grains against weevils.

The first thing is to be sure that storage bins are weather and fumigant tight, Dr. Johnston says. If the grain is not in storage yet, clean the bins and spray thoroughly with a five percent DDT spray.

Dr. Johnston recommends two mixtures for the fumigation process. The first is three parts of ethylene dichloride and one part carbon tetrachloride. One thousand and bushels of grain will use six gallons of the fumigant. Sprinkle with ordinary sprinkling cans over the top of the grain.

The second mixture recommended is one part carbon disulfide (highlife) and four parts carbon tetrachloride. Again, six gallons of the mixture will fumigate 1,000 bushels of grain. Pour it in shallow pans and place around the bin—it will evaporate and the fumes soak through the grain.

"Weevil control is important," Dr. Johnston concludes, "not only from a grain-saving standpoint, but to protect your stored wheat if it is under government loan. August is a good month to get started on this important job."

Cotton Shedding Unavoidable Says H. Thompson

A good many farmers are becoming alarmed about excessive cotton shedding, according to Homer Thompson, County Agent.

The shedding may seem heavy and probably is excessive in a few fields but, "It seems the shedding cannot be avoided," says Thompson.

"The condition is probably attributed to moisture and temperature," continues the agent. "The process is what we call natural shedding."

During the prolonged heat wave in this vicinity the mercury will reach its zenith at about 2 p. m. and that is the time the throw-off of young cotton bolls begins.

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

Veterans planning to get under the wire in buying surplus property before end of the War Assets Administration priority system August 31 will benefit from attending new sales planned for August. Latest Texas sale announced by the regional office will involve eight lots of materials at two San Antonio locations. Items offered will include flying glasses, infra red lamps, and some very used office equipment, an air compressor, magnaflex machine and photograph equipment. Inspection may be made at Kelly Field and Fort Sam Houston Thursday, August 26. The sale, by bidding will be held at WAA warehouse, 610 S. Flores St., San Antonio, on August 27.

Surplus housing is again available to Texans at both sealed bid and on the spot War Assets sales of camp buildings. Biggest offering will be approximately 2,000 structures to be marketed at the Camp Shelby, Mississippi, location August 24, 25 and 26. It will be an auction-type, cash and carry procedure. Another non-priority offering includes a dental clinic, barracks, mess halls, administration and other structures making up a total of 16 at Amarillo and Childress Air Fields. Bids are invited on special forms which may be secured from the Grand Prairie office of real property disposal. Deadline for this sale will be September 3.

The War Assets Administration's southwest region will undergo another contraction August 31. One result will be the closing of WAA offices at both San Antonio and Houston which have been in continuous operation since 1944. Staffs at both cities have declined from upwards of 750 to skeleton forces, matching the dwindling of available surplus property in the areas. The newest contraction is another step in the agency's march toward liquidation by February 28. A Customer Service Center will continue to be maintained at Grand Prairie for the state of Texas.

South Plains Fair To Feature Finest Livestock Exhibits

The finest livestock exhibits ever seen in the Southwest are indicated for the Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock Sept. 27 to October 2, according to Jason O. Gordon, former Lubbock County farm agent, general livestock superintendent.

Helping to stimulate more interest than he ever has observed previously, he said, are the increase of about 50 percent in livestock premiums and the great enlargement of the cattle and swine barns. The departments are better equipped for exhibits than ever before.

"But an important contributor to interest simply is that farmers have more time to think about exhibits for the fair," he explained. "They have been mighty busy the last few years producing the food for a war of survival. That tension has been eased this year."

Mr. Gordon offered some suggestions which, he said, might help those interested in competing for the substantial cash prizes.

He suggested exhibitors should make sure their registration papers are in order and that they get their animals blood-tested if they are not on a regular Bangs' control program. The best plan, he said, is to study the regulations and thus insure that no last-minute difficulties will be encountered.

Mr. Gordon invited inquiries from anyone interested. They will reach him if addressed to the Panhandle South Plains Fair Association.
