Tom Jarboe, assisted by Alton Farr and Dr. Paul Spring, will present the diplomas to the graduating eighth grade students.

Risa Howell will play processional and recessional.

Ushers from the seventh grade class, will be Bill Bailey, Dave Buske, Jimmy Paul Hamilton, Maxine Broyles, Cynthia Gable and Vickie Mingus.

School buses will run Saturday, May 20, for students to pick up their report cards. As soon as the cards have been picked up, they will return the children to their homes.

LITERARY EVENTS

Larry Truitt Places Second In State Contest

Larry Truitt, junior student at Friona High School, culminated his work in Inter-scholastic League English competition by winning the second place award in ready writing at the state literary meet recently. In winning the award, Truitt won over five students in the local elimination, placed second in the district meet among 16 contestants; place first at regional with 14 contestants competing, and won second in state with eight contestants competing.

In the local elimination, Larry's topic was "The need for an effective Student Council." At district, the topic was "Should parents censor their children's reading?"

Larry won the regional contest with a paper on "Public Schools do or do not teach good writing." On each of these levels, the students were given from three to five topics from which to choose. At the state meet, each contestant was given a quotation and was told to develop his own topic and write his paper.

The quotation went as follows: "Personal relations are despised today. They are regarded as bourgeois luxuries, as products of a time of fair weather which is now past, and we are urged to get rid of them and dedicate ourselves to some movement or cause instead. 'I hate the idea of causes, and if I had to choose between betraying my country and betraying my friend, I hope I should have the guts to betray my country. Such a choice may scandalize the modern reader and he may stretch out his patriotic hand to the telephone at once and ring up the police. 'It would not have shocked Dante, though. Dante places Brutus and Cassius in the lowest circles of Hell because they had chosen to betray their friend Julius Caesar rather than their country, Rome.'"

Larry's topic was "Personal versus National Loyalties," which placed second in the class AA division of the state inter-scholastic meet.

Summer Baseball Shy Of Players

The summer baseball committee met Monday night and held the annual player draft for 1967. According to the boys who have signed up, there will be 10 teams in the program this summer, although there will be one less Intermediate League team.

Only 37 boys in the 11-12-13 age bracket had signed up as of Monday night. Officials drafted the league on the basis of four teams, but stressed that any boy or parents with boys in this age group contact one of the officials immediately. More will be needed to bolster the four teams in the league.

Last year, there were five teams in the Intermediate League, and the previous year there were six.

There will be an additional team in the Pee-Wee division, however, as interest in this age division has increased. There will be six teams in the 8-9-10 year bracket where there were only five last year.

Bill Wooley is summer baseball chairman, assisted by Don Reeve. Any boy wanting to sign up should contact either of these men.

The first game of the 1967 season is slated for Monday, May 29.

Businesses sponsoring teams this summer are: Intermediates - Reeve Chevrolet, J.D.'s Gas Service, Friona State Bank and Friona Star-Hurst Department Store.

In the Pee-Wee Division, White Auto and Southwest Irrigation are new sponsors. Others are Monsanto Ag Center, Ethridge - Spring Agency, Farmer County Pump Co. and Nunn Lumber Co.

Band Receives First Division

The Friona Junior High School band received a "first division" rating in concert and sightreading in the junior high school division of the Dimmitt Band Festival last week.

The band had only two entries in the solo and ensemble division, and both won first division ratings. They were Larry Johnston, cornet solo; and the clarinet trio composed of Debra Mears, Dale Schueler and Kathy Schueler.

Charles Faulkner and Willis Giddens are directors of the band.

ACCEPTS GIFT . . . Loyd Shackelford, left, a member of Friona Chamber of Commerce's Industrial Development Committee, is shown accepting a check from H.L. (Hank) Outland, representing Southwestern Public Service Company. The electric company is one of the utility companies which donated to the Chamber's fund drive to buy the land on which Missouri Beef Packers will locate.

Because an 18-year-old waitress was proud of her home town and cheerfully said so, Huntingburg, Indiana, has a new industry with a one million dollar a year payroll.

There is a very good lesson in this incident for all of us, particularly for home folks, regardless of their high or low position.

Last year, while serving them lunch in her mother's restaurant, Liz Masterson heard some Chicago men talking about a new plant. She promptly plugged enthusiastically for Huntingburg and wound up the Chicagoans to the key people in Huntingburg that they needed to see.

So Huntingburg ultimately got a $250,000 industry employing 300 persons, and Liz got deserved recognition, a $300 scholarship and $150 cash award from Lt. Gov. Robert Rock, who directs Indiana's Department of Commerce.

"The state is grateful for your alertness and initiative," Rock told Miss Masterson.

Another incident like this occurred about a year and a half ago in a West Texas city.

A taxi driver picked up three men at the air port. The three passengers began asking questions about the city. Fortunately the taxi driver was proud of his city and proceeded to laud it enthusiastically for its good people and many merits.

He became so carried away with telling of his town he suggested that his three passengers permit him to drive them around to points of interest. They agreed and he gave them the grand tour.

The next day the three men met with the city council and Chamber of Commerce officials. They said they wanted to make an announcement of their plans to move an industrial plant there, but they wanted the taxi driver to be present when they did. The taxi driver was found and called in. The announcement was made that a huge industrial plant was to be located in that city. The three gentlemen said the decision had been reached as a result of the enthusiasm the taxi driver had for his community.

No one ever knows when he is selling his town or giving it a black eye. Waitresses, barbers, store clerks, service station attendants, housewives, or just a fellow walking along the street can be an ambassador of good will for his town. Or he can do it irreparable harm by unthinkingly knocking it.

Actually speaking well of one's home town shouldn't be motivated just with the hopes of acquiring new industry. Everyone should just because it is their hometown.

Margaret Chase Smith from Maine, says the nation should restore the "square" to a rank of honor.

"There has been too much glorification of the angels of players, the corner-cutters, the sharp shooters and the goof-offs," she said recently in a speech to a group of women leaders.

"A square wouldn't stand idly by while a woman was stabbed and robbed," the gray-haired senator said. She deplored what she described as a national pattern of refusing to get involved.

"Many years ago," she said, "the word 'square' was one of the most honored and respected words in our vocabulary. A 'square' deal was an honest deal. A 'square' meal was a good and full meal.

"It was the 'square' shooter rather than 'sharp' shooter who was admired. When you were financially 'square', you had paid all your debts.

"What is a 'square' today? He is the fellow who never learned to get away with it - the one who volunteers when he doesn't have to - who tries to do better than the others.

"He is the one who has to be reminded to go home because he's so lost in his work - whose heart beats faster and who gets choked up when the band plays 'The Star Spangled Banner' and the flag unfurls."

Even the word 'character' has been impugned. "In the past," she declared, "a man of character was a person universally acclaimed and respected for integrity, honor, re-

PAPER WORK UNDERWAY

Packers Anxious To Begin Work

Securing the title to the land was the step being taken, and the only thing which stands between Missouri Beef Packers and beginning construction in Friona, it was reported this week by a member of the Chamber of Commerce's industrial committee.

Dr. Lloyd Shackelford stated that as of the present, the people at Missouri Beef were "waiting on us" to get the land properly purchased and deeded.

A fund drive to finance purchasing the land has occupied the committee's time for the past two weeks, but it appeared early this week that the drive was nearing its goal of near $100,000. An announcement to this effect was expected in the next few days.

Meanwhile, Shackelford stated that officials of Missouri Beef Packers have been in the process of buying new equipment for the beef packing facility to be built near here. "In a telephone conversation with Gene Frye, president of Missouri Beef, he states that due to some technical advancements, the plant which will be built at Friona will be even better equipped than was expected when the plant was announced," Shackelford said.

Construction on the $3,000,000 beef-packing facility is expected to begin soon after the legal work on the property is completed. Officials announced that they would have the plant open by April 1, 1968.

The plant bids to slaughter up to 10,000 cattle per week on a single shift, and later could expand to 20,000 cattle on a double-shift basis. Either way would make it the largest volume slaughtering plant in the nation.

To Appear On Program

Bob Price, congressman from the 18th Congressional District, will present a "Report to the People" Saturday night, May 20 at the Bull Barn in Hereford. A banquet affair, tickets are available at $2 per plate. The program is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

Friona's Mary Rando will appear on the program, and accompanied by Jo Witten will present her reading, "I Am the Nation," which she has done many times and places this Clint Formby of Hereford will serve as master of ceremonies. The public is invited to attend.

OFFSET PIONEER

Plains Publishers Closes Its Friona Operation

Plains Publishers, Inc., which pioneered offset printing and the central printing plant idea in West Texas and the Southwest, has closed its Friona plant. W. H. Graham, president of the firm, announced this week that he would move the 12-page capacity Color King press to Lubbock.

The Friona Star, and other area newspapers printed in the Friona plant for the past several years, were seeking other arrangements for printing their weekly issues.

Frost!

Cold weather continued to hamper farming activities in the area this week, as the thermometer plunged toward freezing Monday morning, May 15.

The official low in the City of Friona that morning was 34, although other thermometers in the area had it as low as 30, and frost was reported.

Billy Dean Baxter and Johnny W. Hand were elected as directors at the annual meeting of Friona Consumers Saturday.

Hand will replace Earl Drake, who did not seek re-election. Baxter was re-elected.

Winners of door prizes were Larry Fairchild, Roger Field, Mrs. John Benger, Mrs. Pearl Hand and Mickey Harrelson. Mrs. Baxter won a bumper jack.

Pause And Reflect

by Nelson Lewis

Beyond the white columned veranda the lawn sloped gently down toward the Potomac. The river ran grey, it's usually placid surface roughened by a stiff northeast breeze. Low clouds scudded to join a cloud bank forming in the southwest. Rain fell fitfully, varying from a driving drizzle to sharp downpours. It was one of these sudden deluges that had awakened the tall white-haired man who stood gazing out of the window. A servant had placed a pot of steaming tea on the small round marble topped table and the man was grateful for it's cheering warmth as he sipped slowly from the delicate china cup. A silken rustle caused him to turn his head. Placing the cup on the table he strode halfway across the room to greet his wife, "Good morning, dear, I trust my early rising did not disturb you."

"Yes, George, it did," Mrs. Washington replied, "You did not sleep soundly at all. Are you not well? You tossed and mumbled a great deal."

"No, Martha dear, I am not ill. I foolishly allowed a bad dream to upset me. Come, I'll pour your tea."

"Pray do not tell your dream before breakfast; superstition says it will cause it to come true." She accepted the tea and they stood viewing the bleak December day until breakfast was announced.

The General, as he was still called, had a lusty appetite. At the age of sixty-seven he enjoyed the fruits of a life of hard work and accomplishment. The hot biscuits and the platter of fried Virginia ham and eggs dispelled part of the gloom cast by the nightmare and the foul weather.

"Now may I tell you of my dream? I can not help but be depressed by it," the General asked.

"Certainly, my dear, if it will help you to feel better," she replied.

"Let me begin by saying that like all bad dreams the likelihood of this one coming true is highly improbable if not absolutely impossible. I seemed to be looking far into the future, a hundred and fifty years or so. Our country was engaged in war half way around the World and Congress and the President, in fact most of the learned men of the day were in a state of utter confusion. To digress a bit, you remember that I cautioned against foreign entanglements in my farewell address, but my advice was evidently ignored by these future Americans.

"Our country was feeling the horrors of this bloody conflict, yet Congress had not declared war. Men and money were being spent recklessly but our army seemed to be held back by an invisible iron curtain. To make matters worse the people were of divided opinions and some were seen parading in public bearing placards with unpatriotic slogans. Now I ask you, dear wife, is that alone not enough to arouse one from sleep? But wait! I have not finished.

"It seemed that some ungodly person had been bold enough, and I allowed foolishly permitted, to bring a case against the worship of God in our schools all the way to the highest court in the land. Would you believe that this person won a decision? You may smile, Martha, but do you begin to understand my unrest at the thought?

"While these renegades were busily defying all authority a wave of crime arose that outstripped our population gain six to one. It was very apparent that the courts had restricted the constables in the performance of their duties to such an extent that even confessed murderers went free? Oh, do not shudder so, my dear, it was only a dream.

"Do you recall the poor demented wretch that one of our men found wandering in the swamp? Well many of these alleged Americans resemble him. They were dressed in outlandish costumes and had not visited a barber nor a tub for months! They held copies of lewd books and pictures for all to see, they partook of certain drugs and liquors which are as yet, thanks to a kind Providence, unknown. Strange as it may seem the same court had not seen fit to restrict the publication or distribution of such.

"A thousand pardons, my dear, I see I have discomfited you with my foolish ramblings. The rain has slackened enough so that I may take my morning ride. Pray do not give this outpouring of a morbid dream another thought. When I return please remind me to make some notes concerning a memorial service I wish to organize in memory of all the brave men who have given their lives to establish freedom in this new land. Perhaps through the years the public will come to appreciate them as I do."

Historical note - On December 12, 1799, George Washington went riding on a favorite horse to inspect part of Mount Vernon Plantation. Upon his return he was found to have contracted a cold. Two days later death claimed this most noble of Americans.

The Library Corner

BY MRS. V.J. ZEMAN

Friona Public Library received a $245.00 check from Progressive Study Club last week.

A portion of the money will help pay the salary of a library assistant for the summer. This assistant, Linda Fallwell, is being obtained through a College Work-Study Program for students going to West Texas State University.

Mrs. John Gaede, librarian and Linda will be at the library each Thursday, Friday and Saturday during the summer from 9 to 12 a.m. and 3 to 6 p.m. Assisting them will be members of the Future Homemakers. These FHA girls have been valuable helpers in past summers and each girl gave three hours work per week.

A spokesman for the library said, "The library is grateful for this additional help from Progressive Study Club. This group helps in so many ways; donation of money, books, time and talent. (Many of this group lead in the story hour and Mrs. Lee Cranfill is a valuable board member). Important, too, is the use of the library by this group and their families.

The Summer Reading Program Committee headed by Mrs. Lee Cranfill is working. You will be hearing more about the fifth annual Summer Reading Program which runs from June 1 to August 19. This program is to stimulate more reading by the school age group.

There are approximately three thousand books in the library now. They are for all ages. The library's total of 2,497 owned books has been richly supplemented by 357 on annual loan from the State Library and 225 on loan for the summer from the Muleshoe Area Bookmobile.

Fifteen Story Hour sessions were held this spring with an average attendance of 40 at each. The total attendance was 593. The peak average attendance was for the month of April — 51 average attendance. On April 27 there were 56 children present. A salute of appreciation to all who worked with this group.

HEED THESE HOME SAFETY TIPS

The National Safety Council estimates that 80,000 to 100,000 people incur injuries each year from bathroom accidents. Suction-type bath mats or non-slip adhesive strips in tubs and shower stalls, wallmounted grab bars or hand rails help prevent falls. Avoid using accident-dealing scatter rugs. Instead, use skidproof mats on the bathroom floor.

You can make the glass in your home visible and also decorative by marking it with attractive decals. Aluminum patio doors should also contain safety glass; if broken under heavy impact, safety glass crumbles into granular fragments instead of large, jagged pieces, reducing danger of serious injury, while preserving all of the fuel-saving and appearance advantages of aluminum sliding doors.

To increase your home's protection against fire, make periodic fire inspections of your entire house. Get the family

FUTURE SCHOLARS . . . These two youngsters were among the several who took part in Friona Elementary School's visitation day program for next year's first-graders recently.

Shown are Randy Jenkins and Debbie Menefee with first-grade instructor, Mrs. Harvey Neal. The future first-graders had an opportunity to meet all six of Friona's first-grade instructors.

Friona First School With School Buses

So far as is known, the Friona school was the first in the state to provide school buses and offer free transportation to rural students. With the erection of the brick building the idea of transporting students to their classes in school buses loomed up. Again came the howl of opposition, cries that "school tax money could not be used in that manner." Trustees contacted the state department of education, to be informed that such a project had never been tried, and the letter added "go ahead and try it."

When settlers first began arriving at Friona, an old M.K. & T. boxcar served as the town's railway station, residents recall, the present frame structure having been built around 1912-13. But even in its earliest days, the town could boast good service from the Santa Fe. There were two good "through" trains daily, one going east and one west, and in addition there was something special; "The Merry Widow," which made a daily run from Clovis to Amarillo and back for the convenience of residents in the Plains. Just how the little two-coach train got such a name is a mystery, it appears, but the fact remains that the Merry Widow was well patronized for special events, ballgames and the like.

The city has never been without its own publicity department. Back around 1914 there was an organization similar to the Chamber of Commerce, although not then known by that name, which was officially organized and eulogized the virtues of the area, and the actual CC has carried on. Friona was officially organized in 1928 with John White being named as the first mayor. The first official act after organization was to issue a franchise which brought electric power into the city.

Although Rueben Kinsley and Andy Wentworth were probably the first local residents to actually own "horseless carriages," the town was accustomed to the sight of cars early in 1906. Some 20 cars were maintained by the Wright Land company to carry customers about the area — and one of them was a famed Pierce-Arrow. All were handled by company drivers, with the residents getting plenty to see as they wheeled about town.

Dr. Ruark was the first local MD, eking out his practice by operating a small drug store in a building which also housed his living quarters. He was followed by a Dr. Pillians and then somewhat later by Dr. McElroy, who is well remembered in the area.

The first elevator built here was the Santa Fe Grain Company, back in 1915, with George T. Courtright and W.H. (Henry) Warren as operators. J.C. Wilkison, then with the Santa Fe, is responsible for naming the business, old timers recall.

There was quite a discussion as to the proper name, until "Wilks" tossed in, "Oh, just call it the Santa Fe Grain Company," and it's been that ever since.

Today there are two large elevators along the railroad right-of-way. They are the "Santa Fe Elevator" of the Continental Grain Company, and Friona Wheat Growers.

The Friona draw heeled its namesake for many years with seasonal rampages when heavy rains along its watershed in New Mexico would spill into the draw and come roaring down upon the lower part of town.

It got to be a great sport to see Friona come up, until 1941. That year, heavy rains continued until they sent the draw out of its banks three times in two weeks, with the water reaching over the railroad tracks at the southern edge of town and up around the Santa Fe Elevator.

The railroad apparently decided enough was enough, so it sent a good sum of money to have a large dike constructed along the banks of the draw, south of the tracks.

Since then, Friona has been comparatively tame. It gets "up", now; and then, but never enough to cause damage to property anymore.

Friona draw was responsible for some changes in the town. For several years prior to 1940 the highway department had been unhappy about the water coming over its route through the southern part of town periodically, and finally go things ironed out to put the highway north of the city.

At that time, all the business structures were concentrated on Main Street, but now a large number of them are located along Highway 60.

BEST DRESSED . . . Jim Bob Jones and Sharen Awtry were selected as "Best Dressed" in FHS and featured as such this year in the school annual.

TOO FEW PATROLMEN

Texas should have three times as many Highway Patrolmen as it does to patrol the vast network of state highways, according to nationwide standards. Governor Connally is going to ask the Legislature to make a substantial increase in the Highway Patrol force and provide adequate salaries to attract and keep qualified men — and "Texans for Traffic Safety" is actively supporting the proposal.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 11TH DISTRICT, TEXAS
1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 205-270

One of the big problems Congress faces, especially the House Agriculture Committee on which I serve, is the worsening farm situation. I have had many letters recently from both farmers and businessmen in smaller Panhandle communities about the continuing decline in farm income and the resultant depressing effect on business in the smaller towns.

Actually, business in Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Hereford and other communities with industrial payrolls is adversely affected by the comparatively low level of farm and ranch net income. Farm prices dropped in February to only 74% of parity and remained at 74 per cent during March. In only one other month since 1934 have the prices farmers received been so low in relation to the prices of the things they must buy to produce their crops and livestock and to live on the farm.

Consumers of this nation should understand that we might be short of food in this country today if our farmers depended solely on prices received in the market place and if these prices had been as low in all the years since 1940 as they are today. There probably would not be enough resources now left in the agricultural economy to provide abundance for our own people and certainly no possibility of sharing food with the hungry millions of other nations.

Addressing a farm credit group in Houston recently, Rep. W.R. (Bob) Poage, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said he was deeply concerned by the hue and cry last year from housewives and boycotts across the country when the prices at the grocery stores advanced more. And this all happened, Mr. Poage pointed out, in a year when prices farmers got for what they produced were substantially - actually 5 per cent below what they were 20 years before and they are substantially lower than that today. Food prices for the same period are up 35%. Today, the farmers receive only 5.5 per cent of the U.S. consumer's total after-tax income for his products -- one half the share he received in 1947. But during the past 20 years hourly earnings of industrial workers have advanced 123 per cent and corporate dividends are up 232 per cent.

This story could go on and on -- the inflated prices a farmer must pay for everything -- machinery, building materials, labor, medical and hospital care. In the nation as a whole and particularly in the Panhandle agriculture is our biggest industry. It is also our most vital industry but the least rewarded.

The competition of higher paying jobs and public assistance payments in cities keeps a steady stream of farmers and farm workers moving off the land. Our farm population today is down to 12 million, less than half what it was 18 years ago. And not many people are going into agriculture. More than half of our farmers are over 50 years of age and 18 per cent above 65. So it is obvious that we are headed for trouble unless we put incentives back in agriculture and this means that the cities must be willing to return to the farmers in the price of food and fiber for a profit on a parity with people in other undertakings that contribute to our well-being.

Because of his fewer numbers, the political force of the farmer has diminished to the extent that he must now depend upon members of Congress and administrators representing urban constituents and populations for approval of policies which are fair and equitable to agriculture. And I believe it is urgent that the great metropolitan areas understand what is involved before it is too late.

This is, therefore, one of the most vital issues facing Congress. We must forestall any probability of a food shortage in the United States and, hopefully, be able to help feed the hungry people in the Free World nations. A fair farm income and small industries in our smaller communities will hold people in rural areas and stop the flow into the slum-ridden cities.

Patrol Report Given For April

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 12 accidents on rural highways in Parmer County during the month of April, according to Sergeant W.E. Wells Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two persons killed, four persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $8,799.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first four months of 1967 shows a total of 36 accidents resulting in three persons killed, 15 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $24,229.00.

School will soon be out. This will be the signal for the beginning of summer vacation. Residential neighborhoods which were quiet between 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. will be alive with children popping out in all directions. Streets and highways will be laden with carefree inattentive motorists going on vacations and outings.

This means that motorists must be constantly alert at all times during the summer months for children darting out from unexpected places and the unpredictable actions of the carefree vacation motorists," the Sergeant added.

Marital Ratio High In County

Despite the cynics and the doubting Thomases, residents of Parmer County are more marriage-minded today than their forebears were.

The proportion of the local population that is married has been increasing steadily over the years. At the same time, there has been a marked drop in the proportion that has remained single.

The latest official figures from the Department of Commerce show that approximately 76.7 per cent of the Parmer County population over age 14 are married.

A breakdown of this figure reveals that 75.1 per cent of all men in that age bracket and 78.3 per cent of all women are married.

In other parts of the United States, the marital ratio is 67.5 per cent, and in the States of Texas, 69.1 per cent.

Another generally-held belief, regarding marriage and divorce, is upset by some recent figures released by the Census Bureau.

They show that contrary to the popular impression, the nation's marital rate has been rising faster than its divorce rate.

Although there has been an increase, in the last few decades, in the proportion of the United States population that is divorced, the proportion of married people has increased much more.

The survey, covering 1966, indicates that 3.2 per cent of all women over age 14 and 2.3 per cent of all men of that age group have been divorced and have not remarried. This compares with the low figure of 0.4 per cent of women and 0.3 per cent of men divorced in the year 1890.

On the other hand, during the 76-year span, the proportion of married people rose 8.5 per cent and in single women, 5 per cent.

Parmer County's divorce rate, reflecting the national trend, is higher than in the past. The latest figure for the local area show a total of 33 men and 23 women divorced, equivalent to 0.9 per cent of the over-14 population.

By way of comparison, in the West South Central States, 2.3 per cent are listed as divorced and throughout the State of Texas, 3.2 per cent.

Kiddie Kollege Kids To Receive Diplomas

Formal graduation exercises for the 1966-67 class of Kiddie Kollege Kindergarten will be held at First Baptist Church at 3:00 p.m. Sunday, May 21. Diplomas will be presented to Mark Fairchild, Joanie Clements, Richard Young, Varla Welch, Kim Frye, Debbie Wilson, Park Weatherly and Jay Ferguson.

A play entitled, "The Little White Rabbit Who Wanted Red Wings," will be presented. Several musical numbers will also be presented before diplomas are awarded. Mrs. Pat Ferguson, teacher, will be assisted by Mrs. David Campbell. Highlights of the school year have been a trip to Panhandle-Plains Museum at Canyon; a trip to Amarillo to attend the annual "kindergarten Koncert" which was presented at Amarillo Little Theatre. Mrs. Phillip Weatherly, Mrs. Jim Roy Clements and Mrs. George Frye assisted with this trip.

Ken McDermitt, local chief of police, spoke to the group preceding the Halloween party, which was hosted by Mrs. George Frye and Mrs. Phillip Weatherly. The costume party began with a game session and ended with an apple bobbing contest.

A Valentine Party and a Christmas party were hosted by Mrs. Ferguson, who was assisted by Mrs. Gene Welch, Mrs. Jim Roy Clements entertained the group with an Easter Egg Hunt. The class attended the Children's Theatre of Eastern New Mexico production of "The Emperor's New Clothes", at the local school. They also visited the local fire station.

On visitation day the following pre-school age children were guests: Kyle Barnett, Guy Cranfill, Sharla Beth Duggins, Scott Fangman, David Fleming, Kirk Frye, Joel Hight, Sarah Mears, Patricia Miller, Joy Neal, Chuck Nichols, Rod Owen, Debbie Taylor, Bobby Thompson, Burk Vestal and Pepper Weatherly.

For the end of school picnic the class rode to Clovis on the bus and were met at the bus station by the Clardy-Campbell train and taken to the zoo for a picnic. In the afternoon they attended a showing of "The Ugly Dachshund." Mothers accompanying the group were Mrs. Phillip Weatherly, Mrs. George Frye, Mrs. Welton Fairchild and Mrs. Jim Roy Clements.

Mrs. Ferguson and parents of the children are inviting friends to attend the graduation exercises.

At Home In Parmer County

By CRICKET TAYLOR
County HD Agent

Another class of Latin Americans who are interested in learning to sew is scheduled to start soon. A total of 14 have signed for the course. Mrs. Ralph Robinson has really done the "ground work" for this project in the Friona and Hub area. I have scheduled a meeting with those women who are interested in helping with the project for Wednesday, May 24th, at 2:00 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Robinson. Plans for the classes will be discussed and announcements as to the date it will start will follow.

The Farwell class is progressing nicely. It is hoped too, that classes in foods, management and other homemaking subjects can follow with these groups. Extension Service has a philosophy "Help People to Help Themselves." Of course, an Extension Agent is not expected to know all the answers, but we are expected to know where to go to find reliable and authentic information on any phase of homemaking and rely this information to others.

OPPORTUNITY TO LEARN—Extension Service gives people an opportunity to learn to take part in group activities, act as leaders (as they develop in self confidence and ability) and share their information with others—really nothing is worthwhile that cannot be shared.

I have gotten a great deal of pleasure working with the project group here in Farwell—experiencing the friendly and cooperative attitude of those participating— their eagerness to learn and apply what they learn. The women helping in this project as leaders, and baby sitters are to be commended too—they get an equal feeling of satisfaction in sharing information— which will perhaps make life a little easier for those homemakers attending.

LET'S SING SOME MORE . . . The piano in the background is used by accompanists when it is sing-song time at Kiddie Kollege Kindergarten. The students all agree that singing is fun. Those in the picture are Varla Welch, Kim Frye, Debbie Wilson, Park Weatherly and Jay Ferguson.

If we could solve the baby sitting problem, I feel that Extension Service could do much more for the younger homemaker in her important role as "homemaker". There are so many lessons and workshops that can help with various problems that come up in the home. In the meantime I want to encourage homemakers who cannot attend meetings to make use of available information through bulletins and news releases.

One of the reasons I chose an Extension Service career is that I like to learn new things, and the work has demanded that I keep up-to-date on all phases of homemaking.

WRONG SIDE OF ROAD

Fifteen per cent of the fatal accidents on the rural highways of Texas occurred last year when some body was driving on the wrong side of the road, according to the records of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

IT'S TIME TO GO IN . . . Karen Ferguson stops just outside the door of Kiddie Kollege Kindergarten long enough to pose for a Star photographer to make her picture. The doorway, through which kindergarten students pass each day, has been designed in a fairyland effect and is white with a red top. The inside of the school, which is taught by Mrs. Pat Ferguson, is attractively decorated and furnished. Mrs. David Campbell has been Mrs. Ferguson's assistant this school year.

HELP CONQUER CHILDISH FEARS -- Many small children associate the white uniforms worn by doctors and nurses with pain-- and fear of the pain often changes to fear of the uniform. While this theory has been borne out by research, two enterprising Florida nurses, however, have found an effective solution to the problem says Mrs. Patsy R. Yates, Texas A&M University Extension family life education specialist. They switched to pastel cotton dresses when they had to care for very small children who were ill. The same toddlers who were frightened of nurses wearing white uniforms wanted to be picked up when the nurses wore house dresses in pastel shades. The success of this venture has prompted several other hospitals to decorate a children's ward with colorful printed patterns of sheets. A homelike atmosphere is important to people of all ages, says the specialist.

MRS. EVERETT GEE

Wessie Hand, Everett Gee Wed

In a candlelight ceremony at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, May 6, at Friona Methodist Church Wessie Hand became the bride of Everett Gee. The double ring vows were read by C. J. Horton preacher at Sixth Street Church of Christ, before an archway of greenery interspersed with white pom pom mums. Spiral candelabra holding white tapers stood at either side of the archway. Baskets of mums were used in front of the candelabra. Two branched candelabra holding seven tapers each were arranged to complement the setting. These candles were lighted by Phillip and Danny Hand, cousins of the bride, immediately preceding the beginning of the ceremony. Aisle candles completed the decorations.

Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. Johnny W. Hand and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison F. Gee.

Mrs. Glen Herring, Friona, was the matron of honor. Bridesmatron was Mrs. Vance Gilstrap, Lubbock. They wore identical dresses of blue bonded crepe and carried single long stemmed white roses. Kellon Williams, Anton, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. She was dressed identically to the other bridal attendants.

Roger Gee, brother of the groom, was best man. James Gee, cousin of the groom, served as groomsmen. Ushering duties were performed by Mike and Nick Hand, cousins of the bride; Kirby Williams, Anton, brother-in-law of the bride; Dub Bush, cousin of the bride; and Neil Floyd, cousin of the groom.

Mrs. Kirby Williams, Anton, sister of the bride, presided at the guest register.

Carolyn Herring, vocalist, sang, "Walk Hand In Hand", "I'll Walk Beside You," and "I Love You Truly." She was accompanied by Gail McClothin, organist. Miss McClothin also played traditional wedding music and the Wedding March.

The bride, who was escorted by her father wore a formal length gown designed with an Empire bodice and elbow length sleeves of re-embroidered lace over silk net, a scalloped neckline and an A line skirt of peau de soie. A pleated band of self fabric outlined the bodice ending in a back bow with lace trimmed streamers. Soft pleats from the waist back swept into a chapel train. Clusters of pearl trimmed candlelight roses held her elbow length veil of imported illusion.

Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses tied with white satin loveknots and streamers.

The serving table for the reception in Fellowship Hall was covered with a white net cloth over blue and decorated with blue satin bows. The tiered wedding cake was decorated with white and blue and was served with punch.

Mrs. Dub Bush, Lubbock, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Jerry Burnett, Bovina, cousin of the bride, and Kay Neel presided at the refreshment table.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso and other Southeastern New Mexico points Mrs. Gee wore a yellow double knit suit with white accessories and a corsage lifted from her wedding bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Gee, both graduates of Friona High School, are at home here. He is employed at Farmer County Implement Company and she is employed at Mademoiselle Beauty Salon.

Paul Reeve Named Exchange Finalists

Paul Reeve has been finalist in the International Youth Exchange Program of Rotary International. Paul, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reeve, Naugatuck, Connecticut, and grandson of Mrs. F.W. Reeve of this city.

The exchange program started in Rotary District 741 in Pennsylvania in 1960. More than 1600 students have been exchanged since that time.

From the modest exchange of 26 students with seven countries in 1960, the program has now expanded to 30 countries. Each year more countries are added to the program.

Districts in these countries on all continents have participated Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, China, Denmark, England, Finland, West Germany, India, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Mexico, The Netherlands, New Zealand, Peru, Norway, Philippines, Rhodesia, Scotland, South Africa, Sweden, Switzerland, Tasmania, Thailand, and the United States.

The object of the Rotary Club program is to further international goodwill and understanding and to provide one year's study in pre-university education in another country.

To qualify for the program the students must be at least 16 years old at the time of the exchange, studying in one of their last two years of pre-university education, and in the upper one-third per cent of their class scholastically.

Young Reeve is finishing his junior year in Naugatuck High School. He recently attended a final orientation meeting of outgoing students in Wilkes-Barre, Penn. where he was given his assignment of Tweeds Head, Australia. He will enroll in school there in August. He plans to leave the United States in July.
