"TEXAS' LAST FRONTIER"

VOLUME XI

MORTON, COCHRAN COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY APRIL 20, 1950.

NUMBER 8

Far below the circling plane the lights of Guatemala City, head like a storeroom of sparkling jewels over the high mountain mesa. Stars of the tropics seemed to merge with the more brilliant lights that trailed into the valleys until the horizon vanished. The plane landed quickly and was silent like a bird as passengers and baggage streamed into the air.

Near the entrance and aside from the crowded custom inspection office, the little woman stood. She was old and her face lined like carved leather. Her hands were thin and calloused, her small sharp eyes were looking rapidly at the passengers.

There was a hushed cry. A young man stepped out of line. He lifted the little woman as he held her until her bare feet were again on the marble floor. They talked hurriedly and smiled often, then advanced toward the crowd. The youth waved his hand and shouted to the custom inspector. A large bundle sailed overhead and the youth caught it. He waved again at the custom officer and they were gone. The woman and her son, holding the bundle between them, stepped into the embrace of heavy Guatemalan darkness. They thanked the taxi service that would cost precious quetzals; they looked at each other and laughed. The necessity of money was frequently overestimated and so constantly believed that it was easy to deem it an ingredient in the formula of happiness.

History is strewn with the mangled bones of all-but-forgotten leaders who imposed strict laws upon their subjects, but not for themselves so much liberty that it became a curse. A madman and a mad man possess freedom without restraint.

Political virus responds to only treatment, doctor voter and sharp ballot needle.

The best authority says ignorance is not contagious, but its spread points to more research. There are so many of us carriers.

Many other great discoveries have bloomed suddenly out of the barren soil of despondency. And I know I share the ceaseless joy of other men who waited until bronze statues were erected in their honor. It was so simple that I wonder the Russians had not developed it in advance, although the vast quantity of food my plan requires might have been an item to Russian thinkers. I propose to make all the plump ladies in our country happy and satisfied. No diets, no pills, no exercises and no fasting hunger. In fact they need not have to do anything except be friendly (and not envy the thin girls). In a coordinated crusade they will urge the lean girls to take a sensible view of the situation (without mirror), and eat all the rich food they desire.

In a community where one or two slender girls might avoid rich foods as the plan develops, more forceful measures than suggestion might be taken. When the plan spreads (perhaps should have used a different word) until the last slender, attractive woman is brought to an equality with those now on the plump side, peace, happiness and a new slant on life will abide.

The vast unrest, the soulful eyes that swim in pools of misery when turned toward whipped cream frosting, the hands that quiver when they touch a butter knife, voices that lie about the verdict of scales, will all pass like the dreams of a starving man left alone in a cafeteria at lunch time. All women being of the same lines will be free and without envy. Men, seeing women all alike as far as birth is concerned, will not be enthusiastic, but their position in the matter is not important. If they hadn't turned their heads too often the idea would not have acquired discovery.

Trouble frequently needs no motive to move its unwelcome guest to the property of contented people provided the soil offers a few snafuels of hate and room enough to drive some pegs of jealousy.

In developing the H-Bomb Congress must feel at ease since it is the only way out of a difficult position. How else could the Democrats escape from the dilemma of providing subsidies to everyone and taxing the fellow?

was blown out of the house but was uninjured. Mrs. Jack Reed suffered a slight head cut. The group did not have time to reach a nearby storm cellar shown foreground. The W. S. Sides home, east of Morton, was also demolished by cyclonic winds around seven o'clock Saturday night. Mrs. Sides and three of her five children were scratched and bruised by the tornado which left the floor of their home against a tree and pieces of furniture smashed. —Photo Courtesy Avalanche-Journal.

Lions Hear Talk On Communism By Rev. H. Weins

Rev. H. G. Weins, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Fresno, California, in Morton conducting a revival meeting was heard in a forceful talk on "Communism" by 39 Lions Wednesday noon, April 12. He was introduced by W. C. Wright, pastor of the local First Baptist Church.

Rev. Weins, who received a large portion of his education in Texas schools has lived in Russia and speaks the Russian as well as other foreign languages; he understands and does not underestimate the communistic campaign and its implications.

"Basically, he said, communism is a way of life that is threatening the entire world; it seeks to penetrate every branch of society; weakening our moral fibers by trying to undermine our form of government."

Communism is a materialistic philosophy, that economic system which upholds the absorption of all proprietary rights in a common interest; it cannot function and is stifled by isolation; its aim is world domination. It appeals to the underdog and flourishes in a disintegrated society; our belief in free enterprise makes communism difficult to achieve but the communist will stop at nothing to gain his point.

Members of the party understand this; there are representatives everywhere who will go to all lengths to secure the party aim. The communist party does not seek American support because of love but because of our vast resources, of oil, money, stocks and natural wealth, they are prepared to make any sacrificial program that is necessary for conquest.

The Marshall plan in Europe has been a thorn in the flesh of Russia; Europe is prospering because of this help and is not asking aid of Russia.

Rev. Weins believes the "heart of the United States" sound and that communism will fail here because God is in back of the democratic system; that our democratic form of government has grown under God and that by combining democracy and Christianity we cannot fail.

Guy E. Carpenter, Entomologist, Cautions Farmers of Insect Danger

County Agent Homer E. Thompson states that Guy E. Carpenter, Associate County Agent, Entomology, has released a statement that indications point toward a heavy infestation of insects for the year 1950. This is mainly due to a mild winter and a large number of overwintering eggs and adult insects. Whether this infestation materializes depends to a great extent on weather condition, especially moisture.

This is not meant to alarm farmers, but to alert them to that if insects do appear, the proper control methods may be applied before too much damage is done. In 1950, watch for insects and use the approved recommendation for their control. This information can be furnished by your local county agricultural agent.

Green bugs are developing in damaging numbers in some counties on the South Plains. Preliminary experiments indicate that the pest can be controlled but whether it is practical for large scale use has not been determined.

It may be a little early to start talking about grasshoppers, but farmers and ranchmen are urged to be ready to stop them this year before they leave their egg beds.

In announcing Mr. Tilger's appointment, Mr. Gilchrist said that the American Cancer Society hopes to raise $500,000 in Texas (this year to carry on its support of cancer diagnostic and treatment clinics and cancer research, and to carry on its year-round program of cancer education.

A 4-H Tractor Maintenance School was held at Lubbock, Texas, Texas Technological College Farm Shop Building April 11 and 12, 1950. Those attending full two days were Gehrome Holloway, adult leader from Bledsoe community, Bill Kinser, 4-H boy from Whiteface club; Joe Chaddick 4-H boy from Bledsoe club and Homer E. Thompson, County Agricultural Agent.

"We wish to express our thanks to E. L. Banks Company; Raymond C. Ross, for paying the expenses of two boys and to Courtney Sanders, Case Dealer, for paying the expense of another boy," Thompson said.

"The value of this course cannot be estimated in dollars and cents, but care of a tractor in service would give one to two years, at least, more life to a tractor without major overhaul operation," said the County Agricultural Agent. "What would this mean to 800 tractor operators in Cochran county?"

Morton F. F. A. Judging Teams Win Honors at Texas Tech Contests

Morton To Enter Regional Meet

BY CLARENCE MOORE

Morton will take a track and field squad to the regional meet at Lubbock, April 22, according to Coach Melvin Crawford.

Only boys who placed as high as third in the district are allowed to attend. Jimmy Chapman will enter the discus. Jimmy Coats is entered in the shot putt. In the pole vault, Morton has two entries, Lackey and Burke. Veryl Webb will run the mile event and Mike Bolton will run the 440 yard dash. Kenneth Wynn is entered in the jumping events.

Perhaps Morton's best hopes lie in the mile relay team. The team, composed of Royce Smith, Bunky Hargrove, Johnny Green and Mike Bolton, has won most meets it has entered in this year. This same quartet, with the exception of Smith and Hargrove run the sprint relay. Don Baldwin and Kenneth Wynn will combine with them on this event.

Bookkeeping Class Striving to Learn

BY DOT AKIN

As school goes into the last lap the bookkeeping class strives to learn more about the principals of keeping books.

Jimmy Self is the one who figures out all the transactions, and then explains them (or tries to) to Beth Winder, Dorothy Akin and Imogene Jeter, who in turn try hard to show Patsy Barton how to work them.

Melvin Yarbrough tries desperately to grasp the vision of recording the different types transactions.

H. L. Shakespear, Walter New and Arnold Lamb had rather play than work on their workbooks while Glenda Evans sits quite and figures out each transaction and Bunky Hargrove does the same.

Leslie White, Corky Evans, Vaughn Killian, Royce Smith, Ted Wood and Lonnie Allsup work together and with Mr. Jack Eudy's help they work up their exercises.

Students Receive Annuals Here

School life was thrown into chaos on Tuesday, April 4, as J. B. Kempson ascended the platform of the Morton High School auditorium and told the students that the 1950 yearbooks of "The Lohah" was received and ready to be distributed among the eager group.

With the students it was one of the happiest moments to be witnessed during the entire year.

Home-rooms and even classes were interrupted during the day while the 250 ordered annuals were being signed. There were only 240 annuals subscribed for but Beverly Blackley, editor, purchased 250 which was 10 extra annuals. They didn't last long for there were about 25 people that wanted annuals and didn't get them because they didn't subscribe.

School continued on Wednesday but there was still a lot of sore fingers due to fact the students had signed so very many names.

This 1950 yearbook contained 80 pages. The covers were very attractive with an Indian head at the top of the page and on the bottom of the page is "The Lohah 1950." They are black and gold which are the school's colors. It was dedicated to a kind and faithful supporter, Wendell Watson, principal.

One of the main highlights of "The Lohah" is the Who's Who page. This page contains a picture of the boy and girl, from each of the four high school classes, that the teachers of M. H. S. think are so outstanding in this year's work. No one knows who receives the honor except the teachers. This year Imogene Jeter and Clarence Moore received the honor for the seniors while Peggy Lilljedahl and Clem Wynn captured the honor for the juniors. Joyce Ramsey and Mike Bolton received the honor for the sophomores while Doris Hanna and Lanar Burns captured the honor for the freshmen.

The annuals paid for themselves and cleared $275 extra to help on the senior trip.

Students Attending Tech's Open House

Open House will be held at Texas Technological College, April 21-22. This is an annual affair in which all high school students are invited.

All departments of the college will be open for the visitors to see. Some of these departments will be the engineering, music department, home economics, college museum, textile department, and several style shows will be given.

Some students planning to attend are Joyce Daniel, Saradel Lilljedahl, Glenda Evans, Peg Mullinax, Nelda Childs, Imogene Jeter, Vaughn Killian, Jim Chapman, Clarence Moore, Bunky Hargrove, Olin Coon, and Noel Crow. Approximately 35 Home Economics girls will attend the open house.

The Open House starts at 7:00 a.m. but the dormitories will not be open until 1:00 through 4:00. All students are invited to visit the dorms.

A disgusted parent wrote a note of complaint to the teacher, and wound it up with this: "If all Herbert learns in school is to swear, I'll keep him home and teach him myself."

Betty Barnett, Bride-Elect, Is Feted With Tea

Mrs. Floyd Barnett, of Spur, Texas, was hostess at an informal tea at her home Sunday afternoon, April 9, when she honored her daughter, Betty, bride-elect of Charles Bills of Whiteface. The announcement of the engagement of Miss Barnett was made by the ingenious use of a small upright screen behind which a light flashed off and on throughout the entertainment hours. The screen also bore an announcement, "Betty — Charles, June 1st."

The guests were greeted by Mrs. Barnett, Betty, honoree, Mrs. W. Bills of Whiteface, mother of the groom-elect, and Miss Lillie Reid, sister of Mrs. Bills. The honoree was attired in a full length frock of turquoise crepe with a shoulder corsage of pink camellias.

An Easter motif was used throughout in decorations of the receiving rooms and the serving table which was laid with a green taffeta cloth. The table was centered with an arrangement of Easter lilies and jonquills which was flanked by a silver coffee service.

Plate favors were miniature white faces painted on white paper, each veiled with pink tissue. Presiding at the serving table during the receiving hours were Meses, Melvin Starcher, E. Lee, Ollie Hindman, Hade Conner, and O. M. McIntv. Miss Martha Nell Walker presided at the register.

Over one hundred guests attended.

Miss Barnett taught one year in the Morton schools and is now teaching in Whiteface High School. After their marriage the couple will reside in Whiteface, where Mr. Bills is employed by Forest Lumber Company.

A refreshment plate was served to two guests, Mrs. L. F. Hargrove and a sister of Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Paul Ormsby of Gorman; and the following members: Mesdames John W. Alford, D. E. Benham, Frank R. Barker, Neal H. Rose, Lloyd C. Miller, Hume Russell, C. H. Silvers, M. C. Ledbetter, J. A. Gowdy, Ermon A. Miller, Bill Garrett and Misses Lanora Jackson and Mabel Ann Manley.

The next meeting, April 27, will be with Mrs. John W. Alford as hostess; Mrs. D. E. Benham will review.

Prune, Fertilize Roses Now

College Station, April 20—April is a busy month for the rose gardener. It is a little too late to plant roses unless you are using plants that have been held in cold storage, but according to Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. & M. College, there are a lot of things that can be done to make those you already have growing more productive and beautiful.

Roses do best in a fertile soil. If fertilization is needed, now is the time to make the application she says. Two or three pounds of 4 12 4 or 5 10 5 commercial fertilizer for each hundred square feet of space in the rose garden is about right but if you want to be more accurate, she suggests that you ask your local county agent about local fertilizer recommendations.

The fertilizer should be worked into the soil by shallow cultivation. Deep cultivation at this time of the year will destroy the young feeder roots that are near the ground surface and this may retard plant growth and cut down on the production of flowers. The rose garden can be mulched at this time and she says a good mulch of decayed leaves, straw, grass clippings, pine needles or well decayed barnyard manure will help hold moisture, keep down weed and grass growth in the garden and will improve the tilth of the soil.

She says roses should be checked now for new sprout growth. They come from the root stock; usually grow very rapidly and easy to recognize because the leaves are small and light green in color. They should be removed for they can crowd-off the more desirable rose graft.

Roses require good drainage, yet they need plenty of moisture for heavy flower production. She says they should not be sprinkled, because moisture applied to the leaves encourages black spot and mildew. Both diseases are likely to develop during periods of rainy or cloudy weather and she says roses should be dusted with copper-sulphur dust within 24 hours after each rain for control.

Black spot is "public enemy No. 1" so far as roses are concerned. It causes the black spots on the leaves; turns them yellow later and they drop. Die back of the stems usually follows and if the disease is not brought under control, the entire plant may die.

Miss Hatfield says that out-of-shape plants may be pruned from now until summer but no more growth should be remodeled than is necessary. Prune only to keep the plants a convenient size and attractive in form, she adds.

—by ann england—

Well we did manage to get home ALL in one piece after attending 41st annual convention of Panhandle Press Association in Amarillo, last week-end.

Had a grand time visiting with old friends in the association and meeting any number of new people—including Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Warren of Post, Texas.

They are both darling and we enjoyed them ever so much. Eddie writes a cute column, "Out on a Limb" each week for his paper, the Post Dispatch.

Also met Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Forbes who own and publish the Muleshoe Journal. Seems silly that we live this close-talk back and forth on the telephone but just now getting around to meeting them.

Guess it isn't too strange. Told Ruth Weimhold Friday morning that we were certainly glad she came up as it seems we never get to see her any more.

Forrest came over week-before last and helped us but she was busy and couldn't come.

Had breakfast Saturday morning with Doug Meador, Vincent Lockhart and Pop (Allen) Hodges. And a nice visit on Thursday night with Nugent Brown.

Nugent is the Amarillo Times writer who did our Famuliner and Scrape-out stories last fall. Well he really did them for the Times but we had the privilege of using them as well as the pictures he made.

Incidentally Nugent was as pleased as we were that Famuliner's "Good Neighbor" Club won one of the cash prizes in the Farmer-Stockman contest.

He and Mrs. Brown sent their greetings to Rev. and Mrs. Armstrong, whom they had known in Memphis.

Van had told us to buy a new hat while in Amarillo and charge it to him—which we fully intended to do but some how or another never did get around to his friend the milliner to buy the hat.

Probably should've as Roy Craig from Stamford said, "Why Ann I thought surely you'd have a new hat, but here you are with that same beanie you were wearing the first time I ever saw you—at this convention four years ago."

Also had a nice chat with Ralph Ater, who is public relations man for Santa Fe. He told us that anytime we wanted Santa Fe movie films for any sort of gathering to let him know. You know he is the one who sent the beautiful colored movies of Yosemite and Arizona out here for the spouse to show at Lions Club.

Goodness, since Chamber of Commerce directors have been asking us to eat with them on Tuesday we are beginning to worry about waist line. Needless to say we've thoroughly enjoyed meeting with those fellows.

They are all interested in permanent improvements for Morton and Cochran county and are taking time out to make plans, discuss and work at anything that will promote the community.

Clyde (Tribune's mechanical foreman) may not want this known—but we understand he has done a lot of work with Boy Scouts. He is quite a bowling champion too, and has won sizable awards in same.

Came home to find tulips, hyacinths and violets in bloom, well one each of the former and three violets. Guess the reason we appreciate flowers out here so much is because they are so difficult to grow.

Aunt Ina writes from Snyder that Susan, our new cousin once removed, has eyebrows that tilt like ours. We are no different from other dotting relatives and love being told the new baby has some resemblance to us. Wouldn't they have a fit tho if she grew up to actually favor ae?

American Legion Meets Thursday Night

Business matters of concern to the entire membership will be attended to. Ice cold refreshments will be served. All Legionnaires are urged to attend.

MR. AND MRS. J. W. POND VISIT NEW GRANDSON

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pond and family were in Clovis last Sunday greeting their new grandson, James Gail, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Boles. Mrs. Boles is the former Jewell Pond.

Quite a down pour we had out here last Wednesday evening. Mr. Paulk asked us how much it had rained and when we answered, "one quarter" he said, "you KNOW it rained at least half an inch." Anyway every one was enchanted. Heard too, that other portions of the county got moisture up to 1 1/2 inches.

Robin Rollen was out Sunday, stopped in on his tour of the tornado damaged area. Said St. Louis office of Red Cross had called him at one o'clock Sunday morning to investigate and report on how many persons would need help. The Red Cross is really on the beam when it comes to aid for disaster victims.

W. S. Sides was in Monday renewing his subscription to the Tribune. Sides home was totally destroyed Saturday night when hit by a cyclone. He said he almost had a nervous collapse during the few minutes it took him to get to the scene of the disaster because he felt sure each member of his family had been killed.

Mrs. Sides and the children are all pretty well shaken up but are not seriously injured. They are staying with a nephew of Mr. Sides. The children started back to school Tuesday.

We have a strange and sinking feeling; this week was something-of-week but we forgot to observe it.

Mrs. Cass Stegall Surprised With Birthday Party

Mrs. Cass Stegall was honored with a surprise birthday dinner by her sister, Mrs. Tommy Galt, Thursday evening, April 6, in the Galt home in Threeway community.

The honoree was showered with gifts; games were enjoyed and a delightful dinner served by the hostess.

Guests present other than the honoree were Mesdames Pete Sanders, Jack Lowe, Dolly Ann. Cecil Cole, Pete Tarlton, Clint Everett, K. K. Krebs, Leon Reeves, Clifford Myers, M. L. Buie, Irby Smith and Horace Hutson.

Dr. Martin Cole, ENMU Professor, To Speak Here

Dr. Martin L. Cole has been secured as the commencement speaker for the senior class of Morton High School, according to Carl Macon, superintendent.

Dr. Cole holds the position of Dean of Graduate Studies at Eastern New Mexico University, and has been in Portales for the past three years. Dr. Cole received his PHD at the University of Minnesota.

The speech will be in the High School auditorium on May 16, at 8:00 p.m.

Efficiency Test To Be Run This Week On D. D. McGasland Farm Pump

An over-all efficiency test will be run this week on completion of irrigation installation which will include both pump and motor on Mr. Darwin D. McGasland's farm, 1 1/2 mile southeast of the golf course. This is a new pump and motor now being installed. "Ed Bush, Extension Service Irrigation Specialist, will run the test when the installation is completed," advised the local County Agent. "We cannot announce the exact date because we are awaiting announcement from Mr. McGasland on the completion of this installation. Those who are interested in attending this demonstration test may apply at the County Agent's office for the information at a later date, Thompson said."

"For those who are not familiar with what an over-all efficiency test is we'll advise that over-all efficiency is equal to output water horse power over input break horse power to carry this further, water horse power (WHP) is equal in feet or total lift times gallons per minute over 3960. Break horse power (BHP) input, is equal to BTU/hr. over 2545, in other words that is British thermal units in hours divided by 25454 e.l., one gallon of butane in the winter has 98464 BTU per gallon in summer it has over one hundred thousand BTU's."

"To obtain a high over-all efficiency, the manufacturer's curve on the pump and the manufacturer's curve on inches should be studied closely. For example, one hundred horse power motor varies a great deal in efficiency over that of another one hundred horse power motor, the same goes for pumps. For example, one pump may be 80% efficient whereas another pump may be 85% efficient on the same productive capacities. Anyone can see that it costs more to operate a pump running 1000 gallons water per minute which is 80% efficient, than it does a pump running the same amount of water which is 85% efficient. Homer E. Thompson, County Agricultural Agent, predicts, that it will only be a matter of time that farmers will be demanding the pump companies to guarantee a high over-all efficiency on the completed irrigation installation as they are now doing in other areas of the United States. "It will materially reduce the cost of these installations which we are all interested in because this means getting the right size pump in the hole already developed; in general, this means it will not require all the surplus power to pull a larger pump when a well is not capable of producing the amount of water the pump is capable of turning out," Thompson concluded.

By Joseph Breig

JOE ASKS A QUESTION

"... the boat was covered with waves, but He was asleep. And His disciples came to Him and awakened Him, saying: Lord, save us, we perish . . ."

Joe was slumped far back in a chair, his chin on his chest, his legs sprawling in the utter relaxation of youth. "I don't get it," he said. "He's God, isn't He?"

Joe shifted his eyes from the toes of his shoes to me. "He knew there was a storm, didn't He? He made the storm. He made the water and the wind and the people in the boat. Why did they have to wake Him up and tell Him about it?"

"Because that was the way He wanted it," I answered.

Joe's eyes went back to the tips of his shoes. He half-grinned. "But why did He want it that way?"

My reply was indirect. "He still wants it that way. He will always want it that way."

His eyes roved toward the kitchen. Suddenly his body jerked, and he was through the doorway almost before I knew he had moved. I heard him fastening the little gate across the entrance to the cellar stairway. There was a small wail, and Joe said soothingly, "No, no, Baby. No, no."

My wife and I reached the spot together. She took the baby in her arms and said: "Kiss Joe. Kiss Joe for keeping you from falling down the steps. Kiss him for being such a good brother."

Joe presented his cheek, grinning embarrassedly, but happy to be knighted for heroism. The baby rubbed her nose on his face and wrinkled her little face in smiles.

I ruffled Joe's hair and led him back to the living room. "Now do you see why God wants things to happen that way?"

He stared at me, puzzled.

"Do you think it's good for Baby to learn to say thank you?" I asked. "Especially when she's saved from being hurt?"

He nodded.

"God could give us everything without our asking," I said. "But it wouldn't be good for us, any more than it would be good for Baby to grow up without learning to love the rest of us. You see, God loves us, even more than we love Baby."

I paused. Joe waited.

"And He wants us to learn to love Him," I finished. "That's why He wants us to pray. We all love to be loved, Joe. So does God. We're His image and likeness, you know."

DO YOU KNOW that legally you could become your own uncle?

By being adopted by your grandparents, you could become in a legal sense your own uncle.

The statute declares that an adopted child "shall thereafter be deemed and held to be, for every purpose, the child of its parent and parents by adoption as fully as though born of them in lawful wedlock."

DO YOU KNOW the rights and obligations of the parties to an adoption?

The natural parents of the child adopted lose all rights and duties towards said child. They may not thereafter ever lay any claim to their child. However, the child may still inherit property from its natural parents.

The adopting parents stand charged with all the duties and obligations toward the child, that they owe to their natural child or children. The foster parents have full custody and control over the child, and said child inherits from the foster parents just as fully as a child born to said parents.

The files and records in adoption proceedings are not such records as are open for public inspection. These papers may be seen only by the interested parties or their attorneys, or by the authority of an order from the District Judge.

For information on your particular situation see your local attorney.

Southwestern Seeks Higher Phone Rates

MULESHOE — Southwestern Associated Telephone company, which serves Muleshoe and other cities in this area, has announced the necessity of increased telephone rates for Muleshoe.

The Muleshoe Journal last week quoted district manager G. D. Shelly of Lubbock as saying that greatly increased costs of furnishing telephone service makes it necessary for the company to place new rates in effect at an early date.

Shelley said that he plans to go before the Muleshoe city council to explain the need for the rate increase.

Illustrating increased costs Shelley said that the company had lost $431.93 on its operations in Muleshoe during 1949, despite a larger number of telephones and the use of every possible economy consistent with sound business management.

Here's a Chance To Win $50,000

The State Fair of Texas has posted a reward of $50,000 for the first authentic "flying disc" of interplanetary origin to be discovered and delivered to State Fair Park in Dallas in time to be placed on exhibit at the fair's gigantic 1950 Mid-Century Exposition, October 7-22.

"This offer does not mean that we either believe or disbelieve in the interplanetary flying disc reports," said R. L. Thornton, president, in announcing the reward, "but if there is such a thing, it is only fitting that it be exhibited at the biggest state fair in the nation since the State Fair of Texas has always tried to bring to its vast audience the first information of any new and important scientific development."

Rules of the offer will be drawn up in legal form and filed with the Dallas County clerk. In general, they are as follows:

1. The State Fair of Texas will pay $50,000 to the first person or group of persons who delivers to State Fair Park in Dallas an authentic flying disc of interplanetary origin in its original physical form.

2. The reward will be paid only if and when the authenticity of the flying disc in question as a vehicle or space-ship of interplanetary origin has been determined and vouched for by a committee of scientists selected by the state fair from leading universities of the state of Texas.

3. There shall be no appeal from the decision of this committee of scientists.

4. The offer shall expire Oct. 1, 1950.

Reports of flying discs have increased greatly during the past few months. Thousands of people have claimed to have seen the "discs" or "saucers." However, no one has yet produced an authentic flying disc or saucer.

The U. S. Air Force, after investigating most of the reports, has announced that the majority are the result of hallucination or mirage, over-vivid imagination or such things as weather balloons, jet planes or the planet Venus. However, among the sightings have been some the Air Force has not been able to explain at all.

TRIAL AND ERROR
Two physics students, well aware of the need of accuracy, were conducting an experiment in electricity.

"George," said one, "place those two wires in your hand. Now do you feel anything?"

George: "No."
"Well, that's funny," said the first. "Suppose you try the other pair. There's supposed to be two thousand volts somewhere around here."

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Merritt were Sunday visitors in Whiteface.

Churchmen Want Enforced Benevolence

A politico-economic credo which should be disturbing to all straight-thinking Americans has been adopted by a group of prominent Protestant churchmen assembled in Detroit under the sponsorship of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. The Associated Press reports the churchmen voted to recommend to the public "the extensive use of taxation to reduce inequalities in income."

This advocacy is contrary to the fundamental principles of the American way of life and our historic American concept of taxation. Taxation in America was conceived as a fair and sound method of financing government—and for no other purpose. But Socialists long ago found it to be their handiest instrument for achieving abolition of private property and subjugation of a people. The boldest Socialists call taxation their "weapon."

When it is understood that delegates to the Detroit convocation came from 30 states and represented the leading 22 Protestant denominations and 10 allied religious bodies, the economic principle advocated becomes one of the most significant formal actions taken by an American ecclesiastical body since the founding of religious freedom on these shores more than 400 years ago. It moreover serves to emphasize how far astray intelligent, well-meaning people may be led.

Karl Marx Wrote It

It would be ridiculous to assume that any substantial number of these leading American churchmen who attended the Detroit meeting are Marxist Socialists. No doubt some few of the delegates are avowed Socialists and a few are fellow-travelers in some of their thinking; but most of them undoubtedly are 100 per cent loyal Americans dedicated to the fundamental principles of the American system and staunchly opposed to Marxist Socialism or any other brand.

However, their economic credo adopted at Detroit comes straight from Karl Marx. I have on my desk a copy of the "Communist Manifesto" by Marx and Engels. Point 2 of Marx's 10 basic measures for reestablishing Communism says: "A heavy progressive or graduated income tax." Marx and all of his succeeding carnifolowers have written the Socialist economic credo thus: "The ideal to be aimed at is approxi-

SERMON DEDICATED TO LIARS

A minister requested his congregation to read the first ten verses of Hebrews 14 before listening to the sermon the following Sunday.

"How many have read the verses in Hebrews 14 as requested last Sunday?" asked the pastor as he arose for the sermon. "Please raise your hands." There was quite a showing of hands. "That will do," said the minister sadly. "It so happens that there is no 14th chapter of Hebrews. I therefore dedicate my remarks on Liars this morning to the brethren and sisters who have just held up their hands." So then the minister continued with his sermon on "Liars."

mate equality of income." Some Marxist writers state it classically: "From each according to his ability, to each according to his need."

Taxes For Government Expense

The taxing principle now advocated by this important group of church leaders in America could logically be expected to produce the following scene:

A Plausible Possibility

The Treasury Agent knocks on John Brown's door. Brown opens.

Agent: What was your income in 1949?

Brown: $6,000.

Agent: Your tax will be $2,000. Pay now please.

Brown (aghast): That's unreasonable. I worked hard for that $2,000. You're asking too much.

Agent: Sorry. Your neighbor Jones next door only made $4,000 last year. And the poor fellow had a costly accident with his automobile. We're giving him $500 of your money. And then Smith, across the street, is a booze hound and worked only six months. His kids are poorly clothed. We're giving him $1,000 of your money. The other $700 goes for government and into the Tax Collection Police Force Benevolent Fund.

Brown: But this is not taxation; it's robbery! You're seizing my property, my money, and using it not to finance government but to satisfy somebody's idea of social service. I refuse to give you the money for Smith and Jones. Jones is a spendthrift and a reckless driver, and Smith would only spend the money on beer and liquor. You can take my money for those purposes only by force.

Agent: Sorry, Bud. You're old fashioned. You're arrested. Come along.

Corn Fritters

1 1/2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon melted fat, 2 eggs, beaten; 1/2 cup milk and 2 cups whole kernel corn, canned or fresh cooked.

Sift flour and measure. Resift with baking powder and salt. Combine beaten eggs, milk and fat. Add all at once to flour mixture and stir only enough to mix ingredients. Fold in corn. Drop from a teaspoon into deep fat heated to 375 degree F. (hot enough to brown a 5/8 inch cube of day old bread in 30 seconds) and fry until golden brown on all sides. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot.

Complete Menu

Broiled Chicken, English peas, Corn fritters, Raw Spinach Salad, Home made yeast bread, butter, and fresh or frozen Fruit.

Timely Tips

Extension Foods and Nutrition Specialists, Texas A. & M. College.

1. Corn fritters are delicious served with syrup or honey.
2. Use left over corn in corn fritters.
3. Apples, pineapple, peaches, or orange sections may be substituted for the corn. In making fruit fritters 1 teaspoon sugar may be added to dry ingredients if desired.
4. Use diced ham or other cooked meat or cheese for main dish fritters.

The minimum sized septic tank should hold no less than 500 gallons. Tanks that are too small soon become overloaded with sludge and raw sewage and this will pass into the disposal field and clog up the system.

It is dangerous economy to build steep stairways to save space, especially if they are used frequently. Every stairway should have the protection of a guard rail—low enough for children.

Locate the septic tank where it can be reached easily for cleaning, but not too close to a building.

Jo Ann Lackey Rodeo Queen Candidate

Portales, April 20. — (Spl.) — Beard growing contests and western attire on the campus of Eastern New Mexico University announce the coming of the fifteenth annual rodeo April 21-22. The rodeo is sponsored by the Ag Club of the University.

The presentation of the rodeo queen and the judging of the beard contest in a special rodeo assembly Thursday, April 20, will start the activities. Students and faculty traditionally wear western garb for rodeo week, April 17-22.

With a night show at the Roosevelt County fair grounds at 8, April 21, the rodeo will get under way. The following day, April 22, there will be a parade through Portales starting at 1 p.m. with rodeo starting at 2.

Events of the rodeo will include steer riding, ribbon tying, mule riding, calf roping, and a women's barrel race. Prizes will be awarded for first, second, and third places in each event with a grand prize for the best all-round cowboy. Last year, Charlie Hoover, Adrian, Texas, was chosen best all-round cowboy, and in 1948 B. J. Pierce, Clovis, won the honor. Hoover is now president of the Ag club.

Rodeo queen candidates are Joyce Creamer, Portales; Anne Green, Roswell; Joyce Hill, Alamogordo; Reba Lou Hughes, Bellview; Jeannie Justus, Clovis; Jo Ann Lackey, Morton, Texas; Ruth Ann Sain, Portales; and Wavis Scoggin, Kenna. The girl who is chosen to reign as queen over the rodeo will be presented with a Stetson hat at the special rodeo assembly.

University students and high school seniors of New Mexico and West Texas are eligible to enter the contests. Entries are limited to two for each event from any one high school.

Stock for the rodeo will be furnished by Haves and sons of Dora. The Roosevelt County Mounted patrol will be in charge of the arena and will act as judges.

The parade will be divided into three sections. The commercial float first place prize is a traveling trophy won in 1948 by the Southwestern Public service and in 1949 by Harris Store for Men. In addition to the traveling prize, second and third place winners will be named.

Prizes for first, second and third positions will be awarded by the other two sections—the University floats and the bicycles.

A rodeo dance Saturday evening sponsored by the Home Economics Club of the University will end the rodeo festivities.

Remember Mother with a box of Pangburn's Candy. Morton Drug.
