'Misapplication of Funds' Trials Start On Monday

A 96 man venire and "about seven" witnesses have been summoned to the District Court room on Monday for the trials of four Cochran County men charged with counts of Misapplication of Funds will open.

The jury has been called for 10 a. m. Monday morning.

The eight cases have been set down for trial and, as far as the District Attorney, Travis Shelton, and his assistant, Bill Shaver, know Tuesday, all cases were set. However, as Shelton pointed out, while all cases are initially set, it does not necessarily follow that any of the cases will be tried on Monday. The four men charged all have different lawyers. Whether they will ask for more time or even possibly for a change of venue remains to be seen.

The cases are all set by their numerical order of indictments with the exception of one.

Still another possibility is that it would be impossible to select a jury in Cochran County. It is quite possible that they could not find 12 jurors who had not already formed an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the men.

The first two cases set on the docket are against former County Treasurer Odell Smith who will be represented by Crosslin and Pharr, Lubbock attorneys. The next two cases involve former County Auditor Earl Cookwood who is represented by Dan Blair and J. E. Vickers.

The next two cases are against former County Clerk, T. W. (Doc) Pierce whose counsel is made up of Burton S. Burks and Brown. The final two cases are involving Lewis (Luke) Cole, former Cochran County Hospital Manager who is represented by the Levelland firm of Earl and Al Allison.

Between the attorneys there is a wealth of experience in the practice of law and in public office. Most of the attorneys are both former district attorneys of this area. Dan Blair was the immediate predecessor to Judge V. H. Lindsey as 72nd District Judge. Al Allison has served as state representative and County Judge of Hockley County.

The misapplication of funds charges against the men were brought by a special Grand Jury session called last summer following findings of an outside auditing firm.

One other former official who also was charged with misapplication of funds is now deceased.

Funeral services were held in Tatum last Thursday, at the First Baptist Church, for a 31 year old nephew of Mrs. L. W. Barrett of Morton, Robert B. Simpson.

Known as Bennie, Simpson was killed in a tragic accident when he received a fractured skull as a bull charged the horse he was riding and the horse fell on top of him.

Bennie, a deaf mute was trying to cut the bull off from the rest of a herd when the incident occurred. His mother was aiding her son, driving in a pickup truck and she placed the incident together though a cloud of dust obscured her vision. He was believed to have struck his head on the saddle horn.

The victim was a resident of the small community of Gladiola, N.M., and had been a lifelong resident of Lea County. Only a few weeks before his father had died.

He is survived by his wife, one son, three brothers and four sisters. Burial was in the Tatum Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Casey, who were driving back from Lubbock at the time of the fire, noticed more of a smoke drifting above the area than usual as they approached. Maple, but could not see that the fire had burned. Casey stepped from his car behind the seed barn which was still in tact, and started around it—it was at that precise moment he learned among the smoldering ruins, that his gin was gone. He had remarked to his wife they'd better get back to Maple as the wind was getting high and he was uneasy about the gin.

One thing Casey did say this week. The burp pit was west of the gin when he bought it. He didn't have it moved. But from now on, there'll be no burp pit to the west of his gins in West Texas.

Two liquor law violations were charged in Cochran County last week and another early this week according to the Cochran County Sheriff Department.

Last Wednesday night a raid on two adjoining houses in the flats, resulted in the arrest of Joe Hightower and Emma Harris, both on charges of possession for the purpose of resale. Hightower was nabbed with 40 pints of whiskey and Emma had 11. Both houses belong to Hightower.

The two entered 'not guilty' pleas and posted bonds of $500 each.

The other arrest was of George Zimmerman on a charge of possession of untaxed liquor. He was arrested with six half pints in his possession. Zimmerman also posted a $500 bond and was released.

Cotton Market Quota Referendum Set For Vote Next Tuesday, Nov. 13

The annual nationwide cotton marketing quota referendum will be held on December 13th. Mrs. Ruth McGee of the County A.S.C. office advised this week.

Every person, including both the husband and wife, who has an interest in a cotton crop in 1955 is eligible to vote, according to the bulletin. That includes landlords, sharecroppers, tenants and owner operators.

This has nothing to do with acreage allotments officials explained. Regardless of the way the vote is cast, the allotments will remain the same. Agricultural, Stabilization & Conservation officials explained.

If producers approve, quotas; the price support will be available to growers who comply with their cotton acreage allotments. Under the current legislative provisions, this support will be between 75 and 90 percent of parity—depending upon the supply situation. The penalty on excess cotton will be 50 percent of parity.

If producers disapprove quotas then allotments will only be used to determine eligibility for price support on 1956 cotton. Anyone who overplants the allotment will not be eligible for price support.

The officials also pointed out a poll tax receipt is not necessary before you can vote. They urged that everyone vote.

In Cochran County the voting will be done at four boxes: At the A.S.C. office in Morton; at Brown's Store, in Eldorado; at White's Gin at Lehman and at the High School Gym in Whiteface.

One polio case, and possibly two have been reported in Cochran County the past week.

The one case confirmed by the Tribune is a young newly married woman, Helen Marie Dobson, the former Marie Lamb daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Lamb of this city.

Mrs. Dobson was stricken with the dreaded disease, Friday and in less than 24 hours was taken to the Polio Center at Plainview.

She was said to be paralyzed from the waist down.

The Tribune was unable to contact the local doctors for information as to her condition.

One other case was mentioned in town but was unconfirmed as far as the Tribune could determine.

In addition to the polio, Cochran County children were contracting in alarming numbers a disease that has caused at least eight deaths in Levelland the past few weeks.

Supposedly brought to the country from Old Mexico, the virus infection carried with it high fever and dizziness.

Several area children, both in Morton and on neighboring farms have been reported to have been hospitalized the past week or so, but so far no deaths have occurred.

Morton Drug Is Open Once More

The Morton Drug Store is again "open for business." It was announced this week by Charles Jones, owner-manager.

It was on Oct. 30 that fire struck the newly decorated firm, destroying the pharmacy department and smoke damaging most of the other stock.

Now all is new, or will soon be. Workmen were busy Wednesday finishing the completely new prescription department in the rear of the store.

Everything but the floor is being or has already been completely remodeled, repainted or replaced.

Druggist Jones invites all who haven't already viewed the new department to drop by and see for themselves the latest methods of providing services to the public through "today's modern" drug store.

FIRE SATURDAY DESTROYED CASEY GIN; NEW, ALL-STEEL GIN WILL REPLACE IT OWNER STATES

Plans call for an all-new, all-steel Casey Gin to be constructed at Maple and ready for operation by next fall. It was announced this week by M. E. Casey, Maple, whose gin was destroyed by fire last Saturday afternoon.

A cotton gin since 1915 and gin manager every year since 1919 with the exception of three seasons Casey says he has promise of financial aid that will see construction of the new gin.

Only last year he installed new machinery at his gin, but retained the building.

"My wife and I," he said this week, "wish to express to everyone who assisted in fighting the fire and who have offered their expressions of sympathy for our loss—from the bottom of our hearts we offer our sincere appreciation for the wonderful kindnesses shown. We are gratefully thankful that no one was injured, and that we still have our health. May God bless each of you."

The Casey Gin was in the process of ginning its 2,500th bale of cotton Saturday at about 12:30 p.m. when the fire struck during a violent West Wind. Mr. and Mrs. Casey were away at the time.

A gin employee noticed fire on the burp pile just west of the gin, turned on a hose which was connected to a four inch water well and began spraying the flames. Sparks from the fire were blown by high winds against the gin, and in a few minutes the gin was in flames.

Since Maple has no telephone at present, drivers were sent to Mulshoe and Morton to Notify experience said complete coverage of the six cotton trailers loaded with seed cotton and lost in the fire has been assured, and settlements will be made at 10 a. m. on Thursday morning at the Casey Gin location.

Delinquent Lists Being Prepared for School Board

Morton School's Business Manager and Tax Assessor-Collector, R. H. McCasland said this week he is getting prepared his list of delinquent school tax payers for the past three or four years which has been called for by the School Board.

McCasland said nearly $2,000 in delinquent taxes had been received since the Tribune printed the announcement that the Board had called for the report.

He said he would be happy to meet with any other delinquent tax payers before the Board will meet again, so as to save the embarrassment to both the delinquents and the persons of having to turn to suits to collect. The Board did not say it would take action but indicated they wanted to review the delinquent roll, especially those of several years standing. They are in need of finances having been in the "red" for several years due to the constant need for adding buildings and repairs to cope with increased enrollment and the high rate of delinquent taxes.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wallace of Morton was one of three alto singers selected from this area. It was the first time she had earned the coveted honor.

The Tribune mistakenly stated it was Ann Sanders who won an all State position from Morton in the competition last year. It was Daphne Wilson who took the honors for Morton last year.

Robert Page Is Composer of Music To Be Played At ACC's Anniversary

ABILENE (Sp) — Thirty five minutes of original music by a young composer — well known by many Mortonites — will be featured in Abilene Christian College's 60th anniversary historical pageant in February.

The young man is Robert Page, now on leave from Eastern New Mexico University where he is a member of the music faculty and director of the college choir.

Mortonites will remember him as the man who directed the choir that appeared here at the formal opening of the Community building last year and who brought his musical "Swanee" here last year. He and his groups were a tremendous hit in Morton. Several Mortonites attended summer opera workshops in ENMU just to be able to work under him.

Now of New York City, a 1948 graduate of ACC, Page is the author of words and music for six musical selections to be used in the pageant, "A City Set On a Hill." The musical drama will be staged Feb. 16-18 and 20-22 as a major event in the college's current 60th anniversary celebration.

Page, now studying on a Danforth Foundation grant at New York University, made the arrangement of "Rock-a My Soul," a Negro spiritual, that is used by the World famous Westminster Choir.

While attending ACC, Page was active in music and dramatic activities, directing two productions of a student musical, "Swanee." He has produced a new version of the Swanee each year at ENMU since he joined the faculty of the school. The music he has written for the pageant tells the story of campus events for the 60 years since the college was founded.

Morton Maids Win Twice; Boys Drop Basketball Openers Last Week

The Morton High School Maids won their sixth game of the young basketball season last Friday night with a 7-52 victory over Farwell. The same night, the rapidly improving Indians, lost a close 41-40 decision to Farwell.

Earlier in the week, Coach Buckley Walter's girls had trounced a Bovina sextet, 54-48 and had beaten Three Way 55-52. The boys, in their first season under the coaching reins of young Bill Atkins, suffered a 61-41 defeat to the 3-Way Eagles.

Following the week's tournament action the Indians go to Seagraves and the Maids go to Littlefield, next Tuesday for A and B team games.

Belva Ramsey, who has scored over 30 points in several games, is the Maids' scoring leader while high point man for the Indians is Lyndon Galbright in those initial two games. The high scoring Morton girls have defeated Plains two times, Muleshoe, Bovina, Three Way and Farwell. Their only loss was to Whiteface and they are hoping a chance for revenge will be in the offing this week at Whiteface.

COMPROMISING

Mr. Webster says that compromise means: (1) a settlement by arbitration or by consent reached by mutual concessions. (2) A prejudicial concession; a surrender. (3) To come to agreement by concession.

In other words, one can not compromise without surrendering some of his convictions or ideas. It is not wrong to compromise on some things. The husband and wife must surrender some of their opinions many times in order to reach a satisfactory agreement. Many times in civic and club work, agreement can only come by mutual concessions. In the work of the church, one opinion may be considered above all others. Someone may desire to use this particular song book, have this kind of seating, or air and heat conditioning for the building, etc., but one thing is certain, someone will have to surrender, concede or compromise his ideas to those which are more practical or expedient for all concerned. There is nothing wrong in this type of compromise because the principle of right has not been violated; no moral ethics have been overlooked.

But there is a realm in which there must not be any compromise, and that is the realm of Faith, the spoken Word, or silence of God. Where God speaks, man must speak. Where God is silent, man must be silent. We cannot compromise God's word in order to appease others. In Exodus 10 we read of Pharaoh who wanted to escape the wrath of God by compromising with Moses. He said, "Go ye, serve the Lord; only let your flocks with your herds be stayed," and Moses said, "—our cattle shall also go with us; there shall not an hoof be left behind." Moses would not compromise where God had spoken. Neither can a Christian compromise in a matter of faith and be pleasing to God. A Christian can not surrender God's word to that of opinion in order to be pleasing to others. A Christian cannot afford to compromise with the world in order to be popular. Compromise in matters of faith is disrespect to God. Surrender not God's Word!!!

Red Cross Seeking

Local RC Fund Drive Chairman

Rev. J. Henry Cox, regional vice-president of the Red Cross and pastor of a Brownfield Baptist church, was in Morton Monday with Jim Watson, Red Cross field representative, seeking a local fund campaign chairman for the county.

Rev. Cox pointed out that last year's drive here netted only about $200, far short of the needed amount - considering the many disasters that struck the nation this year.

Watson only recently returned from the New England states where he has been engaged in the "re-establishing" of citizens who lost all possessions in the storms there this year.

 WE GOT FROM the Lubbock paper but didn't get any local release from the ASC office concerns the cotton allotment for next year. We should get time this week to check and see if the countywide division of the allotment is being made on the same basis as last year, or not.

 MOST IMPORTANT stories we missed concerned the hospital and the local medical situation. We had asked the manager to get the doctors to call us with any information they had on three things. However they are every bit as busy as we

So all we can say is: at least one polio case was reported from Cochran County last week, & possibly another; that several of our youngsters in the county seem to have been hospitalized with a touch of this Mexican fever that claimed the lives of eight Level- and youngsters in recent weeks—up to press time we got no reports of any new cases in the past 24 hours and the others who had contracted it seemed to be getting along better. Dr. Brown's child was one of the babies reported to have been ill as well as the older child of the Jack Lorans, right at two years old. Jaycees Discuss X-Ray, Phones At Mon. Meeting

Most of the action at the regular weekly meeting of the Morton Jaycees Monday noon centered around discussion of two projects with reports on several others.

The group urged cooperation in spreading the word and getting out the people for the chest X-ray project, Friday and Saturday. They discussed again the phone situation as it pertains to the eventual connection between the city and rural REA lines and the committee had not yet met with representatives of other groups; nor had they met with the city council.

(Later this week many of the members were contacted by Paul Farrar, public relations director; J. L. Kemper, division manager of General Telephone office of Brownfield as to "General's" views on the subject.)

Also discussed was the need for a money making project to finance the Jaycees Christmas decorating costs and one to aid in the coming March of Dimes drive. It was reported the Jaycees had netted a little over $10 from the one day sponsorship of the Dillinger car project.

COCHRAN COUNTYS ALLOTMENT CUT FROM 80,650 ACRES TO 75,004 ACRES

The U. S. Department of Agriculture released Friday, the figures on Texas cotton allotments for 1956 and Cochran County wound up losing seven per cent of the 80,650 acres they were allotted this year five percent higher than the state average loss.

The state's overall average loss was 24 percent but nearly all of the loss, through manipulations of controlling committee was absorbed by the Lubbock area, which lost a flat 7 per cent across the board while a group of East Texas counties were in the "gain" column.

No late word has been received on a suit brought by four West Texas farmers to restrain the county allotment as announced by the ASC Committee. Also, no word has been received as to just what reductions would be individually in Cochran County, which will be up to the County ASC Committee.

Under the allotment figures the County will be allowed to grow 75,004 acres of cotton without penalty. It was announced figuring on a basis level with this season's crop the reduction will cost the 20-county Lubbock area, $12 million.

First Texas entry in the 1956 Maid of Cotton contest is blue-eyed Peggy Seay of Floresville. The brown-haired contestant is a student of the University of Texas majoring in home economics. She is presently on leave from the university studying speech and drama in San Antonio.

Peggy's high school and college years have been filled with honors and activities. At Pleasanton, Texas, High School, she was Duchess of Texas State Grange, "Best Dressed" girl, "Annual Queen," Lantana representative and "Favorite." A sophomore in college, Peggy was executive chairman of the dance committee in "Freshman Follies" and was "County and District Farm Bureau Queen."

The 1956 Maid of Cotton contest is open to any girl born in a cotton-producing state who has never been married, is between the ages of 19 and 25, and at least 5 feet 5 inches tall. Entry forms and complete information can be obtained from the National Cotton Council, P. O. Box 9905, Memphis 12, Tennessee. X-Ray Machine Sets New Record Of Pub. Service

A new record of public service was established between September of 1954 and August of 1955 when 715,192 Texans passed before the mobile chest x-ray units operated by the State Department of Health.

Of that number 18,192 showed evidence of chest "abnormalities," the department recorded. The tax-supported mass chest x-ray surveys, limited to persons 15 years of age and over, worked in 152 counties during the period covered by the report.

Among the abnormal findings were 9,887 cases of "suspicious, minimal, moderately advanced, or far advanced tuberculosis," 7,276 cases of heart involvement, 1,929 cases of other "nontuberculous" cases such as tumor shadows, diaphragmatic hernias, etc.

Past experience has shown that findings of chest abnormalities in children under 15 are so few that it is not economically feasible to include in the mass surveys. Also, health authorities hold that since the source of tuberculosis is in the adult population, finding a case in an adult presents sufficient opportunity to closely examine the children in that adult's family.

Although no age breakdown was available for abnormal conditions discovered in last year's surveys, indications were that most of them occurred in persons over 55. Says Health Commissioner Henry A. Hojlie: "We are concentrating on this age bracket."

"Both tuberculosis and lung cancer are most easily curable in their early stages," the health official stressed. "But since both are almost symptomless in their early stages, early detection is virtually impossible without a chest x-ray."

The health agency adopted the mass x-ray surveys as part of its program of public service in 1946. Five units are in operation, each one staffed by two technicians. Units are assigned to individual counties only on the request of the county medical society.

Tuberculosis, heart disease, and lung tumors are the conditions most frequently found. Cases of abnormality are reported to the private physician named by the individual involved.

Specific diagnosis is left to the private physician. It usually requires 4 weeks from the time the x-ray is taken until the report is forwarded to the individual or the physician of his choice.

The usual procedure in cases of defects is for the person to visit his family physician for future study.

The number of people receiving x-rays in mobile units last year was the greatest in the 9-year history of the program.

Last Second Field Goal By Sundowners Beats Morton's Boys In Finals, 22 to 21

The margin of a split second, so close that only one official on the floor was willing to make a ruling on it, cost Morton's boys a chance to win their own invitational basketball tournament last night as the Sundowner Roughnecks eked out a 22-21 triumph on a field goal fired by Lewis just as or just after the final buzzer sounded.

The margin of a split second, so close that only one official on the floor was willing to make a ruling on it, cost Morton's boys a chance to win their own invitational basketball tournament last night as the Sundowner Roughnecks eked out a 22-21 triumph on a field goal fired by Lewis just as or just after the final buzzer sounded.

It was a fitting thrilling end to a fine tourney, and even though the host boys lost three local team titles did win one of the 8 trophies that were handed out.

The was little or no quibbling, only the fact that none of the officials wanted to make the crucial decision, one of the toughest to make especially with local officials. In the end it was Buddy Hannum who decided the basket should count, for he hadn't heard the buzzer.

Most of Saturday's final games were thrillers. Sundowner beat the host boys 28-16 for consolation honors. Morton's girls won third by beating Spade 27-24 in another fine game. In the girls finals the championship went to Whiteface with a 31 to 21 win over Bula.

A 22 point effort by Saadgrass gave Whiteface that victory. In boys play, Morton 'B' team (7th graders) took the consolation crown with another thrilling decision 22-20. Whiteface trounced Bula 35-22 for 3rd place honors.

In the boys championship, Sundowner and Morton were tied 4 to 4 at the end of the 1st quarter. The visitors took a 13-7 halftime margin but it had dwindled to 18-17 at the start of the final period. Morton grabbed the lead in the late stages and then lost with the heart-breaking final fling by Lewis. He was also high point man for the game with 9 points. Bagley had 7. For Morton, Gairbright had six and Willis and Brown, four each.

Big Contribution Is Received Into Cem. Brick Fund

The largest contribution to date was made this week to the local cemetery fund by J. D. Slaughter — almost doubling the amount in the fund.

The gift was announced by S. M. (Smiley) Monroe, president of the cemetery group, following the authorization of the gift by W. W. Williamson, president of the First State Bank here.

Monroe explained that each year Slaughter made available a certain amount of money for contribution to civic organizations and churches — leaving the execution of same to Williamson.

This year Williamson selected four churches and the cemetery brick fund — which is for the building of an entrance to the cemetery — to receive the money.

Fabulous Crop;
Soil Conservation
All At One Time

Fabulous success with his crop of Indian grass which, according to reports was once native to this county has convinced at least one Cochran County farmer that the road to farming success and prosperity could lie in some crop other than cotton.

Max Bowers, one of the County's more successful farmers in recent years, took heed of the persistent urgings of a soil conservation representative and decided to give the Indian Grass a whirl. He put 14 acres into the project, mixed it well with pre-irrigation, cultivation, weeding during the growing season, and weed hoeing. What came out was an approximate $9,000 gross — which, in the words of several of the county's farmers "beats the heck out of cotton farming." It doesn't necessarily follow that this can be done every year. But look at the results for one year.

The Indian grass story isn't so fantastic when you understand how the factors of growing aids and a good market operated in Max's favor. But the important underlying story is that, even without selling the seed for the 75 cents per pound he took, Bowers would still have received a tremendous benefit from the growing of the crop in three factors that add up to a 50 percent or more, increase on crops that will follow.

Number one: Bowers has 10 tons of residue per acre from the crop, not even considering the 8 tons of roots per acre below the surface, generated by this crop.

Number two: this residue and underground root system makes one of the best known methods for keeping his land from blowing out during the treacherous windy seasons that sweep this Plains country.

Number three: this residue and crop have also done a great deal to recondition and improve his soil.

Broken down in terms of comparison, Bowers got more grass on six acres of the Indian grass than on 200 acres of grain sorghum he has to abandon early because of a poor rainfall average.

Here, in a nutshell, is what Max did before the fabulous harvest:

He planted May 20th, 1954, in rows with a regular cotton planter, 14 acres of the Indian grass, using 3 lbs of seed per acre. The land was pre-irrigated.

In his first watering, Max watered down the rows. Later he cultivated and watered down the middle. The crop was watered twice during the growing season. It was cultivated once; weeds hoed once.

About two weeks prior to the harvest he watered every other row in order to fill the seed.

The cut was with a 2-row binder on September 12th. It was shocked de-headed and combined. He got 12,400 lbs. of seed and he sold the seed for about 75 cents, still considerably under the retail market price of $1.25 per lb. As far as SCS representative Fred Collins knows, Bowers harvested one of the few Indian grass seed crops in the country, maybe the only one.

What will Bowers follow with? Well, sir, he'll more than likely leave the residue as stubble mulch, chop it up later run a flat sweep over it to cut loose more roots, and in '56 he'll plant it again to Indian grass.

Take a tip boys, though things some time backfire — farming is a big gamble anyway you look at it — this conservation practice business isn't a bunch of hooey. Ask the boys who have diversified their farming used these various soil building and cover crop practices who have recognized the need for putting something back into the soil. They'll line up to a man and sing the praises of conservation. They'll also be getting a whole lot more out of farming.

Tech Freshman Coach Gives Praise To Sixman Football at Bula Banquet

"Red" Phillips, freshman coach at Texas Tech, had nothing but praise for six-man football during his brief address Monday night at a football-Pop Squad banquet in Morton, honoring members of the Bula championship football team and their dates.

Phillips said that the Tech team now has two outstanding football players who were former six-man players and that one former Tech player, who also played six-man football in high school was going on to play professional ball.

In all, some seventy persons were present at the banquet, sponsored by the Bula sophomores, prepared by their mothers, and served by the eighth grade girls.

The banquet hall was decorated in red and black, school colors and each napkin bore the lettering "Bula-Regional Champs."

Bula students emceed the banquet and Gerald Noel of the Bula team.

Presenting songs were four fresh man girls Judy Young, Sandra Angel, Shirley Cox and Lennell Claunch.

Later a team of the Tulsa-Tech game was shown and discussed by Phillips.

Guests included members of the Bula faculty, Supt. and Mrs. H. A. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Marion McDaniels, Mr. and Mrs. J. Logan Green, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cook, Mr. and Mrs. John Gunter, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Risinger, and Mrs. B. nicee Swinney.

The banquet was held in the Cochran County Activities Building.
