Morton Finally Finds District 2-AA Winners Circle — Indians Trample Olton Mustangs, 72 to 53; Maids Roll Over Olton Girls By 66 to 34 Count

The Morton Indians, using a blistering shooting average, and a far-improved brand of ball handling, rolled to an easy win over a tall Olton opponent, Friday, to remain in contention for the District 2AA title. The final 72 to 53 margin came in the face of some tremendous rebounding by Olton's Jim Robbins in the second half, a factor that would have been important if the Mustangs hadn't fallen so far behind early in the game.

The Maids also turned on the steam with a sharp basket getting eye to wallop the Olton girls, 66 to 34.

Both Morton teams pushed their district record to 1 win against 1 loss.

Clyde Brownlow was the chief gunner in the Morton attack, pouring in 21 points to tie Robbins for high game honors. But the Indian scoring was well balanced, with Jeff Jones adding 18, Paul Zuber 15 and Perry Seany 14, his best output of the season.

The Indians operated real well against a zone defense, and as a team their shooting was tremendous. They wound up with a 52.2 percent field goal average and in the first quarter they blazed away at a sizzling 72 percent with 11 baskets in 16 shots. As the game opened the Indians connected on nine of their first ten shots and that was the big margin Olton could never overcome.

The Indians hustled to a 24 to 12 first period lead and actually coasted the rest of the way. Olton bucketed 9 of 20 shots in the third quarter, a factor that should have closed a 36 to 24 halftime gap considerably. But Morton poured in 8 of 17 in the same period and then simply matched baskets the rest of the way.

Rand Hall pumped in 14 points and John Hair had nine for the losers. Mervin Gathright, who didn't start the game, was the only Indian who did not have a good night, percentage-wise. Brownlow swished 9 of 15 for a nifty 60 percent. Zuber cashed 7 of 14 for 50 per cent. Jones was the hottest shooter of all missing only one field goal attempt in the game. He canned three out of three in that blistering first quarter barrage and added two for two in the second period. He pumped a lone shot through the nets in the third canto and then hit his 7th in a row in the fourth quarter before he finally recorded a miss. Then he cashed his last shot for a 8 for 9 performance, .777.

Seany canned 7 of 15 for a good 46 mark and even Middleton, ordinarily about the team's best shooter in percentages, meshed 3 of 9 for .333.

In rebounds the Indians did well but Robbins "ate 'em up" in the second half. He grabbed 13 rebounds.

The Maids rolled to a topheavy 14 to 7 first quarter lead and 30 to 10 at the half. By the end of the 3rd period it was even worse, 46 to 15 and the girls, swapping forwards and guards in several instances, the Olton girls poured in 19 points in the final period to Morton's 20.

Real fine scoring division between four forwards was a highlight of the game. Patsy Amyx had 16 and Betty Cook 15, with Berniece Fincher and Norma Flanagan each a 13 point output.

LaFrance had 12 and McAnally 11 for Olton.

Farmers, HERE'S FACTS ABOUT COTTON DELINTING

You can plant your fuzzy, flame, gas delinted, saw delinted or wet acid delinted. We recommend the wet acid process. Here's Why:

- Seed stays in contact with the acid for a period of only 30 seconds or less.
- Water is used to neutralize.
- Does not eat the bags.
- Wet or green seed can be safely delinted.
- Can be safely stored and used for a period of several years.
- Does a more thorough job on angular leaf spot and other seed borne diseases.
- Wet is used only to dry seed after the acid has been washed off.
- More uniform planting.
- More even stand.
- Quicker emergence.
- Plant faster.
- Get bigger yields.
- Gravity table floats out the weak seed.
- Treating prevents seed rotting even in cold, damp weather.
- No sticks, stems, or lint to clog up the planter.
- In warm soil, seed will sprout in 12 hours — a stand can be had in 4 days.
- Less moisture is required for germination.
- For only one pound of lint cotton per acre you can have your seed delinted using the wet acid process.

For those who would rather have saw delinted cotton, we will have our saw in process by the first of February.

This Week in AUSTIN
by Senator Preston Smith

Looking deeper into the state's most hotly contested race for the Speaker of the House post, observers agree that there are some results, both good and bad, that are not readily apparent.

As public reports of the contest indicate, Waggoner Carr's election to the post for a second consecutive term makes him the third man in Texas history to achieve such an honor. And Carr's post will prove to be a tremendous advantage to all West Texans. On these points, all agree.

But a deeper look shows other elements in the issue.

One serious possibility, which Carr quickly tried to avoid by promptly urging unity in the House, may be embittered feelings over the close and heated race.

And anyone watching Joe Burkett's face when the final vote was announced could not help but regret once again that for every elated winner, there is also the agony of one or more losers.

Burkett went slack, his jaw sagged, and his eight-year-old son James cried openly with disappointment at the announcement which to them meant defeat.

On the brighter side, Waggoner and his son David, 9, were jubilant at the 79 to 71 vote.

Also encouraging was the high interest exhibited by the hundreds of spectators that overflowed the House galleries to witness the nominations and voting.

One woman, with sleeping child, kept notes on the voting. An elderly couple talked excitedly as each election development unfolded. Everywhere in the galleries young people, old people . . . people from many walks of life . . . were caught up in the election excitement.

And as I looked over the capacity crowd, I was convinced happily, once again that the people of Texas DO care about their state government and that they DO take an active interest in it whenever they have the information and the opportunity.

RAT CONTROL —

her's Grocery, Bledsoe on Saturday, January 31.

Ralph Burt and Ken Coffman will be working at the Lehman B and B Grain Co. office.

G. W. Garrett will get other help and distribute the bait at the Forrest Lumber Company office at Whiteface.

Ralph Cadjew, Weldon Newsom, J. H. Chesshir, Ralph DeBord, Olin Cooper and Don Avery will work at the Court House in Morton. All of the bait will be distributed in a one day program, January 31, if possible.

Every farmer is asked to purchase 10 to 40 pounds of the bait, all ready for putting out in the paper sacks.

The bait will be packaged in one pound paper sacks and placed in larger bags. If you have many rats you will need 30 lbs. or more. All farmers are being asked to place the bait in run-ways, cribs, bins, etc., the same week. To purchase a 30-day supply and keep it out continuously for 30 days. The bait is not dangerous bait, but should be put out where livestock cannot get to it. Instructions will be furnished with each purchase.

Talk to your neighbors about the campaign on rats, the Agent advised. Get your neighbors to purchase the bait and put it out the same time you do, he added.

Tack down the 1 lb. paper sack with a piece of wood containing the bait. Tear a hole in the corner of the sack, when bait is eaten up, be sure to put out more sacks with bait in it.

This bait will kill mice, too. It should be sold to farmers, elevators, gins, and people in town — across the county line, or wherever your neighbor lives, the agent advised.

"A county wide concerted effort will make this campaign on rats a most successful one," he said.

"Some folks, who are highly intelligent, are even planning to carry the bait to their neighbors," he concluded. "In order to be sure rats in their neighborhood are exterminated."

Corner on Cotton BY BOB COLLINS

A lot of things must be decided by the CCC before the new cotton crop of Choice "A" and "B" starts to move. "A" cotton must be supported at 80% of parity, cataloged and offered for sale at 110% of "B" support and the law says the CCC must "own" it before it's resold. What'll this mean to the cotton buyer? especially the country buyers and ginners who traditionally buy much of the cotton passing through their gins. Taxpayers would have a sizeable saving, we're sure, if the present marketing system were utilized by the CCC. Officials of the CCC seem to agree... but it does present problems. However, since the current marketing system was developed by stiff competition over many years and moves cotton to its market at an exceptionally low cost, it's an excellent one that the government won't be able to devise a system that's any better. As a result, good as it is, the farmer and taxpayer pay you better in the present marketing system will be retained.

New Grader

A leading cotton merchant is trying out an electronic cotton grader... anyone can operate it with five minutes instruction... you just offer it a sample of cotton... the machine looks at it and prints the result within 10 seconds... tells you everything you need to know except staple however, don't look for one in your neighborhood any time soon. It's still experimental... but it is the show of things to come. Mass use could be another step in reducing cost of cotton to the manufacturer.

Better Off?

The Agriculture Department says the farmer will have the highest income in history by the time the new year rolls in... if the figures are right, we'll get some argument about the income per capita. The most figures will top $1000.

How Much "A" and "B"?

A couple of grades of cotton... as to how much Choice "A" and "B" cotton will be produced... 35% of the crop is expected to be "A" and 65% "B". This information is just what you just can't tell.

Her examination paper will be entered in competition with those of other school winners in the state to name the state Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The test is designed and judged by Science Research Associates. Each state Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, an educational trip, April 4 - 10 with her school advisor to Washington, D.C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., New York City and Minneapolis, and she will be a candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. The school of each state winner will receive a set of Encyclopaedia Britannica, General Mills will award a $500 scholarship to each state runner-up.

Winners are being chosen for 12,260 schools throughout the nation which enrolled 349,150 senior girls, the largest number of participants in the five year history of this 106,000 scholarship program. Growth has been steady since 1955 when 187,463 girls in 8,040 schools participated.

(continued from page one) 610 hybrid and his average production was 3440 lbs. per acre. These tests were grown under dry land conditions as there is no well on the farm.

Of course the boys had their grain growing in selected spots in the field.

The time of planting is probably the big factor in the F.S. 590 hybrid yield over the RS 610. Gary planted his RS 590 on June 28 while Ricki planted the RS 610 on June 1, nearly a month earlier. Judging from the Experiment Station results on the date of plantings, the RS 590 produced its maximum yield because it was planted late and did not go into stress. Ricki's RS 610 was planted too early and did go into a slight stress for moisture in the boot stage.

Judging from the planting date reports by the Experiment Station, it is possible that Ricki's RS 610 could have beaten the RS 590 in yield had both varieties been planted the same time. Anyway, these 4-H boys are learning how to produce grain sorghum and other crops on their farm.

Our congratulations go to these 4-H boys and their parents. Gary and Ricki won cash awards for their outstanding dryland grain sorghum production yields. Gary placed 3rd in the state and received a $25 cash award from the Texas Grain Sorghum Hybrid Growers Association and Ricki's 4th place award was $10.

Homer Thompson and Gary Coffman made the trip to Amarillo on Saturday morning, January 17, and appeared on the "Cotton John" KGNC TV program. The cash awards were presented at this time.

Again our congratulations to the parents and to these boys for their efforts and we wish them to continue in the future contests.

Ken Coffman, father of these boys, also was most successful in his hybrid grain sorghum yields. On his entire farm he planted RS 610 and RS 590. His RS 610 produced 2240 lbs. per acre and was planted on June 1st. The RS 590 produced 2590 per acre and was planted June 27, and 28.

Ken deep broke all of his farm in 1958. It all adds up — that when you put management, hybrids, & rainfall together you certainly should expect good results. The time of planting is certainly a big factor in grain sorghum yields and more emphatically so with limited rainfall in the growing season.

She received the highest score in the 50 minute written examination on Homemaking Knowledge and Attitudes.

Her paper, along with those of other area school winners, will be entered in the state competition, more details of which can be found elsewhere in this issue of the Tribune.

The Wonderful Antibiotics

It is possible that you are alive and healthy today because your doctor prescribed an antibiotic drug. Their discovery and development are, without doubt, one of the greatest medical accomplishments of our time. They have saved untold numbers of lives, and millions of dollars in medical bills.

Diseases which today are stopped in a matter of hours or days with an antibiotic drug, once took weeks of medical attention and bed rest. An example is pneumonia. Prior to the antibiotics, this illness usually confined the victim to bed for at least three weeks. Today, with the use of antibiotics and proper care, the pneumonia patient can be up and around in a week. This is only one example.

Other dread diseases of yesterday have fallen before the antibiotics: scarlet fever, syphilis, gonorrhea, "blood poisoning", and more than a hundred other human and animal ills.

What is an antibiotic? Non-technically, it is a chemical substance, produced by a fermentation process from living organisms, which will attack many infectious organisms. It is a battle of microbes against microbes. The organisms which produce the antibiotic substance are found plentifully in the soil.

The first antibiotic, known later as penicillin, was first observed by Sir Alexander Fleming in his laboratory in 1929. But it was not until ten years later that Dr. Howard Florey, looking for substances more useful than the new sulfa drugs, conducted studies which proved the importance of Dr. Fleming's earlier discovery... and resulted in penicillin.

The dramatic story of how penicillin was brought from England to the United States at the beginning of World War II for commercial production is well known.

After penicillin came a succession of "broad-spectrum" antibiotics, drugs which are effective against a much greater number of organisms than penicillin. Right now, night and day, the laboratories of our pharmaceutical companies are spending millions of dollars on research, looking for even better antibiotics. The day may not be far off when these efforts will produce an antibiotic drug which will conquer diseases that now are incurable. Maybe even cancer.

While the antibiotics are potent and useful chemical agents, many people have the impression that they are a cure-all for every ill. This is far from the truth. Because they are so potent, antibiotics should never be taken except upon the advice of a physician. Not only will he determine whether or not you need an antibiotic, but he will also know which one.

BABY CARE

HINTS FOR WINTER

While winter and the cold weather months can create some problems in baby care, there is no reason why your child should not thrive as well in winter as he does in other seasons. As a matter of fact, changes in air temperature are beneficial in helping the body adapt to cold and heat, according to the Beech-Nut baby food staff. Here are some tips on baby care in winter:

- 1.—See that he gets plenty of fresh air. He can be placed outdoors for 2 or 3 hours a day when it isn't raining, or below freezing, and when the wind isn't bitter cold. The best time is the middle of day, between 10 A.M. and 2 P.M.
- 2.—During his cold weather sleeping hours, his window can be open and the heat in his room turned off. His room temperature, however, should not fall much below 60 degrees, so outside temperature must determine how much the window is raised and whether heat is turned off. Some babies sleep better if after thoroughly airing their bedroom, the window is then closed for the night.
- 3.—For covering, use an all-wool or synthetic fabric blanket—one which provides warmth without undue weight. All blankets should be large enough to tuck under the mattress so they will not come loose.
- 4.—During the day when he is eating or playing, best room temperature is between 68 and 72. When he is small he may need to be wrapped in a light blanket or wear a light weight sweater. Judge the need for more or less clothing by the feel of his body, not by feeling his feet or hands.
- 5.—Proper diet and feeding are always important. Strained foods and pre-cooked cereals give added nutritional value to the diet, and while milk is still the primary food for a baby, it may not contribute sufficient iron. The best sources for iron are strained meat, (strained beef, lamb, chicken, pork or veal), strained egg yolks, fruit, green leafy vegetables and pre-cooked cereals.
- 6.—While it is customary to give a complete tub or sponge bath every day, it isn't necessary more than once or twice a week in cold weather. Most important is the diaper area. On days when he doesn't get a full bath, be sure he gets a sponge bath in this area so susceptible to irritation.
- 7.—Colds are, of course, more prevalent in winter. Be sure to keep baby evenly warm—chilling often makes a cold worse. It is especially recommended that in extreme cold weather a child stay indoors and away from drafts until temperatures are more moderate.
- 8.—Winter sun baths, to get the benefit of vitamin D producing ultraviolet rays, are difficult but possible. Exposure to the sun's direct rays near an open window is safe provided there is ample warmth in the room and no draft to chill the little sun bather.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It is quite possible new taxes will be asked to vote into being a national sales tax.

For some time, some high officials in public speeches, have been raising this matter apparently as a trial balloon, to test out sentiment.

Whether or not this would be proposed as a substitute for the present income tax or as an additional tax, is not yet made clear.

One thing C. W. Harder seems certain. Any such proposition will have determined opposition.

For example, on several occasions, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, the nation's small businessmen have voiced opposition to such a measure.

For one thing, this would put business firms still deeper into the situation whereby they are instrumentalities of the United States government when it comes to tax collections.

It is perhaps well nigh impossible for anyone not operating a business to realize how much is shouldered by the average business in acting as an involuntary tax collection agency.

For example, in most states, a retailer not only has to collect income tax from his employees, he must also collect from them social security and unemployment taxes, excise taxes on goods carrying them, local sales taxes, just to mention a few.

He must also keep a penny perfect non-usage of these collections, and also keep constantly informed of all the multitude of rules and regulations pertaining to these taxes.

In most cases, this becomes such a major task, that it is necessary to employ experts on these matters.

Thus, a national sales tax would further aggravate the situation, because business would be expected to collect this tax.

In addition, it seems quite specious to believe that imposition of a national sales tax would reduce other taxes. True, as a beginning, there might be some reductions in other items, but once government gets a new source of revenue established, there seems to be no end to the extent of brand new "necessary" expenditures.

Rather, solution to national debt problem is for Congress to work out immediate means of reducing government expenditures. On this score, there seems to be general agreement. Only thing missing is action.

Yet simple arithmetic shows the need for action. For example, if a 2% national sales tax were to be levied tomorrow, which would be quite a high tax, it would bring in fresh revenues less than half of what the nation has been currently throwing away in foreign give aways.

Thus, Congress will have to face up to the fact that it is time to chop down expenditures.

As it is now, government is in the position of the man who unable to meet payments on his own automobile, nonetheless contracts to buy a second car to give to his cousin.

defense just enough to only commit two fouls in the second half, and this was perhaps the most vital factor in the game. Gary fell back a step or two, and played the entire second half without adding the other foul, and in the process he continued to pace the team in rebounding and added 5 more crucial points.

Another crisis the Indians met well, was the failure of Zuber and Jones to be able to work loose for shots. The Lopes had the Indians well scouted and to their everlasting credit, they did a fine job in putting the shackles on Morton's two top percentage shooters. But in meeting this crisis, Seaney came through with a driving, crucial layup shot, something he seldom tries; Brownlow looped in a couple of beautiful hook shots, and the Indians began to do a fine job of knocking the ball out of the taller Antelopes' hands, after they had secured the rebounds. Abernathy did get a one point lead a couple of times in the second half but Morton never let it bother them and began to score on their free throws late in the third period when they became most important. The final five minutes of the game were hectic for both teams, and the fans. Some dubious officiating in a couple of instances caused consternation on both sides as well as the failure of the timekeeper to keep the clock running in the heat of the excitement. But to Morton's credit they calmed enough to play tough ball in the clutch and richly deserved a victory.

Make no mistake about it, the Abernathy team was tough defensively — second only to Dimmitt in defenses. Morton has faced this year. But, given a huge advantage in total shots and rebounds, they simply couldn't do the job offensively, they should have done. With a better shooting percentage, they probably would have won, and Morton certainly cannot expect the Antelopes to not hit better when they play at Morton, a couple of weeks hence.

Morton will need to find a way to get more rebounds, hold Abernathy to less shots, and get a better balanced scoring attack of their own, if they want to win in match. But the pressure is off and the was tremendously exciting & thrilling for Morton.

Brownlow led the Indians with 16 points and Middleton had 12. Seaney added 7 and Jones, 6, but Zuber failed to cash a point, though he converted one free throw that was taken away when a man stepped over the line.

A reserve, Horton Struve, put in 17 points for Abernathy, and why they benched him midway in the fourth quarter, we'll never know. He was the only "hot" man, offensively, Abernathy had.

In the final total free throws cost Abernathy the game. They hit six, but only received nine in the game, while Morton converted a poor, but just enough, nine of 20. No player fouled out.

The girls' game went just about as expected. The Maids, though doing very well, were no match for the State Champion Abernathy sextet, paced by all stater Margie ... Abernathy won a 65 to 33 victory, with Morton holding them close the first quarter. Miss Guinn poured in 27 points to pace the winners while Berniece Fincher had 17 for Morton.

Abernathy's girls thus remained tophheavy favorites to walk to the conference title. For Morton, it was their second loss against one victory in district play.

New Parachute That Spins

NEW YORK — Reliance Manufacturing Company, the world's largest producer of parachutes, has announced that its subsidiary, Pioneer Parachute Company, will soon produce a radically new rotating parachute for military paratroop and cargo air drop operations, for missile recovery and for ground braking of high-speed aircraft. Its design marks the first major change in parachutes in 50 years.

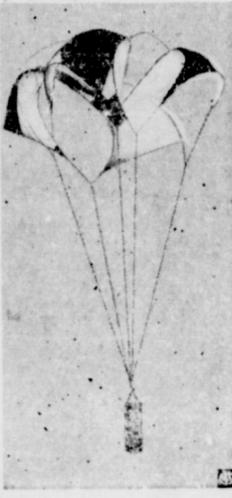

The novel parachute, equipped with sail-like cloth blades that spin like a helicopter's rotor, was designed by David T. Barish, 27-year-old New York aeronautical engineering consultant, and developed and patented with financial assistance supplied by Laurence S. Rockefeller. Pioneer will produce and market the new parachute under an exclusive licensing agreement with Mr. Barish, who will serve as consultant to the company.

Evaluation and service tests of the parachute are now being conducted by the U.S. Air Force, U.S. Army, U.S. Navy, Marine Corps and two manufacturers of jet aircraft.

Exhaustive tests have indicated that the Vortex Ring parachute, as it is known officially, has excellent inherent stability, low shock effect on opening, and virtually no oscillation or glide characteristics. It has less bulk and weight than an equivalent conventional parachute, but has twice the drag efficiency. An emergency Vortex Ring parachute will, when packed, fit into a standard briefcase.

The parachute opens as quickly as the best of conventional designs, but the shock effect of the opening is greatly reduced because less material is exposed to the wind blast. Low shock is important in paratroop drops from low altitudes and from high-speed aircraft. It collapses on the ground more readily than any other parachute, minimizing ground injuries attributable to dragging in high winds, according to Barish.

The whirling parachute substitutes four sections of cloth for the standard circular canopy. Rotation of the blades of cloth creates a vortex ring, or doughnut of air around the tips, increasing total drag area and, in effect, enlarging the size of the parachute.

FAMILY BUSINESS CENTERS

SAVE TIME AND MONEY
Could you locate valuable papers — deeds, wills, insurance policies, — in a hurry in your home? Most of us do not anticipate emergencies such as fires, or other disasters, but we do have times when we can't find important receipts or canceled checks simply because we do not have a well planned place to put them.

Planned business centers are appearing in more homes these days. They provide a comfortable place to work for a minute each day; a place to keep a ready file on bills canceled checks and important papers.

For a family business center all you need is an ample, comfortable, well lighted writing center, a comfortable chair, handy file or storage materials, another file or storage place for back records, waste basket and desk supplies.

Consider where and how you can plan your family business center. You'll find it a real source of satisfaction. This office will be glad to supply you with more ideas for arranging the center if you need them.

AVOCADOES, ANYONE?
Avocadoes seem to be in plentiful supply right now and their cost puts this luxury food item within the reach of us all.
Here are several suggestions for using this delicious (and high-calorie) food:

AVOCADO HALVES & SEAFOOD
Avocado halves are a perfect serving dish for creamed fish and seafood.

For best flavor, choose fully ripe avocadoes — those that yield readily to gentle pressure from the palms of the hands. Avocadoes ripen best at room temperature and then can be placed in the refrigerator.

Serve chilled avocado halves with shrimp, crab meat or tuna for an appetizer or salad. Or fill the halves with hot, creamed tuna, spinach.

AVOCADO SALAD DRESSING
For fruit salad or head lettuce. One ripe, medium sized avocado
1/2 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
Peel avocado and press through a sieve. Add fruit juices and salt. Beat until smooth.

AVOCADO MAYONNAISE
2 T. evaporated milk
1 T. lemon juice
1/2 c. sliced avocado
Paprika, salt, Tabasco to taste
1 T. prepared mustard
This is delicious on tomatoes.

rinkle with buttered crumbs and broil until thoroughly heated.
