Don Lamar bowls perfect 300 game at Frontier Lanes

Bowling records were created in Morton Sunday, April 18, when Don Lamar, operator of the Frontier Lanes on the Levelland Highway, rolled his last ball down the alley into the pocket for a perfect game of 300.

Lamar was bowling in the Rag-time Doubles with Bill Harris as his partner. Besides being a perfect game, Lamar's 300 game was the first perfect game bowled at Frontier Lanes since they were founded more than four years ago.

The bowler said all the balls had gone into the pocket, and the last ball also went into the pocket, but "just a little high." Pins flew, but the number four pin wiggled in its place and before it finally toppled.

Lamar hollered and stumbled, falling over the benches behind his lane. He had set more than one record. Besides having bowled a perfect game, he had bowled the highest three - game series ever bowled at the lanes. Scores of 221, 300 and 200 making a score of 721 for the series also set a house record.

The perfect score will be rewarded with more than satisfaction because the 300 was scored in a game sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress. Lamar selected a diamond ring from the rewards offered by the ABC and hopes to have the moment of his perfect game within a month or three weeks.

This was the second time Lamar had approached a perfect game. He said he had been on his way to a perfect game at a bowling tournament in Midland when he threw eleven consecutive balls into the pocket before missing. His score that time was 293.

Lamar's bowling average is 186.

Morton school trustees repeat oath of office

Newly-elected members of the Morton Independent School District Board of Trustees repeated their oath of office Tuesday evening, April 20. Max Bowers, a newcomer to the board, and Francis T. Lemons, successor to the late J. L. Lemons, succeeded incumbents signed copies of the oath after repeating it orally.

Officers of the board, elected Tuesday by board members, are Francis Shifflett, president; Max Bowers, vice-president; and Ed Townsend, secretary.

Business transacted by the board included the appointment of a school tax equalization board for the year. Named to the board are Cliff Harvey, Tommy Hawkins, Herman Bedwell, Jim Green, Em Palvado, Ken Coffman and Ed Chesher. The board named a minimum number of members to the board in order to have a quorum in the event that some of the persons named can not serve.

The board heard a delegation of ten Morton High School seniors, five boys and five girls, who asked that the seniors be allowed to use $500 that has accumulated in a class fund raised by the students themselves to finance an all-night party for seniors Friday, May 14. Spokesman for the group of seniors was class - president Charles Ledbetter.

The students told the board their parents had no objections to the party which would begin with a steak supper for the seniors to be served outside, and would continue with activities at Frontier Lanes which could be rented for exclusive use of the seniors that night. The party would terminate with a breakfast at the home of one of the seniors. The students said the party could be well captioned by parents and class sponsors.

This is the first senior class in four years to have money in the class fund at graduation - time. The class had considered buying the school a basketball scoreboard with the money, but found it was only about one-half of what would be needed. They also investigated buying a victory bell for the school, but received no reply to their inquiries to a railroad about a train bell.

One board member voiced the opinion that "it would be immoral for them not to get their own money." A carefully-worded motion to allow the students funds for the party was passed by the board.

Use of the school gymnasium for an Athletic Booster Club-sponsored summer recreation program was approved by the board. The gymnasium was allowed to the program five days a week and two

Provide protection from bad checks

Businessmen in the Morton trade area who have suffered losses from bad checks were offered a method of minimizing such losses this week. Operating on the theory that a bad check artist will not pass a check when he can be easily identified, the Cochran County Sheriff's office in cooperation with the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce has offered for sale at a nominal cost a rubber stamp providing spaces for drivers license information.

By stamping this identification on the back of a check and filling it out before cashing the check, it is hoped that a number of bad check artists will be frightened away. Sheriff Hazel Hancock said that if the bad check should be cashed anyway, the task of finding the culprit will be made easier for the law officers who will have a description from which to begin their search.

The first stamps arrived last week, and are being sold at the Cochran County Sheriff's office in the county court house in Morton. Those remaining of the first group will be sold at 75 cents apiece. When the supply is gone, sheriff's deputies said orders will be taken for more of the stamps. Prices on stamps ordered may be slightly higher, it was stated, but will not be more than $1.50 a stamp.

Quorum for building committee

A disappointingly small turnout at a Cochran County Program Building Committee meeting called Monday, April 19, at 8 p. m. forced a postponement of the meeting. Executive Chairman Burt did not call the meeting in order because of the lack of a quorum.

The meeting had been rescheduled as an election-meeting to choose a chairman for the organization. Burt, a farmer from Lehman community, had expressed his desire to resign from the committee which he has held since 1962.

Supporters were told the meeting would be rescheduled, and an announcement of the new meeting will be made later this week.

Lack of adult interest may put end to program

Four-county meet scheduled here on War on Poverty

A representative from the governor's office will be in Morton on Wednesday, April 21, to discuss a community improvement project now available to Texas communities under the Economic Opportunity Act, it was learned Wednesday.

The representative will speak to about 35 or 40 persons from Cochran, Yoakum, Bailey and Hockley Counties. It was learned in the course of a forty-five-minute telephone conversation between Morton Area Chamber of Commerce manager Johnny Johnson and the program director connected with the governor's office that chances of developing a community help program in this area are good.

Johnson said arrangements will be made to hold the meeting at

Release figures on cotton and feed grain programs

Advance payments amounting to $57,037.60 for the diversion of cotton acres and $304,574.74 for diversion of feed acres have been made to farmers in Cochran County this year according to Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee office manager Mrs. Ruth McGee.

Mrs. McGee stated that these sums represent only advance payments already made to farmers participating in the government cotton and feed grain programs.

When the enrollment deadline for participation in the 1965 government cotton program ended registration, 81 cotton-reducers in Cochran County had contracted to withdraw more than 4,011 acres of cotton land from production, Mrs. McGee said. Enrollment began February 8 and ended last Friday, April 16, after the deadline had been extended twice. Cotton program enrollment deadline had first been scheduled for March 26, the same day enrollment in the feed grain program ended, but two extensions of the deadline bought the end of the enrollment period to the April 16 date.

A far greater number of Cochran County farmers enrolled in the government feed grain program.

"Career Day" at high school was huge success

Career Day at Morton High School, the day students have an opportunity to explore their fields of occupational interest by questioning someone in that field, took place Thursday, April 15. Vocations ranging from modeling and Federal Bureau of Investigation work to accounting and farming were investigated by eager Morton students.

School counselor Charles Bowen, who made arrangements for the day and plotted the schedule, said any comment on the success of the project would have to come from the students. Apparently it was a success, as students were vocal about both what they learned from the project and their enjoyment of it.

Bowen is now writing letters of thanks to the many participants who devoted a day to talking with students about their occupations. "They are a real swell bunch of good people. Many of them gave up a lot to come here a whole day," Bowen said.

Morton Chamber to send delegates to study EOA

Members of the board of directors of the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce took steps Monday evening, April 19, to continue investigation of ways this community can benefit from the Economic Opportunity Act which allows federal assistance for local improvement programs.

The group voted to send chamber officers Tommy Lynch, president; Don Workman, vice-president; and George Hargrove, secretary-treasurer, to Austin with the chamber manager Johnny Johnson to talk with the state director of the EOA program. Since the state director will be available for an interview at a time that is not yet known, the group selected to visit him has been put on alert, and may leave at any time. Two alternates were also appointed in the event that the interview can be obtained only when one of the officers cannot leave town for the two-day trip. Alternates are Gene Snyder and John Haggard.

The board of directors also discussed sending a group to discuss aspects of the chamber improvement program with the Whiteface School Board and the Whiteface Lions Club. The group is scheduled to go to Whiteface Monday, April 26, and to talk to the Lions there at 6 p. m. and the school board at 8 p. m.

A keynote speech was delivered by Morton lawyer Jimmy Walker at an opening assembly that also provided music by the Morton High School Band. The representatives of various occupations were introduced at this meeting, which was followed by smaller gatherings in classrooms where each occupation was explained. There were four of these sessions with a break for lunch after the second.

There was little or no confusion as students went from one lecture to the next between sessions, and teachers described the process as orderly. Bowen said many of the guest speakers complimented the student body on its attitude and manners.

Speakers and their occupational areas were listed by Bowen as Rodney Frain, Morton, pharmacy; Kenneth Thompson, Morton, medical technology; Dr. Marshall Nagle, Texas Technological College Department of Education; John Haggard, Morton, certified public accountant; Chief Petty Officer L. V. Orman, Lubbock, Navy; Staff Sergeant Don Scott, Lubbock, Air Force; Dr. Charles Halcomb, Texas Technological College Department of Psychology; Ben Harrison, Lubbock, Texas Ranger; and Hazel Hancock, Morton, Sheriff.

Future Teachers of America teach in schools here

National Future Teacher Month is being observed in Morton by allowing certain members of the local Future Teachers Association chapter actually teach in Morton classrooms.

April has been designated National Future Teacher Month, and will be noted in all parts of the country. In Morton the last two weeks of April will be dedicated to observation of the week by allowing between 12 and 14 seniors who have been members of the Future Teachers Association two years or more to spend two days in classrooms of elementary and junior high schools here.

The student-teachers will spend two days in the classrooms, one day to observe the procedure followed by the regular teacher, and one day acting as teacher himself.

Total membership of the local chapter of FTA is 45. The Morton chapter is affiliated with the state and with the national organization.

African safari film to be seen here on Thursday

Morton area residents will have the opportunity to travel on a real African safari tonight (Thursday) as W. G. McMillan, Jr., of Lubbock will present a 75 minute film and commentary of a 1964 safari in which he partook.

The program will be held at 8:00 in the County Activities Building Auditorium, and is sponsored by the L'Allegro Study Club. All proceeds from the program above expenses will be donated to the Cancer Fund.

Mr. McMillan, who has presented the program numerous times in Lubbock and the surrounding area, returned from the safari with 22 mounts, including 14 different species. He was accompanied on the trip by his wife.

The McMillans accompanied a party of about 20 on the safari, led by Mr. Clyde Sussens, big game hunter and guide from the Union of South Africa. Their first 14 day hunting epoch unfolded on a 60,000 acre ranch in the southern part of Rhodesia. Using high-powered rifles, McMillan shot the greater kudu, water buck, zebra, wildebeest, wart hog and steinbok.

Among other scenes in the hour and 15 minute movie, those present will see Africa's mighty Zambezi River, primitive Bushmen caves and paintings, a hippo charging a hunter; wild native dances, stalking of giant greater kudu, and herds of giant elephants. Also shown will be Africa's greatest splendor, the Victoria Falls.

Tickets for the movie, which is filmed in gorgeous tropical color, may be purchased at the door.

May 14th is date for Junior Capers

Morton High School choir director Guy McLain announced this week that a date has been selected for presentation of the Junior Capers musical variety show. The date selected is Friday, May 14. An earlier date chosen tentatively was changed after it was discovered that it would conflict with the date of the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Select delegates to FHA meeting

Meeting theme for delegates from the 1,314 FHA chapters throughout the state will be "Homelife — Foundation for Peace."

Mickey Sue Raindl has been selected by chapter members as voting-delegate to the state meeting. La Nelda Romans is alternate.

Business to be transacted at the meeting by the State Nominating Committee will be the naming of state officers from 10 officer nominees who have been elected by members in the 10 areas of the state. Delegates to the National FHA Convention in Chicago in July will be designated.

TABY bowlers in state meet

Two relays teams and six individual events will carry Morton High School's colors in the regional track and field meet in Lubbock this Friday and Saturday.

The first two places in the district track meet held two weeks ago in Denver City qualified for the regional meet, and the first two finishers in the regional will qualify for the state track meet in Austin.

The 440 and mile relay teams both finished second to Denver City in the district meet, thus qualifying for competition this weekend. Donnie Dewbre will enter the 440, and Jimmy Joyce will be among those running the 440 yard dash. Charles Ledbetter will be competing in the broad jump, high jump, and the high and low hurdles.

Joyce had the second best qualifying time for the regional meet in the 440 yard dash, a time of 50.2. He placed first in the district meet, and has a good chance of making the Austin trip. Ledbetter broad jumped 22 ft. 1/2 in. in the district meet, the best distance of all qualifiers, and high-jumped 6 ft. 2 in., to tie for the best height among qualifiers. However, he has jumped 6 ft., 5 in. this year.

Ledbetter also finished first in the 180 yard low hurdles in the district, and second in the 120 yard high sticks. Wind hampered any outstanding times in those events at Denver City.

Members of the 440 yard relay who will run at Lubbock are Bob Dabson, Marlin Rose, Charles Ledbetter, and Jimmy Joyce. The mile relay quarter will consist of Lavoy Thompson, Rose, Joyce, and John St. Clair.

The regional qualifiers competed in the Mustang Relays at Andrews last Friday night. Ledbetter placed second in the broad jump and third in the low hurdles, while Joyce was third in the 440 yard dash. Ledbetter was also fourth in the high jump.

Arena in Whiteface almost completed

Nine adult leaders and many 4-H members of the Horse and Pony Club for Cochran County spent several Saturday afternoons in March and April working on the construction of a new fence enclosure for the horse riding arena near Whiteface, Texas.

Eighty cross-ties were purchased for 25 cents each and hauled by truck from near Carlsbad, N. M. to Whiteface, Texas. The arena was measured and marked off. It is 300 feet by 190 feet. A mechanical post hole digger mounted on a tractor was used for digging the holes. After the ties were set and tamped, hogwire and smooth wire were then placed and stretched for the fence holding material. Only the gate openings are not finished. The arena is now ready for practice riding. It is large enough that all the contests can be held inside the arena.

This arena took a lot of hard work, sweat, and planning. The big factor of importance observed, by leaders and members was the cooperation in joint spirit and effort reached by all.

The Dads and Mothers are the adult leaders in general. The interest and enthusiasm is climbing. Yes, it gets pretty high at times. Many mistakes have been made, but the group has always been big enough to resolve their problem by group discussions. It has worked so far and usually problems are resolved unannounced.

The Agent, Homer E. Thompson, believes that no other 4-H activity will keep you on your toes any more than a Horse and Pony Club. "I guess it's because so many new ideas are coming up, where there is no specific answer," he says.

Cheer leaders for next year's team are named

Walls of the Morton School gymnasium rang Tuesday morning, April 20, with the cheers of high school students as try-outs for the 1965-66 cheer leaders were conducted.

The student body elected five of the 15 who tried out. They were Susan Blackley, Jeanette Cooper, Sharon Graves, Donna Hoffman, and Cheryl McDaniel.

A three-way tie among Kay Hollenshead, Juanece Skaggs, and Nancy Webb for the sixth cheer leader position caused a run-off session to be planned.

Mrs. Glen Thompson, her granddaughters, Shonnaye and Teresa Autry, of Enochs, and her sister, Miss Ozella Hunt, Denver City, spent last weekend in McLean where they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hunt.

SMOKE SIGNALS

By MIKE EGGER

Morton High School had its 3rd annual Career Day Thursday April 15. Professional people from a great range of lifetime vocations took out a day from their jobs and presented the aspects, good and bad, of their profession and the educational requirements needed to be effective in their particular field. Vocations represented were: Nursing, medical technology, pharmacy, teaching, accounting, armed forces, psychology, law enforcement, practice of law, religious vocations, engineering, banking, insurance, home economics, dentistry, photography, agriculture, range management agronomist, auto mechanics, hair design, modeling, and radio-television repair.

A tremendous amount of work went into the planning and preparation went into making this day the success, that it was. A vote of appreciation is in order to the high school administration and especially to counselor Charles Bowen for the work put into this presentation. A vote of thanks is also in order to the local and out-of-town businessmen and women who took time out of their schedules to come.

The day began in the gym with musical selections by the MHS band. The band concert was followed by two morning sessions, dinner and two afternoon sessions. Members of the FHA and student council acted as hosts for the visitors.

Friday, April 23 is the date for the initiation of National Honor Society pledges, and the school Honor Day sponsored by the student council. The program will be held in the county activity building.

Jack Simmons is named Levelland school head

Jack Simmons, former elementary principal for the Morton schools, was named as superintendent of the Levelland Public Schools last week. He has been serving as director of secondary education in the Levelland school system since leaving Morton in 1963.

He is replacing Dr. Kenneth Laycock, who submitted his resignation in order to join the faculty at West Texas State University at Canyon.

Simmons served in Morton for two years, beginning in 1961. The move to Levelland was considered a big advancement for him and his promotion to superintendent is certainly another big step.

He received his bachelor's degree from Sam Houston State and his master's of arts degree from Stephen F. Austin State. Simmons taught at Bay Town, Kirbyville, and in the Houston area before moving to Morton.

He and his wife, Edith, have four children, Mark, 11, Martha, 8, Barbara, 5, and Anna, 4.

Mrs. O. B. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lloyd were in Eten over the weekend visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Lloyd. They also visited in Dallas in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Christian and Rodney.

Kenneth Petree and Bill Cunningham accompanied Mr. and Mrs. James Butler, Evelyne, Patsy and Mrs. Bertha Butler to Lake Brownwood over the Easter holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. McCarty visited in Sundown Sunday with her sisters, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Harrington and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ross of Littlefield.

It is sponsored by the L'Allegro Club, and proceeds will go the Cancer Fund. The public is invited, and tickets may be obtained from any member of the club. The event will be held in the County Auditorium on April 22, at 8 p.m.

Club members voted to enter the immediate past president and all preceding past presidents in the Golden Book.

Plans for the Texas Federated Womens Annual Convention were discussed. It will be May 10, 11, and 12 in the Texas Hotel at Ft. Worth.

An invitation was received from the Town and Country Study Club to a tea May 1, at 3 p.m. honoring Mrs. Preston Dial, who is the State Department Chairman and Council of International Affairs.

Members were told that the Area Council of Women's Clubs will meet April 24th at 10 a.m. in the County Activity Building to paint the screens they donated to the building.

Mrs. Travis announced that vo-

News from Across the Border

By GAYLE LATIMER

This week I have more news for you than last week. Not more in volume, but more variety.

Linda O'Bannon, Barbara Ashbrook's sister from Roswell visited her last Thursday for the day. When I talked to Barbara this week, she was preparing for the arrival of the O'Bannon family for the Easter holidays.

There has been a revival in Lingo this week. Preacher Wesley McAfee has officiated. He and Sammy came by our house Friday.

The Harvey Lee Balko family went to Lubbock last Monday. Harvey Lee went for his Spanish lessons and Ave Lee to visit. She visited with Audna and Billy Ballo, an uncle of Harvey Lee's.

Phyllis had a slumber party last weekend. Ten girls were invited. Ave Lee said she didn't get much slumber either, but the girls were very well behaved.

Faye and Murry Jefferies visited with the Balko's a week ago Sunday. The Jefferies are from Dora.

Jim and Gloria Brown from Andrews were guests in the Floyd Brown home last weekend. They came Friday and left Saturday afternoon to go to Morton to visit Gloria's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Nations.

Kay Brown was in Los Vegas Thursday to Saturday for the meeting of the Commerce Club. Nearly all of the Juniors and Seniors went except some of the girls that went to Las Cruces for the F.H.A. meeting.

The Jack Copeland's went to Tulla and Lubbock last weekend. They visited with Howard and Wilma Pollard in Tulla. Maxine said Wilma was doing fine. They visited with Walter and Pat Crimmins in Lubbock. They said Jo Ann had gone to Lamesa for the day.

Maxine said they were expecting the girls home for Easter. They had invited Carl and Elsie Pollard and Mike and Elaine Pollard for Easter dinner Sunday.

Mrs. Lee Kizer of Portales called me last Monday. She wanted me to put in the paper about a special call meeting of the Lingo Alumni. It was too late for me to put it in the Morton paper. The meeting was held in the Coronada Room of the Portales bank on April 19th. There will be a Lingo homecoming next August. If you want details of the meeting, you may write Mrs. Lee Kizer. She is chairman.

Laurie and I went to Ava Lee Balko's Tuesday morning. We later went to Mrs. Gibbs and dug some violets. We came back by Barbara Ashbrook's and picked her up and then back to Ava Lee's. It had been some time since the three of us were together. We had coffee and a nice visit.

I went to see Mrs. Jim Simpson Friday. I got some cannas from her. She told me that one of her brother-in-laws had died and was buried last Saturday.

Mrs. W. C. McCelvey came over Friday and stayed with the baby while I worked in the yard. My grandfather came after her late that evening.

That is all for this week. Please remember to watch where your front wheels go, for the rear ones will follow and you might get stuck.

County 4-H Club may be among 12 to be chosen

Cochran County 4-H'ers are waiting to find out whether this county will be among 12 selected from this district to participate in five days of outing at Scott-Abel, N.M. This 4-H district, District Two, is composed of 20 counties, but only 12 are chosen to participate in the camping trip which is sponsored by the Southwestern Public Service Company.

Two 4-H leaders and four boys and girls who are 13 years of age or more, as well as county agents of the 12 selected counties may attend the camp.

A selection committee will announce the 12 chosen counties May 1, according to Cochran County Agricultural Extension Agent Homer Thompson. Chances for Cochran County being among the 12 are good because this county did not attend the camp last year, Thompson said.

The camp will be conducted between July 9 and July 13 instead of between July 12 and July 16, dates previously selected. Thompson said the change of dates was to avoid conflicting schedules.

Garden club meeting hosted by Mrs. Spotts

The Cochran County Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Hessie B. Spotts Monday, with Mrs. Bobby Travis presiding. Mrs. J. L. Schooler gave the program entitled "Variety is the Spice of Life" — (herb gardens) — dealing with the history and care of herbs and spices. She said that the herb garden should be planted in a sunny location, preferably near the kitchen door (for convenience). Mrs. Schooler had small pots of sage, thyme, chives and parsley, which she had grown from seed. She presented members with one each of these herbs.

The club held its annual plant exchange. Among the plants exchanged were pink chrysanthemums, umbrella plants, double petunias, and daisies.

Annual pilgrimage was rescheduled for Saturday, May 8, 1965. Members will meet at the Charles Jones home at 7:30 a.m. and go to the Maleshe Wildlife Preserve for breakfast and program.

Mrs. Charles Jones reported on the District Garden Club Convention which she and Mrs. W. B. McSpadden attended in Amarillo. She announced that the Cochran County Garden Club had won a second place in Yearbook competition with a score of 99. The club winning first in this competition scored 99½. First place honors were reported won by the club on their Pressbook, which is now in State competition.

A workday for the club's Hospital Landscape Project is to be scheduled by the project committee.

Those present were mesdames: Truman Doss, Jug Hill, Kenneth Thompson, Don Workman, Wayne Porter, W. B. McSpadden, Roy Hill, Truett McCouston and guest Mrs. R. L. DeBusk.

Taxes is subject of county meeting

About 30 farmers attended the County-wide educational meeting on state and federal inheritance taxes, gift taxes and other taxes recently.

Mr. John Seibert, Area Farm Management Specialist, and Lockwood Grigg, Tax Representative from the Internal Revenue Office, Lubbock, Texas were both present for the meeting. These people discussed tax changes in the law — giving three examples of one $300,000 estate, showing how the taxes may be managed. Yes, there were several thousand dollars difference in the way the estate is handled to avoid big tax payments. Over $43,000 in cost difference of tax payments by using one method over that of another method as shown in the estate example.

These examples are available in the county agent's office, if you want to see them. Remember when an estate becomes an estate it is too late to make the selection of tax payment. It must be done in proper planning before the decedent's death and by him or her. Don't let your children find out the expensive way of having to liquidate the estate to pay the taxes.

Plan in advance with your tax man. Keep your will up to date.

These tax laws and rules change frequently.

If you feel you need more information in this field, please advise the Extension Agent's office. Those who come asking questions, and I feel they will do a much better job of managing an estate. Do it now, before it's too late, advises E. C. Farmer in Cochran County.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McSpadden went to Tahoka over the weekend to pick up J. Wayne Spotts. He spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Spotts.

Report shows 1 traffic death on county highways

Three rural accidents took place in Cochran County during March according to Sergeant A. E. Roberts, Highway Patrol Supervisor for this area.

These crashes resulted in one death, five persons injured and an estimated property damage of $2,000.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county for the first three months of 1965 shows a total of seven accidents resulting in one person killed, six person injured, and an estimated property damage of $3,750.

Roberts also pointed out that the final entry in the 1964 Texas Traffic Book, listing accidents occurring throughout the state, has been made, closing with a record of 3,006 persons killed, 182,081 persons injured, and $486,846,000 property loss. This compares with the 1963 record high of 2,729 persons killed, 161,543 persons injured, and an estimated property loss of $432,715,000.

Since the death count of 2,254 in 1960, more people have died on Texas highways each year. The Sergeant stated, "If the death count increases during the last six

Whooping Cranes ready to fly from Texas to Arctic

Texas' celebrated airborne wildlife exhibit — the Whooping Cranes — are poised for the 2,000 mile spring hop from the Aransas National Refuge on the Gulf Coast to Wood Buffalo National Park in the Arctic Circle.

And Robert H. Shields, refuge manager, is anxious because he was fogbound six days before he finally got his spotter plane airborne to determine that nothing has happened yet.

That meant all 42 of the giant white birds, with their black-tipped wings, still were on location. He actually spotted only 41 but assumed the flock's odd ball was around somewhere. That's the character that put off its 1964 departure until May 16, a good month after the average take-off date.

Migration Thus, the headline number in nature's mysterious migration will challenge the countless observers, including the noted Whooper Network, to see a whooper on the northward flight. Top ornithologists have long been frustrated in trying to chart the actual route followed.

It is known that the majestic birds, with their red crowns, await a favoring wind to start, travel at great altitudes and sometimes mingle in flight with almost-as-large sandhill cranes.

The 1965 nesting season will be watching with unusual interest by wildlife authorities because last year's gain of ten young birds was the largest in many years. Another young whooper missed the flight southward when it sideswiped a snag in practice flights, crippled a wing and had to be airlifted to Colorado for repairs. Six whoopers are in captivity in New Orleans and one in San Antonio.

The latest undocumented tale about the giant cranes concerns a report that the incorrigible loner, known as Scarface from a long feather burn on its neck, and chronically disinterested in flock time-tables, has a buddy. The yarn is that the bird was seen several times with a wolf, and that an observer once saw the crane and wolf sipping from a small pond, just a few yards apart.

Yet it takes no such reports to draw thousands of persons to the 47,000-acre Aransas refuge every winter. Manager Shields said this year's Whooper show brought the largest crowds on record. The VIP's who came from far and wide include Roger Tory Peterson who wrote the official Texas state bird book, "A Field Guide to the Birds of Texas".

The hermit crab lives in an empty snail shell and, as it grows larger, must find a bigger shell.

The potter's wheel is believed to have been invented before wheel-vehicles.

Zing into spring! Chevrolet Impala

Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Coupe—one of two bucket-seated beauties for '65.

People who buy other big expensive-looking cars get one thing you won't (big expensive-looking payments)

It looks like a big car. And is—by almost any standard you want to apply.

Width? Nobody builds a car as much as one inch wider. Length? It grew three inches this year. Roominess? Every closed model's got three inches more shoulder room, front and rear, and more leg and foot room up front too. Luxury? Nice little touches like the look of mellow walnut across the Impala's instrument panel. And big touches. Like the fineness of the same body by Fisher workmanship that makes some of America's most expensive cars look so expensive. How about the ride? Chevrolet engineers took the Jet-smooth one and smoothed it out even more this year. Also made it more stable by widening the wheel stance. Price? That's where Chevrolets fall way short of the other big expensive-looking cars. But we wouldn't have it any other way. Would you?

One last question: How soon can you make a good spring buy on a Chevrolet? One last answer: Just as soon as you can get down to your Chevrolet dealer's.

Announce a 4-H cotton contest

Prizes amounting to as much as $125 are offered to 4-H'ers winning the South Plains 4-H Club Cotton Yield Per Acre Program sponsored by Texas A&M College Extension Service with prizes donated by the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill of Lubbock.

The object of the program is to "promote greater yields per acre of Lint Cotton on farms of the South Plains by improving the fertility and texture of soil and by better cultural practices."

Awards will be made for the highest yield per acre on irrigated lands and the highest yield per acre on dry land. Amounts of the award are the same for each division. First-place winners will receive $125 and a plaque. Second-place winners will receive $100; third-place, $85; fourth-place $75; fifth-place $65; and sixth-place $50.

The contest is open to regularly enrolled 4-H'ers who will be between nine and 21 years old as of July 1, the contest year.

Land entered in the contest must be measured before July 1. Rules of the contest are now available at the Cochran County Agricultural Extension office.

Announces change in U.S. Air Force enlistment rules

Air Force recruiter for this area, Technical Sergeant Dan E. Scott, announced this week that the Air Force has released some restrictions on prior service re-enlistment.

Scott said electronic technical schools "are now available to men who do not qualify to re-enlist in their old jobs, provided they meet the requirements." Several new jobs have been added to the existing list, and some changes have been made in eligibility requirements, Sergeant Scott added.

Scott urges young men who are interested in the new program to contact him at 1006 Thirteenth Street in Lubbock or telephone him at POrter 2-3359.

gram than signed-up for the cotton program. Mrs. McGee said 490 farmers had signed up to participate in the feed grain program before its deadline March 28. Response to this program was so great that the deadline did not have to be extended as it was for cotton.

Eighty-six percent of the farms in this county are entered in the feed grain program, according to Mrs. McGee, and a total amounting to 65,990 acres has been diverted from the production of feed grains.

Entries in horse contest are due Thursday, April 29

April 29 is the deadline for 4-H adult horse leaders to submit names of 4-H'ers to be entered in the District 4-H Horse Show at Levelland. Cochran County Agricultural Extension Agent Homer Thompson said names of 15 Cochran County 4-H'ers must be submitted to him before the April 29 date in order for him to forward them prior to a May 1 deadline.

The show itself is scheduled for June 26 at the Levelland Fair Grounds, Thompson said. Each county is limited to 15 entries who must have been fourteen-years-old as of January 1, 1965. Contestants must have horses and a three dollar entry fee. Thompson said a regulation that may reduce the ranks of Cochran County entries is that no stallions or Shetland ponies are eligible to compete.

Winners of the district contest at Levelland will compete in the state 4-H horse show, Thompson said.

nights weekly. The Booster Club recently received a promise of $200 toward financing the program from the Morton Lions Club, and further financing is being considered by the city council. The program outlined has no age limit for participants, and charges only ten cents for membership.

The proposal had been brought before the board at a previous meeting, but was tabled until more information about the program would be available. When Booster Club representatives brought the project before city council asking financing, discussion was tabled until it would be certain that the school gymnasium would be available.

The board changed the time of its monthly meetings from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. so more daylight hours can be used by board members who are also farmers.

Signatures for copies of Morton High School diplomas to be photostated for wallet-sized diplomas by the First State Bank of Morton were gathered at the meeting. The bank gives the small copies of diplomas to seniors as tokens of remembrance.

Other business transacted by the board was to agree to advertise for school depository bids; to allow payment of bills; and to approve the minutes of the previous meeting.

Spaces are provided on the stamp for information that can be copied from drivers licenses, including drivers license number, weight, color of hair, race, sex, date of birth, height, and color of eyes.

Sheriff Hancock said the Chamber of Commerce in Lubbock sponsored stamps for check-cashing merchants there, and his conversations with law men there show that the stamp has done some good, both in prevention, and in helping track down bad check artists after checks have been cashed.

MOUNTAIN TOP

"MOUNTAIN TOP EXPERIENCES"... It is not yet vacation time, however that time is approaching and we start remembering the wonderful feelings and experiences of our last trip to the mountains, and now we can start to plan new adventures.

That closeness, and the exciting feeling when worshipping the Lord is often referred to as a "MOUNTAIN TOP EXPERIENCE." We invite you to come worship the Lord in his house, and receive the joys of being close to God. Attend church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Economics in orbit

Those who sweated over tax returns (and who didn't?) may be fascinated by the discovery that while the "regular" or administrative Federal budget for fiscal 1966 calls for $99.7 billion in spending, actual cash spending (including that from trust funds) will add up to $127 billion!

This startling revelation by the Tax Foundation, Inc., includes some intriguing incidental information as well. The "regular" budget represents a deficit of $6.3 billion, while with the considerably larger "cash" budget it is only $3.9 billion.

But that is still not all, says the Foundation. It reports that "gross spending" ("from the administrative budget, from trust funds, from "public enterprise" funds, revolving funds and miscellaneous items") is expected to add up to $155 billion. This is said to be $8 billion more than spending for fiscal '65, and $10 billion more than '64. Put in slightly more comprehensive terms, the Foundation figures it at $2,547 per American family.

Perhaps the "Great Society" is higher than you thought.

Where U. S. aid should go

It is time now, while the Foreign Aid Bill of 1965 is in the hearing stage in Congress for our Representatives and Senators in Washington to clamp down on the undeserving, the belligerent, the enemy nations that have been receiving our largesse with one hand and thumbing their noses with the other.

It is time now, as the wrath of Nature (or of God, if you prefer) descends upon our own land and our own people to make our national resources available for AMERICAN aid.

In six states, at this writing, a series of 37 tornadoes has brought death to hundreds, injured thousands and reduced untold millions of dollars worth of property to rubble an kindling and twisted metal. Rescue workers, parents, husbands, wives, brothers and sisters search for debris of whole communities for those still missing.

In Indiana, Ohio and Michigan, the National Guard are aiding the homeless, reestablishing communications and maintaining order, while Wisconsin's Governor Knowles has named three southern counties as disaster areas.

But a matter of hours before the first twisters struck Indiana, Ohio and Michigan; Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa, President Johnson had declared 39 Minnesota counties a disaster area as they were overwhelmed by the costliest floods in the history of the state that had already driven 20,000 from their homes. A state of emergency was declared in St. Paul, at the confluence of the Minnesota and Mississippi Rivers where waters were expected to rise 13 feet above flood stage.

We can hope the twisters are over for this year, but the devastation and despair will linger, and the floods — which are likely to be massive — have only started.

The needs of the victims and the communities ravaged by wind and water will be great — no one can say how large. It is none too soon to think of U.S. aid where U.S. aid should go.

Unemployment here to stay

Unemployment in this nation is guaranteed. Despite all the talk about the ways the government is trying to cure unemployment, the fact remains that unemployment is now a built-in feature of our way of life.

Countless thousands of people will not go to work so long as they can weasel good pay from unemployment. Other thousands don't care to work as long as they can draw relief pay.

The fact that there are thousands of unemployed who are unemployed because they want to be is demonstrated quite clearly by the result of the new law which Congress passed, under union pressure, which cut out the bracero labor program for farmers.

Congress did not pass the law, rather they let it expire. It was a law which allowed Mexican nationals to come to this country and work in the sugar beet fields, the citrus groves, the vegetable gardens. The work is hard, in fact it is called "stoop labor," and the pay is not high by our standard, yet good by theirs.

The braceros did not complain about it. They took home good pay for part of a year's work and were the envy of their neighbors who considered them wealthy.

But unions thought that imported labor was cutting American labor out of a job, and got the law changed to stop imported braceros from coming in.

And what happened? Able bodied, unemployed American laborers turned up their noses at "stoop labor." Farmers in California, in Texas, in Arizona and in Florida are facing financial disaster because their crops are rotting in the field, crying out for labor.

But an unemployed American can make more money sweating out the unemployment check than he can be doing hard labor that he doesn't like to do.

If you have bought vegetables lately you might have noticed that we seem to be getting more imported vegetables from Mexico these days. The reason is simple — it costs less to move the vegetable farm to the labor than to try and produce with high labor here.

And in another area, thousands of young boys and girls are denied jobs because the government sets up artificial minimum wage scales and hours to be worked which are above the worth of a starting worker.

Most employers, especially small ones, can't start a kid out at $1.25 unless he is exceptionally well qualified to begin with.

Unemployment? In this nation we have gone to extremes to guarantee that it will continue. Ochliltee Co.-Herald

The case for the South

Mississippi, Alabama, and other states of the Deep South have been reviled for more than a century by holier-than-thou fanatics. In the civil rights troubles of recent years, this "Hate the South" campaign has reached a crescendo, with the area represented as a lawless land where hate and fear stalk hand in hand. Everywhere he looks — be it in the press, on television, in books, in movies — the white Southerner sees himself libeled, lied about, and dragged through the mud of vindictive misrepresentation.

Ever since we have had a nation, the North and East have been infested with a surplus of self-righteous folks with a Messiah complex. They say: "Look at me. See how pure I am. Why can't you be like me?" Forthwith, they set out to save the world — in fact to remake it in their own image. But many people don't like the image — and refuse to be recast by it.

This is the crime of the people of Mississippi — and Alabama — and the South. They don't want to be recast in someone else's image. They don't regard themselves as any better or any worse than people in other parts of the nation.

There is much in the South that needs to be changed. We have all the unlovely traits of people everywhere. But the good people of the South — a section chockful of fine folks of kindness and good will — despise lawlessness and murder. Yet they have never been able to understand why a murder in Mississippi is any more heinous than one in New York's Harlem or Chicago's South Side. Murder for any reason is a despicable crime. And is an Alabama murder inspired by racial conflict any more damnable than murder resulting from a labor dispute in Pennsylvania? Every good person is against murder, no matter why and where it happens.

Moreover, when Southern people hear their states condemned as a lawless land, they wonder where their critics are getting their crime statistics. Of crime, for example, Mississippi has less than its share, ranking lowest among the states. In spite of lurid stories to the contrary, the vast majority of people — white and colored — are living together in all our Southern states in peace and good will.

Much publicity has been given to the Oberlin contingent that has come South to rebuild a burned church. But how many know of the Mississippi Committee of Concern, a local group, whose sole purpose is to rebuild burned or damaged churches? And how many know that this group is rebuilding 20 or more burned Negro churches?

Of course, we must face plain facts. Not even its most sympathetic friends can condone the restriction of voter registration in any state on a basis of the voter's color. The right to vote is a free man's most precious possession. And while we recognize the problem facing white citizens where they are outnumbered two or three to one, there is no alternative to giving the vote to all who can qualify.

There is no excuse for the mass violation of laws by civil rights. Often, Southern officials play into their hands by not letting them demonstrate. We say: Let them demonstrate so long as they are law abiding. Throw them in jail if they get rowdy, obstruct traffic, or otherwise break the law. Many times when given permission to parade, they decide not to. For, 9 out of 10 of their leaders are more interested in publicity than in establishing the right to vote.

Those who seek to gain their ends by any means, no matter how destructive or vicious, are nothing new in history. But it does seem to us we have those today who, to gain their ends, would throw overboard all the principles that have made us the strongest and most envied nation in the world. America must choose between law and order and responsible democracy or mobocracy and anarchy. Either we make that choice or no citizenry — East, North, West, or South, will tomorrow be safe.

The Progressive Farmer Court test called for

First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States reads, in part, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion." A concerned Jewish organization believes that Congress, in passing the administration's $1.3 billion school aid bill, has made just such a law. The American Jewish Congress (AJC) sees the measure as a "grave violation of church-state separation." "We welcome the move by the AJC to settle the matter in the courts by challenging the constitutionality of the measure, once tax funds "begin to flow to church-related schools." The AJC hopes for a test in the state courts, either by a taxpayer or by a local public school board.

It plans to challenge the section providing for "loan" of textbooks and library books to religious school pupils, the provisions whereby public school teachers and equipment could be sent to religious schools under the supplementary educational centers program, and the provision for shared-time arrangements to the extent that these result in the commingling of public and religious school teachers, administrators, and facilities.

The American Civil Liberties Union shares AJC concern as to the constitutionality of church-state provisions of the law. In a policy statement to senators, it declared: "Shared time" proposals involve

Internal Revenue doesn't forget about non-payers

The Internal Revenue Service prides itself on collecting 97 per cent of our nation's taxes through voluntary compliance methods. However, IRS doesn't neglect those who don't voluntarily comply.

The Intelligence Division is a small but important part of the Service's enforcement program. They investigate suspected willful failures to file tax returns and willful attempts to evade income, wagering, and other federal taxes (except those on alcohol, tobacco, and narcotics) and related criminal offenses.

14,000 cases During 1964 Intelligence Special Agents investigated more than 14,000 cases, of which nearly 4,000 were full scale investigations. Cases involving apparent deficiencies but in which prosecutions were not considered appropriate, were referred to other divisions of the Revenue Service for possible assessment of additional taxes and civil penalties.

The Department of Justice obtained 1495 convictions in cases referred to it by Intelligence in 1964, compared to 1408 in 1963. For 1505 persons up for sentencing in 1964, Federal Judges imposed aggregate prison terms to serve of 354 years, and additionally imposed probation or suspended sentences totalling 2682 years. Fines assessed amounted to more than $3,000,000. Besides the criminal action taken, the Intelligence Division recommended additional tax assessments and penalties amounting to $183,000,000.

Convictions up Director of the Intelligence Division H. Allen Long, in Washington, D.C., noted an increase in the number of convictions of employers who failed to make trust fund deposits of employees' withholding and social security taxes. He also found that automatic data processing machines identified a number of persons who illegally sought more than one refund.

Among those getting prison sentences in North Texas during 1964 were: Dr. J. D. Burleson, an Odessa,

Highlights and Sidelights —

Creighton governor for a day

AUSTIN, Tex. — A new governor moved into the chief executive's office in the capitol this week — but only for a day.

Following tradition, Gov. John Connally and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith left the state Tuesday — clearing the way for Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, Senate president pro tempore, to take a 24-hour turn as governor.

Creighton invited homelocks from Callahan, Clay, Denton, Eastland, Jack, Montague, Palo Pinto, Parker, Stephens and Wise counties to his "inauguration."

He also turned out the usual volume of proclamations and commissions — and received praises of his colleagues.

Creighton, 36, an attorney, brought along his pretty wife, Sue, and three children to the governor's mansion.

MEDICAL SCHOOL VETOED — Governor Connally vetoed the bill authorizing Texas Tech to establish a medical school in Lubbock.

Connally said that not enough study had been given to the idea and that he preferred that his recently created college coordinating board be the supreme authority in new college programs. Veto drew critical attacks from West Texas proponents of the school, including Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Sen. H. J. Blanchard both of Lubbock.

TWO-NEARS PASSAGE — After a week's delay, the Senate was ready to take final action on the bill to create a "Little Hoover Commission" to cull waste and insubstantial reordering of public and sectarian schools in which both public and religious authorities must participate. This joint decision-making will touch on the most sensitive matters — subjects to be taught, hours to be devoted to particular courses, textbooks, appropriate instructors for each course.

We welcome all constructive efforts to improve education but share the concern of these groups as to the meaning of this law for church-state relations.

Passage of the measure without amendment is another testimony to President Johnson's persuasiveness and adroitness in dealing with Congress. We regret that he felt it necessary to use his political influence to push through a measure which so many consider constitutionally questionable.

Had the President shown the same sensitivity to a fundamental issue he has exhibited on some other occasions, we believe he could have had an aid to education law of unquestionable constitutional soundness.

efficiency from state offices and agencies. Bill is sponsored by Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria and Sen. Bill Patman of Ganado.

An amendment which Patman considers crippling was tacked on by Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo. Amendment makes the lieutenant governor and the speaker chairman and vice chairman of the commission, replacing a provision that the members would elect the commission leaders.

GUIDELINES SET — Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham says the House Districts Committee aims to get a congressional reapportionment measure to the floor by May 1. Mutscher is chairman of the committee.

Committee has adopted these tentative legislature redistricting guidelines:

Population variance between districts should be held to a maximum of 15 per cent over and below the mean average;

"At least one attempt" will be made to eliminate "floterial" districts;

Small counties without population sufficient to justify a representative of their own will not be divided;

Two or more representatives will not be allowed to run at large in two or more counties.

Committee also approved Senate-passed bill to permit up to 15 per cent population variance in forming legislative districts.

House Speaker Ben Barnes is optimistic that the Legislature can solve the thorny redistricting problem without need for a special session.

GETS PRIORITY — State representatives returned from their brief Easter Vacations to find two proposed constitutional amendments high on their work assignment list.

Governor Connally finally got the bulky House Amendments Committee to clear for debate measure to increase terms of governor and other officials elected statewide from two to four years.

Committee also approved redistricting pain-easer calling for increase of State Senate membership from 31 to 39, but stripped from it provision to lengthen upper house terms to six years.

Pressure for submission of both measures to Texas votes in November and August 7 elections, respectively) were intense.

NEW LAWS ADOPTED — Dozens of bills have been given final passage in one house and sent to the other for further action.

Two bills by Rep. Dick Cory would authorize commissioners courts in all but the largest counties of the state to give county officers raises of up to 20 per cent.

Sen. Don Kennard's bill to create a North Central Texas Airport Authority in Tarrant County, which is opposed by Dallas, was passed in the Senate, but the House version ran into a filibuster by Dallas delegation members in the committee hearing.

Bill by Sen. W. T. Moore would authorize Texas A&M to accept James Connally Air Force Base for the state and establish a technical institute.

POLL TAX REPEAL FAILS — Proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the poll tax fell four votes short of getting the necessary two-thirds in the House of Representatives. But measure was kept alive by a parliamentary maneuver.

Rep. Travis Peller of Corpus Christi is sponsor of the bill.

BUDGET WRITING — Appropriations bill conferees failed to make the April 15 deadline set by House Speaker Ben Barnes for completion of their work.

Despite any sharp differences between House and Senate bills, the budget-writing job in general is tougher than ever this year. That's because of creation of new state agencies and transfers of duties — particularly in hospital and water fields — plus impact of federal programs just being evolved in state finances.

LOAN BILL ADVANCED — Legislation which opponents charge would mean the highest interest rates on loans in the nation for Texans received tentative Senate approval 16-14.

Measure by Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg would allow annual interest rates on installment loans of $9 per $100 up to $5,400. An amendment, finally accepted after strong objection, exempted small loan companies from terms of the bill. Another amendment exempted mortgage loans on real estate.

NON-CITIZEN AID — Proposed constitutional amendment to make old age assistance to non-citizens who have lived in the U.S. for at least 25 years received heavy support in a House committee hearing.

Rep. Joe J. Bernal of San Antonio, sponsor of the bill, said only three other states require citizenship for such assistance. He said the bill would give assistance to thousands of long-time Texas residents, who have not qualified for citizenship for such assistance due to language or other barriers, but no income at all today. Bernal led the committee.

FEDERAL FUNDS — With $200,000,000 presently allotted for distribution in federal grants for college construction in Texas, the Texas Commission on Higher Education already has requests for 24 more colleges and eight established for 12 junior colleges. Applications received amount to an additional $12,500,000 of construction requests under the Higher Educational Facilities Act. Grants pay for 40 per cent of the actual cost of new construction approved college facilities.

RAIN-MAKING STUDY URGED — John T. Carr Jr., weatherman with the Texas Water Commission, says long-range experiments in weather modification should be undertaken in Texas, even though at present conditions do not seem favorable and existing methods are expensive.

Carr says that ideal conditions for rain-making are infrequent in Texas. However, experiments have shown there are effective methods to bring rain where it would not have fallen naturally and to increase the yield of rain clouds.

SHORT SNOOTS — Bill to authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue $100,000,000 more in Texas Water Development Bonds was heard by the House Conservation and Reclamation Committee and assigned to subcommittee . . . George W. Hill, executive director of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, has resigned effective July 1 to become president of the Southern Heritage Foundation . . . Governor signed into law these bills: raising compulsory school attendance to one year to 17; renewal of foreign student exemptions from tuition at Texas colleges; and providing for election of school trustees by place system in independent school districts of 500 or more scholars . . . Atty. Gen. Waggoner ruled that Hidalgo County cannot pay attorneys appointed to represent indigent defendants in misdemeanor cases because there is no provision in the constitution of the laws which authorizes the commissioners court to do so . . . another opinion, Carr concluded a fireman who leaves his job after 20 years service, but before age 55, is not required to contribute percentage of sick leave and vacation pay into firemen's retirement fund . . . State Banking Commission heard application of Bank of Rockport to charter Monday (April 19).
