Three councilmen are elected here

Total votes cast in the Morton City Council election was nine short of last year's figure and considerably below the near-record balloting set for 1965. Three councilmen were elected in the Tuesday election.

Elected to the council posts in Tuesday's election were George Hargrove, 179; Herman Bedwell, 145; and Wiley Hodge, 142. Total votes for 1965, 1966 and 1967 were 362, 264, and 255, respectively. All of these figures, despite being but a fraction of the eligible voters, is considered an average turnout.

Other candidates in the election were W. C. "Babe" Vanlandingham, 115; W. G. Heflin, 66; Melvin Coffman, 48; and Paul Baker, 38. Hargrove is married and has two children: George II, 2, and Ann, 1. He is the assistant manager of Loran-Tatham Co. He received a BBA degree from Texas Tech and a BET from the American Institute of Foreign Trade.

Bedwell is a salesman for Bedwell Implement. His family consists of his wife, Nelda Joy; two sons, Randy, 12, and Ronnie, 11; and one daughter, Rita Kay, 14. Hodge is the owner of Wiley's Humble Service Station. His family consists of his wife, Pat; a son, Rickey, 7; and a daughter, Kristi, 3.

The election was a very quiet one with no issues mentioned. Hold-over members of the council include Mayor Jack Russell and councilmen Donnie Simpson and Earl Stowe. The new councilmen will take office at the next council meeting, April 10.

Greene, Thompson to school board

Only a handful of voters turned out Saturday to elect two men to the Morton School Board. Elected in the light balloting were Van Greene and Kenneth Thompson. When the polls closed the tabulation showed that Van Greene received 127 votes; Kenneth Thompson, 109; Clyde Brownlow, 101, and incumbent E. E. "Bud" Thomas, 91.

Harrell Holder resigns Three Way school post

Harrell L. Holder, 35, Superintendent of the Three Way Independent School District for the past three years has resigned his position to accept the Superintendency of the Southside Independent School District in San Antonio. He will assume his duties there on July 1st.

In resigning Mr. Holder states that "It is with a deep feeling of emotion that I am leaving the people of the Three Way Community. I don't think that a beginning superintendent could have possibly received more cooperation and help from a group of people. I shall always be indebted to them for believing in me and assisting me in making a record that has enabled me to become head of a much larger school system".

During his tenure the school district completed a $225,000 building program. During the month of February the school was visited by an accreditation team from the Texas Education Agency. The members of this team stated that the Three Way Schools had one

Tornado safety rules listed by Dept. of Public Safety

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today urged Texans to review tornado safety precautions.

"While tornadoes can occur any time of the year," Garrison said, "April, May, and June are the peak months."

U. S. Weather Bureau records indicate that Texas leads the nation in total number of tornadoes per year. The annual average of 80.7 is based on a record of 1,210 confirmed tornadoes from 1951 thru 1965.

"It is especially important for every school, church, hospital, hotel, business house, and industry to establish an emergency plan," Garrison said. "To know what to do when a tornado is approaching may mean the difference between life and death."

A circular on tornado safety rules, available from Civil Defense offices, lists what to do if a tornado is approaching.

I. If you are near a tornado cellar: When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave or under excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. It should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas or debris; and preferably equipped with pick and shovel. THERE IS NO UNIVERSAL PROTECTION AGAINST TORNADOES EXCEPT UNDERGROUND EXCAVATIONS.

II. If you are in open country: (1) move at right angles to the tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour. (2) If there is no

Cancer Crusade slated here April 17 or 18

Research into the causes and treatment of cancer will once more take the major share of funds raised in this year's Crusade Against Cancer in Texas. The annual fund-raising drive, which has a goal of $2 million, will be conducted in every community in the state, along with a massive volunteer effort to distribute life saving cancer information pamphlets and to carry out the first Cancer Education Survey.

Mrs. Gary Willingham, Crusade Chairman for Cochran County, has announced that this year's Crusade will be conducted on April 17 or 18.

A total of 31% of funds raised last year in the Crusade — $397,911 — is being spent for research this year, including grants to investigators in Texas hospitals and medical schools. Areas under investigation by American Cancer Society grantees include the relation of viruses to cancer, irra-

Kessler reports on Austin trip

Morton Chamber of Commerce board members heard of contacts made by manager Leon Kessler in Austin last week.

Kessler reported to the board during its regular meeting Tuesday morning on his trip to attend the West Texas Legislative Breakfast, sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Reports made during the meeting included talks by H. J. "Doc" Blanchard and Bill Clayton, area representatives, on issues now facing the Texas Legislature.

Kessler told the board that he also visited with the Texas Industrial Commission, Texas Tourist Commission, Texas Historical Survey Commission, Texas Highway Commission and the Texas Aeronautics Commission. "I feel that I got a lot of valuable information from these offices that will help Morton and Cochran County," he commented.

He also visited with Jesse I. George, Cochran County representative. George has introduced

Three Way School gets accreditation report

Harrell Holder, superintendent of the Three Way Independent School District, has released a copy of the report made by the accreditation team of the Texas Education Agency which made an inspection visit to the school Feb. 16.

The team recommended that the Three Way ISD be continued as a fully accredited twelve-grade school. The only limitation observed was the inability to offer a wide variety of courses due to the limited teaching staff and the small student body.

The school district is located in Bailey County and covers 254 square miles with a total assessed valuation of $4,100,364, an estimated 20 percent of the true value. A school tax rate of $1.95 is levied, providing $1.28 for school maintenance and operation and 67 cents for service of a bonded debt of $303,000.

The report shows that the school district operates a single twelve

★ Warning

Morton Police Chief Burtis Cloud and Cochran County Sheriff Hazel Hancock have issued a joint statement warning all motorists that fines of up to $200 will be levied against anyone who follows any emergency vehicle. The statement was issued because of the congested traffic conditions around fires, wrecks and accidents. "We have had particular trouble with people following the fire trucks and hindering the volunteer firemen as they try to get to the scene of the fire," said Hancock. Cloud said, "There is a safety hazard at any fire and wreck and people are asking for trouble by getting close to these scenes. Besides they hinder the work of the firemen, policemen and ambulance drivers."

April Fool party for kindergarten

The children of the Stockdale School had an April Fool day Monday. As they came they were greeted by the "Squaw Story Teller" (Mrs. Stockdale) and the morning opened with "talking time" that usually closes the day. Each one told what he liked to do best. Then each was given the thing he wanted: clay, pegs, water colors, puzzles, play room, books, cutting, felt pens and guessing nursery rhymes that were read backwards. Annette Willingham was first every time.

For snacks, each one poured and cooked two jam cakes on the large griddle, then buttered and sweetened it to suit himself. The favors were Santa mugs filled with Easter eggs.

Mrs. Jerrel Sharp is now part of the Stockdale School staff. She is doing baton training and creative rhythms and will plan and direct the stage scenery for the final program of the year.

The short course at Three Way is scheduled to begin April 10 at 8 p.m. in the vocational agriculture building. Other meetings in the series of four will be held April 11, 12, 13. During the dates the short course is in progress, Mr. Yeates will be available to assist farmers with individual problems and to provide on-the-job instruction, according to Mr. Phillips.

diation therapy, chemotherapy (treatment by drugs), basic molecular research, and use of new diagnostic tools.

The second major allocation of funds was 2 8/10 to Public Education. This $527805 supplied free films, pamphlets, exhibits and posters for all Texans through school, church and civic groups and on display at shopping centers and convention sites. A new program in the public education effort was the development of a fleet of Cancer Mobile Van Exhibits, small trucks which contain moving exhibits on smoking and lung cancer, and on other major kinds of cancer.

Service to cancer patients by volunteers of the American Cancer Society used 13% of the funds this year. The $248,351 purchased dressings, sickroom supplies and loan closet items which are all given to cancer patients upon authorization by a physician. Volunteers also provided transportation and a range of other services to cancer patients and their families.

Keeping the medical profession informed of the latest developments in cancer treatment required a program using 14% of funds raised — $259,073. Films, speakers, meetings and tumor clinics for physicians, nurses, dentists and technicians, as well as Research Fellowships, are provided by the ACS.

Developing and administering programs of education and service cost a record low of 7% this year. Staff of the American Cancer Society act as resource personnel for the volunteer units of the Society in over 200 of Texas' counties. An additional 7% was allocated to costs of the educational campaign this year. This low figure has been explained by the Society as possibly only because of the uncounted hours donated by volunteers, 75,000 of whom will conduct the campaign this year in April.

A new Cancer Education Survey will be a unique part of the Crusade this year. It is designed to give needed guidelines to American Cancer Society volunteers in planning the most effective public education programs for the coming years.

Horizon Club attends Mass

In observance of Campfire Sunday the tenth grade Horizon Club visited Mass services at St. Anne's Catholic Church as guests of Mrs. C. E. Dolle. After attending Mass the girls then attended church services at the First Baptist Church. After church the girls dined at reserved tables at Kate's Kitchen.

Girls attending were Beverly Browne, Patsy Collins, Rheda Brown, Karen Fred, Deborah Miller, Janelle Nehbut, and Jeannie McMinn. Sponsors attending were Mrs. Daniel Rozell and Mrs. Iva Williams. Attending church together and dining together on Campfire Sunday has been an annual observance for the girls since they were organized as Bluebirds in the second grade in 1958.

Once nematodes get at your cotton, yields go down and so do profits. But with FUMAZONE® 86 soil fumigant applied at only 1 to 2 gallons over-all an acre, you can take care of root-knot, sting, meadow and other nematodes—those tiny soil pests that attack plant roots, suck away profits. FUMAZONE 86 soil fumigant increases yields up to $200 an acre. Many High Plains ranchers just like yourself tell us that's exactly what happened to their yields after their soils were treated with FUMAZONE 86. It can be applied right from the drum. No mixing, no diluting, no nozzles clogged with foreign material. You can use the chisel method, the plover method or inject FUMAZONE 86 into your irrigation water. Could you ask for greater flexibility? Sure you could. So here it is. Apply FUMAZONE 86 before planting, at planting or after planting. It's the only type of soil fumigant that can be used on living plants. Ask your Dow Farm Chemicals supplier about it. Light voter turnout for school, city elections is discouraging

We have no quarrel with the trustees elected for the Morton school board nor the councilmen elected for the City of Morton in balloting Saturday and Tuesday, respectively.

What we do have is a sinking feeling in our stomach for the light turnout of voters. Only 214 voters cast their ballots in the Morton school board election and 255 turned out for the local city election.

Four good men offered themselves as school board candidates for two seats and seven ran for three places on the city council. None of these men ran because of the prestige and certainly none sought election because of the salaries involved.

What they are concerned with is good government in our schools and in our city. About all they will get for the terms of their offices will be a hard time from disgruntled citizens and taxpayers. Seldom will they be thanked or praised. Often they will be cursed and reviled. At best, they will face massive amount of apathy.

We believe that more than 214 persons should be interested in our school system and more than 255 interested in the happenings of our city. Self-government is a precious freedom and the cornerstone of our independent system of rule. But such light votes make make me wonder about how many Americans really deserve such freedoms.

Thousands of Americans have fought and died to preserve such rights as free elections and millions would scream if they were denied their right to vote. But only a few will even bother to take the five or ten minutes it takes to cast a ballot for local officials.

How long can freedom endure in the face of such indifference?

Trial by computer
The computer threatens to invade all professions, saying, "Whatever you can do, I can do better." When it makes good its boast, we say more power to it.

After all, behind every good computer stands a skilled human programmer. He it is who assigns the computer its tasks. And he it is who can ultimately take credit for its sterling performance.

Bearing this in mind, we come to the newest wrinkle in computer empire-building. It was at the annual convention of the Institution of Electrical and Electronics Engineers that a panel discussed "The Computer as a Judge."

"But your honor, I object!" "Objection overruled. Do not judge too hastily the potential judicial capacity of the computer. Stranger things than this are on the horizon."

"But I don't want to be judged by a computer. I want my judge to wear robes and respond sympathetically to my plea."

"If it is any comfort to you, we can give our judicial computer a benevolent mien and a robe as well."

"I still don't like the idea." "Computer-judges may never come. But then again they may. According to one law professor, 'Judges are so overworked and the court calendars are so crowded that anything that can be done to help will be worthwhile.' He thought computers would be especially useful to judge cases appealed to the higher courts. Others envisioned them judging 'minor violations such as traffic cases.'"

A political scientist thought the computer should not be on the bench "but next to the bench as an analytical assistant to the judge."

Exactly what this can mean to Seminole and Gaines County of course remains to be seen. What it means now is a tremendousity and an opening of countless possibilities for future growth and expansion of our area.

The permit has been issued. The Permian Basin Railroad will be built. It is time for Seminole folks to get ready to meet the challenges that will be offered in the rugged competition for new business and industry."

The railroad in itself will not solve any local problems. Its presence will simply offer a tremendous tool with which we can build a better community.

With a united effort the job can be done . . . there is no place for skeptics in an effort of this sort; let us go to work now to take full advantage of the windfall.

Yes, Good Friday was truly a great day . . . but only the days to come will prove how great. — Seminole Sentinel

Wage Issue Holds Interest
It seems that the question of applying the federal wage and hour law to employees of state governments is more than merely academic — which is the way we described it editorially the other day — in the case of Texas. It also has a practical aspect, involving money.

Texas spokesmen before a three-judge federal court at Baltimore, where 26 states are challenging the federal government's power to regulate state governments in this respect — said the overtime pay requirements of the law would cost Texas more than $14 million.

Assistant Attorney General A. J. Carrubi Jr. of Texas told the court that application of the law would raise the costs of the state's independent school districts, hospital districts, state-supported colleges and universities, youth correction institutions and mental health facilities. Using the Fort Worth Independent School District as an example, he said the hour limits in the law would raise costs for overtime work by $188,000 the first year and more than $273,000 by 1971. It was the matter of pay for overtime work, which the state would be required to recompense in cash rather than in time off that was not taken into consideration in our statement of the effect of the law.

U. S. Solicitor of Labor Charles Donahue dismissed the money costs as irrelevant. In one sense they are not. For the nub of the case — the real principle involved — is whether the federal government constitutionally has the power to prescribe how the states must spend their moneys. In effect, as was argued before the court, this is power for Congress to dictate the levying of taxes by the state.

The Tenth Amendment reserves to the states the powers not specifically yielded by them to the federal government. It would take a tortured interpretation of the Constitution to find that the states handed over to the federal government powers over state appropriations and taxation. — Fort Worth Star-Telegram

Politics Clarified?
Even the most seasoned political pundit sometimes trips up when attempting to match a public figure with his political party.

The more nimble the politician, the more difficult the labeling process.

I ran onto some tips the other day that might aid in the identification of public figures, your neighbor down the street, or the newcomer in town.

Of course these tips may be an elephant squeal, but they're enough to make a donkey bray or just too cute to pass up.

And besides, I can blame them on the fellow who thought them up, Oklahoma State Senator Finis W. Smith.

It'll become readily apparent that Sen. Smith is a Democrat.

Here's how he distinguishes his own kind from Republicans: "Republicans tend to keep their shades drawn although there is seldom any reason why they should. Democrats ought to, but they don't."

"Democrats buy most of the books that have been banned somewhere. Republicans form censorship committees and read them as a group."

"Republicans consume three-fourths of all the rutabaga produced in this country. The remainder is thrown out."

"Republicans usually wear hats and almost always clean their paint brushes."

Democrats give their worn-out clothes to those less fortunate. Republicans wear theirs.

"Republicans employ exterminators. Democrats step on the bugs."

"Democrats name their children after currently popular sports figures, politicians and entertainers. Republican children are named after their parents or grandparents, according to where the most money is."

"Democrats keep trying to cut down on smoking, but are not successful. Neither are Republicans. Democrats study the financial pages of the newspaper. Democrats put them in the bottom of the bird cage."

Most of the stuff you see alongside the road has been thrown out of car windows by Democrats.

"Republicans raise dahlias, Dalmatians and eyebrows. Democrats raise Airedales, kids and hell."

"Democrats eat the fish they catch. Republicans hang them on the wall."

"Democrats watch tv crime and western shows that make them think they're cops and become red in the face. Republicans get the same effect from the presidential

Highlights and Sidelights —

Texas will have DST

AUSTIN, Tex. — Prepare to move the hands of your timepieces forward one hour on April 30. Otherwise you'll not be in time with the "times."

Texas, along with virtually all other states, is going on Daylight Saving Time for the summer months and until October 29.

A bill to exempt the state from provisions of the federal Uniform Time Act of 1966 (DST) was killed by a 50-90 vote in the House of Representatives.

House members debated the bill by Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont for more than an hour before rejecting it.

Federal law now requires DST from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October except in those states which pass specific legislative exemptions. So far, only Michigan has voted exemption.

Broadcasters, railroads and airlines opposed the bill. They emphasized the need for uniformity of schedules among states.

Smith argued eloquently — but unsuccessfully — that DST is "an artificial, unnecessary thing."

Operators of theaters, restaurants and farms back the exemption measure.

Opinions differ as to whether Texas, once on DST, can ever get off. Amendments calling for a "trial run" and for a statewide referendum on the issue were referentially defeated.

SESSIONS ADVANCED — The House has approved and sent to the Senate two proposed constitutional amendments. First calls for four-year terms for all state officials; second for annual sessions of the Legislature.

An earlier long-term amendment was defeated by Texas voters in 1963. Issue will be re-submitted in November of 1968, if the Senate passes this bill.

Legislative sessions during even-number years would be limited to budgets, taxes and emergency measures submitted by the governor. Governor Connally strongly backs both bills.

TEACHER PAY — Appropriation bills are nearing a vote in the Senate and House. Decisions — plus those on teacher pay bills to pass conference.

"Republican boys date Democratic girls. They plan to marry Republican girls, but feel they're entitled to a little fun first."

"Democrats make up plans and then do something else. Republicans follow the plans their grandfathers made."

Trade At Home
Few "Trade At Home" editorials have ever appeared in this newspaper. Several times recently we have merely stated the case of the smalltown merchant . . . and we intend to leave it at that.

The problem, faced by every small town, is a two-way street. The local citizen has an obligation to the local merchant and the local merchant has an obligation to the citizen. But the fact is, no local merchant has a right to criticize business for going out of town unless he has done everything within his ability to compete with the city merchant. People are not governed by a sense of loyalty or obligation.

There are several reasons why a customer selects a particular store in which to shop. Price is one consideration. Merchandise must be clean and fresh looking. The store must be well lighted and attractive. Clerks must be friendly and helpful. And merchandise must be promoted.

Customers throng around those stores that make a lot of noise. That's one reason Tulsa grocers don't have the problem of losing trade to out of town food stores. Time was that this was a problem.

Once Tulsa had a number of small grocery stores, not particularly attractive, and the prices weren't especially competitive. These stores were weak on promotion. And there were scores of Tulsians who could be seen grocery shopping in Amarillo and even Canyon.

Heard & Jones has held its own against out of town competition. It has an attractive store, competitive prices . . . and it promotes.

But the Tulsa business community as a whole is not noted for its promotion. Dollar Day has become a joke . . . because too few stores participate. Throngs of Swisher county folk can be seen in Amarillo on Thursday nights when the stores stay open late.

We're not suggesting that Tulsa stores should do this . . . not after the reaction when the chamber of commerce tried to encourage stores to stay open one night each week during the three or four weeks preceding Christmas.

We're living in a day when every product, every company, every city that is growing is PROMOTING. Those that aren't aren't growing.

How long has it been since Tulsa merchants as a group really decided in earnest to GO AFTER BUSINESS? — Tulsa Herald

"WON'T YOU JOIN ME?"

follow — hold the key to the size of the tax bills Texans soon will have to pay.

Senate bill calls for general fund spending in 1968-69 totalling $846,800,000 ($4,700,000,000 from all sources). This is $220,000,000 above the presently appropriated revenues. But even that high figure is $64,600,000 below the basic general fund outlays recommended by Gov. John Connally.

Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris, Senate Finance Committee Chairman, says the Senate bill is $18,000,000 to $19,000,000 above Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's latest income forecast. But apparently there is hope that Calvert will certify the measure without new taxes.

House bill, still in committee, is expected to be near the level recommended by Connally.

Teach pay bill totalling $136,000,000 is being heard this week.

Senate bill would provide pay raises ranging from 18 to 30 per cent. It would allot general fund money as follows:

Judiciary, $12,800,000; public health, hospitals, special schools and youth institutions, $202,800,000; executive and administrative departments and agencies, $143,200,000; education, $476,500,000; and legislative agencies, $11,100,000.

AG PRODUCTS TAX — A bill in the House would authorize producers of any agricultural commodity to determine whether they would levy on themselves an assessment of up to one per cent of their commodity's market value.

Funds from the assessment would be used to finance programs of research, education and promotion on that commodity.

Rep. Delvin Jones of Lubbock is sponsoring the bill. His proposal has the support of wheat, turkey, peanut, grain sorghum and egg producer associations. It is opposed by the Texas Farm Bureau.

REVENUE BONDS — House has passed a resolution favoring a proposed constitutional revision which would allow the Legislature to authorize cities and counties to issue industrial revenue bonds.

Resolution by Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake would pave the way for cities and counties to build industrial plants, rents from which would be used to retire the bonds.

Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo was one who opposed the bill as a subsidy. He contended, "We will be subsidizing monopolies and industry against private industry."

WATER ACT PASSED — Both houses of the Legislature now have approved the water rights adjudication act to settle controversies arising from the statewide water plan.

A House amendment requiring appeals from Water Rights Commission decisions to be tried in the county of the parties involved apparently will require conference committee.

SUNDAY CLOSING — A House approved bill tightening Sunday closing regulations was passed by the Senate and sent to the governor after an eight-hour filibuster by Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston.

It knocks out the emergency-purchase provisions of the present law under which many stores in major cities stay open on Sundays.

Present law prohibits the sale of 42 named items — including clothing, hardware, furniture, utensils, yard tools and toys — on penalty of fines up to $500 or six months in jail.

Under the new law stores could remain open either Saturday or Sunday, but could not stay open both days.

BILL DIES — Senate Jurisprudence Committee has killed a bill which would have allowed both sides in a condemnation suit to be represented on the special commission, which sets the price to be paid for condemned land.

As the law now stands, when condemnation proceedings are instituted by the county, the court appoints three "disinterested parties" to judge the value of the land. Senate bill would have provided that the condemnor and condennnee appoint one each to agree on the third.

PLANNED — Texas Highways Commission has approved a highway beautification and landscape-planting program to install 154 junkyards in 96 counties.

If the Bureau of Public Roads approves, the federal government will pay 75 per cent of the estimated $664,300 cost. Department junkyard screening program with nine projects in 1966 and conducted an inventory of 123 junkyards, dumping grounds or blight along federal aid highways.

States failing to cooperate in beautification work will be penalized by a 10 per cent reduction in highway allotments. This amounts to $20,000,000 a year for Texas.

APPOINTMENTS — Dr. Dr. Tweedie, Baylor University professor of chemistry, was appointed by the Governor to the State Board of Examiners in Basic Science. Dr. Tweedie succeeds Dr. L. M. Smith, also of Baylor University, who resigned in 1966.

Wright Matthews of Pecos was named to the Upper Verde River Municipal Water Authority.

ATTORNEY GENERAL — Attorney Gen. Crawford Martin has asked the Alabama Couthata Hills Reservation tribal council authority to borrow money from the bank to improve the reservation's economic conditions and to carry out a subject to consent of the Texas Indian Affairs Commission.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

"A constable cannot serve as rector of a water control and improvement district.

Out-of-county witnesses are entitled to fees and mileage at state hearings.

Parks and Wildlife Department agents may be designated as keepers as additional duties.

COURTS RULE — Right of Nueces County doctor to sue for the State Board of Medical Examiners to renew his license was upheld by a decision of the State Supreme Court in a dispute reversing the Court of Civil Appeals.

High court refused to reverse lower court decisions rejecting suit of a Kirbyville man for injunction against a nearby case of the pen and loading chute which claimed to draw noisy and large crowds, in addition to being a nuisance.

PAPERS REQUIRED — Texas Parks and Wildlife Department ordered its game wardens to tightly enforce the state law requiring boat operators to have official papers aboard.

In making the announcement, the department reiterated that state's laws governing boat game wardens may be demanded by the certificate of number issued by the Texas Highway Department. A boat owner also must have a number affixed to the sides of boxes on the bow.

time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

III. If in a city or town: (1) Seek inside shelter, preferably in a strongly reinforced building. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS! (2) In homes: The corner of the basement toward the tornado usually offers greatest safety, particularly in frame houses. People in houses without basements can sometimes be protected by taking cover under heavy furniture against inside walls. Doors and windows on the sides of the house away from the tornado may be opened to help reduce damage to the building. (3) Standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

IV. If in schools: (1) In city areas: if school building is of strongly reinforced construction, stay inside, away from windows, remain near an inside wall on the lower floors when possible. AVOID AUDITORIUMS AND GYMNASIUMS with large, poorly-supported roofs (2) In rural schools that do not have strongly reinforced construction, remove children and teachers to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available.

V. If in factories and industrial plants: On receiving a tornado warning, a lookout should be posted to keep safety officials advised of the tornado's approach. Advance preparation should be made for moving workers to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection.

VI. Keep calm. It will not help to get excited. People have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking's ones home or location are very slight. Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected. You should know about tornadoes thought, "just in case."

VII. Keep tuned to your radio or television station for latest tornado information. Do not call the Weather Bureau, except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio and television stations for dissemination to thousands in the critical area.

"Apparel" is the word Spring sports to end this weekend

Susan Scholer, a 7th grade student from Whiteface, became Cochran County's representative to the Area Spelling Bee when she correctly spelled "apparel" in the county-wide elimination Tuesday morning. She is the 12 year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Scholer of Star Rt. 2, Whiteface.

Entered in the county elimination were nine students; three each from Morton, Whiteface and Bledsoe schools.

The elimination, held in the Cochran County District Courtroom, was under the direction of County Judge Johnny Love.

Alternate to the area contest will be Lynn King, a sixth-grade student at Bledsoe, and 12 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles King.

Included in the contest were Pamela Linder, Whiteface sixth-grader, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Linder, Rt. 1, Whiteface; Johnny Abbott, Whiteface sixth-grader, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Abbott, Box 155, Whiteface; Carolyn Gray, a Morton fifth-grader, the daughter of Mrs. Connie Gray, 202 W. Garfield, Morton.

And, Ernestine Hawkins, a Morton seventh-grader, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hawkins, Rt. 2, Morton; Garnet Taylor, a Morton eighth-grader, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Taylor, 706 W. Taylor, Morton; Mary Granada, Bledsoe eighth-grader, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Domingo Granada, Star Rt., Morton; and Randy Coffman, Bledsoe sixth-grader, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Coffman, Bledsoe.

Pronouncer for the contest was Rev. Fred Thomas, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Morton.

Spring sports events get underway this weekend at Denver City, marking the end of organized play for Morton High School this year.

Brightest hope for any championship rests with the girls' volleyball team, which has captured an invitational tourney, third place in another meet and has been showing great promise during the past few weeks.

The girls open up at 10 a.m. in the volleyball competition.

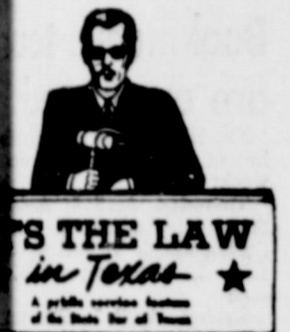

Morton High also will have three entries in the tennis competition, one boy in the singles and two girls in the doubles. Denver City has the favorite's role in tennis, both boys and girls.

Track and field events start at 1:30 p.m. for District 4-AA teams. Denver City, Post and Slaton probably will fight it out for the top honors. Morton's track team is rebuilding this year and has been able to muster only a few points in each meet this season. Top point producer for the Indians is likely to be Donnie Harvey, a junior sprinter and high jumper.

Also competing in track and field events Friday will be the Morton freshmen.

Denver City will host the district junior high track meet on Saturday with events starting at 10 a.m. Literary competition for District 4-AA will be held in Post on Saturday, April 8, beginning at 10 a.m.

into court for beating up neighbor's son, Hawkins offered following explanation:

"I threw a rock at my little son and I went over and taught him a lesson."

The court rejected Hawkins' explanation and ordered him to pay $500. Pointing out that the law is no longer in danger at the father intervened, the judge said the right to punish includes the right to punish. The law does not give you the right to "get even" or wrong inflicted upon you or your children.

Contract

The reason lies in the "contract" between the individual and society. The individual gives up his right to punish a wrongdoer, in return for society's promise to do it for him.

Be sure, it may be difficult in particular cases to determine whether a person was acting to punish or to punish. Take this case as an example.

A night watchman was rushed to a man wielding a knife. Drawn to his gun, the watchman killed the assailant with two fast shots. In due course, he himself was arrested and brought to trial on a charge of murder.

his first shot was legitimate defense," conceded the prosecutor. However, his second shot fired after the man was wounded. That was no long self-defense. It was punishment.

it also appeared that the man, though wounded, was still conscious and dangerous. Dismissing the charge, the court held the watchman's second shot, which was within the reasonable bounds of self-defense.

the other hand: the landlord and tenant got into a scuffle during which the tenant was knocked to the ground. The landlord, who was lying there helpless, the landlord gave him a swift kick in the head.

use of the kick, the landlord was later held liable for assault and battery. The court said that with danger past, the landlord clearly acted out of sheer perversity — and must therefore pay damages.

Thru the telescope by Luck

If you want to hear an unsolicited, unpaid testimonial on behalf of auto seat belts . . . just talk to Neal and Dorothy Rose. Returning from a visit to Amarillo last Sunday night, they hit a cow between Friona and Muleshoe (actually, they hit the cow in the ribs, on the road between Friona and Muleshoe) and completely demolished their 1962 car. The cow died, but the Roses got only bruises where the belts tightened against them and kept them out of the windshield. Both agree that a few bruises are little enough to avoid other injuries.

The April 2 edition of Grit newspaper ran a nice story on Girlstown, USA, including four full columns of type and three pictures. I imagine the story is the result of the Grit publisher's recent visit to Levelland. At any rate, the publicity from this nationally-circulated story should be beneficial to Girlstown.

Our weather picture keeps changing almost weekly and this week could be classed as "early summer" with temperatures pushing 90 degrees the last few days. I personally like warm weather, but would prefer a few days of rain right now. We keep getting a few little showers, but really nothing that could be classed as economically important.

The Tribune has a new secretary, Carla McCarty, who seems to have an effective rain dance. She told us she performed briefly Saturday and managed to get a shower for us. We wanted a demonstration of her method. She was reluctant, but finally consented to show us a few steps. We didn't get any more rain, but we did find a leak in our office air conditioner water hose when we tested it Tuesday, which resulted in a few sprinkles atop the building. Now we are wondering if Carla really does know how to do a rain dance!

Our national budget has grown so much it's almost out of the realm of human understanding. But here are a few figures that might bring home what the proposed budget of $135 billion really means. That means the spending rate of $4.281 every second, of every minute of every year; $15.4 million every hour every day; $370 million every day in the year. A couple filing a joint report on $20,000 annual income will pay taxes of about $4,300, enough to run the government for about one second. Or look at it this way: it takes the taxes of approximately 86 thousand people to run the government for one day.

Although school still has another five weeks, sports will finish up this weekend with the District 4-AA competition in track, volleyball tennis and golf. All of the events will be held Friday at Denver City, except for the golf meet, which will be held at Post.

Between 40 and 50 exhibitors are expected for Saturday's Arts and Crafts Show that will be held Saturday from 10:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. in the County Activity building. No admission will be charged, so come and browse around. You might be surprised at some of the talent that will be shown by local residents.

We understand that Rev. Kenneth Wyatt, pastor of the First Methodist Church, has requested a year's leave of absence to devote fulltime to his public speaking. We will hate to lose him from the community, but feel that he will do a great job on the banquet circuit.

All boys who want to play Little League baseball this summer are reminded that registration will be held from 1-5 p.m. Saturday, April 8, at the Morton Fire Hall. This registration is for all players, even those on a team from last season.

If you want to take a chance on getting rain or even a sprinkle, our secretary might do a dance that will call down rain, or at least, show a new dance wrinkle!

★ Fire

Between $4-5,000 in damage resulted when a vacant farmhouse burned Wednesday afternoon. Morton firemen answered a call about 1 p.m. and went 11 miles south and 1 1/2 miles west of town. The house belonged to E. L. "Ern" Polvado, who said that no one was living there. Masonry walls were about all that remained.

Guard against often undetected 'little strokes'

An often unsuspected cause of mental and physical incapacity is a series of "little strokes," says Today's Health Guide, the American Medical Association's book of health information for the American family. A stroke occurs when the blood supply to a part of the brain is reduced or completely cut off. This can be caused by a blood clot or by hemorrhage — bleeding from an artery in the brain. When the nerve cells of a part of the brain are deprived of their blood supply, the part of the controlled by these nerve centers cannot function normally.

"Little strokes" may start when a person is in the 30's or 40's striking silently at night or a sudden dizzy spell, a momentary blackout or just a few moments of confusion. The stroke itself is not severe enough to compel the patient to seek medical aid, but some permanent brain damage remains just the same. A formerly kind, gentle person may become highly impatient and irritable. His judgement is often impaired. A strong man may become weak and prone to tears. Suspiciousness is common. A person with a tendency to emotional instability, held in check heretofore by will power, may suddenly develop a psychosis. Some become sloppy in dress and befuddled in thought; others lose a part of their moral sense. Sometimes the victim merely loses interest in his family and friends, and lives secretly, constantly hiding things that through forgetfulness he cannot later find.

Difficult problem When the symptoms are mild as they often are, the person may get along fairly well. Surveys show that a sufferer of cerebral vascular disease can get along better in the slower-going farm and small-town areas than in the faster-living city. The problem of small strokes is one of the most difficult ever tackled by medical science. The most hopeful research approach is that of finding ways to prevent stroke. Science seeks to learn more about how to recognize early symptoms so that treatment can be instituted promptly.

Pellet shot fatal to Jim Watts, 6

A shooting accident Sunday claimed the life of Jim David Watts, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Watts of Morton.

Young Watts was shot in the neck with a pellet from an air gun while playing with several other youngsters on his parents' farm. The accident is alleged to have happened when the youngsters chased a rabbit into some irrigation pipe and young Watts got into the line of fire.

He died in Morton Memorial Hospital about 5:30 p.m. shortly after being taken there. Services were held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Fred Thomas officiating. Burial was in Morton Cemetery under the direction of Singleton Funeral Home.

Survivors include his parents; two brothers, Jackie Carrol and Harold Gene; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Watts and J. C. Shelton, all of Morton.

Choir gets division II

The Morton High School Choir, under the direction of John Stockdale, received division II ratings in concert and sightreading at the University Interscholastic League contest held in Lubbock last week.

The choir performed "O Lord, Increase my Faith," "There is a Ladye," and "Dawn of Destiny."

Judge Charles A. Byers said, "A good choir! Excellent voices — good tone quality, basically — work for more mellowness and roundness of tone."

"A good group — one that could truly be highly superior with proper polish. Keep singing and working — you have great polish."

Ruth Ann Averitt, also a judge, said, "Potentially a good choir. Free the tone."

Judge Bill Davis said, "You have a fine group. Work to get rich sounds."

Sightreading judge Charles Zetty said the choir's feeling of security disappeared when they ran into an imitative section. However, he complimented the choir on its good work.

First Chamber of Commerce was organized in 1768 in New York City.

Congratulations to the Morton School choral department on the "I" they brought back from contest in Lubbock, April 1! John Stockdale, the director, seemed very pleased with the performance. Half of the group was a little late showing up when their bus broke down, but they occupied themselves by singing through the numbers they were supposed to be singing for the judges. Now Mr. Stockdale will probably turn most of his attention to preparing for the band contest and "Indian Capers," all to be held later in April.

The Student Council at Morton High met Monday, April 3, to discuss plans for the up-coming elections for next year's officers of the organization. The annual elections usually are considered a pretty big deal at the high school. The freshmen have candidates for reporter, sophomores for secretary, juniors for vice president, and seniors for president. A week of campaign posters, etc., is brought to a climax with speeches and the final secret ballot vote by the student body. Good luck to all those who may decide to take part in this year's elections.

Cheerleading try-outs are also coming up at the high school. This year's cheerleaders announced that they would be glad to assist any candidate in learning a yell for the tryouts. Elections will be held after candidates do a yell in front of the student body.

Morton A and B-team volleyball girls went to a tournament at Pep, March 31, and came back with first place. The girls were playing against three other schools: Pep, Sudan, and Amherst. The B-team played Pep for the first place run-off, and the A-team played Sudan for first place. The two teams received trophies which are on display in the hall of the high school building.

Members of the Morton Future Teachers organizations observed in classes Wednesday, April 5, and are teaching the classes today. Most of the members are teaching in elementary, but several also are teaching in the junior high and high school grades. This annual event helps train the members for the teaching profession, and gives them a chance to really load the homework on someone else for a change.

Well, that's it for this week. Why doesn't someone get out and make some news so I'll have something to write about? If you know of any news appropriate for this column, give me a ring at 266-7731.

An investment in Your Future ...ATTEND CHURCH

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also"

"For Me to Live is Christ"

"And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in draught, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not."

Isaiah 58:11.

"For me to live is Christ" is to be living for a purpose—to serve God by drawing out my soul to the poor, lonely, hungry, and lost. "For me to live is Christ" is to lead men everywhere to Jesus Christ who is the fountain of the water of life. And He has promised that when I am in His service He will guide me, and satisfy me, and I shall be like the flowers in this picture, like a watered garden, sustained by Him.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
