Hospital-Doctors

No agreement in contract talks

Members of the Cochran County Hospital district and the doctors met for almost four hours last Friday night, but failed to reach any type of agreement on a contract.

The special meeting, called to discuss various provisions to be included in a contract, between the Hospital district and the city's two doctors, took about three-and-a-half hours of discussion, before the board president Glenn Thompson suggested that the board and the doctors contact other districts in surrounding areas, asking what their contracts contain.

The only agreement reached at the meeting was the continuation of the split in income from lab and X-Ray work. Under the County supported Hospital, the income was split 67½ and 32½ percent with the hospital receiving the larger portion and assuming the expense of operation.

The biggest contention in the discussion centered around the doctors providing their own nurses and paying half of the cost of the office operation for a total of an estimated $700 per month. At the present time the Hospital District is providing nurses and paying all of the office operation.

Dr. Wilton McSpadden, who has been practicing in Morton for the past five years said that if the doctors were to have to provide the suggested services then the incentive for practice would be removed and the District would have difficulty in securing additional doctors.

Dr. McSpadden pointed out that he, nor any other doctor could afford to pay the overhead on 60 per cent collections, which is what the doctor said is the current rate in the area. Dr. McSpadden went on to point out that in the past five years he had charged off over $35,000 in services performed for migrant patients and patients who were unable to pay.

The meeting attended by all the board members, as well as the doctors and newly hired hospital administrator Jim McManus and two candidates for the board, was conducted to set up guide lines for a contract between the hospital district and the doctors and to explore the possibility of adding a third doctor to the staff.

Engineer Corps begin study of drainage

Members of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, meeting with the Morton city council last Thursday, agreed to conduct a study of the serious drainage problem that exists in certain portions of town and make recommendations for corrections.

The representatives of the Corps were in Morton, last Thursday at the request of the council, and toured the sections of the city, where the most serious problem exists. Morton's Mayor, Jack Russell said the tour resulted in the extraction of a promise to undertake a feasibility study of the problem and a recommendation for corrective measures.

Mayor Russell said the city had received an earlier study, from the city engineer, which called for the installation of a storm drainage system at an estimated cost of $750,000. The earlier proposal was rejected by the city and the Army Engineer Corps called in.

Russell said the Corps of Engineers can not take an active hand in combating the problem, since it is within the city, but they have agreed to study the problem and make some type of economical recommendations when the study is complete.

Antique switchboard added to Cochran County Museum

Members of the Cochran County Historical Society and former telephone company switchboard operators, gave a rousing round of applause Friday as representatives of the General Telephone Company of the Southwest presented an antique switchboard to the Cochran County museum.

The presentation, made by General Telephone's Brownfield division manager, Jim Parrish, brought one of the oldest switchboards that could be located to Morton to rest in one of the first telephone company offices, which now houses the Cochran County Museum.

Parrish, assisted by Paul Farah and Jimmy Bennett, said that no information on the antique switchboard, which was located after a year of searching was available, but his office would continue to research the origin of the board in the hopes of giving a complete history of the recent addition.

— Book review — IBERIA: SPANISH TRAVELS AND REFLECTIONS

By James A. Michener

Published by Random House, Inc.
Publication Date: May 6, 1968

Retail Price: $12.50
832 pages—illustrated

James A. Michener's account of his "thirty-year love affair" with Spain, entitled Iberia: Spanish Travels and Reflections, has been chosen as the May Book-of-the-Month Club Selection.

Why are young Spanish wives so fat? Why do Spanish children play out-of-doors until midnight? Why do Spaniards say "Go with God" rather than "God go with you"? Such seemingly trivial but actually eye-opening questions are among those answered by Mr. Michener in his new book.

"I HAVE ALWAYS regarded Spain as my second home," Mr. Michener writes, "for just as this forbidding peninsula physically juts into the Atlantic and stands isolated, so philosophically the concept of Spain intrudes into the imagination, creating effects and raising questions unlike those evoked by other nations."

Mr. Michener first visited Spain in the 1930s while working as a member of the crew of a freighter which transported Spanish oranges to marmalade factories in Scotland. The Spain he saw then was not the Spain of the tourist but, of his, "the toiling men, the congenial peasants, the straining beasts, the honest food." "It is this Spain," he adds "that has been with me through the years, and whenever in subsequent visits I have again come close to that particular vision I have felt at home."

THUS, IBERIA is not only a report on the Spain familiar to the modern tourist but also an account of life in such unfamiliar places as the old agricultural city of Badajoz in the southwest and in the valleys and on the plains of Extremadura, where many of the Spanish conquerors of the New World came from. The book ends at the shrine of St. James of Compostela, patron of Spain.

James A. Michener

"It is a noble pilgrimage," writes Gilbert Highet, reporting to Club members on Iberia. "It is a magnificent book." JAMES A. MICHENER was born in New York City in 1907. He graduated from Swarthmore College and taught English and history before becoming editor in a New York publishing house. In 1948, he won the Pulitzer Prize in Fiction with Tales of the South Pacific. He is the author of more than a dozen volumes, among them Return to Paradise (1951), Hawaii (1959), Caravans (1963) and The Source (1965), all Book-of-the-Month Club Selections.

Iberia is illustrated with photographs by Robert Vavra, a young American now living in Spain.

IRS water depletion maps now available

Contour grid maps showing water table decline levels in the underlying Ogallala formation of the 14-county High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 have been completed.

The maps, approved by the Internal Revenue Service as guidelines for computing 1967 cost-in-water depletion income tax allowances, are available at cost of 50 cents each (handling costs) at the Water District offices, or by mail, at 1628 1/2 Street, Lubbock.

Millions of dollars are being made available to area farmers through income tax allowances and refunds, due to the pioneering work of the Water Conservation District which sponsored a test case in U. S. courts (the Sarbet case) and has followed through with annual aids.

The mechanics of claiming the income tax allowances were developed by the Water District in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service after the favorable court opinion handed down in June 1964 by the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, with the Treasury Department agreeing to acquiesce in the decision in December 1965.

The Water District supplies materials, necessary to calculate water depletion allowance, including (1) decline of saturated thickness in the taxable year, (2) saturated thickness at date of land purchase or acquisition, and (3) cost basis in the water (capital investment breakdown for the land and water underneath).

Refunding of about $1.4 million to taxpayers in the District resulted from amended tax returns filed for the years 1962, 1963 and 1964 in which depletion deductions were claimed.

This represented average of about $226 per claim. Refunds for the years 1965 and 1966 were estimated to be $1 million and $1.2 million respectively; or about $400 and $480 per claim.

The number of claims filed each year has continued to grow until about 2,500 were filed for the 1966 tax year.

It has been conservatively estimated by Water District officials that this represents less than 50 per cent of the taxpayers presently eligible to claim the depletion tax allowance.

At the 1966 level of tax allowance per claim, nearly $2.5 million would be returned annually to taxpayers in the District if all eligible taxpayers claimed this allowance.

Taxpayers who wish to claim each year's depletion allowance should file an estimate of tax in order to delay the filing of their final return until after the decline maps are completed each February. Water District representatives suggest.

However, persons who derive income from farming operations can, as can all other taxpayers, file an amended return for each of the previous three tax years.

That is to say: Eligible taxpayers can by April 15 of this year file an amended return claiming the depletion allowance for 1964, 1965, 1966 and 1967.

Taxpayers who do not claim the 1964 depletion allowance by April 15 will also lose any applicable allowance for the 1964 tax year. The materials pertinent to filing for depletion allowances are available as just one of the many services of the Water Conservation District in a comprehensive program that has continuously grown since 1951.

The tax supported agency is taking the lead in many instances, and is cooperating with numerous other organizations and agencies in research and planning for future water needs, stressing conservation while at the same time probing for added water sources, transportation routes and means, storage and financing.

plete. The most seriously effected sections of the community is the north east and north west portions of the city, where water collects anytime there is any type of rain fall. Unfortunately one section can not be corrected without compounding the problems in the other sections of town so whatever is decided it will be exercised in the two prime problem areas at the same time.

Mayor Russell said there is a number of steps which could be taken, to correct this situation, but did not go into detail, saying that would be decided by the Engineers in their report.

No time was given, as to when the study would be completed and the report made.

Elton Mathis purchases Townsend Gin

Elton Mathis, former resident of Lubbock, revealed this week that he had purchased the Townsend Gin, at Lehman, near the Lubbock Cotton Oil Mill, and has assumed operation.

Mr. Mathis, a veteran ginner said he would begin to operate the gin daily prior to the opening of the ginning season and that he planned to spend most of his time getting the equipment in shape for the season, as well as making several other additions at the location.

The new owner, who is married and has three children announced he would move his family to Lehman when school was dismissed for the summer.

Mike O'Brien son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Brien visited in the home of his parents over the weekend. Mike is a student at Texas Tech.

A GOOD PRODUCING COTTON WITH A HIGH TURNOUT

If there is any one thing that has been on farmers' minds for the past 50 years it is a cotton with a good turnout, and this is certainly emphasized when a farmer has to take 3,000 lbs. of stripped cotton to the gin to make a bale in the fall of the year. Likewise, he also wants a high production cotton along with that good turnout. But where will you find such a cotton? Our new Gregg 45 will meet all the requirements of high production and high turnout.

In 1965 the first year that there was a seed block of Gregg 45, Mr. Troy Pritchard of Plainview produced 90 bales (avg. 505 lbs. compress weight) produced from 38 acres of Gregg 45, and it took 695 lbs. seed to make a 500 lb. bale. The turnout was 26.5%. 1965 was a fair year for growing cotton, however, it did turn rather cool after the 15th of September.

Mr. Robert Tipton who lives in Plainview, farms in the Halfway community, and is a director of the Halfway Co-Op Gin, has had excellent results growing Gregg 45 the past two years (1966-67), two very adverse years for cotton farming. In 1966 he had practically all of his farm in the 45, and it did so well that he planted it again in 1967, but was hailed out on all but one farm. In '66 some of his cotton made 2 bales to the acre, and in '67 the field of 58.8 acres made 1,004 pounds lint to the acre, net weight after deducting bagging and ties.

In looking through some experimental tests in which the new Gregg 45 has been included we find one on the Plains in 1965 with 1189 lb. production; one in Oklahoma in '65 with 1,066 pounds, with a 31.1% turnout hand pulled; and one at Chickasha 1966 (dryland) with 777 lbs. This last mentioned is very impressive for dryland production.

Lamar announces in sheriff's race

Don Lamar, 39, candidate for the post of Sheriff of Cochran County, this week made his statement of announcement, authorizing the Morton Tribune to list his name on the political calendar as he formerly announced for the post. Lamar had filed earlier with county Democratic chairman Carl Ray.

Mr. Lamar has been a resident of the Cochran county area since 1949 and has been a resident of the county for the past 12 years, operating a farm some 12 miles northwest of Morton.

In seeking his first elective office, Lamar, who has long been active in area youth activity said he would, if elected, "give the residents of the county the type of sheriff's office of which they could be proud."

A native of Slaton, Texas, Mr. Lamar attended Lubbock public schools.

He is married to the former Fern Phillips, and he and his wife have four children; Herschel, 17, Haskell, 14, Russell, 8 and Debra Ann, 15 months.

The candidate is a veteran of the U.S. Army Air Force, and was honorably discharged in 1949, when he returned to the area to begin his farming operation.

Removal of price support is considered by cotton producers

The Morton (Tex.) Tribune, Thursday, March 28, 1968

market price of cotton over the next several years to exceed or even equal the cost of its production."

Johnson says this is one of the major reasons why the PCG Legislative Committee feels no producer in any area of the U. S. can produce cotton at a profit year after year without some form of price support until such time as production costs are brought down or demand factors are significantly altered.

"It is our honest belief that producers in some areas of the cotton belt are kidding themselves when they expect their kind of cotton to dominate markets to an extent that will hold prices at unrealistic levels," Johnson stated.

He went on to say that the cotton legislation proposed by these "free production" advocates would take cotton back to a boom or bust era with high, market-damaging prices one year and low, producer-killing prices the next.

As an alternative the PCG Legislative Committee and the Texas Association of Cotton Producer Organizations (TACPO) are recommending a controlled acreage program with producer income protected at current levels or above with support payments made on production for both domestic and export markets.

The thinking is that without price support payments on production for both domestic and export consumption farmers under the conditions expected in 1969 and the years immediately following cannot and will not plant the necessary acreage to provide a continuous, dependable supply of cotton for export.

Johnson summed up by saying "Admittedly 'wildcating' or overplanting of cotton allotments under a given set of short supply conditions could be profitable, but it would inevitably lead to overproduction and a surplus build-up some years with underproduction and loss of markets in others."

"And if we continue a program which places all the emphasis on cotton production for domestic mill consumption and virtually ignores the production needed to maintain export markets we will run the risk of phasing out approximately one-third of our capacity to produce and process cotton."

"So we believe the best interests of the cotton industry and the nation lie in legislation that will provide the economic incentive for producers to plant enough cotton for both domestic and export markets and at the same time retain enough acreage controls to prevent another surplus build-up."

Eskimos formed crude sunglasses from bone, with a horizontal slit reducing the amount of light entering the eye. Snow enthusiasts should be reminded of this.

Short and sweet . . .

We hear that traffic accidents and fatalities in Britain have declined, in some areas sharply, since the government introduced legislation to curb drunken driving. Much of the sharp drop in the accident rate came with people driving less at night because of the restrictions imposed on social life by the breathalyzer tests. Where there is no direct proof that the new breath test for drivers is the reason for the falloff, during the first month of the breath tests there was a drop of more than 10 per cent over last year. There was a drop of 42 per cent in accidents between 10 p.m. and 1 a.m.

THE FIRST sunglasses were, most likely, devised for the protection against snow glare, rather than summer sun. Primitive

MANY PEOPLE seem to feel that all foods in their "natural" state are healthful, or at least harmless, while substances added to foods are "chemicals" and therefore suspect. Whether a substance is "natural", or has additives in its final composition, has nothing much to do with whether it is toxic. Even honey may be poisonous when bees collect it from such plants as mountain laurel. No substance is so harmless but that some large quantity is toxic; none so toxic but that some very small amount will have no toxic effect on a given consumer.

★ Proceed to go to March of Dimes

The Morton Tribune acquired a new "newsboy" this week as it gained the services of KRAN's manager Dean Weatherly for one hour of selling. The idea, hatched by workers on the March of Dimes campaign, calls for Weatherly to sell copies of the Morton Tribune, on the square, Thursday between 10 A.M. and 11 A.M. with all proceeds from the sale going to the MOD fund.

Last Saturday the annual MOD radio cake-a-thon raised almost $700 for the March of Dimes, including a $50 donation to see Weatherly sell Tribunes this week.

Residents of the area are encouraged to purchase a copy from Mr. Weatherly, not only to read all the hometown news but to also support the MOD drive.

L'Allegro Study Club has program on Viet Nam crisis

The L'Allegro Study Club met on Thursday, March 21, in the home of Mr. M. A. Silvers. Husbands of the club members were guests for the program. President, Mrs. Jack Russell, introduced Mrs. Elwood Harris who in turn introduced the guest speaker Mr. R. B. (Bill) McAlister along with 25 other newsmen made the trip to Viet Nam and other points in Asia, in March of 67. He gave the group detailed reports of this trip, the conditions in the Far East up to the present time and the type people we are fighting in this war. First are the Viet Cong, these are the people who work in the stores, on the farms, and in other jobs as civilians in the day time, but at night they become our enemy and engage in ambush raids and other enemy activity. These people are very hard to deal with because we do not know who they are and cannot tell them from the friendly South Vietnamese people. The North Vietnamese troops, unlike the Viet Cong are well trained, hard fighting military men who conduct whom we know we are fighting and are more able to deal with. Not only are we fighting a military war, but of gravest concern to us, is the political war that we must keep these people to win so that they may eventually govern themselves and live in freedom rather than under communism. This political war will take at least a generation, 20 or more years to educate these people and prepare them for leadership. Right now all they want is more land, a little spot of land to live on and a certain amount of security from war. They could care less who gives it to them. General Westmorland told this group of newsmen in 1967 that the combat war we must, number one, bomb their supply lines, number two, step up all bombing and number three send 200,000 more troops. This many men are needed for border security. Twenty percent of the South Vietnamese army defect to the Viet Cong.

The 25 newsmen evaluated their trip and what they had learned and summed it up like this: "The United States is in Vietnam for one reason and one reason only—

To stop Red China, if we lost South Vietnam, it would give Thailand, Laos, and Cambodia as well as all Asian territory to the Communist, Austria, Japan, and Nationalist China; all fear Red China and their unpredictability. We feel, along with our allies, that Russia would not start a Nuclear war, but Red China is something else. We must keep our strength in Asia against Communism.

In a question and answer period, the speaker gave his ideas on such questions as bombing Hiphong Harbor; he said, "whoever blockades Hiphong, is committing a declaration of war with Russia as they have said repeatedly that they would get into a full scale war if this were done.

To the question, "Why not withdraw from Vietnam", he answered "Military and Political forces would not consider withdrawal because of the reasons state previously, the advancement of Communism in all of Asia and the threat of a Nuclear war with Red China." To the question concerning morale of the professional soldier and the enlistee alike is generally good. The guaranteed tour of duty helps.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to the following members and guests. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Willingham, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Drenan, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. DeBusk, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Van Greene, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson reports seal campaign gains

Cochran County's Easter Seal Representative reported today that the 1968 Easter Seal Appeal of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas is going well. Mr. Glen W. Thompson serves as Easter Seal Appeal Treasurer for Cochran County.

The 1968 Easter Appeal will finance the Easter Seal Society's rehabilitation program for children and adults in Texas. Last year the Society helped 17,622 disabled persons through its program of assistance in finding and making effective use of services for the disabled and their families.

The Easter Seal Society helps support 21 treatment facilities in Texas where children and adults are treated regardless of ability to pay. These centers offer physical therapy, medical diagnosis, speech and hearing programs and related services to help the disabled build happier and more useful lives.

As Easter Seal Representative Mr. Glen Thompson is the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society. He can be contacted at First State Bank, Box 355, Morton, Texas 79346.

When contacted for services, Mr. Thompson will request the Easter Seal Society to investigate the needs of the disabled person and will ask that the Society advise the handicapped person of the best resources available to help him.

Mr. Thompson added that additional contributions to the Easter Seal Appeal should be sent him as soon as possible, as the 1968 Appeal ends Easter Sunday, April 14.

Well, here I am with another one. Missed last week again, didn't I? Well, sorry about that chief.

That two-day vacation we got last week was something wasn't it? It couldn't have come at a more convenient time so far as I'm concerned! That extra time sure came in handy for working on the junior play!

By the way, how did you all like this year's junior play? I thought it went over pretty good, myself. About 250 students turned out for the matinee Friday afternoon, and a crowd of about 300 attended the evening performance.

The junior class would like to express its appreciation to its sponsors, Mrs. George Tuck, Mr. Lane Tannehill, and Mr. David Murrah, for their patience and assistance in the preparation for the play. Also thanks goes to Taylor and Son Furniture General Telephone Co., and the New York Store for their help in loaning props.

Interscholastic League literary events were held here last Saturday as representatives from all the schools in our district came to participate in the competition. Each time a student or team of students placed first, second, or third place, that school received so many points. The school with the highest number of points was Denver City. Morton High School ended up with 37 points.

Those from Morton that placed in the literary events were: Donna Hofman and Janella Nebhut, debate team, second place; Helen Lynch, persuasive speaking, second place; Patsy Collins, ready writing, second place; Zodie Ledbetter and Debbie Kuehler, spelling, second place.

Oh yes, I missed writing about the results of the choir contest. The MHS choir went to Lubbock March 15, to the annual contest. "Fair Maid, Thy Charm and Loveliness", "Never Seek to Tell Thy Love", and "Sure on This Shining Night" were the selections performed by the group.

Speaking of contest the MHS band is busy preparing for contest which will take place this year in Dimmitt. For their concert the band will play "Irish Tune from County Derry", "Variations on a Korean Folke Song", and "Gerona".

HemisFair fare: tic-tac-toe to oompah bands

Everything from computerized tic-tac-toe and musical automobile parts to flying saucers and German oompah bands will be available for Morton visitors to the industrial section of HemisFair.

Among the nation's 11 largest industries are among 20 industrial and institutional pavilions at the six-month World's Fair, which opens its doors to the public on March 28.

The Bell Telephone System offers the classic game of tic-tac-toe in its 10,000 square foot exhibit along with picture phones and computer age guessers. Musical auto parts — including such trumpets made from axles — will be at the Fort Motor Co. pavilion.

GERMAN BAND will be part of the atmosphere in the Falstaff pavilion where the restored Half homestead and the Voladores de Papantla, the flying dancers of Mexico, will perform at the Lay/Pepsi-Cola exhibit.

Industrial exhibits will be free to millions of visitors to the World's Fair, and the pavilions of foreign governments from every country on the globe. The pavilions blend both the old and the new. Several exhibits are located in the historic structures restored on the fair grounds. Others are in new buildings erected for the international exhibition.

THE BAPTIST EXHIBIT, for example, is housed in the Eagar home, which was built in 1810 and was later owned by a Spanish grant of Sarah Riddle Eagar, the first Anglo-American child born in San Antonio.

The Woman's Pavilion is located in a 11,500 square foot structure designed by Cyrus Wagner of San Antonio. The pavilion accommodates 1,500 visitors per hour to tell the story of "Woman's Changing Role in a Changing World." Included in the four level building is a modern theater-type presentation complete with displays of fact and entertainment.

THE INDUSTRIAL and institutional exhibits include:

Pepsi-Cola — The world-famed marionettes of Marty and Sid Krofft will be featured in a 25-minute puppet show 12 times daily. The 30-inch wooden performers are $1,000 each. After each show the puppets will be invited backstage to see how the Kroffts do it.

Kodak — The 5,000 square foot pavilion features suspended cubes projecting motion pictures and slides to other cubes made of a new, bright screen material. Color transparencies appear on a variety of three dimensional forms, and prints are shown on print trees.

FALSTAFF — The old Half house has been restored into the "House of Sir John Falstaff," boasting a German food restaurant on the first floor, an outdoor beer garden with an oompah band, and a second floor serving as headquarters for the HemisFair Press Club. Included in the restaurant are street scenes of early San Antonio, frontier gun collections and antique paintings.

Ford Motor Co. — The 10,500 square foot pavilion features a motion picture in the round using nine projectors on a screen 16 feet high and 146 feet long. Besides the film, Ford will display products from a replica of Henry Ford's original quadricycle to modern cars and trucks. Music appears to come from automobile parts in the 13-piece "Autolite-Ford Parts Harmonic orchestra."

Census and privacy subjects on which courts have ruled

During the last federal census, a disgruntled citizen decided the government was getting altogether too nosy. So he refused to answer certain questions, calling them an invasion of his privacy and an "unreasonable search and seizure" — forbidden by the Constitution.

But in a test case, the court held the questions within the proper scope of governmental curiosity.

"The authority to gather reliable statistical data reasonably related to governmental functions is a necessity," said the court, "if modern government is to legislate intelligently."

By and large, the taking of the census (itself authorized by the Constitution) has not run into serious opposition.

ONE BIG REASON, no doubt, is that personal information is kept confidential — as a kind of compensation to the citizen for accepting a little prying into his private life. Federal law specifically provides that census information about any individual may not be disclosed "to his detriment."

FRITO-LAY/Pepsi-Cola — The Flying Indians of Mexico perform a 400-year-old ritual climaxed by a flight around a 114-foot pole like giant birds. The ceremonial originated with the Totonacan Indians who believed that climbing to the top of the pole brought them nearer to the God of the Heavens.

General Electric — A 5,000 square foot pavilion with a capacity of 22,500 persons per day features a 30 minute musical show written by the top Broadway song writing team of Fred Tobias and Stanley Lebowsky. The show features a combination of live and filmed techniques.

GENERAL MOTORS — Forty-five displays of travel and transit for the future are featured in the lake front pavilion. Highlights include a model system for urban rapid transit, a solution to urban parking and three experimental autos on a runabout, three-wheeled, four-passenger utility vehicle ideal for commuting and shopping. An impact sled to simulate accidents also is shown.

Gulf Insurance — Fair visitors will find rest and relaxation facilities at the pavilion, including a diaper-changing section and a lounge area. The 14,000 square foot structure is centered by a "two-story" fountain.

GULF OIL CORP. — A miniature freeway system on which grownups and school age children can operate 30 cars is featured. The two-seater cars go seven miles per hour through tunnels, past elevations, service stations, and policemen.

Humble Oil and Refining Co. — The history and future of transportation is unfolded in the century-old Schultz store, restored for the pavilion. Using models and small toys to illustrate man's progress, the visitor is taken from the evolution of the wheel through the various stages of air, land and water transportation.

International Business Machines — Visitors can type a souvenir HemisFair postcard, draw designs on a screen with an electronic light pen and make a swatch on a Jacquard loom, or talk with a computer. IBM will have two pavilions, both patterned after an open air Latin American marketplace.

LONE STAR Brewing Co. — The Hall of Texas History, an exhibit costing more than $500,000 is presented in a 20,000 square foot pavilion. Both famous and infamous persons and events important to the founding and development of the Lone Star state are presented in full size and life-like animation.

Pearl Brewing Co. — A 19th century bar complete with gas chandeliers and wrought-iron porches is the decor for a cafeteria buffet area and refreshment center, featuring family-type entertainment with a jazz era flavor. In a smaller connected structure, Judson Candies, a subsidiary of Pearl, are sold.

Radio Corp. of America — The educational impact of computers on schools of tomorrow are stressed, featuring an advanced RCA Spectra 70 computer system with an operating student terminal for individual instruction.

BELL TELEPHONE — Besides the computerized age-guesser and game-playing machine, the pavilion features live demonstrations of the picture-phone, a kiddie-land where youngsters can talk to cartoon characters by telephone and a filmed show on the theme of "The Magic of the Telephone."

Alive Inc. — A non-denominational non-profit organization of Texas businessmen sponsor the "Sermons from Science" pavilion. The sermons are 28-minute films relating scientific principles and spiritual lessons.

Baptist — The San Antonio Baptist Association, Baptist General Convention of Texas and Home Aid Foreign Missions Boards of the Southern Baptist Convention present film presentations, performances by the Baptist College, and university choral and drama groups.

Mormon Church — The theme of "Christ Visited the Americas" will be carried out through paintings, murals and films in a 4,000 square foot pavilion.

WRESTLING WITH OUR FEARS

Our fears seem as big and as terrible as this alligator sometimes, don't they? Fear about this thing and that can paralyze us and prevent us from doing our daily work.

Many of our fears are real. A great many of our fears, however, are unfounded — a result of thinking and worrying about ourselves. Sir John Denham phrased it this way:

"My fears are causeless and ungrounded, Fantastic dreams and melancholy fumes."

There is only one thing that will dispel fear of this type. We must do something to get out of ourselves. That means loving and helping others.

The Bible puts it so well in I John 4:18. "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear; because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love."

The Church is God's Agency designed to help you. We invite you to attend this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Kennedy selects chairman and Texas headquarters

STIN, Tex. — First flurries of activity in the 1968 presidential campaign remind that it is going to be a long, hot political year.

Entry of Sen. Robert Kennedy into the race for the Democratic nomination set off more speculation than action.

Less than a week after Kennedy's announcement, however, a Beaumont college professor announced he had accepted an invitation from the senator's office to head his drive in Texas. Ron Platt, chairman of the small group known as Texas Democrats and a Lamar Tech assistant professor, said the Texas Campaign for Kennedy soon will open an office.

Dissenting Democrats of Texas reaffirmed their support of Sen. Eugene McCarthy for president despite Kennedy's emergence. Co-Chairman Don Allford said he welcomes efforts of the Kennedy backers and expects help from them in areas in opposing President Johnson.

DT claims a force of about 3,000 working to organize precinct conventions for McCarthy.

On the opposite end of the political stage, supporters of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace held their state convention here and kicked off their drive for signatures to petitions. Petitions necessary to get Wallace's name on the November ballot as presidential candidate of the new American Party headed by Texas by former State Sen. Weaver of Houston. Signers must not participate in Democratic or Republican primaries or conventions.

State Democratic Committee, meanwhile, has emphasized its support of President Johnson. Gov. John Connally has announced he intends to head a Texas delegation to the national convention committed to the president's renomination.

As of date, there is little evidence of any effort to take the Texas Democratic conventions away from Johnson.

Texas Republicans, already leaning toward Richard Nixon, were left one less name when Gov. Nelson Rockefeller announced he would not campaign for the nomination.

COURTS SPEAK — Supreme Court will hear arguments April 17 on whether Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler should be required to honor the West Texas minerals claim filed by Cobra Oil and Gas Corporation in Pecos, Culberson and Reeves counties.

Third Court of Civil Appeals agreed with Comal County trial court that a New Braunfels used auto parts and junk dealer had no right to keep the city from suing him for violation of "beautification" ordinances.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld conviction and life sentence of San Antonian Jorge Maldonado for murder of a used car salesman. Same court affirmed the year sentence of a Houston area drug dealer for possession of heroin.

ATTY. GEN. SPEAKS — Attorney General Crawford Martin and State Liquor Control Board records and orders should not be made available for public inspection except as the result of legal proceedings. Apparently, he classes hearings before LCB administrator on violation allegations as legal proceedings.

In other new opinions, Martin concluded that:
Abolished "city" of La Grulla in Starr County can hold a new incorporation election in less than a year from the date its abolition was resolved in court (last November 15).

A school district that had issued no unlimited tax bonds can revert to limited tax status under a different statute and issue bonds subject to voter approval.

APPOINTMENTS — Former Atty. Gen. Will Wilson of Austin and Baylor University President Abner McCall were named co-chairmen of the Anti-Crime Council of Texas (ACT). Council has as its initial goal defeat of the May 4 referendum on party-mutual betting.

State Bar headquarters announced R. Glenn Jarvis of McAllen and George H. Nelson of Lubbock have been nominated for president-elect of the State Junior Bar. George F. Christie of Fort Worth and James Greenwood of Houston are vice presidential nominees; and Jack Norwood, Tyler, and Robert R. Sanders of Amarillo nominees for secretary-treasurer.

Carl F. Wheeler Jr. of Austin is the new president of the Texas Elementary Principals and Supervisors Association. Warren W. Green of Tyler is president-elect, Robert L. Holden of San Angelo first vice president, William C. Harter of Canyon, second vice president and Mrs. Shirley Hale of Houston, third vice president.

MORE PARK AID — Action to protect historic San Jacinto State Park from erosion and flood has been asked by Attorney General Martin.

He suggests moving De Zavala Cemetery, which floods at high tide, and an appropriation to Parks and Wildlife Department to protect the rest of the park.

A $39,915 federal grant has been approved for development of outdoor recreation facilities at 3,840-acre Monahans Sandhills State Park in Ward and Winkler Counties.

Another $11,450 federal grant will go to 332-acre Big Spring State Recreation Park, two miles south of Big Spring.

State matching funds will double project financing at both Sandhills and Big Spring facilities.

DRAFT CALL UP — State draft boards must furnish 2,378 men in April and, for the first time in two years, part of the group will go into the U. S. Marine Corps.

Figure compares with the quota of 1,947 for the Army in March and is the largest monthly call for draft boards since October, 1966, when Texas' share was 2,845.

Local boards will send 8,500 men to armed forces examining and entrance stations in April for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in preparation to fill future quotas. March total was 7,200.

April induction and pre-induction quotas were mailed to local boards by state Selective Service headquarters in mid-March. National quota for April is 48,000, of which Army will get 44,000 and Marines 4,000. Draftees are in 19-25 age bracket.

TRAFFIC DEATHS — Traffic deaths in Texas last year totaled 3,367, according to latest Department of Public Safety tabulations.

This was a decrease of 1.15 per cent (first in seven years) from 1966 when a record 3,406 fatalities from auto accidents were recorded.

DPS noted that there was a five per cent increase in vehicle miles traveled in the state last year, for a death ratio of 5.8 persons killed for each 100,000,000 miles of travel. This is a decrease in death rate from 6.2 in 1966.

Total of 885,268 traffic accidents were reported in the state during 1967, with economic loss estimated at $793,000,000 and 205,000 injuries.

NURSES RECRUITED — State Board of Nurse Examiners registered 1,741 more nurses in 1967 than the 35,862 in 1966, and most of the new ones came from out of state.

Of all the new nurses, 1,494 moved to Texas from other states. Texas lost only 778 to other states. Also, 821 new RNs were registered after graduation from nursing school.

Recruitment programs by the Texas Hospital Association and the Health Careers Program were given much of the credit for the increased number of nurses. "And then a lot of people just like to move to Texas," an official said.

DEBATE SHAPING UP — One of the great debates of the season seems to be over the method of legalizing sale of liquor-by-drink.

Former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, campaigning for governor, argues no constitutional bill can be written on the subject, and that an amendment to the state constitution's "open saloon" ban is necessary to legalize mixed drinks. Eugene Locke is campaigning heavily for local option mixed drinks bill, as has Governor Connally.

Attorney General Martin, called on for advice by the House committee studying liquor laws, sidestepped the issue. He sent the committee the 29-year-old opinions of former Atty. Gen. Gerald Mann that the legislature in defining "open saloons" acted "in obedience to command of the people." While acknowledging the legislature can change laws, Martin suggested that courts, not the attorney general, must test constitutionality of the new "open saloon" definition.

House committee, which is compiling a report for the special session this year, advised that the Liquor Control Board should be "more forthright" to regain confidence of public.

CHICKEN FEED — Kentucky Fried

Chicken Company, of Colonel Sanders fame, has gone to court in Travis County to attack the state comptroller's classifying its establishments as "stores" rather than "restaurants."

Stores pay a higher license fee than restaurants, so K.F.C. is suing to recover $1,480 it paid under protest for its 17 establishments in Texas. K.F.C. says it should have been required to pay only $146.

The 98th District Court of Travis County has not set the suit for trial.

SHORT SNORTS — Governor Connally approved $4,648 grant to Golden Crescent Council of Governments in the Victoria area . . . Sharon Connally, daughter of Gov. and Mrs. Connally, was married Saturday to Robert C. Ammann III at the governor's mansion, the fourth daughter of a Texas governor to be married in the historic residence . . . Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Bishop, Adjutant General of Texas, will request more than $300,000 from the Legislature when it meets in special session to pay for new riot-control equipment . . . Attorney General Martin will file a support brief in an Alabama federal court suit against the State of Alabama over whether a state's having separate wet and dry areas violates the constitutional rights of residents in dry areas.

USS TICONDEROGA at sea, March 13— Electronics Technician Second Class Bobby J. Sanders, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Sanders of Rt. 2, Morton, is at Subic Bay, R. P. aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ticonderoga.

The Ticonderoga went to Subic Bay following 38 days "on the line" in the Gulf of Tonkin off the coast of North Vietnam.

While in the Gulf planes from the carrier flew more than 700 air strikes in support of U.S. and Allied ground forces operating in South Vietnam.

Vinh, North Vietnam. Also strikes were made against enemy gun positions, waterborne logistics craft, storage areas, bunkers and rocket sites north of the Demilitarized Zone.

The Ticonderoga is the first carrier to return to Vietnam for a fourth tour of duty.
