Morton gridgers take on Plains in lid-lifter

The Morton Indians kick off their 1968 grid campaign Friday night, hosting the powerful Plains Cowboys at Indian Field with kick-off slated for 8 p.m.

Head Coach Lane Tannenill announced that his boys were ready for the opener, but cautioned that the Cowboys would be formidable opponents.

The opener is going to be double tough for the Indians because of the flu bug which hit the squad this week. Five potential Morton starters missed two workouts this week because of illness. Most of the boys were back in school Wednesday, but how soon they will be back at full strength remains a question.

Plains is a perennial Class A power in what is thought by some to be the toughest Class A district in the state. Seagraves, winner of the district last year, advanced to the quarter finals in the state play-offs before being eliminated. Plains finished second in the district last year, and is expected to press Seagraves for the crown again this year.

Morton's hopes center around a strong defense and tough offensive line. Although the Indian backfield doesn't have a lot of size, all members are hard runners. Quarterback Wayne Thompson, a two-year letterman, is the key man in the backfield. Alex Soliz, Mike Byran and Tommy Waters will be bearing the brunt of the ball-carrying load. Thompson's passes will be going to ends Bob Hawkins, Dee Merritt, and Ralph Soliz, along with the right tackle, J. D. Wiseley, 235, jr., Tommy Jackson, 170, jr., or M. C. Collins, 185, soph.; right end, Bob Hawkins, 165, sr.

In the backfield will be quarterback, Wayne Thompson, 150, sr.; fullback, Tommy Waters, 170, sr.; wingback, Mike Bryan, 160, jr.; and halfback, Alex Soliz, 160, sr.

Style show to be held in Morton

"Sew It With Cotton" contest will culminate in a Fashion Show in Morton. The event will be held September 17, 1968, 7:30 p.m. at the County Activity Building. Efforts of participants were begun in July on entries for this affair, sponsored by Last Frontier Cotton Council, a newly organized group of area ladies for the express purpose of promoting cotton products and to serve the cotton industry.

Mrs. E. C. Hale, president of the organization, says the contest has not been limited to Cotton Club or Cotton Promotion Association members. Mrs. Hale, while a pleasant visitor in the Tribune office, went on to explain that the first place winners or designated alternates from County Contests will enter the District Contest to be held at Lubbock Saturday, October 12.

Mrs. Hale brought out that the aim of the club is to get cotton stocked in our area stores and to make the public more aware of cotton and cotton's problems. The Cochran County group of cotton boosters is but one of 12 organizations covering 13 counties with approximately 2,000 members.

These groups are non-social, non-profit, non-political, and are based on the national statistic on fiber marketing which See STYLE SHOW, Page 2

Interview of the week No metropolis for her . . .

An interview with Mrs. M. C. Ledbetter

Our interview this week was with a very charming and interesting matron in the person of Mary Lois Ledbetter, wife of the Judge of the 121st Judicial District, M. C. Ledbetter.

Mrs. Ledbetter, mother of six children, has worked with the youth of the area and has been a registered leader in the Campfire Girls organization for the past 27 years and was working with them even before that time. A graduate of the University of Texas, she once taught high school science for one year, 1939, and home economics for two years, 1940-41 in the Morton schools. That was before the couple started their family.

Her husband, Judge Ledbetter, has been District Judge in the 4-county district since it was created in 1939.

One has only to talk with Mrs. Ledbetter for a few moments to know that Morton has no more staunch supporter than she. Indeed she is very emphatic in her belief that for a place to raise a family in a small town of the caliber of Morton means the metropolitan areas in many ways.

She cites the fact that Morton is a strong supporter of Little League ball clubs, Rainbow Girls, Campfire Girls, 4-H groups and other worthwhile efforts toward the end that the youth off the area are properly guided into young manhood and womanhood.

Mrs. M. C. Ledbetter

Confident that no more neighborliness and friendliness will be encountered anywhere, Mrs. Ledbetter is convinced that living costs in Morton do not reach those experienced in larger cities.

When asked what she thought about the future of Morton and particularly the possibilities of attracting additional industry to Morton she said that she thought the new Industrial Foundation now in the process of acquiring members to work toward bringing new industry here is a step in the right direction. She says she knows the people of Morton and their spirit and that she has every confidence that they will work together harmoniously to bring about whatever effort is necessary to accomplish their purpose.

Let it be said that this writer concurs with Mrs. Ledbetter's beliefs one hundred percent. Her sentiments in regard to "our town" are reflected in conversations with others we have met in the brief time we have been here.

Gunshot fatal to Alton C. Ainsworth

Funeral services for Alton Collins Ainsworth, 55, was held at 3:00 p.m. in the First Methodist Church here.

A farmer-rancher, Ainsworth had resided in the Bledsoe community for about 30 years. He was killed about 11:30 Wednesday night when an automatic .22 calibre rifle discharged accidentally, according to authorities.

He is reported to have been on his way to aid a neighbor in the removal of an animal, which had been injured by a passing car or truck, from the roadway and had presumably stood his rifle on the floor of the vehicle in which he was riding. The neighbor having told him by phone that the animal was probably beyond saving, he would have needed the rifle to end it's suffering. Ainsworth didn't ordinarily Letter to the editor...

(Note: The following letter to the editor is not the first, we sincerely hope it will not be the last. Opinions expressed in this column do not necessarily reflect the opinion of this newspaper, nor its publisher, but merely express one persons views on a subject of interest at this particular time. Rebuttals are welcome, of course. — The Editor.) The Democratic Party Candidate for the Presidency says, "In 1964 you gave us a mandate to get America moving again, and we did." I heartily agree with him they did. Moving means motion — change. Increase is moving, to move up is moving, to move down is moving, to move in any direction is moving. To widen is moving, war is intense motion or change. This is the moving, or motion, or change during the Johnson-Humphrey administration as I see it: Number of soldiers fighting in the war moved up, the amount of food that a dollar will buy moved down; our National Debt moved up, the amount of money the farmer gets for his work moved down; incidence of crime moved up, world prestige of our country moved down; Deficits in our National Budget moved up, respect for Law and Order moved down; number of Federal employes moved up, help to our police force from the courts moved down; disunity moved up, our gold reserve moved down; air and water pollution moved up, respect for our institutions and traditions moved down. No fair person can solely blame the Johnson-Humphrey administration for these things, but you are justified in asking yourself two questions: Did they start in the Johnson-Humphrey administration, and what effectively did they do to stop them. The answer to the first question means nothing. The all-important consideration is, if they couldn't stop or control them during the past four years, how can we feel they will stop or control them during the four coming years? Miles G. Stevens, 609 Little Farms Ave, New Orleans, La. 70123

Editor MORTON TRIBUNE Dear Editor:

Realizing your interest in the water problems of our State, and particularly the problems of the West Texas area of the State, I want to extend to you a special invitation to attend the meeting of the House Interim Water Study Committee. This meeting will be held in Hereford, Texas, on October 5, 1968, at the County Bull Barn. The meeting will be hosted by Water Inc., and lunch will be served during the noon hour, at a nominal cost. Attached is a copy of the agenda that will be discussed. I hope that you will study the topics that are to be discussed, and we will appreciate your participating in the meeting. It is helpful to our Study Committee to have the views of all of those who are interested.

We hope that you will be able to attend this meeting, and I am looking forward to seeing you. Sincerely yours, BILL CLAYTON, Chairman House Interim Water Committee Box 38 Springlake, Texas 79082 P. S. The agenda that is proposed does not necessarily reflect the views of the Committee. (Note: We're sorry space does not permit printing of the agenda in full, but we assure you it will be an interesting meeting touching on many facets of the water problems of West Texans. — The Editor.)

Surprise, surprise, surprise! I'm back! Have you missed me? Too bad; I'm back anyway. For an explanation of my negligence of this column, I'll simply say I've had a busy summer. Did everyone have fun the past three months?

Well, school has started and all the kids are beginning to get back into the swing of things again. It took awhile to adjust, but I think we'll all survive.

High School looks pretty much the same as it did last year, except for the new faces in the halls. The freshman, of course, are there for their first time, filling up the gaps left by last year's seniors. And too, there are a few different (I wouldn't say "new") teachers around to brighten things up — Assistant Coach Atkinson, Mr. Eddie Allsup, and Mr. Elvis Fleming is also back with us. (If I've missed anyone, I'm sorry).

There's also a new subject — Speech taught by Mr. David Murrah. I think that class will probably prove to be a lot of fun. (Now I should make an A in there!) That's about it academic-wise.

On the sports scene, it looks as if the Morton Indians are looking forward to winning an awful lot of ball games this year! The boys have been working hard, very hard, for the past several weeks; some of them even worked at it all summer.

Our new head coach, Lane Tannehill, is doing fine job with the boys and has instilled in them a determination to win. Assistant Coaches Hale and Atkinson are new on the scene this year, and along with the "old" coaches make a great coaching staff.

The Indian's first ball game is Friday night here with the Plains Cowboys. Everyone please try your best to come and back these boys to VICTORY, OK? Let's go Indians, CLOBBER THE COWBOYS!

The football schedule for the rest of the season is as follows: Home games:

Band boosters elect officers; plan year's activities Tuesday

The Morton Band Boosters met in the band hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday for the purpose of electing new officers and planning the year's work. New officers were: President, Byron Willis; Vice President, Charles Jones; Treasurer, Mrs. M. C. Ledbetter; and Secretary, Mrs. Elzie Browne.

Committees were appointed for the coming activities and workers volunteered for the concession stand work for this Friday night's game. Several also volunteered food.

The boosters decided to extend the west-side concession stand. This will be volunteer work among the members with Buddy Franks as chairman. They plan to start the work immediately.

Mr. Stockdale discussed the planned coming events of the band. One of which is returning to Enid, Okla., to defend their title in concert band. He also would like to enter Morton in the Six Flags Band Festival. This contest requires a sweepstakes band in order to enter.

The Band Boosters wish to thank the School Board for their attitude and continued support of the band. Appreciation was expressed to Mr. John Stockdale for his leadership. The trophy and sweepstakes plaque won by the band at Enid were viewed by the

Be sure and make it to all the ball games you can! Without your support, our team's spirit is dead! The beginning of a new school year was climaxed for the 1969 Seniors Monday as they finally received their senior rings, and man are they ever pretty! Ask some senior to show you theirs and I'm sure they'll be more than happy to oblige!

Well, I guess I'll cut it off for this week, but I'll be back! Let's just all remember that "WE'RE BEHIND THE INDIANS!"

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

From the Office of Roy L. McClung, Jr.

Business has really picked up in the Lubbock soil testing laboratory the past few weeks. Farmers from all over the area are taking samples and having them analyzed in preparation for sowing of small grains. There is no way to guess what kind of fertilizer needs to be applied to the land other than a soil test. In a summary of 149 field samples analyzed by the Extension Soil Testing Laboratory, Lubbock the values show that nitrogen is generally deficient in Cochran County and that response from nitrogen fertilizer should be expected when moisture is not limiting. The amount needed of course depends on the organic matter present, crop to be grown, previous crop residue, irrigation and other factors. In summary of the field samples in Cochran County, phosphorus showed to be very low in 44 percent of the samples and low in 23 percent of the samples. It appears that about one-third of the soils in the county are adequately supplied with phosphorus for most crops.

No one, regardless of how long they have worked with soils or fertilizers has ever been able to look at a piece of land and see whether or not it needs phosphorus along with the nitrogen. That can only be determined by a soil test. There is a growing tendency all throughout this area by some farmers to use nitrogen alone on their crops, regardless of what their soil test shows, because it is usually the cheapest fertilizer that can be applied to the soil and will give an extra boost to the plants and in the case of small grains give a large increase in the amount of grazing and also increase the yield of wheat. However, common sense will tell any man that if he continues to use nitrogen alone and his soil is already deficient in phosphorus that within a period of a very few years you will run into serious trouble. We have found in our demonstration work and research people have also found in their experimental work that the most practical method of fertilizing, (and we will talk of small grains now since we are sowing) where the soil test shows a need for phosphorus, is to apply all of the phosphorus and part of the nitrogen in the fall, prior to, or at the time of sowing small grains, and then top dress with additional nitrogen in January or February. Demonstrations and research has also shown that where soils need phosphorus as well as nitrogen, if this phosphorus and a small amount of nitrogen, not more than 15 or 20 pounds per acre, is applied directly with the seed or with a combination fertilizer distributor and grain drill that this will increase the amount of grazing from 3 to 5 times as much as where the fertilizer is broadcast and plowed under or when it is applied with chisels.

One of the most alarming things that we have found in our Extension soil testing program in the past is so many people that are using the wrong kind or wrong ration of fertilizers. In many cases this not only affects the yield but if you need phosphorus, for example, in addition to nitrogen and you apply only nitrogen, it takes a very short time for the increased growth that you get from applying this nitrogen to pull out all of the available phosphorus in the soil and in a short time the field will get to where it will not produce a normal yield even with applying nitrogen.

If you need any help with your soil testing and fertilizer program, service along with soil testing sheets and sample cartons are available at your local County

CIGARETTE REVENUES

State Treasurer Jesse James said that cigarette tax revenues dipped in August but were still $318,791 higher than a year ago. The tax brought in $11,512,785 last month, compared with $11,539,236 in July and $11,193,994 in August 1967.

Gas pipe bunco

Posing as inspectors for a gas company, a team of bunco artists in an eastern city goes through the motions of giving heating systems a thorough checkup. Residents concerned about their systems for the winter months are naturally interested. If the home-owners look gullible, one of the men unobtrusively squirts some lighter fluid on one of the gas pipes. Then, with the resident looking on, he touches a match to the pipe and it bursts into flame, apparently indicating a leak. It is not difficult then to get the homeowner to sign a contract for an immediate expensive, and unnecessary repair job.

WONDERFUL FEELING!

"Oh! I'm not really steering, but my friend has permitted me to sit here, and I have really had a good time just pretending."

Does this remind you of times when you have "Pretended"? Remember when some friend allowed you to sit behind the wheel of a boat or a new car and... well, you know the rest.

Today we are still pretending, because nothing really belongs to us. The Bible Says... "The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein." Psalm 24-1.

According to this, God is truly our friend and permits us to use the things of this world. For these things, and God's greatest gift, his Son, we should attend worship services each week and give thanks.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Editorials Contribution or disservice

With all due regard for former President Eisenhower, and we do respect him highly, we never-the-less take umbrage with the remark attributed to Vice President Humphrey to the effect that "Eisenhower's greatest contribution to this nation was in naming Earl Warren Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court."

are leading us before we wake up some morning soon to the fact that America has indeed become a "police state" and we "the people" are powerless to effect a change.

Communists everywhere?

At the risk of being called one of those person who sees "Communists behind every bush", we cite an article in the Communist "The Worker" of June 18 this year in which President Johnson was taken to task for not issuing an immediate order to the Pentagon to halt the sale of "surplus" rifles to members of the National Rifle Association and stop the "giveaway of ammunition to NRA shooters", ammunition used in U. S. Civil marksmanship training in a program begun by the NRA in 1871 and supported by Act of Congress for the past 65 years.

struggle against Communism in Vietnam, it is easy to see why the voice of the Communist party in America would be raised against young Americans being taught to shoot. That was expected.

A $10 haircut?

The National Observer starts off a feature article on inflation with "Haircuts for $10, minus tip. Food bill for a family of four: $115 a week. Cost of a 'medium-priced' car: $9,900. An average-quality man's suit: $250." The Observer points out that such prices appear fantastic, but they are what we may expect to pay within a very few years if the present course of inflation and the depreciation of the dollar continues unabated.

Even more alarming than the steady advance of inflation is the apparent indifference of the people—or at least many of them—to what is going on. The Observer accounts for this indifference by drawing attention to the fact that during the past 10 years, on the average, personal income for most people in terms of purchasing power has kept ahead of inflation until very recently most individuals have enjoyed a complacent ride on the inflation band-wagon, but the day of reckoning is near.

As The Chase Manhattan Bank of New York observes, "For many Americans the apparent economic gains of the past two years have been only an illusion created by inflation." The price of unlimited government deficit spending is cheater dollars and lower living standards. The remedy lies in bringing government spending into line with taxpayers' ability to pay.

Irrigation pipeline . . .

THE ABOVE PICTURE illustrates a cement-asbestos pipeline that is being installed to deliver irrigation water to a sprinkler irrigation system. A pipeline similar to this is currently being installed on the Clayton Stokes farm to conserve irrigation water and prevent erosion.

Conservation District News

From the Office of BUDD FOUNTAIN IRRIGATION PIPELINES It is well to consider ways and means of increasing ground water recharge, but the greatest opportunity for conserving ground water supplies is that of making more efficient use of the water pumped. A good way of making more efficient use of the water pumped is to install an irrigation pipeline system which includes tile or perforated pipe used for subsurface irrigation and a permanently installed pipeline for a sprinkler irrigation system.

Postmaster M. Crone cited for bond work

Postmaster Murray L. Crone has been commended by Glen R. Johnson, Nation Director of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division, for his leadership and service to the Treasury's School Savings Program. New residents are reminded to register before Sept. 20

County Clerk Lessye Silvers has issued a reminder that new residents of Texas who wish to vote in the presidential election this year must apply for a ballot at the county clerk's office by 5 o'clock next Friday, September 20. The reminder is for voters who will have lived in Texas more than 60 days but less than a year on next November 5, general election day. This is the first time that residents of less than a year will be able to vote in a Texas presidential election. A law passed in 1967 allows a new resident to vote if he will have lived in Texas for at least 60 days on election day, possesses all qualifications required for voting in Texas elections except the normal residence requirements, and was either a qualified voter in another state immediately prior to his removal to Texas or would have been eligible to vote in the presidential election in the state of his former residence if he had remained there and complied with the state's legal requirements for voting.

obtained from the Soil Conservation Service, or from most pipeline contractors. The policy of the Cochran Soil and Water Conservation District is to encourage and aid in the development of any feasible irrigation project that will contribute toward attaining a more efficient agriculture. There are two programs in which a farmer may receive aid in establishing an underground irrigation pipeline. The Great Plains program is set up in a cost-share plan, that enables a farmer to receive up to $2500 on a 50-50 basis, and the Agriculture Stabilization Conservation Service has a program which enables a farmer to receive up to $600 on a similar cost-share basis for underground irrigation pipelines. Even with the best of irrigation systems, good irrigation management is essential to prevent water wastage.

Whiteface Garden Club has meeting Sept. 2

"Color in Flower Arranging" was the comprehensive study and program for the Whiteface Garden Club meeting September 2, at the home of Mrs. Woody Splawn. Fourteen members were present. Art principles as applied to color were explained by Mrs. J. L. Schooler as she reviewed a book on Color by Margaret Dobson. A workshop on arrangements is planned for the Sept. 16 meeting at the home of Mrs. R. K. McCoy. This meeting will start at 7 p.m. to give more time for the members to make arrangements to fit the flower show schedule.

South Plains has enlarged staff; new courses are added

LEVELLAND (Special) — Dr. Marvin welcomed new faculty members at the first general meeting at South Plains Sept. 4. A total of twenty-one new members were introduced, five of which were replacements with the remainder to the group. This number makes a total of 90 on the instructional staff. During the second ten-year span of the college, Dr. Baker remarked on the excellent growth of from 202 students in the present day enrollment which is numbered about 1,500.

He pointed out five reasons for the growth of the college. Topping the list was a faculty with high qualifications including another important ingredient, caring for the student as an individual. The Guidance program at SPC, the president gave as another cause for the large enrollment. "This phase of program," he said, "was first headed by Academic Dean Nathan Tubb and the college grew it was handed on to the qualified personnel until now the college boasts of one of the finest guidance testing programs in the state.

The spirit of the people who established the college is a contributing factor to its growth," he said. "They were not satisfied to be of service to the immediate institution, but they went out and sought talents from the surrounding areas. The board members who worked hours and hours in directing the college also played a great part in the increased enrollment."

Leveland and those from the surrounding areas are proud of South Plains College," he said. "They take pride in achievements and growth. It took the faculty, administration and board members working together to make the college, which is ranked as one of the best junior colleges in the state, the success that it is," he said.

Continuing with his address, Mr. Baker set the goal of a comprehensive junior college has now been attained here at South Plains. With the inclusion of the Technical-Vocational-Occupational Department this year, the college has become a complete well-rounded college with facilities and faculty to serve all the people in the immediate and a large area surrounding the college.

The academic and pre-professional program has been developed to the very highest level, the community service program of the college served 40 percent of the population in this area last year with more than 5,000 served in some way through the college programs. Now the Technical-Vocational-Occupational program which is designed to serve and educate those who wish to specialize in some trade is available," he said.

"The Technical-Vocational Department built on a good foundation, that of good counseling and guidance," Dr. Baker commented. "It will serve hundreds of young people in the area." He concluded his talk by pointing out that 17,000 young people in the area from 17 to 21 years of age did not go to college last year. The program is designed to educate and equip this group to be better and more useful citizens, and it is our goal to build this program on the same level as other phases of the college program."

Elma L. Slaughter club has first meeting of year

The 1968-69 year began for members of the Elma L. Slaughter Study Club as they met in the home of Mrs. Leonard Coleman, September 5, 7:30 P.M. for the President's Dinner and business meeting. The invocation was given by Mrs. Jack Gunnels after which members enjoyed a delicious meal served from a table centered with an arrangement of red roses and a picture of the incoming President, Mrs. C. E. Dolle.

Mrs. Leonard Coleman gave an interesting and unusual introduction of the new President using amateur drawings and snapshots beginning at birth up to the present time, including pictures of her family. The display was placed around the wall with a "Support Your President" theme.

A SURPRISED, BUT gracious President accepted her role for the new year and led the members in a business session. Year Books with the new theme "Direction Tomorrow" were presented by Mrs. Willie Taylor. Project Chairman, Mrs. Elra Oden discussed projects the Club would be doing and members volunteered to help our local Librarian, Mrs. Hessie B. Spotts, shelve books in the new library.

Mrs. Dolle appointed members to carry out the duties of the Club in connection with advertising for The Texas Clubwoman magazine for the November issue which will be shared with one other District. Also duties were given in preparation for the Area Federation Day.

One new member, Mrs. M. L. Abbe, was added to the roll.

Secret Pals were revealed with lovely gifts and surprised faces as members read the names of those who had been so nice to them during the year.

The fifth year of the giant High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program got off to what officials described as "its best start yet" on Tuesday, September 3 as 10 spray planes took to the sky just after dawn.

Despite high winds on Tuesday and Wednesday, by Thursday night over half of the 75,000 acres mapped by entomologists to receive the first application had been sprayed with low volume technical malathion.

"We couldn't ask for a much better start," said Ed Dean, Director of Field Services for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the organization that conceived and put together the massive program in 1964 and continues to direct its progress.

Spraying will continue until harvest, a frost or chemical discation of cotton fields removes the weevil's food supply in the control zone. Infested fields below and along the rim of the Cap Rock are currently being treated in Briscoe, Hall, Dickens, Crosby, Kent and Garza Counties.

Later, if weevil populations develop fast enough to make it necessary, parts of Floyd, Dawson and Borden Counties may be included in the control area.

Entomologists in 1963 recognized the fact that weevils from this eastern section of the Plains would invade the entire area unless stopped. The control program initiated in 1964 has driven the weevil back over 15 miles eastward, greatly reduced weevil numbers and cut the base control zone from about 300,000 acres at the beginning to what is expected to reach something like 100,000 acres by the end of this year's operation.

This year's program will follow the pattern set in the previous two years, with the first three applications laid down at three to five day intervals to break the weevil's reproductive cycle.

From then until frost, those fields where weevil populations justify control will be sprayed at from 10 to 14 day intervals to kill all possible remaining weevils before they can go into hibernation.

Dean noted that "There are a lot more weevils in evidence this year than last, thanks to wet weather throughout the Winter, Spring and Summer." He explained that on the Plains moisture has been found a more important factor in winter survival of weevils than minimum temperatures.

"However," he went on, "if we can get a little cooperation from the weather and keep on schedule with these first three applications we'll be able to suppress present populations very rapidly."

The weevil control program is jointly financed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, cotton producers in PCG's 23-county territory of the Plains and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

President's dinner held by T&C Club

The Town and Country Study Club met in the home of Mrs. A. E. Sanders for their first meeting of the club year. It was the Presidents luncheon and each member brought a salad. Mrs. Joe Seagler was Toastmistress and opened the meeting with a toast to the new club president, Mrs. Willard Henry.

The Yearbooks were presented by Mrs. Sanders and a business meeting followed. Those present were Mesdames Willard Henry, A. E. Sanders, S. E. Williams, Joe Seagler, Connie Gray, LeRoy Johnson, J. N. Leavitt, Robert Yearly, Keith Kennedy, Cherylone Inglis, Ross Shaw, Weldon Newsome, A. A. Fralin, Alvie Harris and R. B. Spence.

TURNROW TUNKEL

Did you know that a new limousine has been built for the President? It is equipped with 3 television sets.

That should be handy this fall, in case London, Lady Bird and Abe Fortas each want to watch a different football game. I understand that all privately-owned cars have been closed in Cuba. The owners were put to work in the fields.

Barnders probably won't make very good field hands. There's a lot of difference between pouring corn, and plowing

I read that the complete platform of the Democratic party contains 60 pages. Don't you think that's too long?

Yes, especially since the promises in it amount to about $1 billion per page.

What did you think about Coach Bear Bryant receiving 1 1/2 votes from the Alabama delegation at the Chicago convention?

That's not many votes, but after losing to the Texas Aggies in the Cotton Bowl, Bear couldn't expect a landslide.

I read that a plastic easy-chair which is inflated with air is now on the market.

Is it 2-ply or 4-ply? I might consider buying one, but I've gained a lot of weight lately, and it would be downright embarrassing to have a blowout while watching television.

Did you know that many of the foreign countries criticizing our actions in Vietnam are depending on U. S. power to protect them from a Communist invasion?

Yes, this reminds me of Americans who complain about police brutality, but when they think they are in danger from a criminal they start yelling for a cop.

City sales tax ok'ed by voters at Levelland

In a city-wide election September 9 at Levelland the voters put their stamp of approval on a 1 percent city sales tax by an almost 2 to 1 margin.

The new revenue is expected to produce about $100,000 yearly to enable Levelland to participate in the Canadian River Water project.

Faced with two alternate routes to more money, a 37 percent increase in property taxes or a 36 percent increase in water rates, a majority seemed to think that the sales tax would be the more desirable and spread the burden most equitably.

Important benefits can be derived from cover crop use

Close growing crops, legumes or non-legumes, are needed as a part of a crop rotation or as special crops for land cover in any row crop farming area. Such crops are also needed as timely, emergency protection in the lower erratic rainfall areas for soil protection and to help accomplish the overall long time stability of the soil that is necessary for sustained production.

Growth form, ground coverage and pounds of air dry weight are important points to consider. Close growing crops of medium height, such as wheat, rye or oats, are very effective in protecting the soil from raindrop impact, whereas tall growing crops provide less protection.

Cover cropping is used to keep the fertility tied to the zone of plants roots, prevents the leaching out of nitrogen in the soil. Organic matter is also added to the soil by cover dropping. Also it is known that cover of all kind, growing or dead, is a very definite factor to water intake by the soil.

Proper management practices are required if all the benefits are to be realized from a cover crop. They may need some fertilizing to get the growth from the crop. Some seed may be harvested provided all residues are left on the land. Grazing may be done at any time, provided enough growth is left to protect the land at all times. Generally about a 4 inch average stubble should be left on legumes. At least 50% carbonaceous type plant residue should be left.

These are some of the important contributions that can be expected from the right kind of cover crops that are properly managed.

AUSTRALIAN WINTER PEAS, used as a cover crop on the Raymond Benjamin farm near Morton, are very helpful to protect the soil from erosion and to add organic matter to the soil.

Noted authority claims divorce complex problem

A noted California marriage counselor who recently moved to Morton claims most domestic relations courts handle divorces like a business transaction and that "divorce mill" lawyers are in a lucrative field.

"But divorce isn't that kind of problem," said Calvin Frey, Founder of "DIVORCE ANONYMOUS," 14 years ago. "Too many feelings are involved," he said.

Frey, a former divorcee, said he organized D.A., as he calls it, in 1954 because he saw a need for such a movement through the experience of his own problem. He served as President and National Director.

The purpose of DA is to prevent divorces and offer pre-marital advice. It offers group therapy for divorcees and those who have lost a spouse through death and gives counseling services to couples contemplating divorce. Through D. A., Frey said, divorcees, widows, and widowers can be emotionally "reactivated" by participating in social events together.

"More than one in two marriages will end in divorce," Frey said. "That's the highest rate ever. The highest rate in the nation is in California, and Texas is second."

He said that the aftermath of divorce is more critical than the divorce itself. "You can't go back to your previous life after, say 15 years of marriage," Frey said. "The emotional problems which follow divorce often lead to alcoholism and suicide."

"One man once took his life in my office," said Frey.

Members of D. A., who work on a voluntary basis, offer counseling by forming a panel of four divorcees who work with a judge in hearing and advising prospective divorce cases.

The organization is self-supporting and members contribute to the operating expenses, stated Frey.

Frey is no longer active in D. A., which once had 60,000 members.

He said he has been working for three years on a book entitled, "Divorce Anonymous", which will discuss actual case histories and relate divorce anecdotes.

Frey states that there should be a required waiting period of six months before marriage, rather than before divorce. "This would give people time to think of what they are getting into," he said.

"But," he added, "you cannot legislate morals. Divorce is a special problem which needs special treatment. The number of juvenile delinquents and criminals who come from broken homes is high."

He said the domestic relations court in Los Angeles requests that couples seeking divorce go first to meet with the local D.A. Divorce Prevention Clinic before making a final decision.

"Communication is becoming a lost art," Frey continued. "Couples must learn to communicate. And the old family gatherings is a fast fading tradition. Families need to be together."

"Divorce is especially hard on women,"

Quotes . . . about 'Speaking Out'

"It is true that laws are no better than the people who make them, and it is also true that government programs are no better and no more responsive than the people who administer them. Even more important in our form of government is the need for more of our people to speak out so that laws and programs are responsive to their desires. All too often, the wishes of a vocal minority prevail, because the majority of the people remain silent. This is not in the best interest of America, or any other nation for that matter." —Rep. MARK ANDREWS of North Dakota.

West Texan named on liquor laws study committee

AUSTIN — State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake, Texas, has been named to a special committee to study Texas Liquor Laws pertaining to the financial involvement between establishments that serve alcoholic beverages and their suppliers.

Clayton was a member of the State Liquor Control Committee panel that recommended reforms to the State Liquor Control Act to the special session of the Legislature in June. The measures were approved in the House of Representatives, but failed to pass in the Senate.

After his appointment to the committee, Clayton said it was his hope that the study would result in recommendations to the Legislature, which meets in January, on liquor control laws that would provide for stronger controls on the consumption of alcoholic beverages, particularly pertaining to sales to minors, and that would prohibit organized crime from entering the liquor and beer industry in Texas.
