Neutler Wins Muleshoe Pitching Contest

Muleshoe pitcher has horse laugh on champ

Ed Neutler of Maple stayed right in the pitching and came out smelling like a rose, well, like a rose. Neutler won the muleshoe pitching contest at the fourth of July celebrations in Muleshoe, N.D. He defeated the New Mexico state muleshoe-pitching champion to do it. Claiming it was his first time ever to win muleshoes, which are somewhat different than horseshoes, Neutler defeated his opponents 24-16, 22-13, 22-7, and 21-13 in the four preliminary games. A total of 21 contestants entered the single-mat contest, pitching four games each.

In the finals, Neutler out-pitched Joe Robertson of Clovis, who is New Mexico's champion horseshoe pitcher. The tally in the play-off game was 21-13. Neutler was awarded a trophy for winning the championship.

Whiteface and Morton Lions to roar in two benefit softball games

The Whiteface and Morton Lions Clubs will face each other in two benefit softball games this week at Charles Hofman Memorial Baseball Field at the Cochran County Park. The games are scheduled for 7:00 p.m. tonight (Thursday) and Saturday night.

Proceeds from the games will be used toward furnishing local Boy Scouts a place to meet, according to Tommy Hawkins, president of the Morton Lions Club. Admission to each of the games will be $1 per family.

Morton Lions will man the gate and concession stand, as well as playing softball. Hawkins urged the Morton Lions to report to the ball park at 8:30.

Golf tourney reset

The partnership golf tournament originally scheduled for June 27, 28 and 29 at the Morton Country Club has been rescheduled for July 11, 12 and 13, according to information received by the Tribune from Jim Walker Monday.

Reason for the rescheduling was the recent rains that caused a nearby lake to rise and wash out one of the fairways, tournament officials stated.

4-H Dress Review to be held Thursday

Some 25 girls will be modeling fashions which they have sewn themselves this afternoon (Thursday) in the Cochran County 4-H Club Dress Review. The Dress Review is to be in the banquet room of the county activities building from 3:00 till 5:00 p.m.

A winner and an alternate will be chosen for junior and senior divisions, according to Mary Harbin, Cochran County Home-Demonstration Agent. The winners will participate in the district Dress Review in Lubbock on July 22.

At the district Dress Review, local winners will be treated to a luncheon at Lubbock Country Club, followed by a style show to be presented by Hemphill Wells. The Dress Review itself will then be staged at the Lubbock Garden and Arts Center.

Mrs. Harbin urged all interested persons to attend the review today to show support and encouragement for the 4-H Club girls.

Babe Ruth meet starts Monday

The watchword in Morton next week is "baseball," as the Frontier Babe Ruth League hosts the Babe Ruth All-Star Tournament at Charles Hofman Park.

Mayor Jack Russell, in ceremonies at his office Tuesday afternoon, proclaimed the week of July 14-19 as "Babe Ruth Week in Morton." All-Star teams from across the South Plains will be in Morton for the ten-game tournament which begins Monday the 14th at 6:00 p.m. and continues every night through Saturday the 19th.

Play-offs of best-two-out-of-three are being held this week between Brownfield and Levelland, Lubbock and Littlefield, Slaton and Tahoka, and Post and Lamesa. The four winning All-Star teams from those cities will play in the Morton tournament, along with Frontier and Tri-City teams.

In the first tournament game Monday night at 6:00, the Brownfield-Levelland winner will play the Lubbock-Littlefield winner. In the second game, at 8:00 p.m., the Tri-City (Denver City, Plains, and Seagraves) All-Stars will take on the Frontier All-Stars, made up of players from Sundown, Whiteface, and Morton. The Tri-City and the Frontier All-Star teams drew byes in the tournament, eliminating the need for play-offs such as the other leagues are conducting.

The Frontier League All-Stars who will be participating in the tournament include John Danel, George Trejo, Dee Woolam, Keith Embry, Nathan Gilbreath, Ricky Barrey, Randy Peden, Larry Thompson, Allen Joyce, Joe Partlow, Johnny Washington, Larry Neutler, James Partlow, Bryant Lewis, Rickey Woods, Eddie Tur-

Couple wed in hospital ceremonies in Morton

Matrimonial bliss was just what the doctor ordered Monday night at Cochran Memorial Hospital, as W. B. Mitchell of Morton and Amanda King of Columbus, Georgia, were united in holy wedlock.

Mitchell, who suffered a heart attack several days ago, remained in bed for the no-ring ceremony. Harold W. Drennan, Morton elementary principal who also is an ordained Baptist minister, performed the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harris of Morton witnessed the ceremony. A number of unidentified persons around the hospital also sneaked a few peeks.

The nursing staff of the hospital served coffee and doughnuts to those present following the wedding.

The couple has announced no plans for a honeymoon.

Congressional cut will effect school

Proposed budget cuts now being considered by a Congressional subcommittee would cause a severe blow to the programs of Morton schools, according to Superintendent Bob E. Travis. Funds for books and teaching materials and for audio-visual materials and equipment would be virtually eliminated if the cuts are allowed to pass.

The Nixon administration has asked the House of Representatives to significantly reduce, or eliminate altogether, budgets for books, library materials, audio-visual equipment, library building funds, educational materials for college and university libraries, and guidance and counseling services.

Under the proposed reduction in funds for education, the education budget would be cut by $1 billion from 1968. The total national budget is being raised by $8 billion. The full proposed budget for education would represent slightly more than one-and-one-half percent of the federal budget.

Congressman George H. Mahon of Lubbock is a member of the appropriations subcommittee which is considering the proposed cuts. It is expected that the vote will come by July 17 with the appropriations as voted then going to the full House appropriations committee of which Mahon is the chairman, and then to the House floor for action.

If the proposed cuts are not restored, local public schools will feel the effects in the academic and fiscal year 1969-70. Books and teaching materials will be eliminated in elementary and secondary schools by a budget cut to zero from $50 million available in 1969, (Title II, Elementary and Secondary Education Act.)

Virtually all funds for audio-visual materials and equipment in grades one through twelve will also be eliminated. Appropriations averaged $79 million for fiscal years 1966-69, making possible innovative educational programming through the grades. (Title III, National Defense Education Act.) Because these funds are required to be matched at the state and local level, the loss of funds is, in effect, doubled.

4-H horse show

Stiff competition and keen horsemanship will be in evidence Saturday at the rodeo grounds in Morton as the Cochran County 4-H Club stages its annual Horse Show, according to county agent Roy McClung. The show begins at 9:00 a.m.

In addition to showmanship and halter classes, performance events will include barrel racing, pole bending, reining, and western pleasure riding. The top ten performers will be chosen to represent Cochran County in the District Two Horse Show. John Trimmer of Hale Center will be the judge for the show.

In urging all interested people to attend the show, McClung stated, "Turning out to watch and support the boys and girls really gives them a boost and encourages them to do their best."

Trades Day is boon to Morton customers

Twenty-five people hit the jackpot Monday afternoon as the drawings were made in the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce's fifth monthly Trades Day. Those whose names were drawn will be given valuable prizes by the Morton business firms who participate in the Trades Day promotion. Drawings for the prizes are held the first Monday of each month. Monday's drawing took place in the Chamber offices.

Winners of the July prizes include Joe Bowers, wash-and-grease job from Reynolds-Hamilton Ford; Carol Ann Freeland, artificial flower arrangement from City Flowers; Tiny Gaston, blanket from the New York Store; Fred Crow, floor-mat set from Gwatney-Wells Chevrolet; and Mary Kirk, $7.50 gift certificate from

Travis stated that the libraries and the audio-visual materials collections of Morton schools would not have attained the level of quality and quantity that they now have, had it not been for the federal funds used in recent years to purchase the materials.

The proposed cuts would also reduce public and college libraries and would eliminate all funds for guidance and counseling services, including standardized testing programs.

Travis reported that he has written to Congressman Mahon to express opposition to the proposed budget cuts, and he urged concerned citizens to express their views to Mahon on this threat to the quality of American education. If the cuts are allowed to pass, Morton and other communities across the country may shortly find their children deprived of the educational excellence which this country is capable of offering, Travis stated.

Maurice Lewallen, an official of the Frontier League, stated that a large influx of visitors is expected in Morton during the week. The visitors should cause an increase in trade for restaurants and service stations, Lewallen pointed out, and he urged Mortonites to make the guests feel welcome here.

Farm Bureau Queen, talent contests are open for entries

Some fortunate girl in Cochran County will become Farm Bureau Queen later this month when the Cochran County Farm Bureau stages its annual Queen and Talent Find contests. The contests will be in the auditorium of the county activities building in Morton on Thursday, July 31, at 8:00 p.m., according to Mrs. Edward Brownlow, who is making arrangements for the big event.

Girls who enter the Queen contest must be single, must be a daughter or a sister of a Farm Bureau member who is actively engaged in agricultural production, and must be between the ages of 16 and 22. The contestants will be judged on appearance, poise, and personality. They will be required to answer questions in front of the audience, including a one-minute talk in answer to the question, "Why are you glad that your family belongs to Farm Bureau?" Also, the girls will model dress-up dresses and formals.

The Cochran County Queen will participate, at Farm Bureau expense, in the district Queen contest. The district Queen will receive a watch, and she and her attendants receive an expense-paid trip to the state convention.

Girls who are interested in entering the Queen contest should sign up and secure a copy of the rules at the Farm Bureau office on East Washington in Morton.

Judges for the Queen contest will be Robin Taylor, Home Demonstration Agent at Muleshoe; Jerry Hutton, manager of Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce; and Ernest Ramm, Farm Bureau president at Muleshoe. Elvis E. Fleming of Morton will be the master of ceremonies for the event.

The Talent Find contest, which is separate from the Queen contest, is not limited to girls. Talent contestants must be amateurs, must be members of the Farm Bureau or of a Farm Bureau family, and must be between the ages of 17 and 30. Contestants will be judged on the basis on audience appeal and performance. Each entry must make arrangements for accompaniment.

Talent judges will be Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Baxter of Levelland, choir directors at South Plains College; and Bill Wood, band director at SPC.

Prospective talent entrants should register at the Farm Bureau Office. Winners will participate in district competition at Farm Bureau expense. Mrs. Brownlow reported that other entertainment besides the contestants would be included in the show.

Application timing important in postemergence herbicide

Proper timing of postemergence herbicides will keep cotton free of weeds, but producers should not wait too long to begin post-emergence applications even if preemergence chemicals have been used, says Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist at Texas A&M University.

Herbicides are designed to help keep a weed or grass problem from developing. Things to consider are size of the cotton, weed or grass that is to be controlled and also the temperature. Texas cotton producers have available to them more post-emergence herbicides than ever before.

Herbicide oil or napha is still one of the most effective materials that can be applied, said Elliott. It may not be quite as effective, he noted, in the control of teaweed or cocklebur as DSMA or MSMA combined with Cotolan or Herban.

Cotolan plus DSMA or MSMA plus a surfactant, may be used on cotton that is three inches or more in height. Mixtures are usually effective on weeds that are less than two inches in height. The combination is generally more effective than Cotolan alone, especially on cockleburs, Johnsongrass, and tines.

Herban plus DSMA or MSMA plus a surfactant is also recommended. This is another mixture that is generally effective on most weeds in the seedling stage. After cotton is six inches or more in height, the list of herbicides increases. Cotolan, Cotolan DSMA or MSMA, Caparol, Caparol plus DSMA or MSMA, Karmex, Karmex plus DSMA or MSMA, Lorox and Lorox plus DSMA or MSMA, should all be applied with a surfactant and as a directed spray.

Materials containing the arsenicals of DSMA or MSMA are more effective than individual herbicides, but are limited to two applications and should not be applied after first bloom. It is not recommended that any postemergence herbicide be applied over the top of cotton, noted Elliott, as it could result in reduced yields and delayed maturity.

Elliott emphasized that the farmer should check with the county agent for correct rates of application, and should also ask for a copy of B-1029, "Suggestions for Weed Control with Chemicals."

Texas was the first state in the nation to construct roadside parks.

Red Cross to get shot in arm Monday evening

An attempt will be made Monday night to give new life to the Cochran County Red Cross chapter at an urgent organizational meeting at the county courthouse. The meeting will take place in the downstairs meeting room at 8:30 p.m.

Charles Fodor, Red Cross field representative from Lubbock, will be present to assist in the selection of officers and the formulation of plans for carrying out the work of the Red Cross in Cochran County. County Treasurer Bill Crone has been doing virtually all the work that the Red Cross has done in the county for several years, without physical, economic, or moral support. It is hoped that this meeting will renew local interest in the work of the Red Cross.

Crone, Fodor, and Morton mayor Jack Russell are making personal contacts in an effort to get community leaders and other interested persons to the meeting. In a statement to the Tribune, Crone requested that all civic-minded citizens make a special effort to attend this important meeting.

Bailey County Water Association will meet

The Bailey County Water Association announces a meeting for Monday night, July 14, at the Muleshoe High School Cafeteria at 8 p.m. Everyone interested in the present and future needs for water should attend.

State Representative, Billy Clayton, Executive Director of Water Inc., will present a film, "Time for Action," and discuss the Governor's Committee of "500," Water Legislation, and the constitutional amendment No. 2 (H.J.R. 9) as it relates to the Texas Water Plan.

"Time for Action" is a sound and color 16 mm movie on Texas water. It relates the role water has played in past development of the state and the need for additional supplies to meet increased needs of the future.

The film emphasizes how water has become an essential part of our modern way of life and its importance to cities, industries, agriculture, navigation, recreation, fish and wildlife, and other essential uses. Also stressed is that continued growth and development of the state will require increasing quantities of water to meet expanded needs of the future. Ground water, now supplying 75% of the state's water requirements, will be depleted to the extent that only one-half of the amount presently used will be available by the year 2020, when the state's total water requirements will be doubled. Also brought out in the film are many other water problems which Texans will face in future years.

The film indicates solution to future Texas water problems can come through the framework of the Texas Water Plan. Implementation of the Texas Water Plan can provide water for meeting future water needs for all purposes in all areas of Texas for all Texans.

Domestic marketing certificates for eligible 1969-crop wheat will be worth $1.52 per bushel, 14 cents per bushel more than for the 1968-crop certificate value. The certificates are based on wheat parity price as of July 1, 1969.

Payments totalling about $800 million will be made over the next three months to approximately 980,000 farmers participating in the 1969-wheat program.

The certificate value is based on the difference between July 1, 1969, wheat parity price of $2.77 per bushel and the 1969-crop national average loan rate of $1.25 per bushel. Certificate payments to farmers are based on projected production on 43 percent of 1969 wheat acreage allotments. For 1968-crop wheat, certificates worth $1.38 per bushel were issued on 40 percent of the projected production of the allotted acres.

Conservation District News

From the Office of BUDD FOUNTAIN

Litter is almost as bitter an enemy of conservation farmers and ranchmen as erosion, a local conservation leader said this week.

Mrs. Seagler named as CAC head Tuesday

Mrs. Evelyn Seagler was elected president of the Cochran County Community Action Committee Tuesday night in a formal meeting at the Morton school cafeteria.

Other officers were also elected by the general board of directors for the committee. The committee will seek federal funds through the Office of Economic Opportunity to assist the poor in this county.

The meeting was convened by Howard Maddera, director of the Lubbock-South Plains Area Regional Planning Committee. George Tiner, Maddera's administrative assistant, was also present. After a few quick telephone calls to get a quorum of the board present, Mrs. W. G. Freeland volunteered to act as temporary chairman until a president was elected.

Mrs. Seagler took charge of the meeting after her election and conducted the election of the other officers. James K. Walker of Morton was chosen for 1st vice-president, and Santos Gonzalez of Whiteface was elected 2nd vice-president. Mrs. H. B. Barker and Mrs. Freeland were elected as treasurer and secretary, respectively.

A executive committee consisting of the president and five other board members was elected for the purpose of conducting the affairs of the committee between board meetings. Those elected to the executive committee include Gonzalez, Mrs. George Trejo, Mrs. Lucille Wynn, Mrs. Katherine Joyce, and Leonard Coleman.

Budd Fountain made a motion that the committee conduct a survey of the county in order to determine the specific needs of the poor; the motion passed. This is necessary in order to secure planning and operating funds from the OEO.

Approximately ten persons besides the 11 board members attended the meeting.

Budd Fountain, District Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, said that was why his office and the Cochran Soil and Water Conservation District were glad to join with the Beautify Texas Council in helping focus public attention on the statewide litter problem. The Council recently asked all Texans to renew anti-litter efforts this summer.

"Too many people still litter our countryside with bottles, cans, and other trash," Budd stressed. "This not only mars the beauty of our lands, but when it collects on farm or grassland, it can also become a conservation problem."

Budd listed several ways litter is a conservation menace. First, is a fire hazard. He pointed out that under certain conditions, bottles had been blamed with magnifying the sun's rays enough to start costly grass and forest fires. Every year, countless wildlife and livestock are poisoned by litter thrown in pastures and fields. Others are starved or injured when they get their heads or feet caught in bottles, cans, and other trash.

The conservationist also said litter hinders farming and ranching operations; it can pollute ponds and streams, killing fish; some trash catches water, increasing mosquitoes, thus becoming a health problem; it can be a safety hazard; and it costs millions just to pick up every year. Besides that, he said, it's ugly.

"Conservation farmers and ranchmen do as much to help beautify Texas as anyone," Budd added. "Neatly contoured fields, well-managed grasslands and woodlands, sediment-free ponds, lakes, and streams, sloped and seeded gullied areas; all this and other work done by conservation farmers adds to the beauty of the landscape. The least the rest of us can do is put our litter in a trash can instead of throwing it on the land to mar this beauty," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Sayers and Kelly of Oklahoma City were weekend guests of his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sayers.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Turner and daughter, Mrs. Michaels of Oxford, Alabama were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Strickland. Mrs. Turner is Mr. Strickland's cousin.

NY Jets' star Don Maynard remembers Three Way school

By ELVIS E. FLEMING

"It was great at Three Way." Those are the sentiments of Don Maynard, star pass-receiver of the American Football League's world champion New York Jets, who graduated from the eighth grade at Three Way School near Maple in 1949.

"The cap-and-gown graduation was something. Never did and never have I heard of another school doing that before eighth grade and then seniors also." Maynard entered Three Way in the eighth grade in the fall of 1948 and attended there a year and a half, moving to Portales at the beginning of the spring semester, 1950. Maynard's father, E. T. Maynard, managed the gin at Stegall, north of the school.

Maynard reminisced in a recent letter to the Tribune, "... living 13 1/2 miles from school, and then the 45 miles on the bus in the evening after school. Rather unusual but still was great experience and no complaints."

After Portales, it was Lamesa, San Angelo, and Colorado City. Don, or "Donnie," as he was known in those days, graduated from Colorado City High School in 1953. He started to Rice that fall, but since he did not like it at Rice, he transferred to Texas Western College in El Paso. He graduated in 1958 with a major in physical education and a teaching certificate in industrial arts. While he was at TWC, Don was a top football and track star of the Border Conference. He married his wife, Marilyn, in 1956 and thus became the first athlete at TWC to lose a scholarship because of marriage. Their children are Terri, 10, and Scott, 7.

Don played professional football with the New York Giants in 1958, the Hamilton (Canada) Tigercats in 1959, and the New York Titans, 1960 through 1962. The Former Three Way student . . .

DON MAYNARD, star of pro football's New York Jets, is pictured here. The former student of Three Way School, 1948-50, is ranked No. 1 in all professional football history for yards gained through pass reception. The big-time sports hero fondly remembers his life at Three Way.

Titans became the Jets in 1963, and Maynard has been playing with them ever since. At the end of the 1968 season, he had gained 9,433 yards through pass receptions, an accomplishment which ranks him No. 1 in all professional football history.

The awards, honors, and outstanding achievements of Maynard as a professional football player would fill a fair-sized book. As a member of an AFL team, he holds 16 different records, mostly in regard to pass-receiving, yardage gained, and touch-downs made.

Some of the members of Maynard's eighth grade class at Three Way are Caton Tyson of Maple, Carlton "Fuzzy" Tanner of Levelland, Eugene Witner of Morton, and yours truly. Most of the others live a greater distance away. Our class did a musical show, and various ones of us sang solos. Remembering the show in his recent letter, Don wrote "Do you still sing the 'Lovesick Blues'? I'll always remember that."

Mrs. George Tyson of Maple remembers that Don was "sweet" on her daughter, Wyonna. "He was a tall, skinny kid with curly hair, and was big for his age," Mrs. Tyson recalls.

Buck Tyson of Morton spent several hours visiting with Maynard in El Paso recently, where Don lives. Buck was very impressed by Don's clean vocabulary and Christian spirit. Maynard is a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He was quoted in the "Colorado City Record," February 2, 1969, "I don't drink or smoke, anything like that. Never took a drink. Don't figure I missed anything." Maynard was in Colorado City to be honored by that city's "Don Maynard Day" celebration.

In his off-season, Maynard is involved in a number of pursuits. He taught industrial arts for several years. He is also a licensed plumber, "... which I am as proud of as my college degree since it takes five years or 10,000 hours to get one in Texas." Other businesses include automobile air-conditioner business, car and pickup butane conversion, Bales automatic transmissions, Hotline credit card registry service, Empress Travel Service promotion, selling Coolertron equipment and franchises, and selling sporting goods for Couches of America.

One very conspicuous outside activity is a television commercial for Score hair dressing. Maynard sings with ex-Texas Techsman Bake Turner and two other Jets in the commercials. Maynard also does Bales transmission commercials on the radio.

Perhaps it should not be mentioned, but there is some disagreement between the Jets' version of Don's age and that of his transcript at Three Way School. The mimeographed biography furnished by Maynard gives his birth as 1937 and states that he is 32 years old. However, the school records show that he was born January 25, 1935, in Crosbyton, which would correspond correctly with his graduation date.

It is not often that a celebrity of Don Maynard's magnitude will claim any sort of relationship to this part of the country. Patrons and students of Three Way School can be justly proud of their connection with one of professional football's brightest stars.

"Always enjoy keeping up with the Eagles from Three Way. Tell everyone hello, and hope to see you sometime. With best regards, Don Maynard."

TRUTH IS A BELL that is not always tolled.

TWO LOCAL CITIZENS, one who shall remain nameless and the other Jim Walker, chief barrister of Cochran County, were returning to Morton from Lubbock a few days ago, when the party of the first part was stopped by Patrolman T. A. Rowland, another of our town's gentry, for driving at a rate of speed which was in excess of that which is lawfully permitted under the statutes of this state. When T. A. approached the window of the car, Jim leaned across his embarrassed friend and mouthed, "I sure am glad you stopped him, T. A. I've been trying to get him to slow down ever since we left Lubbock."

WOULD IT BE IMPOLITE to walk into a crematory and ask "What's cooking?"

WE COULD NEVER UNDERSTAND how come a lot of farmers feel that their fields are so small that they have to use public roads, even paved highways sometimes, for turning rows. They sure do mess up the roads and make them rough. David Murrah allows, much to the chagrin of school bus drivers like him.

THOSE LIMEY SOLDIERS who passed out from the heat whilst being reviewed by the Queen ort to visit us if they think the high 70's is a heat wave!

THAT X-RAY OUTFIT at Lubbock certainly has our vote. As soon as the films were developed from the trip their trailer made to Morton last spring, they discovered a very suspicious growth in the lungs of a local teacher. They called at once to report the finding. As it turned out, the fungus growth has already been discovered and removed the day before the call. The teacher, Coach Tannehill, had been in the hospital with pneumonia, and the doctors there discovered the non-malignant growth.

IF A MAN'S FATHER came from Poland and his mother came from China, would that make him a Poland-China?

THE CHIEF RESIDENT PHILOSOPHER at one of Morton's tonsorial parlors related to us the other day how that when he was younger he thought that there were some people who had principles above the Almighty Dollar. Now, however, quoth Cuz, he has decided that anybody will do pert' near anything if you lay enough dollars down in front of him. Alas, Dear Cuz, 'twas ever thus.

WE WERE CONFRONTED with this statement recently in the office of an educator: "I know you think you understand what you believe you heard me say, but I don't believe you realize that what you think you heard is not what I meant." How's that again?

BEN AND GUS tried to put the shuck on Preston-baby, but it looks as if the Guv is going to have the last laugh after all. Not that both points of view don't have their merits, but the legislators didn't have a leg to stand on after the governor's television appearance. Of course, the speaker and the lieutenant governor still have the real power in Austin, because they can kill any bill before the governor ever has a chance to see it.

T. D. MARSHALL of Morton says that in years like this when he has to plant and replant after rains, hail, sandstorms, etc., he thinks he'll stop calling himself a "farmer" and start using the more elite title of "planter." Planting is all he's doing; he's not getting a chance to harvest anything.

WE NOTICE A LOT of bragging on the boob-tube out of Lubbock recently about the number of new industries, college buildings, stores, houses, etc., that are being built there. Lubbock might be a good place to live if they ever get it finished.

"HEE HAW," that new CBS-TV show on Channel 13 Sunday nights, has this joker on it doing funny news reports on a radio station called K-O-R-N. Shucks, we've been calling our local station by those call-letters for years.

WELL, TILL NET WEEK, y'all remember to use your electric toothbrush regularly and see your electrician twice a year.

Status change report procedures for SS recipients are given

Residents of this area who are receiving monthly social security checks are reminded by John G. Hutton, social security manager in Lubbock, to report directly to the Lubbock office any change of address or other events affecting continued receipt of their checks.

Reports may be made by mail (the back of the check envelope may be used for this), phone, or in person. Appropriate report forms are available at the Lubbock office.

Hutton said this reporting method enables the district office to take advantage of the increased capacity of its high speed communications circuits to transmit information to record centers. Until recently, social security beneficiaries were encouraged to notify the Social Security Administration about the occurrence of these events by mailing pre-addressed post-card forms to a record center.

Events that affect receipt of monthly social security checks, in addition to address changes, are starting or stopping work (employment), marriage, or remarriage in some instances, divorce, and death.

By Libby Mudgett

President Nixon, I promised when you were elected, I've been giving lots of thought to your water army and/or changing of the laws. I saw in the paper where you got impatient and went ahead without my advice. This is truly unfortunate. I've gone into this thing deeply and was ready to submit findings to you. Now you've blown it. I was ready to tell you that after due thought processes and much analysis, I come to the conclusion that there absolutely and positively no fair way to have a draft. Theoretically, the best thing to do is have a professional army... well-paid, equipped, crack troops that do nothing but soldier all their lives. Okay, call in mercenaries. As you have kept the draft for 19-20 years and introduced lottery into the system and have made it unfair than anything on earth advised you on this? The only thing right that you did was select the best age — 19. You said: "The present draft arrangements make it extremely difficult for young people to plan intelligently. They make some of the most important decisions of their lives, decisions concerning education, career, marriage, and so on." And you're right about that. At 19, you'll end their agony, inaction, and maybe them. Everyone realizes it's tough to be President. It's also tough to be a young male (19). But I never thought the day would come when you would evade your duty on an important thing like this and turn it over to chance. Sure, life is a great big gamble, but does the draft have to be? Now you're wondering to whom would I turn the responsibility of deciding which 19 year old boy will have to go to the service and which boy will not. Well, I wouldn't turn it over to anybody. If you'd handle this right, you'd have all the 18 and 19 year old volunteers you'd need and more. I recommend two things to accomplish this. First, take that little matter of registering that a lad of 18 is supposed to do on or shortly after his birthday. Who do you have him go to? A local man, in most cases, who may not even be in his forties but who to the 18 year old is ancient. What you need here is your best looking, swaggiest, most highly decorated servicemen you've got — in short, the ones you now use for recruiting. Why not let them be the first contact that 18 year olds have with the services? Second, require each and every soldier, sailor, or marine to go back to his home town at least once a year in his dress uniform, saunter into his old high school for a visit, charm all of his former teachers into a state of silliness, and steal all of the girls' hearts away. If you'd do these two things you might be surprised at the volunteering you'll have going on from the 18 and 19-year-olds, who are still at the impressionable age (Yeah really, even in these days of jaded youth). One day when he gets mad at his parents presto! A prime-aged civilian

L. D. (Don) Anderson of Crosbyton, cotton farmer turned world traveler, has started on the third leg of a 40-day, triple purpose journey to Africa, Greece, Turkey, Pakistan, Thailand, Hong Kong and Japan.

As of this writing on July 3 he is in Hong Kong making contacts with prospective buyers for the cotton he and his neighbors on the Texas High Plains grow each year.

He attended the annual meeting of the International Cotton Advisory Committee in Kampala, Uganda, Africa June 1 through June 11 as the cotton producer adviser to the official ICAC delegation from the U. S. He was invited to serve in that capacity by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford B. Hardin.

His trip is sponsored by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., of which he is president, with financial assistance from other segments of the High Plains cotton industry.

The second objective of the trip was to study foreign cotton production, with particular emphasis on production costs and potential ability to compete with Plains-grown cotton in foreign markets. These studies were carried out in Uganda, at Mwanza and Tabora in Tanzania, at Nairobi in Kenya, at Athens, Greece; Ankara, Turkey and in West Pakistan.

The production studies were completed earlier this week and Anderson arrived in Bangkok, Thailand on July 1 for the beginning of his market-building activities.

He is expected to finish his work with spinners and cotton buyers in Hong Kong on July 4 and will go from there to Tokyo and Osaka, Japan on a similar mission.

He is accompanied on the trip by his 21-year-old son, Robin, a Junior Marketing student at Texas Tech. Robin is traveling at his own expense.

The two are expected back in the U. S. about July 13.

"There is little doubt in my mind that non-woven, disposable textile products in the years ahead will be an increasingly significant factor in the market for textile fibers, including cotton."

This comment was drawn from Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, by a newspaper report on the annual meeting of the Disposables Association, held recently in Washington, D. C.

A speaker at the new association's meeting, Samuel Fleming of Arthur D. Little, Inc., forecast that for the next decade sales of disposable products should experience a growth rate "that is among the highest for any industrial sector or product group in the U. S. economy."

The Disposables Association was formed by 15 firms in 1968 and now has a membership numbering 148 companies, including firms from the U. S. and 12 other countries.

The president of Blessings, Inc., Robert Alpert, stated not long ago that "The disposables field is growing at an annual rate of 20 to 25 percent."

Most disposables are made by the non-woven process, which involves bonding a web of fibers together by a variety of methods both mechanical and adhesive. Two new processes, electrostatic and controlled extrusion bonding, are said to be almost ready for commercial use.

Currently most companies in the disposable field are concentrating on the sanitary, surgical and industrial applications for fabrics, such as wiping and polishing cloths, diapers, surgical masks and gowns, institutional bedsheets and into a soldier, sailor, or marine! Or when he and his girl break up. Or when the principal or some teacher and he are at odds. Or his grades are rotten. Oh, it's a little underhanded, all right. But what do you call a toss of the dice? Or are you going eenie, meenie, miney, moe? Or pull names out of a fishbowl blind-folded? Your way is more underhanded than mine!

Yours truly,

pillowcases, placemats etc. But Johnson believes this may well be just the beginning and that as the technology of non-woven constructions progresses, the use of non-wovens for clothing is the next logical step.

He points to the phenomenal growth of permanent press fabrics in both men's and women's apparel and says "The same people who don't like to iron clothing don't like to wash them, too."

And while Johnson is concerned that most non-wovens are now being made of synthetic fibers, he does not necessarily think this will always be the case.

"With research that will show manufacturers how to make maximum use of cotton's inherent qualities and minimize its shortcomings, I believe a sizable market for cotton in non-wovens can be developed," he said.

Among cotton's advantages over most synthetic fibers in non-woven fabrics are its high absorbency, high wet strength, soft hand and resistance to heat. Its principal disadvantages are poor resiliency and shape retention and a relatively limited range of staple lengths and diameters.

Johnson said PCG is moving in two directions to increase the amount of research done on cotton in non-woven fabrics.

"First, we are taking steps to determine what research projects we ourselves may be able to carry out through the Textile Research Center at Tech within the bounds of our financial limitations. And second we are conferring with USDA's Southern Regional Research and Development Laboratory at New Orleans and with officials of the Cotton Producers Institute as to their capability and willingness to conduct non-woven research on cotton."

The big economy of non-wovens over woven and knit fabrics comes through the saving of labor in the spinning and weaving systems. And as labor becomes a bigger and bigger part of the cost of all manufactured items, non-woven fabrics will become more and more attractive to manufacturer and consumer alike.

Labor costs, the rising cost of dry cleaning and other fabric-related services, and the public's consuming desire for convenience items all are expected to help accelerate the trend toward non-woven, disposable textile products.

"When all these things are taken into consideration it is not at all difficult to envision the day when much of our apparel and many of our household items will be worn or used once, twice or three times and then discarded," Johnson said.

Child's summer job may be tax boon

A child's summer job may be a tax boon to many parents, says a Texas A&M extension home management specialist.

Both parent and working child can get $600 exemptions. Even though the child earns more than $600, the parent is entitled to an exemption because he supports the child. Law permits the youth to have his own personal exemption even though the parent claims him as a dependent.

Children, however, must be full-time students or under 19. This is the only situation in which two different taxpayers get the $600 personal deduction for the same person.

List wallet's contents

What would happen if you lost your wallet? Could someone go on a shopping spree at your expense?

This is one hazard of the new credit world, points out an Extension specialist at Texas A&M.

Record names and addresses of credit card companies so you can phone and write to them to stop use of the cards. List, too, licenses and other items kept in your wallet.

Keep the list in a safe place for emergencies, the specialist advises.

All Great Plains and breeders from neighboring states are invited to bring bulls in for evaluation. Mr. Hoelzen does the ultrasonic field work for Dr. Harold White who does the computer work.

Mr. Charles Yarbrough, field representative for Merck Chemical Division, will present an informative talk on animal nutrition and internal parasites, as part of the afternoon program.

Ken Holloway, American Shorthorn Association fieldman, will present a color slide report of the Second Patterns for progress type conference, scheduled for June 8th in Aurora, Illinois.

A freeze-branding demonstration will be given by Burl Jones, Shorthorn breeder from Tulia, Texas.

Headstarters treated

Special treats were the fare for the Headstart children at Morton elementary schools last week. They were entertained on Wednesday by Jim Miller, minister of music at First Baptist Church, who sang folk songs and played his guitar.

Ice cream and soft drinks were the order of the day Thursday afternoon as the children and workers had a period of fellowship. The ice cream and soft drinks were provided by Mr. and Mrs. Cal Frey. Dr. Fanella Frey gave the children physicals earlier in the summer.

A third treat was a holiday on Friday when the classes were dismissed in observance of July 4th.

On Wednesday of this week, 16 of the children were taken to Clovis for dental treatment, according to Harold Drennan, director.

LP records at library

A high-fidelity stereo record circulation department has been added to the county library, according to Mrs. H. B. Spotts, librarian.

N. Racusin, representative of RCA records, has presented the library with 75 albums of classical, children's, country, and western music.

The albums may be checked out for two-week periods the same as books, Mrs. Spotts reported.

REST

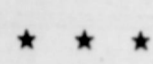

A day of play has tired
this little one, but now sleep will bring about the needed rest. This is the time for restoring energies, and breaks the day's pace.
The Lord set aside a day for rest and worship. This day allows us to be in the Lord's house and renews our energies for the week to come.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family.
Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
