From Chieftain Field To The Battle Field

BY RON CARR

Dario Hernandez is back home now. It has only been about a year and a half since he crossed the stage at the Friona junior high auditorium with the Class of 2002.

At FHS he dodged a few tacklers and inside pitches as a member of the Chieftain football and baseball teams. But then he grew up. For 8 1/2 months he dodged Iraqi bullets.

On May 28, 2002, four days after graduation, he left for Marine boot camp at Camp Pendleton in San Diego, California, weighing 150 pounds. When boot camp ended he weighed 170, was assigned to the 7th Marines, 1st Battalion, Weapons Company, 81mm mortar squad.

He married Dianna Tirado of Friona in August of 2002 and they were stationed at Twentynine Palms, California. Dario's unit shipped out to Kuwait on January 31, 2003, where they stayed for 1 1/2 months waiting for the war to start. When it did they headed for Baghdad. Along the way, they seized and saved Iraq's largest oil

The Marines moved up 2-3 times a day, his mortar squad providing security for forward advancing troops. Each time they stopped, they had to dismount, dig in, and calibrate the heavy mortar. On one occasion, the Air Force dropped a 10,000 pound bomb on a nearby hill. He said the top of the hill just disappeared.

When they got to Baghdad, the 1st Marines were already there at Baghdad University. asked him what it was like being shot at. "You don't think about it much. When the shooting begins you worry more about the guys on either side of you." No Marine in his unit died during their stay in Iraq. One time a fellow Marine lost an eye when he stuck a bayonet into an Iraqi truck tire to disable it and the tire blew up.

From Baghdad, they went to the holy city of Najaf, where they patrolled the streets. Because of the close action, Hernandez's mortar squad was not needed, so they became foot soldiers, packing rifles, patrolling streets.

"How did they know who the enemy was?" I asked. He said, fire with permission from commanders and if we were in real danger. Later, any Iraqi with a weapon who posed a potential threat could be fired on."

An 81mm mortar has a range of two miles and a kill radius of 40 meters. In one engagement, his squad was directed to fire 42 high explosive (HE) rounds into a field where enemy had been identified. He said a team inspected the field later and reported that the Iragis had herded some civil-

Band Boosters To Meet In Nov.

There will be two Band Booster meetings this month.

The first one will be Tuesday, badge. He hopes to be promoted November 4 and the second one Tuesday, November 18, both at months will be on track for the 7:00 p.m. in the Band Hall at Friona High School.

The purpose of the meetings is to make plans for the Band Booster Mexican Dinner to be held on Sunday, November 23 from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Parent Assistance With one remaining home varsity football game, Friona ISD administration officials are seeking

parent cooperation to see that children are more closely supervised at school football games.

Crowd control and child safety has become a major concern at Friday night ballgames. Too many young children are running and playing in the area between the concession stand, restrooms, and under the bleachers. Injuries have resulted.

Improvements are underway at Chieftain Stadium to ease the congestion under the stands and to improve security lighting.

Unaccompanied children below third grade age will be sent back to the stands. Parents are asked to keep their children with them during the game, and go with them to the restroom or concession area.

All other students and spectators will be asked to move into seating areas. Friona ISD students who do not cooperate will be subject to campus discipline the following week. Other personnel will be escorted from the premises.

Additionally, gate personnel will continue charging admission through the third quarter at the Abernathy football game.

Chiefs Wary Of LHS In Friday's Outing

The Chieftains and Lockney both stand 1-2 in district going into Friday's game at Lockney, but the teams have had somewhat different paths coming to this juncture.

Lockney, defending district co-champs, came into the season as favorites to repeat, but have lost district games to Abernathy and Floydada (28-18) last week.

"They're pretty tough. (Mark) Ford was co-MVP in the district last year as a sophomore, and now he has another season under his belt," said Coach Bob Ferguson.

A year ago, Ford (6-1, 175) rushed for 1,376 yards during the regular season, and scored 132 points. The Longhorns have eight starters back from a year ago, on both sides of the line.

Like most teams they've already played, the 'Horns have some good size on their team. "We'll have to try to run around them, like we did at Hale Center,"

Ferguson said. The Chieftain coach said that the attitude on the team was much better this week, after breaking their losing streak against the Owls. Physically, the team is in about the best shape it has been for some time, the coach indicated.

Lockney won the last year's game 33-21 tightening up the all-time series which now reads 14 wins for Friona, 9 for Lockney and 1 tie. Friona had won six straight in the series prior to last year.

The two teams first played in 1938.

Editorial Nothing Good Ever Happens! BY RON CARR

This is Red Ribbon Week. It is a state campaign in our schools and community to try and keep kids off drugs, alcohol, or other mindaltering chemicals.

It is supposed to be an education program warning our youth of the consequences of drug use. I hope it works. The dangers of drug use are apparent every day yet some kids and young people believe themselves to be "bullet proof" when it comes to trouble.

I know about bullet proof. I have been "8-feet tall and bullet proof" a few times in my past. A wise woman (who happened to be a judge) once told me that "nothing good ever happens because of drugs and alcohol". I tried to prove her theory wrong but failed.

Friona interim police chief Tony Baptiste wrote in this paper a couple of weeks ago about the drug problem in Friona. Many citizens are ignorant of the local drug scene by choice. It is easy to ignore something until it shows up in your own life. Baptiste said half of our local crime is related to drug activity.

He continued: "Do we have drug dealers in Friona? Absolutely. Do we have drug addicts in Friona? Absolutely!" Chief Leon Saddler would probably certify the same thing about Bovina.

To impressionable, energetic kids, drugs are "fun and exciting". In the beginning. Drugs are trouble sooner or later. Users need money to buy. To get money, stealing starts. Family trouble follows. Resentment and anger and crime spill over into the community. Violence and prison, hospitals or asylums are the ultimate destinations of drug

Support the Red Ribbon campaign not only this week but every week. Help keep a kid off drugs by example and guidance and encouragement. Where do you start?

With this: nothing good ever happens because of drugs or alcohol.

YOUR EYES

PEOPLE WITH ALL NEEDS APPRECIATE CONTACT LENSES

Growing numbers of people are getting contacts because of their safety and ease of use. In addition, a greater variety of individuals are able to use these vision alds. For example. Bifocal contacts are allowing more baby-boomers and seniors to wear lenses.

In the past, some patients were not able to wear contacts for long periods of time, because they were uncomfortable or did not allow enough oxygen into the eye. Now these concerns are significantly reduced because of changes in the lens materials and processing. Only a small number of individuals cannot use contacts because of specific problems such as nflamed or infected eyes

New Contact Wearers often complain of having dry eyes. Lenses are available that help reduce this problem. In addition, lubrication drops can be used to remoisten the eyes. Most adverse reactions that occur with contacts can be quickly stopped if contact wear is ceased for short times. If lens users carefully follow instructions given by the eye-care practitioner, the risk of vision problems becomes extremely small.

Mustangs Corralled By Nazareth Swifts 32-7

The Bovina Mustangs met Jordy Rowland and the Nazareth Swifts Friday night at Mustang Field. The final score was Jordy Rowland 32, Mustangs 7. At least that's what it must have seemed like.

Rowland, the Nazareth senior quarterback, passed 42 times and completed 28 for 277 yards. He scored two touchdowns, passed for another, and hounded Bovina on defense all night. The Swifts gained 187 yards rushing for a total of 364 offensive yards. The Mustangs defense had allowed less than 200 yards per game going into the Friday night district contest.

Mustang quarterback Jeff Casas completed 4 passes in 13 attempts for 35 yards but had 3 interceptions. The Mustangs also lost a fumble. Bovina had a total offense of 209 yards as Jonathan Chisom gained 102 tough yards on 25 carries. Eddie Segovia added 52 yards on 5 carries.

Casas scored Bovina's only touchdown on a one-yard run in the third quarter and Hugo Aguillon kicked the extra point.

The Mustangs have an open date this week. Next Friday, No-

Win Over Nazareth, Bovina Colts Go 5-0

The Bovina Colts continued their unbeaten quest with a 24-6 win over Nazareth. The 8th grade boys are now 5-0 on the season with Texico next up tonight.

Trent Quintana scored for the Colts on a 2-yard quarterback sneak. Mauricio Garcia ran the 2-point conversion. Then Garcia scored again on a 2-yard run, made the 2-point conversion, and added another score on a 25-yard run. This time, Justin Guevara scored the 2-points.

Epps, the defensive standouts were Jacob Torbert, Daniel Segovia, Isaac Tavera, Trent Quintana, James Lara, and Mauricio Garcia.

In 5th quarter action, the 7th graders scored twice on runs of 60-yards by Isau Saucedo and a 70-yard run from Pecos Prather. The 7th grade boys did not give up a first down.

Chieftains Break Loss Streak At H. Center

By BILL ELLIS

The Chieftains broke the school's longest losing streak since 1992 last Friday, when they put together an impressive 70-yard drive in the game's waning minutes, to edge the Owls at Hale Center.

Friona had lost five straight led, 10-6 with 4:31 left in the half. games, most since the 1992 team, James Morton's first, went 0-10.

The Owls were also desperate for a win, having now lost eight straight games, and led by sprinter Terrance Johnson's four touchdowns, gave all they had to attempt to break 23. into the win column.

The Chieftains had the ball only three times in the fast-moving second half, and fortunately for them, were able to put together two long scoring drives out of their three possessions, the last coming with 1:05 left in the game, for a come-from-behind win.

Friona took the ball in its second possession of the game, after holding the Owls' fourth-and-one try from cepted a long pass, giving Friona the their own 49-yard line, and took advantage of the "short field" to post the game's first score.

Chieftain running back Sergio Saenz carried the ball four times in the drive, giving Friona first downs with efforts of six and ten yards, and his third carry went into the end zone from six yards out. Quarterback Brock field had runs of 11 and five yards led, 23-6. during the drive.

Friona a 7-0 lead with 2:30 remaining seven plays for a TD. Big play was a in the opening quarter.

Hale Center failed to move after the kickoff, and defensive end Marc Haile recovered an Owl fumble, giving Friona the ball at their opponent's 45.

Field hit wide receiver Steffan Busch on a 32-yard pass-and-run play that carried to Hale Center's nine.

But three plays found the Chiefs on the Owls' three, and Coach Bob Ferguson opted for a field goal at-Monreal, who hasn't missed much this season, nailed the 23-yard kick, and Friona had upped its lead to 10-0 kick, but fumbled as he was tackled, with 9:19 left in the first half. The and Hale Center recovered at the field goal proved vital later in the Friona 20. game.

Johnson then ran the ball three straight times, gaining nine, nine and seven to get his team on the board. However, Johnson was stopped on a running try for points, and Friona still Friona responded with another scoring drive. Kick returner David Davila almost had a touchdown on the kickoff return, running over 40 yards before being tackled. A 15-yard penalty advanced the ball the Hale Center Field gained eight, then kept for 13 yards to the Owls' one. Jacob Hoon sneaked across for the score, and Monreal's kick made Friona's lead 17-6. The score came with just 2:22 left in the half, and that turned out to be the halftime score.

Hale Center's first possession in the third quarter was a disaster, made so when FHS safety, Monreal, inter-

The Chieftains then made a quick scoring drive. Field hit Freddy Reyes for a first down, and then hooked up with Reyes again. This time, Reyes had broken into the clear. He caught the ball in the open, and then completed a 54-yard scoring play. Monreal missed his first PAT kick, but Friona

The drive got Hale Center's at-Antonio Monreal's PAT kick gave tention. The Owls went 83 yards in 40-yard pass, and another pass for the PATs made it a 23-14 game with 3:46 left in the third.

Friona came back with a drive, sparked by Ramos and Reyes, that stalled at the Owls' 15. Monreal's field goal try was just wide from 37 yards out.

Johnson responded with an 80yard sprint to paydirt, and added the points-after, and it became a one-point game at 23-22, Friona, early in the fourth quarter.

TALL Program Provides Training Ground For Future Agricultural Leaders

LUBBOCK, October 24, 2003

By Shawn Wade X class of the Texas

Applications are now being accepted for the TALL IX class of the Texas Agriculture Lifetime Leadership program. TAMU professor and TALL program coordinator Jim Mazurkiewicz notes that the application period for the program will remain open through March 15, 2004.

Since its first class (TALL I) met in November of 1987, the TALL program has become one of the premier leadership development tools of the agriculture industry.

The goal of the program is essentially to identify and develop the talents of future agriculture industry leaders.

The mission statement of the TALL program says it best, "TALL will create a cadre of Texas leaders to help endure effective understanding and encourage positive action on key issues, theories, policy and economics that will advance the agriculture industry."

Prospective applicants who feel they possess the qualities, characteristics and desire to become effective leaders within the agriculture industry can contact Dr. Mazurkiewicz to request an application or may visit the program's website at (http://tall.tamu.edu) to obtain application materials and learn more about the program.

RWLC Ranks Eighth In Angus Registrations

Roy Hartzog, the owner of Running Water Land & Cattle, Bovina, ranked as eighth largest in registering the most Angus beef cattle in Texas having recorded 204 head of Angus with the American Angus Association during fiscal year 2003, which ended September 30, according to John Crouch, executive vice president of the American Angus Association.

Angus breeders across the nation in 2003 registered 281,734 head of Angus cattle compared to 281,965 in fiscal 2002. "The year-end statistics indicate a constant demand for Angus genetics in commercial herds as producers continue to focus on end product quality and its effect on their bottom line," Crouch said.

The American Angus Association, headquartered in St. Joseph, Missouri, was founded in 1883. It is the largest beef registry association in the world in terms of both annual registrations and active members.

USDA Announces First 2003-crop Counter-cyclical Advance Payment

LUBBOCK, October 24, 2003 By Shawn Wade

United States Department of Agriculture Secretary Ann M. Veneman announced late last week the first advance counter-cyclical payment rates for the 2003-crop Direct and Counter-cyclical Program (DCP).

For Upland cotton producers the first partial advance payment toward the 2003-crop Counter-cyclical payment was announced at 2.01 cents per pound. The figure equals 35 percent of the projected final payment rate of 5.73 cents per pound.

Payment rates for other program crops are included in the table below: 2003 DCP Counter-cyclical Payment Projections &

	First (35%)	Advance Payment	Rates
Commodity	Unit	Ratio	Advartos Retertial
Wheat	bu	$0.0900	$0.0315
Com	bu	$0.2200	$0.0770
Sorghum	bu	$0.0400	$0.0140
Upl. Cotton	pound	$0.0573	$0.0201
Rice	cwt	$1.6500	$0.5775
Peanuts	short ton	$104.0000	$36.4000
Source: USDA, Farm	Service Agen	су

For producers who have watched market prices for cotton surge over the past few weeks, the announcement was met with a mixture of appreciation and concern as higher prices could still zero out the CC payment calculation and create a situation where producers would be required to repay all or part of the advance payment.

Early on prognosticators had opined that the 2003 CC payment could be eroded by as much as 4-6 cents as a result of then steadily improving market prices

What few anticipated, however, was the quick run-up that has occurred thus far.

Back in June the December 2003 New York futures contract was trading in the 52-cent range. Take a snapshot today and the same contract is trading near 80 cents with little indication that a huge drop can be expected.

That difference in the market has many producers wondering whether or not this might be all that the 2003 DCP program will provide in terms of a Counter-cyclical payment on this year's crop.

Knowing that the bulk of the marketings used to calculate the weighted average price received by growers for any given crop year occurs during the November, December, January and February time period forms the crux of producer concerns that a repayment situation could still be created.

Make no mistake, producers are happy that prices have surged upward. As a result, those that have cotton to sell will gladly take their money from the market instead of the government.

The concern that you hear however, stems from the fact that for many on the High Plains there is simply no cotton to sell as a result of a tough 2003 growing season.

Small World Department, Coal Baxter's grandson, Tim Grundy, is a pharmacist at Walgreen's in Oklahoma City. He was scanning a credit card for a man buying some supplies and noticed the card was from Friona State Bank. The man was Ralph Taylor of Duncanville, formerly of Friona, who was visiting his oldest daughter Judy in Oklahoma City.

During their visit, Ralph told Tim that he had cut his late grandfather Oscar Baxter's hair for years in Friona. Not only that but Ralph also gave Tim his very first haircut.

Opal Baxter also reported that her sister, Jewel Seigrist of Jasper, Colorado, has been visiting her and helping out since Opal has been having trouble with her knees.

This & That: Bashing Baseball & Government

Could some baseball fanatic please call and tell me why a home run is called a "dinger"? Could it have something to do with aluminum bats?

The best part about baseball season being over is not having to hear Amarillo's Channel 7 sportscaster Lee Baker say, "it's high, it's hard, it's handsome, it's history," every time he showed a home run on his show. Get some new material Lee. (He also calls a birdie in golf a "tweeter").

The Florida Marlins, with the lowest paid players in the league, beat the New York Yankees, the highest paid players in the league, in the World Series. At last we have an example of what money can't do. Let's hear it for underdogs. God Bless

Thank you God that the pro baseball season is finally over. Now if you could just do something about pro basketball.

According to USA Today: "Texas Lt. Governor David Dewhurst says he wants Texas to offer financial incentives to public school teachers and admin-istrators to reward good work. Dewhurst told the Austin Area Research Organization that the goal is to keep the best educators in Texas. He had no immediate plans for funding the proposals."

Another politician floating an idea with no plan on how to pay for it. He wants to reward teachers for good work. The question I have is: how do you know when a teacher does good work? That standard has to be established first and I don't think it's possible. Or fair. It seems to me a teacher's success depends a lot on circumstances. For instance should a teacher be paid extra for taking a class of failing kids and bringing up their grades, or based on how many of their students qualify for college? How about coaches? Should they be paid more for getting to the playoffs, or band directors for winning marching contests, or ag teachers for the number of blue ribbons?

Not only does Dewhurst not know how to fund such a program, he'll make a lot of enemies in the teacher community when he starts trying to define their "good work".

Did you know that "the Texas Supreme Court is the only public body that in effect gets to vote on something and their vote is never reported to the public?"

The question was asked by a Federal judge in San Antonio during the opening of a federal lawsuit that "seeks to push official actions of the Texas Supreme Court into the sunlight of public disclosure."

(The Federal Government has brought a lawsuit against the Texas Supreme Court).

Before you lose interest consider this: Texas Supreme Court justices are elected, not appointed. To get elected they raise campaign money. Most of the money raised comes from lawyers and companies that may have cases come before the Supreme

Of the approximately 900 cases the Supreme Court receives each year, they secretly vote to hear only about 10 percent of them. The court has been much more likely to hear appeals filed by the lawyers that gave them the campaign money. So says the Texans For Public Justice organi-

In a 2001 study they stated that over a four-year period, the justices voted to hear 56 percent of the appeals filed by two law firms that gave more than $250,000 apiece to the justices. That acceptance rate was an amazing 10 times higher than the rate for non-contributors.

No public disclosure is made on how each judge votes on whether to hear a case. Which is not important to you unless you ever have a case that goes all the way to the Supreme Court of Texas. Secrecy in government? Isn't that one of the reasons we invaded Iraq?

We received this tart little news release from the Republican Party of Texas on the election of Charles Soechting as chairman of the Texas Democratic Party:

"The trial lawyers have finally completed their buyout of the Texas Democrat Party with the installation of their handpicked chairman. Apparently the power hungry trial lawyers were not content with simply funding the Party's activities and have now successfully consolidated control over the Party's leadership apparatus."

What ticked off the Republicans is that Soechting is employed by lawyer John O'Quinn, one of the five trial lawyers that collected $3 billion from the Texas tobacco settlement. Apparently the Republicans are angry that trial lawyers gave the Democrats over $6 million in campaign money.

Now I reckon if the trial lawyers started giving the money to the Republicans instead, we wouldn't be getting so many whining press releases.

The government Department of Agriculture thinks you need to know what country your food came from so in addition to labeling what all is in food, now you have the right to know where it came from as if you really care anyway.

Food producers would have to keep records. For example, the govemment says that for a fish to be labeled as a U.S. fish, it must be born, raised, and slaughtered in the United States. Same for a cow. Or a

Congressman Neugebauer says keeping the necessary records from food production through retail sale will be costly and burdensome. Producers cannot self-certify the origin of their own products. A third party has Neugebauer says that product branding, such as Idaho potatoes, Washington apples, etc., should be left up to the producers. Country Of Origin Labeling-COOL-is anything but cool. It should be defeated, tabled, and forgotten

And whoever thought it up in the first place should be required to attend a pro baseball game every day next season.

How To Talk To Your Kids About Drugs

The best thing about this subject is that you don't have to do it well. You simply have to try.

If you try, your kids will get the

That you care about them.

That you understand something about the conflicts they face.

That you're there when they need you.

The alternative is to ignore the subject. Which means your kids are going to be listening to others who have strong opinions about the subject. Including those who use drugs. And those who sell them.

ACCEPT REBELLION.

At the heart of it, drugs, alcohol, wild hairstyles, trendy clothes, ear-splitting music, outrageous language are different ways of expressing teenage rebellion.

That's not all bad. Part of growing up is to create a separate identity, apart from parents - a process which ultimately leads to feelings of self worth. A step along that path is rebellion of one kind or another — which is to say rejecting parental values, and staking out new ones.

You did it. They're doing it. And that's the

The problem comes when kids choose a path of rebellion that hurts them, destroys their self worth, and can ultimately kill them.

That's the reality of drugs.

DON'T GET DISCOURAGED. When you talk to your kids about drugs, it may seem as though nothing is getting through.

Don't you believe it.

The very fact you say it gives special weight to whatever you say. But whether or not your kids let on they've words weeks or months later, keep trying. START ANYWHERE.

heard you, whether or not they play back your

"Have you heard about any kids using drugs?"

"What kind of drugs?"

"How do you feel about that?"

It's never too early to start.

"Why do you think kids get involved with drugs?"

"How do other kids deal with peer pressure to use drugs? Which approaches make sense to you?"

"Have you talked about any of this

However you get into the subject, it's important to state exactly how strongly you feel about it.

Not in threatening tones. But in matter-offact, unmistakably clear language:

"Drugs are a way of hurting yourself."

"Drugs take all the promise of being young and destroy it."

"I love you too much to see you throw your life down the drain."

SOME DO'S AND DON'TS.

The do's are as simple as speaking from the

The biggest don't is don't do all the talking. If you listen to your kids - really listen and read between the lines - you'll learn a lot about what they think. About drugs. About themselves. About the world. And about you. They'll also feel heard and that, too, is a step along the path towards self esteem.

There are other do's and don'ts: Don't threaten. Don't badger them. Don't put your kid on the spot by asking directly if he or she has ever tried drugs. They'll probably lie, which undermines your whole conversation.

If you suspect your child is on drugs - there are all sorts of symptoms - that's a different matter. Then you've got to confront the subject directly.

In the meantime, just talk to them.

It's okay if you don't know much about drugs. Your kids do. But they need to know how you feel about the subject.

And whether you care.

THE CHIEF'S CORNER

By ROYCE L. GOODSON

Chief of Police

Friona Police Department

Halloween is a cherished tradition but the excitement of the night can cause children to forget to be careful. There is no real "trick" to making Halloween a real treat for the entire family. The major dangers are not from witches or spirits but rather from falls and pedestrian/car crashes. Both children and adults need to think about safety on this annual day of make-believe.

The National Safety Council urges motorists to be especially alert on Halloween:

- Watch for children darting from between parked cars.

  Watch for children walking on roadways, medians and curbs.
- Enter and exit driveways and alleys carefully.
- At twilight and later in the evening, watch for children in dark clothing.

Before children start out on their "trick or treat" rounds, parents should:

Make sure that an adult or an older responsible youth will be supervising the outing for children under age 12.

- Plan and discuss the route trick-or-treaters intend to follow; know the names of older children's companions.
- Instruct your children to travel only in familiar areas and along an established route.
- Teach your children to stop only at houses or apartment buildings that are well lit and never to enter a stranger's home.
- · Establish a return time.
- Tell your youngsters not to eat any treat until they return home.
- Review all appropriate trick-or-treat safety precautions, including pedestrian/traffic safety rules.
- Pin a slip of paper with the child's name, address and phone number inside a pocket in case the youngster gets separated from the group.

Children should understand and follow these rules:

- Do not enter homes or apartments without adult supervision. Walk, do not run, from house to house; do not cross yards and lawns where unseen objects or the uneven terrain can present tripping hazards.
- Walk on sidewalks, not in the street.
- Walk on the left side of the road, facing traffic if there are no sidewalks.

To ensure a safe trick-or-treat outing, parents are urged to:

Insist that treats be brought home for inspection before anything is eaten.

- Wash fruit and slice into small pieces.
- · When in doubt, throw it out.

The West Texas A&M University horse-judging team began the 2003 season with a solid second-place finish at the All-American Quarter Horse Congress, October 17, 2003 in Columbus, Ohio.

Zach Barrett, son of Robbie and Stephanie Barrett of Friona, is a junior equine industry and business major and a member of the WTAMU horse-judging team.

Friona's 7th grade Braves lost to Hale Center 30-6. The score was a 3-yard TD run by Justin Echevarria. Coaches pointed out Alex Vega for his offensive play and defensive standouts were Aaron Hand, David Aragon, and Rodrigo Vazquez.

The 8th graders downed the Hale Center boys by a score of 28-6. Ryan Geries scored on runs of 3-, 15-, and 55- yards, and Dillon Welch had a 46-yard TD run. Two-point conversions were by Geries and Jesus Tafoya, who also added a 70-yard run to set up one of the touchdowns.

Defensive standouts were Jacob Gonzales, Jared Boyd, Tafoya, and Efrain Rocha.

Littlefield Seminar Focuses On Economic Development

A grassroots seminar on developing individual business ideas and fostering community economic development is slated November 17, 2003, in Littlefield, according to a Texas Cooperative Extension entrepreneurship specialist.

"Texas Cooperative Extension, the Sirolli Institute, the cities of Littlefield and Anton, Market Lubbock, Inc., and the Texas Tech University Office of Economic Development are joint sponsors of this community and economic development seminar," noted Pam Brown, Extension entrepreneurship specialist at Texas A&M's Agricultural Research and Extension Center.

The seminar begins with registration at 8:00 a.m., in the Littlefield Ministry and Activities Center. The center is next door to the First Baptist Church of Littlefield (downtown).

The program will run from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Registration costs $15.00 per person. Registration before November 12 is encouraged.

Checks should be made payable to: City of Littlefield, Enterprise Facilitation, PO Box 1267, Littlefield, Texas 79339.

The key seminar topic is enterprise facilitation-the process of identifying and supporting individual business concepts to foster sustainable prosperity through community economic development.

Ernest Sirolli, author and founder of the Sirolli Institute, is the featured seminar speaker. "Sirolli is a champion for rural small business development," noted Robert McComb, Texas Tech assistant vice president for economic development.

"An opportunity to hear this global educator-trainer speak is invaluable. I hope people from across the region will attend the seminar."

Sirolli will explain their model of enterprise facilitation, and discuss ways to nurture expansion and enterprise development. He will also address methods to encourage growth from within communities and how to bring growth, wealth, and jobs to these communities

"This seminar is designed for people interested in economic and business development—including civic leaders, bankers, government officials, business owners and managers, entrepreneurs, and economic development professionals and volunteers," added Joan Chandler, Texas Cooperative Extension family and consumer science agent in Lamb County.

On-line registration is available at http://www.whylittlefield.com.

Other registration and seminar information is available from Concha Aleman at (806) 385-5161, extension 6; or from Joan Chandler in the Lamb County Texas Cooperative Extension Office at (806) 385-4222.

The American Legion Auxiliary will be holding a Rummage Sale Friday, November 14, 8:30 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. and November 15, 8:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. in the Veterans Hall on 6th and Euclid.

Items for donation can be brought to the Hall, Wednesday afternoon, November 12, from 2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. or call 250-3869 or 250-3298.

Choir Students Place In District One Competition

This is the first year for choir to be back as an extra-curricular activity at Friona High School, according to choir director Allison Johnston.

Several students recently competed in the Texas Music Educators

Several students recently competed in the Texas Music Educato Association (TMEA) Region One District Choir contest,

FHS freshman Meghan Hendrickson, daughter of Jon and Donna Hendrickson, made 12th chair second soprano, an unusual feat for a freshman, especially from a small school, according to Mrs. Johnston. At the region level, Meghan placed 18th. "Still a wonderful showing for one so young," Johnston said. She competed against schools such as Amarillo and Tascosa.

On the junior high level, Dierdre Johnston, 8th grade, daughter of Bryan and Allison Johnston, placed 6th chair, first soprano; Hollis Gurley, 8th grade, daughter of John and Kathryn Gurley, placed 16th chair first soprano in the treble choir. They competed against 71 other 8th grade sopranos from all schools in all classifications.

Members of the 6th grade Honor Choir will be Stephanie Aguirre, daughter of Joe and Minnie Aguirre, Paige Herbert, daughter of Donald and Marka Herbert, and Jessie London, daughter of Micah London and Melanie London. These girls will perform in the junior high all-region concert at the Amarillo Civic Center on Saturday, November 1, at 4:30 p.m. The concert is open to the public.

American Legion Offers E-Mail Cards for Troops

With thousands of troops deploved overseas and thou-sands more readying for deployment, The American Legion has re-launched a free, easy way to thank them for their service on the eve of Veterans Day, November 11.

The electronic greeting cards are also ideal to thank all veterans, of all generations, who have served in the U.S. armed forces.

"Veterans and those serving in the military services today need to see that there are friends and family members who are proud of their sacrifices for America," John Brieden, national comman-der of The American Legion said.

Anyone who has an e-mail account can receive the special cards. Creating the card is quick at The American Legion's website,

The American Legion site offers e-mail cards representing each military service along with the service song that plays when the card is opened. Each card provides plenty of space to compose a personal message.

The free service is being offered for the fifth consecutive year. Cards may be sent now through November 12, 2003.

Greeting cards may be sent directly to active duty service men and women if their military e-mail addresses are known.
