Huge turnout greets Barnes

A huge, enthusiastic throng was on hand on the courthouse square in Morton Wednesday to greet and listen as the Ben Barnes 'Copter Caravan made a one hour stop on his gubernatorial campaign tour of West Texas.

While Barnes, himself, was an attraction for those of voting age, two members of the Dallas Cowboy world champion football team who accompanied him, Walt Garrison and Bob Lilly, proved the overwhelming favorites of the younger set who literally mobbed them. There was such a noisy autograph seeking press around Garrison on the speaking platform that Barnes experienced considerable trouble in making himself heard at one point.

Lilly arrived well after Barnes and Garrison was, in turn, inundated by the swarm of autograph seekers. Garrison and Lilly, both from small towns in Texas, have been actively campaigning for Barnes over the past few weeks.

Water for West Texas will be his first priority if elected Governor, Barnes said. "After taking office, one of the first things I would do is to put three or four of the most knowledgeable people in the field in a room and keep them there until they came up with a workable water plan," he stated, and added that there must be a workable water plan now because there is insufficient water to take the area through the seventies and eighties.

Barnes stated that he favors a strong state drug control program involving much more severe laws concerning drug "pushers." He favors a mandatory 20 year prison sentence with no possible parole for first offenders convicted of selling narcotics.

He would call a meeting of the governors of the four states bordering Mexico for the purpose of working out methods to stop the drug traffic from that country. The cutting off of U.S. aid to Mexico if it failed to cooperate in the fight against drug traffic is a part of his proposed program.

The Lt. Governor pointed out that he was the only one of the three top officials in the state government that was not asked for a deposition in the Sharpstown stock scandal. He disclaims ever knowing Mr. Sharp or participating in any way in the so-called Sharpstown stock dealings.

The more federal aid to education received by the state, the more federal control of our schools will result, Barnes said in advocating the continued financing as far as possible from local sources. He declared himself opposed to busing as it really serves no useful purpose.

The solution to the present low farm price dilemma is better promotion of the states' farm products and improved marketing methods, he states. "I would like

BARNES SPECTACULAR ARRIVAL . . .

FROM OUT OF THE BLUE can very well describe the arrival of Lt. Governor Ben Barnes' 'copter caravan as it landed in the street on the north side of the courthouse square for a visit Wednesday on his campaign tour of West Texas. His entourage, which included Dallas Cowboys Bob Lilly and Walt Garrison, proved to be highly popular with the huge turnout, especially with the younger set. Barnes remained in Morton for over an hour during which he made a short campaign speech and conducted a question and answer session.

AST, YE SWABS! . . .

IGNORE THE BUXOM LASS (if you can) and concentrate on the treasure chest! The chest is full of all kinds of goodies for Morton shoppers; and the lass is not one of them. Connie Campbell consented to display the Chamber of Commerce Treasure Chest — after she was assured all the swashbuckling buckskinners would be kept at bay — which will be placed in the various businesses hanging to the chamber and will contain a small treasure for anyone finding it. Details of the promotion are contained in an accompanying story.

Treasure chest' of cash makes shopping interesting

Something new has been added to make shopping in Morton a good deal more interesting.

It is something in the form of a "Treasure Chest" which will hold various amounts of cash for the person who finds it. The chest is shown on the cover page of today's Tribune and it contains an undisclosed amount of cash for the lucky finder. The Chamber of Commerce sponsored promotion has been arranged as follows:

Each day the chest will be in a different place of business in the city. It will be placed among the merchandise and by that store and is plainly marked with the words "Treasure Chest" on

Lynskey withdraws from sheriff race

Ray Lynskey has withdrawn from the race for Sheriff of Cochran county.

His formal withdrawal as a candidate was announced early this week by Cochran county Democratic party chairman Ray. No announcement was made as to the reason for withdrawal.

Lynskey is the second candidate to withdraw as a contender for a county of Herman Bedwell, who announced as candidate for county commissioner for District One, recently withdrew in order to accept a position with a business firm in view where he is presently residing on the top of the box. Each day it will be in a different place of business in the city. It will be placed among the merchandise and by that store and is plainly marked with the words "Treasure Chest" on

County's top speller goes down fighting

Cochran County speller champion made it a long fight to the finish as he took second place in the regional competition of the Avalanche-Journal Spelling Contest held in Lubbock Saturday. Kyle Word, of Whiteface, finally fell on the twenty fourth round to Robin Kral, of Dawson "Indigenous."

When he misspelled the word "abysmal," Kyle, who was making his second try for the crown, having represented Cochran county last year, ironically was defeated by Robin who was making his third try for the crown. Kral then went on to win the title by correctly spelling "abysmal."

The Whiteface eighth grader, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Word, will not have another opportunity to win the regional bee as the eighth grade is as high as the contestants go. He will have two very good tries to look back on, however.

as film shown at club meeting

Members of the L'Allegro Study Club met for the film "Texas Land of Contrast" on April 6 meeting in the home of Al Mullinax.

The first National monument in Texas, the National Monument, was shown. Located 38 miles north of Amarillo on the shores of Lake Meredith. Tons of the quality and most colorful flint in the area are found there in a mile long area. The flint reflecting every color of the spectrum made more enchanting by the formations of quartz crystals and brotroyall veins in the fractures and pockets. Estimated approximately 350 quarry pockets mark this area.

In the narration of the film it was stated that the nation's leading archeologists have estimated that the paleolithic Clovis man was fashioning weapons from ablate flint to hunt the giant mammoths 13,000 years before the birth of Christ. That was 6,000 years before the wheel was invented and 5,000 years before the Great Lakes were formed.

In the business meeting, plans were made for a 25th anniversary party and program April 25 for past members of the club. David Murrah of Lubbock will be the guest speaker.

Seventh grade fourth in 3-AA track meet

The Seventh grade track squad captured fourth place in the district meet last week in Levelland.

Leading the Indian charge were Homer Van Hoose and Sam Johnson. Van Hoose took the 100-yd dash in 11. seconds, finished third in the high jump, and ran on the 440-yd and 880-yd relay teams that captured second places. Johnson won the discus throw with a toss of 132 feet, took fourth in the shot put, and ran on the 880-yd relay team.

Adolpho Morales, Lloyd Joyce, and Robbie Gattis joined Van Hoose on the 440 relay team, and Morales and Joyce teamed up with Van Hoose and Johnson on the 880-yd relay.

YOUR VOTE AND INFLUENCE APPRECIATED

(Pol. adv. paid for by C. G. Richards)

Computers in 1970 told Walter Fedor, writer for the American Chemical Society, that synthetic fibers would take 75 percent of the total increase in textile product consumption for the following decade. Cotton consumption, according to Mr. Fedor's computer, was to increase only 10 percent by 1980!

But Ray Joe Riley, President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says this just "Ain't necessarily so," and that the projection should be followed by a question mark, not an exclamation point.

U. S. consumers, numbering 225 million by 1980, are expected to spend about $225 billion for textile apparel, home furnishings and industrial products, compared to $130 billion spent on those products in 1970. And Riley believes there is reason to expect that cotton can and will capture a sizable part of this 70 percent increase, noting there are potent factors affecting fiber consumption which do not lend themselves to computerized projections.

In 1971 there was a big increase in demand for cotton denims, corduroys and cords, and cotton consumption in the U. S. increased some 600,000 bales. Also there is a definite trend toward higher cotton content in blended fabrics. "And these trends were just beginning in early 1970 when all the dire predictions were being made about cotton being 'on its way out,'" Riley notes.

A comparison of advertisements in textile publications recently shows that the trend toward more cotton and less synthetics in blended fabrics is not just wishful thinking. A number of companies which two or three years ago were promoting fabrics with four parts polyester to one part cotton are now boosting three parts cotton, one part polyester. Others, while still manufacturing high synthetic content blends or even 100 percent synthetics, are stressing in their ads the similarity of the fabric to cotton cloth — the natural look, and comfort.

"There are those who think this trend is just another passing 'fad' that will pass in the night," Riley says, "but I think they are overlooking the fact that the move back to nature and away from the world of artificial values is being made by the younger generation, and that one-half of the U. S. population will soon be in the under 30 age group."

Apparel, home furnishings and industrial uses account for 86 percent of the textile fiber consumed. With automobiles the largest industrial consumer, almost all fiber consumption is subject to the influence of fashion and consumer preference. Therefore, according to Riley, a purely mathematical projection of raw figures is highly subject to error in predicting the future of either natural or synthetic fibers.

★ Morton No. 1 . . .

Scout Troop No. 645 and Cub Pack No. 645 won first place in the Scout-a-rama, held in Levelland Saturday, for their First-Aid display.

Eddie Lewis and J. T. Atkins are scoutmasters for the troop and pack.

Tribe cindermen take second at Amarillo

The Morton Indian track squad proved that quality is more important than quantity as 5 members of the team traveled to Amarillo last week-end and captured 2nd place in the Amarillo Relays. The Tribe finished behind the always tough Whirlwinds of Floydada, but they defeated 16 other teams most of whom had 2 or 3 times as many members on their roster.

Leading the Indian tracksters was Elton Patton who continues to improve week by week in the sprints. Elton won the 100-yd. dash in a time of 9.85 seconds which establishes a new school record. He came back later in the day to take the 220-yd. dash in 22.8 seconds.

Patton also anchored the 440-yd. relay team to a 1st place finish in a time of 44.1 seconds and this also sets a new school record. Other members of the winning relay team were Kevin Kuehler, Larry Thompson and Bryant Lewis.

Kuehler took 3rd in the 100-yd. dash with a fine 10.15 clocking. Lewis leaped 20' 3/4" to take 3rd in the long jump, but he lacked only one inch of capturing 1st. Thompson jumped 19' 7/8" to place 6th in the competition.

The other member of the team competing was Rick Woods who covered the 880 in 2:07 to take 5th place.

This Friday the Morton thinclads will travel to Levelland to compete in the District Meet, and this year the prospects for several Tribe victories is greater than in the last three or four years.

professor of Textile Engineering at Texas Tech and director of Tech's Chemical Processing Laboratory. Earlier this year Dr. Johnson wrote:

"Indications are becoming clearer that the labor saving and appearance retention attributes of durable press textiles no longer command the same respect they did in 1965. Certainly, people have become accustomed to these attributes so they no longer create excitement. Furthermore, the influence of the New Generation with its affinity for nature and the natural, for pure, joyous things, in its return to the fields and earthy things cannot be ignored. There is a dislike for synthetic, plastic, artificial, unnatural things, and the impeccable facade look. Thus some of the very conditions which caused the astounding growth of synthetic fibers and the decline of natural fibers are weakening, and the tactile comfort advantages of natural fibers are once again in demand . . . Thus the natural, inherent, and unmodified properties of cotton and wool are exactly those of interest to the New Generation and the larger group around its periphery."

It follows that the resurgence of demand for natural fibers is more than just a passing fancy dictated by sales-oriented designers. It is a trend soundly based on sociological and psychological change, us or a long time to come."

Veterans Administration physicians told Congress recently that the agency is involved in 35 research projects on sickle cell anemia, and that 15 additional VA hospitals will soon join the effort.

Indian trackmen take second place in district meet

Morton's athletic program continued to show its strength last week as the Indian tracksters finished a strong second in the District 3-AA meet in Levelland Friday.

The Tribe had to place at least fourth in the last event of the day, the mile relay, to take home the runnerup prize over Lockney, and that is the exact position the thinclads captured.

The meet was won by the always powerful Floydada Whirlwinds who again proved to have too much depth for any of the other squads.

The Indians took three first places and one second place, and those squad members have now qualified to run in the regional meet this Friday in Odessa. Those young men taking first place medals were Elton Patton who rode the wind to a 9.8 clocking in the 100-yd dash which broke the school record he had set the week before in Amarillo. Larry Thompson leaped 21-3/4" in the long jump. Patton once more burned the cinders in taking the 220-yd dash in 22.6 seconds.

The second place trophy was taken by the 440-yd relay team composed of Kevin Kuehler, Larry Thompson, Bryant Lewis, and Patton. The foursome had run a 44.1 in capturing the top spot in the Amarillo Relays, but they had two bad baton exchanges which allowed Floydada to beat them in the district meet. The 44.1 time set a new school record for that event.

Other team members who aided the Indian cause were Rick Woods and Randy Kuehler who took third and fourth in the 880-yd run. David Barrera who was fourth in the 440-yd dash. Riece Standmire who finished sixth in the 330-IH, and Thompson and K. Kuehler who were fourth and fifth in the 100.

The mile relay team was K. Kuehler, Barrera, Lewis, and Jerry Silhan.

ASCS Farm News

BY JOHN W. HALL, CED

Quality production incentive payment rate on 1971 marketings of shorn wool was announced today by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The announced payment rate, based on the incentive price of 72 cents a pound, is 271.1 percent of the national average price of 19.4 cents a pound received by producers. Payments to wool growers are required by the National Wool Act of 1934, as amended.

The higher 1971 payment rate compares and reflects a drop in market prices for with the 1970 rate of 1028 per cent shorn wool in 1971, USDA officials said. Wool prices were generally lower last year throughout the world and the U. S. average wool price to producers was the lowest since 1938.

A grower's wool payment is determined by multiplying his net dollar return from the sale of wool by the payment rate of 271.1 percent. The percentage method of payment is designed to encourage growers to improve the quality and marketing of their wool. In any marketing year the higher the price a grower gets for his wool the larger the incentive payment. For example, if a producer got a 15-cent average return, his payment will be 2.711 times 15 cents or 40.7 cents per pound. On the other hand, a grower who produced better quality wool and received an average market price of 25 cents a pound would get 2.711 times 25 cents or an incentive payment of 67.8 cents a pound.

A payment rate of $2.10 a hundredweight on unshorn lambs sold or slaughtered in 1971 also was announced by USDA. The 1970 rate was $1.46. This payment is designed to compensate growers for the wool they market on live lambs rather than as shorn wool. The payment is based on the shorn wool payment.

Rate, average weight of wool per hundred-weight of lambs, and value of lamb's wool relative to the national average value of shorn wool.

The 1971 payment rate on mohair will be 166.4 percent of sales returns received by a grower. The rate is based on the difference between the support level of 80.2 cents and the average price of 30.1 cents a pound received by all producers of mohair. Payments on the 1970 marketings were at the rate of 105.1 per cent of dollar returns when growers received an average of 39.1 cents a pound in the marketplace.

Payments to wool and mohair growers on 1971 marketings will be about $110 million, up $38 million over 1970. Wool payments are estimated at about $100 million for 1971 compared with $64 million for 1970. Mohair payments will be about $10 million, compared with $8 million for 1970.

Deductions in 1971 of 1½ cents a pound from shorn wool and mohair payments and 7½ cents a hundred pounds of live weight from lamb payments will be made to finance advertising, sales promotion, and related market development activities. These deductions, provided for in the National Wool Act, are at the same rates as for the five preceding marketing years. The deductions were approved by an 87 percent favorable vote by sheepmen voting in a June 1971 referendum and by an 80 percent favorable vote by mohair producers voting in a referendum in April 1971.

Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service county offices will begin making the payments early in April.

The 1972 incentive price for wool announced Nov. 10, 1971 (See Press Release USDA 3722-71) is 72 cents a pound, the same as for 1971. The 1972 support level of 80.2 cents a pound for mohair is also the same as the support level for 1971.

Letter to the Editor

Editor, Morton Tribune:

In reference to the letter, in the Morton Tribune, April 6th, regarding the purchase of a new truck for the City of Morton: The City Council purchased this truck from an out of town dealer because of a certain paragraph in the Councils' guide book which is put out by Texas Municipal League which is used by all cities under general law charter. This paragraph reads as follows: "Bids are required for all expenditures of $2000. or more and when a contemplated expenditure reaches this amount, it must be contracted for, and let to the lowest responsible bidder."

The City Council feels that the out of town dealer was also a responsible bidder such as the one here in Morton therefore since the out of town price was $115.58 less they felt they should (being elected officials by the majority of the people serving the majority of the people) comply with rules and regulations set forth by the Lawmakers of the State of Texas.

Also knowing that the manager of the local company did not write the letter in reference, we feel if he were still on the City Council, he would have done exactly as these councilmen did.

Sincerely,
s/Donnie B. Simpson

Selective Service director emphasizes all must register

Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, State Director of Selective Service for Texas, has reminded young men of their requirement under Federal Law to register with Selective Service.

Some young men may believe that because future military manpower requirements may be met by volunteers that the requirement to register is past; however, the Law does require registration by all native born young men and all resident aliens within 30 days of their eighteenth birthday. Legal registration may be completed 30 days before, or 30 days after the young man reaches age 18.

If a young man fails to register with Selective Service, he is subject to a fine or imprisonment, or both, under provisions of the Military Selective Service Act.

In most Texas counties, young men may register at the office of their local draft board, or with voluntary registrars located in many high schools and in other similarly convenient locations.

If a young man has allowed more than 30 days to pass following his 18th birthday and has not yet registered, he should register immediately to avoid the penalty of the Law.

Complete registration information is available at each local draft board.

Cochran county youths becoming eligible may register at the county judge's office in the courthouse or at the office of Mrs. Freeland at the high school.

SOYBEAN SITUATION

Soybean production in Texas should be up 10 per cent in 1972 while United States production is expected to increase 4 percent, according to Johnny Feagan, extension economist. Texas farmers expect to plant 125,000 acres to soybeans while the national total will reach about 5 million acres, some two million more than in 1971. Even with a large crop this year, soybean supplies are expected to remain tight over the next year and a half. Thus, prices should continue on a strong note.

STATE Capital NEWS

By BILL BOYKIN

AUSTIN, Tex. — An ancient legal dispute involving Texas' sovereignty over its tidelands is in court again.

The U. S. Justice Department has filed a suit against Texas, challenging the state's regulation of fishing within the farthestmost two leagues (six marine miles) of the historic three-league (nine-marine-mile) boundary.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has requested President Nixon to intervene in the latest federal attack.

The Attorney General further requested an opportunity for the state to present its position to the State Department and Justice Department. The state, he noted in a letter to Nixon, was not notified prior to filing of the action.

Martin claimed the new action is contrary to the position taken by the Eisenhower-Nixon administration in 1953 and in 1957.

He submitted to the President excerpts from the state's brief filed in the original boundary suit which was decided in Texas' favor by the U. S. Supreme Court in 1958. He also included a 1957 letter from the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower to then-Gov. Price Daniel. Eisenhower expressed the opinion that Texas should "have the right to explore and exploit the submerged lands extending seaward of (its) coastline for a distance of three marine leagues in to the Gulf of Mexico."

Martin urged Nixon to inform him if his position as president is the same as that expressed by President Eisenhower.

COURT REVISION URGED — A Supreme Court justice and president of the Texas Civil Judicial Council says it's time the legislature submits to voters a constitutional amendment on Judiciary reform.

Associate Justice Tom Reavley said Texans are demanding "major surgery" on the court system. Suggested Reavley:

The State Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals should be merged into a single court of last resort.

Fourteen Courts of Civil Appeals should be given jurisdiction over criminal as well as civil cases.

There should be fewer levels of lower courts with less overlapping jurisdiction. Appeal procedure should be "simpler and speedier."

Judges and cases should be transferred to match resources with needs in keeping with better management of the court system.

The 63rd Legislature, Reavley said, should be asked next year to submit the constitutional amendment proposing court reorganization and modernization.

SPECIAL TRAINING APPROVED — The State Board of Education approved contracts for special training next school year of 2,611 children in non-public schools.

Largest single group involved is the trainable mentally retarded category, with 1,887 youngsters.

Pupils, from pre-school age through high school level, will attend 12 schools operated under the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation and 35 independent non-public schools.

The State Board of Education also reviewed a $1.1 million research program supported by 90 per cent federal and 10 per cent local funds.

Board members voted to uphold orders of Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar sustaining local school board "haircut rules" and dress code.

COURTS SPEAK — The Court of Criminal Appeals refused to go along with an argument that the aggravated assault law discriminated against men — and concluded it's still worse for a man to hit a woman than the other way around.

Texas Supreme Court held a county judge can't prevent a township incorporation election if 200 residents present the required petition. The decision upheld an Athens district judge and the Tyler Court of Civil Appeals.

The High Court sustained lower courts and refused to knock out of operation a Houston legal aid service for the poor in spite of objection to it by some lawyers who claimed it is costing them money.

APPOINTMENTS — James W. (Jack) Ward of Amarillo has been named by Gov. Preston Smith as a member of the Texas Mass Transportation Commission for a six-year term.

Smith also named eight to the Real Estate Research Advisory Committee. They are Joe W. Loper of San Antonio, Glenn W. Justice of Dallas, Mrs. Katherine Boyd of Arlington, Dr. Walstein Smith Jr. of Waco, John A. Worley of Dallas, George O. Y. Amiri of Dallas, Julio S. Laguarda of Houston and R. L. Pardue of Houston.

HEALTH STUDY LAUNCHED — State, local and federal health officials this week began an intensive study to determine if health hazards exist for workers in the American Smelting and Refining Company plant in El Paso.

Air samples will be taken within the plant to discover possible toxic materials, and blood and urine samples will be taken from about 800 employees.

The survey will complement a comprehensive health study to evaluate lead hazards in the plant vicinity which was initiated by local health officials several weeks ago in cooperation with the State Health Department. A.S.R.C. is cooperating in the survey.

PARTIES SLOW — Secretary of State Bob Bullock complained about early response to his request that county political party officers submit early estimates

Bullock said a wk after h asked for th stimats only 99 (of 254) counis wr again no tat fund wil b allocatd toVF M

Bullock said a week after he asked for the estimates only 99 (of 254) counties were represented in replies. He warned again no state funds will be allocated to local parties until estimated expenditures are submitted on prescribed forms.

Some county chairmen explained they were taking their time since the new state primary financing act makes them responsible for inaccuracies in their figures.

JUNE 1 PUPIL TRANSFER DEADLINE — Texas Education Agency has held parents who want to transfer their children from their home school to a nearby district must submit requests by June 1.

Once approved by the receiving school board, the request must also be cleared by T.E.A. State approval is a term of a U.S. District Court order filed in Tyler relating to desegregation of schools under the order, transfers are not to be per-

Speaking of Politics

By J. Wayne McDermott

With the upcoming elections, which will include National, State, and local levels, it is going to be one of the most interesting election years of all time. But, if the people who are otherwise qualified, do not register to vote, it could be one of the worst election years.

With the ratification of the 26th Amendment, young people in the age group of 18, 19, and 20 years of age, are going to be able to cast their first ballots in any election. With this tremendous new responsibility given to today's youth, the entire political makeup could possibly be changed.

This new responsibility cast on the youth has been recognized by all the candidates running either for a National, State, or local office. These candidates realize the great influence the youth can produce. The candidates realize the influence and are already beginning to go to the young people for help and support. Since this is the case, then why have there been so few young people register to vote? The best mitted to reduce or impede desegregation or encourage discrimination.

SHORT SNORTS — Texas cities and counties would get about $202 million this year under a federal revenue-sharing bill before a U.S. House committee.

College teachers in a meeting here endorsed the idea of collective bargaining for public employees.

Likely date for the next special session of the legislature on appropriations and taxation appears to be the week of June 12.

The State Treasury, declares Treasurer Jesse James, had a greater net return on its time deposit interest "than any billion dollar bank in Texas."

Texas National Guard units have reached the highest rating level in 10 years, according to Adjutant General Ross Ayers. New state bank charters are being sought at Balch Spring (Dallas County) and Houston.

The attorney general is being asked for an opinion interpreting the state's nepotism law governing state officials and legislators hiring each others relative in view of new disclosures.

ack Fisher of Memphis is the assistant state campaign manager of Sen. John Tower.

possible answer to this question is lack of concern and the proverbial apathetic attitude, but it is this group of uninterested youth who complain about how our government is run.

It is the responsibility of the youth who do care about their government, as well as the adults, to try to get the people to register to vote. Not only are there young people who have not registered to vote, but also many adults with the same apathetic attitude. If there is going to be any kind of a promising election year, then we, the interested voters, need to donate our time, effort, and finances to get these people to realize how important it is to register and to vote.

The elections are getting close and there are still young people and adults who have not registered to vote. All concerned voters must work hard to get these people to register. It is our duty and our responsibility

Couple plans June wedding

Mrs. Ruth Wilson of Lubbock has announced the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Deborah Jean Wilson, to Ronald Eugene Cowan, son of Mrs. E. P. Gladney and the late Vernon Cowan of Lubbock.

The couple plan to be married June 15 in Memorial Baptist Church in Lubbock.

Miss Wilson is a senior at Lubbock High School and is employed by Dunlap's Credit Department. Cowan is also a senior at Lubbock High School and is employed by Furr Foods.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wilson of Morton.

THEY WENT THAT-A-WAY . . .

AND IF THEY COME BACK I'LL cut them to ribbons, seems to be the attitude of Capt. Young, commander of the 1st Cavalry Platoon of the 1st Cavalry Division, as he demonstrates frontier cavalry equipment and tactics to a large group of interested youngsters that witnessed the platoon's demonstration in the rodeo arena at Morton Monday. The platoon, which is seeking recruits, would like to interview any interested youth in the Morton area who is interested in joining their outfit.
