Sudan man killed in local accident

Loses control on FM1780 curve

A Sudan man lost his life in a one-car accident approximately four miles east of Morton on FM1780 late Tuesday afternoon.

Howard Gilbert Weaver, 51, of Sudan, died several hours after rolling his car several times on a curve on the "S" curve of "Country Club Road."

Investigating officer, DPS Patrolman Jimmy Lytal reported to the Tribune that Weaver was traveling west on the highway when he went into the left hand turn on the "S" curve and lost control of his 1966 Peugeot sedan and rolled over several times.

The accident was reported by telephone at 6:13, Lytal stated, and the victim was taken to Cochran Memorial Hospital by Frontier Ambulance for emergency treatment.

He was later transferred to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock by the same ambulance and was undergoing treatment there when he was pronounced dead at 11:10 p.m.

Two other accidents marred the local traffic scene in recent days, with no injuries being recorded in either mishap.

Friday morning at 11:50, Lytal was summoned to an accident approximately 14 miles west of Morton on SH116 involving two pickup trucks.

Juan Lojano, driving a 1963 Chevrolet pickup was toying Roberto Ramirez in a 1967 pickup when the vehicle in the rear blew its right front tire and began to oscillate violently, which finally resulted in both trucks doing a half roll and ending up resting on their tops. Neither man was injured.

A car and a pickup collided south of Morton Tuesday night with considerable property damage resulting but no injuries to those involved.

According to highway patrol reports, Gayla Trull, 16, of Bledsoe, was traveling south on SH114 and was followed by Marlon Coffman, of Morton, in a 1974 Ford pickup when the accident occurred approximately 2 1/2 miles south of Morton.

The reports indicate that when the sedan stopped, the pickup struck it in the left rear with its right front fender.

There were no injuries reported in the accident which was reported to the highway patrol by citizens band radio at approximately 10:50 p.m.

October cotton loan rate final for 1974 crop

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) today said that the 1974 crop loan rates for Upland and Extra Long Staple Cotton, announced as Preliminary October 31, 1974, will be the final rates. These rates are 34.25 cents per pound for Upland and 67.74 cents per pound for extra long staple.

The department also announced that maturity dates for 1974-crop cotton will not be extended. Maturity dates for cotton, reflecting a 10 month loan period, vary depending upon the month the loan is obtained.

USDA SAID recent market data indicate the current level of average world prices for American Upland Cotton is about six cents per pound higher than the announced preliminary loan rate. Also, the department pointed out, the 1975-crop loan level is more than nine cents per pound above the 1974 level and that much of the unsold 1974 crop should benefit from market prices reflecting improved world demand.

Girlstown residents given especially welcome gifts

The girls of Girlstown, many of whom have known poverty, generally are grateful for any kindness that comes into their lives. But they had special reasons for appreciating gifts presented them Monday.

The girls, who've gone as much as four full months without beef on their menus, received $2400 worth of boxed frozen beef from Hi-Pro Feeds of Friona, Tex.

And Chemical Weed Control of Brownfield and Hobbs, N.M. gave them a washing machine and a new ice-making machine just in time to replace one that had broken and left the girls facing a long, hot summer with limited ice supplies.

"You don't really know how much you appreciate beef until you try doing without it," said Mrs. Wanda Cooper, wife of Girlstown Director Marshall Cooper. "Once in 1973 when the price of beef was so high and we had serious budget problems, we had to make do on chicken entrees for 120 days in a row.

"We had a bunch of hens and that kept food on the tables," she added. "But after four months eating chicken every day, you'd trade a week's supply for just one good hamburger!"

Girlstown, located on a 1425 acre farm nine miles south of Whiteface, provides a home for girls from four to 19-year-old who have been referred by schools and or-courts because they are neglected, come from broken homes where no supervision is available, or come from homes where extreme poverty makes proper care impossible.

NEW TWO-YEAR PROGRAM

SPC adds Country, Western degree

Professional guitarist John H. Hartin of Norfolk, Nebraska, has been named to head a new two-year program leading to a degree in country and western music at South Plains College.

The country and western program, approved in March by SPC's board of regents, will include instruction in guitar, bass fiddle, drums, voice, piano, steel guitar, banjo, dobro, mandolin and other instruments as well as courses in sight singing, arranging for country and western bands, and history and literature of country and western music.

Students also will be required to take other general academic classes in such subjects as English, history, government, science, math and others before receiving the associate of arts degree. The program is designed to provide the basic skills to better equip the student to work in the field of country and western music. Although it is intended to be a two-year terminal course, many of the hours could be applied toward a baccalaureate degree in music.

Hartin, who is 32, began writing country and western songs at the age of 9. By the time he was 14 he was performing on guitar with his won band. Since then he has had numerous public See DEGREE Page 4

Reading Club

The Summer Reading Program at the Cochran County Library is in session for children ages 6 through 12. Those that read twelve books during the session will receive Reading Certificates from the State Library. Library hours are from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

ALWAYS THERE WHEN NEEDED — The Morton Volunteer firemen were on the scene immediately when the group of cabins pictured above burst into flame late Monday afternoon on the Jimmy Williams property at the south edge of town. The blaze flared up again early Tuesday morning and had to again be quelled by the firemen. No estimate of damage had been released at press time.

June 1775 was marked by doubts, dread on part of colonies

The month of June two hundred years ago opened on an ominous note. War had already begun in April and continued through May; no one knew how long it might continue. The second Continental Congress was in session and was considering ways and means to defend the colonies militarily. The matter of independence was still over a year away, but more people joined the ranks of those who already believed that reconciliation with Great Britain was impossible.

Defiance of British authority became a much more common occurrence throughout the colonies. In early June, Virginia was a good case in point. Lord Dunmore, royal governor of Virginia, called the House of Burgesses into special session on June 1 to consider another proposal by Prime Minister Lord North and the House of Commons.

Peyton Randolph, only recently elected President of the Continental Congress, resigned that position to return to Williamsburg, Virginia, to preside over the meeting of the Burgesses of which he was a speaker. According to historian George Bancroft, he arrived with such ceremony that he "eclipsed the pomp of the governor, and in the eyes of the people raised the importance of the newly created continental power."

Virginians were excited both about the war in New England and about a serious threat posed by Lord Dunmore. The governor had threatened other regulations of Parliament were obeyed. To slaveholding Virginia this was a threat to both their liberty and their property.

On the night of June 7, Lord Dunmore became fearful of his personal safety and took refuge on board an English ship at York. He was convinced that this was the right move because of what he considered the rebellious mood of the burgesses and because he had learned that Samuel Adams and John Hancock were shortly to be placed on the "wanted" list. He could not be sure how the burgesses might react to that decision.

The reply to the governor's call, written by Thomas Jefferson, was issued on June 12. In essence the statement said that reconciliation with Great Britain was the greatest desire next to liberty itself. However, the actions of Parliament, according to Jefferson, simply compounded the oppression. Therefore, Virginia would appeal to King and Parliament no longer; future actions would rest with the Continental Congress.

Without doubt, Virginians were moving closer to the point of no return.

In Spanish Texas the removal of the residents of Adaes to San Antonio apparently did not have the desired results. According to official reports, quite a number of the residents fled Adaes to avoid being moved. In addition, neighboring Indians raided what was left. Moreover, Frenchmen from Natchitoches moved in to live and trade among the Indians more than ever before. Historian H.E. Bolton conjectured that despite governmental orders the frontier was never totally abandoned.

Just as a Virginian defied British authority, some Spanish Texans also defied Spanish authority. — Donald W. Whisenant, history professor, Eastern New Mexico University

Record social security paid to Texans in 1974

A record $2.6 billion was paid out in social security cash benefits to residents of Texas in calendar year 1974, according to Clyde W. James, social security district manager.

Each month the social security office pays out $5.8 million to people in the 17 county Lubbock district. Legislation enacted in December 1973 provided for an 11 per cent increase in monthly benefits effective June 1974, with 7 per cent of this amount payable for March 1974 through May 1974. Benefits also will increase automatically in future years.

Of the social security benefits paid to beneficiaries in Texas during 1974, $1.6 billion went to retired workers and their dependents and $712 million to the survivors of workers who have died. Another $316 million was paid to severely disabled workers and their dependents.

Nationally, social security cash benefit payments in 1974 totaled 58.5 billion. This was about $7.1 billion higher than in the previous year. At the end of December 1974, about 31 million men, women, and children were receiving monthly social security benefits. The number of persons on the benefit rolls increased by over a million during the course of the year, James said.

Retired workers and their dependents account for about 63 per cent of all receiving payments. The survivors of workers who have died, including children and their widowed mothers, aged disabled widows and widowers, and aged dependent parents, make up close to one-quarter of all those receiving social security payments. Another 12 per cent are disabled workers and their dependents.

Social Security is not only a program for the elderly, James said. Almost 24 per cent of all beneficiaries are under age 60, and 15 per cent are under age 22.

Mrs. Bills gives program for club

Mrs. S.J. Bills presented a program on house plants for members of the Whiteface Garden Club Monday at 8 p.m. in the Community Building. Mrs. E.E. Jennings demonstrated "Grooming and Troubles."

In the business meeting, it was announced that due to lack of applicants, the scholarship offered to a graduating senior, who planned to study some phase of Conservation or Agricultural work, was not awarded. The scholarship will be offered again next year.

Mrs. J.L. Schooler reported on the symposium held in Abilene in May.

Members voted to pay the expense of the club president or an authorized representative of the club to attend the fall convention in Abilene Oct. 14 to 16. A second printing of cook books was discussed. Members will take orders for the revised book with stipulation that only if enough books are pre-ordered, they will be published.

Present for the meeting were: Meses. R.W. Abney, J.W. Allen, Bills, R.D. Hensley, Jennings, G.C. Keith, Jerry Marks, Elmer Orr, Schooler, Tim Schooler, J.J. Stocks, Ricky Bennet, Robert Evans, the hostess, Mrs. Ronnie Davis and guest, Mrs. Larry Sills.

The next meeting will be held June 16 in the home of Mrs. Hensley for a program on flower arranging.

Care of Your Roses

Since roses do not have a large root system water them frequently. At least once a week. Control insects with Ferti-Lome Rose Spray. At the time you spray you can mix Ferti-Lome Fungicide with your spray and control Black Spot and Powdery Mildew. Fertilize monthly with Ferti-Lome Systemic Rose Food. The roses will pick up some of this insecticide through the roots and will give some more insect protection. Complete insect protection, proper fertilization and frequent waterings are the key to beautiful roses.

Recently we have had lots of insect damage to roses so keep them sprayed & they will reward you for your effort. Nothing is more beautiful.

Texas Summer Feeding Program funds increased

More than $1.5 million has been tentatively allotted for operation of the Special Food Service Program for Children in Texas. The program is administered in Texas through the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service, with regional offices in Dallas, Texas. President Ford signed into law May 2 a bill which continues the program through September 30 (P.L. 94-20) and USDA today announced a tentative $58.7 million allocation of funds to operate the summer program. The Texas allocation is an increase of about $200,000 over last year's figure. Regulations governing this year's summer program will be the same as those in effect for the 1974 program. However, the rates of reimbursement will be adjusted according to provisions of the law which require that the rates for the 1975 summer program reflect an increase over the rates for the 1974 summer program proportionate to the increase in the Consumer Price Index for food away from home for the most recent twelve-month period available. The law further requires USDA to announce these adjusted rates within ten days of its enactment. The Summer Special Food Service Program is designed to provide nourishing meals to needy youngsters who during the school year my depend on school lunches for a significant part of their nutrition. Last Year, states spent $50.9 million to reach 1.7 million children. The following table shows the tentative 1975 allocations for states and their comparable 1974 expenditures.

GIRLSTOWN FROM PAGE ONE

Operating at capacity, Girlstown presently provides a home for 126 girls -- 66 at the headquarters campus here, 22 at a campus at Borger and 38 more at a campus at Austin, Tex. "We have to turn down 15 to 20 applications every week," Mrs. Cooper said, because the home's 64-person staff is inadequate to care for more. "Some of them need help so badly it breaks your heart to have to turn them away," she added. Girlstown, founded in 1949, claims to be the nation's first publicly-supported, non-sectarian home for girls. It depends on public contributions for approximately 80 per cent of its $350,000 yearly budget and, said Mrs. Cooper, "Gifts like these from Hi-Pro and Chemical Weed Control really help." Both Hi-Pro, a division of Friona Industries Inc., and Chemical Weed Control won awards they presented in a unique community-oriented Dow Chemical, U.S.A. marketing program. The program permitted distributors, dealers, and applicators of Dow agricultural products to name charitable organizations of their choice to receive awards they won by increasing sales of Dow agricultural chemicals in 1974. Bill Sovell, Friona, Hi-Pro sales manager who made the presentations of beef to Girlstown Monday, said Hi-Pro won $6400 in the program by significantly its sales of Dow

Marilyn. Gene Lynskey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Lynskey of Morton qualified for the Farm and Ranch Management Individual contests, and ranked seventh in the state with his demonstration. This contest was sponsored by thirty-three Production Credit Associations of Texas. Mary Smith, daughter of Mrs. Morton J. Smith, Junior, of Morton, participated in the Natural Resources Individual Contest and scored three hundred twelve points out of a possible four hundred. Her contests was sponsored by the Texas Forestry Association (Love Wood Products). Selection of Roundup participants started with contests held on a local and county level. District contests were held May 3 in Lubbock with State Roundup as the climax of this 4-H activity. Four-H members who enter the method demonstration contests take another step in expanding their educational experiences. Preparation for the contest includes planning, decision-making, the accumulation of new information and skills and a challenge to develop greater self-confidence. The contest can help each person measure his present knowledge and skills against his personal goals. Don Lynskey and Gail Gladden, County Extension Agent (Home Economics) accompanied the group to College Station for the two days of activities. The following local businesses and individuals sponsored the local 4-H members while at Roundup: Johnny Love, Farm Equipment Company, Roy Hickman, Cochran Power and Light and Bill Wells Chevrolet-Olds. Linda Neal of Whiteface and Ray Lewis and Ken Wesley of Morton assisted the members with their posters and script information in preparation for the contest.

In addition to the $2400 worth of beef--more than a ton of it--awarded to Girlstown Monday, Hi-Pro will Tuesday give $2,000 worth of beef to the West Texas Boys Ranch at San Angelo and $2,000 more to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center at Abilene. Pete Edwards of Chemical Weed Control, Brownfield, said his firm--which uses Dow herbicides to control weeds and brush around industrial facilities--decided to designate $750 of its total winnings of $1750 for purchase of an ice-making machine for Girlstown when it was discovered an old ice-making machine used in the dining room had quit working and funds were not available for its repair. "We traded it in or purchase of a new one from Lubbock Ice Machine Co.," he said. A $200 washing machine was presented for use in a cottage where 16 girls live in a 50-girl dormitory. In addition, Chemical Weed Control will present an $800 stereo-TV theater center to the Boys Club of Hobbs, N.M.

During his career in the music business, he has acquired a working knowledge on most instruments used in country music, including four-and five-string banjos, dobro, mandolin, pedal steel guitar, and country fiddle and bass. He also has written several hundred country songs and has recorded four of them. He holds an associate degree from Norfolk Junior College and a bachelor of arts degree from Briar Cliff College of Sioux City, Iowa. He also has attended Morningside College in Sioux City. Hartin will get the new program started in September. Ideas for the program started several years ago, however, mainly because of the interest shown in guitar classes at SPC. "The response from pre-teen through senior citizen age to the guitar classes was overwhelming," said Nathan Tubb, academic dean at SPC. "The feedback in the planning stages from our music departments as well as musicians in the area concluded that there was a terrific need for formal instruction in country and western music."

IS THE CHURCH PART OF YOUR LIFE?

PICNIC MORNING

Happiness is a picnic morning. Happiness is a day spent with the family. Happiness is walking and talking and sharing the fun and beauty of God's world with those you love.

A picnic is always a happy idea. Somehow, just getting away from the daily routine does wonders. The sound of a cool waterfall, the rustle of a bird on the wing, the warmth of a friendly sun, all of it makes you "come alive" with a new kind of freshness.

There is another place where we all may renew our strength for the times we live in. The atmosphere, fellowship, and inspirational teachings of your church will do much to keep you walking happy. Spend next Sunday morning in church.

Veterans should file for advanced payments

Jack Coker, Veterans Administration Regional Director, advises veterans headed for the first time this summer or fall for classrooms under the GI Bill to act promptly if they want advance payment of educational checks.

Coker noted a record 2.4 million veterans and military service personnel trained in fiscal year 1974, and the agency made 563,250 advance payments totaling $211.3 million. So far this fiscal year, 659,300 payments in the amount of $243.6 million have been made.

Advance payments were initiated in August 1973 to assist veterans who, after starting to school, find themselves in financial difficulty while awaiting their first VA checks.

Coker said a veteran who plans to enter school should first make certain he has a certificate of eligibility. If he hasn't, one should be obtained from the nearest VA office.

The certificate must be presented to the school of the veteran's choice. The school, if it accepts the veteran, will forward it and the enrollment certification (on the reverse side) to VA.

Coker explained that if the agency receives this information at least 30 days before registration, veterans who train half time or more may pick up their first check when they register. The first check

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Pollard's grandchildren, Tanya and Lance of Tahoka and Wade of Levelland are spending the week with them.

Mrs. James Sinclair is going to school in Lubbock attending the Migrant work shop.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E.N. McCall Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rowden of Morton, Mrs. Dolores Rowden and children, Don Vanlandingham and Brent and Marthan George all of Lubbock.

will cover training allowances for the first two months, or one month and a portion of a month, depending upon the registration date.

Under current rates, a single veteran in school full time receives $270 monthly, with two dependents $366, and those with three or more dependents receive an additional $22 monthly for each dependent over two.

Half time rates are $135 monthly for a single veteran, $160 monthly for veterans with one dependent and $182 monthly for those with two dependents. Veterans with three or more dependents receive an additional $11 monthly for each dependent over two.

Tea Topics

By David and Eunice Bigelow

Throughout the centuries, tea drinkers have learned to enhance their cup in many ways, usually according to culture and custom. We Americans sweeten our tea with sugar, or use honey for its natural benefits. The Russians add jam to their tea, and the English have grown accustomed to a bit of milk in their spot of tea.

An old central and northern European tradition is to put rose hips in the brew—both for their fragrant aroma and taste, and for the great amount of vitamin C they contain.

You can enjoy this unusual tea here and now—with Rose Garden, a new special tea blend by Bigelow. It comes in convenient tea bags, and is a distinctive mix of tea, rose hips and hibiscus blossoms. And what makes it so unusual is the light fruit-like flavor, and a color unlike any tea you've ever seen—as bright and pink as the petals of a rose.

Ready for a great tea adventure? Do pick these roses.

Jaclyn Claye

has her say . . . . .

DEAR JACLYN CLAYE: It's true that a lot of old people talk constantly about their impending death. But my mother carries it one step further. About three years ago she willed her body to medical science much against our wishes and she simply hasn't stopped talking about it since. What's worse, she gives a great deal of this morbid conversation to our young children and it's a chilling experience. "When they back up grandma" is a constant phrase she utters around here and it is upsetting to every member of the family. Last Sunday she pulled the drum stick from the roast turkey at dinner and then promptly gave reference to her own dissection when that Great Day Comes. Please advise your readers that if they have chosen to give away their remains, to just keep it to themselves — J.N.S.

DEAR J.N.S.: Grandma talks about it because it makes her feel important. It might be a good idea for you to discuss the subject with her, thoroughly. In the privacy of her own room, without the children present, let grandma talk and talk and talk. Then, when she's through talking about it, tell grandma that she is loved and not to talk about it... ever again.

DEAR JACLYN CLAYE: My husband never introduces me to his friends and business associates at social gatherings. When we attend a party, I am forever having to insert "I'm Tom's wife" somewhere in the conversation, and it is really very embarrassing. I admire my husband because although he was born into a very poor family, he has risen to financial and social prominence in his town. But I am afraid that his humble beginnings show up in his social graces. Please print this letter because I am sure there are many who share the same problem — Tom's Wife.

DEAR TOM'S WIFE: If your husband has jumped all of life's hurdles and has succeeded, this last one can't be much. When you are driving with your husband in the car to attend an event, bring it to his attention that his friends and associates are not known to you and that you would appreciate a standard introduction. I think Tom will do his best.

DEAR JACLYN: My seventeen year old son is having a fling with a married woman. It all started innocently enough this spring, when he regularly mowed her lawn. I began to notice that he spent more and more time at her house, and that her's was the best-kept lawn in town. Then I began to see them together at the market and other places. I am just petrified. When I told my husband about it, he just thought it was funny. The boy will not admit to anything but I know what's going on and I really believe it has got to be stopped. Something has got to be done about it and I would like to hear your suggestion.

M.O.S.
Dear M.O.S.: I would suggest that you telephone that woman, and even if you don't tell her of your suspicions directly, at least let her know that you are wondering about your son's fascination with her home and garden. She'll get the message. And your husband is something of a dud. If he thinks your son's activities are cute, let him know that if this woman's husband finds out about these little trysts, his son's life could be in danger. There are very few juries, in this country, that would find fault with a man who found it necessary to blow a stranger out of his bed. This is a very dangerous situation and it must stop, soon.

SPC Junior Band Camp scheduled for June 16 to 20

The annual South Plains College Junior Band Camp is scheduled June 16-20 for youngsters who will be enrolled in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades this coming fall.

Students need to have a minimum of one year's experience in their school band program before signing up for the camp, said Jack Nowlin, camp director and director of the SPC Texan Concert Band.

"The camp is designed to help in the further development of the young bandsman, and to give him the encouragement and enthusiasm necessary to excel," Nowlin said.

Two bands will be organized during the camp -- Bank I for first year students, and Bank II for more experienced students.

Instruction also will be available in music history, music theory, twirling, and drum majoring as well as class instruction for the various musical instruments, Nowlin added.

A concert at 3 p.m. Friday, June 20, for parents and friends, will culminate camp activities, Nowlin said.

Students will need to bring either their own lunch or purchase a meal from the College snack bar or cafeteria.

Tuition fee is $15 for each student. There is an additional $2 fee if the students want to swim each day in the SPC Natatorium. Students will need to bring a swim suit and towel if they plan to do so.

Volleyball and softball also will be included in daily recreational activities.

For more information, contact Nowlin's office at 894-4921.

MRS. MAURINE GREER retired Friday from Liner's Pharmacy. She has spent more than twenty years in the drug store business, first working for Morton Drug when it was located on the west side of the square. Mike Liner and employees of Liner's presented her with the retirement cake she is pictured holding and a money tree, shown at left.
