Dougherty Wildcat Nears 50th Day Of Drilling

DRILLING crews are working around the clock at the "Dougherty Prospect," a wildcat exploration immediately north-east of Dougherty. The test site is on Bundy Campbell land.

Working "twenty-seven hours a day, seven days a week," drilling crews continue to core deeper into the earth on the "rank wildcat" in the Dougherty community.

Labeled "the Dougherty Prospect," the wildcat is on Bundy Campbell land, northeast of Dougherty. It is 17 miles east of Floydada.

The 48th daily report was filed Friday morning, a spokesman told The Hesperian. Drilling started Dec. 16.

Wayne Durrett of Levelland is the "pusher."

The spokesman declined to state how deep the crew had drilled, but stated that the operation was in the "intermediate" stage. He added that "the string has been set."

The drilling operation could continue "possibly another month." The crew is "drilling to a possible TD in the granite."

Severely cold temperatures had been detrimental to the drilling crews although this has not halted the operation.

Jim Blodgett of Midland told The Hesperian during a Thursday phone conversation that the permit was issued for a 12,500 foot exploration.

He termed the Dougherty project "certain a wildcat....there is no nearby production."

Banquet Tickets 'Over Half Gone'

Well over half of the tickets to the Floydada Chamber of Commerce Banquet have been sold, C of C Manager Lance Barrow said Thursday. The goal is "to have at least 400 people fill Duncan Elementary Cafeteria" for the banquet.

It is scheduled for Monday evening, Feb. 12.

Barrow said that directors have pointed out that in the past "60 per cent of the tickets are sold in the last week." If this is a true barometer, sales are "progressing well."

Barrow told The Hesperian during a Thursday phone conversation that Pat Summerall "is rearing to go....he is really looking forward to his Floydada visit." Summerall, nationally-known sportscaster, has accepted an invitation to be the banquet speaker.

Tickets may be purchased from any chamber director or at the C of C office.

KATHY BURNS, two, snuggles close to Betty Fuller, director of the Floyd County Day Care Center after awakening Thursday from her afternoon nap.

'Love' Is Primary Feature Of Day Care Center

A sign in Della Plains School — home of the Floyd County Day Care Center and other programs — states: "What every child needs: love, acceptance, faith, security, protection, independence, control, guidance."

This seems to depict the attitude of Director Betty Fuller and her staff at Floyd County Day Care Center. A generous portion of love is added.

"We have more time to spend with some of these children more than their mothers," says Mrs. Fuller, who explains that some of the youngsters are left at the center as early as 7:30 a.m. and not picked up until 5:30 p.m. Many of the youngsters stay for shorter periods, "depending on their mothers' working hours."

Some area women with young children "drive 25 miles to and from work."

A great portion of the youngsters at the day care center are "regulars." The director explains that "we have a few drop-ins, who are accepted when we know some of our regulars will not be here or as long as we are not reaching our quota." Floyd County Day Care Center is licensed for 51 youngsters. The daily average is "38 to 40."

A "full house" of 51 youngsters was at the Center Wednesday.

The average number "may be a little higher" during summer months when agricultural workers are employed, Mrs. Fuller notes.

FEES BASED ON SLIDING SCALE

Fees for keeping youngsters at the center "are based on a sliding income scale."

"When the center opened nine years ago, students primarily were children from low income families. Today, mothers from "all income levels" utilize the facility.

The Center started with two children and was licensed for 20. We thought we would never reach 20," the director said.

Mrs. Fuller notes that a number of public school teachers place their offspring in the day care center.

Floydada Heart Ball: A Ball With A Heart

The Floydada Heart Ball could be termed a "ball with a heart" and for a purpose.

All proceeds from the Saturday, Feb. 10, function at Massie Activity Center go to the American Heart Association fund drive in Floydada. The ball is scheduled from 8:30 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Members of the Heart Fund committee point out that tickets are considered a donation and are tax deductible. Tickets will be available at the door.

Athenians Study Texas

On January 25, 1979, thirteen members of the Athena Junior Study Club and two guests, Dana Poole and Julie Collins, met in the home of Kathy Hunter in Lockney. Janie Kein served as co-hostess for the evening.

Sally Carthel introduced the program "An Evening With Texas Heritage." She led the group in the flag salute to the Texas flag and in singing the state song, "Texas, Our Texas." Sally had divided the living room into five learning center areas, and small groups of people moved from one to another learning something different about our state at each station. The five areas visited were:

1. Pioneer Personalities. At this station members composed a scrapbook of the recent Lockney Beacon articles by Felicia Applegate.
2. Ethnic Cultures. A tape recorder was set up at this station, along with booklets explaining the various nationalities and cultures represented in Texas.
3. Texas Trails. A large map was displayed, having ten famous Texas Trails marked off and numbered.

4. Beauty Spots. Pamphlets about famous sites were available for browsing through; then each person recorded her favorite beauty spot around Lockney in a notebook.

5. Texas Products. Several recipes and recipe booklets were available for taking; each person added to a list all the Texas products she could remember.

Refreshments for the evening included a favorite among Texans, "Millionaire Pie."

Karen Koonsman opened the business session with a devotional reading. Members answered roll call with an interesting fact about Texas.

The club decided to have a paperback book drive for M.D. Anderson Hospital patients. Anyone wishing to donate used books to this effort may leave them at the local library or give them to any Athena member.

Members attending the meeting were: Rita Burleson, Sally Carthel, Peggy Hallmark, Kathy Hunter, Janie Klein, Karen Koonsman, Martha Sue Lusk, Charlotte Mitchell, Virginia Owens, Judy Schacht, Sandra Turley, Jan Widener and Maxine Loran.

The next Athena meeting will be Thursday, February 8, in the home of Sally Carthel. Members are reminded to bring items for creating shadow boxes for each other.

Mrs. Bybee Hosts Penseroso Meeting

The Penseroso Junior Study Club met Thursday night week in the home of Mrs. Louie Bybee in the Providence community.

Guest speakers were unable to be present, so the program was given by club member Mrs. Ronnie Aston, who teaches home and family living courses in Plainview High School.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Donnie Jackson, first vice president. She read the treasurer's report also. "Thank you" notes were read from two residents of Girlstown U.S.A. (Borger campus), from representatives of the volunteer services at the Vernon state hospital unit, and from the social director of Lockney Care Center where cookies were provided by members Mrs. Bill Bigham and Mrs. Jim Bob Martin for the Christmas party.

Mrs. David Turbeville was named as the club's representative on the Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair Board.

Members were reminded that the quilt squares for the club's quilt are due Feb. 22. Mrs. Rick Mosley is in charge of this annual project which will be won by a club member.

Mrs. Bybee served refreshments of fruit "pizza" and sandwich loaf to the following members: Treana Aston, Susan Flippin, Lynda Gant, Gayle Jackson, Judy Jackson, Kathy Kellison, Kay Martin, Ginger Mathis, Lisa Mosley, Robin Stoerner, Cindy Turbeville, Janette Workman, Reeda Smith and Lesca Durham, and to guest Mrs. Lanny (Cathy) Barnett. Resignations of club members Susan Flippin and Barbara Coffman were accepted.

Layette Shower Honors Mitchell Infant

Timothy Michael Mitchell was honored with a layette shower Wednesday afternoon, January 24, in the home of Mrs. Jim Warren in Lockney. Timothy is the infant son of Charlotte and Warren Mitchell and a grandson of Mrs. Chester Mitchell.

Guests were served a variety of cookies and punch from a table decorated in yellow and green and accented with an arrangement of yellow daisies and carnations.

Hostesses for the occasion were Sally Carthel, Marie Brock, Faye Barker, Lucille Harris, Carolyn Whittington, Martha Sue Lusk, and Lela Warren.

What will be the number one cause of death in Texas during 1979?

The Floyd Philosopher
Wondering About Farm Income

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm explains a couple of things this week, perhaps.

Dear editor:
 It's hard to understand how the government can tell you how much farmer's incomes increased in 1978 even before farmers have filed their income tax reports, and at the same time can't find out who stole a billion dollars worth of coal from the government.

Yet the Department of Agriculture has already announced that farm income in 1978 was up 25 per cent over the previous year so agriculture must be looking up. This is like saying a man who has been working for one dollar an hour and has been raised to two dollars should jump for joy because he's had a 100 per cent increase in his income.

I wish the Secretary of Agriculture would gather up all the farmers whose NET incomes jumped 25 per cent last year and haul them around the country for the rest of us to see. It wouldn't cost much. He could get them in the back of his car.

Now about the stolen coal. As I understand it, the government owns a lot of land in some states with coal under it and people have been stealing it. They haven't been just picking up a lump at a time and toting it off in a sack, they've been strip-mining it with mammoth machines in broad daylight and hauling it off in hundreds of big trucks, up to a billion dollars worth.

 You might ask, how could they get away with it? Why didn't the government notice?
 You've got to understand how the government works. It takes time to uncover fraud. First you've got to find a committee to investigate the rumors and all the committees may already be tied up investigating frauds in other places, maybe frauds in other committees. Sometimes there just aren't enough committees to go around. Then you've got to hire special investigators to stake out the suspected theft area. This takes time.

Then the investigators have got to slip in, after dark when the bulldozers aren't operating, and spray a batch of the stuff with a powder that glows under an ultra-violet light. Come morning, unless it's their day off, they set up a road-block and red-handedly capture a trucker hauling marked coal. This gives them adequate evidence when the trial comes up six months or a year or two from now.

With an open-and-shut case like this, the trucker is tried, convicted and given a suspended sentence. The owners of the operation who've made off with a billion dollars worth of stolen coal are fined a thousand dollars apiece, or would be if they could be found and it turned out they failed to contribute to a single political campaign.

Your faithfully,
 J.A.

PRUNE SHADE TREES WHILE DORMANT

Major pruning on shade trees should be done during the winter months while the trees are dormant. However, before you start whacking away at your favorite tree or shrub, make sure you have a justifiable reason for pruning, cautions Birch L. Lobban, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
 Lobban points out that there are a number of reasons for pruning. First and foremost is to maintain a strong framework for the future development of the tree. Other reasons are to reduce the size or to keep the tree within specific bounds and to remove dead, diseased or weak growth as well as broken limbs and rubbing branches. Another reason for pruning is to improve the size and quality of flowers and fruit. A final reason is to balance the top growth with the root system at transplanting time.

Unless pruning can be justified for one of these reasons, it is better to place the shears and saw in the shed and obtain the desired exercise by spading the flowerbed, says Lobban.

Some of the general principles that will apply when pruning shade trees include the removal of all dead or diseased wood, broken limbs and weak growth. Also, long, unsightly branches should be shortened or removed as they offer too much resistance to the wind and are frequently subject to storm damage.

Never stub back limbs or branches, advises Lobban. Rather, cut back to a main branch or trunk so that there will be no stubs remaining. The so-called stubbing back or topping large branches will result in a proliferation of sucker growth and will leave a wound that is impossible to heal.

Recent research indicates that the use of a tree wound paint on wound is not essential, add Lobban. Woody plants have the ability to wall off the wounded area and will heal over just as effectively without the dressing. However, there is no harm in using a wound paint.

PRUNE SHADE TREES
 Lobban suggests using a saw or chisel to smooth broken stubs and torn bark to promote healing.

While the homeowner can handle most pruning operations, it may be best to hire a professional arborist or tree surgeon if trees are large or need extensive work, adds Lobban.

If the tree or shrub being pruned is diseased, it is important to dip pruning equipment in a disinfectant after each cut to kill disease organisms so as to prevent their spread to other portions of the tree or even to other trees. A 10 percent household bleach solution makes a satisfactory disinfectant, says Lobban. This can be prepared by mixing one part of bleach to nine parts of water.

FLOYDADA WHOZIT — This well-known Floydada woman should be easy to identify. She is seen in downtown Floydada each business day and is the mother of three, one of whom is a Floydada High student. If you would like to guess at this woman's identity, please contact our office by next Wednesday.

Was the Floydada "Whozit" in last Sunday's issue Sam Baker or Jerry Thompson? Both men were identified by several persons as the mystery personality.

If you guessed Sam Baker, you were wrong. The fifth grade photo from yesteryear was that of Jerry Thompson.

Julie Cathey said "if he had less hair he would look like Jerry." Others guessing Thompson were: Linda Crader, Joy Assiter, Randy Fleming, and Mrs. Shelby Calahan.

Those believing the "Whozit" were Baker included: Sam Spence and Helen Griggs. Some callers identifying the mystery personality as either Thompson or Baker did not leave their names.

Vera Meredith believed the mystery picture was L.B. Stewart.

Joy Assiter and Virginia Cox both correctly identified the Lockney "Whozit" as Doug Meriwether, postmaster in Lockney. Mrs. Shelby Calahan thought it was Dale Brown and another woman guessed a Lockney businessman.

Photos from the public are requested for the "Whozit", which is published in the Sunday issue each week. The pictures may be left in our office.

LOCKNEY WHOZIT — Anybody know who this lady is? Call The Beacon office if you think you know.

Douglas Meriwether Is Lockney Whozit

Minnie Canon was the first to guess the identity of last week's Lockney Whozit. It was, of course, Doug Meriwether. Others who correctly identified Doug were Nettie Williams, Joe Cunyus, Helene Holt, Joyce Wilson, Tommy Montandon, Vera Cox and Mrs. Robert Ayres.

VA News

In-as-much as the Veterans Administration is updating income information and medical expenses, all Veterans Administration beneficiaries receiving a non service pension will receive an annual income questionnaire card with their October check, which they will receive November 1st.

This does include those pensioners who have not in previous years received a card. This will include veterans over 72 years of age and children receiving pension in their own behalf. It is imperative according to D.G. Ayers, Floydada, County Service Officer, that Veterans Administration beneficiaries receiving a non service pension immediately contact the Social Security Administration and/or any agency from which they are receiving retirement benefits. According to the County Service Officer, it is imperative the right amounts be reported in order that the beneficiary can receive the correct amount of pension. It is also imperative the beneficiary have with them when they bring the annual income questionnaire card to the County Service Officer, the total amount of medical expenses which have been paid during the year 1978, and which have not been reimbursed. These expenses include doctor, hospital, dental, drugs, hospitalization premiums, glasses and cost of nursing home care. Completion of the annual income questionnaire card will be mandatory by the recipients or benefits will be terminated effective January 1, 1979.

For further information please contact Ayres at the County Service Office.

FARM & RANCH NEWS

Farm Economic Situation Cloudy

and a mild recession are expected to hamper economic growth in the United States and will especially keep agricultural producers in an economic bind," believes Anderson. "The President's wage and price standards are not expected to be effective unless they are bolstered by considerable economic restraints by monetary authorities and in government spending.

INFLATION SEVERE
"Effects of a high rate of inflation are particularly severe on agriculture," emphasizes the economist. "It aggravates the cost-price squeeze by increasing production costs but not necessarily farm prices. The result is lower incomes and a risky financial environment. At the same time, farmers and ranchers are faced with rising costs of living such as higher bills for utilities, pickup trucks, housing, clothing, fuel and medical costs just like other businessmen and wage earners."

Anderson expects sagging productivity, deficit federal government spending and cumbersome federal regulations to fuel inflation. A sizeable trade deficit will also contribute to economic instability. With limited petroleum resources and slow progress in developing alternate sources of energy, the U.S. is becoming increasingly dependent upon expensive oil imports.

"Prospects for holding the rate of inflation below about 8 percent in 1979 is bleak," contends the economist. "There is no easy answer nor quick solution to controlling inflation without a number of undesirable short-term effects such as high interest rates and increasing unemployment."

Increased Pumping Efficiency Pays

Average pump efficiency on the Texas High Plains is about 52 percent, well below the 75 percent it is practical to achieve. Improving pump and engine efficiencies could result in a 41-percent reduction in energy used for irrigation in Texas.
This estimate of returns is based on present values to crops, of improved efficiency of the well and pump, over a 20-year period. The value of improved pump efficiency was estimated for both center pivot sprinkler and furrow irrigation systems with "good water" and "poor water."

The expected cost to improve the well efficiency for an average well in the region is $3,000. Scientists with The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Water Resources Institute say that with the exception of a furrow irrigation with low beginning saturated thickness (poor water), it is generally profitable to the individual producer to spend the money needed to improve pump efficiency.

COLD AND LONELY -- If the bitter winter has you down, how do you think these poor guys feel? Texas ranchers have been forced to rely on heavy supplemental livestock feeding during recent ice and snow storms, reports the Texas Department of Agriculture.

BODY CONDITION KEY TO MONTH CALVING INTERVAL
Producers should keep their cows in good condition since delayed calving costs money, says Birch L. Lobban, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Cows that are in good shape at the time to become pregnant again in three months after calving. This is necessary to maintain a 12-month calving interval. Any delay in calving interval, when multiplied by every cow in the herd, can lead to large reductions in the number of calves weaned per cow per year.

Ability of cows to maintain a good calving interval is mainly affected by nutrition and, more specifically, energy, says Lobban. Maintaining adequate levels of energy before and after calving is essential if you are to have a high reproductive rate.

Producers need to be aware of the effects of weight loss on the cow's ability to calve. Cows should calve moderate to good condition and gain one-eighth to one-fourth pound per day through the breeding period.

COTTON PRICES LOWER
High Plains cotton prices were $2.25 to $4.00 per bale lower the week ended January 25, according to Paul R. Dickson, Area Director at Lubbock's Marketing Services Office.

Growers sold mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and better, staples 30 - 33, mikes 35 - 49 around 52.90 cents per pound. New crop lots of mostly grades 43 and 53, staples 30 and 31, mikes 35 - 49 brought about 48.35 cents per pound, Dickson said.

USDA's High Plains Marketing Services Office graded 107,000 samples this week, bringing this season's total to 1,742,000. This compares to 2,908,000 graded by January 26 last year.
Predominant High Plains grades this week were grade 41 at 10 percent, grade 51 accounted for nine percent, grade 42 accounted for 39 percent and grade 52 was 24 percent. Twenty-five percent were reduced one grade because of bark.

Staple lengths were mostly staple 31 at 35 percent, staple 32 was 39 percent and staple 33 accounted for nine percent, grade 42 amounted to 39 percent and grade 42 was 24 percent. Twenty-five percent were reduced one grade because of bark.

Support Reductions May Cut Ag Spending

Reduced costs of farm price supports could help cut the Agriculture Department's spending by 8.9 percent next year, according to President Carter's budget proposals.
Total department spending was projected at $18.4 billion in the 1980 fiscal year that will begin Oct. 1, compared to an estimated $20.2 billion that will have been spent by the end of this fiscal year.

Department budget experts said price supports and income payments for key crops--and other programs financed by the department's Commodity Credit Corp.--are projected at $2.55 billion, down from about $4.78 billion this year.
But Stephan B. Dewhurst, the department's acting budget director, told reporters the projection was based on an "average yield" estimate that assumes for planning purposes that farmers will get normal weather this year.

However, Dewhurst said it would be "misleading to the American people" not to include other possibilities. So figures prepared by his office show that if farmers get "bad weather" the government actually would not have to pay an estimated $917 million to farmers in the next fiscal year.
This is because bad weather would mean smaller crops and that would drive up prices. In such a case, federal payments would not have to be made to farmers to make up for any deficiency between the market price and the target price set under government farm programs for such big crops as wheat, corn and cotton.

On the other hand, Dewhurst said, if there is "good weather" and super large crops are harvested, market prices would tumble and the government would have to step in with larger subsidies to farmers.
If that happened, he said, costs of operating the programs could soar to an estimated $5.58 billion next fiscal year.

That, in effect, would shatter the conservative budget Carter proposed to operate the Agriculture Department next year.
A budget book prepared by Dewhurst's office said "many 1980 estimates are very tentative at this time" and that various Agriculture Department programs "are sensitive to uncontrollable factors, including the weather and changing economic conditions."
Government food programs, including food stamps and child nutrition, will cost more next year and at a projected $10.8 billion will account for almost 59 percent of the Agriculture Department's total proposed budget, compared to $9.6 billion or 48 percent this year. Although costs of crop programs are highly variable, proposed outlays in other areas were more definite, including these Agriculture Department cuts for next year:

-$18.6 million less for science and education, including reductions in research assistance.
-$80 million less for the Agricultural Conservation Program, putting it at $110 million next year against $190 million currently.
-A reduction of $107.4 million in operations and programs of the Soil Conservation Service, including cuts for water-shed planning, resource conservation and development, and watershed and flood prevention operations.

Reagan Brown To Speak At Water, Inc., Luncheon

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown will be the luncheon speaker at the 12th annual membership meeting of Water, Inc.
The commissioner will speak at noon, Saturday, Feb. 17, following the morning program in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center. The meeting program will focus on the area's crucial water problem and its agricultural productivity.
Brown was appointed Commissioner of Agriculture by Gov. Dolph Briscoe in early 1977 to replace long-time commissioner John C. White, who resigned to take a position as U.S. Deputy Secretary of Agriculture. Brown was subsequently elected to a term as commissioner in the 1978 elections.
Since becoming commissioner, Brown has become one of the most highly sought speakers among elected officials

Lloyd Cline of Lamesa, President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., is urging broad participation by cotton producers and cotton-related businessmen in upcoming county elections where PCG directors for 1979-80 will be elected.
Each of PCG's 25 counties has two directors, one a producer and one an agribusinessman, elected on alternate years for two-year terms. Excepting Hale and Swisher Counties, where elections were held in January, all counties in 1979 will be electing producer directors at meetings to be scheduled in February or March. Individual notices to the residents of each county and news releases will be mailed in advance of each meeting.
Hale County on January 23 elected A. L. "Skinny" Higgins, owner of Higgins Gin at Plainview and also a cotton producer, as its businessman director. The retiring Hale County business director, having served since 1969, is John McQuien, manager of the Plainview Cooperative Compress.
Swisher County January 24 re-elected its business director of four years, Boyd Vaughn, who is in the insurance business in Tulia.

Cline is stressing the necessity of a strong area organization if the High Plains is to effectively meet High Plains cotton industry problems and take advantage of opportunities as they appear in years to come.
"An active board of directors who can and will adequately and accurately represent the majority view of people in the individual counties," Cline believes, "is the key to PCG's success in filling membership needs."
"And," he reasons, "an involved membership in each county that gives careful consideration to the selection of its PCG directors is the key to having such a board."
All producers and agribusinessmen are invited to attend the county election meetings where current directors and PCG staff members will provide information on the organization's work and answer any questions.
However, this year for the first time only current dues-paying PCG members will be eligible to vote in elections or to be elected a director. The PCG Board on November 8 of last year amended the by-laws to that effect.
Asked to explain this action, PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson said "By making dues payment a prerequisite to helping elect directors or serving as directors the board intends to assure that PCG policy and especially the disposition of PCG funds will be determined by the members who provide those funds."

'Love' Is Primary Feature Of Floyd County Day Care Center

six months through 10 years, the center at 601 East Ross Street in Floydada is open Monday through Friday around the calendar. Children start arriving when workers report at 7:30 and the staff members until 5:30 in the afternoon.

ACTIVITIES OUTLINED
"We have found that the children do much better when they stay busy," the director says in outlining activities. Crafts, songs, games, physical activities, and rest periods — with breaks for snacks and the noon meal — fill busy days at the day care center.

Many youngsters are first acquainted to the learning process at the facility. They read stories, sing songs, color, cut and glue paper and construction paper, have games, and use building blocks.

Their physical activity periods depend on the weather. An outdoor playground is available as is the gymnasium, shared with other groups at the former Della Plains School. "All types of games" are played in the gymnasium. Some of the children even bring tricycles, which are locked in a storage room until play time.

One thing is definite: each child must rest — and usually sleeps — two hours each day.

OWN KITCHEN

Mrs. Fuller, the day care center's only director since its opening Dec. 1, 1969, says a cook is among staff members and prepares lunch as well as morning and afternoon snacks in the center's kitchen. The cook has one assistant and that person frequently is Betty Fuller.

Five members of the staff are paid by the center, three others are actually Green Thumb employees, and five are employed by the Man-Power Program. Among the five persons whose salaries are paid under the Man-Power Program are two students who each work two hours a day.

However, all of the above mentioned employees are not on duty at one time. Green Thumbs alternate, as do the high school girls.

THREE GROUPS

Mrs. Fuller explains that children enrolled at the day care center are divided into three age groups. At present, the youngest group — frequently referred to by staff members as "our babies" — are children from six months to two years. The middle group includes those from 2 to 3½ years, and the oldest children are 3½ to 5 year olds.

Age divisions may be changed at any time to maintain equalization in class numbers.

Overseeing operation of Floyd County Day Care Center is a board which currently includes 22 persons.

Heading the board as president is Donnell Gowens. Other officers include: Jettie Moss, vice president; Ilene Kendrick, secretary; and Newell Burk, treasurer.

The most important feature of the day care center are the youngsters. Their ties with the staff members are close.

As Betty Fuller sits in a chair at the gymnasium entrance and explains that "we love all of these children," a little girl of two with beautiful red hair climbs into the director's lap and moves close to her. Love flows freely in both directions!

HOUSING AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM
The City of Floydada is making plans to participate in the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's Community Development Block Grant program. Recently, the City's Citizen Advisory Committee held three public hearings relating to participation in the CDBG program — one hearing to obtain citizen input on the City's Citizen Participation Plan and to assess the City's past performance on housing and community development activities and two hearings to solicit citizen views on housing and community development needs and priorities.

A final public hearing on the City's CDBG pre-application has been scheduled by the City Council of the City of Floydada on Thursday, February 15, 1979, at 5:00 p.m. in the City Council Chamber at City Hall, 114 West Virginia Street. At this meeting, the Council will make decisions on the amount of funds to be requested, the proposed projects and the proposed target areas. General information on CDBG program requirements will also be available.

All citizens are encouraged to attend this meeting and present their views on the proposed CDBG pre-application to the Council. OBITUARY

Services for Ora L. Jacobs, 89, of Quitaque are pending with Quitaque Funeral Home.

Mrs. Jacobs died at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Lockney General Hospital after a brief illness.

Remember your loved ones and friends with a memorial to Lockney General Hospital Memorial Fund. These memorials go toward equipment to help serve our community in the best way possible.

She was born in Galena, Ark., and married Joe Jacobs on Oct. 3, 1903, in Arkansas. He died in 1963.

Mrs. Jacobs was a Baptist and was a longtime resident of Quitaque.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Garnie Taylor of South Plains community; two brothers, Lewis Lester of Plainview, and Fred Lester of Wapanucka, Okla.; two grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; and two great-great-grandchildren.

"GABRIEL" will present a Saturday, Feb. 10, concert at First United Methodist Church in Floydada.

'Gabriel' Will Present February 10 Concert At Floydada Methodist Church

The Christian music group "Gabriel" will be performing at First United Methodist Church in Floydada, Saturday, Feb. 10, at 7 p.m. The church is located at 203 West Kentucky.

Methodist Youth are sponsoring the program. "The concert will be over in time for those wishing to attend the Heart Ball" in Floydada, a spokesman said. Two young men, Jeff Walter and Robin Lyle, comprise the group, performing an innovative, contemporary brand of Christian music. Their song, "Time", was selected the winner of the 1978 national song writing contest sponsored by Word Music, Inc. This, and other compositions by Robin Lyle, are helping attract more and more attention to Gabriel in the world of Christian music.

"We don't want to be known as mere 'entertainers,'" Lyle comments. "We'd like our music to have a genuine, lasting effect on the lives of our listeners. The message is the most important thing." From a strictly musical standpoint, Gabriel is certainly qualified to be in "the business." The duo can be compared favorably with any of the better popular groups of the contemporary scene. With a tight vocal blend and unique piano stylings, Gabriel has provided musical presentations, meetings, and retreats, at the concert hall. The group is currently on its first album, released early in 1979.

"Gabriel's music ded to announce news of God's love," Walter. We know Gabriel, was named name because of the Messianic of the Messiah. We want to do it for people, through that Christ can give them. And we have time doing it!" Jeff and Robin Arlington, Texas, wives, Teri and The exciting message of "Gabriel" comes to First United Methodist Church in Floydada Saturday, Feb. 10. Admission is free.
