MRS. MONTE LYNN HALL

Leslie Kim Myers and Monte Lynn Hall United In Marriage

On Saturday, March 24, Leslie Kim Myers and Monte Lynn Hall were united in marriage at 3 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church of Shallowater. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Myers of Lubbock, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hall of San Antonio. Officiating in the ceremony was Rev. Murry Brewer of Lubbock.

Attending the bride were maid of honor Sue Ann

Spradlin of Garland, cousin of the bride, and bridesmaids Susan Hayes of Whitesboro, Tammy Wilson of Anson, and Jamie Myers (cousin of the bride) Allison Terry and Shirley Stewart, all of Lubbock. The groom's attendants were best man Murry Hall, brother of the groom, and groomsmen Mike Hall of Houston, brother of the groom, Bob Cooper of USAF Academy, Colorado, cousin of the groom, Wayne Tannery of Austin, cousin of the groom, Eddie Berndt of Lake Geneva, Wis. and Tony Wright of Paris, Texas.

Mrs. C.L. Record of Lockney presented a medley of arrangements at the piano prior to the ceremony and the traditional wedding march at the organ. She accompanied Jan Kelley, soloist, Arlington, cousin of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white bridal satin fashioned with a Victorian neckline of ruffled Chantilly lace. Full-length sleeves were accented with lace inserts and lace cuffs.

The empire bodice was accented with deep sheer yoke edged with Chantilly lace and medallions. The full A-line skirt had a chapel length train. A band of lace formed the hemline of the skirt, and tiny seed pearls adorned the gown, with lace at the waistline. The headpiece was a pearl-studded Juliet cap of matching lace, holding a lace-edged veil. The bridal bouquet was fashioned from gardenias, white rosebuds, and baby's breath, accented with pearls. She wore pearl ear studs belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Alvin Nichols, the traditional blue garter, and a penny in her shoe.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore floor-length dresses of spice colored quiana, fashioned with a scoop neckline extending into soft flowing cap sleeves and blouson bodice. The skirt was of permanent press pleats.

Flower girl was Rhonda Catlett of Plainview, niece of the groom. She wore a full-length dress of ecru with ecru lace and spice-colored ribbons, and carried a basket of tangerine carnations and baby's breath.

Kim Hellman of Lubbock registered the guests.

A reception followed the ceremony in Fellowship Hall. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth of dotted swiss. The centerpiece was a five-point silver candelabra — flanked by the bridesmaids' bouquets. The three-tiered cake of white was topped with interlocking wedding rings and doves.

The grooms' table was covered with a sheer white cloth. The centerpiece was a spice candle on a gold colanade surrounded by a fresh fruit arrangement, and the

Drawbacks Of Fad Dieting Cited

Adults require two or more servings of milk daily. Milk group foods provide three-fourths of calcium needed daily, she continues.

When dieting, drink slim milk instead of whole milk and save 90 calories per cup.

Limited Variety
This diet is so limited in variety that it strays from traditional eating habits. Most overweight or obese people need to learn improved permanent eating habits. About the best result they can expect from any fad diet is the possible loss of a little weight to give them incentive to lose down to their normal weight, the specialist adds.

Re-Education
To lose weight successfully dieters need to be re-educated to a new way of eating and maintaining this for the remainder of their lives. They also need sound reduction diets which are nutritionally adequate so health is not endangered, she recommends. This is done by reducing food quantity without taking away essential nutrients by cutting foods out. Cut down on serving sizes but do not cut foods out. The lower caloric food choices of the basic four food groups provide the guide for reducing diets. Adults need two to three-ounce servings of meat group foods, two to three cups milk group foods, and four servings each daily of fruit and vegetable foods and bread and cereal group foods. Restrict the other group foods—fats and concentrated sweets—to three servings a day, Mrs. Sweeten suggests.

Expensive Foods
This diet contains some very expensive food choices such as lamb chops and steaks several times throughout the week. Budget-minded dieters could use lean ground meat and less tender choices with the same calories and less expense. One ounce of lean meat provides seven grams of pure protein no matter which cut.

Repetition
Another limiting food choice would be eating a grapefruit every day for breakfast. A variety of fresh fruit or ice would serve the same purpose. Fruit choices are needed daily as a source of vitamin C and for some carbohydrate.

Also, eating the same food extended periods could cause an allergy to that food, Mrs. Sweeten says.

Group Foods
Foods are limited. These are the groups to watch: protein, fat, and drink.

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

Easter Eggs—Before And After
Eggs become an important holiday food with Easter just around the corner. In ancient times, eggs were sacred symbols and, later, were glorified in paintings and sculpture.

Today, eggs are honored around Easter and can be dyed, painted and trimmed. Be imaginative—use paper, lace, buttons, even ribbons—there is no end to the fun of decorating.

Before decorating, cook the eggs properly following these steps:

—First, selected top-quality eggs—Grade A or AA.

—Place selected eggs (not too many) in a medium size saucepan.

—Add enough cold water to come at least one inch above the eggs, and heat to boiling. Remove from heat, cover and let stand 15 to 20 minutes.

TIP: To prevent an egg from cracking while cooking, add a few drops of vinegar or lemon juice to the water.

—Cool immediately in cold water for about 20 minutes. To properly dye Easter eggs, follow these steps:

- 1) Prepare the egg dye as directed on the package.
- 2) Or, use a few drops of food coloring in custard cups or muffin tins.
- 3) Dye only uncracked eggs.
- 4) Cover the eggs fully with hot water while dyeing, and spoon dye over eggs with a tablespoon.
- 5) Let stand, turning occasionally, until evenly colored.
- 6) Spoon out eggs, and place on paper towels.

For some economical variations in dyeing eggs, cut designs from cellophane or adhesive tape. Paste on eggs before dyeing. Remove tape when dry for white designs.

Refrigerate Easter eggs promptly after dyeing—use the eggs within a few days. Discard all cracked eggs after the Easter egg hunt or use immediately—exposure to harmful bacteria can be dangerous.

Here is a quick-and-easy recipe for those after-Easter eggs:

Simple Deviled Eggs
6 hard-cooked eggs
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons hot dog relish
¼ teaspoon salt
Paprika, if desired

Remove shells from hard-cooked eggs, and slice eggs in half lengthwise. With a teaspoon, remove egg yolks and place in a mixing bowl. Mash egg yolks with mayonnaise, relish and salt. Fill center of egg white with egg yolk mixture. Sprinkle paprika over egg, if desired. Chill and serve. Makes six servings.

HUMANISTS SUCCEEDING IN INFLUENCE
The basic premise of Humanism is not that man is God's equal, but His superior. In 1933, 34 practicing atheists collaborated in the forming of what they called The Humanist Manifesto. The signers were among the most prominent writers, educators, and philosophers of that day.

Among the original signers of The Humanist Manifesto was John Dewey. It was Dewey who introduced the destructive humanist theories into our public schools.

Every Christian needs to read The Humanist Manifesto I and II to see how that theory has crept from public school to Christian schools — even into our homes and churches.

The first statement of the humanists' religious rule and practice is:

"Religious humanists regard the Universe as self-existing and not created." (Page 8).

The first Manifesto ended with the concluding statement, "Though we consider the religious forms and ideas of our fathers no longer adequate, the quest for the good life is still the central task for mankind. Man is at last becoming aware that he alone is responsible for the realization of the world of his dreams, that he has within himself the power for its achievement. He must set intelligence and will do the task."

And the humanists began that task in our public schools, colleges, and universities.

Among the signers of the Manifestos are many of the most prominent psychologists, philosophers, and professors of this century: B.F. Skinner, Sidney Hook, and Albert Ellis are typical.

The leaders of almost every area of social upheaval signed those Manifestos: Betty Friedan, founder of NOW; Sir Julian Huxley, of UNESCO; Alan F. Guttmacher, president of Planned Parenthood.

The movement to remove God from America did not evolve by accident, it came by design. The "God is Dead" theology was born in humanism.

On pages 16-17 in The Manifesto: "No deity will save us; we must save ourselves. Promises of immortal salvation or fear of eternal damnation are both illusory and harmful...There is no credible evidence that life survives the death of the body."

Situational ethics, sexual freedom, legal abortion, and world government are all products of humanism. Pages 18-19: "...intolerant attitudes, often cultivated by orthodox religious and puritanical cultures, unduly repress sexual conduct. The right to birth control, abortion, and divorce should be recognized."

It also includes a recognition of an individual's right to die with dignity, euthanasia, and the right to suicide."

The humanists have given up converting stubborn adults; they aim to program the minds of our children. And they began on Sesame Street.

If humanists succeed in their goals for mankind, it will probably do for us exactly what Satan's temptation did for Eve—get us excluded from God's fellowship.

Stenholm Treasurer Of Balanced Budget Caucus

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm was recently elected treasurer of the Balanced Budget Caucus in the U.S. House of Representatives. In his position of leadership on this panel the Congressman plans to explore ways to limit the growth of government spending and work toward a balanced budget.

He believes that deficit spending must be eliminated if we are to maintain the fiscal integrity of this country. He is sponsoring a constitutional amendment to accomplish this goal.

"For years Congress has succumbed to the temptation for more spending to solve our nation's problems. As additional demands have been made on the Federal bureaucracy, it has become inefficient, expensive, and unwieldy. We are now finally beginning to realize that many of our social problems cannot be solved by throwing money at them," Con. Stenholm says.

Congressman Stenholm plans to look closely at the total cost of the Federal government and not just at the often superficial figures presented in the budget. The cost of our regulatory agencies is about $5 billion a year and yet their regulations require $150 billion in compliance costs for business.

Also, Congress throughout the years has routinely voted increased benefits without considering the costs. As a result future Congresses will be required to pay for our present obligations. It has become vital for legislators to consider the effect their decisions will have on the total cost of running our society.

It is time to more carefully analyze the expenditures of the public sector and eliminate those outlays that are unproductive. Con. Stenholm believes society should rely more on individual initiative and less on government handouts.

Speaking of power, have you ever gotten mixed up with Super Glue? If you have you will know what we are talking about; if you haven't this stuff is quite powerful.

Monday morning we were attempting to fix a part of one of our machines which required gluing together a piece of plastic and a piece of steel.

Naturally, we ignored the warning about not using too much of the Super Glue, and also, not get it on your hands.

Much to our surprise we found ourselves all glued together with a couple of fingers which we almost didn't pull apart.

Wanda Riffe, who came to our aid, also got into the act and between us we almost got glued to one of the machines in the office!

Despite my stupidity, we finally got the two pieces glued back together.

DIVIDE SALES TAX

We've preached a little in this column, from time to time, on shopping at home—not only for the benefit of local merchants but for the many advantages realized by the entire community. A bill has recently been introduced in the state legislature which really caught our attention and relates to shopping at home.

State Rep. Ray Keller of Duncanville is sponsoring a bill aimed at redistribution of the city sales tax. At present, the 1 percent sales tax is paid to the state and then allocated back to the city where it was collected. Keller's bill calls for the tax rebate to be made on the basis of population rather than where it was collected.

He argues the sales tax is for the local government to provide services to its citizens. When someone shops outside his home town, the tax money does not return to the citizen in the form of service—it goes to another city for services. This is taxation without representation, says Keller.

A study of Keller shows that 91 percent of the cities in Texas would receive a net gain under his proposal. This means most of us are subsidizing those 9 percent who gain under the present system.

Here's the shocker: Figures given for Hereford show the 1978 tax rebate at $392,304. Under the proposal on population (based on 16,200 for Hereford) the total would be $673,434—a net gain of $281,130!

The rest of the towns in the area would come out ahead, too. Even Amarillo would come out a few thousand dollars to the good, while Lubbock would only lose a few thousand. The big losers are Houston, $33 million, and Dallas, $13 million. None of the other 9 percent who lose are anywhere close. Austin would lose about $2 million, Midland, $1 million.

This would seem to support the old argument that too many local shoppers go to Amarillo, and too many Amarillo shoppers go to Dallas.

The bill sounds good. Not only does the present system create a windfall for cities who happen to have many businesses arbitrarily located there, but many shoppers taxed in these cities have no say as to how the revenue should be used.

All three board officers were re-elected for the ensuing year. Jones serves as president, Adrian Helms is vice president, and Martha Harris is secretary.

Other board members include Pruitt, Harvey Allen, Betty Holmes, and June Ware.

Supt. Jerry Cannon and Cathey reported on physical improvements which are underway or planned in the near future on school facilities.

Resurfacing of tennis courts at junior high is "70 per cent complete" and the project is expected to be finalized "within two weeks." Supt. Cannon told the board he would like for them to visit and examine the courts during the May or June meeting.

Work is progressing on the junior high science wing "which will be better than it was," the superintendent predicted. This facility recently was damaged by fire.

Repainting of poles at high school and Andrews Elementary plus a new sidewalk near the FHS tennis courts are included in facelifting. Lawns on the school campuses and at the football field were fertilized prior to the Monday rains.

Cannon anticipates that "the new sidewalk in front of R.C. Andrews Elementary will be poured this week, weather permitting." A 600 square foot concrete area for bus students at Andrews Elementary also is anticipated.

"We are pleased so far with the improvements," the superintendent stated, adding: "They have helped the appearance of the school."

Repainting the interior of Floydada High School is a scheduled summer project. Repainting is done annually at the various schools on a rotating basis.

PRELIMINARY BUDGET REPORT
Cathey presented a brief, preliminary budget report for the 1979-80 school year.

Trustees reaffirmed and supplemented the school's equal employment policy.

Supt. Cannon told the group of a superintendent and school board workshop, planned April 27 in Lubbock. It is being sponsored by Texas Tech University. Board members were encouraged to attend, if possible.

Prior to the board session, school officials were treated to dinner in the FHS homemaking department. Instructors Alice Baker and Monda Dean and the homemaking department prepared the meal.

VO-AG REPORT
In keeping with Supt. Cannon's policy of having one department discussed at each monthly session, instructors Orville Harris and James Cleveland were present to review the vocational agriculture program.

Harris explained that a curriculum guide is received from Texas Education Agency and the instructors then make a detailed teaching plan for Vo-Ag I, II, III and IV for that year. He noted that greater emphasis is placed on crops and stock more prevalent to this area.

Harris said that due to rising travel costs, the department "has cut down to three major shows and the county show." The state has a travel allowance which includes stock shows, judging contests, leadership contests, conventions, instructors' training, and other items.

Vo-ag members participate in "some but not all" judging contests. Harris believes it is more important to offer "a basic knowledge to all students" rather than concentrating heavily on a few students for contests preparation.

He noted that advisors work with individuals on Lone Star Farmer degrees and proficiency awards, as well as assisting with scholarship attempts. Members also are encouraged to attend a summer electric shortcourse, district and area meeting, and state conventions.

'ONE OF BEST'
"We think we're one of the best chapters in the nation," Harris told trustees, citing the number of awards received by Floydada FFA Chapter members.

He also outlined community service projects such as building playground equipment at the local housing project and the park last year. The FFA chapter joins FHA chapter for social and recreational activities.

"FFA helps make its own way" through projects such as fruit and turkey sales. The chapter handles approximately $15,000 annually, and receives some donations from friends.

Primary expenditures are state and national conventions (Lone Star Farmer, proficiency winners, and officers are assisted with their expenses), the parent-student banquet, collision insurance on the ag pickups and trailer, contribution to a scholarship fund and other items.

Last year, production projects grossed $65,000 for members. Another $37,800 was earned by members through the ag co-op program.

Shop equipment was discussed by Harris and Cleveland with the board.

Harris noted that vo-ag is "a 12 months program. I don't know about other ag teachers, but we stay busy." Short courses for women, FFA conventions, state ag teachers' conventions, as well as assistance with projects fill the summer months.

CO-OP PROGRAM
Cleveland outlined the co-op program, which is under his direction. He explained that participating students attend school one-half day and work one-half day.

"I believe this is an excellent program for students who plan to go immediately into the work field," Cleveland stated. Participants must be age 16, must be either a senior or junior, and must be engaged in a farm-related job.

Harris noted that approximately 85 Floydada High students are enrolled in vo-ag classes this year. He said that pre-enrollments indicate "we've have at least 100 next year."

President Jones conducted the Tuesday meeting which was attended by all board members except Betty Holmes, who recently underwent surgery. Others present were Jerry Cannon; Tommy Cathey; Leonida Cleveland; Carla Schneider, a guest representing Duncan P-TA; and Jim Reynolds of The Hesperian.

After the plaque presentation to Stovall, minutes and bills were discussed and approved.

LAWRENCE STOVALL (right) accepts a plaque of appreciation for six years service on the Floydada Independent School District board of education. Making the presentation is Board President Travis

Jones, who expressed appreciation to Stovall, a trustee from 1973-1979. "It is not the oil or gas shortage which is the future of our country, but our youth and schools," Stovall stated.
