Floydada elections are Saturday, April 6th

We doubt that our readers will need to be reminded, but nevertheless we want to remind them anyway: Saturday, April 6th, is an important day in our calendar of events. That is the day our readers, and maybe one or two who are not our readers, will vote in elections for city council, school boards and hospital boards. We hope a heavy vote will be reported when the last ballot is counted.

It is true of course that our city council do not set national defense policy, or farm policy, but they, along with those who run our schools and hospitals, perform a vital function in determining the quality of life in our society and the quality of life that our children will enjoy in the future. We can only urge that our readers consider all the races carefully. Make the choice that will be best for our communities, and be sure to vote.

Saturday, April 6, is the day to get out and vote in local elections. There are three elections to be held. The City of Floydada will be electing a mayor and two council members. Parnell Powell is running unopposed for the office of mayor. Current council members Wayne Russell and Frank Breed are being challenged by Ginger Warren and Tino Morales for the council positions. City voters may cast their ballots between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Saturday, April 6, at City Hall.

Floydada Independent School District has three board members up for reelection. Two terms of two years and one term of one year are on the ballot. Current members Freddie Morren and Weldon Pruitt are facing a challenge from Joyce Kimble on the full terms. Hulton Carthel is running unopposed for the unexpired partial term of one year. Voters may cast their ballots at the Floyd County Courthouse in the Commissioner's Courtroom between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. on April 6.

Three Caprock Hospital Board members are on the ballot for reelection. Louis Anderson, Donald Bean, and Jo Wester are unopposed in this election. Ballots may be cast in Room 5 at the Floyd County Courthouse between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. on April 6.

Profiles of most of the local candidates have been published in earlier issues of the Hesperian. The final candidate to be covered is Jo Wester.

Jo Wester is a third time candidate for the hospital board, having served two terms previously. She is a local lady, raised in Dougherty and educated in Floyd County schools. Wester is the wife of retired postmaster Ed Wester. The couple raised five children here in Floydada.

Wester is active in community and civic affairs. The family attends First Christian Church, and she is employed at the F.C.S. Federal Credit Union.

Readers are reminded that sample ballots of all three elections appear elsewhere in this issue.

Parks and wildlife hearing held

Parks and Wildlife hearing officer, Ronnie Vandiver, presented and explained proposed changes in regulations for the taking of game and fish in Floyd County at an open hearing held in the County Courthouse on March 29. The hearing was lightly attended with only Raz Ford and Kenneth Broseph on hand to comment on the changes being considered. Fred Cardinal represented the county law enforcement officials for the hearing.

Vandiver read the proposed changes, which included an increased limit on whitetail deer from 3 to 4, with the mule deer limit to 2. Only one mule deer may be a buck and no more than 2 whitetail bucks may be killed. No more than 4 antlerless deer may be taken during the year. Limit for all deer taken per season would be 5.

The Parks and Wildlife Commission is contemplating lowering the daily limit on pheasant to 2 with a possession limit of 4 after the first day. The legal season would extend for 16 days from the second Saturday in December. Additionally the limit on turkeys would be set at 3, with no more than 2 being taken during the general season in the fall or in the spring gobbler season, beginning the Saturday nearest April 15 and run for 16 days. This would decrease the harvest of pheasants and increase the turkey gobbler harvest.

In the fish department, a redefinition of the meaning of "final destination" has been proposed. Final destination is to mean the shore if fishing from a boat and does not include jetties or piers. It is unlawful to process fish while on the water, or to possess processed fish while on the water. This is proposed to help enforce length limits and prevent pollution of fishing waters.

The limit on fresh water catfish in lakes within state parks would be reduced to 5 per day with a possession limit of 10 and the limit on striped bass hybrids would be the same. This change would allow a better distribution of harvest and allow more stocked fish to grow to larger size.

Both Ford and Broseph suggested the pheasant season be reduced to a maximum of one week with a possession limit of 2 for the season. Broseph stated,

"The bird population has decreased due to abuse by hunters, both in and out of season, and because of the decrease in suitable cover and food crops being grown in the area."

Ford added, "The population of pheasants is just way, way down. Something has to be done to rebuild it."

Comments and discussion of those attending were taped and will be forwarded to the commission for consideration before regulations are set later this year.

April is Cancer Crusade month for Floydada

The Floydada Chapter of the American Cancer Society will be having its annual crusade during April.

The residential crusade will be conducted from door-to-door on Sunday, April 14. Neighborhood chairmen for this campaign are Kaye Orman, Anne Carthel, Jan Thayer, Pat Zimmermann, and Lsora Younger. These five chairmen in turn have numerous block workers working with them to cover their prescribed area of town. Mrs. Annie Taylor will be chairman of the Della Plains area with several women working with her.

The business crusade will be conducted the last three weeks of April with various businessmen helping from business to business. Norma Dean Welch and Edith Marrs are organizing the drive out in the communities around Floydada and enlisting many workers from the various communities.

Floydada's goal for the 1984-85 year is $6,950.00, which includes other activities sponsored by the local chapter, as well as memorials. C.J. Payne is the memorial chairman and works all year accepting memorials at the bank.

The American Cancer Society uses 29 cents of every dollar for research, 11 cents for professional education and scholarships, 28 cents for public education using free films, programs, and pamphlets, 25 cents for service and equipment to patients, and only six cents of every dollar goes for administration and program development.

Please give generously when contacted by one of these many volunteer workers who will be calling on you during the month of April.

Texans for Children's Rights formed

A citizens action group was formed in Floydada during a meeting held at Lighthouse Electric on April 2. Fewer than a dozen were present for a discussion on the no pass, no play rule which is part of House Bill 72. Although other aspects of this educational reform bill are troubling to these parents, they expressed the most concern over the "length of the suspension period and the disadvantage it places on students who want to compete in extra-curricular activities."

"Being forced to lay out for six weeks means missing the entire competition in most cases," said Jimmy McGaugh. "Not only athletics is affected by this. We have seen the effect on UIL competition this spring."

This group opted to form an organization to raise money and support for a class action lawsuit attacking the State School Board and its interpretation of the length of suspension required. The group (who choose to call themselves Texans for Children's Rights or TRC) proposes to hire a lawyer and use the court system to force a reduction in the suspension from six weeks to one week.

Jimmy McGaugh, chosen to head up the effort, said "The first problem we face is raising the retainer fee for the attorney. That will take $20,000.00 We may have to raise additional funds as these run out, too."

Lynn Marler reported that she had spoken with people in Seymour, and that they are interested in joining the effort, as well as some in the Wichita Falls area. An interest has also been expressed by some parents from Petersburg and other Panhandle communities according to McGaugh.

"We need 500 people willing to contribute $40.00 to get us started,"

Appraisal district proposes budget

A proposed 1985-1986 budget of $110,990.00 was presented to the Floyd County Central Appraisal District Board of Directors by chief appraiser Shelia Faulkenberry at the April 3 regular board meeting. The budget estimate represents a reduction in expenditures from the present operating budget of approximately $5,000. A budget hearing is scheduled for May 1, 1985 at 10:00 a.m. to iron out budgetary details.

The filing of lawsuits for the collection of delinquent taxes on both real and personal property is now about three-fourths of the way complete according to Faulkenberry. So far, those filed on have paid the amounts due without the need to resort to actual seizure of property. A total of $36,532.15 has been collected in delinquencies.

Collections on the current tax role are said McGaugh. "We will have to involve much larger numbers of people and raise more money to beat this thing, but I believe we can if we can get public support from several areas."

Anyone interested in the project may contact Jimmy McGaugh at 806-983-2603. Further plans to meet will be announced as they are scheduled.

91% complete at this time as compared to being 92% complete at the same time last year. $3,178,622.84 has been collected from a tax levy which totaled $3,470,423.05.

Other action taken at the session included scheduling a meeting of the Board of Review for May 2, approving funds for two district employees to attend a required school in Amarillo later this month, and appropriation of funds for the purchase of a new humidifier for the computer room. The board set a fee of $100.00 as a fair reimbursement for the work involved in removing the personal property vehicles from city tax rolls. The charge was said to cover telephone expenses for information on how the task should be accomplished and for time spent by computer operators to perform the work.

SERVICE AWARD—Doyle Turner, right, received a Service Award on the occasion of his retirement from the United States Postal Service. The award was made in appreciation of 33 years of dedicated service to the government of the United States. Geary Reckling, left, Postmaster of the Floydada Post Office presented the award on behalf of Harry Pentala, Postmaster General of the Southern Region. The award was accompanied by a letter of commendation. Turner retired on March 13, and he received the award on March 28.

organization", be it Republican or Democrat. A person would have to be naive in the extreme to believe that this does not weigh heavily on the mind of people placed in office under those circumstances.

Our Constitution does not speak to political parties. It makes no provisions for them. Our political parties are the outgrowth of efforts by like-thinkers to see their political philosophy prevail in the political market place, and ultimately in government. We have no quarrel with that. Indeed, we have been part of it for many years. But that relates to policy, not the enforcement of laws passed and put in place by policy makers.

The whole purpose for political parties, as far as we are concerned, is to provide vehicles by which good people can be elected to run the affairs of government. Political parties are important in that they can crystallize political sentiment and provide a peaceful means by which that sentiment finds expression in the way we are governed. They ought not be viewed, in our opinion, as refuge for hacks who can earn a living by no other honorable means. Or as a safe haven for those who have simply carried water for others higher up the political ladder.

The Republican Party has grown and prospered in Texas because it offered an alternative to the direction the Democrats were taking. Neither the Republicans nor the Democrats can escape the fact that they are part of the national effort of each party. To the extent that the national Democrats have steadily marched leftward, the Democrats in Texas have suffered, and the Republicans in Texas have prospered. That growth has been aided by the fact that they have generally put up good candidates in selected races who are in tune with their fellow citizens and who have not been forced to defend a national leadership with which they are in disagreement.

We thoroughly understand the thinking of those Republican Party officials who turned their back on the idea of non-partisan election of judges. They are charged with the task of improving their party's position, relative to the Democrats, in state affairs. They see things moving their way, and they can anticipate the day when most judges across this state will run under their banner, not under the banner of the Democrats. But we will have gained little, in our view, if we merely substitute one flag for another. There must be a realization, even by those in "leadership" position, just what the process is all about and why so many of our citizens are willing to give of their time and substance to see good people elected to office.

One of the arguments made against the non-partisan election of judges is that it would reduce the influence of political parties and enhance the role of money in judicial races. We fail to see where the role of money is going to be affected, one way or another. Anyone who thinks money does not now play a part in the selection of our judges simply has not checked the contributions of Clinton Manges, or the plaintiffs attorneys, or a number of other organizations who want to have a sympathetic ear in potential courtroom contests. Money is going to follow interest, and money will be used to protect interest, whether the candidates run as Democrats, Republicans, or Independents.

We are under no illusion that the state is on the verge of a "break through" in terms of reform in this matter. Under any circumstance it would probably be years before a majority of Texans can be convinced that there is a better way to select those who dispense justice, and who interpret and enforce laws passed by our policy makers. But the leadership of both the Republican and Democratic parties do not do justice to the cause of fairness, in our view, when they stonewall an idea they ought to be behind, for the good of all Texans.

Tornado seminar explains Floydada's plan of action in emergencies

Guests speakers at the tornado seminar held at the Lighthouse Electric on Thursday, March 28, for the citizens of Floydada included: Jim Pritchett, Bobby Welborn, Floydada's Fire Chief; Bob Copeland, principal of A.B. Duncan; and trooper, Dude Speed of the Department of Public Safety.

The spotting system used in Floydada, explained Welborn, "...uses fireman and city personnel, and D.P.S., eight units altogether, who are spread out to cover as much of the city and county as possible. The severe weather warning comes over the teletype at the Sheriff's office first and then the spotters go to their locations. Pumper trucks of the fire department are sent away from the station in case the fire department is destroyed by a tornado, but located still close enough to handle emergencies. One pumper truck is sent to the compress, one pumper goes to the Lakeview highway, and another goes to the hospital and rest home to help with residents when the order to take cover is given. The roller unit, which is a four wheel drive vehicle, is sent directly to the storm and follows the storm in, keeping in contact with the fire station.

Other units are dispersed to the Lockney highway, the Ralls highway, the Silverton highway, and the Sandhill highway. The fire department spotters are sent out two to seven miles from town. Units from the sheriff's office go out to the county line and possibly to the storm itself."

Welborn warned that the sirens should not be the only warning system that the citizens look for because in case of a power failure, the system would be incapacitate. "There are five sirens throughout the city," stated Welborn, "that are sounded whenever one of the spotters sees a tornado and calls it in to the fire department. Cable TV is another excellent way the public is alerted. A phone in the sheriff's office is directly connected to the cable company. When their office receives the warning, they immediately call the cable company, who, in turn, immediately broadcasts the warning on every cable channel on the T.V. No matter what cable channel you are watching, the video will stay on, but the audio will turn off, and a "Take Cover" message will be broadcast repeatedly."

Welborn requested of all citizens to please not call your city services during a warning. "They have their hands full already without having to answer telephones. The best thing to do is to seek shelter and listen to your local radio stations or the National Weather Service Radio."

Plans during a tornado at the schools were explained by Bob Copeland. Copeland stated, "Drills are practiced with the kids so they know exactly where to go and what to do. This helps keep the situation moving smoothly, and the children stay calmer." In A.B. Duncan, kindergarten and 1st grade, two rooms share an adjoining bathroom. During a tornado warning the children from both classrooms are taken into the bathroom and placed crouched on their knees with their hands over their heads. Second and third grade children are taken into their own restrooms and placed in the same position. In Andrews Elementary the students are taken into the ground level hall, facing the wall with a book, or their hands placed on their heads. In junior high and high school all students are taken to the lower hall and assume the same position with their heads against the wall."

Copeland feels the greatest danger that the students face at the school during a tornado are those removed from the school by their parents. Copeland stated, "A vehicle is one of the worst places you can be during a tornado. Some parents come running into the school screaming for their children, creating panic. When one frightened child screams, you have the rest crying and screaming. They are no longer able to listen to your instructions and they are then taken out of the shelter of the building into the open and into the parents' vehicles. I wish the parents would seek shelter and trust that their children are being taken care of."

Trooper Dude Speed of Matador spoke on the May, 1984, tornado at Matador. He was a spotter at Matador when that tornado struck. Trooper Speed said injuries were kept to a minimum in the town, because the citizens heeded the warnings. After the tornado, Speed and other troopers from across the state were responsible for securing the perimeter of the town to protect citizens and prevent looting.

Jim Pritchett of KKAP, Floydada's radio station, has a listening area of 100 miles radius. "Our standard operating procedure during a tornado watch," says Pritchett, "is to have an updated broadcast every 15 minutes. In the case of a warning, the regular broadcasting will be interrupted immediately, and the public will be informed." Citizens were also reminded that because of power failure during a storm, battery operated radios should always be on hand.

In case of false alarms caused from lightning setting off the sirens, the city's tornado alert signal will be as follows: Three (3) 30 second warning signals. The siren will be turned on for 30 seconds - wait 10 seconds. Turn siren on for 30 seconds - wait 10 seconds. Turn siren on for 30 seconds - wait 10 seconds. REPEAT.

The ALL CLEAR signal will be the siren on for one long signal.

First Methodist Church to present drama

First United Methodist Church will present the drama, Christ In The Concrete City, on Sunday, April 14th, at 11:00 a.m., and again at 8:15 p.m. Written by Paul W. Thomas, this play was first presented by The New Pilgrim Players, the professional company of the Religious Drama Society of Great Britain, in Hinckley Parish Church, March 1953. The public is invited to see and hear this unusual portrayal of the Passion of our Lord Jesus Christ from three points of view.

First, the story of something that happened, where the actors step in and out of the historical characters. Second, the story of the Passion speaking timelessly to all mankind, where the cast act as a number of voices rather than a group of individuals. Third, the Crucifixion and Resurrection, events of personal significance speaking intimately to the individual and in the secret places of his soul.

The purpose of the presentation is to portray dramatically the meaning of the Passion in words and images understandable by the people of a modern industrial city. The play also shows how we crucify daily with our actions and words.

Members of the cast are: Bobby Rainer, Noma Lou Rainer, Kay Lyn Rainer, Jack Gregory, Zacha Gregory, Don Warren, and James Hinton; with direction by Bobby and Noma Lou Rainer. Hope Warren is the prompter.

Make plans now so you won't miss the unique experience and revelation that if there are failures and inadequacies of the Kingdom of God, they are our own!

This play is produced by special arrangement with Baker's Plays, Boston, Massachusetts.

Bettye Baker and Mary Vickers, not present, were honored with a surprise party at Caprock Hospital on March 27 after having completed requirements for their RN license.

Revival services to begin

The public is invited to attend Revival services at First Baptist Church, Floydada, beginning Easter Sunday, April 7, at the 11 a.m. service, and going through Friday night, April 12.

They will have services each day at noon. The evening services will be at 7:00 p.m. A short noon service will be held in the chapel each day, followed by a covered dish luncheon in fellowship hall.

Special emphasis nights will be observed for the youth. Wednesday night will be a hot dog supper for the children in grades 4-6, at 6:00 p.m. in fellowship hall. The junior high will have sloppy joes Thursday night, and Friday night is youth night.

Bringing the message for each service will be Bro. Howell E. Farnsworth, Jr., pastor, First Baptist Church. Bro. William R. Smith, Jr., will be leading our music. Bro. Smith is music and youth director at Meadowbrook Baptist Church in Irving, and office manager for Crescendo Publishing. He is a talented musician.

Parker's great-grandfather was a cousin of Quannah's mother, Cynthia Ann Parker, a white woman captured by the Indians and forced to marry the chief.

Parker has studied archeology at Texas Tech and has made the study of Indian history and artifacts his chief hobby. He showed many weapons, tools, and pots that have been found in caves, campsites, and gravesites. He explained the history or the use of each item.

He told of four periods of history for American Indians and showed projectile points used by Indians during the different periods. He explained why they were different shape and size for each period. The bow and arrow was not known until the last period.

It was a truly interesting program. Stewart and Jackson exchange nuptial vows

MRS. DWIGHT KEITH JACKSON JR.

Miss Sidney Stewart and Dwight Keith Jackson Jr. were married Saturday in a 5 p.m. ceremony in First United Methodist Church of Lockney.

The bride is the daughter of Don and Linda Stewart of Colorado City. Parents of the groom are Keith and Gayle Jackson of Lockney.

The exchange of marriage promises was directed by the groom's grandfather, the Rev. Russell McAnally, pastor of Pioneer United Methodist Church of Merkel. The nuptial area was decorated with flanking brass candle trees which were tied with greenery and white bows. A brass kneeling bench centered the area and held a unity candle.

A program of wedding selections and the traditional wedding processional and recessional were played by organist Marjorie Ferguson.

Honor attendants were Miss Tammy Bodine of Granbury and John Fortenberry. Ushers and candlelighters were the groom's brothers, Wade Jackson of Canyon and Boyd Jackson.

The maid of honor wore a fuchsia chiffon dress. The blouson bodice was tied at one side over the tea-length straight skirt. She carried a silk nosegay of white roses.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, Don Stewart. Her dress was of silk brocaded white satin. The bodice was designed with a deep "V" neckline trimmed with tiny self bows and leg-of-mutton sleeves. The bell-shaped skirt fell from a dropped waistline and was scalloped at the waltz-length hem. A wreath of white silk roses held her finger-tip length veil of tulle. The bride carried a nosegay of white daisies, white roses and gypsophila tied with white satin streamers.

For "something old" the bride wore the wedding band of her great-grandmother, the late Mrs. Oda Oats. Something "blue" was a garter; "borrowed" from Trudy Bodine was a white linen handkerchief, and "new" was her wedding attire.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a white floor-length skirt with a deep ruffle at the hem. An overlay of white lace was caught at intervals with white satin bows and long streamers. The white cake was decorated to resemble an open Bible, and was inscribed in yellow with the couple's names and a scripture verse from the love chapter in 1 Corinthians. Appointments were of crystal, and the centerpiece was an antique crystal candelabra topped with an arrangement of yellow and white daisies and greenery. Assistants were the bride's aunt, Kelly Sparkman and her daughter, Noel Sparkman, both of Slaton.

Serving at the groom's table were the bride's cousins, Terris Sims and Lujean Eckert, both of Snyder. The table was laid with a matching white cloth. A pewter service was used for coffee. German chocolate cake was served from a pewter plate. Pewter candlesticks with yellow candles flanked a pewter bowl filled with white and yellow daisies.

After a brief wedding trip to Amarillo, the couple resumed their studies at Texas Tech University. Their home will be on Route 2, Lockney, where the groom is engaged in farming.

The bride was a 1981 graduate of Colorado City High School. She is a senior food and nutrition major and a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. The groom was a 1981 graduate of Lockney High School; he also attended West Texas State University. He is a senior ag economics major.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Linton Pruitt of Floydada celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday, March 30 with a dinner party at the 50 Yard Line Restaurant in Lubbock. They were married in Slaton on March 30, 1935. Hosting the surprise celebration for their parents were Wanda and John Hogue of Houston and Weldon and Jane Pruitt of Floydada. Also attending the golden wedding anniversary were their grandchildren, Debbie and Jack Mitchell of Houston, Sherril Hogue of Houston, Greg Pruitt of Childress, and Karen and Christy Pruitt of Lubbock.

An ecru lace cloth, a brass coffee service, and crystal appointments were complimented with a beautiful centerpiece consisting of a basket of wandering jew combined with silk flowers in the bride's chosen colors of cherry wine and pink. The centerpiece was presented to the bride along with a butane barbecue grill from the hostesses.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. Jerry Battey, Howard Gene Bishop, Jerry Cannon, Jim Jackson, Norman Muncy, K.E. Probasco, Lewis Reddy, Charles Reid, Don Shurbet, W.H. Simpson, Jr., Phillip Smitherman, Deral Young, Travis Young, Keith Patzer, and Winfred Payne.

A delightful meal of a green salad, chicken crepes garnished with strawberries, English peas and celery, sesame rolls, and baked custard with caramelized topping was enjoyed by all.

A lovely centerpiece of cherry wine and pink silk flowers enhanced the large round table overlooking the fountain in the mall. Favors were miniature straw dolls decorated with satin ribbon and tiny silk flowers, also in the bride-elect's chosen colors of cherry wine and pink.

PCG producer-director election set for breakfast meeting here

Floyd County cotton producers and agribusinessmen will elect a Producer Director to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at a 7:00 a.m. breakfast meeting on Monday, April 8 at King's Restaurant in Floydada.

Announcement of the election comes from Kenneth Wofford of Lockney, current Floyd County Producer Director to the 25-county cotton organization, and Darrell Mayo of Floydada, Businessman Director.

Each of the counties in PCG territory has two directors, one a businessman and the other a cotton producer. They are elected on alternate years for two-year terms. Each is eligible for re-election every second year.

All producers and businessmen are invited to the meeting. However, under PCG By-Laws, only current dues-paying members of PCG will be eligible to be elected a director or to vote in the election. This provision of the by-laws will be fully explained at the meeting.

A PCG staff member will conduct the election review and answer questions about recent and planned PCG activities.

FHA authorizes overtime

Texas Farmers Home Administration has been authorized an additional $16,000 to pay overtime to FmHA personnel to help speed up loan processing, according to State Director J. Lynn Futch.

"These funds, which are in addition to the $84,000 overtime allotment that total to $100,000 for fiscal year 1985, will help us get more operating loan funds into the hands of farmers in time for spring planting," Futch said.

"FmHA county supervisors and their staffs in 136 county offices around the State are working as fast as possible to process loans under the FmHA's normal farm loan programs as well as handling the more than 6,000 requests for loan reviews under the debt restructuring initiatives. This overtime will help speed up processing of all these loans," Futch said.

In addition to overtime authorization, we have hired 114 temporary employees to help FmHA county offices process loans," Futch said. "We are completing the hiring of another 10 temporary personnel. The Soil and Conservation Service, the Extension Service and the Agricultural Stabilization, and Conservation Service have offered several of their employees from around the State to help FmHA in county offices.

"FmHA county supervisors are proving their dedication to helping Texas farmers continue in farming. So far this fiscal year, they have already approved over 3500 operating loans. With the cooperation and generous assistance from other Federal agencies, we are confident that we will complete operating loan applications in time for spring planting," Futch said.

Vehicle records updated

If your income from farming or ranching exceeds 70% of your gross income from all sources (excluding passive investment income), one of the two options will satisfy the "contemporaneous recordkeeping" requirement for 1985 for vehicles regularly used in the farm business.

1. You may keep records of the number of miles a vehicle is driven during the year and the miles it is driven for personal purposes. Or...

2. You may determine any deduction on a vehicle (truck or van) designed primarily for commercial use as if the business use were 80% and on any other vehicle (an automobile) as if the business use were 70%. No records are required if this option is selected.

You need not keep a log if the vehicle is used only for business purposes. However, IRS say, "If a taxpayer... claims that there is no personal use, the IRS anticipates establishing a requirement that the taxpayer must submit a statement certifying that no personal use of the vehicle has occurred. Of course, IRS would retain the right to challenge the claim of no personal use."

If a vehicle used for commuting by an employee (required by employer) gets no other personal use, option two may be used. However, $3 per day is considered to be included in the employee's income to reflect the commuting value. This option is not available to anyone who is an officer of the firm or who owns at least 1%.

It appears that using the 80/20 or 70/30 split is the most practical for vehicles such as pickups, vans, or autos that are often used for personal purposes. Use option one for larger trucks such as 1-1/2 or 2 ton models or semis that are normally used for grain and livestock transportation and are not used for personal purposes.

One final note: Your tax preparer must certify that you have kept appropriate records. Therefore you should be sure to follow his instructions.

Oil controls scale insects

by Dale W. Spurgeon

Petroleum oils, when properly used, are very effective in controlling scale insects. Oils commonly used for scale insect control include dormant, summer and superior oils.

Dormant oils are the heaviest and least refined of these oils. They are intended for use while the plants are dormant. Best results are usually obtained when the temperature is between 40 and 70 degrees F. However, dormant oils should not be used if a freeze is likely within 48 hours of the application, or if the tree has budded out. Spraying new buds, flowers or leaves could result in injury to the tree. Considering our weather this winter, and the recent progress trees and shrubs have made, it seems that we have quickly gone from "too early" to "too late" for dormant oil use in many instances.

If your trees and shrubs are already budding, there are alternatives to dormant oils. These alternatives are summer and superior oils. Summer and superior oils are lighter and more highly refined than dormant oils. They are also likely to injure growing plants. Unfortunately, they are sometimes difficult to obtain.

Regardless of the petroleum oil you decide to use, it is very important to follow the label directions. Pay particular attention to mixing directions. Petroleum oils are applied in a water suspension and improper mixing could result in plant injury or poor scale insect control. Also check the label for restrictions. Some plants are particularly sensitive to petroleum oils. Some oils may cause plant injury when applied too closely to a sulfur or certain fungicide applications.

Publication recommends vaccinations for horses

Editor's Note: The following information on Equine vaccination was taken from the March 8, 1985 Quarter Horse News publication, and was written by John P. Hughes, D.V.M. Veterinary Medical Teaching Hospital at the University of California.

We recommend that all horses be vaccinated for Western Equine Encephalitis (WEE, sleeping sickness), tetanus and influenza (flu). In addition, some horses should be vaccinated against Rhinopneumonitis (viral abortion, equine herpes 1), strangles (equine distemper), Venezuelan Equine Encephalitis (Vee), and rabies. Consultation with your veterinarian is recommended before beginning your vaccination program.

Western Equine Encephalitis (WEE, Sleeping Sickness)

SIGNS: Staggering, fever, circling, head pressing, depressed and sleepy. Often fatal or may have residual nervous system damage.

SPREAD: Not contagious; spread by mosquitoes; occurs mainly in summer and fall.

VACCINATION: Two initial doses at four to eight-week intervals and one annual booster in the spring. Vaccinate foals after 3 months of age. Begin vaccinations before mosquito season.

Tetanus

SIGNS: Stiffness, difficulty eating or walking, overreaction to noise, elevation of third eyelid.

SPREAD: Not contagious; caused by punctures and wound infections.

VACCINATION: Use TOXOID: two initial doses at four to eight-week intervals followed by yearly boosters or when a wound occurs six or more months since last vaccination.

Influenza (Flu)

SIGNS: Cough, fever, loss of appetite, muscle soreness, depression, discharge from nose and eyes. Not often fatal.

SPREAD: Highly contagious; strict isolation and sanitation for affected animals required.

VACCINATION: Two initial doses at four to eight-week intervals. Booster vaccinations may be indicated at two to three-month intervals through maturity. Vaccinate foals beginning at two months of age.

Rhinopneumonitis (Rhino, Equine Herpes 1, Viral Abortion)

SIGNS: Two most common forms of the disease are: (1) Respiratory (cough, nasal discharge and fever are exhibited); (2) abortion.

SPREAD: Highly contagious; strict isolation and sanitation for affected animals required.

VACCINATION: Two types of vaccines are available and each is used differently.

Strangles

(Equine Distemper)

SIGNS: Fever, Swollen mandibular lymph nodes (glands), nasal discharge, cough, loss of appetite.

SPREAD: Highly contagious; spread by nasal discharge and draining abscesses.

Rabies

SIGNS: Can be exhibited in two forms, most common being the dumb form (paralytic) and less common being the furious (excitatory) form.

FOUR YEAR OLDS GET A HEADSTART—Teacher Lorena Lerma works with a class of four year old children on the recognition of and response to common and frequently used English language phrases. Other teachers involved in the local Headstart Program include Ida Mae Duran, Mary Perez, Sally Martinez, Josie Torrez, Becky Amador, and Nora Solorzano. Della Medrano heads up the operation at the Texas Migrant Council in Floydada and Nelle Riojas handles the office work.

Headstart marks 20 years

This year marks the 20th Anniversary of the Headstart Program. Floydada's Headstart center will join more than 9,000 centers across the country in celebrating the program's funding.

Since Headstart was established in 1965, it has provided comprehensive health, education, nutrition, and social services to more than nine million preschool children.

Project Headstart has received considerable attention in recent years due to research findings documenting the program's lasting effects on children. Major studies found that children enrolled in Headstart and similar programs are far less likely to be held back a grade in school or assigned to special education classes than low income children who did not attend an early childhood program. Children who had gone through Headstart and other programs also scored higher in math, had stronger self-concepts, and their parents had greater expectations of their potential.

Since 1972, Headstart has also mounted a major effort to serve handicapped children, with a nationwide enrollment of handicapped preschoolers reaching 59,335 last year.

The program has involved millions of parents in education of their children and the operation of Headstart centers, with many parents going on to become paid classroom aides, and attaining college degrees. Nearly 30 percent of Headstart classroom staff across the nation are parents of current or former Headstart students.

In reviewing the program's achievements, National Headstart Director, Clennie H. Murphy Jr. said, "Project Headstart has had a dramatic impact on services for children in America, and on the entire child development field. It has pioneered such new concepts as parent involvement in educational programs and employment of paraprofessional classroom aides and is the largest care program for young children in the country."

Grants are awarded by H.H.S. Regional Offices and the Indian and Migrant Program Division, to local public agencies, private non-profit organizations and school systems for the purpose of operating Headstart programs at community levels.

Headstart is currently serving approximately one out of five eligible, low-income preschool children. At least 90 percent of the children in Headstart are from families who have incomes at or below poverty level, or who are receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC).

Thirty percent of the classroom staff have degrees in Early Childhood Education, or have obtained the Child Development Associate (CDA) Credential.

In 1983-84, 100 percent of the children enrolled, ninety days or more, completed medical screenings which included all of the appropriate tests. And 96 percent of those identified as needing treatment received it. Ninety-five percent of the children enrolled ninety days or more, completed dental examinations, 96 percent of those needing dental treatment received it, 95 percent of the children had completed all of the required immunizations or were up-to-date in their immunizations.

Headstart programs also use the USDA Child Care Food Program, which reimburses Headstart for its cost in providing food and food services. Virtually all Headstart programs participated in this program.

Ninety-six percent (96%) of Headstart families received social services from Headstart and/or through referrals to other agencies. Headstart, which served 422,100 children in 1985, is administered by the Administration for Children, Youth, and Families within the Department of Health and Human Services.

EASTER DAY CAKE—Myria Dade, contributor of this special Easter recipe, looks over her recipes as she decides what to prepare for her own Easter meal. Dade will be celebrating Easter with her fellow church members in the First Baptist Church. She has prepared a very special reading of a favorite poem to share with the gathering.

Dade reveals family Easter cake recipe

Myria Dade, one of Floydada's very active senior citizens, has agreed to share one of her favorite Easter recipes with Hesperian readers this week. "Everybody likes cake at Easter," said Mrs. Dade. "And this is one of my very favorite kinds."

Easter Day Cake

- 2½ cups sifted cake flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1½ cups sugar
- ½ cup shortening
- 1 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 eggs

Sift together dry ingredients. Soften shortening in a mixing bowl. Cream shortening well and gradually add dry ingredients, alternating with milk, using three fourths of the milk. Add vanilla and beat at low mixer speed for two minutes (or 300 vigorous strokes by hand.) Add the last of the milk and the eggs. Beat one minute longer. Line the bottoms of two nine inch round layer pans with wax paper. Divide batter between the two pans and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for 20 to 25 minutes. Cool when done and remove from pans.

Easter Bunny Frosting

Use two packages of fluffy white frosting mix, prepared according to package directions. Reserve ½ cup plus 3 teaspoons of icing for decorating. Tint the remainder light yellow. Frost layers with yellow icing. Tint the ½ cup of icing pink and use to make a bunny shape on the top. Use 1 teaspoon of white icing for tail and 1 teaspoon for each ear. Use two red cinnamon candies (like red hots) for eyes and use coconut shreds for whiskers.

Mrs. Dade came to West Texas from San Augustine in the late 1930's and has lived in Floydada since 1946. She and her late husband raised seven foster sons during the 56 years they were married. Three have now married so she says she has "seven foster grandchildren."

The Senior Citizen's Center and the First Baptist Church both benefit from Dade's enthusiasm and energy. She quilts, crochets, and cooks. "I like to cook the things I like to eat," she says. "It is more fun that way."

Floydada ranks friendliest town in the United States

Editor's note: This article from the Colorado Springs Sun, Friday, March 1, 1985 issue, is reprinted through the courtesy of Sheriff Fred Cardinal. He received the column from his sister, Jean Campbell, whose home is in Colorado Springs. Mrs. Campbell says she spoke with the writer who told her that Floydada was on his list because it is the friendliest town in the United States in his opinion. George Johnston of Farmington, New Mexico read this same article and referred it to his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnston, also.

by Frank Boggs
Associate Editor

Let Mr. McNally rate his cities to suit him and I'll rate mine and you can rate yours—and none of us can prove the other wrong.

Rand picked Pittsburgh No. 1, based on economics, recreation, arts, education, climate and terrain, health care and environment, crime, housing and transportation.

That's where he and I disagree.

I judge a city based on combination plates, condition of the motel swimming pool (preferably empty), town squares, gum machines that don't steal your nickel, up-to-date schedule posters on the local high school team, availability of a domino table at the city park, and do perfect strangers say "Howdy podnah?"

Considering these categories, the top 10 towns in the United States are:

1. Harrison, Ark.; 2. Floydada, Tex.;
3. Springfield, Colo.; 4. Clovis, N.M.;
5. Cooperstown, N.Y.; 6. Aiken, S.C.;
7. Sault Ste Marie, Mich.;
8. Altoona, Iowa;
9. Scott City, Kan.—if it's raining;
- and 10. Haileyville-Hartshorne, Okla.

Perhaps you have a different list, although that is hard to imagine.

First of all, I have been to all of these towns except one.

I have not actually been to Altoona, Iowa, but will go someday because I once knew a man who lived there and I never will forget the name of that town.

We were on a bus and I visited with him across the aisle and he told me he was from Altoona, Ia.

The bus driver, I somehow happened to know, also was from Iowa. He said he knew every inch of that state.

At one of our rare rest stops I mentioned I was riding with a guy from Iowa and he said he'd like to meet him and I yelled at the guy from Iowa.

As he approached, the bus driver said to him, "Are you from Iowa?" and my friend said, "Altoona."

And the bus driver says, "Good to meetcha, Al."

From then on I called my friend Al Tuna.

I imagine Altoona is a good town.

Harrison ranks No. 1 because, among its other features, the last combination plate I got there had mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans, hamburger steak with just enough grease, two rolls, one piece of oleo, red Jell-o and the same soup of the day every day. That way, the regular customers don't have to waste time asking.

But it cost $1.65.

Scott City, Kan. is rated because when the wheat is being cut in the summer, the whole town smells good following a late afternoon rain.

You notice Haileyville-Hartshorne is (are) listed.

The famous Twin Cities.

I always felt if somebody in Haileyville didn't whip ya, somebody in Hartshorne would.

But, if they like you, they'll say "Howdy podnah" and that means a lot.

I'm not sure anybody in Pittsburgh says that anymore.

First WTSU president, Cousins, remembered

"The state (Texas) was new. The westward expansion was something that excited him. It was probably the romance of the frontier that brought him here."

The him they are speaking of is Robert B. Cousins, the first president of what is now West Texas State University. The speakers are Ann Carr and Mary Garrett, great-granddaughters of Mr. Cousins, who visited the university campus recently.

In More Than Brick and Mortar, J.A. Hill called Cousins the prophet, architect, and first builder of the progressive movement which swept Texas in the first decade of this century. West Texas State Normal College was one lasting result of that progressive movement, and Cousins was its president from 1910-1918.

Neither Ann Carr nor Mary Garrett actually knew their great-grandfather, who died in 1932, but they knew his wife Dora Kelly Cousins and had heard stories of his work with education in Texas. Now both are interested in their family's history. When Ann, who lives in Floydada, read in the Canyon newspaper about WTSU's 75th anniversary, she thought this would be a good time to get back to the campus, his campus.

Ann, a school teacher in Petersburg, had visited WTSU infrequently in past years. Mary now lives in Lexington, North Carolina, and she had only been on campus once before as a little girl. Her comment on seeing it: "It's a really pretty place."

"I'm very impressed with it," Ann added. "I like the small college atmosphere. I'm impressed with the hometown feeling, I suppose."

"Walking through Cousins Hall I kind of feel like, 'This is where he was,'" said Mary. "(R.B. Cousins) is responsible for a lot of the education laws that are on the books today," she added.

Indeed. Cousins, who was born in Fayetteville, Georgia, during the Civil War, graduated from the University of Georgia in 1882 (majoring in Latin and Greek). He passed his bar exam three months later and moved to Longview, Texas, to set up legal practice.

By 1905 he was State Superintendent of Public Instruction, where he became very influential in forming the legislation that gave direction to education in this young state. He resigned that post in January of 1920 so he could come to Canyon and help found the new teachers' college.

After eight years with West Texas State, time enough to see it firmly established, Cousins moved on. In 1921 he became superintendent of Houston's public schools. And in 1924 he moved on to Kingsville to establish another school similar in scope to West Texas State Normal. This new school was South Texas State Teachers' College, which became, in 1929, Texas College of Arts and Industries.

Cousins' great-granddaughters were given tours of the campus and introduced to a number of the people who are following through on the dreams of that one influential man. Seventy-five years later, Cousins' goal of a better Texas through education remains intact.

CENTER NEWS

By Mrs. J.E. Green

April 1-Sunday was a beautiful spring day. Today is very windy. Church was good as usual.

Some of our folks seem to be out of town.

The Henry Brewers are both doing pretty well, they had no company over the weekend.

Mrs. Eula Battey and Mrs. Ola Warren are as well as usual.

Mrs. Roe Jones has been in the Plainview Hospital, but is better, and is now at her daughter Helen's in Plainview.

The Mayfields are at home and not feeling too well.

Miss Francis Mitchell, Mrs. C.M. Meredith and Mrs. Plumlee are at home. Mrs. Plumlee's family is O.K. Mrs. Elmer Warren is also at home.

The Thomas Warrens were attending a meeting in San Angelo three days last week.

Mrs. Maudie Muncy of Lockney is at home. Mrs. Green visited Mrs. Bud Warren Monday morning.

My son, Victor Green, of Plainview, came down and mowed my lawn Saturday. I am proud of the beautiful job.

Anthony and Evelyn Latta spent Wednesday to Saturday in Ruidoso. Friday they attempted to go to Cloudcroft, but heavy snow at the higher elevations caused a change in plans.

There were also terribly high winds in Ruidoso on Thursday which toppled many trees in the area.

Our sympathy is with Mrs. Evelyn Pierce and Mrs. Edna Patton in the passing of their brother, Cecil Queen.

et us remember the sick and sad in our prayers.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has filed a tariff with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to introduce a new service offering called ESSX-400 and to limit all rate plans for Centrex services to existing customers.

Rate plans for all Centrex services, as provided in this tariff, are applicable only to customers with service as of the effective date of this tariff. Centrex customers will be able to expand existing systems and enhancements will continue to be provided. The net effect of this tariff would be no change in total billing for Centrex customers.

The Commission has assigned this matter to Docket 6146. A prehearing to discuss the proposed change is scheduled at 9:30 a.m., Wednesday, April 17, 1985, in the Commission offices at 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard in Austin, Texas.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective April 29, 1985, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

While proposals as to specific rates vary, it is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 10.5 percent increase in the Company's unadjusted test year intrastate revenues.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas and with each affected incorporated municipality served by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's rate application. This filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for local exchange service, intraLATA long distance, intraLATA interexchange private line service (which includes foreign exchange service) and to decrease certain access service rates.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

This filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for intraLATA long distance and for intraLATA, interexchange private line service (which includes foreign exchange service) and to decrease certain access service rates. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide certain services in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's tariffs.

Notice to All Customers Concerning Access Charges and Certain New Service Charges

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, as a part of this filing, is also proposing to reduce certain access rates charged such customers as AT&T Communications, Inc., MCI and other carriers. The resulting reduction in revenues is proposed to be offset by revenues from two new service charges, late payment charges applicable to business customers only and for certain operator services such as busy line verification, plus stimulation of access service charge revenues. Since this portion of the filing, if granted, would have essentially a zero net revenue effect on Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is proposing that this portion of the filing be expeditiously handled by the Commission and not await Final Order.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Aviso Público

En conformidad con las disposiciones de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company anuncia mediante el presente aviso su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel de tarifas telefónicas en Texas, con vigencia a partir del 29 de abril de 1985, salvo disposición en contrario de la Comisión.

Si bien existe variación entre las propuestas en cuanto a las tarifas precisas, se anticipa que el arancel tarifario solicitado aumentará en un 10.5% los ingresos intraestatales no ajustados de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company durante el año de prueba.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel de tarifas se halla archivada en las oficinas de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos en Austin, Texas, así como en cada municipalidad incorporada afectada que tenga servicio de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa se halla sujeta a cambio toda vez que Southwestern Bell Telephone Company solicite nuevas tarifas. El registro de esta tarifa incluye, pero no en forma limitativa, las propuestas de aumentar las tarifas por servicios de centrales locales, de larga distancia intraLATA y por servicios de línea privada intraLATA entre centrales (incluyendo servicios de centrales externas) así como las propuestas de reducir ciertas tarifas de servicio de acceso.

Aviso a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono

El registro de esta tarifa incluye, pero no en forma limitativa, las propuestas de aumentar las tarifas por servicios de larga distancia intraLATA y por servicios de línea privada intraLATA entre centrales (incluyendo servicios de centrales externas) así como las propuestas de reducir ciertas tarifas de servicio de acceso. Los cambios en dichas tarifas también afectarían a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono, puesto que dichas compañías proporcionan ciertos servicios de acuerdo con las tarifas especificadas en los aranceles tarifarios de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Aviso a todos los clientes con respecto a los cargos de acceso y a determinados cargos nuevos de servicio

Al registrar esta tarifa, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company también propone reducir ciertas tarifas de acceso que se les cobran a clientes como AT&T Communications, Inc., MCI y otras compañías de larga distancia. La consecuente reducción de ingresos se piensa compensar por medio de dos cargos nuevos de servicio (cargos por pago atrasado que se aplicarían solamente a usuarios comerciales, y cargos por ciertos servicios de operadora, tales como verificación de línea ocupada) además de la estimulación de los ingresos por cargos por servicios de acceso. En vista de que, en caso de otorgarse esta parte del arancel tarifario registrado, su efecto real en los ingresos de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company sería igual a cero, ésta propone que la Comisión tramite dicha parte de la tarifa en forma expeditiva sin esperar la Orden Definitiva.

Toda persona que desee intervenir o participar en el presente proceso debe notificar a la Comisión lo antes posible. Las solicitudes de intervención, participación o información deben dirigirse a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Para obtener mayor información debe llamar a Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division, (512) 458-0223, o (512) 458-0227, o al (512) 458-0221 si requiere teletipo para personas con impedimentos de audición.

Simpson agriculture scholarship awarded

Two Texas Tech University College of Agricultural Sciences students have received $1,000 Krista Simpson Agricultural Achievement Scholarships. The scholarships are donated by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Simpson of Floydada in memory of their late daughter Krista. David Lust, an agricultural education major, and Anne Morton, a pre-veterinary major, received the one-year scholarships.

The scholarships annually go to junior students majoring in agricultural sciences who have demonstrated excellence in agricultural areas outside the classroom, shown leadership abilities and maintained a high academic grade point average.

Lust is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lust, of Muleshoe. Morton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morton, of El Paso.

"Laugh Lines"

Bits of Humor, Trivia, and an occasional Word of Wisdom

BY DON & SARA PROBASCO

One sign that Winter is almost over is when the furnace repairman returns your call.

Some like it cold, some like hot
Some freeze while others smother.
And then, by some outlandish plot,
They marry one another.

Why is it that the worst-behaved children in school always have the best attendance record?

A wise man appears ridiculous in the company of fools.

Stupidity is forever. Ignorance, you can do something about.

How's that again?? (the following actually appeared in church bulletins):
"This being Easter Sunday, we will ask Mrs. Johnson to come forward and lay an egg on the altar."
"On Sunday, a special collection will be taken to defray the expense of the new carpet. In the meantime, all wishing to do something on the carpet, please come forward and get a piece of paper."

"This afternoon there will be a meeting in the south and north ends of the church. Children will be baptized at both ends."

Everybody makes mistakes, but don't YOU be guilty of making the mistake of leaving your home or business unlocked when you leave. Why make it easy for someone to rob you?
