READ THIS

If you have headache or pains in the eyes when you read, it is an unfailing sign of eye strain, and the only remedy is properly fitted glasses. When a pupil has eye-strain it cannot study with any degree of pleasure, and hence, ceases to try. Those students usually fail at promotion at the close of the school and the parents may be responsible for this, but often blame the teacher. This is an injustice to all parties concerned. Again, neglected eye-strain leads to permanent injury, and this means permanent suffering, and the patient finds it difficult, if not impossible to ever wear glasses satisfactorily. This is poor economy. Better see Shaw about it.

WEST TEXAS WINS

EXHIBIT CONTEST

By J. Hamilton Wright in the Ft. Worth Record.

Waco, Texas, Oct. 30.—The West Texas agricultural exhibit which competed with regional agricultural exhibits from Central and South Texas, won hands down the $1,000 prize that was offered by the Cotton Palace board of directors. This is the second consecutive time that the West Texas exhibit has won at the Palace.

The announcement was made today by Porter A. Whaley, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which assembled and displayed the exhibit. Two years ago the organization made the challenge to all other regions of the state for the competition.

The Palace directors offered one thousand dollars each year. Last year West Texas had no trouble in copying the reward from East Texas. Central Texas won second and South Texas third prize in the contest yesterday.

MARRIED

We learned this week that Mr. John Johnson and Miss Elsie Patton were married Saturday night, Oct. 22nd at the local Baptist parsonage. Rev. J. E. Anderson officiating. These two are among the most prominent young people of the Johnson community, and have a host of friends and well wishers. May their married life be always one of complete bliss.

A Tribute of Love

In memory of Charles Roy Cardwell, who died Oct. 27, 1918. He is not here; but far away. A hand that can be clasped no more. So noble, loving, kind and true. We bless his memory forevermore. His wife, Lela M. Cardwell, San Antonio, Texas.

P. E. Chesshir came in last week and subscribed for the Herald and had us send two copies to friends in Arkansas for six months.

I AM THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER

By BRISTOW ADAMS.

I am the Country Newspaper. I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from other friends; I speak to the home in the evening light of summer's vine-clad porch or the glow of winter's lamp. I help to make this evening hour; I record the great and the small, the varied acts of the days and weeks that go to make up life. I am for and of the home; I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greatness or to the gutter, I take to them the thrill of old days, with wholesome messages. I speak the language of the common man; my words are fitted to his understanding. My congregation is larger than that of any church in my town; my readers are more than those in the school. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, instruction, entertainment, inspiration, solace, comfort. I am the chronicler of birth, and love and death—the three great facts of man's existence. I bring together buyer and seller, to the benefit of both. I am part of the market-place of the world. Into the home I carry word of the goods which feed and clothe and shelter, and which minister to comfort, ease, health, and happiness. I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of state and nation. I am the exponent of the lives of my readers. I am the Country Newspaper.

OLD COUPLE CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING DAY

The Herald family together with a host of other friends and neighbors of the family attended the celebration and dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Adams last Wednesday to help them and to congratulate them on that their 50th wedding anniversary, and we are glad to say to our readers that although this old couple, though a little infirm as to health, are very alert in mind and being West Texas pioneers know all about the art of entertaining company, whether there be a few or a great crowd.

Outside of friends, the children and grandchildren were all present during some part of the day, being Oral Adams and family, Will Adams and family, Oscar Adams and family and Bluford Adams and family, the latter family being from Brownwood, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hunter, of Gomez, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lester McPherson and family and Charley Hamilton and family, city, being four sons and three daughters, and we believe some 35 grand-children and two great-grandchildren. The children each gave the old couple a $5 gold piece, also Dr. Treadaway gave them a $5 gold piece, not to mention many and various gifts of the same nature.

At about 12:30 the big table that reached through the dining room and living room was heavily laden with the best and choicest viands the human might crave, and profusely decorated with autumn flowers, and with the usual West Texas appetite whetted by savory smells from the kitchen, the food was more than appreciated.

After the first tableful was eaten, little Arla Mae Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Adams and a grandchild of the honorees recited a poem on the occasion and printed in these columns elsewhere. Rev. J. E. Anderson, pastor of the local Baptist church, toasted the couple, followed by prayer and thanksgiving. Then the eating came off. The National bird (turkey) was the main piece de resistance, accompanied by chicken, roast beef, all the salads, cakes, pies and nick nacks in general. There was grub for many more than were present, and it was fine.

We forgot to mention that Mrs. Adams' brother, Mr. Hall, of Baltimore, and family were also in attendance. After dinner several photos were made, and the guests began to leave, expressing their pleasure in being a guest and wishing this happy old couple the pleasure of many more wedding day celebrations.

But the Home Paper Told It!

"Wasn't it fine about Priscilla getting honors in her school work last term?" said Mrs. Smith to Mrs. Brown. "What?" asked Mrs. Brown. "I didn't know about it." "But it was in the Home Town Paper," replied Mrs. Smith. "Don't you take it?" "No," said Mrs. Brown, "but I am going to." And she did, for this is a true story.

As much a part of the community life as is the school or church is the Home Town Paper.

Strong for Home Paper

"No, I don't take the local paper any more," one farmer said to another as they were waiting at the creamery to unload their milk. They had just been looking at a poster advertising "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week, November 7-12." "I take a daily paper, and that's about all I need. It has a few items every week from our community, and I feel that I save two dollars a year by not subscribing to the home paper."

"Well, that's one way to look at it," said the other farmer, "but I've always felt that a local newspaper was a pretty valuable asset to any community, and if everybody took the attitude you do, there couldn't be any local newspaper. Of course we could not get along without our daily papers, because they keep us informed about what's going on throughout the nation and throughout the world, but when you say that you take care of our local news, I don't think you are sticking close to facts. They simply can't, and the publishers haven't any personal interest in our community the way our editor has."

"I have always felt that I get value received for every dollar I've paid out in subscriptions to the local paper, and I don't have an idea that running a country newspaper is any more of a wealth-producing proposition than running a farm. So long as I've got two dollars I intend that the rural mail carrier is going to tuck a copy of the home paper in my box every week." That farmer knows that the community newspaper is a necessity in his home; that without it his home would be incomplete and his part in the community would be unsatisfactory to himself and his family. He knows the full value of the local newspaper as an institution.

DISTRICT COURT IN SESSION THIS WEEK

Judge W. R. Spencer, Judge of the District Court of the 72nd Judicial District, came in Sunday afternoon, and opened court promptly at 9 a.m. Monday morning. All officers, consisting of District Attorney, Gordon McGone, Sheriff Wood E. Johnson, District Clerk H. R. Winston and social court stenographer Franklin D. Brown.

The Grand Jury was immediately empaneled and sworn in, and we believe that Judge Spencer delivered the best charge we ever listened to. We had never heard Judge Spencer give his ideas on law enforcement, but his charge and our idea of law enforcement tally exactly, not that our idea would be worth much, but we believe Judge Spencer's conclusion is unshakable. He told the Grand Jury that perhaps there was some necessity of a Ku Klux Klan after the Civil War, when the Carpetbaggers and negroes were trying to overrun and oppress the white people of the South, but with the government now in the hands of the very best citizens there was no longer any use for any such organization. He hit the nail on the head, and scored the average citizen when he told them that the present method of dodging jury service by the best citizens, and leaving that duty to those opposed to strict law enforcement was the main reason of any non-enforcement of the law. He asked the good citizens of Terry Co. to stand behind their officers and to perform jury duty without a murmur, and they would have no occasion for any secret organization to enforce the law.

H. F. Adams was sworn in as door baliff and John Hall as riding baliff. Among the attorneys attending the session was noticed attorneys Sower, Bean, Spencer and Wilson, of Lubbock, not to mention the home talent.

A full report of cases next week.

REV. MORRISON AND FAMILY MOVE TO BROWNFIELD

We wish to say good bye, with our appreciation for the many kindnesses shown us. It is with regret that we move from among you, but we feel led by the Divine Spirit to another field, and we are leaving with all good feeling to everyone. Our prayers will be continued for the success of this community, and that the Lord may lead the right man to fill our place here, and that you may have an inspiration that will lead the Baptist people to build a meeting house, and put forth the best efforts for prayer meetings, young people's unions, Sunday School and W. M. U. work. Our experience and observation have taught us that these are all essential to the on-going of the work of the master. David told Solomon "that the Lord would not forsake him till the temple of the Lord was finished." And we are taught in God's word that if we pray and believe, that all things are possible.

We are moving to Brownfield, we will continue our work at Seagraves half time, to Ropesville 1-4 time and to Union 1-4 time. We wish to express our good feelings to our fellow pastors, Bros. Weems and Cunningham and their people. May God's richest blessings rest upon this entire vicinity. Pray for us as we go. O. P. Morrison in Seminole Sentinel.

Cotton that has been marketed at Brownfield this year has graded as high as middling and above. Farmers are all well pleased with turn-outs, saying their seed cotton is giving a high percentage of lint.

The Lubbock Avalanche came to our exchange table this week in the form of a semi-weekly, Tuesday being the first issue of the new plan. Thus the Avalanche is better prepared than ever to serve its readers and advertisers.

A prominent Lubbock lawyer remarked to us this week that Terry county had the best agricultural land in West Texas, and he wondered why we did not have more farmers. We explained that just as we get a railroad the drought came on, and then the war, which in turn was followed by an era of depression. We were not ready to acknowledge point blank on the spot that we had not put forth the efforts in exploiting the good qualities of our county that our neighboring counties had put forth. Still that would have been nearer the truth.

We have heard several farmers talking a potato curing plant for this city recently, and they all claim that we have a mighty fine sweet potato country. Recent experiments at the Lubbock experiment station disclosed the fact that potatoes averaged from 200 to 400 bushels to the acre for a period of four years, and everybody knows what we have to pay for the cured potatoes here in winter, and they won't keep without being cured. Also, it is a recognized fact that the sand lands of Terry county are better for potatoes than the hard lands of our neighboring counties. With a little vim and push the curing plant can be put up on at least small scale. The result would be plenty of good, cheap food for the consumer and a splendid profit to the producer.

RALLS EDITOR PAYS TRIBUTE TO DEAD BUILDER

A pall of sadness enshrouds our community. The chon winged Angel of Death descended into our midst Wednesday afternoon, and now, only the clay tabernacle that bound the great and benevolent soul of John R. Ralls to earth, remains to remind us that he once lived; the soul has pushed aside the somber curtains that veiled the Land of Light which lies beyond the dark portals of the grave. A great man is gone, but his works will live on and on, and the town that he raised from the trackless plains will remain forever a monument to his memory. While sorrowing faces greet us and the air seemed fired with an electric tension as a result of the aftermath of this catastrophe, we know that, although his face is not seen, and his step is not heard, yet his presence is felt, and his indomitable will will always be among us and lead us on.

His work will be carried on until finished. We mourn his loss; a place is vacant which can never be filled, yet, have we not the consolation of knowing, "that the day of a man's death is better than the day of his birth."—Ralls Banner.

CONGRESSMAN JONES RAPS REPUBLICANS

Washington Oct 25—Congressman Marvin Jones took Hon. Nicholas Longworth to task today for his attitude on the Muscle Shoals project. During the war the Government established a nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals on the Tennessee river to manufacture nitrate for making explosives for war purposes. After the war the engineers recognizing the value of the tremendous water power and of the established plants urged that dams could be completed at a small expense and fertilizer manufactured and sold to farmers at one-half the present cost. Mr. Longworth and others from the manufacturing districts strenuously opposed the completion of the project.

The entire project was about to be abandoned when Henry Ford offered to take the whole system off the hands of the Government and to operate it in the interest of agriculture.

For years, said the Texas member, Mr. Longworth has been fighting the entire project and picturing it as a public waste and extravagance. The Government has spent some $90,000,000 there.

One would think that the gentleman from Ohio would jump at any chance to rid the Government of the whole proposition. But all of a sudden when the manufacturer of "five-ers", Henry Ford, offers to pay the Government a total of $214,000,000, Mr. Longworth becomes dumb. The outburst of oratory has not occurred; the eloquent tongue has been silent. Oh, consistency, thy name is not Nicholas!

What is the reason for the sudden cooling of the ardor of all these gentlemen? Can it be the clause in Mr. Ford's offer that he guarantees to sell fertilizer at a net profit of more than 8 per cent freights to the other manufacturers, and that his offer to turn it over to the Government in the event of war as a powder plant scares the munition manufacturers?

There are those in Congress who balk at any legislation which has for its primary purpose the furthering of the interest of agriculture.

HIGH LIVING AND BAD TEETH

High living and bad teeth go together like fast friends and that in spite of dentrifices and tooth brushes. But what use have high living teeth anyway? They insist on having their food made soft so they can eat with a spoon. This rule has become so general and so fixed that it is bad form entirely to eat with knife and fork as our forefathers did.

Of course you may use a fork if you know how to poise and balance it to show off your rings, or shapely hands or good breeding. But a knife, never, unless you are prepared to go to social limbo.

Teeth and fingers were made long before knives, forks or spoons, and were used exclusively by the best society in early times, even to the very best.

This was in accordance with the original plan, consequently, society folks in those days were noted for their good teeth and deft fingers. Me? oh my! wouldn't it raise a social scandal if a bunch of society "olks" fished after those who really lived in primitive times should drop into the arena of fashion as it is today? And wouldn't the bunch be amused—or disgusted?

BRING in your turkeys. Swift & Company will pay 20 cents per pound for all that are offered Nov. 7th at the depot.

We are pleased to announce that R. W. Headstream will open a new grocery in the stand recently vacated by R. D. Koen. See his ad and be there at the opening Saturday.

BROTHERS & Brothers will appreciate your grocery orders.

SYNOPSIS.
"Who besides you has seen this vein, Carlyle? Anybody that knows coal?" "Yes, my father," Dale answered quickly. "He went over it years ago. Ask him about the coal in David Moreland's mountain. Phone him, and then phone me. I'm waiting at the Blaisdell."

Wheatley agreed a little reluctantly. Dale waited patiently for fifteen minutes. Then the clerk called him to the phone. He took up the receiver with boyish eagerness. "Your father tells me it is a good proposition, Carlyle, so I'll let you have all the money you'll need. And if you want a good mining man, I know where you can lay your hands on one; also I can furnish you, at half the original cost, all the necessary machinery and accessories. You didn't know the old Luther-Wheatley company dickered in coal as well as iron, eh? Well, it did. Let me see you at three o'clock this afternoon."

Dale was jubilant. Here was a rare stroke of good fortune. He went to McLaughlin's room, I know where you can lay your hands on one; also I can furnish you, at half the original cost, all the necessary machinery and accessories. A FINE OLD HOME PAPER

(These are a Fine Old English Gentleman.) These magazines with gravures and all these works of art. Are very well for city folks who live by dint of mart; But give me first and foremost, I hold it is the paper—That fine old home town paper—one of the good old time.

The printin' isn't perfect, the ink's not uniform, The type is set by hand perhaps, considerably overwork. The dear old press—I know it well—It's covered o'er with grime—But it prints that old home paper—one of the good old time.

I look for it each week as regularly it comes, And when the postman brings it in, I drop all other chums, I drink it in, from start to fin, ridiculous and sublime. That fine old home town paper, one of the good old time.

Smith's cat may have some kittens; Jones is putting in new pumps, My girl chum has got married and the kids have got the mumps. Jack Wiltsey's leg a lean-to, Johnson's roses upward climb Oh! I love the old home paper, boys, one of the good old time. —GEO. E. WRAY.

A Community Servant.

The local newspaper is the servant of the community in which it is published, but to be a good and efficient servant it must be fed by the people it serves. It is an institution of a town quite as much as are the schools and the churches, and quite as essential to support.

"Can you tell me the date the Baptist church burned—I mean, of course, the famous fire that all the old inhabitants talk about?"

The librarian looked up from her work. "No, I can't tell you the exact date, but I think I can find it for you quickly, for we have the files of the local paper since it was started. My impression is that the fire—the big fire, as they call it—was about 1873, and it won't be a very long job to look it up."

She went to the stacks in the rear of the library, pulled out a dusty bound volume marked "Herald, 1873," and spread it open on the table. "Ah, here it is," she said, after a minute spent in turning over the yellow leaves.

The person who had inquired for the date, a member of the woman's club of the town, sat down and read the article. "This gives me exactly the information I wanted," she said.

"I thought it would," said the librarian. "I fear most people do not appreciate how valuable is the local newspaper from the viewpoint of local history. In fact, it seems to me that it is about our only source. Only when an event gets into print is it officially recorded and filed for reference. Flimsy as it is, the printed word of today is the counterpart of the ancient stone inscriptions that give us our records of a long-ago yesterday. I consider the bound volumes of our local papers perhaps the most valuable possession of this library."

There's at least one librarian who is giving "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week," which will be observed November 7-12, the most hearty backing she can give.

OLD HOME TOWN PAPER TO HAVE A WEEK

Nation Wide Campaign Launched for November 7-12—Place in Community Life Emphasized.

November 7-12 has been set as "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week," and this newspaper, together with the thousands of country newspapers the United States over—there are not far from 15,000 of them, weeklies and small dailies—is to participate.

The purpose of the campaign is not only to induce residents of the small communities and the home town folk who are far from their native hearth to subscribe for the home paper, but also to emphasize the important place the home newspaper plays in the life of its community.

This campaign has the hearty support and cooperation, not only of the newspapers but thousands of ministers and school principals, and many state agricultural colleges and farm and home bureau organizations.

Some persons, it is pointed out, have been inclined to belittle the place and function of the country newspaper. They have not realized that in reality the home paper is a community institution and that it enables the other institutions, such as the church and the school and all the rest to function better and more effectively. That it is a necessity if the town is to advance.

During the time between now and "Home Town Paper Week," November 7-12, this newspaper in its columns will have much to say about the Home Town Paper—not this newspaper in particular, but the home town paper the nation over, the home town newspaper as a real and distinctive factor in American life.

A Messenger to Garcia. The local newspaper is the messenger to Garcia for your town. It goes out to the world as an advertisement for the community. To be a good advertisement it must be a good newspaper. To be a good newspaper it must have the support of the people of the community in the way of subscriptions and advertising. Are you doing your part toward making your paper a good advertisement for this community, one that will carry the kind of a message the people of the community wish carried to the world?

We call your attention to the ad of Walter Gracey in this issue. He has purchased the "front end" of the Brick Garage and stands ready to supply your needs in gas, oils, accessories, tires, tubes and almost anything you need in the auto line. Mr. Gracey informed that he was going to sacrifice a bigger profit and buy the best gas and tube that money can buy, and that he expected to carry every article he sold first class. Give Walter a trial. The Harris Brothers will retain the repair and battery end of the garage.

SEAGRAVES NEWS

By the Gold Dust Twins (delayed)

Mrs. Snyder, who has been visiting her brother and sister, Mr. and Miss Steel, returned to her home in Marfa, Texas, the first of the week.

The "42" Club met with Mrs. Bill Pollard, Tuesday afternoon. Tables were arranged for sixteen, and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent, at the close of which delicious whipped cream and cake were served. Mrs. C. C. Wicker will be hostess to the club the 27th.

A prize was offered to the boy or girl in school writing the best athletic yell. Much enthusiasm was manifested in the contest. Velma Whitaker and Corine Lahman won the decision of the judges and were duly awarded prizes.

A large crowd attended the rally day exercises at the Methodist church Sunday morning. The church was very prettily decorated in autumn colors, carrying out the theme of the program which was "the harvest." Bro. Weems, pastor of the church, filled the pulpit at the evening hour, Sunday.

Little Lois Weaver, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Weaver, who live ten miles east of town, died here early Friday morning from a rattlesnake bite. Local physicians did everything possible to save the life of the child, but the poison had gone through his entire system long before he could be brought into the town. The body was carried to Ruler for interment.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Taylor, of Snyder, have moved to Seagraves, and will put in a dry goods department in connection with Geo. Turner's grocery store.

School enthusiasm is running high. This week closes another successful month of work. Quite a bit of playground equipment has been added recently, and plans are on foot to make more money to buy additional material.

Numerous, entertaining and instructive pictures were shown Thursday by Rev. H. H. Bowers, of Brownfield in the school auditorium. The proceeds of the entertainment are to be used to help rebuild the orphan's home at Albany, Texas.

A new store building will soon be erected first door west of the P. O. Mr. Graves, of Slaton, Texas will put in a stock of dry goods as soon as the building is completed. This will make two new lines of dry goods in our city, and will be a great addition to trade.

Prospectors continue to come into Seagraves every day, and lands are changing hands very often. Cattle are being shipped out on an average of three times a week. Lots of cotton is being ginned, and business in general is very good.

Mrs. Winslow arrived from the east last week, to join her husband who has been here some time. Mr. and Mrs. Winslow expect to make this their home and we welcome them to our growing little city.

(This week)

Mr. L. E. Burford, of Brownwood, was looking over his possessions here for several days the past week. Mr. Burford expects to move his family here after Christmas.

Mrs. C. C. Wicker entertained the "42" Club at her home Thursday afternoon. Delicious home-made candy was served to the twelve members at the close of a very enjoyable hour.

Mrs. Esma Cash returned Monday from a few days visit to her home in Post.

Mrs. R. A. Tinker has opened a restaurant one door south of the P. O., and is doing a profitable business. The house situation is becoming accurate in Seagraves. About ten new houses are needed to accommodate the families moving in for the winter.

Mrs. Carl Slaton and little daughter left Monday for Waco, where they will visit with Mrs. Slaton's parents for an extended time.

Misses Leona Burns and Beulah Dixon spent the week end in Brownfield the guest of Mrs. Walter Scud-day.

Mr. O. L. Berry attended the fifth Sunday meeting at Plains.

Dr. and Mrs. Lemmon visited in Brownfield, Saturday and Sunday.

Stockmen continue to ship cattle out of here almost daily. These cattle are all in good shape and are fair representatives of this country.

Mr. Calvin Stark, agent for the Magnolia Oil Co., is moving his headquarters from Seminole to Seagraves this week.

KEEP YOUR MONEY AT HOME. Don't forget that J. B. King will have a full line of nursery stock this fall. Lots of this stock will be grown here in Terry county. Don't risk ordering from an outside nursery when you can select from a full line of stock and get what you want. Prices right and trees guaranteed to be live and healthy.

How many residents of any small community have ever considered what might happen if there were no newspapers? Just previous to "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week" which is to be observed the country over November 7-12, is a good time to recall the plight of Macon, Mo., not long ago, when fire put the Chronicle-Herald out of business for two weeks.

According to The Publishers' Auxiliary, the old town crier, relic of many years back, was yanked from his hiding place, dusted off, and put back on his job, with a jangling bell, a megaphone, and a fog-horn voice only a little worse for long disuse.

It may have been a novelty for two weeks. But think of a community without printers' ink, compelled to get its announcements of auctions, sales, court sessions, births, marriages, deaths, epidemics of sickness, dog ordinances, board meetings, commencement, tax notices, advertisements of help and situations wanted, accidents, and the rest, through a shouted word like that of the ordinary train announcer in a city depot. The town crier was a romantic figure in his day, but few towns would like to return to his ministrations now.

When one thinks of the temporary plight of Macon, and that it might become the permanent handicap of many towns, it is well to think of supporting the local paper.

THE ADAME FAMILY

Recited by Arla Mae Adams. In the morning fifty years today. My grandma's name was Hall, they say.

But in the evening, when 'twas late, she became Mrs. Adams quite sedate. To bless their home came children nine;

But two were taken in childhood's time. To the home above where all is love, And there they wait the Pearly Gate.

Of the other four boys to manhood grew. They each took a wife, and Uncle Will two.

And all three girls are married now And have good men each one will vow.

With grandchildren they are doubly blessed; I'll tell you how many; you'd never guess.

They think they are all as smart and cute as can be, Uncle Orel and aunt Etta each have six you see.

Uncle Will has three; uncle Blufford none. But's hoping Uncle Will will give him one.

Dady has four and aunt Lilly five. And there's noise aplenty when we all arrive.

Aunt Clemmie, the youngest has only two. And one grand-daughter has daughters two.

So counting them all one by one, There's twenty-eight if we leave out none.

Now most of these have gathered here. Our dear grand-parents to cheer, And bring what happiness we may On their Golden Wedding Day.

May this be a day to be remembered with pride, By this fifty-year groom and bride, Their remaining years, may they be many or few.

May God's choicest blessings be upon these two.

DATA ON SIX MORE COUNTIES

The Department of Agriculture has given out figures on farming in six additional Texas Panhandle counties, having a total of 2,266 farms. The counties were Swisher, Lynn Garza, Palmer, Yoakum and Terry.

Previously figures had been given out for 36 counties, having 17,821 farms. The figures today complete the forty-two Panhandle counties, showing a total of 20,087 farms.

A previous statement showed that this is the only considerable farming section in the nation where there was an increase in farming in the last ten years. It is described as the purest Caucasian section of the nation. Out of 20,087 farms, only 17 are operated by negroes.

Lynn county farms increased from 200 in 1910 to 674 in 1920. Farm values increased from $3,175,690 in 1910 to $10,818,722 in 1920, a percentage of 240.7.

Terry county farms increased from 235 in 1910 to 274 in 1920, while values went up from $3,621,055 to $9,461,262 or 161.3 per cent. Yoakum county had only two more farms than in 1910 yet values went up $825,300.

FIRST TERM DISTRICT COURT HELD IN HOCKLEY CO.

Monday morning Oct. 22nd, at nine o'clock, Sheriff Jim Stroud called the first term of District Court held in Hockley county. The county seat of Hockley county, after many futile attempts at naming the same, or at least a name that was acceptable to Uncle Sam, has recently been christened "Levelland," a very appropriate name we think.

Judge W. R. Spencer, Court Stenographer Franklin D. Brown, District Attorney Gordon B. McGuire and District Clerk Geo. P. Smith, were present when Sheriff Stroud made the declaration. The first hard work was to empanel the Grand Jury. This was soon accomplished and they entered upon their duties. After diligent search and inquiry, returned "no indictments found" and were discharged by the Court. It was not necessary to empanel a Petit Jury, as no cases have yet been filed in the new county.

About two dozen people were present at this, the first session of Court. This number included the officers of the Court and a few visitors. The Court house was the only Hotel that was available in the new county seat and the officers of the Court spent the night there, and all report "good night's rest." Mr. Bowers, the store keeper furnished the good chuck, it being served in the good old western style.

Hurray for Hockley county—we're proud of her as a future agricultural county, and glad to claim her as one of the sister counties of the South Plains.

CITATION FOR SERVICE BY PUBLICATION

State of Texas:— To the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County, Greeting:

Whereas, oath has this day been made before me by R. L. Graves, agent of J. P. Perkins, that W. H. Rollow and W. C. Rollow, are non-residents of this State, so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon them, you are hereby commanded, that you, by making publication of this writ in some newspaper published in Terry County, Texas, if there be one, but if there be no newspaper published in said county, then by publication in some newspaper published in the 72nd Judicial District of this State, for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day thereof, summoning the said W. H. Rollow and W. C. THE ADAME FAMILY
Recited by Arla Mae Adams. In the morning fifty years today. My grandma's name was Hall, they say. But in the evening, when 'twas late, she became Mrs. Adams quite sedate. To bless their home came children nine; But two were taken in childhood's time. To the home above where all is love, And there they wait the Pearly Gate. Of the other four boys to manhood grew. They each took a wife, and Uncle Will two. And all three girls are married now And have good men each one will vow. With grandchildren they are doubly blessed; I'll tell you how many; you'd never guess. They think they are all as smart and cute as can be, Uncle Orel and aunt Etta each have six you see. Uncle Will has three; uncle Blufford none. But's hoping Uncle Will will give him one. Dady has four and aunt Lilly five. And there's noise aplenty when we all arrive. Aunt Clemmie, the youngest has only two. And one grand-daughter has daughters two. So counting them all one by one, There's twenty-eight if we leave out none. Now most of these have gathered here. Our dear grand-parents to cheer, And bring what happiness we may On their Golden Wedding Day. May this be a day to be remembered with pride, By this fifty-year groom and bride, Their remaining years, may they be many or few. May God's choicest blessings be upon these two.

SANITARIUM NEWS
Little Ludel Morgan, of Brownfield who underwent a Lorenze operation for club foot four weeks ago, returned for her second plaster cast. We are pleased to state she will have a straight foot. U. D. Sawyer of Seagraves had his tonsils removed the 25th. Miss Pauline Lindley, of Brownfield has recovered from her tonsil operation. Little Shirley Bond, city, has recovered from her tonsil-adenectomy. Melvin Young, of Lorenzo, Crosby county, has returned to his home after undergoing a tonsillectomy and adenectomy. Mrs. R. C. Graves, of Union, who was injured in an automobile accident is better; the broken bone was adjusted. W. R. Patterson, of Plains, was kicked by a horse Sunday, and two ribs were broken, puncturing the pleura and lung. We are glad to say that he is better and has about quit spitting blood. Earl Jones is now a regular reader of the best paper published in old Terry. BROTHERS & Brothers buys the best canned food put up to protect their customers. Mr. Dickson and Milt Robinson, of Yoakum county were here Wednesday. Milt reports old Yoakum now coming to the front.

DATA ON SIX MORE COUNTIES
The Department of Agriculture has given out figures on farming in six additional Texas Panhandle counties, having a total of 2,266 farms. The counties were Swisher, Lynn Garza, Palmer, Yoakum and Terry. Previously figures had been given out for 36 counties, having 17,821 farms. The figures today complete the forty-two Panhandle counties, showing a total of 20,087 farms. A previous statement showed that this is the only considerable farming section in the nation where there was an increase in farming in the last ten years. It is described as the purest Caucasian section of the nation. Out of 20,087 farms, only 17 are operated by negroes. Lynn county farms increased from 200 in 1910 to 674 in 1920. Farm values increased from $3,175,690 in 1910 to $10,818,722 in 1920, a percentage of 240.7. Terry county farms increased from 235 in 1910 to 274 in 1920, while values went up from $3,621,055 to $9,461,262 or 161.3 per cent. Yoakum county had only two more farms than in 1910 yet values went up $825,300.

FIRST TERM DISTRICT COURT HELD IN HOCKLEY CO.
Monday morning Oct. 22nd, at nine o'clock, Sheriff Jim Stroud called the first term of District Court held in Hockley county. The county seat of Hockley county, after many futile attempts at naming the same, or at least a name that was acceptable to Uncle Sam, has recently been christened "Levelland," a very appropriate name we think. Judge W. R. Spencer, Court Stenographer Franklin D. Brown, District Attorney Gordon B. McGuire and District Clerk Geo. P. Smith, were present when Sheriff Stroud made the declaration. The first hard work was to empanel the Grand Jury. This was soon accomplished and they entered upon their duties. After diligent search and inquiry, returned "no indictments found" and were discharged by the Court. It was not necessary to empanel a Petit Jury, as no cases have yet been filed in the new county. About two dozen people were present at this, the first session of Court. This number included the officers of the Court and a few visitors. The Court house was the only Hotel that was available in the new county seat and the officers of the Court spent the night there, and all report "good night's rest." Mr. Bowers, the store keeper furnished the good chuck, it being served in the good old western style. Hurray for Hockley county—we're proud of her as a future agricultural county, and glad to claim her as one of the sister counties of the South Plains.
