COME TO THE T. C. FAIR 28-29

ADVERTISING IS DELIVERING EACH EAR OF CORN AND EACH WATERMELON AT TECH. JUBILEE NOW PAYING DIVIDENDS.

Advertising must be backed up by evidence or it soon loses its power of pull. This could be illustrated by any local merchant who keeps advertising that he would do so and so, through the local weekly, and when the customer drops into his place, he finds the merchant cannot or will not deliver the goods as per advertisement, and the merchant becomes a common every-day liar in the mind of the would be customer. The adverse advertising does not stop there, for most every one has a tongue and are handy with them these days. So neighbor Smith tell neighbor Jones that merchant Brown is a dead beat, and Brown loses another customer.

It is good for the citizens of Terry county to have printed and delivered into the hands of would be settlers any and all literature that contains truthful statements of facts, but once in awhile we must deliver the original of our word pictures. This is the reason that our citizens spend a neat sum each year sending our exhibits to several fairs. We must convince people that our words are not without meaning; we must back them up with unmistakable evidence that no one can deny. Sometimes we may decide that we are getting no results from our expenditures, but we must have patience. Merchants have found that they reap harvests from advertisements months old sometimes.

But they must always endeavor to fulfill their promises. To better illustrate, some of us might have believed that an expenditure of perhaps $300 or $400 for roasting ears, melons, etc., not to say anything of a special train, plenty of advertising matter and a peppy band would be entirely lost on the minds of that big crowd of people that assembled at Lubbock for the Tech Rally just in a few days, and we would have the experience and a lighter pocketbook, but we firmly believe that every ear of corn and every melon will finally pay 100 per cent on the investment. Be it far from us to suggest that the furnishing of roasting ears and watermelons was primarily an advertising stunt, for it was not. We intended first to help a neighboring city in entertaining a vast throng and secondly to advertise. We did both handsomely, and people still remember the incident. If you don't believe it, read the following letter from the Manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Poster A. Whaley to our local Chamber Secretary, Mr. J. E. Shelton.

Extract From Whaley Letter

"You are certainly a brick when it comes to doing things. I really thought the Tech. Colege had been located at Brownfield, after every time I turned around in Lubbock I saw nothing but Brownfield. It was Brownfield watermelons and Brownfield corn and Brownfield this and Brownfield that. In fact I understand that Senator Cowell wanted to know why Lubbock didn't put up some of the stuff herself, but of course he was speaking vociferously."

Everybody coming in and buying Terry county homes say a great lot of others from their sections have Brownfield and Terry county on the map above everything else. Elder C. B. Glasgow, of Post, said he heard a man remark after alighting from a train at Post one day recently, that he was from Navarro county, and that everybody there was talking Brownfield and that lots of them were later coming.

Recently a prospector from Anson informed the Herald that he knew at least four families on one farm near that city that would buy cheap land—and we do not mean cheap quality, but cheap price—here this winter and become actual settlers. They are already coming, and hundreds are to follow.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PLANS TERRY REPRESENTATION AT S. P. FAIR

The Brownfield Band, all equipped with new regalia and good catchy music in hand will head the procession from Terry county that will start from the Courthouse square in Brownfield on the morning of October 3, 1923 for the South Plains Fair at Lubbock. The opening day will be Terry county day and the Brownfield band has been designated as the official band for the Panhandle South Plains Fair that day.

Everyone is urged to meet in Brownfield by the hour of eight A.M. on that date, next Wednesday the 3rd, bringing the jitney and all the family in it. We will tie some products onto it and go in a line, being joined by the Meadow people who will go, and those along the road in Terry county are urged to wait for the Terry County Auto Train and fall in.

At Lubbock we will form for our parade and street stunts before turning our band over to the Fair Association for the day's program. It is planned for an afternoon demonstration also, before the people want to come home.

Everyone arrange to go, and let's have a good wholesome day with everybody boosting for Terry county. Tell your friends to be ready to join this live bunch at 8:00 A.M., Oct. 3rd, 1923 at the Courthouse square, Brownfield.

Plenty of pep; plenty of music; plenty noise.

BROWNFIELD GOOD MARKET

BROWNFIELD BUYERS NOW PAYING THE TOP PRICE FOR OUR COTTON SAYS LOCAL FARMER.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. You've heard the old saying quoted above all your life, but it was never more true when first written than it is right now.

When you hear a farmer that has cotton to sell and is selling it say his home cotton market is as good as any in the state, you can put it in your noodle that its just about that way. We heard a farmer make that very remark recently, and he was a Union man too, and they are studying the market as much as anybody.

If the buyers and merchants alone were declaring this to be a good cotton market, there might be some room for doubt, but when both the buyer and seller say they are getting top price, then the "proof of the pudding has been found in the eating."

Not only is Brownfield a good market, but it is an excellent place to get it ginned and wrapped. We have three as modern and efficient gins as can be found on the Plains, and their managers are men of integrity giving each and every customer the very best turn out that carefulness and modern machinery will give.

When a good gin has given you a good turn out, and a spunky buyer has given you every dollar the grade of cotton and our distance from the port will justify, we then have two as good banks as there are in the state in which to bank your money. They are careful courteous men, who take an interest in your affairs, and are willing to extend every accommodation consistent with sound banking. Through the years of depression, they stood like the rock of Gibraltar, doing everything in their power for their customers, and came through it stronger, because they were tried in the time of trial and successfully stood the test.

There is no better place on earth to buy your supplies. Peruse the columns of the Herald, and you will see all those who are putting Brownfield on the map; the men who will stand by when other desert you in the middle of your crop. These men deserve and should now have your cash trade. These men will also make good any purchase not found entirely satisfactory. The mail order house is not the only people who do that, and besides you will always find prices here in line or better than elsewhere.

Then don't overlook the fact that Brownfield is a good place to educate the children. The people of the town and community have put up the buildings, supplied the instructors and equipment and funds sufficient to maintain a high school of the first class for nine months. We have a state credited and affiliated school.

You will find a church of your kind in Brownfield of all the leading protestant denominations, will buildings of their own, and at each you will receive a hearty welcome.

These are the Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Christian and Church of Christ.

The lodges consist of both Blue and Royal Arch, with the female organization; Odd Fellows, and female organization and Woodmen of the World. Your favorite lodge will be found among these.

MAIN STREET NOW LIGHT —WHITE WAY HELPS LOOKS

Brownfield by night is no longer the little dark, frontier town of several years ago, but is now well lighted and gives the appearance of a real get-up-and-get little city.

Ten ornamental light poles surmounted with white globes in which are placed 250 watt lamps, gives the business section near daylight, and the many modern new buildings that have been completed this and last year, with their well arranged and lighted show windows gives the little city a real pleasing appearance by night.

Flowers for the living. The city dad's gets little flowers, however, but a little praise once in awhile will help them bear up.

MEETING AT C. OF C. TO START SUNDAY

Elder Liff Sanders of the Church of Christ, Lubbock, will begin a series of meetings for the local church of that faith Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock hour. There will be two sermons Sunday and Sunday week, but no services during the day during the week.

Bro. Sanders is one of the most highly respected men in Lubbock and one of the most beloved preachers of the Church of Christ in Texas.

He will have a message ringing clear with the Word of Truth each sermon. Elder Sanders preaches the Book as he believes it is taught, and the writer has been hearing him for the past twelve or thirteen years and never heard him perorate any one in the pulpit.

Come and hear his messages.

TRY A SACK of our flour. It has a full guarantee to please you.—Bro. & Brothers.

OUR CONGRESSMAN SPOKE HERE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The people of Brownfield and Terry county were glad to have for their guest for a few hours Saturday, the Hon. Marvin Jones, of Amarillo, the present Congressman of this, the 18 district.

Mr. Jones is not only very popular in his district, always running ahead of his ticket, but is one of the most popular and beloved men in the congressional hall at Washington.

His theme here Saturday was almost entirely on constitutional government, stressing the importance of enforcing the law through the constituted authorities, and his address had the ring of sincerity. He was heartily cheered, and many pressed forward to shake his hand when his address was over.

May we have the pleasure of his company more often.

ANOTHER SOUTH PLAINS RANCH CUT UP IN FARMS

Sales in his equity in 17,440 acres of land in Lynn county has been consummated by H. B. Herd of this city, according to advices reaching Fort Worth from the South Plains Country. W. McCarty Moore, of Dallas, was the purchaser. E. B. McKillip, of Oklahoma City, part owner of the land, is also interested in the deal.

The deal is said to be one of the largest ever consummated on the South Plains. The land brought $265,000.

Developments of the land into a rich agricultural country is planned by Moore, it is said. Moore will develop a 5,000 acre cotton farm, and will sell the balance in 160 acre farms it was announced.—Star-Telegram.

NO STATE OR FEDERAL ROAD FUNDS AVAILABLE NOW

The State Highway Commission at its recent monthly session, on September 17th and 18th, 1923, issued the following statement:

"In view of the fact that the Commission has either allotted or promised to allot all of the funds which are available from State and Federal Aid, no further allotments of State and Federal Aid will be made until additional funds become available."

Where They Go

The head of the firm caught the office boy telling falsehoods. "I'm surprised at you," he said. "Do you know what they do with boys who tell lies?" "Yes, sir," was the reply. "When they get old enough the firm sends them out as traveling salesmen."—Boston Transcript.

KLAN LECTURER HERE LAST THURSDAY NIGHT

Those who heard him pronounced it a good moral lecture. He devoted quite a bit of his lecture to intermixture of the races in the north, which of course is repulsive to southerners but southerners cannot be responsible for the condition of society in the north. The north has its own tastes as well as its own legislative bodies, and if the intermarriage of the races become repulsive to them, then public sentiment will change the law.

HAPPY PATCH CLUB

The Happy Patch Club met with Mrs. Roy Collier Monday afternoon. There were twelve present, Mesdames Kendrick, Holgate, Carver, McBurnett, Walter Scudday, Guthrie Cook, Greenfield, Charlie Brown, Jackson, Brothers and Glen Harris. The last five were new members and Miss Violet McBurnett, visitor.

After we had finished with our needle work, we had quite an important and interest business session, after which we were served with delicious cake and grape juice.

The club changed the date of the meetings from Monday till Friday. We meet with Mrs. Carver, Oct. 12th.

Quick Lunch

He was unawares of the eccentricities to be found in the Wild West when he entered what seemed to be the only hotel in the place. After ushering him to a table and giving the stranger a glass of ice-water, the waiter inquired:

"Will you have sausage on toast?"

"No, I never eat 'em, the guest replied.

"In that case" said the waiter, "dinner is over."

VIEW OF THE CATTLE INDUSTRY BY A COWMAN

Never before in the history of the cattle business has the cattleman been nearer losing his nerve than today. When he sees the men who have been the bulwark of the cattle business for the past forty years being swamped no wonder he hesitates. It is the apparent lack of confidence that is hurting the cattle business today. However, with a short calf crop this year, and with fewer steers of all ages in sight, with a prospect that the larger part of this year's calf crop going to slaughter, with breeding cows selling for the price of a calf, and really the cattleman hesitates to buy a breeding cow at any price, and this has a tendency to discourage breeding.

Our livestock supply is no greater than ten years ago, while our population has increased. Wage increase in 1923 has been numerous, and shorter hours in many cases mean more workmen to be employed.

Comparative contentment of labor tends to give confidence to capital; the present tendency of labor is distinctly away from radicalism and the one big union idea of the radicals is making little or no progress. The consumption of meat is growing all the time since workmen have steady employment at good wages. The consumption of meat in this country is always gauged by the labor situation, for those who work hard must and will have meat when they can get it.

Since the recognition of Mexico, their depleted ranges will again be stocked, and they are looking to us for their breeding cows, demanding high grade stuff.

The far seeing cowman is beginning to see the new conditions that are surely coming; it only remains for the banker to come to their rescue. The stockmen have been sufficiently punished, and the bankers should begin loosening their purse strings, giving the cowman the chance that is their due.

If the bankers would adopt the plan of doing the most good to the greatest number of people, instead of loaning most of their money to the favored few, they shall not have outlived their usefulness; they should make an honest-to-goodness effort to place a prop under every worthy cowman in distress, when conditions would at once change for the better. No real cowman will ever be broke until his neck is broken, as they are made of sterner stuff; you cannot keep a squirrel on the ground.—John Young in the Alpine Avalanche.

ADVERTISING PRINCIPLES

The National Association of Credit Men have made the announcement that of 16,000 mercantile failures in 1921, 90 per cent or 14,000 did not advertise.

1921, 90 per cent or 14,000 did not advertise they would have succeeded. It is a well known fact that the big, successful merchants are big advertisers and that the advertising program developed step by step from the early beginning. Real success comes in realization of vision—a mental picture of an ultimate goal.

One of the greatest aids to attainment of a great goal for a merchant is to master the principles of advertising in the outset.—Uvalde Leader

Insist On An Expert Opinion

There are plenty of folks that know something about titles. But the only opinion that is worth anything is the opinion of the man who knows EVERYTHING ABOUT land titles.

One flaw overlooked leaves the title just as hazy as before. In fact, an incomplete abstract, a shallow search, leaves things worse than before; for trusting the incorrect opinion has deceived one into a false sense of security.

This Company offers you the services and the verdict of an EXPERT. Our exhaustive records, our systematized methods, our complete knowledge of the subject, our THOROUGHNESS which lets no facts slip—these are your guarantees. When you have our opinion, you know there is no more to be said.

Before you buy, insist upon an Abstract of Title made by this Company. It will be your guarantee of future security in your property.

Brownfield and Terry county are sure enough getting their advertising right now, and while it may have cost some effort and money originally, it is handed out free by returning prospectors now. Well, we have room here for some 50,000 people yet.

The State Highway Commission has notified all county judges and commissioners' courts that they will take over all state highways in the near future, and that they expect the commissions to have the highways in GOOD shape as funds are scarce with them. They also emphasize the fact that they aim to care first for those counties who vote bonds for maintenance, and will pay small attention to others. This is what we have predicted all along. The State Highway Commission put a premium on those counties who go in debt.

Some fifty new signs adorn a number of our business concerns this week, which add materially to the appearance of our little city. The News office is at last numbered with those enjoying the "luxury," and while our colors may be a little loud, we hope our patrons will not mistake our place for a barber shop or conclude that we are celebrating Emancipation day.—Ward County News.
You did right in having a sign put up. Papers should practice what they preach about advertising. The local paper should lead the van when it comes to advertising. There is a statement of receipts and disbursements in the recent issue of West Texas Today, that was received in Colorado City for the storm sufferers in Mitchel county early in the spring. The statement accounts for the receipt of $56,360.98; expenditures of only $24,940.34, leaving a balance in the banks of $31,420.64. Our understanding was that hundreds had homes and everything else destroyed, and while Brownfield and Terry county people gave only a modest sum, they fully intended that the victims of the storm have every penny of it, and we are sure other communities felt the same way about the matter. They did not intend for a huge sum to be put on deposit there and the victims pay a high rate of interest to get it maybe. Why was this sum not distributed?

A National Protective League is reported to have been formed at Le-fors for the purpose of working against the KKK in the Panhandle. A complete ticket is to be nominated in the next election. Just so; just so. But on the 4th Saturday in next July the Democrats will turn to the primary just as naturally as a pig turns to new milk, and all the protective leagues in the world can't coax them away, whether the life of the Klan is at stake or not. A Democrat can pass up a convention without a quiver but going to the primary is a religious observance with him. Klan or no Klan.—Canadian Record.

HISTORY'S MYSTERIES

THE PUZZLE OF THE PEASANT EMPRESS

ALL the mystery and intrigue for which the East is famous could easily be epitomized in the strange, almost uncanny story of Tsu-Hsi, dowager empress of China, and for years the power behind the throne of the Celestial Empire. Where she came from, how she exerted her almost supernatural power, the way in which she managed to substitute the first cousin of her dead son in the place of the baby emperor, the manner of her death, and the very disposition of her body, are all veiled in a cloud of uncertainty, from which there emerges only the fact that Tsu-Hsi deserves to be ranked with Catherine of Russia as one of the few women who ever completely dominated a vast, half-savage kingdom.

The first that was known of Tsu-Hsi was when she arrived in Peking, unheralded, to take her place in the ranks of the wives of the emperor, Hsien-Feng. Her beauty and her charm attracted the favorable attention both of the dowager empress and the first wife of the emperor, and she was soon accorded the comparative position of honor as fourth wife to the emperor, taking the place of the second wife when the latter died some months later.

Two years after Tsu-Hsi entered the palace she gave birth to a son—a boy who succeeded to the throne upon the death of his father five years later, the first wife of the emperor being childless. Long before this time, however, official Peking was boiling over with gossip as to the origin of the "peasant empress," as she was known on account of the fact that her feet had never been bound. According to one story, she was a slave-girl whose beauty had attracted the attention of the emperor. Another rumor maintained that she had been given to the governor of a southern province in return for a favor conferred upon her mother and that the governor, wishing to secure favor in the eyes of the emperor, had sent her to Peking, where she soon ruled the court by virtue of her overpowering personality. A third report—and one which was most generally accepted—was that she was the protégée of Li Hung Chang, who was supposed to have placed her in the imperial palace to further his own ends, knowing that she was the daughter of a Tartar general, a heritage which would have accounted both for her brains and her ability to dominate those around her.

But, no matter what her origin was, high or low, the fact that Tsu-Hsi ruled the imperial palace with a rod of iron is a matter of record, as is the dramatic manner in which she foiled the plot to wreck her power through the murder of her son shortly after he had ascended the throne. The conspiracy was successful, so far as the death of the boy was concerned, but no sooner had he succumbed to a very brief illness than the empress left the bed where his body lay and proceeded at once to another part of the palace, snatching up the three-year-old cousin of the dead emperor, Kwang-Hsu, and presenting him to the assembled mandarins as the new ruler of China—a coup which the empress is said to have engineered by means of threats of personal violence against the mandarins and an oath that she would encompass the death of any who dared oppose her wishes. From this time until the death of Kwang-Hsu, in 1908, Tsu-Hsi was the real head of the kingdom—not only as dowager empress, but as the power which dominated the emperor by means of the lash whenever he showed a disinclination to fall in with her wishes.

As befitted one of the most remarkable women in history, the death of Tsu-Hsi was as dramatic and mysterious as her origin and early history. On November 3, 1908, the court assisted in the celebration of her seventy-fourth birthday—an occasion in which she appeared to be in the best of health. Less than a fortnight later, however, it was announced that the empress had suddenly died and, at the same time, a bulletin was issued stating that the emperor had passed away on the preceding evening. Those familiar with the intrigue surrounding the Chinese court shook their heads wisely and smiled with more than a trace of grimace at the thought of the fate which had overtaken Tsu-Hsi and her protégé.

"The death which she had meted out to others has overtaken her at last," was the popular verdict, but beyond this nothing was discovered. Thus passed, as mysteriously as she had lived, one of the most remarkable characters in history—an autocrat whose birth, life and death were all shrouded in impenetrable mystery.

ALMOST TWO-TON LITTER OF DUROC JERSEY PIGS

Vic Hall, a farmer near Waco, assisted by County Agent E. R. Endaly of that place, broke all records on litter production by raising a litter of Duroc pigs to the weight of 3,898½ pounds in 180 days. The pigs averaged 3249 pounds on the final day. The cost of production was given as $226.34. The record from Indiana which had stood without successful competition, was topped by 797 pounds. This Texas farmer almost made his record a two-ton litter.

Joe McGee, a boy of Lewisville, raised a litter of Duroc pigs to a weight of 2,903 pounds. Cost of feeding $179.50.

J. M. Noah of Denton county had a litter of ten that weighed 2136½ pounds.

F. T. Boswell of Sanger had a litter of ten that weighed 2312 pounds.

So the fellow who thinks that a ton litter is a difficult proposition had another think coming. Some day the fellow who can bring a dozen pigs to a ton weight in 180 days will be considered a poor hog raiser.—Canadian Record.

"Mind your own business young fellow," snapped a female of uncertain age. The big man's robbing this train.

IRRIGATION ELECTION HELD VOID BY JUDGE

RULES LAW CREATING COLORADO RIVER DISTRICT UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

WILL AFFECT WEST TEXAS

Work Suspended on Huge Project Until Higher Courts Rule on Matter.

Ballinger, Texas.—In his final ruling in the irrigation injunction suit which has just been tried, District Judge J. O. Woodward held that the law under which the Colorado River irrigation district was created is unconstitutional and declared the whole proceedings in holding the election and creating the district null and void, and perpetuated the injunction as prayed for by the opponents of the project.

The only ruling made by the court in favor of the defendants in the case was that there was in this action no contest of election, and therefore the State of Texas, through the Attorney General, was not a party to the suit.

The plaintiffs in their petition attacked the method of holding election and asked the State to join them in a contest, which the Attorney General did, but later withdrew from the case.

The main issues in the case attacked the constitutionality of the law, alleged that the boundaries of the district were not properly described, and on both of these points the court held in favor of the plaintiffs.

In rendering his decision Judge Woodward said that if he was a jury "he would probably be hung," and he declared that he had "very serious doubt as to whether his decision would be sustained by the higher courts." He announced that his findings and facts in the case would be filed at once.

Attorneys for the defendants announced that the case would be carried to the higher courts as soon as possible, and, being an injunction suit, efforts will be made to advance it on the docket and get an early decision.

This district is the first to be created under the irrigation laws as amended by the last Legislature, and the proposed district is one of the largest in the Southwest, embracing about 200,000 acres in parts of Runnels, Coke and Tom Green Counties, 150,000 acres of which the proponents proposed to put under ditch and irrigate with gravity flow by construction of a huge dam on the Colorado River at a cost of about $5,000,000.

The project has been under way of development for more than four years, approximately $66,000 having been spent in making preliminary surveys and carrying on the work.

WARNS STATE BANKS TO USE CARE IN LOANS

Abnormally High Deposits Attributed to Price of Cotton.

Austin, Texas.—J. L. Chapman, Commissioner of Banking, circulated the 360 State banks and trust companies, warning them "to be most careful in investing their heavy cash deposits so that the loans can be converted when needed, and to guard against any embarrassment."

This is in contrast to his letters of a few months ago when he advised the State banks to hold to their cash reserves. At that time the cash was at a low ebb and now the prosperity of the late summer and fall has caused most of the State banks to show large cash deposits and large cash reserves. Some of them have deposits many times the amount of their capital stock. Mr. Chapman is highly gratified at the change in the situation.

A number of State banks have sent in their statement of condition at the close of business on Sept. 14, as required by the Commissioner's call, and Mr. Chapman says in nearly every instance they show splendid cash deposits and cash reserves. Fully 90 per cent are showing marked improvement, he asserted. The call went to 358 banks and two have since started business.

The abnormally high deposits in most of the State banks at this time is attributed to the cotton price and the bountiful yields in some sections, particularly in East Texas spots, the Commissioner asserted.

Would Pass Law Against Masks.
Oklahoma City, Okla.—Notice of intention to initiate a measure to be voted on by the people, which would make it a felony for any person to wear a mask, hood, or other disguise, was filed in cases provided for, has been filed with the Secretary of State by Justice E. GOVERNOR WALTON APPEALS FOR FUNDS

Walton Charges Every Effort Being Made to Cripple Him and Counselor, Aldrich Blake

Oklahoma City, Ok.—Testimony about the inner workings of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma City and designated to show that the secret organization has directed mob violence was made public by Gov. J. C. Walton.

The testimony was taken by the military court sitting here and was given out by the Governor "that the people may know the purposes" of the Klan.

In a preface to the testimony, Gov. Walton declared the Klan had fallen upon himself and upon Aldrich Blake, his counselor, making it necessary for him to appeal for financial aid.

"Every effort is being made to cripple us financially so that we can not continue the fight," the Governor said.

"I call upon the people who believe in a representative form of government immediately to assist us financially and to make all remittance to Mrs. Aldrich Blake, Oklahoma City, Ok. Aldrich Blake himself is absent from the city at this time and probably will be for some days."

"So far as I am concerned," Gov. Walton declared, "I have crossed the Rubicon and it is a fight to the finish."

"Jewett (N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma realm of the Klan) and his crowd have turned the fight over to the Klan newspapers and the Klan members of the Legislature."

"Jewett and his 'invisible empire' shall not pass in this State."

"If necessary, I shall arm every man in this State who is opposed to his empire."

The section of the military court record made public was the testimony of four witnesses who were called to testify before the military tribunal.

In placing Oklahoma County under absolute martial law and banning the grand jury session, Gov. Walton charged that he acted to prevent the Klan officials of the county from proceeding with their purpose to indict him.

MARFA, TEXAS WILL SEE ARMY MANEUVERS

More Than Four Thousand Mounted Men to Participate in Big Bend

Washington.—Plans for a divisional cavalry concentration in the Big Bend country of Texas, Sept. 25 to Oct. 5, have been completed by army officials and more than 4,000 mounted men of the unit composing the first cavalry division will participate in the maneuvers.

The division will be concentrated at Marfa, Texas, all the units except the First Brigade, marching the 200 miles distance from Fort Bliss to Marfa. The First Brigade will march from Fort Clark, a distance of about 275 miles.

Units composing the divisions, which is commanded by Maj. Gen. Robert L. Howe, now have an aggregate strength of 4,068 men, as compared to an authorized peace strength of 5,170 and a divisional war strength of 7,463.

The maneuver will be the greatest concentration of mounted troops held by the army in many years. Officers and officials of the Mexican Army have been invited to attend and military attaches of many of the diplomatic missions in Washington also plan to witness the work of the mounted troops in the rugged country about Marfa.

The jury received the case at about 3:30 p. m. and its verdict was announced at 7 p. m.

GERMANS ADMIT DEFEAT IN RUHR

With Nation Facing Grim Winter Stresemann Cabinet Seeks to Settle French Issue

Berlin.—Germany has admitted defeat in the "war after the war"—the silent battle of the Ruhr.

Sensational proposals for surrender to France on the Ruhr and reparations questions have been presented by the German Government to the Belgian Ambassador. These proposals, made known by sources close to Chancellor Stresemann, follow:

Germany is prepared to cease passive resistance immediately on condition that expelled Germans be allowed to return to the occupied area and that Germans arrested by the occupying forces be released.

Germany is also ready to consider paying a reparations figure above 30,000,000,000 gold marks.

Germany offers to place debentures (as outlined in the recent Stresemann mortgage plan) in the hands of the reparations commission, although they may only be issued with Germany's consent. She will also allow French industrialists to participate in German industry if Germany is permitted to participate in French business.

The offer is tantamount to surrender. Germany is willing to meet the French terms by quitting resistance; she abandons her previous maximum reparations figure of 30,000,000,000 payments, which was unacceptable to France, and she offers guarantees.

France has demanded 50,000,000,000 gold marks. Germany previously has declared this impossible.

But with Germany facing a grim winter and a settlement becoming increasingly imperative, the Stresemann Cabinet met to devise some means of peace, despite the heavy concessions involved.

Anticipating that passive resistance will be completely and publicly repudiated shortly, regardless of the outcome of the present negotiations, reactionaries have already begun a sharp anti-Government campaign against capitulation. They even suggest starting revolutionary activities and installing a national dictator to prevent the Stresemann Government from yielding.

30-CENT COTTON HAS BECOME A REALITY

Violent Upturn Causes Gain of About $6 a Bale in a Few Minutes

New York.—Thirty-cent cotton became a reality when October contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange crossed that level and went thirty points farther, or to 30.30c, before the excited advance and covering movement was checked by active real-time sales.

December contracts followed with sales at 29.90c, these prices representing net gains of 150 points or about $6 per bale. Slight setbacks near the close left the market finally very nervous but generally strong, at net advances on active positions of sixty-five to 103 points. Wednesday's violent upturn to new high levels for the season marked the culmination of a strong bull movement which has been almost continuous since the end July Government report made it plain to the cotton world that the supply of the fleecy staple this year would fall considerably short of earlier estimates.

The immediate cause of the sensational rise was a report of floods in Northern Texas and Oklahoma, together with predictions for cooler weather and a higher basis in the Southwest, which seemed to forecast an even greater reduction in the crop promise, besides injuring the grade.

T. & P. to Be Reorganized.
New York.—Differences between the various interests in the reorganization plan of the Texas & Pacific Railroad have been ironed out and the plan will shortly be made public, it was learned in the financial district. While the details of the plan have not been made public, it was reported in some quarters that it will not involve an assessment on the common stock.

Heavy Rains at Ennis.
Ennis, Texas.—Heavy rains have fallen here the last two days, stopping all farm work and damaging open cotton to some extent.

RIO GRANDE BREAKS EAGLE PASS BRIDGE

Del Rio, Sixty Miles Up the River Reported the River at a Standstill

San Antonio, Texas.—The concrete bridge spanning the Rio Grande at Eagle Pass, which has stood flood waters for the last ten days finally gave way and about 300 feet near the center of the structure were washed out.

When the bridge broke there was a might crash with the breaking of a huge cable and electric light wires. Hundreds of persons on both sides of the river witnessed the washout.

The Rio Grande at that point had been rising at the rate of one inch an hour throughout the day. Traffic over the structure was stopped at midnight Sunday when water had nearly crept up to the flooring.

Reports of heavy rains in Mexico continue to be received in San Antonio. Del Rio, sixty miles up the river from Eagle Pass, reported the river at a standstill but it is expected to be again on a rampage.

Flood waters from the Pecos River are reported to be sweeping down in one of the biggest rises of the year. The Pecos flows into the Rio Grande fifty miles above Del Rio.

Hundreds of American citizens who celebrated Mexican Independence Day in Piedras Negras, across the river from Eagle Pass, were marooned when traffic across the bridge connecting the two towns was closed. Only one person has lost his life in the Rio Grande flood. Otto Ziegler, who was standing on the bridge at Eagle Pass, fell off and was drowned. His body has not been found.

NO ACTION TAKEN IN TEXTBOOK CASE

State Education Board is Awaiting Opinion of Attorney General

Austin, Texas.—No action was taken by the State Board of Education in the textbook controversy and the board adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman. It is awaiting a written opinion from the Attorney General as to whether it can legally rescind its former action, adopted by a majority vote, transferring $2,000,000 to the free textbook purchase fund. State Superintendent Marrs filed a written request that rescission be made and that only $500,000 be transferred to buy books under the old contracts and that the board then take the $1,500,000 remaining and increase the State apportionment from $12 to $15 per child. The board majority recognized the December contracts as valid and ordered the transfer made of the $2,000,000 so purchases could be made thereunder. Comptroller Smith opposed the action and has steadfastly refused to make the transfer pending an order from a court of last resort.

It developed that the Attorney General's opinion will probably not be what was forecast, that the board could make the rescission without any reservations.

A further consideration of the question will be given by the staff of assistants in the Attorney General's department before a final written opinion is forthcoming. It will probably be written by First Assistant John C. Wall, who is acting Attorney General in the absence of Judge Keeling.

Italy Has Repealed League.
Geneva.—The Greek-Italian row has been happily settled, say the delegates to the council of the League of Nations, but the question of how to deal with Italy is proving perplexing. "Stormy" was the word employed in summarizing the session of the council, which was hurriedly convened Saturday and which did not adjourn until Sunday morning. It is admitted that Italy has defied the League and that the assembly should take some action, calculated to reinforce the prestige of the League.

Trainwrecks Laid to Radicals.
Paris.—Nineteen attempts at sabotage on French railways have been reported this year. Five fatal accidents resulted. Communists are suspected.

Greek Steamship Sinking.
London.—The Greek steamship Antonia reported by wireless it was sinking off Land's End following an explosion on board which shattered the after deck. The steamship Mercantia was standing by.

3-Year-Old Girl Scalded.
Mexico, Texas.—Three-year-old Jesse May Renshaw was seriously burned when she fell into a tub of boiling water at her home. She may recover.

Ranger Captain in Austin.
Austin, Texas.—Capt. Tom Hickman, commanding a company of rangers stationed at Corpus Christi, was in Austin in conference with Adj. Gen. T. D. Barton and Ranger Quartermaster R. W. Aldrich. Hickman said he had been on vacation and was en route to Corpus Christi to resume command of his company. "I stopped off in Austin merely for the purpose of getting a line on things," he said. "I will leave at once for Corpus Christi."

"Moyen-Age" Fashions Again; Wash Dresses Show Variety

WITH the advent of real fall weather the new styles in suits and dresses are called on to meet the acid test of popular taste. Early models have been with us for several weeks and these show the trend of the fashion, although they do not definitely establish it. In garments now being shown there is a tendency toward a slightly different silhouette than that of the late summer and between-season styles. Skirts are still long but will probably become shorter. Blouses are made fuller, costumes them as in everything else. New patterns in familiar materials, especially in printed cottons, contribute more to the element of novelty than anything else.

Routine has come to the fore this season and an attractive model is shown in the illustration.

The dress at the left is of plaid ratine in blue and tan. The collar and cuffs are of white pique and are of course detachable so they may be kept looking fresh. The waist is slightly bloused and is held just over generally fit the figure more casually than the straightline styles and there is an increasing interest in platings, tiers, ruffles and drapes to elaborate both blouses and skirts.

The intricate and graceful draperies of the Moyen-Age (that is, the middle-ages) find a reflection in the two dresses illustrated here. That at the left is a blue serge with full sleeves and blouse held loosely to the figure with a narrow belt. The trimming is the hips with a belt of the same material bound with a narrow silk ribbon. There is a touch of white pique at the pockets, which are further ornamented with a row of pearl buttons.

The dress at the right shows a combination of plain and printed cotton cloth and introduces a new touch in the narrow girdle, of the plain material tied at the front. This model might be accurately described as a morning dress in which the wears gray sateen braid which follows the shoulder line and ornaments the two pockets on the skirt. Collar and cuffs are of gray faille silk. With this costume is shown an extremely new and smart hat and bag set. Both hat and bag are made of bright gun leather trimmed with celluloid ornaments in an all-over design.

Crape de chine is used in making the afternoon gown shown at the right. The short sleeves and draped skirt are trimmed with deep ruffles of plaited georgette finished with an edging of white lace. In this costume, the elaborately-draped skirt shows the most significant change in recent fashions. The narrow plaiting shown in the deep ruffles is being used in lion bertha, sleeves, tiers, bouffant will feel comfortable on her marketing or shopping tour. The blouse portion is cut in the kimono style and the skirt portion has panels of the figured goods introduced at the sides, ending at the top in capacious and very convenient pockets.

Nothing has out-rivalled checked gingham made up with pique or plain chambray for utility dresses. The checks are small—a color with white—and the colors are fast, so that proper laundering does not change them. These tub dresses belong to several classifications and have varied names—so morning dresses, house dresses, apron dresses, hungaiow dresses or simply wash dresses. There are little shades of difference in them—apron dresses, for instance, are those designed for wear at housework and nowhere else, while some wash dresses may venture on the street, but are still in the class of utility dresses.

Wash dresses vary only a little from one season to another since they must all be designed with an eye to usefulness and comfort, and must be put together so that they will launder easily. Nevertheless the element of style and attractiveness grows more and more important in

How to Get Better Milk Prices

Now is the time to feed a real milk producing ration.

By raising the average of your winter milk deliveries with Cow Chow during the winter months you can expect better prices, and more milk accepted in the spring and summer.

The dairy farmer who brings in twenty gallons a day in the winter and then tries to deliver 40 gallons in the summer, gets the regular price for only 20 gallons, and the surplus price for the other twenty.

The dairy farmer who has a big fall and winter production establishes a high average for himself and gets a good price in the spring and summer on grass for as much milk as he made last fall.

Cow Chow now means more winter milk and more summer income.

TEXAS ONE OF THE BILLION-DOLLAR FARM TRIO

Three states stand out boldly from the rest in the value of crops, says Caroline B. Sferman, market technologist for the department of agriculture in The Nation's Business.

Official estimates show that Texas, Illinois, and Iowa raised farm crops in 1922 aggregating in value 1 1/2 billion dollars. With an estimated total value of American farm crops in 1922 of approximately $10 billion we find Texas contributing more than 7 1/2 millions, Iowa more than 450 millions and Illinois more than 419 millions. On a ten year average Texas contributes a still larger amount—while Illinois leads Iowa on this longer period by an average of nearly 20 million.

Rice, of which Texas grew nearly 6 million bushels last year, is not grown at all in Illinois and Iowa and sweet potatoes might also be planted in this class since the year's totals credit only 440,000 bushels to Iowa and 855,000 to Illinois, against 8,715,000 raised in Texas.

Iowa raised a comparatively few bushels of grain sorghums; Illinois is not credited with any in the final totals; but Texas raised considerably more than twice as many as any other state in the Union. Nearly forty million bushels of grain sorghums were raised in Texas last year.

Texas scores heavily in truck crops as onions, cabbage, spinach, tomatoes, watermelons, and many other vegetables and fruits comes from southern Texas to northern markets in large quantities. But these truck crops are not included in the totals here studied.

Cotton is the great outstanding crop. It is cotton production that sends Texas so far ahead of all other states, not only in the south but the whole country, in its aggregate value of farm crops. The Texas crop of 1922 was well in excess of 3 million bales; it was 2 million bales larger than the cotton crop of any other state, and it constituted approximately one-third of the entire amount of cotton produced in the whole country.

The huge agricultural output of Texas is in line with its vast area of farm land, and Iowa has 35 million, but Texas has more than three times their area, for Texas cultivates farm lands amounting to 114 million acres.

SIMMONS EXPECTS AN ENROLLMENT OF 1000

Arlene, Sept. 24—For the first week of registration at Simmons College, enrollment has gone past the six hundred mark, with others, especially in the fine arts department, still to come in. President J. D. Sanderfer stated that the enrollment for the fall term would easily go beyond seven hundred and he was confident for the whole session, 1923-24 Simmons would have a student registration well over a thousand.

Several additional faculty members have been placed on the staff of instructors for this year, and a faculty of full strength is on hand for the thirty-second session of the institution. Registration in the fine arts department is unusually heavy, due probably to the interest and impetus given this department by the opening of the new Caldwell Fine Arts Building.

A shower fell here Sunday night amounting to 10-20 inch, that seemed to be much heavier south and west. This makes 4.32 inches since the 1st of September, and well on toward 55 inches for the year.

We neglected to mention last week that Alfred Dinkal had also entered Simmons for another term.

LARGE ADVANCES ARE MADE

REPORT ON CONTRIBUTIONS TO
75 MILLION CAMPAIGN ISSUED
BY HEADQUARTERS OFFICE

European Representative Baptist Foreign Mission Board.

Up to January 1, 1923, Southern Baptists had paid in cash on the 75 Million Campaign, their five-year program for the advancement of the general missionary, educational and benevolent activities of the denomination the sum of $38,918,191.10, according to a report issued by the general headquarters office.

These contributions have come from the various states and other sources as follows: Alabama, $1,653,739.40; Arkansas, $1,165,153.35; District of Columbia, $143,564.70; Florida, $509,016.02; Georgia, $3,669,516.70; Illinois, $320,482.95; Kentucky, $4,122,029.78; Louisiana, $1,035,640.23; Maryland, $489,494.29; Mississippi, $1,591,011.34; Missouri, $1,537,067.49; New Mexico, $176,998.36; North Carolina, $3,365,350.21; Oklahoma, $1,652,438.20; South Carolina, $3,309,252.60; Tennessee, $2,340,766.77; Texas, $5,092,785.32; Virginia, $4,102,802.12. Special designated funds, Texas, $1,223,640.55; New Mexico, $403,072.68; Louisiana, $105,100; Illinois, $148,591.11; Tennessee, $192,853.25; Oklahoma, $59,000; received direct by Home Mission Board $15,340; received from special sources by Foreign Mission Board, $86,103; contributed by native churches on foreign field and expended by them directly on their work there, $1,003,556.68.

Indicating something of the progress which the impetus of the Campaign has brought to various phases of denominational effort in the South it is reported that during the three years of the Campaign period that have expired, Southern Baptists have had 150,000 more baptisms than they did for the three years immediately preceding the Campaign; organized 3,000 more new Sunday schools with 400,000 new pupils; enhanced the value of their local church property by $23,000,000; increased their contributions to local causes by $22,000,000; gave $18,938,862 more to missions and benevolences, and advanced their contributions to all causes by $43,480,494 during the three years of the Campaign over what they gave to all causes for the three years immediately preceding the Campaign.

Gains in Special Fields.
The Campaign has enabled the various state mission boards to greatly enlarge their programs of state and associational missions within their respective boundaries. It is pointed out that it was possible for the Home Mission Board to complete its $1,000,000 Church Building Loan Fund, extend its work among the foreigners, Indian and Negroes, administer 134,382 baptisms, secure 218,371 additions to the local churches, provide larger equipment for its system of 38 mountain mission schools, establish the Southern Baptist Tuberculosis Sanatorium and greatly increase its work in other directions.

Some other gains in the homeland include the better equipment and maintenance of the more than 50 academies, colleges and seminaries; other than the mountain schools; in creating the number of Baptist hospitals from 18 to 20, and providing better equipment and maintenance for all of them; increasing the number of Baptist hospitals from 12 to 20 and beginning the erection of three others at the same time all the older ones have been better equipped; while the number of aged ministers helped has been doubled and the stipend given each has been greatly increased.

Mission Work Extended.

In the realm of foreign missions the Foreign Mission Board has been enabled to send out about 250 new missionaries, employ over 500 additional native workers, greatly increase the equipment in the way of church buildings, chapels, schools, hospitals, publishing houses and mission residences in the older fields of China, Japan, Africa, Italy, Brazil, Argentina, Paraguay, Uruguay, Chile and Mexico, and open up new work in Spain, Jugoslavina, Hungary, Roumania, Russia, Palestine and Siberia. In the territory now occupied by the Foreign Mission Board there is a total population of 900,000,000, or more than half the people of the world.

Due to the enlargement of the missionary program in Europe the board has been compelled to station a general representative there in the person of Dr. Everett Gill, who has general oversight of the work on the continent and maintains his headquarters at Lucerne, Switzerland.

MEADOW BRIEFS By Acculapias

The first week saw two more residences under way. Also Mr. W. G. Cook is building some sheds and cribs.

The gins are running a little more, there having been ginned to date 85 bales. Most of it has been sold to the merchants here. The price continues good and the farmers apparently feel good at the outlook.

Mrs. Jack Nettles has returned from the sanitarium at Lubbock at which place she underwent an operation. She appears much improved.

The people are making preparation for the little Meadow Fair to be pulled off Wednesday. It is hoped that all who live near will not only come but take an interest in the exhibits.

The Rev. B. W. Dodson concluded his series of doctrinal sermons at the M. E. church Friday night. The attendance was large throughout the services. The doctor is a very heavy weight, mentally and physically, able to hold his own with the best debaters among the christian denominations. The past summer has seen our people pretty well indoctrinated. May they rapidly acquire the other christian virtues.

The railroad authorities have promised an agent at an early date, which will relieve us of much annoyance in matters of receiving and discharging freight.

THE GIRL AT THE WINDOW

There is a girl at the window of one of the public service companies in a city in Texas who knows hundreds of patrons by name. Many telephone operators in the smaller towns know most of their patrons by name. These girls generally manage to slip in a friendly word with the receipt for the money or with the completion of a call. These girls have friends among their customers—from bankers to laborers. They look out upon a friendly world. Friendly, happy people generally live in a friendly world.

The girl at the window is a business girl. She knows it and looks it. Girls in business have two theories about the amount of information which they should have as to the business. One of these is that a girl need only know what she is employed to do. The other is that she should learn all she can of every side of the business.

The girl at the window is obliged to know all about the business so she is not perplexed by the rival schools of thought as to what she should know.

Anybody who will pause inconspicuously about the window for a time to learn that to answer the question or to tell where to get the answer requires the knowledge of the general manager and the tact of the girl at the window. The girl at the window does a better job answering these questions than the general manager could do—for she has a way about her—she actually believes that people are entitled to courteous consideration along with the privilege of paying their bills.
