OLD TERRY'S ALRIGHT!

A FEW WEEKS OF GLORIOUS SUNSHINE WILL DISPELL ALL THE DARK CLOUDS.

The sun came out Monday afternoon after almost ten days absence and many were the remarks heard on its final reappearance, such as, "the sun was not minked after all," and many others of like nature. This has been one of the longest cloudy and rainy spells seen on the Plains in a long time, and of course did not go well with people who are used to a preponderance of sunshine. We will all have to admit that the outlook was becoming somewhat gloomy, but some of us tried to see it from a future aspect. Some got 'em bad and had begun to enquire what was to be come of the old farmer who had labored so hard, and now his products of hard work was going to the bow-wows. But all the while we knew if a few days of sunshine came along, the dark cloud of doubt and despair would disappear, and all would be well with Terryites.

The government gauge showed 4.55 inches during the spell, which is, we admit rather unusual for the time of year, especially when following an unusually wet previous month.

But in all this prolonged precipitation, there is a glorious outlook for the old timer, who has studied the weather conditions here for years. He knows that a wet fall and winter mean many things for the good of old Terry. He knows—

First:—That it means good winter pastures for the stock and therefore less feed. That he will have earlier grass in the spring, which means he will get his cattle to market early and advantage of good prices.

Second:—That the turf being heavier he will naturally have less sandstorms, or rather feel their effects of them less, the soil being damp and less likely to get into the air. There is also seemingly less wind of rainy years, also.

Third:—It means that the newcomer who has purchased raw land, will be able to break sod all winter, and not only that, but pulverize it well so that it will retain the moisture of the spring rainfall. This one thing is going to be a big item, too, the coming year, for hundreds of newcomers are going to pour in and not many of them but will have to depend on new land.

Fourth:—It means a bottom season to start the crop next year, and a long experience of old farmers here maintain that this is half the battle. With a good starting season, any of them will tell you he can make a respectable crop on showers the rest of the year.

Fifth:—If the soil is wet to a good depth, it will also freeze deep and therefore destroy any insects or eggs that are hidden in the earth, for it is well known that the freeze only goes as far as the moisture.

Sixth:—Good fall rains generally do a lot toward restoring weak turf following dry years with heavy pasturage and results in strengthened and thickened turf. It causes the grass to seed and helps to spread the grass to barren places.

Terry is alright yet, and there will perhaps be plenty of time to gather the crop this year. Don't be discouraged, for our winters are usually very open and will give you lots of time in the field. There never is very cold weather before the holidays.

Cheer up! The worst may have done past. Boost. Don't knock.

ARMISTICE DAY

American Legion posts in all parts of the country are preparing to observe Armistice Day with parades and ceremonies in honor of those who died in the World War. Garland W. Powell, director of the Legion's National Americanism Commission has suggested a general program. "Armistice Day is truly a day of Thanksgiving," Mr. Powell said. "It was brought about by the men who ably defended their country; it is a day of great rejoicing. It brought to an end the world's greatest conflict and spelled the defeat of autocracy, selfishness, greed and oppression. It carried forward Christianity, justice and liberty."

SHALL TERRY COUNTY HAVE A COUNTY AGENT?

PROMINENT CITIZEN OF MEADOW GIVES MANY GOOD REASONS WHY WE SHOULD HAVE ONE.

To The Herald:—

I have read with great interest your editorial in the last issue of the Herald in regard to a County Agricultural Agent for the county. I am usually opposed to the expenditure of public money for similar purposes, deeming it unwise and undemocratic to increase governmental expenses for such purposes. I would be opposed to the employment of a County Agent now if I was not convinced that his services would greatly more than offset his salary.

A county agent is worth more in a purely mercenary sense than his salary, part of which I believe is paid by the Federal Government. In the matter of seed selection alone, his knowledge and skill will visibly increase the yields of the crops of the county. Farmers as a rule are not prepared and are not familiar with the problems of seed selection to solve them to the best advantage. Better seed for corn, grain sorghums and cotton would be encouraged by the agent to such a degree that in a few years we would have nothing but the best of seed for all purposes. When one remembers that the South Plains of Texas, of which Terry Co. is the heart, is soon destined to become the seed house of the entire South and West and for certain crops for the North, one can readily conceive of the magnitude of the seed question. What we want and are going to have is the best seed for every crop we grow and a good county agent's services are invaluable in the work in arousing our farmers to the possibilities of the occasion. Right at this time there is pending the location of one of the largest seed breeding farms in the entire Southwest, and its location will depend entirely upon the attitude of our farmers toward really good seed and the co-operation of the business interests in the matter.

His services are needed in the matter of standardizing the cotton growing of the county as is done in certain South Texas counties, thereby securing better grades and staples in such quantities as to justify a better price for all the cotton we grow. Our soils are favorable to the production of these better grades and staples as no other portion of north-west Texas is. The county agent is the one man to bring this condition about as he has the time and knowledge to bring such things to a reality. We may be as enthusiastic and energetic as you please as individuals, but we are not supplied with the necessary amount of time and patience to work it out to a successful conclusion.

Then his services are more valuable for the good influence he can exert over the boys of our schools thru beef clubs, pig clubs, corn clubs and other agencies. You know a boy is one of the best investigators along agricultural lines there is for he is enthusiastic to the last degree and will beat his dad with his acre of corn or cotton to a frazzle.

The field is broad and very interesting and his activities would only be limited by his capacity to work and get others to work. A county agent can do more for the spirit of the community life than all other forces combined that are in operation at the present time. We are just entering upon a period of expansion and development in things agricultural. The latent potentiality of the soils of Terry county are going to be aroused, because the mind, energy and capital of other people is being attracted here in ever increasing volume. In fact with the possible exception of one other locality, Terry county is developing at a faster rate than any other section of the great South Plains. Our entire citizenship should take advantage of each and every opportunity to further and foster our great basic resource—agriculture. Let's put the county agent on the job to lead and direct our aims and energies in the proper direction.

The writer has just had the experience of spending the entire time at the South Plains Fair, at Lubbock, in charge of a community booth. It is noticeable that the prize winning community booths and the prize winning county booths were all from counties with a county agent on the job. It was not so much the amount and variety of the display, but the supreme quality and spirit of the exhibits that took the prize. It was a just decision that put Terry in fifth place at the fair when we had been properly directed and had had the spirit that belongs to the whole community and not to a few individuals, we could have easily won first place. I am not intending these remarks as a disparagement of the efforts of those faithful men who have always worked and contended for the good name of Terry county among the counties of these Plains, but I am saying that no two or three men or even a dozen men in a few short hours show the possibilities of this county to the best of advantages in the minds of competent judges. The writer does not doubt in the least that Terry county has the goods to bring home the bacon every time if we had a capable head to direct us. You can't do a job right in one hour that requires twelve month for its proper performance.

I am suggesting that our Commissioners' Court employ an Agricultural Agent for the county for the ensuing year and let him get out on our farms and among our schools and homes and go to work, and I'll guarantee that a vast majority of the people of the county will raise cane if he is taken off the job another year.

If you, as a citizen of the county, are interested in this movement, just write me a letter or even a post card telling me your favor such a move, and I will present the matter to our Commissioners at the very earliest opportunity.

BILL BOOSTER SAYS

TERRY COUNTY AT THE SOUTH PLAINS FAIR

Terry county was right here again this year. She has been a faithful exhibitor at the Panhandle South Plains Fair for years, and she always goes home with a good sized slice of the bacon. Terry is the home of some of the biggest watermelons of any county on the Plains and they don't only grow big down there, but there is a duced lot of 'em. Melons is not all they grow, however, for it looked like there was enough stuff in the booth to fill several score cards, and the arrangement was fine.

J. E. Shelton, Bill Cook and "Happy" John Powell had charge of the exhibit, and deserve much credit for the showing they made. Terry took fifth prize, and many onlookers did not understand why it did not get first. Terry will go to the Dallas Fair and be back with us again next year. Lubbock people feel kindly toward Terry. That county has always been our friend, and like other counties, we want to give them a square deal in everything they do. This is one of the first things the Panhandle South Plains Fair Association wants to do, and that is to feed the exhibitors on the comeback dope, and they do everything in their power to make them welcome and satisfy the people when they come to our fair.

Meadow

"The cream of the Plains" was the way the banner read over the booth, and from the amount of products displayed this slogan is evidently well earned by that community. Meadow is on the railroad between Lubbock and Brownfield and is in the corner of Terry county, or rather near the north line of the county and is rapidly developing into quite a berg. The population of Meadow is now about four hundred, according to the statement of Mr. J. B. Reed, who has the charge of the exhibit here this year. They did not compete for prizes, but did in Terry county and won the 2nd prize in that county.

Meadow is in the heart of one of the most fertile sections of the South Plains, and is developing into a great cotton producing community. Cotton will make from a fourth to a third of a bale per acre, and they will get at least 4,000 bales of cotton this year, as compared with 1,800 last year. Up to date they have ginned 700 bales. Mr. Reed says that Meadow furnishes

SLATON MAN KILLED BY ANOTHER LAST WEEK

James S. Lanham, aged 48 years, died Wednesday, Oct. 10th, about 1 o'clock, as a result of knife wounds inflicted by James Walker. Mr. Lanham was rushed to the office of Dr. Adams and expired within a few minutes.

Full details of the trouble that led up to the killing are not available, but it is stated that it started over remarks made by Mr. Walker about prohibitionists.

A complaint was filed before Justice of the Peace, Paul P. Murray, a warrant issued charging murder, which was served by local officers on Mr. Walker at his home, it is stated. Deputy Sheriff Less George and Co. Attorney McWhorter, of Lubbock, came down to handle the situation, after being notified by Chief of Police Abel. Mr. Walker waived examining trial to await the action of the grand jury, and bond was furnished in the sum of $25,000.00.

J. S. Lanham was one of Slaton's most progressive and most highly respected business men. He was born in Troupe, Smith county, Texas. Before coming to Slaton in 1915 he was engaged for a number of years in business at Santos, Palo Pinto county, Texas. He was there married to Miss Mina Latimer, Oct. 8th, 1902.

He was a consistent member of the First Baptist church of this city and was for a number of years on the Board of Deacons. He was also a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge.

He is survived by his wife and three children.—Slaton Slatonite.

OLD TIMERS

Jawn and Jessie, a pair of the old timers in the county, threw open the doors of one of the oldest homes in Brownfield, last Monday evening to a large crowd of the old timers, who enjoyed once more the old hospitality that has made West Texas famous, and went the rounds in their regular 42 games Thirteen tables were fully surrounded by the merry players, some to win and some to lose, but all the better for the coming.

Jessie with usual tact and taste, ably assisted by Clemmie, had the lights and rooms decorated with Halloween goblins, as per the season. And then for the celebration of those who had passed around all tables, and for the relief of those who stayed at one table so long, those two genial hostess passed a cup of hot chocolate with marshmallow float, and a sandwich that reached man's heart in the usual way, and then with thank and appreciation, goodbyes and smiles, another one ended.

One of the most commendable features of this bunch is there is yet no distinction between country and town folks, and let it be known that more of the old timers from the country are welcome.

Bec-Bec-Becky and Allie will entertain the next meeting two weeks hence, Monday night, October 22nd. The writer did not hear which place, but it does not make any difference, the crowd and the welcome will be there.—Wun uv em.

J. O. BROWN PASSES

One of the best men and citizens of Brownfield passed away at 2:00 o'clock Monday morning at the Lubbock Sanitarium, that ever graced the little city of Brownfield, in the person of Mr. J. O. Brown, a pioneer of West Texas, and a builder.

Burial was made at Lubbock Cemetery Wednesday.

Mr. Brown came here several years ago from Coleman, where he was also reckoned as one of their best citizens. He was born in the State of Missouri, and when only sixteen, he volunteered for the last two years in the United States Navy, and was in the Federal-Confederate unpleasantness around the city of Nashville on a gunboat up and down the Cumberland river.

Although 75 years old or possibly more, he took an active part in the Republican party politics, and at death was county chairman of Terry county, and wielded considerable influence in State politics of that party. He was postmaster at Coleman for a number of years.

He was a member of the Christian church and an Odd Fellow. He is survived by his wife and several children.

LOVINGTON GIN COMPLETED

We are glad to say in this issue that all material for the Lovington gin has been received including the sterilizer, which will be installed this week and thus complete the work.

A test bale is expected to be run through the later part of the week so adjustments of machinery can be made and be in prime shape for the public run immediately.

And although nothing has been said yet, we hope that the step forward will lead to the replacement of our electric light system and ice plant that were burned some time ago.—Lovington (N.M.) Leader.

C. L. Wines, popular engineer of the English gin, took time during the rainy weather to call around and renew acquaintances here in town. He has been very busy recently.

SENIOR NEWS

Friday, October 5th, the football boys went to Littlefield to play ball and in their absence the Seniors were donated an examination in Civics. (The donation was appreciated.)

Among the best results of the examination was a theme on "Loyalty to Our School" that was turned in by Jewell Carver. This theme strikes a responsive cord in all our hearts when we read it. It is as follows:

"There are several ways of being loyal to our school. The teachers are supposed to be loyal as well as the students.

They should not give long lessons, and should not have school when a big football game is on. And if some of the class is off at a football game, those that are at home should not have to take any examination.

In following these rules the teachers are not only loyal to the school but to the students as well.

As for the students they should work in order to help the teacher as much as possible. They should study their lessons; be prepared to take exams on short notice and always have a perfect lesson.

If some of the school goes off to a football game they should make arrangements so that the others who want to go also.

The students should stand by the school in every football game by going and yelling for them.

The students should stand by the teachers in anything they may wish to do.

Messrs. S. C. Boswell and W. H. Collins, prominent business men of Durant, Okla., were here this week prospecting, and may decide to locate here, as they were well pleased with the town and country.

ONE COUNTRY EDITOR FINALLY SEES LIGHT

By Chas. H. Curtis, publisher Le Llore County Sun, Poteau, Okla.

"It's the dollar mark that makes the newspaper of interest to readers, but it comes from the advertiser and not from the readers.

"During the war I gave away hundreds of dollars worth of space to war activities and made heroes of some, and I had nothing. Some of these men bought bonds. After the war they had the bonds, and I found I had done nothing. I know some other publishers who are in the same boat and I know some who were paid for their efforts, and I can see no reason why they should not have been.

The Oklahoma Livestock Association asked me to advertise a livestock sale at Oklahoma City, because if some farmers around Poteau purchased, it would ultimately benefit me.

The county nurse brought in two-thirds of a column, urging the people to visit a doctor and dentist and to take the children, not only once, but regularly. Whenever I speak to the doctors or dentist about advertising, some draw away from me as though I were pollution itself and say: "We don't believe in advertising." Under these circumstances I told the nurse I wouldn't care to publish the article—that I didn't want to offend them.

"For the sake of your wife and children, if not for yourself, screen your home," is the way I worded an advertisement and submitted it to a hardware man.

Couldn't interest him.

"I inserted, 'if you can't afford the screen wire, we have mosquito bars,' and tried the drug goods man. 'There is no money in it was his reply.'

But it will be a good thing for the community, I said. Sure, but he did not propose to go to any expense on the proposition.

If he was going to sell gingham for a cent a yard, it would interest my readers and save them money but he certainly would pay for the message if it went over my "wires."

A newspaper man has a wide field when it comes to doing something good for humanity, and, after about 25 years experience, I am inclined to dodge those campaigns where workers are paid and the newspaper man contributes. If newspaper service is worth anything, I am here to sell it as others are selling their services. The grocer is not really selling groceries—he is selling the service that goes with handling that commodity. You don't find him giving away his service. After years of giving I am going to appear real grasping. I find I get into an argument once in awhile. The argument that others are giving their services free doesn't appeal any more—if a man commits burglary or murder, that doesn't justify me in doing so.

MOVIE STRUCK GIRLS

That is really a sad story that comes from Hollywood, Calif., telling of the ten thousand girls whose names are registered at the motion picture studios. Not all of them are in Hollywood, but a large per cent of them are. They have gathered in that city from all parts of the country, most of them from the smaller cities and towns.

They are from all kinds of homes, but they are all of one mind: They all want to act in the movies.

And only a few of them will ever have their ambition satisfied. Poor girls! We publish this with the hope that it will be read in at least some homes where the knowledge it gives will make it easier for the girls to stay at home.—Exchange.

WHAT'S BECOME OF THE OLD FASHIONED FARM HAND?

Farmers in most sections of the country are up against the farm labor problem harder than ever during the war even. With plasterers reported to be getting $118 to $200 per week in New York, brick layers and stonemasons and carpenters being right behind, the building trades lead the field. However, the automobile factories, the hard road builders, the steel factories and the mines are all magnets that have been steadily and relentlessly pulling the laborer away from the farm to the city. Many sections of the country find that $65 per month no longer holds a single farm hand with the best of room and board, while the abandoned farms have steadily mounted in Michigan and Ohio until one out of every five in the former state is reported idle this year.

As a consequence, the American Farm Bureau Federation recently made a survey of the farm labor situation that led to their conclusion that the shortage covers most of the states and that the farmer cannot compete with industry for labor supply. The natural reaction therefore, is to replace these men who are leaving, by machinery and operations that will make up for the slack without reducing the producing power of each individual farm. The truck gardens around the cities have been putting in garden tractors to eliminate $6 a day for help to weed onions. Many farmers where the contour of their land is right are installing 2-row corn cultivators to take the place of single row implements, milking machines are going into the dairies to replace from one to a dozen high priced men, the field silage harvester was installed in many sections where a man or two was short at silo filling time, the corn picker had a big sale this fall to take the place of hands that were costing too much.

Probably labor saving has never been so important on the farms at present. When farm hands get to costing $900 to $1,000 a year, they become not only big factors in the balance sheet and its showing of profit or loss, but they are less satisfied with their jobs and less likely to remain than ever before. The automobile mixes the men among higher paid men on Sundays and holidays, and the drift to the factories gets stronger and stronger all the time under the present high trends. However, the American farmer always has taken up his labor slack since the Civil War by better management and more and bigger implements and labor saving equipment. More than a billion and a third dollars were paid hired help in 1919, according to the Census figures, some 2,800,000 farms hiring outside help. With four billion invested in farm equipment, the American farmer has been able to build himself up to a place where he has eliminated six of the nine men originally on the farm in a total population of every ten.—National Institute of Progressive Farming.

NOTED FRAU ULRICH IN VAN OF DEMONSTRATIONS IN BERLIN

12 ARE DEAD, 45 WOUNDED

Fatalities at Solingen When 10,000 Unemployed Start Looting the Town

Berlin.—Led by a wildly screaming woman, the noted Communist Frau Ulrich, 500 demonstrators have stormed grocery stores in Berlin and at various points made attempts to loot truckloads of produce.

When local police were unable to cope with the situation reserves were rushed out. The women attacked these reinforcements, stoning and cursing them.

Dusseldorf.—A wave of pillage and rioting by unemployed is sweeping the Ruhr and the Rhineland.

Eleven persons were killed and thirty-five wounded when 10,000 unemployed in the great steel town of Solingen began a regime of looting.

Riots started when housewives and idle workers protested food prices. Shopkeepers hurriedly closed their shutters as angry crowds gathered.

Police were powerless to stem the rush of the mob and a number of policemen were wounded in the melee that followed.

Grave demonstrations occurred at Hochst, in the upper Rhineland, when 2,000 workless attacked the city hall.

WEEKS ANSWERS ATTACK BY FORD

Says Detroit Man's Statement "Filled With Reckless Assertions."

Washington.—Bolling with indignation at the lashing from Henry Ford, Secretary of War Weeks carried his case to the Cabinet.

"This would be hotter if I were able to speak as a private citizen," Weeks said when he issued his statement.

Weeks took particular offense at being characterized by Ford as a "Boston bond broker in politics for pasture," but his edited statement contained no reference to this nor to the assertion that he "and a score of corporation lawyers had exerted their cunning" to thwart Ford's plan to make cheap fertilizer.

"His statement is filled with reckless assertions," Weeks said. "I do not propose to continue a newspaper discussion of this subject, but if necessary shall place all facts before a proper tribunal."

Whether Weeks has in mind court action or only a chance to defend himself before Congress was not made clear.

Weeks said he had the keenest interest in cheap fertilizer for farmers and never opposed Ford's taking over equipment.

Redding, Cal.—Armed posses are scouring the Siskiyou Mountains on the Oregon-California State line for bandits who held up Southern Pacific southbound passenger and mail train No. 13, shot and killed three trainmen and blew open the mail car and safe, killing a mail clerk.

No loot was obtained by the bandits, according to officials of the Railway Mail Service here. All the mail was burned.

The robbery occurred as the train, the crack Southern Pacific San Francisco express, was emerging from tunnel No. 13, south of Siskiyou, on the State line, seventeen miles south of Ashland, Ore.

Two men participated in the robbery, according to advices received here. As the engine crew brought the train to a halt these two advanced to the locomotive and shot the engineer, fireman and Johnson, who was to have been riding with them.

Bates and Seng are believed to have died instantly from bullet wounds in the head. Johnson was shot in the chest and died within a short time.

The bandits then ran to the mail car and blew the door open with a charge of dynamite, which ripped a gaping hole in the side of the conveyance, setting fire to it.

After gaining entrance to the car the bandits are believed to have fired another charge of dynamite on the safe, containing valuable mail.

A clerk in the baggage car, which was not touched, reported seeing two men run toward the front end of the train after the explosion in the mail car.

No passengers were molested by the bandits or injured by the explosion, as far as could be learned.

The robbery and slaying are believed to have been the result of one of the most carefully laid plots in the history of western railroading.

ASSERTS CONDITIONS IN JAILS "SHOCKING"

Health Officer Planning to Clean Up Some County Institutions.

Austin, Texas.—As a result of deplorable sanitary conditions found in several county jails of Texas, Dr. W. H. Beazley, State Health Officer, conferred with the Attorney General to see how far the State Health Department can go in requiring a clean-up.

Dr. Beazley plans to proceed against the proper county officials to force them to clean up the jails as an abatement of a public nuisance and to keep them clean.

"I was shocked at conditions found in some of the jails," said Dr. Beazley, "and the men on the outside should have been on the inside."

"The lack of sanitation, the absence of ventilation and pure air and the cramped cells preventing exercise were execrable and present a serious condition; one that should be remedied."

U. S. BANKERS OFFER LOAN TO GERMANY

German Ambassador Weidfeldt Is Returning to United States to Continue Negotiations

London.—Ex-Chancellor Cuno of Germany, now in America, has forwarded to the German Government the offer of a syndicate of American bankers to lend Germany $125,000,000, according to a Berlin message.

The message says the loan is intended to finance the purchase of raw materials and that the American group desires a mortgage on German movable goods as security.

Ambassador Weidfeldt, German representative at Washington, is returning immediately to the United States, while a commission of prominent German manufacturers follows shortly.

Berlin.—Negotiations are under way for an extension of credits to Germany by American bankers.

Dr. Weidfeldt, German Ambassador to Washington, has cut short his visit here and is sailing for America to continue the negotiations, which were begun in New York by Ex-Chancellor Cuno and a prominent member of the German Industrialists' Association.

Weidfeldt is sailing on Oct. 17 on the S. S. Reliance. Banking circles here are optimistic over reports of favorable progress in the negotiations.

N. C. JEWETT CLEARED OF RIOTING CHARGE

Suit Against Grand Dragon of Oklahoma Klan Dismissed

Oklahoma City, Ok.—Rioting charges against N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma, and L. L. Rohde and C. Whitlock, both of Oklahoma City, have been dismissed by Justice of the Peace Leo B. White after a preliminary hearing.

The court ruled the evidence insufficient to hold the men for trial.

The charges grew out of the flogging here more than a year ago of E. R. Meriman in which the defendants were alleged to have participated.

Grand Dragon Jewett denied on the witness stand the accusation of Dr. A. A. Maupin, a local dentist, that he (Jewett) had led the band of masked men who abducted Meriman and lashed him, as alleged in transcripts of testimony alleged to have been taken before a military court of inquiry and made public by Gov. J. C. Walton.

Questioned by counsel for the defense at the hearing the dentist repudiated certain parts of testimony attributed to him by the Governor.

The defense then demanded the official transcript of the military court testimony. The county authorities declared it had been taken recently by Charles McCloud, one of Gov. Walton's secret agents.

The court then issued an attachment for McCloud and recessed the hearing until the writ could be served.

After Deputy Sheriffs later reported that McCloud could not be located the charges were dismissed.

The courtroom was jammed to overflowing with spectators and cheers greeted the announcement that the defendants were discharged.

A statement declaring that the Ku Klux Klan "would heartily welcome definite legislation regulating use of masks," was issued by Jewett. Mr. Jewett asserted that the Ku Klux Klan "believes a law is needed making it a felony for one or more persons at any time to trespass upon private property or to appear in public masked," except at public initiatory services or in parades.

Make More Whiskey Bottles

Portland, Ore.—More whiskey glasses are being made now than in prohibition days, "and they are not for ornaments," said William T. Argument Leads to Fatal Cutting Slaton, Texas.—J. S. Lanham, 43 years old, prominent business man in this city, was killed in a recent cutting affray. He lived only a few minutes. It is said that the cause leading up to the trouble was over a prohibition argument.

Condensed Austin News

Appeal has been filed in the case of Ollie Jackson, from Tarrant County, convicted of murder and sentenced to twenty years.

There has been a movement of rangers out of Austin. No information was obtainable as to the number of rangers leaving, their destination nor the occasion for the movement.

Several rangers of the headquarters company stationed in Austin, have been served with subpoenas to attend and testify in the trial of cases resulting from raids by State rangers in San Antonio.

Although the Texas blue sky act of the Thirty-Eighth Legislature has been in effect since Aug. 14, last only seven applications for permits to sell stock have been granted by the Secretary of State.

Representative Eugene Blount of Nacogdoches, who has been in Austin on business with the State Banking Board, said it was his opinion that there will not be any necessity for another called session of the Legislature.

It has been learned that the appeal in the textbook injunction case is to be heard at Fort Worth early in November. Originally it was set for New Orleans, but the United States Circuit Court of Appeals has transferred it to Fort Worth, where the docket will be called the first week in November.

The cases of the four Tax Collectors under indictment charging failure to remit tax collections to the State Treasurer within the time prescribed by law, will not be set for trial until November, according to officials of the Travis County Criminal District Court.

Holding that the right of way of a railroad must be used exclusively for railroad purposes and is not subject to drilling for oil, the Railroad Commission refused the application of the Trinity & Brazos Valley Railway Company for permit to drill for oil on its right of way in the Corsicana deep pay field in Navarro county.

The tax rolls of Dallas, Bexar and Tarrant Counties, which have been received at the Comptroller's Department, show that the total valuations of the three counties exceeds by $24,000,000 the estimates used by the State Automatic Tax Board in fixing the tax rate. Harris County, the other of the four larger counties of the State, has not yet filed its tax rolls.

The available school fund has a cash balance of $658,671, and it is to receive more money through transfers and by occupation tax payments due this month for the quarter, beginning Oct. 1. Without the further additions the fund has enough to pay 50c per child as the first installment on the per capita allowance of $12. This is far ahead of the finances a year ago.

C. O. Rison has tendered his resignation to the Railroad Commission as petroleum and mechanical engineer of the oil and gas division, effective Nov. 1. Mr. Rison, who was formerly connected with the petroleum division of the United States Bureau of Mines, has accepted the position of petroleum engineer in that branch of the Federal service with headquarters at Muskogee, Ok.

All theatres in Texas which were in operation on Sept. 13 of this year must obtain new licenses from the State at the increased tax and get no rebate on the unused portion of their old licenses. Furthermore, the tax levied on moving pictures is specifically repealed, and the new general theatre tax covers all shows.

Several million dollars is being spent on road improvement and roundhouse and shop extensions in Texas by the Southern Pacific, according to Railroad Commissioner Walter Splawn, who has returned to Austin after an inspection of the Southern Pacific lines from Houston to El Paso via Victoria and San Antonio. Standard rails are being laid on the branch lines and the best character of ballast is being used throughout the system in Texas.

Bench and bar of the State are concerned over the condition of the venerable Chief Justice of the Third Court of Civil Appeals, W. M. Key, who is in a local hospital, quite ill. Fears for his ultimate recovery are entertained. Judge Key is one of the most beloved jurists in Texas and has been a member of the Third Appellate Court since it was organized, having first served as an Associate Justice and held Chief Justice upon the death of Hal C. Fisher.

Short Fur Coats Back Again; Mode in Millinery Established

FUR fashions progress but it sometimes seems that the progression is in cycles. The fashion of two years ago was for short coats and that of last year was for long. This season the short coat has become popular again and is making a bid for the favor of well-dressed women, in entirely new lines and combinations of fur.

As in the long coats of the present mode these are very simple in line and generally have a single fastening at the side. The most popular type fits snugly about the hips, giving a blouse effect. Both choker and shawl collar styles are shown and either fashionable avenues or the smart shops will show that fall fashions are very definitely established.

The fashionable hat then, is velvet, hatters' plush or felt. It is sand, brown and kindred colors, or it is black, blue or green, to give the colors in their relative importance. The shape may be anything from the close-fitting turban to wide-brimmed cape lines and tricorns, and may either droop or turn off the face. The trimming may be feather fanes, ribbon, lace, brocade, embroidery, jewels, fruits or flowers. All these are used at the discretion of the designer, and type is good style. Soft furs such as squirrel, mole, chinchilla and brown or white ermine seem to have the preference and are generally trimmed with another fur in contrasting color.

Fur Coat With Blouse Effect

All are equally fashionable. Flower trimmings are of course different than those used on summer hats, as they are often made of metallic fabric or are combined with some fall material such as metallic braid or fur. Of the metallic colors, silver appears to be the most popular.

In the group of hats pictured here there are four distinct variations of the mode. The large hat at the top is of black hatters' plush with a plume of mere ostrich. A band of jewels and a drape of lace complete the trimming of a charming dress model.

Flowers, furs, lace and brocade find places on the hats shown below. The fur-trimmed hat is worth particular attention, as it shows the use of large colored glass jewels in two very new ornaments.

It seems that here lately all the clouds that usually belong to Texas has been banked up over the Plains section, and were so full of water it would rain if one winked at them. We are sorter like the old darkey, who answering a weather inquiry of a white neighbor, remarked: "I don't no sah. When God used to run the weather business, I could tell a little 'bout it, but since it has been moved to Washington, I can't tell a thing about it; no sah!"

The Littlefield Leader was congratulating Lamb county last week on receiving fourth prize at the South Plains fair, and like the Herald had the score of each of the six prize winning counties in tabular form. He however, placed Terry in sixth place and Lynn in fifth place, when his own table showed us but 21 points behind Lamb county and 139 ahead of Lynn county. This is just to keep the Record straight.

Statistics show that last year Texas led all other states in the number of divorces. This is a poor reputation but may be explained by the large influx of adventurers coming to this state, connected with the oil boom. Martial ties are held rather lightly by this class of people, besides a number of folks living in Texas who lost their heads by requiring sudden wealth, and celebrated first by getting a new auto and winding up by a new wife.—Merkel Mail.

Lynn county is greatly in need of a County Agent. This was clearly manifested during the recent county fair held at Tahoka. If we had a county agent more than two of the twenty communities in Lynn county would have been represented with exhibits. We would probably have taken more than sixth place at the South Plains Fair at Lubbock last week. The County Commissioners will surely have one employed before another fair date rolls around. We surely need the services of a county agent.—Lynn County News.

Same over here Haynes, and the agitation is just starting good.

RED CROSS PUTS UP $9,739,872

Year's Budget Stresses Relief and Services at Home and Overseas.

MILLIONS FOR VETERAN AID

Over $3,000,000 Allotted to the Disabled—Foreign Work Lessens.

Washington.—Expenditures totaling $9,739,872.47 for carrying through its program of services and relief during the fiscal year in the United States and overseas are authorized in the budget of the American Red Cross, effective July 1, 1922. This total is $2,735,975 less than the expenditures for the last fiscal year, when disbursements reached $12,475,847.69, it is announced at National Headquarters in a statement emphasizing the necessity of continued support of the organization by enrollment during the annual Roll Call, November 11-November 30 inclusive. This total for the budget is exclusive of the large financial operations of the 3369 active Red Cross Chapters, which, it is estimated, will more than double the total.

War Veterans Have First Call
First call on Red Cross funds is for the disabled ex-service men, of whom 27,457 were receiving treatment from the Government on June 1 last. This work for veterans and their families in a wide variety of service that the Government is not authorized to render and for which it has neither funds nor facilities has the call on $3,000,000 during the current year, or about $300,000 more than was expended last year for soldier service. Adding the funds disbursed in this humanitarian work of physical reconstruction following the World War by the Chapters throughout the country will approximate a total for the current year approaching $10,000,000. This work, in the opinion of the Surgeon General's office, will not reach its peak before 1926.

Through its Chapters the American Red Cross is equipped to find in the individual ex-service man, help him in his problems and difficulties, provide immediately for his necessities, and open the way for him to the Government compensation and aid to which he is entitled. The extension of this work to the families of such men proves to them that the Red Cross has lost none of its sympathy nor will to service men and their families. Similarly the service goes out to the men still in the Army and Navy, 11,087 of whom were under treatment in Government hospitals on June 1, 1922.

Greater Domestic Program
This year—after five years of constructive effort during the war and after the armistice—brings with it a greater responsibility for domestic service to the American Red Cross. The budget for foreign operations, however, totals $3,000,000, but of this amount $1,824,000 is for medical relief and hospital supplies for Russia, which is a part of the gift made by the American Red Cross in 1921 to the Russian famine relief work of the American Relief Administration program. The child health service in Europe continues, moreover, and $654,000 is appropriated for this work undertaken in 1920. Other items in the stringently diminished foreign program include $200,000 to support the League of Red Cross Societies, $22,000 for nurses' training schools instituted by the Red Cross abroad, and $600,000 for liquidation of the general Red Cross foreign relief program.

Prepared for Emergencies
For disaster relief the Red Cross has set aside $750,000, and for emergencies in Chapter work $500,000 to be available for domestic, insular and foreign demands. This is more than $300,000 above last year's expenditures. For service and assistance to the 3300 Chapters and their branches $1,233,000 is provided by the National organization.
Other budget items of importance in the domestic program include $200, 000 for assistance to other organizations and education institutions for training Red Cross nurses and workers; $190,000 for Roll Call assistance furnished to Chapters; $100,000 for unforeseen contingencies.

Of the total budget less than $500,000 is allotted for management in the National organization. No cash estimate, of course, is possible to weigh the value of the service by volunteers in the Chapters.

THE RED CROSS SUPPLEMENTS GOVERNMENT SERVICE BY MEETING THE PARTICULAR NEEDS OF THE INDIVIDUAL EX-SERVICE MAN. THIS WORK CANNOT GO ON UNLESS YOU SUPPORT IT WITH YOUR MEMBERSHIP DOLLAR PAY UP TODAY

PLATFORM DEMAND TO BE EXPLAINED

Texas Highway Association to Conduct Campaign of Education.

Waco, Tex.—The Texas Highway Association, with headquarters here, is preparing to conduct a campaign of education between now and the regular session of the Legislature to call attention to the full meaning of the highway plank in the Democratic platform adopted at San Antonio. The platform declares in favor of a State system of highways but recognizes that without Federal aid such a system cannot be built. It then accepts the provisions of the recent act of Congress, "which declares that in the near future Federal co-operation in road building will be extended to those States only that provide that the State, through a properly authorized and equipped agency, shall finance from funds under the direct and exclusive control of the State the construction, maintenance and operation of a State system of public highways." The platform then adds the following:

"We therefore recommend and urge upon the 38th Legislature the necessity for favorable action on all legislation, whether constitutional or statutory, that may be deemed requisite to enable the State to take over the construction, maintenance, control and operation of a system of public highways without prejudice to the constitutional rights of the counties and of the State."
The Texas Highway Association calls attention to the fact that what this proposes is to give the State Government the authority to construct a State "system" and to maintain and operate that system. Under the Federal law such a "system" shall not exceed seven per cent of the total post road mileage of the State, so far as Federal aid is concerned. In Texas this seven per cent system would embrace about 12,000 miles of highways, touching practically every county in the State. The authority it is proposed to give the State over to this system would not interfere with the powers and jurisdiction of the counties over the remaining 93 per cent of the roads nor disturb any of their present revenues nor their powers of raising revenue. The Association points out that it is necessary to pass such legislation in order to continue to receive Federal aid for highway construction in Texas, and it is necessary also if a State system of highways, such as is being constructed in other States, is ever to be a realized fact in Texas.

WILL TEXAS FORFEIT FEDERAL AID?

According to the Texas Highway Association, Texas receives five dollars from the Federal Government for highway construction for every dollar which this State contributes in taxes to the Federal highway fund. The other four dollars are paid in by other States. Texas receives more Federal aid for highways annually than any other State in the Union. But this Federal aid is threatened, the association points out, unless the laws of Texas are changed to conform to Federal regulations. The States that are paying the extra Federal taxes being spent in Texas have conformed. The association is carrying on a campaign to have the necessary changes made in our laws.

Where He Could See Best

A Northern man spending the summer in the South, went to see the last game of a series between two local teams. For a time he could not observe any umpire, but at last he spied him setting up in the grandstand with the spectators.

"Great guns, man," the Northerner exclaimed to a native, "what's the umpire doing up in the grandstand?" "Well," the native explained, "the spectators used to accuse him of bum work so much that he allowed that if the folks up in the grandstand could see every play so good, he'd better go up there and do his umpiring."—Everybody's Magazine.

YOLKS + WHITES = EGGS

CHALLIS BUDGET By Cotton Picked.

Well, as I promised to come again if it rained, I have sure come. It has been raining almost continuously for 70 hours.

The people around Challis are very much discouraged over their large fields of cotton. They have done all they could; worked hard; made a big crop, but for the want of houses to take care of cotton pickers, they've lost several bales of cotton which could have been saved had the pickers had a place to camp. Pity the renter who can't do any better.

THE TEACHER'S TASK

You teachers—and that is a mere truism to say this—you teachers made the whole world your debtor; and you it can be said, as it can be said of no other professions save the profession of the ministers of the gospel themselves, if you teachers did not do your work well, this Republic would not outlast the span of a generation.

Moreover, as an incident to your avowed work, you render some well nigh unbelievable services to your country. For instance, you render to this Republic the prime, the vital service of amalgamating into one homogeneous body the children of those who are born here, and those who come here from many different lands abroad. You furnish a common common training and common ideals for the children of all the mixed peoples who are here being fused into one nationality. It is no small degree due to you, and to your efforts, that we of this great American Republic for more people instead of a group of jarring people. The children, wherever they have been born, wherever their parents have been born, who are educated in our school side by side with one another, will inevitably grow up having that sense of mutual sympathy and mutual respect and understanding which is absolutely indispensable for working out the problems that we as citizens have before us.—Theodore Roosevelt.

New Touring Car

Looking at the new touring car from the side, you are at once struck by the effect of longer, more graceful lines secured by enlarging the cowl and raising the radiator. Slanting windows and one-piece top lend material aid in giving the entire car a lower, more stylish appearance.

An aptly connecting the radiator with the fender skirts is also a decided improvement.

A comfort feature much appreciated by owners is the additional leg room provided by the enlargement of the cowl.

Allow us to show you the entire line of new Ford cars now on display in our show room.

These cars can be obtained through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.

HISTORY'S MYSTERIES

MOUNTAIN MEADOW MASSACRE

ONE of the little known chapters of American history—an episode which is cloaked in mystery even today—concerns itself with the massacre of a party of emigrants, which took place near Mountain Meadow, in Utah, in September, 1857, and for participation in which John D. Lee was executed some twenty years later.

About a hundred and forty men, women and children were crossing the continent at the time, on their way from Missouri to the coast, and stopped in Mountain Meadow, about 350 miles west of Salt Lake City, to rest their horses and to permit the members of the party to recuperate from the strain of their journey up to this point. Familiar with the dangers of cross-country travel, they arranged their wagons in a circle with the women and children inside, and the men taking turns at watching for signs of a possible attack. Two days passed without any indication of trouble, and the emigrants were on the point of setting out on the next portion of their trip when their outposts reported that apparently hostile Indians had made their appearance at a number of points nearby.

Little by little the enemy's scouts crept closer, and then, as one of the Missourians forced the issue by holding up his hand as a signal for a peaceful conference, the sharp crack of a rifle shot made it plain that the Indians were intent upon an attack, rather than a parley or the exchange of goods. Hardly an hour of the encounter had passed, however, before it became plain that fully half of the hostile force were not Indians, but whites—Mormons who had joined forces with the redskins in order to effect an extermination of the visitors who, they feared, would undermine their influence in this section of the country.

The combination of Indian cunning and a constant stream of ammunition supplied by the whites, was almost too much for the little band of emigrants, but, having been careful to pitch their camp in a spot which commanded all the available approaches, they stood by their guns and resisted the siege for four full days and nights. Finally, on the fifth day, they left the shelter of their wagons under the promise of protection by John D. Lee, a Mormon bishop and Indian agent. Within the hour, however, all the adults and children over seven years of age had been slaughtered in cold blood, and 17 of the younger children were then distributed among Mormon families, but were afterwards restored to their relatives through the action of the government.

When, after an investigation of the matter by officials of the War department, Lee was arrested and charged with murder, he implicated a number of the highest officials in the Mormon church in his confession of treachery, claiming that Brigham Young himself had full knowledge of the intended massacre, and had taken no steps to prevent it.

"Governor Young told me," declared Lee, "that if I would stand up and shoulder full responsibility for the affair, it would be a feather in my cap some day, and that I should achieve celestial salvation, but he added that the man who shrunk from a responsibility of this kind would be certain to be consigned to Hades forever."

Despite his confession, and the manifest evidence that he was far from being alone in the laying of the plans for the cold-blooded massacre, Lee was executed on March 23, 1877, twenty years later. Government investigators developed clearly the fact that Lee had been only a catspaw in the whole matter, but when they attempted to place the blame where it belonged, they were frustrated at every turn by the far-flung machinery of the Mormon church.

The identity of the real leaders in the Mountain Meadow massacre has never been definitely decided, and contemporary historians state that Lee would never have been convicted had it not been for the fact that he had been ostracized by the Mormon church, Brigham Young having instructed his adherents to facilitate the progress of this prosecution, for reasons best known to themselves.

Tracing Bees in Australia.

Some interesting facts concerning native bee hunters come from Australia.

Wild bees' nests are usually well hidden, and the flight of the bees being too fast for the eye to follow, the aborigines have devised various ingenious methods of tracing them.

One way is to watch the bees gathering pollen, and then, when a honey-laden bee alights on a flower, to place a piece of white feather-down, moistened with gum, on the underside of its body. The native eye can then follow the bee's homeward journey.

A white beekeeper on the south coast of New South Wales is little behind the natives in cunning. His method is to watch bees drinking at a pool. If they fly away slowly, and at no great height, he knows that a nest is close at hand; if they fly fast and high the nest is likely to be miles away.

Penetrating.

Percy—I'm sure my eloquence penetrated your father's mind.
Peggy—Yes, papa said he was dreadfully bored.

WELLMAN WARBLINGS

By Sandpiper

Enough rain for the present. The sunshine is being heartily enjoyed and fully utilized by all.

Richard Crews, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Crews, arrived Monday from Colorado Springs. He reports roads bad and "worse."

Mr. Jim Currie is on the sick list at present.

Earnest Orcutt was in Seagraves, Monday.

Sunday school was rained out last Sunday, although a few met for singing in the afternoon.

Everyone who can should be with us at the Singing Convention next Sunday. A full days enjoyment is promised all who attend.

A new flag is to be seen floating at the school house this week. It was raised Tuesday or Wednesday. John Smith and Prof Burnett were Brownfield callers, Sunday. A good singing Tuesday night.

HARRIS HAPPENINGS

By Sand Bur.

The Turner school has been dismissed for awhile to allow the children to pick cotton.

From a recent communication from friends in Pennsylvania, we learn that on September 14th, a killing freeze came; also the 15th and 16th, so that nothing escaped. Let us be thankful that we live in West Texas.

F. M. Ellington and family and Mrs. J. W. McDowell, were guests of J. W. Williams and family, at Tokio, Sunday evening.

S. T. Murphey and F. M. Ellington, started to Brownfield, Friday, with their first bale of cotton of the season.

Mr. Hall and son, and Mr. Reid, of Bell county, were prospecting in this community, this week. They professed to be well pleased with the country.

Every child has a right to instruction; a right to his share of skill and culture that have been accumulated during the ages; a right to his due portion to the ideas and ideals that contribute the spiritual heritage of the race. Let's don't keep him out of school to pick cotton, unless the school dismisses.
