LOVINGTON NEW MEXICO PREPARING FOR OUR C. OF C.

Since the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce is expected to visit with the Lovington organization on the 8th of July and as they are expected to be here for their noon day luncheon, it has been decided to postpone the regular banquet for June of the Lovington C. of C., and to have our people to meet with our visitors at luncheon on that day.

The Brownfield visitors will be accompanied by their own band and also their Home Brew Quartette and possibly by additional attractions. They will have with them an expert who will talk to our people about the cream business, and also by a representative of the Texas A. & M. College.

An interesting program is being prepared for music and addresses by local talent, by members of the Chamber of Commerce from our sister city and by the specialists who will be with them.

This will be something worth while not only to the people of Lovington, but for all the people from the surrounding country, and it is hoped that as many citizens of Lea county as can conveniently do so will be present on that date.—Lovington Leader.

Tilden C. Brown was up from Post one day last week and informed us that he and brothers were thinking seriously of building a 20 or 25 room hotel here on their property. They should be encouraged to do so, as it will be seriously needed from now on.

Miss Jessie Randal, of Santa Rosa, N. M., is here the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Randal.

Old Time Revival Begins Sunday July 6th at the Tabernacle

Judge Frank Morris

JUDGE (FRANK MORRIS) COMING TO BROWNFIELD

Rev. (Judge) Frank Morris, General Evangelist of the Methodist church south is coming to Brownfield to hold a revival. Judge Morris resigned his position as State's Attorney of the 29th Judicial District of the State of Texas, to enter the evangelistic field. His success for the brief four years as an evangelist has been eclipsed by none. He possesses a magnetic personality which attracts people to him and his devotion and earnestness grips the hearts of saints and sinners alike. His preaching is different and his presentment of God's word is unique.

Nearly 12,000 souls have been saved and reclaimed under his ministry and he is holding some of the greatest revivals of real religion in the south today. He has held more successful revivals than any other man of his age, he being a young man of unusual ability, both as a lawyer and speaker, and his coming to Brownfield is expected to bring great crowds of people, not only from the city and community, but from surrounding towns. It is said Judge Morris rarely ever holds a revival but that all consent that it was the greatest revival ever held in that city. May it be so here.

Morris is endorsed and recommended by Bishops, Presiding Elders,

Governors, Judges, Attorneys and business men with ministers from Baptist, Presbyterian, Christian, Nazarene and other evangelical churches.

Moody B. Cunningham, soloist and choir leader for the Morris revival, arrived in Brownfield Wednesday to make arrangements for the revival which begins here July 6th. Mr. Cunningham will also have charge of the young people's activities and will head the children's chorus choir.

TWO MORE BROWNFIELD BOYS FOR TRAINING CAMPS

Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Add the names of two more far sighted Brownfield youths to the scroll of patriots, for the applications of Otho Sherod Flippin and Clyde Noeholas Harris, for admittance to the Citizens Military Training Camp to be held at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, during the month of August, were approved today by the Commanding General, Eighth Army Corps.

The Eighth Corps Area is rapidly forging ahead in the matter of securing applications of other Corps Areas, for the summer Training Camps and with nearly two more months to go only some eleven hundred are needed to put the Corps Area over the top for complete quotas. This task should not be as stupendous as it might appear, for during the past week over one thousand applications have been accepted for the summer camps in this Corps area, the figures now being 3200 out of a maximum quota of 4300.

The Presbyterian meeting closed on Tuesday night of this week. We understand that preparations are being made to finish the manse and to move Rev. Johnson here permanently. He was a host of friends here who would welcome him.

CAINES COUNTY CITIZEN MURDERED MON. AFTERNOON

A man by the name of Jenkins, living about 15 miles west of Seagraves on the Lovington road was murdered Monday afternoon while he lay sleeping on a pallet.

Local officers who went to the Jenkins place informed the Herald that Mr. Jenkins was shot with a 38 calibre pistol, the ball going in behind the left ear and coming to the skull on the right temple, where a physician extracted it and is now in the possession of Gaines county officers. A 38 calibre pistol was found in a trunk in the house, that was locked, and some of the shells had been fired.

Mrs. Jenkins was away from home, but two of Mr. Jenkins' stepsons, aged 11 and 13 were at home. They maintain that a red faced man on a black horse rode away after they heard a shot fired, and ran in the house from the yard where they said they were playing marbles. The officers failed to find any horse tracks and are holding the boys.

These are the same boys that City Officer E. Brown held here a few months ago until their step father came up after them.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my granddaughter, Mrs. Della Jeter: In the cemetery another graves was made close by the side of another, your darling wife was laid—darling blue eyed Della. She was tired and fell asleep. Oh! so tired, is resting now. Devoted husband do not weep. Your wife is safe with the ransomed throng above, where she sings her happy songs where all is peace and God is love.

Written by your grandmother, Mrs. Della McCommis, Alamogorda, N.M. June 15, 1924.

Mrs. Harpsett, who lives about a half mile west of town, brought in some peaches a day or two ago that were real beauties; good enough and big enough for anybody. It's a mistake for anybody to say or even to think that peaches cannot be raised out here.—Seagraves Progress.

Elder Chas. E. Metcalfe, who formerly preached for the local congregation of the Church of Christ, will be here Sunday to till Liff Sanders' regular appointment. Bro. Metcalfe has been living in East Texas for the past few years, returning to the Plains country this year again, and we presume for good.

LEE P. PIERSON SPEAKS FOR T. W. DAVIDSON

Lee P. Pierson, campaign manager for T. W. Davidson, spoke to a sizable crowd of farmers and business men at the band stand Tuesday afternoon, arriving over the Post-Brownfield Auto Line.

Mr. Pierson stressed the honesty of purpose of Mr. Davidson, and his statesmanship, but used most of his address in condemning Mr. Davidson's opponents, especially did he rap Lynch Davidson, which shows whom Mr. Pierson believes they will have to defeat. Mr. Robertson and the Ku Klux Klan also came in for a good skinning, and it was easy as mud to see that the crowd out there was in sympathy with the speaker.

TAX REMOVED ON LONG DISTANCE MESSAGES

The Federal message tax on long distance calls has been removed by Congress, effective July 3rd.

This means that on your next telephone bill a tax will be charged on those long distance calls which you placed before July 3rd, but on calls placed after that date there will be no tax.

Users of short-haul long distance service are particularly compensated by the removal of the message tax. It was applied on a basis of 5c for each call in excess of 14c and not exceeding 54c. Messages on which a charge of 55c or more paid a tax of 10c per message. This means that there will be a substantial reduction in the cost of short-haul business. The present 20c call will be come 15c. All 65c calls revert to their normal base of 55c.

The Telephone Company acted only as an agent for the Government in collecting this tax, and the reduction in charges results entirely from the action of the Government.

South Plains Telephone Co.

Mrs. Stricklin and children, accompanied by her sister Mrs. E. A. Morgan and children, of Dallas, left on Wednesday for Coahoma, where they will visit relatives, and the later will return home. Mrs. Stricklin and Coahoma relatives may try their fishing luck on the Concho before returning home.

A fire at Pride last Thursday night destroyed the store and post office. We failed to learn whether any insurance was carried or not, or whether or not the store would be rebuilt.

AMERICANS TO BE TAUGHT CORRECT FLAG RULES

Temple, Texas, July 1.—Within another year or so the proud American who wants to be patriotic on July 4, and take his family out to see the big parade, may find one of his children nudging him and whispering to him to lift his hat, with his right hand and place it over his heart as the American flag comes sweeping by in the procession.

Dr. M. W. Sherwood

As a result of a campaign waged by Dr. M. W. Sherwood of Temple, State Commander of the American Legion, the State Textbook Commission has authorized the teaching of "Flag Etiquette" in the public schools. The standard flag rules are to be made a part of the civics textbooks.

That observation was made here on June 14th by Dr. W. M. Sherwood, State Commander of the American Legion, who has been advised that standard flag rules are to be taught in the public schools of Texas as a part of the course in civics. Under the leadership of Commander Sherwood of the Texas Department of the Legion, a campaign will be carried on to bring about teaching of flag etiquette in the schools of Texas.

"It will be a glorious day for Texas," said Commander Sherwood, "when all the children learn the accepted rules for draping and paying proper respect to Old Glory on all occasions, and just as soon as they begin their studies of these rules in the public schools they will put their newly acquired information to good use by assisting their elders in decorating floats and buildings for patriotic occasions.

"All of us are loyal citizens. We would fight for our country at the drop of the hat, if necessary, but few of us have ever been told that we

BAPTIST PEOPLE WORK CROP IN ONE DAY

It pays to advertise.

It would seem so from the number of people who responded Tuesday to the invitation of crop manager J. S. Smith's invitation to workers in last week's Herald to be on hand and help work the crop that day.

Eighteen "go-devils" responded, two of which were "double devils" to punish the weeds in the middles, and 30 hoe-hands appeared to give Jobby Green fits in the furrows, and when night fall appeared this army of proud church people marched in victorious. The crop was cleaned.

Plenty of chaw for both man and beast was furnished. We are eye and mouth witness to the man part, for our good friend K. W. Howell, and also their hustling pastor, Rev. C. E. Ball asked us to witness the dinner. We did, and at the noon hour, we went to the court house lawn where the Baptist ladies had prepared a picnic dinner that almost ruined any prospects for work in the afternoon. Very little work we did, anyway. It was a sure enough dinner—one that sustains the working man—and at the same time tempt the appetite of the most fastidious, and they had enough to feed double the crowd. It was a repetition of the one they served last year, and brought back remembrances of that one. Cold iced tea was served to quince the thirsty.

Most of the members are agreed that the crop shows better prospects than at this time last year, and they got a half bale per acre then. Anyway, we drove out there last Sunday and found they had a splendid crop in the making. This method of raising money is far better than continually "hitting up" the members for donations.

EVERY TEXAS SCHOOL TO HAVE PICTURE OF WILSON

Fort Worth, June 23.—Her favorite picture of President Woodrow Wilson is being given by Mrs. Wilson to The Texas Outlook of this city, which will give copies of it to every school in Texas. Lithographed copies will be made this summer and made ready for distribution after the schools open in September.

R. T. Ellis, managing editor of the Texas Outlook, the official magazine of the Texas State Teachers' Association, had planned to give pictures of President Wilson to the schools, but was at a loss to decide upon which picture to give. The difficulty was settled by Mrs. Wilson, who made the selection and expressed great appreciation for the proposed tribute to the memory of the late President.

The picture was made during the World War, when Wilson was at the height of his power. It will be printed in such sizes as to be suitable for use in class rooms and auditoriums.

should lift our hat and place it over our heart as the national colors come by in parade, and that is the reason so few of us do it.

If I could send a Fourth of July message to the people of Texas, I would say, let us begin now to help our children learn the flag rules they are going to study in the school later. When the flag comes by in parade, the man should lift his hat and place it over his heart. The woman should place her right hand over her heart. All should remain quiet until the stars have passed."

"Go west young man, go west" and this also applies to you older one for that matter, but only for one day—Tuesday, July 8th.

One thing about the east Texas editors noticeable at the press meeting was that most of them either wanted to buy or trade for a Plains paper. They all want out here.

Yes, brother, politics are warming up even in old Terry, and despite the facts that all of us promised ourselves not to make a jack of ourselves, this year, we are heading along that way at a tremendous rate.

Well, we have another Constitutional amendment running in the Herald again. Read it by all means, Mr. Voter, and while we are offering no prizes, if you understand it you man take the gun.

Lamesa people saw from a half to a million dollars worth of their property go up in smoke. But just contemplate what it would have been if they had possessed no fire apparatus and waterworks. No business man should or can afford to fight waterworks and fire fighting apparatus.

Some of our advertisers are cutting out their advertising, which usually happens with country merchants about this time of year, and as a consequence, we are having to cut down the size of the paper. You can always tell when the local merchants begin to cut their advertising without looking at the local paper by going to the post office and watch them unload mail order catalogues. They begin when the local merchant quits.

Probably no other business shows greater progress in the West or the South Plains than does the newspapers of this section. In Lubbock, in the Avalanche plant there is improvements going on all the while. About $15,000 worth of new equipment and improvements have been made within the past few months, and still more is to come a little later.

New presses have been purchased by a number of the weekly newspapers of this section, and we notice that the Lamesa Reporter has moved into their new brick and concrete building, where new equipment has been added. The Terry County Herald has also moved into a new building and has added a newspaper press and other new equipment. All of these and numbers of new plants have been established, and there is scarcely one that has not made some marked improvements in their papers. The newspaper men of this section are a progressive bunch, and they have a great deal of confidence in the future of this country, and are willing to invest their money in putting the newspapers of this section in the lead.—Lubbock Morning Avalanche.

Metal Paper.

It is reported that lithographers here and abroad have for some time been using plated paper instead of thin metal sheets, preferring the former as the paper body gives a soft cushioning effect which cannot be obtained with the solid metal. For this purpose the metal is electroplated on the surface of the paper, which has first been coated with a layer of graphite to give it a conducting surface. The principle thus employed is old, but the difficulty has always been that the liquid in the plating bath would soak into the paper and would loosen the metal film from it even while this was being deposited. Now the users have learned that by first coating the paper with a varnish or lacquer impervious to moisture, they can make it immune against the direct action of the liquid, so that the film of metal will cling firmly to it.

Furniture Styles Originated 1550.

The story of modern furniture rightly begins with the crumbling of the Middle Ages. The baronial hall stage, with its religious formality, combined with its rugged simplicity, was being followed by a more withdrawn, domestic and luxurious life. As always, this was reflected in the furniture. The strong and simple high and narrow Gothic style, with its characteristic pointed arch, began to be debased. France is said to be the first country to be influenced by the Italian Renaissance, but there the Gothic and the classic clashed. The process of grafting the Italian style on the Gothic hardly began in England until 1550, when it was nearly completed in France. By the end of Elizabeth's reign, 1603, there was a semblance of unity, and the Jacobean period created itself.

Changes in Solar System.

"Each day our relation to the vast universe changes a little. The 'fixed' stars are no more fixed than are the clouds in the sky," writes Ellsworth Huntington, in Harper's Magazine. "Even in 10,000 years their relative positions change appreciably. And in the course of geological history the whole aspect of the heavens has utterly changed time and again. Stars that are now hundreds of light years away may once have been near neighbors of the sun. Sometimes the solar system may have pursued its course far from other stars and almost undisturbed by outside influences. At such times the earth may have enjoyed a mild climate with little change from summer to winter or from latitude to latitude."

Character Shown by the Mouth.

Most people think that the eyes show character more than any other feature, but really this is not the case; the mouth is the surest thing to go by, and you can tell at once by noticing the shape of a mouth what the owner's main trait is. A finely shaped, nicely curved mouth shows a nice and noble nature, fond of everything beautiful.

Do you know for certain that the Title is clear on the property you are planning to leave your wife or children for their support if you should be taken away?

Many a time clouds on the title to a piece of property do not appear until the widow or the orphan tries to turn it into money. Then even if the property is finally sold, a big chunk comes off the price to offset the cloud. You know that—it is as sure as taxes. If you have never had an abstract of title made on your property by specialists, it will be worth the price in PEACE OF MIND to you to know that your loved ones will surely inherit a clear title to the property you intend them to have.

We do not do abstracting "on the side" as one small feature of a miscellaneous business. We specialize. Your abstract, if made here, will be made by experts, working with complete, accurate, systematized records.

We will explain in detail if you will call.

So It Seems
Country Doctor—Well, Mr. Sayers, how's the wife?
Mr. Sayers—I thought that was comin'. Anyone 'ould think I never had such things as rain and frost and blight to concern me!—Judge.

Odd Experience.
This happened in England. We had moved into a new neighborhood. I took a walk. I hurried back because it began to get foggy. I became scared when the fog thickened and sat down on a doorstep and cried. The woman of the house took me in and I explained my predicament. I didn't know where I lived, so she took me to the police station when the fog lifted. My mother was already there and we were both overjoyed. When we all reached home we learned that it was in the next house to us I had been all the time.—Exchange.

Chairs Hold Close Relation to Life.
What piece of furniture is more closely associated with our lives than the chair? It antedates the ancient chest. Probably it had its beginning in the earliest nests of time, so distant that the historian cannot trace it. In it kings have sat and ruled, popes and cardinals have used it, dynasties, monarchies, republics have risen and fallen but through them all has survived—the chair. And today, in the better furnished homes, the chair holds its place of honor as it has done throughout the world for centuries.

Brides Measured After Wedding.
"Measuring of the bride" is a ceremony that follows every wedding in the town of Royden, England. About 300 years ago the lord of the manor bequeathed $25,000, the interest from which was to be given to four brides of the place. Under the terms of the bequest the youngest, oldest, tallest, and shortest brides are to divide the money. The records determine who is the youngest and who is the oldest, but to decide the tallest and shortest, each bride must remove her shoes and let down her hair and be measured.

A Little Bird Told Me.
The common expression, "A little bird told me so," means that information respecting a matter has come to a person in some secret and perhaps mysterious manner. The saying is not a literal quotation, but is borrowed from the twentieth verse of the tenth chapter of Ecclesiastes. The verse opens with a warning not to curse those in power, and even in thought or "in thy bed chamber; for a bird of the air shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter."

HARRIS HAPPENINGS
By Sand Bar.
Mr. and Mrs. Stone visited at Lubbock one day last week.
Mr. Hargus and family from the county seat were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Maroney, Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander spent Sunday with the later's sister, Mrs. Millard Ellington and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Brit Clare and children last Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. McLane have returned from visiting their son at Dallas. We are glad to have them back.
Henry Dumas is spending a few days at the home of his sister, Mrs. Brit Clare.

Several from here enjoyed the ball game at Tokio Saturday afternoon. Harmony played Tokio and the score was 7 to 4 in the later's favor. Gomez played the winners and the score was 5 to 0 in Tokio's favor again.
Miss Eileen Ellington spent Sunday night with Miss Vivian Clare.
Mrs. Ham visited Mrs. Maroney, Tuesday afternoon.

Some of the children from this community have been going to Tokio to practice for Children's Day. It is some job to get them there but we must sacrifice a little for the children. They are little and enjoy such things just once. Sorrow and trouble overtake us soon enough and whatever we can do to make childhood days happy and bright will be just that many more stars in our crowns. Children are entitled to one day all their own out of the 365 and parents, should make a big effort to get their children to take some part in Children's Day exercises somewhere on that day. In fact we should lay aside all petty bickerings and differences and let absolutely nothing interfere with preparations for that day. We lose a great force for missionary enterprise when we fail to enlist childhood service and interest. How very important it is to begin in childhood with the right teaching. Plant your virgin soil with roses and do not allow the weeds to get a start.

W. C. Smith and family and Mumford Smith and family returned this week from a trip to South Texas, where they spent a two week's vacation, and returned much refreshed and ready for renewed business.
Miss Ann Hamilton, efficient clerk in the Jones Dry Goods store, returned this week from Santa Fe New Mexico, and other points in the mountains.

Ed Collum, of Tatum, is moving to Brownfield this week. We welcome this new family to Brownfield.
E. C. Roberts and wife, of Senegraves, were visiting in the Stricklin home Saturday night and Sunday. Jack Stricklin returned home with them for a short visit.

Lee Thompson has received the contract to build the new school building at Plains, and he has moved his family over there until the work is finished.

ARTIFICIAL BROODING OF BABY CHICKS

By Director of Poultry Husbandry A. & M. College.

Article II.

There are many different kinds of brooders on the market, the most desirable is the type recommended in a preceding paragraph. Although it is possible to brood a large number of chicks in one flock it requires more expert care on the part of the attendant. Large numbers in one flock increases the risk of disease and of death due to crowding and trampling. We seldom endeavor to brood more than 500 in one flock, and for best results 100 ought to be about the limit. However, under the circumstance of the high cost of labor, it has been found practical to brood in flocks of 200 and thus economize in labor expense. Bad habits are much more likely to develop and spread in large than in small flocks.

"In the brooding of chicks, remember. We do not believe in raising chicks under that sunshine is one of the prime essentials. Do not allow the small chicks to get into the sunshine, for fear they might develop the habit of huddling and crowding in the attempt to get warm in preference to going beneath the hover or near the source of heat. After the first few days, allow them all the sunshine possible, the more the better. Sunshine is the cheapest and most satisfactory disinfectant known. Without sunshine, small chicks cannot do well. Sunshine makes them lively, bright, happy and contented. The hover and inside of brooder should be given at least one daily airing and sunning. We have often noticed that hatches which have more sunshine than others in the first few weeks grow faster and with less mortality. A small chick likes to have "Old Sol" warm up its little, thin, clad back. Chicks raised under restricted sunshine conditions are very similar to plants raised under the same conditions. They appear pale and lifeless.

under hot house conditions. At best, these are weak and unprofitable in growth. After they are a week or ten days old, we make it a rule to get them outside for an hour or two each day about noon. Even in the winter time we allow them a chance to exercise a little in the cool outside air. We find they do much better, have less digestive troubles, and are not bothered as much with colds. They appear to do better in every respect than those not allowed this daily exercise in the open. In the spring and summer, of course, they should be allowed to run out earlier and the chick exit door left open all day.

Never raise more than one hatch on the same ground in one year. If you should wish to use the brooder several times in a season, move it to fresh ground for each hatch. We make it a practice to move our brooder to fresh ground frequently; sometimes as often as once a week. Small brooders can easily be moved, should be moved to fresh ground twice a week. We believe that raising chicks on contaminated ground is the greatest cause of a large mortality in brooder chicks. If possible move the brooder often enough to prevent the grass being killed in the chick yard, or around the brooder. If it is possible to keep the yard clean by moving brooders frequently to fresh ground, then it is necessary to employ more expensive measures of keeping the yard sanitary, such as spading or cultivating, spreading lime and growing crops, or removing several inches of the top soil and replacing the same with fresh and pure soil on which chicks have never been raised before. When locating the brooder, locate it on ground where no chicks were raised the year previous. All these apparently small things tend to decrease or increase the mortality of brooder chicks. Tapeworms and other deadly and contagious disease germs breed in ground in which chicks were raised the previous year.

SAFETY RULES FOR TOURIST AT RAILWAY CROSSINGS

Do you know that in six years 11,379 persons were killed and 30,522 injured at railway crossings in the U. S. Eighty per cent of the accidents at such places involve occupants of automobiles.

In this country there are over 256,362 railway highway crossings. To eliminate all these now is not only a financial but a physical impossibility. A conservative estimate of the cost is $19,000,000,000. Eliminations are being made and will continue as fast as circumstances will permit, but the net result cannot be changed materially as there will be additional crossings as new lines are built.

The immediate remedy is for drivers to "Cross Crossings Cautiously." The railroads are again engaged in a "Careful Crossing" campaign, and are making every effort to see that all employes concerned give special attention to the proper performance of their duties in that connection. But if crossing accidents are to be reduced to a minimum, similar precaution must be taken by the general public. According to Isaiah Hale, safety superintendent of the Santa Fe Railway, this can be accomplished if automobile drivers will observe the following simple rules:

Slow down when approaching a railroad crossing; a train cannot be stopped in a few feet but an automobile can.

Look both ways and listen to ascertain if a train is approaching.

Be particularly careful where there are two or more tracks, because of trains moving in opposite directions. Exercise good, conservative judgment at crossings; keep car under control.

Take the safe course; in case of doubt, stop before reaching the track.

There is one farm in Terry County that seems to be paying dividends all the time. That one—and there may be many more—is the Lynn farm, miles east of town. Mrs. Lynn keeps her family table well supplied from her berry patch, augmented by a constant source of income from her cows and poultry yards, not to say anything about other fruits in season. What Mr. Lynn makes from cotton and corn is a clear checking account. Other farmers can do the same thing. A constant drain and no income is the stream that wrecks many households in this land of ours.

proper and fit person to rear and educate said boy, and that under the circumstances it would be right and proper to award the custody of said minor to plaintiff. Wherefore plaintiff prays that defendant be cited to appear and answer this petition, and that upon final hearing hereof plaintiff have judgement dissolving said marriage relations; for the custody of said minor child; and for such other and further relief, both general and special, in law and in equity to which he may be entitled to receive.

Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

RED CROSS AGAIN ON BATTLEFIELD

MIMIC WARFARE AT ARTILLERY
SCHOOL OF FIRE, U. S. A.,
IS TRUE TO LIFE.

Field Hospital and Canteen Service
Given to the Soldiers by
"Greatest Mother."

The Red Cross took the field recently in a four-day problem with the 101st U. S. Field Artillery stationed at the Artillery School of Fire at Fort Sill, Okla. In this maneuver conditions were as much like the real thing as it was possible to make them without actual warfare. During the entire four days the Red Cross gave the same service—First Aid, Canteen, etc.—as was given to the men in the field during the World War overseas. This service was so efficiently rendered that the Red Cross Field Director at Fort Sill received letters of commendation from the Commanding General of the School of Fire, as well as the Supply Officer who was directly in contact with the Red Cross outfit. Both letters are quoted below:

"My Dear Major:
"General Irwin has asked me to express to you his appreciation of the assistance rendered by your organization during the recent four-day problem of the Field Artillery School. The snacking material and candy furnished by you came at a most opportune time and added greatly to the comfort and contentment of both officers and enlisted men of the command.

"For the Commanding General:
"J. F. BARNES, Adjutant."

"My Dear Major:
"I want to let you know, on behalf of the men of the 101st Field Artillery, how much the Red Cross issue of Wednesday was appreciated. Although many people do not realize the fact, these maneuvers hold most of the discomforts of actual warfare, including lots of hard work for the enlisted man, irregular meals and little sleep, and he has not the interest in the problem that is being worked out to buoy him up.

"As Supply Officer for the 'heavies' during the maneuver, I personally supervised the issue of your chocolate and had a good chance to note the reaction. There was a deep and hearty appreciation on the part of both officers and men, and the change from a slum and iron ration diet was most welcome. It would be hard for me to explain to you the feeling awakened anew by the thought that the Red Cross thought enough of us to take that much interest in our affairs. At any rate, on behalf of both officers and men, I am extending our thanks and heartfelt appreciation of your work.

"Very sincerely yours,
"A. S. HARRINGTON,
Captain, Field Artillery."

In addition to the regular Red Cross service the Field Director organized a canteen force, consisting of Miss Josephine Irwin, daughter of the Commanding General; Mrs. S. D. Downs, wife of Major S. D. Downs, an instructor in the Tactical Department of the Artillery School of Fire at Fort Sill; Mrs. Fletcher Sharp, wife of Major Sharp, also an instructor; Mrs. R. R. Paddock; Mrs. Harry Maloney, wife of the secretary of the school, and Mrs. A. D. Mudd, wife of the Red Cross Field Director.

These women visited the men in the field with chocolate bars and cigarettes, and were received enthusiastically. At first both officers and men were at a loss to understand this sudden intrusion of women upon territory usually so rigidly restricted to the combat forces, but as soon as the Red Cross brassards came into view a smile of delight spread over the entire brigade, and as the women went from one gun position to another their welcome increased in enthusiasm.

When the brigade commander and his staff were reached the General accepted a package of cigarettes, took a puff, smiled happily and exclaimed: "Oh, man, that's priceless. That's the first smoke I have had since yesterday noon."

The Red Cross Field Director and his staff followed through the problem with first-aid and emergency dressings. There was considerable possibility of accidents in view of the rough roads and the general field situation, with shell holes and other hazards. Conditions were exactly the same as during actual warfare, necessarily so to work out the problem properly, and the physical hardships were considerable, the men having to go into the field with their equipment reduced to minimum.

Here is the way editors will write up weddings some ten years hence: "The bride looked very well in a traveling dress, but all eyes were centered on the groom. He wore a dark dress suit that fit his form perfectly and in his dainty gloved hands he carried a small rose. His curly hair was beautifully done, and a delicious odor of hair oil floated down the aisle as he passed. He is loved by all for his many accomplishments, his tender grace and winning ways. The bride commands a good salary as a bookkeeper and the groom will miss none of the luxuries to which he has been accustomed. A crowd of pretty men saw him off at the depot. Exchange.

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapias.

The Fifth Sunday meeting of the Brownfield Baptist Association, was held here the past week, commencing Thursday night. The attendance was large considering the number of churches in the territory. Many questions affecting the church were discussed and the excellent spirit of fellowship and mutual regard characterized the proceedings. It was a "feast of love and a flow of soul."

The sermons preached by visiting brethren were entertaining and instructive. However, the spectre of evolution and so-called Modernism seemed to be in the minds of all I heard preach, and both received bitter denunciation at their hands. One speaker declared that they should be kept out of the schools as teachers, to which there was a hearty Amen! He would in all probability have as seriously objected to a Catholic or Congregationalist.

The days of persecution have not passed. A man is a man regardless of what he believes. A man who does not believe in the existence of a God and denies the Divinity and Messiahship of Christ has little business in the church. He certainly would not be allowed to fill a pulpit. One recently tried for heresy said he regarded Christ in much the same way as Uncle Sam or Santa Claus. The churches should certainly rid their pulpits of such preachers. The public schools however, belong to the whole people and sectarianism has no place in the selection of its instructors. Evolution has no more to do with the Bible and its teachings than a work on mathematics or geography. We denounce Catholics for trying to strangle our public schools, and they will fare quite as badly if turned over to any sect whatsoever.

There were five additions to the church. Meadow proved herself a good host and we will welcome Baptists whenever in the future they see proper to come among us.

Our town has decided to incorporate, and in a few days a petition will be presented to the Commissioners Court, asking that an election be held to determine whether or not a majority of our people desire it. At present all outlays for the benefit of the town, such as cleaning up filth and rubbish, providing an adequate water supply for the public, our own people and travelers as well, or providing for the things necessary for a growing town, must be met from the pockets of individuals willing to contribute. Unfortunate many of our citizens—business men also—give little of their time and less of their money for these purposes. They, however, cheerfully accept the bounty

Relating to Granting of Confederate Pension

Senate Joint Resolution No. 10.

Proposing an amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas to provide that the Legislature may grant pensions to the Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows, who have been citizens of Texas prior to January 1, 1910, providing that all soldiers, sailors and their widows eligible under the provisions hereof shall be entitled to be placed upon the rolls and participate in the pension fund created thereunder; levying a tax of seven (0.07) cents on the one hundred ($100.00) dollars valuation of property in this State for the payment of such pension, providing that the Legislature may reduce the rate of pensions for such purposes, fixing a time for the election to be held on such amendment and making an appropriation to pay the expenses thereof.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations, whatsoever, provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent or disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors, who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1910, and to their widows, in indigent circumstances and who have been bona fide residents of this State since January 1, 1910, and who were married to such soldiers and sailors prior to January 1, 1910, and to indigent and disabled soldiers who under the special laws of the State of Texas during the war between the States served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raiders or Mexican marauders and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia of the State of Texas who were in active service during the war between the States and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1910, provided that the word "widow" in the preceding lines of this section shall not apply to women born since 1861, and all soldiers and sailors and widows of soldiers and sailors eligible under the above conditions shall be entitled to be placed upon the pension roll and participate in the distribution of the pension fund of this State under any existing law or laws hereafter passed by the Legislature, and also to grant aid to the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law, provided the Legislature may provide for such husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas a State ad valorem tax on the property of seven (0.07) cents on the one hundred ($100.00) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pension for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate hereinafter levied, and provided further that the provisions of this Section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of the State of Texas at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1924, at which all voters shall have printed or written on their ballots: "For amendment to 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been a resident of this State since January 1, 1910," and Against amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers and their widows."

Sec. 3. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State, and the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the general funds of this State not otherwise appropriated for expenses of publications and elections thereunder.

Approved, March 23, 1923.
