BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, AUGUST 22, 1924

PROBABLY NEXT GOVERNOR OF TEXAS

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, of Fannin, Texas, is opposing Felix Robertson of Dallas, self-confessed klan candidate, for the governorship of Texas. She is a member of the Episcopal church, mother of two splendid daughters and a woman of rare common sense and executive ability. Her candidacy is endorsed and being actively supported by every one of the other candidates for governor eliminated in the first primary.

A CORRECTION OF THE WRONG IMPRESSION

Brownfield, Texas, Aug. 20, 1924. On Saturday morning August 16th, Mr. J. D. Webb, father of Miss Lillian Webb, came to my office, and said it was being told that I had Miss Webb to quit on account of inefficiency, and I issued the following statement:

Brownfield, Texas, Aug. 16, 1924. To Whom it may concern: It is being circulated that I layed Miss Lillian Webb off the job as she was inefficient in her work, and such is not the truth. As she asked to lay off until the 15th day of September 1924 to rest up. And she asked for the lay off herself. I consider her efficient in her work. If I did not think so I would not have hired her back.

Witness my hand at Brownfield, Texas, on this the 16th day of August, A. D. 1924.

H. R. Winston,
Clerk County Court, Terry County, Texas.

I told Mr. Webb he could publish the above if he wanted to.

On Monday, Aug. 18th, circulars were struck from the above statement, with the wording somewhat changed, but carrying practically the same meaning, but Mr. W. W. Price, (who struck the circulars) assured me it was not the fault of Miss Webb but that he changed the wording himself as he thought it a little better English.

On Tuesday, August 19th, here came some of my friends with the circulars, claiming it was an endorsement from me, and that as I was elected, now I wanted to elect my deputy, and for the benefit of all fair minded men and women, I issue the following statement:

That the above statement was not made as an endorsement, but as a correction.

That Mr. Barrett and Miss Webb are both good people and from good families, and that I am not endorsing either of them. That my policy in the clerk's race is "hands off" so far as I am concerned and let the people make the decision; and the same way in the Sheriff's race for that matter, for the reason that I expect to work with the ones that are elected for the next two years, and I don't want any ill feelings toward me.

Yours for a square deal,
H. R. Winston.

MRS. FERGUSON TO SUPPORT TECH COLLEGE—TELEGRAM

Temple, Texas, Aug. 12, 11:59 A.M. Hon. H. T. Kimbro, Lubbock, Texas.

If elected Governor of Texas, I will urge and demand of the Legislature to make adequate appropriation for the Tech College at Lubbock. Any statement to the contrary is untrue and misleading. Please give this statement the greatest publicity possible.

Rev. J. P. Watson left Sunday for Wilson, where he is engaged to hold a revival for the Methodist people at that place.

INFORMATION ABOUT OUR SCHOOL OPENING

As the time for our school opening September 8th, draws near, I wish to remind you of some things that should be attended to now. If you have moved into the community since last school term, be sure that the book cards from the last school year are in your possession. Should you have lost them are they have been misplaced write to the school from whence you came and get a duplicate copy. This will save many delays in getting classified. All students must have this book card with them the first day of term. No student is entitled to free text books until these cards have been turned in to the Book Custodian. So have them ready.

As over-promotion is one of the greatest evils of the present school system, we wish to call attention to parents to this fact. We ask your hearty co-operation in getting your boys and girls in their proper places the first day of school. See to it that their report card from their last teacher is ready to hand to the teacher when they come to the class they are to enter. At any time during the school year should we discover a pupil out of place, we shall immediately remove them from that grade. It is our purpose to have everyone in the place they can do the most efficient work.

A number of people have asked about the affiliation of the Brownfield High School. At present it has no affiliation that we can find on record. The papers were sent to the State Department of Education at the close of last session, have been returned with few marks on them. So far no report has been received as to the outcome of the application. May I say this word. The State Department of Education is usually very slow in granting affiliation. They expect a community to prove through a session or two that they have an abiding interest in the up-building of their High School before they grant affiliation. First, an A1 classification must be obtained. By classification is meant establishing educational standards, working to obtain these standards, and then certifying those that attain them. Classification depends upon the physical conditions under which the school work is done. Such as, number of teachers; course of study; library equipment; laboratory equipment; elementary school work; permanent records, and the spirit of the school. Accrediting depends upon the efficiency of the work done under the conditions and with the material mentioned above.

We sincerely believe that with hearty co-operation on your part, Brownfield will obtain several credits at the close of the coming term of school.

We have employed a literary force of fifteen teachers, and shall assume as much as possible part of the responsibility done in the fine arts department outside of the school, especially the music and expression. Students who go to these departments will be expected to be on time and in their classes just the same as in the literary work. These teachers will make their daily reports to the superintendent on all students who come to their classes from the public schools.

We feel sure that each teacher is especially fitted for the work they have been chosen to do. We have looked carefully into their literary attainments as well as to their character and have found them worthy of the position given them, and do not hesitate to commend them to your best confidence.

The first thing that we will ask of each student is to do good, efficient school work. Were I to select a motto for this term of school it would be Work! Work! Work. And boys and girls you shall enjoy it. Every boy and girl is really proud of the thing accomplished when they know in their own heart that they merit the thing done. Then after the school work has been brought up in the proper way we shall do some more work and that will be on the play ground and athletic fields. We learn some of the best lessons of life there as well as get enjoyment and good physical exercise. Then there are many other things that we will be glad to see you take part in, such as literary society work and musical contests. To tell you a fact I honestly believe that I had rather be a boy or girl with the opportunity you have in the present day school to train the capabilities of your nature, than to own the best farm lands or business concern in this great state of Texas. Think it over and resolve to be in school the first day and every day possible thereafter. Allow nothing to come in the way, and you shall be proud of it in the years to come.

Teachers, let us all be ready to get some good inspiration as well as to learn something more about the work we are to be engaged in for the next nine months, during the Teachers' Institute which is to be held at Lubbock from the 1st to 5th of Sept. Go prepared to get much out of the meet and you shall come away saying that it is worth the time and money.

Just this other word: A bulletin announcing the Course of Study will be off the press the last of this week. Be sure to keep your copy so that it will be ready for reference at any time you may wish to consult it.

All the above remarks are made on behalf of the school board as well as myself.

O. W. Fagala,
Superintendent of Schools

Will Beauchamp, wife and son, of Littlefield, were here Wednesday visiting relatives.

BAPTIST MEETING STARTED SUNDAY AT TABERNACLE

Rev. A. J. Morgan arrived from Breckenridge one day last week and begin the Baptist Revival Sunday morning as per schedule at the community tabernacle, and has had good crowds and attention, and the interest of the meeting seems to be growing.

The local pastor, Rev. C. E. Ball announced Sunday night that no slap-stick methods would be used in the meeting, and this has been verified by all sermons we have heard Rev. Morgan preach. If you wish something sensational; something approaching the vulgar and yams unfit for mixed audiences, then you will be pleased with this preacher. W. W. Price, local singer, is leading the song service, and is doing a good job of it.

The Baptist people are asking the co-operation of other religious bodies here who can do so, and especially singers and musicians.

COLLINS DRY GOODS BUYERS OFF TO MARKET

W. H. Collins, manager of the Collins Dry Goods Co. of this place, accompanied by Miss Lillie Jones the manager of the ladies department, left this week for Dallas and Saint Louis to lay in a large stock of dry goods, ladies and mens' ready to wear, which will be one of the most complete and stylish ever shown in Brownfield.

Just a word about Miss Jones. It was just a little more than a year ago now that Mr. Collins chose Miss Jones from among other applicants to take a position in the ladies department of his store. She came in from her father's farm, but she had made close study of styles and what would please folk, and has made such close study of the selling end of the business that she is now the trusted buyer of this big store.

Yet, some people say there is now no chance of promotion. And there is none for those who make no effort toward promotion.

ED TIMMONS DIED AT ROPES LAST FRIDAY

The town of Brownfield and community were shocked Friday to learn of the death that morning at 5 o'clock of Ed Timmons, 23 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Timmons, and their only child. Mr. Timmons was our former commissioner from that precinct and he and family are well known here.

Death resulted from typhoid fever. Funeral services were conducted at Ropes, after which the Masons took charge of the body and it was carried to Meadow where enternment was had.

Herald deeply sympathizes with the grief stricken parents.

A STATEMENT

It is a hard matter to copy an article of a radical nature without seemingly reflecting personally on something or somebody. It is equally as hard to copy such an article and sift out the objectionable from the point that is good in an article. This point was forcibly brought out last week in our article copied from the Lovington Leader, which we copied in full, instead of censuring all but the good in it, or perhaps passing up the entire article. It seems that it has been circulated over the county that a member of a church in Brownfield had quit his church and was worshipping with another because of the klan issue. The editor was ignorant of this report, and had heard that he quit on account of a difference in church doctrine, which we now understand is the truth of the matter. Thus, Editor Roberts' assertion "that those who honestly differed from a bribe bought minister were forced to seek a place to worship Almighty God" seemingly was a reflection on this particular church and its pastor, when probably Editor Roberts made that application general or unthoughtedly. The Herald doesn't believe that either of our pastors are bribe purchased one way or the other, and it knows of none elsewhere. Others, however, may be better informed. Editor Roberts may, also, have been somewhat hasty in the assertion that the killing here was the outcome of a klan argument. Only the trial at Tahoka this week before the authorized tribunal will tell the truth about that matter. The Herald has always been for the peace and harmony of the community, as well as its up-building, and never likes to leave a false impression, and stands ready to rectify any wrongs it may ignorantly reflect. We can never tell just how an article is going to sound from the other man's point of view. So far as anyone quitting the churches here on account of the klan, we are not prepared to say, but we do know that the case referred to above was not for this reason, and doubt if there has been any withdrawals for this reason. Probably some do not attend church for this reason, but people stop going to church for various reasons—we mean their reasons. Until this debate and division over the klan question dies down in Brownfield, we are going to exclude from these columns everything of an inflammable nature that tends to agitate the question, for nothing of this nature can be printed without offending someone who is a friend on one side or the other, and we claim we have some real friends on both sides. Also we believe that Editor Roberts meant only good toward our town, its churches and pastors. This heated political campaign will be over Saturday, and we shall be proud of it. Go to the polls Saturday and vote your sentiment, and allow the other fellow the same privilege, but keep your mouth, and the primary will pass off to the credit of our citizenship. Then, next Monday when you come to town, whether you win or lose, come down the street whistling, give your neighbor who honestly differs with you either a hearty "hello Bill" or a friendly slap in the back, and it won't be two weeks until old Brownfield and Terry county are humming along in the even tenor of their way. We want the public to understand that this article has not been written under either threat or compulsion, but in the interest of justice to all and harmony in the community.

HOW TO TELL A WHOPPER AND GET AWAY WITH IT

As the season when fish stories are ripe is here, perhaps the following pointers may be of assistance to the tellers of fishy tales:

1. Size up your listener before you begin. If he looks easy, add five pounds; extra easy, ten pounds.
2. Never bring the fish home, as they may shrink in transit.
3. Work without photos. Many a man has been hung on circumstantial evidence.
4. Take your wife into your confidence. Bribe her if necessary. If that doesn't succeed, try another wife.
5. Fish without a guide. A guide's memory is notoriously exact.
6. Always go to some stream or lake in which no one in your town has fished. If you don't know of such a stream or lake, invent one.
7. After you've made up the story, stick to it.—Exchange.

MEADOW TO STAGE PICNIC AUGUST 29 AND 30TH

We had a letter this week from Editor White of the Meadow Messenger stating that the people met in mass meeting at Meadow recently and decided on to stage a big free barbecue, picnic and rodeo on Friday and Saturday, August 29-30.

There will be plenty to eat on both days and plenty of amusement for all each day. They are leaving nothing undone to give the people and of this and adjoining counties the best time of the year.

The people of Meadow expect you to turn on the old padlock on the business that day-and make the attendance record 100 per cent, for the people of Meadow are standing with us shoulder to shoulder for the up-building of our glorious county.

Go to Meadow next Friday and Saturday.

LYNN COUNTY DEMONSTRATOR OVER HERE MONDAY

A. L. Robertson, County Demonstrator for Lynn county, accompanied by his wife, were visitors in our city Monday, primarily to view the Farmers Poultry Farm.

Messrs. Robertson and Farmer paid the Herald a short call, and Mr. Robertson informed us that he would bring a class of his stock judging boys over before long so that the people of Terry county may see just what there is to such work.

He also remarked that he wished he had access to all the "splendid fruits he had seen over here for demonstration purposes.

The Herald will probably be able to announce just a little later when Mr. Robertson and his class will be able to come.

PITTY THE POOR SHEEP

The wool and other raw materials entering into the making of a $25 suit of clothes is valued at $385, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. The labor involved costs an equal amount. The retailer gets $11.55. The manufacturer, textile mill, and express company gets the rest.

It doesn't look, from down here in Texas, as if the sheep was getting a square deal. He loses his own clothes and goes naked for awhile, in order that unseen parties of the third part, living far east or north, may sell his garments, in another form, at enormous profits. Yet the clothes makers and dealers are probably doing the best they can, and not all of them are getting rich at that.

It may be that the sheep need a big brother. Perhaps the consumer does, too. And possibly even the patient husbandman who feeds and shelters the woolly animals.

Will wool manufacturers solve the problem? Or will it take a mammoth producers' co-operative?

Texas, the great producer of wool, could well afford to encourage the local construction of woolen mills, as legitimate twins to the giant cotton mills that are going up one after the other. Mills at the center of production and at points that are also convenient for distribution constitute one sure means of cutting cost to consumer and adding profits to producer.—Farm and Ranch.

Rev. Jack N. Lewis, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Lubbock, will preach at the local Presbyterian church Sunday morning in absence of the regular pastor. No night service. You are invited to hear him.

Elder Kohen, of Lubbock, Primitive Baptist preacher, preached at the Missionary Baptist church here Sunday morning, but owing to illness was unable to fill the pulpit at night and was carried home.

Mr. Shirley Roberts of Post, came up Sunday after his wife who had spent the week with Mrs. J. P. Watson. Miss Mona Watson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Watson returned home with Mrs. Roberts for a week's visit.

M.D. (Blind Driver) Williams peddled as a few lines from Phoenix, Ariz., the past week, also enclosing the "kale" for the Herald, for which he said he had need. He also said that some parties had recently slipped up on him from the blind side—Gentle and Chas. Boone of the community, who stayed all night with him and helped him wipe the slate clean.—Exchange.

The State Republican Convention made short work at Fort Worth, and this applies alike to their platform as well as the time in session. About the longest plank they had was the one denouncing the klan, and it was no scab for briefness. Now, after all, it don't seem like their candidate for governor is going to run after the big shove they gave him, but is now busy whooping 'er up for Ma Ferguson, and the Republicans are looking for other timber. But who ever heard of a Lee making a good Republican?

Flowing with milk and honey is an old expression we borrow from the Bible and is often applied to our own South Plains country. It literally means "a land of plenty." But the trouble with most people is that they are too prone to think the cow never needs feed, hay or water, and some even forget the milking part of the milk. Same way with the honey; you have got to expect the sting of the bee and possibly get somewhat strangled from the smoke you use to paralyze the bees. No country yet known to mankind has the milking and honey gathering already done up in a bundle for you and only the grasshopper variety of humans expect any thing like it.

Many newspapers throughout the state have seen what the organization of the klan and anti-klan is leading to, and have spoken boldly on the question of wiping both the organizations off the map. Either one of the organizations will tear up the peaceful progress of any community, and so far as either being instrumental in electing better officers is concerned is all a farce, both stand squarely in the way of electing the best men as has been clearly demonstrated in this state and others. We say the klan should disband, and then the anti-klan should follow and do likewise. We see no good in either of them, and so far as this newspaper is concerned, we will positively have nothing to do with either, call us what you may. If this is not plain enough we will repeat it again some other day.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Judge Felix D. Robertson in his Austin speech said that only one paper, the Dallas Times Herald, was telling the truth about him. The Judge probably forgot our own Panhandle Daily, the Amarillo News. He should straightway be requested to revise his figures, for that popular Plains Journal is editorializing every issue on the virtues of the Dallas Judge, and although he was more than half across the state when he made the above accredited assertion, we heard of it just the same, and in our pride, and our contention for recognition from the rest of the state that we are part of the Lone Star, even though living west of the 98th, we believe a committee of Panhandlers should go to or wire Judge Robertson that he has his wires crossed.

Those East Texans have a habit of ignoring us that is vicious.

Our school is to open September 8th, one week after the meeting of the South Plains Teachers Institute at Lubbock. This is one institution that every citizen of Brownfield and vicinity takes a pride in. It has happily been kept out of politics into which other institutions of the town many have drifted. Teachers have been selected for their fitness for the place they aim to fill, and have not even been asked whether or not they belong to this or that church, lodge or political party. They are expected to teach only the subjects for which they have been employed, and in that way our school system will be kept on a high plain of harmony, above any possibility of petty bickerings and strife. Our schools are the hope of the race, and only through them can we hope, through the keen competition of study and athletics, to be above all intolerance and prejudices that belong to the ignorant races. The death of one of our ministers to Persia recently, because he undertook to photograph a fountain that the inhabitants considered sacred, shows to what depths racial and religious animosity will carry people.

It seems the white Republicans of New York, like their Texas partisans are somewhat fed up on race equality, and have drawn the color line on a negro running for Congress in one of the up-state districts. They appealed to President Coolidge and got this heartening encouragement: "I cannot consent to take the position that the door of hope—the door of opportunity—is shut upon any man, no matter how unworthy, purely upon the grounds of race or color. During the war 500,000 colored men and boys were called upon under the draft, and not one of them sought to evade it. They took their place wherever assigned in defense of the Nation, of which they are just as truly citizens as any others. The suggestion of denying any measure of political rights to such a group of our population is one which might be received in some quarters, could not possibly be permitted by one who feels a responsibility for living up to the traditions and manifesting the principles of the Republican Party." This incident may cost the G. O. P. the great State of New York. Saying that negroes without exception obeyed the draft, is also promoting them somewhat above the white soldiers, and will not set well with about 2,500,000 white boys who helped to whip the Kaiser.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Green, left this week for Cook county, where they will visit for several weeks. They were accompanied on the return trip by his father, H. C. Green, who has been visiting them.

Mrs. Jessie May and children are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Green, while her husband is in Mississippi visiting his parents. The Mays now live at Clovis.

Mrs. Percy Spencer was down Sunday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Randal. She was accompanied by Mrs. James L. Dow, wife of the editor of the Lubbock Morning Avalanche.

The editor and family drove down in the "Sawyer Addition" Saturday afternoon to view the crops, and as luck would have it found many nice fields of roasting ears smiling on the stalks, but as unluck would have it, too many people were going home from town. Finally the wife found a good field near a house and bantered us to stop and try for a mess. We presumed the family were new comers, but found it was N. W. Jeter, whom we have known for several years, who told us to help ourselves, and the Herald larder has been in prime working order since.

Ben King, one of Tahoka's leading citizens and pioneers, was over one day last week after a load of Terry's melons. We hope he got them, for they are fine for some people, but invariably "tummyache" the editor.

Mrs. Frank Condra and children left last week for Winters, Texas, to visit relatives a few weeks.

Neill Wright, of Lubbock, accompanied by his father-in-law, Mr. Woodall, of Austin, were in our city one day last week. Mr. Wright was as usual pushing Southland Life Insurance Company. Mr. Woodall had a good word to say for S. H. Terrell, who is out for state comptroller.

A special train went down to Seagraves Friday morning after a train load of cattle.

We have a system for compiling, filing, systematizing, checking and verifying information about titles which gives us an immense advantage over any one who has a less complete equipment. It gives us an immense advantage over the man who abstracts titles "on the side"—as an appendage to a general law or real estate business.

We will not only take pains to serve you—in addition we have the equipment to serve you. When we draw your abstract it tells the unassailable truth about the title; and that's the only kind of an abstract that is any good to you. Come in and we will show you in detail.

Mrs. Ella Roberts

at Lewis Hardware

Ramond Champion and Joe Bailey, accompanied by Misses Lorelle and Laurine Brownfield, attended the entertainment and dance at Silver Lake near Crosbyton, Saturday night.

The meeting conducted by P. J. Taylor at Gomez came to a close on Sunday night with two additions as visible results.

J. F. Winston local real estate and insurance man, presented the Herald with a nice combination mirror and paper weight one day this week for which we return thanks.

J. R. Carver has formed a partnership with J. F. Winston in the oldest Land Company in the county, which Mr. Winston has conducted for the past fifteen years. We expect these two hustlers to sell lots of Terry Co. dirt during the fall and winter.

Dalton Lewis and family returned Sunday from a trip to Desdemonia and Stephenville, where they visited relatives and old friends. Dalt reports politics warm down there as well as here.

Mr. Lewis, of Lubbock, was down Tuesday in the interest of the West Texas Orphans Home recently started in Lubbock. The home has many friends and supporters here.

George Tiernan returned last week from Wichita Kans., where he sold several cars of cattle for himself, Bob Snodgrass, Ross Rentfro and Ray Brownfield. George reports he found the cattle market dull.

Ray Brownfield shipped six cars of fine cattle to the Kansas City market Friday.

Several of our citizens, who have been summoned in the Crowley case, went to Tahoka, Wednesday.

Tatum N. M. pulled a mighty good picnic Wednesday of this week. The Tatum folks, although living about 60 miles from a railroad, never do things by halves. A look at their thriving little town denotes a town and community of progressive folks.

G. B. Swan has been telling us of his fine crop recently, but we just thought he might possibly be just a little bit excited over the matter, until a disinterested party informed us that "Swan was giving up no loose head." This d. p. informed us that Mr. Swan would make 200 bales of cotton and oodles feed. Mr. Swan is working Arthur Sawyer's place, and is considered a mighty good agriculturist.

J. R. Carver reports that he has a splendid cotton crop. Some report poor stands, but taken as a whole, Terry has a good cotton crop, as well as a good feed crop.

J. A. Roberts, wife and two daughters Anna Bell and Leatha Nell, of Coahoma, accompanied by Mr. Tom Bennett, wife and son, also his father, Uncle Jurd Bennett, of Loraine, were through here Friday, and took dinner with Mrs. Robert's sister, Mrs. Stricklin. The firm with which Mr. Bennett is connected had him out on the south Plains looking for another store location. Mr. Bennett seemed to like Brownfield.

Miss Maymie Clark, of Post, is here visiting her aunt, Mrs. Ella Roberts. Since her arrival here Lewis Bros. report that their delivery man hurries right back to the store after each delivery.

location. It is built on the west bank of the Concho, which is a picturesque stream, clear water and fine shade trees, and is splendid for fishing. We presume that water supply is also obtained from it. Back in the year of 1882, the writer with several others were on the Colorado when the terrible flood came and washed the old town, Ben Ficklin away. It stood a few miles from where the present city of Angelo now stands, and was the county seat of the county. The place was never rebuilt. This was the highest water I ever saw or heard of since Noah landed his ark on Ariat. If a similar one should come in the future, Angelo would be a thing of the past.

The second day out we pulled the mud to Brady City, passing through Eden. Don't think it was the original town where Adam and Eve set up housekeeping. The crops through this section was much better than any seen from Big Spring to Angelo.

We reached Mason at noon the second day and had good roads from there to Fredricksburg; in fact had fine roads to within a few miles of Austin. The highway from Fredricksburg to Austin is really a scenic road. It is graded and in the most places graveled. It winds and twists among the hills, bordering the numerous small streams found here. Not half a mile of straight road the entire distance. When the eight or ten miles near Austin are finished, it is worth the trip to driver over them.

The writer was in Austin in the fall of 1873. He was then a lad of 14. It is singular that I never visited it again in all these years, although I have often planned to do so.

The city at that time was very small; in fact it seems that along Congress avenue was about all there was to the business section. The old capitol was standing at that time somewhat further down the hill. On either side of the south entrance was mounted a brass cannon, placed by his Excellency, Edmond J. Davis, to awe the opposition that was rapidly gathering to displace him. The only public buildings that I can recall were the old capitol building, the land office, the insane asylum, and the deaf and dumb institute on the south side of the river. There was one railroad but I don't think it went beyond the city. We crossed the river at the foot of Congress avenue on a pontoon bridge and if not mistaken, paid toll. By the way, I met an old gentleman while there by the name of Roberson, who told me he put the bridge there. The only building still standing that I could identify is the old land office which looks much like it did at that time.

Historically, Austin is something over a century old. Stephen F. Austin selecting the site about 1821, when he took charge of the colony after his father's death. It was called at that time, Waterloo. It did not, however, become the capitol of the state until the republic had ceased to exist. Its name had been changed to Austin in 1839. The danger from capture by the Mexicans caused the capitol to be removed to Houston, thence back to Austin, when president Jones transferred his powers to the new state government on our admission to the union of states. There was an attempt made to remove the capitol in 1872, and an election was held in which many towns of the state were candidates for its location. Austin won out and the matter was settled for all time. I have no data at hand to verify these statements, and if wrong will thank some boy or girl to set me straight.

The present city of Austin is splendidly situated on the north side of the Colorado river, and is a succession of hills and hollows. Rome is said to be a city of seven hills—Austin can multiply this several times. The population of the city is estimated at 50,000. If this is correct it has increased rapidly since the census of 1920, which placed it at 34,876. There are three railroads. It also has many industries, such as gins, canneries, foundries, compresses, and brickyards, etc. The most notable features are the State Capitol, the State University, Insane Asylum and Deaf and Dumb Institute, a military institute and the churches grouped about the University. The capitol is easily the most beautiful of them all. Viewed from Congress avenue it is the most imposing structure in the South. It is reached by broad drive-ways and walks lined with trees and statues. Among them I recall the Alamo, Hood's Texas Brigade, Texas Rangers. Entering we meet the statues of Houston and Austin, one on the right and the other on the left of the entrance to the rotunda. These statues are of white marble. They were executed by Elizabeth Ney, who also those for Statuary Hall at the National Capitol of these same heroes.

Entering the rotunda and looking upward, the view is awe inspiring, almost carrying one off their feet. The gradually narrowing circles toward the dome produces an indescribable sensation. At this particular time two men were at work high

AESCULAPIAS TELLS OF HIS RECENT TRAVELS

By Aesculapias (himself.)

After many years I find myself in Austin. We left Meadow the morning of Aug 6th and pointed our flivver in the direction of Lamesa. It had rained the night before and it was muddy and slick. At times there was very little evidence of rain having fallen, at others we passed thru large pools of water, and this condition of affairs lasted to within a few miles of Big Spring, Texas. So far the crops had looked fairly well, but after passing Big Spring toward Sterling City it got mighty dry. Most of the country between Big Spring and Sterling City is given over to stock raising, or at least that was the condition as seen from the highway. After leaving Sterling, the clouds began to gather in our front and we reached Carlsbad or the State T.B. Sanitarium in a heavy downpour of rain. We did not enter the grounds of the sanitarium, but were pleased with the outside appearance of everything. Every building was painted white and the grounds were neat and clean. It is a great institution and doing a great work for the state in caring for the unfortunate ones who go there for treatment. It has a great future in the fight against the great White Plague, which we confidentially believe will be stamped out in the next quarter century.

Did you ever have your flivver just quietly slip out of the middle of the road and make for the ditch, and finally land with the back end down the road in the direction you were traveling? This too, after you had twisted the steering wheel nearly off and put on the breaks. And had your wife tell you, "I told you to put on those mud chains." Well, we put them on and traveled in the mud and rain to San Angelo, where we stayed all night.

Angelo is a fine city for its age and up in the dome apparently scaling off paint or plaster. They were standing on ladders, and to have fallen would have been dashed to death on the floor of the rotunda below.

Mrs. Charley Jones called on Mrs. S. T. Murphey, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frazier and children, accompanied by Mr. Frazier's mother, visited Brit Clare and family, Monday afternoon.

S. T. Murphey and family were dinner guests of Mrs. F. M. Ellington and Mrs. McDowell, Tuesday.

Mr. Wheeler's brother, from San Antonio, is visiting him this week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Ellington, and children, Preston and Frances, called on the Clare home Sunday afternoon.

Water melons are plentiful--so are the rabbits.

S. T. Murphey and family, accompanied by Mrs. McDowell and Eileen Ellington, attended the singing at Johnson, Sunday afternoon.

Burleson, from Brownfield, Haley from Knox county, Hamilton, from Lamesa, and another good singer from somewhere, were there and the singing was worth going a long ways to hear.

What a good thing it would be to have more of such things. Music is the child of prayer, is the companion of religion.

A singer filled with the power and pathos of some great spiritual song can touch the hearts of men that won't listen to the most eloquent of sermons.

The voice of the organ and orchestra interpreting the consecrated thoughts of great composers, has carried home often and again, the message of the Gospel of Christ.

Mr. Wheeler is drilling a well for Claud Henderson in the Poole pasture.

An eminent writer has said that it is in the power of women to end wars for all time.

That having obtained the rights of citizenship, she can make no greater contribution than the faith in peaceful adjustment and the insistence upon machinery for working it out.

That it is a woman's instinct to resent strife, to yearn for another way out. She must use her intelligence as well as her peace making passion to stand every where against quarrels.

The quarreling employer or employee, the strike, and even quarreling neighbors, help to make wars possible.

Women, get busy and let's do away with these horrible things called wars.

A letter recently from Mrs. Wiley Johnson, nee Ina Howard, informed us that Brownfield would likely be their post office in the near future instead of Electra.

Mrs. T. A. Faucett has closed a deal with J. N. Lewis, wherein the latter becomes the proprietor of the City Cafe. Note his ad elsewhere in this issue. Jim Lewis is a man that will give good service if it takes all the profit he makes to do so. Drop in to see him when in town. We understand that Mrs. Faucett will be connected with the Bon Ton again.
