ST. LOUIS CAPITAL BRING BOOM TO SOUTH PLAINS

We copy the following from the St. Louis Times of Oct. 27th:

The bankers, manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers of St. Louis report that Texas is enjoying unprecedented prosperity. All West Texas is in the "white" or "very good" business. Month after month, West Texas has been the biggest "white" or "very good" business spot in the United States. West Texas prosperity is no mere flash in the pan. Month after month the great white spot has been on the map, its area increasing until now it includes the entire plains country. Sudden prosperity, such as oil booms, cannot be compared to the steady, permanent march of business that is going on there.

Texas has always been a constant challenge to the creative impulse of man—as a state it is so big that it fills us with a kind of awe and makes it difficult to convey by means of the written word any adequate description of the opportunities that abound in its borders. From the standpoint of material prosperity West Texas is amazing. The plains country is teeming with life. Sun and soil cry a perpetual invitation to man to join with them in a creative partnership. And as yet this invitation has been very inadequately responded to.

Settlers Needed

In spite of this year's great production of diversified crops, the potentiality of luxuriant nature still dwarfs the puny enterprise of men. In West Texas today there is ample room for millions of new settlers—not only room but need. West Texas cannot fulfill her manifest potentialities until many new millions have been added to her present population. The hard sledding pioneer phase has passed. There remains the task of building in this garden spot of the world, a proud and rich civilization which will be in some measure an answer to the opulent challenge of nature.

Life in West Texas today is on the whole freer, richer, happier in all probability than it is anywhere else in the world. What life can be tomorrow, if man does well his part, where nature has been infinitely prodigal, is something that can scarcely be contemplated. Among the leading West Texans of 1920 will be the men and women who elect to seize these opportunities and ride to prosperity on the tidal wave of a State development destined, unless all prophecies fail, to triple the population of Texas in the next decade.

In a world disillusioned, maimed and staggering from the catastrophe of the great war, Texas stands forth as a tremendous reservoir of power and productivity of health and youth and hope.

St. Louisans in Texas

Messrs. H. Wurdock and I. K. Kelso, president and general counsel of the Kelso-Wurdock Company, 219 Railway Exchange, are touring the Panhandle section of Texas and more particularly what is known as the "South Plains" country. They report that crops and prospects on the South Plains are better this year than ever known, with business flourishing and the targets cotton crop ever produced in this section now being harvested.

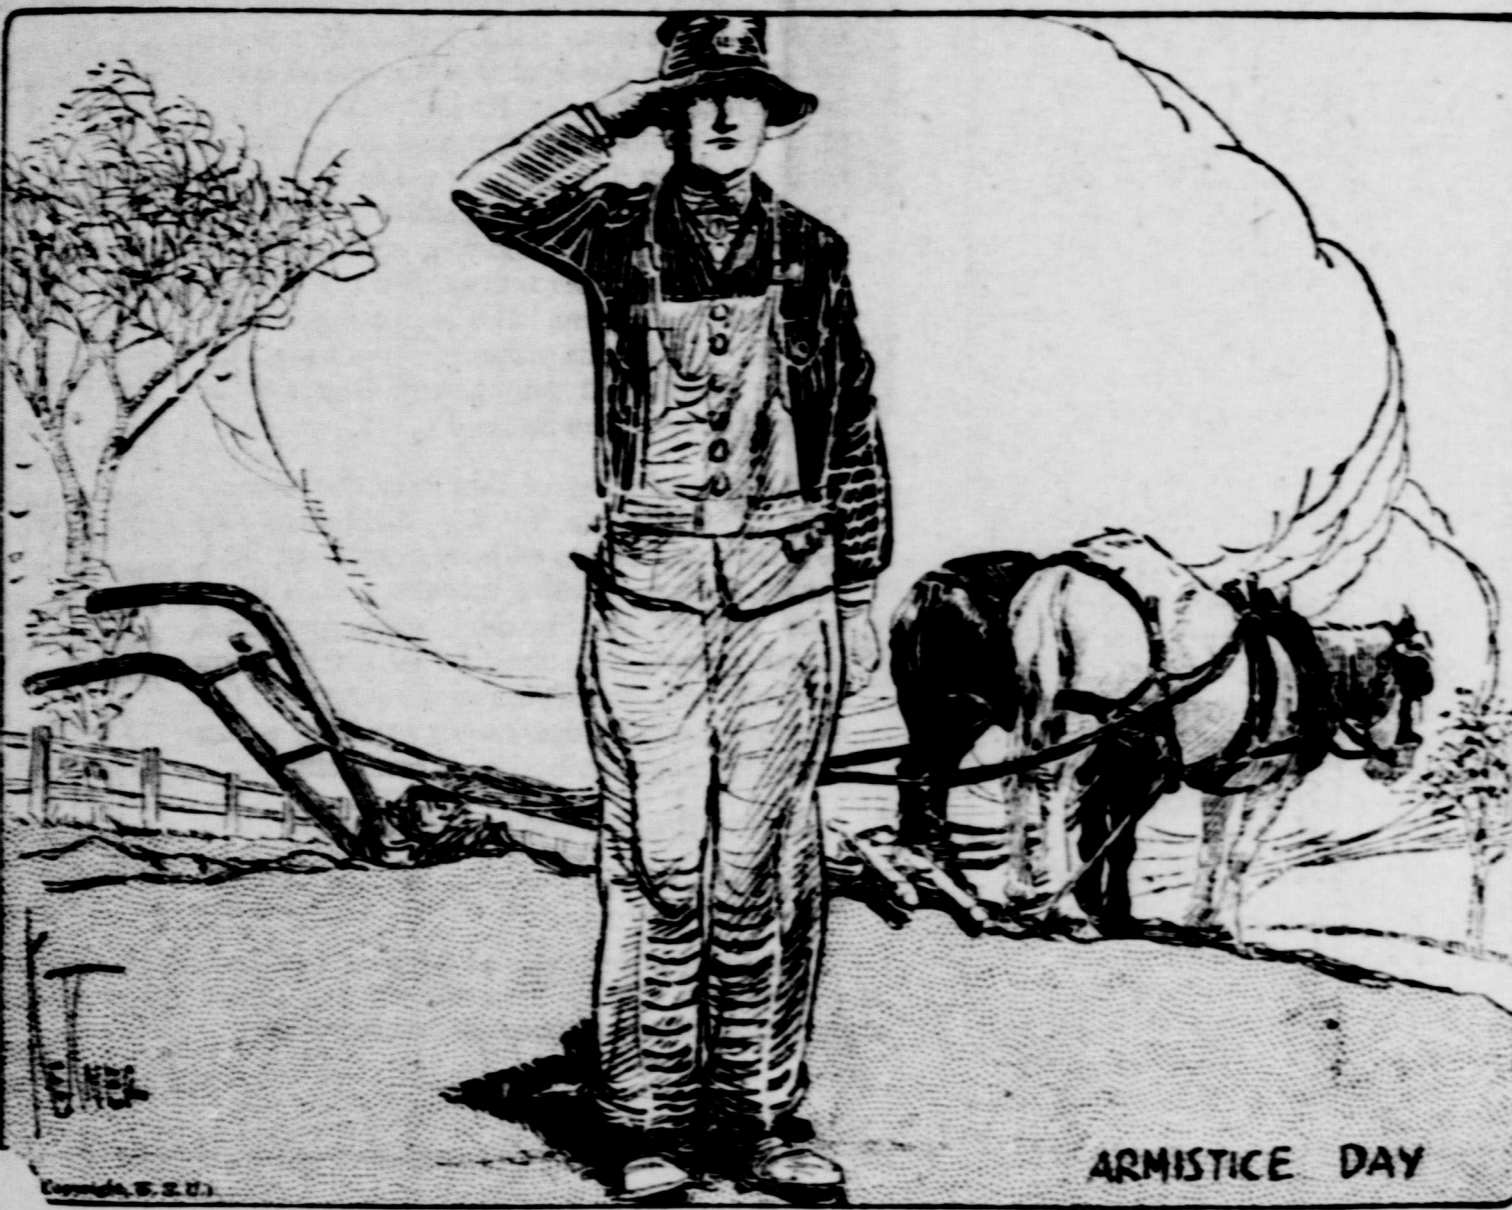

The Kelso-Wurdock Company owns four electric light and three ice plants in that section and are building new ice plants at Canyon City and Brownfield. The company is now installing an 800 horse-power oil engine at Plainview at a cost of $80,000 and erecting a new office building at a cost of $10,000, together with other improvements of the city costing $15,000. These extensive improvements appear warranted at this time because President Hoiden of the Burlington Railroad has testified that he would build a railroad that would connect with Fort Worth and Denver immediately following the authorization of the project by the Railroad Commission of Texas.

They Furnish Electricity

The Kelso-Wurdock Company operate 120 miles of transmission line in Hale, Floyd, Randal, Lubbock and Crosby counties and supplies electric service to 12 and ice to 24 towns and cities.

Plainview, Lubbock, Lockney, Stanton and Floydada each have populations in excess of 3,000 people, the largest cities being Lubbock with a population of 12,000, and Plainview with a population of 6,500. Reports obtained from that section show that the cotton crop will range from one-quarter to a half bale of cotton per acre over an area of more than 1000 square miles.

The Santa Fe railroad has been active in enlarging its trackage facilities at Ralls, Idalou and Lorenzo, and has conditionally promised a railroad outlet from the South Plains country east. It is also probable that the railroad that is now projected will be built from Lubbock west into New Mexico. Nowhere in the United States do conditions seem to justify the building of railroads so fully as in the South Plains country.

There are more banks and fewer failures reported in West Texas than any spot in the United States.

Building Movement

An unparalleled building is on at this time at Lubbock affecting all industries. It is due to the rapid development of the country, the influx of immigrants and the fact that cotton raising is an unquestionable success. That the South Plains country is now to be regarded as a great agricultural country is shown by the record of the Texas State Fair, held at Dallas annually. Hale county has won sweepstakes in individual entries class for agricultural products for the past five consecutive years, winning more first prizes than any other of the 240 counties in Texas and more first prizes than all other counties combined.

Railroad Factor

This year Hale county beat all previous records by 30 points with a score of 95.5; Floyd county scored 93.4 and Randal county 93.3. These successes show the South Plains country's agricultural possibilities.

The Santa Fe Railroad has been a great factor in the development of the country, but the railroads have been hindered in their development by the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission not passing on the proposed merger of railroads operating in West Texas. This action of the commission is provoking complaint all over the plains country.

There is much St. Louis capital (outside of the Kelso-Wurdock Co.) that is interested in the development of West Texas and more particularly the South Plains country, and Saint Louis wholesale and jobbing houses are enjoying the best trade in that section they have had for many years.

A State Technological school is now being erected at Lubbock at a cost of $2,500,000.

Municipal Improvements

The cities and villages are issuing bonds, installing street paving, enlarging their waterworks systems, and building modern schools. A $250,000 high school building has been erected at Lubbock. The Wayland College at Plainview and the Normal School at Canyon City are making extensive improvements in order to relieve the congestion due to increas-

HERALD LATE THIS WEEK—LIGHT PLANT OUT

Just about the time the light plant was ready to close down at twelve o'clock Tuesday night a leak was noticed in one of the cylinder heads of the engine, and next morning it was found to be cracked. It had to be carried to Lubbock to be welded, and the plant was out until Thursday about 2 pm.

As a consequence, the Herald which has recently been motorized, will reach its readers about a day late.

These delays will be eliminated altogether when the new engine is installed, although this is the first serious break in the old engine.

JIM LEWIS HAD NARROW ESCAPE RECENTLY

Jim Lewis, of this city, and one of the proprietors of the Post-Roswell Auto Stage Line came near meeting death one day last week when about 25 miles this side of Roswell. He did not have any passengers at that time or perhaps the wreck would have been more serious.

Jim says he was making perhaps 25 miles per hour, when the pin came out of the steering wheel and the car plunged into the harp, or at least he guesses it did. He said that when he came to himself, the engine was still running, but that the rear end of the car had done settled back to the ground, but gave appearance of having been histed in the air for awhile. He said the front end of the car, which was a Studebaker, was badly smashed and the front axle broken, but the rear end was alright.

People who examined the wreck could hardly figure how he escaped with his life.

ed attendance. Floyd county alone has expended $202,000 for additional public school buildings in the past two years.

Altogether the Plains country is reaping the harvest due to increased annual rainfall, and the large acreage of cotton planted and the existence of a great sheet of underground water that appears in limitless quantities and can be reached at a depth of 30 to 80 feet. This water is 99.2 per cent pure and in many sections is used for irrigation without detriment to the soils on account of its purity.

SPEEDY TRIAL FOR NEGRO WHO ATTACKED WOMAN

While it is true ordinarily that the wheels of justice grind slowly, the old adage will not apply in the case of Willie Hill, charged with attempted assault upon a white woman in the Acuff community, eight miles east of here Thursday morning.

Due to the fact that the negro cannot be charged with more than attempted assault, the prosecution cannot ask for the death penalty in the case, for life imprisonment is the maximum penalty in a case of this character.

The special term of the 72nd Judicial court which has been in session three weeks, was adjourned at four o'clock Saturday afternoon by Judge Parke N. Dalton, of Crosbyton.

One hour following this action on the part of the acting Judge, District Judge Clark M. Mullican, who has been in a term of court at Lamesa for the past two weeks, and in which he will resume work Monday, wrote an order calling another special term and also calling the grand jury.

Monday Judge Dalton will take a new oath and according to law regulating such procedure, will be re-elected special judge by the members of the Lubbock county bar. After these regulations have been complied with, he can order the Sheriff to summon the grand jury.

Due to the fact that the defendant must be given two days notice of trial, which will be given him Monday, the case has been set down for trial Thursday.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Rev. J. M. Dosier and wife, also Mr. Eli Lamb and Editor R. B. Hayes, of Seagraves, passed through on Tuesday for the homes, after spending the night in Tahoka, their home until the last few months, and voting, as they were not permitted to vote in Seagraves.

E. G. ALEXANDER LETS CONTRACT FOR 2-STORY BUILDING

John Scott, contractor from Abilene, Texas, received the contract one day last week for the erection of a two story brick building on the north side of the square for Mr. E. G. Alexander, local druggist, and adjoining Mr. Alexander's drug store building on the west. We understand that the lower floor has been rented for a mercantile establishment and the upper floor for offices, most if not all of which have been rented already.

The dimensions of the building is to be 25X100 feet.

Mr. Alexander is one of our foremost business men, and has unswerving faith in the future of Brownfield. He has always been found on the right side of every question effecting the growth of Brownfield and its big trade territory.

Mr. Scott as a contractor is well and favorably known here, having erected our school building, or at least the first unit, and the First National Bank building. We understand that work will start as soon as material can be put on the ground.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK NOVEMBER 11-21

Since the time for observing "American Education Week" is at hand, we feel that it is an opportune time to say a few words to the readers of the Herald about school conditions in Brownfield.

May I say this in reference to the school. We find here as fine body of students to work with as can be found anywhere in Texas. With a few exceptions these boys and girls mean to do the right thing all the time. They are not doing anything like all it is possible for them to do. So many of them do not realize what it means to them to put in all the time required for the proper preparation of lessons. Especially in the high school is this true. Each high school student has four subjects, each requiring at least forty-five minutes preparation. Some of these subjects will require an hour. So your boy or girl should spend from one to two hours on their books at night. Any time that they tell you they are making their work, ask for the report card. That shows the teacher's judgment of the work the child is doing.

The home and school must be brought closer together in Brownfield. It is evident that the school cannot assume full responsibility for the success of the pupil in their work. The home must co-operate. Looking to that end, a Parent-Teacher Association has been organized. The purpose of this association is to discuss school problems and create a better and closer relationship between parents and teachers. Come and join us. The next meeting will be November 11th at 8 P.M. Let every parent interested in the progress of this school be present at this meeting. Some may say they are too busy. But do not forget that the education of the child will not wait for you to catch up with your work. While you are busy with other things, his mind is being stored with thoughts that are to determine his future. No you are not too busy if you will stop to think about it. Neither can you afford to leave his education to the care of another. We, as teachers, will surely be glad to meet with you and discuss questions vital to his welfare.

One of the greatest drawbacks to a good school in Brownfield is the lack of school spirit. Too long have the school interests been crowded to the back ground. School problems have been put off until a better day should dawn, and as a result the school is overcrowded and its effectiveness has been crippled. We need more buildings and need them badly. They must come and come soon.

The principal slogan for "Education Week" is "Visit Your School Today!" Don't you think that would be a fine slogan for every parent to adopt? Are you sure you know the conditions under which your child is securing his schooling? Don't take hear-says for facts. He who depends upon "gossip" for information will get things wrong. First hand information is always best. Come to school and see for yourself.

The program for "Education Week" will be published soon. Watch for it and be on hand during that week. Let no parent in this community fail us this time.

RESIDENCE DESTROYED BY FIRE HERE THURSDAY

The residence of T. I. Brown was destroyed by fire about 11 o'clock Thursday morning, which burned to the ground in a few minutes as it was fanned by a high wind from the southwest. Only a few bed clothes were saved. We did not learn if any insurance was carried or not.

The fire started from an oil stove, which we believe, has been the direct cause of the destruction of every residence in Brownfield that has been burned. With almost a hurricane blowing, it is a wonder that the whole east section of town did not go.

Another good argument in favor of a waterwork system.

REV. G. W. DAVIS BUILDING HOME IN BROWNFIELD

Rev. G. W. Davis believes that we have a good town here, one in which he would like to cast his lot for life and, as he expressed it, "fight it out with us," for he is building a new home in the north part of town and will give full time to the church here except one Sunday per month at Plains.

Until Rev. Davis was called by the Christian Church here as pastor, he resided at Pampa, but he was already very well known here as he held a protracted meeting here about four years ago. We welcome him to our city.

UNPILOTED AIRPLANE RUNS WILD AND HITS CHURCH

O'Donnel, Oct. 28.—An unpiloted airplane smashed into the Baptist church here Monday. The plane and the south wall of the church were demolished.

Brought here by E. F. Shelton for W. A. Jones, the plane was left in the care of a young man in a field on the outskirts of town. The guard, in an experimental mood, twirled the propeller. The motor started and the machine was off—headed toward the business section. It raced by a few residences and then crashed into the church.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH LOCATES PASTOR HERE

The members of the First Christian church have been fortunate in securing the services of Bro. G. W. Davis as pastor for the ensuing year. Bro. Davis is a very able man in the scriptures as some may remember, as he held a meeting here some three years ago with good results.

Bro. Davis and family are making their home in Brownfield. Everybody invited to attend the services on Sunday Day. Sunday School at 10 o'clock. Morning services at 11. Evening services at 7:30.—Reporter.

POULTRY SHIPMENTS TO NEW YORK AND PENN.

Since New York and Philadelphia are the two principal cities to which poultry from West Texas is shipped, and since the various states quarantining against Texas commodities because of the hoof and mouth disease, has caused general misapprehension among a number of shippers in the promulgation of the rules by various states, we desire to state that so far as New York and Pennsylvania are concerned the following will apply:

New York: Dressed poultry from Texas may be shipped into, or thru New York State if accompanied by certificate issued by Federal or Live-Stock Sanitary Commission inspector of Texas certifying poultry originated outside infected areas to be packed according to amendment No. one.

Pennsylvania: Dressed poultry originated in Texas permitted into and thru Pennsylvania if fowls are slaughtered under the inspection of U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry and have passed such inspection and passed and marked accordingly.

It will be observed that the regulations of Pennsylvania are much more drastic than those of New York, and all practical service routes for this class of traffic require movement through the state of Pennsylvania it will be necessary for us to comply with the Pennsylvania regulations in order to move through that state.

Mr. J. E. Boog-Scott, Texas Live-Stock Commissioner, and Mr. J. S. Hershey of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe railway, are both actively interested in this matter.

Who owns the Santa Fe?

More than 67,000 stockholders own this great railway. Several thousand live in the states it traverses. All have a voice in its management/

Every Southwest investor should buy a share in the Santa Fe and thus get a valuable interest in an institution that helps build up that section. Let it be Yours, in ownership as well as in service.

The Santa Fe operates in thirteen states and in these states there reside 7,635 of its stockholders. While this is almost the largest number on record, it is slightly below the year before. We should be very glad to see those residing along the Santa Fe Lines become much more generally interested in its stock, although both the common and preferred shares give a smaller return than many other investments promise. The high price is a deserved tribute to the property. Every investor in the Southwest might well buy one or more shares in the Santa Fe.

At the beginning of this year, the ownership of the Santa Fe was divided among 67,118 stockholders with an average of 53.1 shares apiece. Twelve months before there were 64,643 stockholders, averaging 55.4 shares apiece. The number of stockholders has increased steadily for many years and the average holdings decreased, resulting in an ever-widening distribution of ownership.

Among the stockholders are found:

Women.....	30,370
Men.....	30,931

This joint enterprise of a great body of our citizens is open to all to participate in as stockholders. Why then should any favor government ownership and the certainty of supporting the railroads as taxpayers?

Fiduciaries.....	2,777
Insurance Companies.....	114
Religious Organizations.....	91
Hospitals and Charitable Institutions.....	115
Educational and Scientific Institutions.....	109
Banks and Trust Companies.....	251
Estates.....	1,095
Various Others.....	1,265

Since the organization of the present company in 1895 it has not failed in any year to earn its full interest, nor since dividends have been declared to earn them in full. The Preferred Stock dividends are limited to 5%. The first payment was made in 1898 at 1% and in 1900 full payments of 5% were begun and have been maintained for the ensuing 25 years without interruption. Common dividends were begun in 1901 at 3 1/2% and have been maintained steadily since that date with gradual increases, 6% having been paid since 1909.

For the railroads, as a whole, the records of the Interstate Commerce Commission show that at the close of 1923 there were 807,524 stockholders, or 30,392 more than the preceding year. The average dividends on the outstanding stock amounted to $4.03 per share.

LUBBOCK ALL DOLLED UP FOR TECH CELEBRATION

Lubbock, Oct. 31.—More than 30,000 people are expected to attend the formal laying of the cornerstone of the Tech College at Lubbock on Armistice day, according to present indications. Committees have been appointed and plans are being made, and details worked out on this basis.

The corner stone will be placed by the Masonic bodies of West Texas, under the direction of Senator Guinn Williams, Deputy Grand Master of Texas, assisted by a number of other grand officers of Texas and other prominent Masons. Governor Pat M. Neff will make the principal address of the day. Colonel Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo will represent the National Headquarters of the American Legion as the patriotic speaker of the day.

The ceremonies will be participated in by more than 1,000 ex-service men and National Guard units and will include a formal military retreat at the close of the program. Three thousand school children will march in the opening parade, carrying Texas flags each division led by a color bearer carrying the American flag.

Five bands have signified their intention of taking part in the Grand Opening Parade at the head of an automobile delegation from their own county, and it is estimated that more than 5,000 automobiles will take part in the parade. Parking space has been made off for 7,500 automobiles and special officers trained to handle the huge crowds that are expected to attend.

Work is progressing on the Administration building, which when completed will cost in excess of four hundred thousand dollars.

Venetian Mirror Makers Once Had World Monopoly

In picturesque Venice, the center of the arts during the Middle Ages, a few clever experimenters rediscovered the old secrets of mirror making and even improved upon the ancient masterpieces. They made an amalgam of lead and tin with which they "silvered" their mirrors, and conquered the attention of all Europe, and the other parts of the world then commercially known.

Venetian mirrors were almost priceless, so highly were they esteemed. Vincent de Beauvais, writing in 1250, declared that the mirror of glass and lead was a marvel and the best of all. Kings tried to make arrangements through special emissaries and ambassadors to have mirror makers come to their courts—but in vain. The Venetian doges proclaimed a law that any glass maker carrying his art into a foreign state should be forced to return; if he did not, his closest relatives were arrested and imprisoned as hostages.

Should he still remain at the court of a foreign king, special agents were sent to kill him and destroy his establishment. This state of affairs lasted until the reign of Louis XIV of France, when Colbert, the famous minister, began to break up the Venetian monopoly of mirror making. In the face of all the disastrous laws of Italy, he imported twenty artisans from the mirror guild of Venice, and established them in Paris, in the Faubourg St. Antoine, where they enjoyed the protection and patronage of the king.

Thus was the mirror industry firmly established in France. Later on, when it was safe, these artisans were distributed to other parts of the kingdom, and several manufactories started in the provinces.

Creature of Mystery Found in Ant Colony

The most mysterious personage in a colony of African driver ants is a creature perhaps an inch and a half long and three-quarters of an inch high. It is not an ant. In fact, so far as science is concerned, says Prof. R. L. Garner in the Century magazine, it is as yet unclassified.

In comparison with the ants, continues Professor Garner, it is enormous. The creature—there is only one to a colony—looks for all the world like a tiny elephant in a circus parade as it lumbers along in the rear part of the line of march. Its body is about as thick as your finger, and its legs are proportionately heavy and help to increase the resemblance to an elephant. There is always a body-guard five or six deep round it as it marches.

The thing is hardly a prisoner, for it has never been found anywhere except in a column of driver ants. What its sex is is doubtful. Several of the driver ants were taken to Germany a few years ago and examined, but no important knowledge was gained. Personally I have never captured one of the creatures, but I strongly suspect that it is really the queen of the colony. For in all species of the hymenoptera, which includes ants, the queen appears to be an anomalous creature, many times larger than the other members of the colony and always different in form.

"Palatinate"

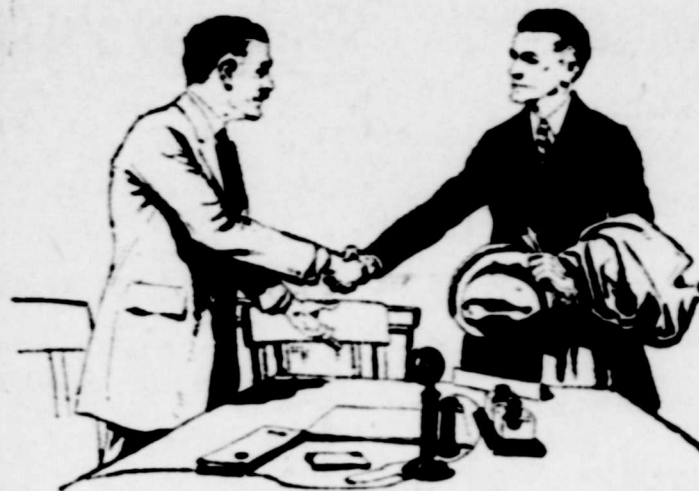

This term is a survival of feudal times. In the days when a man's house was actually his castle which he had to defend by force of arms, kings were not anxious to assume responsibility. Therefore they found it convenient to assign their adherents to districts, giving each the power to be master, collect taxes, and administer justice as he saw fit. The term "palatinate" was appropriately applied to such a holding as it comes from the same Latin root word as "palace" and "castle." Three hundred years ago palatinates were common. Many English counties have been palatinates and this form of government was common over here. For instance, Maryland was the palatinate of the Calvert family, Maine the palatinate of Ferdinando Gorges, etc. The Bavarian palatinate is the only territory of any importance which has retained the term.

Made Name as Sculptor

Clark Mills was an American sculptor, born in Onondaga county, N. Y., December 1, 1815. He died January 12, 1883. In 1848, when he was on the eve of leaving for Europe to study the art of sculpture, he received a commission to erect an equestrian statue of General Jackson. According to the story, Mills had never even seen, set to work, designed his model and then found it necessary to learn the art of bronze casting, inasmuch as there was no one in this country prepared to mold his figure in bronze. The statue of General Jackson by Mills is in Lafayette square, Washington, and a replica is in New Orleans.

Not Such a Bargain

A gentleman at a country fair was solicited by a lady attending one of the booths to buy something. He gallantly replied that what he would care to buy he feared would not be for sale—a lock of her hair. To his amazement and delight, she quickly cut off the coveted curl and smilingly received the price offered—$10. The proud purchaser was exhibiting his joy by the remark: "She rather got the best of the deal, for to my certain knowledge, she only paid $4 for the whole wig."

YOUNG ROSWELL COUPLE KILLED IN LOST RIVER CAVE

While the city slumbered late last night one of the most horrible tragedies in years occurred when Carroll Brown and Miss Alice Miller were instantly killed by a landslide which caught the young couple while exploring a cave at the Lost River.

The victims of the disaster, together with another couple, Frank Hendrick and Miss Mable Ingleman had formed a motoring party and while driving in the Lost River vicinity decided to explore the caverns. Brown and Miss Miller entered the mouth of the cave followed by their friends, Hendrick and Miss Ingleman only proceeded a short distance when they turned back in the cavern in the direction of Lost River.

Only a moment had elapsed when Hendricks and Miss Ingleman, who had returned to the car were startled by the loud rumbling of the moving earth falling into the cave while volcanic burts of dust rolled from the entrance. They followed the futile efforts to reach the imprisoned victims, and failing in this, Hendricks immediately drove to the city for help. Sheriff Peck was notified and formed a rescue party from the few late diners at the cafes, who armed with picks and shovels hurried to the scene. Frank Talmadge and Frank LaPell joined the party with the ambulance.

At Carlton, hearing the news at an early hour in the morning called the available members of Battery A, who continued the work until 7:30, unearthing the bodies at the west end of the cave near the bank of Lost River.—Roswell Evening News.

MEADOW MESSENGER MOVING TO LUBBOCK

After this issue the Messenger will be printed in Lubbock each week and reach the readers at this office the same as heretofore. We are moving the plant to Lubbock this week when we will start a job printing office. When we started the paper last spring we assured each subscriber that they would receive the paper one year for each dollar paid us and this promise we intend to carry out. We will admit that we have been very much disappointed in the growth of Meadow, and it seems to us that the majority of the citizens of the town care not whether the town grows any longer. We have come to the conclusion that it would be an uphill proposition for us to build up a newspaper business here to what it should be, therefore we decided to move to Lubbock where we own our own home and the prospects look much better to us for the building up of a good business.

T. C. Lucas of your town will be Editor and we will be publisher. To those who wish to see Meadow prosper, it will be to your interest to support the paper and when the town grows larger it will be no trouble to interest a good paper man to move a plant here and publish a paper.

Unless the citizens of the town who are in the majority turn and put in some of their time boosting for the town instead of knocking the good things for their town, Meadow is to the point where she will cease to grow and our sister towns who are up and doing will have live towns and the petition getters will have cut their own throats in order to vote against the good things of the town, just because there was some citizen of the town whom they disliked are in the boosting row.

Everyone is requested to hand in the news to Mr. Lucas and by so doing we hope to be able to give you a much better paper in the future than we have in the past.

We wish to thank each of you for the patronage you have given us and ask a continuance of the same. Our association among you has been most pleasant and we hold no ill feeling toward anyone. When in Lubbock, come to see us.—Meadow Messenger.

ABOUT THE HOME FOR OLD PEOPLE

To the people of Brownfield town and country that I met while with you all:

I will say that after talking to the people at large that 95 per cent of them I talked with about financing and building a home in the Brownfield and Seagraves community was more than willing to help and assist financially and otherwise, so here goes for a home for the old and aged in your community. Look and listen if you have the opportunity to help, and please don't resist for your benefit when you get old. Dear reader did you ever think how miserable a man's life is, to be old and homeless, not able to work, and having to depend on other people for food and care for you and maybe half the time you would be out of a home and anything to do or anywhere to stay; to be kicked about and abused with no friends or money.

Dear reader, you may not want to help support the erection and financing of the home. If you don't that won't keep it from being built, for I am determined that you help or refuse on.

Listen! I am determined that the old people be taken care of as much as I possibly can. It grieves me at heart to see any old person abused. If you approve of my work for the old folks, please write me a few lines I hope I hear from everyone that reads this. P. M. Jeffcoat, Box 188, Ralls, Texas.

A hi-jacker, or rather two of them recently relieved a young cotton-picker of his wad at Ralls in broad daylight. One of the young hi-jackers has been caught and the officers are hot on the trail of the other. A robber should be shown no mercy by our juries.

MARRIAGES

Mr. Henry Alexander, popular tailor, with half interest in the American Tailor shop, and Miss Nellie Lucille Simms, one of the teachers in the Brownfield high school, secured license here Saturday and drove up to Lubbock, where they were united in marriage by Rev. Jack Lewis, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Both of these young people are very popular in Brownfield, whose many friends are busy congratulating them.

Mr. D. W. Allen and Miss Robbie West, popular young couple of the Meadow country, secured license here October 31, but as the license have not been returned, we do not know who married them or at what place they were married.

Stewart Keller and Miss Mary Long, popular young people of Plains, came over Nov. 1st and secured license and were immediately united in marriage, Rev. C. E. Ball officiating. Both of these young people belong to prominent Plains families.

Kyle Good happened to the misfortune of getting his wrist broken recently while cranking a Ford.

BAPTIST WOMEN SEEK $22,000,000

SACRIFICIAL EFFORT IS BEING MADE TO RAISE THEIR FULL SUBSCRIPTION TO 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN

NEW PROGRAM PLANNED

Provision Made For Support Of General Causes Through Canvass of Members November 30—December 7.

Under the leadership of the Woman's Missionary Union, auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention, the Baptist women of the South are seeking to raise $7,000,000 in additional cash between now and the end of the year for the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, thus matching their subscriptions in 1919, when the program was launched, with actual payments. It is announced at Baptist headquarters the women were asked to assume responsibility for $15,000,000, or one-fifth of the goal of the Campaign but their subscriptions went far beyond this.

Their original goal of $15,000,000 in cash had been reduced by the women June 1, 1924, and under the leadership of Miss Kathleen Mallory corresponding secretary of the Woman's Missionary Union, they are making extra efforts to meet their pledges as well as their quota. Thousands of Baptist women throughout the South are practicing self-denial in many ways in order to make special contributions to the missionary educational and benevolent enterprises embraced in the Campaign while other thousands who have already paid out their subscriptions are making special thank offerings that the goal may be reached. Reports indicate that thousands of Baptist men as well will redeem their subscriptions in full during this year.

Large Results Obtained
Indicating some of the results that had been realized from the Campaign up to May 1, 1924, the general headquarters reports that the foreign mission forces has been increased over 100 per cent, while as many persons have been baptized on the foreign fields in the five years of the Campaign as there were church members there at the outset of this program after 75 years of missionary effort in the realm of home missions the 1,170 workers report the baptism of 203,372 persons, organization of 1,097 new churches and 3,383 new Sunday schools, and the completion of the $1,000,000 Church Building Loan Fund.

An average of 2,734 state mission workers have been employed during the Campaign who report 249,584 baptisms, organization of 1,644 churches and 3,035 Sunday schools and the erection or repair of 2,333 houses of worship. Into the 111 Southern Baptist schools, colleges and seminaries the Campaign has put $7,528,485 in permanent improvements, $2,919,429 in maintenance, and $2,732,231 in endowment, while $1,279,211 has been employed in the cancellation of outstanding debts.

Old Preachers Aided
As a result of the Campaign more than 1,900 aged preachers and their dependent ones have been helped. $4,464,000 has been put into 19 Baptist orphanages caring for 4,000 homeless boys and girls; while the number of Baptist hospitals in the South has been increased from 12 to 24 in order that there may be no let up in the support of the general missionary and other causes fostered by the denomination at the close of the 75 Million Campaign, plans have been perfected for the projection of the 1925 Program with the week of November 30-December 7, when at every-member canvass will be made of the 28,000 Baptist churches of the South for the support of state, home and foreign missions, Christian education, ministerial relief, hospitals and orphanages next year. These are the same interests that have been embraced in the Campaign but they will be supported in the future on the basis of annual subscription from the members of the churches rather than on a five-year pledge.

Want $15,000,000 Next Year
Reports reaching the general Campaign headquarters are to the effect that organizations have been set up throughout the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention looking to the completion of the old Campaign through the redemption of the pledges, and the successful launching of the new program through the taking of subscriptions for next year at the same time. It is the hope of those charged with the leadership in these programs that a minimum of $15,000,000 will be raised for the general denominational enterprise in 1925 and that each year thereafter there will be an increase over the preceding year.

There is No Such thing as a "Near Good" ABSTRACT of TITLE
An abstract is either complete, accurate, and final—or you might as well have no abstract at all, and simply trust to luck in buying property.
You don't have to know the ninety-nine points that show the title clear—you need to know the ONE POINT which indicates a flaw.
An abstracter who should take your money for showing you the things that are favorable, but leave out the ONE thing that indicates danger, might have the best and most innocent intentions in the world, but the RESULT TO YOU would be the same as though he robbed you of your property.
We do not furnish any "near good" abstracts. When we do your work, you will know the truth and the whole truth about the property for which you are going to pay your money, and which must have a clear title if you expect to get your money back again when you want it.
We are specialists. We do just one thing. We do it all the time.

BOBBED HAired FLAPPERS ARE 2TH CENTURY MOTHERS

What is woman that man should love? A slave to passion, or God's gift above?

God made her for the glory of man. He gave her long hair a covering, a crown.

When we think of mother as Madonna so fair, With a smile on her face, wearing long hair,

Her costume a dress that makes her look sweet, Not dressed in pants which make her look like Pete.

Twentieth century children are robbed of this joy, With mother a flapper or dressed like a boy;

There's scarcely a man, who thinks it looks nice, But hundreds of women are paying the price,

So many homes have no children at all, Instead a dog, or cat, we hear squall,

Some have nameless babies--sure they must be fed, Are you willing to give them your child to wed?

The women are not altogether to blame, But still, they can read--the Bible says it's a shame.

You say he's old fashioned; I'm glad that is true, Some very old fashions are better than new.

Before you cut your hair, did you stop and pray? Style says cut it--God says "let it stay."

Will you your Father's will disobey? For the call of frivolous fashion today?

Read I. Corinthians 11 chapter, --O. P. Morrison, Box 38, Gomez, Texas.

Mr. G. S. Webber, owner of the Webber building has returned to this city after a few months absence and will locate permanently this time. He has purchased an interest in the Palace Drug Store, where he will be pleased to meet his friends. On account of the fact that he had other private business that demanded his personal attention, Mr. Jim Hatton, who has been connected with the popular drug store, will retire temporarily, but we understand that his family home will still be here. We welcome Mr. Webber back.

The Hallowe'en crown was not only noisy last Friday night, but there was much evidence around town to the effect that they moved everything seemingly that was loose at both ends.

Everyone is nearly 'up with their cotton picking, and if the fair weather continues, we believe our crops will be gathered by Christmas.

At this writing we have ginned 427 bales of cotton. The gin is in good condition, and is rearing to gin cotton, as we are keeping up with the ginning fine. All we need is more cotton.

Cedars of Lebanon of Wonderful Beauty

The famous cedars of Lebanon, which are so frequently mentioned in the Bible as symbols of power, longevity and prosperity, and continuously sung by poets and extolled by artists because of their stately beauty and strength, grow to a height of from 60 to 80 feet, their branches and foliage covering a compass of ground the diameter of which equals the height of the trees.

Although the number of the famous trees has decreased considerably, of late years they have been carefully tended and preserved and a goodly number still exist. The best-known group in the Lebanon range consists of a group of 12 ancient giants—how ancient no man can tell—in a grove near the village of Eden, surrounded by about 400 younger trees, none of which probably are under a hundred years of age. Two of the "patriarchs" of the celebrated group measure, respectively, from 60 to 80 feet in girth of trunk. One of these is marked with the name of Lamartine, the French poet, historian and statesman. The younger trees in the grove are stately, compact and gracefully responsive, but the "patriarchs" are wild of aspect and frantic in attitude, flinging their muscular arms about as though struggling with some unseen enemy. In Ezekiel the Assyrian is likened to the cedar of Lebanon, "with fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, and of a high stature, and his top was in among the thick boughs."

Unfair to Blame Sun for Showing Up Dust

The sun does not raise dust, though my correspondent is not the first person who has thought so. It merely illuminates dust particles which, in

Why Automobiles Deteriorate

A factory machine is attached to a solid floor, which nearly prevents vibration. Yet it is constantly being adjusted and lubricated. Hence it wears for many years.

An automobile is constantly bumped over rough roads. Yet in spite of this terrible strain, the average car gets much less attention than the factory machine. Hence it depreciates much faster.

lesser light, are not so observable, says London Answers. The dust is always there, floating about; the sun must not be blamed for it.

Why, to blame the sun for the dust is as unreasonable as it would be to blame a pair of opera glasses for the bad actor one looked at through them! Would the bad actor have been raised by the opera glasses?

The sun, of course, is a sort of benevolent to some people, but, all the same, a room flooded with sunlight is much more pleasant than one from which it is rigorously excluded.

Seniority of Sweden

The kingdom of Sweden, which was founded about the year 700 A. D., is the oldest in Europe. It is still a primitive land—half the country is forest and the national population is less than that of London. The people are among the greatest sportsmen in the world, water and ice sports, of course, predominating. For sailing and rowing, Sweden is the first country in Europe, and naturally leads in its ice sports. Though a large part of Sweden lies within the Arctic circle, so clear are the skies that the heart of Lapland enjoys more hours of sunshine than Rome or Madrid. Incidentally, Sweden is the oldest part of Europe geologically. It was dry land when most of the remainder of the continent was under water.

Quick to Learn

A couple of years ago Ted Winkley was an enthusiastic graduate from the school of journalism at a western university. He bought a country weekly and settled down to reform the county. The first issue of the paper brought out under his control flamed with promising announcements. The dean of the school of journalism received a copy and read this editorial announcement:

"We aim to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth."

Nearly a year later the dean received another copy of the boy's paper, with this proclamation circled with blue pencil:

"We aim to tell the truth—but not so blamed much of it as heretofore!" —Harper's Magazine.

Alexandrian Pharos

Pharos was the name of an island in the harbor of Alexandria. Here Ptolemy I, who had been one of the generals of Alexander the Great, decided to build a gigantic lighthouse. The work was finally completed during the reign of Ptolemy Philadelphus. The structure was 450 feet high and 100 feet square at the base. At the summit was kept a beacon fire which, according to the historian, Josephus, could be seen over forty miles away. Part of this famous lighthouse was blown down in the Eighth century. The ruin was completed by earthquakes in 1303 and 1346.

How Should Water Taste?

Although the palatability of water is largely a matter of individual taste, there are objectionable tastes in water that can be ascribed definitely to either chemicals such as iron, chlorine or an alkali, decaying vegetation, microscopic organisms or pollution by trade wastes, etc. When tanks or reservoirs become contaminated from any of these causes the cheapest and easiest way is to clean out the container and start with a new supply, though copper sulphate or chlorine properly used are very effective in controlling organisms in such reservoirs.

Miss Kathryn Terrell, of Royce City, Texas, was here recently visiting her cousin, Mrs. W. A. Bell. It is reliably reported that a certain young man who works at Lewis Brothers and whose initials is Dude Pyeatt, took up board and lodging at the Bell residence while Miss Terrell was here. Miss Terrell taught school here for two terms, and we often wonder if she is averse to making Brownfield here permanent home.

LUBBOCK COUNTY MEN HELD FOR SHOOTING NEGRO

H. T. Pierce and S. J. Buckner, farmers, who have been picking cotton in the Lorenzo community between Lorenzo and Slaton, were lodged in the Lubbock county jail Friday evening, awaiting investigation in connection with the shooting of a negro on the Lorenzo-Slaton road at one o'clock Friday.

According to the men, the negro was accompanying them to Slaton when a row began. He attacked one of the men and attempted to get away from them when one of them fired into him with a double barrel shotgun, using both barrels.

The said the negro fell and had been laying in the road a few minutes when a truck driver passed, whom they instructed to go for the officers and doctor.

The truck driver notified the officers, but when they arrived at the scene of the shooting the negro could not be found, and the men said he had run away.

Two puddles of blood, the lost of which Sheriff Johnson believes would kill anyone, were found in the road. It is the opinion of the officers that the negro was taken by the two men into the canyon where he was buried as no trace of him could be found and the officers are sure that the gapping wounds caused by the gun shot would emit sufficient blood to make trailing of him easy.

The search for the negro was not begun until late in the afternoon and darkness caused the search to be given up. Officers are confident that they will find the negro, whether he is dead or not, before the search has been in progress long this morning, when they will canvas the entire neighborhood.

Between 50 and 75 negroes who have been picking cotton in the Slaton neighborhood, have left, fearing an uprising due to threats said to have been made against them.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Sunday morning's Avalanche said that no trace of the negro had been found up to that time.

Momentous Question

The following anecdote is taken from the "Life of the Rt. Hon. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman," by J. A. Spender. A picture appeared in an English paper which bore the title, "Is It Peace or War?" in which Campbell-Bannerman was photographed talking with King Edward. Around them the visitors stood at a respectful distance. A friend of his said later: "The artist has hit you off very well." Campbell-Bannerman looked at the picture quizzically and said: "Would you like to know what the king was saying to me?" The friend said he would. "He wanted to have my opinion whether halibut was better baked or boiled."

Bird Does Scavenger Work

The adjutant bird is a voracious carrion-eating East Indian stork, sometimes 6 feet in height and 14 feet in expanse of wings, with a large bill, the skin of the head naked, and a pouchlike appendage on the interior surface of the neck. The plumage is black or ash-colored, and furnishes the marabou-feathers of India. The adjutant feeds on frogs, fish, reptiles, etc., and is the scavenger of Indian towns. It derives its name from the comical gravity with which it stalks along.

Fear Alligator's Tail

In several of the southern states alligator farms are maintained for the purpose of using the hides for shoes and other leather articles. It is said that the keepers of these creatures are more in fear of their tails than their teeth. When attacking an enemy an alligator will try to strike first with its powerful tail before using its cruel teeth.

SEAGRAVES SIGNALITES From the Signal.

The Peoples Mercantile Co. will soon open for business with a complete line of dry goods and groceries, having bought out the stock of Cowling Brothers. O. C. Kimbrough, of Lovington, N. M., is here this week invoicing the stock and preparing to put in a stock of dry goods.

The Baptist Pally held at Seagraves last Sunday was pronounced a big success by members of the local congregation. A large crowd attended the morning service held in the school building. Rev. Ball, pastor of the Brownfield Baptist church preached at 11 o'clock. The Associational Missionary, Rev. Markham, also delivered a short address. The Brownfield quartette rendered some very fine selections which were thoroughly appreciated by the audience. During the afternoon a program was rendered at Wellman, 12 miles north of Seagraves.

E. Tidwell, local land agent made a flying business trip to Brownfield and return Saturday.

According to reports from the local cotton gins in Seagraves, there has been slightly more than 190 bales of cotton ginned up to Tuesday noon of this week. The farmers are bringing in the fleecy staple at a lively clip now and several hundred bales yet remain in the fields of Gaines county to be gathered. There seems to be plenty of pickers in the country, as no complaint of shortage of help has been heard on the streets of Seagraves.

E. M. Schenecker of the James McCord Co., of Fort Worth, spent Saturday in Seagraves in company with their representative, Dick Harbin, of Lamesa. This was Mr. Schenecker's first visit to Seagraves and he was greatly impressed with the wonderful outlook for this immediate section of the South Plains. The McCord Company will keep in touch with Gaines county through the columns of the Signal during the next few months.

Station agent L. Drumbeller, accompanied by his wife and daughter left Saturday for their new home in Ball, where he will be checked in as agent at that place. The Drumbellers leave a host of friends in Seagraves who regret very much to give them up, and hope ere long they will decide to return and make this their permanent home. It has not been learned who will take the place of Mr. Drumbeller here.

R. I. Cook, prominent farmer of the Johnson community got himself on the right side of our subscription ledger this week. Thanks, awfully.

Some of us Terryite will have to go down there and hog-tie that man in bed for those Fort Worth doctors. Mrs. Ferguson carried Terry county by about 2 to 1 majority. The rest of the Republican ticket trailed way behind the Battle's vote. Official vote will be printed next week.
