TATUM NEW MEXICO HAS AN AI PUBLIC SCHOOL

Prof. W. F. Dillard, of Tatum, N. M., was over Saturday on business, and paid the Herald a call about some printing for the Tatum school.

We had often heard expression of people who knew that Tatum had one of the best schools for the size of the town, and for its distance from a railroad—85 miles from Brownfield—to be found in West Texas or Eastern New Mexico, and there are many good ones in this territory. We soon found that Prof. Dillard loved to talk about their school, although not taking the credit to himself.

He informed us that their grammar and high school were in separate buildings, which he found to be an ideal arrangement. That they had an auditorium seating more than 500 on the balconies, and one of the best libraries and other physical equipment up to date, and which men whose duties were to visit institutions of learning in many states, after seeing theirs, had expressed great amazement.

He informed us that plans were now materializing for an athletic building, where such games as are played indoors could take place without being molested by sand storms and other disagreeable weather.

CHALLIS FARMER GATHERS BIG COTTON CROP

R. W. O'Neal is harvesting his second crop since coming here a little more than two years ago from Oklahoma, and the longer he stays in old Terry, the greater his faith becomes in it as an agricultural country that is hard to equal considering the work required and other comparisons.

Mr. O'Neal was in to see us one day recently and informed us that he was most done picking cotton, that he would scrap up a few more bales of the fleecy staple. He had gathered 63 bales up to that time.

Mr. O'Neal informed us that plenty feed of every description had been produced on the farm to run it next year, and that he was about fixed to go into winter quarters.

This is just another $10,000 crop produced in old Terry this year.

SITE SELECTED FOR COTTON OIL MILL

We understand that a local citizen and property owner has set aside a block of land in the north part of the city for a cotton oil mill that will be built some time in the future.

We are not at liberty to give out any particulars just at present, but the Herald will post its readers when the time is ripe. Will say however, that Terry and surrounding territory is now proven cotton territory, and an oil mill is one of the necessities of the immediate future, for while we produce the cotton seed here, just to our west is the feeding grounds of this section.

REAL OIL STRUCT IN OLD YOAKUM COUNTY

Rumors and counter rumors of real oil being struck in a well being drilled for water just over in Yoakum county, were current on the streets last week, but the Herald wanted to be more sure of the facts, and being of a somewhat doubting Thomas nature waited to see the "evidence." We saw some of it Tuesday of this week at a local drug store where some guy from Amarillo, geologist or a chemist or something was making a test of it with other odiferous compounds. It was real oil—real old black crude. But they say its dead.

The facts in the case seem to be about as follows: A Mr. Kelly was drilling a well for stock water on what is known as the dry streak of this and Yoakum county, about 18 or 20 miles west of here, where the top strata of water, instead of being abundant like it is here, is insufficient for any large amount of stock. He had reached a depth of about 350 feet when the oil was noticed, and having had experience in oil fields, he stopped the drill and investigated. Several gallons of the oil and water was taken out, and the well was then slushed out. It is said the well is now standing about 50 feet in oil.

Geologist and others who claim to know something about oil claim the oil was deposited there by gas from a pool that may be located anywhere from a few hundred feet to 25 or 30 miles. The oil has the appearance of crank case oil—dead—and will not burn until heated.

Several oil men have made trips to the well, we understand. We hate to see a good agricultural country ruined by oil wells, but if they must, they must.

And that's that.

NEARLY 10,000 BALES GINNED IN BROWNFIELD

According to the government report on Dec. 1, 10,870 bales had been ginned in Terry county from the 1924 crop, as compared with 4,704 bales on the same date last year, or a balance in favor of this year of 6,166 bales, or 150 per cent increase.

Weigher W. A. Bynum informed us that he had weighed around 9,300 bales up to Wednesday noon, and one local gin has been shipping its own cotton for some time, which is in the neighborhood of 750 bales.

TEXAS UTILITIES COMPANY BUY PORTER-BARRY PLANT

A deal is in process of consummation whereby the Texas Utilities Co. becomes possessors of the grounds and the construction work that has been put in on it, which consisted of some material and the foundation, which is about laved. Thus, instead of two ice plants, as it seemed for a time, we have one only—probably.

We have heard several business men of the town express themselves lately, and most of them are of the opinion that this deal means that the Utilities Company, now they have a rival out of the way, will, as usual, supply Brownfield from their big plant in Lubbock. The Herald, however, still has faith in the words of the company that they aim to build a plant in Brownfield.

We understand that a reasonable length of time will be given them to start and complete a plant here, and if nothing is done the city will undertake to put in a plant.

Consideration for the Porter-Barry site and material was $4,000.00.

RENTER MAKES ENOUGH ON CROP TO PAY FOR LAND

H. L. Lee, prominent farmer of the Johnson community was in one day this week and was telling us of a renter by the name of B. F. Little in his community, who had a sod farm of 195 acres that was broke out late, but that if no rents were to pay, the total proceeds of the crop would about pay for the land on which it grew at present values. Mr. Little has about 18 bales of cotton out, it being late as stated above, and plenty of feed to run him two years if care is taken with it, and it must be remembered that feed, and especially corn, is very high just now.

Mr. Lee also reports that he made a good crop, and is well pleased with his year's work. He is moving, however, from the Johnson place to his own place southwest of town.

What Messrs. Little and Lee have done this year is being duplicated by hundreds of other Terry county farmers all over the county.

TWO MORE LOCAL FIRMS JOIN IN BIG HOLIDAY SALES

The Collins Dry Goods Co., carried a page in these columns last week, and while they do not claim to have on any sale, any time, they affirm that they are prepared to meet any and all legitimate competition at any old time. Will say also, that a serious mistake was made in their ad by the compositor in stating that the Ford touring car would be given on Dec. 24th. That was a misunderstanding, and Mr. Collins wishes us to state that the date has not been definitely set, and won't be for several days.

The Winkler Dry Goods Co., also have on a Christmas Sale and things are taking on a lively hum around that store, and extra clerks have been put on to efficiently handle the holiday rush. Mr. Winkler seems to be pleased with the sale thus far, and is putting forth efforts to make the rest of the sale prosperous to his customers.

BYARNE AND LENSE PRICE MAKE GOOD CROP

Bayne Price, prominent young farmer of the Needmore community was in Tuesday to get the Herald another year, and informed us that he and his brother Lense, who are cultivating a crop together had out 55 bales of cotton, and expected to get six or seven more, but hoped to get done by Christmas if the weather remained pretty. This good crop was made in spite of the fact that cotton lice bothered them considerably thru the summer.

He also reported a good feed crop, sufficient to run the place another year without stinting their stock.

The Price boys are old timers in Terry, and the day was when you would scarcely see one or the other of them without their chaps and spurs on, and probably believed that one would starve to death without a sizable herd of white faced cattle. Their days are gone forever.

JAMES W. TURNER HAS 2000 ACRES IN CULTIVATION

Something more than a year ago, Mr. James W. Turner purchased the W. B. Snodgrass ranch in western Terry county, and began at once the task of turning over the native soil with six tractors, and before anyone hardly realized what was taking place large farms loomed where once the white face roamed at will.

Mr. Turner recently informed us that his men got started late in the year, and only a small portion was planted to cotton. More than 175 bales, however, will be harvested, of which more than 100 are out, and all sorts of feed for the live stock on the place will and has been harvested.

Mr. Turner informed us that one of his renters would make 100 bales of cotton and did not have a horse in the field this year. Several more of these farms will be put in next year.

Mr. Turner and family, however, live in Brownfield, and he has great faith in the future of the town and county.

A. C. HOLCOMBE HAS 21 BALES OF COTTON OUT

A. C. Holcombe came in Monday to have the Herald sent to his father-in-law, Mr. Harrison, of Ark., who he said had visited Terry on one or two occasions and liked fine. Mr. Holcombe actually bragged on his dad-in-law, saying he was a good man.

Ask about his crop, Mr. Holcombe said he had 21 bales out and several more to gather and a good feed crop. Mr. Holcombe was in the hall belt and his cotton was late. He said that when the hail hit him his cotton had five and six leaves on it, that being in May, and Mr. Holcombe believes he would have made nearly a bale to the acre.

LOCAL CHURCH SENDS BOX TO ORPHANS HOME

The ladies of the Church of Christ packed a large box here Monday and dispatched it to the Boles Orphans Home near Greenville, Texas. This Home has just been completed and opened on 400 acres of fine black land donated for that purpose by an old couple whose name it bears. The opening date was Thanksgiving Day. The collection of about $30 Sunday morning also went to this home.

K. W. Howell, local cotton buyer, handed us his renewal for the Star-Telegram one day last week.

Easy to Begin -Hard to Stop

It is an easy matter to start an Account at this bank. One dollar enrolls you in the Legion of Savers.

It is a much more difficult task to stop saving after you have formed the habit. The money you save is never missed. You learn to get along without it, and have the added satisfaction of knowing that you are traveling the road to success.

You'll never know how easy it is to save a certain definite amount until the happy day when your pass book shows that you have gained your goal. Then you're amazed at the rapidity with which small amounts have grown into bigger ones.

LYNN COUNTY OFFICERS GET SOME LIQUOR STILL

Business has been picking up in the Sheriff's office the past week. As a result of the activities of the officers and others, three white men and one negro have been placed in jail charged with unlawfully making and selling intoxicating liquor.

On last Thursday, J. A. Brashear, of Tahoka and Mr. Izard, of New Home, went to a farm house in the New Home community to look at some cotton with a view of buying it. Upon approaching the house they got a sniff of something that excited their curiosity, though they had scented something of the kind before. Whiff! No mistaking the aroma. They made a little investigation and found that the liquor both cheered and inebriated, and was being boiled on the kitchen stove. They notified Sheriff Sanford by phone and he instructed them to bring the men and still into town. They obeyed instructions and accordingly came triumphantly back with a still, a jar of whiskey, a white man and a dusky son of Ham as their prisoners and trophies.

Just a little earlier in the week, Messrs. Sanford and Simpson made a raid in the western portion of the county and found a lot of evidence that whiskey was being made at a certain farm house, consisting of barrels, mash, etc. They arrested a gentleman in connection with the affair and incarcerated him in one of the upper rooms of the courthouse, where he is getting his board and bed. At about the same time evidence against another citizen out about the Lubbock county line but he had just been arrested and placed in jail at Lubbock on a charge of selling liquor.

Whether it is the bracing weather that has created a demand for a stimulant or other cause, at any rate the distilling business seems to have been on the increase in Lynn county recently, but it is doubtful if any of the above named gentlemen will want to repeat the experiment.—Lynn County News.

Mrs. C. S. Cardwell is having the Herald sent to her son, Olen and family of Green's Gap, N.M. She reports that Olen and family are enjoying the mountain springs and the abundance of fire wood, and could not decide between a mountain claim with these things, or a valley claim with water hard to get.

Will Alf Bell returned one day last week from Mineral Wells, and reported his sister, Mrs. Slater somewhat improved in health.

Gus Randolph, former citizen of this county, but for the past several years a resident of Lubbock, was in Brownfield, Tuesday.

Messrs. R. H. Timmons and White, prominent citizens of Meadow, were here one day recently. Mr. Timmons expressed himself as being well pleased with the Herald in its new quarters, and frankly informed us that he used to secretly think we were windy when we predicted the future of this town and county, like its progress is today. Many others were in the same boat with Mr. Timmons, but we notice many of them hung on to their holdings. So someone else must to have had some faith in the future of old Terry.

A. L. Turner, prominent produce man of Seagraves, was up on business Sunday.

Convicts Pulled Street Cars

Years ago when Australia was the exile to which many English offenders against law and society were sent as convicts, some harsh disciplinary measures were resorted to, among them being the hitching of six men to a street car that traversed six or seven miles. They had to run the entire distance and the drivers lashed them when they began to tire. Six men were supposed to pull a ton of weight in the way of passengers.

DEATHS

Mr. J. D. Youree, one of the most highly respected farmers of the county passed away at the family residence south of town, at the age of 62 years after being ill several weeks with a nervous break down.

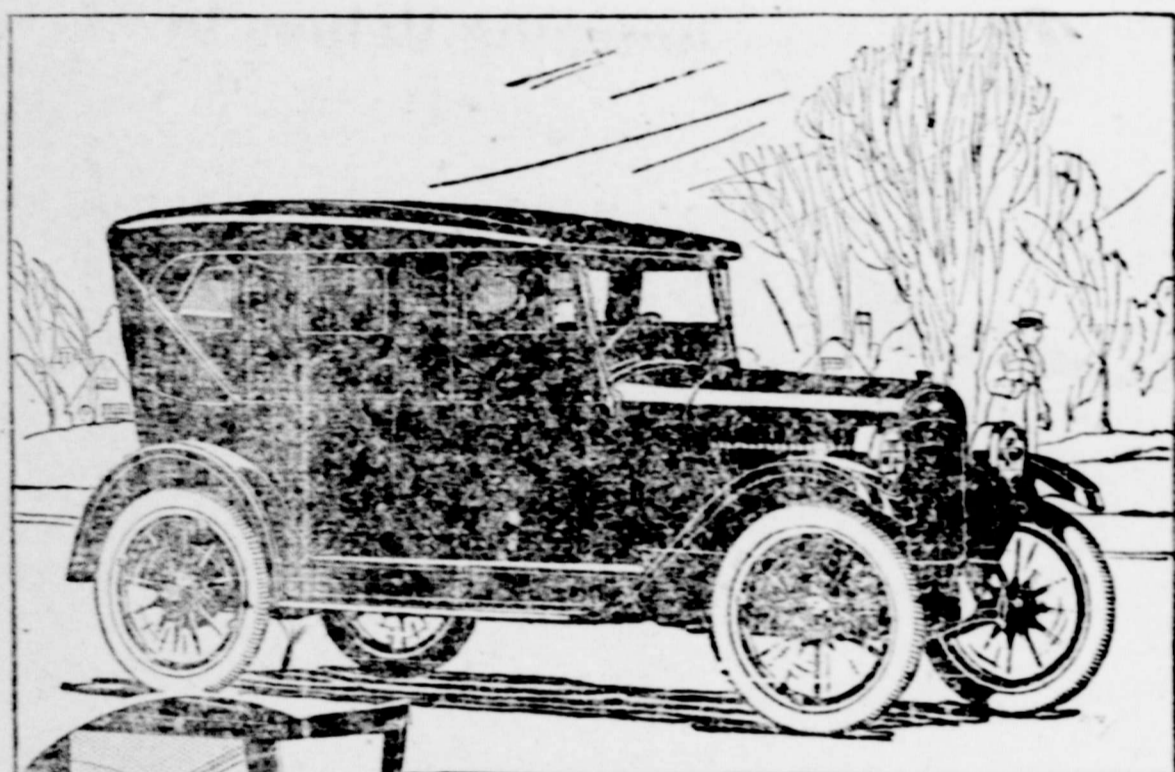

Deceased leaves a wife and several children to mourn his departure, together with numerous friends and neighbors. of the Nazarine church, and Rev. Wood, of that denomination came down from Lubbock to conduct the funeral, which took place in the local Methodist church, with which he had worshipped since coming to Terry county.

The body was laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery.

Little Robert DeVerle Welch, six months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welch, of Meadow, passed away about 6 o'clock Sunday morning at the residence of his grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Welch, of this city. We understand the little fellow had been sick most of his short life on earth, and death was not unexpected, yet they are hard to give up just the same. The little body was prepared for burial and laid to rest Sunday afternoon in the Meadow cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. C. E. Ball, pastor of the local Baptist church.

Mrs. Jessie Coffey, aged 35 years, and wife of W. A. Coffey, who lives on the Jim Whitley farm near Gomez, passed away last Wednesday afternoon and was buried in the Brownfield cemetery Friday afternoon. The funeral services were conducted at the Grave by N. W. Jones, of Gomez. Deceased leaves a husband and four children to mourn her departure. It is said they had only been in the community a few months picking cotton, but had made many friends. She died rather suddenly from uric poisoning, having lived but a few minutes after a physician arrived.

A LETTER IN VERSE

Brownfield, Texas, 12-5, 1924.
Mr. Mark Wilbanks,
Chatsworth, Ga.,
Dear Cousin:—
Your letter received and in reply will say:
We are out on the Plains,
Where you never have the blues,
Where the bandits steal the jitneys,
And the marshall steals the booze,
Where the bulldogs have the gabies,
And the rabbits have the fleas,
Where the big girls like the we-ones
Wear their dresses to their knees,
Where the jitneys whiz by you,
And the street cars barely creep,
Where the bandits pick your pocket,
When you lay me down to sleep,
Where the country is so pretty,
Where so many make a rush,
In order to improve its looks,
Would take the painter's brush,
Where nature smiles in springtime,
Bringing forth the rains;
No country on the earth,
So pretty as the Plains,
Where all the water that falls,
Runs into the lakes to stay,
Being no rivers or creeks,
To carry it away,
Where the windmills pull
The water all up,
Where on the nail
Hangs the drinking cup,
Where they have a world of cotton,
Where all that will can work,
In order to harvest the big crop in,
No one would want to shirk,
Where they have plenty of money;

All can have it who will try,
Where with some willing hands,
It is easy to get by,
Where the thistle weed rolls
And tumblers together,
This being caused by
The windy weather,
Where they go off one day,
Like nine kinds of fury,
And come back next day,
In a powerful hurry,
Where the ku klux are wailing,
Where the white man rules the day,
If you want to be prosperous and happy,
Better come out this way,
Where millions of acres
Are now untilled,
Where you had better hurry up,
Before the country is filled,
Now the above is all true,
Yet more that could be told
If you are coming out here,
Come before you get too old,
—W. M. Ball.

Dear Santa:—
I am a little girl four years old. I want you to bring me a big ma-ma doll, a doll buggy and some candy and nuts. Bye, bye, Virginia Alberding.

Commissioner W. H. Black, of No. 4, is erecting a modern residence a short distance east of his present farm home, and will rent out the old place. Commissioner Black has one of the best farms in Terry county.

Miss Queenelle Speegle, of Chicago, is here visiting her sister, Mrs. A. A. Sawyer through the holidays.

Mrs. Collins is visiting her daughter near Post City.

Curtis Currie, one of the school teachers over at Grassline visited the home folks Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Price says he has kin folks just piled and stacked all over his place.

TOKIO TALKINGS

By Reporter.

The people of this community have been so busy they have neglected sending in news items for several weeks, but the matter has been turned over to the school to keep up with so you can expect to hear from us every week in the future.

The people of this community met and organized a Parent-Teacher Association on Nov. 15 with an enrollment of 29 members. They had their first meeting Friday night, Dec. 12th. A short program was rendered and afterwards the three teachers served refreshments. The next meeting will be Jan. 9, 1925. Everybody invited to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Holland of this community are going to move to Tatum, N. M. They have sold their place, and we hate to see these old people leave as they have been here so long.

The Tokio gin have ginned 1,059 bales up to date and are still ginning.

Mr. Miller and family spent Saturday night with J. T. Pippin and family.

The Tokio oil well is progressing rapidly. The oil has risen from 17 to 50 feet and several oil men have been out to look the prospects over.

Several of the Tokio people attended preaching at Johnson on Sunday night.

Mr. J. W. Pippin filled his regular appointment at Johnson school house Sunday night.

The social at Mr. Day's Saturday night was enjoyed by all.

The literary society which was organized by the school children will render a short program Friday night Dec. 19th. Everybody invited to be on hand.

Dr. T. L. Treadaway, one of the oldest physicians in both point of age and service in this country remarked to a friend one day recently that he had been insulted by a woman. He said he had made a professional call at her home during the snow storm last week and the lady made the remark that she did not expect him on such a day as that. The lady should have been here and followed thru the flu epidemic, and she would not have thought you very old, remarked the friend.

O. K. Tongate was in at least twice last week to see that the town folks were still conducting themselves as they should. He was satisfied with conditions, seemingly.

Sam Pyeatt is able to come up to town on his crutches.

Record-breaking freight traffic handled without congestion or serious delay

Since January 1st, 1923, the Santa Fe has purchased new equipment costing over $50,000,000, including 13,750 freight cars and 146 locomotives. It has spent $43,000,000 additional on new shops, terminals, double track, etc.

As a result, from August 1st to November 1st, the Santa Fe Railway handled 48,395 cars of commercial freight in excess of any previous year—an increase of 9.7%—without congestion or any material delay. Notwithstanding the heavy calls, cars have been furnished practically on demand. In the few cases of local shortage, due to excessive local demand, cars have been furnished with such slight delay as to be negligible.

Four years of legislative peace and fair treatment under the Transportation Act have been a vital factor in its ability to meet satisfactorily the record-breaking freight traffic of the past two years and maintain a surplus of cars at all times, barring local temporary shortages.

Good service to the farmer is of the utmost importance when prices and crops in the aggregate are good. Inadequate railroad facilities cause freight congestion, delays, waste, and loss to everyone. The wholesaler, jobber, and retailer must carry heavy stocks and place orders well in advance, to make sure their shelves do not become bare. The farmer must store his grain and hold his livestock waiting for cars to ship to market.

In a country growing like ours it is not easy to keep pace with such growth. During the war the railroads fell behind, as their expansion had to be deferred for more pressing matters. Today they are fairly abreast of the procession. They are pressing forward on a continued program of improvement which, with a continuance of present general conditions, will steadily extend their ability to serve.

POSTMASTER BOHANNAN URGES EARLY MAILING

The Shop Early. Mail Early campaign inaugurated by Postmaster General New last year proved to be an unqualified success. It was of great benefit to the people and also enabled post employees to deliver all the Christmas mail before noon on December 25. The department again this year asks the hearty cooperation of the public in order that the record made last year may be equaled, if not exceeded.

When you shop early and mail early you are helping the clerks in the post office to eat their dinners at home and you are hereby benefiting yourselves. You have a better chance to secure a better selection of gifts from the stores, you have more time to wrap them securely and you are sure they will arrive at their destination in time to be opened Christmas morning. You are also relieving the burdens on the clerks behind the counters in the stores, and you are giving a practical demonstration of the good will that Christmas time signifies. Acting Postmaster General John H. Bartlett requests that you refrain from using small envelopes in sending your Christmas cards as this very greatly retards the sorting and distribution of the mails. Let all of us pull together this year, do our shopping early and do our mailing early; let's make it a genuine old-fashioned Christmas celebration.

TEXANIZING TEXAS

The unique work of "Texanizing Texas" has been set for itself by the Texas Centennial Committee of 100 in advance of its meeting in Austin, January 19. At this meeting it is proposed to take steps of raising a fund of $100,000 to be employed in educational work in preparation for the Centennial.

To those who entertain surprise as to why there should be such an educational campaign it is suggested that this Centennial thing is not to be the ordinary kind of celebration, even statewide. The vision which first comprehends it has grown until it is planned that the exposition shall be such as to place it among the great airs of the world. Texas has the background of historical and commercial significance to justify such plans. Here was fused in the caldron of the primeval wilderness the destiny of a great continent. The period within which Anglo-Saxon civilization in Texas was in the making was a period of import to North America second only to that of the period of discovery. But one thing is lacking to complete Texas' equipment for making this Centennial as big as it ought to be. That one thing is the thorough understanding and the universal cooperation of the people of Texas.

In this view, the proposal of the Committee of 100 to spend $100,000 in "Selling Texas to Texans" in advance of any permanent plans for the exposition becomes the height of good business judgement.

There is, fortunately, sufficient time to proceed carefully in maturing the plans for the exposition. The idea of a Centennial does not necessarily apply to any one date. Any time within the period between the first Anglo-American entry into Texas and statehood may be commemorated as well as another.

The chief matter at hand right now is to build up in Texas a public realization of the greatness and importance of the state in the past and in the present. It is to develop a Texan consciousness among Texans. When this is done, the degree of co-operation necessary to insure success of the exposition will be guaranteed. To know Texas history and its historical facts is to realize that here is something for commemorating greater and grander than that which inspired such fairs as those at Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

CHRISTMAS

CHRIST was born at Bethlehem that he might die at Calvary. This is the message and meaning of Christmas. Socrates supposed and Plato philosophized and the world's great ones dreamed that mental process could save humanity. But Jesus came to save us from the evil that dwells in us, and in the unexplored field of redemption his mission was new and solitary. The sublimity of Christ's career is measured by the volume and depth of human grief.—Herald and Presbyter.

Tahoka has been having Sunday movie show, and the Baptist of that city are opposed to it as shown by a rising vote on the issue last Sunday which was almost unanimous.

Headline: "Long standing feud ends in slaying." That all depends. If the feud is of the Kentucky variety, and there are any more he-relatives on either side, the feud has just become interesting again.

Samuel Gompers, that grand old champion of union labor passed to his reward at San Antonio at 4:05 Saturday morning, having been gratified by his wish to die on American soil, having just returned from a trip to Mexico. It may be years before union labor finds the man who can half way fill his place. It was thru his courage and indomitable will that radicals have been restrained from wrecking the organization.

Brownfield has a whole raft of otherwise good men who sit around on the streets Sundays, chewing tobacco, smoking, reading or playing some game, and not a few that violate the laws by hunting. They are setting a bad example to our youths, for as we said above, they are regarded as good men and have their weight of influence on the morals of our young people. If they were bad men their non attendance on divine worship would have no weight and influence on the ouths of the town.

"Out West where the sun shines a little brighter" is a well known poem by one who loves the west. One of our farmers was recently heard to tell another farmer that the sun just seems to shine a little brighter here than it does in the east. The other farmer replied: "Yes, and the sun just seems to rise right out of a hole in the earth. An abundance of sunshine—more than 300 days every year—is what makes the South Plains a wonderful country in which to live in spite of our one bad drawback—the sandstorms.

Sometimes one finds a good moral in the humorists' departments of the big Sunday papers. There was a real lesson on economy in Will Rodger's article last Sunday, when he berated the false economy used by the national government in scrapping the battleship Washington. This is a result of the Punch & Judy disarmament conference at Washington to try to take away any honor that should have been accorded Woodrow Wilson in his efforts for world's peace, in which the republicans have agreed to sink vessels that cost up to $30,000,000. Not only that, but they, according to Rodgers, almost ruined the guns on the battleship Texas in trying to sink the Washington. If our administration at Washington are for peace, why practice shooting at a battleship? Why not scrap the steel armor and the hull and use it in legitimate commerce?

The News editor voted for the free text book law, with an inward fear that it was a sad mistake. We voted for it because nearly all the educators of Texas urged its passage, and we have always stood so devotedly for anything that would assist education in this state, that we would not oppose the law. After what we have seen in recent years, and with the prospect in view of some third or more of the present contracts being almost certain to be changed next year, leaving thousands of dollars worth of books to be burned, we are out and out opposed to it, and we hope the incoming legislature will repeal the law speedily and allow Texas to rid herself of the socialistic and paternalistic theory and practice. After all, free clothing and free meals are just as logical as free text books. Clarendon News.

Very good, but to go too far the News might step on the free school and the free red school house, and then he would arouse a nest of hornets he could not easily throw off.

The Signal is going to try to continue doing business in Seagraves regardless of the knocks it receives. Only this week several hundred dollars worth of printing was sent out of town by a local firm doing business in Seagraves, and still they expect the local citizens, including the newspaper to patronize and boost them along. Perhaps they were saving a few cents by getting a scab cut-rate on their printing. The Signal believes in everybody getting a fair price for what they sell or do. We also believe in keeping abreast of the times and know the customary rate or price allowed. Still, we have a few moss backs in the community that are content to do business as was done twenty years ago. This newspaper will no doubt not receive its due portion of the printing business in Seagraves, but we expect to stay just as long as the business justifies. If you are true and loyal to your home town you will back up and boost its enterprises.—Seagraves Signal.

Courage, Albert, courage—courage and patience. If our experience in Brownfield is worth anything to you, here it is. For years and years the business men of the town sent hundreds and hundreds of dollars out for stationery and printing, never encouraging the Herald to go forward in equipping with modern machinery, and of course the Herald as a newspaper and as a job plant was held down for years and years longer than there was any necessity. Of course it riled and nettled us, and we sometimes said pretty naughty things of our business men, but we stuck to our last, and as a reward, some of the very men who sent most away at that time, give us the most orders today. They even give us the liberty of going through their stocks of stationery and blanks to see what they need, and proportionally little work that we can do with profit to ourselves goes out of town. Stay with 'em Albert. You have to win their confidence first.

J. D. McCollough, of Tokio was in Wednesday and called around to help check the Herald going another year. He told us his ups and downs, mostly downs, in the old log school houses in old Alabama for a few minutes and suddenly remembering they had an oil well at Tokio, he jumped up and hiked for home.

TERRILITES HONORED AT FARM LABOR CONVENTION

Texarkana, Texas, Dec. 10.—George W. Fant, of Cass county, was elected president of the Farm Labor Union of Texas at the concluding session of the convention here Wednesday. A. M. Hilliard of Van Zandt county, the president for the last two years, refused to allow his name to be voted upon, although petitioned by a large number of delegates to do so.

Other officers are: Vice president, T. W. Moss, Brownfield; secretary-treasurer, R. O. Williams, of Dallas, re-elected; executive committee, J. M. Green, of Brownfield; W. A. Goolbsbee of Rusk; W. P. Phillips, of Wood county; M. E. Mote, of Childress; U. P. Boswell, of Tanglewood and A. C. Howerton, of Sauger. A. J. Finley, of Pictou, was re-elected chaplain.

Acting on a request by Mrs. M. A. Ferguson, governor-elect, the convention Wednesday morning named a special committee to present to her the legislative recommendations of the farmers of the State as represented in the Farm Labor Union. J. J. Murray of Hopkins county, as chairman, with J. E. Edmondson of Anderson and J. M. Green, of Terry as his colleagues. This committee will present to the incoming State administration a number of resolutions adopted by the convention, among which the most important are: Declaration of the unit system of school administration and the proposal to name State and County Superintendents of Education by appointment, as recommended by the published reports of the State educational survey commission; advocating a constitutional amendment to permit the State to print, bind and distribute its own text books for the common school system; favoring the modification or repeal of the present law to become effective next September, requiring teachers to attend college or normal schools as a prerequisite to obtaining certificates; favoring a graduated land tax law in Texas. The convention declared for "a high standard of qualification" for teachers, but held in the resolution adopted that "merit determined by examination" should be made the basis of certification rather than attendance at any school.

THE TEST OF POPULAR APPROVAL

The final test of prohibition, or any other such change, is the opinion of the people who have seen it at first hand, both before and after.

The following popular votes show how public opinion grows after such experience. Ohio is a typical industrial state with large cities. Votes taken were real ones—not "straw" votes. Public opinion in Ohio expressed itself in successive years as follows:

1914 wet by 84,152
1915 wet by 55,408
1917 wet by 1,307
1918 dry by 25,759
1919 dry by 41,853
1922 dry by 189,472 (against wine and beer.)

Prohibition increases with years.

R. B. Haynes, owner of the Seagraves Signal passed through here Wednesday for that place to help out during the holiday rush.

TWO ROOM HOUSE BURNED TUESDAY AFTERNOON

A two room house belonging to a Mrs. Tabb, a widow lady, was totally destroyed by fire about two o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

When first discovered to be on fire by close neighbors, the entire inside of the building was wrapped in flames. Mrs. Tabb and children were in the country picking cotton, and perhaps did not know of the fire until they returned at night. We failed to learn whether insurance was carried or not.

Plainview, Texas.

Dear Editor:—
 I hereby inclose a check for which please send me the Herald six months to the address given below. I feel it would be impossible to miss the home paper when I am away. I was not satisfied this past summer when I was in Abilene attending school until the Herald was sent to me.

I think the Brownfield High School has been of good value to me. Therefore I want to hear all the news of the school. Just when I was preparing to return to Abilene the Wayland Baptist College offered me free tuition to enter there the first of Deember. Very likely if I had not graduated from the Brownfield High School I would never have received this offer. This is the reason I wish to keep up with the school, and all the Brownfield news.

Yours truly,
 Edna Beard

Rev. Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, of Texas, delivered an interesting address here Tuesday night in the First Baptist church auditorium.

Mrs. Henry Pulliam and children were in one day last week to inspect the new Herald office and equipment. Richard Crews, prominent young Wellman farmer, paid us a short call one day this week.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

Rev. W. K. Johnson, D.D., Minister
 In addition to the announcement of our services next Sunday, this is to wish that all our church members and friends in and around Brownfield a happy Christmas and the very best New Year possible. It is good to have been among you all this year and preach the Christmas message. "Glad tidings of good news to all the people. Subject at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, "The Christmas Message." Special music and a fine attendance wanted. At night the plans are to have a townwide, or cooperative service, if possible, at the Presbyterian church; a get-together Christmas service. Dr. Johnson will bring his address on "The Home, the School and Church," a most timely message for any community. John R. Covey, Supt. public schools at Lovington, N. M. says: "The address on "The Home, the School and the Church" is the most uplifting and stimulating message we have had for our school work at this place. Many other expressions of appreciation of this most timely message. Don't forget our morning service and the address at the Presbyterian church at night. The Presbyterian Sunday S. promises to be the best in town Sunday morning--on time. We are looking for you in our services Sunday. Invitation Com.

Why Automobiles Deteriorate

A factory machine is attached to a solid floor, which nearly prevents vibration. Yet it is constantly being adjusted and lubricated. Hence it wears for many years.

An automobile is constantly bumped over rough roads. Yet in spite of this terrible strain, the average car gets much less attention than the factory machine. Hence it depreciates much faster.

Our buyer went to the markets early and made heavy purchases before the market was exhausted of stocks, and when he was able to drive bargains that we are handing down to our customers.

Our experience in selling holliday goods here are such that we are able to anticipate your wants and demands, and we have not spared time or money in making these purchases we now have on display.

There is no need for us to use your time or patience with a long winded editorial, or a great list of gifts that might appeal to you. Will just say in closing that we have a full and complete line of holiday goods and are sure we have what you want.

Now that I've brought all these wonderful gifts to Ashworth & Knight, won't you arrange to come down and look at them? It's none too early to start Christmas shopping and you'll find it easier to select while assortments are large and complete.

I'm expecting you, for I want you to see what great things I've done at Toyland.

Yours for a Merry, Merry Christmas
Santa Claus.

SIGNALITES

From the Seagraves Signal.

The city has secured the services of Mr. Sam Hand as night watchman through the Christmas holidays, and he has already assumed his duties.

Last Thursday evening a Ford Coupe collided with a truck at a corner on one of our popular streets. Fortunately none of the occupants were injured. The coupe was damaged considerably.

Sheriff J. L. Britton, of Seminole, reports having received a supply of 1923 automobile numbers, and is now ready to distribute same to auto owners of Gaines county.

Public Weigher, B. L. Waters reported Wednesday noon that he had weighed out 2,630 bales of cotton in the local yard. The bad weather of the first of the week greatly interfered with gathering the fleecy staple.

As was announced in the Signal recently, the examination for postmaster for Seagraves will be held in Lubbock tomorrow, Dec. 13. We understand there are five or six applicants for the position of postmaster here.

Pat Swan was operated on for appendicitis in a Lubbock sanitarium Tuesday morning, and according to reports received by his family in Seagraves, he is recovering nicely, which will be good news to his many friends in this community.

Elias Ivey returned this week from Tucson, Arizona, where he spent several weeks on vacation. Mr. Ivey was one of the first railroad men to locate in Seagraves, and was formerly the proprietor of the City Drug store here.

This section was visited Tuesday of this week with a two inch snow fall, which will be worth thousands of dollars to the farmers for it has placed a good season in the ground and the tillers of the soil can prepare their land for another crop. Farmers had begun to feel the want of moisture all over the South Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Doddridge returned the first of the week from Lubbock where Mr. Doddridge has been employed as yard master for the Santa Fe railroad company for the past five or six weeks. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Doddridge gladly welcome them back.

Petty thieves seem to be applying their trade in Seagraves. One local citizen reports having lost several parts off his automobile parked in a prominent portion of the town. Another reports having lost a pair of double-trees, etc. Seagraves needs to incorporate and employ some city officers to check those bold thieves.

The eleven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Preddy, residing three miles northeast of Seagraves, was claimed by death Sunday, Dec.

SON OF FARMER THROWN FROM HORSE AND KILLED

Lubbock, Dec. 15.—Lorraine Hinson, 18, son of J. E. Hinson, a farmer residing eight miles southeast of this city, was almost instantly killed two miles west of Lubbock about ten o'clock this morning, when the horse he was riding shied at an automobile driven by J. E. Whipp of this city.

The fender of Whipp's auto struck Hinson's horse, throwing the youth to the ground with such force that the back of his head was badly crushed.

The injured youth was rushed to the Lubbock sanitarium where he died thirty minutes later with a skull fracture at the base of the brain.

Funeral services for the victim will be held here Tuesday afternoon.

Otho Welch and family were up from Big Spring Sunday to attend the funeral of the baby of his brother Robert and wife, at Meadow. They returned home Monday.

Messrs. H. A. Holler and F. A. White, of Lubbock, who have a contract with the business interest of Lubbock to put down a well near the city in search of gas, were here Tuesday and paid the Heral office a short call.

They had been over near Tokio to examine the oil found in a well near there a week or so ago, but reported that no one was found at the well, and they returned here to see if they could find a sample of the oil.

Ernest Strayton, senior in the Abilene High school, is here visiting his mother, Mrs. J. P. Turner and family during the holidays.
