Chamber of Commerce CURRENTS

By the Secretary

Regarding Our Night-Watchman

Brownfield is now being served by Mr. E. Brown as night watchman. We think we have been fortunate heretofore in having a good night watchman, and we believe that we are still fortunate in having Mr. Brown as our watchman. We think he is one of the most conscientious and duty devoted men that we know.

Our nightwatch service is ultra important to our town. Besides preserving law and order, it is a great protection against fires of either accidental or incendiary origin, and also a constant protection against burglary and miscellaneous theft.

Our night watchman should be paid commensurate with his services and in order to get the most efficiency from him, he should not have to worry about having to go about collecting his dues, but we should have a better system for him. The Chamber of Commerce has promised to help him, and handle the matter for him, and circular letters were mailed each business man this week, asking them to sign a blank, permitting the Chamber of Commerce to draw on them each month for a stated amount, thus saving Mr. Brown the time of having to visit them at the end of each month. It is hoped that each business man will sign them up for a nice amount, and the charge slips will be in their bank statements each month.

All bills of the defunct Terry County Fair Association, which the Chamber of Commerce this year assumed, have been paid so far as have come to our knowledge, and all current bills of the Chamber have also been met, and at the same time there are still some funds in the treasury. Therefore in order that the greatest measure of economy may be practiced the Chamber of Commerce will make no calls for dues during the months of October and November, these two months being omitted and the saving thereby effected.

Since the first of the year the local Chamber has sent out over 700 Terry county advertising pamphlets; has answered slightly over 200 letters of inquiry concerning this section and its conditions, dozens of letters from tenants wanting to rent land here and some one to furnish them; some wanting to trade threshing machines on up to boys' and are timbered bottom lands for Terry county farms. It has sent items of interest to the following papers whose circulation reaches into the hundreds of thousands: Dallas News, Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Waco News Tribune, San Antonio Express, Houston Chronicle, and the Kansas City Star, as well as agricultural write ups in farm journals and The Earth, the Santa Fe's official magazine, which they send to thousands of prospective home-seekers each month.

The officers of the local Chamber of Commerce stand ready at any and all times to place the efforts of the organization behind any movement that is worthy, and is for the betterment of the town in its civic, commercial, industrial, and agricultural relations and developments.

ROBERTS GIVEN FIVE YEARS FOR SLAYING

Tahoka, October 18th.—After being out for almost 20 hours the jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter in the A. L. Roberts case, on trial here, and gave the defendant 5 years in the penitentiary.

Roberts was charged with the fatal shooting of Calvin Petty last March.

The defense announced that they will file a motion for a new trial, claiming misconduct of the jury.

Foiled Again

PTA

Try coming to the next PTA and just see how it seems for a change. And be sure to be there if you are on the program. Those who come would certainly love to hear what you have to tell them.

The meeting Tuesday night had the usual faithful few, but these few had some of the best talks heard at these meetings in a long time. They were given by Mrs. W. W. Price, Mrs. J. L. Randab, Prof. Jackson, Mrs. W. H. Dallas, Miss Elizabeth Dumas and Prof. Casey, who presided.

Many things were discussed for the good of the organization, but probably the biggest undertaking was the decision to invite Prof. Horn, president of the Texas Tech College to deliver a talk at the next meeting night or any other time in the immediate future most convenient to him. We shall expect a good crowd to hear him.

The subject of the lyceum was also brought up, the first number of which appears here on Nov. 4th, given by the New York Players, who render that popular play, "The Storm." It was reported at this meeting that this play has already been delivered in Seymour to a great crowd, and that it was the general opinion of the people attending this play that it was well worth the price of the entire season ticket. It was also stated that Seymour is charging 75c to see this play and the door admission here will only be 40c; cheaper still if you have purchased a season ticket.

"The Storm" ran forty weeks successfully in New York, and the New York Herald had this to say of it: "The Storm can be run for years and be remembered a life time."

It was also decided to hold election of officers at the next meeting regardless, and if you wish to have a say as to whom will serve you as officers, be sure to be on hand.

CLOVIS VOTES TO SELL W. & L. PLANT TO UTILITIES CO.

Clovis, N. M., Oct. 19.—Clovis voted Tuesday to sell the municipally owned water and light plant to the New Mexico Utilities Company, the vote on the issue being 369 for the sale and 273 against it. Only those who had paid taxes within the last year were entitled to vote, which in a measure accounted for the small vote polled. There was much discussion of the sale, but no ill feeling among the voters since the election has been decided.

Probably one of the main points that decided the voters in favor of the sale of the plant were the many letters from Texas towns showing the progressiveness of the Texas Utilities Co., and their interest in community development as well as the service they have given in these cities and towns.

E. G. Alexander recently purchased a new Buick sedan.

NURSERY STOCK IN MUCH DEMAND NOW

The country as a whole has not in several years been blessed with such a season for planting out fall nursery stock as it is right now, and hundreds of farmers, with both old and new places are placing orders for a variety of fruit trees and vines, not to mention shrubbery and shade tree stock. The farm people are not alone either, for that matter, for his town brother is also buying, in more limited way of course, in order to both beautify his place, and many a town lot otherwise growing weeds will be transformed into beauty spots, and a source of good eats for the owners.

With such a season in the ground, and with likelihood of snow through the winter, eliminating the necessity of watering the trees and shrubs, no home owner should neglect buying and planting out an orchard, or starting some nice shrubbery or bulbs in the yard or garden. Those with old places where trees or shrubs have died either from neglect or lack of moisture, should be spotted and new stock purchased to fill these places.

Mr. Jno. B. King, our local nursery man informed us recently that more orders had been placed with him this year for nursery stock than had ever been before by a big majority, showing conclusively that Terry and adjoining county people are taking a great interest in beautifying their places and providing plenty of delicious fruit for at least home consumption.

Plant more trees, vines and shrubbery. It will pay you in both wealth and pleasure.

THE LAW SAYS TO HAVE AUTO LIGHTS TESTED

We heard a hint put out over at the court house recently that some one may have a little fine to pay one of these days if they fail or refuse to have their auto headlights tested, for there is now a law to that effect on our statute books, and the guy with a glaring headlight stands a mighty good chance of being pinched by a highway officer.

The charge for having them tested is but a mere trifle, 25c, but the fine for having glaring headlights runs way up into good hard earned American dollars.

There is also another side of the question to be considered. Are you fair and square with your fellow man when you meet him in the road with blinding headlights that are likely to cause him to run his car into a barbit and maybe seriously injure him or his family? No, you are not, and should such occur, you are nothing short of a murderer as you have been warned, and your case should not stop in the lower courts, but go up under the category of criminal cases, because it is a case of criminal negligence.

J. W. Atcusson, of Lou, was in this week and paid the Herald a short call.

RAISES $75 WORTH OF POTATOES ON SMALL SPACE

Mrs. E. J. Purcell brought the Herald folks five nice yam potatoes one day last week that were what we call real prime eaters. The five fellows weighed nearly 8 pounds, and we had sweet potatoes several ways for several days.

We saw their potato patch some time in July or August, and we will be safe in saying that it was not very much larger than an average town lot, and it was being irrigated during the hot dry weather of July as best they could from the windmill. They also had considerable other truck to be watered, such as beans, tomatoes, cabbage, etc., and as we have little wind in July, little water was spared for the potato patch, but Mrs. Purcell informed us that they would get at least 40 bushels or some $75 worth of potatoes off that patch of ground something like 50x140 feet.

Any family with a good windmill, two or three cows, a few hogs and 50 or 75 hens will never starve in this or any other county.

Then the cotton crop will surely pay for the clothing of the family.

DISTRICT ROAD SUPERVISOR DOWN THIS WEEK

Judge Puckett, of Lubbock, State Highway District Superintendent was down this week looking over Terry's splendid state roads, in company with county highway superintendent, R. A. Harbin. The Judge being an old acquaintance of the editor paid us a short call in company with Mr. Harbin. The Judge seemed to be well pleased with Mr. Harbin's work in this county, and announced that the work west of Gomez to Tokio would be started in the near future.

We are certainly glad to hear this announcement, as this connection is badly needed.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of thanking our good friends and neighbors for the assistance and words of comfort and cheer during the illness and death of our son, Alva H. Hill, which occurred at the family residence in the Tokio community on the 7th inst. and being 17 years and 22 days old. His body was laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery. Especially do we wish to thank Mrs. Dee Elliott, trained nurse of Brownfield, who labored so faithfully to save Alva's life. May God bless each of you in our prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hollis, W. L. Hollis and wife, Homer, Earnest, Ruby and Lewis Hollis.

Quamah.—This city is advertising for bids for constructing sewer extensions here. The city conducted a "clean up" campaign recently and the passage of stringent sanitary laws has caused numerous petitions for sewer extensions.

WORK ON COURT HOUSE HAS BEEN RESUMED

After a delay of approximately three weeks, work was resumed in earnest on the new $125,000 Terry County court house last week, and it is being rushed with all possible haste as the contractors realize that cold weather is fast approaching when concrete work will have to be done with caution, as it is no count when frozen.

The heavy concrete and steel pier of the basement are being run at present and from the looks of them they will be able to bear the weight of almost any amount of weight that may be placed on them, and assure a foundation that will carry the building in good shape through almost any trials.

We hope there may not be any more delays until the work is complete and the building turned over to the county, for not only are our county officials laboring under a handicap of lack of room and storage facilities but our protection for precious records is limited and not of the best by any means. Then too, while our jail will hold prisoners provided they are constantly guarded, there is no telling when they would escape if not guarded, and this alone is expensive to the county. Then too, we have to see all our prisoners who have committed crimes like murder to other jails and then pay a precious price to have them cared for, and our courthouse facilities are not sufficient to try them when trial dates arrive, and we have to hire other counties to try them.

We are sure the contractors have no other motive than to finish the building as soon as possible, and the delays have not been purposely occasioned by any means. For it is their interest that the building be finished as soon as possible. We wish also, to compliment the contractors on using so much home labor, their wages of which will remain here and help the town and county.

OUR CRYING NEED IS—A CLEANER CEMETERY

That advertising pays has been demonstrated again.

Some weeks ago the Herald undertook to arouse the pride of our citizens to have the cemetery cleaned up once more for the winter and to pay for what has already been done.

A few days later a prominent merchant here told us that he would pay a nice little sum each month if some one would collect, and that he was far behind just now that he would pay up for several months. This week the South Plains Monument Co., of Lubbock sent the Herald a check for $500 to apply on the fund.

Now, if we can just get a couple of good ladies to go around, we will get the matter on foot at once, and then get some one, even if we have to pay them some, to make monthly collections. Everybody's business has always been nobody's business. Every business, financial or benevolent has to be conducted on business principles if it succeeds.

J. R. HILL LIBERATED FROM JAIL MONDAY AFTERNOON

J. R. Hill, formerly of this city but now a citizen of Yoakum county, who is charged with the killing of Sam Parker, a tenant on the Hill farm, in September, was released on $10,000 bond and liberated from the Lubbock county jail Monday. The bondsmen were: Hugh Snodgrass, C. F. Wheeler, C. B. Worsham, W. B. Snodgrass, and A. W. Endersen.

According to the Avalanche, Mr. Hill seemed to be in fine humor on being liberated, and visited a barber shop immediately for a general clean up, but complained that confinement had not agreed with him. He has always been a great outdoor man, and confinement does not agree with any man of this nature.

LYNN COUNTY CITIZEN DIES OF HEART FAILURE

W. L. Owens died suddenly Tuesday while picking cotton in the field of W. C. Carver on the Lockhart farm a few miles south of town. Heart trouble was the cause of his death.

Mr. Owens has been residing this year at Lamesa, but had come to Lynn county to pick cotton. He resided last year on a farm a few miles north of Tahoka. He was 57 years of age. The remains were buried in the city cemetery Wednesday afternoon. —Tahoka News.

A GREAT SINGING AT UNION LAST SUNDAY

The only thing that can possibly effect the Terry County Singing Conventions of the future will be lack of housing room to properly accommodate the vast crowds that are attending them, for the crowds are constantly increasing on account of the rapid growth of the population, and the increasing popularity of the singing conventions, which are not only attended by Terry county people, but by adjoining counties as well. With its large and commodious brick auditorium, Union was unable to adequately care for the crowd Sunday. In fact, we doubt if there is a building in the county that would do so.

Yet, despite the handicap of lack of housing and seating capacity, numbers of the best singers in the section congregated Sunday and rendered some fine music from one of the newest Vaughan song books. The writer heard some of it from a distance, as close as he could get and enjoyed it.

At the noon hour one of the best dinners ever put out by the people of Union, and they are justly famous in this line, was put on table, but the rough neck element, if any were present, had to stand along a wire fence like decent people and have their lunch handed to them. And in this way the crowd was thoroughly fed, decently and orderly, and if any failed to be fed, it was their own fault. Feeding a crowd is something we learned from the late World War if we learned nothing else that is beneficial. Our communities nearly always have plenty on hand to feed all and something left, but if the "hogs" are allowed to charge the tables first they generally get ten times more than they really need, and destroy the rest that they leave for nice folks. It is earnestly hoped that each community from this on who entertain large crowds will take such precautions.

The county singing convention did away with their banner some time ago but did not debar any community of bringing their class. In fact that part is still encouraged, and it is hoped that several classes may be prepared to render songs both special and general at the next convention which meets at Meadow on Saturday night and Sunday of the 3rd Sunday in January next.

Many singers and song leaders of other counties were on hand at the convention.

ALEXANDER PUTS ON SEMI-ANNUAL REXALL SALE

We call the readers' attention to the page ad elsewhere in this issue of the Alexander Drug Store, which is one of the any thousands of nationally known Rexall Stores to be found all over the United States, and each of them puts on bargain sales twice each year, giving people a real treat in purchases of standard drugs and drug sundries. The sale will last only three days, so you must not forget the dates, next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 29-30-31.

The plan is this. You purchase a standard article at a standard price, say $1.00, and by adding 1c, you get another $1.00 article just like it.

O'DONNELL INDEX BUILDING A NEW BRICK HOME

From a very humble beginning in the rear of a grocery store less than two years ago, the Index will soon move into a building of its own.

A contract was made this week between the owner of the Index and J. J. Caddell for the erection of a brick building on the lot south of the Odd Fellow's hall, the floor space to cover 25x60 feet. The plan was drawn by Mrs. A. A. House, architect, and the building is especially designed for a printing office. The front will be of plate glass with double glass doors and as much glass as possible will be built in the rear. The roof will contain a double skylight and with the walls and ceiling painted white, the interior will be flooded with abundance of light which is so necessary to a print shop. The cost of the building will be $3,000.

By the time the building is ready for occupancy a new linotype will be here ready for installation, also other machinery which is necessary to keep pace with the rapid growth of the town. In all, the Index will spend about $3,500 within the next 30 days to give its readers a better paper and a better service in job printing.—O'Donnell Index.

WORK ON SEAGRAVES SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRESSING

Work on the new $75,000 school building now under construction in Seagraves is progressing nicely, and from all prospects, it will be long until Seagraves can boast of having one of the finest school buildings on the Plains. No definite time for the completion of the building has been set, but work will continue, and the building will be completed as soon as possible.—Seagraves Signal.

It is a waste of both time and money to pay out rolls of money for high priced fire-fighting apparatus and let the citizens grow a lot of weeds and accumulate a lot of other inflammable junk around their premises. Those who wish to protect their own and their neighbor's property will get in line and remedy matters. Others should be forced to do so.

Judge Carl Rountree was this week appointed City Attorney to succeed Judge Longe, resigned. Mr. Rountree is a good lawyer and we feel that he will render the city valuable service.—Lamesa Reporter.

NATIONAL HEALTH AIM OF RED CROSS PROGRAM

Nurses Guard Community Health; Home Hygiene and Nutrition Featured.

The increasing appreciation by the American people of the value of a national health structure is reflected in the comprehensive machinery built-up by the American Red Cross and kept in constant operation in the past year, in the interest of national health.

Instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick, in nutrition; inspection of school children, the maintenance of an effective nursing service, all formed a part of the Red Cross organization assisting in keeping America well.

Altogether 51,121 students were instructed in home hygiene and care of the sick, including 31,439 school students, of whom 20,331 received certificates. This work reached the Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and Girl Reserves; also telephone companies, public and private schools, community and industrial groups. An unusual fact of this service was its adaptation to the needs of the blind, through transcription of the text book in Braille print.

The year's work also demonstrated a growing understanding and appreciation on the part of Red Cross field representatives, chapters, co-operating agencies and others, of the place of nutrition in community programs, looking to community health.

There were 2,800 dietitians enrolled during the year; regular nutrition instruction reached 138,065 children; 20,359 adults attended nutrition meetings, while 1,885 schools were aided in furnishing lunches.

Co-operative relationships were established with various Government and educational agencies in making this branch of the Red Cross health work more effective.

Another of the health-promoting activities of the Red Cross lies in its public health nursing service. There are nearly 1,000 such nurses serving in every part of the country.

As an invaluable reservoir in time of a great national emergency, there is enrolled under the Red Cross banner a reserve of 42,002 nurses. In a number of disasters during the past year in which the Red Cross has aided, and where the services of the nurses were required, they have been among the first to mobilize.

At the end of last year 11 enrolled

Red Cross nurses were engaged in relief work, while 124 were employed in the mid-west tornado disaster relief operation of this year. The work of Mrs. Dorothy Davis Sletcher, a Red Cross public health nurse stationed at Fairbanks, Alaska, in checking a flu epidemic at Fort Yukon, in the Arctic, has won praise from all who knew of it.

It is to assist in maintaining such valuable services to the community that the American Red Cross invites members during its ninth annual roll call, November 11 to 26, the only such appeal which the Red Cross makes in the year.

No appeal is so international as that to the humanity of every people. The sum of $1.50 from a Japanese boy in Tokio to the Santa Barbara relief fund bespeaks a world of friendship, engendered by the American Red Cross.

When the mariners on the high seas enroll 100 per cent, in the American Red Cross, should you lag behind?

Join the American Red Cross whose work is your expression of your human impulses.

Has Loan of Books Reduced to System

I was much interested to read an appeal in the personal columns of the London Times for the return of any books borrowed from the late William Archer. There must have been a great many, or this advertisement would scarcely have been worth while. I do not suppose there is a reader who has not suffered from book borrowing, and yet we all borrow books upon occasion.

The trick of it, I have found, is to have a distance limit. If the borrower lives within five miles of my house, I lend with pleasure, as I know that I can always get the book back when I want it. If the borrower, on the other hand, lives some distance away, I say: "My friend, I make my living with my pen and my books. You are asking me for one of my tools, a tool that I may need at any moment. Should the need arise when the book is still with you I should curse you, and that would spoil our friendship."

Name Not a Guarantee

Do not be misled by the name on a violin, as it frequently happens that it is not the maker's name. If it is a well-known violin maker's name, it implies that the instrument is a model of his, made in the same style, but the name is not a guarantee that the fiddle is one of his own make.

RED CROSS AID TO VETS MOUNTING

Heavier Demands for War Service Laid to New Legislation Granting Wide Benefits.

ACTIVE FORCES AIDED ALSO

Duty to Ex-Service and Service Men First Responsibility of the Red Cross.

A marked increase in the service given by the American Red Cross to ex-service men, through Chapters, Hospitals, Government and Red Cross offices during the past year, and which volume is expected to be maintained during most of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, is shown in the reports of the war service activities of the organization, just completed.

Service to the disabled and to men now in active service continued to be one of the primary obligations of the Red Cross. The increased activities in this regard were attributed largely to the legislation giving new benefits to ex-service men.

The keystone of the Red Cross service lies in the Home Service work of the chapters to veterans and men still in service. At the close of the fiscal year June 30, 1925, 2,591 Chapters were active in this work and had expended approximately $2,237,000.

Included in their work was assistance to ex-service men in making out adjusted compensation papers, in the handling of claims reopened, or made possible under liberalized terms of the World War Veterans' Act of 1924; and in many other ways.

An unusual amount of legislation passed by Congress and State bodies has necessitated the issue of much new material in the past year. Legislation was passed during the year liberalizing conditions applying to hospitalization, compensation and other benefits under the Veterans' Bureau; this in turn has entailed reopening of many claims formerly disallowed, filing of many new ones, and many applications for hospitalization. The Claims Service at National Headquarters this year handled 17,506 in comparison with 12,010 cases the previous year.

Increased service to men in hospitals was noted, as well in the number of hospitals in which service was maintained by the organization. Due to new legislation an increase of over 6,000 patients were admitted for hospitalization, a new peak approximating that of March 1922. Since a large number of this group includes patients not eligible for compensation, the solution of their personal and family problems has involved careful study by the National Organization.

There are 30,000 disabled ex-service men in Government hospitals every day of the year, and their need has directly led to a revival of the best-known and perhaps most popular activity the Red Cross sponsored in war—a new campaign for knitted "Red Cross sweaters." These articles are among the few not furnished by the Government.

For the men still on active duty in the Army, Navy and Marines, the Red Cross during the year maintained Field Directors at all important stations, camps, and hospitals of these armed forces of the country.

A monthly average of 36,931 service and ex-service men were aided by the Red Cross during the year.

The men in service, and the men who have served his country are among the primary responsibilities for which the American Red Cross is chartered by Congress. Nevertheless it has many other obligations and it is on this basis that an appeal will be made for a larger enrollment than ever during the Annual Roll Call, Armistice Day, November 11, to November 26.

EVOLUTION CUT FROM SCHOOL TEXT BOOKS

Austin, Texas, Oct. 15.—All references to evolution are to be eliminated from the text books used in the public schools of Texas, the State Text Book Commission, now in session here, has ordered.

The commission in adopting the book on "Biology for Beginners," by Truman J. Moon, ordered the elimination of three chapters dealing with the subject of evolution, and a resolution was passed providing that a contract would not be entered into with the publishers until such eliminations have been made. The committee on revision, of which T. J. Yoe is chairman, was instructed to so revise the book as to eliminate all reference to evolution.

The commission made no explanation as to whether the elimination was made on account of treatment by the author of evolution as a fact or theory. It was the commission's desire to have the subject of evolution kept out of the school books used in the public schools of Texas.

ONE BLACK MAN MUST NOT SWIPE ANOTHER'S WIFE

John Black, negro, was shot and killed at Robert Reynold's place in the Croton community Tuesday evening. Another negro by the name of Shelton did the shooting. It seems that Black stole Shelton's wife while in Waco and then came here to pick cotton, bringing her with him. Shelton followed them and when they met the shooting took place.

Shelton and his wife are now in the county jail at Dickens.—Spur Times.

Queer Jungle Calls of Dahomey Natives

When the barefooted black men travel in their own country they move as silently as specters. If they are not talking, or singing, or shrilly calling to each other, one does not hear them approach unless it be by the low rustle of their bodies against the leaves.

On such occasions, a file of them winding through the bushes suggests a party of shades bound on some Stygian expedition.

"O-Kou! O-Kou! O-Kou!"

That is the jungle greeting of the Dahomey black man. As soon as two travelers catch sight of each other in the distance they begin to shout this call. As they approach they lower their voices until the "O-Kou" sinks to a mere murmur as they pass; then it rises again louder and louder as they separate until lost in the distance.

"O-Kou! O-Kou! O-Kou!"

A greeting filled with fear. Doubtless it means something like this: "I know where you are! I know where you are!"—Henri de Kerillis in L'Echo de Paris.

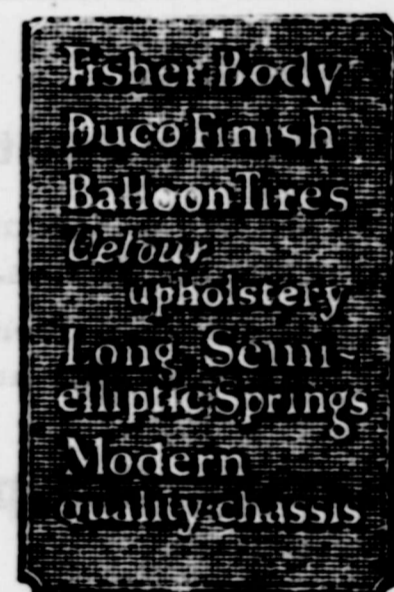

Believed Black Cats Inhabited by Satan

There is no "good luck" portent more generally believed in than that connected with black cats. If one enters the house it must not be driven away. If we meet one in the street, the omen is good, and if it should come and rub itself against us, our luck is right in. Promptly we stoop and stroke it—to make quite certain.

If that is your custom, do you know that you are propitiating the Evil One? Your ancestors in the Middle Ages hated black cats. They regarded them as being inhabited by Satan himself, or, at any rate, by one of his evil spirits. So when they stroked a black cat it was not to bring good luck but to avert ill-luck. By pleasing the cat they turned the devil from his wicked purpose. If you condemn the notion as silly and superstitious, why do you continue it?

She looked up at him as though he were the source of all wisdom. He was not flustered. "That," he replied with conviction, "that is the day-blooming variety."

RED CROSS YEAR A RELIEF RECORD

Huge Relief Work After Midwest Tornado the Greatest in American Annals.

DISASTERS DROP IN 1925

Ranged From Fire to Earthquake and Covered Wide Area at Home and Abroad.

Virtual completion of the largest peace-time project of post-disaster rehabilitation ever known has been accomplished by the American Red Cross in less than a year, as a part of its relief work in the more than 80 disasters in which it served in the past year.

This great program was undertaken following the tornado which struck five mid-western States last spring, killing 194 people, injuring 2,729 more, and causing incalculable property loss. It left a huge area of devastation in its wake, presenting a real problem. The Red Cross, however, went to work on the heels of the storm, caring for the injured, sheltering and feeding whole communities, and aiding every individual sufferer from the destruction back to normal.

The magnitude of the problem is indicated by comparison of its huge casualty list with that of the entire preceding year, whose combined losses were 735 dead and not quite 2,000 injured, as a result of the record number of 182 catastrophes.

The story of the Red Cross service in the past year, recounted by the report, ranges from fires handling the list of destructive forces with 23 disasters, to mine explosions, tornadoes, typhoons, floods and earthquakes.

The Santa Barbara earthquake was among the outstanding events recorded in the report. The Red Cross had completed its relief organization on the scene within a few hours of the disaster, and in addition had launched a program designed to permanently restore every person affected by it to his former status once more.

The Red Cross service in the period following the wreck of the Navy ship "Sennard" was typical of its promptness and effectiveness. Service in this instance was afforded by Red Cross chapters in the vicinity of the wreck, and by representatives of the national organization. It demonstrates graphically the value of each of the more than 1,000 chapters of the society which are at work in virtually every part of the country, in the facility they afford the national organization in emergency.

There were 61 domestic disaster operations reported in which the Red Cross rendered service either through chapter or national staff personnel during the year. In 24 of these the national organization appropriated a total of $3,947,256.53, the greater portion of which was received as direct contributions for the relief of specific disasters. The relief operations following the northern Ohio tornado of June, 1924, were brought to a close in May, 1925, after an arrangement had been made with the Lorain chapter to provide expert services to the families of any tornado sufferers who required such assistance in the next two years. In this single disaster the relief work, as finally accounted, reached a total of $1,612,751.23.

The mid-western tornado of this year, covering a strip of territory 400 miles long involved an expenditure up to June 30 of $774,980, while the total amount turned in to the fund through the agency of the Red Cross was $2,643,000.00. In addition to this sum specifically collected for the purpose, the Red Cross had expended from its regular reserves $124,000.

In all these disasters, Red Cross workers have been impressed by the spirit of determination and helpfulness shown by the people. Once they recovered from their grief and bewilderment, they began at once to rebuild, materially and otherwise, and always on a better scale where possible. Another significant feature of these occurrences, as noted in the report of the Red Cross, was the promptness with which the local chapters organized emergency relief headquarters could be received from outside sources. A direct effect of their example has been to stimulate disaster relief preparedness among chapters all over the country.

The services of the American Red Cross are performed invariably in the name of the American people. On the effectiveness of this representation during the past year, it will launch the ninth annual roll call this year on November 11, to continue until Thanksgiving, November 26, during which support through membership will be invited for 1925.

What Becomes of Red Cross Sweaters? What becomes of the sweaters which the American Red Cross has asked for? In the first place, they are needed for the 30,000 disabled veterans still in hospitals this winter, the garments being in great demand. The surplus left from the war has been exhausted since the Armistice, hence the new call for the sweater-knitters to receive their needles, a call already being met.

The American Red Cross serves in your name; you can make it more effective by adding your name to its membership during the Roll Call, Nov. 11-26.

DIVERSIFICATION PROMOTED

Two elements in the West Texas agricultural situation right now lead support to the campaign for diversification that is being waged by various agencies. The one is a good fall season, which marks up possibilities for a good wheat and grain year to follow. This, set against the seasonally disappointing crop of West Texas cotton, argues in the price at which the most of the crop likely will be sold.

In regard to the latter one, it is not hard to look too deep under the surface to find the meaning. West Texas will receive a fair price that will return a profit in most cases. And it could have turned out that an immensely successful cotton crop, such as was expected two months ago, would have confronted West Texas to be a one-crop country next year.

With the possible disaster that would attend either failure of that crop or failure of the market for it.

Now West Texas has a splendid fall season. It means the planting of winter grains, wheat, rye and barley, for purposes of winter forage or for feed. Furthermore, it invites the farmer to plant a crop of sorghum to make next year's feed. The West Texas farmer will be wise if he follows the way nature is thus pointing. West Texas must continue to be a grain cotton country, but West Texas can prosper most from its advantage in this respect if it does not have to log feed and feed with money it gets from cotton. Diversification—feed and feed first—is the word.

No conqueror can make the multitude different from what it is; no statesman can carry the world's affairs beyond the ideas and capacities of the generation of adults with which he deals; but teachers—I use the word in the widest sense—can do more than either conqueror or statesman; they can create a new vision and liberate the latent powers of our kind.—H. California is said to be experimenting now with a state owned auto insurance company, and are forcing the people to take out this insurance on their cars. To our notion this is just a bit of socialism, and means only that people will become more reckless in driving if the state insures the old rattle-trap bus for probably more than it is worth. Our national and state governments should stay just as much out of private business as is possible to render the best service to people.

We often hear people unthoughtfully say something about worshipping according to the dictates of their own conscience. This is rather a loose way of expressing one's self, for the conscience is not an infallible guide. For instance: Paul followed his conscience in persecuting Christians. He latter said of his conduct, "I verily thought I was doing God's service," but he was mistaken because his conscience had not been taught. As soon as he saw the truth he quit persecuting Christians. Don't depend too much on your conscience.

News dispatches relate the fact that a holdup victim gave his friend the band a 'kayo' recently in a very peculiar manner, and which was also entirely accidental. When asked at the point of dangerous looking six-pistol to elevate his pie grabbers, the victim did so hurriedly, and not only hurriedly, but to help matters unconsciously clinched his fists, and one of them coming up with force upped the bandit on the chin and lay him out. The intended victim put considerable distance between himself and the fallen holdup man.

There are weeds in some sections of Brownfield big enough to start up a distillery in, if it were not for the fact that frost will soon come and kill the weeds, when they would then blow away and leave the distillery exposed to the gaze of us teetottlers. Positively, these thistle patches are real dangers to our city. Should they become ignited after they become dry this winter they would burn like tinder, and endanger the whole city from fire. And as to their size, there is no room for joking as sure as you are born. We heard a citizen remark the other day that a bunch of Indians and a herd of buffalo could easily hide in the quarter block in the rear of the Higginbotham-Bartlett yard. We believe the authorities should force owners of lots with such fire hazards to clean them up before they are killed by frost and dry up and begin to roll all over town.

The Ralls Banner in its last issue appealed to its advertisers an "umble" manner to get their copy in as early as possible. Positively it will do no good, Hyatt. You've got to use rough stuff on your advertisers to get results. The Herald tried that old pleading method for a long time and these Brownfield birds paid no mind to it. So on one fine Monday morning we started around among our advertisers with a winchester under our left arm and a horse whip in our left hand and told them in pointed language just what to expect. We informed them that advertising copy must be inside the Herald office by noon each Wednesday, and that failure to do so meant a horse-whipping for the first two offenses, and the third offense would call for our edict to be enforced by use of the repeater, at sunrise promptly on Thursday following violation. Well, as not more than a third of them got their advertising in on time, we just told them to go to grass and eat mullen. You've got to be independent with 'em Dick-

Canyon.—A half million dollar building program for West Texas State Teachers College here is outlined by Dr. J. A. Hill president of the institution who announces he will ask the legislature for this amount for the next two year period. A $200,000 Library and Education building, a $175,000 Science building and improvement to present structures will constitute the program.

WATER SPORTS SAFER FOR RED CROSS WORK

Expert Life-Savers and Many Thousand Swimmers Reduce Annual Water Toll.

Water sports in the United States have never been so safe as they are today, a survey of the work done by Life-Saving experts of the American Red Cross in the past year indicates. Thousands of adults and young people were taught to swim proficiently by these experts during this period. In addition, 5,681 men, 4,187 women, and 13,024 juniors successfully passed the rigid tests of the Life Saving Service of the Red Cross. The total thus trained during the year—22,892—is 5,011 more than last year's results. The total membership of the Life Saving Corps of the Red Cross on June 30 was 72,310 persons.

Meeting the demand for qualified instructors and counselors in these camps, are the college men and women of the country, many devoting whole or part of their annual vacation periods to this field. Meeting the need of standardized instruction in Life-Saving, First-Aid, and kindred subjects, the American Red Cross conducted nine First-Aid and Life-Saving Camp Institutes this year with a total attendance of more than 600, in Maine, Massachusetts, New York, North Carolina, Indiana, Wisconsin, Oregon, and California. Representatives of Red Cross Chapters, summer camps, life guards at municipal pools and beaches, directors of physical education in schools, and others of this calibre made up the student body.

A number of city or regional institutions were conducted also during the winter at indoor pools to develop local experts. The aquatic school conducted by the New York Chapter was especially successful, it is stated. Inspired by this system, many camps, pools, bathing beaches, etc., have adopted in whole or in part, the Red Cross Life Saving and water-safety program. In the New England states alone, more than 150 camps employ counsellors trained in these methods. A partial survey indicates more than 80 cities using the Red Cross senior test as a minimum requirement for their municipal life guards. Educational institutions have turned to it with enthusiasm.

This widespread instruction besides creating unprecedented numbers of expert life-savers, is developing a vast body of Americans who are at home in the water. All contributes to safety the year-round, for swimming is a recognized all-year sport today, records show.

The danger from water accidents is ever-present however where proper safeguards are not taken and to broaden this valuable Red Cross Service is one of the reasons why increased membership in the Red Cross is urged. The Annual Roll Call, during which the opportunity to assist all Red Cross work in many lines of endeavor is extended, will be held from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, November 11-26.

Large Volunteer Work of Red Cross Volunteers under the Red Cross all over the United States are doing constantly for others, among their products being more than 90 per cent of the Braille reading matter for the blind, and a vast production of clothing and surgical dressings.

Frequent Bilious Attacks

"I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month," says Mr. J. P. Nevins, of Lawrenceburg, Ky. "I would get nauseated, I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. "A neighbor told me of

BLACK-DRAUGHT

 and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. It seemed to cleanse my whole system and made me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep, and could do twice the work."
 Bilious attacks are "seasonal" with many people. Millions have taken Theford's Black-Draught to ward off such attacks, and the good results they have reported should induce you to try it.

Dutch Women Smokers

Dutchmen as a rule are heavy smokers. When he gets up in the morning the average Dutchman immediately lights a cigar and on going to bed puts his cigar case on his night stand. It is no wonder, then, that Holland, with only 7,000,000 people, smoked 1,047,305,325 cigars and 2,542,488,300 cigarettes last year. Pipe smoking is not mentioned in the statistics. It is popular only among the working classes. But cigar smoking is on the decrease, while cigarette smoking increases. This is due partly to the fact that many Dutch women have overcome their objections to tobacco and have become smokers. Ladies of an older generation, however, still consider smoking an improper enjoyment and a sign of degeneration. Though there is a heavy duty in Holland cigars and other tobacco are rather cheap.

Their Escape

"The bank was robbed just before I got to town," stated Farmer Fumblegate upon his return from the county seat. "I met the robbers escaping in a motorcar, as I was about to turn into the new road."
 "My goodness!" ejaculated Mrs. Fumblegate. "What did you do?"
 "I driv' right along without knowing who they were. When I saw men acting crazy and running about I inquired what the matter was, and was told of the robbery. They said that just as the robbers clumb into their car Constable Slackputter began to sneeze, and the robbers were four miles away as the crow flies before he could get his mouth shut."—Kansas City Star.

Lighting Earth's Interior

Vieling with the lighting of the Timpanogos cavern in Utah, is the illumination, recently completed, of the Shenandoah caverns of Virginia. Hundreds of electric lights, ranging from 100 to 500 watts, are scattered through the caves, requiring over eight miles of lead cable and a complete generating station, located outside the cave.

X-Rays Remove Corns

Science is coming to the relief of the man with corns. It is now claimed that with a single treatment with X-rays, a large corn can be removed in one piece with no vestige remaining, and leaving a smooth, healthy skin.—Popular Science Monthly.

French Golden Epoch

The golden era of French literature occurred in the reign of Louis XIV, famous for the splendor of his court and his disregard for his people. Cornelle, Racine, Moliere, La Fontaine and Bossuet adorned this epoch.

Concrete Streets in TEXAS

Breckenridge

Breckenridge is one of the fastest growing little cities in Texas. This rapid growth brought her face to face with a difficult problem—that of providing paved streets that would stand the immense increase in swiftly moving automobiles and pounding motor trucks.

When the city's present paving program was launched in 1924, the city officials wanted to build paving that would reflect credit on their administration and give the property owners full value for every dollar spent. After careful investigation they chose portland cement concrete.

The initial contract was for only 16,000 square yards but property owners were so well pleased with this pavement that additional contracts have been let totaling more than 60,000 square yards.

A well planned street paving program is a gilt-edged investment. A concrete street means continuous dividends—not perpetual expense.

Our booklet R-1 tells many interesting things about concrete streets. Write for your copy

'Service' is Our Motto

IT DOES NOT APPLY TO ABSTRACTS OF TITLE

We mean the popular saying "What you don't know won't hurt You."

It won't hurt you as long as you don't know it, but if it's a cloud on the title, "There'll come a time some day" in the words of the song, when you want to sell your property, and the other fellow (if he takes it at all)—will want a big chunk off the price to offset the cloud.

At that time you will bitterly appreciate the value of an abstract which shows the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, about your title.

And you want to be sure that the clouds you know about are All there are.

No one in this country is so well equipped to furnish the complete, unassailable, unshakable truth about a title as we are. If you buy and sell property, you ought to know us, and we ought to know you.

You are cordially invited to call at my office.

AN ADVERTISING RECORD WORTHY OF EMULATION

Speaking of advertising, here is a record that has no equal. The Dallas News has been published for 40 years and never an issue has gone to press without Sanger Bros. advertising. Counting 365 days to the year, and an issue every day, you can figure for yourself how many advertisements the firm has carried for 40 years.—Blackwell Times.

And figuring an average of a half page per day at the rate of $2.50 per inch you may figure approximately the amount Sanger Brothers Dallas store has spent during the past forty years for advertising.—Noian County News.

Then makes some more figures on the subject of profits. Sanger Brothers started this great campaign of advertising and the store above mentioned on a capital of a few thousand dollars, and in this 40 years they have discovered that each thousand has turned into a million. Proof positive that advertising gets the money.—The Latest.

In the face of undisputed evidence and examples like the above we still find men who are trying to pass for merchants who refuse to advertise. They make up the big majority of commercial failures, and usually skin you when you spend money with them. Trade with the advertisers and get your money's worth.—Center Point News.

Ah—men!—Jayton Chronicle.

NO BOYCOTT INTENDED, BUT —LOOKOUT NEW YORK!

Behold what a fire a little blaze kindleth!

The Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church suggested that for its own good New York City might begin to watch its step. Now, with bread smiles, we read of the Board's intention to organize a boycott against New York and bring the matter to the attention of Congress.

What could Congress do? It could do something, it should do it. But the truth is that if anything is done it will have to be done by arousing the good people of New York.

As for boycotts: that is not the Methodist way nor the prohibition way. The last boycott of which we heard was the one organized by the brewers against the business men who supported prohibition.

Now consider the facts in the case:

1. New York is the center of American financial power and commercial leadership. It is the home of the American theater, the birthplace of plays. Most of the magazines are published there. So is most of the best selling fiction and non-fiction. Syndicate matter proceeds from New York to thousands of newspapers. The influence of the city is almost incalculable, and that influence is bad.

2. Now, for instance, New York has handled its trust in the matter of theaters right? Formerly when the city was controlled by the old American element, the American theatre was not without faults, but still the cleanest in the world. Today it is naked, profane, blasphemous and salacious. Two years ago, general indignation was expressed because of the type of plays coming out of New York to the "provinces." Did New York do anything about it? Not a thing. A big bluff at cleaning up was offered, but today the theater is just as bad as ever. There is no use to say that the city government could not correct it if it wished. So long as they fail to do so, they are betraying a trust.

3. In the field of literature, New York has a dozen publishers who are grinding out a mass of literary garbage and filth upon the long-suffering American people. This stuff comes from other cities also, but most of it from New York.

4. Consider the character of anti-prohibition propaganda which is coming out of New York. The state will not allow its police to assist the federal government in enforcing the prohibition law. It is not simply argued that the law should be repealed, but it is constantly contended that violation of the law is an expression of freedom, and indication of intelligence and culture. This poisonous campaign of suggestion finds expression in a thousand ways in jokes, in vaudeville patter, in cartoons, in comic strips, in popular songs and even in slang. What is the effect of this suggestion upon the unthinking people of Kansas and Indiana and a score of other states which would have no difficulty whatever in enforcing prohibition but for this propaganda? It constitutes a direct incitement to crime, imposes a burden upon local and state police and costs the citizens of Kansas and Indiana, as well as other states, good hard tax money. They resent it; make no mistake about it.

New York is not in danger of a Congressional investigation. It is in danger of losing the proud affection westerners and southerners have held for it these many years. Let the west and the south become convinced that New York is a foreign city, run by foreigners in opposition to American ideals, let this infiltrating attack of propaganda continue to assail the "provinces," and there will be a loss of sympathy with the American metropolis which will be humiliating to every conscientious New Yorker.

Pensions for Professors

Exemption from duties with a pension "equal to the income they may enjoy" is obligatory for professors of secondary, commercial and special instruction in the public schools of Chile who have completed 20 years of service and have reached the age of fifty-five. The government may, for very special reasons, authorize these employees to continue performing their duties for five years more. This is provided in degree law No. 387, promulgated March 12, 1925, and officially reported to the State department by William Miller Collier, United States ambassador at Santiago.

Beginning Patent System

The foundation of the patent system was first established in England when the statute of monopolies was passed in 1623. The first patent act was passed by the first congress of the United States in 1790, and the first patent office in America was established in 1836.

Clever Chimpanzees

Chimpanzees have shown remarkable intelligence. Cases are recorded of these apes putting four boxes one on top of another, to reach a desired object, and of fitting one stick into another in order to get possession of something outside their cages.

Gains 142,000 Members in Year
in Schools Throughout
United States.

A new high level in peace time membership of the American Junior Red Cross is recorded for 1925—its ranks numbering 5,738,648 school girls and boys—a gain of 142,000.

This unique and powerful children's organization started as a war measure, but today is one of the greatest influences for peace ever known. An increasing participation in local programs of service has featured their year's growth. It is indicated that to a greater degree than ever pupils in the schools are performing individual and collective acts of service in a true Red Cross spirit.

The success of the Junior swimming program, launched last year through co-operation of the Life-Saving Service of the Red Cross, has led to a determination to make it a regular feature of both these branches.

An outstanding feature of the Juniors' work this year was the participation for the first time of a Junior Red Cross worker in the disaster relief operations following the tornado in Missouri, Illinois, and Indiana. Schools in many more fortunate localities displayed a keen interest in sending toys and books for the use of the children in the disaster area.

The Junior Red Cross program has flourished not alone in settled communities, but has been extended to Indian schools, and to native Alaskan schools where many Eskimo children undertook Junior work. In addition, the international correspondence between schools is proving more and more popular. American schools are now corresponding with those in thirty-four countries.

Strong Membership Appeal In Red Cross Disaster Relief

Asking themselves "What if disaster should visit our city?" the leading citizens of many communities of the United States have adopted the Scout motto to "Be Prepared."

Impressed by the frequency and the wide range of peace time calamities in their country, they have organized their communities with the thoroughness which normal conditions permit, against the possibility of a time when there will be no chance for thought or plan. Red Cross chapters in many localities are similarly prepared.

Red Cross First Aid Popular in America As Accidents Gain

The rapidly mounting toll from traffic accidents has brought home to the public the necessity of being prepared to render prompt assistance while awaiting the doctor. During the past year 356 chapters of the American Red Cross were instructing classes in First Aid, and in the same period certificates were issued to 26,601 persons qualified by Red Cross experts.

Many cities throughout the United States are showing interest in securing first aid instruction for their police and fire department personnel, and through the work of local chapters, practical results have been obtained in such cities as Washington, D. C.; Toledo, O.; Boston, Mass.; South Bend and Indianapolis, Ind.; Port Arthur, Texas, and other communities. In co-operation with the State authorities, intensive training in first aid and rescue methods has been given to State police and constabulary members at four State training schools.

Instruction in these subjects in public and private schools, colleges and universities has increased during the year. Attention has been given to training teachers at institutes and summer schools.

The Red Cross first aid railroad car has been in continuous operation throughout the year. It covered 10,340 miles, visiting 137 cities, where 1,200 meetings were conducted by the surgeons, with a total of 146,827 people.

Industries particularly have availed themselves of the instruction afforded by the Red Cross. The Western Electric Company, for example, reports a reduction of the accident rate per 1,000 employees.

MAIDS & MATRON CLUB

The home of Mrs. F. M. Ellington was the scene of a most enjoyable meeting of the Maids and Matrons Club on Tuesday afternoon, with Miss Treadaway as leader.

The business session opened with Mrs. Dallas at the piano, and the club sang "Sweet and Low" and "Auld Lang Syne."

English current events were given by Mrs. Endersen. Mrs. A. M. Brownfield gave a very interesting talk on the marriage of Queen Victoria.

Miss Elizabeth Dumas gave the life, character and ambition, and part in politics of the Prince Consort, followed by the last verse of "Rock of Ages" by the club. Mrs. Dallas discussed court life in Queen Victoria's reign, with illustrations of the dress of the time, and most charmingly rendered "My Heart is in the Highlands," a favorite song of Prince Albert and Queen Victoria. The club will meet with Mrs. W. A. Bell, Tuesday, Nov. 10th.

The hostess served dainty refreshments to the following members: Mesdames Bell, Bowers, Brownfield, Dallas, Endersen, King, Lewis, McBurnett, Randal, Sawyer, Stricklin, and Misses Nancy and Elizabeth Dumas, Jefferies and Treadaway.—Reporter.

Hall, for good and valuable consideration, made and executed his certain promissory note bearing date of Sept. 21, 1923 payable to Plaintiff herein in the sum of $728.73, that there was due on said note principal and interest on the 21st day of September, 1925, the sum of $890.66, together with an additional 10 per cent as attorney's fees.

Hall Jr. for a good and valid consideration made and executed their certain promissory note in the sum of $728.73, that there was due on said note on the 21 day of September 1925, the sum of $890.66 principal and interest, plus an additional 10 per cent as attorney's fees.

Plaintiff alleges and would show the Court, that there is now due on said several notes as of the 21 day of September 1925 the sum of $6,080.06 that none of said sum has been paid, tho' often have the plaintiffs herein requested payment. That said defendants fails and refuses to pay the same or any part thereof to Plaintiff's damage. Plaintiff would further represent, that on the 19th day of December these defendants made and executed to Plaintiff a certain deed of Trust on all of survey No. 83, surveyed by virtue of Certificate No. 42, issued to D. & W. Ry. Company as original grantee, located in Block T, of Terry County, Texas, that said deed of trust was given securing the payment of said above notes in all their details of payment.

That Plaintiffs herein were forced to pay the taxes on the above described land to protect their interest for the year 1924, which was the sum of $75.35, plus an additional sum of $369.00 interest to Chas. Baird who holds a superior lien to this plaintiff against the above described land. That said sum totals $444.35 together with an additional 10 per cent as attorney's fees. Making a grand total due this plaintiff by these above named defendants the sum of $6,533.33, which is past due.

Wherefore, premises considered, Plaintiff prays judgement for its debts, and for a foreclosure of its Mortgage lien on the above described land, and that an order of sale issue to the Sheriff of Terry County, Texas, commanding him to seize and sell the above described property and that the proceeds of said sale be applied in satisfaction of the above indebtedness. If said land should sell for more than enough to pay off said indebtedness, then the residue to be turned over to the defendants herein after all costs have been paid, and for such other relief, special and general in law and in equity that Plaintiff may be justly entitled to, for which in duty bound it will ever pray.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Brownfield, this 25th day of September, 1925.

District Court Terry County, Texas

PHILADELPHIA IN THE WINTER OF 1777-78

Located in what is considered the richest agricultural belt in the country, Philadelphia offers to feed visitors to the Sesquicentennial Exposition next summer with choicest vitals. Its reputation as a farming center dates back to Revolutionary War days. In fact, the fertility of the surrounding country had much to do with the decision of the British to occupy the city during the winter of 1777-78. If it had not been for the strategy of Washington, the British troops would have feasted royally during the period.

When it was learned that Sir William Howe, commander of the British forces, was marching on the city, nervous suspense gripped the inhabitants. They hoarded their money, carried their silver and secreted as much imperishable food as their cellars would hold.

The suspense ended one day in September, 1777, when a squadron of the dragoons galloped down one of the main streets. These were followed by a column of grenadiers, brilliant in their red coats and red caps fronted with silver shields. Behind the grenadiers came the hated Hessians, barbaric looking in their fierce mustaches and towering brass headgear. As soon as they were within the city, the British commandeered all foodstuffs, and prepared to establish a line of supply reaching out into the fertile fields of the surrounding country. The idea was good, but Washington would not have it that way.

A month passed and he swept down upon the main encampment at Germantown, a short distance north of the city. In the battle that followed, his forces were defeated by superior British numbers, but it taught the occupants that they could not venture too far out without danger. Later Washington went into his winter camp at Valley Forge, only twenty miles from the city, and the British found themselves in a state of virtual siege.

An extract from a letter written by a British officer at the time gives an idea of the wisdom of Washington's action:

"Beef is nine shillings per pound, and bread costs six shillings a quarter loaf."

J. C. Preston, of the Pride community was in the city Saturday and informed us that he lost his wife Sept. 25, which although nearly a month ago, we had never heard the sad news. Mrs. Preston had been almost an invalid for years, but had borne her suffering like a martyr, and was a sweet gentle mother and wife as long as she was permitted to live in this world of suffering and cares. The body was laid gently to rest in the Pride cemetery on the 26th of Sep-

BRISBANE NOTES THE AMERICAN TELEPHONE

World leadership in electrical development and in modernizing the telephone system belongs to the United States, according to Arthur Brisbane, noted editor. In a recent issue of the New York American Mr. Brisbane says:

"England will spend $425,000,000 for electrical development, $150,000,000 to bring the British telephone system up to date.

"In telephones the world can learn from the United States. Look at the map of north and south America. Unless it is very big you can hardly see a little piece of ground called 'Long Island,' yet Long Island, which includes Brooklyn and Queens, has more telephones than there in the whole of South America, all those great Republics, and Long Island has more telephones than there are in the whole of France.

RED CROSS FINANCES SHOW WIDE SERVICES

Past Year Cost $10,321,679.80: Duty to Ex-Service Men Paramount.

Washington.—The national and international services of the American Red Cross are portrayed graphically in a statement of the Red Cross finances for the past fiscal year ended June 30, 1925. Expenditures by the Red Cross (including both the National Organization and the Chapters) during this period aggregated $10,321,679.80.

The obligation of the American Red Cross to the ex-service and service men is represented in this sum by a total expenditure of $4,225,292.61. In the interests of disabled veterans, the Red Cross expended $3,577,916.42, of which $1,677,916.42 came from the National Organization, and $1,900,000 from the more than 3,000 Chapters and local branches of the society. Red Cross services to the men of the Regular Army and Navy the past year called for $647,376.19, of which the National Organization furnished $110,376.19, and the Chapters, $537,000.

Sharing in importance with this responsibility was the Red Cross work of disaster relief during the year. In these operations there was absorbed a total of $1,922,782.99 up to June 30, this year. This represented $1,622,732.90 of National Organization funds and $300,000 from the Chapters. Relief in foreign disasters amounted to $285,579.35. This sum was appropriated altogether by the National Organization.

Insular and foreign operations of the American Red Cross during the year included relief in foreign disasters, the League of Red Cross Societies, Junior Red Cross Foreign Projects, assistance to insular Chapters, and similar functions. Besides its disaster relief, the National Organization financed these other branches of foreign work also, including $110,238.72 for assistance to insular chapters, $177,450 for the League of Red Cross Societies, $84,384.43 for Junior projects abroad, and $80,957.62 for other insular and foreign operations.

In addition to its paramount duty to assist veterans and other service men and their families, and its disaster relief, the Red Cross expended at home through its national and chapter funds, a total of $1,029,616.05 for its Public Health Nursing Service; $154,135.09 for nutrition instruction; $314,422.76 for First Aid and Life Saving; $445,707.34 for Junior Red Cross; $132,759.88 for instruction in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick; and carried on similarly important home duties. Included in the latter were such valuable services as the Enrolled Nurses' Reserve, for which the National Organization expended $45,562.64; while other national operations at home amounted to $302,957.64. The chapters, in addition to the large part they played in all Red Cross activity, spent $678,000 of their own

Power of States Wide

Powers of congress are great within limits specifically laid down, but all where the powers are not mentioned. For instance congress cannot legislate on matters concerning health, labor or education of the American people. The Constitution gives congress the right to nothing except what it specifically authorizes. On the other hand the states can do anything that is not forbidden.

The Travelers

Four-year-old Bobby and eight-year-old Janet were amusing themselves with a game of "travels" in the garden.

Suddenly Janet cried: "Oh, dear! I must go back. I've forgotten my face powder."

"I must go back!" Bobby immediately repeated. "I've forgotten my powder, too."

"Silly!" Janet told him proudly. "Boys don't use face powder."

"Well, then," replied Bobby, quite humbly. "What is it I've forgotten?"—L'Echo de Paris.

Cotton picking is the order of the day with those who have cotton to pick.

P. M. Williams of Liberty and Mrs. Beall of Plains, drove over to Johnson last Friday morning and were quietly married by Rev. Tannery. They then drove on to Brownfield and Tahoka, and aimed to go on to Stamford, but the rain turned them back.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Huskey were in town Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Massengill were there Thursday with a bale of cotton.

Mr. M. Taylor came in from Roswell, N. M., Friday, with another load of apples.

According to O. E. Johnson, cotton statistician for Terry county for the Bureau of Census, there were only 325 bales of cotton ginned in Terry county from Oct. 1, compared with 1,006 bales at same period last year.

Mr. Epperson of the Pride county was seen in our city Saturday morning, bringing her many old time acquaintances.

BANNER WON

The Christian Endeavor workers of the Brownfield Presbyterian Church attended the Endeavor Conference at Lamesa, Sunday, October 10. They were entertained for lunch at the noon hour in the homes of the Presbyterian ladies, and most delicious dinners had been prepared for them. The Rev. Mr. Barber, Dr. Burmah, President of Trinity University and Doctor Fred Rodgers, Pastor at Lamesa, addressed the Conference Oct. 8, 9, and 10. Mrs. Rodgers, a most capable and consecrated worker among young people, presided at 2:00 o'clock at the Church. A great number from Brownfield attended, chaperoned by Mrs. E. G. Alexander, Supt. of Brownfield. Mrs. F. M. Ellington, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Griffin, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Lynn, and Mrs. Dallas.

A banner was offered to the church sending the largest delegation and at the conclusion of the afternoon exercises the Brownfield delegates were asked to stand, followed by others. The banner was presented to Mrs. Alexander who graciously accepted it for the Endeavorers. The banner is to be held for one year.

The Juniors were represented by Eileen Ellington. Rebecca May gave a piano number which was greatly appreciated. The Senior society gave a number also, using saxophone and piano, given by Dalores Lynn and James Dallas.

SWASTIKA NEEDLE CLUB

The Swastika Needle Club was delightfully entertained by Miss Irene Lindley, Monday. The house was called to order by the president, and a business session followed, in which a Holloween club party to be given by Miss Ohell Rentfro, was discussed.

After a pleasant evening spent in work and "gossip," delicious refreshments of hot chocolate, sandwiches, cake, and fruit salad were served to the following club members: Misses Rentfro, Lindley, Miller, Holt, Blanche and Geneva Brothers, Hahn and Graves, with Mesdames Roy Collier, Byrl Hahn and Brothers as guests.

The club will meet with Miss Thelma McPherson, next at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. H. F. Adams.—Reporter.

We understand that Judge H. R. Winston had rather a bad night Saturday at the Lubbock Sanitarium, as his lower limbs, or one of them rather, became paralyzed. But physicians in attendance said it was not unusual following operations, and that he would be alright again in a few days at the outside.

Burnet.—The first car load of 1925 pecans to move from Burnet county was shipped from Marble Falls, and another car is being loaded. The nuts found a ready market at a good price.

J. R. Carver is building a new rent house on his farm south of town.

LEGION AND RED CROSS HAVE SPECIAL AFFINITY

At the recent National Convention of the American Legion at Omaha, Oct. 5 to 9, Commander James A. Drain of that organization spoke enthusiastically of the assistance given the Legion by the American Red Cross in the work for ex-service men since the close of the great World War.

Introducing Judge John Barton Payne, Chairman of the American National Red Cross and one of the principal speakers at the Legion Convention, Comander Drain said in part: "The American Legion and the American Red Cross have a special affinity for each other. In a very large measure touching our rehabilitation service, the two have been working hand in hand and in full partnership. The American Legion owes the American Red Cross a debt which it can never repay except through service to others, because you will know, men and women of the Legion, that for three years previous to this year, but for the generosity of the American Red Cross, it would not have been possible for the American Legion to properly carry on its rehabilitation work.

Prolonged applause followed Comander Drain's remarks.

Dr. W. M. Copeland came in one day last week and renewed for the Herald to go to his little grand-son, Paul Campbell, of DeLeon.

Old Idea That Moon Rises in East

If you were asked where the moon rises you would probably say, "In the east." And you would be wrong. True, we see it coming up above the eastern horizon at night, but that is simply because the earth, by turning in its direction, brings it into view. In reality, the moon "rises" in the west. If there is any doubt on the point, all that it is necessary to do is to watch its progress across the sky night after night.

It would seem to be moving from right to left; that is, from west to east. The stars prove this. One night it will be near a star in the west and the next night near another star a good way to the left, or east; then farther to the east the following night, and so on.

The moon, in short, has risen or come up out of the west, and is journeying across the sky to the east. Nothing is more easily demonstrated, because the stars themselves are there to mark the track.

New Proposition to Make Desert Useful

The suggestion was made recently that the Sahara might become the greatest power-station in the world by the utilization of the heat of its countless miles of burning sand.

This is a new idea in the way of making the desert useful; but when we remember how electrical power is obtained from water, as in the case of Niagara, and even from the wind, this latest suggestion cannot be dismissed as impracticable.

It is certainly unlikely that the deserts of the world will be permitted to remain indefinitely as they are at present. New territory is constantly being opened up in the search for new sources of food and raw materials, the latest development in this direction being a plan for making the French possessions in the Sudan into a great cotton-growing and cattle-raising country.

Duty of Literature

That the world is "teeming with scoundrels of both sexes" is true. Human nature is imperfect, and therefore it would be strange to see on earth none but the righteous. To believe that it is the duty of literature to dig out "pearls" from the heap of scoundrels is to reject literature itself. Fiction is called artistic because it draws life as it actually is. Its aim is absolute and honest truth. To narrow its function to the special task of digging for "pearls" is just as deadly for it as if you were to make Levitan paint a tree and ordered him not to include the dirty bark nor the yellow leaves.—From the "Life and Letters of Anton Tchekhov," by S. S. Kobeliansky and Philip Tomlinson.

Easy to Demonstrate

The problem of the revolution of a wheel may be explained by the fact that the top is moving forward in the direction in which the vehicle is progressing, while the bottom is moving backward or in an opposite direction. To demonstrate this in a practical way, take a coin, mark points at the top and bottom as A and B. Make a mark at the starting point directly beneath A and B upon whatever surface the coin is to be rolled. Roll the coin forward a quarter revolution. It will be seen that A moves upon a radius equal to the diameter of the circle and by actual measurement A has moved a greater distance and described a greater curve than B.

Expert Repairing

We have heard a good deal of late years of invisible mending, and it is a fact that some of the experts in this work can repair the worst rents in tweeds or stiffs without leaving a trace of their handiwork. The most remarkable feat in this direction stands to the credit of the Gobelins tapestry factory in Paris.

Some years ago the priceless tapestry representing the entry of Louis XIV into Dunkirk was stolen, and when recovered had been cut into a dozen pieces. This great length of embroidery has been repaired so perfectly that even the most careful examination reveals no sign of the cuts.

Ancient Gates and Weirs

On the Exeter (England) ship canal gates were recently removed which had been in continuous duty for 400 years. Even this, however, was not the oldest waterway contrivance in existence in Great Britain. An ancient stone weir, dating from 1100, was adapted a year or two since to drive machinery for supplying Chester with electricity, and part of the canal connecting the Trent and William navigations in the Foss dyke, which the Romans cut during their occupation of Britain.

Trees and Lightning

No tree is immune from lightning but among trees of the same kind the one standing well above its neighbors is in most danger, even in a dense forest. This may be due to the greater height of the trees or the kind of ground it stands on. Trees growing in the open are in more danger than those in a thick stand of timber, as are also those growing along an avenue or border of woods. Those growing in moist soil along the banks of a stream are better conductors for lightning than those growing in drier soil.—Exchange.

CIVILIZATION BUILT ON A BACK GROUND OF FARM LIFE

Fort Worth, Oct. 19.—"Farm civilization is not a matter of merely growing more corn and more hogs at less expense. Spiritual and esthetic values are a reality. They must be built into the background of our farm life in the same way as the Danes have built their rural high schools," says Wallace Farmer.

"Our greatest need here in the United States today is a greater teacher in spiritual values in terms which the farmer can understand. We can yet build on the farms the finest type of living which the world has ever seen. Also we have the choice of wrecking this marvelous soil by farming it with people who have come by bitter experience to feel that they are an insignificant cog in a predominantly commercial nation. I want to say an agricultural civilization is worth the while in its own right. The chief end of a nation which hopes to endure is not to build up merely a city civilization. We must have fine and enduring satisfaction in farm neighborhoods. Here is a matter to challenge the constructive imagination of the biggest men in the United States. For the time being I feel that we need two classes of men, one class of hard fighting, clear thinking diplomats to keep the agricultural point of view to fore at Washington and the other men of artistic and spiritual temperament who will continually hold before us the vision of the kind of life which we can eventually build."

T. M. Blakley, of Abilene is here again this fall selling pedigreed Mebane cotton seed. It is no longer a question whether or not it pays to plant good, high producing seed, or high germinating seed. It has long since been learned that cotton seed soon run out if not constantly improved, and the many poor stands in this county this year forcefully attest the fact that low germinating seed should not be planted. Demand a good germinating test when buying any kind of seed.

Expert Archery

Philadelphia has played an important part in American archery. Its suburbs have produced two national champions, and the first archery association in the United States was the United Bowmen of Philadelphia, formed in 1828.

The annual contest drew as many as 2,000 spectators. There must have been something of the flavor of the days of Merrie England about it, when the king's archers were his strongest and bravest and most valiant knights. Then a Welsh archer shot an arrow through an oak door four inches thick, "with such force the shaft penetrated a hand's breadth on the other side." And the English archers then advanced one step forward and shot their arrows with such quickness it seemed as if it snowed.

Use for the Cork

A young woman called at the house of a doctor, and, after discoursing on all the topics of the day, began to tell him her ailments. Among other things, she said she was greatly alarmed by a "sinking feeling."

The doctor prepared a bottle of medicine and gave it to her, with directions as to how it should be taken. The woman talked on and on, until at length, after many vain efforts on the doctor's part to get rid of her, she made for the door. She had just opened it when she turned and said:

"Oh, doctor, what shall I do if this medicine does not cure me?"

"Take the cork," he retorted. "They tell me that cork is good for a sinking feeling."

Egyptian Belief

The Egyptians believe that the entrance into the hidden land lay to the west, where the sun disappeared, which explains why the tombs of the Egyptians are all on the west bank of the Nile.

Sign of Age

There's a hint of sophistication in the reply of a youngster to the question regarding his auntie's age. "I don't know 'zactly how old she is," he replied, "but a cup of tea rests her."—Boston Transcript.

Preserved Charter

The Charter oak is a tree famous in American history. It stood in Hartford, Conn., and derived its name from the following circumstance: In 1687, Sir Edmund Andros, the royal governor, appeared at Hartford and demanded the charter of the colony in the name of James II of England. While the assembly, in session at Hartford, was considering the governor's request, the lights were suddenly extinguished; and, in the darkness and confusion that ensued, the charter was snatched from the table by a patriot, Capt. William Wadsworth, and secreted in the hollow of an oak tree. This tree, which was ever after known as the Charter oak, was carefully preserved until 1856, when it was destroyed in a violent storm. The charter was renewed when William and Mary ascended the throne in 1689.—Kansas City Times.

Good Story, Anyway

The popular story of how the Spanish province of Andalusia acquired its name is told by Eleanor Elmer in one of her travel books. "Early explorers entering the province met a peasant indolently driving a mule over a pass; they begged him to tell them the name of this sunny and pleasant land, presumably in a language or dialect of which he understood never a word. He looked them over, silent and smiling in the usual Spanish fashion, then, turning to his mule, called out, 'Andia, Lucia,' which simply meant 'Go on, Lucia,' but the strangers took it to be the name of the country, which they registered on their rough charts as Andalusia."

Misplaced Sympathy

When Sir Henry Hawkins, the famous judge, was practicing at the bar, on one occasion having the prisoner's children present in the courtroom during his summing up, by his pathetic references to these weeping children he so worked on the sympathies of the jurors that they promptly set the prisoner free. A few days later a friend told him he had been walking in the neighborhood of the prisoner's home during the early days of the trial and had seen these same children playing at hanging a cat, at the same time singing at the top of their voices: "This is the way daddy will go."

Earth's Population

Ernest George Ravenstein, geographer and statistician, estimated the population of the earth at 1,487,900,000 in 1890, and his figures stood unchanged for some years. Another computation made in the early '90s put the total at 1,440,650,000. Estimates of the world's population today range from 1,750,000,000 to 1,850,000,000.

Gave Name to Fruit

Shaddock is another name for grapefruit. The pomelo, shaddock, or grapefruit (Citrus decumana) is a native of southern China. This fruit is more sour than an orange but less sour than a lemon. The name pomelo is from the Dutch name Pompelemoes. Shaddock was the name of a captain who brought the fruit to the West Indies. By some authorities a distinction is made between shaddock and grapefruit, shaddock being the larger, the grapefruit the smaller, having a fine flavor. They are grown plentifully in Jamaica, Cuba, California and most Oriental countries.

Dogs Without Tails

A curious breed of dogs is owned by Enara and Kantokimo, Laplanders. These dogs are born without tails, which is considered a very fortunate characteristic, in that the wolves cannot have that member to catch hold of in a chase. The wolves prey upon the Lapps' reindeer, which the dogs are trained to guard, with the result of frequent free-for-all fights. The tailless dog was not always thus, but in the result of the docking process practiced upon generations of ancestors until now he is born without a tail.

Held as Tomb of Rachel

The tomb of Rachel is a Mohammedan wely, or tomb, marking the burial place of Rachel, the wife of the patriarch, Jacob. It is situated about five miles north of Bethlehem. Jewish, Christian and Mohammedan tradition agree in identifying this spot with the tomb of Rachel, the wife of Jacob. "And Rachel died, and was buried in the way to Ephrath, which is Bethlehem. And Jacob set a pillar upon her grave: that is the pillar of Rachel's grave unto this day."—Genesis 35: 19-20.—Kansas City Star.

MEMORIAL ARCHWAY AT UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS

Austin, Oct. 21.—The Littlefield Memorial Archway for the University of Texas boys killed in the World War will be erected at the south entrance to the University campus within two years, according to H. A. Wroe of Austin, executor of the Geo. W. Littlefield estate.

The Statutes which will adorn the archway are being designed and cast in New York City at a cost of $250,000 by Pompeii Coppini, a Texas sculptor.

W. S. Copeland is another of our leaders that has only to be reminded that he is due to pay up and he does so gladly. He does not consider a "reminder" as a "dun." Give us more such folks.

Alton Webb, one of our hustling young men, renewed for the Herald recently. And yet there a few men of families who do not take their home paper.

J. S. Powell and wife, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Rufus Rush and little son, of Lubbock, left last week for Fort Worth, where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. Austin Anderson and family.

J. C. Bond made a trip to Lubbock Monday, and found his son, Walter, who was operated on last week, doing nicely, also other Terryites who happen to be up there apparently are doing nicely.

J. C. Johnson, hustling young planter of the Union community dropped in recently and got on the right side of our subscription ledger.

E. I. Hill Jr. and wife, of Tahoka, were pleasant callers at the Herald office Tuesday, passing through here on their way from Lubbock and other places. E. I. is the son of the editor and publisher of the Lynn County News, and not only a booster for Tahoka, but is an enthusiastic newspaperman from jump go, and we love to talk shop with him. Call again, gentle folks.

CAN LIGHT STREETS IN DIFFERENT WAYS

Adequate street illumination is a vital necessity, since it is essential to the safety, comfort and convenience of the public, says the American City. Street lighting has not kept pace with modern traffic development, largely because of a lack of standards and of the difficulty of appraising any system except by seeing it.

To remedy this condition, and to provide actual demonstrations of various methods of street lighting, the city of Cleveland, in co-operation with the National Lamp Works, has recently completed the most remarkable lighting installation in the world.

A stretch of thoroughfare 2000 feet long on the outskirts of Cleveland, has been equipped with forty different lighting systems, by means of which visiting municipal authorities may determine the most desirable types of illumination for their particular needs.

On the model street are fixtures with lamps varying from 100 to 3000 candle power each; there are lighting systems with posts spaced from 75 to 900 feet apart, and there are lamp mountings varying in height from 11 to 26 feet above the sidewalk.

Harvey Blackstone, editor and publisher of the Meadow Review, was in our city Monday and announced that he had purchased the plant of R. E. Haynes, of Lubbock, and would move it to Meadow in the next week or two. This is the same plant that Editor White had there last year, and maybe its second removal to Meadow will be a permanent one. However, the plant has been greatly added to in the way of new type faces since Editor White printed the Meadow Messenger on it. We wish the Review and Editor Blackstone, as well as the people of Meadow the greatest of prosperity and growth, and they will have both if they pull together.

G. D. Laker, popular young mechanic of this city, has opened a battery and radio repair station in the building just west of the Quality Filing station.

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapius.

More Scientific Proof—Please Page Aesculapius." We find the above caption in large letters in current number of the Herald. Here he is! It certainly appears that the above named contributor has and is having sufficient troubles without steering him against State Press.

This delectable gentleman has been wandering around, in and out of the mazes of journalism too long for the average correspondent to tackle. If he has any opinions I have failed to discover them in the many years I have read the old Dal-Gal.

However, I believe that evolution will be able to stand the jolts of such joke-smith as S. P.

Whether or not we could have such transmutations as from turtle to turtle-dove, or from the turtle dove to jack rabbit, I will leave to the primitive mind of S. P. However, there has been some wonderful things happened in transmutation along the lines of speech. I recently read in an old book, much honored by the vast majority of people, Num. 22-28, where an animal, equus asinus, held a conversation with his owner. This may have been just a surmise, but until he proves to the contrary I shall continue to believe the story, for we frequently find it verified in these modern times. I disclaim any application of this incident to the present case. It may be a surmise, an hypothesis, or it may have reached the dignity of a theory.

The little boy of Mr. Chesshir, whose illness was mentioned in last week's Herald, died at the Lubbock sanitarium Tuesday morning of pneumonia, and was buried in the Meadow cemetery the evening of the same day. A minister whose name we failed to get conducted the funeral services at the grave. The community deeply sympathizes with these good people in their bereavement:

"There is no death. What seems so is transition; This life of mortal breath Is but the superb of the clysiian. Whose portal we call death. Safe from temptation; safe from sin's pollution. He lives whom we call dead. There is no flock, however watched and tended, But one dead lamb is there; There is no fireside, howsoever defended, But has one vacant chair."

Mrs. J. D. Harris, our teacher of expression, and Miss Caloway, teacher of music, rendered a program at the school house Friday night. It was very entertaining, and the youngsters did their parts well. The teachers deserve great praise for their efforts.

FRIDAY 42 CLUB

Mrs. Pat Brothers entertained the Friday 42 Club Oct. 9th, inst.

Despite the bad, cold rainy evening there were enough present for three tables. After several games of 42 and lots of fun the hostess served hot chocolate, sandwiches and cake to the following:

Mesdames A. M. Brownfield, Collins, Randal, Webber, Holt, Chester Gore, W. C. Smith, D. Lewis, Holgate, McBurnett, Henderson, Glenn Harris, and Kendrick.—Reporter.

Happy.—Material is on the ground and work will begin at once on a high line to serve this city. The line is being built by the Texas Utilities Co. and will be built to this point from Canyon. Another line from Canyon to Hereford will be built as soon as the Happy line is completed.

TAHOKA CAR ACCIDENT VERY NEAR SERIOUS

A. R. McGonagill states that he was witness to a collision between two cars Sunday that almost proved to be serious. Three girls were driving along the paved street that extends from the courthouse square to the depot. When near the lumber yard one of the girls held out her hand and gave a signal that the car was about to turn. The four negroes driving along in a Ford behind them apparently paid no attention to the signal given by the girl, and as her car turned the negro driver ran his car into her Chrysler.

Considerable damage was done to the Chrysler, and probably some damage to the Ford, but none of the girls and none of the negroes were hurt. It was a careless bit of driving on the part of the negroes, according to Mr. McGonagill, and he felt that warning should be given them about the way they drive up and down the streets in the city.—Tahoka News.

MARRIED

Mr. R. H. Hollis and Miss Oma Lovelace, prominent young people of the Tokio community, drove in Sunday afternoon, Oct. 18, to the home of the bride's uncle, Bob Lovelace, and were united in marriage by Rev. C. E. Ball, local Baptist pastor.

The young couple will reside in the Tokio community where they are receiving the congratulations of their many friends.

SOUTHERN AND NORTHERN METHODISTS NOT TO JOIN YET

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 18.—The Methodist Episcopal church south frowns upon unification with northern Methodists, according to a total vote cast by 19 southern conferences. The vote to date was 3176 with 1296 for unification and 1280 against. A three-fourths majority is needed for ratification.

Twenty-eight southern conferences have yet to vote on the plan before the quadrennial general conference, when the results of the balloting will be announced.

Station.—A hot water boiler washing plant has been added to the Santa Fe shops here. The plant represents an investment of $50,000, and will enable the local shops to wash the boilers of all locomotives.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon Lewis Wasson by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 106th Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said 106th Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Terry County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Brownfield, Texas, on the 3rd Monday in January, 1926, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 23rd day of September, 1925, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 842, wherein Millie Wasson is Plaintiff, and Lewis Wasson is Defendant, and said petition alleging:

That plaintiff is an actual bona fide resident of the State of Texas, and has been for more than a year last past, and resided in the county of Terry for six months next preceding the filing of this suit. That on or about the 3rd day of December, 1911, plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married in the State of Oklahoma, and continued to live together as man and wife until on or about the first day of July, 1923. That plaintiff during the time that she lived and cohabitated with defendant as aforesaid, had four children, to-wit: A girl by the name of Margret-Ester, aged 11; a girl by the name of Ora-Lee, aged 8; a girl by the name of Eletha, aged 5 and a boy named Erchel age 2 years; that during all of said time she conducted herself with propriety, and managed the household affairs of her said husband with prudence and economy, and at all times treated her said husband with kindness and forbearance. But that defendant, disregarding the solemnity of his marriage vow and his obligation to treat plaintiff with kindness and attention, within about two years prior to their separation, commenced a course of unkind, harsh and tyrannical conduct toward her, which continued with slight intermissions, until she was finally driven away from her home by defendant and sent away by him together with her said children on or about July 1, 1923. That on divers occasions, while plaintiff lived with defendant, as aforesaid, he was guilty of excesses, cruel treatment and outrages toward her of such a nature as to render their living together insupportable; that during all the time they lived in the State of New Mexico defendant would come home drunk and curse and abuse plaintiff and threaten her with serious bodily harm and injury; calling her vile and indecent names and heaping abuse upon her, and repeatedly threatening to take her life; such abuse and threats finally terminating when defendant forced plaintiff to leave their said home and carry with her their said children; and that in consequence of the cruel and inhuman treatment above mentioned, together with threats aforesaid, and such brutal and outrageous conduct toward her as rendered it unsafe for her to live with him or to remain within reach of his violence, and plaintiff fearing the defendant would follow her up and take her said children away from her came to the State of Texas on the date above mentioned, and since said time has never heard from defendant.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that defendant be cited to appear and answer this petition as the law directs and that upon final hearing the bonds of matrimony existing between plaintiff and defendant be dissolved, for the custody, care and control of said children; for general and special relief in law and equity to which she may be entitled to receive.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Brownfield, this 23rd day of Sept., 1925.

Jay Barret, Clerk, District Court Terry County, Texas
