Chamber of Commerce CURRENTS By the Secretary

The spirit of co-operation as evidenced by the entire business interests of Brownfield on Armistice Day, persuades us that the business men of Brownfield are a bunch of progressive and harmonious fellows. A Dallas visitor in our city on that day remarked that the spirit of our city was wonderful, "and your people do things wholeheartedly." He was incidentally advised that our high school, together with the various clubs and good women of our town were wide awake and pushed things along.

It would seem that the flag for which we fight in time of war, and always defend, is worthy of universal respect in time of peace. It is probably an oversight with some of us, but nevertheless it is regrettable to notice how many failed to accord it the customary ethics of removing the hat when it passed in parade.

The Chamber of Commerce has this week furnished the eastern press with a 2000 word writeup of Brownfield and this vicinity to be used in sectional descriptions of this country. The C. of C. is planning to shortly compile new data of Brownfield and territory and place it in pamphlet form, and invite the citizens of this section to use it in mailing to their friends and acquaintances living elsewhere.

Thanksgiving is approaching, and though our community is not blessed with an abundance in accordance with our expectations, we are still thankful that we are living in a country that is capable of producing under adverse circumstances as much as the best of them, and ordinarily more than the rest of them, which means boiled down equals to the following: If you stay in Terry year in and year out, you are sure to find that you will win.

A Union Thanksgiving Service and program during the day or evening hour at one of the churches would be a splendid thing for our town to observe.

COLLINS DRY GOODS CO. HERE TWO YEARS TUES.

Mr. W. H. Collins was at the Herald office Tuesday and informed the Herald man that he opened his store in Brownfield just two years ago from that date. Less than a month from the opening, his present head clerk, Mr. Edgar Self, came in from Oklahoma and accepted a position in the big store.

The Collins Dry Goods Co. is not only one of the largest stores in this entire section, but is one of the most popular, and numbers its customers almost by the size of Brownfield and its immense trade territory.

In order to fitly celebrate the occasion they came down this week and ordered a large supply of two page circulars, and are going to give their bargains of customers some real bargains for the next few weeks.

P T A HAD A LARGE CROWD TUESDAY NIGHT

The largest crowd this season was on hand Tuesday night at the regular bimonthly meeting of the Parent Teacher Association meeting, and all seemed to enjoy themselves very much.

After the regular order of business, some splendid addresses were made by Profs. Fagala and Jackson, and three splendid themes in line with the subject under discussion, "citizenship," were read by three high school students and most thoroughly enjoyed by every one present, as students and those who instruct them.

After the papers, there was a special program put on by the pupils of Misses Jefferies and Crawford. These consisted of songs, drills, classic dances, dialogues, pantomimes, and other interesting features that denoted much study and practice and shows that the school children of Brownfield are really receiving instruction. We are not going to try to give a detailed description of these entertaining features of the P T A as you should come out and get it yourself.

The Wrong Kind of Bait

TWO STORES ROBBED AT MEADOW MONDAY NIGHT

We understand that two stores, the Berry Dry Goods Store and the drug store belonging to Randolph Moorhead were robbed at Meadow on Monday night, and that the officers have pretty good clues as to the perpetrators. In fact, one young fellow was arrested Tuesday night, and we understand the evidence against him is rather damaging.

We did not learn just how much or what was stolen in either store, but did learn that some "jake" was taken from the drug store, and this probably proved the undoing of the burglar. Now, when the January term of our District Court assembles, if our juries will do their duty, they can put a big crimp in these wholesale thefts over the county. And they must do it, or each man must turn robber himself in order to keep even, or hire watchmen for each place of business. If the thefts would apply only to lenient jurors, maybe they would soon change their minds and quit "suspending."

DITCHING MACHINE CAME IN MONDAY

The big ditching machine belonging to the San Antonio construction company who have the contract to put in the sewerage system for this city, arrived by the afternoon train Monday, and work on putting in our $50,000 sewerage system is expected to be started in the near future.

Every citizen, including the city council are hoping and doing everything possible to help along with this work in order to have the system at least working in the business section before fly time rolls around again. If we fail to do so, we are likely to have a seige of sickness, such as typhoid, or something thing of that order, that will do us great damage.

MARRIED

Mr. W. L. Finley and Miss L. E. Simmons, popular young people of the Seagraves country, came up Saturday afternoon, and went to the residence of Rev. W. F. Arkham, and he said the words that united them in the holy bonds of wedlock. They left here immediately after the ceremony for parts unknown to the minister, and he remarked he figured from their actions they were in some hurry to keep moving.

We learned this week that Mrs. George Kesler would open a gift shop in the bowling works building about December 1st. Watch for her announcement.

TEXAS UTILITY MANAGER HERE AWHILE MONDAY

Mr. H. L. Allen, manager of the Texas Utilities Co., at Lubbock, was a visitor in our city Monday, looking after business in connection with their ice plant here. He remarked that their business here the first year was entirely satisfactory.

He remarked that in spite of the drought and freeze that his company would go right along with all the improvements and extensions outlined some time back, as they were improving for years to come. He remarked that their big 1200 horsepower engine at Lubbock was already loaded, and another like it had been ordered.

Asked if they contemplated coming to this section with a high line, and he said he thought not, unless a deal happened to be made for the plant at Brownfield, as they did not consider the business at Ropes and Meadow would justify such an expenditure. Just at present, he remarked, we have no deal pending for the light plant in Brownfield.

HARVEY GIVEN TWO YEARS SUSPENDED SENTENCE

After a deliberation of 21 hours, the jury in the trial of the State of Texas vs. Jess Harvey returned a verdict at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon of manslaughter and recommended a two-year suspended sentence for the defendant.

The jury was given their charge at 5 o'clock Saturday evening and immediately retired, the final vote not being decisive until almost a full day had passed.

This case has been one of the most important trials for some months due to the nature of it. Great interest had been shown owing to the wide acquaintance of Jess Harvey and Hightower, the man who was killed in the fight.

The case ends one of the hardest fought legal battles in the local district court and many questions of legal status were raised that prolonged the time when the jury was finally given the case for their decision.

No motion for a new trial had been filed up to the time of going to press.—Lubbock Avalanche.

BANKS WILL CLOSE ON THANKSGIVING DAY

The banks of this city will be closed on Thanksgiving Day, all day, this being a legal holiday, and in observance of the day the banks will not be open on that date.

The public is requested to arrange their business accordingly.

TERRY COUNTY STANDS THIRD IN COTTON ON PLAINS

Terry County stood third in cotton ginnings on October 18th on the South Plains, and was fifth at the same time last year in the seven counties given below. All of them, however, including Terry, are far behind the ginnings of 1924. The following tables give the counties and their ginnings up to October 18th both years:

County	1925	1924
Lynn	5,901	9,112
Dawson	4,782	15,468
Terry	1,797	3,453
Lubbock	1,785	9,477
Garza	1,185	4,785
Crosby	901	2,506
Hale	281	1,823

More and more are the counties of the plains country realizing that the crop has been injured, and it is confidently believed that the next Government crop report as well as the next ginner's report will be such as to greatly boost the price of cotton, and that by the holidays, possibly before, cotton will be back to near 25c. This will depend, however, very much on the extent of the damage to the crop east of the Mississippi, and the amount of ginnings up to that time. It is also believed that the floods recently damaged much cotton, and both it and the freeze were too late to be in the last Government report.

In conversation this week with one of our leading gin managers, he reported that the staple in Terry was unusually good in Terry this year, and said to be better than any where else on the Plains, and that many buyers in other counties were coming here to rebuy cotton for that reason as they had to make good grades in their shipments to get the best prices.

NEW BUILDING ON NORTH SIDE TALKED

We understand that another brick building for the north side of the square, probably 25x100 feet is seriously under consideration, as a leasee has about decided to take the building. However, we are not at liberty just at this time to divulge the plans.

Slowly but surely as time moves on the old shacks of the town in its pioneer times are being removed and replaced by modern, fire proof buildings, and we hope the day is not distant when all the old fire traps around the square give place to these buildings.

Miss May Littleton, student in the Tech College, and Miss Lorena Jones, teacher at Broncho, spent the past week end with Miss Mona Watson, who is also a student in the Tech, and was home for the week end.

BROWNFIELD METHODISTS GET NEW PASTOR

Canyon, Nov. 17.—The annual Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist church closed its sessions here Sunday evening. One of the largest crowds that ever assembled at a meeting of this kind was present to hear the appointments read. An air of satisfaction seemed to prevail among the huge crowd and the ministers and officials of the Conference.

Just prior to reading of appointments, Dr. J. H. Hicks, of S. M. U., Dallas, brought a great message which was very much appreciated.

Bishop James E. Dickey, after serving four years as president of the conference retired with the love and confidence of all the ministers and laymen as well.

Dr. E. E. Robinson, Presiding Elder for the past three years of the Lubbock District was this afternoon sent as Presiding Elder to Plainview District. It is with deep regret that the people of Lubbock will give this prince of Ministers up.

The Rev. D. B. Doak, who for the past two years has been pastor of St. John's Church, Stamford, comes as Presiding Elder of the Lubbock District. Dr. Doak is one of the strong men of the conference and will fill the place assigned him.

Dr. E. E. White to the delight of First Methodist Church, Lubbock was returned for another year. The session of conference just closed will go down in history as one of the greatest annual conferences ever held in the Northwest Texas section. The men who have the past year taught so well, turn their faces to the task of another year with much enthusiasm and great courage. And it is a foregone conclusion that greater things will be accomplished in the next year than has been done this year.

The appointments are as follows:

Lubbock District
Presiding Elder—D. B. Doak.
Abernathy—J. B. Michael.
Brownfield—J. G. Thomas.
Crosbyton—J. T. Howell.
Idalou—Ed A. Tharp.
Lamesa—J. W. Watson.
Lamesa Circuit—J. D. Farmer supply.
Littlefield—H. C. Scoggins.
Lubbock—E. E. White.
Lubbock Circuit—C. A. Horrocks.
Nineteenth Street Lubbock—Silas Dixon.
Levelland—George Fort, supply.
Lorenzo—Aubrey Ashley.
Meadow—C. A. Duncan.
Mulshoe—J. E. Payne.
O'Donell—W. B. Hicks.
Plains—To be supplied.
Post—J. B. McReynolds.
Ralls—M. S. Leveridge.
Robertson-Estacado—G. P. McCollum.
Staton—A. B. Davidson.
Seminole-Andrews—A. D. Hill, supply.
Seagraves—A. D. Johnston.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Rev. J. P. Watson, who has been here two years, was given the Hermleigh charge, and he and his excellent family will leave at once for that place.

CROWDS PLEASSED WITH SADLER SHOW HERE

Harley Sadler fans flocked to Brownfield last week not only from the adjoining country districts, but from the nearby towns of Seagraves, Plains, Tokio, Meadow and Ropes to see the popular Harley Sadler Players put on some of the newest and best plays and all seemed to be well pleased.

Sadler is one of the very few road shows that is allowed to play Brownfield, and there are two reasons for this: one that he carries a high-class corps of artists, and they put on plays well within the category of decency and morality. Second he is a West Texan and a booster for this section, being a member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and several other organizations that are for the upbuilding of this section. All their investments are in West Texas property.

The company entrained here Sunday as they had to make a long jump to Snyder for their engagement this week.

TUBERCULOSIS—ITS CURE AND PREVENTION

Dr. S. E. Thompson, Noted Kerrville Specialist, Discusses This Sordid Craze-Hanging Disease.

By Wellington Brink in Farm and Ranch.

In the old days a tuberculosis diagnosis was well nigh equivalent to a sentence of death—a pleasant death, mayhap, by way of saddlehorse, tent, gun, fishing rod, and enough whisky to float one's own row-boat.

At infrequent intervals a particularly hardy individual would survive both the disease and the treatment, and the somewhat surprised doctors would point to the recovery with pride. But these were the exceptional cases, and thousands of graves are filled by those who travelled to their end by the out-door exercise route.

The new understanding of this terror-striking disease, tuberculosis, is making great strides toward removing the popular fear, restoring hope in the hearts of sufferers, giving back to the world men and women, physically capable of performing life's duties for perhaps the first time.

"Good health is largely a question of intelligence, and disease is a product of carelessness and ignorance," states Dr. S. E. Thompson of Kerrville, one of the outstanding specialists on tuberculosis.

"Superstition is hard to overturn, false doctrines hard to refute, the human mind slow to change its direction of thinking. Our problem, particularly as it applies to tuberculosis, is to re-educate the people. We must show them that tuberculosis is the most preventable of all diseases, and one of the most easily cured when taken in its early stages.

"The medical profession started blind, with no precedents to guide. Human life, the most precious of all laboratory materials, has necessarily been a subject of experiment throughout the ages.

"And what obstacles to overcome? Starting with the spiritual, the superstitious, the laying out of hands, the profession has by slow process, developed into an exact science. The first man who tried to lessen pain at childbirth was burned at the stake. The view of the old ladies' aid society of the dark ages of the profession was that nature always knows best. "Dead bodies were held sacred, there being no chance to dissect them. "And tuberculosis is one of the oldest of civilization's diseases, and one of the most baffling of recent years. "Its cure rests entirely with the patient and its prevention with the public."

Few Doors Passed
Tuberculosis has cut a wide swath. How few doors there are on which it has not hung crane! We are all eager to know more about his black-cowled visitor who has called at the home of a loved one or a friend. Can we avoid tuberculosis? Can we beat off the disease? What can we do toward banishing it from our doorsteps?

In 1915, at the instance of Doctor Thompson, a life insurance made a statistical survey of the situation, and estimated that there were then 170,000 cases in the State of Texas. Probably not 2 percent of all victims are under care.

"The first manifestations of tuberculosis," points out Dr. Thompson, "are general, rather than in the chest. The tuberculosis process, at its start, is not the size of a pin point. As the patient absorbs the toxic poison, he becomes conscious of excessive fatigue. His heart works rapidly. His stomach functions poorly. He has a sense of 'feeling bad.'"

"Tuberculosis presents a 'picture', just as definite as malaria. It is the old maxim again, health is normal-disease abnormal. And health is too often taken for granted. I am often asked if tuberculosis is handed from one generation to the next. It is definitely established that tuberculosis cannot be inherited, altho it is possible to inherit a physiological poverty that will render one an easy prey to all kind of disease."

Misconceptions

CROSBY COUNTY HEALTH NURSE EMPLOYED

The final details in the employment of a county Health Nurse was made Monday when a delegation of women from Lorenzo, Ralls, Crosbyton, Smith community and others met with the Commissioner's Court. The court signed up for their part of the necessary $1,250 and according to Miss Katherine Hagquist, State Advisory Nurse of Austin, who has been here working in the interest of a nurse for Crosby county. Everything has been arranged and nurse employed.

Miss Emma Blarh, of Blevens, Texas, has been employed as county Health Nurse for Crosby county, and will probably be here to start her work by the 15th of Nov. Miss Barth is a graduate of Scott & White Hospital of Temple, and in addition to this has had nine months public health training with the University of Texas. —Crosbyton Review.

CHILD LABOR IN CONGRESS

The organizations which are backing the national Child Labor Amendment propose to give Congress power to legislate on this subject, controlling the employment of children up to the age of eighteen.

It is said that thirty eight states of the American already place restrictions on conditions of employment for boys and girls under the age of 18.

The state laws provide for protecting child labor from certain dangerous occupations or by limiting the number of hours they may work in churches, mines etc.

No one advocates or wants to make a law forbidding boys and girls to work for wages before they are 18 years of age, on the farm or in other suitable places.

No state has passed any such law but it is an open question whether the people should give Congress any jurisdiction over this matter and lay the foundation for an of federal employees to interfere with our children.

It is doubtful whether any legislation forbidding the employment of boys and girls is not tending to raise a generation of soft handed, white-collar idlers and street loafers.

The educational value of labor is not appreciated, in the formation of character, in building and enduring physical constitution and in developing a medium of common sense.

DETROIT BUYS 64 COACHES

The Street Railway Commission of the City of Detroit and Mayor Jno. W. Smith have approved the purchase of 64 more Graham Brothers twenty-one passenger street car motor coaches, making a total of 148 bought from Graham Brothers within a year. This action of the Commission, taken in accordance with the recommendation of E. U. Wallace, general manager of the Detroit Street Railways, was later approved by the City Commission.

General Manager Wallace in recommending the purchase, stated that the 64 Graham Brothers Coaches already in service have been operated over 2,000,000 miles and have proved entirely satisfactory.

The Department of Street Railways started motor coach operation in January 1, 1925, and have gradually extended their coach lines until they now operate over routes totaling more than 52 miles. The new equipment will, when placed in service, increase the mileage of their coach routes by 1 miles. Trolley cars are operating over 395 miles of track, and the 97 miles of new motor coach routes will increase the mileage of the entire transportation system by about 25 per cent.

This indicates the rapid expansion of Detroit's transportation system making use of street cars and motor coaches, each in its best adaptable field.

JAIL BONDS WERE VOTED SATURDAY

In the election Saturday to determine whether or not bonds should be issued for the erection of a new county jail, the proposition carried by a small majority. The vote was light in Ralls, though almost unanimous against it. Lorenzo turned in a light vote, as did the rest of the county, except Crosbyton. We understand the majority in favor of the jail bonds was approximately 100.

Next week we hope to give the vote by boxes. We haven't had time to go to Crosbyton after the returns this week, and we understand all the boxes were not in up to press day anyway.—Ralls Banner.

The Tech College is still a winner, having tied two games and won all the rest of them, having put the quietus on Abilene Christian College last week, and is going up against Howard Payne at Brownwood this week. This is considered a remarkable football record for the first year of any college.

We know little or nothing about the condition of our air fleet, or less about who is right in the court martial trial of Col. Mitchell at Washington, but to a lay flier it appears that he is really stirring up something, and that another investigation is going to be forthcoming directly after this one is done.

All papers make mistakes, and the larger the more the mistakes. One of our popular daily exchanges came to us recently with two of its comic cartoons mixed, that is, they had the wrong wording under each of them, which made the wording for the picture sound ridiculous. For instance they had the wording for "Flapper Fanny" under the picture of "Abe Martin" and vice versa.

Also down Austin way there seems to be a real opening for a stinch in the nostrils of old father Texas. That there is something rotten in Denmark a negro in the woodpile, or where there is much smoke a little fire is bound to be near is evidenced by the charges and counter-charges of Atty Dan Moody and the Fergusons. It seems to us the Fergusons have laid themselves liable to censure by opposing the suit against the big contracting concerns by Moody, altho probably the later is somewhat playing politics too. Who knows?

That there are lots of cowless, swineless and chickenless farms in Texas, one only has to refer to the 1920 Federal Census to discover. Just why there are so many of them is hard to guess, as all these animals and poultry seem to be essential to the economical conduct of any real farm. Some have advanced the theory that the modern female has quite milking, and the male won't milk. But whatever the trouble, a great loss is being sustained not only to themselves but to the entire state and nation. Unless the farmer quits so much of the one crop idea and diversifies his farming, he is doomed to positive failure we believe.

Most of us are prone to make comparisons for our own short comings with other people or other sections, but there is poor consolation for us in either, generally speaking. We note some of our exchanges are busy comparing this section with other portions of Texas who are much shorter in crop production than we, on account of extreme drouth, to hearten their own people over damages by freeze. The Herald fails to see this as a help to the matter. In fact it would be better for us that the sections mentioned had produced good crops and received good price for them, for then we would enjoy an immigration from that section with lots of new money, and our own condition would hardly be noticeable. In fact the Herald fails and refuses to believe that we are eternally blown up suckers, even if our cotton crop has been cut into, for we have the "come-backingest" country in the world. We have produced enough cotton in most instances to tide us over another year, and most farmers have plenty good feed and no money scarcely will have to leave the country for feed. Therefore just cock your hat up in front like you have corn to sell and smile.

During the first 42 weeks of the present year more than 41,000,000 cars were loaded on American railways with revenue producing freight. This is an average of nearly a million cars a week, an increase of over 7,000,000 cars over the record made during the corresponding period last year. During the 42 weeks there were 13 in which the freight loadings were well over the million figure, the last being the week ending Oct 17.

These figures prove the volume of business that is under way in this country—prove it beyond successful challenge. Goods manufactured and shipped have been ordered, have been sent out all over the country to help supply the demands in trade. A country that calls for a million carloads of goods each week has prosperous conditions and a purchasing power that is shown among the lines of trade in all sections of the country, revealing a wide distribution of prosperity.

It is figures such as railways provide that give the business prophet and experts their justification for re-assuring comments on trade conditions today and make their encouraging comments on what the future may bring appear so dependable.—Star-Telegram.

Baird—Calahan County now has a Farm Demonstration Agent. Farmers and townspeople of the entire county sioner's court of the county to appropriate the necessary funds to secure the work and the court allowed the petition. Calahan county is making great strides agriculturally.

Chavis, N. M.—This city was able to greatly reduce city taxes by the sale of the water and light plant which has been municipally owned to a private corporation. City taxation has been reduced from $64,050 to $33,490 as a result of the sale.

We are delighted to note that the new plains towns that are developing so rapidly along commercial lines are seeing to it that the religious interests and institutions are keeping abreast with their commercial enterprises. All of the older towns like Brownfield and Lamesa and Tahoka already have splendid church buildings and we see that Littlefield is to have a Baptist church building that would be a credit to a city and Wilson will build this winter a $11,000 basement of their Baptist meeting house, the superstructure to be completed later. Reports of church work all over the plains country indicates splendid and sustained interests in all the various denominations. Older towns in west Texas should see to it that they do not fall behind their new and enterprising sister towns in this kind of development, which after all is more essential in building a town we like to live in than many other of the things we think we must have.

GO AFTER THE BUSINESS

Small town complain that big cities draw all the business from rural communities. This is a mistaken idea. All over the country there are shining examples to prove that manufacturers, publishers, writers, motion picture producers, mill operators and numerous other productive enterprises are established, thrive and distribute their products more economically from a small town than from a populous center. The small town which will analyze its possibilities and then go after the business can build itself up along sound industrial and commercial lines.

The Central Illinois Public Service Company of Springfield, Illinois, has issued a folder entitled "Fertile Fields for Factories." It has not waited for rural towns in Illinois to show forth their advantages, but is going ahead and showing how low production costs are possible in the communities in which it operates.

It shows the raw material, transportation and manufacturing resources in its territory and gives statements from executives from some of the country's largest manufacturing plants as to why they, as manufacturers, prefer a smaller city as a factory location. In every instance one of the main reasons cited is that living conditions in the small places average better than in a big city; there is a stronger community interest in the success of the industries; employees are of a more permanent nature and own their own homes, thus eliminating a large part of the costly labor turnover.

The Central Illinois Company is doing constructive work and is setting an example which can be adopted with profit by wide-awake communities all over the country.

Floydada—A direct highway from Post through Floydada to Clarendon connecting the Glacier to Gulf with the Colorado to Gulf is now assured. IT DOES NOT APPLY TO ABSTRACTS OF TITLE

We mean the popular saying "What you don't know won't hurt You."

It won't hurt you as long as you don't know it, but if it's a cloud on the title, "There'll come a time some day" in the words of the song, when you want to sell your property, and the other fellow (if he takes it at all)—will want a big chunk off the price to offset the cloud.

At that time you will bitterly appreciate the value of an abstract which shows the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, about your title.

And you want to be sure that the clouds you know about are All there are.

No one in this country is so well equipped to furnish the complete, unassailable, unshakeable truth about a title as we are. If you buy and sell property, you ought to know us, and we ought to know you.

You are cordially invited to call at my office.

Chinese Fear Spirits of the Outcast Dead

This year in China is "the year of the Rat." That means it is the year in which evil spirits do most abound and have their greatest influence on the destinies of men. It is a fearful time.

To make things worse this is also the first year of a Chinese cycle of 60 years. It calls for special watchfulness and celebrations. The rites of "Puo-do" have been revived and observed more than at any time within the memory of living man. This is a system of appeasing and mollifying the spirits of the outcast dead. At this time they have special power to return and plague the living, and special efforts must be made to ward off their evil designs.

"Puo-do" is a village rite. Altars are erected in private houses, and plays are staged descriptive of punishment hereafter. Puppets are used, some of them natural size, and they are operated from beneath the stage. Mounds of cakes are provided as offerings—which also provide feasts for the living. People flock by the thousands for the rites—possibly, in part at least, for the feast. Even Buddhist and Taoist priests desire to join in the slightly throngs engaged in placating the angered and injured spirits. A large celebration may cost as much as thousands of dollars.

The ancient "Puo-do" originated in Gong-dong, near Foochow, and at that place a monster celebration lasted seven days. There are small and scattered celebrations every five years, and more elaborate ones every twenty years. But the combination of the "Rat year" and the beginning of the cycle has called for greater celebrations than ever. Apparently the spirits are uncompromising, for it is a bad year in China's history.—Pathfinder Magazine.

To Conserve Heath Hens

American heath hens are almost extinct and steps are being taken by the Federation of Bird Clubs of New England to preserve them. Experts declared there are about eight of the birds in existence, all of which are now at Martha's Vineyard. Extra help will be provided at the heath hens' island sanctuary to assist the caretaker in the work of controlling cats and hawks, the birds' worst enemies. These animals are to be shot or trapped both on the state reservation and other parts of the island, as this is the nesting time, the season when the birds are at the mercy of such enemies. On September 1 another game warden will be assigned to stay on the island through the hunting season.—Red and Gun.

White Pelican Colony

Since time immemorial a large colony of white pelicans has nested on Anaho Island, Pyramid lake, Nevada. The colony now numbers about 10,000 adults, which, on account of interference by man and destruction by natural enemies and the elements, rear less than 1,000 young in a season. The pelicans live almost exclusively upon fishes, but the kinds they take in any number are small or coarse-fleshed species not valued as food by man. Lake minnows, carp and lake chubs are the staple foods of the pelicans of Pyramid lake, with red suckers, Sacramento perch and cutfish distant seconds in point of quantity consumed.

Renounces His Country

Anyone seeking a minister plenipotentiary and envoy extraordinary need only address the former Austrian minister in Berlin, Doctor Riedel. Austria cannot be very attractive at present, for when the Austrian minister was recently replaced he decided to remain in Berlin and seek a position in private life. This decision is contrary to diplomatic custom, whereby diplomatic representatives who retire to private life are expected to leave their latest residence for at least a year. The Austrian government is said to have decided that if Doctor Riedel refuses to comply with this rule his pension will be withheld.

Warning Him

"Hey, there!" yelled old man Sockery, addressing a motorist who was on the point of passing by. "Dot-rot your ornery picture, you're about to run over one of my dogs there in the road!"

"What of it?" returned the offender. "A dog is a dog, and—"

"Yes, and a gun is iron, and if you harm a hair of that dog's body I'll shoot you so full of holes that your hide won't hold nothin' finer than hazel brush. Outside of that there hain't nuthin' in petticleer of it."—Kansas City Star.

"Safest" Airplane

Equipped so that it can land at a slow speed, a new airplane is being tried out in Fort Worth, Texas, by I. B. Sanders, its designer and builder, who hopes to prove it is the safest type yet put into operation. Low landing speed has been a quality long sought by airplane designers. The new model has a maximum speed of 85 miles an hour, considered sufficient for many purposes.

The "Long Fellow"

"The Long Fellow club" has been formed at Marsfield, Ore., with the object of "making life longer and more comfortable for tall men." The aims of the movement include the provision of longer beds in hotels, longer berths in sleeping-cars, longer baths, more comfortable seats in theaters, and shop awnings high enough not to damage hats.

WILSON BAPTISTS TO BUILD BASEMENT

Wilson, Texas, November 10th.—The First Baptist Church congregation at Wilson has awarded a contract to Harter and Wheeler of Lubbock, for the erection of a church basement that will be erected at a cost of approximately $11,000.00.

Plans for the church, which when completed will involve an investment of more than $35,000 were prepared by Peters & Haynes, Lubbock architects, who state that the congregation does not contemplate completion of the church at this time, but will occupy the basement as temporary quarters until the congregation has grown large enough to demand the entire building.

The congregation has been worshipping in a frame structure which has proven inadequate to meet the needs of the church, the Sunday school and the auxiliaries to the church.

UBBOCK CREAMERY IS ADJUDGED BANKRUPT

The Cloverleaf Creamery Company Tuesday filed voluntary petition for bankruptcy in the United States District Court through its attorneys, Bledsoe, Woodward & Higgins, of Lubbock.

The firm was adjudged bankrupt late Tuesday according to information received here.

This is one of the very few local institutions to go bankrupt and the news will meet with surprise by local people who for many years have patronized the institution.

S. E. Holshouser is manager of the institution which was owned by a stock company.—Lubbock Avalanche.

OIL TEST TO START SOON AT TAHOKA, TEXAS

Tahoka, Nov. 14th.—Work on the new derrick at the Tahoka Well No. 1 has just been completed and work towards drilling this test well will soon be under way. Preparations are being made to start a second test well or oil here at an early date.

BUTTER IS BEING MADE IN LAMESA

The Purity Ice Cream Company of this city have recently added a new line of industry to their business. They are now making butter and selling it to the local trade.

R. B. Red, owner of this plant, is one of the pioneers of this section. He was one of the first men to operate a gin in Lamesa and he established the electric light plant and ice factory here. He disposed of his power and ice business a few years ago but his spirit of wanting to do something for the town and country was still uppermost and shortly after selling out the power plant he established the Purity Ice Cream Company, the first plant of its kind in Lamesa. Now he goes another step farther and takes the honor of being the man to make the first creamery butter.

E. F. Tatum, who has been with Mr. Red for several months as manager of the ice cream plant, has charge of the butter making business also.

Mr. Tatum has had considerable experience in this business, he spent two years in Slaton before coming here and was connected with some of the largest creameries in the state of Oklahoma at one time.—Lamesa Journal.

CHURCH OF CHRIST TO BE FINISHED SOON

Slaton, Tex. Nov. 8th.—The Slaton Church of Christ will be completed and ready for occupancy in about thirty days according to D. E. Scott, supervisor of construction work. The main portion of the building is one story in height, while the annex, housing the Sunday School department is two stories high.

The building is of old Spanish reformed in petitioning the commission architectural style and is being constructed of Abilene pressed brick. Including furniture the building will cost about $25,000.00 Mr. Scott says. It is located at the corner of Davidson and Tenth streets.

LITTLE RENFRO GIRL BADLY INJURED BY STRAY DOG

In an effort to rescue her little dog from a large stray dog that had attacked it, little Marjorie Renfro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Renfro, was bitten by the stray dog yesterday, and while the extent of the injury as yet has not developed to be serious, much uneasiness over the child is shown by the attending physicians, and the head of the dog has been sent to Austin for examination to determine whether or not it was suffering with rabies. Fortunately the teeth of the dog did not leave a torn, jagged place in the flesh, however, the skin was penetrated and a terribly painful bruise developed. Mrs. Renfro, who was employed in the department of the Morning Avalanche, said last night that the child's injury has not proven serious and that unless infection develops the child will not be confined to her bed long.

NEW INDUSTRY HAS $2,000,000.00 OUTPUT

Austin, Texas, Nov. 13.—Output of the five plants in Texas, located in Hardeman, Fisher, Jones and Nolan counties, engaged in the manufacture of gypsum products, is valued at more than $2,000,000.00 annually, according to Dr. E. H. Shellards, of the Bureau of Economic Geology at the University of Texas. In addition to the abundant supply of raw material available for the operations of these plants outcroppings of gypsum deposits are found throughout that belt of country, extending from Hardeman county, on Red river to Coke county on the Colorado river, and in Culberson county. A ready market is found for these products in Texas and adjacent states, extending east to the Atlantic coast.

Large crowds attended the Rialto the three first days of this week to see Charlie Chaplin in the "Gold Rush." All seemed to be greatly pleased with the show.

Littlefield—This town claims to have more membership in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce per capita than any town in West Texas. B. F. Bennett, who was here this week secured 62 memberships here and was told to call again if that was not enough. Littlefield is awake to benefits derived from loyal support of the organization and is unanimously behind the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Colorado—R. Q. Lee, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will speak here on the evening of November 30th. He is to make a campaign along the T. P. reaching as far west as El Paso. His complete itinerary for the trip is: Hermitage 4:30 P. M. Nov. 19; Roscoe noon Nov. 20th; Lorraine 3:00 P. M. Nov. 20th; Colorado 8:00 P. M. Nov. 20; Big Springs noon Nov. 21; Stanton 8:00 P. M. Coleman—The Heart of Texas District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held here December 18th and preparations are already under way to make this the greatest district convention ever held. This district includes a number of counties in central West Texas and some unusual features will be staged during the convention.

Robert Lee—A big irrigation meeting was held here Nov. 13. Eminent men of irrigation were here and high officials of the Orient rail road were present to encourage the project. A. Lincoln Fellowes head of the United States Reclamation Bureau made the principal talk. West Texas Chamber of Commerce was represented by E. H. Whitehead publicity of the organization. The project here is located on the Colorado River and is potentially one of the greatest projects in the country. It will be entirely located in Coke County.

Abilene—Armistice Day was celebrated in an appropriate manner all over West Texas. Many towns staged parades. Prominent figures of the state and nation spoke at various points over West Texas. Many cities enjoyed football games and athletic contests. The religious side of the holiday was not overlooked. Appropriate ceremonies being held in churches over the entire section. Practically every city of consequence in the section observed the holiday.

Mr. Isaac Lloyd, of the Gomez community, was in one day last week and had the Herald continued to his address for another year. It always seems to us like it is a pleasure for this good citizen to settle up with us in the fall as he always does it with a smile.

Mr. E. E. Simms, one of our old standbys of the Gomez community, was in Monday and chatted with us for a few minutes. Mr. Simms was in both the extreme drought area and the hail belt this year and his cotton crop was cut almost to nothing. He said he would do well to get a bale off 35 acres.

Littlefield—Lamb County has been granted $300,000 dollars for highway construction on highway No 7 and 28. This sum must be matched with county funds. Agitation is underway for a bond issue for highway construction in the county and it is likely that an election will be held soon.

It seems that reason all young women dont get married is because they are not all widows.

What it is true a lot of money is spent each year for fun, there are some folks who never seem to have any.

Man comes into this world and with nothing on him, but in a short time everybody has something on him.

Many a chap who thought he loved at first sight has been entirely cured when he took another look.

Every school teacher should carry as standard equipment a rear vision mirror.

No telling what you could hear every day with the energy you spend talking about nothing.

His Inquiry

Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge was struck by a motor car while in the county seat town lately, knocked over backwards, and before he could scramble up was struck by another car and flung headlong. By the time he had about halfway struggled to his feet again he was bit by still another car and thrown gally-winding. "Say, looky yur!" he yelled as he lay on his back in the track, "what in roaring, stizzilla torment do you cusses think you're try to do, anyhow—play 'Two-old-eat'?" — Kansas City Star.

SLATON VOTES BONDS FOR PAVING PROGRAM

SLATON, Nov. 17.—The citizenship of Slaton today demonstrated its progressiveness by casting a majority of two to one votes in favor of a $100,000 bond issue providing for paving of twenty blocks in the business section of the city, also voting an equal majority favoring the granting of authority of the city officials to pave the streets.

All blocks around the square will be paved and one block away from the square on all intersecting streets together with four blocks of Texas avenue, leading from the Santa Fe depot to the square.

Contracts for the paving of the streets will be let at once, and work will be speedily put under way.

Midland—The ordinary 'pie' melon which grows wild throughout West Texas is the best medium known with which to poison rabbits. Experiments here have demonstrated this fact. Farmers of the Midland country are being urged to haul in and preserve these melons for use in fighting the pests. The melons ordinarily considered valueless are meeting with ready sale for this purpose.

L. L. Blackstock, another of our farmer friends that always pays up with a smile, dropped in on us recently to get balanced for another year.

Concrete Streets in TEXAS

Brady, the County Seat of McCulloch County, worried along for awhile with dusty, bumpy streets in the business district. But one day some of its business men stopped to figure what unpaved streets were costing them. They found it would be a profitable investment to pave the public square—and pave it right. They demanded a pavement that would stand present traffic, yet not require costly maintenance. The problem was solved by selecting portland cement concrete.

The concrete mixer had been running only a few days when extensions were made to the initial project. Now Brady has 26,000 square yards of concrete paving; and like other Texas cities they will not be willing to stop until all the main streets are permanently paved.

How about the Public Square or Main Street in your town? You can have a pavement that is rigid, unyielding, skidproof—one that will carry any kind of traffic indefinitely, practically without repairs. Concrete paving has these qualities which are but few of many reasons for its rapidly growing popularity.

Our booklet R-4 tells other interesting things about concrete streets. Write for your copy

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapias

Up to the present, writing the Herald and the Review have failed to put in appearance. Perhaps each had too much Armistice Day. Of course it could not be as in pre-Volstead days, due to imbibing too freely of the wine when it is red, but rather to listening at the eagle scream and living with the boys in trenches and fighting the Germans and cooties. No American worthy of the name, that doesn't feel like throwing his hat into the air at the mention of Chateau Thierry and Belleau Wood, the Muse Argonne and St. Mihiel, on whose bloody fields so many of our boys laid down their lives for a principle.

In Belleau Wood the American people have purchased a plot of ground that will ever be sacred to the boys who fell there from June 2, to June 25, 1918. Over their graves will float the American flag, and on each recurring Armistice day there will assemble many of those who helped to make immortal the ground on which they sleep.

The orders read: Do not retire one step, retake every inch of ground lost, attempt to push back the enemy and choose every opportunity to kill him. Continue to install yourselves everywhere and without delay by digging into the earth in the positions actually held. The commander replied, "Let us fight in our own way and we will stop them." And they did. Twenty three days of desperate fighting is the record in Belleau Wood. On its dedication, Marshall Foch said: "Glorious dead you can sleep in peace on this soil which was the cradle of victory. Lafayette in America built the first span of Franco-American America shall henceforth be sovereign over this bit of land."

Of the number who slept there two thousand Buddies have been returned to the U.S., and 22014 still remain. God bless them.

The play at the school house Thursday night by local talent was well attended, and thoroughly enjoyed by all who had the good fortune to be present. The proceeds were for the benefit of the Methodist church.

Saturday night the lyceum people played to a smaller house and certainly with less satisfaction. Most of those who attended were not very loud in their praise.

Sunday night our people were regaled with a harangue by a Rev. Lackey, who introduced himself as a Baptist preacher, and a representative of the Anti-Evolution Organization. He is a man well along in years. His education seems to be limited and his information very much more so. He is probably a well meaning man, and like Saul of Tarsus, verily believe he is doing God's service in trying to widen the breach between those who believe that in some way the theory of evolution is inimicable to the well being of the churches. Like all who have spoken here hitherto, he lacks any special fitness for the discussions. He has neither the information on the subject of geology, biology and other kindred branches of science, nor the scriptural interpretation to prevent his falling into the grossest errors in quoting authors. Like all who have preceded him here, he apparently works on the theory that his hearers know little or less of the subject than himself. Also with the assurance that his listeners are, taken as a whole, in sympathy with his supposed defense of the sacred scriptures.

He asserted that he read Darwin's great work on spontaneous generation, when as a matter of fact Darwin never wrote any such book, nor have any of the best known of writers of evolution written any such book.

"We do not know how life began or he earth," says Wells in "The Outline of History," and this epitomizes the answer of most of them. Unquestionably many of them have believed it and it is also probable that many believe in it now. In the centuries past it was a very common doctrine, not confined to the scientists, and was conclusively disproven by Tyndall and Louis Pasteur in laboratory experiments (History of Medicine by Parl page 321.) Strange as it may seem they were at once attacked by the churches, asserting that it contradicted Judges 14: 8-9, where Samson discovered the swarm of bees and honey in the carcase of a dead lion.

He concluded his discourse by affirming—that no evolutionists would reach heaven, which by the way the church people often say of each other. Personally, I don't care to go anywhere that I would be compelled to spend eternity with his kind—would rather build fires.

After taking up a collection for the expenses of the coming campaign, he dismissed us with compliments on our good behavior. The audience was good natured and gave him close attention, but if the amount received was an index of their appreciation, he certainly felt sore.

Beyond doubt the churches will handle their preachers and members in their own way with reference to the question and this they have a perfect right to do.

NO MAIL CHRISTMAS DAY

The letter carrier, who of all men comes nearest to impersonating Santa Claus, will have a whole Christmas holiday this year. Such is the order of Postmaster General New. Two years ago postoffices remained open until noon on Christmas day to transact business. Last year closing time was set back to 11 o'clock and there was one street delivery in the morning. Communities had been educated to shop and mail their presents early. Mr. New had signed and sent out the following appeal: The Government would be grateful if you would shop early, wrap carefully, address plainly and mail promptly.

Merchants co-operated with the Postoffice Department. Their employees had been working early and late in the Christmas shopping period. Flesh and blood can stand only so much whether one sells goods or sorts and delivers mail. The response to the appeals to shop early could be seen in the department stores and read in the records of the Postoffice. Instead of two or three weeks of buying presents in haste and as late as the night before Christmas, there were four to six weeks of leisurely, comfortable shopping, beginning in November and reaching a climax in mid-December. The parcel post business kept pace with the graduated Christmas shopping. Packages were mailed promptly, sent immediately out of town, or sorted and passed on to the carriers. It was a new departure for the adults to put their own presents aside, or conceal those meant for the children, but the cause was a good one.

Still, the Postoffice people did not have a full day. Nearly everybody else did. There were and always will be exceptions—workers in the necessities of life, those engaged in transportation, the staffs of hospitals and guardians of the peace. This year very little work will be done in the postoffice, just enough inside to send out first-class mail to the trains and to receive incoming mail, and none at all by the carriers—not even the delivery of a Christmas card. Last minute mailing of Yuletide cards has become a burden to the postoffice. It is just as important to mail your Christmas cards early as your presents.

As a substitute for a gift, the gaily colored card carrying a sentiment of the season, threatens to overwhelm the postoffice. Opening the envelopes has become a rite, the more the merrier, after the unboxing of presents. It is a satisfaction to know that the postmen who carry their burden so cheerfully every working day, will this year put in a full day of Christmas festivity after leaving the office at twelve o'clock the night before.—Star-Telegram.

BELL BURLESON WEDS NEW MEXICO GIRL

A romance begun several years ago in El Paso reached a culmination Thursday of last week when Miss Willie Graham of Tatum, N. M. was married to Bell Burleson of O'Donnell. Several years ago when Mr. Burleson was serving the Government as inspector along the border he was taken ill and it was his bride who nursed him back to health in an El Paso hospital. The wedding ceremony was performed at Brownfield, and the bride and groom immediately came to the home on the Burleson farm east of town.

The bride is of one of the best families of New Mexico and a nurse by profession.

Mr. Burleson operates a large cotton farm six miles east of town and is one of our substantial citizens.—O'Donnell Index.

M. Z. Tieratt, cashier of the Lorenzo State Bank, accompanied by his family, were here Sunday visiting with his friends, George Warren and family. Mr. Tieratt liked Brownfield and said if suitable arrangements could be effected, he would move here. George announced that Mr. Tieratt did not visit him to collect anything he owed the bank when he left Lorenzo, but that this was no fault of his.

World Has Forgotten Where Conqueror Died

Liu Pan Shan—the Six Loop pass—was a hard day for the mules, which had to relay each other's loads and thus got a double climb. They were much delayed by a broken-down cart, which finally had to be upended in a deep cutting to let us pass. Half way up the mountain, set in an elbow of the road, was a decrepit temple of no particular age or grandeur to attract our attention, writes Langdon Warner in World's Work.

On hearing its name, Kuan Ti Miao, Wang dug up a schoolboy memory that it was the place where Genghis Khan had died. No more imperial outlook could be found in all China for that old tiger to rest his eyes on for the last time. The temple was squeezed between the ridge and the cliff; from it one gazed down and afar off to the east over the road that we had come. The trees that lined the track made a straight, double ribbon across the flats, but curled about the mountain roots and slanted up the foothills to find an easy way, till the pass at our feet was reached and they set themselves doggedly to the task of zigzagging up as steep a slope as mules and carts could tolerate. Groups of farmhouses and hamlets were marked by thickets near the brooks which emptied into the Ching, while far away, clear over the edge of the world, the great line of trees dipped out of the great plateau.

We searched in vain for an inscribed stone to tell of the emperor's death at the little temple. The old priest knew and cared for nothing but his flock of half a dozen goats and sheep and his opium pipe. The temple was old; it had fallen into ruin and had been rebuilt some fifty years ago when he was a lad; it was now likely to fall again. No emperor had passed that way in his time, but mule fodder was hard to come by and the carters who passed were a rough lot who stole what they could lay their hands on. Such was the burden of his story. Genghis Khan, the founder of an empire which controlled the Near and the Far East and which overran Europe, meant nothing to him. The next time I passed that way his complaint of the carters came home to me and I was more interested in getting my mules down alive in the blizzard. Dead Mongol princes were forgotten.

Cooled Their Enthusiasm

Here is a story for feminists only: Mrs. Fawcett, one of the pioneers of woman suffrage in England, tells an amusing story of how, many years ago, she was taking around at a political meeting a petition asking parliament to pass the married women's property bill, then before it.

Those present were mostly Suffolk farmers. She explained the petition and asked for signatures, but obtained very few. One old farmer voiced the feelings of the majority.

"Am I to understand you, ma'am, that if this bill becomes law and my wife had a matter of a hundred pounds left her, I should have to ask her for it?"

Of course I was obliged to confess that he would have to suffer this humiliation, and then I obtained no more signatures.

Vegetable Relationships

The thoughtful gardener will be interested in the botanical relationship of his vegetables. To the mustard family belong the cabbage and its variant forms—cauliflower, brussels sprouts, kohlrabi and kale, also turnips, radishes, horseradishes and mustard. The nightshade group takes in the potato, tomato, pepper and eggplant. Peas and beans of all kinds are legumes; corn is a member of the grass tribe; while asparagus and onions are related to the lilies. The melons, pumpkins, squashes and cucumbers are members of the gourd family. The parsnip, carrot and parsley, as well as dill and several other pot herbs, belong to the parsley outfit. Beets, chard and spinach are related to the pigweed. Endive, lettuce and salsify are kin to daisies and dandelions.—Farm and Orchard.

Going Down

At the weekly poker game Gid Carlton, who makes machinery for motion-picture making, was discussing ancient history with Frank Lawrence, editor-in-chief of Universal pictures, the Los Angeles Times states. Gid even showed Frank a picture of some Swedish king from whom the Carltons traced their ancestry.

"That's all right," said Frank, "but, after all, that king isn't so very far back. I can trace my family back a great deal farther."

"So can I," cried Gid, determined not to be outdone. "I can trace my ancestors back to—well, I don't know exactly who, but we've been descending for centuries."

Sea "Flowers"

Although sea sponges are called "flowers of the sea," through their resemblance to flowers, they are actually animals, possessing both a mouth and a stomach. They are found on rocks, but do not grow out of them, being merely attached to the rocks by suction.

Waiting

"Snake Ridge now has a fire-engine house, two garages and a motion-picture theater." "Let 'em go ahead," commented Cactus Joe. "Us Gulchers is jes' waitin' for them fellers to get their town fixed up to suit us, an' then we'll move over an' take possession." —Washington Star.

TEACH CHILDREN FIRE PREVENTION

Almost every day we read in the news reports of children burned to death in dwelling house fires. No only one child but three four and five are burned at one time in a single house, it seems almost impossible that such facts occur but the sad fact remains that they do, and in most cases they would have been preventable through just ordinary carefulness.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters in conjunction with the National board of Education has prepared a booklet entitled Safeguarding the home against fire. This is a fire prevention manual for the school children of America. Eight hundred and thirty thousand copies of this textbook have thus far been printed and distributed in picture and text it places before a growing child, the dangers that surround on every side as a result of carelessness with fire. This book should be in the hands of every school child in America, and should form the basis of a regular school course from the third to the eighth grades at least in public schools.

The mere fact that the annual per capita fire loss in the United States for every man, woman and child is $2.16 compared with 49c in France, 33c in England, 28c in Germany, 25c in Italy and Austria, 15c in Switzerland and 11c in Holland is sufficient evidence that the teaching of fire prevention should start with the child and become a recognized course of study in this nation.

T. H. Green, one of our old reliable farmers was in one day this week and informed us that his cotton crop was cut real short this year, but he would make enough fed to run the place next year. In order to make up for loss in cotton crop, he being both in the dry and hail belt, he said he would have to depend somewhat on moving houses, and had just received new timbers for this purpose. Read his ad elsewhere in this issue.

The Pentacostal assembly got out some small circulars this week announcing that they would have services at the First Christian church, Sunday, Nov. 22, at the morning and evening hours. Rev. N. C. Whetlock will deliver the sermons.

Dr. J. W. Head, ear, eye, nose and throat specialist of Fort Worth, was here this week and announced that he would spend a week of each month in Brownfield in the future, beginning next week, in the practice of his profession, which has covered a period of 16 years in Fort Worth alone. He comes highly recommended by Mr. W. E. Connell, president of the First National Bank of Fort Worth, who is well known throughout this part of the state, as both a gentleman and a fine specialist. Dr. Head will of- fice with Drs. Treadaway & Castleberry while here. Note his card else- where in this paper

---THANKSGIVING---

We are thankful for the degree of prosperity that has been visited upon our community and trade territory, we are thankful that our condition is as well as it is, more especially when we remember the less fortunate portions of our state. But most of all we are thankful for the good will and friendships of our many customers, we are thankful for the opportunity we have had to serve them and thankful for the new patrons they have brought us through their kind recom- mendations, as evidence of our thanks we shall earnestly strive to serve them faithfully in the future.

COLE MUST REVISE HIS BET- TER AND BETTER SLOGAN

Salisbury, England, Nov. 8.—Dr. Emil Cole must revise his better and better health slogan to read almost every day, for Sunday and charm did not work on Cole himself.

While an audience waited in a lecture hall for Cole to tell them how to be better and better every day in every way, the little Frenchman was being attended by two physicians in his hotel where he was suffering from a slight hemorrhage.

The lecture was cancelled.

We made an error last week in an- nouncing that Mr. Brownfield was constructing a building for Ed Spear. In fact, the building under construc- tion, as well as the building now oc- cupied as a drive in filling station by Mr. Spear, both belong to him, and we are pleased to make the correc- tion. With the exception of a sales- room in front of the new building for the sale of Overland cars, the balance of the two buildings, which are to be connected, will be leased, in fact are already leased by Messrs. Alf Mangum, Jack Benton and Way- ne Brown for garage, auto accesso- ries and auto repairing.

Mrs. Stricklin went to Lubbock on Monday to consult Dr. J. E. Crawford eye specialists.

We had a letter recently from Rev. Chas. Burnett stating that he had moved to Plainview, Texas, where he will have work for the following year. He had us change his Herald from Meadow to that place.

Ed Spear, Dr. G. S. Webber, Jim Jackson, Walter Scudlay and a party from Waco, are down on the border beer—we mean deer hunting—this week. We hope them all kinds of good luck.

Mrs. J. W. Welch and daughters and Miss Belle Williamson visited friends in O'Donnell Sunday. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Otho Welch and son, of Big Springs, who were visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Fleming of O'Donnell.

Rev. J. B. Vinson is still the pastor down at Roaring Springs, and the Baptists, therefore, seem pleased with him, for like all other places he generally stays as long as he wants to. He has renewed for the Herald another year. The Herald believes it has the largest number of readers among former pastors of the churches in Brownfield than any paper around here, and they renew from year to year. This either shows two things: That they like the people here and want to keep up with their domes or they like the Herald mighty well.

Miss Lula Smith, our accommoda- ting County-treasury, recently handed in another dollar to keep the Herald coming.

G. W. Ellington, of Lubbock, and son W. M., of Meadow, were here Friday night taking in Harley Sadler show. Mr. Ellington said he very often tired of sitting around Lubbock doing nothing, and came back to the farms to help the boys, and usually got "rested." He became a regular reader of the Herald while here.

Several of the citizens in both sides of the football skirmish here on Arm- istice Day showed much evidence of the tussle for several days after the battle. Some were seen limping and other gave evidence of loss of cuticle about the face. Some people really enjoy this game, but we cannot help classing it with prize fights.

SWASTIKA CLUB

The Swastika Club met Nov. 9 with Miss Marie Brown hostess. A joyous afternoon was spent in needlework. A business meeting followed in which several new resolutions were made. The hostess served dainty refreshments of hot chocolate sandwiches, potato chips and cake to the following: Misses Lindley, Graves, Blanche and Geneva Brothers, Holt, Renfro, McPherson, Brown and Warren with Miss Ada Mae Snodgrass a special guest. The Club will meet next with Miss Jewell Graves.

The Club met with Miss Jewell Graves Nov. 16th. A large number were present and an enjoyable evening was spent in needlework. We guess the reason so many were working is that the penalty is rather high for idleness.

After a delightful evening delicious refreshments were served to the following members: Miss Hahn, Lindley Renfro, Holt, Blanche and Geneva Brothers, Graves, Miller, Warren and Brown.

The Club will meet next at the home of Miss Lillie Mae Warren. —Reporter.

TUBERCULOSIS—ITS CURE AND PREVENTION

berculosis like shucks around an ear of corn. And like these shucks, they must be stripped off.

For instance—"Farm people are as susceptible to tuberculosis as those who live in city tenement districts, inasmuch as there is as much ignorance and indifference in rural districts as in urban—and tuberculosis in the country is as prevalent as elsewhere"—declares the specialist.

And again—"Most persons think that fresh air will prevent tuberculosis. It won't, any more than will the right climate cure it when taken by itself."

And yet again—"You've either got tuberculosis or you haven't. A cold runs in tuberculosis just the same as a mule runs into a Hereford cow. Tuberculosis is caused by a distinct germ and is not developed from another illness."

This germ is microscopic in size, oblong, thread-like, multiplying itself by simple division of cell. Twenty-four of these mischief makers are enough to start trouble.

When the germs come to rest in the lungs, explained the Kerrville specialist, breastworks are thrown up around them by nature. They never break out of their confinement until the body cells are weakened by strain, dissipation of other cause; some of the cells then break and new tubercles form. Tiny blood streams eventually finding it impossible to continue their course, the surrounding tissue of the barricade dies, sloughs off, and sputum forms. Several billion germs may then be thrown off in one day by one person.

It is the children, playing about on the floor, living several feet closer to the germ than grown-ups, who are the first victims of the disease. As younglings, we are all are hosts to small numbers of tuberculosis germs. Most of us being of sound body and in favorable condition, never receive any ill effects from the presence within us of these uninvited guests. Others contract the disease in a mild form; and, in time, befriended by nature, and circumstances, overcome it unconsciously and again acquire sturdy health. Yet others go through most of life mildly tuberculous, unaware of the cause of their chronic inertia, unknowing that an insidious group of germs is robbing them every day of the power to enjoy life to the fullest extent, to utilize their powers to the best advantage.

Prognosis—the outlook for recovery—depends, says Dr. Thompson, on the following elements:

First: The patient; his disposition his ability to take treatment without worry and his steadfastness to follow it to the end. Also the financial means to carry it out.

Second: Early diagnosis and prompt treatment. Early stages are practically all curable.

Third: Number and virulence of the disease germs. If the number is very large and the germs are virulent, the patient is overwhelmed.

Fourth: Age at which the patient suffers from the disease. The outlook is more favorable at certain ages in life.

Fifth: Organs involved. When the throat and bowels are involved, the disease is much more serious.

Sixth: Time. It requires a long period of time to control tuberculosis and sometimes the patient is lacking in courage to carry this out, or the financial ability to carry it out.

Seventh: Complications. The outlook is always better when every organ in the body is sound in performing its function.

The physician who would win the fight must first secure and use the patient's cooperation. Doctor Thompson's own method, remarkable for its hundreds of favorable results, embraces a series of fifty-two lectures, one each week for a year. The purpose of these lectures is seven-fold. They aim first of all to make the patient thoroughly acquainted with his own problem of recovery; the patient is enlightened rather than kept ignorant and worried, as in a former day. Furthermore the lectures have the effect of keeping the patient interested and inspired in battling against his personal enemy; they are the stirring messages of the commanding general to his doughboys. And, finally, they equip the patient to go out into the world, upon recovery, trained to recognize tuberculosis in himself or in others, schooled in precautionary measures against spread of the disease, a friend to distressed mankind and a supporting pillar in the cause of good health.

Thus educated he knows absolute quiet, simple and wholesome food, and time are the only sure road back to perfect bodily well-being. He has learned, by sanatorium experience, that the successful patient must lie in bed for hours upon hours, completely relaxed, conquering the impulse to talk, suppressing the desire to turn over unnecessarily, refraining from lifting a hand unless compelled to do so. Consideration for others caused him to observe scrupulously that all coughing must be done in sanitary tissue squares provided for the purpose, the squares being carefully crimped and thrown into a paper bag, pinned to the sheet and later burned. "The greatest obstacle to achieving complete cure" says Doctor Thompson, "is the eagerness of patient and physician for discharge. Outward recovery precedes inward healing."

"Logical recovery is by slow steps: Rest in bed, relaxed of limbs and body, gradual shortening of period spent in bed, walking about the confines of the sanatorium, final discharge. The test of perfect healing comes after ten years. If the patient is at that time in good health, a cure may be considered to have effected."

Few tuberculosis sufferers know the cause of their condition. A well man is well, succinctly summarizes my authority. There is always something responsible for upset conditions. It may merely be Welch rabbit the night before, or it may be more serious. Tuberculosis has frequently been convicted of irritability, nervousness, indigestion and allied symptoms. Before the x-ray will tell the story the tissue must be badly shot; the first stages are over, and the last stage has set in. Nevertheless, there is hope, even for the hiccupping "lunger" of popular conception. If exercise—the old time prescription—is avoided, a quiet resting place in a suitable climate arranged, and the supervision of a competent physician engaged, there is reasonable room for optimism in nearly any case. A few weeks or months in bed will lower the temperature, slow the pulse, slacken the rate of respiration, reduce coughing, and place the patient in a position to respond to the more radical treatment required.

Courage and Sense

I waited outside Doctor Thompson's office while a young man who 'wasn't' feeling very well and just dropped in for a look-over" was being examined. The boy's right lung was nearly gone, and a few months more would have seen his young wife a widow and his infant child fatherless! But the young man was sensible and courageous. He accepted the specialist's dictum, sent his family to other parts where they would be well cared for and not likely to interfere with the discipline of tuberculosis treatment, and went to bed. His lung was closed with gas and put at rest. His chances are good to be back with his loved ones after the passing of one or two years.

There is a pointed message to the public in Doctor Thompson's summary of proper preventative measures:

1. Discover and control every case before it becomes a spreader of the disease. The only way to spread tuberculosis is from one person to another, by means of sputum. No germs off."

(a) It depends upon the patient as to whether he is dangerous to his associates and the best time for prevention is before sputum is formed.

(b) Every means of transmission of the disease from the infected to the well must be taken care of by means of individual drinking cups, sanitary towels, etc.

2. Cutting off the source of the disease before undertaking other means of prevention. In England the final test before a patient is discharged from an insane asylum is conducted thus—The patient is put in a room with stone floor and walls, given a broom and told to sweep out the water which is flowing in from a hydrant. If the patient follows instructions and does not first turn off the flow of water, he is reassigned to the hospital for mental defectives. It is equally as foolish to try to sweep tuberculosis from the face of our civilization without first shutting off the source of the disease.

3. Isolation and segregation of the advanced consumptive who is un-informed and untrained. This is one advantage of county sanitoriums.

4. Separate the child from the person scattering the disease. Children are more easily effected by tuberculosis germs than mature persons.

5. Acquire sufficient knowledge of the body to keep it in a condition unfavorable to tuberculosis.

Discouragement has no place in our attitude toward tuberculosis. We are in a better condition to cope with it than ever before. We must conquer it, even as we have conquered smallpox, yellow fever, typhoid and other once terrorizing plagues. But first of all the people must understand it. Abilene—The Abilene Chamber of Commerce is preparing a booklet giving the names of all the contributing members of the organization and naming those citizens who have been active in putting over civic programs. This is intended to stimulate Chamber of Commerce activities and support as well as give proper credit to the workers.
