CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAS INTERESTING MEETING

Fellow Brownfieldite, if you failed to attend the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Legion hall Tuesday night, you simply missed a treat, and you can just bet your whiskers on that. There was not any cats served, but the meeting was nevertheless spicy; there was no set program, but the meeting was punctuated with timely jokes, jabs and flowing streams of oratory, and debate became keen, yet friendly and wholesome, and intense moments were frequent.

After a nice crowd had gathered, President R. M. Kendrick called the meeting to order, and Secretary M. L. Copeland gave the members an outline of what their organization had accomplished or attempted to accomplish during 1925, and we feel sure that most of the members were like the writer, surprised and pleased at what had actually been accomplished, not to mention many other things that are at this time well under way, and the Herald believes the officers of the Chamber has at least the unsaid thanks of the membership for their untiring work.

The secretary then made a brief talk on the purposes of a Retail Merchants Association, and the merchants present indicated they were much interested, and it was agreed that as the State Secretary would be in Lubbock about Feb. 9th, an effort would be made to get him to come down and perfect the organization, at which time it could be affiliated with the State and National bodies. From information derived from the general discussion, we believe such an association will not only be a good thing for them, but for the town as well. Their object, as some seem to think, is not to get together for the purpose of boosting prices—they could do that without organizing—but for the purpose of self protection from unworthy person who wish credit, or who give worthless checks, for the social side, and for the general advancement of the community. Good talks were made by W. H. Collins, H. R. Winston, Claude Hudgens and R. M. Kendrick.

The chair was then instructed to appoint three members to act as a nominating committee for the election of twelve directors for the ensuing year. There were W. H. Collins, Tom May and A. W. Andersen, and the following were nominated and elected: H. R. Winston, J. E. Michie, W. B. Tudor, Glenn Harris, W. A. Bell, Tom May, Ben Hurst, A. W. Andersen, E. G. Alexander, R. L. Bowers, J. L. Cruce and W. H. Collins. It will be their duty to select a president and secretary that if possible can act both for the Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants Association.

The matter of the night watchman's salary was then brought up and discussed at length, and we believe that matter is going to be put on a much sounder basis, and conducted in a business like way, the city and county governments helping.

The secretary then explained the result of the drive made recently by the church ladies for cemetery funds, in which he highly complimented the ladies, and said they promised to repeat these tag days from time to time as funds are needed. Ben Hurst and Rev. J. G. Thomas also made talks on this line.

The matter of the band then came up, and it soon developed that there was no opposition to the band. In fact, all seemed to favor it, but only a difference of opinion of how and when to proceed. But when it was explained that the bands stands veritably disbanded, and that means rapid scattering of members, the chair was instructed to appoint a committee of three to canvas the community for regular contributions for its maintenance. It was also stated that at least two of the ladies clubs of the city were ready and anxious to help sponsor the band. The following were appointed: Rev. C. E. Ball, Tom May and Homer Winston.

Now these gentlemen are going to come around and see you in a few days, and it is very necessary that you give them respectful hearing, and make your monthly or semi-annual donations as liberal as possible, even if in doing so you feel you will have to cut down a cigar or "coke" or two a day to meet it without extra expense to your business. It isn't even necessary that you be a member of the Chamber of Commerce to contribute to the band. If you believe the band to be a good asset to the town, no

PROMINENT JOHNSON FARMER DIES SUDDENLY

The entire county as well as the Johnson community was greatly shocked Tuesday morning when it became generally known that Mr. B. F. Moore, aged about 59 years, had passed away with heart trouble. As we were informed, Mrs. Moore had gone to the hen house about 6:00 o'clock Monday afternoon and noticed her husband near the corner of the house bent over, like men often do, sitting on his heels, with an ax in his hands, apparently just cutting the ground in front of him. She thought nothing of the matter then, but upon her return, as he was still going thru the same motions, she became uneasy and rushed to him to find he was unconscious. He died about three hours later.

Besides his wife, deceased leaves five children, all of whom are about grown, and four of which live in Terry county, and the other down about Walnut Springs. The body was laid to rest Wednesday in the Brownfield cemetery.

Mr. Moore was a good man and a fine citizen, and will be greatly missed not only by his family.

Lee Walker, prominent farmer of the Meadow section was down recently and paid the Herald a short call. Lee is one of the old timers and of course is not a bit discouraged. In fact, like the Herald, he is expecting a nice crop year, and the geese to be hanging high this fall in old Terry.

matter whether you belong to anything or not, your contribution will be welcome and acceptable, and remember if this band is allowed to scatter, it will cost three times as much money, and be many times harder to put over again, and cost three times as much money to reorganize at any future date. Ben Hurst agreed to collect for the band again.

Letters were then read from oil well promoters, proposing to put in test wells near Brownfield, claiming they had very favorable reports from geologists who had examined this section, and was sure gas at least in paying quantities could be found here. The promoters wanted a block of 5000 acres within three miles of Brownfield. The secretary was instructed to write them in the name of the Chamber of Commerce for Mr. M. V. Brownfield, offering them three times the acreage they wanted and a bonus of $1000 if they really meant business and would put down a real deep test. The matter is now up to the drillers.

After some three hours of much business the meeting adjourned, and for this very reason more meetings should be held, for so much business accumulates, it takes too long to dispose of it, and the members become worn out and tired.

HE DIDN'T ADVERTISE

There was a sluggish little firm that did a sluggish little trade. And had no trouble counting up the profits which it made. The boss became quite peevish as the days went by, and sore. As the crowds went flocking past to his competitor, next door. He couldn't blame his wares, which he was sure was fine. And wondered why the buyers didn't come to see his line: "There won't any better," he would mutter, "than his goods." And yet his shop was lonesome as a cabin in the woods. One day he had a caller, this discouraged business man, Who tacked upon the door a sign which all might read who ran. Which said—Thurs., rain or shine, snow sleet or hail. The goods would be disposed of at a sheriff's auction sale. The next door neighbor bought the stock and sold it in a week. To crowds that daily in the paper bargains seek. Which caused the former boss to say, which showed he was wise. He made a fatal error when he failed to ADVERTISE!

MARKET FOR BEARGRASS WILL HELP FARMERS

By examining these advertising columns you will note there is a buyer here for beargrass, which not only gives the idle farmer something to do, but a source of some income to tide him through the spring and summer, and at the same time the means of ridding his place of a pest.

It is said that with little experience one man is able to cut and haul in to market three tons a day, which if figured at $2.00 per ton is not bad wages for short winter days.

Our understanding is that the grass is to be cut with just enough of the roots or pulp to hold the blades together, and then with the ax or mattock split the pulp or root into leaving it just so it will hang together, throw it on the wagon and bring it in. Every dollar made now is just that much better for the entire county.

J. E. SHELTON WITHDRAWS FROM COUNTY JUDGES RACE

Due to the successful administration of Mr. H. R. Winston as County Judge, there is a strong sentiment over the different sections of the county that he make the race for his second term and being for majority rule in all cases, the writer hereby withdraws his name as a candidate for the office and at the same time desires to thank his friends for assurances of their support in his race. Judge Winston's announcement will be found in another column.

Yours very truly,
J. E. Shelton

COTTON CROP ABOUT TWO-THIRDS OF LAST YEAR

According to figures given us by Mr. O. E. Johnson, the county cotton agent for the Government, 10,283 bales of cotton were ginned from the crop of 1925 up to Jan. 16, 1926.

This compares to 15,560 bales ginned of the 1924 crop up to the same date in 1925.

HOTEL MEN HERE AGAIN LAST WEEK

Members of the Panhandle Construction Company, and owners of the site on the northwest corner of the public square on which they will begin the construction of a modern hotel in the near future, were here again last week to go over some preliminaries, and we understand that they will announce definitely in the near future just when construction will begin on the hotel.

It is our understanding, however, that what is holding up construction just now is the matter of an alley way between the hotel lot and the Higginbotham Bartlett Lumber Co. It is to be hoped that this matter can be arranged and construction started in the near future.

That a modern hotel is needed, no one questions, for it is a well known fact that travelling men make their arrangements to leave just before noon for other towns, as the local hotels are always filled, at least most of the time, the transients are taken in private residences of the city.

ELDER WRYE TO LECTURE ON JORDAN RIVER SUN. NIGHT

Elder H. W. Wrye will lecture Sunday night at 7:30 at the church of Christ, on the "River Jordan" and its physical peculiarities, emphasizing the marvelous lessons derived therefrom. All are invited and a Christian welcome awaits you. Preceding the lecture, congregational singing will be in order.

"Come thou with us and we will do thee good."

FOR RE-ELECTION AS COUNTY JUDGE

To the Voters of Terry county, Texas.

I take this means of informing the voters of Terry County, that I have decided to make the race for County Judge, and Ex-Officio County School Superintendent, to succeed myself, subject to the action of the primaries next July.

When I returned from the Sanitarium with a heavy bill hanging over me, I thought I would not make the race owing to financial matters, but believing that I am better qualified to fill the office than I have in the past, from the last two years experience, I have reconsidered and will make the race.

Will say that I was instrumental last year in securing $3200.00 of State Aid for seven rural schools, and have a promise of securing $2,700.00 more this year. The Commissioners Court and myself saved the county over $3000 by not buying culverts for State Highways, after looking into the matter and finding that the county did not have to purchase them. There are various other things we did too numerous to mention and, of course, we made some mistakes, as man is prone to err.

I thank you for your vote and influence in the past, and will appreciate the same in the future, and if I am elected I will give you the best service I am able to render.

Yours very truly,
H. R. Winston

ADA MAE SNODGRASS UNDERGOES SERIOUS OPERATION

Miss Ada Mae Snodgrass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Snodgrass, of Fluvanna, but for many years residents of this city and county, underwent a serious operation at the Lubbock Sanitarium Tuesday morning, the 19th, for goiter. Her life was almost despaired for several days following, but it is understood that she will very likely recover now, to the delight of her family and many friends here. We understand that Dr. J. T. Krueger, chief surgeon of the sanitarium, made a special trip to New York and spent six weeks there in order to study the best methods of operation for goiter.

W. B. TUDOR AND WIFE TO MOVE IN NEW HOME

The finishing touches are being put on one of the prettiest homes in this city, located on east Cardwell Street. This home beautiful belongs to Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tudor, and will be occupied by them for a permanence in the next few days, perhaps.

The building is of brick, using a beautiful white face brick for the exterior, and the building is a beauty architecturally, making that section of our city even more attractive.

Those building new homes should take this into consideration, as they are making it a permanent home, they should put every dollar possible into it, as it will probably be their home for life.

WIFE OF CICERO SMITH PRESIDENT DEAD

Mrs. J. L. Johnson, wife of the president of Cicero Smith lumber yards throughout this section passed away in Baltimore last Tuesday afternoon on the operating table of a large hospital there. The body was shipped to Fort Worth, Texas, their home, where burial was had.

The yard here was closed all day last Thursday.

FRIDAY 42 CLUB

A delightful party was enjoyed on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. M. Kendrick.

After several games of forty-two, delightful refreshments of sandwiches, olives, pickles, hot tea and pie were served by the hostess and her lovely daughter, Gladys.

Those present were Mesdames A. M. and Ray Brownfield, Bowers, Copeland, Adams, Collins, Holgate, Harris, Tiernan, Hamilton, Lewis, Brothers, Scudday, Henderson, Bell, Randal, Head and Misses Nellie Flache and Anna Belle Scudday.—Reporter.

Mrs. Robt. Garvin returned to her home in Abernathy after a prolonged visit with her sister, Satch Green, while she has been taking a treatment from Dr. Treadaway.

WOMAN TO OPPOSE LEE SATTERWHITE

Amarillo, Texas, Jan. 23.—Lee Satterwhite, Speaker of the House of Representatives in the Texas Legislature, who recently announced for re-election as Representative from this district, will be opposed for office by Mrs. R. S. Thompson, prominent Amarillo club woman and writer. Mrs. Thompson has been preparing for her race against Mr. Satterwhite for almost two years and people in this section of West Texas are getting set for a "hoss race" between the two.

Potter County's political pot is boiling with Less Whitaker running against Wiley Pollard for Sheriff. Whitaker was defeated by Pollard by a few votes in the last election. J. G. McCausland and J. W. Collins are in the race for Tax-Office, and Bill Golding, now in the office, has not announced for re-election. H. K. Stanford has announced for re-election as County Attorney, J. C. Skillman for District Clerk and it is rumored that Lloyd Fletcher and W. N. Nix will again oppose each other in the race for District Attorney.

TRAINMAN KILLED IN SNYDER YARDS

Snyder, Texas, Jan. 23.—David L. Strahan, brakeman of Slaton, was instantly killed here today when struck by a Santa Fe freight train. He is believed to have fallen in the path of the train when his foot slipped on an icy platform.

Strahan's body was badly mangled under the wheels of the train, and witnesses to the tragedy say death was almost instantaneous. His body was sent to relatives at Nacogdoches.

G. W. HICKS BIRTHDAY PARTY

A day long to be remembered by G. W. Hicks and a host of friends is January, 26, 1926, when his two daughters, Mrs. Pounds and Dunn, silently prepared for their father a surprise supper commemorating his 64th birthday. Well, the occasion was great, two long tables were spread and filled to overflowing with the richest fruit of our land.

Brother Ball started the ball to rolling after the invited guests had assembled around the table, with talk on "Home," and what makes a real home, climaxing his theme by a reference to our host in whose honor we has assembled. Brother C. B. Markham offered thanks.

The following guests, besides the family enjoyed to the fullest, this sumptuous affair.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Price, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. Markham, Mr. and Mrs. N. Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. L. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Welch, Bruce Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Sniiker, Mr. and Mrs. Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Price, Mr. and Mrs. Tittle, Mr. and Mrs. L. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Oehler, Alfred Tittle, and Mr. Wilson and a host of children. The guests departed at a late hour in high praise of the Hostess, and wishing Mr. Hicks many joyful birthdays. —By one present.

MEADOW BAPTISTS SECURE NEW PASTOR

The Baptist church at this place has recently secured the services of Rev. Draper as pastor for the coming year. Rev. Draper comes to us from Abilene where he has been attending school. He has preached here on different occasions prior to his election to the pastorate here. He comes very highly recommended as an able minister and prominent citizen.—Meadow Review.

The Gates Dry Goods Company are here this week disposing of the Fandy Bankrupt stock of dry Goods, for the creditors who recently bought in the stocks. We call your attention to their ad in this issue and will state they promise some real bargains.

The Union Cemetery Association certainly do mean business, for the Herald printed them a lot of receipts last week, which will be given those who purchase lots. This is business and shows they are going to do business in a business way, and there will not be later disputes over lots in the cemetery, as the Association keeps a sub of the transaction.

WHAT WE ARE DOING FOR SCHOOLS AND CHURCHES

To show what a tremendous extravagance America has drifted into the Review copies from the People's Popular Monthly the following table of statistics, which deserves the serious consideration of every citizen:

Living costs	$0.24
Luxuries	.22
Waste	.14
Miscellaneous	.13
Investment	.11
Crime	.08
Government	.04
Schools	0.1%
Churches	.003

No figures are given for other count-terrible indictment of America's sense of values. This table shows that we are spending almost as much for luxuries as for necessities. We waste six times as much as we spend for schools and churches.

Crime costs us practically twice as much as government and we actually waste about as much money as we spend for government, schools and churches. In all probability, if all methods of waste were taken into consideration, the figures would be even more alarming.

In these days when we hear constantly that people are being harassed for money for various charitable organizations and that our schools are costing too much, it is amazing to find that we spend only 1 1/2% out of every dollar for our educational system and 3/4 cent for the church.

Certainly education and religion are the main factors in building great men. Few, indeed have been the men "worth while" who have not been so because of education and religion, and yet crime costs four times as much as we spend on both education and religion.

We cannot see how our country is safe so long as our costs of crime is four times as much as we spend on education and religion. Neither can any people be safe where they spend nearly as much for luxuries as for necessities, and where they are wasting more than they invest.

These figures are so significant that everyone should study them carefully and then takes some steps in your own family that no such conditions prevails.—Meadow Review.

$175,000.00 WATER BONDS VOTED AT ROTAN

Bonds in the sum of $175,000.00 were approved last Saturday by the voters of Fisher County Fresh Water District No. 1, which district comprises the city of Rotan and adjacent territory of a small area. The vote was 150 for the proposition and 17 against. This is perhaps the largest vote polled her in recent years on a local proposition.

Everyone seems to have full confidence in the supply of water from wells being adequate for the needs of Rotan at present and for many years to come. It is practically certain that we will have an abundant supply of good water in Rotan within the next few months. The well water at Camp Springs is about the same as the Plains water, which is about 98 percent pure. It is better and softer water than any storage or reservoir water could be. Drawn from wells far away from any densely populated area, it would be more certainly free from contamination than the water supply of any other town in West Texas. If our water supply is secured from these wells it will mean that Rotan's water supply is better than that of any other West Texas town or city, excepting none.

FORD BELIEVES ADVER- TISING DRAWS CROWDS

"Henry Ford will increase his advertising during 1926 one-third more than last year." Wm. B. Malcolm, of Dallas, representative of the Ford Motor Company, told the News last week-end while here attending to business in regard to the company.
"I noticed an ad of your own in the Lynn County News," he told the News man, with the heading Advertising brings the crowds. Henry Ford certainly does believe in that slogan. Because he knows that this fact is true and because of the fact that he has practiced advertising, he has made such a success."

Forty per cent of Ford's entire advertising appropriation, he says, goes to weekly newspaper advertising, and "The King of the automobile industry" is said to spend between 7 and 8 million dollars annually on advertising.

And, yet, some Tahoka business men do not believe in newspaper advertising. Maybe not, but Ford made his success by advertising.—

Excellent Reason Why Wife Bosses Husband

The ambitions of a normal girl are two; first, to secure a husband who is sufficiently prosperous to maintain her in luxury; second, to boss him. The first ambition is seldom realized; the second almost invariably is.

Two factors contribute to the realization of the second ambition: the husband's love, which makes him amenable and long-suffering, and the wife's love, which makes her watchful, persistent and unyielding.

It is not, as many suppose, a czar complex that prompts a wife to be the keeper of her husband's conscience and the director of all his ways. It is love, nothing less.

Because she loves him she wishes to keep him from the follies that would serve him ill, to shield him from the devil that is within him, and to make him the perfect creature her love would have him be.

That is mother instinct, and it is aroused by the fact that her husband functions much as a small boy functions. He tells her his troubles, he grows under her praise; he pouts when she huris his tender feelings.

Her efforts to boss doubtless are commendable, but the first essential in training a mule is to have more sense than the mule. It is one thing to yearn for authority, and quite another to qualify for it.

No man wishes to be bossed, even in the name of duty and love. The pride of his manhood is dear to him. Brazenly to order him about is to insult him gratuitously, foolishly and uselessly. The way to bridge a skittish horse is to keep the bride behind your back until you rub the horse's nose.

Any woman who hasn't wit enough to do her bossing deftly and smoothly without revealing either her plan of campaign or her ultimate purpose, deserves to live in the kind of bedlam that is provided for married folk who have strong wills and no tact.—Balti-

Air "Lighthouses"

Before many years have passed, "By Air to Anywhere" will be a suitable advertisement for the world's service of air liners; and just as ocean routes resulted in our coastal lights, so these air routes will produce lighthouses for the guidance of air traffic.

The first of a series of these lighthouses has just been completed on the outskirts of Dijon, on the top of Mont Arléque, a hill about 1,800 feet high. It is one of several that will mark the air route from Paris to Algiers. The light has a strength of 874,000,000 candle-power, and gives a flash that will be visible on a clear night for over 300 miles. A similar lighthouse is to be built in the neighborhood of Paris.

At the same time comes news of a proposed survey, to cost $45,000, of an air route between Kenya and Khartoun, and there can be no doubt that Africa, once the Dark continent, will loom large in air annals, and will presently have many such lighthouses as the one at Dijon.

Archology School in Cave

Prof. George Collie, head of the anthropology department at Beloit college, at Beloit, Wis., is planning on going to Europe and starting a school of archology in a cave in southern France. Only about a dozen students will be permitted to attend the school at one time and they will have to support themselves while there. The main purpose of the school is to test the theory that man originated in southwestern France. Although Professor Collie himself believes man originated in Africa, he is willing to test the theory advanced that France was the cradle of the human race. If the plan is carried out, the school itself will be in one of the prehistoric caves. Lodging accommodations for the students will be close at hand.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Color-Blindness

Prof. H. E. Roaf has described a new method for the investigation of color-blindness. It consists in finding the wave length of light by which a color-match given by a color-blind person appears also to match for one of normal vision. It is evident when this has been found that the region of the spectrum in which the defect lies must also have been removed. The problem, therefore, is one of cutting off different regions of the spectrum and finding the wave-length limits of the smallest decrease in the spectrum for which the original and the comparison color match to a normal person. In 28 cases it was found that the defect is always in the red end of the spectrum.

CONDITIONS ON WHICH U. S. ENTERS WORLD COURT

Washington, Jan. 26.—The senate has determined the conditions upon which it agrees the United States shall join the world court. The conditions are:

1.—That adherence shall not involve the United States in any legal relation with the League of Nations or assumption of any obligations under the treaty of Versailles. Adopted 89 to 1.

2. That the United States shall participate in the League Council and assembly during election of judges on parity with all other nations. Adopted 83 to 3.

3. That the United States will pay a fair share of the expenses of the court. Adopted 89 to 3.

4. That the United States may at any time withdraw from the court and that the statute of the court shall not be changed without consent of the United States. Adopted 91 to 1.

5. That the court must render advisory opinions publicly after open hearings for interested parties and shall render no advisory opinion affecting the United States without this government's consent. Adopted 91 to 1.

6. That other nations must accept senate reservations in writing before the United States signs the protocol. Adopted by acclamation.

7. That recourse to the court for settlement of difficulties between the United States and other countries can only be had by treaties between the parties in dispute. Adopted by acclamation.

8. That in adhering to the court the United States does not depart from its traditional policy of non-interference in European political affairs and does not relinquish its traditional attitude toward purely American questions. Adopted by acclamation.

Final action on the resolution of adherence probably will be taken Wednesday. Some 20 reservations are yet to be voted upon. But the eight conditions approved by the Senate Tuesday constitute the sections of the Swanson resolution which is slated to be adopted as a whole by the senate after the other pending reservations have been rejected.

In the test votes on the sections of the Swanson resolution, the administration forces displayed complete command of the situation and unless there is an overnight break, they will be able to preserve the Swanson resolution intact as approved by sections Tuesday.

Newspapers, especially the smaller ones of the nation, are just now organizing a campaign to persuade Uncle Sam to refrain from printing return addresses on stamped envelopes at cost, in competition with the little printers. Under existing conditions, Uncle Sam hires salesmen in the person of postal employees to solicit the business, write up the orders, transmit them to the printer, collect the bill and deliver the printed job at the consumers office. Why small papers alone should be subjected this kind of competition from their own government cannot be explained, and there is prospects that the printing service that the government has rendered practically free to users of stamped envelopes will be abolished by this session of Congress. Other business enterprises that are perennially threatened with government competition below cost, if taxes and overhead are calculated, should join with the newspapers in an effort to get Uncle Sam out of the printing business for the general public, in competition with private enterprises and thus strengthen the principle of confining government activities to the functions of government.—Santa Rosa (Calif.) Republican.

Another stinging illustration of the folly of keeping large sums of money about the house or in other insecure places, comes from Corinth, Miss., where $7,000 in currency was burned in a fire which also destroyed a farmer's home. I. H. Nelms of that place, took the precaution to insure his cotton when it was stored in a compress, which burned a short time later. But when he received his insurance money, instead of depositing it in a bank, he kept it in his home. The house caught fire at night, and Nelms' son was badly burned and nearly lost his life in an attempt to save the money, it was all consumed by the flames. Innumerable cases of loss occur thru fire and theft as a result of failure to use the banks for the safe keeping of cash and other valuables. Unfortunately such losses usually fall upon those least able to stand them.—Clipped.

Frank Howard, old time friend of the Herald family, joined by his good wife, presented the Herald family with a large supply of fresh hog one day this week. It came just in time Frank, and we can see our way clear to write heavy editorials another week or two.

HIS POLITICAL EAR WAS NOT TUNED IN

The people of Bingville were gathered to discuss the building of a system of good roads. The issue had been up some years previously, and had been swamped by the opposition. In the audience were several men who had led the opposition. A former county judge, with a lingering political bee in his bonnet, was the first speaker called upon to discuss the plan offered. The judge declared against the proposition.

Poor fellow! Every man who spoke including the farmer who had before led the opposition, declared for the project, and those one-time opposers were the first to sign the petition. The judge's political ear, which he thought he had to the ground of Bing county, had played him false. He was "away out on a limb," and it will be interesting to observe the process by which he squares himself with the voters.

This is a true story—except for the names, which are obvious fabrications. It is recounted for its application to a broader subject which is just now in the minds of the whole South, not to say the Nation.

A number of senators and representatives have recently voiced emphatic pronouncements about what they are going to do to the law providing for the crop-reporting board and its functions. We have a suspicion that some of these gentlemen are going to find themselves in the same position as the judge described above. Their constituents—that is, their cotton growing constituents—will endorse sincere efforts to improve the crop reporting system, but it is only a few of their constituents, most of whom are growing no cotton, who will endorse the wild proposals of limiting the functions of the crop reporting board to suit the demands of the speculative interests.

These vociferous gentlemen would have done well to tune in with the cotton growers as represented by their organizations and by well informed individuals before announcing their radical policies. The political ear is a valuable organ, but it frequently hears from the wrong direction.—Farm and Ranch.

Big Spring—Huge mountain-type engines have been put on this division by the T-P Railway to pull the fast passenger trains. These are said to be the most powerful locomotives in existence. The big 600 type have been put on the division to handle freight shipments.

Childress—Cotton are of great value as fertilizer and have value as feed. This fact has been recently discovered by Childress farmers. Formerly the gins here had to hire the burs cleaned from cotton hauled away and were put to considerable expense. Now, however, farmers eagerly pounce on all burs expelled from the gin and declare they are of great value. One authority declares that gins will soon be grinding these burs to sell as feed. He points out that a comparatively few years ago cotton seed were considered a nuisance at gins and farmers were stopped by law from dumping cotton seed in creeks.

Claude—A movement has been launched to perpetuate as a park the famed Goodnight Buffalo and Cattle Park at Goodnight. This park and the herd of Col. Goodnight present the last opportunity for Texas to perpetuate the Buffalo which formerly ranged her plains in countless herds and Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner is leading the move to take the historical old place as a park.

Shamrock—A commercial hatchery is to be installed here soon. The poultry industry is expanding rapidly in Wheeler county and the hatchery has become a necessity. Col. R. Q. Lee, President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce started the move for a hatchery here when he delivered an address here last August.

Merkel—This city plans to go after the next district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and will send a big delegation to midland on Jan. 26 to the district convention there. It is planned to take the Simmons Cow-Boy Band of Simmons University to help land the next meet.

Lockney—A meeting of all towns along the route of the proposed extension of the Denver road will be held here in the near future. The meeting is for the purpose of urging haste on the application of the Denver to make the extension.

J. D. Williamson was in Tuesday from the Johnson community and informed us that he believed they got at least a five inch snow there, which he said, would sure help farming operations.

G. N. Hodges, local grain buyer, who has shipped a number of cars of corn and maize from here, informed us this week that he shipped three cars of corn from Wellman, Tuesday, and would ship three more Wednesday.

MARRIED

Uncle Bill Pyeatt and Mrs. McPete were married last Tuesday night at the residence of Rev. J. G. Thomas, pastor of the local Methodist Church, he officiating at the ceremony.

They will make their home in the eastern part of the city. Uncle Bill has a host of friends here, being one of the pioneers. Mrs. Pyeatt has only been here about a year but has made friends in that time.

W. T. Trimble, prominent citizen of the Plains country, was over this week and became a regular subscriber of the Herald.

Some people seem confused as to the difference between news matter and advertising in the local paper. Where there is no revenue charged, the Signal considers such as news matter and no charge is made for running same in this paper. But, on the other hand, if reading matter is run for the purpose of collecting a revenue, then the Signal reserves the right to charge regular advertising rates for same.—Seagraves Signal.

ELDER WRYE TO HOLD MEETING IN TENNESSEE

Elder H. W. Wrye, minister of the local Church of Christ will leave Monday morning for Clarksville, Tenn. where he will conduct a mid-winter revival for the church at that place, returning here immediately after the meeting.

He, however, will fill his appointment here Sunday morning and night.

J. S. Siddons, recently of Oklahoma, has purchased the A. W. Hall section in the Pleasant Valley country, and has moved on it. Mr. Siddons was in one day this week to subscribe for his new home paper, and informed us that he would endeavor to increase the farm acreage on his place from about 150 to 500 acres, although he might not do it this year. He has a large force and worked more than 300 acres in Oklahoma. Mrs. H. T. Seaton, wife of the former Santa Fe agent here is Mr. Siddons' niece. He seems to like here fine.

Newspaper headlines say "Moody denounces the Ku Klux Klan." Well what of it? Let him denounce the Klan all he wants too, just so he keeps the Highway Department's business straight.—Jayton Chronicle.

A Kansas Newspaper says a woman in its town complained to her husband that the women were working their heads off to pay for a new church, and the husband replied: Well if it weren't for the women, this town wouldn't need any churches.—Clipped.

After the very enthusiastic meeting of our Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night, it looks as if the citizenship have aroused themselves to the importance of the band, and are not going to see it die for want of adequate support. This, to our notion, is certainly a move in the right direction.

Good people, what have you done about your poll tax receipts, or what do you intend to do about it? Do you realize that you are just part citizen without it? That a soldier is of little service to his country without his arms? So arm yourself with the armament of citizenship and be ready to fight for just government in our nation. Carelessness in the citizenship is why we often have government by proxy, and also why this proxy government is often rotten.

It's certainly interesting to hear some people talk about the present generation of young people, how they are on the road to hell. They must be, but who is responsible? The adults of this present generation. No one else. And of course there are things going on today that are not right but in most cases the boys and girls are cleaner and by far more intelligent than most of their parents when they were the same age. How about it, you fathers and mothers? Of course there is always to be heard that old maid-old bachelor gang who constantly feel that they should tell the real fathers and mothers how to raise their children, which is rot of the first water. And then there are those who think their children are too good to associate with and play for a few minutes with the neighbor's children of the community. Then there are those who have possibly raised one, just one, who have not the slightest ambition further than to hold on to the apron string of mother, one that has never had the opportunity to try its character of training; never allowed a minute of freedom where character may be tested, and where the parents have a perfect horror for the children of others. And there are those who are so little and narrow as to deny little children any pleasure, always grumbling about the little noise they make. Well they have their reward coming and we doubt that it will be flowery beds of ease in the Heavens.—Merkel Mail.

As much as most of like to lambast the Ferguson administration there are still some mighty good features to it according to our notion. Aside from the bad pardoning record, which most of us abhor, and the possibility that they were mixed up in the highway matter, which has never been proven, we will have to admit that the State Treasury is in the best shape it has known for years. You don't have to hold your state warrants now until they are worn and rusty before getting them cashed, and the penitentiary system is on a cash basis for the first time in several years and our taxes are a little lower, if anything. Considering these facts with all this cry of graft what must have been the graft according to that under the former administration when, despite higher taxes, our warrants had to be held for months, and the penitentiary system was in debt to its neck. As far as the Herald is concerned it believes that this and the preceding administration are honest, and will believe it until it is conclusively proven otherwise. In fact we think that most of the cries of graft we hear is in the mind of the politicians.

The cry has gone up from all over the state against the law requiring officers to obtain search warrants to enter private residences in search of intoxicants, or other law violations, and this has been laid to the door of the Ferguson administration, when as a matter of fact it was drawn and introduced by a legislator, passed both houses by big majorities, and was signed by Mrs. Ferguson, becoming a law. While it makes it a little more inconvenient for an officer, it will be admitted, the fact remains that none of them were ever refused a search warrant when they are needed, or even suspicions exist that the law is being violated. Indeed the local officers have done mighty well in nipping such violations after obtaining warrants. It has the effect, too, of keeping "smart alex" "deputy constables" from entering the homes of innocent people just to show their authority. The home of the Englishman, and the American, too, for that matter were considered their castles until recent years, and could not be violated except through search warrant, and to our notion, we are no meaner than we were 150 years ago, and our homes should be held just as sacred. Only recently we read of an officer who entered a home without a warrant, and the owner was killed in trying to expel the invader. It was later proven that the deceased man was entirely innocent of any law violation.

FUNDAMENTALISTS

A news dispatch from New Haven, Conn. says "Question of origin of man now engaging scientists." We can settle that for them in a jiffy. Take down the old family Bible, turn to the first chapter of Genesis and twenty-sixth verse, and there it is written "God created man in his own image, in the Image of God created He him." That answer satisfies us; it has satisfied billions who have gone before and through the strength of Him who created man it will live throughout the centuries to come in spite of all efforts of scientists to prove that it was otherwise.—Georgetown Sun.

Great Goodness! You must be a fundamentalist. You must believe that God is a superman. That he is not an essence, a pervasive spirit, a nebulous mist, but a living conscious omniscient form from whom man takes his visible fashion. If you believe it that way, and such belief makes you a fundamentalist, then State Press is a fundamentalist also. At least S. P. believes in a God who is a super-superman. The angles, the employers of Heaven, are super are supermen. God is above them therefore he is a super-superman. State Press doesn't care to believe that God got the idea of man from looking at a turtle. That man was created in his present form and given a discerning mind is S. P.'s faith. Minor considerations of theory and doctrine have little weight with this column. God didn't have to experiment before producing the genus homo. The first man was made with a sense of justice in him, and it was that sense of justice that vitalized his civilization and made social development possible. Man was endowed with a sense of justice which at the beginning most strongly differentiated him from the lower animals. If man had come up from creatures minus an appreciation of justice he would have inherited it himself, therefore would be as wild as the whangedoodles today. Finally, it is justice, God's own justice which will govern our final destination. To abolish God, then, is to abolish justice and dissipate the ideals which have their source in justice. To give up God is to give up all that is worth what existence costs.—State Press in Dallas News.

SHERIFF GETS NEGRO AND CHOCK BEER SUPPLY

Sheriff (Frosty) Ellington and his force have been suspecting for some time that some kind of stimulants were being made and dispensed by some of the colored citizens but good evidence was lacking, but this week they secured a search warrant for a garage where one of the boys "hung-out" and upon entering, not only got a plentiful supply of "evidence," but stopped a young man of the town who had just made a purchase and took his supply.

The negro formerly worked as shine boy in one of the local barber shops, but upon losing his job found time to engage in the "chock beer" business. He was placed in jail and was still there Tuesday morning following his arrest Monday night, having failed to make bond up to that time.

A chemical test showed the beer contained over 6 percent alcohol.

HAVE YOU QUALIFIED AS A GOOD CITIZEN?

Unless you have armed yourself with a little "scrap of paper" which is obtained from our tax collector, you are not a full fledged citizen in every sense of the word. You are not ready to defend your home and state from despoilers in the only peaceable and dignified way for civilized men and women to defend them. And just to think this little arm only costs you $1.75, and we can't see how anyone can be a conscientious objector to such an arm.

Remember this is campaign year, and while the race in the county does not promise to be as warm as two years ago, as things of foreign issues or differences of opinions over local matters will very likely be kept out of the races, at least the Herald hopes so, but there is promise of being one of the hottest races in years in the state, especially for governor, and the citizen who finds himself along about the 4th Saturday in July without one of these qualifying slips of paper will have no more show, and little more respect from either his neighbors or politicians than a man invited to a mumblepeg party who forgets his barlow.

You only have until Saturday night at midnight to secure this precious piece of paper, and remember that the bulk of what it costs you goes to your school district.

J. R. Rainwater, prominent young farmer of the Wellman section, came in and became a regular Herald reader this week.

Mrs. W. D. Winn, one of the old time citizens of Gomez, who has been a constant reader of the Herald since its establishment 20 years ago, was in this week to renew.

'Service' is Our Motto

"A LITTLE KNOWLEDGE IS DANGEROUS THING"

To know "just a little" or "almost everything" about the title to a piece of property is just as safe as knowing nothing at all—and no safer.

Be certain you have complete, detailed, accurate and absolute knowledge that your title is valid before you pay away your money.

Possible you may be able to get such knowledge from people who abstract title "on the side."

But surely you are most likely to get it from specialists, who devote their entire time, energies, and brain power to making abstracts that are absolutely error-proof.

That means us in this town and county.

Come in and we will explain the service in detail.

METHODIST LADIES ENTERTAIN OTHER CHURCH LAIDES

The Methodist Ladies entertained the different auxiliaries of the town Monday, Jan. 25. The house was called to order by Mrs. Longbrake. The program was as follows:

Song: In the Sweet Bye and Bye.
Scripture reading by Mrs. Cox.
Prayer: Mrs. Bynum.
Talk by Mrs. Webber.

Piano Solo: Elizabeth Downing.
Reading: Betty Longbrake.
Vocal Solo: Mozelle Treadaway.
Talk on Federation by Mrs. Thomas, followed by several short talks. The circle or group planned to have a federated club. The following officers were lectured:

Mrs. Dallas, President; Mrs. Collins Vice-Pres.; Mrs. Downing, Sec. Mrs. Gracey, Treas.

Refreshments were served to about forty, after which Miss Leva Dell Cotton played a most beautiful violin solo.

Adjourned to meet next Monday at the Methodist church promptly at 4:00 o'clock. Come and let's make Brownfield a fit town to live in.—Reporter.

Ross Rentfro announced Tuesday at noon that he had to go home and help his wife wash. From what we could gather from very strong hints Ross gave us, he wanted us to put this in the paper, thinking some of the other ladies would ask him to help them wash some day.

Normal Age Extended by Modern Science

Americans are living longer today than they did 50 years ago, but their average life span is still about 35 years short of the biblical "three-score and ten," which is popularly supposed to be the normal limit of human life.

At the present rate of increase it will be another half century before the average man or woman will be justified in counting definitely on the 70 years of existence mentioned by the Hebrew poet. Dr. Harvey W. Wiley writes in Good Housekeeping.

In 1875, when the state of Massachusetts began compiling the statistics, inhabitants of the United States died at an average age of about 43½. By 1900 this figure had been increased to a fraction under 48 and ten years later to approximately 52. And in 1920, the date of the latest available figures, the average white child could be expected to live almost exactly 55 years.

This steady improvement is due largely to better protection of the newborn, particularly the control of hot-weather diseases among children. Infantile diarrhea or "summer complaint," which formerly brought death to so many thousands of little ones, is now known to be caused by the infection of food, and the modern mother has learned to take special care to avoid exposing her baby's food supply to diarrheal infection during the hot months. As a result the infant death rate has dropped from 14 per cent to about 9 per cent in the last 40 years.

Grownups, too, have learned to stave off death from natural causes by means of sanitation, proper diet and vaccination. The whole theory of infection, based upon Pasteur's immortal work, is now well known and understood. Its understanding is not confined alone to physicians and physiologists, but the mother and the father and the young child have more or less a working knowledge of how to prevent infection.

The average American woman lives about three years longer than the average man. Kipling's fling at females needs a slight revision. It should read: "The female of the species is more vital than the male."

It is also shown that the average length of life of the colored race in this country is at least 15 years less than that of the white race.

Italy's Heroes

One of the impressive features of the procession in honor of Victor Emmanuel's twenty-fifth anniversary as King of Italy, was the squad of 50 "Garibaldini" who more than half a century ago fought their way with "the liberator" from Marsala to Capua. Not only in parades, but often on ordinary days one may see these picturesque old men, with their red shirts and their long white beards and frequently in white trousers, hobbling along the streets on canes, sometimes mumbling to themselves and eyeing curiously this noisy, white, modern Rome, so different from the sleepy reddish-brown city for which they offered their lives. Is the reverence which they inspire the product of a romantic legend? Perhaps. But they have a sound title to honor. They never attacked a foe weaker in arms and numbers than themselves. They never persecuted the weak. They never humiliated or mistreated a conquered foe. They never confiscated the property of the poor. Not all the younger Italians who have used violence for patriotic ends have as good a record as theirs.

Romantic Robber

Beside her bed when she arose in the morning the beautiful wife of a wealthy merchant of Lugano, Switzerland, found her jewels gone up in a neat package and the following letter written in Italian: "Signorina—Last night I visited your flat when you were asleep. As I had not the honor of a personal invitation, I entered by the open window—frankly in order to rob you. You will notice that I collected your jewels and some other valuables, which I am greatly ashamed to say I intended taking with me. I saw you sleeping peacefully and fell in love with you. I sat by your bed side for ten minutes 'devooring' your beauty, and became ashamed of my self. Therefore I restore you your jewels. Your humble admirer."

Might Be, You Know

A certain sour spinster always came annoyed when asked a question the answer to which she considered obvious. Thus on the last night of April last she asked the girl at the hotel desk to call her early the next morning by ringing her telephone bell in her bedroom.

"To catch a train?" asked the girl pleasantly.

"For what other reason does one wish to be called early?"

"Sometimes one is to be queen of the May," suggested the girl, still pleasantly.

Her Occupation

Four year-old Marian was sitting on the floor with a paper in her lap. While thus engaged, a neighbor came in and asked her what she was doing.

With a look of great importance, Marian answered: "I'm doing a crossword puzzle."

Fertile Imagination

Frances, four years old, came running to her mother and hid in her skirts. Mother, surprised, asked the cause of her fright.

"I was telling myself a story I was making up," explained Frances, "and there were wolves in it—and—and I got scared!"

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapias

The past two weeks has been very severe in a weather way, as also the matter of health. Very few families have escaped the flu and tonsillitis.

The baby of Mr. Virgil Daniels was seriously ill the past week with diphtheria, but is at this writing getting on nicely.

Two of the teachers of our school, Misses Goodner and Thomas, have been confined to their rooms the past week with flu. Both are leaving for home to recuperate.

Most of the men of the town are at court or preparing to go Monday, either as witnesses or jurors.

It also appears that a larger number than usual are defendants in one way or another for supposed violations of the law. This should not be. The present lax enforcement of the statutes of the state is a poor excuse for wrong doing, especially of minor offenses. Better get it out of your system.

Editor Blackstone of the Review is back from a trip to the old home at Pittsburg, Texas. From his talk I kinder imagine he still has a hankering for the black-jacks and pine ridges of east Texas. It may be that some lovely creature in georgette and crinolin may be at the bottom of his home sickness. If so, his case is rather hopeless.

We notice that our old friend Zorns is a probable candidate for constable. Well, if he continues in the race the writer will announce for justice of the peace, and we will catch 'em comin' and gwyin'—if we should be elected.

Our gin continues to thresh out the cotton and there is no apparent limit to this kind of cotton. Whether or not our farmers will be any better for it is problematical.

Hospitality: At the closing of the singing convention last Sunday, and the decision to have the next meeting at Lubbock, one of the Lubbock delegates informed us that if we came to Lubbock to be sure and bring our dinner, as that place would not set out refreshments.

Meadow always entertains those whom it regards as its guests. In the future, however, I presume we will fall in line, and let it be every fellow for himself and the devil take the hindmost.

MUCH SNOW AND MERCURY HUNTS BOTTOM

Cool, cloudy weather developed near the middle of last week following about two weeks of open, sunny weather that often reminded the citizens of spring and fishing tackle on the banks of some running stream, but before the week was over their dreams were transferred to the north pole or thereabouts, and visions of ice huts and polar bears took the place of a shady nook under the spreading elm.

Snow fell Thursday and Thursday night to a depth reaching from 3 to 6 inches over the county, and will be of untold good to the farm and ranch interests. Another snow Saturday night came on top of it reaching a depth of probably an inch.

During the worst of the blizzard the thermometer at the Postoffice reached something like 6 above zero, according to night watchman E. Brown, and for several nights this section was literally ice bound. Monday, however, the weather cleared and a warm southeast wind and sunshine put mercury back up to its usual winter standard, and the snow began to disappear rapidly.

In conversation with a number of farmers and ranchmen who attended court here this week, they are of the opinion that land breaking can now be started in earnest, and that early weeds and grass will be assured for the cattle. To say the least, the situation is very much more encouraging and with the prediction of local and national prognosticators that we may expect much snow and rain next month, we have begun to "feel our keeping" as it were.

The opinion is generally unanimous here that so far, we have had the coldest winter in many years, and should, to some extent, keep down any possible damage from insects, for the ground has been frozen deep, which ought to destroy the fertility of insect eggs anywhere near the surface.

CLARENCE DARROW OF THE NOBLE NORDIC RACE

We clip the following from a recent issue of the Jayson Chronicle:

In its issue of January 9th, the Dearborn Independent took Mr. Clarence Darrow of Chicago to a well deserved cleaning. When the time comes that a man has nothing better to do than to stir up prejudice and passion in an ignorant race against the people and institutions that give them protection, there should be a law that would make possible his banishment to the land from whence he came. We regard Mr. Darrow as one of the most dangerous characters on our continent, enemy of the Christian religion, champion of those opposed to the 18th amendment, safeguard of desperate criminals who have money to burn, champion of all that is evil in the black race. The editorial follows:

Mr. Clarence Darrow recently in Detroit pleaded the case of a negro client by making fervent pleas against race prejudice. In doing so Darrow exhibited a surprising amount of race prejudice himself, but against the white race. The blacks were all whites to him, and whites all black. Not a white witness escaped Darrow's charge of perjury. Here is an oratorical gem of characteristic ray concerning the fifty or more white witnesses in the case:

"Every witness perjured himself over and over again to send these defendants to prison—men, women and children alike have come into this court to lie—they perjured themselves in favor of their noble Nordic race everyone of them lied—right down to their little children."

"The white man who was murdered, the white neighbors, the police, the state's attorney—everybody was a blackleg to Darrow. In fact, no negro in the case could have felt more race prejudice against the whites. This writer is willing to say that few negroes have ever felt or want to feel a race prejudice as intense and unreasoning as that of Darrow."

"However, we confidently leave Mr. Darrow to the negroes, where he wants to be, for we believe that the more intelligent American negro is beginning to realize the falsity of such friendship. There is in this country a deliberate and organized effort to bolshevize the colored man. Every visitor to a recent scientific gathering at Moscow testified to the feverish activity of bolshevist chiefs in their new crusade to arouse the yellow and black people of the earth in a war against white governments. There are in Moscow now American negroes being trained as Communist agents for work among their people in America. American negroes know this and are arousing themselves to meet the situation. Let us hope they handle it effectively. The destiny of both white and black races in this continent is to live together in the same economic system, and together they will resist all attempts to destroy the white man's civilization, which is the black man's best security."

Mr. Darrow proceeded from Detroit to New York, where he again spoke to negroes. He again made sport of the Nordic race. This irreligious representative of the religious negro cautioned him against piety. "There's another thing; your too blooming pious," he said. He counselled the negro to form of himself a voting bloc "to keep the white politicians guessing." In short, he exhibited a race prejudice—prejudice against the race that bore him. Negroes don't respect white men who fawn over them."

Tadpoles Kept Young

Scientists at the Johns Hopkins Medical school have found the fountain of perpetual youth, but so far only tadpoles are permitted to drink of its magic waters. When frog eggs were hatching at the laboratory, before the tadpole was developed fully, the anterior lobe of a certain gland in the brain was cut away. With this gone the thyroid gland does not develop normally and the tadpole remains the same.

ANNIVERSARIES OF 1926 IMPORTANT TO PEOPLE

Coincident with the celebration in Philadelphia this year of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence will be observed the 50th anniversary of the invention of the telephone by Alexander Graham Bell, says the Texas Public Service Bureau. It was at the Centennial celebration in Philadelphia in 1876 that the first Bell telephone was publicly exhibited.

The collateral telephone apparatus in use today does not look much like that in use in the early eighties nor does it work like it. This is especially true of the automatic mechanical switching system of telephone operation, which has been in successful operation in many cities throughout the world for the past twenty-five years, and is now being installed in the large metropolitan areas.

In the fifty years since the telephone was invented it has come to supply a daily need of most of the people in the nation that is 150 years old. And its influence upon the lives of all the people is reflected in their manner of living and doing business.

The oldest telephone exchange in Texas is at Galveston. It was established very soon after the first telephone exchange in the world. And yet persons are still living in Galveston who used the services of the first telephone there.

A VERSATILE LANGUAGE NEEDED FOR COMMERCE

The department of commerce at Washington calls attention to some differences between English as she is spoken in England and in this country. The American "dry goods store" is the Englishman's "draper's"; our "hardware store" is his ironmonger's; our "automobile" his "motor"; our "gasoline" is his "petrol"; our "wood alcohol" is his "methylated spirit."

It is timely advice in this day of extensive trade between the United States and England. If the breach in nomenclature between the two countries is not widening it is not closing rapidly.

Perhaps the commerce department bulletin was promoted by the unfortunate error of the American manufacturer who received a request from an English firm for prices on "suspenders." When no order followed he investigated and learned to his consternation that what are known in this country as "suspenders" are called "braces" in England and that the American manufacturer who, in his advertising literature for distribution in England, used the word "druggist," only to discover that the Britons called their pharmacists "chemists."

Although speaking the same language, Uncle Sam and John Bull can not long engage in conversation without feeling the need of an interpreter. But one should not be surprised at that. A New England Yankee and a Southern Colonel have great difficulty in understanding each other, and the New Yorker talks a "foreign tongue" to the Westerner.

SCHOOL APPORTIONMENT SHOULD BE $24.00

Fort Worth, Jan. 26.—The state scholastic per capita apportionment should be increased $2.00 per child for each succeeding biennium until it reaches $24.00, says President J. M. Bledsoe of the Texas State Teacher's Association. It is absolute folly to expect Texas to guarantee an efficient system of public free schools for even a short period of six months as provided in the Texas Constitution upon an apportionment insufficient to maintain such a system, he declares. Four dollars a month per child is a reasonable basis for computing school costs.

Securing a $14.00 per capita apportionment for the 1926-27 school term is the most immediate problem for the state to solve.

Only $12.00 per capita is in sight for 1926-27 unless relief comes through appropriations by the Thirty-ninth Legislature in special session or by the prompt action of the Fortieth Legislature. Scores of schools will be able to run for six months this year and 1926-27 terms will be much less if only $12.00 per child is available.

Legislation looking to the ultimate reconstruction of public school education in Texas is to be urged by the Texas State Teachers Association for approval by the Fortieth Legislature. The Association has accepted the invitation to assist the legislative committee of the Texas School Survey Commission in formulating the proposed legislation. This committee authorized by the Thirty-eighth legislature, is composed of Hon. Pat Neff, Tom Finty, Jr., and T. D. Brooks.

The Texas Educational Commission is being formed by the Texas State Teachers Association, and will include representatives of all educational and economic groups of the state, to plan a program for educational progress in Texas.

DISTRICT COURT ADJOURNED AGAIN UNTIL MONDAY

District Court was in session Monday at the American Legion hall and a few civil cases disposed of. Owing to the fact that a fire was started late in the building, it was warm enough to hold court in until afternoon.

The Grand Jury last week returned several bills of indictment but we did not learn their nature as probably many of them have not been executed up to this time.

The four young men from from Yoakum county, charged with theft of hides of skunks and wolves, whose cases were transferred here, were given four year suspended sentences after pleading guilty and asking the mercy of the court.

Court will convene next Monday. County Court will convene here the 3rd Monday in February, being the 15th.

C. D. Haynes, prominent farmer of the Pride section was in Monday and attended court. He informed the Herald that they had about six inches of snow in his neighborhood, and that plowing would start with a vim in the next few days, or as soon as the weather clears. He told us about a 100 acre land farm that was broken out last spring when it was so dry that a very poor job was done on the breaking, but he got 23 bales of cotton on the 100 acres. He is planning to break out another good farm this year.

COST OF O'DONNELL WATER- WORKS ESTIMATED

Engineer Wells, of the Delvin Engineering Company, who is superintending the construction of a sewer system in Brownfield was a business visitor here Thursday. Mr. Wells submitted an estimate to the City Council as to the cost of the proposed water works system, the bonds for which will be voted on in February.—O'Donnell Index.

Last week was good roads week, but we were so enthused with our own road program that we failed to remember to celebrate. They are getting so many of these weeks that we will have to join some sort of service organization and have them all brought to our attention as they recur. Anniversaries and holidays may be treated in the same manner.—Henrietta Independent.

Sure! And also to say nothing about the various and sundry Sundays to celebrate, Father, Mother, Brother, Sister and Cousin Sue.

NEW DORMITORY COMPLETED AND FURNISHED

Abilene, Jan. 25.—The $50,000 wing of President Hall of McMurray College has just been completed, and some twenty girls and teachers began calling it "home" last Friday.

This new dormitory is beautifully constructed of cream colored brick, fire proof, and thoroughly modern in arrangement and equipment.

The lack of uniformity in size and shape of the rooms breaks the monotony found in many dormitories. The rooms are well lighted, and the walls are a restful grey-blue with cream ceilings. A chest of drawers connects the individual clothes closets, and the lavatories and towel racks are arranged so as not to be noticed upon opening the door of the room. The furniture consists of battleship grey twin beds, two straight chairs, a rocker, a console table and mirror and a study table.

Several of these rooms have been furnished by friends of the college. The furniture and shades cost one hundred dollars, not including rugs and draperies. Among those donors are Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Miller, of First Methodist Church; The Builders, the Wesleyan, and The Bureau class of St. Paul Methodist Church are furnishing a room each; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Potts, and Mrs. C. L. Haley, are furnishing two rooms; Mrs. Henry Bass and Mrs. Will Fulwiler are equipping a room together as are Mrs. A. T. Jones and Mrs. Olive Wooten.

Name plates will be placed over the doors indicating the donor of the equipment.

Arthur Scudday another young stockman and farmer who was almost reared in Old Terry, is now a regular reader of the Herald.

Mrs. Walter Gracey is now the Noble Grand and Mrs. Lissie Jones the new secretary of the local Rebekah Lodge for the first six months of 1926.

FORMER LAMB COUNTY SHERIFF FORFEITS BOND

Plainview, Jan. 23.—Ex-Sheriff Carter of Lamb County, who stands indicted with embezzlement of public funds in Lamb County, forfeited his bond when his case was called in District Court at Plainview Thursday. Carter did not appear for trial and his bondsmen will be called upon at the next term of court to show cause why they should not pay the amount of the bonds under which he was held.

Several prominent Lamb County citizens are on the bond.

Joe Bailey received a letter from T. P. Ellis, of Detroit, Texas, this week that his father, Thos. A. Ellis had died in a sanitarium at Memphis, Tenn. following an operation for acute appendicitis and gall stone. Mr. Ellis, we understand, was on his way to Florida on a business mission, and was apparently well when he left home, and such favorable reports came from Memphis that none of the family were there when he died. His son T. P. resided here for the past two years, returning to Detroit just before the holidays.

Mr. Compton, advertising specialist, of Nashville, Tenn., was here recently paying the Herald a call, but we informed him that some of our business men had recently had considerable experience in special advertising to their regret and we advised him not to hit them on their sore spot so soon after, even if he had a good thing, and was honest with it. He took us at our word and left next day.
