THE CARLSBAD CAVERN

By A. L. Burnett

This latest world's wonder is situated in the mountains to the southwest of Carlsbad, New Mexico, and is reached from that city by a drive of some thirty miles during which you rise from the valley plain to the crest of the hills by means of a winding driveway.

Once on top you are instructed where to park your car and are shown the direction of the cavern entrance, which is, according to a signboard, 200 feet to the southward. Following the direction of the arrow you find that at least half of that 200 feet is down.

Having arrived early you have ample opportunity to make some observations before the door of the entrance will be opened. One of the first things to impress one is the fact that the visitors are from so many different places. There is an entire family from Pennsylvania; a father and daughter from Minnesota; another and two daughters from New England; a story writer from Chicago; a party from Washington and Oregon; a pair of flappers from California; a jelly bean from Florida; a few people from Mexico itself and a whole hundred from one town over in Texas.

Something else of interest is the group of "mills." Near the cavern mouth are several small mortars, some with the original pestles still at hand. It was in these small holes in a rock that the "squaw" ground corn for her family by taking the pestle, another rock which fitted more or less closely into the cone shaped mortar, and throwing her weight upon it at the same time turning it half around and back.

At last the ticket window has opened and there is the general scramble for places. Finally all are served and the door to the cavern is opened. As the visitors file through lanterns and guides are placed along at regular intervals in the line. Then begins the descent into the very heart of the earth, it seems. The first drop is only a matter of 170 feet and is accomplished by means of ordinary stair-steps of which there are exactly five hundred. As you walk away from the foot of the stairs you say good-bye to daylight for some five hours or more.

The guides are already calling attention to points of interest upon which spot lights have been turned. Whatever way you may look, your eyes behold ruggedness, symmetry, splendor, gorgeousness, magnificence, beauty and grandeur. Stalactites of every gradation from a few inches in length to more than half a hundred feet, hanging from every conceivable place in the roof of the cavern. Stalagmites standing from a hands breadth in height to four or five times the height of a man, and columns innumerable are formed by the meeting of stalactites from the roof and stalagmites from the floor.

Presently the guide announces that you are approaching the "Devil's Den." This "den" is 600 feet below the surface of the ground and is reached by a multitude of windings in the path. As you go your attention is called to the "Moose head" a jutting rock far ahead upon which has been turned a spotlight. At first notice you wonder why they didn't call it "rabbit head" as it appears to be about as large as a man's fist. Upon coming nearer, however, its size increases, its minute parts, eyes, lids, lashes, and nostrils become plainer and from your nearest point to it you see that it is as large as an ordinary horse.

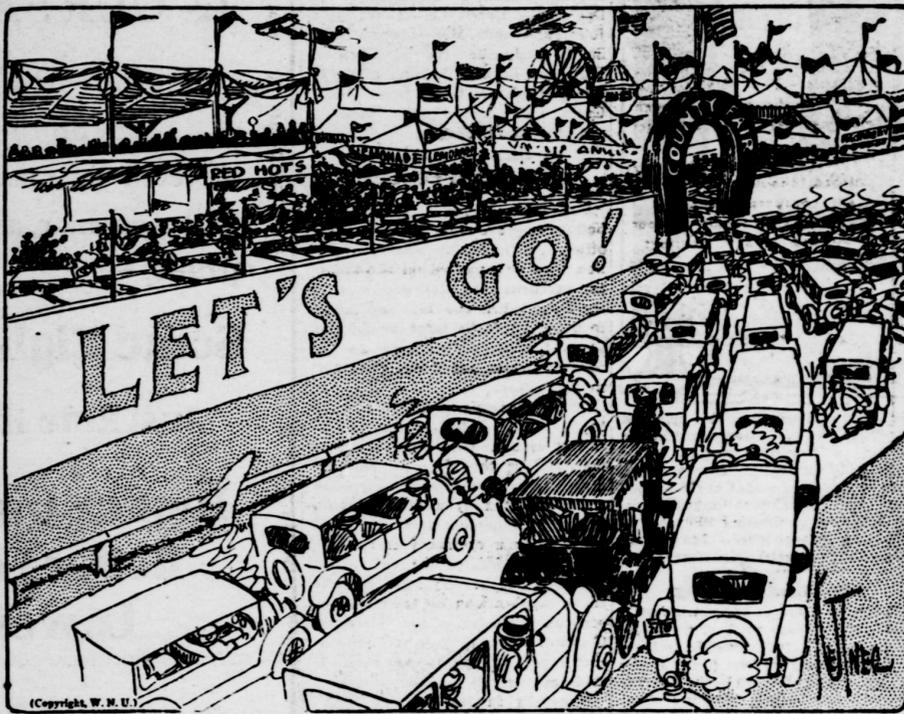

Another point of interest to which your attention has been called is the "Garden of the Gods." This is a group of the most beautiful stalactites imaginable, which have been formed in 'check row' formation and are to be seen hanging in a small "garden" far above you.

Your attention is now drawn away from the "Garden" by the guides announcement that, "there is the Hippo." You look, and sure enough there beside the trail is a hippopotamus some 12 or 14 feet long, perfectly proportioned and half submerged in the floor of the cavern. You pat his side, half expecting to feel his coarse rough skin wet with the blood he sweats but this "hippo" is formed of solid rock.

The guide next calls out, "Here is the breakfast bacon." He points to a rock, alongside the trail, which is,

By the Secretary

We missed out last week on comments as the writer was on the New Mexico Good Will Trip and could not get them in time after the return.

I am not going to undertake to describe the wonders of the caverns, because it simply can't be done according to my belief, but Mr. A. L. Burnett is trying it in another column and his article will be worth reading.

Highways are occupying attention at this time and one of them is directly west for a near route to Carlsbad as from my observations over there I find that we are short of a good route by way of Roswell, that is from a standpoint of mileage and it must be corrected as the travel to that point will be very heavy in the years to come and we must be ready with the most direct route. Also getting ready with a strong delegation of County Commissioners to appear before the Highway Commission and ascertain why promised designations have not been granted and why we are paying in several thousand dollars and getting nothing in return. Commissioners and Chamber of Commerce delegates from the counties of Lamb, Hockley and Dawson are being urged to join us in a concerted attack and we hope to get some action.

No community visit planned for this week or next as we are going to be pretty busy getting ready for the Lubbock and Dallas exhibit and will not have time to work them up but hope to cover every school district in the county before the close of the year. Next week a list will appear in the Herald naming different varieties of stuff that will be needed to cover the score board and it is hoped that farmers and others will assist in filling it by telling where the stuff is to be found or by bringing it to this office. Your assistance will be appreciated.

FIRST BROOM CORN RECEIVED AT LITTLEFIELD

G. R. Belyeu, residing five miles west of Littlefield brought in the first broom corn of the season last Tuesday, receiving a merchant's premium for same. He states that he now has about 40 bales ready for the market. It is estimated that there will be about 150 tons of the brush raised in this vicinity this year. It is selling at from $100 to $150 per ton.—Littlefield Leader.

BUS COMPANY IS INCORPORATED

A wire was received by the local bus station Thursday from the office of the secretary of state of Texas notifying of the granting of a charter to the South Plains Busses. The name of the firm is to be the South Plains Coaches, Inc. It is the Red Ball and the South Plains Busses combined and incorporated with a capital stock of $20,000.

Officers of the firm are: Dick Abbott, Sweetwater, president; Paul Grant, Lubbock vice-president, and C. W. Jones, Lubbock, secretary and treasurer. The firm owns lines from Plainview to Sweetwater. Under the new management several new busses will be added and new equipment used all the time. The busses now used on the line are the most modern and up-to-date of any lines and the officers of the new firm will strive to keep them that way.

The schedule will remain the same for awhile until the new busses are added and then a slight change will be made.

BIG AUGUST RAINS VISIT THIS SECTION

The heaviest rains in several months visited this section on Saturday night last, lasting almost all night, and was cloudy and misty until Tuesday of this week.

Most of the county received from one to several inches, and it is said that sulphur draw became almost impassable. No more rain is needed this year, and farmers are hopeful that the rains are over in order that the splendid crops may mature.

The rain was general all over west Texas we are informed.

Ranger—New school under construction.

DISTRICT COURT IN THE NEW BUILDING

District Judge Gordon B. McGuire of Lamesa, opened the first term of district court here Monday at 9 o'clock, ever held in the splendid new $120,000 building, which is almost complete.

Nothing was called for the first week except the grand jury which was empaneled and set to work Judge McGuire delivered a splendid charge to this body to perform their work faithfully and to the best interest of the county and state. He was also profuse in his compliments to the Commissioners Court and the people of Terry county for building such a magnificent home for its business and its courts, and it is the best one by odds in the district.

Next week, the first week of the petit jury is called, when there will probably be some jury cases.

Judge McGuire was district attorney of the old 72nd district of which Terry was a part before the creation of the 106th, and he is only too well aware of our inefficiency in the way of a court house, and he is proud with us of our new building.

TO THE VOTERS OF TERRY COUNTY

I find that it will be impossible for me to see each voter personally before the second primary, August 28th which I regret very much. But kindly ask you for your vote and influence in this race for county treasurer. I trust that each of you will take this as a personal appeal, and consider the man that is qualified for the office, one that needs it, and will appreciate everything that anyone will do for me.

I thank each one for your vote and influence in the past, and for anything that you may do for me in the future.

Your Friend,
Wilburn Pippin

MRS. A. D. BROWNFIELD DIES AT LOS ANGELES

The old timers of this section were saddened last Thursday when it became known that Mrs. A. D. Brownfield had passed away at Los Angeles, Calif., where she was visiting, of acute tonsillitis. The rest of the family were at home in El Paso when the end came, as she lived only a few hours after being stricken.

A. M. and Ray Brownfield and wives, and W. A. Bell, all left Thursday for El Paso, where the body was shipped for burial, which took place Saturday.

Mrs. Brownfield was Miss Mattie Harris, daughter of W. R. Harris whose excellent family was one of the pioneers of Terry county, and lived here several years after the writer came to this county. She was a general favorite in the society of the little town at that time, and being a natural artist, was in many of the plays put on in those days for various benefits, and took great delight in instructing others. She also taught in the Brownfield school a term or two.

Besides, a broken hearted husband, she leaves four children, a brother and five sisters to mourn her departure.

FIRE IN IDEAL BAKERY SATURDAY MORNING

About daylight Saturday morning a fire alarm was turned in and it was discovered that the Ideal Bakery was on fire, having caught from the oil stove used in heating the dough to cause it to rise.

The volunteer boys responded hurriedly, and a few minutes after the hose was turned on the fire was under control without a great deal of damage, most of which was caused by water.

The proprietor, Mr. McClasland, will have everything in shape in a few days to resume business we understand.

FREE BARBECUE AT PLAINS TOMORROW

Our neighboring county seat to the west is pulling off a free barbecue and picnic, combined with a rodeo tomorrow, together with its second primary election, and they are expecting people from surrounding counties in Texas and New Mexico to be their guests.

The rodeo will consist of horse and steer riding, calf and goat roping, horse races, etc. There will also be foot races and other forms of that kind of amusement, and neat prizes for same. A good ball game will close the sports of the afternoon, and a big dance will be staged at night.

UNION BAPTISTS CLOSE GOOD MEETING

The ten day meeting being held at the Union Baptist church came to a close Tuesday night, resulting in 15 additions to the church. The preaching was done by Rev. W. M. Draper, pastor of the Baptist church at Silverton, and son of J. C. Draper of the Union community.

The Union church gave their pastor, Rev. G. C. Piner, of Meadow, a good pounding Monday night, which was highly appreciated by him. The Union Baptists were well pleased with the meeting.

BROWNFIELD TRADE TRIP BOOSTERS IN SEAGRAVES

Our little city was honored Wednesday evening with a visit from the Brownfield Trade Trip Boosters some seventy people in number, accompanied by a 20 piece band, which rendered several selections during their stay here.

The boosters left Brownfield, Monday on a three days tour extending to Roswell, Carlsbad and Lovington N. M., and Seagraves was made or the home stretch.

Secretary of the Brownfield C. O. C. Shelton, introduced County Judge Winston, who delivered the opening speech. Rev. A. D. Jameson then followed with a few well chosen words in which he welcomed the Brownfield trippers to our city.

The large crowd was then favored with a song, entitled "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" by Mesdames George, Bennett and Bond and Jimmy Youree, which made a big hit.

Seagraves was glad to have the Brownfield trade trippers with us and expect to repay the visit sometime soon. It is hoped they will come our way again.—Seagraves Signal.

BROWNFIELD STATE BANK ENLARGING AND REMODELING

The Brownfield State Bank, has this week started a program of enlarging and remodeling the interior quarters of the bank. According to announcement by the officers the interior arrangements will be changed in order that the working spaces may be enlarged and that the public may be more conveniently served, additional facilities will be installed to care for the growth and expansion of the business, and when the plans are completed the interior of the bank will present one of the most modern and up-to-date banking quarters in this part of the state.

Along with the growth and development of Brownfield and Terry county has come the demand for growth and expansion in all lines of business and the Brownfield State Bank, one of the oldest and best established banking institutions on the South Plains and always one of the most progressive is found keeping step with such growth. The Brownfield State Bank has enjoyed a steady growth since its organization and its volume of business now demands enlarged facilities to care for its many patrons.

LEAF WORMS ARE BECOMING SERIOUS PROBLEM

Last week very few farmers reported leaf worms in any quantity, but since the rains, they seem to be showing up at a great rate, and don't seem to be confined to any section of the county, but of course are worse in those sections where there has been plenty of rain during the growing season, and the cotton is rank.

There were literally scores of farmers in Saturday after poison, and carried out all there was on hand at that time, and the local druggists have kept the wires hot, and another supply was promised early this week, and still more farmers were in Monday after poison, and each one reported more or less worms and damage, but in most cases they had just started, and farmers were determined to save their crops if physically possible, that they have labored so hard to make.

Prospects for both cotton and feed crops were never better, and the farmers and business men of this section should not lay down on the job of protecting it at this stage of the game. As Dr. Rankin used to say, "On with the battle."

BROWNFIELD DELEGATION SEMINOLE WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday afternoon Seminole had as her guests quite a large delegation of Brownfield citizens, including the Chamber of Commerce Band. They were enroute home from a three day visit to Carlsbad and other points in New Mexico.

Upon their arrival here they parked their cars on the court house square, where the beautiful lawn and shade trees offered them a short rest from their all day travel. This rest was followed by several short addresses by members of the visitors, together with an address of welcome by A. L. Duff, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce. The program given by the band was especially enjoyed by everyone.

Seminole appreciates this visit by our neighboring city and hopes to be included in Brownfield's visiting list whenever they are in our section of the South Plains.

We are glad to have had you with us. Come again.—Seminole Sentinel.

HAS SYRUP MILL OF LARGE CAPACITY

T. M. Neely, living nine miles west of Morton, is this week installing a syrup mill and next week will begin turning out the sweetness.

The mill he is putting in will handle two tons of cane per hour, with a capacity of 400 gallons of finished syrup daily.

Mr. Neely has 20 acres of seeded Ribbon Cane that will be ground into syrup and in addition will do considerable custom work for his neighbors.—Lubbock News.

Amount of $25,000 will be spent on Amarillo house, Storage & Ice Company, recently purchased by Houston Gas Company.

Peace, Goodwill

Columbia, Peace and the Spirit of brotherly love have been joined in one person, a beautiful woman. This young lady was one of the central figures in a pageant staged at the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia, celebrating 150 years of American Independence. The Exposition continues until December 1.

Practical Teaching

A French, German or Spanish luncheon is served each week in the model apartment of the domestic science building of the Pasadena (Cal.) Junior college, under the leadership of the teachers, for pupils studying those languages. The idea is carried out in the menu and table decorations, and as far as possible the language of the country is spoken.

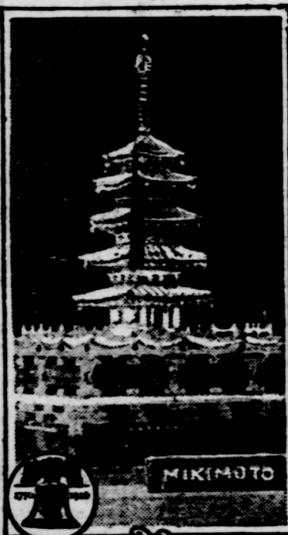

Not All Affected Alike

The objects in a room which has been kept at an even temperature of heat will all be the same temperature, although some of them may feel colder than others to the hand or fingers. For instance, the keys of a piano will feel colder than the wood of the piano case. The difference is due to the fact that heat or cold will run through some objects more quickly than through others. When you touch a thing with your fingers you supply some of the heat of your body to the object through your finger. If the object is the tilling on the hearth or the keys of the piano the heat runs through it quickly and you get a cold impression in your finger. On the other hand, you will get a warm feeling when touching upholstery or wood because the heat runs more slowly through them.

Really Nautical Term

Although the phrase, "to the bitter end," has become common in connection with the expression of tragedy or stress, it is, in reality, but a simple nautical term, with an entirely different meaning. It originally referred to the "bitt," the nautical term for the turn of a cable, and "the bitter end" is that part of the cable that is wound around the bitt. "The bitter end," therefore, is the extreme end. Defoe, in "Robinson Crusoe," used the term in that manner when he described a storm in which it was necessary to order out the sheet-anchor in addition to the regular anchor. Even then the storm was so fierce that the ship plunged in the high seas and the cables veered out "to the bitter end."—Kansas City Times.

Millions in Pearls

This pagoda, a part of the Japanese exhibit at the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia, celebrating the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, is made entirely of pearls and its value exceeds $1,000,000. The exposition continues until December 1.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Helen Florene Quante delightfully entertained a host of friends on her sixth birthday last Wednesday, 18th of August.

After an afternoon of joyous games cream cones were served to the following: Jimmie Green, Shirley Bond, Daphne Huckabee, Kathryn Anderson of Fort Worth, Charles Hamilton, Novas and Wayne Wren of Crosbyto, Texas, Bert Elliott, Ora D. Lemon, Kathleen Eicke, Eugene Green, Lorene and T. W. White, Mary Nell and Mildred Adams, Kathrine and Margie Sue Bynum, Janet Brown, Wanda Graham, Kathryn Copeland, Ima George Warren, Jackie Holt, Fern and Myrtle Sawyer, El Ray and Von Dee Lewis, Dorris Lee Gore, Jean Johnson, Wanda Mae Howard, Maxine Hill, Lucille Harris, Christine Hamilton, Burdett Auburg, Clyde Jr. Bond, Mesdames G. M. Green, Satch Green, Eicke and Curtis Huckabee and Miss Marie Brown.

BOLL WORM CONTROL

Complaints of heavy damage from boll worms are now reaching our office. An unusually heavy infestation may be expected on account of the excellent corn crop over most of the state which was late and served to breed unusually large numbers of the pest, which is the same as the corn ear worm, and it is now turning to the cotton.

At the time this worm is noticeable to the farmer it has grown to the size at which it bores into the cotton boll, and at this time secures very little of a surface covering of poison and so is not easily controlled. At the time it first hatches as a very small worm when it ordinarily escapes observation, it feeds on the leaf surface and may then be very small controlled by applications of arsenical poisons as advised for the leafworm. Continued control however, require that repeated applications must be made at intervals of about a week.

Unusually damage from this insect does not exceed five or ten percent. Where the damage is not more than this, it is doubtful if the saving made by applying poison will repay the cost. Evidently the damage will be much more this season and probably control may be undertaken with profit. Where control measures for leafworm are applied, they will, of course, be effective against the younger boll worms.

It is said there are no words in the English language, or any other language that are sufficient to describe the Carlsbad Caverns, and all agree to this, but read A. L. Burnett's stal at description in this issue. We think he did fully as well if not better than most attempts we have seen in the larger journals and magazines.

Dr. H. H. Hughes and family left Wednesday morning for a vacation in the mountains of New Mexico and Arizona.

J. W. Casey and wife left last week for Lorenzo, Texas, where he has accepted a position in the Lorenzo high schools as English and Science instructor. Mr. Casey was principal of our grade schools the past year, and proved himself to be a fine school man, and we are sorry to have him leave our schools.

Miss Mildred Hudgens returned last week from a visit to her sister and brother at Stephenville, Texas.

A consignment of marble was received at the courthouse this week to be used on the stairways and main scotings.

Ame Flache returned last Friday from Ballinger, where he attended the old cowboy reunion. He returned via Abilene and brought his daughter Miss Lucille and Miss Eunice Banks home, who have been attending the summer session at Simmons University.

Mrs. E. A. Morgan and children of Panhandle, are here this week visiting her sister, Mrs. Stricklin.

L. P. Richardson and wife of Austin, came in Sunday, to look after their property in Yoakum county, of which they are very proud. Mr. Richardson is an expert printer, having formerly held the position of expert printer for the state under two or three administrations. He is now conducting a school of printing instruction for a number of the large printing concerns of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Baldwin have returned from a visit with relatives in north and east Texas. While away Mr. Baldwin visited the St. Louis markets where fall and winter stocks of dry goods and ready-to-wear were purchased for the Jones store here.

TWO TONS VERSUS EIGHTEEN HUNDRED

It takes a pretty good-sized automobile to weigh two tons, but an 1800 ton engine and train is not unusual.

The only people killed at grade crossings are those who take chances. There are just two kind of chance-takers—those who see the train coming and think they can get across—and those who are heedless and do not see the train until too late.

There is only one safe rule to follow in crossing railroad tracks. Be absolutely certain that no train can possibly reach the crossing while you are on the track. Remember—the odds are all in the train's favor.

These are the words of Mr. A. B. C. Hardy, President of the Olds Mo-

The F. E. Walters-family of this city were to have held a family reunion Sunday at which all the in-laws and "out-laws" were expected, but owing to the heavy rains all over the Plains country, not a few of them missed connections.

Mrs. Bill Smith and children, of Hereford, were here the past week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Walters. Mr. Smith came down Sunday, and the family returned to Hereford, Tuesday.

Mr. Elmore Carver, better known among his boy cronies as "Pus," was up from Lamesa over the week end visiting his many friends here.

Rodolph Valentino, the greatest shiek of the movie world, died at New York, Monday following an operation for peritonitis, followed by pleurisy. "Rudy," whose real name was Guglielmo, was about 31 years old, but in his brief career, he had made the hearts of the feminine population flutter from one end of the country to the other in his many screen plays. He was engaged to Pola Negri, of Hollywood, who is reported to be heart broken.

The Morgan Construction Company are moving their concrete mixers and other building paraphernalia to Odessa, where they have a contract for the erection of a theatre building. Geo. Snodgrass, who was head mechanic here on the court house job left last week for that place to superintend construction. Mr. Frank Morgan will remain here until the court house is completed, which consists mostly of marble work.

T. J. Price has purchased the warehouse and the office used by the Morgan Construction Co. here in the erection of the new court house and are moving them out on the farm north of town to be used a cotton picker "shacks" this fall.

Ben Hurst and Marwin Craig, an families, came in this week from their vacation spent at "El Paso, Jaured Mex. and the Elephant Baste Dam section of New Mexico.

Mrs. J. H. McKinney and son, James, accompanied by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Neathery, of Van Alstyne, and Misses Mary Walker and Lila Mae Warren visited Mrs. McKinney's sister, Mrs. S. D. Davis, of Tucuman, N. M., this week. They also attended a big rodeo while there. Mr. and Mrs. Neathery remained there for a few days and then will visit in Colorado state and other points in West Texas.

James McKinney will leave Monday for Quanah, where he has accepted a position the general offices of the West Texas Gin Company.

B. S. Westbrook, prominent farmer of the Gomez section presented the Herald with a fine specimen of the black watermelon this week, which tipped the beam at 5 1/2 pounds, and while we have not cut it yet, we know the force is going to have real evidence and reason to thank Mr. Westbrook more than now, for he assured us that it was a prime eater as well as a swell looker.

The Seminole public school will open for the 1925-26 term on August the 15th.

Every patron of the Brownfield schools should read and heed Sept. Fagala's remarks in this issue of the Herald. Let's all work faithfully together again for a good term of school.

F. H. Perkins went to Carlisbad, N. M., the past week and purchased a spraying machine to handle his leaf worms. The machine sprays poison instead of dusts, and carries three rows at a time. Heavy dew and still weather this week has made conditions fine for poisoning the worms.

The cement floor was run the latter part of last week and the first part of this week for the new addition to the light and power plant, thus finishing up the job of erecting the addition and installing the new engine.

Mineral Wells—Carr P. Collins and associates, of Dallas, erecting $700,000 new hotel.

Slaton—Heavy traffic in wheat and oil over Slaton division of Santa Fe system, has caused addition of over 300 men to force of railroad workers.

"Getting to work from an all-night poker party is sometimes something of a problem," says a downtown business man. "The other morning after an awfully bad session, I found I had just a few minutes in which to reach my office several miles distant. I had only $1.25 but I called a taxicab. I kept one eye on the meter and when the bill amounted to $1.10, I ordered the driver to stop. I wanted the ten cents for coffee and stakers and the four cents for luck.—Detroit News.

Both the Herald and the editor had birthdays this week. The Herald was 22, and the editor considerably older, but both sometimes feel their oats, even yet.

That there are lots of worms in some spots in the county is only too well known, but there is no cause for extreme alarm, for there are only leaf worms to contend with, and if hit at the right stage of the game, are easily poisoned.

Well, we are all to take our poll tax receipts out for a little exercise tomorrow again. Let the Terry county people turn out well and put up equally as good vote as on July 24th, or better and show the world where they stand on the issues of the day, and that there are no non-voters in our midst.

Another thing the people of Texas are demanding is that when its officers say a thing, or make a proposition, they must stay with it. The Texas people have long been recognized the world over as sports, and a man that does not make his word of honor of any value, is not regarded any better than any other common liar, and this applies equally to both sexes.

Despite the facts that seemingly every interest in the State of a financial nature, as well as organizations or members of organizations, are lined up for Moody, we are of the opinion that he will be like he was as district attorney and attorney general, "Dan's own man" instead of "Dan's own man." If not, he, like the Ferguson will only stay in office one year, for the people will rise up two years hence and smite his administration. He will either have to be the governor of all the people or get out.

There has been a few vacant houses in Brownfield through the spring and summer for the first time in years, caused of course principally from a short crop and freeze last fall, together with the fact that a number of homes have been built here on the installment plan in the past few years making it possible for most anyone able to purchase a lot to have their own home. But the vacant houses are practically all filled now, and by the time school opens, the demand for more houses will be acute.

Breckenridge-Cisco & Northeastern Railroad will make improvements to system.

OUR INTEREST IN "THE OTHER FELLOW"

No one man ever made a baseball team, and no one man ever carried on a successful business by himself. City carpenters and plumbers may think they have little interest in the farmer. The man handling freight on a city delivery truck or the time-keeper paying off a bunch of stevedores on a seaport dock, may say: "What do we care about the farmer's?" But the majority of carpenters secure employment from individuals or corporations, who, in turn, are dependent for the business they do, upon the sale or manufacture of products derived from some farm crop. A large part of the business of the city drayman and the water front stevedore, will be handling farm crops either in their fresh state, canned, or in the shape of sugar, flour, cured meats, etc. The man who says he is not interested in agriculture, lacks good sense.

Lack of tariff protection on crops where it is necessary, simply cuts off the jobs of thousands of workmen in other lines of industry besides farming. What good does it do the laboring man if he can buy butter, eggs or sugar for a few cents less each month if unrestricted foreign competition causes him to lose his job? The sooner we all learn that we have an interest in each other's problems, the sooner will industrial and agricultural stability be assured.

YOU CAN'T BE LOYAL TO TWO COUNTRIES

"The Good Book says that one cannot serve two masters. By the same token one cannot hold sincere allegiance to two countries—he cannot hold aloft two flags and be loyal to both at the same time. One or the other must ride at the top of the mast. Loyalty is an attribute akin to godliness. Treason is the outward expression of ingratitude.

"President Coolidge says that the greatest danger to our Government today, lies among those who are here, but who are unassimilated in heart and spirit, and whose greater love is still for the foreign lands they left to better their condition in the United States!"

"It is not unnatural, nor even cause for criticism, that a person coming to the United States from some foreign country, should retain a certain degree of love for the land of his birth. All citizens of the United States descended from foreign lands, and there is no disrespect in this. We love to trace our ancestry back to the Pilgrim Fathers, and even beyond. But there is a limit to ancestral boastfulness.

"Marital vows remove a young man or a young woman from the paternal home, and a new home is chosen. This does not mean that love and respect for the old home should be obliterated; but it does mean that a new altar has been erected—a new hearthstone built and dedicated to a new life, and this is the altar and this is the hearthstone that demands loyalty above all others.

"So it is with the country of one's adoption. No man ever came to the United States of America except of his own volition, urged by a desire

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

The State of Texas, County of Terry:—Whereas, on the 4th day of December, 1924, T. M. Hamilton did execute and deliver to me, W. S. Posey, Trustee, a certain Deed of Trust, which is recorded in Vol. 10, page 39 of the Deed of Trust Records of Terry County, Texas, covering the Southeast quarter (SE1/4) of Section No. 36, Block DD, John H. Gibson Certificate No. 514, containing 160 acres of land in Terry county, Texas, to better secure the payment of ten Vendor's Lien Notes for the sum of $200.00 each, of even date with said Deed of Trust, executed by T. M. Hamilton, payable to the order of Lubbock State Bank of Lubbock, Texas, on or before one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine and ten years after their date, with seven per cent interest, interest payable annually, and providing that failure to pay either of said notes or any installment of interest when due, should, at the option of the holder or holders, mature all of said Notes, and providing for the payment of 10 per cent additional attorney's fees if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection; and

Whereas, T. M. Hamilton failed to pay the note due on or before one year after date, and the interest on all of said notes due December 4th, 1925, and the First National Bank in Lubbock, Texas, the holder and owner of Notes Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 and the Lubbock Investment Company the holder and owner of Notes Nos. 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10, declared all of said Notes due and demanded payment thereof, and the said T. M. Hamilton failed and refused to pay the same; and

Whereas, said First National Bank in Lubbock, Texas, and the Lubbock Investment Company, the legal holders and owners of said Notes and the Deed of Trust lien securing same, have bad spells relieved

"NOTHING can take the place of Theford's Black-Draught with me because we have never found anything at once so mild and so effective," says Mrs. Hugh Nichols, R. F. D. 4, Princeton, Ky. "When the children have spells of indigestion and upset stomachs, I always straighten them out with a dose or two of Black-Draught."

"Several times I have suffered with bad spells of indigestion myself and found I would soon get relief if I took a course of Black-Draught. I was troubled with a bad accumulation of gas and severe pains across my stomach and lower bowels. Now when I feel a spell of this kind coming on, I head it off by taking Black-Draught—a dose every night for a few nights will prevent the trouble and save me much pain and suffering. "My whole family uses Black-Draught for biliousness and constipation. "It is a splendid medicine." Sold everywhere. 25 cents.

requested me, as Trustee, to enforce said trust, and sell said property as provided for in said Deed of Trust; Now, therefore, I, W. S. Posey, Trustee, by virtue of the authority vested in me by said Deed of Trust, will offer for sale and sell the above described property at public sale to the highest bidder for cash on the first Tuesday in September, 1926, the same being the 7th day within the hours prescribed at the courthouse door of Terry County, in the town of Brownfield, to satisfy the above described indebtedness, principal, interest and attorney's fees, and cost of sale. Witness my hand this 2nd day of August, A. D. 1926. (8-27) W. S. Posey, Trustee.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING HELPS WITH THE SERVICE

The use of advertising has shortened by one-half the time that would have been needed, without it to obtain the present widespread use of electricity, gas and telephones in the homes of the people, according to W. H. Hodge and H. M. Bylesby & Co., Chicago, speaking before the annual meeting of the Public Utility Advertising Association of which body he is retiring president, says the Texas Public Service Information Bureau. "Public utility companies are now fully alive to the value of regular newspaper advertising and are using it on an efficient and economical basis throughout the United States," he said. "Seventy percent of all the advertising expenditures of these companies are for space in the newspapers, large or small.

"The greatest thing that can happen to progressive, well managed utilities would be universal knowledge of their business and problems. The modern utility believes in frank publicity of its affairs and believes that advertising is the best medium for getting the facts impressed upon the public mind."

Woman's Rights Well

Established in Tibet

Marriage in Tibet is not the least interesting of the customs of that remarkable country, writes an exploring globe-trotter in a British paper, reported by the Atlanta Constitution. As a rule it takes place only in families possessed of wealth and social position. According to the laws of Tibet, the eldest brother has the first right to marry, since he alone inherits the ancestral property. But if there are brothers the bride is shared by them as by so many junior husbands. On the day of the wedding the bride is barricaded in her home. Long arguments, in which the whole village takes a part, over the profitableness of the marriage are indulged in through a hole in the door. Finally a scarf is waved, as a sign of surrender and the gates are opened. The bridegroom's mother then hands out sour milk and cakes to the guests and the ceremonies begin. The Tibetan woman is very much the head of the household. The men must bring their earnings to her. When they need money they must ask for it. A husband who is idle too long is liable to be reprimanded or even divorced and driven away.

Time to Demonstrate

Claim to Efficiency

A sarcastic old Irishman, the president of a small but well-known industrial company, was anxious to show production figures and he sent word for a brand-new efficiency expert who had succeeded in talking him into the ways of ultra modern business administration. The expert had succeeded in worming his way into a vice presidency as "vice president in charge of personnel." A messenger came from the expert:

"Mr. Jones says he is tied up and cannot get away."

The president drew a breath of satisfaction that the new executive had begun so industriously. He talked 20 minutes and again sent for the expert.

"Mr. Jones says he is tied up but is trying to get away."

The president didn't like this, but waited 15 minutes before trying again. The same answer came back, so he penned this note:

"Houdini gets out of a straight-jacket and handcuffs under water in 40 seconds. I don't expect this from you but would appreciate your getting untied very soon or not claiming you're such a tremendously efficient guy!"

Evarts Scored on Depew

Sir Theodore A. Cook in his book, "The Sunlit Hours," tells this story concerning the two American wits, Chauncey Depew and William Evarts: "At a large dinner Chauncey Depew was once very much annoyed to find that he was expected to make his oration before Evarts instead of speaking later on. So he went and sat down at the end of the room with the idea of chaffing his rival when the opportunity should serve. Evarts, whose eloquence was as easy as his wit, began his speech with a bird's-eye view of American history from Noah to Naragansett pier, without a single semicolon. Depew sprang up, at the first pause, and cried out: 'Mr. Chairman, I ask whether we are supposed to sit here and listen to such sentences all night.' 'I am sorry,' replied Evarts, instantly, that my friend, Chauncey Depew, has now joined the criminal classes in deploring long sentences."

Ears on the Increase

Are your ears larger than your grandfather's? This is a problem to which you have probably never given any thought; but, if you compare your own photograph with some of those in the family album, you will probably find that your ears are larger than those of the last generation.

A prominent ear specialist has proved by measurement that the tendency of the human ear is to grow even larger. The reason, he suggests, is the increased number and volume of sounds, which is a feature of modern life, especially in cities, and the more complicated demands which are thus made upon our hearing.

Early Silver

Artistic silver work was wrought in America long before the Declaration of Independence, and some dextrous examples of the skill of early silver designers are still extant. Daniel Henchman advertised in the Boston Evening Post in 1773 that "He makes with his own hands all kinds of large and small plate work, in the genteel taste and newest fashion, and of the purest silver." Jacobus Van der Spiegel and Garrett O'neilagh were both experts at handling silver in New York. There exists a chalice, presented to the First Reformed Dutch church of Kingston, N. Y., devised by Jacob Boelen in 1682.

She Was Surprised

The schoolgirl was a very gentle, sweet creature. Her teacher always thought of her as most refined, as a girl who always spoke softly, and thought delicately. She was not a good student, neither was she a very poor one. Her marks were apt to be just below passing. Finally came a crucial test. The girl just passed it, but this result had not yet been given to her. Seeing her teacher alone at the desk at recess time, she stuck her head in the door to ask fearfully, "Did I pass?" "Yes, you did," said the teacher. "My gosh!" said the girl—Springfield Union.

A RELIC OF BARBARISM

Conviction is growing that the strike has become an outworn weapon. The failure of the New York subway strike, following closely upon the collapse of the spectacular general strike in Great Britain, and the recent unsuccessful coal strike in our own country, is evidence of a new industrial era.

Such good as it was able to accomplish has been secured, and the world is moving on.

The strike is a relic of the time when men used violence as a substitute for intelligence. Laboring men realize that there must be a better way, and the leaders of both labor and industry who fall back upon such obsolete methods as the strike and the lockout, do not show sufficient intelligence to lead.

Tasmania

A Dutch navigator, Abel Janszoon Tasman, discovered this island, which is now one of the states of the Australian commonwealth. He supposed it to be the mainland of the southern continent, and he named it Van Dieman's land in honor of his friend and patron, Anthony Van Dieman, governor of the Dutch East Indies. It was later visited by Captain Cook and others, and first colonized in 1803. For a time the island was administered as an appendage of New South Wales. It was then still officially called Van Dieman's land, but the name Tasmania, in honor of its discoverer, was a popular one. In 1853, at about the time a constitution was being framed for the colony and it was being granted a considerable measure of self-government, it elected to adopt Tasmania as its official name.

Dante of the Dawn

Dante's work is untranslatable. To get a faithful English transcript of the great Florentine, we should need a diction of the Fourteenth century, molded by a more fiery and potent genius than Chaucer. Not the thoughts solely, as in every true poem, are so often virgin thoughts; the words, too, many of them are virgin words. Their freshness and unworn vigor are there alone in Dante's Italian. Of the modern intellectual movement, Dante was the majestic herald. In his poems are the mysterious shadows, the glory, the fragrance, the young life-promising splendors of the dawn. The broad day has its strength and its blessings; but it can give only a faint image of the glories of its birth.—George Henry Calvert.

Strict Rulings Made for Caveman Woovers

Comes the information from the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago that cavemen were most considerate in their wooing and gentle to their mates. Wall scratchings in one of the caves, when translated, were found to be a complete set of rules of deportment for young bachelors desirous of ending their state of single blessedness. An abstract of the rules follows:

Spikes must be removed from clubs in the mating season. Any man found walloping his fiancée with a spiked club will be haled before the tribunal of women, made to pose for 24 hours as a clothes form and then thrown to the dinosaurs.

Rocks over six inches in diameter will be used under no circumstances. A clean knockout will be considered more favorably than consent obtained by persistent battering.

Hair pulling must be done in proportion with the length and amount of the hair.

No girl, however coy, is to be held under water for more than two minutes at a time.

Pet saber-tooth tigers, brontosaurus measuring over half a mile square and trick prodactyls are not to be used to influence nervous or neurotic subjects.

Attempts to ingratiate prospective fathers-in-law by walloping prospective mothers-in-law will be severely dealt with.

Kicks must be delivered with the side of the foot only.

The proposed benedict will assume full responsibility for any permanent injuries sustained by the object of his affections.

Under penalty of being fed to the megalosaurians, or worse.—Kansas City Star.

Towers Not Original Part of Westminster

Westminster abbey without its imposing twin towers is hard to conceive, but as a matter of fact they did not form part of the original building, not being erected until 200 years after the monastery had been dissolved. Sir Christopher Wren, architect of St. Paul's cathedral, commenced them, and he also designed the central tower and spire for the abbey, but they were never completed.

At one period it was customary for a corporal and nine soldiers to attend the abbey on Sundays to prevent interruption during services. This was in the time of the commonwealth when, for the first and only time since it was made in 1295, the coronation chair was taken out of the abbey in order that Oliver Cromwell might be installed as lord protector in Westminster hall.—London Chronicle.

Would Mean End of World The late Camille Flammarion, the noted French astronomer, expressed his opinion as to what would happen if the earth stopped revolving, as follows: "Were the earth suddenly stopped in its course, the shock would be transmitted by recoil, so to say, to all the constituent molecules of the terrestrial globe, as if each received a stunning blow; the whole earth would be instantaneously luminous and burning, and an immense conflagration would devour the world."

DURN THOSE FLIES

Many persons are asking A. and M. College what to do about cattle flies. R. R. Reppert, Extension Entomologist, is replying by giving the Kansas Agricultural College formula, as follows:

Resin (pulverized).....2 parts
Soap shavings.....1 part
Fish Oil.....1 part
Water.....1-2 part
Boil together until the resin is dissolved.

Add three parts more of water and boil for two minutes longer.

Then add:
Oil of Tar.....1 part
Kerosene.....1 part
Thoroughly mix and boil for 15 minutes longer.

After cooling apply to the animal as a spray. To further increase the effectiveness, apply 1-2 part each of crude carbolic acid and of sulphur.

This may be irritating to animals that have been working or are overheated, and under such conditions may blister or cause the hair to fall out. This must be taken into account when applying.

It must be remembered that the control of cattle flies is very difficult and that no remedy will give perfect satisfaction. The above formula is a repellent only, and its effectiveness lessens the longer it has been sprayed on the animal. Ordinarily one application a day will give fair results but in especially bothersome times more frequent spraying is recommended.

WEST AND SOUTH TEXAS TIED IN CONTEST

DALLAS, Texas, August 23.—By winning from North Texas and East Central Texas, respectively, last week West Texas and South Texas are ahead in the race to determine which section of the state has the best chances for prosperity this fall, according to an announcement by the Southland Life Insurance Co., today. Both sections are undefeated, North and East Central Texas having dropped two contests apiece.

Since life insurance is considered an extremely reliable barometer of prosperity, the Southland Life inaugurated the contest to ascertain conditions in the state, offering trips to the worlds series as prizes for production by agents and a cup to the section showing the greatest prosperity with the largest production of applications for life insurance. The contest has two more weeks to run.

COUNTY TREASURER'S QUARTERLY REPORT

In the matter of County Finances, in the hands of Mrs. Lula Smith, Treasurer of Terry County, Texas.

Commissioners' Court of Terry County, Texas, in regular session, of the August Term, 1926.

We, the undersigned, as County Commissioners within and for said Terry County, and the Hon. H. R. Winston, County Judge, Terry County, constituting the entire Commissioners Court of said County, and each of us, do hereby certify that on this, the 11th day of Aug., A. D. 1926, at a regular term of our said Court, we have compared and examined the report of Mrs. Lula Smith, Treasurer of said Terry County, Texas, for the period beginning on the 1st day of May, A. D. 1926, and ending on the 31st day of July, A. D. 1926, and after finding that her report was correct have caused an order to be entered upon the minutes of the Commissioners' Court of said County, stating the approval of said Treasurer's Report by our said court, which said order recites separately the amount received and paid out of each fund by said Treasurer since her last report to this Court, and for and during the time covered by her present report, and the balance of each fund remaining in said Treasurer's hands on the said 31st day of July, A. D. 1926, and have ordered the proper credits to be made in the accounts of said County Treasurer, in accordance with said order as required by Articles 1448-1449-1450 and 1451, Chapter 1, Title 29 of the Revised Statutes of Texas.

And we, and each of us, further certify that we have actually and fully inspected and counted all the actual cash and assets in the hands of said Treasurer belonging to Terry County at the close of the examination of said Treasurer's Report, on this, the 11th day of August, A. to the eye, an exact reproduction of an immense piece of fine streaked breakfast bacon. Just below this some four or five steps down the trail you are directed to look at the "eggs" of which there are an even half dozen lying on a large rock. The guide laughingly tells you that they are hard boiled. His statement is very true as to their being hard, for they too are stone.

At this part of the trip nothing could be a more pleasant suggestion than something to eat for you have been made aware that you are the possessor of an enormous appetite, but the guide informs you that the "King's Palace," the "Queen's Palace" and the "Lunch Room" must be visited before you partake of the few morsels you have been carrying in your hand and calling your lunch.

Presently you pass through an aperture into the most magnificent room your eyes have ever beheld. It is hardly necessary for the guide to inform you that this is the "King's Palace" for you see at a glance that it is the most exquisite. The architecture is perfect in design. The symmetry is beauty personified. And the workmanship is beyond comparison. You are made to think of some marvelous cathedral with every spire pointing downward into the room. These spires are of many lengths some ending far above your head. Others ending lower, and some ending as low as one's head and even lower. At one end of the "Palace," if indeed it could be said to have an end, hang the most exquisitely formed curtains possible for the imagination to conceive. The floor space of this room is about equivalent to an ordinary city block, and more than 750 feet below the surface.

You reluctantly leave this gorgeous "palace" and pass into the "Queen's Palace." A chamber of similar architecture and symmetry but smaller in extent. It too has its thousands of spires pointing downward, some of them reaching within a few inches of the floor. It too has its exquisitely formed curtains.

It also has an added wonder or two. One of these is the "Elephant Ear," a large, flat, ear-shaped rock. This is the edge of the floor is perfect in design, being some twenty or more feet long and some twelve feet across at its broadest part, with a thickness of about six inches. Another is the Queen's pets, a parrot, and a monkey. The parrot is near normal size and is on a perch about eight or nine feet from the floor. The monkey is of a small specie and is near the foot of the column upon which the parrot's perch rests.

As the "Queen's Palace has only one avenue of approach you must return by way of the "Kings Palace." Just as you start the guide mentions the "King's Feet." And sure enough there they are hanging down, one of them almost as low as your head, the other a foot or two higher. You have no way of telling whether the King of this palace is hard headed or not but his feet are hard as any other rock.

You leave the "King's Palace" this time for the "Lunch Room," which is reached by a number of maneuvers up and down, right and left, forward and backward, through a small opening and presto you are in the lunch room. You sit down in the dry bed of a stream and eat your lunch. You wash it down your throat with water from a spring about a quarter mile up this stream.

After lunch and a rest, during which you have grown cool enough to shiver and wish for a coat, you are informed by the Chief guide to stay near a lantern on the remainder of the trip as the electric lighting system extends no farther back at the present.

The party leaves the lunch room in a long line which is freely sprinkled with guides and lights. Wonders of every description are sighted at almost every point in this part of the trip. Magnificent domes of which you will particularly notice the "Twin Domes" which are about fifty or sixty feet high and eighteen or twenty feet in diameter at the base. Both being exactly alike. Then the "Giant Dome" which is larger than the "Twins." After that comes the "Crystal Spring Dome," which is one of the most beautifully colored domes you will see, being crystal in appearance and standing several feet high with a base diameter of about twelve feet. Underneath the base is the beautiful spring from which the dome receives its name.

You pass by what is known as the cemetery wherein are more than two hundred monuments raised—not by the hand of man, but by that Great Craftsman, whose handiwork so far excels man's handiwork as mid day excels midnight in light.

You then enter what is called the petrified forest. A forest of formations which have taken on the form of trees. This forest covers between twenty and forty acres. At one edge of this forest you behold the marvelous sight of what seems to be a frozen waterfall. On closer examination and inspection the "Fall" is found to be crystal stone.

You are given an opportunity to go to what is called the "Jumping Off Rock." This is the edge of the floor of the cavity known as the upper cavity. The floor of the lower cavity is 125 feet below. The ceiling is 275 feet above, making a total of 400 feet from floor of lower cavity to ceiling.

SOUTH PLAINS FAIR TO INCREASE PREMIUMS

Catering to the increase in interest in the agricultural department of the Panhandle South Plains Fair, the association has voted to increase the premiums in that department including the prizes offered to winning exhibits from counties and communities.

Two hundred dollars has been added to the prizes in the county exhibit class which brings the total awards to $825. Prizes offered to the best county exhibits are as follows: First, $150; second, $125; third, $100; fourth, $75; sixth, $50; seventh, $50; eighth, $50; ninth, $25; tenth, $25; eleventh, $25; twelfth, $25; thirteenth, $25; fourteenth, $25; and fifteenth, $25.

Forty-five dollars has been added to prizes in the community exhibit class which brings the total to $170. Prizes offered in the winning community exhibits are: First, $70; second, $35; third, $25; fourth, $15; sixth, $15; and seventh, $15.

Entree blanks have been filled out and returned to the fair association by a large majority of the communities of Lubbock county and by the counties in the Panhandle South Plains section. The fair has become known as the "Show Window of the Plains" and the officials of the fair are exerting an extra effort this year to have the "Show Window" complete by having all counties and communities represented with exhibits.

Terry county will be represented at the fair again this year after missing last year, according to word from J. E. Shelton, secretary of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce who is head of the committee that is gathering the exhibit. The people of Meadow are assisting in gathering the products and the best exhibit that has ever been sent from Terry County is being assimilated, according to information coming to officials of the Panhandle South Plains Fair.

BAZAAR

The Presbyterian Missionary Society will have a novelty Bazaar and Tea, at the home of Mrs. J. D. Miller, Friday, September 3rd from three to six o'clock. The bazaar will include stamped patterns of Oriental design. A cordial invitation is extended to you.

Amarillo—Plans for construction of gas pipe line, at estimated cost of $27,000,000, to link gas fields of Texas Panhandle with Kansas City, announced.

Hooker—Over 1,000,000 bushels wheat shipped from here, this season.

Fabons—New cotton gin being built on Fred Hood property.

Cisco—Central pumping station being constructed, on Hughes lease.

The entire party is now told to gather in the "Big Room" and get ready for the "Flare." This is one of the most picturesque sights of the entire trip. A guide lights the flare at one end of the "big room" and carries it on a run of some three hundred or more yards, effectively lighting up the floor, walls and ceiling of this magnificent "room." By this flare you are enabled to see not only the beauty and grandeur of this marvelous piece of handiwork but also the littleness and insignificance of the works of man, as compared to this great masterpiece of the Master Workman.

You are led on through a maze of wonders, the "Indian Tepee" with the hitching post in front; the "Eagle" perched ready for flight; the "Seals Head"; the "Guinea Pig"; and "Totem Poles," of which there are so many in one place that it is called "Totem Pole Lodge."

You have beheld so many wonders that you feel an exurbance of joy at the sight of lights of the "lunch room" as you know you are ready to make the ascent out to a world where things are common place indeed.

As you ascend your eyes behold a marvel indeed. Far above you in the roof of the cavern the spot lights throwing their rays through the thin layers of dust which the party has stirred up produces the effect of sunrise on the clouds of morning. You have been in the dark so long you have forgotten that the sun is still shining out side. You seem to feel that the night is far spent, and the light reflected on the clouds above you is from the approaching morning sun.

But as you come higher and higher the fantasy becomes less and less real and finally when you see the light of day it is not the light of early morn but the full blown sun of mid-afternoon.

As you take the last step up and find yourself again on the surface you do so with a weariness of body but with a full realization that you have viewed one of the greatest of the world's wonders.

COPELAND-FRY NUPTIALS HOME WEDDING

The lovely residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Copeland was the scene of a very pretty home wedding last Sunday afternoon as they solemnized the nuptials of their eldest daughter, Miss Lorena to Mr. Floyd Fry, at 2:30 o'clock.

After the assembly of especially invited guests, Miss Elizabeth Downing, accompanied by Miss Audie Markham, sang "At Dawning." Then just prior to the ceremony which made this couple, man and wife, Miss Downing, with violin accompaniment by John S. Powell, sang "I Love You Truly." The strains of the violin continuing as the bridal party assembled and to the end of the beautiful ring ceremony.

Miss Gladys Copeland, sister to the bride was Maid of Honor. Misses Jewel Graves, Blanche Brothers, Geneva Brothers and Othelle Rentfro bridesmaids. Mr. Marvin English best man.

The ceremony was conducted by the Baptist pastor Rev. C. E. Ball in the solemn and impressive style which characterizes that worthy gentleman.

The bride's bouquet, which she playfully tossed up after the ceremony was caught by Othelle Rentfro, and is prophetic of a similar occasion in the near future.

The bride having been reared in Brownfield numbers her friends by her acquaintances. The groom though not so well known as the bride, is favorably known in our business realm, is manager of the Copeland Dry Goods Co. of this city, and is a young man of sterling qualities and we wish and predict for them a useful and happy life in the years to come.

Those who witnessed the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Pounds, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie Cook, Messdames C. E. Ball, A. M. McBurnett, C. B. Markham, E. B. McBurnett, Misses Elizabeth Downing, Audie Markham, Odell Ball and Messrs. John S. Powell and Bill Collins.—Contributed.

W. H. Dallas and family, accompanied by Miss Mamie Sue Flache spent the week end at Big Spring visiting relatives and friends.

CONSIDER THE ENGINEER

He is first employed in lesser capacities and after seven to ten years of hard drilling, always subject to discipline, if competent, is promoted to Engineer.

He is usually a man of family, steady, reliable, and representative of the highest type of American mechanic.

He may have in his care hundreds of passengers' lives, or a heavy valuable freight train. He runs the fixed rails, and his train comes to an auto up the alley. He, and his fellow employes, may be exposed to injury or death in a crossing accident. He has as warm a heart as you have and desires to avoid casualties.

Pay strict attention to his signals and save him and yourself.

Messrs. Charley Eastman and Geo. Snyder, nephew and cousin of Mrs. J. W. Welch, spent last week here visiting in the city and home.
