A GOOD TIME TO STOCK THE WINTER COAL

There is no time better than the present to stock the winter supply of coal, first because our coal men have their bins full and running over, and scarcely have a place to store any more, yet they have more coming. Second, the price is lower right now than it has been for years, and a big saving can be effected if you let our coal dealers fill your bins right off the cars. They save one handling, and you save that much money, and get the coal in your bins in much better shape.

With arrival of the first norther indicating the arrival of coal burning weather, the price will no doubt advance, if we can judge this year by previous experiences. The reason for this is evident from the fact that people everywhere else, just like you, then begin demanding coal, and the dealers' supplies begin to run low, because he cannot store more in warm weather, and the next must come from the mines. The mine owners, of course take advantage of the situation naturally to raise the price to the local dealer, and he in turn must pass it on to you.

As we get about, so now we state again, this is a mighty good time to store your winter coal. Then let the winds howl and the snow do its worst, but you have the satisfaction of knowing that as for you and yours, you're going to fare pleasantly.

MONTHLY REPORT OF COUNTY HEALTH NURSE

After getting located in her new office in the court house, the remaining part of the month was spent doing more home visiting and following up the rest of the defective school children as well as pre-school children in the county.

During the past month there has been fifteen school and pre-school children who have had their tonsils and adenoids removed. This was the result of follow-up work done in July and August. We hope to get more corrections this fall.

Miss Easley states that some time next month she expects to hold a free pre-school and baby clinic in her office, and each mother is urged to bring her baby for examination.

The doctors have continued to cooperate with Miss Easley in giving names of mothers and children who are under their care, and who appreciate any instruction she might be able to give them.

ANOTHER P. T. A. REPORT

The Parent-Teachers Association met last Tuesday night for their first meeting for the school year 1926-1927. Although this was the first meeting of the year, one seldom attends a more enthusiastic meeting. There are at this date a paid membership of 50.

The central theme seemed to be to make the Brownfield Schools first in the hearts of the people and the Brownfield school campus second to none on the South Plains. In keeping with this spirit, the association voted to spend not more than five hundred dollars on playground equipment and grading the grounds. Mr. H. R. Winston, O. W. Fagala and Mr. Tannery were appointed as the purchasing committee, and we understand that they have already placed an order for playground equipment.

The first program of the year was well carried out. Addresses were made by Mr. Fagala, Tannery, Judge Winston, and Rev. C. E. Ball. Miss Phillips read for us. Mrs. Dallas furnished music in her usual pleasing way.

Several committees were appointed, which the writer failed to get.

We wish to ask that every person that wants to see the schools progress be present next Tuesday night and help the good work along. It does not cost you anything to come and only one dollar to become a member. A program will be seen elsewhere in this paper.

While the "World's Series" Is On the Air

THE COTTON SITUATION IS GETTING SERIOUS

A general cry has gone up all over the state that the price now being paid for cotton is not in keeping with the cost of production, and with the coming of the recent government report on the staple, putting the number of 500 pound bales in the neighborhood of 16,000,000, the price has been further reduced $5.00 per bale. This together with the fact that farmers had contracted to pay $1.25 per hundred for picking, has so reduced any possibility of a net profit that such a chance is well nigh nil.

Some of our farmer friends have spoken to us in regard to pulling no cotton until well after the first freeze and asked us to write an article on it. This we do with reluctance, not that we dislike to help the farmer get every dollar coming to him, not at all, but from the fact that we do not like to give advice where none is asked, or likely to be taken, or where some think we are incapable of giving it, or that it was not our dance. But someone has to pay the fiddler, and it is generally the cotton farmer.

In the first place, while the Herald believes that we have the best and most democratic government under the sun, we at the same time think that perhaps it is too democratic in some respects, in that it gives the gambler a chance to set the price on the products of the farmer before it is harvested. And while we realize that in most cases the government has been very accurate in these advance estimates, there is also a chance for it to fall far short or long to the detriment of the producer. Take England, for instance, it does not let the world know in advance how much rubber or tea its citizens are likely to produce, and as a consequence they are left to guess, and when left to guess, the buyer takes no chances on being short. He will and must supply his mills.

As to early gathering of bolls, every farmer does or should know that the world is already fed up on short staple cotton, and will not accept some of it at any price in keeping with cost of production and gathering, and every bale of bolls that are pulled means just that much more in the total amount of bales reported ginned—good or bad—they all count one bale of cotton, whether it classes strict middling or is too poor for any classification. It would seem to us that the situation is in the hands of the farmers themselves. We believe that if any number of the leading farmers of this section would approach the ginners with a petition asking them not to gin any bolls until say 20 days after the first freeze, they would gladly comply. In fact, we understand the ginners of Hale county have voluntarily agreed to do this very thing.

In the meantime, while we have a very bad situation before us this sea-

WHY NOT TRY SOME OATS, WHEAT OR RYE?

It is said that it is an ill wind that blows no man good, or to somewhat paraphrase, it is an ill rain that is not a blessing in some way to some one. So why not make the best of all circumstances.

For years some have secretly or otherwise wanted to try wheat or oats in Terry county, and with the present season in the ground, they would come up and grow until the spring rains without further attention. They would certainly make a good winter pasture. Some have already tried rye with success, and everyone can have at least a few acres of rye near the house, and with a small patch, the hens will pour out the eggs all during winter during the time they are really worth something to the farmer.

The sooner we make this a really diversified farming section, the better for us, as our farmers will then be receiving money for products all during the year and not three or four months during the winter.

son, we should cooperate to relieve it next season. This must be done if our farmers are to fill their places as the best of our citizenship, for no one can be a true citizen if he believes somebody is unjustly taking all his profits. These are the breeders of bolsheviks, and no country can prosper as long as half its citizens are unjustly treated, or even feel that they are. In the first place, the farmers of Terry county, and indeed all Texas, and the South for that matter, should select a cotton of as long staple as possible, and in our case, one of quick maturing proclivities. With this combination, only enough of it should be planted as the immediate family could easily harvest. The rest of the crop should consist of corn and feeds, such as could be utilized on the farm. Each farm should be well stocked with poultry of all kinds, hogs and cows, not to mention a few sheep or goats. With this combination, it would not be but a few years until there would be no such thing among our farmers as asking for fall time or applying to the bank for loans unless to buy more land.

Of course the government report on the crop may be a rank injustice this year. Reports of dead cotton, and cotton shoulder high over the Texas belt with nothing on it comes in every mail, but just what the old states are doing in the way of cotton, we are not sure. There is some cotton somewhere or the government experts are badly fooled, and to our notion the best way to meet the situation is to cut the crop, and plant good staple cotton, raise food and feed plenty, together with livestock and poultry.

PTA HOLD THEIR FIRST MEETING OF THE YEAR

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Brownfield Independent School District held their first meeting of the year Tuesday night, September 21st, with a right nice crowd present for the first meeting of the year. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. D. P. Lewis.

Most of the session was taken up by discussion of the work before the association for the year, which work is further beautifying the grounds of the school. A wonderful start has already been made along this line, by the local American Legion, when they donated elm trees to go entirely around the grounds. These trees are practically all living and growing as nicely as one could wish, and in a few more years they are going to be the pride of the entire town. To further this beautifying, the PTA propose to level up the grounds around the grade school so that flowers can be planted like they are at the high school building. The nice flower about the high school has been a source of pride to all our people this year, and only demonstrates what can be done with a little outlay of money and work.

To help carry on this work and have a part in it is the duty, and should be the pleasure of every parent in the district, and you should not wait to be solicited to join the association, but come forward at the very next meeting and enroll as a member, and show your metal by having a share and part in this work.

Your children are entitled to some of the beauties in this life, and in surrounding them with nice play grounds, decorated in spreading green trees and beautiful flowers, you in that way influence their future in that they will demand and have their homes surrounded with such things. In other words, you learn them in childhood to cleave unto the beautiful and abhor the bad.

"BORN TO THE WEST" TRULY GREAT WESTERN

Zane Grey! The magical name of moviedom.

What scenes move before one's eyes when Zane Grey is mentioned. Moments of fast riding, exciting action, great thrills, fast gun-play and romantic love. Never is any one sequence repeated. The man stands alone in that everything which comes from him is unique in its own difference.

"Born to the West," the latest Zane Grey novel to reach the screen via Paramount's studio, is no exception to the rule. We are made to understand that it is, without a doubt, the finest of all the Westerns Paramount has ever made. When one thinks of "The Thundering Herd," "Wild Horse Mesa" and "The Vanishing American" this statement is one that can not easily be passed by.

The picture, which comes to the Rialto Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, October 6th and 7th was directed by John Waters. This is his first independently directed production for Paramount. Jack Holt, Margaret Morris, Raymond Hatton, Arlett Marchal and George Siegman are featured.

CUBS TAKE FIRST GAME OF SEASON

The Brownfield Cubs started the season off in high spirits last Friday at Abernathy by winning the game 16-0. The game was called at 3:00 o'clock, and won by Brownfield in the first few minutes of play. The Cub received the first kick off, and immediately plowed the length of the field for a touchdown. Ballard got away with a fifty yard end run, scoring the first 6 points for the visitors. Tannery, the dashing star at Abernathy last year and the terror of the team last Friday, scored the second touchdown by a 20 yard end run. The remaining points were made by Dallas, quarterback, from the twenty yard line by a field goal. Sears a fullback played a good game. He plowed the line several times for heavy gains.

Other Brownfield men taking part in the game were Graham, Howze, Goodpasture, Collins, Kendrick, King Perry and Bynum.

The Cubs meet O'Donnell on their home grounds Friday, October 1st and Abernathy here, October 8.

PLENTY OF COTTON PICKERS EN ROUTE, SAYS WOODMAN

The farmers of Lubbock and surrounding territory should not worry about cotton pickers, according to C. W. Woodman, of Fort Worth, assistant director of the United States employment Bureau of the state, in a letter to W. R. Roach, special agent here yesterday. Woodman stated that the pickers were being released farther south and it would only be a matter of time until they will be here.

Roach stated yesterday that the labor situation here was rather quiet due to the inclemency of the weather but that in a few days the shortage would likely be relieved by labor from the south.

Following is the last paragraph of Woodman's letter: "Urge the chamber of commerce to do whatever they can to keep the farmers from going anywhere else to look for pickers for at least ten days. It will be a waste of time and expense because every cotton picker released is going into some of the new fields and all of the farmers will get their share."—Lubbock Avalanche.

WAPPLES-PLATTER ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN STARTS

The Herald is starting an advertising campaign for the Wapples-Platter Wholesale grocery concern this week, which is also running in practically every weekly paper in West Texas. This big firm is a strong believer in advertising, and not only wish to find more markets for their various food products, but also to help local grocers.

Therefore, all grocers in Brownfield who handle White Swan products, and that is about all of them, we guess, are asked to keep a good window display during the next two months or during the life of this advertising campaign at least. Let's sell some White Swan foods.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION HAS SPLENDID MEETING

The Brownfield Baptist Association recently in session here was reported to be one of the best in a long time, and the membership throughout the association was well represented and pleased. The ladies organization had charge of the first day of the association. The day was taken up with devotional work, and reports from the churches were heard.

At the night service, Dr. R. C. Pender, of Abilene gave a fine talk on Buckner Orphans Home, and at the conclusion of his address a free will offering was made that amounted to $375.00.

The Association met and organized on Wednesday morning, and the following officers were elected for the coming year: W. K. Horn, of O'Donnell, Moderator; C. E. Ball, Brownfield, Clerk; H. C. Draper, Meadow, Corresponding Secretary and Treas. Rev. G. W. Owens, of Texarkana, delivered a fine message on denominational work. The rest of the time was taken up receiving and approving of reports.

The visitors were given a hearty welcome by the Baptists of this community, and their stay made a pleasure as well as a profit to them.

RAIN, RAIN, YES—AND YET MORE RAIN

We don't know who ordered it but it came just the same. If ever a people had an unwelcome visitor, Terry county people had as their guest this week that party in the person of Mr. J. Pluvius, and they are all anxious for him to depart so that they can once more devote their tender ministrations to that welcome old fellow, Old Sol. They need his warm and tender sunshine in the home and in the fields for about three months unmolested by any prying around of Mr. J. P.

It was showering down on us Saturday morning, having started some time Friday night, and is still drizzling slowly on this Tuesday morning when this article is being typed, yet the writer feels that a rift is going to appear in the clouds soon, and our friend, the sun, will appear again.

The streets are in a fearful condition, and we know the roads and fields are in about the same shape, and even if it clears up in the next day or two, the people will hardly be able to get into their fields in the next few days.

On the other hand, it may be a blessing in disguise, as it is keeping a lot of cotton off the market, and if the rain is covering the cotton belt, will have a stabilizing effect on the market.

SPECIAL SERVICE AT BAPTIST CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

Next Sunday, October 3rd, will be observed as Father and Son's day at the Baptist church. The center row of seats will be reserved for the men and boys. They will be asked to occupy these seats. A special sermon will be preached by the pastor to them and for them.

Another special feature of the service will be that some twelve of fifteen Mexicans, who are Baptist, have agreed to visit with us and sing for the morning service. We want to make this day one to be remembered because of the deep impressions made on our lives for good. Come and be with us.

FIRST OIL WELL SPUNDED IN FRIDAY

In conversation with Mr. M. V. Brownfield, local old time citizen, on whose ranch the new oil well is being drilled, he informed us that for some reason the drillers did not get started last Monday as was reported in the Herald, but got started Friday, and he felt sure with the good machinery they would make rapid progress.

Mr. Brownfield said that if nothing happened, he hoped to know by Christmas just what we have under Old Terry, and here is hoping along with him that the Santa presents us with a real oil well for a Christmas present.

JAPANESE PARTY

Mrs. H. R. Winston, was a charming hostess to a lovely morning bridge party last Thursday from nine to eleven-thirty. Japanese phlox in red, white and orchid were used as decorations. Bright colored Japanese lighted lanterns gave resplendent glow and color to the rooms. Incense burners and chimes placed and hung about the rooms gave breath of old Japan.

After several games it was found that Mrs. Roy Wingerd drew high a hand painted Japanese wall pocket. Miss Vona Lee Ditto drew low a Japanese hardwood salad fork and spoon.

Dainty lunch clothes were then spread with Japanese hand painted napkins, the hostess serving tea, lantern and fan shaped chicken sandwiches, olives and sugar coated almonds. Nasturtiums were used as plate favors.

Those present were Mesdames Tom May, W. H. Collins, Knight, McDuffie, A. M. McBurnett, McGowan, Graham Wingerd, Michie, Bowers, Enderson, Arthur Sawyer and Misses Irene and Vona Lee Ditto, Violet McBurnett, and Marie Bell.

AN ENGLISHMAN'S TRIBUTE

An Englishman who had traveled widely and studied his subject, wrote a history of the world's oil industry from prehistoric times. In the introduction to this work he paid this tribute to America's part in the creation of the industry:

"This volume is an Englishman's tribute to the engineering skill and resource and bold financial enterprise of the world's most splendid race of oil men—those who have built up the American part of the industry. Today they and their country are absolutely supreme in oil."

In all the array of activities that have made our own nation the richest, and in material ways the most fortunate among the races of men, the industry of petroleum is the most completely and characteristic American.

We have noticed smoke oozing from the big furnace smokestack of the new courthouse the past few disagreeable days. Our county officials certainly have some very snug quarters now.

Mr. Farmer

We have spent the better part of the summer in cleaning up and making the necessary repairs to our gin plant in order that we will be able to make the season run with the minimum stops. So when you bring your cotton to English Gin, you will not only get the usual good turn-out but quick and efficient service as well.

WILSON B. Y. P. U.'ers VISIT AT BROWNFIELD

On the evening of September 15th, many of our young and some of our older people went to Brownfield to attend the service set apart for the B. Y. P. U., by the Brownfield Baptist Association.

They were met by a large number of the Brownfield B. Y. P. U. members, and at once led to a large pile of very fine watermelons, and a goodly number of real good sandwiches. After a very brief period in which time the sandwiches were passed around and melons cut in halves, we were all told to get partners, which we did, and the feast began.

We are till we couldn't, and were led to the church where we enjoyed a very fine and interesting program.

COTTON THIEVES MAKE APPEARANCE IN O'DONNELL

Cotton thieves made their appearance a little early this season, one farmer reporting last week that he lost his first day's picking, about 1200 pounds, scales and some cotton sacks. The pesky pilferers drove a truck or car up to his pile, loaded it on and skipped without leaving any address. A great deal of cotton was stolen in this country last year and the framers should be on the lookout for a return visit of these thieves.—O'Donnell Index.

Levelland voters are soon to vote on water works and sewerage for their city. No town can make a city until they throw off their village swaddling clothes, and the first big step toward cityhood is to put on the garments of water and sewerage. You absolutely can't make a fitten town to live in without them, and the larger they are without sewerage especially the filthier they are.

North Carolina is to have the richest University in the world with an endowment of $80,000,000.00 by the time the full construction plan has been completed. All this money, the bequest of one man, whose name is familiar to every cowboy who ever carried a sack of "Dukes Mixture" in his shirt pocket. For years many have been wondering what tobacco was good for and here is the answer, to enable a man to build a great university, perhaps the greatest in the world.—Jayton Chronicle.

It has been suggested and put into effect in some towns for the business men instead of coming down early and parking in the only available spaces, to instead park in the rear alleys or back streets, leaving the space in front of their business houses open for the farmers to drive up and get their supplies. This would not be much trouble, and would be a great accommodation to their customers. Of course Brownfield has unusually wide streets, and is not badly crowded except Saturday's, and it would not be necessary yet for us to do this except Saturday afternoons.

A Clarendon Merchant has paid for 300 subscriptions to the Clarendon News for the rest of the year. This offer was made through the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce without cost to that body. This merchant has the right idea to put over his advertising. It is much cheaper to pay for the extra subscriptions in order to make sure that everyone in the trade territory reads the home paper, and carry regular advertising for the store in the paper, than it would be to send circulars. Advertising in the paper carries with it the prestige of the paper and others who advertise in it, while circulars carry only the prestige of the individual store and usually hits the waste basket unread.—McLean News.

Lamesa is to greatly tighten up on its traffic rules, and this is a move in the right direction. In the first place, they are not going to permit child driving through the crowded streets. It seems to us that this could easily and with good results be adopted here in Brownfield, as we see children, little more than out of the nursery driving through the streets often at a rate hardly undertaken by the more mature. Just why parents will risk their children with a thing as dangerous as an automobile, we cannot see, and the city council should step in as guardians if such parents can't do something about the matter. The lives of the child drivers are not only endangered, but they endanger the lives of other children and people. A child is wholly incapable of thinking as quickly as a grown person in the face of danger.

If the bond election for paving had been held the first part of this week, when the citizens were wading mud like a lot of puddle ducks, the bonds would have gone over with a snap—hardly a desenting vote, but just how long the recollection of this dismal wading will last, we are incapable of fathoming. But, if we will consider for a moment, we will be minded that we have several just such occasions in the course of a year from mud, only a matter of a few days at least separate us from another situation equally as disagreeable—dust. Several times only recently we have had dust shoe mouth deep to contend with and this not only ruins clothing we are wearing, but ruins the stocks of the merchants who are trying to keep them in decent condition. Let's remove that dime of tax money out of our eyes so that we can see the dollar value to us in many ways when we go to the polls to vote on the 26th day of October.

TO STUDY THE CAUSE AND CURE FOR STAMMERING

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 28.—"W-why do I s-s-stutter?" has been asked by more than one person who, for some reason, has suddenly found himself embarrassed and able to do no more than make halting efforts in speaking. And why is it that those who stammer can usually sing without difficulty? Ray I. Immel, dean of the School of Speech of the University of Southern California, is working on this problem. Dean Immel will address the Breakfast and Section meeting of the University of Texas Interscholastic League during the Thanksgiving meeting of the State Teachers Association at El Paso.

Dean Immel is working on a study of psychology and phonetics, in an effort to establish a "norm" for the muscular movements which are involved in ordinary conversation. By determining just what muscles correlate to produce the proper sounds at the proper time, he feels that he can then discover what muscles do not work together when stammering and defective speech result instead of perfect and spontaneous pronunciation.

To make the results of this study practicable, Dean Immel states that visible records are necessary. With the use of such instruments as the Kynograph, the Laryngograph, tam-hours and sensitive masks, he has recorded on smoked paper wavy and straight lines, the results of testing the movements of the larynx, the tongue, the jaw, the mouth, and nose, and the muscles of the throat, which he hopes will give him a knowledge of the normal movement of these "speech muscles," and how to remedy their improper functioning when stammering results.

DIED

Mr. J. I. Markham, 70, father of C. B. Markham of this city, and with whom his father made his home, died Monday night about nine o'clock after a lingering illness. Mr. Markham was afflicted with cancer, we understand.

The body was taken in charge by the undertaking department of the Brownfield Hardware and Furniture Co., and prepared for burial. Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon by Rev. C. E. Ball, and the body laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery immediately following.

"I WAS in a very weakened, run-down condition, surely in need of a tonic and builder," says Mrs. J. R. Wrenn, of Anna, Texas. "I was so weak I had to go to bed, and kept getting weaker."
 "I suffered with my back so much. I was very nervous, couldn't rest good at night. I couldn't eat anything—I just wasn't hungry."
 "I had read so much of Cardui, I thought best to use it. I took seven or eight bottles, and by the time I had taken them I was stronger than I had been in several years. I can highly recommend Cardui."
 "Thousands of other women have found that the tonic effects of the purely vegetable ingredients of Cardui were just what they needed to help restore their appetites, to help bring them easily and naturally back to normal health and strength. Its action has been found to be of great benefit in many common female ailments."

LUBBOCK CITIZEN IS VICTIM OF HEART FAILURE

Becoming ill at Abernathy yesterday, but apparently better last night, Carl Roberts, 65, pioneer cattleman and owner of large properties in Lubbock and the South Plains, fell suddenly dead across the bed in his home at 1415 Sixteenth Street at 11 o'clock last night while talking to relatives. Accompanied by his partner, Mart Merrill, he had driven his own car from Abernathy. Agina pectoris, a form of heart failure, was given by Dr. M. C. Overton as the cause of Mr. Roberts' death.

Mr. Roberts is survived by his widow, and by two children, Carl, Jr., of the McWhorter-Roberts Co., and Mrs. J. T. Krueger.

J. R. Hill was in from the Harris community one day last week and reported that he was about done with the cotton business, except perhaps what his renters want to plant. As for himself, he says he is going to get about 50 head of sheep and about that many cattle and try both out, and the one he likes best, he is going to make a specialty of, raising his own feed for them.

TECH TALKS

By A Tech Student

With the advent of the second session of the Texas Technological College, Lubbock is literally humming with college activities.

As a result of the increasing number of prospective students pouring in and clamoring to register four days were required for registration instead of three days as per schedule.

At the first convocation assembled, Wednesday 11 A. M., September 22, President Horn disclosed the fact that up to that hour the enrollment was well over eleven hundred, or a 60 percent increase over that of the same time last year. There were yet scores of students to register.

Figuring on the basis of the 60 percent increase over last year, according to President Horn, the peak of this year's enrollment will be in the neighborhood of seventeen hundred students.

The Matadors started the football season right by taking the initial game from the McMurray College Indians 7 to 0 September 21 at Abilene.

The second game of the Matadors will be with Schreiner Institute, October 2nd at the South Plains Fair at Lubbock.

Friday night September 24th, all Tech students were given receptions by the various churches of the students' respective choice.

A number of students from Brownfield are to be seen daily about the Tech campus.

J. A. Kimbro, district manager of the State Telephone Co., is making headquarters here for the time being during a series of improvements the company is making in this city.

J. A. Klossmer, of Slaton, a Santa Fe employee, was a business visitor here last Thursday.

W. H. Padgett and wife, of Coahoma, were business visitors in our city last Thursday.

CHRYSLER PRODUCING 800 MACHINES DAILY

"Despite the fact that at this time of the year automobile factories usually face certain seasonal decline in sales which in turn affects production, the Chrysler corporation at the present time is producing 800 cars a day," reports Walter P. Chrysler, president, Chrysler Corporation. "This is partly because of the very satisfactory public acceptance of the new four-cylinder model, the Chrysler '50,' which was offered to the public for the first time last month.

"During the first eight months of 1926 the Chrysler Corporation produced 100,772 cars as compared with 89,722 during the same period last year, an increase of 12.3 per cent.

"Export business is excellent. And this despite economic difficulties which are troubling many of the countries of the world. In 1925, during the first eight months, we exported 6,938 cars. This year, during the same period, we shipped overseas 9,000 cars.

"We look for business during the remainder of 1926 to show a marked improvement over business during the last months of 1925. We have four complete lines of cars meeting all price requirements. Dealers' stocks and cars in transit are below normal. We have reason to face the winter months and 1927 with optimistic confidence."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

That merchandise or service that is not worth advertising is not worth having.

That many business concerns are living in the days of yesterday; they never realize that today has arrived and that tomorrow is just ahead of them. You never see their names in the advertisements.

That today is the day of advertising, and those concerns who have quality and reasonable prices tell you about it through the printed page. Not all merchandise can stand the truth of advertising.

That business men who are continuous advertisers are men of vision and ambition, the fellows who are builders, and not only interested in building better business for themselves, but a better and busier home city.

That it is always best to play Safety first when buying.

That the safest places at which to buy are those who advertise and tell you cold facts about their merchandise or service.

Better be safe than sorry. Read the advertisements before you leave home, and buy from those who serve you best.

Reading the advertisements and buying where the best buys are means the saving of time, energy and money.

AUTOMOBILE MANNERS

"What some folks ain't got."

It has been our observation that some folks, when they get behind a steering wheel act differently than they do anywhere else. If they went to a party or church festival or any other social affair and pushed their way down the center of the room, jostling the other guests as they went treading on their toes, making them jump to avoid collision, and calling to them to get out of the way, they would commonly be called rough-necks.

Yet they do about that same thing on the public highways. The public has got so used to such gross actions that it generally tolerates them, makes but little complaint, and does its best to jump for safety.

Just why some folks otherwise ordinarily well mannered, will act in such a coarse and arrogant manner is sometimes difficult to understand. They seem to think it everyone's duty to wait for them or else hurry and get out of their way, and if they honk their horn violently that is all that is required of them.

Officers Wynn and Anderson have declared they are going to put a stop to some of this. They insist that a man or woman shall be a gentleman or lady in the car the same as at the social or church. They have vowed that the traffic laws shall be enforced, and they are enforcing them—from two to five autoists being hauled up daily in the corporation court to explain and pay.

This is all well and good. Any officer should be commended for doing his sworn duty. There are always some folks who will not respect the law without being made to do so, and there should be sufficient community sentiment regarding good auto manners to back up the actions of the officers.

Real gentlemen and ladies come cautiously down any street that is more or less crowded with traffic, just as mindful of other folks' rights as tho they were in someone's parlor, glad to let the pedestrians pass, preferable to yield a probable right of way rather than show any crowding disposition. The Leader desires to pay tribute to the great majority of such drivers in Littlefield who slow this fine spirit.—Littlefield Leader.

NEW ENGLAND AGAINST THE SOUTH?

When an issue of national interest becomes mired in politics, it is dragged through a bog of petty schemes and counter schemes before it is rescued and placed on a solid basis. Muscle Shoals power development has been sunk in a quagmire of politics for many years. Partisan arguments have often magnified its possibilities out of all proportion to the benefit which will result from the utilization of this water power. The government is now considering two bids for Muscle Shoals; one by the American Cyanamid Company, the other by a group of 13 Southern power companies giving service to Southern farms and industries. The power companies' bid is $1,700,000 per annum higher than the Cyanamid Company bid. A campaign has now been launched by interests separate and apart from the Cyanamid Company, apparently to prevent power distribution from Muscle Shoals. New England states are asked to oppose the higher bid, on the theory that the power companies will not produce as much fertilizer as the Cyanamid Company, and because the distribution of electric power to Southern users would work to the detriment of New England by moving more industries south. Apparently, the desire is to inflame New England against the South, in the hope of defeating the power development project which would give several Southern states the use of power resources which are rightfully theirs. It is inconceivable that this Nation has reached a point where any state or group of states will seek to throttle the development of natural resources in adjoining states, on the selfish theory that they can thereby build up their own prosperity at the expense of their neighbors. New England has had some hard problems to meet and so has the South. Both sections are meeting their problems in an intelligent manner. The South is today getting development and recognition which has been delayed for many years. If New England has lost certain industries to the South, due to natural conditions, it will get others to take their place, and make just as strong a come-back as have the Southern states. Any attempt to pit New England against the South is preposterous and straight thinking New Englanders will reject such an effort to arouse their prejudices as an insult to their intelligence and a poor excuse to delay action on Muscle Shoals.

HERO WORSHIP

No young lady ever lost her hero because her hands happened to be a little calloused from wringing the broom or stained from dipping them in dishwater. No girl ever fell down in the estimation of her hero because she stayed at home all afternoon and helped mother with the work, instead of coming down town and putting on a parade. No girl ever lost her hero because she made life more pleasant for dad and smoothed the wrinkles from his brow and caused him to look forward to the evening at home with pleasure. No girl ever lost her hero because she wasn't an adept at using all the latest and most popular slang for a young man to admire and much less a young lady. If the young lady wishes the company of a true gentleman she will avoid current slang as she would poison. No girl regrets losing a hero who in reality was a common, cheap, tin horn sport, and she had better be a kitchen queen for dad and mother all her life than a broken-hearted drudge of a slave for some brainless brat of a single day. Just because a girl arrives at gray hairs and faded cheek in single blessedness is no sign she didn't have a chance. Most likely it is because she kept posted on market values and refused to sell her heart and happiness for a mess of pottage.—Wabash Plain Dealer.

COURT OPENS FALL SESSION AT TAHOKA

The fall term of the district court for Lynn county opened at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Judge Gordon B. McGuire and district attorney A. W. Gibson being present.

The first business of the court was to impanel a grand jury and set them to work. F. E. Redwine of this city was appointed by the Court as the foreman of the body.

Bailiffs were appointed as follows: Howard Henderson, door bailiff; D. Sanders and T. A. Wimberley, riding bailiffs.

In empanelling the grand jury, Judge McGuire delivered a most impressive charge to that body. Taking notice of the criticisms being made of the courts with reference to alleged delays and failure to enforce the law as it is written.—Tahoka News.

TO BUILD ICE PLANT AT LEVELLAND

Announcement has been made that the Texas Utilities Company, who recently purchased the electric plant here, will build an ice plant at this place. No mention was made of the capacity except that it would be large enough to supply this and other points west along the Santa Fe. The building will be constructed of brick and will be located near their plant in the north part of the city.—Levelland Herald.
