Chamber of Commerce C-U-R-R-E-N-T-S

By the Secretary

A distinct and united effort on the part of eastern speculators to hammer the stuffing out of cotton prices has been on foot for the last several months and has been successful from every standpoint. It is to be hoped that some of them got their tails mashed when the Government report of 13,000,000 bales was made public and prices jumped over $10.00 the bale within a very short time.

From all indications the highway situation on the route west of Gomez will be cleared by the September meeting of the commissioners court as information has been received that the highway commission will indicate its desire before that time and the county commissioners have indicated a willingness to abide by whatever requests are made by the department.

A committee from Lovington, New Mexico, headed by Mr. Luke Roberts, President of the chamber of commerce, appeared before the county commissioners and representatives of the chamber of commerce for the purpose of directing our attention to the possibilities of a highway from Saint Louis to Carlsbad by the way of Lovington and Brownfield and committees were appointed to take the matter up with other towns with a view of forming a highway association. It appears to us as a good proposition and appeals to us as we are always after everything in the way of a highway that will attract travel.

In the Lubbock Avalanche of last Sunday, an article covering construction work on the Kent County section of highway 84, stated that the route connected an existing gap in a line that crossed Scurry, Borden, Dawson and Gaines counties to the state line. The article went on to state that it was an important route connecting Dallas and Fort Worth with the Carlsbad Caverns. Now wouldn't the route have to make some turn to get across these counties. The Avalanche man needs to familiarize himself with the Texas map and existing highways.

A meeting of citizens who are interested in the route to connect the Panhandle oil fields with the Winkler and other fields has been called for Seminole next Monday the 15th. Of course Brownfield is directly on this route and it will prove an important one and be much used by those who have holdings in the two fields.

Methodist Church Welcomes New Pastor

Rev. J. W. Chisholm, of Clarendon Texas, came in last Saturday and filled the pulpit both morning and night at the Methodist church to good audiences, and the board of stewards made arrangements with him to fill the place of Rev. J. G. Thomas, resigned, until annual conference.

We understand that Rev. Chisholm has been teaching Bible and theology in Clarendon College, is a man of fine education, a good mixer, and a man any place should be glad to call its citizen. The parsonage has been cleaned out preparatory for the reception of Rev. Chisholm and family this week, who will immediately take charge of the work here.

The Herald joins the other citizens of the town, as well as the Methodist people in welcoming this excellent family to Brownfield.

HENRY FORD TESTING OUT NEW CAR

Detroit, July 30.—Motor and speed test of the new automobile shortly to be introduced on the market by the Ford Motor company are being made here personally by Henry Ford, it was announced today.

The manufacturer has been engaged for the past two weeks in driving the car over roads in the vicinity of Dearborn, Mich., the announcement from the executive office of the organization said. The results of tests were not disclosed and officials did not indicate if they were in the nature of final tryouts.

Ford, who celebrated his 64th birthday quietly at home today, indicated he had completely recovered from injuries received in a recent accident.

Baptist Revival to Start Sunday Morning

Prof. J. Frank Cheek, who is to direct the singing in the revival fostered by the Baptist church, August 14-28, is a teacher of voice in the School of Music, of the Southwestern Baptist Seminary, Fort Worth. He is a soloist of unusual ability, and director of music as well. Singers of every denomination are invited and urged to join the choir and help with the singing during this meeting. Lovers of music have a treat in store. Don't miss this meeting.

Prof. J. Frank Cheek

Pastor E. V. May, who has been pastor of the First Baptist church for about three months, is to do the preaching. Pastor May has preached in some successful revivals prior to coming to Brownfield, and with the prayers and co-operation of the people, and leadership of the Spirit, this one is sure to be successful.

Plan to attend and lend your prayers and presence.

Hogs Gain 101½ lbs. In Forty-three Days

One can hardly realize just how fast a porker can be fattened provided the right kind of rations are given, together with the right attention, and providing the pigs have never been stunted, unless they have actually tried out the experiment.

About three months ago Will Pool bought a bunch of shoats from the Hogue brothers of the Harmony community, and brought them to town and hired Bill Cook to look after them. At the time of the purchase, the pigs weighed an average of exactly 130 pounds each. They were put on a ration of crushed corn, oats and tankage, and exactly 43 days from that time they weighed out 231½ pounds average, each.

Mr. Pool sold the shoats to Lovelace & Howell, who shipped them to the packeries.

Noah Bell Says Cotton Not Suffering Any

Noah Bell, prosperous stockman and farmer of the Needmore community was in Saturday after supplies and informed the Herald reporter that while his cotton was now growing fast and need no rain, on the other hand a good shower would not hurt his feed and corn. He remarked that he never saw stuff grow so in his life, and if he had anything like favorable weather from here on out, and if frost stayed off a reasonable length of time this fall, the county, while it would not make anything like a bumper yield, would, he believed, make an average crop.

Noah only began the cultivation of cotton on his place since the advent of the railroad, and the high prices of the staple about 1921, having devoted all his attention to the successful breeding of high grade Hereford cattle up to that time, and while he is still in the cattle business to some extent, he has become a good cotton breeder, but does not put his whole plantation and effort in that direction.

New Braunfels—Comal County and the city of New Braunfels are planning a concrete bridge across the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad at Seguin Street, New Braunfels, to cost $100,000.

Rotary-Anns Stage A Complimentary Picnic

The local Rotary Club is still talking, and probably will be talking for a month of that glorious feed their wives prepared for them Tuesday evening, for such another feed was hardly ever seen, and when everyone was filled to capacity, and had been forced to turn their back on the still laden tables with a sigh of regret, there still remained sufficient to feed a crowd of fully that many more.

About twenty cars left here about 6:30 p. m. for the picnic grounds at the sandhills in Ray Brownfield's pasture about four miles from town. When the crowd had assembled, the kids began rolling and tumbling down the sandhills to the great delight of themselves and amusement of the older folks. And counting the youngsters left no doubt in the minds of any that any trace of race suicide could be laid to Rotarians and their Anns. Pretty soon a foot race among the men was staged, and resulted in Chris Quante winning. Arnett Bynum and Everett Michie made collision with the result that the Judge received a badly "skinned" arm on the hard clay surface, and soon "keeled" over. Dr. George Graves gave him a shot and about this time the ladies yelled "come and get it" and Arnett was ready with the rest for the repast, which consisted of fried chicken by the cart load, all kinds of salads, pickles, stuffed eggs, etc., cake, iced tea, ice cream and lemonade. Boy, you ought to have been there.

After the repast, Mrs. Bob Bowers made a short talk in which she expressed the satisfaction it gave the ladies to provide this meal, and hoped the boys enjoyed it. There was no doubt about that. The proof of the pudding is the eating, they say. Homer Winston responded in behalf of the Rotarians in his usual happy style. Morgan Copeland in a few well chosen words told something of the aim and object of Rotarianism.

The headlights were then turned on to assist the moon in furnishing light, and such games were played as "Drop the handkerchief," "Marching Around the Lilly," etc., and they were played with the zest of several years called back by the crowd. All were then seated, and a period of singing ensued, mostly old ballads that all were familiar with. At about 10:15, a ringing cheer was given Mr. and Mrs. Brownfield for the use of the grounds, and all repaired to their homes. No use to tell who was there, at a roll call of the club and family would have almost unanimously been answered, besides a few guests.

Local Firm Doubles Capacity of Store

The grocery, hardware and furniture firm of Hudgens & Knight have recently leased the building formerly occupied by Winkler, and the wall partition between it and their original store has been cut, making an archway entrance between the two, giving them two buildings instead of one, each 25x100 feet.

The original store will be fitted up into a real modern grocery on the self serving order, with something like 25 feet cut off in the rear for heavy groceries and probably hardware. The new department will be shelved for hardware on the inner wall, and the rest of the store will be devoted to the display of furniture.

When the work of remodeling and replacing has been finished, this firm will have one of the most modern stores of this kind to be found on the south plains, and will be splendidly fitted to serve their large and growing trade.

DEATH OF INFANT

On Saturday, July 30, the little four day old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Collins, was called from home, to be with our Heavenly Father, in his eternal home. The body of this little fellow was laid to rest in the Meadow Cemetery to await the resurrection morning.—Meadow Review.

Balmorhea—The Borderland Utilities Company has obtained a franchise to construct a light plant and water works here. The company plans to furnish current to Madera Springs resort near here.

Commissioners Court In Session Monday

The Commissioners Court was in regular monthly session Monday, and were met by a large delegation of citizens from various portions of the county to see what could be done toward meeting any conditions of the State Highway department in order that some road work might be done west of Gomez. Not only the citizens of Brownfield, but from Meadow and the east and south part of the county, are fearful that our state designation might go by the board if something is not done toward getting a good road through the county that is well grade and maintained.

The tier of counties both to the north and south side of us are working like trojans for designation, and if they get it, this one stands a good chance of being killed. The people had stood by patiently for two years and saw no road work by the State west of Gomez, and at the same time saw the road gradually getting worse and worse until now we are getting nothing but knocks from tourists. Even if we get this road in good condition before the summer tourist season ends, we have already had sufficient hard knock from people both east and west of us not only to turn them in some other direction in the future, but every other prospective traveler they may be able to influence. Knocks travel much faster than boosts, and are hard to stop if once given sufficient headway. This was the reason that the Court received a strong petition to try to get something done in the matter, and that many interested persons were on hand to personally present their side of the case.

We believe our commissioners are reasonable men and being citizens are all anxious to see the county developed, and to comply with any reasonable request of their constituents. In view of this fact, we believe some way will be worked out through the co-operation of the commissioners and citizens whereby work on this road can be had that will be satisfactory to all. We don't believe the majority of people in Brownfield are a whit interested as to where the road is put, but they do want a good road made and maintained to the west side of this county and connected up with the Yoakum county highway.

C. B. Markham Loses Mother In Death

Mrs. F. A. Markham, 70, mother of C. B. Markham of this city, died at the home of her son, J. C., at Tatum, Sunday morning about 9 o'clock, after a lingering illness of practically ten months since the death of her husband last September. At her request and advice of doctors, she was carried to Tatum about three months ago from the home of her son here, thinking the change might be beneficial.

Funeral services were held Sunday by the Baptist pastor at Tatum, Rev. Parker, and the body immediately brought here and buried at about 11 o'clock Sunday night as the body could not be kept longer.

She leaves three sons and a host of friends to mourn her departure. We understand that she was a member of the Primitive Baptist church.

Graham Losing Young Turkeys—Eating Ants

Aut Graham, who is raising many young turkeys on his stock farm just over the line in Yoakum county, west of Tokio, was in Saturday after supplies and informed us that he had lost as high as eighteen young turkeys in one day from eating ants. He said they would die as if they were poisoned, with a fit.

Aut says one will find a bed of large red or black ants and begin eating them, and before you realize it maybe hundreds of them are gathered around the bed eating them as fast as they can swallow. Of course these live ants soon eat out the crops of the poult and they die.

Aut says he is using plenty of carbon in an effort to rid his place of ants, but there are so many he finds it quite a job to get rid of all in range of his poult.

Local Young Lady Appreciates Boosting

Only this week a good farmer friend of the Herald accused us of trying to reform the farmers of Terry county by trying to get them to go on the diversified plan, and wound up by saying that he bet we could not hitch up a four-horse team to a plow. When we reminded him of the fact that we were raised on a farm six miles from town in the red hills of old Tennessee, and had spent the first ten years of our citizenship in Texas on farms in Johnson and Jones counties, and not only knew how to hitch up four horses, but was also familiar with the workings of the trindle-tree, the double tree and single tree, he gave in and told us to keep it up if we wanted to.

The subject of this article was not this farmer, but rather a farm girl that landed here from one of the Central Texas counties early in the year, and whose name we are not privileged to divulge. She came in Saturday and asked us to help her with a letter of description of this her adopted home, as she had many relatives and friends down there yet whom she would delight in getting out to this new and promising country she had learned to love so well.

We were sorry to inform her that any letter we might write might fall far short of what she would expect, and that she no doubt could do a much more satisfactory job than we, as she had the advantage of knowing the people she wanted to come out here personally, and just what would appeal most to them.

She answered that she read many articles in the Herald that were her ideals of what she wanted to tell. We then suggested that next time an article appeared that appealed to her, to come in and get a number of copies and send them out at our expense. We are always willing to do our share in preaching the gospel of old Terry.

Terry county is now getting some real farmers who are demonstrating just what the county will do when given half a chance. The time was, when in its early stage of development, people had little confidence in its productiveness except for raising a stack of feed, and this was done by riding through the field with a rope on the horn of a saddle and trusting to Providence for a yield. Sometimes even then, the farmers (?) got much better returns than they were entitled to. With the advent of the man who believed the rich soils of the county would produce anything that is adaptable to a temperate climate, and put his belief into execution by tilling the soil early and late like they have to do in all countries, kept his fields free of everything else but what he expected to harvest, and lo! and behold, he and his neighbors not alone proved that grain sorghums were alright, but they were soon shipping out corn by the hundreds of carloads. Yet the farmer was just a bit skeptical of cotton still. He had been told that the altitude was too high and the season too short. However, with the rise in cotton during the war, a stab was made by some of the braver spirits, and a big gin company with a mutual idea build a modern plant here. It was found to the surprise of many that it grew as if out of a hot bed, jointed closely, and the average yearly yield per acre was several pounds of lint greater than the state average, and the yield jumped from 600 bales in 1919 to 24,000 last year, with less than 1000 farmers planting any cotton at all.

All new countries must go through just such trials. Diamonds in the rough are unsightly stones, but when carefully cut and polished under the eyes of an expert, they are a great delight to everybody, and valuable beyond measure.

PHONE ANSWERS ITSELF

A telephone that answers itself when its owner is out has recently been invented in Sweden. In the principle the instrument is said to operate like a phonograph attached to an ordinary telephone in such a way that it can be left in contact with the central telephone office. The message is recorded on a sensitive roller and when the owner returns he turns a switch and the machine repeats precisely what has been said.

Big Spring—This city is planning a street paving program to cost about $160,000.

Hill Invites Us Out To Eat Ham and—

J. R. Hill, erstwhile original hotel man of Brownfield, but now holding down a "bonus" in old Yoakum, was in Saturday and gave the Herald a pressing invitation to come out some Sunday to the ranch and have a real feed with him, consisting of good old country ham and eggs, vegetables, butter milk and sour dough biscuits.

J. R. is a prime cook himself, and knowing his proclivities of good feeding by boarding with him a long time when we first landed in Terry, made the invitation the more pressing. We know he will back up every condition set forth in the invitation, and more.

But we reminded him that since the county had settle up, people had just simply got out of the habit, at least in town of calling on their old neighbors, and the Herald family had naturally drifted into the rut with the rest of them. Many were the times in the early days here when one family would go just a few blocks—mere trails then—to spend Saturday night and maybe Sunday with another family.

J. R. reminded us that as old timers should never have allowed this fine old custom to have become void, and we certainly agree with him. We still think that old Irish or Scotch song "Should Ould Acquaintance be Forgot" has some fine sentiments and if we old timers had held on to the good old habit of visiting, the newcomers would doubtless have drifted right into the habit whether or not he was used to such where he came from.

But, we are likely to slip in on old J. R. some of these days and make him wish he hadn't.

Workmen Prepare Tabernacle For Revivals

A bunch of workmen representing the local Baptist church and the church of Christ met at the city tabernacle Monday morning and gave it a real good cleaning in preparation for the meetings to be held here in the next three weeks. In view of the fact that nothing had been done to the place since last summer the accumulation of trash had become quite immense, not to say anything about the tall growth of weeds that had taken place, but as soon as the weeds are dry enough to burn the place will be in fine shape.

The Baptist folks will first use the tabernacle in a two weeks meeting led by the local pastor, Rev. E. V. May, who will do the preaching. Their song services will be led by Prof. J. Frank Cheek, of Fort Worth, who is said to be not only an excellent leader, but a fine soloist as well.

The church of Christ will open their revival about the first of September with G. A. Dunn of Dallas doing the preaching, and A. L. Burnett leading the song services. The local minister, Liff Sanders will also lend his aid to the meeting. Elder Dunn held the revival last year for this church.

Unless the Methodist church decides to hold a meeting a little later on in the season, these two revivals will probably be the only ones held under the tabernacle this year, as nothing has been heard of any meetings being held by either the Presbyterian or First Christian churches.

Rotary Rig On Again At Kingsland Well

We understand that preparations are under way again at the Kingsland well 12 miles east of town, to put the rotary drill back on as the red mud has been encountered again and the standard rig can make no headway in it. It was said that after the rotary was taken off before, the standard went only a few feet in the rock formation until the red gumbo was encountered again.

It is hoped that after the gumbo is gone through again that it will not be encountered again, but that the well can soon be finished either as a producer or duster, whichever it is destined to be.

JUST TOO BAD

A farmer once rented a small tract of land to a darkey neighbor; upon which corn was to be planted, for an agreed rental of one-fourth of the corn produced on the land. When the harvest time came the darkey paid no rent. The landlord finally asked him if the corn had been harvested. "Sam" admitted that it had been, long ago. "Well, inquired the landlord, where is my fourth?" "Lordy, Boss," Sam replied, "there was no fourth. There was just three loads, and they was mine."

INFANTILE PARALYSIS CONDITION IMPROVED

New Mexico is getting much unfavorable advertising due to the infantile paralysis scare. Due precaution must be practiced in case of an epidemic, but there has been so much frenzied excitement and groundless rumors about cases over the state. Clovis has been fortunate in not having a case, and this condition is true of practically all New Mexico cities, as cases have been reported from only a few cities.—Clovis (N. M.) News.

3. That said property was heretofore, to-wit, on the 4th day of April, A. D. 1924, conveyed by plaintiff to defendant by his deed of writing of that date, in consideration, among other things, of fourteen notes herein described, and that in said deed of conveyance a lien was retained thereon to secure the payment of said notes; that each of said notes are due and unpaid and defendant, though often requested, has failed and refused to pay said notes, each or either of them, or any part thereof, but the same remains still due and unpaid.

COTTON CROP FALLS SHORT SAYS TERRELL

AUSTIN, Aug. 2.—Seventeen million acres of 69 per cent cotton in Texas will yield about 4,600,000 bales or 1,006,000 less than last year's crop, which had 13 per cent greater acreage, George B. Terrell, commissioner of agriculture estimated today.
He said a price of 20 cents a pound or more is in prospect unless the crop improves. The estimate was based on crop conditions reported by Commissioner Terrell's correspondents up to July 25 and accounts only for the present condition of the crop, which might change, he said.

"The wheat and oat crops are very short, estimated at 50 per cent of last year's production," Mr. Terrell said. "Corn, sorghum, peanuts, sweet potatoes and hay are generally good, the corn crop being the best in several years. Texas can surely feed itself next year."

YE FLAPPER CALF

A Baby Cow, a Bovine Lass
Was wont to Gambol o'er the grass
Nor take heed of the morrow,
She'd kick her Graceful legs in air
And give the world the Baby Stare
Her soul unknown to Sorrow.

The only time that she'd be Good
Was when her Ma-Ma chewed the cud
And let her have her luncheon.
She'd hand Pa-Pa a bunch of Sass
And pick the choicest bits of grass
And nothing else she'd munch on.
She liked the Hootch; also the Jazz,
And gave her folks the Merry Razz.
Whenever they tried to stop her;
No Maiden Modesty had she
About exposing either knee—
"T'ell with Mom and Popper."

'Tis said that some, like Ravens Poe,
Or, Perhaps I've got it backwards, Bo,
To lowest Depths must Sink,
This flapper calf had hit the Gait,
That Surely sometime Soon or Late
Would put her on the Blink.
We will not Pain you with the facts
That tell how this calf got the Axe
Or came to final grief,
We'll simply say her Race was run
And 'ere the time of Setting Sun
She was made into Beef.

Now, Flappers All, let this calf's Tale
Employed to keep you out of jail
Or E'en a Worsen Fate,
You always have to pay the price
And sometimes even pay it Twice,
When e'er you go the Gait.
Remember this while you're in Luck
And don't attempt to Pass the Buck
Or get by with a Pull,
This rule applies to maids like You
And Muly Headed flappers, too,
And that's no idle Bull.
—Si Satterwhite.

Pottery Arithmetic

In the great pottery industry of Staffordshire, England, a "dozen" may be any number from 1 to 72. All plates are 12 to the dozen, but cups and saucers are 36 and other small wares 18, 24, 36 up to 72, for some purposes. This eccentric arithmetic originated in a desire to simplify the payment of the oven men.

Shetland Knitters

It is claimed for the women of the Shetland Islands that they are the best knitters in the world. Tradition has it that the pioneers of their handicraft were some Spanish sailors who were stranded in the islands after the disaster to the Spanish Armada, and from whom the women learned the new art of knitting.

Good Manners

Politeness does not mean formality, small talk or affectation. Politeness means the recognition of the temperament and feelings of another human being, the determination to do nothing and to say a thing that can injure that person's self-respect or to give them one moment of unnecessary suffering.

The weather man made another stab at a rain Monday night and Tuesday morning with no better results than to lay the dust and allay the heat somewhat. Better luck next time Mr. J. Pluvius.

With less than eight per cent of the world's area and with less than six per cent of the world's population the United States has more than 33 per cent of the world's railway mileage. This is one of the striking facts presented in the annual railway yearbook which has just been issued by the Western Railways' Committee on Public Relations at Chicago.

Brother Henry Ford has apologized to the Jews for what was said about them in his Dearborn Independent, and claims that he didn't know it was being said until suits were filed against him for damages, says the editor of the Garland News. The man who runs a newspaper or periodical and fails to know what is being printed is sure taking a long chance on being sued for damages. If the News, even as small as it is, should permit its readers to edit one issue without censoring, the force would have to hike to milder climes in a hurry. Henry ought to watch the matter which goes into his publication a little closer. He doesn't even know what his editorials are about, according to admissions in his retraction. As a result of his apology, the Sapiro suit for a million dollars damage has been withdrawn. That ought to help Henry's feelings some. —Snyder-Times Signal.

The small country paper in its endeavor to keep abreast of the times, have started a column generally known as "heart balm" column, at least we note that some of them have. In these columns, some lady editor away off toward Halifax or some other port is supposed to give advice and sympathy to the love' lorn, and whose customers, we imagine are fictitious. But the reading public is led to believe they are local people asking and receiving advice from some experienced "heart doctor" in their very midst. All of which reminds us of that old book written several years ago by Uncle Benjamin Morgan of Morganville, Morgan county, New York, entitled "My Experience with Hypocrites." It may be just the thing to attract new readers and hold old ones, but the Herald had much rather devote the same space to another heifer calf and mule colt arriving on the Jones farm.

The last two months of sweltering weather, and especially the past two or three weeks, which old timers acknowledge to be the longest hot spell in the history of the plains, leads us to ask, "what has become of that bird that predicted a frozen summer for us away back sometime during the winter?" Anyway, it would be just as well for him that he remain incognito or whatever big fellows assume when traveling abroad, himself be known anywhere from the rest of the summer, and not let here to the Atlantic coast if reports of the popping mercury in other places is to be taken seriously. Of course he can come out from his hiding place during mid-winter, if he wants to, and make another wild guess.

Another thing, what has become of those four quadruples "Constitutional" Amendments better known as Judiciary, Salary, Tax and Fees.

"WATER EVERYWHERE, BUT NOT A DROP TO DRINK"

The consumer of eggs in our cities is in much the same position as the sailor on the raft in mid-ocean. There was water, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink. And, at this writing, there are eggs everywhere, but it is growing increasingly difficult to feel safe in buying them. Fresh, infertile eggs are almost as scarce as hen's teeth, or at least eggs that the consumer knows are fresh. Yet, the price is down below cost of production. Not the price of fresh, infertile eggs, but the price of eggs. One can spend an entire day in our large cities traveling from store to store and not find a dozen eggs that he feels certain are fresh and infertile. True, nearly every groceryman will say: "Yes, I have some good fresh eggs," but his idea of freshness does not coincide with that of his customer. Purchase a dozen nicely packed in a carton and take them home. You will find a nondescript assortment of eggs of all sizes, colors and appearance. Break them and they will vary from an apparently fresh egg down through the stages of discoloration to rotten. This destroys the appetite for eggs during the season of high production.

There never was a time in the large cities of Texas or other Southwestern States when there was a surplus of fresh, infertile eggs available to consumers, and there never was a time when a producer who could guarantee quality and service who could not sell above the market price.

Producers, however, who try to meet this demand, many of them at least, destroy their own business by destroying the confidence of consumers. A producer will start out with a few customers and deliver to them well-graded, infertile eggs. These customers tell their friends and neighbors and soon the producer has a greater demand than he can fill. Here is where he makes his mistake. In order to increase business he begins buying eggs from others who are less particular, and soon he is delivering fertile, under-sized, dirty, and rotten eggs, and his customers begin to quit him. In just a short time he has destroyed his bus-

S-I-X-T-Y AND NO REGRETS

Age should have its compensations. It should be free from all worries and responsibilities of younger years. There should be no financial worries, and there are none for the man who during producing years spent less than he earned and banked the difference.

At any age, it is neither too soon nor too late, to be moderate in all things and become comfortably independent. This bank has a special department which is prepared to serve you in connection with your saving plan. Let us explain how it can be of assistance to you.

LAMESA BANK NOW READY FOR THE REOPENING

According to information received by the Index, the State National Bank of Lamesa which has been closed for some time will reopen for business not later than Monday morning.

Our informant stated that all the officials of the newly reorganized institution arrived in Lamesa Monday of this week and preparations are being made to open for business within the next few days, probably Monday morning.

The official sanction of the officials at Washington was received by wire a few days ago. The Index extends congratulations and best wishes to the officers and directors of the newly organized institution. — The O'Donnell Index.

ADVISE FROM A WISE BUSINESS MAN

When times are hard and people are not buying, is the very time that advertising should be the heaviest. You want to get the people in to see what you have to sell, and you must advertise to do that. When times are good they will do that of their own accord. But I believe in advertising all the time. I never stop advertising. —John Wanamaker.

PHILATHEA S. S. CLASS MEETS

At the regular business meeting Monday night, held at the home of Mrs. S. L. McDonald, the Philathea girls elected Miss Jewel Graves reporter and adopted the club plan of organization for furthering the interests of their class.

Two groups of eleven members each were formed. One group will meet with Mrs. DuBois and the other with Miss Lillie Mae Warren Thursday night, when they will complete the plans of organization by electing club officers.

Mrs. McDonald was chosen Club "Mother" for both as the membership did not justify a "Mother" for each club, as is demanded in larger classes in the cities. In these club meetings the girls meet and study the Sunday School lesson. But the prime object is to get in closer touch with the delinquent members and encourage their forming the habit of being 100 percent pupils every Sunday. The monthly (July) report for the class is as follows: Enrollment 14; No. of pupils leaving class 1; Average att. at S. S. 91.5%; Average att. at church 91.5%; Average class grade 61.5; 100 per cent pupils for every Sunday in the month 1; No. of visits to the sick 38; No. subscribing to the budget 6; Am't of offering for the month $10.90.

LADIES ACCEPT TREATS FROM MALE MEMBERS

Some time since the ladies in class No. 2, composed of young men and ladies, and young married couples of the church of Christ, bantered the men for a contest in attendance. They, of course, being gallant, accepted the challenge, but realized it was hopeless, but also realized they would have to pay for the treats anyway.

Last Thursday night, August 4th, the following appeared on the lawn of the beautiful premises of Judge and Mrs. H. R. Winston, which was well lighted by electricity:

Mr. and Mrs. Redford Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collier and family; Mr. and Mrs. Eunice Jones and little son; Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Jones and family; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gore and family; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chisholm; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stricklin and daughter; Mrs. Theo. Smith of Wichita Falls; Mr. Jack Holt and sister, Miss Florence.

After all the refreshments the crowd could manage, consisting of lemonade, ice cream and cake were consumed, the guests forgot they were anything but children, and for about an hour played "snap," "heads and tails" and other games to the amusement of all.

Just before going home, Jack Stricklin and Mrs. Winston "choosed up" sides for another contest to run two months, Stricklin leading the blues and Mrs. Winston the reds.

NEW FALL COATS TO BE ON SPORT LINES

Straight, belted and suitable for sport wear are the newest fur coats Paris is designing. Even the luxurious furs are made up in the sports tradition, only the evening frocks conforming to the designs of other seasons with large collars and ample sleeves.

There is a variety of fur in the new models, which makes choice difficult. Goatskin is among the newcomers. Combined with suede in tones of brown, it is expected to have a great popularity.

The new diagonal line, and the graceful shawl collar with its lengthening line are extensively employed in the latest fur coat designs.

LONGER SKIRTS SEEN ON SMART PARISIANS

Skirt lengths in Paris today remind the world that although Paris designs many extreme styles, it is not the well-dressed women of Paris who wear them.

Ultra-short skirts have always been more important with American women and the English visitors to Paris than they were with the Parisians themselves. And now that the fashion creators have given them a chance the French women are the first ones to wear the longer skirts.

The French woman of today wears her skirt on a level with the maximum curve of the calf of her leg.

Elder Liff Sanders returned Monday from Lockney where he held an eight day meeting for the church of Christ at that place. He said the farmers were very busy, and with the addition of several cases of typhoid fever in town, made it rather hard on a meeting.

Roy Wingerd and G. S. Webber, of Odessa, came up Monday on business. They report the oil business as being a little dull, but their town still growing.

Well, the Herald eat some good roasting ears this week as a result of the write-up we gave E. H. Tandy last week. Said he had been putting off or forgetting to bring us a mess for some time, but after the write up came out, he could not neglect it longer. They were fine. E. H.

T. U. COLLEGE OF PHARMACY REMOVED TO AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 8.—Removal of the College of Pharmacy of the University of Texas from the Medical Branch at Galveston to the Main University at Austin will bring six members of the faculty from Galveston to Austin to teach.

Arrangements for the housing of the college in V Hall, one of the frame buildings on the campus, are being made and everything is being put in readiness by the opening of school this fall, according to Dr. William Francis Gidley, dean of the college, who has been in Austin making arrangements for the change.

Mrs. C. H. Hester and two sons, Heard and Virgil motored over to Tahoka Sunday afternoon to visit Mr. and Mrs. Luther Dunagan and family. The Dunagan's also came from Frost, Navarro county, Texas and moved to Tahoka last fall. The two families have known each other for several years.

H. L. Bridge, prominent farmer of the Tokio section was in Saturday and pleased the Herald with a renewal. Mr. Bridge said he was getting by on the products of the farm this year without going in debt, and recently told the wife that this would be one year when he could drive a bale of cotton to town and know he would get what it would bring.

W. H. Hare was in Saturday from the farm east of town and informed us that he was having a hard run of it this year to make it till something come in to sell, but he thought he would make it alright. Hundreds of our farmers are doing the same way this year, and whatever they make this year can be applied on old debts, and the balance to their own bank account. And provided they owe nothing, their crops will be pure velvet.

Sugar Cane in America

Sugar cane was introduced into the New world shortly after its discovery, and it is recorded that in 1518 many sugar mills were in operation on the Island of Santo Domingo. It was not until 1751, however, that the plant was grown in continental America, as a result of the importation of cuttings by Jesuits in Louisiana. From that time it was cultivated in a desultory manner until the end of the Eighteenth century, when the failure of indigo and other crops forced the Louisiana planters to turn their attention to the manufacture of sugar as a source of revenue. Establishment of the American sugar cane industry may be said to date from 1795, when the first successful mill began operations on a plantation about six miles from New Orleans.

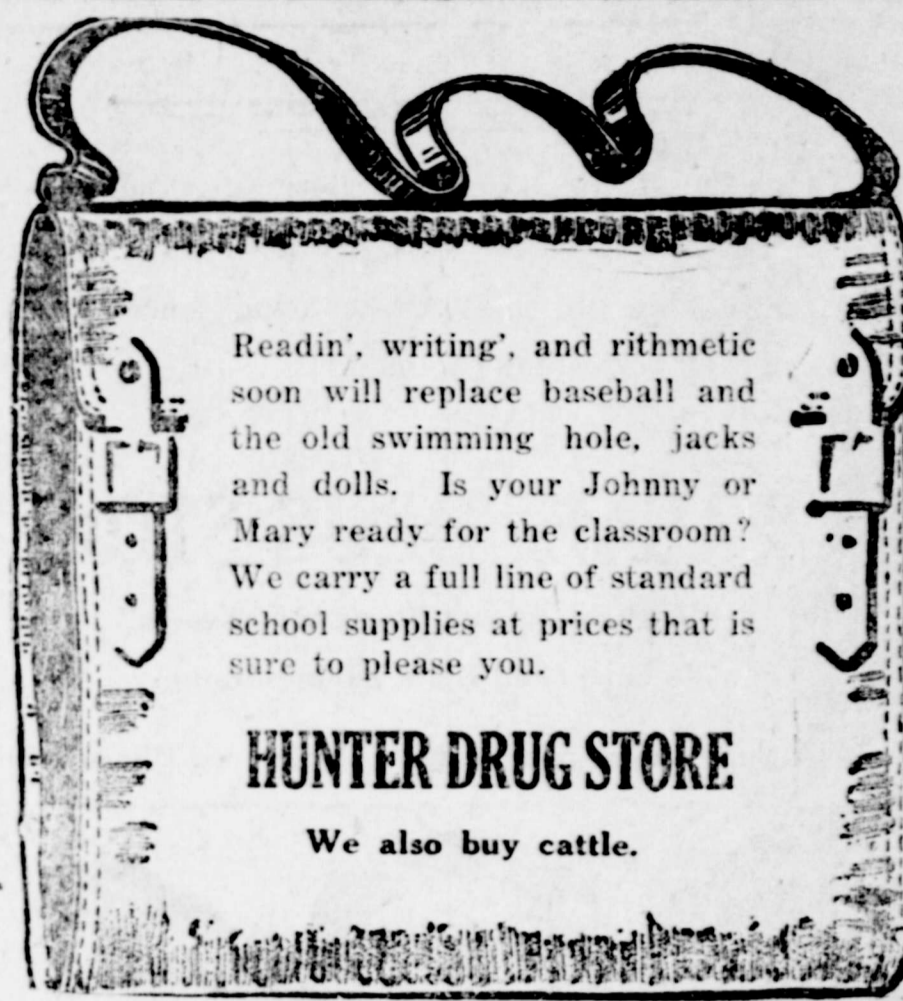

Odd Butterfly

Perhaps one of the most remarkable instances of camouflage is that of the "Green Hairstreak" butterfly. The upper surface of the wings are blackish-brown; the undersides an intensely vivid leaf-green.

A butterfly invariably folds the wings close upwards when resting. Consequently the green hairstreak, conspicuous enough among the hedges, has only to alight upon a green leaf for his green undersurface to render him instantly invisible.—Nature Magazine.

Keeping Sea Full of Fish

The Port Erin biological station at Port Erin, Isle of Man, makes it a business to see to it that England does not suffer a fish or sea-food famine. During spawning season millions of eggs are floating in the ocean, and special boats are sent out to rescue them. Tow nets of silk or muslin gather the eggs, and as quickly as possible they are taken to the hatchery and put in hatching boxes set in big tanks. There they are safe, and nature, with the aid of a continuous supply of real sea water pumped from the ocean, does the rest, says THE BIT.

Readin', writing', and rithmetic soon will replace baseball and the old swimming hole, jacks and dolls. Is your Johnny or Mary ready for the classroom? We carry a full line of standard school supplies at prices that is sure to please you.

THE LAY OF THE LINGERING LUNGER

(With apologies to everybody)

Supine upon my back I rest,
While rales and bronchi fill my chest,
And now to while the hours away,
I pen the couplets of this lay.
I long to be where I am not,
To splurge about, but I have got
To stick around close to the day,
From this time forth, mayhap always.
Divorced I be from cigarettes,
No more may I make poker debts.
This T. B. joint I must endure
And stoically take the cure.
And oft when on my couch I lie,
I'd like to have a shot of rye,

But such things now must be forgot,
I must content be on my cot.

And I must lie and tuminate
Upon my dark and cruel date,
I warn you who would cheat the bier,
Don't burn the midnight chandelier.

Eschew the lure of bright Moselle,
Walk not for Camel or Pall Mall,
Shun the Knights of the Table Round
For the night of Hoyle in bugs abound.

Take heed from this, my tale of woe
Combat the bugs, defeat the foe,
For once the rales get in your flue,
They stick to you like Royal Glue!

You can't look at a tire and tell how far it will run

YOU CAN'T SEE a tire carcass because it is covered by the tread. Yet the way this carcass is built tells how far the tire will run.

Dunlop has had 39 years to learn all the hidden points where tires wear. Dunlop carcasses are built from the best long fibre cotton, spun in Dunlop's own mills into the famous Dunlop cable-twist cord.

These cords are elastic, so they give and take as your tire runs; strong, so they resist constant load and pounding. They build the best possible foundation for the Dunlop tread—the toughest rubber development known.

Thus Dunlop's extra years of experience build added value into every vital tire-part. That is why, not one Dunlop—but every Dunlop—gives you more service than you can reasonably expect.

We recommend that you put Dunlops on your car

FOUNDERS OF THE PNEUMATIC TIRE INDUSTRY

THE FARMER'S BEST WAY OUT

Dean Russell of Wisconsin College of Agriculture says: "Two things have hit the farmer hard but the same things have hit business. They are increase in cost of production and decline in prices which latter has been more drastic in farm products than manufactured products. The farmer's political friends say salvation can be found through legislation. Our legislative doctors propose price control. The difficulty with this is price control always means price elevation which always produces expansion in production and if this occurs without expansion in consumption you have inevitable decline in prices. The remedy works to produce the very opposite result from that intended."

"Another legislative panacea would make it easier to borrow, as if running into debt was the solution of the difficulty. There are farmers who wish it had not been quite so easy to borrow because the inevitable day comes when they have to pay principal and interest. The third legislative remedy would make easier the pathway for cooperative endeavor. All you have to do is to wave the magic wand 'Cooperation' and all the farmer's difficulties will immediately disappear. I wonder if there is any government that can make people cooperate. The success of cooperative effort will lie in organization from the bottom up rather than from the top down and it will take a decade or two for the results to be felt."

"The farmers have at hand a remedy that can be utilized immediately with the definite knowledge that it will secure far better results. If they will take a leaf out of present day business methods they will have relief in agriculture they will not have to wait for. Business has suffered the same as the farmer, yet business came through in a way that is far ahead of the farmer. This has been brought about through industrial efficiency, through improvement of methods. They have increased labor output per unit to the degree the costs of production have actually been reduced by better methods of carrying on work. Industrial enterprises on a large scale are spending millions on research. In ten years automobile output per worker has increased 172 per cent, tires 211 per cent, oil 83 per cent, cement 61 per cent.

"Compare that with others. The packers have increased only 27 per cent, sugar refining 23 per cent, boots and shoes only 6 per cent. There has been an increase in agriculture since 1913 of 20 per cent. It is doubtful that business has any such opportunity as exists in agriculture to reduce cost of production through improved methods. Take corn,—Iowa shows a variation in cost of production from fifteen cents to seventy-five cents a bushel. In Illinois the cost of producing corn on 80 acre fields was reduced from fifty-two cents to twenty cents a bushel. The manufacturer who had it within his power to reduce production costs from fifty-two to thirty cents per unit would be tickled to death with the opportunity of meeting competition under these conditions."

"The way out for the farmer is (1) to become a business man, (2) to adopt business methods, to adapt himself to the same kind of conditions and be as efficiently mobile as is our manufacturer or our business man in the ordinary channels of his trade, (3) to rely less upon political promises and more upon individual initiative, (4) to work toward cooperative endeavor, but in the meantime not to wait for cooperative endeavor to solve all of these problems because individually he can do something at the present time."

Caesar's Personality

Historians say that Julius Caesar was tall and of commanding presence. His features were angular and prominent. He had a fair complexion, with keen, expressive black eyes. In later years he was bald; at no time of his life did he wear a beard. Though endowed with a constitution naturally by no means robust, he became inured to hardship and exhibited astonishing powers of endurance. In matters of dress, he was particular to the verge of effeminacy.

The Only Girl

Jack had just asked Jill to marry him, and she had murmured, "Yes." "Jack, dear," asked Jill, after a long silence, "am I the only girl—?" "Jill, darling," he interrupted, "don't ask me if you are the only girl I have ever loved. You know it as well as I do." "That wasn't the question at all, Jack," she answered. "I was just going to ask you if I was the only girl who would have you."

VACCINATION IS IMPERATIVE

"There were reported in the United States in the year 1925, 41,643 cases of small-pox of which 702 died. In the last eight years Illinois alone has had over 30,000 cases representing a community loss of not less than $3,000,000. In the ten-year period, 1916-1925, Massachusetts had 253 cases of small-pox with a community loss of $25,200. The Illinois Health News says, 'In Massachusetts a law which requires vaccination of all children who attend public schools is enforced. In Illinois the people generally trust to luck until a small-pox epidemic comes along.'"

"What is true of Massachusetts and Illinois applies with equal force to the other states. Those which enforce the vaccination laws have little small-pox. Those who do not have plenty. Vaccination is compulsory in most states but it doesn't compel. It isn't the statute books which protect against small-pox; it is vaccination. Until this is brought home forcibly to the public, small-pox will continue. When the people vacillate as a matter of habit and conviction, small-pox will cease and not before. Is it not a reflection on the sanitary profession that it has not created this conviction?"—National Health.

TOM'S CONFECTIONERY

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapias.

While journeying through New Mexico, recently I heard frequent references to the existence of infantile paralysis in the larger towns and especially Roswell, and since my return I have met a few who had left the latter place on account of the disease. Rather scary stories are told of the number afflicted and the fatality among those who contracted it. As in all epidemics of contagious diseases there is more or less exaggeration, and it is quite probable that this one is no exception to the rule.

The disease has been given the rather long name of Acute Polio Myelitis Anterior. It is an infective communicable disease and primarily affects the nose and throat very much resembling the usual symptoms of Influenza. It does not, as people generally think, always involve the central nervous system, nor always cause paralysis when the Cord is involved, and even in those suffering paralysis the most of them recover without permanent injury. The death rate is about ten per cent of those contracting the disease. In the New York epidemic of 1916 about 1.6 in every thousand of the population were attacked. Children under five years of age are more susceptible to the disease but no age is exempt. The disease where a case develops sick children of all ages should be given attention, as early treatment is very important and a doctor should be summoned. Treatment had better be left to the physician. Fortunately most children and adults are immune, as very few of those exposed to the disease contract it.

The present trend of prophylactic measures is the use of serums either made from convalescents or prepared from the horse. The spraying of a 5 per cent solution of Per Oxide of hydrogen in the nose and throats of children who have been exposed, and also of the attendants has been recommended. It should be used two or three times a day. The solution is simple and harmless to the individual, and a very good cleansing agent for the purpose.

Cases have been reported in some of the near by towns hence you should be careful where you go with your children. Cases will doubtless occur in most towns.

The Baptist people have just closed a very successful meeting at Meadow. There were sixteen baptised Sunday evening and received into the church. The Methodist also baptised two. We hope the young folks who have accepted the vows of the church will strive to keep them and older ones who have renewed their allegiance to the church will be more circumspect in the future. Pledges of any kind for individual betterment should be religiously kept. "Vice is a monster of such frightful mien. To be hated needs but to be seen. Seen too oft familiar with its face, we first abhor the pity then embrace."

Some good showers have fallen west and north of Meadow but the town and eastern sections still goes dry. Crops however still look well and give good promise.

SUCH IS FAME

Several years ago Firestone, Ford, Edison and Burroughs were touring through West Virginia. A light on their car went bad and they stopped at a little crossing store in the Buckhannan. Mr. Ford went in to make the purchase.

"What kind of automobile lights do you have?" said Ford.

"Edison," replied the merchant.

"I'll take one," said Ford, "and by the way, you may be interested to know that Mr. Edison is out in my car."

"So?" so said the merchant.

"When the light was put in it was found that a new tire was needed, so Ford went back into the store and asked what kind the merchant had."

"Firestone," was the reply.

"By the way, you may be interested to know that Mr. Firestone is out in my car too, and I am Mr. Ford—Henry Ford."

"So!" said the merchant, and let drive a long squirt of tobacco juice against the wall.

While the merchant was putting on the tire Burroughs, who had white whiskers, leaned out of the car and said, "Good morning sir."

The merchant looked up with a full grin of sarcasm and said:

"If you try to tell me you are Santa Claus I'll be darned if I don't crown you with this wrench.—Southwestern Ambassador.

COUNTY PREMIUMS RAISED AT SOUTH PLAINS FAIR

LUBBOCK, Aug. 8.—The agricultural show at the Panhandle South Plains Fair, Sept. 27, 28, 29, 30, and Oct. 1, is expected to be the most complete of any regional fair in Texas this year and the winner of the blue ribbon will receive much recognition throughout the Southwest and by the thousands and thousands of fair visitors but will also receive a cash prize of $200.00.

Premiums for the county exhibits have been raised this year paying due attention to the department for which the fair is primarily operated. Second prize is $175; third $150; fourth $125; fifth $100; sixth $75; seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth $50; and eleventh to twentieth $25.

These premiums assure every South Plains county his expenses in addition to the advertising value connected with the exhibit, and winners of the top prizes will make a profit for their extra efforts.

CHEVROLET NEARLY UP TO ITS 1926 PRODUCTION

Chevrolet production for July raised the total volume for the first seven months of this year to nearly on a par with its entire output for 1925, in which year Chevrolet established an all-time production record for the manufacture of gear shift cars, according to figures released today by the Chevrolet Motor Co.

Production for the month just ended totaled 89,569 units as against 50,993 units for July, 1925, an increase of 75.65 percent. This percentage of gain over the corresponding month of last year was greater in July than in any other month so far into 1927. The next highest month was February, when this year's figures revealed an increase of 67 percent over February, 1926.

July volume brings production for the first seven months of this year to 497,318 units; whereas in the entire year of 1926 the total volume was only 728,697 units, indicating that at the present rate of output the figures for last year will be passed before August gets fairly under way.

Chevrolet officials were confident, in view of this extraordinary showing that by the close of the year the total volume for 1927 would approach very closely to the million mark. The great Chevrolet factories are running day and night to accomplish this tremendous volume and to meet the steadily growing public favor which "The Most Beautiful Chevrolet" is everywhere commanding.

Hand in hand with this gigantic production schedule are new projects. Ground was recently broken for two new buildings to stabilize the facilities of the factory at Flint, Mich. A new office building and a new parts building are being erected at a cost of $1,000,000. Work is being rushed so that both buildings may be ready for occupancy by October 1927.

DEAF MUTES SEE THEIR VOICES AND LEARN SPEECH

Deaf mutes may now "see" their voices and learn to speak by means of a contrivance developed by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

The device shows a bright line of light in a revolving mirror. When the voice is spoken into an attached receiver the light line breaks into winking curves corresponding to the sound waves.

A sweet, low voiced "coo" into the machine gives a graceful curve; a sharp "hello" provides a representation of a barbed wire fence hit by lightning, and if one whistles the appliance goes mad.

While the contrivance was developed for electrical purposes, it has been found useful in teaching deaf mutes to speak. The pupils are enabled to see the forms of the sound waves they produce and they readily learn to reproduce waves formed by their teacher's speech.

50,000 CHICKS ARE HATCHED AT SLATON

SLATON, Aug. 2.—Conclusive evidence of the growing interest farmers here are showing in the poultry industry is shown in a report recently announced by a local hatchery following a season of five month's operation. The hatchery's capacity at the beginning of the spring business was 15,000. Two months ago it was increased to 30,000. In the five months, more than 50,000 chicks were distributed by the hatchery, most of them going into the hands of farmers in Slaton's trade territory, according to D. E. Scott, one of the managers of the hatchery.

Indications are that this year's record in the poultry business here will easily double that of 1926, it is believed.

Mrs. W. M. Adams of this city recently underwent an operation on the nose at the Lubbock Sanitarium.
