MANLEY RELATIVES VISIT OLD CLARKSVILLE HOME

On Sunday July 24, Mr. and Mrs. Jess May, of Russellville, Ark., with three of their children, (they have 10 living), Tom May and family, of Brownfield, Texas; Mrs. Tiny Wright and daughter, of Demmitt, Texas; Mrs. Burgess and husband, of Russellville, Ark, together with Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Shinn and children of Russellville, were met in Clarksville, by their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pitts and family, and Mr. and Mrs. John Warren, for a days visit in this city. Mrs. Jess May's old home.

Mrs. May's maiden name was Tina Manley, and the old Manley home is what is known as the J. R. Miller place on East Hill. The entire party visited the grounds during the morning and at noon spread the dinner under the old oak that Mrs. May had planted when she was a little girl.

In the afternoon the Manley children's old playgrounds on Slate Hill were visited, after which the children of the party were taken to the Weatherston Ford for a swim in Spudra creek.

They visited Oakland Cemetery where many of their relatives lie buried. Then around to the high school and on to College Hill to view the many changes that have taken place in Clarksville since Mrs. May, with her mother, Mrs. Manley, lived in the old dormitory during the war.

The party then drove to the home of Mrs. May's nephew, J. H. Warren, on College Ave., where they were met by two other nephews, Dr. R. N. Manley and Chas. N. Eubanks, with their families.

At 5 o'clock the Russellville party left for home after a day of greatest enjoyment to this large family of relatives of this old Clarksville family. —Clarksville Times.

YOUNG MINISTER WED TUESDAY AT ABILENE, TEXAS

Rev. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist church of White Deer, Texas, and a former citizen of Lamesa, was married Tuesday evening in the College Height Baptist Church at Abilene to Miss Nellie Ernestine Rosser, by Rev. Ross A. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist church of Lamesa.

The groom is well known here, where his parents reside. He has been preaching for sometime at the College Height Baptist, Abilene. Several friends of the groom from Lamesa attended the function, including Owen C. Taylor, county clerk.

The newly weds expected to spend a day or two with the groom's parents here before going to White Deer which will be their home in the future. —Lamesa Journal.

Official paper of Terry County.

Some uneasiness has been expressed among farmers that they were fearful that calcium arsenate used as poison on their young cotton, would result in injury in the form of scorching. We have been watching neighboring county papers for expressions from county agents, and they seem to think there is no need of fear if directions as given out by the A. & M. College is closely followed.

Cotton is still leaping upward in spite of all the bears can do to keep it down. Speculators are fearful that the next government estimate will be even lower than the last one, as continued showers in the east are increasing the ravages of the boll weevil. Spinners are taking no chances of getting their quotas later on, but are in the market themselves, and this gives good tone to the market. Many people are fearful that this will induce the farmer to quit the safe way and plant a large acreage again in 1928.

We had a concrete example last week of what a criminal will do if given a chance, in the murder of Sheriff Smith and deputy of Fisher county, and it should serve as a warning to the big hearted officers of West Texas to take no chances with the criminal element, but to regard them as dangerous animals, which most of them are. While the crime they were charged with was only theft, they were willing to add murder to it in order to at least temporarily escape. Be careful, men.

The Herald is sorry to announce that other duties forbid Mrs. W. H. Dallas continuing her work with the Herald as society editor. Mrs. Dallas has been unusually faithful in the performances of her duties toward this column, and the Herald not only appreciates that, but wishes also to thank the good ladies who have in any way assisted her. We are glad to announce that Mrs. R. L. Bowers has decided to continue the society page, and we feel that she will be a worthy successor of Mrs. Dallas, and we bespeak for her the same good cooperation that you have rendered Mrs. Dallas. Mrs. Bowers' phone number is one-eight-two. Help her make a good page of the social and Club affairs of the town and county.

"Have you noticed how the grocery stores are advertising since the advent of the "chain store"? If you are not fortunate in having a chain store in your town, go out and get one and watch your advertising revenue from this source increase. There is nothing better than competition to stimulate trade."

The above item was clipped from the Texas notes in the Publisher's Auxiliary, but it does not apply very well to Brownfield, for we have grocery stores that do good advertising without the incentive of any chain store or stores. In fact, their persistent advertising, and by giving the people fair prices on their wares, they have headed off the chain store, which are to be found in many towns hereabouts not as large as Brownfield. Furthermore, by their advertising, these merchants are drawing trade to Brownfield that have nearer towns to them, but prefer to come here where market for their stuff is good, and articles they wish to buy fully in line with all other towns.

The Jayton Chronicle recently copied an article from the Herald concerning the Yoakum county's battle with a hijacker, and credited it to the Slaton Slatonite. That was perfectly alright with us if it is with the Slatonite, but we wish to copy the last sentence of the article and the Chronicle's pertinent comment thereon: "Thus the career of another young man who wanted to play tough and decided the world owed him a living will probably end in a long, dreary pen sentence that will sup the best part of his life."

Jayton Chronicle: "Get that last sentence dear reader. For a few dollars had a thrill, several years in the pen. Parents with broken hearts by the disgrace of a son, and other sufferings both mental and physical, all for a few easy, dirty dollars. Then think of spending years in the pen, cooped up like a hog, guarded like a dangerous animal, dressed in stripes, with shaven head, bossed, bullied, beaten, driven, worked like a slave, cursed, reviled, half fed and forever after branded as an ex-convict. Just think it over, weigh the cost of crime against the few dollars that crime may bring in then take your choice? Every law-breaker is knocking at the door of the state institutions of punishment and eventually the state keeper of records will hear the knock and let him in, then one gets a foretaste of hell."

J. A. Roberts, wife and little daughter, Miss Leatha Nell, accompanied by their married daughter, Mrs. Jess Collins and children, Jessie Jr., Dorothy and "Tooter" of Comahoma, visited Mrs. Robert's sister, Mrs. Stricklin, over the week end.

We are glad to report Bennie Knoll, who we reported very ill last week, on the road to recovery. His father brought him to his home in Terry county from Mingus, as doctors thought he could not recover in that climate as he had malarial fever.

N. R. Marchbanks finished wrecking the old frame building on his lot on the north side of the square, that was partially destroyed by fire recently. Mr. Marchbanks informed us that if we got rain in the near future he had a man that would take a lease on a 25x100 foot brick he proposed to build on the lot.

QUESTION BOX

ON HEALTH subjects Edited By STATE DEPARTMENT of HEALTH

J. C. Anderson, MD, State H. O.

THIS column will be given to discussion of matters pertaining to public health. Any questions regarding public health administration, prevention of diseases, child care, sanitation, etc., will be answered in succeeding issues of this paper. Questions in regard to cure of diseases will not be answered, as the scope of this Department includes only disease prevention. Address Question Box, State Department of Health, Austin.

ASK ME ANOTHER

1. Is my little daughter who was born in July, 1925, registered?—Mrs. R.C.R., Paris, Texas.
2. What are bacteria?—W. N., Greenville.
3. What diseases are hereditary?—D.I.H., Waelder.
4. Do children of syphilitic parents have symptoms of syphilis?—D. I. H., Waelder.
5. What causes congenital blindness? Is there any cure for either of these diseases?—D.I.H., Waelder.
6. Do running streams quickly become pure?—Rural Eustace.
7. What is Pasteurized milk?

Answers

1. By referring to state records, we find that your little girl has not been registered. Blanks for registration have been mailed to you, and when properly filled out and returned, we shall be glad to add your little girl's name as another registered baby. The physician attending you at her birth did not fulfil his duty, or the local registrar did not forward the papers to this department. Suppose you see who was negligent in this matter. The mothers of this state can put Texas in the registration area of the United States if they make it warm for the physicians, midwives and registrars who fail to register their children.

2. Bacteria are microscopic plants. Some take the form of rods while others appear as minute balls. Sometimes the rods grow together in long chains and the spheres attach themselves together to form either masses or chains that look like bead necklaces. The latter are among the most virulent of organisms, and cause more trouble than the others. Because of their chain formation, they are called streptococci.

3. Formally or many years ago, numbers of diseases were considered hereditary, but science has disproven this theory. Hereditary diseases have been the subject of much study, and is a mooted question. However, it seems the more the question is studied, the less credence is given to the transmission of diseases in this manner. Physical defects may be attributable to hereditary weaknesses, but the contraction of most diseases is by infection at or after birth. Mental diseases and nervous diseases are the diseases generally conceded at the present time to be hereditary.

4. Children of syphilitic parents may or may not have syphilis.

5. Congenital blindness is a very rare occurrence, but congenital deafness is somewhat common. Children who are blind generally become so within a short time after birth due to some eye infection. The state law requires the use of prophylactic drops in the eyes of new born babes to counteract any such infection, and if this law was faithfully followed in every instance, the sight of many children could be saved. Since the enactment of this law, blindness has materially decreased in this state. Many cases of deafness are caused by injury or disease, and are not congenital. As soon as deafness is detected in a child he should be taken to a specialist to determine if any relief can be given.

6. No. A certain improvement occurs in the clearness and taste of water as it flows along, but typhoid germs may live in water for a considerable length of time. Under certain conditions the disappearance of pollution is more rapid than under less favorable conditions.

7. To pasteurize milk, it should be heated to 146 to 148 degrees Fahrenheit, and kept at this temperature for 30 minutes. A higher temperature or longer time is not necessary. Pasteurization kills any harmful bacteria that milk may contain.

We were informed this week that the tent revival being conducted by Rev. Mack Wyatt will close the last of this week, and they are due at Wichita, Kans., in about two weeks for a protracted meeting.

Mrs. Simmons and children of Electra, and Mrs. Mays, of Sweetwater, are here visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Tankersley.

FOR 9 YEARS GAS RUINED HER SLEEP

"I had stomach trouble 9 years, and gas made me restless and nervous. Adlerika helped me so I can eat and sleep good."—Mrs. E. Touchstone. Just ONE spoonful Adlerika relieves gas and that bloated feeling so that you can eat and sleep well. Acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowels and removes old waste matter you never thought was there. No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you.—Alexander Drug Store

A cheap tube can cost you 10 times its price

THIRTY-NINE YEARS of tube-building experience has proved to Dunlop that "cheap tubes" do not pay.

That is why Dunlop tubes are made casing shaped. It costs a little more than to build them on a straight pole, as cheap tubes are built.

But a casing-shaped Dunlop tube is strong everywhere. The outside edge is not weakened by excess stretch. The side next to the rim has no wrinkles to crack with age and blow out. A Dunlop tube protects your casing, because it fits. And your casing is worth ten times the cost of the tube.

We strongly recommend a Dunlop tube for every casing
