By the Secretary

On account of the exhibit at Lubbock, this column was not used by the writer last week, but will undertake for the benefit of those citizens who care to read it, to give the results of the Terry county exhibit at Lubbock last week.

Thirteen counties had exhibits, including Roosevelt county, New Mexico, and Terry county took eighth place, defeating Cochran, Hockley, Gaines and Roosevelt and one other not remembered. In some of the divisions we made higher points than either first, second or third prize winners. Our green maize, which was mostly secured on Saturday before the fair opened and received a severe cut on account of condition. Two other divisions were weak on account of green state. Our cotton shown in the booth was considered by the judges as being the best sample of any of the counties, and we won second on best three stalks, showing half and half in the stalk and Mebane and Bennett in the booth. The Judges informed me that if my sample of Bennett had been as good as the Mebane, that we would have secured a perfect score. I said the exhibit would be put over without a cent of cost to the citizens of the town or the chamber of commerce, and this was done, but I did not have enough left to purchase a cigar.

Thousand viewed the exhibit and numbers indicated an intention to visit the county with a view of locating. This was a good year to exhibit at Dallas, but on account of the first of the month being on hand and everyone desiring to collect, we were not able to finance. Hockley county, which had a county fair, and which was defeated by Terry, raised a fund of $400.00 to send their exhibit to Dallas. My request was for $75.00. Gaines county had the advantage of a county agent, but was defeated by us.

The next work to be attempted is securing names to a petition calling on the commissioners court to employ a county demonstration agent. More than 600 names will be required.

Also want to induce a few farmers who can finance the seed, to plant some wheat. Sixty per cent of the soils of our county are adapted to profitable production of it.

Chevrolet Caravan Invade City Wed. Morn.

As per schedule, the Chevrolet Truck Caravan arrived in our city about 9:30 Wednesday morning, and were here for slightly more than an hour, during which time the demonstrators and salesmen were busy showing interested parties the merits of the Chevrolet lines, which seemed to have a truck made especially for almost every conceivable business.

These trucks paraded the business section immediately upon arrival, followed by a line of local Chevrolet owners, after which they parked in front of the office and sales room of the local Chevrolet company, where Judge H. R. Winston, mounting a truck welcomed them to this city and introduced Mr. K. M. Chase, assistant sales manager from the Oklahoma City branch, which has charge of this territory. Mr. Chase in a few well chosen words told the audience of the many good points of the different trucks, and informed them that he and assistants were then ready to personally go over them with those present.

Among others with the caravan we found Mr. T. A. Jenkins, circulation man of the Daily Oklahoman, and Mr. R. W. Castleberry of the circulation department of the News-Globe Publishing Co., of Amarillo.

The Caravan contained a fine bunch of men, who made a good impression here in favor of Chevrolet products, and a number of sales are pending as a result of their visit.

Mr. G. J. Byrd and Miss Ruby Fisher, prominent young people of the south part of the county, drove in Saturday afternoon, secured their license, and appeared at the church of Christ parsonage about 2 o'clock P. M., where Elder Liff Sanders said the words that joined them for life.

Mrs. Clifford Switzer, of the Union community, was among the shoppers in town Saturday.

South Plains Fair Said To Be Best One Yet

On account of being short handed in the Herald office, and the rush of fall business now under way, the editor was unable to make the Panhandle South Plains Fair this season, and from what we can gather from others who were able to attend, we missed by far the best fair yet put on by the association. Indeed we have to see the first man or woman who attended that has any other opinion in the matter, but unanimously concede it the peer of any predecessors, especially in livestock and agricultural exhibits, and after all, they are the main purpose of both the county or the regional fair.

Many were both surprised and pleased as well that Terry county stood up as well as it did, considering the fact that only about four or at best five days elapsed between the time when it was decided finally that we would send an exhibit and when the fair opened. But Secretary Shelton, faithfully assisted by Judge H. R. Winston, Jay Barrett and Claude Jones, and probably others whose names we failed to get, got a creditable exhibit for so short a time. We stood eighth in points, and ahead of some who had county agents and had spent much time gathering exhibits. Following is the way they stood according to the list given us:

- |                         |      |
|-------------------------|------|
| Hale county             | 1st  |
| Garza county            | 2nd  |
| Dawson county           | 3rd  |
| Crosby county           | 4th  |
| Floyd county            | 5th  |
| Lynn county             | 6th  |
| Bailey county           | 7th  |
| Terry county            | 8th  |
| Roosevelt county, N. M. | 9th  |
| Hockley county          | 10th |
| Gaines county           | 11th |

Some of our informants said that they saw some of the best hogs, poultry, beef and dairy cattle they ever saw in their lives; stock worth going hundreds of miles to see. And such things are bound to have a very beneficial effect upon the farmers of the South Plains in the days to come, for a picture to the eye is better than any other form of argument when you want to convince people that it pays them to produce good stock. For instance, it costs little more to feed a high producing cow or a good laying hen than it does a scrub, and the difference is in the surplus obtained. Neither do they claim more space or more attention.

But we heard numbers of fair visitors comment upon the small exhibit of horses and mules to be seen at the fair, which makes us ask—have our farmers quit raising them? If so, how are they going to till the soil in the years to come, especially in our sandier lands. The time was in this county that you would notice from one to two mule or horse colts following half of the wagons that came to town, and some of our ranchmen at that time made mule and horse raising their business. What are we going to do when the old ones die off?

This to our notion is going to be a real pertinent question for future farmers to solve. We may be mistaken, of course, but we have an idea that in a few more years the farmer or ranchman that has a few three and four year old mules to sell will have a fat bank account.

MRS. JESSIE HAMILTON DIED WEDNESDAY MORNING

The sad news of the death of Mrs. Jessie Hamilton was received here about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, stating that she had passed away of blood poisoning at about 2 o'clock. The news was a distinct shock to her many relatives and friends here, as they did not know she was even ill.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. S. Powell, and Jessie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hamilton and family left immediately for Plainview upon receipt of the sad news, where we presume burial will be made.

Mrs. Hamilton, as well as her husband were early settlers in Terry county, and married here some 15 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bailey, of Lubbock, were down meeting old friends Saturday and attending to business.

We understand that Dad Turner of Seagraves is to again take personal charge of his wagon yard here and will make extensive improvements, converting it into a modern tourist camp.

Yoakum County Court-House To 2nd Story

Plains truckmen were here this week loading out steel for the new Yoakum county courthouse that is to replace the old frame building that burned last fall, and reported that work on the new $40,000 building was going forward now at a rapid rate, and the contractors hope to have the roof on and the building enclosed before real cold weather.

In conversation with Ed Damas, of Plains, Monday, he informed us that they were now on the second story, and were making rapid progress as far as he could see. It is said that it will be a very neat building and a distinct credit to the county and its progressive citizens.

Rather than clear away the debris of the old building at this time, the new building is being set in the middle of the west block of the courthouse plat. Be it understood that Yoakum county has two blocks instead of one like Terry county, and they are only using the west block. We have been informed that the County Commissioners are talking of selling off the east half of the court square, and the possibility is that a street can be opened up on the east side of the present site, as streets already run up to the middle of the two block from the north and south.

Fine Rains Fell Over Terry Saturday Night

In many sections of the county, at least, some of the farmers are reporting that they received the best rain Saturday night that they have received this year, and most of them seemed to be glad it came, although it delayed gathering for a few days.

This rain was rather unexpected, although those who retired late noticed lightning in the east and a very damp wind blew up about late bedtime. Somewhere about one o'clock Sunday morning, the cloud reached here, and with a few sharp claps of thunder rain began falling, and continued pretty lively for about an hour or more. The rain was accompanied by a pretty severe electrical storm, and some hail was reported in some sections, a little falling here.

The way the rain fell it will not hurt cotton much, and will be beneficial to grass and late feed and corn.

Poor Re-purchases the Local Bakery

They don't exactly all come back to Brownfield and Terry county, but nearly. Among the several to return recently from their search of a better place, was T. I. Poor, who sold the local bakery last spring to Mr. C. B. Markham and hiked for the roughs in old Bell county to seek his fortune. Now he is back and tells his friends he made a serious mistake when he sold out and left here, and promises that he has thoroughly repented and will stay on the job this time.

He has repurchased the Bon Ton Bakery from Mr. Markham, and we understand will take charge of it at once. Mr. Poor is one of the best bakery men we have ever had in this city and we are sure all his old customers will be pleased to know that he has decided to return. Mr. Markham has also rendered good service, and the products have been good, but Mr. Markham does not claim to be a baker, but a cafe man. However, he has kept in his employee Earnest Burnett who learned the business under Mr. Poor and other bakers, who has carried on the business in a satisfactory way to all customers.

KELLAR IS DETAILED FOR DUTY AT ODESSA

John Kellar, highway inspector for this district, left Thursday night for Odessa, where he has been detailed by the state ranger commander for special duty in Winkler county oil fields. He is a private in the Texas ranger force and was detailed for service in Borger during the first of the year.—Lubbock Avalanche.

W. F. Green, prominent farmer of route one, got his name on the right side of our subscription ledger, recently.

Felix Proctor Says Old Terry is the Stuff

Some of us have been too busy for the past several months cussing our own bad luck and dry weather to find out how our nearest neighbors are moving along. We have been looking out of our own darkened windows, and have therefore failed to vision beyond our own gate posts. Certainly the fact that the other fellow was in worse shape than we would not help our condition or better the neighbor, for that matter, but it just might help to sweeten our own ugly disposition a wee bit.

When we begin to consider giving up after gathering this crop and going back to the sticks, grubs, ticks, chiggers, and boll weavils, let us take into consideration the fact that most of the Terry county farmers have made better perhaps than a half crop on less than two inches of rain. Do you know of any other country on top side of God's green earth that will do that? If you do, you know more than we, and we have lived all the way from middle Tennessee to Terry county. In that section, if a rain does not fall every two or three weeks during the summer, no matter how much rain and snow through the winter, they are blown up suckers, to put it in modern day language. It may be ten years now before we have another year as dry as 1927. So if you stay with the country, it will stay with you.

But we have flown far from our subject matter. Felix Proctor and wife have recently returned from Pampa, and he says Terry county has the north Plains skinned every way on the row crops. He also said he did not see any cotton worth talking about until he got back to Terry county. He says they made some wheat up there, but that's all.

One of our bankers was telling us recently of one of our farmers who came here from one of the big cotton counties of central Texas last fall, and all during the spring when our skies looked like brass, he was itching all over to set back to old Williamson. But he has recently changed his mind and will stay with Terry at least another year. He informed the banker that he would make 20 odd bales of cotton and plenty of corn and feed to run him another year. This has been made with his own force without extra expense, and he remarked that any year he produced that much cotton back where he came from, the expense amounted to a great deal for cotton chopping alone.

When one is doing well and making good at small expense, and the family is healthy, it is no time to even think of moving. Then, this is one of the most ideal dairy farming sections in the south, perhaps the nation, for in the north there is several months that cows must stay in the barns and be fed everywhere they eat, and given every drop of water they drink. We have all year round grazing on the South Plains.

Another of our bankers recently informed us that there were many farmers in Terry county that were not only keeping the family in food and clothing from the poultry yard and the cows, but were even slightly increasing their bank accounts, and had not asked for a penny loan. One farmer was heard to remark recently that after paying taxes and his auto license in January, he had about $16 left, and for his life, he said he could not figure how he was even going to get by this year. He knew it was going to be hard to borrow from the banks. But he had two or three very good cows, and he has not only met the family expenses, but has increased his $16 to near $100 and has in the meantime purchased another cow and paid for her. There are perhaps hundreds of almost such examples as this in Terry county this year. We have personally heard of many, and it means that the day has just about arrived when the credit business will end with the more reliable cash over the counter method and Mr. Farmer will own his own crop when he gets ready to gather it, and can sell it how and when he pleases.

E. L. Duke, old timer in this county, but for the past several years a citizen of Tatum, N. M., has traded his New Mexico holding for the old Boon place just north of town, and will move on it at once. We heartily welcome these good people back to Brownfield.

Many Business Men Use No Bill Heads

A prominent local business man dropped in Saturday to tell us his troubles with those of our business men who do not have their statements made out on stuff with their names thereon. He said he very often had to phone around and find out whose bill it was, especially if he did not happen to be in when the bill was brought around. He gave us a list of some dry goods, drug stores and other business houses that did not make their bills out on stationery that had their names on it, and asked us to solicit their business at the first opportunity.

The Herald has run up against the same difficulty on a number of occasions. Many of them are received in this office made out on the backs of counter checks, or what have you, that happen to be laying around at the time the bill was made out. Only last month we had to carry over a small bill that contained nothing except the amount we owed them. We could have mailed the firm a check if we had had the least idea who it belonged to.

In the first place, it looks very unbusiness like to present your bill made out on nondescript stuff, such as bank check, which really do not belong to you to be used for the purpose you are using them. It gives the appearance of slipshod business methods and carelessness. In the second place, you are liable to lose an account this way, thinking the party has already paid the bill, and the banks don't care to furnish you counter checks for your bill heads.

Now the Herald is not going to go around to those folks and solicit their printing of just bill heads—they certainly know they need them, and they know we want the order, but it would be kindly rubbing it in to go to them just for this business. But, if these parties do not care to patronize the local printer, pray get a rubber stamp and do your own work.

Some of these firms are run and managed by good men and men who are making a success of their business, and the Herald believes that they just haven't taken the time to consider how unbusinesslike it may look to another business man. If you want some statements before next first, however, bring it in, or phone No. 1, and we'll come after it and not mention the fact that you have not been giving us your business.

A TRAGEDY OF IGNORANCE WHICH IS OFTEN FOUND

It was in Etowah county, Ala., in December 1923. At the request of a friend's wife, I went with that friend to visit his sick brother who was near death. Entering the room where the sick man lay, we found 15 or 20 persons already there, kind neighbors that they were.

Not seeing where I could do the sick man any good, I took my station as far from him as I could get and still be in the room. The doctor was there but he did not order anybody out. Had I been the doctor I would have ordered all out but one or two. Never five minutes passed but someone would go to the bedside of the sick man and ask, "do you know me John," or some question like that. Now suppose you were well, but trying to sleep, and were disturbed at such frequent intervals throughout the night, how long do you suppose you would keep well?

My friend and I returned to the former's home about 2 o'clock in the morning and his brother died before daylight. "Have you any other brothers?" I asked him when we reached home. "Yes," he answered. "It is too late to do this one any good." I replied, "but if another brother is taken sick, do not have any more in the room than is necessary to wait on him."—R. C. Conner in the Progressive Farmer.

L. Townsend, prominent stockman-farmer of Yoakum county, was over the past week trying to deal for some property in or near Brownfield, as he wants to move his family here for educational purposes. This is a fine family, and we hope he will be able to trade one of his Yoakum county farms for property here.

Mrs. Omer, of Lubbock, was here last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Holt, also her sister, Mrs. Jewel Bell. Mrs. Omer is moving soon to Wichita Falls.

Agricultural Booms the Ones that Last

Many of the citizens of Terry have held their breaths for the past several months expecting an oil well to be brought in. In that event they have no doubt promised themselves, secretly perhaps, many luxuries that have been denied them hitherto. But the promised well has not come in. It may later, then it may not. And even if it did, if other fields are any indication of the trend of affairs, it would barely cause a ripple on the surface. With the present low price of crude oil, operators and others are becoming just about as much excited over the development of a new field as the average person does over an alley dog fight. There will perhaps be a notice of the fact in your daily, and the incident is forgotten. The world at present is fed up—gorged on oil. No demand. Those who left here for these new fields to the south of us are all returning home and say business is just as good or better in Brownfield than down there. The same report comes from the Panhandle fields.

On the other hand, we are receiving reports from the cotton sections of central west Texas, where good crops have been made and are now well under harvest, and these reports are glowing indeed. People are purchasing many things they need and many, as usual, they do not need. They have reached the point where luxuries of life are in demand as well as the necessary comforts. They are also repairing their home and adding to the furnishings. The reason is apparent. The world is not fed up on farm products. They are scarce if anything, and in great demand, and with this demand comes a price above the cost of production. Therefore, the farm people are prosperous, and when prosperous, they are the best buyers in the world.

We may not get rich and haughty if we fail to get oil in Terry county, but as long as our farmers produce the bulk of their living as they go on the home farm, and are masters of the disposition of the so-called money crops of the fall and winter, we shall be a happy, prosperous people, and the bringing in of an oil well will merely be an incident in our life.

If you want a boom that is really lasting, do all in your power to promote a farm boom, and then you will have one that you may build on and expect no reverses.

TEXAS HIGH LINE IS FINISHED TO LITTLEFIELD

This week will witness the completion of the Texas Utilities Co. high line from Levelland to Littlefield, which has been in progress of construction for the past two weeks. The work is under the direction of construction foreman, A. D. Chase, and the line is 26 miles long.

The line is in keeping with all other construction of this company, according to R. E. McKaskill, manager of the Texas Utilities Co. in Littlefield, and is designed to give the very maximum of efficiency in light and power. When the current is turned on, which will be the latter part of this week, Levelland will then become a member of that great and rapidly growing family of towns and cities in West Texas mothered with power and illumination by this corporation.—Littlefield Leader.

CATHOLIC BISHOP ACCUSED OF MEXICAN PLOT

Tucson, Ariz.—Federal officials arrested the Right Rev. Juan Navarrette, exiled Catholic bishop of Sonora, Mex., charging him with conspiring to organize a military expedition against Mexico. The indictment alleges violation of the neutrality laws. He was later released on a $2,500 bond. The bishop is known as one of the outstanding opponents of the Calles government, and particularly opposed to its religious policies. He left Mexico a year ago of his own accord to do some work in Nogales, Ariz., and was advised by Mexican authorities not to return.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Webber were business visitors to Lamesa last Friday.

John Black has just returned from an extended visit to relatives and friends down in Erath and Comanche counties. John says they acted like they were proud he had come to see them.

Brownfield 13—O'Donnell 0

Last Friday, September 30th, Col. "Watermelon" Tankersly took off in his good ship "The Spirit of Brownfield" and led the pep squad to O'Donnell, where they were instrumental in winning a foot-ball game and made more noise than a packet of firecrackers on Christmas day. Running true to form and tradition, Capt. Eddie Ballard scored the first touchdown of the season, and led his men like a seasoned veteran of the gridiron until forced to retire from the game late in the second quarter. Incidentally Eddie left his calling card with a prominent barber of O'Donnell.

Clovis Kendrick led the attack in the line and after the first few downs of the game looked more like the proverbial hog sticker in a packing house, while "Doc" Scudday looked like an old fashioned bar room councer in rushing his opponents and throwing them for a loss. Jim Cousineau might well be called "Five yard Jimmy," as he was always prompt in delivering the milk at the right time. "Ironhead" Goodpasture was a surprise to everyone in the manner in which he handled himself at tackle, while Pace at guard was playing his first game looking promising for the games to come. Ralph Bynum looked good at end and played a steady game at Half when he took Ballard's place. Roy Ballard looks like a real find at Quarter and promises competition for any opposing Quarterback in our size of schools in this section. Harlan Howell showed that he could carry the mail by pushing over for the second touchdown and then kicked goal. Bill Collins at center seemed rather nervous at times but showed he had the stuff while David Perry at guard rushed through several times and threw his opponents for a loss.

The book-lover went to the bad place. "I'm very fond of Burns," he told Satan. He was cast into the fire. Satan remarked coolly, "You won't want to stay in there Longfellow, you're Browning now and before long you'll be Milton."

Mr. Jackson: "Can you hear me back there?"
Alma B: "No."

Girls Basket Ball.

Mr. Jackson has called a meeting of the girls who are interested in Basket Ball. The prospects for this season are good, he informed us.

"What are you taking those cuspidors home for?"
"I'm taking them home to my dog."
"What kind of a dog do you have anyway?"
"Spitz."

Frances: I wonder why the Mediterranean is so blue?"
Kathryn: "You'd be blue too if you had to wash the shores of Italy."

Robbie: "Our maid has sharp cars."
Luk: "Yes, I notice the doors are all scratched up around the keyholes."

The boy stood on the burning deck,
Hungry as a log;
The flames crept up his spaniel's neck,
What did he eat? Hot dog!

Pat: "Can you carry a tune?"
Mike: "Yes."
Pat: "Well, carry that one out and bury it."

We are glad to report Miss Helen Jackson improved and hope she will be in school soon.

LUMBER CO. TO OPEN YARD AT SEMINOLE

The Panhandle Lumber Company is making preparations to open their yard at this place, and lumber and other materials are now in transit. Mr. Cobb, their bookkeeper at Seagraves, will move his family here in the near future and will have the management of the local yard.

A full line of lumber and all building materials will be carried to supply the needs of the people in this territory. This decision to again open the yard here is greatly appreciated by the citizenship, and no doubt will be loyally supported by all in buying at home.—Seminole Sentinel.

E. Brown will leave this week for Abilene, where he has been called to attend Federal court.

Rushing Waters Meet in Giant Whirlpool

Just before the junction of the Madre de Dios and the Inambari rivers in Peru the latter divides into two arms, with an island some two miles long between. The right arm, which is usually the safer for navigation, is at times impassable, owing to excessive drought that causes the formation of perilous rapids. Travelers must in consequence take the wide left arm, down which the main volume of the river then flows.

An enormous force of water is shot into the Madre de Dios; the Inambari at its left-arm junction is 300 yards wide, perhaps 50 feet in depth, and flows at six knots an hour. This great mass of water meets the Madre de Dios, itself 400 yards wide here, at a right angle. The current of the Inambari, being faster than the Madre de Dios, the former river cuts right across to the farther bank. There the Inambari is thrown back and surges round in a huge circle 200 yards in diameter, to join up again with the water flowing to the bank. The whirlpool thus formed is probably one of the largest in the world. The circles of seething water curl inward and downward, screw-fashion, to their center, which appears as a great hole, at least six feet being below the level of the outer rim.

Birch-Bark Canoe Not Popular With Indians

Though the birch-bark canoe is the traditional vehicle of the Indians of northern Canada, few are to be seen today among those Indians frequenting trading posts or mining camps in Ontario or Quebec, writes Courtney Ryley Cooper in the Saturday Evening Post. There is an art in making a birch-bark canoe that only the old-timers truly know. Then there is work to it and "an Indian and unnecessary work are about as well mated as a bulldog and a black jaguar." Far better, if he can trap enough rats or corral enough ermine skins, he owns a chestnut canoe with an outboard motor, with which he can scoot along the streams and lakes in serenity and swiftness, while the wind waves his hair and creases a grin across his face, comparable only to an Oklahoma Cherokee enjoying his oil royalties and a new motor. There's only one thing more exciting, and that is to stand close enough to the track to get the ballast in his eyes as he watches the transcontinental go by.

Finished

A traveling man put up one night in a cheap little hotel, where the thin partitions of a range of bedrooms, like the stalls of a stable, stopped halfway to the ceiling. And in the still watches of the night he lay awake and listened to the finest demonstration of plain and fancy snoring that had ever been his fate to hear. It was full of sudden and awful variations. Some times strangulation seemed imminent; then, in the middle of a fantasia, the agony stopped suddenly, and there was silence.

From a nearby room he heard a voice exclaim wearily, "Thank goodness! He's dead!"

Landmark on Old Trail

One of the early landmarks was Pawnee rock on the Santa Fe trail in what is now Barton county, Kan. This giant rock standing on the level plain was a noted spot, for the trail ran near its base. It provided a place of rest and safety for many a traveler. In later years this landmark was disappearing. The Woman's Kansas Day club resolved to save the historic spot and secured a deed for the rock and five acres surrounding it. On Kansas day, 1909, the women presented this deed to the state. This was done with the condition that the state spend $2,000 for improvements.

Lake Affected by Canal

Experts have decided that the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans mingle with the fresh water in Miraflores lake in the Panama canal. The progressive rise of a certain amount of sea water to this lake and in a lesser amount to Gatun lake began with the first ship to pass through the canal and will probably continue in definitely with the operation of the locks of the canal under traffic. A rise also takes place when the ships are locked downward.

Two Schools of Thought

Fundamentalists believe that the canon of the Scriptures is closed and that revelations are not now made. They also affirm belief in the miraculous happenings which are related in the Scriptures; that they are of divine origin and that the Bible was written through divine inspiration and is no subject to modern interpretation. Modernists believe that revelations are still being made and that it is quite possible according to developments of modern science to account for the so-called miraculous happenings in the Bible. They do not accept such doctrines as that of the virgin birth without question.—Washington Star.

You need never change your oil if you own a Buick

Tests by Buick at General Motors Proving Ground and by Buick owners in every section of the world—under every climatic condition—have proved that you need never change your oil if you own a Buick. Replenishments and inspection of the Buick oil-filter only are required. This is still another Buick contribution to the economy and efficiency of motor car operation... another indication of Buick's greater value.

Nature Prodigal in Gifts to the Great

The great man has usually looked the part. Lowell said of Emerson that there "was a majesty about him beyond all the men I have ever known." Washington impressed those about him as being no ordinary man, and Dr. James Thatcher said "the strength and proportion of his joints and muscles appeared to be commensurate with the pre-eminent powers of his mind." Goethe was likened in his youth to an Apollo, and the physician Hufeland declared that never had he "met with a man in whom bodily and mental organization were so perfect." Tennyson was "one of the finest looking men in the world." Wordsworth was, according to the artist Hayden, "of very fine heroic proportions." Southey looked an ideal poet, Byron was as beautiful as his verse and was likened to "the god of the Vatican, the Apollo Belvidere." Leonardo da Vinci had a figure of beautiful proportions and a noble and engaging presence. Walter Scott was eminently handsome, "much above the usual standard" and "cast in the mold of young Hercules," with a "fresh and brilliant complexion and a countenance of great dignity."—Scientific Monthly.

Historians Skip Many Matters of Interest

An American history written in the old-fashioned way would never mention the rise of the motion picture diversion. The kind of histories to which we have been accustomed don't appear to be in the least interested in the ordinary life of the people, which is as much history as taking a fort or carrying an election, a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat asserts. Between wars there is almost a blank interregnum; and—from the history—you would never know that a book had been written, a picture painted or a machine invented. We once knew a school history of the United States that did not mention the coming of the railroad; but every Indian chieftain from Massasoit to Sitting Bull was personalized. These strange silences of formal history leave us to the historical novels for our general information of the times—the clothing our ancestors wore, their pastimes, their religious faiths, their literature, their customs and their modes of thought.

Forced to Call Halt

Rev. George Potter, vicar of St. Chrysostom's, Peckham, England, who has always permitted all his 8,000 parishioners to use his telephone, has announced that he will censor all calls in the future. He declared youths' lengthy calls to girl friends and "de layed at the office" calls, cannot be permitted from his home. "One man came in recently," he said, "and asked if he might use the phone. He called his bookmaker and asked him to 'put $1.25 each way on that horse.'"

CHAPMAN DRY GOODS

Embarrassed

He was enjoying the picture at a downtown theater recently when he was disturbed from his leisure by a coin rolling from his pocket. The coin hit the floor with a clink and continued its course to the orchestra pit. The rather embarrassed man was not sure of the denomination of the lost coin and proceeded to go after it. Being unable to find it, he summoned two ushers, who aided him with flashlights. At last, after quite a search, the coin was found, and when it was picked up, there in the finder's hand lay a shining penny.

Color Highly Important

Man has apparently become careless about one of the most important items in his environment—color. As soon as he realizes fully the inhibitive and repressive influence of drab, uninteresting color surroundings, the vistas about will be immediately transformed. Man has always conquered or changed conditions unfavorable to his best development. There is no reason to believe that he will not rise to the present situation and reinstate into his daily life the color which is so important to his well being.—Exchange.

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapian.

Most of the past week was consumed by our people in attending the Fair, but in reality we all went to draw the automobile, as each of us were quite sure we had the lucky number. We felt even surer from the fact that no one living anywhere near Meadow had ever drawn the auto.

Many of us went every day and used up several gallons of gas, paid the gate money at 50c per, bought our lunches and paid ten cents per glass for red lemonade, or bottled drinks, took turns at the wheel of fortune, pegged a few cards at what seemed the old game of keno, and tested our strength at the sledge, just to see if we couldn't knock the thing clear out the 15 or 20 feet in height.

Nor was this all we did. There were other dark corners about the many tents surrounding the mid-way that needed investigation. In fact it looked like we could get rich if we could only beat the game. Besides, there were all sorts of things to ride on and the fellows that run them had to live, and so why not patronize them, and we did just as long as we had a dime or could find a friend to loan us the money.

Games of chance—with most of them there wasn't any chance—are supposed to be taboo in this state. This however, is a mistake, when you visit fairs at least.

The fair was decidedly the best I have ever seen in Lubbock and was worth visiting for its own sake. The agricultural exhibits were good; they could not be surpassed anywhere. The poultry exhibit, together with livestock was better than any previous fair.

The horse show was rather short. Those who visited fairs some 20 years ago miss this noble animal from the exhibits. Nobody seems to be raising horses and mules any more that they are to show, and yet the bulk of farm work depends on these animals. The time will never come when we can do without him until all work is done by machinery, and such an outlook is very improbable.

It is to be hoped that our own county will another year take her old place among the other plains counties. While this year's showing was a surprise, it isn't as good as Terry county can do.

Another year, let's give a portion that we spend in trying to land an auto in bearing the expense of a creditable exhibit. Ten per cent of what we blowed in on the games and other d— foolishness would more than finance any exhibit we would care to send.

Cotton is coming in very slowly. The gins have put out 14 or 15 bales to date. Many of the farmers say they will be picking in the next week.

Rain has fallen over most of the country the past week and will interfere with gathering of feed crops as well as stimulate growth of the cotton. With dry weather and delayed frost a very good yield will be had.

Our old friend, Jim Smith, one of the old timers of Terry county, was here the past week shaking hands with old friends. Jim says he has discovered that he isn't any farmer and is now punching cattle over in New Mexico. He was here to help Jewel Bell move. Perhaps it is best for them. They are good stockmen, and it would be very hard to learn those fellows how to fight careless weeds and Russian thistles.

The girls in and around Meadow continue to get married occasionally. Last Sunday Miss Francis Parrish, living four miles south of Meadow, was married to a Mr. McGee, of Abilene. Thursday, Miss Mary Lou Maddox, daughter of our blacksmith, was married to Mr. H. L. Thompson, living northwest of Meadow. We wish for the youngsters success and happiness in the new relation.

The Baptist people were somewhat disappointed Sunday at the non-arrival of their pastor, Rev. Allen. They have been without a regular pastor since the resignation of Rev. Draper in June. The present one was elected some weeks ago and was to have preached Sunday, but rains, it seems, prevented his arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Eubanks are rejoicing over the arrival of a little granddaughter, Barbara Eileen, born to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Taylor.

Mrs. Earl Jones visited her mother Mrs. Barton, in Lubbock, last week, and took in the fair.

Mrs. Geo. Bragg and little son, George Basil, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. M. C. Bragg, of Levelland, are over this week visiting relatives and their many old friends.

Postmaster Thurman and wife, of Levelland, were down over the week end visiting with Mrs. Thurman's sister, Mrs. W. V. Chapman and family.

J. A. Gibbs and wife were in from Wellman Wednesday and became regular readers of the Herald.

Egg for Radiator

Does your radiator leak? Try white of egg—an old farmer's remedy, which several motorists have used with success. The theory is that after the white of egg is poured into the radiator the hot water carries it to the leak and cooks it there until it becomes virtually hard boiled. The remedy has lasted in some cases for two or three years at a stretch, indicating that the egg does not rot even in that length of time, or else attracts enough sediment to keep the hole plugged up.

Not a Farmerette

Little two-year-old Anita went to the country to visit her grandparents and was taken out to the rabbitry to see the New Zealand Red rabbits. When she saw the red rabbits, her eyes fairly danced and reaching out her little hands and beckoning with her fingers, she exclaimed, "Come on, little cows. Come on, little cows."

Mr. Patton, of Amarillo, linotype machinist for the Mergenthaler Co., was here last week making adjustments on the old 14, which he said still acted like a bran new one.

We stated last week that Crede Gore was yard man at the Cicero Smith Lumber Co. yard. Instead it was Keith. After reading the two above given names, is it any wonder that we got balled up on them? Such names, such names—but they are both fine boys and have excellent parents—but such names!

W. A. Bell, cashier of the First National Bank, is attending Federal Court at Abilene this week.

Misses Louise Holgate and Ollie Hancock left last week for Abilene, to attend business college.

District Attorney T. L. Price, of Post, was a business visitor in this city Monday.

The Herald was a little too fast last week in saying the seniors had ordered their announcements. On the contrary, they have not, and are waiting on the Herald to get our 1928 samples. The seniors agree with us that every penny possible should be spent with home folks.

The only thing the prohibition or dry and the anti-Catholic wings of the Democratic party now have to bother them is to find a man strong enough to defeat Al Smith in the convention, or at least block the convention and run in a dark horse. And while it is all they have to worry about, all acknowledge it a man's sized job, for it is a well known fact that Smith has a big following in the east, and now comes a large portion of the northwest with endorsements. In the meantime, the G. O. P. is anything but satisfied, for they have too many possibilities, and their job is to weed out a half dozen or more favorite sons without making a lot of 'em sore and splitting the party. But, to our way of thinking, it isn't going to be but a few more years until there will be two Democratic and two Republican parties; two wet and the other two dry.

Flying across the ocean may be for the benefit of science, but we are not worried enough about the future of science to undertake the trip at this writing. If our making a trip to Europe by air meant keeping science from going in cold storage, as it were for the next several years, we would probably call the embalmers and tell them to do their worst. Then, to the question arises, shall we prohibit reckless men and a few women from undertaking these oceanic trips? Certainly. We prohibit people from doing nearly everything else in these United States, why not that? We have a law against making and drinking corn juice that is heavily laden with concentrated lye and wood alcohol, but some of them drink it. On the other hand, while we are prohibiting, we ought to carry it as far as they do in England. We have a lot of reckless people who drive automobiles, too. In England if these fellows get reckless, their cars are taken from them and locked up like parents sometimes lock up forbidden stuff from their children. But in England they have less laws than we, but they enforce those they have both in letter and spirit.

Much has been said lately concerning whether or not physicians should advertise, and we understand that the Herald has been censured lately because it carried an ad for a Lubbock doctor that quoted prices. Personally, the Herald is unable to distinguish between advertising being unethical for physicians or dentists any more than it would any other business or profession. Seems to us that they should be no more ethical about the matter than churches or colleges, and they are advertising. They want the business, we believe they do at least. Why not go after it? We have never seen one yet that would not take all the free advertising a paper might give them. And while they are censuring the home paper for carrying ads for other doctors, would they refuse a big fat job from an out-of-town customer? Hardly? And the Herald is not unreasonable enough to expect them to do so if it come unsolicited as did the dentist's ad referred to above. Two years ago at Tyler the president of the State Medical Association appeared before the Texas Press Association and solicited the editors to help the medos fight the rubbing fraternity. Now it is a well known fact that the chyros are good advertisers and the other kind are not, and right there is where the fight started, and when some of those Texas editors got through with that M. D. he thought he had been in a hornet's nest. Why, they said, you have got unlimited gall to come down here and ask us to fight the very people that are spending money with us. Personally, possibly very few editors patronize the chyros, but they informed the State Medical Association that if they were fighting the other sort of doctors, that was their funeral, and if they wanted to go after them through the newspapers, they had the space at so much per. Same here brother. We are not ethical when it comes to legitimate advertising.

THIRTY-NINE YEARS of tube-building experience has proved to Dunlop that "cheap tubes" do not pay.

That is why Dunlop tubes are made casing shaped. It costs a little more than to build them on a straight pole, as cheap tubes are built.

But a casing-shaped Dunlop tube is strong everywhere. The outside edge is not weakened by excess stretch. The side next to the rim has no wrinkles to crack with age and blow out. A Dunlop tube protects your casing, because it fits. And your casing is worth ten times the cost of the tube.

We strongly recommend a Dunlop tube for every casing

REAL "CLASSICS" IN PROSE AND POETRY

Qualities That Render Them Immortal.

In literature the word classic was originally limited to Greek and Latin prose and poetry. It has now come to mean any piece of literature whose quality is such that it has survived for fifty or a hundred years and is by common consent regarded as so good as to be permanent. A literary classic should possess one or two of the following qualities:

1. It should reflect the mode of thought and the customs and manners of its time.
2. It should be written in a beautiful and striking style.
3. It should spring from and appeal to a cultivated imagination.
4. It should be a contribution to the thought of the world and should stimulate the thought of the world.
5. It should possess a universal human interest and express all phases of human experience.

The Old Testament and Shakespeare's plays are examples. No one generation can determine what classics it is producing. The final judgment must and will be pronounced by succeeding generations. Walt Whitman and Lincoln were looked on with contempt by many of their most highly educated contemporaries. And yet Whitman's "Drum Taps" and Lincoln's "Gettysburg speech" will live as long as the English language lives.

Nor does a classic have to be "high-brow stuff." If it is a genuine intelligent and witty picture of a certain aspect of society, even a "best-seller" may become a classic; although I am bound to say that most of our modern best-sellers have very little chance of achieving this immortality. The "Pickwick Papers," the "Biglow Papers," and "Night With Uncle Remus" were all best-sellers and are all classics. I hope I shall shock nobody by saying that I think "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" is more likely to become a classic than many contemporary novels or stories that are much more pretentious. Artful and pretentious writing never makes a classic. Sincerity, simplicity and spontaneity are qualities that every true classic—whether in music, painting, prose or poetry—possesses; all others pretending to the titles are counterfeits. Let nobody hoodwink you into supposing that the classics are pompous, stilted, and boring. If they were, nobody would read them—not even your teachers and professors.—Lawrence F. Abbot, in the Outlook.

An ambitious young man was being instructed at his own request by a professor of elocution in the art of public speaking. The professor knew that his vanity far exceeded his ability, so he gave him one last piece of advice. "When you have finished your lecture, bow gracefully and leave the platform on tip-toe." "Why on tip-toe?" queried the would-be orator. "So as not to wake the audience," was the quiet reply.

ORDINANCE NO. 310

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Brownfield, Texas,

An ordinance granting a franchise and certain privileges to the WEST TEXAS GAS COMPANY (a corporation), with its principal offices in the City of Amarillo, Potter County, Texas, and establishing rules and regulations for the use of natural gas for light, heat and power, and establishing a maximum limit for price to be charged for such gas.

Whereas, the West Texas Gas Company (a corporation) has applied to the Mayor and City Council of the City of Brownfield, Texas, to grant said company the right to lay and maintain and operate a gas plant for the distribution of natural gas for light, heat and power within the City of Brownfield, Texas, upon the following terms and conditions and franchises to be as follows, to-wit:

Section 1. That the right to furnish, distribute and sell natural gas for light, heat and power, for all such purposes for which gas may be used within the City of Brownfield, Texas, for a period of twenty years from the date of the passage and approval of this ordinance is hereby granted to the West Texas Gas Company (a corporation) its successors and assigns, hereinafter called the grantee, subject however, to the provisions hereinafter incorporated in this ordinance and for such additional period or extensions of time as may at the expiration of said term of years, and upon conditions then found to be satisfactory to the officials of the City of Brownfield, and to this grantee, and provided that this ordinance and franchise is to be in effect and run from and after the day and date of its passage and approval.

Section 2. That the said grantee is to have the right to lay mains, pipes and equipment, and to construct such building and install such machinery and equipment and to sell or lease such equipment to the citizens of Brownfield, Texas, as may be necessary or advisable in their judgement for the proper performance of the service to be rendered to the City of Brownfield, and to its inhabitants and citizens to the best interest of the gas consumers and to have, at all times, access to the streets and alleys of said city for the purpose of laying such mains, pipes and equipment as may be needed from time to time during the term of this franchise, or any extension thereof, provided, that at no time shall the grantee obstruct the streets or alleys so as to interfere with the public use thereof for a period longer than twenty-four (24) hours, and that immediately such mains, pipes or equipment is laid and tested same shall be covered and such streets or alleys shall be replaced in the same or as good condition as before such work was done.

All excavations to be properly guarded by barriers by day and by red lights by night, and the said grantee shall hold the said City of Brownfield harmless from any and all damages to persons or property resulting from their negligence in the manner of constructing such distributing plant or system; guarding the same while under construction, by good and sufficient bond executed by the grantee and some reputable surety company permitted to do business in the state of Texas, in the penal sum of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00).

The work done in connection with the construction, maintenance and operation of said plant and transmission, transportation and distributing system, and the location of regulating stations, vent pipes, emergency valves, gauges, stock boxes, manholes, low, intermediate and high pressure mains, pipes, feeders, service pipes and conduits, and service pipe extensions, and all appurtenances in the streets, highways, alleys and other public places in the City shall be subject to and governed by the regulations, rules and ordinances now in force or that may be hereafter lawfully adopted.

Section 3. That all mains shall be laid at least eighteen (18) inches below the surface of the ground, and so laid as not to interfere in any manner with water mains or pipes or sewer line of said City, or pipes or conduits of other utilities already in place; and that connections with the gas mains and pipes shall be placed and laid to the property line of the consumer at the expense of grantee. That the grantee shall not be required to extend main lines more than one hundred and fifty (150) feet to any one consumer.

Section 4. That said grantee shall at all times after said gas distribution system has been established and placed in operation, be prepared to furnish said city and its inhabitants with a good quality of gas for light, heat and power, and other purposes, and said grantee shall furnish said gas for all purposes for which same may be used in sufficient quantities to supply the needs of the said city and its citizens.

The said gas shall be furnished to said City and its inhabitants for domestic use at a net price not to exceed sixty-seven and one-half (67 1/2) cents per thousand cubic feet for all gas used; provided, however, that gas used for heating, public buildings, churches, hotels and apartments shall be sold at the following rates:

- For the first 50,000 cubic feet used per month, 67 1/2 cents per M.
- For the next 150,000 cubic feet used per month 50 cents per M.
- For all used in excess of 150,000 cubic feet per month 40 cents per M.
- That the maximum rate for industrial gas shall not exceed the rate set up in the following schedule:
- For the first 50,000 cubic feet used per month 45 cents per M.
- For the next 150,000 cubic feet used per month 35 cents per M.
- For the next 300,000 cubic feet used per month 30 cents per M.
- For the next 500,000 cubic feet used per month 25 cents per M.
- For the next 10,000,000 cubic feet used per month 22 1/2 cents per M.
- For the next 20,000,000 cubic feet used per month 20 cents per M.
- For the next 29,000,000 cubic feet used per month 18 cents per M.
- For the next 60,000,000 cubic feet used per month 16 1/2 cents per M.
- For all above 120,000,000 cubic feet used per month 15 cents per M.
- That the above rates are to be charged for gas used through one meter only.

That all bills shall be due and payable monthly, and within ten days from date rendered, and in case of default or non-payment within said time, the grantee shall have the right to discontinue service to said consumer, and to make an additional charge for the gas used for any purpose equal to one-ninth (1/9) of the bill rendered. And in case said consumer shall make application to have service re-established and gas reconnected with its premises, he shall be required to pay all delinquent bills, together with the penalty thereon, and to pay a cut-on charge not to exceed $1.50 for domestic use and heating purposes, and $2.50 for industrial use. It is further provided that the grantee shall be allowed to make a minimum charge of $1.50 per month for gas for domestic and heating service and $25.00 per month for industrial gas service.

All gas furnished or supplied by grantee shall be metered, and for this purpose the grantee shall, at its own cost and expense, provide and install for each consumer a good and accurate meter of standard make. Grantee shall also provide and maintain at its proper cost and expense facilities for testing gas meters, and said grantee shall also provide and maintain, at its own expense a standard meter prover of not less than five cubic feet capacity, equipped with suitable thermometers and other necessary accessories which shall be maintained to the accepted standard of accuracy, all to be to the satisfaction and approved by the City Council.

Such meters shall be and remain the property of said grantee, and the grantee shall have the right to require the customer or consumer to deposit with it a sum equal to the minimum monthly bill to the consumer, provided, however, that no deposit shall be in a less sum than $10.00 for domestic meter, and $15.00 for industrial meter.

Section 5. The natural gas to be furnished hereunder shall be at all times kept to a standard of eight hundred British thermal heat units or higher per cubic foot at the point of consumption, at a temperature of thirty-two degrees Fahrenheit, or zero Centigrade; and to determine whether the gas supplied is of heating value above specified the City of Brownfield may have tests made by a competent analyst under recognized and scientific processes, according to the approved method of making such tests, and said tests shall be from samples of gas collected from the grantee's mains at any point or points within the City. If the result of such tests show that during a month the daily average of gas supplied was below eight hundred British thermal heat units, then there shall be deducted from the customer's bills for gas during such month a proportionate amount, based upon the deficiency below said eight hundred British thermal heat units. In any month when such tests are being made, the City shall advise the grantee of the results of each test within a reasonable time after it is made, and the official report of such analyst, of which said grantee is so advised, shall be taken and accepted as the agreed prima facie correct test of the heating value of the gas furnished during such month and thereafter until a different result is determined or ascertained in a similar manner; said grantee shall furnish gas to consumers at a pressure of not less than four ounces, nor greater than eight ounces, measured at the consumer's meter outlet.

Said grantee shall supply and install not less than one and as many as may be needed approved self-registering pressure and gas gauge, capable of recording the pressure of the gas, in the mains at points in the city designated by the City Council and said self-registering pressure gauge shall be placed at a station which in the opinion of the City Council fairly represents the pressure on adjacent territory; and said station shall be securely enclosed under lock and duplicate keys to said station shall be retained by the City Manager, or some officer authorized by the City Council; and such self-registering pressure gauge shall be equipped with removable, recording dials to record the pressure, and the said City Manager, or some representative authorized by the City Council, shall remove or cause to be removed from said pressure gauge the pressure records of the preceding period, and provide the gauge with recording blanks for the next period during which such record is desired by the city; and each record taken from such pressure gauge shall be filed in the office of the City Secretary of the City of Brownfield, and a record thereafter be entered upon the books of the City by the City Secretary; and the said City Manager, or some representative authorized by said City Council shall keep self-registering dials in said pressure gauge continuously for a month, or as often as is required by the City Council and the said gauge record and the said book record shall be competent and prima facie proof of the pressure at the point at which such record was made at the time as shown by said gauge record.

Section 6. The City reserves the right to lay and permit to be laid electric conduits, water and other pipe lines or cables, and to do and permit to be done any underground work that may be deemed necessary or proper by the City Council, in, across, along or under any street alley, highway, or other public place occupied by the grantee; and whenever, by reason of change in the grade of any street, or in the location or manner of constructing any water pipes, electric conduits, sewer or any other underground structure, it may be deemed necessary by the City Council to alter, change, adapt or conform gas mains and service pipes of grantee, such alterations or changes shall be made by the grantee when ordered in writing by the City Council or any supervisor or other representative of the City council so authorized to act, without any claim for re-imbursements for damages against the city; said grantee shall indemnify and save harmless the City of Brownfield, from any and all claims for injury or damage to persons or property occasioned by or arising out of the construction, maintenance, operation or repair of said grantee's transmission, transportation and distributing system, and by the conduct of the business in the City.

Section 7. The right to use the streets, alleys, highways and public ways or places of the City of Brownfield by the grantee, as provided in section two above, shall be and is subject to the following restrictions, limitations and conditions, viz: that in building additional mains or lines of pipe, said grantee shall build and construct the same along and under the alleyways, where alleys exist, rather than along and under streets, and shall only use the streets for same insofar as may be necessary in connecting from one alley to another; and said mains and pipe line shall be placed below the surface of the street or alley and so as to protect all paving, wire, cables, water pipes, underground wires or sewer laterals, and shall be so constructed and located with reference to water lines and sewer mains as not to interfere therewith, and under the direction and to the satisfaction of the City Council or the City Engineer.

Section 8. That the City Council hereby reserves the right to install at the point where said grantee receives its gas for distribution in the City a meter through which all gas for distribution to the City and its inhabitants shall be passed an adequate self-registering pressure gauge adequate to record the amount of gas distributed to the City and its inhabitants and the pressure at which the same was received by the grantee.

Said grantee shall also supply and install one distant pressure gauge under direction of the City Council and at the place designated by the City Council which will indicate the pressure at such designated point, said gauge to be placed in the City Hall in the office of the City Engineer.

Section 9. That after the said gas distribution system shall have been fully constructed, equipped, and in operation as herein provided in the City of Brownfield, if the said grantee shall then fail to substantially comply with the conditions of this franchise, the City of Brownfield shall have the right by ordinance duly passed therefor to forfeit all the rights and franchises herein granted to the said grantee, provided that the City of Brownfield shall give the said grantee, its successors and assigns, sixty (60) days notice in writing, specifying the conditions claimed to have been violated and giving full and fair opportunity to be heard thereon before declaring such forfeiture which notice shall fairly and fully set out all the conditions claimed and complained of and shall be given by the said City and shall be signed by the City Secretary, under the seal of the said City after having been properly authorized by the Mayor and City Council of the said City; provided, however, that the said grantee shall have sixty (60) days after receiving such notice in which to rectify and correct such violations and to substantially comply with the terms and conditions of the ordinance; should the violations of this ordinance so complained of not have been rectified and corrected and the terms and conditions of this ordinance fully complied with at the end of said sixty (60) days, then and in that event the City shall have the power to forfeit this franchise on account of the violations specified in said notice. That in case of forfeiture as herein provided, the City of Brownfield reserves the right to purchase the distributing plant of the grantee at its fair appraised value or to allow the grantee to remove same within one year from the date of such forfeiture, provided that before any of said property may be removed, the grantee shall be required to give the city a good and sufficient bond that the streets and alleys will be placed and left in as good condition as found.

For each and every breach or violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance by the grantee, it shall be liable to a penalty of Twenty-five Dollars to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction by suit, of any person, firm or corporation injured or damaged by such breach or violation; and if the breach or violation shall be a continuous one, each day during which such breach or violation continues shall be deemed a separate breach or violation and separate ground for recovery against the grantee.

Section 10. That in further consideration of the privileges and franchise granted to the West Texas Gas Company, it shall adopt and use all and any reasonable safeguard to provide for the protection of persons or property against injury or damage growing out of the use of gas and that they shall construct and maintain in good order all mains, pipes and equipment used in said city for the distributing of gas, and shall always be prepared to furnish said City and its inhabitants a sufficient quantity of gas for all purposes; provided, however, that in case of explosions or accident of any character or nature beyond the control of said grantee, to the main lines or to the distributing system provided herein, or shortage of gas supply in the fields from which grantee secures the gas and the grantee is not able to furnish on account of such unavoidable conditions gas for all purposes, that preference shall be given to domestic consumers, schools and hospitals in the use of gas until such time as the supply may prove adequate for all purposes. Provided further that grantee shall not be liable for any damages resulting from such accidents either to the line of the grantee or to the lines on property of consumers.

Section 11. It is provided that the grantee shall in good faith begin the construction of its main lines and distributing systems by May 1st, 1928, and shall complete such main lines by Dec. 1, 1928, and shall be prepared to serve gas to consumers on or before Jan. 1st, 1929, provided, however, that grantee shall not be liable for time consumed out of such period by strikes, acts of providence, acts of constituted legal authorities, or acts beyond the control of grantee.

Section 12. That grantee herein shall have the right and privilege of assigning this franchise and all the rights and privileges granted herein, and wherever the word "grantee" appears herein it shall be construed as applying to its successors and assigns.

Section 13. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval and publication as provided by law.

Passed and approved this 16th day of Sept., A. D. 1927.

QUESTION

1. Can the malarial mosquito be differentiated from the other kind of mosquitoes?—D.B.R. Greenville.
2. Does the malarial mosquito also transmit the germ of dengue?
3. What are the symptoms of hookworm in children?—S.N., Bay City.
4. What is the cause of whooping cough?—Mrs. A., Belton.
5. What is the cause of measles?—Mrs. A., Belton.
6. How are measles transmitted?—Mrs. A., Belton.
7. Is salt necessary to life, and how much salt is needed annually by the human body?—Schoolboy, Bonham.
8. Give what you think is necessary for the good care of the feet.—A.J.M., Henderson.

ANSWERS

1. The anopheles mosquito which is the malaria carrier, is dark brown in color, slender, and has spotted or dusky wings. It is larger than the Culex, the pestiferous, small mosquito that bites at any and all times, and when biting the malarial mosquito has the appearance of "standing on his head."
2. The mosquito that are dengue carriers are different from the malaria carriers. The dengue carrier is known as the Aedes mosquito, and is also the carrier of yellow fever germs.
3. The usual symptoms of hookworm in children are: sallow complexion, lack of energy, mental dullness, and bloated abdomen.
4. Whooping cough is caused by a small bacillus which reproduces itself on the mucous surface of the trachea. This disease is most common up to the 6th year of life, and declines rapidly after that time. An adult rarely suffers an attack.
5. The infectious agent causing measles is as yet unknown, but it is an infection of the respiratory tract.
6. Measles is contracted through direct personal contact or direct contact with fresh nasal or throat discharges from a measles victim. It is the most easily transmitted of any of the communicable diseases. The infectious agent is present in the blood of a patient as well as in the secretions of the nose and throat, even before the rash appears. Then, too, the disease is most contagious during the few days just preceding the appearance of the rash, which is a big factor in its rapid spread through the community, as numbers of children are often exposed through contact with a child who is thought to be suffering from cold.
7. Every living thing would perish without salt. This is true because every tissue of the body has a small content of iodine, and this is renewed by the consumption of salt. Perhaps a conservative estimate of the amount of salt required by each person for a year's time is 16 to 18 lbs.
8. The feet are marvelously built and if well treated, will give marvelous service. Faulty shoes cause more foot misery than anything else. Shoes should be fitted to the feet and not the feet forced into shoes to which they are not adapted. Ordinary care of the feet require a daily bath, frequent change of hose, with hose and shoes both well fitted, and good care of the toenails, which should be cut straight across, and not slanting at the sides, as this tends to cause ingrowing toenails.

Tribute to Loveliness Age Does Not With

It was long a reproach against our countrywomen that, while America was admittedly a land of pretty girls their beauty did not wear well; to often it vanished with their youth. But the famous Spanish artist, Zola Longa, has noted that nowadays things are different. He praises the beauty of American girls, declaring indeed, with gratifying emphasis, that it is "of a kind which increases with age."

England, not the United States, has been long the country of beauty well preserved, and the beautiful grand mothers of England—vigorous and charming women of ageless beauty, not silver-haired old ladies in capes—were long the marvel not only of traveling Americans but of the continental nations of Europe. Edward Lear, the author of "The Owl and the Pussy Cat," "The Jumblies" and much other famous and delightful nonsense, has told how, while he was staying in Malta, he was invited to a dinner party at which were present, besides British officers from the garrison, several naval officers from foreign ships lying in the harbor.

"Sitting next to the captain of an Austrian frigate," he recorded, "a German officer said to a subaltern—the conversation was about the good looks of women—I do think the English woman conserve her aperiens galship longer than all the women; yes, even as far as her antics."

"The poor subaltern withered with confusion till I ventured to interpret: 'The Englishwoman preserves her appearance of youth longer than all women, even if she be old.'"

No wonder the subaltern was puzzled; not every one would have guessed as quickly as Lear did that "galship" meant girlhood and "antics" neither sportive agility nor unseemly gambols, but simply antiquity or age.—Youth's Companion.

Toys Thought Wonderful

Mechanical toys, such as trains, dancing figures and swimming ducks, were produced as scientific wonders for grownups by the great experimenters of early days instead of as playthings for children, according to a writer in the Montreal Family Herald. The more ignorant people of the time believed them to be miraculous and sometimes the makers had narrow escapes from execution as wizards. One scientist made a fly which, after a flight about the room, would return to his hand. He also produced a mechanical eagle in honor of the visit of an emperor to Nuremberg. The eagle flew several times about the emperor as he entered the city. Lifelike canaries that sing naturally when wound up, are common today. The first of this type of toy was exhibited in 1851.

Hawaiian Relic

The famous Naha stone, one of the finest relics of early Hawaiian history, after having for many years been allowed to remain in obscurity, was not long ago moved and placed in a conspicuous position in the city of Hilo, the second city of the territory.

From the earliest ages there existed a prophecy concerning this stone to the effect that he who could turn it over would become king of the whole of the Hawaiian group. The great feat was eventually accomplished by Kamehameha the Great, then king of Hawaii, and undoubtedly inspired him to embark upon the brilliant career which finally brought the whole of the islands under his sway.

A suitable tablet commemorating the history of the relic has been placed near the stone.

Wives Welcome Polygamy

The first wife usually is the head wife in the African jungle and her rule is unquestioned except on those rare occasions when a man actually feels some glimmer of affection for one of his wives, and promotes her to head of the harem.

Polygamy not only is accepted by the women, it is favored by them. For one thing, each new wife proportionately reduces the burden of the others. Doctor Fouzzer attended a palaver at which an only wife, through her brother, petitioned the chief to compel her husband to take on more. She said the job was too much for one woman.

Paris Theater Receipts

The gross receipts in 1923 of Paris music halls, theaters, concerts and moving pictures amounted to about $18,000,000. Of this amount approximately $2,000,000 went to the state for poor tax.

Through the Star-Telegram the editor noted the death last week of a first cousin, R. D. Howell, Police Sergeant of the Fort Worth Police force who was next to the oldest member in point of service on the force. He died from an attack of paralysis.

Interesting to Trace

Flora of Greenland

Greenland is not wholly an icy waste; it has at least a small group of plants that it can call its own, according to Dr. C. H. Ostenfeld of the University of Copenhagen, who has made careful examinations of the plant specimens collected by many Arctic expeditions.

"The number of species of flowering plants and fern-allies is only 300," he declared recently. "A not inconsiderable part of the more hardy species is supposed to have survived the Ice age in Greenland, but a more accurate determination of this group is not possible. The main part of the flora, however, has migrated into Greenland after the maximum extent of the ice covering, and the immigration has probably been favored by the post-glacial warmer epoch which has been found to have existed also in Greenland. Most of the species have come from arctic North America, and a much smaller number—about 75 species—from Europe. This European element consists of high-arctic species, probably immigrating through Spitzbergen; less arctic species arriving from Iceland; and species which were introduced during the time of the old Norse settlements."

Florida Island That

Has Tragic History

Named for Ferdinand of Aragon, once king of Spain, and a leading pirate rendezvous during its early days, the city of Fernandina, Fla., is the only town of importance on what is now known as Amelia Island, 22 miles long and from one-half to one and one-half miles wide, says the Dearborn Independent.

In the three centuries since the days of the pirate Lafitte and his comrades, mysterious diggings have sprouted at various parts of Amelia Island.

During the War of 1812 the port of Fernandina became one of great importance. At that time it was the center of contraband cotton export and smuggling to England.

A little later Capt. Jose Lopez, who held the Spanish fort on Amelia Island, surrendered to the forces of General McIntosh, leader of the Florida filibusters and Venezuelan patriots. Five years later the port was captured by Sir Gregor MacGregor, who had allied his interests with the insurgents of South America. MacGregor established himself as king of Fernandina and for many months a regime of feasting, carousing and ribaldry dominated the port.

Great Animal Painter

Rosa Bonheur was a dressmaker's apprentice. But her father, a French drawing master of Jewish origin, noticing how promising her sketches were, allowed her to give up her trade and to devote herself to the thing she loved. She discovered that painting animals was her gift. When her famous picture, "The Horse Fair," was exhibited she should have received the Legion of Honor, but it was withheld because she was a woman. Later the Empress Eugenie herself drove to the home of the artist to repair the slight. At the very moment when her pictures were bringing fabulous sums she disappeared from the artistic world. For twenty years she spent most of her time giving free lessons to young people of talent. She lived at her estate near Fontainebleau, surrounded by favorite animals.—Mentor Magazine.

Like American Methods

You can't get away from American influence in Europe. It has reached the home. Europe is buying as fast as she can all the labor-saving devices for her kitchens, and those she can't buy she imitates. The newest apartments in London, Paris and Berlin go in for automatic refrigeration, incinerators, wall beds, dining alcoves and kitchenettes. The new German hausfrau is proudest of her American electric range, washing machine and vacuum cleaner. For the women's magazines of Germany have just finished describing with photographs how American wives can do their own housework and still have ample leisure. The German hausfrau wants leisure, too.—Collier's Magazine.

Much Tea Drunk

The consumption of tea in the United States can be estimated from the net importation. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, the imports amounted to 98,551,814 pounds, 457,537 pounds being rejected as below our standard in quality, not for impurities. This quantity of tea would supply 98,000,000 of our inhabitants with a pound of tea a year. Since this number would have to include many children, it is reasonable to suppose that the number of tea drinkers is less than 98,000,000 and the annual per capita consumption more than a pound apiece.

But a Trap Is Better

These new methods of getting rid of mice, printed in London Opinion, may interest some of our readers: "Creep up to mouse hole and whistle down it softly. Mouse runs out at once to see who called. Hit mouse on head with frying pan. Watch till mouse is listening, then tell it brutally it is only a vermin. Mouse deeply humiliated to be only a vermin. Broods on it and dies of a broken heart. Kneel on floor and read mouse some extracts from 'The Green Hat.' Mouse loses all moral tone. Goes away and leads a bad life. Succumbs to disputation.—Boston Transcript.

Originality Shown in

Ordering of Funerals

Two Englishmen and one English lady, who certainly did not know each other, decided practically at the same time to have fantastic funerals, Pierre Van Pausen writes, in the Atlanta Constitution. Harry Armour, one of them, twenty-four years old, who committed suicide, left a note in which he ordered that he was to be buried in hunting costume, booted and spurred, with rifle in his arms and a plentiful supply of cartridges in his coffin. Then there was Colonel Sanson of Hastings, who demanded that his corpse be dumped in the middle of the channel. We learn from the Dover Gazette that his funeral had at least the compensation of a "jolly trip on a bright, sunny day." In London, a young lady, Miss Edith Koll, aged twenty, asked that she be laid out in her best evening gown, with dancing slippers and a small gramophone in the casket. She personally selected a number of jazz records, which were buried with her. All three expressed themselves believers in the resurrection of the body. The lady is the most original of all. When that last morn comes, and Gabriel blows his trumpet, she wants to organize a two-piece orchestra, no doubt.

Heaven as a Republic

Dr. James Madison, second cousin of the President of the United States of that name, was elected president of William and Mary College when he was only twenty-eight years old. It was necessary, before he could assume office, to suspend a statute requiring that the head of the institution be not less than thirty years old. The young college president, who was ordained in the Episcopal ministry in 1775, was an ardent believer in the republican form of government. It is said that in his sermons he never would speak of heaven as a kingdom. He would always refer to it as the "great republic where there is no distinction of rank, and where all men are free and equal."—Pathfinder Magazine.

Tokio School Notes

We Tokio children feel we have much to be thankful for as our trustees came and worked all day on our school yard, leveling up the ground, filling an old cistern, etc. They are having us some real official basket ball courts and equipment arranged. We girls are organized and are getting our suits ready for play. The suits will be of khaki trimmed in red.

Our English club is doing much research work at present. The club is only for the seventh grade. The following is our program:

Caril Velma Jowers: A boy or girl who wants to stop school and go to work.

Orville Wason: Punctuality Pays. Willie Wason: A pupil who comes to school without eating any breakfast.

Lowell Troat: A pupil who is never on time. O. D. Lovelace: Slow and steady wins the race.

Cathrine Young: A boy who smokes cigarettes.

Eunice Norris: Honesty is the best policy.

Ola Mae Lovelace: A child who runs in front of an automobile.

Evelyn Pippin: A boy who is careless with his gun.

Mr. McCullough filled his regular appointment here at the school building Saturday night and Sunday at eleven and Sunday night. Mr. McCullough is the principal of Turner school.

There was Sunday School at the Community Hall, also singing Sunday night.

Mr. Knoll is gaining in weight and strength now.

The boys basket ball team have them a new eighteen dollar ball.

We have installed the Honor Roll system in our school and hereafter will be seen the names of the pupils whose grades and deportment are not below 90.

The tenth grade is doing just fine in their new science books and we are glad they are.

New ropes have been put on the little children's Giant Stride.

The trustees are going to put up the girls some new basket ball courts. They will be glad of it too.

We think this is the best school we've had out here so far and hope it continues as it has been.

We are getting up a program for Friday night week. We hope to have a good one and a good crowd.

—By Secretary of 7th grade, Ola Mae Lovelace.

MARRIED

Mr. Orville Owens and Miss Sarah Winn were quietly married Sunday evening, Rev. Liff Sanders officiating. Mrs. Owens home is in the Johnson community. They will make their home at Haskell, Texas, where Mr. Owens is from.

Jim Smith and wife were over from their ranch in New Mexico last week, shopping and visiting.

Bob Harriss, local Santa Fe agent, left Tuesday afternoon for Abilene, where he was called as a witness in Federal court.

Up to September 10 Terry county had ginned 20 bales of cotton as compared to 38 same time last year.

Cotton is rolling in nicely as this is written. One gin reported turning out 13 bales Wednesday morning the other four seemed to be pretty busy.

Mr. E. B. Kelley, of Sudan, came in recently to take charge of the shoe department of the Cobb & Stephens store.

"WE GIVE GOLD BOND SAVING STAMPS"

AND YET WE KICK AT A SECOND'S DELAY

In England, the telephone system is owned by the government and is operated through the postal department. If anyone in London desires to talk across the channel, he must go to the central postoffice and make an appointment, possibly for the following day. He must then be on hand at the hour appointed to attend to the call.

What a contrast to our own privately owned telephone system! In our country anyone may place a call from his own home and in a few minutes talk with anyone in any part of the country and even across the ocean to London in a few hours.

The Methodist meeting is still progressing nicely, and will go on over Sunday.

ONLY A STRAY DOG

The poem entitled "Stray Dog" appeared in Munsey's Magazine for August, and is by an Oregon writer, Miss Charlotte Mish, of Portland. It is an unusually beautiful poem and carries a vital message back of it. Here's a knockout for sham sympathy:

Your wishful eyes searched each one as he passed, Stray dog—so lost, so starved and starkly thin— And yet your gallant hope held to the last That there would come a heart to take you in. Some came who jered at your bewilderment, Some kicked you, shouted, threw things till you'd gone; But, oh, more cruel was the one who bent And petted you, and murmured—and went on.
