TOKIO SCHOOL NEWS.

Our school has been going on one month and we have been busy with our examinations and we sure have been doing some hard work for that gold and silver medal that Mr. Knoll has offered to the seventh and tenth grade for the best memory.

We have been playing some real basket ball and are going to do better because we got us a new $15 ball in this morning for girls. The girls played the boys yesterday afternoon and Mr. Knoll played on the girls' side. The ball hit him in the face and broke his glasses but he caught the ball just the same.

We got our girls' basket ball goals up yesterday. Mr. Knoll and the boys put them up. We sure were glad to get to play on our new court with our new ball. We have chosen us a ball team. The one on the seniors' team are: Edith Norris and

Capital Hobs are forwards; Ida Mae and Alma Pippin are guards; Irene Knoll and Eunice Norris are center players. When Tokio school wants anything they usually find a way to get it. We did not have any chalk until yesterday and Mr. Knoll was in our room and we took a strip off the blackboard and got enough to last for a week or more. But we had to put it back before the boss came in, meaning Mr. Knoll. The party given by Mrs. Knoll to the first, second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades was enjoyed by all. Forty-five little hungry tots were served hot chocolate and cake. Thanks to Mrs. Buchanan for a pink and white coconut cake. The party was held in Mrs. Patterson's room, where everything was beautifully decorated. The work was done by the pupils. Each pupil wrote an invitation. Some were accepted and some were excepted. The serving was done by the seventh grade girls. The January birthday kiddies acted as hosts and hostesses. We were benefitted by the lessons taught as well as having a pleasant hour. Many games were played, all having been led by the hosts and hostesses. The outside boys took it in to their heads that they could beat the school boys but the school boys showed them. SANITARY BARBER SHOP & BEAUTY PARLOR

THE BEAUTIFUL NEW CHEVROLET

Wildfire enthusiasm kindled throughout the country last week when the new Chevrolet line for 1928 went on display took particular account of the many mechanical innovations embodied in the new car. Thousands who viewed the new models noted that the wheelbase was increased and bodies made roomier and more beautiful, also that the mechanical features had been developed to a measure heretofore unknown in the low price class. Outstanding developments in the engine and chassis that received widespread endorsement were the increased speed and power of the new car, easier steering, four wheel brakes of new design, shock absorber springs marking an advanced trend toward riding comfort, and smoother engine performance.

The last mentioned feature was achieved by the use of constant clearance alloy "invar strut" pistons which make for smoother, more efficient motor performance. Further contributions toward this end were gained by raising the compression ratio and by stepping up the valve lifts. Through these changes maximum power is developed.

Other changes in the engine are the addition of a breathing system to eliminate the annoyance of engine fumes; a new two-port exhaust, and a silencing engine enclosure.

The four-wheel brakes are of non-locking design—the product of Chevrolet laboratories plus the facilities of General Motors laboratories and proving grounds. Front brakes are two-shoe unenergized internals, while the rear brakes are the energized external, self wrapping type. Front and rear brakes have been proportioned to prevent side drag or pull. Each brake has an individual adjustment at the wheels, while "stops" have been provided to make the adjustment process especially easy. Easy initial pedal application throws the front brakes into action. Further application throws front brakes harder into action and also brings the rear brakes into full play, so that it is possible to slide the rear wheels on dry pavement by using full pressure but not the front wheels.

The effect of this, according to Chevrolet engineers is to get uniform wear on the brake lining.

The springs also are of extraordinary interest. Realizing that all uncomfortable spring action is the result of rebound after striking a bump Chevrolet engineers set about to increase the friction of the springs and thus check the rebound.

This end was achieved by equipping the springs with special rebound checks. Two checks are on each spring located half way between the center spring shackle and the spring end. These rebound checks are inverted bow shaped steel leaves assembled under high pressure against the top of the spring leaf, the ends pressing against the top of the leaf, increasing the resistance.

So much has the spring friction been increased by this new device that the car is said to ride 50 percent better than with old type springs. The rebound checks also offer greater resistance to bumps.

Greater ease of steering was made possible by adopting a ball bearing worm and gear steering mechanism, including ball bearings in the steering knuckles, and by increasing the steering ratio from 8 to 9.5 to 1. The four inch increase in wheelbase contributes greatly to the riding quality of the car, with less pitching and better road holding ability. The front axle has been enlarged and strengthened to accommodate the new brake attachment. A fan shroud has been added for more efficient cooling, and a host of other details combine to make the Chevrolet for 1928 the best performing, most efficient and dependable mechanical unit ever built by the company.

The amount of electrical power produced by public utility plants of Texas this year is showing an increase of 20 per cent over last year. This is one infallible measure of the state's growth.

Incidentally, we might say that we have, after a full field survey, another space or two in the sheriff's race. Who wants in?

Now in our rush to plant a big cotton crop this year let's not forget the little red hen, nor the old speckled cow, nor yet the old spotted sow. They were our source of salvation last year, and financial salvation is next to spiritual salvation, for: "He that provideth not for his own household is worse than a hypocrite."

State politics are still simmering, but county politics have already reached the boiling point in so far as having enough steam up to propel the vehicle, for they are getting in early and in great groups in some instances, but it seems that most of them want to be the "law" so far. However, in mentioning boiling, we do not mean by that any of the candidates or their friends are using vociferous or ungentlemanly language in describing the opponents, for everything is serene and lovely so far as that goes, and each are still calling the other by their given name—the one their parents gave them. So far, so good. May this brotherly spirit hold out through the campaign.

The editor is perhaps like the big majority of lay citizens of these United States, and is wondering why we are sending our fighting men to a foreign and peaceable nation to kill and get killed. We have, so far as we know, no quarrel with Nicaragua. They are neither trying to invade our country or destroy our commerce. It has the appearance to us of a big St. Bernard dog taking a bone away from a starving poodle. In fact, it does not make us feel very proud of our free republic. There may be things as a whole the people do not understand about the matter, but this should be made clearer by the State Department if they have any excuse for the course they are taking. But it looks pitifully little to us for our country to be talking peace measures to the big nations of Europe out of one corner of the mouth, and at the same time thrashing a little neighbor in Central America.

Some of our Meadow friends mailed us the front cover of the Ford Dearborn Independent this week, the inside of which contained the likeness of three of our ancestors or should we say descendants of man, for it is sometimes real hard to tell which should come first. Anyway, they were of the specie that still uses the hinder extremity for the purpose of moving from bow to bow in the trees. They seem to be of the "fiddler three," variety for reading from left to right, we find the "artists" consisted of an or a ukelist, violinist guitarist, and the sender thereof using his imagination and typewriter had written thereon: "In the gloaming oh my darling." And page Jack Stricklin. After studying a great while and recalling all our friends we could think of, we finally decided the guitarist favored our good friend of medical fame, who has his habitat in or around the first station north of Brownfield on the Santa Fe.

A JUDGMENT?

The home of J. Frank Norris, of Fort Worth, was consumed by fire a few days ago and two members of his family narrowly escaped the flames. This preacher took the life of one of his fellow men some time ago, and if this holocaust is not a judgment it seems at least "quite a coincidence." No doubt for any one else in his category this would be considered a terrible judgment, a divine retribution, and he would be one of the first to take a great "text" on the subject and fill the country with his admonitions. You can put it down as a fixed fact that if a preacher will practice what he preaches and "shun the appearance of evil" it will not be necessary once in a million ages to take the life of his fellow man.—Sudan News.

SMITH LAYS DOWN POLITICAL VIEWS

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 4.—In 99 printed pages totalling more than 30,000 words, Governor Alford E. Smith laid before the legislature today—and incidentally before the country—a summary of his political platform. By many of his friends and opponents it was considered as a fairly complete exposition of the platform on which he might be considered a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Among points he covered which might be deemed to have national scope, Governor Smith urged state development and control of public water power sites; restoration of the direct primary; extension of basic home rule laws to towns and villages and control by municipalities of public utilities within their jurisdiction. With reference to the broad question of prohibition, the governor urged adoption of an amendment to the federal constitution be ratified by future legislators until it had been ap-

A rough practical test for determining whether the air in a room is too dry is to observe the inside of windows on a cold day. If frost forms freely on the inside of the glass there is no doubt but that the inside air has sufficient humidity. If there is no sign of frost the air is likely too dry.

for Economical Transportation

Again

CHEVROLET

-the Greatest Sensation of America's Greatest Industry

Again, Chevrolet has created an automobile so far beyond all expectations in the low-price field that it constitutes the greatest achievement of America's greatest industry.

Built on a 4-inch longer wheelbase—offering numerous improvements in performance, beauty and safety—the Bigger and Better Chevrolet marks a spectacular epoch in the development of luxurious transportation at low cost.

The engine is of improved valve-in-head design with alloy "invar strut" pistons . . . hydro-laminated camshaft gears . . . mushroom type valve tappets . . . AC oil filter . . . AC air cleaner and a new crankcase breathing system.

Throughout the entire car similar advancements are represented—from the four-inch longer wheelbase and the new semi-elliptic shock absorber springs—84% of the wheelbase, to the marvelously beautiful new Fisher bodies in new Duco colors.

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING INCREASING RAPIDLY

Lamesa, Texas, Dec. 31.—That the future of cotton co-operative marketing in Dawson, Terry, and Gaines Counties looks brighter than at any time during the past three years, is the belief of M. Mitchell, field service representative of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, who stated that "under normal conditions this territory will deliver 25% of its production to the channels of co-operative marketing."

Last year this territory with a production of approximately 64,000 bales delivered 14% of the production, while the present season with a production of only 44,000 bales, the deliveries to the association approximate 19%.

Mr. Mitchell attributes the advancement of the movement in this territory to the progress made by the Association for the past seven years. "This progress has convinced the most skeptical that co-operative marketing is here to stay. Another reason for the progress is the many services offered association members which are not available to the non-member: such as the Seed Program, Service Corporation, Production Credit and Gin Program," he said. "I also find many farmers who have been friendly toward the Association all along, but on account of financial depression felt that they were forced to stay out awhile, and now that lots of these farmers are getting the old debts paid they are beginning to look to co-operative marketing as the only way to stay out of debt and continue on a cash basis." Most farmers now admit, he brought out, that the co-operative method is the most efficient marketing system in the South. Mr. Mitchell's report on conditions and prospects for the future was prepared for M. E. Hays, director of field service for the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association.

In surveying the work for the past six months, the report brings out the fact that during this period of time 170 members were secured to the Association, 90% of whom have already shipped cotton this season. Many old members have re-signed the new contract, he states, and have so expressed themselves as being dissatisfied with the old system. The best and the most substantial growers are being attracted to the Association, Mr. Mitchell says, and he attributes much of the progress made to the loyalty and activity of the membership as a whole and to community leaders throughout the territory.

With respect to the various association services he believes that large quantities of certified seed will be placed during the months of January and February. "The members and non-members are very anxious to grow better staple cotton and especially members as they are assured of being paid for staple as well as quality. The members favor very much the seed program." That two Farm Bureau co-operative gin projects were also under way at this time was also included in his report, which states that "the outlook is very encouraging for the establishment of these gins and possible additional ones."

The facilities of the Service Corporation proved very beneficial in combatting the leaf worms last summer, Mr. Mitchell states. "The quick delivery of poisons saved the farmers of my territory lots of money in the initial cost of poisons, and thousands of dollars in crops saved." Quite a number took advantage of the group insurance service and some the fertilizer service. The future also looks bright for the activities of the Finance Corporation, he states, in the matter of production credit "due to the fact that more farmers will be in position to take advantage of this service, since most all will be free of back debts which have been in the way of this service to them in the past."

Mr. Mitchell was highly complimentary in his report of the co-operation and assistance given by the newspapers, county agents, home demonstration agents, fair associations, etc. "all demonstrating that they clearly have the best interests of agriculture at heart."

Roy Collier called us up Monday and tried to tell us to take the Brownfield Hardware ad out on the phonograph he had for sale in the Fridays Herald, that the ad wasn't any good, etc., but wound up by saying that they had already sold it and the fact was the only reason he had for wanting it out was that they just haven't got any more. CITATION BY PUBLICATION

In the District Court Terry County, Texas.

T. L. Treadaway, No. 1052, vs. J. T. Fawcett, et al.

The State of Texas to the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, that by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Terry once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon John Thompson whose residence is unknown, to be and appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Terry County, to be held at the Courthouse thereof, in the City of Brownfield, on the 11th day of January, A. D. 1928, the same being the 16th day of January, A. D. 1928, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 30th day of November, A. D. 1927, in a suit, numbered on the Docket of said Court, No. 1052, wherein T. L. Treadaway is plaintiff and J. T. Fawcett, Mrs. T. A. Fawcett, E. T. Miller and John Thompson are defendants; the nature of plaintiffs demand being substantially, as follows, to-wit:

That heretofore, to-wit, on the 19th day of August, A. D. 1919, the defendant, J. T. Fawcett, made, executed and delivered to plaintiff his certain promissory Vendor's Lien note for the principal sum of $500.00, payable to the order of plaintiff at Brownfield, Texas, on or before December 1st, 1925, bearing interest from its date until paid at the rate of 8% per annum the interest being annually, all past due interest bearing 10% interest per annum, providing for 10% attorney's fees if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection.

That said note was given in part payment for a tract of land containing 10 acres in Section 112 in Block "T" in Terry County, Texas, as fully set out and described in deed from plaintiff and his wife to defendant J. T. Fawcett recorded in Vol. 1 page 74 of the Deed Records of Terry County, Texas, and the Vendor's Lien retained in said deed and acknowledged in said note on said acre tract of land to secure a payment of said note, and that said Vendor's Lien is still a valid and subsisting lien to secure the payment of same.

That said note is now long since past due and unpaid, and the defendant, though often requested has hitherto failed and refused and still refuses to pay the same or any part thereof, to plaintiff's damage $675.00.

Plaintiff has been compelled to place said note in the hands of an attorney for collection and has promised and agreed to pay him the 10% attorney's fees specified in said note, the same being reasonable.

That the defendants, Mrs. T. A. Fawcett, E. T. Miller and John Thompson are claiming some interest entitled, etc.

Herein fail not, but have you been said land and premises, but whatever interest they may have is subject to and inferior to plaintiff's Vendor's Lien securing payment of his note herein sued on.

Wherefore plaintiff prays judgment of the court for foreclosure of his Vendor's Lien as the same existed on August 19th, 1919, and since, for order of sale and such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity to which he may be fore said Court on the first day of next term thereof this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in the City of Brownfield, Texas, this 14th day of December A. D. 1927.

Witness Jay Barret, Clerk of District Court in and for Terry County, Texas. 1-13-28

Mr. Ed Vaughn, a resident of this community for the past four years, lied at the Lubbock Sanitarium, Wednesday night from injuries received some time ago in an auto wreck. He had been operated on for an injury to his head and had returned to his home when he developed trouble with his head and returned to the hospital but continued to get worse and died.

Ed was a good man and a successful farmer. He leaves a wife and six children to make it alone in a world where strong men find it extremely hard to get ahead.

He was buried at the Meadow cemetery Thursday evening, the Rev. Allen of the Baptist church conducted the funeral services.

The Auto continues to take its toll. The cautious driver along with the speeder, alike, fall victims to this modern juggernaut.

The Mitchell Hotel has changed hands and Mrs. Mitchell retires for a rest. It will be very hard on Mich to be compelled to walk three blocks for his meals. It won't be long until his wife will be compelled to carry his meals to him to keep him from starving. He will never be able to cover that distance twice a day.

The students pulled off their play Friday night. A large crowd greeted them and all of them acted their parts admirably. The proceeds will go to the various interests of the school.

The Editor of the Review has been away most of the past week. Don't know where he went: An editor is in unknown quantity anyway.

Albert Lucas, who was long a resilient and business man of Meadow, after rambling around through Oklahoma for a year is back here, pretending that he is on a visit. He left here fat and sassy but has returned rather lean and lank—has to kinder hold his breeches up with one hand. I am inclined to surmise that if the right opportunity presents itself we are going to be bothered with him again.

It is a little sad to see so many that have dwelt among us so many years get up and leave. Mrs. J. F. Stephens, Mr. McNutt, Luther Vaughn, and many others have gone and are preparing to leave. We wish for them all they expect from this change but dollars to doughnuts they are making a mistake. Some of them will return as others have done and still others will regret the move. The place is far and away ahead of any plain in Texas or any other state I can hear from.

A recent map of the United States puts this section as among the most prosperous portions of the country. Of course all have not fared alike in the distribution of the crop, but you will not beat it by moving.

Land values have gone down everywhere and it will doubtless be some years before we get back to high lands again but they are coming in fact are on the way. So it behooves everyone to sit tight on their holdings if they possibly can.

It is presumed that we will soon have the rural telephone running east in operation at an early day. The committee were around collecting subscriptions the past week. It should be the beginning of a system connecting all the trade territory of Meadow and the matter should receive the attention of all until it is consummated.

The Meadow Produce Company have closed their place of business here. However there are others that can and will take care of the produce brought here.

Robt. Finly and wife are the happy parents of a bouncing baby girl. The little lady arrived Jan. 5th. Robt. is smiling on the vine. He will gain his composure in some of his midnight rambles after the paregoric bottle, or he collides with the door facing. He had just as well begin to learn some one or other of the numerous lullabys such as Baby Mine.

Well I was looking for a few announcements for office when the Herald came out but was not prepared for the deluge of Love Letters that greeted me on the front page. Those fellows all talk with tears in their eyes, and they are all pretty nice fellows.

George talks like he intended to quit but shucks when the thing gets a going he will have to be chained. He couldn't miss a thing like that, not on his own motion. Running for office is the greatest pastime ever. It beats buying a lottery ticket for I have tried both.

What promise for the future. The National, State, County and Municipal elections all just ahead. I smoke almost any brand of cigars and can usually be found somewhere near the drug store. A hint to the wise is sufficient.

Mr. O. T. Vinson, of Wichita Falls, is here visiting his parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Vinson. Mr. Vinson has recently sold his printery in Wichita Falls, and has accepted a position with the Avalanche-Journal, beginning next Monday.

When taking ashes out of the ash pit, sprinkle them if possible before handling. A small watering pot kept near the furnace assists materially in keeping down dust.

Elder A. L. Burnett and family were visitors to Lubbock Sunday afternoon and night, returning Monday morning in time for school.

Rev. J. W. Chisholm and C. W. Curry are attending district conference at Slaton this week, representing the Methodist church at this place.

On the last Thursday night of the year the Seniors '27 and '28 were delightfully entertained with a Forty-Two party by the Misses Louise Chisholm and Robbie Marion Hardin at the home of Miss Hardin. Candy was enjoyed throughout the games and a very jolly time was had by all present. Prizes went to Adolphus Smith and Bill Collins for high, the low prize to Helen Jackson and Jack Stricklin.

Those present were Misses Mamie Sue Flache, Fay Brown, Vivian Winston, Bessie and Jessie Chisholm, Carrie Head, Christova Sawyer, Voncile Holgate, Lenore Brownfield, Helen Jackson, Kathleen Hardin and the hostess; Messrs. Jack Stricklin, Dick Burson, Blue Graham, Bill Collins, Adolphus Smith, James H. Dallas, Darrel Jackson, Curtis Gassoway, and R. V. Holden of Coahoma.

Mr. Heath: Well, what did I do with my hat?

Bill: It's on your head.

Mr. Heath: That's all right then, I'll find it.

There has been much rejoicing over geometry grades of late, among those rejoicing are Adolphus Smith and Robbie Hardin, the former making 99 and the latter practically so.

Miss Castleberry has returned to her work here and everything is nearly back to normal, following the holidays. We are very glad to have Miss Castleberry back again.

The Freshmen seem to have gotten much inspiration from some direction and have composed some very brilliant selections, one of which appears as follows:

A COUNTRY GIRL'S VISIT TO THE CITY

I had a country girl to spend the week-end with me once and when she came to the table at lunch she sat there not knowing which of the silverware to use, then she got so hungry watching me eat she grabbed a spoon and what she didn't eat with that spoon she ate with her hands. I sent her out to get some milk and when she came back she wanted to know where the cow was. I told her to look out on the front porch and get it and she was very surprised and wanted to know if the cow was run by electricity like the stove she had tried to kindle a fire in and that afternoon she wanted to iron her dress, so she tied the wife to the iron on to the stove and tried to heat the iron and I got there just in time to save the iron and explain to her it was run by electricity, and when she wanted a drink she got a bucket and went out in the back yard and I called her back and when I had been and went to bed and asleep she came in the room and said she had tried for thirty minutes to blow out the light and she'd be hung if the blame thing would blow out, and that's all.

After much discussion and dry air the Juniors have finally decided to order the class pins. We hope they get them before they are beyond the Junior age.

For any information concerning education for fleas, see Miss Mary Perkins, head of the English department who is especially prepared along the line.

The local basket ball stars played at the city of Repesville last Friday night under the auspices of the Ropes High School. The outcome hasn't been learned in full yet, except Kearney says B. H. S. beat them—off the field, so we'll probably always wonder who really did.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sawyer entertained in honor of the Seniors on New Year's Eve with the ever interesting Forty-Two and as usual Mrs. Sawyer proved herself a very charming and capable hostess and a very enjoyable time was had by all those in attendance. The house was very prettily decorated in the season's colors and the holiday motif was carried out by the lighted candles. A delicious salad course was served.

After the party was over some of the guests attended the midnight matinee.
