BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MARCH 30, 1928

NUMBER 32

Chamber of Commerce

By the Secretary

A satisfactory response to the notice that we had a number of agricultural bulletins on poultry raising and dairying for free distribution, was received during the last two days of the week. A considerable number of farmers were in the office and supplied themselves. We have more on hand and others are ordered. In addition to this, bulletins on several different lines of agricultural including fruit and berry growing can be secured.

Arrangements are in process of completion for the establishment of motor bus lines from Oklahoma City to Carlsbad, by way of Brownfield, and from Fort Worth to Roswell by way of Post and Brownfield, by one of the largest bus lines in West Texas. Representatives of the company are due to arrive here during the first part of this week and it is expected that service will be commenced as soon as permits can be had from the railway commission.

A motor bus line will also be established between Brownfield and Odessa and an application for permit has already been made to the commission. Next to a railway, motor bus lines are very much of an asset to any community.

This reminds us that Captain Ed Kennedy, was due to arrive about the 25th, but has not put in his appearance to date.

The Chief Engineer of the Highway Department, should be here within the next few days for the purpose of inspecting the highway between Brownfield and Odessa, for which a tentative designation has been granted. It is expected that the entire personnel of the highway department will be with him.

LOUIS J. WARDLAW CAN DIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

Texas voters this year will have an opportunity to assist in cutting $10,000,000 from the annual state appropriation, in voting for Louis J. Wardlaw, candidate for governor, according to Wardlaw's platform just issued.

Louis J. Wardlaw

In this platform Wardlaw comes out strongly for tax reduction, as well as crime prevention. He also declares in favor of cutting automobile license fees to a nominal amount and creation of a humanized highway department for Texas, dividing the state into districts, in charge of highway commissioners.

Wardlaw is a Fort Worth attorney and West Texas rancher. He was born in Falls County, reared in Runnels County, and went to Sutton as a young man, where he practiced law for several years, moving to Fort Worth in 1919. Wardlaw was also County Judge of Sutton County. He still maintains his ranching interests in West Texas and a Law office in Sonora.

Besides his tax reduction plea he also declares himself in favor of every educational advantage the people are able to pay for.

Wardlaw is sending copies of his platform to those who are interested in his candidacy.

Groom—Groom has reaffiliated with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce with a 75% increase over last year.

Appropriately enough, Pittsburgh's largest food store is run by a Mr. McCann.

How Many Hours Does a Farmer Work?

The question asked in the above caption is not asked in a spirit of frivolity or for the purpose of casting any reflection upon those who toil in the field to produce the food and fiber of the Nation. It is asked for the purpose of opening a vein of thought on a subject which should be of interest to every farmer in the Southwest.

Of course we have all heard of the sixteen-hour day the farmer puts in, and also that it takes thirteen months to make a cotton crop, but that is not the answer to the question. How many hours does a farmer work profitably during the year? If every farmer could answer that question accurately and honestly for himself he would know just where he was and be able to arrange his time on a more profitable basis. If every farmer could account for his wasted hours we would be making appreciable progress toward solving the agricultural problems of the Nation without the assistance of Congress or the State Legislature.

J. A. Moore, a farmer in Dallas county, Texas, whose 1927 income from a 200-acre farm was in excess of $15,000, says that there should be 300 working days out of every 365, and that each day should consist of ten hours of profitable employment for every man on the farm. This is not a theory with him, for he keeps a set of crop and hour records, and by making his hours profitable he has built up a wornout farm which cost $7.50 per acre to a productive farm worth between $200 and $300 per acre, probably more. Mr. Moore, you probably know, is not a one-crop farmer. He grows some cotton and makes money with it, but he has a crop plan which calls for crop rotation, and seldom does one crop interfere with another. He has but few peaks and valleys in his distribution of labor. He is thus able to make every hour count for every man employed. He produces heavily of corn and legumes and markets his feed-stuffs through livestock, finishing his animals for the market.

Getting back to our original question, let us ask again, "How many hours does a one-crop cotton farmer work? Does he put in 180 ten-hour days out of the year. Is it possible for him to work longer than that in preparing the land, putting in the crop, cultivating and harvesting it? If it takes more hours than 1,800 to produce a cotton crop, it would not make a profit of 25 cents a pound with a production of half a bale per acre. If he only works 1,800 hours a year, what does he do with the other 1,200 hours available, counting out Sunday and holidays? If these are not profitably employed, is that farmer in a position where he can justly complain of the hardships of farming?"

Formers are not always to blame for wasted hours, but it is good business to employ each available hour profitably. This can only be done when the crop program is so arranged that one will not interfere with another, and where the production and feeding of livestock is practiced with regularity. If a man on the farm can make a living with a total of six or seven months' actual systematic work, farming is a pretty good business after all.—Farm and Ranch.

LAMESA TO HAVE NEW CHURCHES DURING YEAR

Three new churches for Lamesa this year is not a bad interest in church affairs.

The Church of Christ are finishing up their donations on their new brick church which will be a thing of both beauty and comfort when completed. The Methodist will finish their $100,000.00 church this year, as indicated by unanimous vote taken last Sunday, and the Bryan Street Baptist Church has completed a nice building and are now at home in same.—Lamesa Reporter.

Fire Sweeps Seagraves Tuesday Afternoon

One of the most destructive fires in the history of the South Plains section swept the little city of Seagraves, 32 miles southwest of Brownfield on Tuesday afternoon of this week, and by dark the little city that had been the pride of her people but a few hours before lay in smouldering embers, and with it, the fortunes in a few instances that had been laid up in a lifetime went with it. We understand that the fire started about 3 o'clock, and is supposed to have originated in a tailor shop.

Soon after the fire started a call for help was made on the Brownfield fire department, but as we have no pump with our department, and as they have no fire plugs in Seagraves, no assistance could be rendered them. However, a number of our people went down there to render whatever assistance they could.

The fire seemed to have started on the south side of the west end of the main business street, and with the fierce wind from the west fanning the flames like a blacksmith's bellows, the flames raged on despite all that could be done with dynamite and what water was available to stop them. Brick buildings and all seemed to burn like tinder, and when the hungry flames finally ran out of fuel at the east end of main street, 20 business houses were found to have been reduced to ashes, including every grocery, drug store, dry goods store, the hotel, cold drink parlors and bank.

We understand that the loss will run in the neighborhood of $125,000, with something like $60,000 insurance. Of course Seagraves will arise from the ashes, but we predict that it will do so by erecting as near fire-proof buildings as possible, and that modern waterworks will be their next progressive step.

WHO'S THIS?

Hope you do better guessing than you did before.

Fire Boys Make Quick Work of Blaze Mon.

About sundown Monday evening the fire alarm was turned on, and it was found to be the residence of Lawrence Green just north of the square about two blocks, but the boys made the run in record time and the damage was light.

It seems that the baby knocked the oil lamp off the table which took fire, and in a few minutes had gained great headway. We understand about all the damage was from water, which we understand will be somewhat covered by insurance.

The fire boys have again proved their worth to the town in prompt response to fire alarms, then when they arrive bore in like veterans. Personally we believe the whole town should come together and give them a real big banquet some of these days for it has been through their efforts that insurance rates have been steadily lowered, and they have saved the town thousands of dollars thereby.

All honor to our heroic fire boys. They even have to fight fires in their own clothes, which sometimes ruin them. Are we exactly playing square with them?

Here And There About Things in General

Well spring is certainly here—we feel it in our every movement. In fact it has taken hold of us in no uncertain way. It seems as we can no more find anything worthy of an article in these columns, and if we found it it seems that all thoughts have flown, and in place comes a desire to get off somewhere under a shade with nothing else on our mind than sleep—sleep—sleep. And possibly eat once in awhile just for a change.

Indeed, socialism has taken a greater hold on us lately than ever before. Not that we hate the capitalistic class, but just envy them. Not that we want them to "divvy" up, but we want to play some too. Seeing T. L. Brown, Dalt Lewis not to mention others of our friends of "leisure" round on the streets don't seem to bother us during cold weather, but as soon as the balmy breezes of spring hit us we want to join them in their perpetual holiday. But we just can't, and that's what gets our goat.

Of course we can go on from week to week telling you about Jones' pigs, Brown's chickens, and Smith's dairy cows, but you might tire of that. Besides we don't feel much like writing anyway, we tell you. We've simply got a good old case of spring fever, and we ought to be in bed right now instead of stringing out this valuable information that you'll probably not read, and all of it will be lost "on the desert air."

We might even study up something mean to say about some of our neighbors; we might start a bit of gossip to ripen later into a real rotten scandal, but we ain't got on fightin' clothes nor no money to pay fines. In fact, with this spring weather on us, we just don't feel like we care how sorry our neighbors are, how mean they are or what they have gotten into. Just let them go jump into the old bad place for all we care.

Gosh how we do hate work anyway these spring days, and if it were not for the fact that we have to meet several installments on various articles the holdres of whom are rather hard boiled, we'd go home this minute and go to bed. Who in heck invented work anyway?

We could possibly dip this old type-writer in prairie dog poison and tell a lot we know on some candidate for office and cause a big hurrah—if we just knew something. Not knowing anything, though, for certain, we'd better lay off McDuff.

Anyway, we have set here with one eye almost closed in sleep and the other getting mighty drowsy and killed almost a column of good front page space.

Come to Terry.

JOSH BILLINGS ADVISES JOE ON MARRIAGES

By awl means, Joe, get married, if you have a fair show. Don't stand shivering on the bank, but pitch right in, stick your head under and shiver it out. That ain't any more trick in getting married than there is in eating peanuts. Many a man has stood shivering on the bank until the river run out. Don't expect to marry an angel—they have all been picked up long ago. Remember, Joe, you ain't a saint yourself. Do not marry for beauty exclusively; beauty is like ice, awful slippery and thaws out dreadfully easy. Don't marry for love, either; love is like a cooking stove, good for nothing when the fuel gives out. But let the mixture be some beauty, becomingly dressed, with about $250 in her pocket, a good speller, handy and neat in her house, plenty of good sense, tough constitution and by-laws, small feet, a light step; add to this sound teeth and a warm heart. The mixture will keep in any climate and will not evaporate. Don't marry for pedigree unless it is backed up by bank notes. A family with nothing but pedigree generally lacks sense.

Tomato juice from canned tomatoes may be substituted for orange juice when the latter cannot be obtained. Children may be taught to drink it exactly like orange juice. For a between-meal lunch in winter-time, tomato juice may be heated, seasoned with a little butter, salt and bay-leaf, and served as a warm drink with a cracker.

Rotary Club Has Old Time Experience Meet

It has been a long time since we have been in the midst of an old time experience meeting outside of a religious revival. In fact, we don't believe we ever saw or hear of one otherwise, until last Friday noon, when the regular hour was devoted to a meeting of this kind under the direction of W. A. Bell.

Now we have a sneaking notion that Will Alf had no set program to begin with and hit upon this plan in an off hand way to square himself with the club and make them think he had not fallen down on the job. Anyway, his plan worked like a barn door, and in reality made a hit. It was different—and variety is the spice of life. We had been having musical and reading programs, and—well, no matter how good, they get old.

The boys around the long table were asked to get up and tell the others whether or not the club had done them any good, what they had gotten out of it, and what they thought of it. Member after member arose, and almost without exception first expressed themselves as believing when they become members that the main object was a good meal and a lot of fun perhaps, once a week. But one and all said they were agreeably disillusioned almost at once on the real object of Rotary, and the more they saw the effects of the club on the life of the town, the better they liked it. That its slogan of "Service Above Self—He profits most, who serves best" is certainly getting in its work among the business men of the city.

According to one of the speakers, just a few months ago when a competitor came into one's place, they felt like he was merely nosing around to find out how much business they were doing. Now he felt like his competitors came because they wanted to and each had a hearty welcome for the other, and each was glad the other was succeeding. People don't have to be mad at each other or suspicious of each other, or even jealous of each other because they happen to be in the same business. That's childish. Before the meeting was over, it seemed that the old time experience meeting was melting into a love feast as well, and that everybody liked everybody else. This is the spirit that builds worth while communities.

The writer having no competitor living here at least, was not called upon for a talk, as were several others, but after hearing the good effects upon others, we became so enthused that if we had been called upon, we could at that time almost say so and told the truth that we had almost reached the point that we loved non-advertising merchants. Let us have more such meetings. They are worth while.

BEAUMONT PREPARING TO CARE FOR CONVENTION

Governor Dan Moody has expressed the opinion that the National State Democratic Convention to convene at Beaumont on May 22 will prove to be the largest state convention ever held in Texas. It is estimated that there will be from 6000 to 8000 visitors to the sister cities of the Sabine-Neches district, Beaumont, Port Arthur and Orange, which are separated by an auto ride of about 30 minutes.

In order to prevent confusion and comfortably take care of all delegates and visitors the executive committee on arrangements has named L. B. Herring, executive secretary, with headquarters at the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Herring has already opened a registration bureau and is hopeful of having immediate notification from delegates appointed by the various counties and also requests for reservations from visitors to the convention. Extensive plans of entertainment are being made.

Man Held Here For the Theft of a Mule

Sheriff F. M. Ellington went over to Muleshoe last Saturday afternoon, where he took in charge a young man held by the Muleshoe authorities at the request of Ellington, and wanted here for the alleged theft and sale of a mule. He was brought back here and lodged in jail where he will very likely remain until the next grand jury meets.

It seems that the young man had taken some young mules to break for a breeder over in Gaines county, and after finishing breaking his sod, he brought one of the mules to town one Saturday recently and sold it to one of the Jeter boys living east of town. The young fellow then disappeared. It was found out however by the owner of the mules that one of them had mysteriously disappeared, and he immediately came up and made an investigation, and found his mule and made claim to his property that had been disposed of without his sanction.

A search was immediately instituted for the young man, and was later picked up by the Muleshoe authorities and held in jail there until Ellington of this county came to claim him.

Thus another young man that could command the respect of all good people has flirted with the law of the land as well as the moral code and stands a good show to end up in hard servitude behind the walls of the Texas penitentiary. "Be sure your sins will find you out as true today as the day they were penned by the old prophet of Bible times.

New Disease Among Cattle is Puzzling

It seems that if it is not one thing it is another. If the bugs and worms don't get the crops, low prices knock the socks off the poor old farmer in the fall. No sooner do they get a remedy to overcome death among cattle, until a new one comes to light. When we first came to the plains, it was blackleg, but an almost sure remedy was found. Then came "shiner," blind-stagers, foot and mouth not to mention others, to take toll of cattle and horses, and every once in awhile cholera slips in among the swine, but the later has never gotten a good hold on the plains section.

The new disease now raging among cattle of this section seems to have them all skinned in its sureness of death, as well as its ease and swiftness in spreading, although it is said that the serum put out to check the disease is effective. We heard of one man who had 100 head of cattle and lost the whole bunch overnight. We cannot vouch for this story, but it came from parties who seemed to know what they were talking about. On the other hand our informant said those who had given the serum had not lost any. He had lost a few himself, but after rounding up and inoculating the bunch, he had lost no more.

We hope the disease will pass as quickly as it seemed to appear, or at least the serum will prove as effective as it is now thought to be, for a 100 per cent loss over night is not only very expensive, but panicky as well. So far the disease has not been so destructive in Terry county as in some other sections. Let our stockmen be prepared for emergencies, however.

SMITH HASN'T TRIED TO STEAL THE CAPITOL—YET

The Herald had a communication from the Womens League of Republican voters of New York the past week advising us about Al Smith from an entirely different angle—that he failed to carry New York outside of the city—that foreign born people elected him. We have heard him attacked as a wet, probably true; as a Catholic true again; a nullificationist, we can't say; that he failed to carry upstate New York each time, most of us knew that. But what bothers us is who in the Sam Hill gave the Republican ladies of New York the brief to tell southern Democrats how they ought to vote. Another thing, after several efforts, we utterly failed to pronounce the name of the chairman of the league. Talking about foreigners, the name Smith sounded a heap more American to us, than the one she carries around with her.—Terry County Herald.

The ladies forgot, no doubt, to mention the names of Messrs. Harding, Daugherty, Fall, Sinclair, and others of the "Black and Tan" leaders, in connection with oil activities and also on behalf of their "social equality" for the colored brethren in trying to advise Texas voters.—Seminole Sentinel.

PACKERS NEED MORE HOGS TO RUN PLANT

Recently the writer was shown through the Swift & Co. plant at Ft. Worth and told that the hog dressing department never ran much over half capacity because of the scarcity of hogs. The company official said "Tell your people to raise more hogs. We are buying about a million dollars worth from the north each year to keep the plant going on half time."

Without professing whether or not hogs can be profitably raised in this section, we can safely say that the market for hogs is not over supplied. But if hogs can be raised in the north and shipped here, it does look like they could be raised here and make the raiser good money. At least there does not seem to be any danger of the pink boll worm doing any damage to the feed crop nor the hog crop.—Rottan Advance.

$600 IS CHARGE FOR TELEPHONE IN TOKYO

The unusual installation fee demanded of subscribers in Japan by the government telephone system is a matter to startle the American who accepts both service and a fair cost as a matter of course. Recent announcement by the Japanese government that reduced charges would apply in six leading cities of the country to those making application for telephone installation during a given ten-day period—by this in some way resembling a sale—brought many requests.

In Tokyo, prices were reduced 300 yen per instrument (the yen is equivalent to approximately 50 cents), 200 yen in Osaka, and 150 yen in Yokohama, Nagoya, Kyoto and Kobe. This permitted installation of a telephone in Tokyo for 1,200 yen, in Osaka for 1,100 yen, and in Yokohama, Nagoya, Kyoto and Kobe for 950 yen. To all these charges is added the periodic service charge.

It also is often more than a year after application for service is made before a telephone is installed in Japan.

POISON BAIT

I'M feeling blue today all right. Not 'cause I'm deep in debt, but 'cause a chunk of poison bait has finished poor old Shep. No more he'll lick my hand in love, no more he'll bark with glee, no more he'll watch my every move, old Shep has gone from me. I've lost a splendid, true, old dog; I've lost a faithful friend.

I've placed him underneath the sod, but what a cruel end! He never had a sporting chance to fight a worthy foe, but gulped the bait beside a fence, then stiffened out, and so, I see his anxious pleading look, his agonized goodbye, a few more jerky breaths he took, poor Shep, he had to die. Whoever laid that poison bait can be no friend of mine. Mr dog deserved a better fate, no wonder I repine. I'll miss his company by day. I'll miss his guard at night, my kids will miss him in their play; such treatment was not right. If he had met a worthy foe, or lost an honest fight—but no, he never had a show, and I am sad tonight. And when I hear a coyote howl, I'll think of poor old Shep, whose end came to him by a foul I never can forget. What if a coyote now and then escapes the trap or gun, it shows how smart a coyote is, he sports and let them run. Don't lay out poison bait, and pray a coyote you may get; its hitting way below the belt and often gets old Shep.—T. E. Hayes, Perkins County, South Dakota.

PANHANDLE DAIRY SHOW OPENS NEXT WEEK

Plainview, March 26.—The Panhandle-Plains of Texas will show to the world the progress that it has made in the breeding of pure bred dairy cattle through the First Annual Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show to be staged in Plainview next week, April 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th.

From all over the fifty three counties of the Texas Panhandle-Plains, the area covered by the Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show Association, come reports of entries of pure bred dairy stock, and fine grade animals that in many instances will rival in production even the pure bred stock. Secretary Bob Anglin estimates that the number of animals that will be on exhibit will run higher than had ever been anticipated when the show was launched late in 1927.

All plans for staging the show are complete. The show will be held in the big cattle barn at Plainview, known as the Overall barn and the biggest stock barn in the Panhandle. It is located on the pavement on the business section of Plainview and has been converted into a large exhibit hall for this occasion. Judges have been selected. They are among the most prominent dairy cattle men in America.

The show is to be widely attended, as attested by the mass of letters that have been pouring into the offices of Assistant Manager Maury Hopkins, and Secretary Bob Anglin during the past few weeks. Letters of acceptances to invitations sent out have been received from prominent people all over the Southwest interested in dairying.

The production contest being staged in connection with the show is bringing a great number of cattle. The production contest is open to cattle of all breeds and promises to be one of the outstanding features of the exhibition.

Tuesday, April 3rd, will be the opening day of the Show and all exhibits will be ready for free public inspection, and the production contest will be started. The second day, Wednesday, April 4th, will be Jersey cattle judging day, and Thursday, Holstein-Friesian and Guernsey day. The evening of Thursday, April 5th, will be given over to the Annual Exhibitors' Banquet in the Plainview Municipal Auditorium. The Annual Meeting of the Texas Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show Association will be held in connection with the banquet. Friday, the last day will be given over to Grade Cow judging and closing of the production contest.

Premiums totaling over five thousand dollars are being offered in all classes for Jerseys, Holsteins and Guernseys.

BOLLWORM HEARING HELD AT LAMESA LAST FRIDAY

Last Friday the bollworm commission met with the farmers of Dawson County with Mr. Farris acting as chairman.

The farmers were told by Mr. Farris that there would be no discussion as to whether the worm did harm or not but just whether the farmers were going to do what the commission said for them to do and the general consensus of opinion was that they would, of course.

There were several speeches made and all to one end, that we would do as we were told to do and that's that.

We do not consider that the meeting was worth the time of farmers coming to town. It did not leave them anything to do but submit and if a fellow is in jail he is in there whether he really thinks he ought to be or not is not worth while he is there.

Mr. Farris took the opportunity to criticize the way our gins were kept and stated that they were not kept clean and he wondered at the insurance companies allowing them insurance and in other words, we think Mr. Farris came to West Texas with a grouch in his system as it was none of his business as to how gins were kept and we have an idea that what he doesn't know about a lot of things would make a book and from his actions and words, we would judge this was the first time in his life he ever held a place of any prominence.—Lamesa Reporter.

The Herald family has been living "at the top of the pot" for the past few days, having persuaded our good farmer friend, Lee Walker of West Terry to bring in a 45 lb. ham of the good old country cured variety. He had some cured hams that weighed over 50 pounds. Here is another man who lives on the farm where he resides.

The crops of the United States in 1927 were valued at $676,388,000 more than they were in 1926. Of this increase, Texas provided $103,244,000, or 15.2 per cent.

THE FIRST SIXTEEN WEEKS OF THE REWARD

As this issue goes to press those 1250 member banks, who are supporting President Massie's dead bandit reward, have been asked to pay for Dead Robbers Nos. 4 and 5, killed at Rankin, January 12. It might be interesting to review the campaign thus far.

From September 10 to November 10, 1927, the date the reward was announced—a period of eight weeks—there were 21 daylight holdups and 6 night attacks on banks in Texas—more than 3 a week. Loss to banks $75,000; bandits captured none; arrests afterwards, none.

During the last six weeks of 1927 there were 4 daylight holdups with loss of $1,600. Three robbers were killed; three captured following robbery; $32,000 in stolen money recovered; and a nest of 14 alleged bandits put in jail. During the first 10 weeks of 1928—the very heart of bandit season—there have been two daylight holdups; $1,900 money loss; two robbers killed; four desperate bandits captured.

Besides this, during the last 16 weeks, since the reward was offered, the law enforcement machinery of our state has certainly accelerated its speed against bank bandits for some reason. Study these court records: two bandits given the death penalty for bank robbery (first time in our state); four bandits given 99 year sentences; three given 47-year sentences; total arrests of alleged bandits, since November 10 is 26—which is a greater number than for the four years previous.

The above facts should effectively silence the ordinary criticism against the plan. It should deter those who contemplate robbing Texas banks.—The Texas Bankers Record.

It is said that Lindburgh is having a self starter put on his new plane. We don't blame the boy a particle, even if it does cost more, for they say as how it is a little dangerous to get out in a parachute to crank a crazy plane in mid-air.

Talking about "the melancholly days of autumn have arrived," old spring has autumn skinned a hundred ways on the South Plains for plain and fancy laziness to creep into your system—and that is what we understand the author of "melancholly days" to mean.

Well, she came in like a lamb alright, for the first part of March was just as lovely as a June bride, but she appears to be going out like a whole den of lions. Seemingly all knee-length skirts have disappeared in the past few days, and they appear to be several inches above that measurement. But styles must be worn no matter whether we ever have another March or not.

It seems that the office holders of the Federal government, as well as the would be holders among the lame ducks are not going to succeed in keeping cool with Coolidge, for that usually uncommunicative individual has come down on the "not choose" for the third time, which is said to be the charm. They may have to Hooverize with Hoover or yet maybe find some other guy with a catchy rhyme to his name to float them unto the old pie counter with the G. O. P. ticket this fall—if possible.

Tom Blanton has some traits of character that cause a great many people to dislike him, but it seems that a few of his type are almost absolutely necessary in Congress. There is such a general disposition on the part of people to "raid" the treasury whenever they can that a few officious fellows are needed to guard against graft. Blanton would not be a bad man to have in the Senate just at this time.—Tahoka News.

Did you ever see the like of "stuff" coming through the mail these days disguised as news, yet it is nothing but pure advertising. We know that no one would be kind enough to send the local newspaper, real news from some foreign place outside his local community, unless there was some advertising value attached to it; of course, they don't expect to pay for it. No one knows the enormity of this kind of mail but the newspaper publisher. It is growing in magnitude each year. It is a travesty on the advertising department and a reflection on the intelligence of the publisher, besides it takes up lots of time in the disposition of this "stuff" in relegating it to the waste basket. Relief measures are in order and we are tempted to ask our Congressman and Senator to exert his efforts in relieving us of this burdensome mail.—Crosbyton Review.

SMALL KITCHEN NOT PRODUCT OF FLAPPER

Critics of present-day tendencies and living habits are wrong in their contention that the small kitchen and kitchenette signify a decreasing love of home in the younger generation, declares Miss A. Deane Dowell, Home Service Counsellor of the American Gas Association.

"The small kitchen has come with the perfection of labor-saving appliances," she says. "It is not the product of flapper-type girls or their boy friends.

"While everyone knows that labor-saving devices lead to easier house-keeping, the public generally is not aware that these devices have made large and ungainly kitchens unnecessary. Co-incident with the increased value of space in apartments and houses, has come the development of appliances that have made it possible to concentrate the workroom of the house into a small and convenient space."

Spring, the season of newness, ever delightful—when one can scarce wait for that glad day when winter clothes are packed away and windows lose their smoky hue and curtains flutter spick and new.

THE S. S. S. AND T. L. T. CLUBS COMBINE.

The S. S. S. and T. L. T. Clubs met Tuesday afternoon, March 20th with Miss Lois Adams. In a short business meeting it was unanimously agreed upon to unite the two clubs, but the name was not decided upon at this time. Following this meeting forty-two was played. The hostess served refreshments of butter and bread sandwiches, tuna fish salad on lettuce, Butter Scotch pie with whipped cream and hot tea. Present were Misses Bessie Thompson, Kathaleen Alexander, Lillie Mae Bailey, Lena Mae Ballard, Mary Kathryn Anthony, Lou Ellen Brown, and Mrs. Earle Williams of Leveand and Mrs. Earl Anthony Jr.

FRIDAY FORTY-TWO WITH MRS. LEWIS.

Mrs. Dalton Lewis was hostess to the Friday Forty Two Club Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock. The high cut prize for club members went to Mrs. Collins, a doll powder box with powder, the high cut prize for guests went to Mrs. Michie, a bottle of Narcissus perfume; consolation went to Mrs. Kendrick, bath salts. Delicious ice milk chocolate, apple sauce cake and banana split were served. The guests were Mesdames W. C. Smith, McBurnett, Downing, Earl Williams, M. C. Bell, Kendrick, Fred Smith, Dallas, H. W. McSpadden, Claude Hudgins, Michie, Glover, A. M. Brownfield, Cruce, Flem McSpadden, Collins, Knight, Griffin, Self and Townsend.

Mrs. Flem McSpadden was a Lubbock visitor last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Alexander visited Mr. Alexander's parents at Floydada Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Lillie Mae Warren had as a house guest last week, her friend, Miss Singleton of Ralls.

NIGHT CLUB ENTERTAINED

The Night Club was delightfully entertained Thursday evening at eight o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Michie. In bridge Mrs. Wingerd scored high for the ladies and Mr. Bailey for the men. Mrs. Wingerd received a silver compact and Mr. Bailey received a clever owl, an electric cigar lighter.

The hostess served sandwiches, fruit salad, cherry parafit, cake and ice tea.

The guests were Messrs and Mesdames McGowan, King, Tom May, Miller, Enderson, Wingerd, Bailey, Holmes, Bowers and DuBois.

Mrs. R. M. Kendrick and Misses Gladys Kendrick, Lena Mae Ballard, Lillie Mae Bailey, Lou Ellen Brown and Annie Bell Scuddy were Lubbock visitors Friday.

Messrs. T. I. Brown and Andrew Copeland were in Lubbock Friday on business.

Mrs. Dalton Lewis left Saturday morning to visit her mother at Stephenville, Texas.

Mesdames W. M. and Morgan Copeland were in Lubbock, Saturday.

JUNIOR HI LEAGUE ENTERTAINED.

Miss Lenore Brownfield was hostess to the Junior Hi League Friday evening at her home. Many indoor games were enjoyed, among them being a suitcase race which caused lots of fun. The winners were Miss Caroline Chisholm and Vernon Bell with Miss Eileen Ellington and Clifford White winning second places. The girl's prizes were cute pillows and the boy's prizes were rubber snakes.

Following this was a treasure hunt in which the hidden treasures were the refreshments of sandwiches, cake, punch and after-dinner mints. The evening's fun ended with a marsh-mallow roast on the lawn. The hostess was assisted by her mother and sisters, Mrs. Roy Wingerd and Mrs. Ike Bailey.

The guests were Misses Martha

Graves, Pat Shelton, Eileen Ellington, Francis Brownfield, Kathryn Holgate, Pauline Hunter, Alma Brown, Marion Hill, Caroline Chisholm, Kathaleen Hardin, Nettie Thompson and the young men, Murphy May, Sawyer Graham, R. L. Lewis, Dell Smith, John L. Cruce, Lee Brownfield, Clifford White and Vernon Bell.

JUNIORS ENTERTAINED BY MISS SAWYER.

The Junior Class was entertained Friday evening by Miss Christova Sawyer at the home of her sister, Mrs. Clyde Lewis. Forty-Two and bunco were played with Miss Juanita Perkins and Spencer Kendrick getting boxes of candy for prizes. The hostess served sandwiches, olives, potato chips, fruit salad, angel food cake and ice cream topped with cherries. The guests were Misses Julia Head, Gladys Kendrick, Juanita Perkins, Nina Walters and Messrs Spencer Kendrick, Lee Orval Lewis, Eddie Ballard, Jim Cousineau, David Perry, Gilmore Graham, Silvan Tankersly, Kerney Scuddy and Jim Graves.

Miss Esther Gilmore who is teaching at Ragtown but whose home is at Paris, Texas, was the guest of Mrs. Leo Holmes and Miss Sue Crawford for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carter are visiting in Lockney.

Word was received from Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brownfield who were then leaving Florida for a short trip to Havana, Cuba, that upon their return from Havana, they will then start home. They stated that they were having a splendid trip.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR MRS. ADCOCK.

The Ladies of the Methodist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon for their regular social meeting in the home of Mrs. Woolridge, with Mrs. Woolridge and Mrs. Harry Longbrake joint hostesses. A rather unique program of a court scene was carried out with the following court officials presiding:

Judge—Mrs. Powell; Sheriff—Mrs. Downing; Prosecuting Attorney—Mrs. Chisholm; Defense Lawyer—Mrs. Baldwin.

Witness: State—Mrs. Michie and Mrs. Longbrake. Defense—Mrs. Williams.

Prisoner—Mrs. Bernice Adcock. The prisoner was accused of having willfully and with malice aforethought used her many bewitching powers to drive away the clouds and bring sunshine, thus causing no rain. The entire proceeding was very interesting and amusing. The Judge pronounced the following verdict: "You have been found guilty of being in part, if not wholly responsible, for the continued lack of rain in our fair land. As the jury has recommended mercy, I will give you a suspended sentence that you may prove your innocence, or at least, your desire to amend your ways. Having faith in your sincerity, I command the sheriff to bring an umbrella that you may be protected from the rain." The prisoner was very much surprised when she raised the parasol and was showered with many pretty handkerchiefs.

Mrs. Adcock with her husband and little son are leaving next week for Memphis, Texas. She has acquired many friends during her short stay here and will be remembered for her faithfulness in the church and her sunny disposition.

A salad course was served to Mesdames Powell, Downing, Chisholm, Williams, Baldwin, Treadaway, Burson, Helm, Thompson, Michie, Linville, Fitzgerald, Webber, Barrett, Youree, Scuddy, Coleman, Fred Smith and the honoree.

CHURCH OF CHRIST BIBLE CLASS MEETING.

The Church of Christ Bible Class met Monday afternoon at three thirty at the church for the regular weekly Bible Class lesson.

THE FEDERATED CHURCH SOCIETIES MEET.

The Federated Church Societies met Monday at four o'clock at the Presbyterian church. The following interesting program was given:

Song.
Words of Welcome—Mrs. H. W.

McSpadden.

Devotional—Mrs. Perkins.
Duet—Mrs. Ellington and Mrs. Griffin.

Piano Solo—Mrs. Dallas.
Vocal Solo—Mrs. Wingerd.
Benefit of Church Federation—Presidents of the Societies.

The vacancies of president and vice-president were filled with Mrs. Chisholm as president and Mrs. Dunn as vice president. Brick ice cream with cake was served to about fifty guests.

Mr. Sam Bowers and family visited his brother, R. L. Monday. They were returning from a visit in New Mexico.

Mrs. W. R. McDuffie and little daughter spent several days this week visiting in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wines left Wednesday for Vernon on business and to visit their son and family.

HOW THE USEFUL PLANTS CAME TO MANKIND

The Tomato

Of all widely useful food plants of the present day, the tomato is probably the most recent in its adoption into the garden. With such other splendidly useful species as maize, potatoes and tobacco, it boasts an American origin. The original home of the wild tomato was the west coast of tropical America, certainly in Peru, and possibly all up the coast from there to Mexico and even into what is now California.

The tomato has no ancient name in any Asiatic or European language. It was unknown in Japan as recently as 100 years ago. Even in the United States it was viewed with suspicion for many years, and there was a tradition that this bright red "love apple," as some called it, was a poisonous fruit. The first names given to the tomato by botanists who saw specimens brought from America was "tomate Americana." Early writers do not mention it as one of the plants of the West Indies, which, taken with other evidence, would show that it was carried into the islands from the South American mainland.

Location of its earliest home on the West coast is helped by the fact that writers on Brazil and the La Plata district, now the Argentine, made no mention of this plant. A process of elimination places it almost certainly in Peru.

Wild specimens that have been found are similar to the cultivated tomato except that they are smaller, as is usually the case with wild fruits, and are smoother in contour, lacking the outward bulge that distinguishes the different sections in the fruit of a cultivated tomato.

The wild tomato is a seashore plant, indicating, as have several other plants considered in this series, the friendly atmosphere for plants created by the modified temperatures and assured moisture that accompany a location near large bodies of water.

The tomato happily takes its popular name from the American Indian word "tomate" rather than from the pompous botanical name that has been given this species, "Lycopersicon esculentum." If the latter name had been adopted it would now have been up to the canners' association to shorten it, at least to "Lycos."

Miss Christine Harrison and friend, her young lady chum, of Fort Worth, spent the week end here, visiting her mother, Mrs. Rich Bennett.

Mrs. Dalt Lewis left last Saturday for Stephenville, where she will visit her mother.

Cleve Holden merchant of Coahoma, Texas, spent Tuesday here the guest of his sisters, Mrs. Stricklin and Mrs. E. A. Morgan. He was on his way to Sunda to see after property interests there.

CHEVROLET TO BE PATHFINDER IN AFRICA

There is a motoring tour now under way which, it is safe to predict, will out-do in thrills and drama any of the experiences of some 40,000,000 Americans who will take to the highways this season.

It is a tour through jungle trails, over desert wastes, across rivers unbridged except by make-shift pontoons, through mud and swamps and infested marshes. Four men are attempting the journey, a trail-blazing route 10,000 miles long, from Cape Town, in the Southern most part of Africa, to Cairo and thence on a swing through Europe to London.

A good share of the trip is over uncharted lands never before traversed by a stock car, amid jungle life, where a tropical sun burns down by day, and where the wilderness echoes with the threat of savage life at night.

The transportation selected by the adventurers consists of a stock Chevrolet sedan trailed by a Chevrolet truck on which is carried equipment necessary to hew a path through wilderness tangles. Included in the equipment is a complete wireless outfit with which the men will maintain contact with the outside world, and a medical chest containing anti-venom serum and surgical and first aid supplies. Each member has been inoculated against jungle fever.

The run was officially started by radio from New York City by J. D. Mooney, president of General Motors Export, who expects to sail from New York in time to greet the travelers in Europe. The first leg of the run, Cape Town to Cairo, is scheduled for completion in 40 days.

Heading the party is the famous African adventurer, Captain Lacey. Others are a wireless operator, a newspaper man, and a motion picture photographer. Selection of a Chevrolet to carry the party was logical, following a demonstration of the rugged qualities of the car conducted recently by Lacey, in which he bested by nine hours, the time of the express mail train over the 2,000 mile route between Elizabethville and Johannesburg, in South Africa.

The Cape-to-London run, sponsored by General Motors (South Africa) Ltd., was planned originally to end at Cairo, but interest aroused by the project became so keen that the route was extended to include visits to General Motors plants at Alexandria, Berlin, Antwerp, London and Stockholm.

WET—BUT IT BURNED

Usually when material is wet—thoroughly soaked—there is no need to worry about the possibility of fire. There's a joker in the pile though, when hay is the subject of the wetting.

A barn located in New Hampshire, during the flood in November 1927, was particularly wet, being partially submerged. And it contained hay! The owner started to remove the hay when the water had subsided sufficiently, but spontaneous combustion beat him to it. Result—the barn burned to the ground.

Spontaneous combustion is perhaps the least understood of all causes of fire. That's probably the reason why it does so much damage (over fifteen million in 1926 according to figures computed by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.)

Take your own home for instance. How about that cellar, that attic and that garage? Don't forget the closets either! Remove any piles of rags, paper or rubbish. Such materials may be oily or wet without your knowledge. If so, look out! You may wake up in the middle of the night and wonder how you ever got into such a hot place.

Better look around before any damage is done.

The second week Petit Jury will be present Monday and three or four cases are scheduled to come up during the week.—Hockley County Herald.

HENS MUST HAVE 'IT,' IS CLAIM

MADISON, WIS., March 23.—Hens failing to "keep that pullet complexion" have no future.

Poultry experts at the University of Wisconsin advise farmers to keep nothing but flappers—the kind that have big, bright eyes and go to roost late.

"Neat" and "active" are two ways they describe "that certain something" the modern hen must have, together with the stipulation that she be "noisy active and friendly."

The vigorous, attractive hen, they say, is the best layer.

Important Announcement to every owner of a Model T Ford

ON MAY 25, 1927, when Henry Ford first announced his plans for making a new car, he announced also that he would continue to make parts for the Model T Ford. He said:

"The Model T Ford car was a pioneer. It blazed the way for the motor industry and started the movement for good roads everywhere. It broke down the barriers of distance in rural sections, brought people in these sections closer together, and placed education within the reach of everyone. We are still proud of the Model T Ford. If we were not, we would not have continued to make it so long."

For twenty years, the Model T Ford led the automobile industry and it still serves more people than any other automobile. Over one-third of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords—an indication of the sturdy worth of the car and its value to people in all walks of life the world over.

The Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts for these cars "until the last Model T is off the road." That is a part of Ford service. That is what Henry Ford meant when he said: "We believe that when a man buys one of our cars we should keep it running for him as long as we can and at the lowest up-keep cost."

Because of this policy a considerable part of the Ford manufacturing plants is given over to the making of parts for the Model T Ford. These replacement parts are made of the same material and in the same way as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Make it a point, therefore, to see the nearest Ford dealer and have him look over your Model T Ford. You may find that a very small expenditure will enable you to get thousands of miles of additional service, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

BROWNFIELD BOY MAKING GOOD PLAYS AT N. M. M. I.

Blue Eyes Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aut Graham of this city, who is now attending the New Mexico Military Institute seems to be making some good records for the M. I. team according to some clippings taken from the week end edition of the El Paso Herald. With note to the game last Friday between the Military Institute and Mack Saxon's Texas College of Mines: "Graham, Institute third baseman, made the best showing for his team. He played errorless ball around the hot corner, and slammed out a trio of safeties."

And then in a game Saturday between the two same teams with the score of 27 to 5 in the N. M. M. I. Cadets favor we noted this: "The Miners only managed to obtain three hits off the delivery of Graham, who whiffed 13 of them."

Hurrah for Blue Eyes!

Good crowds were reported present at the Rialto both nights of the vaudeville presented by the Marine and Firestone Co., Monday and Tuesday nights. The program consisted of music and dancing, slight of hand performances and fortune telling by the Mme. Marine, besides complete change of screen pictures for the two nights of a comedy, news reel and a feature.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson, a son at 6 A. M., Wednesday.

NEW USES FOR COTTON

"Congressman Jones' bill to enlist the Government in the task of discovering new uses for cotton has been favorably reported by the House Agricultural Committee. The Texan's effort is thus again brought to the final stage. In the last Congress, a similar bill by Mr. Jones was passed by the House only to be caught in the legislative jam which was precipitated by the filibuster in the Senate during the closing hours of the session. A considerable amount of work was done, however, under the authorization of the appropriation bill, which carried an item for this purpose. Mr. Jones' new bill is to authorize continuance of this work.

The bill does not, of course, set itself up as a solution of the troubles of the cotton farmer. But since it is obvious that an increase in the use of produces it, the measure has its cotton would benefit the man who merits as farm relief legislation. The Government has been called on to extend aid to agriculture. Many of the legislative expressions of this demand provide for more or less direct extension of federal aid. Mr. Jones' bill, however, would merely perform for the cotton farm that service which management in other industries always seeks to accomplish—the stimulation of consumption of the product. Private organizations of the steel industry, the copper industry, the electric industry, and what not, undertake this promotion work. The cotton farmers have no such organization. The Government is asked to stand in the fostering position indicated.

Obviously, the finding of new uses for cotton will be the most valuable when these uses are found not at the expense of other American products. We take it that such will be the guiding principle of the investigation. Obviously, also, stimulation of consumption of cotton will be valuable only so long as a corresponding stimulation of production does not nullify the gains that may be made in the first instance.

To this latter end, the efforts which in recent years and now are being devoted to holding cotton production within bounds should be continued. Overproduction of cotton in the South has a two-fold ill effect. It prevents the farmers from getting a living price from their principal crop, and it prevents the development of balanced farming or diversification.

Only 20,000 Listed

in World's Who's Who

Paris.—Of the 1,500,000,000 inhabitants of the earth, 20,000 have a right to be considered members of a world aristocracy of brains and achievement.

This is the opinion of Robert Wilberforce, editor of an international super-who's-who, now being compiled with the assistance of the League of Nations Institute of Intellectual Co-operation. He was formerly with the news department of the British foreign office and passed many years in America.

The volume, later to be expanded in size, will contain biographies of the world's leading men and women. In order to get a balanced representation in the various fields of thought and activity, proportions will vary in accordance with the type of activity most developed in each nation. Thus America will furnish a large number of industrialists and bankers, France many artistic and literary figures, India philosophers, England statesmen, etc. The first edition will be ready before the end of 1928.

Judges Trade Cases in Which Families Figure

Enterprise, Ore.—The habit of sons following in the footsteps of their fathers has resulted in judicial complications in eastern Oregon which are being offset by the ingenuity of the families and courts affected.

Judge C. H. McCulloch of Baker has a son, Frank C. McCulloch, who is a leading member of the Baker legal fraternity. Judge James A. Fee of Umatilla has an attorney father, former Judge James A. Fee, Sr.

Both judges feel that an impartial trial is impossible when relatives are involved, and they recognize the fact that others might entertain similar feelings.

To offset this difficulty the judges have arranged a regular system of trading cases, which takes care of the conflicts. Judge Fee hears cases in which Attorney McCulloch appears, and Judge McCulloch hears the cases in which Attorney Fee has a part.

New Gas Cell Lining Cuts Dirigible Cost

Washington.—A new fabric for lining the gas cells of dirigibles, as light and effective but only one-third as costly as that made with the precious goldbeater's skin, has been developed for the Navy department after years of research in the bureau of standards.

"A substitute for goldbeater's skin has been sought by the air powers of the world since it became apparent in 1910 that the lighter-than-air ship was destined to be an important instrument of war and commerce. Development of a satisfactory substitute, employing cellulose, at this time is particularly valuable to the United States in view of the plan to construct for the navy two $8,000,000 airships larger than either the Shenandoah or the Los Angeles.

RIDING AMERICAN TRAINS SAFER THAN BANKING

On the Union Pacific record for 1927, a passenger could travel 2400 times around the world before he'd be in danger of an accident; and the average railroad worker would labor for 120 years to achieve only one accident. The passenger record is the same as that of 1926; but there is a gain of 27 per cent in employe safety.

Not so very long ago, one seldom saw a middle aged trainman who had not lost at least a part of a hand; and the cemeteries were crowded with those who had lost their all. Nowadays railroading is safer than banking; safer than almost any other kind of important work. Railroad travel is safer than staying at home or going to the movies.

It has all come through intelligent private application to the job that offers a man a chance to climb by his own ability and endeavor. They make no such records on state railroads; and on the best of those, so far behind the American records for safety and efficiency, the costs are prohibitive. Take away the privilege of ambition and profit; substitute politics for ability; put officious red tape in the place of direct personality—and you get no such life saving records as this Union Pacific story. And this is but one of the many American railroad stories that differ only in microscopic degree.
