Chamber of Commerce

By the Secretary

Thursday of next week is the day of the District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Lamesa. We want to send a large delegation down there as we want to pull it over to Brownfield next year. Get ready and if you have a spare seat in your car, offer it to some one who does not have any way to get to the convention. A few cars will be needed to carry some of the band boys and we have several stunt players who will need a ride. It won't cost us anything to entertain a convention of this kind and all that is needed is a lot of boosting of a kind that will get the votes for us.

Several farmers were in last week for the purpose of inquiring for Maize, Kaffir and Higera seed, that they said had been advertised by this office and the writer was somewhat puzzled until upon reading the notice, he found that County Agent Davis, desired to place some pure re-cleaned seed in limited quantities. The only connection that the writer or chamber of commerce has with the matter, is that if Mr. Davis is not in town, that orders may be left with us for delivery to him when he returns.

The Fort Worth-Roswell Air Line Highway Association met at Post City on the 25th and lots of "oratory" was indulged in and some information divulged as to advertising arrangements and importance of the route but nothing definite was decided upon except to line up some of the towns who had not contributed to the advertising fund. A meeting will be called within the next few days and will be held in Brownfield. An effort will be made to have representatives from all towns between Fort Worth and Roswell. New officers and directors will be elected and an advertising plan perfected.

Captain Ed Kennedy and a contractor from Houston, arrived here last week for the purpose of looking over the route and its final location. If the road is built into Brownfield, it will come in on the south side of town. The railway committee assured Captain Kennedy, that they were ready to demonstrate upon their contract when he produced evidence that he was ready, able and willing to construct his line.

AMARILLO ENDEAVORS WILL ENTERTAIN CONVENTION

The Amarillo Christian Endeavors will entertain the State Christian Endeavor Convention June 13-17, 1928. The entertaining churches are Central Presbyterian Church, Rev. F. Thomson, Minister; First Christian Church, Rev. F. W. O'Malley, Minister; and West Amarillo Christian Church, Rev. W. O. Dallas, Minister.

The speakers who have definitely accepted the invitation to take part in the convention program are: Mr. E. P. Gates, General Secretary, International Society of C. E., whom the Endeavors of Texas know and love so well; Mr. Paul C. Brown of California will lead the Quiet Hour Programs; Miss Mildred Haggard, Junior Expert, Minneapolis, Minn., will have charge of the Junior program; Mr. Harold Singer, Executive Secretary of Oklahoma C. E. Union, Mr. Roy Bregg, General Secretary of Kansas C. E. Union and Mr. E. F. Huppertz, General Secretary of Texas C. E. Union.

The theme of the Convention will be "Crusade with Christ" which challenge was accepted by the young people throughout the continent Easter Sunday, April 8th. The theme will be carried through the conferences, discussion periods, study classes and presented by the convention speakers.

The entertainment committee is planning to give the delegates a treat on the way of a real "West Texas" barbecue prepared by a famous cook of the "Old West." It is expected that 1000 delegates will be entertained at this convention.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to extend our deepest appreciation and thanks to the people of Brownfield and surrounding communities for their liberal support in our drive for a building fund. The building has been completed and services were held there last Sunday. Again we thank you.

Sincerely,
Wellman Church of Christ.

Mighty Dog-Gone Poor Herald This Week

What with the first on hand with its many and varied bills to settle, and with a few to put out ourselves, and with the whole family down with cold and flu—or rather just plain gripe, we are going to hand the readers a rather short paper this week as much as we hate to do so. We never were very much to offer excuses for shortcoming, for everybody has enough of their own to offer to keep themselves disgusted, but occasionally everything can seem to conspire together to just simply make news as scarce as the proverbial "hens teeth." Kindly that way this week.

When a week of that time comes, all a fellow can do is just make a stab at a few things and trust Providence for the balance. There is lots of sickness, to be sure, but not serious, and people don't like to read about sickness. None of our heirs have run away with the family "choffer;" therefore there is no gossip to speak of. No one has shot their mother-in-law; therefore there is no court news. No one has stolen his neighbor's "hoss," and therefore there has been no necktie-parties—or what have you. The courthouse and jail together with all the business houses are still standing at this writing. No earth-quakes, cyclones, eruptions or other calamities except dry weather, and we are used to that, but expect it to rain soon.

Now that is exactly what we want in order to have something to write about—a good rain. It would give us more real news to the inch—of rain—than anything we can think of just at this time. It would infuse new life into us and get our brains out of the sandstorms for a few days. It would probably change some pessimist with a face as long as a fence rail into a Fatty Arbuckle faced booster.

Speaking of rain, however, we have not heard very much aching along that line, for to put it into the language of J. J. Johnson, it has been too cold to plant even if we had the season. The farmers say however, that the time has about arrived when rain is wanted and expected, but one fellow remarked that he didn't plant anything last year until June, and then made all he could gather. But, says he, I had rather plant earlier and get done gathering before cold weather. We had an unusually late fall last year which was the reason we got the crop we did, planted when it was.

Neither are the merchants grumbling to amount to anything, for as a whole they are of one accord in saying that business is better than for years at the time of year, and that it is nearly 50 percent better than 1927. So after all, about all we can decide is the matter with us just pure-dee laziness.

A 175 PER CENT LAMB CROP THIS SPRING

J. H. Pettit, one of our County Commissioners, who has maintained a sheep ranch in the northwest but who sold the greater number some time ago, states that he now has about 200 head of the Black-face Hampshires and has had a 175 per cent lamb crop this season. The greater number of ewes giving birth to twins and three having found triplets.

Mr. Pettit is again building up a herd of sheep, and it will be of thoroughbreds and of a superior quality usually found in this country. The Hampshires are farm sheep and cannot be herded, says Mr. Pettit, and they are of a strain that will be adapted to small farm herds.

Sheep are about the most profitable animals that can be kept on the farm, and they should have a place in the diversification program which is being worked out in Hockley County. They largely subsist and thrive on weeds and what would otherwise be waste. Also the wool market bids fair to keep around its present level on account of some of the largest ranges of the world, notably that in South America and Australia, are being cut up, and the number of wool bearing animals are not keeping up with the increase of the world's population.—Levelland Herald.

Coahoma—The town of Coahoma has recently renewed its affiliation with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Brownfield Must Make Efforts for Convention

Brownfield and Terry county people should, and we believe will make a big effort next Thursday to bring the 1929 convention of the District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to this city. In doing so, it will give Brownfield a lot of good advertising not only over the district, but over the state and entire southwest, for all the big papers send reporters to cover these affairs and to gather local data for signed articles by staff correspondents.

We are glad to see Secretary J. E. Shelton taking a lead in the movement, and if the people of the town and county will follow his lead, very little expense will be attached, but we will get a big lot of help from delegations who are not instructed for anyone. Besides our delegates will get a big kick out of the trip. And you don't have to be an elected delegate to work for the convention to come here next year. Anybody and everybody can boost.

We are informed that an endeavor will be made to get a number of our farmers to go along and help bring the convention to this city, and we are sure that this will be a big help when the delegations begin to vote and learn that even the farmers of Terry county are interested in us obtaining the convention next year. It will not cost the town a penny to entertain the convention other than securing places for the meetings, decorations, etc.

We understand that our sister county city, Meadow, will vote for Brownfield, as well as a number of others whose identity we do not wish to disclose at this time. We have a spunky rival in Tahoka, and we are going to have to get up before day if we land that convention.

Most of us can spare one day away from business and take in the convention, as it comes on a day when most of our citizens are not busy, and each place of business can spare one or two of their members or force. However, it is press day for the Herald, and it doubts seriously being able to make the grade, but is willing to help otherwise.

New Blacksmith and Machine Shop Opens

I. H. Griffin & Son, of Lubbock, have recently opened up a brand new blacksmith and machine shop in the old Harrel & Ivey stand, one block north of the Hotel Brownfield. They are this week moving their household goods down and becoming citizens indeed.

The Herald man called Wednesday morning, but both proprietors were away after their household goods, but another gentleman who is working for them kindly showed us over the plant, and explained it many conveniences. Among other things seen in the usual blacksmith shop, are, a large trip-hammer, power drills, power emery, etc. The forge, as well as other machinery are equipped to be run by electricity which makes for convenience and good work. They not only do general blacksmithing, but repair automobiles, and do oxcetylene welding.

We welcome these good folks to Brownfield, and we ask that the readers call on them and become acquainted.

P. V. BOOSTERS CLUB

Mr. Davis, our new County Agent came out here today and helped us organize our club.

We called it the Pleasant Valley Boosters Club. For President, we elected, Allene Tapp; Vice-Pres., Solomae Steen and for Secretary and Treasurer, Alda Mae Steen. We have about 25 members and are expecting more soon.

Some of the girls have their garden and chickens already started. Also the boys their pigs.

If the Pleasant Valley Boosters Club isn't the best in the county, it won't be because we fell down on the job. We can and are willing to fight a good battle anyway.

When you hear from us again, we will be well along in our work, which is boosting our county and State.

Mildred Tapp, Reporter.

Neill Still After the Ruthless Rabbit Raids

Editor Herald:

Notwithstanding the wise and cautious admonition, last week to preserve our native food supply, our people, from community to community continue to slay the rabbits and drag out the candidates. They have pulled two bigger drives this week than ever. But I might have known this. It is characteristic of our modern folks. I did know it, but just wanted to see if our folks were like the rest. I soon found out—yes, the American disposition is universal. Just tell the people they can't or ought not to do a certain thing, and they will proceed at once to do it, in spite of so-forth and highwater. Tell a fellow not to speed and he will run over you. Tell the boy not to drink a drop of that poisonous stuff it will kill him, and he will drink a quart and take in the town; tell the girl to cut out from that low-browed, cold-checking pusillanimous whelp, that's been honking out in front, and she will run away next week and marry him. Look how they did prohibition for instance, the more we demand law enforcement, the more jars they buy. Pass a compulsory home-brew law—and we'll be bone dry in a year. Look what the preachers did—commenced denouncing short skirts away back yonder below the knees, now look where they went too! (of course you do) for goodness sake, hush preacher hush, while they have a margin left.

Keep up the fight on Al Smith, and they will nominate him sure. If Coolidge says no, no, a few more times, they'll sure draft him, why even since I announced I would not run again, I have had more solicitation, than all put together the many times before when I wanted to run. Let the Speakers and newspapers go to telling the people to bolt the ticket, they ought to bolt, they have to bolt, and see'em roll up more democratic votes, than there were poll taxes paid!

This disposition is not limited to individuals. Germany told us we couldn't use the ocean, and we promptly put on every boat we had, all we could borrow and then built more, and we would have covered the ocean over with'em, if she hadn't kamarraded. This peculiar trait of cantriness, has come down from old. We note its outcropping all through history. Even Christ had the same trouble with Jerusalem, that I am having with Terry county, for he once said, "Oh Jerusalem how oft would I have gathered you under my wings, and ye WOULD NOT." This thing must have started with Adam when God told him not to eat that apple, which all shows we descended from Adam alright. Positive proof against evolution, that far, Aesculapias can have it from Adam on back.

Well anyway it is a horrible sight, to look out over these beautiful prairies, so recently teeming with animal life, and see their white sides glistening in the evening sun, and hear their dying screams far into the silent night, while their slayers are snugly sleeping, and dreaming of government relief, all unmindful of the fact that ere the next winters wind in its chilly sighing, may reach these screams, in the human cries of hungry kids—and the "cub-hard is bare." Oh, what's the use. Well there is no appeasing feature in it to me, and that is to see these candidates, with tongues lolling out, dragging their left hind foot, come wearily wobbling in, and slump down on the curb, with a-wish-I-hadn't-run, look on their face, for they begin to realize there will be another big drive of extermination, in July, and then there will be other white sides heaving their last on the prairie.

Oh well its an ill wind that blows no good.

Geo. W. Neill.

Uncle Johnny King Sub-Leases Hotel

Mr. T. H. Coulter of Austin, Texas has leased the King Hotel from Uncle Johnny King, and moved in the first to take charge of the same. We understand that Uncle Johnny took in the consideration the State of New Mexico to sell a patent wire stretcher and fence mender from the sub-lease and will likely move to that state in the near future to try his hand at selling something besides meals. He is a good meal seller and a good corn buyer—when he has on his yellow duster—and we believe he will make a good wire "fixer" seller too with a little practice.

The King Hotel property belongs to our esteemed townsman, L. C. Wines, and was the first modern hotel to be built in this city. While we regret exceedingly to lose Uncle Johnny and his splendid family, we are pleased to welcome the newcomers within our gates, and hope they may prosper.

Brownfield Laundry Under New Managers

A. L. Burnett, local auto dealer, has bought and leased the controlling interest in the Brownfield Steam Laundry recently, and formerly took charge the past week. He has appointed Mr. McLemore as manager, a man of some experience in laundry work. Almost the same old crew were at work Tuesday morning when we called on the business. This means that everything will move along in tiptop shape with no hang-ups in breaking a new crew.

A. L. is no rut man, but will give back into the laundry all it makes, and at the same time will give the people the very best service possible. Lots of new, modern machinery has recently been installed, and other, we understand, will be installed as needs arise.

With proper patronage, the Brownfield laundry can be made one of the best in this section in a few years. Don't forget that home people are running it, and they in turn spend their money with you.

P. T. A. ELECTS OFFICERS FOR THE COMING YEAR

The local P. T. A. met in regular session Tuesday night at eight o'clock. The program was very unusually good, instructive and entertaining. There was a large attendance of parents and friends of progressive schools. After the program consisting of some real music by the High School Orchestra; Address by Rev. J. W. Chisholm, on Health; stunts by high fourth grade; and report of the District P. T. A. Convention, by Fladger Tannery, the organization went into the election of officers for another year. Mrs. Lawrence Dunn, was elected President; Mrs. Flem McSpadden, Vice-President; Mrs. W. G. Harris, Secretary and Mrs. O. W. Fagala, Treasurer.

We are trusting that the new officers will take hold of the organization with the determination to make it worth while to the school and to the community. This can not be brought about merely by the efforts of the officers, but if the patrons of Brownfield will work with these able leaders then such an organization can and will be of untold value to the school, the community, and to the individuals that are working in it. Be a worker of the Parent-Teachers Association, and know your school that you might speak intelligently of it and it's works.

The success of any school depends upon the efforts manifested by people interested in school, toward the centering of all efforts on the school.

DISTRICT COURT OF LAWSON COUNTY ADJOURNS

District Court adjourned Wednesday until Monday.

The two men charged with burglarizing the Horne-Hanson store got off easy, being given 8 and 10 years.

There were two cases of suspended sentence. The grand jury adjourned to Monday, after finding 24 bills.—Lamesa Journal.

Farm Bureau to Meet Here Saturday

Members of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association in Terry County will meet at the county courthouse at Brownfield next Saturday afternoon, May 5th, at three o'clock, for the purpose of selecting delegates to a district convention which will be held next week in the process of electing annually directors on the Board of the State Association. This announcement was made by M. Mitchell, field service representative of the organization in Terry County.

The affairs of the cotton co-operative marketing association are controlled by the membership, Mr. Mitchell said, through directors selected by them. "Various county meetings are being held all over the State next Saturday by the members where delegates to district conventions are named. At these district conventions the following Saturday, nominees are selected, and these nominees later balloted upon by the members through postal card ballot. The democratic principles of the elections are carried out on the basis of one man one vote." The State Board is composed of twenty directors elected by the members, together with three public directors, one appointed by the President of the Texas A. & M. College, one by the Governor, and one by the President of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, it was said. The new directors take office July 1st next for the following twelve months.

In addition to the selection of delegates at the meeting in Brownfield, next Saturday, Mr. Mitchell said that there would be other important business to come before the meeting and a full attendance of the membership has been urged. "All others interested in the advancement of cotton-co-operative marketing have also been invited to attend, whether members or not.

Another Landmark Passing this Week

One by one the old land marks of the pioneer days of Brownfield are passing out. The latest to get the wrecking crew was the old tin building on the south side of the square that used to house a mill run by the late H. F. Adams and son, Will.

The old building was erected some twelve or fourteen years ago or directly after the Adams family moved from Gomez to Brownfield. Much good corn was being raised in the county, but no one was running any grist mill, and as the Adams' owned the old grist mill in the old Gomez gin, they decided to erect a sheet iron building here and install the milling machinery. A new International engine was ordered to pull the mill, and for years Uncle Horace, as he was familiarly called, did a good business each Saturday grinding corn for his customers not only in Terry, but also in adjoining counties of Yoakum and Gaines. He kept the mill going each Saturday until he became too feeble to look after it, and the machinery finally went to the bad.

Workmen are this week tearing the old building down, and we presume it will be moved out to some of the Adams farms and converted into a barn or other outbuildings. Anyway, an old building that once looked alright to us, but had become an eyesore with nice bricks creeping upon it from the east, is being torn away, and we hope to give place to a new and modern building, but we have no such information at this time.

GERMAN NEUROLOGISTS' REMEDY

Eighty-three German neurologists and insanity specialists have published a pressing call not to take Christian teaching from the young, i. e., in the German public schools (Psychiatrisch-neurologische Wochenschrift, No 49) "In the present lamentable struggle of political parties over the schools," they say, "attempts are being made, in a folly truly irresponsible, to shake the foundations of Christianity. We, the undersigned insanity and nerve specialists, who have daily opportunities to look into the deep abysses of psychic need and suffering, earnestly warn against allowing the belief in Christ even in the least degree to lapse in the hearts of our youth, since this it is that is the real anchor in the storms of our time. The Christian religion is now and will remain the philosophy, the psychology, the ethic, the socialism. Therein are we psychiatrists and neurologists at one with the greatest and noblest among the spirits whom the German people are proud to name as her sons, and who have taught us to recognize the nature and ends of Christianity in its infinite wisdom, truth, freedom, and strength."

MACHINERY HAS NOT CAUSED UNEMPLOYMENT

Increased use of power and greater mechanization of industry has not contributed to unemployment, National Industrial Conference Board surveys show.

While productive output per wage earner increased 40 per cent from 1914 to 1925, total manufacturing production increased over 65 per cent during same period. Thus not only were the 29 per cent of workers who were released by increased individual output absorbed in this greater total production, but number of needed workers increased by about 1,500,000.

Furious Bride Balks at Rules and Leaves Altar

St. Clairsville, Ohio.—Because he laid down ten rules of conduct for his prospective bride as they stood before the church altar, Nick Masciarelli is still a bachelor.

Masciarelli chose the last minute to tell Miss Rose Devecky what would be expected of her after she became his wife. Hearing the last of the ten rules, Miss Devecky cast away her bridal veil, hurled her corsage of flowers at the man and stormed out of the church.

His bride, in the opinion of the would-be bridegroom, should be prepared to wash all the dishes, have meals ready on time, should not walk the streets at night and avoid looking at other men. There were other rules less important.

Now Masciarelli is trying to get his money back for the marriage license. "This is a lesson to those who would get married," he said. "Always explain just what you are going to require of your wife before buying the license."

Prisoners Buy Gun for Popular Jailer

Richmond, Va.—John Mitchell, Beaufort county, N. C. jailer, is carrying a brand new pistol presented to him by prisoners.

Mitchell treated the prisoners so considerably they took up a collection to buy the gun. It is a costly weapon.

He is said to be the only jailer in America whose charges thought enough of him to buy him a gun with which he might shoot them in the event anything went "wrong" in the prison.

Division of Lifetime

Some one has figured out that the average man spends his "three score and ten" years about as follows: In sleep, 23 years, 4 months; at work, 19 years, 8 months; at play, 10 years; eating and drinking, 6 years; dressing and undressing, 2 years; travelling, 4 years; sick and convalescing, 4 years; miscellaneous, 1 year.

Browning's Geese

In his last London garden Browning kept a pair of geese, which he called Edinburgh and Quarterly, after that pair of vociferous magazines. Critics, he said, are human geese. They can only cackle when benevolent, and hiss when malicious. He would admit, though, that the critical pond harbors other fowl. Occasionally thereon a duck dives adroitly and brings up a trophy, a swan swims gracefully to the point.—Frances Theresa Russell, in "One Word More on Browning."

Less Snow in Arctics

That in spite of the freezing temperature there is less snow in the Arctic regions than in this country has been revealed by official figures. The total annual precipitation is seldom more than ten inches, whereas central parts of the United States have forty or more. The dry air, caused by the low temperature of the Arctics, can give rise to little rain or snow.

Meaning of "Greyhound"

The "grey" in greyhound is not meant to represent the color of the animal. "Grey" is a Scandinavian word for hound, this particular species of animal from that country having the name. So that when we use the word "greyhound" we are really saying "hound-hound."

Son of Jay Gould Orphans' Benefactor

Houston, Texas.—An unannounced stranger walked into the De Pelcin Faith Home for Children here recently, said his name was Gould, and asked to see the children.

Most of them were in school, but when they appeared there was a romp for the man, whom they remembered from his last visit three years before. He was Edwin Gould, son of Jay Gould, the financier.

Gould gave the home $5,000 three years ago, and since has sent money, clothing, toys, food and books at regular intervals.

He explained to the children that he was going from New York to the West Indies, and on reaching New Orleans had decided to pay the home a visit.

New Uses for Rubber

Rubber walls in office buildings to decrease vibrations, and streets and sidewalks paved with rubber, are among the recent uses chemists have found for the product. They have also adapted the material to the making of interior decorations.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Rock Cisterns Show How Indians Lived

Alamogordo, N. M.—Small jug-shaped cisterns, cut into solid rock in the driest section of the Sacramento mountains, may solve the secret of how Indians lived in the desert.

The cisterns, discovered recently by Forest Ranger W. H. Woods, are most ingeniously located so that rain from the mountain side naturally drained into them. Each cistern was covered with a large flat rock, which observers believe served the double purpose of keeping the cistern hidden and free from rubbish.

The cisterns, of which many have been found, held from five to ten gallons of water each.

Only One Oil Well, but It's a Town

Roxana, Okla.—Roxana, newest oil town in Oklahoma, is built on only one oil well.

It is less than nine months old, but it has a post office and more than fifty buildings. It came into being because the Roxana Petroleum corporation discovered oil and gas at a depth of almost 6,000 feet.

The oil and gas well is the only one in the vicinity, but its production entitles it to distinction as Roxana's major industry. Although production is curtailed, the well's output has already been 500,000 barrels of oil, 800,000,000 cubic feet of gas and 1,000,000 gallons of gasoline taken from the gas by means of an absorption process.

MOTHER OF W. A. HOLDRIDGE DIES AT STIGLER, TEXAS

Mrs. Sarah A. Holdridge, age 81 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Wood in Stigler, Tuesday morning after an illness of more than a year following a fall.

Mrs. Holdridge was born May 16, 1847 in Alabama, where she met and married John T. Holdridge at the close of the Civil War in 1867. Mr. Holdridge was a Confederate soldier, who died March 31, 1927. To this union were born eleven children, eight of whom are now living.

Mrs. Holdridge was a member of the Christian church for more than forty years, and was a devoted wife and mother, a good friend and neighbor. With her at the time of her death were her daughter, Mrs. Mary Wood and three sons, A. A., A. T., and R. E. Holdridge.

She leaves to mourn her departure two daughters, Mrs. Mary Wood of Stigler; Mrs. Martha Scott of San Gabriel, Cal.; six sons, W. A. Holdridge of Brownfield, Texas; H. A. of Houston, Ark.; G. W. of Hermaleigh, Tex.; R. E. of Hoyt, Texas; T. A. of Bokoshe; Rev. A. A. of Stigler; two grandsons, George Gray and Henry Holdridge of Spiro and granddaughter, Mrs. John Reynolds of Maud, Okla.

Funeral services were held at Hoyt at 3:30 Thursday afternoon, Rev. L. R. Crumb of Oak Ridge being in charge of the services.

We are beginning work on our program for the close of school.

Guy Smith visited Garland Sims Sunday.

Mrs. Brown is spending this week with her daughter Mrs. Riley Bryan.

There was a singing at Mr. G. D. Montgomery's Sunday night.

W. C. Cheak visited J. L. Lyon Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hallman are the proud parents of a fine baby boy who arrived Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Williams and children visited Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Thomson, Sunday.

We are sorry to report the death of one of the little infant twins born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hansen. Mrs. Hansen and the other little baby are not doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Cullens, who live 20 miles northeast of town visited Mrs. J. B. Williams, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. J. B. Williams and Mrs. A. fill visited Mrs. E. L. Williams, Friday.

Lakeview—A Farmers Cooperative Gin Association has been organized here with a membership of 148.

BALD HEAD TWICE SAVES MAN'S LIFE

Korean Mob Amused at Missionary's Head.

Chattanooga, Tenn. — Dr. Douglas McCallie, Presbyterian missionary in Korea, has glad news for bald-headed men, especially if they plan to travel in the Orient.

The missionary, whose head is bare of hair, credits his baldness with having twice saved his life. Once while traveling in Korea his path was crossed by a mob of natives in search of a Japanese who had killed two Koreans. The missionary was mistaken for the slayer, but as he was about to be seized, he took off his hat. An ecstasy of amusement went up from the mob on sight of the bald pate and Doctor McCallie was not molested.

Later the missionary went to the rescue of a Christian girl who had been taken from a church school and added to the harem of a wealthy Korean. Attacked by the incensed native, Dr. McCallie squared off for a fight. Realizing that Koreans fight by seizing their opponent's hair with one hand and pummeling with the other, the missionary removed his hat. The Korean looked at him in amazement, said Mr. McCallie, and blurted out, "How can I fight you when I can't get hold of your head?" Again the death threat was replaced by laughter.

There are no bald-headed natives in Korea, said Doctor McCallie.

Silence of 30 Years Is Broken by Death

Warsaw.—After thirty years of self-imposed silence, Samuel Frommer is dead in the Ghetto of Kzortow, in Galicia. For three decades Frommer had not spoken a word.

Frommer as a young man quarreled with his wife and in the height of his anger expressed the wish that she might be burned alive.

Within a week his house took fire and Mrs. Frommer and their two children died in the flames. Frommer, of a mystical character, saw in the coincidence an evidence of heavenly wrath. He took public vows "never again to make use of that organ which had made him guilty."

From that moment "Samuel the Silent," as he became known, devoted his life to the study of the Talmud and other Hebrew religious writings.

But he never spoke again.

PUNISH THE ARSONIST TO THE LIMIT

Arson is often called the "crime of crimes" and there is good justification for such a title. It is responsible for more than 50 per cent of the lives of firemen lost in all fires. One arson fire is said to cost more than a dozen accidental fires.

Many fires where reason cannot be proved and which are listed in the "unknown" or "miscellaneous" column, are caused by arson. It is estimated that 20 per cent of all fires are incendiary.

Arson is a crime committed against society, not just against insurance companies. Arson is committed by the lowest type of criminal—one who does not hesitate to endanger the lives of innocent people.

Arson is being combated by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, working with leading states and cities. A model arson law is being urged in various states. Many suspicious fires today are being investigated by arson detectives and increased convictions are resulting. No leniency should be shown the arsonist.

JAPANESE EMPEROR A TEETOTALER

It is a little known fact, even within the confines of the Japanese Empire, that the Emperor is an absolute teetotaler. On the Royal Banquet tables not a drop of alcoholic beverage is set, and, in addition, His Majesty is also a non-smoker. This good example of the Mikado already has begun to exert a benign influence over the youth of Japan, and many who have been addicted to pay homage at the shrine of Bacchus or to enjoy the fragrant weed have eschewed the practices altogether, these young men reading in the act of His Majesty an example to them all.

The 300 special policemen whose duty it is to guard the Palace precincts have taken the pledge, and the Emperor's example is giving the spreading Temperance movement a tremendous impetus.—"North China Herald."

AMERICAN NEGRO A REAL UNEDUCATED ARTIST

Champions of the Negro are now asserting that he is the creator of the only things artistic that have yet sprung from the soil and been universally acknowledged as distinctive American products.

One critic classifies the contributions of the Negro under four heads; religious songs (Spirituals), folk tales (Uncle Remus stories), dancing buck and wing, turkey trot, Charleston), and secular music (ragtime, blues, jazz).

Without education and with no background of culture, the Negro has expressed his philosophy and his sense of poetry, rhythm, and humor in simple forms and movements of his own invention.

These forms have been adapted by clever musicians, dancing teachers, and story tellers, and given wide distribution and popularity.

TITLES IMPORTANT IN WASHINGTON LIFE

Newcomer's First Task Is to Learn Rules.

Washington.—Official life in Washington runs by rigid social rules, and one of the things the newcomer must learn, if he likes to conform, is the proper way to address those who make up society in the national capital.

If one should happen upon President Coolidge some morning in the park it would not be regarded as exactly correct to say "How do you do, Mr. Coolidge." Rather, one would lift his hat and give him a "Good morning, Mr. President."

The manner in which a President should be addressed has provided some interesting pages in American history. In the early days of the republic, when the heavy requirements of European royal courts still enveloped the colonists, there were many who insisted he should be called "Your Excellency," but this did not set well with a young democracy.

"Mr. President" Proper.
Wives of the first American President had a great deal to do with this. Mrs. Adams never referred to her husband as President in any way. She said "Mr. Adams" when it was necessary. But gradually the title "Mr. President" has come into good usage, and today even Mrs. Coolidge, like her immediate predecessors, speaks of her husband as "The President."

Newspapers frequently refer to the Executive as "Mr. Coolidge," but this is mainly to vary the monotony of composition. The correspondent, in speaking to him, always say "Mr. President."

The rules are equally well established concerning members of the cabinet. All of them are addressed as "Mr. Secretary" except in the case of the postmaster general and the attorney general, where more latitude is permitted. A great many address Postmaster General New and Attorney General Sargent as "General," but this somewhat confusing salutation does not suit some of those who come in contact with these officials and they have adopted the less ponderous form and say merely "Mr. New" or "Mr. Sargent."

Most every one addresses Vice President Dawes as "Mr. Vice President," although a considerable group, especially among the newspaper men, stick to his army title and call him "General." Mr. Dawes likes this salutation better than the more awkward "Mr. Vice President." In the senate, of which he is presiding officer, he is addressed as "Mr. President." Members of that body are always addressed as "Senator," although their wives refer to them as "Mr. Jones" or "Mr. Reed," or whatever the case, might be.

There is no fixed form of salutation for members of the house of representatives. Generally speaking their names are prefixed by the plain everyday "Mr.," although many address them as "Congressmen," or by some previously earned or complimentary title such as "Judge," "Doctor," or "Colonel."

Taft is "Mr. Justice."
William Howard Taft is "Mr. Justice," and occasionally "Mr. Chief Justice." His associates on the Supreme court are addressed as "Mr. Justice," but members of other federal courts are merely "Judge Smith" or as the case may be.

But the newcomer to Washington is taxed most strenuously when he comes to a conversation with an envoy from a foreign country. Washington has developed a relatively simple usage for foreign representatives. An ambassador always is "Mr. Ambassador," and a minister plenipotentiary always "Mr. Minister," no matter what has been his station in European society.

D. H. Griffin is a new reader of the Herald.

R. W. Scales of Hedley was down the past week looking after his property interests here. He erected a new windmill on one of his farms while here. Mr. Scales intimated that he was thinking of moving back to old Terry. Such men as he can always be appreciated.

When they're sick even the toughest old bachelors like to have a woman looking after them.

Unfortunately, those who have the power to make us happiest can also make us the most miserable.

Unless a man honestly tries to improve himself and his work each day he does not know what real happiness is.

Can anyone explain why children take such keen delight in picking up and using such expressions as "ain't" and "It don't"?

The people who sneered at the movies and the radio when they were new now seem to be making up for the good times they missed.

How broad-minded some of us are when we are dealing with problems that don't affect us personally; how narrow-minded we become when we face our own little troubles.

HERE'S GOOD NEWS FOR THE DOUGHBOY

"We're in the Army now." This old army refrain stands to lose a great deal of its unpleasantness for future American doughboys, according to the Texas Public Service Information Bureau.

"Kitchen Police," that much despised department of military service, seems due for a change for the better.

The war department, it is said, is considering the installation of electric dishwashers and potato peelers. It is understood that the quartermaster-general of the army has been directed to estimate the cost and the saving in man hours of equipping each army "mess" with electrical appliances consisting of a dishwasher, potato peeler, meat grinder, bread cutter, coffee grinder and a burnishing machine.

The Parker Bill to hasten railroad consolidations has been reported to the House and is said to suit those railroad companies which strongly favor consolidation. This bill, if considered by the Congress, is sure to result in a bitter fight. Many hold that it does not protect the public interests, that it was drafted by railroad attorneys, that it gives the carriers the best of every contested point, that it is a stock jobbing scheme and will go far toward destroying many laws regulating railroads within the states. An objection voiced against the bill is that it provides for the issuance of "no-par-value" stock and of stock which will have no voting power. If this is true it would permit banking corporations to retain control of great railroad systems without having any substantial investment. As Senator Jas. A. Reed said, when such railway consolidations were first proposed under a provision of the Esch-Cummins Bill, the effect would be to make whistling posts of many towns that are now important. Consolidations would go far toward removing such competition as now remains.—W. R. Reavis.

SOLDIER FOUGHT UNDER FIVE FLAGS

Warrior, Now 101, Is Inmate of Detroit Poorhouse.

Marquette, Mich.—At the age of one hundred and one, Walpole Roland, graduate of the British calvary school at Canterbury, England, and the Engineering college at Freifurt, Germany, a man who has fought under five different flags and one of the most conspicuous figures in the mining industry on the Iron range, today finds himself an inmate of a poorhouse in Detroit. Captain Roland in his day met many of the world's greatest personages, among them being Abraham Lincoln, the duke of Wellington, Queen Victoria, Emperor Franz-Joseph of Austria, Emperor Maximilian, Garibaldi, Lord Kitchener, Omar Pasha, Li Hung Chang and many other rulers, generals and statesmen.

His breast is covered with war medals received while fighting under five flags. He served as a general in the Chinese army, a colonel in the Mexican, major in the Turkish and also saw action in the Civil war and in the English service. He left China to enlist in the Union army. Captain Roland saw the famous charge of the Light Brigade but was not in it. The old adventurer has met with some trying experiences, one of them being in the Canadian north woods, where he was lost for 21 days while out with a surveying party. He was eighty-four years old then. Captain Roland celebrated his one hundred and first birthday in January.

Lindbergh's Feats Draw Men to Army Aviation

Fort Sam Houston, Texas.—That the deeds of Charles Lindbergh have served to stimulate interest in aviation to a remarkable degree is shown by the fact that before Lindy made his epoch-making trip to Paris an average of only twenty applications a week was received for admission to the army flying school here, whereas the average is now more than two hundred a week, according to Brig. Gen. Frank P. Lahm, commander of the air training center of the army. This increase in number of applications came immediately after Lindbergh's transatlantic flight and has been steadily maintained ever since. There are now admitted to the primary flying school 600 students a year, as compared with 300 cadets a year before the law known as the "five-year program" was enacted.

If the bill now before congress becomes a law, the three existing army flying fields here—Brooks, Kelly and Duncan fields—will not only be expanded, but a new flying field to embrace 2,400 acres will be established twelve miles northeast of San Antonio. The provisions of the pending bill authorize the expenditure of $1,856,000 for buildings. It would provide room for many additional cadets, and it is stated that to the new field would be moved the aviation force from March field, situated near Riverside, Calif.

FORD INSISTS ON CLEANLINES IN FACTORIES

If Henry Ford had never done anything except emphasize the importance of cleanliness in industry I should admire him.

In the book about Ford, written by Samuel Crowther, these principles of management are set forth:

1. Do the job in the most direct fashion without bothering with red tape or any of the ordinary divisions of authority.

2. Pay every man well—and see that he is employed all the time through forty-eight hours a week and no longer.

3. Put all machinery in the best possible condition, keep it that way, and insist upon absolute cleanliness everywhere in order that a man may learn to respect his tools, his surroundings, and himself.

The last principle, because it is so universally attainable, is perhaps the most important of all.

Cleanliness compels order, and order compels efficiency.

I have observed that when my automobile is nicely groomed I drive it more carefully. I am less inclined to take the bumps at high speed, and I shift the gears accurately to avoid unnecessary grinding. I even suspect I am a little more thoughtful of the rights of other motorists, acquiring in a subtle way, just because my car is shining, a better sense of public responsibility.

A bath, a shave, a hair cut, a change of linen, a pressed suit—any of these is sufficient to add a fraction of an inch to one's stature.

Owners of draft horses have discovered that if the animals are well groomed that drivers are less inclined to abuse them. A sleek, spirited animal commands respect.

By identical psychology a clean shop, a clean machine, and a clean tool are respected by workers. If there are bits of brass and nickel that can be highly polished, so much the better. Let them be polished, by all means.

The makers of household tools appreciate the necessity of giving their devices an attractive finish. As I recall the old water-power washing machines they were as ugly and heavy as an ox-cart. The modern electrically driven machines are pretty enough to go in the parlor.

Despite the advance in our standard of cleanliness within the last twenty-five years, I am certain we have merely touched the possibilities which are offered for efficiency and profit. Because they are unnecessarily dirty, certain industries now now compelled to get along with low-grade labor. Let them clean up and they will find that they can command the services of men who are twice as intelligent and twice as productive.

Parson—'we's going to take up a collection fo' a new organ dis maw'nin'. Brudder Jones done gib only one dollah. Dere ought to be some enterprisin' man in dis congregation who will make it a hundred.

Stude (aggrievedly): "I paid as little attention as possible, I'm sure."

HOWARD PAYNE NOT TO MOVE SAYS PRESIDENT

Brownwood, Tex.—"Howard Payne College will not be moved or consolidated unless her Board of Trustees desire such a thing," said Dr. Edgar Godbold in a statement to the Student-body recently. This statement brought a great feeling of relief to students and supporters of the College and the feeling of anxiety that has hung over the institution for some months was lifted.

Dr. Godbold stated in his message to the student-body that the State Educational Survey Commission of the Baptist General Convention of Texas had informed him that "we have no intention of consolidating or relocating Howard Payne, but are going to let her work out her own salvation." He further stated that "this is exactly what we have wanted them to do for sometime, because we firmly believe that we can work out our own plan of rescue."

The principal discussion of Howard Payne College at the sessions of the Survey Commission, was in regard to the institution's deficit in last year's expenses. The college must raise $20,000, of which amount approximately $11,000 has already been secured, Dr. Godbold said.

All thoughts that Howard Payne will be moved or consolidated can now be cast aside by those entertaining such an idea.

The mails recently brought us a check on renewal from Lee Saffell, of Meadow.

Start the week right by going to Sunday School, Sunday.

Don't tear your shirt off just yet good farmer friends, for there is yet plenty of time to make more cotton and corn and feed stuffs than you can gather the rest of the fall and winter. Keep smilin' through.

We are already hearing some good results from the work of the county agent, while yet in its preliminary stage, is just the same going forward. We are going to have a lot of club boys and girls in a few more weeks, and then you grown up farmers may look to your laurels this fall at the county fair. The future farmers and farmerettes of Terry should be given all the encouragement possible, for they will be the main stay in a few more years.

Heretofore, along about 1921-22, if we remember aright, we had an epidemic of poultry raising, dairying, and hog raising. But after two or three years cotton got high and a great many of them went back on the program, only to be very forcibly reminded of it during the fall of 1926, and the spring and summer of 1927. But with a better price of cotton last year, our farmers seem to still be sticking with the diversified idea, and are bringing in farm products as never before. We can remember when we first came to Texas that very few of the black land farmers would peddle eggs in town, considering it a disgrace, but most of the cross timber farmers would sell whatever surplus there might be on the farm. We asked a merchant one day that lived in and conducted a big business in a town on the dividing line who paid up best in the fall. The produce sellers, said he, unhesitatingly.

Did you ever notice that it is the leaders, self-styled or recognized who always raise the biggest "ruckkusses" on campaign years, and call the good voters to remembrance of their many virtues while extolling the "rotteness" on the "other side." Also, had you noticed that most of these birds live in that section of Texas east of a dividing line north and south, passing just west of Dallas? All the time they have, we guess, while people out this way are too busy boosting the country and its people to pay much mind to one of this ilk even if they flared up. But those good but innocent people must have something to listen too while they crack and eat their hickory nuts.

Just as "it's the little things in life that counts," so also it is the little things in a store that count. Possibly, the "little things" sometimes seem nerve-wracking nuisances, but if it wasn't for them, think how many less people would come into your store, get acquainted, and some day come back for bigger, more profitable-to-you things? If people only went into a luggage store to buy an expensive bag or trunk, how many would enter in a day? But the small handbags and pocket-books draw many customers, who, satisfied, come back when needs are larger. The same is true, whether you run a grocery store, paint store, jewelry store or what not. Treat the purchaser of the smallest item you have for sale with the same consideration as if she were buying your most expensive article.—Wichita Price Current.

Advertising is like behavior—good or bad—yet, like behavior, too many times, good seems implied, an integral part of the word, as it were. A great deal has been written on the value of truck advertising; little has been said on how bad it can be. Yet the truck so finely painted with the name of the store it represented, that swung round the corner on two wheels, splashing mud all over the woman and little child that had hastily stepped back upon the sidewalk to avoid being hit, barely missed a collision with a car coming at moderate speed, and continued at law-defying rate up the busy street, was advertising of the worst sort. It takes more than a painted sign on a truck to make good advertising; it takes a man at the wheel who realizes his responsibility.—Wichita Price Current.

MISSIONARY FROM CHINA TO SPEAK HERE, SUNDAY

Rev. J. Walton Moore, returned missionary from China will conduct the evening services at the Baptist church, Sunday. In connection with his talk pictures of China, the people and the mission work will be shown.

WAY BACK IN THE YEAR 1890—

The world's most famous automobile manufacturer was working in a bicycle shop:—

A millionaire hotel owner was answering room calls.

America's steel king was stoking a furnace.

An international banker was firing a locomotive.

A president of the U. S. was running a printing press.

A great merchant was carrying a pack on his back.

A railroad president was pounding a telegraph key.

There is always room up the ladder and opportunity is ahead, not behind.

SAVE with this bank, watch for your chance and let us help you climb.

New York.—For a month Fred Nolte lived in the belfry of a Staten Island church. His undoing came when he could not resist the temptation to play the organ. His present address is jail.

Goats Replace Dogs in Laboratory Work

Tuscaloosa, Ala. — Resourcefulness is as necessary in the scientific laboratory as it is in industry.

Dogs are among the most valuable animals for laboratory study in the medical sciences. In the South, however, they are difficult to obtain. Regardless of their lack of any sort of a dignified pedigree, hardly anybody is willing to part with them, even for a good price in the interest of training physicians and surgeons to alleviate the ills of human beings.

No such sentimental feeling, however, attaches to goats. And they abound in the South. So Dr. George T. Peck, of the University of Alabama Medical school, has turned to these mammals for experimental work in surgery and pathology, finding them valuable substitutes for dogs and much less expensive. They are not only as easy to handle as dogs, he has learned, but they stand operations well and their reactions in certain pathological experiments are satisfactory.

Will Transplant Smelt to Feed Idaho Salmon

Washington.—The transplanting of fresh-water smelt from eastern Maine to the waters of Idaho is planned in an experiment now being tried out by the United States bureau of fisheries, the forest service and the Idaho state game commission.

Smelt is the natural food of the landlocked salmon, and the object of introducing the Maine smelt in Idaho is to produce an abundant and suitable forage fish to serve as food for salmon and trout. The smelt live principally on minute forms of life which ordinarily occur in abundance in deep-water lakes and turn this into a readily available trout food. Salmon has been introduced in the Redfish lake section of Idaho and it is believed that the planting of the smelt will make favorable results much more certain.

Survey Reveals Average Worth of Men Buyers

New York.—Retail merchants have it all figured out how much the average man is worth, from their standpoint. The National Retail Dry Goods association is told that a customer on the books of a men's clothing store is worth just $55 a year, while on the accounts of a store handling women's clothing specialties a customer is worth $203.

The department store's customer is worth $362 a year, the furniture store's $87—once the home has been furnished—and the shoe store's from $35 to $68, according to the size of the family.

Dinner Bell Persuades

Bears Not to Hibernate

Glacier Park, Mont.—Hibernating for the winter is too Victorian for the bears that during the summer loiter about the chalets in Glacier park.

They answer the dinner bell in the cold months.

There are six construction camps strung along a two-mile stretch of the Transmountain road, and when the dinner bell calls workers to food the bears come too.

They lope in lugubriously from all directions and as many as 21 have been counted at a time.

While the men eat the bears loaf around, and when the workers finish they always reward the bears with a titbit.

I-DEAL CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. W. R. McDuffie was the I-Deal Club hostess Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock. Bridge was played with Mrs. Roy Wingerd getting a beautiful motto for high score. Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Michie and Mrs. Alexander received pretty olive dishes for table prizes. Sandwiches, cherry salad, pear whip and iced tea were served. The guests were Mesdames Bailey, Flem McSpadden, Collins, Michie, Fagala, Leo Holmes, A. M. Brownfield, McGowan, Tom May, Wingerd, Alexander and Bowers.

PARTY AT PENNY BALLARD'S

(Reported too late for last week)
The young folks enjoyed a party at the home of Penny Ballard's, Saturday night, April 21st playing all kinds of games after which refreshments were served to Mary Handley Enderse, Lataine Eickie, Johnnie Corning, Leora Proctor, Kathrine Holgate, Eileen Ellington, Lenore Brownfield, Pat Shelton, Clifford White, Lee Brownfield, O. D. Huckaby, R. L. Lewis, Ray Brownfield Jr., Dell Smith, Murphy May, Sawyer Graham, Jack Diffy, Sam Perkins, Don King and Jack Baker.

LITERARY CLUB

The Literary Club met Tuesday afternoon with Miss Eileen Ellington. The play was practiced and a program was enjoyed. Lemonade and cake were served to Misses Francis Brownfield, Kathrine Holgate, Alma Brown and Lenore Brownfield.

Mrs. Ross Renfro who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Smith since leaving the Lubbock Sanitarium, left Friday for Midland and Pecos with Mr. Renfro.

Miss Violet McBurnett has returned from a visit with her brother, E. B. at Crowell.

Mrs. M. C. Bell and daughter, Miss Marie have returned from a visit with their daughter and sister at Odessa.

Mrs. W. B. Rambo visited her brother in Tahoka last week.

Mrs. B. D. DuBois returned Thursday afternoon from Dalhart where she was sent as a delegate to the Seventh District Convention.

PRISCILLA CLUB MEETING

The Priscilla Club members were guests of Mrs. Griffin Wednesday afternoon at three thirty o'clock. The time was pleasantly spent in needle work and the hostess served fresh fruits. The members were Mesdames Scudday, Gracey, Holgate, Kendrick, Jackson and Brothers.

JUNIOR DAY CELEBRATION

Last Friday was observed at school as Junior Day—six cars taking the juniors to Post to Two Draw Lake for the day. Before leaving school the Junior flag of pink and silver was raised and then carried with them for good luck. The beautiful day made them have an unusually enjoyable outing, swimming, boat riding and playing basket ball. A delicious picnic dinner with plenty of ice cream and soda pop was spread. Besides the Juniors present were Mr. Heath, the class sponsor; Mrs. Dalton Lewis, Mrs. Kendrick, Mrs. Earle Anthony Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lewis.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY CELEBRATES MEMBERS BIRTHDAYS

The Missionary Society of the Methodist Church observes each month the birthdays of the members that come during the month. So Monday at noon the ladies gave a lovely dinner in honor of Mrs. Woolridge, Mrs. Franklin and Mrs. Webster at the home of Mrs. Woolridge. Many pretty little gifts were also brought. Those present besides the honorees were Mesdames Downing, Shaffer, Michie, Linville, Cleve Williams, Powell, Harry Longbrake, Hester, Helms, Mangum, and Thompson.

Mrs. W. B. Downing and daughter, Mrs. Roy Herod went to Lubbock, Friday and brought home with them Mrs. Downing's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. May, who have just recently moved back to Lubbock from Russellville, Arkansas.

CHURCH OF CHRIST BIBLE CLASS.

The Bible Class of the Church of Christ met Monday afternoon at the church. An interesting lesson was had. The members present were Mesdames L. F. Hudgins, Sanders, Kenney, Homer Winston, Kenney, Ditto, Oscar Jones, Bowers, Chas. Moore, Claude Hudgins, W. G. Harris and Chester Gore.

Mrs. Ditto has returned from a visit with relatives in Lamesa.

M. E. ZONE MEETING

Thursday, April 26th, the zone meeting of the Missionary Society of the Methodist church was held at Seagraves. An interesting program was given and a delicious dinner was served by the ladies of the Seagraves church. Meadow won the loving cup. Those who went from here were Mesdames Downing, A. B. Bynum, Helms, Woolridge, Thompson, Harry Longbrake, Linville, Mangum and Rev. Chisholm.

LOUISE WILLIS CIRCLE WITH MRS. TOWNSEND.

The Louise Willis Circle met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Bill Townsend for study of the W. M. U. Manual. Present were Mesdames Swan, Ballard, Gladys Green, Lawrence Green, Ike Bailey, Lewis Huckabee, Holt, Youree and Smith. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Bailey.

FEDERATED MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Missionary Society of the Christian church was hostess to the Federated Missionary Society Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. H. Holgate. An interesting program was given after which strawberry pie with whipped cream and punch were served to about forty-five ladies. In the business meeting it was decided to have a mother and daughter banquet in the near future. The president, Mrs. Chisholm appointed the four standing committees as follows: Social Service, Mesdames Downing, Arthur Sawyer, Collins and Griffin; Plans and Finance, Mesdames Harry Longbrake, Gracey, Glover and Shelton; Legislative, Mesdames Thompson, Walters, Pounds and Alexander; City Beautiful, Mesdames Michie, McDuffie, Cruce and King.

WOODMAN CIRCLE ENTERTAINED BY MRS. MOORE.

The Woodman Circle was entertained by Mrs. Tennessee Moore in honor of her birthday, Friday afternoon. Ice cream and cake were served.

TRUE BLUE GIRLS SHOWER MRS. SAVAGE.

The True Blue Girls showered their teacher, Mrs. Savage with handkerchiefs Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dunn. A business meeting followed the social after which sandwiches and iced tea were served to Misses Lela Mae McPherson, Frieda Tandy, Doris Bandy, Wynona Burnet, Julia Head, Cordia Mae Shepherd, Mrs. Pounds, Mrs. Bandy and Mrs. Savage.

James Harley Dallas was one of the four boys who won in the relay race in which the Tech won over Simmons, Saturday at Canyon. A loving cup was given them and each boy received a gold medal. The highest record for running was made. Another race will be run Saturday when the winners of A. C. C. and Tech will decide the final. A close race is expected as neither have lost this year.

Jim Youree spent several days this week with his mother. Jim is now at Midland.

Dr. and Mrs. Radford of Quanah came in Tuesday afternoon and with Mr. and Mrs. McGowan and son left Wednesday for a month's visit in California.

Mrs. Ray Brownfield and Mrs. Morgan Copeland were Lubbock visitors Monday.

Mr. Earle Anthony and daughter, Miss Mary Kathryn were in Lubbock Friday on business.

WHY WE SHOULD CELEBRATE MOTHER'S DAY

We take but very little time to stop and think, investigate, or give toward anything in this rushing age of ours. But we must take time to send some token of love to our mothers on Mother's Day.

Friends, we have built large monuments at the heads of our great heroes, set aside holidays on their birthdays, spend millions of dollars in building statutes to remember them.

Are they greater and more worthy of being remembered than our mothers?
No! they are not. It is only because our mothers are greater in number and closer in association, which makes them seem more common to us. We should be broader minded than this.
We should be able to see and know the value of our mothers and to realize that the love which they have for us, is unfailing.

Mother never thinks of herself, or values her life at anything; her thoughts are all on you and your welfare. Never a day passes but what mother inquires about you, the things you are interested in, and the tasks that you are occupied within your daily routine of life. Why are we not able to see and know the worth of our mothers? We have had examples before us for hundreds of years, but still we do not take them to heart or use them to any advantage.
France at one time was one of our strongest nations, but negligence of the home and its occupants caused uprisings and revolutions. When Napoleon Bonaparte, the greatest military leader that has ever ruled France, was asked to interpret the cause of this depredation, he replied with the following words: "We need and must have more real mothers."

Then, if our mothers are as great and worthy as all of this, why do we not help to keep our mother's heart warm by sending her some present on Mother's Day? It has not been so many years since Mother's Day was made a national holiday, but it has been celebrated for many years by different portions of the United States. Though it is young in our minds now, we should not wait for age to make us realize its value. If promptness is a characteristic of today's generation, let us make good use of it in this one particular case.

Mother, the dearest person in the world to us, is the only one to whom we can carry our troubles and always receive help. She understood us back in the days when we were unable to speak. She can understand us better now. Mother is the only one who can speak words of love and sympathy when some phase of life has betrayed us. The value of our mothers cannot be rated high enough; it is unlimited and beyond our power of comprehension.

The curtain fell long ago on the cave man and his ways of living. We are now living in a great civilized world, one of respect, love and sympathy. Who is more worthy of our greatest respect, our fondest love, and our most considerate sympathy than our mothers? The hero that is greater and more worthy of being honored than our mothers has never been heard of or anywhere depicted in the history of time. And since we can find no one who stands out as being greater, we should, as the scene changes each year, keep Mother's Day as one of the greatest holidays which we now celebrate.—McLean News.

THE GOLDEN WEST.

This is the land where the sand-
storms blow,

And keeps us in a day or so;
Howling and blowing thru the cracks,
Then comes creeping down our backs.

After the storm has blown clear out.
And the sand has settled about,
We look upon the land
Where a crop was once,
But now just sand.

The lightning flashed across the sky.
The earth becomes parched and dry.
The thunder crashed and rumbled
loud,

And swiftly disappears the clouds.
The sun shone out in a burning blaze,
The prairie dogs came out to graze,
But "law" for miles and miles around.
There's nothing, but the naked ground.

The farmer walks out through his maize,

With a far-off sickly gaze;
Towards some place to him so dear,
And says, I'll try it another year.

His team is of the broncho kind,
That lives on anything they find;
They are poor—dead on their feet,
For the want of something good to eat.

The coyote slyly steals around to find a chicken near the ground;
Starvation has him down and out,
And he can scarcely get about.

When the chicken he has caught,
It's nothing like he thought.
For his trouble he is beat,

The blue bugs beat him to his meat.
We eat red beans or not at all,

The western name is 'cap-and-ball';
The beans are grown in parts remote,
And only fitten to feed to shoats.
Shoats are scarce out here you know,
Dry wind and sand, don't make them grow.

So ribs and sausage, gracious me—
I never expect to see.

Sent in by Mrs. H. E. Huddleston,
Brownfield, Texas.

Texas on the basis of observations during the past month are characterized as favorable by Bervard Nichols of the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas who is editor of the monthly Texas Business Review published by the Bureau.
"The outlook for cattle and sheep is exceptionally bright. On the other hand, hog producers have experienced a very poor year and the prospects for improvement over the next six months are not as optimistic as they could be. Since Texas is relatively unimportant in hog production, the present situation is most favorable to this state."

BOB HOLTGATE

—At East End Main Street—

We understand that a nice sale of Brown Cracker and Candy Co. candies were had at the Palace Drug Saturday. The display and sales were under the management of H. R. Harmon, district representative of the Brown products. Harmon says Brownfield is almost exclusively a Brown product town. A state representative from Dallas was here with him this week.

Editor J. L. Sultz of the Lorenzo Enterprise was over to see us Monday, having accompanied their school superintendent who was looking for a place here, as our superintendent had been elected at Lorenzo. Editor Sultz highly recommended their superintendent to the people of this city. He reports business in his shop holding up well.

Advertise Terry with the Herald

Miss Bebe Auburg and her cousin, Mrs. W. C. Hulster, of Balmorhea, Texas, are over at Lovington, N. M., this week looking after their 800 acres of land they recently inherited from a deceased aunt. They are having all abstracts brought down to date. We understand that they have been offered near a hundred dollars per acre for part of the land for oil lease purposes.

Among our Brownfield readers who have recently changed their address from route 1 to the new route out west of Meadow, were Noah Bell, J. W. Bingham, W. G. McDonald and J. J. Johnson.

CONTRACT LET FOR CHEMISTRY BUILDING AT TECH

LUBBOCK, April 30.—Dirt has been broken for the $275,000 chemistry building of Texas Technological College. It is located a short distance northwest of the administration building. The contract was secured by D. N. Leverton of Lubbock and it specifies that the building is to be completed by January 1, 1929.

Although designed throughout to meet the special needs of the science of chemistry, it has been possible by careful planning and adjustment to adapt a portion of this building for temporary use by the departments of physics, biology and geology. The building is 240 feet long, 62 feet wide, with a wing at the east end extending to the south some 40 feet. A cloister extends along the entire front of the building, and this will ultimately connect with similar cloisters around the court. There are three main floors: A ground floor four feet below the level of the raised court, the first floor and the second floor.

TEXAS CROPS NOT MAKING MUCH PROGRESS

DALLAS, Texas, May 1, 1928.—Crop reports for April compiled by the Department of Public Relations of the Southland Life Insurance Company indicate crop prospects below those of former reports.

More damage has been done by storms and cold rain than was at first believed. No less than thirty counties report that a large portion of their crops may have to be replanted. Several indicate that fruit and vegetables have been damaged by frost, and at least seven counties appear to be much perturbed over the pink boll worm. This includes Brewster, Ector, Midland, Glasscock, Howard,

Martin and Andrews. Reports in general indicate that the setback of crops in Texas need not be permanent provided there is no more cold rain accompanied by damaging storms. There appears to be no reason why the farmers in Texas should not raise a bumper grain crop and a cotton crop up to their expectations. All crops including those of farmers who were forced to replant, will be in the ground by May 15th, reports indicate.

The Rio Grande Valley for many months has been apparently in good shape, growth in this section being indicated by the recent report of the General Executive Agents of two railroads which serve that section. This report indicates that the Valley during the past year has reached the 14,000 carload mark in shipments of vegetables and grapefruit as compared with 9,433 carloads during the preceding year. Business conditions in general in Texas despite the setback as reported are "looking up."

A dozen leading drug stores of the New York area already have complied with the public demand for expertly served dietetic foods and have established fountain luncheonettes where especially prepared foods can be obtained.

The drug store soda clerk of the fountain will have to know his calories, proteins and vitamins. The mere ability to compose a three-layer sandwich or to synthesize a malted milk will not help him much.

GOOD ROADS DESTROY PREJUDICE

Discussing the advantages which follow highway improvement in rural sections, Frank B. Curran of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, said:

"Recently I had the good fortune to accompany a party of highway officials from Delaware who traveled to North Carolina to study the low-cost asphalt roads which have been so successfully developed there. Every one I questioned on the trip gave me specific examples of increased prosperity of cotton and tobacco growers, banks, railroads, and business firms resulting directly from the improvement of roads in that state, and pointed out beautiful new rural schools.

"But that was not the greatest impression received from the trip. That came from the realization that travelers from all over the United States were constantly passing over these roads and the roads of other states, learning to know their country better, making new friends, and losing old prejudices."

C. Sears and family have just returned from a tour of the southern part of this state, and report a good time and that they saw many things to amuse them, including a trip across the border, but he never did say whether he put his foot upon the rail or not. Some of the corps down there looked good, but some had been blown out. We thought Terry was the only place that blowed. He has learned, however, that some of the crops have been killed by cold weather since his return, except in the extreme south.

"What will the modern girl be 20 years from now?"

"Oh, about three years older."

CAN MEN OF WEALTH BE CONVICTED

Additional evidence that no American jury will convict a man who possesses a million dollars, has been disclosed by the verdict in the Harry Sinclair case. While there appears to be few people in the country who do not consider that Fall and Sinclair were both guilty of defrauding the government and as, indirectly, the entire citizenship of the country, the defendant was fortunate in not having twelve such persons on the jury which considered his case. The action further emphasizes the fact that if one is determined to travel the wide and crooked road in the rapid attainment of wealth, it pays to go at it in a big way. Don't pester a thousand dollar deal, but get next to the big boys who control millions. American juries have a marvelous respect for "big money." There are hundreds of men in the Federal prisons who have been guilty of embezzling from banks or post offices only a small fraction of what Fall and Sinclair got away with, but they will probably have to serve their terms out. The smaller the amount for which they were convicted, the greater the chances that they will be overlooked when the pardons are passed out. Six years have elapsed since the Fall-Sinclair matter was first brought to the attention of the public and the taxpayers have furnished the funds which paid the expenses of the long-drawn-out trial.

Sinclair expressed himself as not surprised at the verdict—he had expected to be acquitted—so presumptuous and contemptuous of justice was wealth come to be. At that, he had nothing on the majority of American citizens. Knowing from experience, the unlikelihood of conviction, the public is not at all astonished at the verdict, but it cannot help wondering why such affairs are dragged out into the open where the stench offends the nostrils of all decent men and women—and then the whole matter is whitewashed and nobody punished. "Its a dirty bird that befouls its own nest."—Southwest Plainsmen.

HIS CROWING DAYS ARE OVER.

Gasoline is a dangerous article to play with. The owner of a rooster left his automobile standing in the driveway at the rear of his house while he went inside to get tools with which to repair a leak in the gasoline line of the car. Along came a rooster and decided to scratch for gravel in the roadway. It didn't mean anything to him that gasoline was dripping down beside him—he didn't know he might better have been scratching on dynamite! Evidently his claws struck off a spark, for the next instant the air was full of tires, cushions, twisted metal and white leghorn feathers! That rooster will crown no more.

While gasoline is about the most dangerous, all petroleum products should be handled with care. The National Board of Fire Underwriters reports that in 1926, $14,978,599 was the amount of wasted wealth that went up in oil smoke.

NICARAGUAN VENTURE PAID WITH LIVES OF MARINES

Washington, D. C.—Twenty-one U. S. Marines have been killed and forty-five wounded in Nicaragua from May 4th last to April 16th of this year, the Senate was informed by the Navy Department in response to a resolution requesting such information. The additional cost of this venture, above that which it would have cost to keep the Marines in home training camps was $1,530,170 for upkeep and equipment; $54,052 on account of additional expenses in the Air Service, and about $6,180 additional expense to the Navy for transportation of troops. It was stated that during this time 202 Nicaraguans were killed, and others, not actually known, may have been killed.

The administration policy in Nicaragua was condemned in the Senate recently by Senator John J. Blaine, of Wisconsin. He charged that in sending the Marines into Nicaragua the President had acted without authority; that there was no precedent for it "in all history."

In regard to the invitation to supervise the elections in Nicaragua this year the Wisconsin Senator said, "If a gunman entered your home and you looked into the muzzle of an automatic and he said: 'Invite me into your house,' you probably would issue such an invitation very quickly. It would be an invitation such as has been extended to the United States to supervise the elections in Nicaragua. It would not, however, be an invitation to peace."

"Sweetest Job" in
United States
Held by Mary
Virginia
Bromberg

Washington, D. C.—Miss Mary Virginia Bromberg has the sweetest job in America. She has been made secretary of the newly formed Domestic Sugar Producers Association with headquarters here, which represents a combined yearly output of 2,350,000 tons of cane and beet sugar. She is the only woman executive in the organization which is composed of the U. S. Beet Sugar Association, American Sugar Cane League of Louisiana, Hawaiian Sugar Planters Association, and Association of Sugar Producers of Porto Rico. This country is producing about 1,000,000 tons of beet sugar annually which returns American farmers $55,000,000 for their beet crop.

DOMESTIC SUGAR INDUSTRY FACES
SERIOUS CRISIS

Philippine Product Made With Cheap Labor and Duty Free Called Menace.

Chicago.—Rising flood of Philippine sugar entering the United States duty free has confronted the domestic sugar industry with the gravest economic crisis in years, according to W. L. Petrikin, president of the Great Western Sugar company of Denver.

"In view of the resolution introduced by Congressman Timberlake of Colorado to protect the domestic industry against the increasing invasion of Philippine sugar by permitting not more than 500,000 tons annually to enter free," said Mr. Petrikin, "Philippine Commissioners Gabaldon and Guevara have attempted to convince congress that the domestic industry is not menaced by unlimited imports of duty-free sugar from the islands."

"The statement of the commissioners that from 1923 to 1926 the annual average export of sugar was 306,000 tons is entirely misleading. They neglected to state that between 1923 and 1926 Philippine exports to the United States increased 60 per cent and that between 1918 and 1927 exports have leaped from 60,537 tons to 473,674 tons, a gain of more than 680 per cent."

"A 300,000-ton limit on Philippine sugar imposed by congress in 1909 was discontinued in 1913. Between 1909 and 1927 sugar imports from the islands had increased more than 1,168 per cent as compared with an average increase of 113 per cent from our other chief sources of supply, including Cuba, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Louisiana, and the domestic sugar beet industry."

"Over-expansion in tropical countries has confronted the domestic industry with the gravest crisis in years. Domestic sugar companies have recently found it difficult to make ends meet. Continuation of unlimited duty-free imports from the Philippines, which are not legally defined as an integral part of the United States, may ultimately wipe out an income to our continental farmers of $100,000,000 annually and a large investment in factories."

FOOD PRODUCT ADDS TO FARMER REVENUE

New York.—Margarine is a food product of peculiar interest not only to the country's housewives but to 5,000,000 producers of live stock in the nation. To the home manager it represents an economical way of whittling down the food bill. From the live-stock raiser's viewpoint, increased consumption of margarine means additional revenue, since certain fats of beef and hogs are worth more when used in the manufacture of margarine than for any other purpose.

The production in the United States of 242,654,698 pounds of uncolored and 14,591,929 pounds of colored margarine for the year ending July 30, 1927, meant millions of dollars more revenue to farmers than if no margarine had been produced. Margarine is primarily an animal product in the making of which oils made from the choice fats of beef and pork are used. These are combined with small quantities of the highest grade of refined peanut, cottonseed and coconut oils and blended with milk, salt and sometimes butter to produce the finished product.

In the countries of Europe, margarine is much more of a recognized food than in America. The average Dane eats 4 1/2 pounds of margarine annually, the Norwegian 3 1/4, the Hollander 15 2/3, the German 12 1/4, and the English 11 1/4 pounds. Per capita consumption in the United States is only 2 pounds annually.

9,000,000 Women
in U. S. Industries

Boston.—Although 50 years ago there was only one woman secretary south of Rector street in New York, there are now about 9,000,000 women and girls in industrial, commercial, mechanical and professional positions in the United States.

Mrs. Mary Schenck Woolman, textile specialist for the General Federation of Women's Clubs, made this report before the department of Superintendence of the National Educational association here.

After first crowding the unskilled occupations, she added, women are now receiving vocational training authorized for the states by the Smith-Hughes bill of 1917 and are proving their ability in the most varied trades and professions.

Washington Heirs Give Cemetery to Society

Washington.—Heirs of the Washington family have made a gift of the Washington family graveyard at Wakefield to the Wakefield National Memorial Association, Inc. The conveyance was recorded in the courthouse at Montross, county seat of Westmoreland, and is from the heirs of Col. William Augustine Washington, nephew of George Washington, says a Fredericksburg (Va.) message.

It conveys to the association the burial grounds containing the bodies of 11 members of the Washington family, representing five generations, beginning with Col. John Washington, born in England in 1632, great-grandfather of General Washington; the latter's own generation, the last of the five included in graves, is represented by his half-brother, Augustine Washington, Jr. Augustine Washington, father of the general, who died at Fredericksburg, is also buried in the old cemetery.

The deed grants to the Wakefield association the sole right to improve the burial ground and to design and to erect thereon a suitable mortuary memorial structure. The grantors of the deed are Mary Washington Keyser, Washington Perine, George Corbin Perine, Mary Perine Platt, Mildred Washington Perine, Ezra Washington Perine, Eleanor Washington Freeman and Willard Lanier Washington.

Paris Is Demolishing Houses 700 Years Old

Paris.—Historic old houses in narrow little streets 700 years old are being torn down to the joy of sanitary experts and the despair of lovers of old Paris.

Light, virtue and cleanliness never flourished in the dark houses with cracked walls, crazy leaning fronts and dungeonlike cellars. In these narrowest streets of the old city, however, were born the early systems of street lighting, sweeping, policing, garbage collecting and the national opera.

The Rue de la Reynie was named for an ancient chief of police, who ordered the bourgeois of the district to maintain light at nightfall and extinguish at dawn, candle lanterns at specified intervals.

De la Reynie also organized day and night patrols of "archers," who traveled in squads because swords often flashed in those days. The Rue de Venise close by was the quarter of the usurers. In the Rue Brise-Miche, famous because of an old bakery there that once supplied a nearby monastery, there are the hooks to attach a chain that barred the street on occasions in the days of Louis XI.

WILL MEET AT LAMESA

LAMESA—A strong program stressing agriculture, has been arranged for the South Plains district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held here May 10.

The value of cream checks will be explained by an authority on that subject, Gaylord Stone of the University Mills, Fort Worth. "Hogging West Texas" is to be discussed by Col. C. C. French of the Fort Worth Stockyard Station, who has done more in the interest of placing hogs on West Texas farms than perhaps any other man. E. C. Nix of Lamesa will talk on the 'Business of Farming.' Dr. P. W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college, will be a distinguished guest of the day and is to discuss "Education as a Factor in Business." "Let Texas Build Our Highways" is to be the subject of Hon. Cone Johnson of the Texas highway commission, another prominent guest for the occasion.

The noon luncheon will be an attractive feature with two strong speakers. President R. W. Haynie of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will talk on "This West Texas of Ours," while Judge James D. Hamlin of Farwell is to tell of "The Heart and Voice of West Texas."

Rev. W. Hamilton Wright, formerly a publicity manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will deliver the invocation, and R. A. Underwood, a vice president of the organization, will be presiding officer. S. L. Forrest, president of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, is presiding officer at the luncheon.

Others on the program are: Carl Rountree and Judge R. W. Pittman. Representatives of the various towns will also make short addresses.

Immediately following the convention, commercial executives of the South Plains will hold a short business session.

Our old friend J. E. Braynt is now a regular reader of the Herald since it is possible for him to get it promptly out on the south route.

Claude Hester was in one day recently to renew for his dad's Herald. Claude not only keeps the home paper paid up, but believes in sending it out to friends.

Three-Eyed Monster's Skeleton Is Discovered

Harbury, England.—Workmen in a local quarry have unearthed the skeleton of a three-eyed monster which scientists estimate roamed the earth between 100,000 and 200,000 years ago.

It has been identified by representatives of the natural history section of the British museum as the skeleton of a three-eyed plesiosaurus, a prehistoric animal of the lizard family.

The skeleton, found intact and almost in perfect condition, is 16 feet long. This is about three times the length of any hitherto discovered, and is all the more valuable from a scientific standpoint because the head was found attached.

"Generally the heads are missing from such finds," said Prof. W. E. Swinton of the British museum. "One theory is that the roving dinosaurs, who were carnivorous, but rather stupid hunters, used to eat the dead or dying plesiosauri they found and generally detached or lost the heads. The plesiosaurus' head is triangular in shape and has a third eye at the top of its skull. The vestige of this third eye remains in man in the form of the pineal gland."

New Methods to Save Historic British Walls

New York.—Scientific application of modern methods and materials to crumbling walls and vaults gives new leases of life to three of Europe's most famous cathedrals.

St. Mark's, Venice, has been reopened after the completion of repairs which, in the opinion of the Italian engineers, have made the building safe. St. Paul's, London, and the cathedral of Mayence, Germany, similarly owe their continued usefulness to the skill of modern builders.

St. Mark's was originally finished in 1063. After the fall of Constantinople it was lavishly ornamented and faced with marble, but the walls and foundations were seriously overloaded. One huge crack in the vaulting has been filled with concrete, carefully proportioned to take up the stresses imposed upon it.

Polo Ponies

The Field says that the superhigh-priced mounts used for polo are never allowed to get out of condition. As soon as the matches are over, the shoes are taken off and the ponies turned loose in a soft soil grass paddock, which is free from stone. Two or three months later they are shipped South, and worked into condition for the early spring matches.

The Seniors took their play "A Little Clodhopper" to Seagraves Tuesday night and reports say they played before a splendid audience.

They had a little hard luck in that two or three of their characters took ill at the last minute and had to use substitutes.

PART OF PREHISTORIC ANIMAL GIVEN TO TECH

LUBBOCK, April 30.—A fine specimen of the lower jaw of a Stegomastodon was recently brought to Texas Technological College. The jaw is about three feet long when pieced together and has two teeth and the short tusk finely preserved. It was found in northeast Dickens county in the bed of a small creek and is probably late Pliocens in age.

It was collected by F.F. Henry, D. W. Hughes, D. F. Christian and M. E. Franklin of that locality, who, realizing the importance of their find, brought it to the College for identification. They have kindly given it to the museum for the department of geology where it is to be placed on display.

DO YOU KNOW?

Do you know that while dry United States has but seven per cent of the population of the world, the people of this country carry 71 per cent of all the life insurance of the world?

Do you know that dry United States has 46 per cent of the gold, and 52 per cent of the bank deposits of the world, as well as 83 per cent of the automobiles and more than 60 per cent of the telephones.

Do you know that while the United States tripled in population in the past 50 years bank deposits are 26 times greater than they were 50 years ago?

Do you know that savings bank deposits have doubled since National Prohibition became effective?

Let's observe next Sunday by making it a 100 percent city and community go to Sunday School Day.

HOMEMADE TOOTH IS ALMOST FATAL

Sailor Now Is Through With Self-Dentistry.

Sydney.—An amazing instance of self-dentistry has just come under notice of the authorities at a large Melbourne hospital.

Isaac was a Jewish sailor of Odessa. He did not visit the dentist every six months, as the health text books suggest, but nevertheless his teeth were his pride. Isaac was loud in his lamentations one night on the high seas when the stubborn top of a bottle of beer removed a large piece of tooth in the front of his mouth. The hole gaped at him from a mirror. It would have to be filled. The lead lining of an empty tea case gave Isaac the idea, and he went to work with haste.

In the stokehold Isaac improvised a small ladle and cast the boiling lead into a mold, which he judged to be the size of the hole in his poor front tooth. By dint of ingenuity and persistence, Isaac carved the piece of lead into shape with a pen knife. Time and again he fitted the pellet into the hole in the tooth, carved away the rough edges, and then tried again. Soon the pellet resembled a tooth and, with a final effort, Isaac forced it into place. Standing before a broken mirror in the steaming stokehold, perspiration on his brow, Isaac proudly surveyed his handiwork. But there was something lacking. The lead looked black beside the gleaming white of his teeth. He must polish it.

So, every day, and many times a day, Isaac would pause in his shipboard tasks to remove the lead, and polish it on his trousers. It took on a splendid sheen.

Then one day Isaac became ill while his vessel was at Melbourne, and he was hurried to a hospital. There the doctors found all the symptoms of lead poisoning, and that was all. A dentistry specialist was consulted and noticed the "lead line" round the gums, and solved the problem. Despite Isaac's protests, the filling, the remainder of the tooth, and part of the bone underneath were removed. When he was told of the danger to which he had exposed himself, Isaac swore never to indulge in lead dentistry again.

Misogynist, 80, Buried Beside Heart Captivator

Napple, England.—William Edgar Allen, an eighty-year-old bachelor, who eschewed female companionship during his entire life, has been carried to the grave by four women pallbearers.

Allen lived a yeoman's life. He tended his own cottage and his flower garden. He made his own fine butter and carried it afoot for miles to neighboring markets. Hundreds of women came to the funeral of the aged recluse and four of them volunteered to carry his casket. The coffin was crowned with a wreath of laurel and roses from his own garden.

They buried him alongside of Benjamin Disraeli, Lord Beaconsfield, the great Victorian whose charming way with women captivated even the queen of England.

Tokio School Notes

Only four more weeks* of school and we are all turning over a new leaf to make the remaining weeks a success, and we are all hoping to make our grades.

The Nazerene meeting began the 20th of April and will continue until Sunday evening May 6.

We have been hearing very much about the new highway, but we really see it now, and seeing is believing. They are progressing fine out our way.

Mr. J. T. Pippin and his son-in-law and wife have gone on a trip to Oklahoma and Missouri.

The Honor Roll for the Primary rooms:

1st grade—Helen Box and Delton Lovelace.

2nd grade—Viola Mae and Glenn Martin.

3rd grade—Winnia Gene Proctor. The primary room had a picnic today for the little ones birthdays and sure did enjoy themselves.

These are the ones on the Honor Roll from the Intermediate room. Arlie Day 92%; Flora Mae Proctor 92 2-9%; Cora Dye 92 5-9%; Clyde Trout 97 7-9%; Arvil Snodgrass 98 7-8%; Isabel Pfrimmer 93 2-3%; Margurite Anderson 93 1-3%.

The following are on the Honor Roll from the high school: Ora Pippin, Edith Norris, Ernest Norris, Loyd Lee, Lois Dye, Ruth Dye, Bertam Patterson, Violet Proctor, Capitola Hobbs, Charles Stuart, Vivian Maroney. They all averaged above 90%.

There are several out of school with the flu.

V. G. Latham is still out of school with the whooping cough, but we hope he will soon be back as we miss him very much.

The weather is very warm and we can hardly stay in the house at school.

The following is Tokio's program for closing week of school:

Sunday evening, May 20th, baccalaureate sermon for both high school and grammar graduates.

Tuesday evening May 22nd 7th grade class play, entitled "Catching Clara."

Thursday evening May 24th, 10th grade class play entitled, "Aaron Boggs, Freshman."

Friday evening May 25th graduation exercises for both grades. Judge Winston will deliver the class address and present all diplomas. All programs will be held at the Community Hall. All programs will be free. Everybody invited.

Ida Mae Pippin and Capitola Hobbs.

(Too late for last week)

Well, Mr. Hunter don't you know that the basket ball season is over, but we will play you a game of baseball when you get ready. Just send a notice by the little bird and when it reaches us we will be ready to play you. The Holiness are holding a meeting at the community hall.

The pageant we had Thursday night was pretty good. We collected $9.30. It goes for the 7th and 10th grade diplomas.

Our pie supper brought $36.90. It is to pay the insurance on the hall.

V. G. Latham is still absent from school on the account of the whooping cough. L. Z. Barrett also has this malady. Ormal Pippin has been out of school too. They think he had the mumps. We are taking our examinations this week so we can have the names of the ones on the Honor Roll. We hope that there will be so many that another sheet will have to be added to the Herald to hold all of them. —Lois Dye.
