Chamber of Commerce

By the Secretary

This column was vacant last week or rather was not used by the writer for the reason that he was absent in attendance upon the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention at Fort Worth and busy distributing literature concerning this section. Felt rather lonesome down there and rather out of place as all other South Plains towns of any importance were there with their bands, stunt players and large delegations and at least succeeded in attracting the attention of the public. The experience gained at Fort Worth, has convinced me that the only way for a town to secure any attention is to get a big crowd to go along and put on a lot of "stunts" and as the next convention is to be at El Paso, it is thought that no difficulty will be encountered in getting a large majority of our population to arrange for attendance upon it.

The office force has been busy this week acting as one of the advertising committee on the Rotary Clean-Up Campaign and picking up the ragged edges of the Legion 4th of July Celebration. If all plans are successfully concluded on the Legion activity, it will be one that we can point to with pride for a great many years to come. A varied program has been provided and any person who fails to find some portion of the entertainment that has an appeal, needs to have his head examined. Lots of hot coffee will be provided, but it will be necessary for each one to bring his own cup as there is not a sufficient number on the South Plains to furnish for the people that are expected.

Had a letter from Captain Ed Kennedy a few days ago and he says that he has interested people who have sufficient money to pay for the construction of his proposed railway and that surveyors will be in the field within the next few weeks and that actual construction will begin immediately after the lines have been decided upon.

The Fort Worth-Roswell Grand Canyon Highway Association was re-organized in Fort Worth last week and Fort Worth was thoroughly sold on the proposal and the Chairman of their Highway Committee was named as one of the board of directors of our organization. A meeting of the association will be had at Rotan early in July and arrangements made for advertising and marking the route will be launched.

Advice has been received that the State Engineer of the Highway Department will inspect the route between Odessa and Brownfield, within the next few weeks. This is the one on which tentative designation has been received but which will have to undergo inspection before finally being accepted.

An article is being prepared for this column and for mailing to members, which deals with the proposed Statewide Road Bond Issue and its probable effect upon our county and others that have not been bonded for road building purposes. It is hoped that it will be made interesting reading even if no other results are obtained.

We are on the eve of seven day mail service between Fort Worth and Roswell by way of Brownfield and the benefits to us are expected to accrue from being able to keep in more direct touch with our Eastern New Mexico territory, a portion of which has three times weekly service. The County Commissioners of Lea County New Mexico, have passed orders opening three roads to the Texas line and the Commissioners of Yoakum have promised to connect with each one of them by running a public road down the State line. However they have not acted officially but will probably do so at the next meeting.

Another Pioneer Passed Away Saturday

Aunt Lou DeShazo, 78, one of the pioneer women of Terry county, passed away last Saturday afternoon at her home in Gomez, after two weeks of illness that carried her away fast in view of her advancing age. Funeral services were conducted at the Gomez Baptist church by her pastor, Rev. E. V. May, of this city, at which many people were unable to gain admittance. Following the funeral, the body was laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery beside her husband, Report New Oil Well At Hobbs, New Mex.

There is persistent rumor, and we understand several from here have seen the new wild cat oil well in the Hobbs, N.M., section, about 30 miles west of Seminole and near the Texas-New Mexico line.

About the best information the Herald was able to obtain was that the well was actually flowing oil, but had not been shot at that time. It is thought that with a good shot it may develop into a gusher.

Speaking of oil wells, we have heard rumors recently that the well in the Ray Brownfield pasture would likely be drilled deeper in the near future or as soon as some litigations are straightened out. Many people here are of the opinion that as soon as the lime formation in that well is penetrated, oil will be found. It is now down 4,000 feet, the last 500 being financed partially by local people, but the lime formation was never penetrated. It is not believed that it can possibly be more than a hundred or two more feet thick.

There may still be a gusher in our front door. Who knows.

Starts July Fifth Wainwright Meeting

The annual summer revival of the Church of Christ will start next Thursday night, July 5th, at the big city tabernacle just southeast of the public square.

J. E. Wainwright, evangelist of Carlsbad, N. M., will assist the church in this meeting, which will go over two Sundays, probably closing Sunday.

EVANGELIST WAINWRIGHT day night, July 15th. A. L. Burnett of this city will lead the song service.

Elder Wainwright is said to be a fine pulpit speaker and a well rounded Bible student, and is able to teach others in an interesting manner.

He is also called the "miracle man" by people who know him, and especially by his preaching brethren. It is said that he can go to a place all rent in twain by some non-essential question and almost have them hugging each others necks in a week or ten days.

You are cordially invited by the membership of this church to hear Wainwright while he is here—every sermon if possible.

He comes here direct from Colorado Springs, Col., where he is now engaged in a revival, and will bring his family with him.

who preceded her about two years.

Aunt Lou was born in Arkansas, in 1850 and there met and married Uncle Tom DeShazo directly following the civil war, moving thence to East Texas, and landed in Terry Co. about 25 years ago. Only two children were born of this union, a boy and girl, both being dead. Their son died several years ago; their daughter, Mrs. Robt Holgate died about four years ago. Aunt Lou early became identified with the Baptist church to which she remained loyal until death.

The sorrowing relatives have the sympathy of the entire community.

Morgan L. Copeland returned this week from Minneapolis, where he represented the local Rotary Club in the International Convention.

County Agents Column

By R. B. Davis, Agent

The interest in stock judging among the club boys reached a high level Saturday when thirty-two boys and one girl met the County Agent and Club Leader at the dairy of Mr. Tankersley and held an evening of practice. The highest score was made by Francis Chamlee, a pig club girl from the Prairie View Community. There was a decided improvement shown over previous work outs and due to this improvement and hard work it was decided to permit each one to go to Lubbock Wednesday and Thursday of this week who could make the trip. Some thirty-five boys from Terry and seven from Gaines will make the trip in trucks to Lubbock Wednesday and remain over Thursday for a two days training course in the judging of livestock and grain given at the Tech College. The showing made on this trip will largely determine who will make the Terry and Gaines county teams.

With only one or two exceptions the pigs recently purchased by the club boys from Lillard's Stock Farm are doing nicely and promise to make show gilts and brood sows that any one can well be proud of. With chances for a big feed crop and the hog market improving the demand for good pigs next spring will insure a profit on a sow properly cared for.

You should examine your hens for lice at this time of the year and if they are found, dip in a solution of Sodium Fluoride. Sodium Fluoride may be obtained from the local druggist and if used according to directions it is very effective in controlling lice and will not injure flavor of meat.

The test plot in deep plowing on the farm of J. E. Woodard at Seminole was planted to corn, kaffir, peas, beans and cotton just as the average Gaines county farm is planted. The primary purpose or object of this plot was to test the holding qualities of sand where clay was brought up and mixed with it. This plot has had a severe test this spring when soon after it was planted to the above crops it received a heavy rain that left the soil in ideal condition for blowing but without being stirred this plot has held and the crops on it have not been injured by the past three weeks of high winds whereas the corn by it has been covered up and whipped out. Thus far the results both from the standpoint of holding and growing have been satisfactory. Whether or not it will continue to grow these crops and not blow is a matter that will be of a great deal of interest to people of this country.

Cobb & Stephens Repurchase Store Here

About two months ago, Cobb & Stephens sold their store here to the Hogan Dry Goods Co., and then the boys begin to drift, first to visit relatives and secondly to look out a location a little nearer the flow of milk and honey and the fritter pond, but after flowing and frittering about over Texas for a couple of months the boys have returned to their first love just as well satisfied as any old timer, and ready to make this their permanent home.

Steve got in about two weeks ago and ever since he looked like an orphan who had lost his pa. Cobb drifted in last Thursday with the same kind of look. They got busy at once. Mr. Hogan was kind to them and agreed to sell. The deal was soon consummated. Thursday night and Friday morning were spent in invoicing. At noon Friday they had clear charge of their old stand and as happy as the Gold Dust Twins.

And so is Brownfield people, for they are both very popular here and the town and community are glad to have them back. Mr. Hogan made many good friends while here, and while all regret to see him leave our little city, they gladly welcome his successors.

Mrs. Geo. Snodgrass and baby are her from McCamey, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Walters.

Clyde Gross left Wednesday afternoon for Colorado City to attend the district meeting of Frigidate agents. He will try to pull the next meeting to this city.

Plans Complete For Monster Celebration

The several committees on the big Barbecue, Fourth of July Celebration and Rodeo have been working almost day and night for the past two or three weeks perfecting plans for the affair, and are now in position to declare that Brownfield will on the big National Birthday pull off one of the most elaborate celebrations in its history, and with the advertising it is to receive between the time this is written and the 4th, we are expecting a crowd several thousand above anything ever seen in this county or in any town the size of Brownfield.

There will be some speakers here that day of national note, all well as candidates for Congress, State Senate, Legislature and possibly one or more of the candidates for U. S. Senate. Congressman Marvin Jones has definitely assured us that he will be here for an address that day; also the two candidates for the legislature of this district, and the candidate for State Senator.

Most of the speaking will occur in the forenoon, we understand, and after a good free dinner, there will be a good baseball game, to be followed immediately by a rodeo which will last for a couple of hours put on by cowboys adjacent to Brownfield and Lea county New Mexico. This will be followed by some thrilling horse races. As the celebration will go on far into the night, it will probably be officially ended with a big fireworks display, the like of which has never been seen in Brownfield.

To augment the day lest the people run shy of entertainment, a big carnival company has agreed to come to Brownfield that day. The company promised the city council some high class entertainment, and agreed to close any section of it that did not comply with the wishes of the city government for clean amusement.

A bunch of our hustling business men are making the trade territory of Brownfield in Terry and adjoining counties and eastern New Mexico, advertising the affair and personally asking the people they see to be the guests of Brownfield on that day.

The local American Legion, under whose auspices the big celebration was undertaken, have left no stone unturned to make this the most climactic event of the county's history, and the local Legion have never been known to do things by halves. They are working as one man to make it the event of events, and if you miss coming to Brownfield July 4th, you will certainly miss a big treat.

TO OPEN A BRANCH OFFICE IN BROWNFIELD

As they have a number of patients in this section who are inconvenienced by having to make long trips to Lubbock, Drs. Boone & Boone Chiropractors of that city have decided to open a branch office in Brownfield in order to accommodate these patients. These doctors come highly recommended by those who know them, and the Herald welcomes them among our other professional men.

They will likely secure rooms at the Brownfield Hotel for the present at least, but if you do not find them there, the hotel man can tell you where to find them. A display in these columns next week will give definite location and further information. They will be ready for patients next Monday.

A Record Breaking Crowd Here Saturday

Did you ever notice that people like to go and trade at the town and with the merchants there that give them an invitation to do so? Personally, do you like to go any place where no invitation has been extended you and where you are not very sure the hospitality will be all that you might reasonably expect? No, you would hesitate before you did so if you have a reasonable amount of self respect.

The Brownfield merchants generally speaking, use a goodly amount of space each week to invite the people to come to Brownfield to get their necessities, and they back up their invitations with some real, honest-to-goodness inducements in the way of quality merchandise at attractive figures. Brownfield merchants have all, or the majority of them found that by doing a generous amount of advertising, that they can reach out further and further for more people, and that by doing a bigger business have more turn overs during the year, and can sell on a smaller margin of profit than competing towns who seem self satisfied with present conditions and are "watchfully waiting the turn of better things." Brownfield merchants are not content with the "watchful waiting" policy but are out after theirs while it is yet day and before night comes when no man can work.

The big crowds that line our side walks, streets and the store every Saturday are just an echo of the voice that calls them each week via a bounteous amount of paid advertising and backed up by quality goods at prices lower than any competing town in this section.

But last Saturday seemed to be a little extra over anything in the past several week, for more and more people are going just a little further in order to trade here. It was difficult from 2:00 until 6:00 o'clock in the afternoon to navigate the sidewalks on the west side of the square, or Hardin street from the Quality Filling Station corner to the Rialto Theatre. They were here as strangers that no one had ever met before, but they are strangers only once in Brownfield.

We asked an old timer if he would have believed anything like the Saturday afternoon crowd would ever be possible here 20 years ago. Heck! no, said he. "I could never then conceive of anything except two or three wagons, a half dozen buggies and seven or eight old broom tails ponies being parked on the square, and now with three rows of cars, two on each side and a double row in the middle on the main streets, one has difficulty of parking anywhere close in after 2:30 Saturday afternoons." "But the halt has never been told," said he, "if there is a big crops here this fall and with good prices prevailing."

Come to Brownfield for your many needs. It's here for you and you won't get it lower anywhere.

Good Farmer Says He Lost Less Than 5 Acres

Another enthusiastic convert to the deep plowing method is J. L. Lyon of the Hunter community, and Lee not only believes in it but practices all he preaches. He broke his land just as deep as four big mules could pull the plow as soon as he finished last year's crop. He said some of his neighbors estimated that he was going down 24 inches, but he doubted if it was quite that deep. Anyway, he turned up plenty of the old red clay subsoil on top, and as a consequence, he lost less than five acres from the effects of the storms and hot winds last week.

Whether you believe in deep plowing or not, you will have to admit that Lee Lyon is an excellent farmer and should know his onions about how to prepare his land. He has on an average as sandy farm as there is in Terry county, but he has produced good crops every year since he has been here—about 5 or 6 we think—and now has not only a well cultivated farm, but a nice residence, barn, and other outbuilding, and enjoys city convenience with his delco lights and other improvements. He is not a one track idea man either, but diversifies his farming as much as any man in the county. He has made some money every year he has been here with the possible exception of 1926 when the price of everything hit the bottom. The writer drove out Sunday after-

County Agent Enthused With Work Here

There is not a more enthusiastic man in Terry county than County Agent R. B. Davis, over their work, and if there is a man in the county that whistles and sings over their employment, it is Davis, we believe. Not because of the salary, that is secondary matter with him, but because he is succeeding with the full cooperation of the communities in putting over a real program of progress that will reflect to the advantage of all in the future years to come.

Did you know dear reader that we have right here in Terry county what is said to be the largest pig club in the great state of Texas, although we have not had a county agent but some three or four months? It is some reputation to run ahead of some of the older counties with ten times the population in just a few months. There are several reasons given for the big advance in so short a time, mainly the Santa Fe Demonstration train, and the Farmers Short Course held here in March. Mr. Davis attributes a lot of the credit to good agricultural instructors in the schools of the county, but we imagine a lot of it belongs to Mr. Davis himself, who without any preliminaries got down to work and has pushed it every minute since. Let the credit be where it belongs, but probably all were big factors in the rapid advance.

In view of the fact that that Mr. Davis could only give half time to Terry county—the other half belonging to Gaines county—it was thought best to give him an assistant, and no better man could possibly have been found than our own Wilton E. Williams, teacher of agriculture in the Brownfield schools. A more enthusiastic, energetic worker would be hard to find. And he is thoroughly qualified, being an A. & M. graduate. Read the letter from the clubs. They are all short and to the point, but you can read between the lines how both Davis and Williams stand with the farm boys and girls of Terry county. Note too, their bantering of each other, and this alone will keep the enthusiasm to a high pitch, for they all realize that a contest supreme is to come off at the county fair this fall, and the best club wins.

Go to it boys and girls, and remember the Herald is at your service and is glad to get your reports.

Jay Barret Explains About Weigher's Pre.

There still seems to be considerable misunderstanding about who votes for the public weighers in the different precincts. In answer to a request from S. F. Lane, I am giving the different voting precincts and the Public Weigher they vote for as follows:

Meadow only votes for the Meadow Weigher.

Wellman, Hunter, Willow Wells, West Forrester and Sawyer vote for the Wellman Weigher.

Tokio, Johnson, Union, Scudday, Bryant, East Forrester, North Gomez, South Gomez and all the boxes at Brownfield vote for the Brownfield Weigher.

Hoping this will straighten the matter out, I am,

Very truly yours,
Jay Barret, County Clerk

non and took particular notice that any farm where the red clods showed up on top, you would find a good stand and everything, cotton, corn or fed crops looking green and flourishing, while in field that had been just merely scratched, leaving the crawling sand on top, from one-fourth to one half the crop had been covered up or had to be replanted.

It is not only a question of getting the crops up but also a question of erosion. If the sandier lands of the county are not treated like this, in a few more years the top soils are going to be blown away, leaving them absolutely worthless.

SECRETS OF "BIG BERTHAS" REVEALED BY BUREAU

Washington—The mystery of the "Big Bertha," which struck terror into the hearts of the Allies ten years ago has been revealed by the Army of Ordnance.

Since the close of the World War historians have spoken of the long range gun that shelled Paris as the "great mystery of the war."

Only a few American army officers knew the real secret of the master cannon, which was after all but a clever job of gun building.

In the files of the Bureau of Ordnance is a complete description of the big gun, its projectile, its emplacement, all of which are accompanied by pictures. A few years ago a former German artillery officer offered to sell the War Department a blue-print of the "Big Bertha" design.

Department officials told him they could not afford to pay his price—they didn't have to, for all details of the gun are available for use if needed.

The "Big Bertha" was a master cannon, bigger, longer and more powerful than any built before or likely to be built again. Seven were constructed during the war. Three were building at the time of the Armistice and a number of American ordnance officers inspected them at an Austrian gun factory.

The main features as disclosed by the Ordnance Bureau are as follows:

1. The master guns were built for the shelling of Paris only.
2. They were reconstructed from worn-out fifteen-inch naval cannon.
3. They were built first for 8.27-inch shell and after being worn were rebored for 9.45 inch shells.
4. They were built in two sections the main section 38.5 feet long and the forward one 19.7 feet.

5. Each gun weighed 318,000 lbs.

6. The shell left the muzzle of the gun at a velocity of nearly a mile a second.

7. The projectiles weighed 264lbs. each and were approximately six and a half feet long, including the fuse cap.

8. The maximum range was seventy six miles, more than twice as far as the most powerful gun of today, and the projectile had to reach an altitude of 24 miles to cover its maximum distance.

According to War Department information, the guns were transported in two sections on a specially constructed railway mount. A special crane had to be erected to mount on their emplacements. They were mobile only in the fact that they could be quickly taken apart and moved back. The emplacements were of steel reinforced by concrete underneath. The life of a "Big Bertha" was 50 shells.

During the bombardment of Paris, in which 183 shells fell inside the city and 120 outside from March 23 to August 9, 256 persons were killed and 620 wounded.

The Allied troops never captured a "Big Bertha." Information at the War Department indicates they were destroyed by their gun crews as the Allied soldiers pushed toward Berlin.

Mr. Hoback has moved to the farm, but Mrs. Hoback has charge of their produce business in the Ed Spear Garage building, across the street west of Tudor's Garage.

Bob Snodgrass and family were up Sunday the guests of Mrs. Snodgrass' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Glover. They now live at Snyder.

Pat Green and family were down last Sunday visiting in the homes of his brothers-in-law, Oscar Jones and John Dumas.

BIG DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION COLISEUM DEDICATED

Houston, June 24.—The Democratic Convention Coliseum was dedicated today as Sam Houston Hall by a patriotic service participated in by city and state officials, all religious creeds and denominations and with Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the war president, as honor guest.

The meeting was presided over by the Rev. Sam R. Hay of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the Rev. W. D. Ryan, South End Christian church; the Rev. Bishop Clinton S. Quinn Protestant Episcopal church, the Rev. E. P. West, Second Baptist church; the Rev. B. Baltzer, First Evangelical church; Monsignor Geo. T. Walsh, Annunciation church; the Rev. Frank Atkinson, First Congressional church, and Rabbi Henry Barnston, Temple Beth Israel.

Others who took part were Clem

Shaver, chairman of the Democratic National Committee; Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the national committee on arrangements, and other members of the National Democratic Committee; state, city and county officials.

Dedication of Sam Houston Hall was the climax of a series of preparedness moves that have been under way for the last two months. The Coliseum, built in 64 working days when party leaders feared available convention facilities would prove inadequate, today stands complete to the very decorations for the hosts of Democracy to march into Tuesday.

The influx finds Houston ready to care for all, leaders in charge of the many committees assigned to separate arrangements for the convention, avow. And there is room for all, let the crowds keep coming, is the added word.

All the visitors will be given an opportunity to see the convention in action even though they have failed to obtain tickets by right of early application, according to announcement made today by Mayor Oscar Holcomb for the general arrangements committee.

According to late developments it is anticipated it will be possible to give each visitor to Houston a seat ticket for one session, in addition to the opportunity to enter the convention at other times via the promenade for a half hour.

A destructive hail recently visited the Ralls section, going clear across Crosby county, laying waste in its wake, unroofing houses and killing all kinds of live stock, not to mention the utter destruction of crops. It was reported to be the most severe hail on the Plains this year. But it left a good season and they are planting the crops again.

Frank Proctor says he will bring us a mess of new grown Terry county Irish cobbles in a few days. We quit saying they could not be grown in Terry after he brought us a nice mess last year. Let him pore it on us, who cares. We all make mistakes.

A small hail storm is reported to have visited a section of Yoakum Co. Monday morning, but did not do a great deal of damage.

Uncle Isaac Newberry visited the city Saturday and got all dolled up for Sunday School, Sunday.

Several attempts have been made to rain this week, there being light showers, Sunday and Monday nights. Our local prognosticator, Dad Crawford, says we are due a big one the 30th.

El Paso got the next West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention over its only rival, Waco. Nearly everybody says they are going to attend the convention next year.

Prepare this fall to store plenty of cotton seed to plant at least twice the amount of ground you aim to cultivate next year, and save both money and embarrassment.

This week is clean-up week, and next week is celebration week. If you have not started cleaning up the premises by the time this reaches you, do so at once. Use Friday and Saturday if necessary, and lets make the old town shine next Wednesday for the benefit of our visitors.

The real dirt farmer of the future will conserve and save his soil as well as to store away his products. The farmer can no more afford to waste his soil than the merchant can his goods, and he that lets the erosion resulting from our high spring winds carry away his soil is headed for bankruptcy.

Brownfield will play host next Wednesday to the people of its trade territory, the people who have made the town possible. Let's do our best to show them that it a great pleasure to have them for that day as our guests. While the celebration is under the auspices of the American Legion, the whole town is back of them in the undertaking.

In driving about of late we have noticed quite a lot of gardens that are looking good out in the country, and will soon be supplying the tables with nourishing, healthful foods. In town, however, the gardens do not average with last year, as householders say they can buy vegetables on the market as cheaply as they can pay for the water they use on them.

This has been an unusual year so far as hail storms are concerned, there having been more of them in all sections of Texas than ever recorded before so far as the writer knows. They not only covered large territories, but were very destructive to everything growing. We know they have been more frequent and more destructive than common in this section. It is reported that the entire county of Young was covered by one about three or four weeks ago that laid waste to everything in its wake, and made the timber look like the dead of winter. This may not occur again in years.

Now that we are to soon have natural gas in the city, we believe it would not be a bad idea for the city council to take precautions to pass an ordinance for inspection of gas lines from the property line to and into the residence, and if possible include electric wiring therein. This would be a safety measure to protect the property owners from people who are likely to come in by droves during the installation of gas here to do plumbing work, and being migratory birds drift on to the next town, caring little whether their work stood up or not. If there was such an ordinance, defective material and work could be caught before they have flown and corrected.

Editor Smith of the Lamesa Reporter, in a long editorial last week told the Democrats of Lamesa and Dawson county why they should support Herbert Hoover for president, although he admitted that Hoover didn't exactly suit him as he was not quite enough of a stand-patter—reading between the lines—to suit Smith. But the main trouble with Hoover, according to Smith, it seems, is that he was a great friend of Woodrow Wilson, and Smith has an imaginary grudge against that great statesman and patriot. Smith must to have been refused a postoffice under some Democratic administration.

To call a man a poor fish means to deride, to criticize him for lack of industry or intelligence or ambition, or some other vital factor in the thing we call success. Of all "poor fish" in the world of fish, the poorest in the gold fish—for it swims and swims and swims—thousands of miles perhaps—and then finds itself five inches from the starting point, just like his human prototype who does a lot of fiddling and fussing, a lot of jumping up and down, a lot of puffing and snorting, and then finds himself exactly where he started. Action is worthwhile only when it leads some place.—Rochester Reporter.

PRINCIPLES OF OPERATION

We believe that a bank should not only be a depository of funds, but indeed a haven where the rich and poor alike can confide their financial troubles, fears and doubts into the attentive ear of their mutual friend and counsellor the BANKER. The bank, the foundation of all saving, should be solid like the granite, standing the acid test of time, pursuing a conservative but friendly course.

This bank like the great Oak from a little acorn, of persistent effort and sound business principles has grown. It stands today like the Oak, it many services and ample resources like the limbs, cast their shadow of protection over those whose seek its shelter, a mecca which invites the confidence and patronage of the public

THE OLD CREAM CAN WAY

I hear the cream cans rattling, Dad is coming back from town, and I know that he is smiling for now he seldom wears a frown.

The cream can is our life buoy, we pay as we go.

It has given Old Man Credit his final knockout blow.

The cows are in the pasture, the milk pan's in the spring, Alfalfa in the barn loft, that's why we can sing.

We used to have one pay day in the fall of the year, and if our wheat crop failed us, it lefty us blue and dreary.

But now we have a pay day each sixth day afternoon—

The cream can never fails us, We love its rattling tune.

No merchant ever duns us for bills we cannot pay, for we pay cash for everything, The Good Old Cream Can Way.

The cream can with its rattle has made a different home; instead of always borrowing we now have things to loan;

We set a better table and have more clothes to wear, and enjoy a few luxuries.

Dad has lost that worried look that stalked him day by day, he looks a great deal younger, since the cream can came to stay. And when another baby comes we add nother can look around and trade a bit, annex another sow.

The pigs and calves all fatten fine upon the sweet skimmed milk, and grow and thrive with coats as fine as silk.

The proceeds from the stock and crop now go into the bank, the cream has paid all our bills—we have the cow to thank.

If you are blue and in a bad fix, in debt and dreary, just get a big old cream can, and a real good can or two and bring your cream to the Produce Houses at Brownfield.

—Mrs. Roy Hoback.

ADVERTISING TREND IS TO PAPERS, SAYS WILLYS

"Advertising has been an important factor in keeping the automobile industry running full speed. The trend today must swing more and more into newspapers, which are geared to have the necessary speed. Slow motion magazine advertising, I believe, must necessarily give way."

That is John N. Willys speaking, whose Overlands and Knights and Whippets have made him an outstanding figure in the motor car world, and his success gives authority to his words.

COMPULSORY INSURANCE CONTRARY TO CONSTITUTION

In a pertinent article on compulsory automobile liability insurance, Edmund J. Donegan, Vice President and General Counsel, Metropolitan Casualty Insurance Co., says:

"The requirement that insurance be purchased, security deposited or financial responsibility demonstrated as a condition precedent to operating a motor vehicle, hinges the right upon a property qualification. Such a law bears unevenly upon the clerk and the millionaire and violates our traditions, heritages and entire social consciousness.

"There is no question that the interests of the people as a whole demand that any citizen who has demonstrated his incompetence to handle a potentially dangerous vehicle, must forfeit his right of operation. Nor should his ability to respond with money for the injuries he causes and the damages he inflicts be the test. Gold is valuable, but it is not an adequate medium of exchange for flesh and blood.

"But when the humble citizen, having been subjected to proper examination, has satisfactorily demonstrated his physical and mental ability to operate a motor, why should he then further be compelled to prove his financial ability to respond for a fault of which he has not yet been guilty? Why should the law presume that he will thereafter be negligent or incompetent, when he has just proven the contrary?

"The competence and ability of each citizen to use an automobile without undue injury to his fellow men is the only true test upon which its ownership and operation should be predicated. Let the examination be as rigid as it will. Such a test bears on rich and poor alike. But why should the citizen of small means, who has capably demonstrated his capacity to operate such a vehicle, be penalized in advance of any fault by the exaction of a security or property qualification which bears harshly upon him and falls lightly upon his wealthy neighbor down the street? Such a condition contradicts everything found in our American Constitution."

Most employers are looking for dependable men and not brilliant men.

FIND TEXAS RANGES IN FINE CONDITION

AUSTIN, Texas, June 26.—Widespread rains during the latter part of May caused both livestock and ranges in Texas to take an upward turn, according to results noted by Bervard Nichols, editor of the Texas Business Review, published monthly by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas. Ranges are in good condition and there is enough moisture in the ground to insure good pastures for another month or two. The livestock industry is improving rapidly and the transfer of cattle within the state and to points in other states is increasing.

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

Secretary Shelton Reports on C. of C. Trip

Secretary Shelton returned last Wednesday night from Fort Worth, where he represented Brownfield at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention. So far as he was aware, he was the sole person from Brownfield there for that purpose. Others were there or passing through but took no part officially or otherwise to help him advertise this section. Most other town in this section had their bands and from 50 to 100 representatives there to make all the noise possible and cut monkey shins, and from what we gather from various reports, the crazier the stunts a town can pull at these doings, the more attraction they get.

The Herald has its own idea about such a gathering being a place to advertise and that idea is that it is not worth a tenth of the energy and the money expended in it. In the first place, the advertising is primarily intended to attract the farming class of citizens to this section, as the other kind, business men and all will naturally follow the drift of the farmer as the needle is attracted to the poles. Secretary Shelton informed us that farmers, or rather people who looked like farmers were very conspicuous by their absence.

Second, people go to such places to see, hear, be seen and heard. In other words they are after entertainment and they are not in the right humor or condition to be stopped on the streets to read literature. As to the passing of the flashing decorated floats with their smiling and dimpled princesses and queens, five minutes after they pass the observer does not remember whether they were from Hogheaven or Phillymayork, and the band even, in its natty uniform, with all its sweet music does not impress its location upon the minds of the pleasure seeking crowd no longer than it takes the last refrain of the "Old Grey Mare" to die out. They are there for pleasure and sightseeing and not to buy a section of land.

Of course these conventions have their value, and we would not detract one iota from that value, but as far as getting new settlers, they are nil. The main value lies in the different sections of West Texas becoming better acquainted with each other in order to be in better position to pull together during the next year for what ever the section may stand in need of, but this pulling is not done while the convention is in session, but after they return home and the people are in a more receptive mood to talk and work for and consider their many needs in the way of legislation and other things of a material nature. But we doubt it ever being much of an immigration agency.

The Herald has its ideas about ad-

WASHES, CARRIES COAL, WOMAN GAINS 18 POUNDS

"I wash, iron, and carry coal and don't get tired since taking Vinol. Also, I have gained 18 pounds."—Mrs. S. Cortese.

Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver peptone, iron, etc. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a BIG appetite. The very FIRST bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Tastes delicious. Palace Drug Store.

RHEUMALAX RELIEVES RHEUMATISM

Mr. Chas. May, Wheeler, Texas writes, that "for 15 years I had rheumatism so badly that could hardly dress myself. One bottle cured me sound and well and I highly recommend it to any one suffering from this dreadful disease." RHEUMALAX sold and guaranteed by Alexander Drug Store.

vertising this section, but that idea differs radically from advertising at any convention or any other large gathering of pleasure seekers. Our idea is equip a truck with some of our products, hire a man who is a good talker to make the county seat towns and the larger cities and villages of central west Texas, from where we get the majority of our citizenship, let them drive upon their streets, get a good corner even if they have to pay for it and display the products, talk them, and hand out descriptive literature. Thus the people are hit up in their own towns and communities when they are under no excitement and you get their attention and interest and for months the exhibits, the talk and the literature will dwell in the minds of the people you meet which may at least result in at least a trip of inspection later on. We have almost reached the point where we doubt if big fairs are paying propositions to advertise as far as individual counties are concerned. Regional exhibits probably pay, as they are naturally larger and more attractive and get more publicity of the local dailies.

People who are out to be entertained are not the people to talk to about buying land in your section.

Mrs. David Jeter returned to her home Tuesday after an operation for appendicitis at the local hospital.

R. L. Harris, local Santa Fe agent, and family, returned Monday from Pennsylvania where they spent vacation with Mrs. Harris' relatives. They returned via Fort Worth where they visited his parents for a few days before returning home. They have been away nearly two months.

G. G. Gore tickled the Herald family by presenting them with a gallon of good old buttermilk Monday. There's nothing better than good thick buttermilk right off the fridge.

Oscar Adams and family of Brownwood, Texas, are spending vacation here visiting his mother and other relatives. They are old timers here and have many friends.

LITTLE GIRL DROWNS IN TANK OF WATER

Reba Joyce Hardin, the little eighteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Hardin, who reside in the Pettit community, drowned in an earthen tank at the family home at a late hour Monday afternoon.

The sad affair was not only a shock to the bereaved family but to the entire community where the little one had won a place in the hearts of all. She was a happy child, who viewed the world through her own innocent eyes and had a smile and a glad salutation for both friend and stranger. From what can be learned two other children had been floating the little one on the surface of the pool in a tub, and later it became necessary for her companions to go to the field to run an errand, when it is supposed that the baby returned to the water and attempted to again indulge in the sport with disastrous results. She had not been absent from her mother's side but about ten minutes when she was found dead in the water.—Levelland Herald.

"THERE IS NOTHING NEW UNDER THE SUN"

Our earth has degenerated in these latter days, and there are signs that the world is speedily coming to an end. Bribery and corruption are common; children no longer obey their parents and every man wants to write a book.

The above quotation comes from an Assyrian writer who lived 2,800 years before the time of Christ. It seems that in those days, nearly 5,000 years ago, the old folks were having trouble with their children and politicians were grafting on the people accepting bribes, and were otherwise corrupt and dishonest in handling the affairs of Government.

Read the quotation again. Doesn't it sound familiar to you? If you are past the age of forty and have become more or less settled in life, haven't you said about the same thing concerning present-day conditions and the conduct of the young people? Revert to the memories of your childhood and see if you cannot recall hearing your own parents bewail the fact that the young people were living a fast life; that the good old days were gone and the world was on its way to hell at a 2:40 clip.

The young people of today are hearing about the same things from their parents that were told the boys and girls 5,000 years ago, and yet the world continues to turn on its axis each twenty-four hours and revolves around the sun every 365 1/4 days. Politicians were crooked 5,000 years ago, and some of the politicians of today must be direct descendants from them. Yet, although Government has become more complex and our interests have expanded, we continue to make progress in the ways of civilization.

DOCTOR SAYS LIFE OF MEN AND WOMEN MAY BE 150 YEARS

London—A prospect that women as well as men live to be 150 years old before dying a "charming death," as a result of the latest development of his rejuvenation processes, was held out by Dr. Serge Voronoff, of Vienna, in a lecture to the Medical Society of Cambridge University. The effects of his operation are as remarkable in the case of women as in that of men since he perfected a treatment for the former's more delicate physique, the monkey gland expert asserted.

"I can rejuvenate women too" Dr. Voronoff said in describing what he called successful results of experiments carried out since 1924, when he extended his rejuvenation research into the feminine field. English and American women, by contrast to the French, insist on a great deal more than mere physical beauty, the doctor said.

"They desire to be made young and strong and be able to hunt and play tennis, golf, and such things again with all the vitality of youth," Dr. Voronoff continued.

THE EPIDEMIC OF SLANG

The "orgy of slang" which seems to be a characteristic of the neurotic life of a certain class of young Americans is deluged by a popular writer, who seems to think this a disease, when it is only a symptom. After pointing out that many of the expressions in vogue had their origin in the gutters of experience, he expresses the view that if these "smart young people" could only realize how low is the society they mimic they would blush in shame.

This is taking the matter entirely too seriously. That vagabonds and rogues use phrases current in the transient vocabulary of slang concerns the average youth not at all. Boys and girls of today are very much self-encompassed, self-contained, and self-sufficient.

There should be no alarm. Slang there will always be, of course, and not all of it will be objectionable or useless. The present tendency to indulge in an orgy of unlovely speech will pass sooner or later as all extremism does. The more extreme the fad, whether in clothes or speech, the shorter its life.—Ex

Arn't you often amazed, when at the end of hard day's work, you look back and see how little you have accomplished?

SIMMONS STADIUM TO SEAT 10,000 PEOPLE

ABILENE, June 26—The contract for the new steel stadium to be erected at Simmons University was let late last week to R. C. Lewis, local contractor, and construction will begin at once on the first unit which is to be completed before September 22, the date of the first home football game of the Simmons Cowboys.

The first unit will cost $15,000 and seat 5,000 people, making the total seating capacity of Parramore Field 10,000 for the coming football season. Several high school games will probably also be played on the Simmons grid.

The stadium as planned, when completed will seat nearly 20,000 people and give Simmons the largest stands in West Texas.

The new playing field is to run north and south and the first unit will be erected on the west side of the field.

Chinese Place Monkey Higher Than Scientist

Shanghai, China, May 23, 1928
Dear Editor:—

I have just read articles by missing link seekers. In one was reproduced a photo—an ape's foot much like a human foot. The author said it proved our ape ancestry. Recently I handled a snapshot of an islander with a tail four four inches long. Another proof! But a few years ago I saw in Japan a stuffed calf with a human face—a strong proof that we sprung from the cow! So what are we to think? The article amused as they said believers in their theory were of "up-to-date," and "modern" minds. But their "new" idea seemed like plagiarism. These "super-minded" men say we came up from the monkey and are even in some sense divine! The Chinese of old say a monkey—excepting his face—became not only a man but also a god! has his temples and is worshipped in China. I enclose a monkey god for your inspection.

The Chinese say he was hatched by gentle zephyrs, from a stone egg on a rock mountain, to be a delight to the upper-god. But alas, he was a trouble maker. He was ambitious, and his exploits caused him to be acclaimed a king of the animals and to wax strong. Thru Long-Wang he got an iron rod which he could expand at will to span the sky or contract so as to fit in his ear—magic wand! Pu-ti taught him how to fly and how to change himself into 72 different shapes. What he could not do is hard to say. But as he gained in power, and his friends said he was worthy to rule heaven, he wished to do so. Many kings made leagues with him and celebrated it with feasting. But our monkey got drunk, and while unconscious he was taken to hell. He awoke, overcome the powers of hell, and escaped. He was accused to Yoh Wang who thought to keep Monkey quiet by bestowing upon him the title of "Heavenly Horse-Keeper." He was elated; but learning it was an empty title, he, in fierce anger, smashed heaven's gate and over-turned the throne. The upper-god called upon the hosts of heaven and hell to overcome the monkey, but in vain. After the monkey's victory, the upper-god, in fright, conceded monkey's demands, made him a god, conferred upon him a real title, and allowed him to live in heaven in a grand castle. But monkey-god was not godly! He would steal, stealing and eating the peaches of everlasting life and, from Lao Chun's palace, stole and ate his pills of immortality. Doubly immortal, proud of his powers, he constantly mocked the other gods. He became unbearably overbearing. A great conference was called in heaven to which great Buddha was summoned. The monkey-god even tried to mock this, the "self-existent one!" I have heard that you are a great jumper, is it true," asked Buddha. "I'll bet you can't leap out of my hand. If you do I'll make you king of heaven." The monkey eagerly answered, "I can turn over 108,000 times in one somersault, why shouldn't I leap out of your hand." then the monkeygod turned a somersault to the five white pillars—limits of the universe—and wrote his name on one, to show he'd been there, and turned a somersault back in triumph. "Didn't I turn out of your hand?" asked the monkeygod. "See what you wrote on my finger," the Buddha answered, and showed monkey his name on his finger—one of the pillars! Monkey gazed amazed. Buddha seized him, put him under a mountain, fed him red hot iron to punish him for his many sins, and said: "After a number of years a monk named Dang Sen will come and free you. You shall follow and guard him as he goes from the books of Buddha from the "Western Paradise." Years sped; all came true; monkey reformed, became true to his title, "The holiest in the heaven," and people began to worship him.

We teach my Brownies not these myths but the truth as given in the Bible. God's word for it satisfies us. Chinese teachings do not enoble nor make life safe in China; but where God's word hold's sway is goodness, safety and life. Pray that the Chinese may know the Bible, and know Jesus Christ—God and man—as their precious Savior. With kindest regards,

Yours in Christ's glad service,
(Rev.) H. G. C. Hallock

A letter from Miss Mozelle Treadaway last week, who is attending summer school at Boulder, Colo., stated that it was certainly "cool Colorado" alright, as they were using their coats every day.

Farmers Should Keep Plenty Cotton Seed

The old farmer gets plenty of advice from every direction and from everybody. All people whether they have ever guided the handles behind old Beck down a single row of cotton or not are capable of giving the old farmer a mint of advise, and all of us imagine IF they would just do half what we say the banks could not contain the gold they would store away for the proverbial rainy day.

But even to the casual observer and adviser it appears that it takes the farmers of this section a long time to learn to keep enough seed, especially cotton seed, to replant the crop in case of a hail or blowout. And in view of the fact that one or the other of these happen almost every year, causing the majority of our farmers to have to replant from one to three times, it would appear that the lesson of keeping plenty of seed would be driven home with full force.

Another thing, it is always the exception rather than the rule that cotton seed are cheaper at planting time than at ginning time, there fore we can't possible figure any economy in selling the seed at ginning time prices to later buy them back at planting time prices. Then after the crop is safely beyond all danger, and when it would not be safe to plant cotton, they can always be sold at a good profit, and the money comes in at a time when most needed.

We heard a fellow say recent that he hoped the farmers would have to pay $140 dollars a ton for replanting seed and maybe it would learn them a lesson. The Herald does not wish its farmer friends any such bad luck, but perhaps such a calamity would be a lasting lesson. Why not store up plenty seed this fall for all necessary replanting next spring. Be safe rather than sorry.

REV. FARMER RECOVERS LOST CAR

The car belonging to Rev. Farmer, pastor of the Methodist church here and which was stolen from in front of the church in Brownfield one night last week where his son Woodson, with a party of young people had driven it to Brownfield to attend the Epworth League meeting at that place, was recovered last of the week in Ralls where it had been abandoned by the party who is supposed to have taken the car. It was considerably damaged when found. Parts of the engine burned with other parts badly broken. Apparently the car had been driven about 300 miles, and no doubt the thief was trying to make his getaway when it went to the bad and had to be abandoned.—Seagraves Signal.

WORLD'S WORST PAPER HANGER

The world's worst paper hanger has turned up in Iowa. His latest activities are reported in a letter from an Iowa farm woman to the editor of Farm and Fireside, national farm magazine. She writes:

"I hired this fellow the other day to paper my farm parlor. He was an itinerant workman, but he assured me that he knew his business. I put him to work and had to be away most of the day on various affairs.

"When I looked over the job in the evening, I noticed some peculiar bumps on the wall, and I asked the paper hanger for the reason. He scratched his head and replied: 'I knew that I had forgotten something. They must be the doggone pictures!"

Dr. B. D. DuBois, assisted by Dr. W. A. Fletcher, operated on Mrs. A. Hughes at the Brownfield Sanitarium Tuesday morning. The patient was on the operating table less than 40 minutes, and is reported to be doing nicely. She had appendicitis.
