BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1928

NUMBER 47

Chamber of Commerce

By the Secretary

The writer does not own a cent of stock in the Brownfield Laundry and is not related in any way to the manager, but he does know first class laundry work when he sees it and wants to say without fear of successful contradiction that the Brownfield institution puts out some of the finest work that it has been my pleasure to view in several moons. An yet, with all this, I saw an out-of-town laundry wagon, that does not contribute one dime to the support of our schools, churches or other civic activities, drive out of town Monday loaded to the guard with clothing to be laundered when the same work could have been done at the same price by our home people. "Trade at Home. Why not practice what we preach."

Last night witnessed the passing of our band. It has not been adequately supported, and as a number of the older players have removed or are going to college, and as it was necessary to break a bunch of new ones in, our director decided that it was better to disband than under take it with the majority of players agreeing with him. Later on when the town decides that it needs a band and is willing to allow it the financial support that it due it, an attempt will be made to resurrect it.

A home carnival will be pulled off Friday night July 20th and it is going to be lots of fun. The proceeds will be used to partially defray the expenses of our 4H club members to the Farmers Short Course at College Station.

County Agent R. B. Davis and the writer have begun to prepare for the County Fair, and a premium list will be published within the next few weeks. We are going to pull off a great exhibition this fall and everyone should prepare for it.

Through this column the writer desires to express his appreciation and that of the Legion for the liberality of the J. M. Radford Grocery Company for furnishing Wamba Coffee for the 4th of July barbecue and to the Walker Smith Company, the Waples Platter Company and the Stephens McKee Grocery Company for a keg of pickles each. The H. O. Wooten Grocery Company could not see their way clear to distribute anything, yet I am informed that they enjoy a very liberal portion of purchases made by our merchants. All the above firms are wholesale distributors and are quartered at Lubbock.

This is the monthly meeting date for the directors of the chamber of commerce and all indications point to a slim attendance, although I think there are some official O. K's. that I would like to have as they concern activities planned. If the National Association kept tab on me as the National organization of Rotary keeps on its members, my attendance record would run considerably below the average.

Store Burglarized and Car Stolen Thursday

It has been many moons since anything of a burglary nature occurred in the city, except petty thefts, until last Thursday during the night, when some thief or thieves entered the Boone Hunter Drug Store and obtained several hundred dollars worth of jewelry from the show cases which included watches, rings and other jewelry. Entrance to the store was gained through a back window by cutting a screen.

During the same night a Nash coupe being driven by J. H. McKinney of Lubbock, and belonging to a wholesale firm of that city for which Mr. McKinney is working, was taken from in front of the King Hotel, but it was found parked on the main streets of Lubbock next day.

Local officers are of the opinion that the two thefts were merely coincidental, and that the car was merely stolen by parties that wanted to get to Lubbock, but that the jewelry theft was likely done by local parties. They are still working on the case, but have no reports to give out at this time.

Roy Collier and family returned Sunday from a visit with his parents at Vernon, Texas.

E. B. McBurnett, manager of a lumber yard at Crowell, together with his wife, came in this week for a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. McBurnett and family.

The Glorious Fourth A Great Day Here

No one in Brownfield or Terry county but are proud of the way the big celebration and barbecue was put over here on the 4th of July, and even though the speeches did not come up to the expectation of Aesculapias, probably other things did, so we are all satisfied. All the committees had done their work well, and the button, as it were, was ready to be pressed at the appointed time, opening the day. All flags and decorations were out by nine in the morning and at ten o'clock the band formerly opened the celebration with an hour's concert. At eleven o'clock Marvin Jones our present congressman gave his report to the voters of how he had served them and asked for reelection. This concluded the speaking in the A. M. and dinner was announced.

And such a dinner; good old pot roast, bread and pickles, and the best gravy you ever smacked your lips on. Everybody was agreed on this; not an adverse comment of the 8,000 people or more who partook of it. Some went so far as to say it was the best meat they ever ate. R. L. Holly knows his onions when it comes to cooking meat. The coffee also was superb and just right, say the coffee drinkers. There was two huge caldrons of meat left when the feast was over.

About one o'clock the crowd again assembled, and master of ceremonies, W. W. Price, introduced J. Ross Bell, candidate for congress, Mr. Rountree and J. K. Wester, both candidates for the legislature, and Pink L. Parish for the State Senate. All made good talks. Others spoke for Louis J. Wardlaw, Earl E. Mayfield and possibly others that we did not get.

Later in the afternoon came the rodeo and horse races, that while they did not last long, were real thrilling. Two horses ran together on the race track, which kindly bruised up the riders, but they were not seriously hurt. Nice purses were awarded to the best ropers, riders, and wild cow milkers as well as in the horse races. Then came the base ball game, and Brownfield won it easily from o'Donnell, as well as the one the afternoon before, but both were interesting games.

Late in the afternoon the crowd again enjoyed a fine band concert and late into the night the people who remained, and there were many, enjoyed the dance, the picture show or the carnival that held sway until perhaps after midnight.

Thus ended one of the best celebrations from every angle ever staged in the history of the county. Not a thing throughout the day to mar the pleasure of anyone that we heard of, but it is reported that a couple of fist fights were pulled during the night; no one seriously hurt during these combats.

Church of Christ Revival Getting Good Crowds

The revival now being conducted at the city tabernacle by J. E. Wainwright under the auspices of the local church of Christ, is growing in interest from service to service, and the crowds are also increasing. Sunday night the tabernacle was three fourths filled despite the fact that there were services at three of the other churches in the city. The attendance dropped Monday night, but this is always expected. Monday was the first day service with more than 100 in attendance.

Bro. Wainwright is not only a good Bible scholar, but is well posted in many other lines of learning, that helps to make him a well rounded, platform speaker, and he holds the attention of his hearers from beginning to end. He is free of the nervousness of many evangelists in that any noise in or around the building does not seem to disturb him. He begins instructing a class of children in the rudiments of the Bible Monday. There were about 40 the first day, and the attendance in these classes are steadily increasing.

The meeting will go on over Sunday night.

The Chapman D. C. has purchased the Conrad store at Plains, and are now running same as a branch of the store here. The deal was consummated about two weeks ago.

County Agents Column

Darwood Moorhead, the latest pig club member, reports that his O.I.C. pig that he ordered from the north is doing fine. This gives us four breeds in the pig clubs. Wonder which will show up the best at the fair?

Darrel Verner reports that his pig gained 49 pounds the first month. Orville Tilger's made 40 pounds and several others report gains from 30 to 45 pounds. Most every pig made a pound a day gain, which is good, considering the fact that it took a week or ten days for the pigs to get started. The Fair is just a little over two months from now and those pigs should weigh from 200 to 250 pounds by then and not be fat. The pigs as a whole are very satisfactory and we still believe that a better lot has never been started by club boys. Mr. Lillard writes that the papers were started to the Record Association some time ago, and the registration certificates should be here before long.

The last workout in stock judging was held Saturday evening with 25 boys still working hard. From the boys who have been coming out for this practice, the judging eight will be selected who will represent Terry county in the live stock and dairy judging contests that will be held at the Farmers Short Course at A. & M. College the first week in August. While these boys from Terry county will be competing with boys from all over Texas, some of whom will have considerable more experience, yet the Terry county teams will make somebody work for first place and will make a credible showing for their county. Mr. Williams has been giving a part of the boys and girls work in the judging of grain and poultry, and he will select six to represent this county in the grain and poultry contests. There will be about 50 all told who have tried out for the teams and while only 14 can make the teams, those who have worked and failed to make the team have got some good training that will help them make the next teams.

The baby beef club will not be organized until about the first of Sept., but some of the boys have already selected their calves and are beginning to gentle them and get them used to feed which is a mighty good idea. All who plan on feeding a calf or two had better be looking out for a good calf. It does not have to be registered, but should be a high grade Hereford with no jersey in it. It will take a good calf to hold its own at the Baby Beef show next spring.

The deep plowing test at Seminole continues to look good. The sand has not hurt the cotton or anything, and the corn is twice as large on the deep plowed ground as the corn by its side that was not plowed deep.

The club members are all mighty busy but they are not too busy to attend meeting and carry on their club work. The clubs appreciate the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, business men and ladies clubs are making to send the judging teams to the Short Course, and it makes them more determined to make a showing for Terry county. With the splendid cooperation the clubs have and are getting, Terry county is bound to make a name in club work this year.

NOTICE TO OUR CITIZENRY

It is with pride and regret that we have this notice printed. Pride for the achievements accomplished by the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce Band, and a deep regret that conditions forced upon this organization the only alternative left which is to disband.

Notwithstanding the loyalty of those who have made possible the progress of the Band to the present time, the financial support of the organization is inadequate to continue the work. Consequently the above action was taken. We as the officers of the band take this opportunity to thank each and all who have in any way contributed to the support and success of the Band in the past.

We herewith affix our signatures with sincere regard and respect, and a heart full of love for our entire citizenship,

Jno. S. Powell,
President and Conductor.

"What a Country" Says Cleveland, O. Paper

The Democratic National Convention will do more to advertise the great State of Texas than anything ever attempted heretofore, the hundreds and hundreds of journalists, writers and newspaper men who visited Houston outdoing each other to say nice things about our state.

Particularly was the Times-Signal interested in what Walker S. Buel of the Cleveland (Ohio) Plain Dealer had to say. The Senior Editor has been reading his special stories for years, knows him personally, and he is a gentleman that shoots straight from the hip. The Plain Dealer being one of Ohio's greatest dailies, the following story appeared on their front page is disseminating the sort of information and publicity that Texas needs.

Under a black face head which read "Texas' Heart As Big As Its Map, So Don't Fear Six Shooters. Buel Finds It's State of Distances and Hospitality; Junk Your Ideas of Gun-Totin' Cowboys on Every Corner," the following story appeared:

"What a country!" "If you are troubled with ringing in the ears, spots before the eyes and a stifled, shut-in, stifled feeling come down to this southwestern empire where King Cotton and Lady Bountiful keep open house in the open spaces.

"Come down here where a gulf breeze blows away the cobwebs from your brain and readjusts your vision to distances you never imagined existed within the borders of a single state; where there is enough of a sun to produce a tan which goes becomingly with white linen clothing, the standard uniform of the Empire; where the greeting to a stranger is universally the same:

"What can we do to make you feel at home?"

"Stay here 24 hours, and you're ready to take off your hat at every mention of the name of Texas."

"Stay here a week and you wonder why political parties have been such fools never to have convened in the Southwest before."

"After the Republican and Democratic national committees met in Washington last winter, certain numbers of people whose political or professional activities require their presence at national conventions, spent the months intervening until June worrying about the limited facilities they expected at Kansas City and Houston. They were pleasantly surprised at Kansas City, and Houston has opened their eyes wide with amazement.

"Houston has built a hall just for this occasion, turned over its hotels to delegates, the press and convention officialdom; opened its homes for visitors, provided camping space for tourists, thrown away the key to the city gates, and flung them wide with an invitation to the rest of the world to come in where there's plenty of room to be comfortable.

"There's nothing a convention or those attending it would want that Houston has not provided. That's Houston."

"Anyone who knew his map should have realized there never could be overcrowding in Texas. Just look at it—an area on which the map of Ohio could be placed six times and still leave a margin of waxy black Texas earth to grow a fringe of cotton and corn around it."

"Yet in that entire area dwells a population less than Ohio's. Ohio's population is nearest of them all to the size of Texas' population. Estimates give Ohio approximately 6,710,000 and Texas 5,397,000.

"But the area of the state of Texas is 265,896 square miles, and the area of Ohio is 41,040.

"Here is an area greater than any country in Europe except Russia; greater than that of France, greater than that of prewar Germany."

"One of the congressional districts has 53 counties.

"Here is an area embracing 40 percent of the cotton acreage of the United States and producing one-third of the country's cotton crop."

Has Had Six Flags

"Here is a country over which six flags have flown—French, Spanish, Mexican, Texas, Confederate and United States; a country which fought single-handed for its independence and maintained it; a country of stock farming and crop production, of petroleum wells and coal mines; a country the distance between two points, Texarkana and El Paso, is longer than from Texarkana to Chicago.

"What a country! That's Texas!" "Abandon all your one-time notions of Texas, if you still have them. Forget the old pictures of cowboys riding down dirt roads between one-story shacks, shooting at the stars and singing."

"Downtown Houston or Dallas might be a downtown section of Cleveland. The Houston Mounted Police would be a credit to Euclid Avenue."

"There may be romance in thinking of Texas as the place where, on any corner you might see a sun-burned gentleman with a large revolver displaying a conspicuous star on his suspender and saying in a quiet but dangerous voice to a mean-looking person:

"Stranger, what you-all know about the fight at Roughhouse Rosie's last night?"

"The fact is, you'd be just as likely to see that at Superior and Sixth, in front of the Plain Dealer Building, as you would in front of the Rice Hotel in Houston."

"If there are any Texas Rangers in town they look like everybody else, and have been mistaken for delegates."

"Texas hospitality greeted us before we got to Houston. You travel a long way in Texas before you get to your destination, and a special press train, taking news writers from Kansas City to Houston, broke the trip over Sunday at Dallas. The 'Katy' Railroad (Missouri, Kansas & Texas) put on its best bib-and-tucker for us."

"We left Kansas in the night. Incidentally we got caught in the tail end of one of those real Kansas windstorms, the first wind I ever experienced strong enough to rock a Pullman car."

"It did not relieve us especially when we were told the reason we had stopped on the prairie was that a box car had blown over just ahead of

"When a Cleveland man had led out of his Pullman window next morning, the first thing he saw on a wide stretch of landscape was a cow browsing near a pipe-line gas tank."

"Hot dog!" he said. "You can't fool me. Cattle and oil. This is Texas."

"Sure enough! We got into a suburb of Dallas, a moment later, and there the local newspapers and the Chamber of Commerce had a fleet of automobiles and a whole-souled welcome awaiting the journeying correspondents."

"There was a trip around the city, which revealed, among other things, what real Spanish architecture looks like in an appropriate setting. Dallas has a beautiful residential development."

"Also we saw cactus."

"We learned in Dallas what we have since confirmed in Houston, that there are two delightful adjuncts of a climate like this.

"One of the most important features of every hotel room is a ceiling fan, the long-bladed kind that back in Ohio are peculiar to restaurants, which, with the help of open windows and a latticed door, keeps the air moving."

"Also this is the part of the world for real roof garden dining. Last Sunday evening we watched dusk settle down over Dallas while we dined atop the Baker hotel and the orchestra played 'Indian Love Call.'

"It was the end of a perfect Texas day, but a beginning of continuously pleasing experiences as we moved on down to Houston."

"We saw corn well up, cotton plants doing well, and the oats already ready cut and shocked before we finished traveling next day and arrived at Houston."

"The convention city greeted us not only with an official committee and cars to the hotel, but with a band to play 'Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here.'"

"Before night we felt at home in Houston. Everywhere there were big, tall men with open hands to let you know that Houston was glad to see you."

"The Rice Hotel is topped by a roof garden dining room which catches the breeze from the gulf and is a refuge from the heat of the street level."

"The curious fact about heat here is that it is always tempered by a breeze which at all times is almost a gale. The air is never still."

"For those who could slip away for half a day there has been surf bathing at Galveston, which is only as far

Home Talent Carnival Here Next Friday

Hey! yes, we are going to have a carnival in town the night of July 20th. Mr. R U Wise will have his whole show here for that night only, for the purpose of raising money to send the boys club judging team to the A. & M. College. Your friends from all over Terry county will be here that night to help out. Meet them here and have a grand time.

This carnival will be composed of home talent, and Mr. Wise thinks we have plenty of it here, and we know it. We are going to have everything it takes to make a big time. There will be a hobby-horse, fortune teller, floating fairies, ground hogs, baby elephants and all sorts of shows.

Ladies this will be the place and time to get all the latest styles. Mr. Wise portrays the styles of today, yesterday and tomorrow in his vast collections, dating back to 1928 B.C. and extending in his imagination to 2028 A.D.. Men this style show will be a marvel to you as well as the ladies. You may decide, "there is no use."

Mr. Wise, has in his carnival a specimen or exhibit of the best butter in the world. Since earth came into existence scientists have endeavored in vain to produce a better butter. Mr. R. U. Wise will give the receipt by which it is made.

Mr. Wise offers the fight fans a show that will be second only to the Madison Square garden bouts pulled off by Tex Rickard. Lightning Al Stephens challenges any comer in wrestling up to 120 pounds, while Perry Madison will take on any one up to 160 pounds. Clean, fast, elusive and hard hitting boxers will make the night an interesting one for those who like clean athletic sports.

Sights you have never seen! And thrills that come once in a lifetime! Joy, myth and happiness. It will all be there.

I will meet you at the country store right in the middle of the carnival grounds where everything from a shave and hair cut to a rolling pin; from a rat skin to an elephant hide will be sold and say, we're going to have some time. Carnival grounds on east side of square.

—R. U. Wise?

Local Fire Chief Makes Good Grade at Denton

The city council had a report under date of June 29th, from the State Firemen's and Marshalls' Association, reporting on the grade made by local Fire Chief, Eunice Jones, during the recent State Convention of Firemen. They gave him a grade of 85 which we consider good no longer than an organization of this kind has been in operation here.

Eunice is not only an enthusiastic worker himself, but he has a bunch of men behind him that are of the same material, and are now sharing with Eunice in the knowledge he thus gained at Denton not only in the two days schooling conducted by the State Fire Marshall, but also in seeing some of the best companies in the state in actual operation.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Green, a 12 pound boy the 12th.

Dr. and Mrs. B. D. DuBois have returned from their vacation in the mountains of New Mexico.

away as a ride from Cleveland to Algon, and as accessible by hourly interurban.

"Those who did not bring linen clothes purchased some here, and those who brought some, purchased more. The streets and hotel lobbies are reminiscent of a fashionable resort with white-clad men and attractive women in summery attire."

"To those who said it was insane for a convention to come to Texas in June, I have only to remark that they did not 'know their onions.' Texas raises 3,000,000 bushels of Bermudas yearly."

"Any old time is the right time to educate yourself by a visit to a state whose tradition and vastness has caused it to be called an empire; whose flag is ever tossed by a breeze, even though there is tropical heat; whose emblem might the cornucopia and whose law is hospitality."

"I repeat, 'What a country!'"

WOODMAN CIRCLE PROVIDING FOR DEPENDENTS

In the near future, Orphan Annie and other little orphans won't have to scuff around in the cruel, cold world, for they may live at the Woodmen Circle Home for Aged Members and Orphans, at Sherman, Texas.

That is, if one or both of their parents belonged to the Woodmen Circle or if the children themselves belonged to the Junior Circle.

Likewise, if Grandma is not well-off and is alone in the world, she may make the home her home—Grandpa too.

That is, if they are members of the Woodmen Circle.

Sherman won the home location in competition with a score of other cities throughout the southern part of the country. Time and time again the national officers have stated that they can always count on the utmost cooperation from Texas members. Texas sets a pace for the rest of the states in leadership, ideas, and spiritual cooperation as well as regular and tremendous increases in membership. There is a combined membership of 38,000 in this state. The society has long appreciated this interest is shown by the fact that to date it has invested nearly $5,000,000 in Texas state, county and municipal bonds.

At the present time a Texas architect is drawing up a plan for the ultimate development of the home. A Texas engineer is making topographic surveys of the society's 214 acres. Work will soon begin on the Administration hall and on a number of two-story brick cottages, each to accommodate 14 orphans and a matron.

To make the old folks and little orphans happy and comfortable, to take an interest in them, and especially to make them feel at home is the aim of the society, which wants to get away from old time "institutionalism"

Dr. Lester Treadaway will return home from San Antonio where he has been interned in a hospital since finishing a four year course in the State University Medical College at Galveston, about the 20th, and we understand will be connected with his father, Dr. T. THE NEW LIVING

Brownfield Herald: In driving about of late we have noticed quite a lot of gardens that are looking good out in the country, and will soon be supplying the tables with nourishing, healthful foods. In town, however, the gardens do not average with last year, as householders say they can buy vegetables on the market as cheaply as they can pay for the water they use on them.

State Press in Dallas News: Let the town folks buy their vegetables. The truck growers must depend upon the urban market. To produce beans in one's back yard at a cost beyond the retail price is poor economy, and it deprives the trucker of a customer. Those who make their homes in town should play the role of consumer, while those residing on the land should be producers. This balances the population and gratifies the economic factor. Vegetables are now available all the year round to most Americans. Fresh vegetables, green vegetables, are procurable at Christmas as well as the Fourth of July. The public health is betered by reason of this, and the thing is made possible by the winter gardens that have been developed on a large scale in our warm southern latitudes. Time was not so long ago when the people of these States overate of heavy foods in winter, meats and animal fats and bread and potatoes. Now there are few who may not have vegetables fresh-gathered from green gardens, shipped and merchandised by great organizations availing themselves of the best railroad service in history. Rich man, poor man, beggarman or thief can now have fresh squash for his Christmas dinner if he wants it. It is difficult to fancy any person wanting squash at any time, yet some do, and it is available in our comprehensive American dietary. Spinach, once considered fit food for undiscriminating kine, now finds its way to the tables of emurpled magnates. Modern trucking makes spinach distribution possible, and modern doctors have made even infants in arms familiar with it. But with all our vegetable resources, we of America have not discarded our partiality for meats. We are now eating summer sausage. We are now ordering canned tamales. Stranger still, our physicians are feeding us raw liver to bring up our blood pressure. Formerly liver was ordered only when the washerwoman was to be with us for lunch, but these are changing times.

"FIRES HURT ALL BUSINESSES"

"In the present economic scheme of things," says the Modern Fire Chief, "we live in a very closely-knit and interrelated world. Cooperation is the basis of our economic order, which is affected and regulated by a very intricate system of exchange. Each of us can enjoy success in the long run, only as long as the whole system of things prospers. Because of this cooperative interdependence any waste of labor or capital affects each of us. "Knowing this to be true, why do we Americans so complacently regard our annual fire loss as a matter of course—something that only affects those who suffer a fire? What a fallacy it is to believe that the effects of a fire are limited to the factory or the building or the home that is destroyed!

"What happens when an industrial plant burns? Production ceases, and when work stops, men naturally are thrown out of work. When work ceases, salaries and wages cease. Perhaps it soon becomes necessary to draw out of saving accounts and the like. Only the absolute necessities of life are purchased. The buying power of the people is lessened." The public should realize that our tremendous annual direct fire loss of nearly $600,000,000 is but a small part of an incalculable total. The indirect loss in wages, business, time and employment is a great additional burden that must be borne by all of us, and which is not "insured."

After the first norther this fall, Texas will be as usual safely Democratic, for they just won't stand too much foolishness from the north. Anything coming from the north about election time of year will all be laid to the feet of the northern Yanks and Republicans, and especially a good strong norther, then we'll all go vote 'er straight as usual.

As for the writer he absolutely refuses to get all het up and tear his hair over the election during this hot weather. Instead of hot campaign stuff, he is devoting his time to reading Jack Frost's novel entitled "Lost in the Arctic" under a good electric fan. We have lived long enough to know that whoever is elected, the old state and nation will wag along about as usual. Come to Terry.

We note that some of the county democratic executive committees are leaving the bolters off the ticket, but in most counties the other side remember that some of the bolters during the Mayfield-Petty contest, are sawing wood and saying nothing. Any way, old Texas will bolt up the bolter on July 28, or at least finish 'em up the second week in August. Leastwise or she will have quit precedent.

The predictions of our local weather prognosticators have all gone wrong, and the suffering public have begun to believe the whole herd of 'em are all wet anyway. The tenth has past and no rain, but the rain wishers are all town people it would seem, for the farmers say their stuff is not suffering, according to those we have talked to. But the writer has a sneaking notion, reading between the lines that while the farmers really would appreciate a rain they are still suspicious of hails with it, and had rather wait and suffer just a bit than run the risk. Just the same, a determined lot of our sidewalk society are considering the feasibility of ducking at least one of our forecasters in a local tank, but he maintains that he needs a bath anyway, and they feel it would be no punishment. You know the Indian habit of punishing their crooked medicine men has kindly been handed down to our people.

Mr. W. G. McMillan, chairman of the camping committee, of the Boy Scouts of the South Plains, is offering a Camping Trophy to be awarded to the Boy Scout troop of the South Plains making the best record at the Summer camp at Post, July 30th, to August 8th. Leadership, attendance, advancement, and general participation in the camping program will be the basis for the awarding of the trophy. A point system, carrying into effect the above qualifications, will be used in rating the troops.

The Camping Trophy is in the form of a silver cup standing 28 inches high. The cover of the cup is surmounted by the figure of an Indian Chief, about 6 inches tall, in full relief. This cup is one of the best of its kind to be offered in the Southwest. The cup is to be competed for annually, becoming the permanent possession of the troop winning it three times. The troop that is fortunate enough that they will be proud to display to the home folks. The purpose of offering this trophy is to create a greater interest in the outdoor activities and the camping program of the Boy Scouts. According to Mr. McMillan, boys who enter competition for this trophy will come back from camp more thoroughly trained and better equipped to render service to their community. The physical, mental and spiritual development of a boy under the influence of a good camp cannot be estimated. It is expected that a large percent of the scouts of the South Plains will take advantage of the summer training camp program.

Editor Roberts of O'Donnell Index, accompanied by Mr. Shumake, a banker of that city, were here Monday to meet Mr. Kennedy of the proposed new railroad.

Ross Rentfro, cattleman of Amarillo, was here the past week and purchased several cattle in the Seagraves section, and will ship them to his ranch near Amarillo.

J. F. Holden and son, R. V., of Coahoma, came up Monday on their way to Sudan, and spent the night with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Stricklin.

THE DIFFERENCE

The difference between a pile of lumber on a vacant lot and a finished house, is simply organization. The material is the same in both cases. In one case, it is organized; in the other it is not.

The difference between a successful business—corporation or individual—and one that is not, is that the successful one has his affairs well assimilated and does business with a good banking organization and therefore has the advantage of their systematic methods and cooperation; while the unsuccessful one is like the loose pile of lumber, unorganized. This is a systematic and well-organized bank which solicits your account.

WESTBROOK REUNION

The Westbrook family held a reunion on Sunday, July first at the home of Mr. E. A. Westbrook, near Gomez.

There were 43 present at the bountiful feast which was prepared by the different members of the family. The table was extended to seat 18 and was a tempting sight.

After all had eaten to their hearts content there was still a table full of good eats. Ice cream was served in the afternoon.

Early in the afternoon those from a distance began to leave and by six P. M. there was plenty of space again. Soon after dinner pictures were made in three separate groups according to age and relation.

On Nov. 14, 1922, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Westbrook celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary, at their home near Truscott, Texas with several of their children and a number of old friends and neighbors.

A few years later, Mr. Westbrook passed away.

Seven children are living, 33 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren.

Those present at the reunion were: Mrs. J. H. Westbrook, Truscott, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Klepper, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Westbrook, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Westbrook and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Holmes and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lee and children, Mr. and Mrs. Benton R. Westbrook and children all of Brownfield.

Mr. T. M. Westbrook and family of Truscott, Texas was the only child absent. There being also 19 of the grand-children and their families not present.

The grand and great-grand children who were present are:

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Westbrook Jr., Sweetwater, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Nick Morgan and son, Joe Stan, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Tyra Reese and son, J. D., Caplan, N. M.; Mrs. I. C. Long, Cecily Ann and J. M. of Dickinson; Miss Fannie Beth Westbrook, Amarillo; also Miss Christine Moore, of Midland who is a friend of the Kleppers.

The Kleppers are on home grounds around here, especially at Stanton and Midland. They report a pleasant trip through from California except for an accident Mr. Klepper had by falling into an unguarded grease pit, the fall injuring his back.

He also received a great shock when he saw the world's greatest potash plant on his old place near Midland, having sold it about ten years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Klepper returned with Mrs. J. H. Westbrook to Truscott, whom they will visit for sometime then to Crowell where Mr. Klepper's people live.

P. V. BOOSTERS CLUB

How many of you club folks get a "kick" out of your work? We do, as is shown by the way we got at it and what we accomplish.

Our club met last Friday and we had a wonderful time. The first thing we had a business discussion.

After that our songs and yells were practiced besides listening to the small portable that Mr. Williams brought.

Afternoon Mr. Williams gave a meat canning demonstration. After he had finished we were able much to his surprise and joy, to go on and do the work with some few instructions from him.

Yes indeed we are proud of ourselves, and show us the club girl or boy who wouldn't be, were he or she in our place.

Almost everyone knew that the candidates were going to speak here Monday night. There was a great many people there that we had never seen before. But nevertheless they were welcome. We took advantage of the situation and brought a few pies, eleven to be exact. They brought $30 exactly. We never saw such a fine group of candidates in our life. And my how they do like pie! They're not stingy either. Especially the candidates for sheriff. They all made some mighty fine bids on our pies though, and don't think that we are going to forget it either. Yes indeed we are going to use our influence to help each one of them, for they helped us.

We will decide later which ones will get to go to A. & M., but the ones that do, will surely need to be grateful to the candidates for it.

We sincerely hope that the best man wins, for what should we want the best for unless for—dear old Terry.

BOY SCOUTS TO MAKE INDIAN TOTEM POLES

One of the many interesting features of handcraft planned for the Boy Scouts at their Summer Camp at Post, from July 30th to August 8th, is the making of Indian Totem Poles. These weird symbols, which formed such a vital part in the history and religion of the North American Indian, will be of great interest to the boys. Mr. T. A. White, manager of the Lubbock District for the South-Western Bell Telephone Co., has agreed to supply some old telephone poles for this activity.

An Indian Totem Pole is a series of grotesque figures representing the history of the Individual, Tribe, or some event of special importance. One of the poles at the camp will give the story of the Post camp in Indian Sign Language. It will show how the heirs of the C. W. Post Estate have deeded the land to the Boy Scouts for the development of their camping program. Totem Poles are painted in very gaudy colors and make a very attractive addition to any camp.

Some of the troops are making special plans to carve special poles to be displayed at the South Plains Exposition at Lubbock this fall. W. P. Knox, scout executive for the South Plains, has made a special study of totem poles. Several thirty-five foot Totem Poles have been carved, decorated, and erected, under his supervision, at Austin, Beaumont, and other places in the Southwest.

MR. AND MRS. HOOVER MEMBERS OF QUAKER CHURCH

There has been a great deal of whispering about the religious faith of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoover. It has been said that one or both of them or their sons or their sons' wives were members of the Roman Catholic church. None of this is true and the source of the report has now been cleared up by Mr. Hoover himself.

Mr. Hoover said he and his wife were married by a Catholic priest but with a civil ceremony and the circumstances were disclosed in the explanation.

He had been in Australia and was returning to California before going to China, where he had been offered an excellent position.

Message Miscarried

He sent word to Miss Lou Henry, who had been a fellow student at Stanford University, that he was coming and asking her if she would marry him and go to China. The message miscarried so that when they finally got into communication and Miss Henry had consented to marry him and accompany him to China there was little time left before his ship sailed.

The only person who could be reached to marry them was the Rev. Cathone "Cimich" of the Roman Catholic Church. The service he performed was not a sacrament of the church, but a civil ceremony such as clergymen generally are authorized to perform. Within 24 hours the young couple had sailed for China, where they spent several years.

Civil Ceremony Only

It was pointed out by Roman Catholic authorities here that a priest in marrying two non-Catholics would simply be exercising the authority conferred on him by the state in common with the ministers of other denominations to perform legally valid marriage ceremonies.

Mrs. Hoover was at the time of her marriage an Episcopalian and Mr. Hoover was a Quaker. Mrs. Hoover later turned to the Quaker church and attends services in Washington, D. C. at the little Friends' Meeting House on Eye Street, near the Friends' School. Mr. Hoover is a regular attendant at this church. The elder son, Herbert, Jr., is married and the younger son, Allan, attends Leland Stanford University in California. Both boys attended the Friends' School in Washington.

THE NEW CALENDAR

By Dr. Frank Crane

Attention has been called several times in this column to the efforts being made to adopt a new calendar having 13 months of 28 days each.

It has been suggested that America have the courage to adopt this standard without waiting for Europe. If it shall be so, if the South American and North American countries unite in their efforts to change the calendar it will be another indication that American civilization has definitely broken the bonds still further that heretofore have tied them to the older people of Europe.

We have got used to the old system whatever it is. We acknowledge its drawbacks, but we know what they are. We do not know what difficulties and untried plan would involve.

Most of us are familiar with the proposal. It is to have 13 months of 28 days, exactly four weeks in each month, making every week day occur on a fixed monthly date and having every holiday occur on the same week day, making calendars unnecessary, having the date of the week indicate the day of the month, the 13th as a month called Sol between June and July, and adding an extra day every leap year to June.

This seems to be the subject that could be considered by the League of Nations, but it is now proposed waiting for world consent.

Mr. Cotsworth says that if conservative Europe could discard the computations of hundreds of years and adopt the metric system of weights and measures it is not too much to expect that advanced and efficient America could discard an antique calendar wholly unadapted to this modern age.

HARMONY HARMONITES

Mr. Williams met with the Harmony boys and girls Tuesday night at the school house. We had a real nice time. We learned several songs from our 4H Club book, two of which are "The Cigar Song" and "My little Pig." We had 25 members present and one new member, also had 15 visitors. We are determined to make our club the best club in the 11 clubs.

We will meet again in two weeks from Tuesday night. We are going to learn some more songs and some yells.

STUDEBAKER BREAKS RECORDS ALMOST EVERY WEEK

It is a dull week for Studebaker's family of championship automobiles when at least one of the quartette does not make or break a record for performance, economy or durability. Usually it is the world's champion Commander or The President Eight that do the heroic deeds, but the Dictator and the Erskine Six, undefeated stock car champions of their price classes, frequently contribute to the "family's" glories and victories.

The latest triumph of a Studebaker car is reported from Buenos Aires, Argentina, where an Erskine Six has just completed a remarkable cross-country run. The run was made over 567 miles of unpaved roads between Buenos Aires, and Mar del Plata. The Erskine Six, strictly stock and fully equipped, completed the dash in exactly 15 hours—and broke every previous record for cars of similar price.

The car was driven by Senor Jose Moran. The Erskine's ability to negotiate at high speed, the rough roads of this part of the Argentine, attracted considerable attention when the morning editions of La Nacion and La Prensa, Buenos Aires newspapers, were delivered in Mar del Plata, nine hours ahead of the regular train delivery time.

STRAWBERRY AND ORANGE COCKTAIL

2 oranges
1 cup small strawberries
3 tablespoons lemon juice
6 tablespoons powdered sugar
Peel and remove membrane from oranges, cut segments in halves. Hull strawberries and cut in halves. Mix with orange pulp and add lemon juice and sugar.

The old Holgate-Endersen frame and iron building standing on the northeast corner of the square is being wrecked this week to make room for a thoroughly modern structure we hope to be able to give details of next week. Thus another landmark goes.

OWSLEY FLAYS THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

Paying his respects to the Republicans, Owsley said: "I am opposed to the Republican party, and there for its nominees, because that party and its nominees stand for the privileged few, it stands against equal rights to all, it stands against giving to the people an equal opportunity before the Government.

"I am proud of my Democratic heritage. I am proud that Texas is a Democratic State, that it glorifies in the solid support which it has always given to the party of Thomas Jefferson, Hickory Jackson, Samuel J. Tilden, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow

"There is no such thing as a Hoover Democrat. No man can be a Democrat and vote for Herbert Hoover. Why? Because no Democrat believes in a Government administered for the benefit of the favored few. A Democrat does not believe in a party which is bossed, and Andy Mellon, the boss of the Republican party, dictated the nomination of Herbert Hoover. Who is Andy Mellon? He is the world's richest man. How did he get it? In oil, in steel, and in whiskey.

"Do you mean to tell me that the women of Texas are going to vote for a man whose nomination was dictated by a Republican boss?"

"Look at the Republican platform. In it is a plank demanding that a law be passed which provides that anybody who is accused of participating in the lynching of a negro must be tried in the Federal Courts. Such a law was proposed by Congressman L. C. Dyer of Missouri, a Republican representing a district composed mostly of St. Louis negroes, and in that he would have the Federal Government take $10,000.00 from the county treasury of any county in which a lynching occurred. The Republican platform on which Herbert Hoover is running demands a law that would place Texans on trial in a Federal Court on a Federal indictment charging them with having participated in a lynching of a negro.

"Tell me that the people of Texas would desert the party of Jefferson and Wilson and vote for a party which has nominated, in the city of Chicago, a negro as a candidate for Congress. If he is elected he will claim the right to sit in Congress.

"Right after Herbert Hoover announced as a candidate for President he received a group of negro political bosses. At their suggestion he issued an order establishing equality between the negroes and the whites in the Department of Commerce, and by that order sought to give the negroes on an equality with our white women. We Texans shall never forget that the only stain that blotches the Lone Star Flag of Texas was under the Republican carpet bagger administration of E. J. Davis and Texas will never go Republican.

SILENT SCREEN DOOMED SAYS
FILM SPECTATOR EDITOR

The silent drama will soon be as dead as a dodo! And it is only a matter of a short time until the whole motion picture industry will have to adjust itself to new conditions.

These revolutionary statements come from Welford Beaton, editor of the Film Spectator, Hollywood, and they bear weight from the fact that there are few men in the country today better qualified to talk on pictures than this same iconoclastic editor in the film capitol.

Mr. Beaton bases his findings—findings which would have been decided less than two years ago—on the reactions he experienced after witnessing Warner Brothers Vitaphone production of "The Lion and the Mouse." While he saw Vitaphone looming largely on the picture horizon it was only after attending the opening of the new Warner Theatre in Hollywood that Mr. Beaton felt impelled to editorially delve into the subject of audible pictures.

Portions of his comment as printed in the Film Spectator follow:

"The New Warner Bros. theatre is going to write screen history. The first picture it shows, "Glorious Betty," will give you a hint of what sound is going to mean on the screen, and the second, "The Lion and the Mouse" will turn the industry upside down and make every other picture including those not yet released, old-fashioned. After "The Lion and the Mouse" is released generally and is shown in the 500 theatres already outfitted for Vitaphone, we will have no more important silent pictures. They will be as dead as the dodo. The industry will have to readjust itself violently.

"In the studios there are in the making new expensive pictures which under the old conditions would have three years of prosperous life, but which are destined to be out of date before they are released. Instead of producing revenue for three years, they will be put on the shelf within one year to make room on the screen for the world of pictures that produce dialogue and music.

"It only took one reel of "the Lion and the Mouse" to open my eyes, and in the experience of Warner Bros. with that picture is written the whole story of the revolution in screen art.

"Within one year these independents who cannot give voice to pictures will be ceasing to make them, as there will be no market for the silent kind."

There are others just as enthusiastic as Mr. Beaton regarding "The Lion and the Mouse," and the effect it is going to have on the motion picture industry. The picture is said to brush aside every argument ever put forward to the effect that the silent screen was as fixed as some of the stars in the heavens. It seems no more fixed than some of the picture stars in their Hollywood heavens.

It must be said that in making a great effort to show the heights that could be reached by Vitaphone, Warner Bros picked one of the best plays on the American stage in many years for their experiment. It was a play containing conflicts involving big business, political corruption, the power of money and a love affair that seemed doomed to end in heart-breaks. It pitted a young girl against a man of tremendous power and showed the girl triumphant, something calculated to arouse the enthusiasm of the most phlegmatic individual. Then, having the play, Warner Bros. went further, they gave it one of the best casts that has ever been assembled on the screen. Foremost of the cast is May McAvoy and Lionel Barrymore, and supporting them are William Collier, Jr., Alex Francis, and Emmett Corrigan. When the picture opens the characters go right into the dialogue of the situations and in the first of the sequences the plot is practically outlined and the impending conflicts shown through dialogue. The general release of the picture is being awaited with a great deal of interest.

HERBERT HOOVER

Herbert Hoover, whose nomination by Republicans for president has been made, is a native of Iowa and 54 years old. The following is a brief sketch of his life:

EUROPEAN AUTO MANUFACTURER CAN'T COMPETE

Despite the desire of European automobile manufacturers to keep the business to themselves and regardless of the wish of European motor car buyers to support home industries, I feel that the great value of the American automobile at its price will break down those sentimental barriers and provide American manufacturers with a steadily expanding market abroad.

This is the home-coming statement of R. H. Grant, vice-president of the Chevrolet Motor Company in charge of sales, who recently returned from a six weeks tour of the leading business centers overseas.

"America's position in the European market has been made possible and fortified by the advanced production methods employed by the industry on this side of the Atlantic," Mr. Grant pointed out. "Our manufacturing facilities are vastly superior to those of European companies.

This is true especially in the lower priced fields where Europe has only one manufacturer that has developed quantity production methods to any considerable extent. And as we know over here, volume manufacturing has been one of the foremost factors in permitting the industry to offer so much automobile at so low a price.

"By the very virtue of the speed required to attain volume, precision is constantly becoming more of an automat in the manufacturing of our automobiles. Parts must be machined to closer and more accurate limits to make this volume possible and as a result of this precision we get a finer automobile and as a result of the quantity production which precision makes possible, American manufacturers are able to offer the public more automobiles per dollar than any other in the world."

Mr. Grant is keenly enthusiastic over the prospects for export sales and points to an increasing European trade as an important factor in the development of the automobile business generally.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH HONORS PASTOR.

Mr. E. H. Surface, pastor of the Presbyterian church of our little city, was honored Monday evening when the members of the congregation met in a social function. The stay of Mr. Surface in Brownfield has been one of wonderful service. Mr. E. B. Surface, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church at Abilene, shared the honor of his son and made a much appreciated talk. Mr. Cannon, friend of Mr. Surface came from Abilene also and visited briefly in our town.

Rev. Surface is leaving Brownfield with the kindest and sincerest wishes of his friends and congregation. He enters Seminary in September for further study and may return to summer work next year.

Rev. E. B. and E. H. Surface and Mr. Cannon returned to Abilene Tuesday where they expect to attend the Buffalo Gap Encampment July 10-17, thence to Virginia for several weeks.—Contributed.

Mr. J. H. Griffin and family have as their guests his brother and sister, Mrs. Hinton and children of Greenville.

MAN SO NERVOUS FEELS HIS STOMACH JUMP

"I got so nervous my stomach felt like it was jumping. Vinol entirely relieved the trouble. I feel better than in years."—J. C. Duke.

Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphate, cod liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc. give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. Palace Drug Store.

It is reported here that Miss Ruth Welch, formerly of this city, and Mr. Tuck Brannon, who also formerly resided here, were married at Snyder, Texas, present home of the bride on July 2nd. We failed to learn where the happy young couple will reside in the future.

Down to a Dog Trot

still in high

YOU'LL be surprised at the power your motor develops when you run on Conoco Ethyl Gasoline. Throttle down to a dog trot—even on a hill—and you glide smoothly along—without a jerk, without a knock, without a shift.

Of course, Conoco Ethyl is the fuel for high compression motors. In fact, Ethyl fluid made high compression motors commercially possible. But Conoco Ethyl gets the best from any motor—and it's most economical because it eliminates all the engine wear and tear caused by knocking when ordinary gasoline is used.

Drive to the Conoco Ethyl pump for extra knockless miles.

We call your attention to the two bank statements this week. They are still good—very good.

Jack Blankenship and wife of the Ropes community came down the 4th to help us celebrate.

George Carter and family of Ropes were down for the Fourth Celebration "shaking" with old friends.

Kendrick Sees Wild West Stunts at Hobbs

President R. M. Kendrick of the First National Bank, this city and Attorney G. E. Lockhart of Lubbock, were business visitors to Lovington, N. M., the first part of the week, and incidentally visited the new oil well at Hobbs, while in that section. R. M. informed us that they have a well alright, but what is or will be its final capacity, no one not connected with the well seems to know.

He says they have some five or six steel storage tanks already erected, and that the well is connected by pipe with one of them, but whether or not it is turned on, he did not know. The tanks, he said, looked to be about 500 barrel capacity each. He says the mesquite trees for several hundred feet around are dead from oil spraying.

He also reports that property has not been changing very rapidly of late there not seems to be a three cornered suit pending over the property which will be settled at the next term of court.

Kendrick says there are not many people actually located there, but the roads are hot with traffic going and coming. He also intimated that he noted quite a lot of wild looking men over there who seemed to be so tough that they chewed raw hide for tobacco, but he did not mention wild women. He might have suspected that we would publish what he said, and he knew his friend wife reads the Herald very closely. Anyway, he says all joints seem to have quite a supply of home brews and probably other things that make 'em whoop 'er up. Anyway, he says that occasionally some of these man eaters come out on the streets and puncture a few holes in the elements with their six-pistols, or try drilling a few in the ceiling if it is too hot to get out on the streets.

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapias

It had been twenty years since I had attended a Fourth of July Celebration but as the day approached and our Legion boys were going to attend the details and my wife insisted on going, I cranked my Lizzie and hied away to Brownfield.

As often happens some fellow takes the belly-ache when I have decided to have a day off so in this case I had to look after a patient before getting away which made it rather late in fact dinner had been served to the crowd when we arrived on the scene.

It was much the largest crowd I ever saw in Brownfield. The square had been roped off to prevent hoodlums and other interesting car drivers from interfering with movements of the crowd. It was a wise provision.

We were too late for the morning speeches and when we had eaten some dinner at the restaurant and been refreshed with a ten cent cigar at Jack Stricklins expense we sauntered up to the speakers stand in the courthouse yard and some fellow had just begun his harangue. He referred to the day's being a patriotic one but if he said anything about its meaning I failed to hear it—the acoustics of the place were very bad—my hearing not extra. I am sure however if he had given that crowd a chance it would have made the welkin ring.

Fully fifty percent of the crowd had their backs toward the speaker and conversing in a rather easy frame of mind.

In the distant past, say forty or fifty years ago, when we had a Fourth of July meeting there was something doing all the time. There was always plenty of beef and bread and pies and cake, and something to drink that didn't smell like benzine or some other coal tar derivative and it would put the spirit if not the understanding into a fellow.

On such occasions it was a delight to hear the speaker gently twist the British Lion's tail and make the eagle scream and he always did it, and that crowd would jump up wave their hats and look about to see if there wasn't some one to jump on.

He would tell us of Franklin, Washington, of how old Isreal Putnam harrassed the Red Coats, of Nathan Hale, Paul Revier's ride, Saratoga, Valley Forge and of York Town and of the host of mighty dead that have made this Republic possible.

If the speakers of the evening knew anything about those great days and its men and women they kept it to themselves, or they may be like the lady in Washington two years ago who had the Star Spangled Banner cut from the Fourth of July program for fear it might offend the British. God help such people. They are not my kind. I am a little fearful that we may have a president built along these lines and whose nomination gives such comfort to foreign governments. If any of the speakers urged support of the National Ticket I failed to catch it. Most of them were running for office or trying to help some other fellow and they may have feared to wound the gentle sensibilities of the mixed horde that intend to assist the Republicans while they pose as Democrats.

There will probably be several tickets in the field from present indications. John Jacob Coxy who led the forlorn hope and mob of hoboes to Washington during the second Cleveland administration, is a candidate for President with a large healthy yellow Coon as running mate.

This ticket might appeal to some. There is also talk of Senator Heflin of Alabama, catholic baiter, he dreams of Rome and the Vatican occupant. In imagination he sees the Potomac turned into the Tiber and the Roman Cross surmounting Capitoland, the College of Cardinal's supplanting the President's Cabinet. For running mate, His Royal Highness, Imperial Wee-zard Hiram Wesley Evans, who tells us in Worlds Work for January 1928, just what the Klan expects to do to Al Smith. The best place however for this bunch of incorrigables is along with Love and J. Frank Norris, Collins, Bloodworth Cranfil and the down and outers like Colquit in their spectacular march into Camp of Hoover and his yellow gals. Yellow is the proper color for many of them.

There was a lawyer there to plead the cause of Wardlaw who is running on Moody's short comings for the Governor's place. His talk reminded me of the oration of Antony over the body of Julius Caesar. He should receive a good fee for his effort. He dealt largely in figures most of which were probably not true. But "Wardlaw is an honorable man."

Claude (Pood) Hightower died Friday eve at a sanitarium in Lubbock from injuries received in a car wreck near Tahoka a few days previously. He was buried at the Meadow cemetery Saturday evening. The Rev. Duncan of the Methodist church preached the funeral sermon. The burial service was performed by the American Legion of Brownfield. It was impressively done.

He has "Gone West" to join the numerous comrades that sleep "Neath Poppies in Flanders Field." I can vision his tall lithe form and ever present smile as they gather about him and give him welcome to another of those who heeded the call to duty at any cost.

"There is a tear for all that die, A mourner o'er the humblest grave, But nations swell the funeral cry, And triumph weeps above the brave."

Sunday Eve: Word has just reached us here of the finding of the body of John B. Reed who had been missing since Friday morning. He was discovered in a ravine near the Park by some tourist. The body was in frightful state of decomposition and but for his clothing and some other items he could not have been identified. This was a great shock to our people. John was an early comer here and continued to live here until 1926 when he moved to Lubbock. It is pretty sure that he committed suicide. Cause unknown just now.

Life is pretty short at best, yet it becomes a burden to many and relief is sought in self destruction. The writer sympathizes with his family in this terrible bereavement. I have intense pity for my unfortunate friend who kept his office with me for four years.

R U Wise? A paradise on earth—Friday night, July 20th.

The West Texas Press Association will meet at Big Spring, July 20-24th where they are promised a splendid good time.

Aubrey Thomas and wife of Roper were down the Fourth for the celebration. Aubrey reports that his wheat crop will pan out 18 or 20 bushels to the acre.

E. Moore of the Lakeview community of Lynn county, was mixing with the huge crowds here on the Fourth.

C. C. Fish and wife of Seagraves, were visitors here Sunday.

J. E. Jackson and family have just returned from a long jaunt to Central Texas with Temple as the extreme point, and he says they have nothing whatever on us in the way of crops.

East Small street is being greatly widened to its full 100 feet and leveled up, and will be one of the prettiest when a rain comes to settle the earth. Dwellers on that street are likely to ask the city council at its next meeting to rename the street "Broadway."

The highway has been extended another block east on the section line in the west part of the city, to turn south two blocks for the railroad crossing near the depot.

J. R. Griffin was in from the farm Monday and reported that he had cotton blooms on June 22nd and lots of them now. He reports that he has 175 acres of the prettiest cotton he ever had since moving here.

Mr. Stovall, son and wife, are here from California visiting Mrs. Stovall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Griffin.

Rich Bennett and family are moving this week to Texhoma, Okla., see if the change will benefit Mr. Bennett's health. He sold his interest in the Sanitary Barber Shop to Dennis Rentfro.

Johnnie Bingham, of the Needmore community, was in after supplies Monday.
