Chamber of Commerce

By the Secretary

The writer attended the Farmers Short Course at College Station the past week and his observations while there thoroughly convinced him that the lectures and demonstrations are very valuable, not only to boys and girls who desire to learn more about advanced agriculture, but to actual farmers. The program was so varied and covered so many subjects that it was not possible to see all of it, and in fact he was informed by one of the officials that it would require an attendance of something like three months for one to get over the course. Poultry, dairying and tree planting absorbed the attention of a lot of people including myself, and valuable information was received on the propagation of trees and plants. Thousands of farmers and their wives from east and northeast Texas were there, with a good sprinkling from south and west Texas. It is my opinion that there is not a farmer in Terry county who would not benefit largely from attendance at one of these courses, and it is hoped that a larger number will take advantage of the course next year, as the expense is not great. The next matter to claim our attention will be the county fair, which is set for September 28-29. County Agent Davis, the writer and a few other citizens will work out the list this week and it is hoped that we will have it ready for printing in the Herald of the next issue. Let us all work together and make this the best fair ever pulled off in the county. One man cannot put it over and it is going to take the co-operation of all the communities.

A meeting of the Fort Worth-Roswell Highway Association has been called for Rotan on the 21st. Each of the two previous meeting dates has brought general rains over the entire territory and caused cancellations. It is more than likely that we will need additional moisture by the 21st, and maybe precedent will be followed. Wonder if our people know that the Fort Worth-Roswell route was the only open road to points in the east during the recent heavy rains? Portions of the Bankhead between Sweetwater and Abilene were closed to travel, and all traffic between Snyder and Post was abandoned. News items from Rotan stated that more tourists were passing thru their town than had been the case at any time in their history. Citizens of Brownfield, in routing tourists east, should send them via Clairmont, Rotan, Hamlin, Stamford and Albany. They will travel over better highways and the distance will be shorter. Our main difficulty at this time seems to be that our people are sending tourists via Snyder and Sweetwater, when they should be sent by Clairmont and Rotan. Those going east, if they are pleased with the route will send others over it.

Hobbs Well Establishing Truth of Its Claim

Parties who arrived from the Hobbs well the first of the week, and who have been watching the well for the past few days, spent a few hours in Seagraves, and states that on last Thursday the cap was removed and 125 barrel flow was registered in 55 minutes. The company has ordered two 20,000 barrel tanks and as soon as they arrive they will be installed and the well turned loose in order to make a thoro test as to its flow. This party, who is known to the writer, has worked in the oil fields for many years and states that there is no doubt but that a good field will be opened at Hobbs. While on this trip of inspection, he followed the structure from Hobbs north to Bledsoe where he found the same indication existed and that the entire section would, in the next few months, be tested out.—Seagraves Signal.

To the Patrons of the Brownfield School

As I leave the supervision of the Brownfield Schools, it is my pleasure to report to you that the high school is fully affiliated in the way that most people think of affiliation, with the exception of first year science. In other words, eighteen of the nineteen subjects taught in the high school that you have made provision for, have been affiliated. There have been 20 courses offered, but one of them, Home Economics, is too badly crowded for room to even think of asking for credit. I shall be glad to hear, in the near future, that Brownfield folks have decided that they need a bigger school program, and are expressing that thought to the school by providing a $75,000 or $100,000 investment in buildings, and that they have invited other communities to join with them in the advantages of a bigger and better school.

In my judgement no community can invest too much money in education if it is properly used. At least every community should invest enough in buildings and equipment to teach the subjects that are used in the preparation of men and women to follow the vocation that leads in that community. This is an agricultural section of the state and Brownfield should at an early date provide for both Home Economics and Vocational Agriculture by buildings and equipment for training the boys and girls along that line. The county club work is demonstrating this need very forcefully.

I wish to thank everyone who has taken a part in making Brownfield school a better school by bringing the standard of work up to where the State Department as well as Colleges every where will recognize our students as being properly prepared to do advanced work. And especially do I thank the student body as a whole for their increased interest in taking the advantages offered by the patrons for them to get more and better educational work. A comparative record of the past years work has been completed and the school stands above the average among the schools compared. Our graduates who have been away at school have shown their ability to stand above the average there. In the last analysis of judging a school it may be judged by its products. So I say to the boys and girls who are to yet finish their work in Brownfield High strive to make each succeeding year better than the last. The superintendent for the coming year will soon be on the field to take up the work and I wish for him the same hearty support that has been given the school in the past four years. We shall always be glad when word comes that Brownfield school is making another big step in its school history. May the school continue to grow from year to year.

—O. W. Fagala.

Local Youth May Have Been Kidnapped

Billy Burleson, 14, the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Burleson, who live south of Brownfield, was last seen about 5 o'clock last Saturday afternoon in Brownfield. He is described as fair complected, blue eyes, light hair, walks slightly leaning forward, has slight Northern accent, a large scar on thigh, likes to read magazines and newspapers and comment on current events; does not smoke. He left here wearing light gray cap, mottled gray pants, white shirt, tie, low quarter black shoes but no coat. His foster parents appeared to be greatly in distress, and fear foul play as it is alleged that the boy has been threatened by his father. Any information about him will be greatly appreciated by them or the Sheriff's department here, who can be wired collect. No punishment is intended to be inflicted on the boy if he returns.

Pyote—Two progress notes of Pyote include work going forward rapidly on the new Pyote school building and installation of gas.

Nice Showers Fall Here Early Thursday

From the looks of the clouds that hung around in the south Wednesday night, the south portion of the county must have received rain early that night, but it did not rain in Brownfield until some time before daylight Thursday morning, at which time we received perhaps one-third of an inch. Just which way it came from the writer is not prepared to say as he was very much in the lap of morpheus at that time, and only the roar of nearby thunder aroused him. None of the county is suffering for rain that we know of, and too much of the good thing, it is feared, may bring on the leaf or boll worm.

Rural Route One Gets Another Extension

Effective August 16, there will be added another extension to Rural Route No. 1 from this office, and all patrons affected by this extension will please take notice, and have your boxes erected by the above date. Patrons and those who are to become patrons on this new extension should have their boxes erected, and in good condition, and if you are a new patron on the route, leave a list of the names of your families in the box. Erect box on a smooth place, do not place box directly on top of the post, but place an arm extending out from the box some two feet or more. Have box at least four feet high. Boxes must be in good serviceable condition, and must have a flag. This applies to the old patrons as well as the new. Your box must have a flag and not a rag or piece of plank or something for a flag. The government expends annually approximately $105,000,000 for the maintenance of rural routes that the rural people may have the advantages of the city people, and it is expected that rural route patrons keep their boxes up in good condition at all times as a matter of pride and show that they appreciate the service Uncle Sam is extending them. I notice in making inspection trips over this route that a number of patrons have their boxes erected across the bar pit from the road, and in a few instances the carrier is necessitated to get out of his vehicle to make delivery of mail. This will be discontinued except at times when roads are being repaired, and patrons are asked now to erect their boxes on the roadside of the bar pit. Another thing that I wish to call to the attention of the patrons is the persistency in leaving loose coins, especially pennies in the mail box. This practice must be discontinued. Meet the carrier and purchase your stamps, as you do at the postoffice, and have all first class mail stamped when placed in your box as far as practicable. According to the information available, Brownfield yet has the longest rural route in the United States. I ask all the patrons to cooperate in every way with their carrier, that they may get the very best of service. This route will be approximately 84 miles in length, and there will be more than 200 boxes, and they must be as conveniently located as possible for the carrier to reach them, serve your box and get on to the next. We find that some patrons locate their boxes inconvenient on purpose, or it appears that way to us, and we ask this to be discontinued. Another thing I desire to stress here is the repair of roads over which the route traverses. The patrons do not take any interest in keeping roads repaired, and if roads get impassable, we find in most cases that the county commissioner is called upon to repair them. This ought not to be so. Patrons, you have enough interest in your mail service to do a little repair work on your roads, please bear this in mind, and when you see a bad place appear near your home or mail box, jump in and fix it. Let's work together for better roads and better mail service. Yours for service,
J. C. Bohanan, Postmaster.

Local Laundry Sells To Lubbock Company

Mr. S. H. Shelton, owner and manager of the Brownfield Steam Laundry announced Monday morning that the Lubbock Laundry Company had purchased the plant here and had taken charge that morning.

We understand that it is the intention of the firm to continue the services of the plant here, provided it pays them, and that they would put experienced men in charge here that know the laundry business from the start to finish, and would endeavor to give the people here just as good service as they will be able to get in any city.

With this in view, Brownfield people should think twice before sending their laundry out of town, for with the closing of the plant here it means the cutting off of a considerable pay roll from the city, not to mention rather heavy tax payers that are helping to keep up our local schools and the community in general. The local laundry has never been a very heavy contributor to the support of the Herald, but we have never let that matter stand in our way of supporting it, both editorially and also by giving them our work. It will be the same with the new management. Whether they care to support the Herald in the way of advertising or not, that is their business, also their loss, but the Herald is always with local enterprises, both morally and financially as far as our limited means go.

Through the Herald Mr. Shelton wishes to thank his many customers for all past favors, and asks them to support the institution under the new management even more than under himself in order to make it a paying proposition. Let us get behind our laundry and make sure that it stays in Brownfield.

Quit sending out great wagon loads of laundry to outside plants. Help yourself and the town by helping the laundry.

Considerable Building Going On Here Now

There is probably more building going on here now than for several months, and if the cotton and feed crop prospects keep looming up as now, there will be no telling how much building and improving will be carried out this fall and winter. Besides the building operations here, there are now several substantial residences under construction in the country surrounding Brownfield. The farm people of this section like good homes, and good, modern homes spell contented families.

There is now under construction for the firm of Hudgens and Knight a 40 x 50 foot warehouse of tile in the rear of their store building, in which they will store heavy hardware, furniture and groceries, thus giving them more space to display such in the front of their building. This gives them a total of 50 x 140 feet, not counting a large balcony. We are glad to see this progressive firm enlarging its quarters.

Contractor Roy Wingerd got his crew of workmen started on the foundation for the big Holgate-Endersen building Monday morning, and by Tuesday afternoon they began pouring concrete for the foundation. This big building more fully described last week will be a distinct credit to our city.

MARRIED

Mr. Earnest Sealey of O'Donnell and Miss Eva Mayfield of this city, appeared at the Methodist parsonage about 4 p. m. Saturday, where Pastor John W. Chisholm said the words that united them for life.

We understand that the happy young couple will make O'Donnell their future home.

Planting of Scrub Seed Shows Up Now

The writer and family, accompanied by our nephews, Benton and Alton Stricklin, from Grandview, Texas, visited our nephew, Aubrey Thomas and wife, of Ropes, Sunday, and made a very nice day of it, thank you.

In the afternoon he wanted to show us his increasing little herd of pure blooded Hereford cattle, and in doing so he took us in his flivver and drove around by the field of growing crops. He would have a strip of perhaps 20 acres of cotton, then a strip of corn or row feed crops would set in for 20 or 30 more acres. Over near the back of the field, and all at once the cotton appeared only about two-thirds as high, almost to a row, and thinking it had been planted much later, we called his attention to it. No, he said, I ran out of good seed there and finished with bollie seed. Right then and there we became an even more firm believer and advocate of good planting seed.

And why not? Do you expect to get blooded cattle from scrub sires and dams? Does one pick out the nubbins when they plant corn? We can remember when they picked out the string sweet potatoes to bed out, and we also remember that they got a lot of strings in return. Now the real sweet potato breeders and planters seed out the best they have, and if the hog, cow or horse man isn't able to afford good dams, they at least get the best sires possible. The same with anything else. If we want the maximum crop on the minimum ground, we are obliged to, first, get the best seed possible, and good cultivation will do the rest. It is unnecessary to say that Aubrey will ever waste his time and rich soil with the bollie seed again. No stand either.

At noon we had a typical farmers dinner with all the trimmings of pie and cake, and it was put up right, toboot. He had beans, carrots, new potatoes, rhubarb, canteloupes, tomatoes, and nearly every other good thing you can think of in the garden. He brought eggs to Brownfield in the early spring to the hatchery, and the output of those eggs are just right now for consumption. Two of those long legged Rhode Island Reds adorned the center of the board, fried to a turn, with cream gravy on the side. Man! Man alive!

Many of Our Merchants Off to Market

Several of our dry goods merchants and their departmental buyers are off to market this week, and readers will find that the dry goods representation in the Herald this week is rather shy, but upon their return they promise to regale the reader with much advertising. Those who are away may be found in the society columns, and others are preparing to get away as soon as possible.

With the fine crop prospects in view, these merchants informed us they were going to buy some of the largest and most varied stocks ever seen in Brownfield, and we want the reader to wait for their return before buying his fall needs, as it will be absolute folly to go any further than Brownfield this fall for your needs in any line.

Not only are the dry goods men off to market, but other lines including furniture. Wait and buy at home and save time, trouble and money.

NAZARENE SERVICES

There will be preaching Saturday night, August 11, at the First Presbyterian church by Rev. Mrs. Myrtle Ahern and Sunday at 2:30 by Rev. Mrs. Ethel Morris. There will be good singing.

Come and worship God with them. They want to do you good.

TUNNEY RETAINS WORLDS CHAMPIONSHIP

In as spectacular a heavyweight fight as has ever been contested Gene Tunney, World's Heavyweight Boxing Champion, retained his title last Thursday night by knocking out Tom Heeneey, New Zealand challenger, in the eleventh round of a scheduled fifteen round bout.

The fight the first two or three rounds was almost a draw, but soon after that Tunney took the aggressive and from then on pummeled Heeneey at will, dealing severe blows to the head and body, that eventually proved his defeat in the eleventh round.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT—AUTHORIZING LEGISLATURE TO EXEMPT FROM TAXATION PARSONAGES, AND CERTAIN PROPERTY OF ASSOCIATIONS FOR RELIGIOUS, EDUCATIONAL AND PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT

H. J. R. No. 20.)

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION. Proposing an amendment to Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution of the State, so as to authorize the Legislature to exempt from taxation any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society, and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; providing for an election upon such proposed Constitutional Amendment, and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution be so changed as to read hereafter as follows:

All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority levying the tax; but the legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes; actual places of religious worship, also any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society; provided that such exemption shall not extend to more property than is reasonably necessary for a dwelling place and in no event more than one acre of land; places of burial not held for private or corporate profit; all buildings used exclusively and owned by persons or associations of persons for school purposes and the necessary furniture of all schools and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men and young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; also the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and religion not used with a view to profit; and when the same are invested in bonds or mortgages, or in land or other property which has been and shall hereafter be bought in by such institutions under foreclosure sales made to satisfy or protect such bonds or mortgages, that such exemption of such land and property shall continue only for two years after the purchase of the same at such sale by such institutions and no longer, and institutions of purely public charity; and all laws exempting property from taxation other than the property above mentioned shall be null and void.

ROAD DEVELOPMENT LEAPS FORWARD

Twenty years ago a good rock road for wagon and horse travel was considered the limit of improvement for this method of transportation. Today the bare rock is fast passing into history as a suitable surface for modern traffic.

Pavements have been laid on tens of thousands of miles of rural highways. Where heavy state highways are not warranted, old gravel and macadam road beds are being surfaced with a two or three inch water proof coating of asphaltic concrete. This utilizes the well compacted old road as a base for an economical and efficient method of hard surfacing.

Where even this second type is not warranted, road oil is today being placed on thousands of miles of country roads. It has been found that this method of treatment again preserves the road base by preventing the blowing away in dust of tons of road surfacing, which, in addition to damaging the road, buries the neighboring countryside in a coating of dirt which ruins thousands of dollars worth of crops.

And so the road improvements continue. Wider highways are superseding the narrow pavements and dust proof highways are superseding the dust nuisances of a few years ago.

John Ham, of Ropes is here this week visiting his nephew, Jack Benton, and family.

Tom Woodward of Amarillo, former citizen of this place, was here the past week on business.

Mrs. A. B. Bynum was carried to a Lubbock hospital last week and it is feared that she will have to undergo an operation.

Friends of Miss Annie Lois Easley, former county health nurse here, will be glad to learn that she has recovered from her illness at her home in Dublin, Texas, and is leaving with her brother for Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

It was the intention of the County Agent to have a write-up of the trip to the A. & M. with the club boys, but as he was away most of the first of the week he did not get to it.

Rev. J. N. Hester, of Vega, is visiting his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hester and family.

Children are keen observers, and by the time they are ten they know almost as much as their parents.

FARMERS OF LAHEY WORK CROP OF SICK NEIGHBOR

On last Thursday, August 2nd, a bunch of the Lahey farmers and a few of Gomez and Forrester farmers met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Edwards to work Mr. Edwards' crop for him. Mr. Edwards has been in bed sick for twenty eight days.

The hoe hands were as follows: C. L. Polk, J. A. Boyer, W. J. Carter, H. J. Bollin, J. H. Spinks, Dewitt Balwin, A. G. Wood, L. P. Wood, Thurman Ragsdale, A. C. Ragsdale, Lancing Hulse, Mr. Gibbs, Odell Fulton, J. W. Raley, Joe Penny, Sam Carrouth, George Murry, M. C. Chambers, G. M. Thomason, Phillip Pride, Jack Kerns, J. W. Bollie, Clifford Nolan, Dan Hulse, J. B. Wood, Mrs. W. J. Carter, Winnie Mae Nolan.

The boys with plows were as follows: B. T. Nolan, Elder Nolan, Chas Stoneman, Halely Kerns, W. M. Thomason, Wiley Brisco, J. B. Bowlin J. F. Thomason, Henry Wright, Sidney Wright, John Penny, E. Hunter.

With W. A. Fulton as field manager on horse back and Mr. Edwards' children helped. Dinner was spread at Mr. Edwards and Mr. Fultons. All had an enjoyable time. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards said that they could not find words to express their thanks to the people for their kindness shown them in the hour of need.

Gay Eaves, printer, of Lubbock, was in our city Tuesday. He reports that the printing business is a little dull up there just at present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gober and children have returned home at Corsicana after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hester and family a few days. They, like all the rest of the children think this a very fine country and are planning on moving here later. They thought it awful cool here. Mr. Gober reported the grass being something awful back where they live and said farmers were paying $2.00 per day for hoeing. Mr. Gober is not a farmer.

Henry Chisholm and family, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. G. W. Chisholm left Monday for Sherman, Texas, where they will visit relatives. Miss Virginia Andree, of Sherman, who has been here visiting her uncle, G. W. Chisholm and family, also returned with them.

Mrs. Jack Stricklin and daughter, Sallie T., and niece Evelyn Morgan, of Panhandle, drove to Snyder, Tuesday, to carry Benton and Alton Stricklin, who are on their way home to Grandview after a short visit here.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

The following political announcements are subject to the action of the Democratic primaries the 25th of August, next:

For Sheriff and Tax Collector:

J. M. (Mun) Telford.
J. S. Smith.

For Commissioner Pre. No. 4:

G. M. (Mack) Thomason.
W. M. Goldston.

For Weigher, Pre. No. 1:

S. F. (Sig.) Lane
Marion B. Stone

It appears on the face of returns that the bolters are not very popular with the voters of Texas. Tom Love seems to have gotten further than any of the rest, owing to his popularity otherwise, and the fact that Miller is running for his third term, perhaps. But the returns are nevertheless convincing.

Another suit peddler was in our midst again this week taking orders that rightfully belong to home people. The Herald is willing to pay a small advance in price and patronize the men that patronize us and help us keep up the schools, churches, and other public enterprises of the town. But we do not have to pay an advance price, quality considered. Trade at home.

In retiring Gene Tunney says there will be no real contenders for the belt in the next two or three years at least, and we presume, like Alexander the Great, with no more worlds to conquer, he will set down and shed a few crocodile tears. But, it would seem, Gene likes to roll out a half million of cold berries at a time, and we imagine that he can be introduced at the proper time to "attempt a come-back."

All hands who attended the Farmers Short Course at College Station seem to be more than pleased, whether they are actual farmers or not, and they claim the information they received was worth many times over the expenses of the trip. Farming is fast being put on a scientific as well as a business basis, when that day arrives, we are going to have lots of contented farmers, and the drift will perhaps be "back to the farm" instead of a constant flow the other way.

Crowell—The value of agricultural exhibitions was explained here by Exhibit Agricultural Manager Whiteker of the WTCC lately.

Hereford—Several thousand feet of new sewerage disposal pipe has been laid here.

Directions For Canning Beans and Corn

The essential things in canning are: first, to insure a good flavor and quality in canned goods we must have fresh vegetables to can. Second, we must successfully combat all impurities of spoilage such as molds, yeast, bacteria. This may be done by proper preheating and blanching. Third, make a perfect seal.

The following procedure has been proven successful in canning beans: Gather the beans not more than an hour before you are ready to can, preferably early in the morning. Wash the beans thoroughly, then string and cut them to the desired length. Preheat. Add salt, one teaspoon for each quart, and just enough boiling water to cover the beans. Bring to boil and boil for four or five minutes. The purpose of preheating is to drive out air. The beans are ready to pack when they are no longer brittle but will bend without breaking. Pack hot, covering the beans with boiling water in which they are heated. Do not pack too tight. Seal tin cans tight; put rubbers and lids on glass jars but do not seal quite tight. Put cans in steam cooker, process string beans in No. 2 cans for 30 minutes at 10 pounds pressure, No. 3 cans 40 minutes at 10 pounds pressure. Pint cans are to be processed for one hour, be careful not to exceed 10 pounds pressure. Cool quickly, as quick cooling is important with such products as beans, peas, corn, asparagus. As soon as the cans are cool label and store in cool place.

Directions for canning corn: Can only freshly picked, tender, juicy corn. Most of the silk can be removed with the husks. A stiff vegetable brush is useful in removing the silks that cling to the ear. Work fast in every stage of canning corn. Cut corn from the cob without pre-cooking or blanching. Scraping the cob will yield a little extra fine quality product for corn soup. Add just enough boiling water to keep the corn from burning. Season with a teaspoon of salt and two teaspoons of sugar per quart. Cover, bring to boil for three or four minutes—just long enough to make sure the corn is thoroughly heated. Pack boiling hot in No. 2 cans or in quart or pint jars. Shake down rather than press down, leaving about 3-8 inch space at top of each can. Corn swells during cooking. Seal the lid on the cooker but permit the steam to escape before the valve or pet cock is closed. By doing this, the pounds of pressure on the pressure gauge more accurately register the temperature. Process No. 2 cans one and one-half hours at 10 pounds pressure. Bring the pressure up rather slowly in order to get good circulation of the liquid in the cans, otherwise the corn near the outside of the can is over cooked and caramelized before heat penetrates to the center of the can. Pour lukewarm water over the cooker to condense the steam. Condensing the steam before opening the cooker reduces the pressure inside the cans and thus lessens the strain on the seal. With corn, quick cooling is very important. It keeps the corn brighter, it stops the cooking, thus helping to prevent an over cooked flavor. Remove the cans as soon as they are cool enough to handle.

Canning is the utilization of farm products; it is merely the cooking of several meals at one time and it is essential to constructive, progressive farming. It affords an opportunity to have fresh vegetables and meats the entire year; cuts down the cost of extensive grocery bills, eliminates

EX-GOVERNOR KENTUCKY DIES IN FORCED EXILE

Indianapolis, Ind.—William S. Taylor, 76, whose election as governor of Kentucky in 1899 was declared fraudulent by the legislature of that state, died at his home here today.

Taylor has resided in this city since 1900, at which time he sought protection of the State from charges brought against him in Kentucky in connection with the assassination of Governor-elect William Goebel.

In the 1899 election, Taylor was first declared victor over Goebel in the gubernatorial race. A legislative investigation followed and Goebel was declared the legally elected Governor.

A short time later the Governor was shot from ambush. Taylor entered Indiana, which state has since refused to recognize extradition demands.

CATTLE REACH HIGH PEAK IN KANSAS CITY

The top price paid for cattle in Kansas City last week was paid, being $16.25 a hundred pounds. This was the highest price paid in several months. The next highest was when twelve head of Hereford yearling steers brought $16.00 per hundred pounds, this was last month.

Choice grain fed cattle, it is said, are becoming scarcer at the local yards, and the grass fed cattle show an increase. Prices of this grade of cattle have advanced $2 to $3 in a little more than a month.

W. G. Hardin and family left this week for Springtown, Texas where they will visit his mother and other relatives.

HUNTER NOTES

The community was saddened Sunday with the death of Mrs. Roberts. She took sick Saturday morning and died at one o'clock Sunday. Mrs. Roberts was buried Monday at three o'clock at the Forrester cemetery. The community expresses its sincere sympathy and condolences.

Miss Ruby Hughes spent another week end with Miss Esther Herndon. Mrs. Hill is on the sick list this week, but we are glad to report that she is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Price spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Simms. John Thompson and family, with Harvey Fitzgerald and wife of Brown field visited in the home of J. B. Williams Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrel Hansen spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Williams.

Deward Williams spent Saturday night with Wilburn Bryan.

Ed Holdridge and Delmer Montgomery spent Sunday with Everett Woodall.

Mrs. J. W. Settles came in this week and introduced her new daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clarence Settles of Fort Wingate, N. M. Mrs. Settles has been visiting her mother in Victoria, Texas and her aunt, Mrs. Ophelia Wilhelm, of San Antonio, and was on her way back home in New Mexico, and came by to see her husband's folks. She was accompanied by her aunt from San Antonio.

NATION TO HEAR SMITH AND HOOVER ACCEPTANCES

The acceptance speeches of both Hoover and Smith will be broadcasted to the entire nation by the National Broadcasting Co. and associated stations as a public service, and without cost to the candidates, it was announced by the president of the company a few days ago. The Hoover speech is to be made August 11th, and Gov. Smith will be notified of his nomination August 22. The ceremony, which will take place on the east steps of the state capitol in New York, and will be broadcasted by a nation-wide net work of radio stations and will begin at 7 p. m., eastern time and is expected to last about one hour and a half. He will deal in most part with prohibition and farm relief. He has also stated that he will stress his ideas about reorganization of federal government functions and government economy.

THE PLEASANT VALLEY BOOSTERS CLUB

We haven't had a club meeting in several weeks but have been busy getting ready to send our delegate to the Short Course. At least we have not been idle.

Wasn't the rain fine on our gardens and fields.

We are busy now canning cucumbers, beans and peas this week. We expect to get in more work than ever as the corn will be ready and we are going to work together at different houses and make one cooler supply us all as we haven't money to buy but one. We already have four canners and others are planning to buy more. These merchants will surely miss our trade this winter.

We have planted some late gardens such as turnips and beans and cucumbers that are doing nicely. Just a shower or two will put them fine and prospects are fair for one soon.

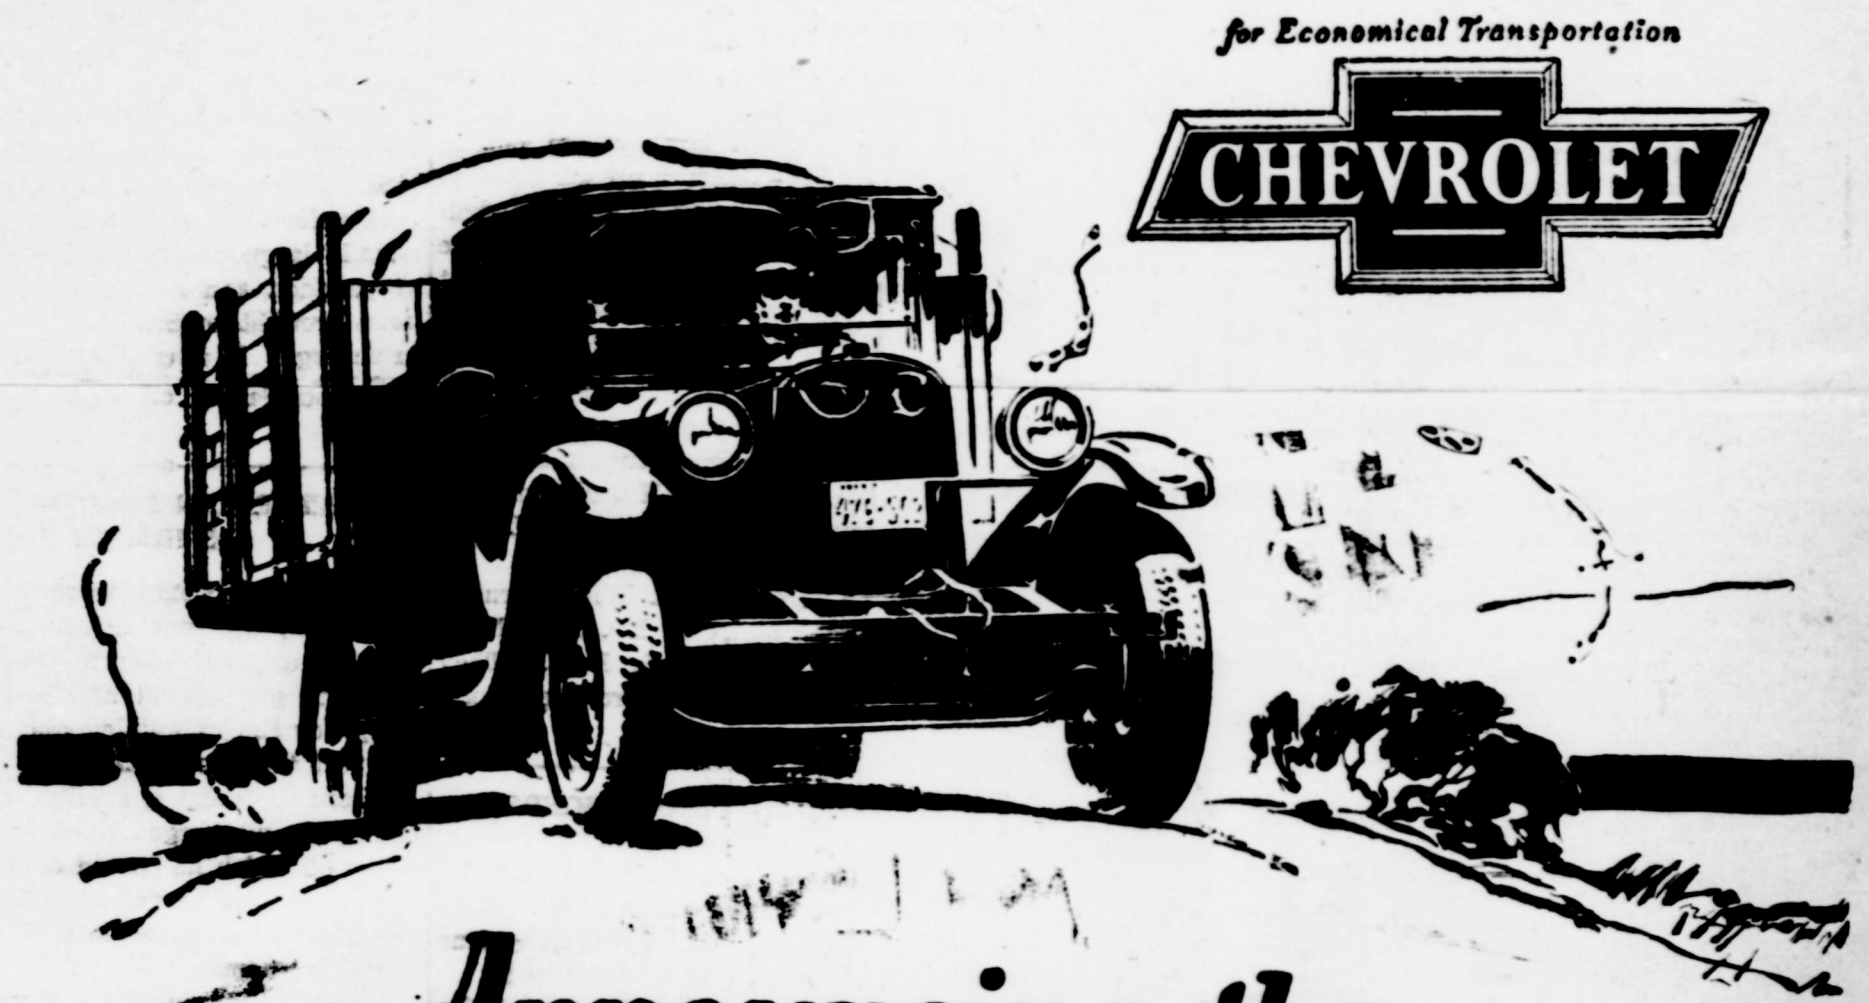

The poultry club members are making some fine records on success with chickens, some haven't lost any and the boys surely are trying their best to make their pig club the best. Most all have made good gains.

With our present prospects we expect to have some good exhibits at the fair this fall and hope to win some blue ribbons.—Reporter.

TO THE VOTERS

I want to thank each friend that supported me in the primary and assure you that your vote and influence will be highly appreciated on August 25th. I failed to get this in the Aug. 3rd issue of the Herald.

Yours respectfully,
G. M. (Mack) Thomason.

ROTARY CLUB HAD INTERESTING VISITORS FRIDAY

The local Rotary Club had some interesting visitors at its session Friday at the noon hour, among whom was Rev. Lancaster, who is holding the Baptist revival meeting, and who gave one of the most interesting talks we have heard in some time. He is a member of the Kiwanis in his home town of Coleman, Texas, which is similar in its purposes to the Rotary Club. The singer for the revival also favored the club with a solo, which had for its main theme an admonition to watch your step with the girls, but most of the local members are already very much hitched to a star, the song caused more laughter than real serious consideration.

Another gentleman whose name we failed to get, made a short talk, as did also a visiting Rotarian from the state of Ohio, who made an interesting talk in which he paid a glowing tribute to the hospitality and painstaking efforts of the west Texan to assist a stranger in their midst how to get from one point to another. He remarked that in his state they did not seem to like to take the time to explain and talk much to stranger, generally speaking, and show him how much fellow feeling they have.

We hope our people never reach the point when they cannot welcome a stranger within their gates and stop long enough to give him civil directions to where he wants to go, and render such other assistance as he may stand in need of. We are all just humans, no matter how much or little of this world's goods we may possess. A stranger in a strange country is lonesome at best, and if you want to make his heart glow with appreciation, be civil and courteous to him.

DALLAS BUILDING ONE OF 6,000 USED BY BELL

The magnificent headquarters building of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company under construction in Dallas is but one of the 6,000 buildings which the Bell system owns or leases throughout the United States. These range in size from the small repeater stations to buildings covering a whole block and 30 stories in height.

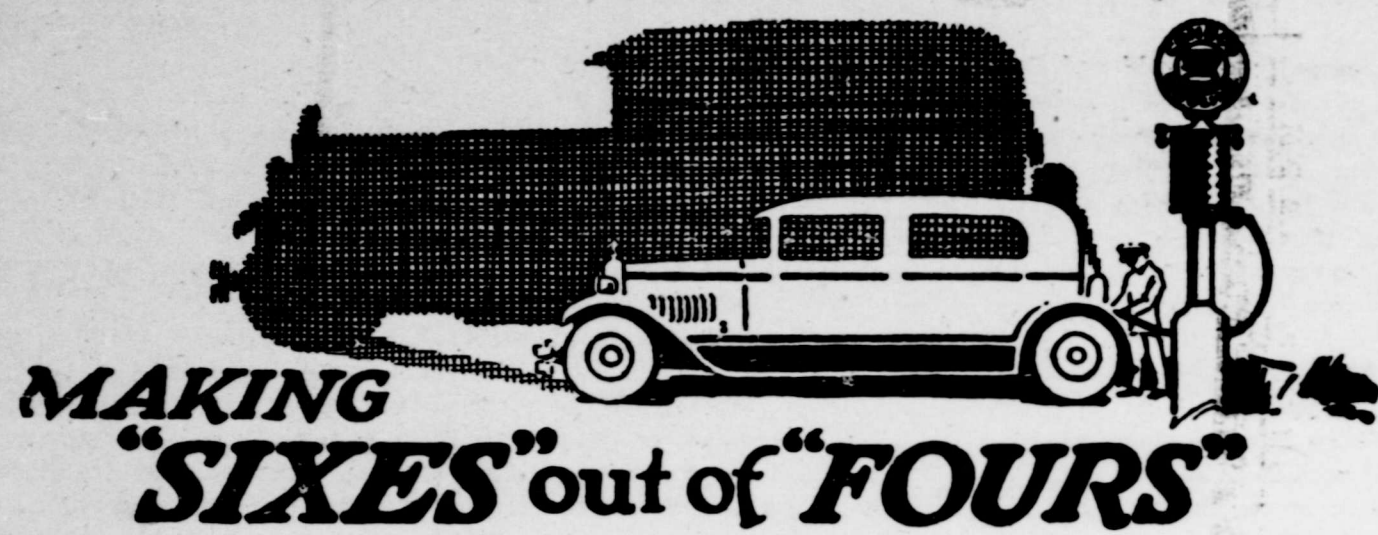

The value of the buildings owned and used by the Bell system is in excess of $311,000,000, an amount equal to about one and one-quarter times the assessed valuation of the State of Delaware. During 1928 alone, it is estimated, about $40,000,000 will have to be expended for the purchase of land and construction of new buildings to provide for the current and future needs of the business.

General telephone equipment represents an investment of approximately $54,000,000 of which $23,000,000 is represented by office furniture and fixtures, and 14,000 motor vehicles used in connection with the work of the Bell system, and represents an investment of $18,000. Another $12,000,000 is invested in tools and implements which include the very latest types of labor saving devices, such as earth boring machines for pole setting, pneumatic equipment for drilling rock and pavement, pole derricks and winches for pulling cables through underground conduits.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Randal of Seymour, Texas, visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Randal. The men are brothers and the ladies are sisters. Mr. and Mrs. Randal had started on a three weeks tour of the western states.

THE extra power of Conoco Ethyl Gasoline makes a four-cylinder motor behave like a "six." It pours out its even flow of power on the hills, in traffic, or wherever you are running. It insures high compression performance from practically any engine.

TEXAS CITIES LIVING EXAMPLE OF GAS USE

"The cities of Texas and the southwest are a living example to the world of the day when all of our cities will be smokeless because they can do it better and in greater prosperity with gas," said Oscar H. Fogg of New York, president of the American Gas Association, in addressing the recent natural gas convention in Dallas.

"There could be no more appropriate place to hold the convention than our great southwest where the clear air and sunshine, the economies in industrial and domestic life because of freedom from smoke, and the public health and greater comfort enjoyed because of the purity of the atmosphere, constitute an impressive advertisement of the advantages to a community which uses gas as fuel."

THE JOHNSON NEWS

Miss Katie Mae Winn has been visiting her sister who lives at Tokio, which she enjoyed very much.

Miss Velma Williamson was greatly missed Sunday at Sunday School and church on the account of a rising in her car. But we are glad to say she was at singing.

There was a large crowd out to hear Brother Sanders preach Sunday.

We had fine singing Sunday night and every one had a nice time. There will be a league next Sunday night and every one are invited.

The revival meeting which was to ed off on the account of the rain.

There will be a party at Miss Ruth Ganes Friday night, August 3, 1928.

CROP CONDITIONS ARE GOOD THIS YEAR OVER SOUTHWEST

DALLAS, August 9.—General rains over practically all of Texas during the last week in July have been highly favorable to all growing crops, especially cotton, according to reports compiled by the Department of Public Relations of the Southland Life Insurance Company. Up to the time of these rains an entirely peculiar situation prevailed in that a great deal of the cotton producing counties which had early in the season been complaining of too much wet weather, were beginning to suffer from the drouth. This condition, however, has been corrected and unless the rain continues too long, or develops insect infestation, cotton may be said to be in excellent condition.

Conditions are especially good in the Southwest, Central and Northern sections of the state. Crops other than cotton are doing extremely well, one of the best corn crops of years is in the making, vegetable crops are above normal, small grains made at least average crops, and the forage crops are much above the average.

By far, the most encouraging aspect of the entire situation as far as Texas farmers are concerned is the fact that although they have had little or no ready money, many of them have not gone farther into debt during the past nine months and are in a position to have more money at the end of this crop growing season than ever before in their experiences.

An interesting side-light on crop conditions in Texas is the report that the lower Rio Grande Valley shipped 20,640 car loads of fruit and vegetables during the 1927-1928 season. This far exceeds any of the previous seasons and clearly shows the growth of the valley section.

Business all over the state is, of course, suffering from its usual depression, but even this, according to reports, is less than it usually is at this time of the year.

All crops, of course are from 10 to 30 days late. In general it may be said that chances are extremely favorable for the production of an unusually large cotton crop despite the propaganda and influence which has been brought to bear on a decrease in acreage. It is true, however, that raising of larger crops on the West Plains.

THE AMERICAN LEGION IS NOT IN POLITICS

An ex-service man, as some people call them, are not ex-service men, but they are still ready to aid and assist, and get behind and push anything for the upbuilding and betterment of the community.

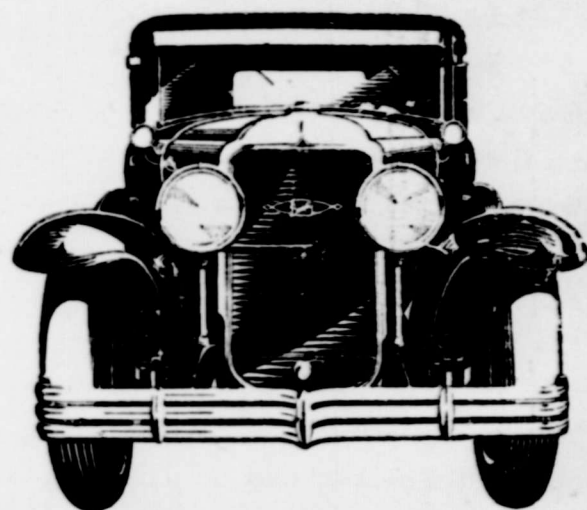

There is today a soldier with an honorable discharge from the U. S. Army of which he served in the war, and who has just as clean and perfect record as any honorable citizen, who is seeking a public office.

For reasons unknown there are false statements being made on the streets of Brownfield and over Terry county that the American Legion is in politics. As Vice-Commander of William Guyton Howard Post of the American Legion, of Brownfield, Texas, I take this opportunity to deny these false rumors. I wish to further inform the public that the American Legion is a national organization, and has never endorsed one of its members for any public office. The local post has never endorsed any man for public office, nor has politics ever been discussed within the Legion hall. C. B. Quante.

You are hereby commanded, that by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Terry once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon R. C. Cooksey, and the unknown heirs of R. C. Cooksey if he be dead, and Rosie Cooksey, wife of the said R. C. Cooksey, and if she be dead the unknown heirs of Rosie Cooksey, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Terry County to be holden at the Court House thereof, in the City of Brownfield, on the fourth Monday in August, A. D. 1928, the same being the 27th day of August, A. D. 1928, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 29th day of June, A. D. 1928, in a suit, numbered on the Docket of said Court, No. 1083 wherein A. E. Pool, W. E. Pool and C. G. Goodman are plaintiffs, and R. C. Cooksey and Rosie Cooksey, his wife, are defendants; the nature of plaintiffs demand being substantially, as follows, to-wit:

That on Feb. 23rd, 1924, defendant R. C. Cooksey made, executed and delivered to plaintiffs nine Vendor's Lien notes payable to order of plaintiffs on or before February 23rd, 1926 to February 23rd, 1934, eight for $258.50 each, and one for $800.00, each note providing that in event default be made in its payment all of said notes could be declared due and payable at option of holder, and also providing for 10% atty's fees and that said notes were given in part payment for the Southeast Quarter of Section 30 in Block D-11 in Terry County, Texas, and the Vendor's Lien retained to secure payment of said notes in deed from plaintiffs to defendant, R. C. Cooksey, of even date with said notes.

That the Note for $800.00 was by plaintiffs transferred, assigned and delivered to Temple Trust Company, and the Lien securing its payment made a superior lien to that securing the payment of the remaining eight notes.

That the defendant, R. C. Cooksey, by his deed of conveyance, conveyed said property to the defendant, Rosie Cooksey, and, among other considerations the defendant Rosie Cooksey assumed the payment of the indebtedness above mentioned.

That the defendants defaulted in the payment of the note and annual interest due and payable on February 23rd, 1928, and plaintiffs have declared all of said notes due and payable, except the note for $800.00, filed this suit thereon, and ask for a foreclosure of the Vendor's Lien on the land and premises above described for order of sale, and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and equity to which plaintiffs may be entitled, etc.

Herein fail not, but have you before said Court on the first day of next term thereof this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT—AUTHORIZING LEGISLATURE TO GRANT CONFERRATE PENSIONS REGARDLESS OF DATE PENSIONER CAME TO TEXAS OR WHEN WIDOW MARRIED PENSIONER OR WHEN SHE WAS BORN.

H. J. R. No. 15.)

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION.

Proposing an amendment to Section 51, Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, authorizing a tax levy for Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows, and providing for submission of same to the qualified electors of this State at any election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, and providing the necessary proclamation and appropriation to defray expenses of proclamation, publication and election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 51, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

"The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public moneys to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient, and to their widows in indigent circumstances under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; to indigent and disabled soldiers, who, under special laws of the State of Texas, during the war between the States, served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raids or Mexican marauders, and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia who were in active service during the war between the States, and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances, and who are or may be eligible to receive aid under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; and also grant for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy, under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law; provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property of seven ($.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon "For the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances, and authorizing tax levy therefor," and "Against the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances and authorizing tax levy therefor." Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The sum of $5,000.00 or so much thereof as may be needed is hereby appropriated for the expense of publication of said Amendment.

OIL INDUSTRY OSTRACISES WASTE

"The oil industry soon will vie with the packing trade, which utilizes all of the pig but the squeal," says a recent news item.

Formerly what is called "lean gas" has been worthless because of its low gasoline content, and the large quantities of it found in Texas gas fields have never been utilized.

Now a company is erecting a new type of refinery which will extract gasoline from this once waste product. Production is to be carried on on a large scale to make it profitable.

This is another example of the progress the oil industry is making in effecting economy in operation and efficiency in production. In the past few years great strides have been made; many by-products that previously were considered so much waste matter have been forced to yield a value.

This economy, in the last analysis, benefits the public, and is the reason for the almost phenomenally low price of gasoline in America.

The oil industry has passed through the stage of prodigal methods. Today it is on a sound economic basis.

TOO MANY OF 'EM

The editor of the Big Spring Herald took occasion last week to "rap" the fellows who say "don't say anything about this until everything is jake," and then when an out of town daily reaches his desk the next morning he finds the "whole story" printed in it. He puts his little editorial high up on the front page with a box around it. And the fellow who didn't see it was blind if he was a Herald subscriber. But that's the case. The home town news is requested to be squelched, when it is possible that very fellow is correspondent of some foreign daily, and then the home subscriber wonders why the news published in the out-of-town daily exclusive of home paper. And, too, once in a while a fellow will request the editor not to say anything about a certain piece of news because the time is not yet ripe, and when the paper comes out next, raises a ruckus because it wasn't printed and says the editor doesn't like him. Sometimes we think the editor ought to take the bit between his teeth, get the facts in the case, and print them to his own satisfaction.—Graham Leader.

HER PAST

They were very much in love with each other, and the young girl had recently accepted an engagement ring from her sweetheart.

Although everything was perfectly planned for their future, the young man was inquisitive to the point of folly.

"Tell me, dear," he pleaded, "have you ever been kissed before?"

The girl blushed. She did not know what to say for the best.

"Well, ye-es; only twice," she confessed reluctantly.

"What?" he shrieked, "Who by?"

"Don't be ridiculous, dear," returned the girl. "It was only the church choir and the baseball club."

Odd Mixture Made of Business and Religion

In uptown New York there is a negro church in which attending services is an all-day affair on Sundays. The congregation spends from eight to ten hours in the house of prayer, and meals and social circles interlard sermons and Bible classes.

Perhaps the most practical feature of the weekly gathering has to do with business. Members of the flock are invited to pass along their special wants to the pastor and he in turn proclaims them from the pulpit. Thus, if one has a piano or a parlor set for sale it may be described as alluringly as desired, the price mentioned and the name and address of the "brother" or "sister" broadcast. If one wants a job or a boarder the details are set forth in the same manner. Recently a case of theft was handled as follows:

"Mah dear brothers an' sistern, Mis' Amanda Rose Abernathy has lost her beautiful pearl brooch—at least she likes to think it were lost, but she know the devil often find things for folks what ain't lost—so if any of you have found it, in such eventuality please return it to the lawful owner thereof. An' to save embarrassments and humiliations I would suggest that the finder of the lovely brooch put it in de little collection envelope."—New York Sunday Times.

"Singing" Mud Rivers Alter Andes Skyline

One of the most interesting features of the Andes, the great backbone of cordilleras covering the northern part of South America, says Nature Magazine, is its "singing" rivers of mud.

During certain seasons of the year rain falls in torrents, converting the foothills of the mountains into actual streams of flowing gumbo, and so rapidly is this erosion occurring, the whole outline of a chain of mountains may become unrecognizable in the course of a year.

The higher cordilleras, with altitudes of 10,000 to 12,000 feet, are being washed down at the rate of five feet or more a year, and it is believed that in a few centuries the Andes will be leveled and formed into vast plateaus like the hinterland of Patagonia.

The mountains are composed, for the most part, of glacial moraine, a mixture of powdered rock and clay. The winter rains carry this alluvial material down the valleys in a semi-liquid state and form vast plains. It gurgles with a musical sound like poured molasses.

THE LEAF WORM MAKES APPEARANCE IN TEXAS

Careful observation during a trip just completed extending from Dallas to San Antonio, Corpus Christi, and to the Lower Rio Grande Valley as far as Brownsville did not reveal to us any damage being done by the leaf worm, nor did we observe any individuals of the insect, either as the worm or as the adult moth, advises R. K. Reppert, Entomologist, Extension service, A. & M. College of Texas. These observations revealed that our cotton crop is practically free of damage by this insect at this time.

Since our return, however, two live individuals of the worms have been sent to us from Nueces County, and the presence of these worms is serious damage was not reported of interest only as showing that initial infestation exists. As related in a previous press letter, weather conditions will determine largely whether this infestation will develop to serious proportions. Frequent showers over the state will be favorable to the rapid multiplication of the insect.

We do not believe, however, unless serious infestation now exists in some sections not yet reported to us, that the cotton growing area as a whole need not fear any serious damage for the next two weeks, or before the 10th of August. Weather conditions will largely determine what the situation will be subsequent to that date. On July 30th, after preparation of the above article, we have a report of a light infestation of the worm near Spur in Dickens county. This combined with the rains several days previous in many sections of Texas might lead to a heavier infestation in the next two weeks.

THIS IS THE WAY IT OUGHT TO BE

Farmer enters the bank and seats himself within easy talking range of the banker.

Farmer—"Mr. Banker, I have been making a study of feeding. Instead of planting all cotton this year, I have produced and have on hand, 2,000 bushels of corn, 1,500 bushels of oats, and have an abundance of hay and other roughage. The city market for these things is not very good, and I have decided to make my own market and also make a start in building up my soil."

Banker—"Well, Mr. Farmer, what do you propose to do?"

Farmer—"Well, it is like this: I have the feed and the time, and with your help I propose to buy enough well bred feeder stock to consume this feedstuff I have on hand. The market looks as though it was going to hold up, and even if it does not I will thus be able to get a pretty good price for my corn, oats and hay. The increase in weight and quality will fully protect us both."

Banker—"Your argument is sound. If I buy the feeders and you provide the feed and labor, I can't see how I can lose unless you fall down on the job as a feeder, and I have known you for many years and you have been a good farmer. The proposition in itself is alright, for every pound of feed you put into those animals the better my security becomes. The other factor in the case is my confidence in your ability and integrity. I have that confidence and you can have the money. How much do you want?"—Farm and Ranch.

By Aesculapias

The past week a pamphlet has found its way into our midst having the interesting title "Al Smith, Rome and Tammany." In the coming months we will hear and read much truth and untruths on the three topics.

Whether or not the writer is the hired flunky of the Republican Campaign Committee will never be known. It is being introduced by private sales men at 25c a copy. On the front page in large letters is the above title and a picture of the Pope with a figure of our Uncle Sam on his knees kissing the Pope's big toe.

The custom of kissing the big toe of His Holiness was an act early practiced by the devout Catholic and at the time of the Popes greatest power, this act of servitude and obedience was compulsory on all who came in his presence. I am not aware of non-Catholics having complied with this ancient custom in recent years. In fact I am quite sure they do not. The kissing of the ring worn by the high church officials however, is still in vogue, and the toe is also perhaps kissed by Catholics if required.

The brochure starts out by giving a short biography of Governor Smith. The same authority also says that he attended the parochial schools until 13 years of age. "Up from the City Streets," a sketch of his life in World's Works for Oct. 1927, page 594, says he quit school at 15. That he won the medal for elocution inscribed, "Alfred E. Smith, Elocution." Went to work for self and mother in a fish market. The writer speaks slightly of his education.

It was more than Shakespeare had, very much more than Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln, Andy Johnson, and fully equal to that of George Washington. These fellows were able to push along, get pretty near any kind of public preference they wanted and are apt to be remembered as long as the author under discussion.

He next charges that: In the assembly he followed the machine in support of bad measures. He doesn't describe them. In 1909 he voted against public interests. Doesn't explain how? In 1910 he opposed primary and election laws. He doesn't know the nature of the laws opposed. In 1911 opposed progressive reforms. He doesn't state what reforms. In 1912 opposed direct primary bill. This thing is opposed by a large number of prominent men in all parties, and other things are introduced I presume to fill up space, and winds up his tirade by saying on page 3, that Governor Smith is a good man, personally will be conceded. He assumes that Smith's association with Tammany and the Catholic church totally disqualifies him for public service. He then launches into a crusade against the Pope and misuse of power and persecutions. This has been done so many times and so thoroughly done that there is no use of any man or woman who has sense enough to vote that doesn't know the trials of blood and fire, racks and other instruments of torture used during the thousand years which he covers by the human brutes in power. It, however, was not confined to Popes, but kings and their henchmen assisted in the slaughter of those who opposed their will. We might go back to the good old days of the Bible and bring forward the curses to be found in Leviticus. The wholesale massacres by the Judges and kings of Israel of helpless men, women and children who fell into their hands, along with the crucifixion of Christ. If per chance a Jew should offer himself for office, he still believes that the Book of the Law given by Moses is binding on his conscience. The Catholic in the infallibility of the Pope.

Very much that he urges against Smith has been denied time and again. The charges of prostitution being protected by Smith, was recently urged by William Allen White, and almost immediately retracted by him. He next goes into the Mexican question, and would have you believe that Smith would immediately intervene in behalf of the Catholics who have been driven out of Mexico for non-compliance with the constitution and laws passed for enforcement. Now, as a matter of fact Smith emphatically said that he is not in favor of this government intervening into the affairs of other nations. The use of friendly representations in the matter of persecutions or on behalf of individuals that this government believes might have been unfairly treated, is frequently offered by one nation to another. Among the last was with Russia before the World War in behalf of the Jews. In reply the Russian government called attention to our treatment of the negroes and Indians. This spiked our guns and we have not interferred with Russia since.

This author, however, seems to forget that his proteges, the Republicans, are now in a supposedly friendly country with an army, at the behest of the moneyed interests, or as this is a Catholic country, it may be that they are at the bottom of our friendly offices down there. I have the two pamphlets issued by the Knights of Columbus after the Philadelphia meeting in 1926. The first bears date of Jan. 21, 1927 and asked contributions. The second was a pastoral letter by the Catholic Episcopate of the U. S. On page 27 of the pamphlet, it is expressly stated, "It is no interposition of our influence either as bishops or citizens to reach those who have political power any where on earth, and least of all in our own country, that they should intervene with armed forces in the internal affairs of Mexico for the protection of the church." As this fellow has a great deal to say about the Constitution and laws that routed the Catholics and others from Mexico, I will give a sample. They are forbidden:

- To own church real estate, or mortgages on the same.
- To own church buildings, or any other buildings.
- To possess invested funds or any other productive property.
- To maintain convents or nunneries.
- To conduct primary schools. A good law; we wish we had it.
- To direct or administer charitable institutions.
- To hold religious ceremonies outside church buildings.
- To clothe their ministers with a garb indicative of their calling.
- They are forbidden to criticize laws or the authorities of the government.
- They may not vote, hold office or assemble for political purposes.
- No religious periodical may comment on political affairs. The number of ministers are fixed by the state.
- The government regulates public worship.

Rather drastic compared to most countries, but it isn't any of our business.

He also devotes much space to Tammany, especially its past. In fact the distant past fills most of his pamphlet and leads one to believe the motive is to stir up passions of protestants against catholics over the early persecutions of that church.

Protestants are not stirred up by Smith's witness, and the writer knows this full well, as he has little to say on this feature of the case, still prohibition is the stalking horse.

He pays his respects to the attitude of the catholic church on persecution of the early scientists and drags in Copernicus, Galileo and other astronomers as examples. Unfortunately he has nothing to say of the persecution by protestants of a teacher of biology in Tennessee a few years ago, his conviction, fining, together with dismissal from the school. Let us smile. This was not four hundred years ago as was in the case of the others. Yes, the protestants have started an Index Expergatorius of their own in the 20th century. You can't teach a country school if you have read Darwin's Decent of Man and the trustees find it out.

The nation is not, nor never has been ruled by Tammany. Whatever its record, and it is bad, its activities have been confined to the city and state of New York. It is also just to admit that it is neither better nor worse than any of the boss and gang ridden cities of the United States.

He alludes also to the execution of Ferrer in Spain as one of the recent acts of the catholic church. Ferrer was an anarchist and publisher of an anarchist paper, and was charged with participation in the treasonable riots of Barcelona, Spain in 1905. He was convicted and shot by the Spanish government. He had at his own expense opened what he called the Modern School, and doubtless accomplished some good. Let us keep the record straight.

All signs point to a fight on the religious issue, pure and simple. Those who urge prohibition do so to appear tolerant. I have not talked to any who expect to vote for Hoover who do not urge the religious features. Sixty per cent of the people are personally wet. Those yelling the loudest for prohibition drink the most when they can get it.
