Open Letter From Co. Agent to 4-H Clubs

The time of the year has come when we should really get started in our club work. Making judging teams, attending club meetings and the like is not the greatest things to be accomplished in 4-H club work. The biggest thing is to make a success with your project.

Raising the best pig, the best calf, prize winning chickens and turkeys, the most corn, milo, hegari, kafir, or cotton per acre. Making money is a very important thing. You want to have something to show for your work at the end of the year as well as some blue ribbons.

If you poultry club members have not already hatched or purchased your baby chicks why not do so at once. Get the very best chickens that you can of the variety that you like. You will want to show two pullets and a cockerel at the fair this fall and it is going to take good stock with good care to win those ribbons. We should have the strongest poultry show this fall that has ever been held on the Plains. There are about one hundred poultry club members and lets see if we can have twenty-five hundred laying pullets this winter. Baby chicks out of a good strain of laying hens are a very good investment and get enough to insure at least twenty-five pullets.

You club members who are going to have corn, milo, kafir, or hegari may plant your crop any time now that it is convenient. I would like for each of you to have at least four acres and to plant half of it by skipping every third row but list and cultivate this third row as if it were planted. The Brownfield Rotary Club will furnish certified grain sorghum seed for all club members. This is a chance to get pure seed and do not plant any other than certified seed. We want to demonstrate the value of pure seed and to satisfy ourselves whether it pays to skip every third row.

The cotton club members should plant the best seed that you can obtain. If you lose any crop from sand or hail, replant as soon as possible. Don't ever get discouraged over losing an early stand, for very often it is better at the end of the year to have lost that planting.

You who have Jersey calves see that the calves get plenty of grain as well as grass this summer. Grow your calf out and it takes more than grass to get the best development. I am going to be personally interested in the Jersey classes at the fair this fall.

You have baby beeves get your calf to begin eating and see that it gets plenty of grain as well as milk. Those who do not have your calves can wait until late summer but try to get soon enough to have them eating full feeds by October 1st.

The pig club members—a tradition to uphold this year. Last year Terry County had the largest number of pure bred pigs in Texas or any where and you know the kind of pigs that were had and the show records that were made.

The outlook this year is much better. We have more pig club members with better pigs than we had last year. You club members who have sows, breed them right away for early fall litters. If you want to raise more hogs and can take care of additional sows why keep one or more of your best sow pigs. Do not register your boar pigs until you have sold one for breeding purposes. If you can not sell your male pigs at a fair price keep them and feed them out. We will have a fat barrow class at the Fair this fall with a special premium on this class. I am particularly anxious for Terry County to set some new State records on rapid growth of pigs this summer. With the good pigs that we have, now is our chance to show the world that Terry County is a hog feeding county.

You club members who do not have pigs see me or the ones who do have pigs for sale and get your pig started.

Give your sow or pig plenty of exercise by putting them in a lot or better still a small pasture. Get some sudan started. It will cut the cost of production and make a much better hog. The first and second prize Durocs of last year were kept in the

Good Corps of Teachers Employed Here

The Herald asked Prof. Toone for a list of the teachers for the next term of our school, which have been employed, and he seemed to more than pleased with the selection that he and the board have made. Indications are that the school here will start in on what promises to be the best term in our history this coming September, as all instructors have been carefully selected to fill a place best suited to them and the school. The following is the list.

Grade School—Miss Lucile Flache, Miss Birdie Fogle, Miss Grace Hulke, Mrs. Faye Martin, Mrs. Ivy Savage, Mrs. Jewel Goza Hutchings, Mrs. Thelma Mangrum Tankersley, Mrs. Nannie Carpenter, Miss Elizabeth Dumas, Miss Velma O'Brien, Mrs. Paul F. Lawlis and Mr. Byron Lindsey, Principal of grade school.

High School—Mr. Paul F. Lawlis, Science, Mr. Geo. N. White, Mechanical Drawing and Wood Work, Mr. Marlin Hayhurst, History and Coach, Miss Anna M. Long, Spanish and Math, Miss Ina Patterson, Math and English, Miss Mildred Abney, English.

All teachers in the high school are degree teachers, so is Mr. Lindsey. All new teachers have several years of successful experience. The faculty has been carefully chosen and Prof. Toone believes that we have an excellent body of teachers.

Dr. Lester Treadaway and wife have returned from San Antonio and other points in South Texas, where they have been spending vacation and visiting Mrs. Treadaway's relatives.

stack lot where they had plenty of green stuff. The first and second prize Poland Chinas were allowed to run out most of the time. You can make a high priced chunk of fat meat in a small pen but you cant make a prize winner unless you give them a place to exercise.

I can see the best hog show in Texas right here this fall, but no one can see the winners. It is going to take some work and care to carry off the championship this year, but it will be worth working for.

It will be impossible for me to visit you individually as much as I would like to. But will try to keep in touch with each club member as close as I can and will always be ready to help you.

While I am out of the office quite a bit, you can always find me there Monday mornings, Friday at noon, and all day on Saturdays. I will be glad to have you visit me and tell me your troubles or of your successes.

Yours for success,
R. B. Davis, County Agent.

Revival at Church of Christ Begins Wed.

T. W. Phillips, one of the best known and beloved evangelists of the church of Christ in the southwest, now of Oklahoma, but who made his home in Texas for many years is to start a meeting at the local church building here next Wednesday night, according to schedule announced for this meeting some three months ago.

Mr. Phillips will be accompanied by his son who will lead the song service and is said to be a good singer and an excellent leader, despite the fact he is a young man. We understand that he is also preparing himself for the ministry.

Elder Phillips is too well known over Texas and the Southwest to need any commendation either as a man or as a preacher from us. But you are invited to hear him in this series of meetings. He will do you good.

Local Farmers to Try Commercial Fertilizer

C. L. E. Meils and R. H. Castleberry received two hundred and fifty pounds of fertilizer from the Synthetic Nitrogen Products Co. of Shreveport this week. They will use it as a side dressing on cotton and corn.

It is a question whether commercial fertilizer will pay to use it on crops and these will be the first demonstrations in the county. It is a known fact that commercial fertilizer will pay on lawns, gardens, potato patches and other places where water can be had if the rainfall is not sufficient.

The above fertilizer was sent free of costs and was procured through the county agent.

Bonds Go Over Better Than 2 to 1 Majority

The bond election here Monday calling for $60,000.00 to be expended on the streets in the business section of the city for paving fifteen blocks, went over nicely. There was a battle of ballots throughout the day, and while much interest was taken in the election, so far as we are aware, nothing was said or done to hurt the feelings of anyone—they just voted and voted. Poll tax receipts were in great demand, and we saw several that regretted they failed to arm themselves with this little slip of paper which gives the citizen the right of franchise. But when the battle ended and the results declared, it was found to be a very one-sided affair, much more so we believe than most people believed possible on either side of the question.

There were several reasons given for the overwhelming approval of the bonds, but most honor was given to the good ladies of the city for putting over the issue. Ladies are somewhat different from their male companions in that they do not use as much business or professional policy as men. In fact, a lot of the fair sex did not in the least try to keep the election holders from knowing how they voted—many of them telling them that they were voting to our streets of mud, slush and sand. In some cases it was known that these ladies were voting different from their men folks, too. It was also said that most of the young men between the age of 21 and 30 were for street paving. So it may be said that the ladies and young men are responsible for the big majority accorded the bond issue.

The paving will work a hardship on some who have a lot of vacant property in the section to be paved, but the voter could not bring themselves to the point that they must favor these instead of the advancement of the city. To them the interests of the entire community came first, although they had a sympathetic heart for those who the paving would really hit hard. In explanation, we might state that the city only paves one third of the street, the property owners paving the other third on each side of the street. In other words, instead of only $60,000 being expended, it will be something like $180,000. However, this will give employment to lots of people during the dull summer months when work is generally scarce here, and lots of it will return in the trade channels to the people here in one way and another.

The vote was 215 for, 99 against, or 17 over two to one for the bonds. The disparity of difference precludes any possibility of contest, if any were anticipated, for there is no mistaking the attitude of the voters in the matter.

In conversation with Mayor Joe J. McGowan Tuesday morning, he informed us that of necessity and for protection of the interests of the city, there would be lots of preliminary work before actual paving started, but that he figured that the bonds could be approved by the Attorney General and sold and the contract let by the middle of July, and actual work of paving started by the first part of August. He informed us that a supreme effort would be made to get the paving finished around the main part of the business section by the time the fall rush started, say the middle of September, then gradually extended to the less used part of the paved district. The section around the square will be paved first he said.

We were informed that several bond buyers have already indicated that they will be in the market for our bonds when they are ready to be sold.

J. S. Smith was in one day recently with a happy smile as if the weatherman had done just as he ordered. Jess is like the rest of us, easily pleased if the weatherman half tries.

Well, the Million Dollar Rain Got Here at Last

Well, the glorious rains started last Thursday night, and kept the good thing up for a good portion of the day Friday. In fact, one of the heaviest rains that has fallen here in many days visited this section at about 9:30 Friday and lasted for perhaps more than an hour. This cloud seemed to have reach from Dan even unto Bershba, and probably gave the whole trade territory of Brownfield, a wetting that has been needed for some time. There was another fall Saturday night that probably finished things up with a run-over measure. Altogether the fall was some 3.25 inches, according to the government gauge here. All the farmers we talked with Saturday, and we saw them from every section of the county, reported an excellent season, and all were in extremely high spirits.

We stated last week that inasmuch as the rain of the week before did not cover the county, much less the trade territory, that we could not call it a million dollar rain, but we can call this one a million dollar rain, for it covered the whole territory like a wet blanket, the South Plains and Panhandle thrown in like it has been but a very few times in history. The planting of all crops can now proceed with all haste.

About the most hoped for thing at present is some real hot sunshiny weather, for since the rains of last week the nights and days both have been rather cool, with scarcely any sunshine to warm up the ground. Cotton especially, must have some warm sunny weather in order to strut its stuff. It must be warm enough for it to show its strong white bow through the ground in four or five days after planting and by the seventh shanked up some two inches above the ground. Such cotton is not easily covered up at this time of year, and is soon ready for cultivation.

We hope the rains continue on through June then check up through July and August, for it is the dry summers that give us the big cotton yields, and we always make plenty feed and corn.

Methodist Revival to Run All Next Week

The Methodist meeting got formerly under way Sunday night with a large crowd at the church building. On account of the graduating exercises and sermon at the church Sunday morning, the meeting proper could not start until night. A write up of this is given elsewhere. Also no services were held Monday night on account of commencement exercises at the church which had already been planned before they knew Dr. Culpepper was to be here.

The city tabernacle was cleaned up and seated Tuesday, and the Tuesday night services were to be held there, and understand they are to continue there. The sides have all been boxed up in order to make it more comfortable.

Good crowds have been in attendance, and we have heard many favorable compliments on the good sermons being given by Rev. Culpepper, and the crowds are expected to increase as the revival proceeds.

The District Agent Visits the County Agt.

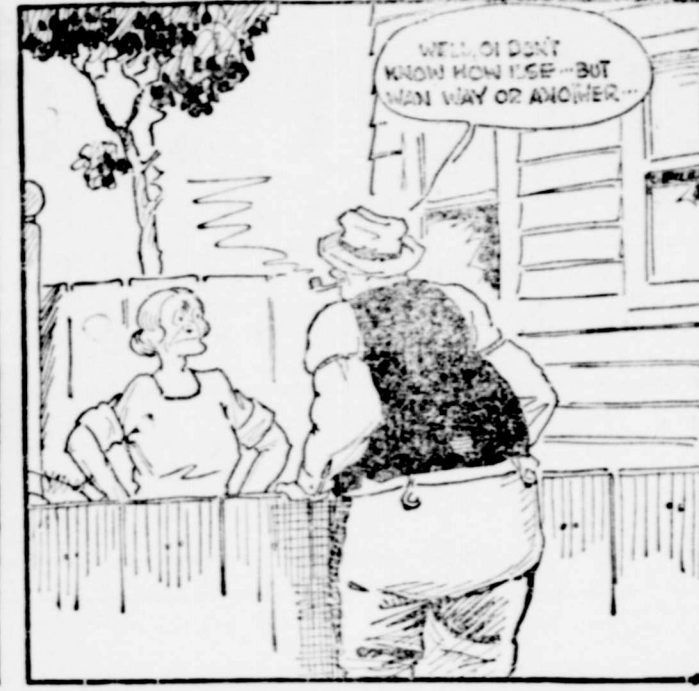

Mr. S. C. Evans, district agricultural agent of this district, was in to see county agent, Roy Davis, Thursday. While here he looked over the deep plowed plots, the hog feeding that is carried on by Mr. Combs north of town and some of the fine litters of the club boys. Mr. Evans has a keen interest in the development of agriculture in this section and expressed himself as being highly pleased with the progress that is being made.

He was accompanied by his wife, who was very impressed with this her first visit to the Plains.

Mrs. Webber Attends High School Banquet

Mrs. G. S. Webber returned Tuesday of this week from Mangum, Okla., where she attended the annual alumni banquet of the Mangum High School, which is said to have the largest alumni membership of any high school west of the Mississippi river. She was a graduate of the class of 1906. She went by way of Hereford and was accompanied to Mangum by her niece who was a graduate of the class of 1917. Mrs. Webber informed us that there was 344 ex-students in attendance at the banquet, and a great time was had by the ingathering, as it had been some years since many of them had met. This made her second time to attend, as she was on hand in 1911 when the classes met. Every year a loving cup is given to the class having the largest attendance, and her class of 1906 won the cup this year, having had 75% of the membership in attendance. Mr. Webber went to Hereford Tuesday to bring Mrs. Webber home.

DEATH OF CARL J. BONHAM, JR.

Carl J. Bonham, Jr., died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bonham, who reside in the Willow Wells community, last Sunday morning at 4:15 after an illness of about two weeks.

Carl was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bonham. He would have been thirteen years of age the nineteenth of this month. He had always enjoyed good health, was a very apt pupil in his school work and leaves a host of friends and relatives who will mourn his death. He was converted and joined the Christian Church at Wellman last summer. He is survived by his parents, six sisters and brothers, and a host of other relatives.—Seagraves Signal.

WINK NEWCOMER BELIEVED TORTURED TO DEATH POINT

After having spent only three weeks in Wink, Buck Leslie, 26, cotton buyer of Sulphur Springs, Texas, died from injuries which officers believe was inflicted as a means of torturing the man to a slow death.

Leslie was found on the Hermit highway last Sunday and died Thursday morning without giving any information, only saying that he knew of no enemies at Wink or could give no reason for his apparently being "taken for a ride."

Officers said his body looked as though it had been dragged behind a car a long distance, his arms dislocated at the shoulders, a shoulder blade broken, three inches of his spine crushed and his body a mass of bruises, and his legs looked as though they had been beaten with a club.

Leslie's parents were notified and arrived from Sulphur Springs to make funeral arrangements.

G. G. G. CLUB

Mr. R. B. Davis met with us May 9 at the school house. The club members are getting their projects, and will soon be ready for a good years work. Some of the members already have chickens large enough to fry. My, but they wouldn't eat those beauties. That rain we had last week sure will make our gardens and crops grow. So look out for the "Gomez Go Getters" at the Fair this fall. We met at the school on April 26 and sold pop corn, peanuts, candy and lemonade. We made $24.00. Which is to be used to send delegates to A. & M.

HARMONY NOTES

I suppose every one thought we were not working at Harmony. But you are badly mistaken. We called a club meeting Wednesday night, although we did not have very good luck. There were 10 present, 6 club members and 4 visitors, but we had a good time just the same. Probably the rest did not come on account of the sandstorm, but if they stay in Terry county very long they will have to go in sand storms if they expect to go anywhere. We now have 15 club members. Two of our members moved away, which we are very sorry to lose. We are preparing to send two to the short course this summer.

TWO MEN SPOKE

On the battleground of Gettysburg sixty years ago. Th first delivered an oration of more than two hours in length; not one person in ten who reads this can even recall his name; certainly not one in a hundred can quote a single sentence from that "masterly effort." The second speaker uttered two hundred and fifty words, and those words, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, are a part of the mental endowment of almost every American.

Which proves our contention that inferior ideas are usually disguised by fancy writing.—Ex.

Dr. G. W. Graves had a telephone call from an old Oklahoma friend who was in Amarillo one day last week, and about the first explosion was, "I thought you said it never rains in this country; this whole d—section is covered in water." The Dr. informed him that he was still some 200 miles from him, but did not inform him that this county was also kindly under water.

RUNNING WATER CHEAPER ON FARMS THAN IN CITY

Farm and small town homes can be supplied with running water under pressure at less cost than homes located in some of the larger cities. A home water system adapted for farm and small town use will provide running water at an average cost of 1 cent per 100 gallons, says the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers, while residents of New York City, for example, pay 2 cents for 141 gallons of water.

Since a good home water system lasts for many years and operates at small cost, the expense per day or per week of use amounts to very little. This low cost of running water in the farm home exists in spite of the fact that the water system is one piece of equipment which is used many times a day throughout the year, and which probably does more than any other modern convenience to lighten the work of the housewife and to eliminate the drudgery of home-making.

HILL MOTOR CO. DISTRIBUTORS FOR NEW MARQUETTE

The Hill Motor Company, Lamesa, are making extensive preparations and alterations to receive the new Marquette car, the companion to Buick. Their show room on North First Street is being decorated and re-arranged to give room on the floor for the Buick's new companion.

The Marquette is a six cylinder car with valves in head, similar to the well-known Buick principle but selling for around $1,000 at the factory.

If will no doubt arouse considerable interest among car buyers which means everyone, and will make a strong appeal to those who require a cheaper car than Buick.—Lamesa Journal.

"WE LIKE TO VISIT THE CITY—BUT—"

In a huge parade of 4-H Club boys and girls not long ago, one of the member groups carried an immense banner on which were painted these words: "We Like to Visit the City But the Farm Is the Place to Live."

This, says the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers, is the new spirit of farm youth trained in modern and progressive agriculture. Farm boys and girls enrolled in present day 4-H Clubs, Smith-Hughes schools and other similar projects have the opportunity to learn through study and practice many valuable lessons in agriculture which were unheard of in the youth of their fathers and mothers, grandfathers and grandmothers. Club work and Smith-Hughes projects give farm youth responsibility and experience. Both create an interest in better agriculture and a love for the farm.

It is true that not all club members will stay on the farm but about 80 per cent of them have that intention. Modern transportation facilities have brought the city closer to them whenever they wish to visit it. As the farm home becomes more modern, equipped with running water, electric lights and other conveniences formerly limited to urban communities, the lure of city life becomes dimmed. Better living and modern methods encourage club members in their selection of farming as a life work.

About 650,000 boys and girls are enrolled in 4-H Clubs alone. These members own 175,000 head of livestock and 1,000,000 chickens. The value of their property totals $12,000,000. Organizations of this kind promise to play a tremendous part in the future of agriculture.

WAR TROPHIES BEING DISTRIBUTED ALONG POSTS

Camp Mabry near Austin, where some thirty car loads of captured German and Austrian War Trophies have been stored for the past year is the scene of considerable activity just now in connection with the sorting, boxing and shipping of these Trophies under the direction of the Adjutant General of Texas.

The War Department in Washington so far as possible sent Trophies to the various States according to that state operated during the World War. The war material now being distributed over Texas was actually used in armed conflict against the Thirty-sixth and Ninetieth Divisions made up largely of Texas men. This distribution is being made with the aid of the State Department of The American Legion to the three hundred and fifty Legion Posts over the State, who are directed to see that the Trophies are placed permanently in each city where the public will have an opportunity of seeing them. In those cities that do not have suitable Legion homes or quarters for this purpose, the Trophies will be placed in Municipal buildings where they can be forever protected and available to the public.

The Governor and his War Trophy Committee headed by the Adjutant General of the State believed that the membership in the Legion in the various communities of the State, best represented the fighting men of Texas during the stirring days of 1917-18 and choose this organization to assist in making the distributions over the State and the local Posts of the American Legion to receive the Trophies and see that they were properly cared for.

There will also be shipments made to numerous state owned Universities and colleges.

W. R. McDuffie left Saturday afternoon for Waxahachie, Texas, after his wife and little daughter, who are visiting relatives and friends there.

The editor is acquainted with a man who is utterly devoid of any belief in the future well being of Portales. He is not a bad fellow at heart, but he views his surroundings from a jaundiced point of view. He actually pronounces his community squalid, sees little interest in his environment, and regrets constantly that he is not living somewhere else. He is not what one would call a happy man.

The editor is acquainted with another fellow who is enthusiastic about his town. He never misses an opportunity to tell strangers all about its good points. He is actively engaged in every enterprise initiated for the purpose of upbuilding the community. He believes in the town and the future of his own business and he thus approaches all of his work with an enthusiasm that breaks down all obstacles and makes success certain. He is not only desirous of making Portales a larger city and more prosperous community, but in making a social life here more attractive. He is, without question a happy man.

Does it pay him to be a community booster?

If we count the satisfaction and pleasure he gets out of life, as well as the financial remuneration he receives from his business activity here, there can be only one answer. IT SURELY DOES.

In other words you can get no more out of your community than you put into it.—Portales (N. M.) Herald.

"TO BE BETTER LOOKING,"
CLUB GIRLS' SLOGAN

College Station.—A peck of garden stuff and a quart of milk is the recipe for becoming beautiful given to Texas 4-H club girls by Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist in the Extension Service. Asked what this has to do with clothing work, Mrs. Barnes replied, "You must have a good looking clothes rack if you want clothes to look well. The slogan in club work this year is 'to be better looking' but we can't make clothes 'do their stuff' for girls with bad complexion and poor posture.

"Complexion and posture come with health, and that comes from right diet, hence the recipe. To be an all-around good looking girl she must develop physically, mentally, morally and spiritually. It may sound funny but there is the foundation for good dress, and that is one reason why home demonstration agents are getting the girls to grow garden plots; to properly can and cook the products; and to learn the essentials of a healthful diet."

More than 15,000 club girls are making part or all of their own clothes this year in Texas, and hundreds of them are doing the family sewing besides. The appropriateness of dress to the wearer is emphasized in this work and girls are learning that simplicity of design and choice of color and line have much to do with good looking clothes.

The cost of the clothes made by club girls is only nominal, for home agents everywhere stress the point that taste and workmanship contestants in the 4-H Appropriate Dress Contest was only $1.90 and the complete school costumes only $3.43. The more elaborate party gowns averaged $2.85 and the entire costume $5.31.

This year nearly 2000 girls are entered in the contest in about 100 counties. Local winners will bring their costumes to A. and M. College this summer to enter the state-wide contest directed by Mrs. Barnes.

MY AUTO 'TIS OF THEE

My auto 'tis of thee,
Short cut to poverty—
Of thee I chant.
I blew a pile of dough
For the some years ago;
And now you quite refuse to go,
Or wont, or can't.

Through town and countryside,
You were my joy and pride;
Ah, happy day.
I loved thy gaudy hue,
Thy nice white tires so new—
Now you are down and out for true,
In every way.

To thee, old rattle box
Came many bumps and knocks;
For thee I grieve.
Frayed are thy seats, and worn;
Badly thy top is torn.
The whooping cough affects thy horn,
I do believe.

Thy performance swells the breeze,
While good folks choke and sneeze,
As we pass by.
I paid for thee a price,
'Twould buy a mansion twice
Now every body's yelling "Ice!"
I wonder why!

Thy motor has the gripe,
Thy spark plugs have the pip;
And woe is thine,
I, too, have suffered chills,
Ague and kindred ills,
Endeavoring to pay my bills
Since thou wert mine.

Gone is my bank roll now;
No more 'twould choke a cow,
As once before.
Yet, if I had thee yen,
So help me John—amen,
I'd buy myself a car again,
And spend some more.—Exchange.

And They Say That Figures Don't Lie!

"MR. DOOLEY" once said that the Irish might be shy on mathematics but that they excelled in poets. Without taking issue on the latter part of the statement I maintain that there is, in this story, proof that the race likewise produces its sons who understand the science of figures.

Three patricians of the coal yards fared forth on mercy bent, each in his great black chariot. Their overlord, the yard superintendent, had bade them deliver to seven families a total of twenty-eight tons of coal equally divided whilst he went on his vacation.

Well out of the yards, each with his first load, Kelly and Burke and Shea paused to discuss the problem of equal distribution—how much coal should each family get?

"Tis this way," argued Burke. "Tis but a bit of mathematics. If there are 7 families an' 28 tons o' coal ye divide 28 by 7, which is done as follows: Seven into 8 is 1, 7 into 21 is 3, which makes 13."

He triumphantly exhibited his figures made with a stubby pencil on a bit of griny paper:

The figures were impressive but Shea was not wholly convinced. "There's a easy way o' provin' that," he declared. "Ye add 13 seven times," and he made his column of figures according to his own formula. Then, starting from the bottom of the 3 column, he reached the top with a total of 21 and climbed down the column of 1s, thus: "3, 6, 9, 12, 15, 18, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28. Burke is right," he announced with finality "D'ye see the figures to prove it?" This was Shea's exhibit:

"There is still some doubt in me mind," said Kelly. "Let me demonstrate in me own way. If ye multiply the 13 by 7 and get 28, then 13 is right." He produced a bit of stubby pencil and soiled paper. "Tis done in this way," he said. "Seven times 3 is 21; 7 times 1 is 7, which makes 28. 'Tis thus shown that 13 is the right figure and ye're both right. Would ye see the figures?" Kelly's feat in mathematics was displayed as follows:

"There is no more argyment," the three agreed, so they delivered thirteen tons of coal to each family.

The Matrimonial Shopper

MY FRIEND, V. V. McNIH, head of a big syndicate, is himself of Scotch ancestry and he is responsible for this story of a man from the land of his forebears.

A young Scotchman, methodical, painstaking, and sincere, as so many of his race are, had been a bachelor of long standing. Since coming to this country he had saved his money until now he felt he was qualified properly to support a domestic establishment. One day he went to a friend.

"I've about decided to get married," he said. "In fact, I'm looking around now for a wife."

"Where are you looking?" asked his friend.

"I'll tell you," said the Scot. "It's my belief that the girls who work as clerks in the big department stores here in New York are mighty fine types. As a rule, they are well dressed and tidy and good looking and have nice ways. They must be self-reliant or they wouldn't be working. They have to be intelligent or they couldn't hold their jobs. They know how to make a dollar go a long distance or they couldn't dress as well as they do on the modest wages most of them get."

My notion is this: On pretext of wanting to buy something, I am going to tour the big shops until I see a girl behind a counter who seems to fill my requirements. Then I'm going to find out her name and make private inquiries as to her character and disposition, and if she answers all the requirements I'll secure an introduction to her and if she seems to like me I'm going to ask her to marry me."

Six months went by. The cautious Scot and the man to whom he had confided his plan of campaign met again. The latter thought his friend looked rather careworn and unhappy.

"How are you getting along?"

"Well," said the Scot, "I'm a married man, if that's what you mean."

"Well, did you follow the scheme you had in mind—I mean the one you told me about the last time I saw you?"

"Yes, I married a girl that worked at Macy's."

"Congratulations. How's every thing getting along?"

The Scot fetched a small sigh.

"Sometimes," he said, "I can't help thinking that maybe I might have done better at Gimbel's."

Official paper of Terry County.

It is reported that a man in Germany regained his voice that had been on the blink a number of years while gloriously tickled at a comedy while attending a movie. We are afraid that some of the local folks are going to overdo their voice development if they hear of this, but that's their funeral.

The Terry County Herald complained last week that one of his exchanges came folded inside out. Appearances do count, and sending out newspapers in this way shows about as much pride as wearing your pants front side back. Like the paper folded inside out, they are all there, but they look a little odd that way.—Rota Advance.

As Will Rodgers says, we see by the papers that one of our old friends up the road a piece or has been giving certain medicines the test—not the cigarett blindfold test—but the teaspoon test, and announces in conclusion that he feels much better, when we didn't even know he was ailing. What we want to know is, how much did he get out of the testimony; enough to pay for his vacation? And if so, is there any chance for a country editor to write a nice line of recommendation for that particular medicine? If so, put us in touch.

The old Mason and Dixon line between the north and south was for a number of generations a source of much trouble between these sections, and many of us this day wonder why it was ever run, as history is rather indefinite on the subject. All of which reminds us that another Mason and Dixon have been causing some trouble down here in Texas, Coleman county to be exact. But a jury the other day made them a present of a life term each in the pen on conviction of murder.

Reports come to us that some of the good ladies think the Herald has slipped a cog because it does not think it any more harm for a bunch of youths on the streets to pitch pennies at cracks at a penny a whack than for the dear ladies to turn up high, low, jip, jack, jenny and the game for vases and such like. Personally, the Herald can't see a great deal of real harm in either, but both are said to be violations of the law—gambling, to be plain—and if one is bad the other is bad, and if both are good the law is bad and should be repealed. Besides we know of papers that do not publish these prize winning contest saying it is against the mailable ruling of the post office department, and that papers may be excluded from the mails for publishing such reports at card parties.

We hope each farmer in Terry county planted an early patch of "greens" for the cows, hogs and the chickens in the way of cane or sudan. These domestic animals and fowls crave something green in the spring just like humans. In fact, if it were at all possible, they should have access to greens the whole year, as it not only produces quick growth in them, but also tends to keep them fit physically, and in the case of hens, is a source of abundant egg production. Dentists and other scientific men have learned that one reason, at least, for the stain on the teeth of so many young people in this section is because of a lack of green vegetables and insufficient milk. This has been somewhat overcome for the past few years by shipping in green vegetables from the winter garden region, and making use of the canned varieties. As a consequence the coming generation are not showing the teeth stain of the preceding one.

We often wonder what becomes of all the school children when the term of school comes to a close. Where do they go? One misses them off the streets. To be sure those from the farms of the section are put to work on the farm, but these constitute a mere minimum of the whole in a town even the size of Brownfield. Some, we presume, are put to work about the place to keep the vegetation down and the garden truck watered and weeded. Some, perhaps obtain jobs of relatives and friends on the farms and go to work there, and others just stay at home off the streets. But they disappear. In Charles Dicker's Pickwick Papers, one character asks another what became of all the coach drivers and gray mules, that he never witnessed the passing, nor heard of the demise of either from either natural or violent causes. The answer was that tradition held that coach drivers in leaving this vale of tears rode off into infinite space on the backs of these gray mules—one for each and each for one.

And now the question arises once more: Did we get exactly the right kind of advertising at the WTCC at Tahoka during the convention? Did the visitors there take us literally, or were they so dumb that they could not see that our folks were speaking in parables when our crowd was trying to impress them that old Terry was the corn country—the modern Egypt, for instance. But in these days of ante-Volstead, it seems there is corn in the ear, shelled, crushed, gristed and jugged. Corn in the crib, ricks, sacks and glass containers. It is measured and weighed by both the avordupois and apothecary systems. But people are funny that way. A portion of the visitors over there it seems, scented the air and headed a bee line for Brownfield when the session was over, but the fool drink vendors of Brownfield only offered them coffee or coke when the "high sign" was given. Some of them even took the wrong view of what one of our preachers said about looking after the "spiritual needs" here, and decided that he might have something fluid on his hip. At least two papers in the district have had something to say about the matter since the convention, which leads us to believe that our delegation gets lots of advertising, but we are inclined to think they were grossly misunderstood, for all who have come over thinking to sample our particular grade of "corn" which they claim our folks led them to hope for, were merely shown huge piles of it in the shuck—the legal commercial condition—and our visitors probably said "shucks" and went home, sad but the wiser.

The only upward trend that bring no protest is a woman's skirt.

PERCENTAGES OF PROTEIN FOR THE LAYING HEN

The Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station gives the following summary of experiments on Sources of animal protein for laying hens.

The conclusions as to varying percentages of meat scrap in the mash are:

1. Meat scrap in the laying mash in any proportion from 5% to 20% is profitable for the production of eggs.
2. A mash containing 20% meat scrap will yield more eggs and more profit than one containing only 5%, 10%, or 15%.

The conclusions on a comparison of sour skim-milk, condensed and dried buttermilk with meat scraps are:

1. A mash consisting of lequa parts by weight of bran, shorts, ground oats and corn meal had no apparent effect in increasing egg production or profit.
2. One gallon of skim milk had the value for egg production as one pound of meat scraps.
3. When all the animal protein is supplied from skim milk or condensed buttermilk, there is no advantage in feeding a dry mash containing ground grains and wheat products.
4. When breeding hens receive whole grain and have plenty of green feed there is little difference in the hatchability of fertile eggs, whether meat scraps or skim milk is the source of animal protein.
5. Both dried buttermilk and condensed buttermilk are efficient commercial sources of animal protein and are desirable for use when skim-milk or buttermilk is not available on the farm.

The conclusions as to grain supplements for skim-milk were:

1. Shelled yellow corn and milk (no mash) produce very satisfactory egg yields.
2. It is not necessary to feed a dry mash to secure high egg yields and satisfactory profits if skim-milk is available.
3. Maximum egg yields and greatest returns over feed costs were obtained (one year's result) when a mash containing 10% meat scrap was fed in addition to skim-milk to supplement the grain ration.

A MINISTER LOOKS AT MOTION PICTURES

The Reverend Wistor R. Smith, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Birmingham, Alabama, goes to the movies to learn what the young people of his congregation are seeing.

He goes to the movies because he feels that minister should not be out of touch with the lives of these young people, for no minister can give a sympathetic hearing to the problems of the young and old who seek his guidance unless he knows what touches them most—what is entering into their lives to influence their conduct. Furthermore, he goes to the movies for entertainment and recreation.

A minister, as much as any one, and probably more than most, sees the seamy side of life, sees the hardships and sorrows of those who come to him for help and counsel. All people are hungry for entertainment and one goes to a really fine movie two in the newspapers.

and comes away recreated—with a new zest for the work that he has to do.

Mr. Smith would like to see some improvements in the movies but he feels however, it is not fair to stay on the outside and be a carping critic but that he should get on the inside and try to improve the movies by co-operating with helpful suggestions. He would like to see more veracity—realism in films. He would like more informative pictures. He would like more inspirational pictures—pictures that inspire us to lead better lives. "I have never preached a sermon as strong as The Ten Commandments, Feet of Clay, King of Kings, The Way of All Flesh, Seventh Heaven, Sorrell and Son and Weary River." Lastly, he goes to the movies because he is heartily in sympathy with youth in its quest for romance and adventure.

A reputation in the bank is worth

OLD-TIME RODEO TO BE STAGED AT AMARILLO JULY 4

AMARILLO, May 20.—Early days in the Panhandle will be recalled vividly here on July 4 when an old-time rodeo, of the kind now nearly extinct, will be staged here under the auspices of the Tri-State Fair Association, it was announced last night by Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the Fair.

Under the management of Cliff King and Clyde Miller of Holly, Colorado, both among the South-west's leading rodeo performers, the event promises to be the greatest single pre-Fair attraction brought to the Panhandle this year, Mr. Hawk declared.

More than $7,500 in premiums will be awarded winners in the different rodeo competitions. These contests which include roping, bull-dogging and similar features, are open to anyone in the Panhandle. A milking contest will be among the attractions.

Two performances, afternoon and night, will be given on July 3, 4 and 5 at Texan ball park. Special giant flood-light will illuminate the grand stand for the evening shows. Additional information on the rodeo and entry blanks for the contests may be obtained by writing to Clyde Miller, Holly, Colorado.

The old gray mare had her drawbacks, but you could at least park her without getting dented.

NOTICE!

Strayed from my place 5 miles north of Seminole, Texas, 2 young mare mules 3 years old, one dark mouse colored mule, the other a dark brown, almost black, about 14 and 14½ hands high. No brands or scars, both wearing new halters and ropes. Been gone since May 4th. $10.00 reward. Notify

THE COW

—THE MOTHER OF PROSPERITY—

Wherever the cow has taken her rightful place on the farm and man has done his part, we find the highest type of farming. By employing intelligent and thrifty methods the farmer may, through her, become debt free and happy.

The McCormick Deering Cream Separator

offers the farmer an opportunity to put the job over. It lightens the work in the proper care of milk, increases the cream output and perfects an indispensable ration for porkers, pigs and chickens.

Let us show you the McCormick Deering Separator and explain why we think it is the best on the market.

We will demonstrate in your own home and sell on LIBERAL TERMS.

My Favorite Stories

by Irvin S. Cobb

Appertaining to a Couple of Shipwrecks

ONE of the oldest stories in the world and deservedly, I think, one of the most popular, has to do with a shipwreck. Two hardy mariners escape from a sinking craft on an improvised raft. So far as they know, they are the only survivors of the crew. They are in perilous plight. The angry waves threaten to engulf their flimsy raft and a pair of huge triangular fins, circling in the water, give proof that at least a brace of hungry sharks are waiting for dinner to be served.

Says one: "It looks to me like we're in the middle of a mighty bad fix. Do you know a prayer?"

His drenched companion shakes a forlorn head.

"Well, can you remember a hymn? Maybe it would help if we sang a hymn tune."

"No," confesses the second cast. "I don't know no hymns, either."

"Well," states Number One, "we certainly ought to be doing something religious. Let's pass the hat!"

I can parallel this with a small experience out of real life. A friend of mine, formerly active in politics in the South, was on his way to a settlement up in the mountains of Virginia to fill a speaking engagement. He left the railroad station at the end of the line. From this point he had to depend on horse power to get him over the knobs. He hired a native who owned a buckboard and team to carry him on the last lap of his journey.

As they rode along it developed that his guide was an itinerant Methodist preacher, and, naturally, of an exceedingly religious turn of mind. When, by questioning, he discovered that the visiting campaigner belonged to no recognized faith he was greatly shocked and said as much.

Presently they came to where they must cross a mountain stream. There had been a freshet up above somewhere and the stream was out of its banks. They were midway of the ford when a small tidal wave came rolling down on them. The rig was caught and swept down the current to catch, finally, on an upjutting boulder in the middle of the channel. There it hung temporarily.

The struggling team snapped the harness and were swept away. White as a sheet, the native cast a rolling eye upon the raging torrent. It was a good hundred yards to either shore. He turned his haggard face to his traveling companion.

"My friend," he quoth in quavering accents, "can you pray?"

"No," stated the politician, as he prepared to go overboard, "but it so happens I can swim fairly well."

Old Belief Wrong

The idea that a man falling through the air from a great height loses consciousness before he lands has been proved to be a fallacy. It has been found that persons falling maintain full control of their faculties until they come into contact with some solid object.

Working Rings

A New York magistrate rules that an engagement ring belongs to the donor until after the wedding. This will be good news for economical swains who wish to make one ring serve for several engagements.—Boston Transcript.

Freemasonry

The term "Freemason" grew out of the fact that only craftsmen not under control of the guilds were eligible. As the election was required to be unanimous, the members denoted themselves Free and Accepted Masons.

Early Toast

Wassail, a liquor consisting of ale with roasted apples, sugar, nutmeg and toast, received its name from the Anglo-Saxon phrase meaning "May you be in health," which was used in drinking a toast in the liquor.

Speech and Performance

"I have said many wise things," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "for it is the custom of leisured inclination to make speech take the place of performance."—Washington Star.

Double-Barreled Story

"Fifteen minutes after putting on a pair of your socks I made a hole in one," wrote an enthusiastic golfer to the sock manufacturer, as the Detroit News tells it.

Hereditary Bugbear

Don't ascribe all your weaknesses to heredity. That's an easy way out and leads too often to a do-nothing policy. Be up and doing, and don't let the bugbear of heredity floor you.

Sight Lights On the Election Here Mon.

It is reported that a man and his wife, both getting on in age, came in Monday to vote, but after crossing the muddy streets, the good lady rebelled against her worse half and announced publicly that she was tired of the condition of our streets and was going to vote for the bond—and did.

A former county official remarked Tuesday morning that he was surprised to see it trying to rain again; he thought the paving plan would stop all rains and sandstorms. He was rated as again the measure.

One county official was said to be against the measure because more people had been killed at Big Spring since than before paving. Informed that it was the autoists and not the pedestrians who were being killed off, as the later now had a better chance to break for their lives on smooth streets. He didn't seem to be convinced, however.

One of the local physicians remarked that he hoped the issue would carry as his son could not make but 60 per on our streets at present, but hoped to get the old bus up to 75 at least after paving. Merely a guess how he voted.

A popular druggist is said to have done a solo in high C, entitled, "I'm Goin to Walk on the Streets of Concrete Some of these Days." Very likely he was for the bond issue.

Some of the other remarks were real funny, but inasmuch as they were mostly made by the anti side, and the fact that they may be just a bit touchy over the matter yet, we will not print them at this time, but we have our doubts about any of the opposition being so sick they had to be carried home in an ambulance and put to bed.

Brownfield appreciates your trade.

Scouts Worked the Brownfield Cemetery

The boy scouts of this city are living up to their reputation of doing some good deed every day, for they are busy this week with hoes, rakes and other implements in putting the "City of Our Dead" in good condition, under the direction of Ben Hurst, who is president of the cemetery association, and is also engaged to look after the work over there.

Some two weeks ago some of the good ladies of the city under the direction of Mr. Hurst made a canvas of the city for funds to work the grounds, and we understand that they were very successful in their efforts, and that the business men and others who are interested responded nobly to the cause, and this money or part of it will be paid to the Boy Scouts for their work in putting the cemetery up in good shape. At the same time, it will give these noble boys something to do during vacation in which to earn some money for things they may need.

It is said the young fellows went at the work like they meant business, and are giving a good account of every hour they put in. It will tend also to harden their muscles and give them glowing appetites. We started to say it would also keep them out of mischief, but we believe Boy Scouts don't get into mischief, but on the other hand are always ready to do a good turn. At least we have it on the authority of court records, and they are entirely reliable, that Boy Scouts, even in the larger cities, are never hauled before courts to be tried even for what are considered petty crimes.

The millennium shall have almost come to our nation when it is possible to turn all our boys and girls into boy and girl scouts, for then we stop crime at its source.

L. E. Greenfield has had his residence on east Broadway moved back further from the street, and is building on two rooms in front, and otherwise remodeling. L. E. will have a beautiful, well arranged home when it is completed.

Misses Mildred Woodhead and Fay Martin, teachers in the Brownfield schools the past term, left this week for their homes to spend vacation.

Two Presidents of the United States were bachelors when elected—James Buchanan and Grover Cleveland. During his first term, however, the latter was married to Frances Folsom, daughter of his former law partner at Buffalo. Therefore Buchanan, the only President who was never married, is known as the Bachelor President. He was the fifteenth President and was Lincoln's predecessor in the White House.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Boys Scouts to Have Court of Honor June 4

Ben Hurst, manager of the cemetery association writes the following article to the Herald readers:
Following is a list of the local Boy Scouts who worked 1 1/2 days on the Brownfield cemetery and have put it in the best condition it has ever been in, and they are to be commended for this excellent work, and we invite you to drive by and look it over. These boys are as fine a lot of boys as you will find anywhere. The men and citizens of our little city are doing their best to make Brownfield and its surroundings a good place to live in. These boys will be the men of tomorrow and we may feel assured that these boys will be competent of taking up the job where we leave off and carry the work on with as much enthusiasm and of more competency than we have. Look the list over:

Let's Put Out All the Flags Next Thursday

Remember that some 600 mail clerks and rural carriers will be with us next Thursday, together with a lot of ex-service men who were in the World War. Also remember that it will be Decoration Day and all of us are expected to have out your big flag on that day to show them that we welcome them to Brownfield, and that we honor our dead and living who participated in our wars.
Here is some flag etiquette for the day. Now get this straight: Put out the flag at 8:00 A. M. at half staff or mast. It must remain thus until noon in honor of the dead. At noon run the flag up to full mast in honor of the living.

Folks be sure and come to the play entitled "The Glorious Liar." Everybody be sure to come. The date is May 31.
We are going on a picnic today. Don't you wish you could step over and go with us?

FINE RAINS FALL OVER GAINES COUNTY

Tuesday night and Friday morning of this week rainfall varying from 1 1/2 inches to 5 inches fell over Gaines county. The heaviest fall being reported in the Hughes community, southeast of Seminole.
Most farmers in section had been holding back their planting on account of high winds, which had caused the top soil to become too dry, but now conditions will be ideal, both for farmers and stockmen.—Seminole Sentinel.

LAMB COUNTY SEAT TO REMAIN AT OLTON

That the county seat of Lamb County will remain at Olton a while longer was the decision recorded by the majority voters in the election held last Saturday in which Littlefield and Amherst were contenders for its removal to their respective points.
The voting throughout the day was lively all over the county, the count showing the greatest number of ballots ever cast at any election in Lamb county. When the polls closed, Olton showed a total of 945 in her favor, 795 for Amherst and 2,108 for Littlefield. To place the county seat at Amherst a majority vote was necessary, while to put it at Littlefield a two-thirds majority vote was required by law.
Saturday night, in each of the three towns, large crowds of interested citizens were gathered to hear the returns.—Littlefield Leader.

A 30 MILE AN HOUR SPEED

Experts are always figuring up something that no one else has ever thought about, and now such an expert comes to the front with the statement that when a man shaves, he registers a speed limit of 39 miles an hour over his face with the razor.
Traveling at this rate, the life of a safety razor blade is extremely short. A man usually plows his razor through 25,000 hairs, which if packed together would be in a space requiring only 2 1/2 centimeters.
Figuring on this basis, and on a basis of only ten shaves for each blade, the actual life of a blade in cutting is only 50 seconds, so that the 30 mile an hour rate over the face soon puts the blade into the discard. While these figures may be correct, the average shaver will doubt very much that he is exceeding the speed limit when he whacks off his whiskers.

SELL PIGS EARLY AND STORE THE CORN CROP

Limiting the amount of corn fed to growing pigs during the summer and finishing them on the new corn crop in the fall is a mistake nine times out of ten, according to the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers. Since the hog market practically always reaches its seasonal peak in September or early October, pigs held back and fattened on new corn cannot be sold at the high time and consequently strike a poorer market.
Swine specialists at the University of Illinois have compiled figures which show that it has been profitable to store the new crop and feed it as old corn the following summer every year since the World War. Last year, for example, pigs fattened on old corn and sold in September made $8.36 per head more profit than those finished on new corn and sold in December.

On farms where storage space is limited, sheet steel cribs and bins can be erected quickly and conveniently supplying a fire-proof, rat-proof and weather-proof shelter for corn and small grain.

Society Has Centered Around Graduates

Congratulations are extended to the students of Brownfield who have completed their school courses this year. It is an important event in the life of any young person, and the future of any graduate is largely determined by what happens in the few years immediately following high school. It is to be hoped that a large per cent of the graduates will be found in college somewhere next year.

Nearly all of the week's society has been centered around the school and the seniors in particular.

Baccalaureate Sermon For Seniors

Sunday morning at eleven o'clock the baccalaureate sermon was delivered to the graduating class at the Methodist church. The students in caps and gowns marched in to the "Processional" by Gounod played by Mrs. Dallas. Dr. Dodson led the invocation; Miss Kathaleen Alexander sang "Still Lead Us On." The scripture reading the story of "Ruth" was read by Dr. Culpepper. The ladies' quartet composed of Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Harry Longbrake, Mrs. W.W. Price and Mrs. S. H. Holgate, sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd" by Henry Smart. Announcements were made by Supt. Toone and Mr. Clyde Lewis sang "Make My Life What It Ought To Be." A splendid address was given by Reverend Douglas Carver, pastor of First Baptist church, Whitedeer, Texas.

Seniors Entertain Faculty With Banquet

Following the Baccalaureate Sermon the Seniors entertained the high school faculty and a few other friends with a banquet at the American Cafe at twelve forty-five.

All the guests were seated at one long table which was made attractive with the colors, pink and white. A small doll, dressed in a cap and gown and holding a diploma, centered the table. The place cards were dainty nut cases filled with pink and white candies and having a pink flag with "1929" on it. A delicious dinner was served in three courses.

An interesting program followed with Harlan Howell, president of the class, toastmaster; Miss Kathaleen Alexander read the class prophecy; Miss Bessie Chisholm gave the class history and impromptu talks were made by Misses Woodhead, Patterson and Long and Professors Toone, Hayhurst and Nance. The principal address was made by Mr. Morgan Copeland.

The guests other than the seniors were Supt. and Mrs. Toone, Reverend and Mrs. Carver, Mrs. Dallas, Miss Woodhead, the class sponsor, Miss Long, Miss Patterson, Messrs. Nance, Hayhurst and Morgan Copeland.

Dr. P. W. Horn, president Tech College, made the beautiful Commencement Address. Diplomas were presented by Professor Toone and scholarships were given Miss Bessie Chisholm and Mr. Jim Cousineau. The class sang "Commencement March."

Way is Found to Fight High Winds

Proof of an experiment made near Brownfield by County Agricultural Agent R. B. Davis, of Terry county was thoroughly convincing last Saturday and Sunday, with the extremely high winds that blew sand everywhere, covering several good stands of cotton and corn.
Recently Mr. Davis experimented with deep plowing, turning up a 10-acre tract about one mile west of Brownfield, from 18 inches down. During the sandstorms of last week, when other fields were blowing in all directions, this tract did not blow at all.
"We got the idea from the grading of our highways," Mr. Davis relates. "We could see that, about 18 inches beneath the surface soil, there was a sticky, clay sub-soil that held the moisture well. By turning this up to the top, we figured it should hold the moisture and the surface soil."

The sand was blowing hard last Saturday afternoon, when the 10-acre tract was inspected by Mr. Davis, Prof. K. M. Renner and Prof. Bowers, of Texas Technological College, and some of it had blown from the adjoining acreage onto this tract, but the 10 acres were standing firm and still as any central Texas black-land farm.
"With this deep-plowing," said Davis, "practiced on every farm in Terry county, we have evidently conquered one of the worst enemies this section has."—South Plains Farmer.
The rule of three doesn't work in matrimony.

DIST. ATTY. PRICE MOVES TO TAHOKA

District Attorney T. L. Price is making his arrangements to remove from Post to Tahoka and will probably effect the move this week.
In speaking of his removal to a representative of the News, Mr. Price stated that it was with considerable regret that he removed from Post, since the people there have been very kind to him, but he felt that he could better serve the district from Tahoka. It is much nearer the center of the district and he will save less time in going to and from the various courts. Besides, he says he has always liked Tahoka and her people, and in coming here he expects to make a good and loyal citizen of the town.
The commissioner's court Monday agreed to fit up the two offices now occupied by J. S. Weatherford for the district attorney. Mr. Weatherford will remove one door further north and Tom Higgins, the janitor, will be given another room in the building. The offices occupied by Mr. Weatherford were originally intended for the use of the district attorney, we understand.
Tahoka and all Lynn County will be glad to welcome Judge Price as a citizen. We understand that other towns in the district have been bidding for him but he decided that he could best serve the people of the district from this point. Our little city is to be congratulated upon the acquisition of this splendid citizen and official.—Tahoka News.

FORD PLANT HAS SOME GIANT MACHINERY

The largest power press in the Ford industries, outside the frame presses for the Model A automobile, is used to shape fenders, wheel housings and radiator shells at the Lincoln automobile plant. It weighs 250,000 pounds and stands 24 feet 10 inches above the floor line. Three feet of the structure extend below the floor level and it has a foundation 11 feet 9 inches deep.
Since January 1 over 32,000 carloads of fruits and vegetables have been shipped from South and South-west Texas and the entire State is expected to ship 60,000 carloads before December 1. The average output is about $1,000 a car, representing an income of $60,000,000 from this one source.

CUPID TOO HASTY

One expects modern young folks to be fairly rapid, but some of them are exceeding the speed limits with their premature love affairs, too early marriages, and runaway matches.
There are 11 states where girls 12 years old can marry if they have the parents consent, and 36 where they can marry at ages under 16. Even where the regulations are stricter, some youngsters are contemplating marriage at ages when they have scarcely finished playing marbles or dolls.
Parents often consent to very early marriages, feeling their children might run away if thwarted. Sympathy should be felt for families in this predicament, but if they could stiffen up a bit and give a little demonstration of discipline, there will be a better chance for a prudent marriage, also more likelihood that these young folks will bring up children who will be popular in the neighborhood.
The community often has to care for the children of imprudent unions, so it is well for marriage laws to be fairly strict. And these young folks who are so impatient for the sweets of matrimony that they get married first and tell the Old folks afterwards, hit quite a blow at loving hearts.—O'Donnell Index.

The Texas pecan crop in 1928 was of estimated value of $2,040,000 for the 450 car loads shipped. The crop is variable, according to weather and other conditions, and within the past ten years has ranged as low as 25 cars, valued at $200,000 (in 1922). The largest production in that period was in 1919 with 500 cars valued at $1,850,000.
