Fair Catalog Ready Now For Distribution

The catalogue for the second annual Terry County Fair is out and thanks to the Herald for the neat job that it is. It is an attractive thirty page volume this year and one that you will be proud to keep or send off to a person interested in Terry county.

Not only is this an enlargement upon anything that has ever been put out in Terry county but the Fair management has made provisions for one of the most complete fairs that has ever been held on the Plains.

There are 340 individual classes, carrying a total premium of around seven hundred dollars. Nothing has been left out intentionally by the management and if you have an exhibit that no class has been made for why bring it in and a place with suitable awards will be made.

Lets see just what some of the rules are and what may be exhibited.

First, the fair is to be held in Brownfield on September 27 and 28 and all exhibits, except in culinary and flowers, must be in place by 10 A. M. Friday, September 27th. The rules also say that any person in Brownfield trade territory may exhibit in any department and that there is no entry fee. This is a free Fair, both for exhibit entries and people visiting or attending. The premium money and expense money is made possible by contributions and exhibit space paid by firms and individuals of Brownfield.

Agricultural exhibits from Terry county are subject to selection by the Fair Management to form a Terry County Exhibit at the Lubbock or Dallas Fairs. This does not apply to livestock and none will be shown outside of the county except where shown by the owner at his expense.

The Club or Community exhibits will be under the supervision of Mr. A. L. Burnett. This, together with the club pigs was the outstanding part of last year's Fair. This year the club booths should be much better for the score card will be easier to fill and with last years experience these booths should be wonderful.

The first prize booth this year will receive $25.00; the 2nd prize $15.00 and third prize $10.00. Every club showing will receive $5.00. This will give each club a chance to put a little money in the treasury. Then the first prize club will get the beautiful silver loving cup that Tokio won last year. Will Tokio again prove to be the Trophy Takers as they were last year or will some other club engrave their name on that cup as the winner in 1929? The Challis Challengers were strong contenders last year and they are still after that cup. They are a small club but will do to watch when it comes to doing things. The new club, Scudday Successful Strivers are making a bid for first honors this year and they may surprise somebody.

Now is the time to begin looking for the necessary products to fill the score card and to begin planning your back ground and decorations.

The general agricultural exhibits including all field crops, fresh vegetables and fruits will be looked after by John B. King. There is hardly a farm in Terry County but what has one or two exhibits that can be shown in this department. Look over the catalogue and pick out your best. While the prize money will not make you rich, yet it is pretty nice to produce prize winning stuff then show the many visitors what can be grown in Terry County.

Ray Brownfield is general superintendent of the livestock department. He together with the division superintendents will make the best provisions possible to handle all livestock brought in.

The horses will be under the supervision of Hugh Snodgrass and this division contains twelve classes ranging from shetlands to spans of mules. Look over this division and see what you can show.

The beef cattle division, due to oversight of General Supt., was left out of the catalogue but classes will be made and proper awards made on all pure bred beef cattle that are brought to the show. Earl Cadenhead, banker and Hereford breeder of Meadow, will have charge of the beef cattle.

Rialto Buys the Most Modern Talkie Outfit

For the past few weeks the management of the Rialto Theatre has been negotiating the purchase of talking picture equipment, and indeed the management have sent representatives all over this section where different machines were in operation in order to investigate personally and were then ready to make their purchase. After doing this there could be no question that they were not getting not only the best, but the most successful operation now in operation.

After due consideration, they closed a deal this week with the manufacturers of what is regarded as the best equipment on the market. Messrs. Jones and Bynum are positive that they will be ready by the 1st of October at the outside to serve the public with the latest talking picture on the market. The writer has never seen nor heard a talkie, although they have been in the nearby towns for several months, and now we are determined to see and hear the first one right here in the old home town, and there are probably many other just like us.

These boys are to be congratulated on this latest radical improvement. They have always kept their show place as well as the quality of pictures up to and in advance of the size of the town. They have always consistently supported everything that was for the good of the community with both their time and money. They have made their money in Brownfield and are spending it in the same place.

As soon as we can get the data and perhaps some newspaper cuts of the machine, the Herald will give the public more information about this machine before the opening date of the first talkie.

Another Boy Accident- ly Shot With 22 Rifle

Sunday morning about 10 o'clock while playing with an old 22 calibre rifle that had been laying around on the farm of Mr. Will Pace in the Wellman section, one of his boys accidentally shot his brother, 11 years old in the knee.

The wounded boy was brought to town, and it was found that the bullet after striking the bone had glanced and came out below the knee. The young fellow is doing a nicely as could be expected.

Dr. Nugent, Tom Craddock and a party of two or three more, from Seymour, were up over the week end hunting chicken, and are reported to have bagged several.

Faculty Selected For 29-30 Term of School

The trustees, in consultation with Supt. Toone have made selection of practically all the faculty for the 1929-30 term of the Brownfield schools. There are one or two others to be selected we understand, which they will do in the next few days. It is the opinion of the board that an unusually strong faculty with a lot of experience in the school room has been selected, and they expect one of the best schools in our history.

Many of the faculty are degree teachers, and all of them must have first grade certificates. They must also stand a medical test for health. The following is the faculty as given us that have been confirmed to date:

High School

Supt. W. B. Toone; Miss Mary Perkins; Miss Ina Patterson; Miss Annie M. Long; Marlin Hayhurst; Geo. W. White.

Grade School

Miss Velma O'Brien; Byron Lindsey; Miss Elizabeth Dumas; Mrs. Ivy Savage; Miss Fay Martin; Mrs. J. A. Tankersley; Miss Lucile Flache; Mrs. Jewel Hutchings; Mrs. Nannie Carpenter; Miss Grace Hulise; Miss Rowena Hulise; Mr. P. F. Lawlis; Mrs. P. F. Lawlis.

The principal of the grade school has not as yet been selected, we understand, neither has any of the faculty of either the high or grade school been assigned places. School formerly opened yesterday for assignment, but real work will not start until next week.

Giving the Prairie Dog Fits in Terry County

J. M. Hill of the U. S. Biological Survey is in the County at present and he together with four helpers are ridding the county of prairie dogs. They report excellent results with poison grain are being had now. The few dogs remaining after poisoning are killed by the use of a compound, Calsy, that gives up poisonous gases when put into a hole.

Any one in Terry county who has not yet cleaned up their dogs will do well to get some of this grain or gas compound from the County Clerk. Mr. Hill states that he will be glad to assist in demonstrating best methods of applying poison or Calsy. He may be found at the County Agent's office.

Joe Bailey, wife and baby were here over the week end and including Labor Day, to visit Mrs. Bailey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brownfield and family. Joe is employed by the Lubbock Printing Co., at Lubbock.

Sadler's Show to Be Here All Next Week

Oh you Harley! When it is broadcasted that Harley Sadler's show is coming, right straight people know that they are going to get the best entertainment on the road. And just the fact that he is coming to town is enough said to fill the tent each night, and if Harley were like some folks he'd not advertise at all, but depend on his reputation.

But Harley has been on the road too long for that, and like other big advertisers, he knows that you have to continue inviting people to see his show, even if he knows they are coming anyway. He wants to make them know in advance that they are going to receive a big welcome at the tent door, and then have the best show it is possible for them to put on after they are on the inside—and that is the same as saying it would not be better rendered this side of Broadway, if there.

It has been about six years since Harley Sadler's show has been in Brownfield. We mean his own individual show, and the people of this section have been patiently awaiting him. We don't know all the reasons for his staying away, but we expect to see him hereafter each season. Harley's show is a west Texas show, and he don't show anywhere else. He makes his money in west Texas and spends it in the same section. In fact he has money invested in several towns on the South Plains, and no matter where he is showing, if there comes a need to help any civic organization, or charity in time of calamity, he is always in his full share.

His show will be here all next week under the auspices of local firemen, and they are to share on a percentage basis of every paid entrance. He will expect you on hand the very first night, and remember that he had rather you would say hello Harley than hello Mr. Sadler, 'cause he's jest one of the boys out in this section. You had better maybe use a handle and say hello Mrs. Sadler, or Miss Billie, or Miss Gloria, but use your likes with Harley.

The show is bigger and better than ever, and this includes orchestra, vaudeville acts and all. The opener is "New Brooms" which those who have seen it say it sweeps the audiences off their feet. Everything new but the name, and Harley wouldn't change that for a million dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Judd, of Lubbock, were visitors in the city, Tuesday. Mr. Judd is doing nicely with a truck and poultry farm just south of that city.

Mrs. Sallie Morgan, of Panhandle, is here this week attending the bedside of her daughter, Evelyn Judd, who is ill at the Stricklin home.

Work Started on New Building For Chisholm

Roy Wingard, local contractor, started a crew of men early Monday morning to digging the foundation for the 50x80 addition to the Chisholm Bros. building on the south side of the square, and work will be rushed as fast as possible in order to have it ready for a car load of cars and other things for which the building is being constructed. This building will be of faced brick construction to match the other two buildings belonging to this company, and should not take long as it will be between the other two buildings, only requiring ends, floor and roof.

It is the intention of this popular company to put in a full line of Oakland and Pontiac cars in this building, as well as Frigidaires and Delco light plants, as they are now the agents of these cars as well as the other General Motors Products mentioned above. This will give the above firm a floor space of 125x80 feet which they certainly need for the expansion in their business.

Some six years ago this firm started a small grocery on the east side of the square, to which they added feed and seed. Their expansion was rapid, and it was not long until they had to have larger quarters. Purchasing two lots on the southeast corner of the square, they put up a building of their own less than three years ago which was 50x80 feet. To their business was added a filling station tires, tubes and auto accessories. About 18 months ago they had another building erected 25x80 feet fifty feet west of the original store, in which is housed the hardware, feed, produce station of Armour & Co., and a large commercial hatchery. Another hatchery of the same capacity, making a 32,000 egg hatchery, will be added in the spring.

With the completion of the new building which will house the cars and other things mentioned above, a first class repair shop will be maintained in connection, and all parts for both Oakland and Pontiac cars will be carried in stock, thus giving the customer or purchaser of these cars full home service.

Chisholm Bros. have since they went in business here have been consistent users of space in the Herald. In fact, we don't remember of a week passing in that time that they have not had a space in the Herald, and today, they are among the Herald's largest users of space, and they will, we believe, tell you that their advertising has paid them good dividends. They do not consider a moment that they are merely "supporting the home paper" but are advertising mainly because they are helping Chisholm Bros. We vision the day when perhaps they will cover half the south-side, and will be doing a half million dollar annual business.

Scouts to Hold Court of Honor Here Tonight

We are requested to announce that the Boy Scouts will hold their bi-monthly court of honor here tonight in the district court room at eight o'clock. Two Eagle badges will be awarded at this time together with many other awards. The parents and friends of the scouts are invited to attend.

Steps will also be taken at this time to get the second troupe for Brownfield started, and those contemplating joining should be on hand. Both Mr. L. G. H. Williams and Mr. W. B. Yates, president and secretary will be on hand from Lubbock to assist in the work.

The Brownfield Rotary Club will have all the boys and girls of Brownfield who are going away to college this year as their guests at a luncheon Friday night at the Brownfield Hotel Cafe. About thirty of these college students are expected to attend. A good program is being worked out by Tom May and Luther Cruce.

County Agent P. B. Davis expressed himself as being well pleased with the Fair Catalog. Said he was glad to get such a neat job in the hands of people in this territory.

Bryant in Car Wreck On Lubbock Streets

While returning from McLean last Saturday with his family and his father and mother in his car, another car ran into W. D. Bryant on the streets of Lubbock, which gave them quite a shaking up. None of them were seriously hurt, although his mother suffered most. She was carried to the sanitarium, but was dismissed Monday. Uncle Joe was kindly scratched up as was also one of the little girls, and Mrs. Bryant has since developed quite a severe pain in the chest that was no doubt caused from the collision. Both cars were bruised up, but the one that hit them seemed to get the worst of it.

Bill said he was driving out of Lubbock toward home, and had come to the end of Main, where he aimed to turn south on College Ave. to get to the Brownfield highway, and not making over seven miles per hour in making the turn. He was behind another car, when all at once the car that hit them darted out from behind the car in front of him and on the wrong side of the street. The car was occupied by two "jellies" and a "flapper." Before he could do anything they hit him a glancing blow. They were making 50 miles an hour, Billy estimates, when they saw him, but slowed down some by applying the brakes by the time they hit him.

With this exception, Billie reports their trip very enjoyable, this being the old people's first visit to their daughter at McLean. They visited as far east as Mangum, Okla., but saw no such crops as we have in Terry. In fact, Billie says they simply have no crops in the majority of the country he visited after leaving this country.

Five of the 6 Gins Will Run This Season

It is our understanding that five of the six gins here will make the season's run, the exception being the McCord gin. At least Mr. McCord, who lives in Dallas has never appeared on the scene to date, and no preparations made about putting the machinery in shape to make the season's run. Others have informed us that this gin would not run this season. The Farmers, McSpaden, Independent and West Texas, all new or practically new gins are now rearing to go, and all of them are in tip top shape.

The Henson Gin in the north end of the city lacks some eight days of being ready, as they are expecting new stands on every train, and it take about that time to install them. This gin is spending some $8,000 on their plant here which will, when complete make them a brand new gin. They expect to be ready by the time cotton begins to come in fast. There has been several bales turned out here, one plant ginning three bales last week, but it will be a couple of weeks before cotton really begins to move here to amount to anything, with the weather favorable.

There has been any amount of discussion here about how many bales were ginned last year in Terry county, but most people think it was in the neighborhood of 9,000 bales and they believe that there will be as many again this year. Some think there will be at least 20,000 bales this year basing their belief that so few acres were blown out this year and put in food. Then the acreage is estimated at 80,000 this year.

Some few contend that there was only 6,000 bales ginned last year, but this will not do, for according to the Dallas News almanac more than this amount had been ginned to December 1st, which was the last report they had, as the almanac is printed about the first of each year. Our opinion is that when the records are secured from the Federal Crop reporting board, it will show something like 9,000 bales to the credit of Terry county for last season.

Dr. G. S. Webber and son Glen, also Fred Youree, have just returned from Mexico, where they took a bull fight. It is said that it took several Mexican guards to keep Fred and Glen out of the bloody fray. Several bulls, horses and one man got killed during the afternoon.

Hare Has Fine Lot of Old Time Seedlings

W. H. Hare, whose farm is situated some seven miles out on the Tahoka road, brought in a lot of his fine seedling peaches Saturday, and left a few of them with the Herald with the admonition that we eat them then plant the kernels in our back yard, and in a few years we would be enjoying the fruits of our labor. We have saved the seed, and if our present resolution is not later overcome by our antipathy for work, we may plant them.

In most cases the budded peach will be the larger of the two, but the seedling will excel in flavor, less subject to worms and will stand a harder freeze. This is because of their near kin to the old wild variety of peaches found by the early settlers among the Indians of our Carolina states. The budded variety has been pettied so much that it is more of a weakling. However, these peaches were large enough, well shaped and sound to the seed. Then the seed were not bursted as most budded peaches are in this climate thus leaving a bitter taste near the kernel.

Mr. Hare informed us that some of these peaches had been in the family for more than 50 years, and none less than 20, and the variety and taste had not varied. All of them were of the clear-seed variety. One variety looked almost green, but had a fine flavor, a very small stone and would be an excellent variety for pickling.

Judge McGuire Enjoys Real Outing Recently

In conversation with Judge Gordon B. McGuire, who is here holding the mid-summer term of district court, we learned that he had a real outing this summer of a few weeks duration in the mountains of New Mexico, and incidentally he informed us that he had knocked off some 20 pounds of his bay window, and as a consequence he is feeling at least 50 percent better than usual, and is now ready for a long court grind.

Asked what he enjoyed most on his vacation, he informed us that most of his fun was watching others catch mountain trout, and helping to eat them after they were cooked. He said that he could not catch these famous game fish at all, but some with him could. Jack, said he, catching mountain trout is a real art, and a fellow has to be up to the job to get them. He says they never "eat sitting down" but on the run, and you have to get them on the run if you get them.

Incidentally, we mentioned that our mutual friend, Mickey McGuire of the comic strip failed in one of his fights recently when he tried to take a watermelon away from a colored lad by the name of George Washington Jefferson Lee Brown. Well, said the Judge, Mickey ought to have had better sense than to have ever started such a fight as that, as it is almost impossible to take a melon away from a negro lad.

The Graf Zeppelin passed over Levelland 30 miles north of here last Tuesday night. Many of us might have been able to have seen it or its lights if we had been expecting it so near us north instead of some 100 miles to our south.

Several have asked the writer when the new press and folder will be installed. This depends entirely on when we will be able to get a man who knows his okra to dismantle them at Plainview and re-erect them here. We are in correspondence with two men now.

Cotton is beginning to arrive every day now. One of our gins cut out two bales in one morning last week. Farmers report that it is opening up fast. Also, we continue to see farmers marketing last years corn and maize, showing that they figure now to make all the feed this year that they will need.

for ROMANCE

The Story of a Discontented Wife

THOUGH she knew her husband loved her, life was dull for Ruby. She wanted attention, flattery, some one to worship her beauty.

Then came Jerry Draco, gay, charming, handsome—with dark eyes that glowed with adoration, and invited romance.

At first it was just a harmless flirtation—a make-believe romance. But one night, while alone together, Jerry suddenly caught her in his arms.

"You are beautiful," he whispered. "I want you. Come away with me, sweetheart. I'll give you everything—money, clothes, jewels, good times. It will mean happiness for us both. Say you'll come."

As his words echoed in her brain, the thought of the dull existence she lived with her quiet, serious-minded husband slowly roused her spirit of revolt. Why not snatch this chance for happiness while it lay within her reach?

"I'll go with you—anywhere," she whispered, as she yielded her lips to his. But the next instant, following Jerry's startled gaze, Ruby whirled. In the doorway stood her husband—with his face white, his eyes gleaming with wrath. Fascinated with fear they watched him as he advanced slowly, and—

Local Boy Doing Fine
As Distributor of Daily

There is at least one boy in the city that does not expect his mother to furnish food and clothing for him while he plays during vacation, and goes to school during school term. This boy is Bill Savage, Jr., and is as full of energy and self-reliance as a small dynamo. If in manhood he displays the pluck and push he now possesses, he promises to be something in the world of business men. In fact he is laying the foundation to that now.

Bill is now the circulator here of the Lubbock Evening Journal, and now has a good line of customers and is constantly adding new ones, by his promptness and the courtesy he displays in a business way with his customers. Late in the afternoon, say about 6:30, you can see Bill astride his bicycle wheeling up and down the main streets throwing this popular evening paper out in front of the homes. You never see him stop or loiter with other boys. This is not because he does not have friends. On the other hand, all the boys like him, but his time is precious, and a passing word of greeting to them and away he goes.

Bill is also distributor of the Collier Weekly in this city, which is done mostly of Saturdays, and he has a nice line of customers for this popular weekly magazine. We understand Bill has quite a nice sum stored up in one of the local banks, to which he is adding too constantly, against the day when he aims to enter college after finishing high school.

Would that he had more boys thus employed, for an idle brain is the devil's work shop. One can let their girls run the streets with less liability of bad effects, but parents are doing boys an injustice by not having employment for them during vacation.

WEST TEXAS FAIR TO OPEN SEPTEMBER 23rd

Abilene, Texas, September 4—All of the West Texas Fair Exhibit building will be filled when the exposition opens September 23 in this city. Superintendents of the various divisions of the big show were highly optimistic over the outlook for this season.

The fact that practically all of the territory served by the West Texas Fair has been unusually dry during the past six months is not going to cause a decline in the showings of livestock, poultry and agricultural products, the department heads assert.

Actual evidences of what West Texas people, climate and soil can produce under unfavorable circumstances will be shown and it isn't going to be at all bad, under the circumstances, it is declared.

Conditions Almost Pit- ible Just off Cap Rock

Those who have made trips out of Terry county east, or north after one gets some 100 miles north of here, or south for many miles they see no crops worth talking about, and if it is anything like as bad as all we have heard talk paint the picture, somebody will have to revise their figures on the size of the Texas cotton crop. If the loss of a cotton crop was all, it would not be half so bad, but they have no feed. It has simply burned up. Never made a head in some sections, and the small immature stalks have dried up and fallen down.

If they had made some feed, West Texas, with its turn to dairying would have a good chance to get by, but with feed to buy not much profit can be expected from that source. This group of counties through here known as the sand land counties, are the only ones that will harvest anything like a full crop in West Texas according to travelers. They include parts of Dawson, most of it being hailed out and not enough rain since to make crops, Lynn, Gaines, Yoakum, Terry, Cochran, Hockley and Lamb and Lubbock, although the latter reports very short crops comparable to last year.

Only this week a paper came to our exchange table that made us feel badly to read. Of course the paper is usual was well patronized, as this progressive little city under the cap rock has a live set of merchants who realize they must sell goods now as in flush times. But what we had reference to was a big four column by 15 inch ad on the front page paid for by one of the banks trying to console the farmers in that section. It told them that the cotton was now out of the question, but advised them to plant wheat and rye with hopes that the next rain would bring it up and furnish them winter pasturage. It told them they as well laugh as cry, but as one farmer told him he could see nothing funny about the situation, and indeed there is not, says this bank. Last he advised them to come up in this section of Texas and eastern New Mexico and cut feed on shares.

To read such accounts, and what tourists have to say about the matter reminds one of the strenuous days of 17-18. Then the most optimistic of us thought it would take the country five years to get over it, but by 1921 we had done come back with two years of prosperity as we had never seen before, and had a slump to boot. A big rain over this entire section of two inches would make things prosperous again in just a few months. No country can beat West Texas in making a comeback.

A FRIEND YOU'RE GLAD TO MEET the CONOCO RED TRIANGLE

TOURING! Many are its petty annoyances—but many its pleasures! Much depends upon the way your car performs. If your motor hums along softly, smoothly, sweetly—all is well! And that depends mostly on your oil. That's the reason so many motorists greet the Conoco Red Triangle as a real friend.

They know it is a sure guide to oil that they can trust—Conoco Motor Oil! This motor oil has saved motor trouble in so many emergencies where the average oil simply would not stand the gaff. Motorists who know, always feel safer with Conoco Motor Oil. Seek the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle—and be sure.

Conoco Gasoline and Conoco Motor Oil are made by the Greater Continental Oil Company (the Marland Oil Company combined with the Continental Oil Company) and sold at stations formerly handling Marland products and Continental products. Look for the new Conoco sign.

three-fourths of a ton per acre per year, and has been better than plots of sweet clover.

In sweet sorghums, red top and orange have given the most satisfactory results.

Continuous cropping in cotton and milo have not caused any great decrease in production in the fifteen years which indicates that the virgin land was strong. However, on most of the farm the crops are rotated each year.

Flat breaking is practiced on the land only on years with wet falls and winters. Listing is done on the dry falls. The records of the station show very little advantages of fall preparation over spring preparation in this country.

These are just some of the things that were brought out at the meeting. It will be a day well spent to go over this station and note the experiments and results that are evident.

Crop Results Shown at the Lubbock Station

The sub-station of the Texas Experiment Station that is located at Lubbock, Texas works primarily with grain sorghums and varieties of cotton that are adapted to this section of the state.

The farm, which is located some five miles east of Lubbock, is divided into acre plots. Certain experiments are carried out on these plots from year to year. Some of the interesting things that I noted on a field day held at the Station last Friday were:

Hegaria does not make as much grain on a dry year as either milo or kafir. The experiments show rather conclusively that it would be a poor practice to plant all hegaria for grain or feed.

On time of planting there were three plots of grain sorghums planted April 15th, May 15th and June 15th. This experiment has been carried on for a number of years and the May 15th planting has given 23% greater yield over the April 15th planting. Part of this increase was due to the fact that the birds destroy quite a bit of the early heads. Over a period of years the Station has found that the best grain sorghum planting dates to be from May 15th through first of June.

A number of new varieties and new crops are being tried out on the Station. If the crop or new variety has advantages over others now being grown, the station recommends that this new kind be planted. However the Station always wait for at least five years of trials before they recommend that they be grown. Among new crops that are being tried are Manco Maize and Algeria. Both these crops are too late in maturing and do not have any advantages over milo or kafir. They as other crops that come out from time to time are merely means of swindeling farmers out of money for seed.

In methods of cultivation the Station has found it best to cultivate only so long as there are weeds or after a hard packing rain. The main point brought out by the Supt. Mr. D. L. Jones, was that the weeds will get the moisture if you don't get the weeds.

In cotton varieties the West-Tex, a variety selection of the Burnett, and selection of Mebane have given the best yield over a period of years.

Four years of trials on commercial fertilizers have not given any increase in yields on cotton or milo.

Fair Catalog Continued

The dairy cattle division promises to be much stronger this year than last. S. W. White of Meadow will be back with his grand champion bull of last year together with a number of females. There will be some stiff competition among the younger bulls this year and one of them may replace the champion of last year.

The Jersey heifer class will be exceptionally good. A number of the heifers shipped in from Taft Ranch this spring are going to be pretty to show along side of the winners at such shows as the Dallas Fair. R. H. Timmons of Meadow has a Jr. bull calf and a Jr. heifer calf that he ordered from the Fair Acres in Pa. There has probably never been better Jerseys shipped to Texas than these and you will see a pretty pair of calves as can be grown when you see them here at the Fair.

There are separate classes for grade Jersey females so it will be possible for everybody to show what kind of milch cows they have. W. F. Young, a Jersey breeder and dairyman will see to the Jersey show.

Then comes the hog show. You know if those pigs of last show have kept growing why they will be as tall as the moon. The grand champion boar of last show will be back and according to his owner, Robert Luker, he will be a whale of a hog. This Poland China boar will rank with the finest in West Texas and when you see him and the big Duroc belonging to Willie Wasson you will agree that pigs do grow into elephants.

There will be a nice lot of club sows and some club pigs that will be as fine a lot as are grown anywhere. Another feature of the Fair will be the class of fat barrows that will be competing for the Bell-Endersen special prize money. You will want to buy one of these smooth killing hogs for meat for they are going to be in prime condition.

T. L. Verner, a veteran hog breeder of Meadow, will have charge of this department at the fair and no doubt but that he will be able to show you the best swine on the Plains.

The poultry department will be looked after by J. Z. Clements, a White Leghorn breeder. All breeds of chickens will be judged and a good representation of each breed is expected. Pappy John Powell, and others are planning on a complete display in which everything from baby chicks to mature fowls will be displayed.

There is no better place to advertise eggs for another year than by showing at the county fair and many breeders of chickens and turkeys will take advantage of this.

The catalogue shows forty classes in the table division and Mrs. Holgate and her assistants are expecting the greatest collection of fancy work this year that has ever been brought together here. If you remember correctly this was one of the most unique displays made at the fair last year and a study of the catalogue will convince any one that it will be much better this time.

The culinary department has thirty good classes or rather thirty classes of goodies. Every Supt. envy Mrs. J. D. Miller for there is no question but that she has the delicious part of the fair. Look over the many classes in this department and then see how many and how good stuff you can cook.

Some one asked if there would be awards on canned meats etc. Well, just look over the eighty classes in the canning department and see if it does not cover about everything. This should be the division with the most exhibits and Mrs. W. B. Downing and her assistants are preparing for a great array of canned and pickled stuff. Study the rules and the classes carefully and bring in your best stuff. It will add greatly to the Fair.

The truly beautiful part of the exposition will be Mrs. John B. King's division of flowers. While this has been a dry summer yet if you will just water those flowers - little more you can make the Fair bloom forth with various cut and pot flowers. Look over the long list of prizes in the division and put forth an extra effort to bring in some pretty bouquets of flowers.

While a lack of recent rains has caused material damage to crops, yet the county has a wonderful lot of stuff to show. You know most any county can have a large display on a seasonable year but on a dry year it takes a drought resistant soil and energetic people to make a great showing. Terry County has both and a grand display this year will be far more impressive to the outside visitor than it was last year. Many counties will have fairs this year and their field crops will be far worse than ours. This is our time to make a really great showing and it can be done easily if you will bring the best that you have.

R. B. Davis, Gen. Supt. Exhibits.

Plan now to attend the Fair.

Official paper of Terry County.

What are you laying up for the Fair? Each and every citizen should be able to show some products, for it takes the cooperation of all to make the fair truly great.

Those Russian religionists up in Canada who staged a strip parade up there and were arrested for appearing naked in a public place, chose a good time of the year for their parade. We'll bet their religious zeal will never cause them to stage such a parade when one of those Canadian northerners reach 20 below.

We note that the Lillard herd from Arlington, Texas, swept everything at the Wisconsin State Fair, for the first time in history that the corn belt was defeated at that fair. From this herd came the foundation of the stock of prize winning hogs in Terry county. All classes of Lillard hogs, including Hampshires, Polands and Durocs helped to sweep the Fair in that great northern state. Incidentally, it gave Texas a great boost as a hog section.

The death of the Youths' Companion which has been reported several times in the daily press recently, was like that of the death of Mark Twain, "a little too previous." About a year ago the Companion was made a monthly instead of weekly, and we have been getting it on our exchange table since, including the Sept. 1929 number. It is still being issued by the old Perry Mason Co., of Boston, and appeared to be very much alive. A few of the reports had it consolidated with another magazine published in the middle west.

The banks and barber shops all closed here Monday, but all other institutions were as wide open as an oil town. One barber was asked by a customer why the barber shops all closed up when the banks did. His reply was right off the reel, saying the banks owned the barber shops and of course made them close. Of course this answer was rather far fetched, but our notion is that they are about the only two business institutions that can always get together on a closing proposition. Most of the bankers attended the South Plains Bankers' Association at Midland, and the barbers hunted.

There were chicken hunters here the first of the week, including Sunday from almost every section of this state. Apparently there were three hunters to every poor timid fowl. Some found 'em; some did not. Most of the local combatants got a few as they knew right where they hang out before starting. To our individual notion after they got those chicken, they had just about the sorriest quality of meat that is possible to be wrapped around the same amount of bones. Others may disagree, but we tried to like them for several years when they were as plentiful here as town sparrows. Not a bit good.

A writer in the Dallas News, best known as State Press, who is wandering over the scenes of his childhood among the mountains of the old N'rth State of Karolena, wrote back recently something that led a few of the Dallas editors to think he meant to include tobacco as one of the edible products raised there for their dairy and other live stock. At least one of them called Sub for short just simply strowed old State Press' feathers all over the editorial department. As reluctant as we are to defend that conceited fellow who really owns that particular column, we must say that we used to feed our hosses in Tennessee tobacco for bot worms, and they et it too. But of course the "backer ration had to be supplemented by fully 90 percent corn or oats.

ANNIVERSARIAL

The Terry County Herald celebrated its twenty-fifth birthday on Aug 23. Editor A. J. Stricklin took two columns of a ten-page edition to recite the history of the enterprise which he has directed personally since January, 1909. Two columns full of the trials and vicissitudes of handling a Texas weekly. Today the Herald is the oldest business institution in Terry County. The chances are you couldn't make Brother Stricklin take back a day of his own twenty in making Brownfield and the Herald successful.—State Press in Dallas News

An interesting sketch of the Terry County Herald was a feature of last week's issue which marked the beginning of volume 25 for that pioneer newspaper. The Herald is older than Terry County itself but was published under the name of the Terry County Voice for the first few years. It has also been removed from the place of its birth—Gomez—that town having been defeated by Brownfield in a contest for the county seat. Editor Stricklin has been on the job for 20 years and from all accounts, the infant Herald required considerable nursing, during its early years. Backed by a stout heart and the necessities of an empty stomach, Stricklin stuck it out and to look at the Herald today, no one would guess how been its early struggles were. Housed in its own new and commodious home, possessed of excellent equipment—with negotiations pending for a faster press—the Herald has all the earmarks of a prosperous and successful business enterprise. May it have many more birthdays!—Southwest Plainsman (Amarillo.)

Ten years ago the women were trying to reform the men, now it is the other way about. Here's a tale told by a man whose word is not to be questioned. At a late hour he was returning from a business trip to a near-by city, and coming down a lane that was a near cut to his home he saw a car parked. He stopped, thinking there had been a wreck, and saw two couples walking up and down. "Anything wrong?" "Naw," replied a young fellow. The girls got too much liquor and we're trying to sober 'em up." Ten years ago it would have been just the opposite.—Ropes Hustler.

From reports that come to us crops on the plains are much better than in other parts of West Texas. It is said by some that there are many places that will make complete failures. That is not true of this section. While we have not had an over supply of rain, or as much as we would like to have had, we have had sufficient to mature both feed and cotton, and the fall will find this section in excellent shape for another year, with the farmers realizing more than ever the value of

THE CORRECT DIMENSIONS

The theory of "FOUR DIMENSIONS" has bothered scientists and mathematicians for ages past, but if you consider this bank as your banking connection, you will find its three correct dimensions to be:

- 1.—Large enough that its strength, security and facilities may be adequate for your every requirement.
- 2.—Broad enough in spirit and perspective to assist you to realize all the possibilities of your endeavors.
- 3.—Small enough that its officers may know you and be thoroughly acquainted and heartily in sympathy with what you are working to accomplish.

Are these not the correct dimensions for your bank?

With the coming of these things, and very farm in the country will soon be supplied with them, farming will take on a different aspect. Dry weather and the failure of cotton will no longer effect us, but will become a kind of a side issue—then all farmers and towns in this section will enjoy a prosperity that has not heretofore been known.—Ropes Hustler.

Deep Plowing as Seen By Lynn Co. Agent

County farm agent Ray E. Shaver, Judge G. C. Grider, and commissioners Elton George, Tim Yandell, and Walter Florence attended the Agricultural Field day held in Gaines and Terry counties Tuesday.

The purpose of the gathering was to inspect the results of deep plowing in the sandy lands of those counties. They found the results to be most gratifying. They met first at Seagraves and inspected some fields in Gaines county and went from there to Brownfield, near which place they inspected other fields. Much of the lands in these counties is deep sand, which blows badly in the Spring and renders it difficult to get crops up and keep them from being cut down by the blowing sand. A year or two ago farmers began to experiment by plowing very deep, not less than 18 inches, and turning up the clay and intermixing it with the sand. This was done largely at the suggestion and under the direction of the county farm agent, R. B. Davis. The results were highly satisfactory. This year much more of the lands in these two counties was given similar treatment. The "Field Day" was staged Tuesday and farmers and others from all over these counties and other counties were invited to gather and compare the crops raised on these lands which were plowed deep with the crops on adjacent lands where the Comparatively speaking Terry county will be in excellent shape at the end of this year; for a good number of the counties will not produce near enough feed to make a crop on next year.

Capt. F. M. Burnett left this week for Clarendon, Texas, where he will visit with his daughter for awhile. The Capt. is getting rather feeble, but still gets around unassisted.

JOHNSON NEWS

News is rather scarce this week.

The Baptist revival closed Saturday night with several additions to the church.

Quite a crowd of girls ate dinner with Miss Bennie Arnett Sunday. Mrs. Mattie Cooper of Plainview is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lee and family the last few days. Miss Zora and Alice Lee are having two girl friends of Plainview visiting them this week.

John Black recently handed us the price of renewal for another year. John says his feed crop will be lighter than last year, but he will make more cotton than last year.

C. Sears, Will Black and L. L. Blackstock, three of the most prominent nesters in this section, were all bunched up and crabbing in front of one of our popular drug stores Monday. It is cheering that our dead are with us just the same. In quiet moments they creep into our thoughts, their forms, their faces, the playful laughter of the child and youthful pranks steal into our consciousness, while personally not visible the memory is a constant source of happiness. If we could believe with Eddie Guest: "The dead return I know they do, The glad smile may have passed from view The ringing voice that cheered us so In that remembered long ago Be stilled, and yet in sweeter ways It speaks to us throughout our days.

We cannot see them as we could In bygone days, when near they stood And shared the joys and griefs that came, But they are with us just the same."

Immortality—That yearning of the human heart to live again, is woven of the warp and woof of love and hope, twin prophets of the future life. We shall meet again cries of hope and love will linger here 'til that glad day, when mist and cloud that bar our vision shall be lifted and the mysterious curtain shall rift in twain and hope and love unite again.

"Life is a narrow vale between the cold and barren peaks of two eternities. We strive in vain to look beyond the heights. We cry aloud—and the only answer is the echo of our wailing cry. From the voiceless lips of the unreplying dead there comes no word. But in the night of Death, Hope sees a star and listening, love can hear the rustling of a wing."

There is "Beyond the silent night an endless day."

The thousand years and more of strife and hatred between the Moslem Arab and the Jew is again in evidence in Jerusalem and its environs. The "There is no God but the One God and Mohammed is his prophet" of the Moslem and there is no God but Jehovah and Mohammed isn't his Prophet, of the Jew, is sufficient reason to set them at each others throats.

The Mandate of Great Britain is about the same in preventing the Arab from killing the Jews as in the years gone by. Her protection of the Turk allowed them to murder the Armenians.

The Wailing Wall at Jerusalem where Jews have always gone to pour out their troubles is a fly in the ointment of the Arab.

Both Nations are fanatical and kinmen both claim Abraham as their father, but you can't mix them in worship any more than Catholic and Protestant will be heard together.

Religion, Religion how many crimes have been committed in they name. How many millions more will, in the future, be put to death in one way or another for the ascendancy of one cult over another. If one isn't just as good as another the race is in a bad fix.

Two bales of the new crop of cotton has been gined here up to Saturday night. One was brought by Haden Warren, the other by C. E. L. Meils.

The teachers employed for the coming session of our public school have began making their appearance for the opening Monday morning. We wish for the school a session commensurate with the tax we poor devils will be called on to pay during the coming years.

The Rev. Foster of The Church of Christ has been holding a meeting at Prairie View the past week. The results were a few loaves and fishes added to the fold. This particular section is afflicted with Holy Rollers and he is to be congratulated if he has made inroads on this cult.

The Baptist church at Meadow have called the Rev. Allen to the pastorate for another year. He is greatly liked by the membership of his church and others.

M. W. Dickinson of Lubbock, Deputy State Game Warden for this district was here Saturday looking over the game situation and will be working this territory regularly. In conversation with Mr. Dickinson we were to remind the hunters that only four days of chicken hunting were allowed this year, Sept 1-4. Also Mr. Dickinson asks to not get dove and quail mixed you might get caught. Dove season Sept 12 to October 30. Quail season December 1 to Jan. 1.

MEADOW BRIEFS
(By Aesculapias)

From the pages of a popular magazine, for September, our friend Henry Ford, smiles out at us with that knowing look of his as if to say, ask me another.

In this instance as in most others Henry writes—through the agency of an amanuenses. One of the most practicable of men when talking along lines with which he is familiar, he generally makes a mess of public policies, in his criticisms.

Most of us still remember Henry's Peace Ship during the World War and what a fizzle it was from start to finish. Also his books and articles on the Jews which finally culminated in a million dollar law suit for libel and when it was settled Henry junked his Dearborn Independent, making the amende honorable by apologizing through the public prints.

In another suit prior to that and while testifying under oath he was asked who Benedict Arnold was. Henry's reply was that he was an author. He also declared that history is Bunk. Doubtless much of it is. These items only show that taken away from those things with which we are familiar our opinion isn't worth much.

In the article referred to above Henry tells that prohibition is ninety per cent effective. That the one per cent is largely the wealthy, the criminal and the abandoned class.

If this were true it would be a happy finale to the drink question. Why appoint commissions to study the question? Why maintain a large standing army of enforcement officers and spend a half billion dollars state and national if only one percent of the population are violating this act? Of course it isn't true.

Hoover put the number at eight per cent and he was talking of those who had been caught. The land lying just beyond Henry's home in their financial statement place the whiskey bill shipped into the United States among the largest items in its budget. This is only along our norther border. Figure the balance.

He also says if booze ever comes back to the U. S. he will stop manufacturing. Now all of Henry's big-lift came when saloons were wide open, besides he has a plant in Canada, others in various parts of Europe, and the country is now flooded asking subscriptions to build a plant in France. In every one of these alcoholics of every kind are made, sold and drank.

Henry certainly doesn't read anything but the Anti Saloon Bugle. No cause is great enough that truth should be sacrificed and Henry isn't big enough to make a falsehood like that stick.

In this connection Henry and others whose heads are very much softer than their hearts should get the letter of the Hon. Atticus Webb under date of June 14 calling on those who subscribed to the fund to come up with the contribution, as they were in a H—ll of a fix as the bone dry officers they had were proving no good. You fellows who donated give this letter to your friends as it is too long to print here. It will help you to see how Henry has L— or been mistaken. It is refreshing to know that the Bone Dry Enforcement officers are worse than the boot leggers. Amen. Let those who blubbered and blowed their nose, over Atticus, when he was here, now come forward and pay their subscription. You promised, now do it. Atticus' salary comes from your subs., and his wife may need a new limousine. The Lord loves a cheerful giver. So I have heard.

Died—At the family home four miles northwest of Meadow, Don, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Johnson, at eleven o'clock, August 26th, after a three weeks illness.

Don was the youngest son of these good people and the chum and constant companion of his father, though only six years old. His sixth birthday passed while he was ill.

Thus the Veil has fallen once again between the living and the dead. That impenetrable curtain, "That revelation has not drawn aside—that science cannot lift." It seems but yesterday we watched his boyish antics and heard his childish voice as gleefully he chased his dog or drew his wagon about the home, and his heart, "like a spring in the desert" bubbled over joyously.

But—he is gone. The home of which he was a great part is hushed and silent and the vacant chair, the empty bed, tell the story of the tragedy, of broken hearts, Mother,
