

BROWNFIELD PEOPLE TO SEE BROADWAY HITS

Not Only Have They Purchased the Very Latest Machinery to Operate a Talkie Movie, But Have Purchased Some Of the Best and Latest Talkie Hits

The citizenry of Brownfield and surrounding territory are fortunate in the deal just consummated between Messrs. Jones & Bynum of the Rialto Theatre and J. B. Dugger, southwestern manager of the Paramount Famous Lasky Corp., and Hugh Owen, salesman of the company, whereby arrangements have been completed which make it possible for the Rialto Theatre to show without delay the identical same productions as shown in such theatres as the The Paramount, New York City, The Palace at Dallas, The Worth at Ft. Worth, The Ambassadors at St. Louis and two thousand other great theatres operated by The Publix Theatre Corp., the largest and most successful chain of theatres in the world.

Because the Rialto Theatre agreed to install sound equipment of the same class as that used by the Publix chain, Paramount agreed to this arrangement and it means that within the next two weeks the people of this community will be enjoying such productions as:

Moran and Mack (the two black crows) in their first talker entitled "Why Bring That Up" or "Who Wants A Worm Anyway?"

The famous Marx Bros. and Mary Eaton (Ziegfield Star) in "The Cocoanuts." The exact reproduction of the New York Stage Show which ran more than a year and brought eleven dollars a seat.

"The Dance of Life," from the stage play "Burlesque." This is a musical comedy featuring Nancy Carroll and Hal Skelly. It will thrill you—please you, make you cry and send you away on all happy.

Four "Clara Bow" all talking pictures.

Budy Rogers and Nancy Carroll in "Illusion," a musical show.

George Bancroft in "The Mighty," guaranteed by Paramount to be one of their best.

"The Green Murder Case," with William Powell who possesses what is claimed as the screen's most fascinating voice.

Harold Lloyd's first All Talker just finished and reported by the reviewers as a rag.

"The Vagabond King." A musical operetta with Dennis King. The New York stage's best male voice, and Jeanette MacDonald Broadway musical comedy star.

Maurice Chevalier (pronounced Che-val-ya) whose "Innocents of Paris," is now playing in its twenty-first week in San Francisco, in two great musical shows, "The Love Parade" with Jeanette MacDonald co-starring, and "Innocents of Paris," with the famous theme song "Louise."

"Charming Sinners" from the stage play "Constant Wife," with Ruth Chatterton, the girl with the voice that charms.

"The Virginian" with Gary Cooper, Mary Brian, Walter Huston and Richard Arlen. America's foremost critics who have just reviewed the production, claim it to be undisputedly the "Covered Wagon" of talking pictures. It is scheduled to open at the Criterion Theatre, New York, at two dollars admission.

"Glorifying The American Girl" with Eddie Cantor, (Ziegfield's greatest star), Helen Morgan of New York night club fame, Rude Valle, America's foremost radio jazz artist, and Mary Eaton, follies prima donna, with music by Irving Berlin. All technical. The play every girl will want to see because it is the story of a beautiful girl's rise from obscurity to the top of the new show world.

"The Lady Lies," with Walter Huston and Claudette Colbert and Charles Ruggles who is the undisputed Charlie Chaplin of the stage.

"The Mysterious Doctor Fu Manchu," with Warner Oland, Neal Hamilton, Jean Arthur, O. P. Heggie of stage fame, and William Austin (the nut in Clara Bow's "IU").

"Sweetie," with Nancy Carroll and Helen King, record artist of first rank.

"The Four Feathers" now running at two dollars in New York.

"The Gay Lady," with Jeanette MacDonald, Broadway's best musical show still running at $6.00 per seat, and so many others we haven't room to print them.

With such a line augmented by vaudeville acts and comedy in sound, and a sound news reel, at one leap Brownfield steps into the class with the greatest shows.

Messrs. Jones and Bynum announce that the continuance of such a policy will ever be possible with the full cooperation of the people of Terry County. And after looking over their plans this reporter sincerely hopes that the public will make it possible for the policy to continue always, for their outlay is easily double any previous expense and Brownfield should be truly proud of this undertaking which means so much happiness to its populace.

Two Young Ladies Call On the Herald Family

The family had retired for the night, but the writer who had worked late all the week, had taken his "Saturday night" plunge, was stretched out in the big easy chair, and doing his utmost to catch up with a week's reading in one night. We were also greatly behind with our "radioing" and had that instrument giving us a favorite program as a side line. In fact he was lost to the outside world and only brought back to reality by a Tap! Tap! at our parlor door.

Stepping to that place we were confronted by two "beautiful" and well dressed "young ladies" standing in the semi darkness. They made inquiry about a room for the night saying they failed to get a room at the hotels and had been sent to us. We invited them in to have seats while we invited our lady down from upstairs to see what could be done for the unfortunate "young ladies" who seemed to be shivering from the cool east wind and probably embarrassment.

Returning to them after they had been seated, male like, we gave them the once over, or started too, and you know what portion of a female anatomy a man first inspects. Just a glance at the one in front of us revealed wrinkled stockings on the calves—and we were wise. Just Tom Cobb and Roy Davis—nothing more. Our wife thought it awful funny joke on us and offered them cake, which they took abundantly, being confirmed cake eaters. But marry a mouthful would they have gotten out of us. Aside from all other disqualifications, we'll have to admit though that they had on some of the "gladiest rags" the Cobb Dept. Store has.

There are usually so many other things to complain about around a house that no man should raise a fuss just because some members of the family fail to put the tops on the toothpaste tubes.

Modern Brick on North Side Now Going Up

A. C. Whisenant has the contract for what is known as the Holley building on the north side of the square, and started work on it the latter part of last week. It is replacing an old tin building that has weathered the time when Brownfield was first brought into existence some 24 years ago, and while it was one of the old land marks, none of us were peevish at its removal, for it has long been an eyesore.

The two side walls of the new building are already up, as the Marchbanks building flanks it on the west and the Odd Fellow building on the east, and only the ends, floor, ceiling and roof will have to be built. Construction will be rushed with all speed as a big mercantile company is now waiting for the building. In fact, we understand that part of their goods are already here in storage.

The material will be of brick, and architecturally one of the nicest buildings in the city. Its dimensions are 25x100 feet.

Our School Bond Issue Approved Last Friday

According to the Star-Telegram, our $75,000 worth of school bonds were approved by the Attorney General Friday of last week, and we can now say that we really have some bonds.

Very likely some of the local board will go to Austin at the next session of the state school board and endeavor to sell them to the state owing to the very poor bond market at present. The state always gives par if they buy them at all.

District court adjourned for the term last week. The docket here is in good shape now.

Another Apology to Readers and Others

We promised last week that we would be done with apologies after that issue, but the paper came out later than we expected in view of the fact that we were even later than we anticipated in getting the issue to the public. But most of you were very patient. In fact some came to us and advised us to miss one issue and not work ourselves to death. For five nights last week our heads never touched a pillow until after midnight, and one night two of the men kept going until 2 A. M. That was Thursday night, and they were making an endeavor to get the Herald to the readers on time. But so much adjusting had to be made that we were some four hours late. Postmaster Carpenter and helpers were very nice to us, and he informed us that he got out some of the routes as late as we were. That necessitated the holding of the carriers longer than common, but they were willing to help all they could. It pays to have friends.

Then there were some of the country correspondents who were left out on account of not having space for them. We should have had ten pages instead of eight last week, but that would have meant holding up the paper even longer. But we will do our very best to get them all in from now on. And as the Meadow correspondent suggested, some of them were kinder garbled, and that too, resulted from much haste, and it seemed almost a nervous collapse of some of the crew.

It's alright to work overtime if everything is going just to suit one, but if the machinery is cranky and one has to stop everything every few minutes to make some adjustment, it sure gets on your nerves. On the average, however, we seemed to suit everybody else better than ourselves. The main complaint we heard was that the papers were not cut. The reason for this is that we failed to get the folder to working right. When it does, it will do all the cutting necessary as well as the folding.

Texas Ginner Settles 1928 Ginning Dispute

Some time back there was much discussion as to the number of bales of cotton that were ginned in the county of the 1928 crop, which ran from 6,000 to 10,000, all being pure guess work or at least dependence on a poor memory. All seemed to have lost record of the amount, as it was a poor crop, and all seemed to be willing to forget it.

The Texas Ginner published at Dallas, happened to get one of our papers while the dispute was on, and recently wrote us giving us the correct amount as of the government report of March 20th, this year, which was their final report, which gave it as 9,746 bales, against 12,268 in 1927.

Charley Hubby returned the first of last week from Fort Worth where he visited his mother. Charley says he will get at least 20 bales of cotton. He is getting 100 pounds per row the first time over and 7 rows to the acre.

County Agent Well Pleased With Terry

County Agent R. B. Davis was in the Herald office early Tuesday morning, and informed us that the more he made trips over the county the more he became convinced of the splendid condition of the county. He was leaving that day for Levelland where he was to judge exhibits for the Hockley County Fair. He judged exhibits at O'Donnell last Friday.

Mr. Davis informed us that there would be a good average cotton crop gathered, and that it was opening very rapidly. He believes that if weather conditions hold good from this on, the crop will be gathered very much earlier than common here, and as a consequence the cotton will be cleaner and whiter, and demand a better price. He says the staple will be short, however.

He was kinder juberous of the feed crop a month ago, and at that time doubted that we would produce more than enough to run the county, but now he sees the possibility of having some to ship or at least bring some more in to feed out. He believes there will be some corn to ship out in sections that had the most rain. Some are still selling last years corn as they now see that they will get all they need from this years crop. There will be a great deal of headed stuff for sale too, but the farmers are in a hurry as it is going up every day, making an advance of $3.00 per ton one day last week.

Yes, old Terry and most of the adjoining counties are going to be in mighty fine shape at the wind up if nothing happens. But it will be the right thing to save all the feed possible, for there is a vast territory with tens of thousands of farms just east of us that will have to buy all their feed.

Herald to Print Baptist Association Minutes

Rev. E. V. May, pastor of the local Baptist church, and Rev. F. N. Allen, pastor of the Meadow church, and secretary of the Brownfield Baptist Association, called on the Herald Saturday and contracted with us for the printing of the minutes of the Association this year, which was held with the Seagraves church this year, early in September.

The contract calls for 300 copies of 30 or more pages with substantial covers, and to be delivered late in October. The Herald has printed these minutes for the Baptist brethren several times previously, and so far as we know, each consignment has been entirely satisfactory.

One feature of the Fair this year not to be found at most Fairs is a booth by a blind girl, Miss Ola Belle Brown. She will have on display both needle and machine sewing, flowers, vases and other work. Miss Ola Belle uses the typewriter, plays the piano, and is more accomplished than most normal young girls her age. Be sure to see her write in Braille, which is the raised dot writing of the blind. The inspiration alone that you will get out of her both will be worth your trip to the Fair.

A Husky Buying Crowd Was in Saturday

There was one of the largest if not the very largest Saturday crowds on hand the past Saturday that has been here in many moons, and they were not just a milling, moving one either, as they were putting cash over the counters, and our merchants and help were on the jump all day, and especially in the afternoon. Many of them had gotten out some cotton, and had some ready cash from that source to spend.

The ginning season is now getting well under way, and the fleecy staple is coming in more and more every day. Better than 75 bales were ginned here Saturday, and something like 14 or 15 were cut out by the Wellman gin, according to Wade Headstream, who was up home over Sunday. Many of the farmers are asking for pickers, and it is estimated that more than 75 percent of the farmers in the county would be busy with cotton by the middle of this week.

The necessity of gathering the fast opening cotton will it be believed hinder somewhat the crowds at the Fair, but the county agent believes that there will be a fine exhibit in every department, and that most of the farms all over the county will close down operations for at least one day of the Fair. He has also been assured that they will bring in their exhibits.

To meet the needs of a prosperous population with the incoming cotton and feed crops, our merchants have visited the big marketing centers, and are thoroughly prepared to care for any demand made on them, and every department will be augmented as fast as depleted with new orders.

Work Started on Rialto Talking Equipment

Work was started Monday morning on the wiring of the theatre for the installation of the DeForest Phonofilm.

Approximately one week will be necessary to complete the installation. This will insure sufficient time to thoroughly test the apparatus and assure the best sound possible when the theatre inaugurates its policy of sound and talking pictures.

Mr. Frank Ballard has the contract for the electrical work.

A girl at a public library inquired if "The Red Boat" was in.

"I don't think we have the book," she was told.

"Oh, excuse me," said the girl. "I made a mistake. The title is 'The Scarlet Launch'."

After a search the library assistant reported that no book with that title was listed in the card catalog.

"But I am sure you have the book," the girl insisted. Suddenly she opened her handbag and produced a slip of paper on which something was written. Then she blushed. "Oh, I beg your pardon," she said, "it's 'The Ruby Yacht,' by a man named Omar, I want."—Boston Transcript.

FAIR GROUNDS READY FOR OUR GREATEST FAIR

A Hard Working Bunch Have Put The Fair Grounds in Fine Shape For the Exhibits, and Everything is Ready For Old Terry's Greatest Fair

The Fair Grounds are ready for Terry's Best Fair! The huge compress shed is again being put into shape to house the best County Fair in All West Texas. This huge shed which is 190 feet wide and 150 feet long will house all the exhibits except livestock which will be taken care of in the rear part of Dad Turner's wagon yard and camp ground.

A better arrangement will be had this year than last for the entire Fair will be close together in quarters best fitted for showing and yet livestock will not be too close to the other exhibits.

The lighting system this year will be adequate and the displays will be as attractive at night as in the day time.

Exhibits may be brought in Thursday evening and exhibitors are reminded that 10:00 o'clock Friday morning is the latest hour that exhibits may be entered except in culinary and canning dep't which close at noon Friday.

Judging on club booths will begin promptly at 10:15. Mr. E. A. Miller, of A. & M. College, and Mr. D. F. Eaton, Lubbock County Agent will judge the booths and the individual agricultural exhibits.

Livestock judging will begin at 10:30 Friday morning with the horses and mules first. Dairy cattle will be placed Friday evening beginning at 1:00 P. M. Awards will be made on hogs immediately following the dairy cattle. Poultry will also be given their awards on Friday afternoon.

R. C. Mowery of Tech College assisted by R. F. McFarridge, County Agent of Gaines County will place the livestock classes.

Mrs. Murray, Dist. Home Demonstration Agent from A. & M. College or a Home Demonstration Agent from an adjoining county will judge the textile, canning, culinary and flower exhibits.

Grand Jury Asks the Cooperation of Citizens

The State of Texas, County of Terry.

In the District Court of Terry County Texas August Term A. D. 1929.

To the Honorable Judge of said Court:

We, your grand jury of Terry County, Texas, in open session of said Court, and through our foreman respectfully submit the following report of our work as Grand Jurors for the August Term 1929.

We have worked together as Grand Jurors the greater part of two weeks since which time we have carefully inquired into all law violations coming to our attention and where warranted have returned bills of indictment, and as a result of our work we have returned into this Court 19 Felony Bills of Indictment and 2 Misdemeanor Indictments.

In some respects, and especially that of liquor violations, there is a material decrease in crime in our County, however with respect to the various modes of swindling, involving both felony swindling and misdemeanor or swindling, there has come to our attention many cases of a total and flagrant disregard of our laws.

Also we wish to call attention especially to the many complaints reaching the Grand Jury of petty theft and malicious mischief in general carried on and practiced by the young boys of our town and county, and wish to say that such practices should be stopped if possible. We suggest as a means of checking this most flagrant disregard for our laws by our young boys that the citizenship in general should be more diligent in their reporting of such petty crimes to our local officers and be willing to come to file complaints with our local officers, and then carry same out by prosecution in our County Court. In this connection we would also like to suggest to our local officers to file complaints when they are justified in believing the law is violated regardless of whose boy may be involved.

We do not wish to be understood as criticising our officers but commend them for what they have done toward holding this situation down, but we further believe that with the proper co-operation of our citizens along this line that many petty crimes can be stopped without waiting for a Grand Jury.

We wish to thank our District and County Attorneys for their help since we have been together as well as all other officers connected with the District Court of this County.

We suggest that a copy of this report be handed to our local paper for publication.

Having finally finished our work for the term, we most respectfully ask that we be finally discharged.

A. R. Brownfield, Foreman of Grand Jury.

WATERMELON FEAST

Last Saturday evening the Brownfield Harvester Club and Football Club enjoyed a watermelon feast, given by Miss J. J. ... They met at an early hour at the High School. The watermelons were eaten at the ball park, which they rode around town to pep songs. The new watermelons were distinguished from the old by dressing as negro boys.

Two Filling Stations Robbed Sat. Night

Burglars were present again Saturday night in this city, and from what we can gather they also visited Meadow and Ropes, and possibly Tahoka and Levelland. Last week it was on the other side of Lubbock, Ralls, Crosbyton and possibly others being the victims. Finger print experts were here from Lubbock Sunday morning and got some good finger print specimens, but found that one of them was wearing gloves. They instructed the officers here to take the finger prints of every suspicious character from this on.

The two stations robbed here was the Brick Garage, conducted by Glen Harris, and the Fitzgerald Service Station. Not much of anything was taken, as the cash at both places was well hidden. We understand that a few boots for tires were missed at the former place. They overlooked about $50 that Mr. Fitzgerald had in a box and covered with an old chamois skin.

For a long time it was thought by most people that the burglarizing here was done by local people, but now it is the general opinion among officers that it is a ring with headquarters at Lubbock, who work out from there Saturday nights in different directions. This is also the opinion of the finger print experts. However, they are just as positive that this ring has a spotter in every town that gives them tips when to make their raids. The reason for the Saturday night raids is that the burglars expect more cash on that night that has been taken in after the banks are closed.

We understand that officers of the South Plains are now cooperating and setting plans to catch these burglars, including the spotters in each town, and everyone with a suspicious movement will be watched closely. In fact, the officers will do a little spotting on their own hook. In the meantime, we believe that local merchants should put another man on here with Mr. Brown through the fall and winter months of Saturday nights if not all the time, as he has too big a territory to cover, and he can be watched by some while others are doing the dirty work. Mr. Brown is of the opinion that the robbing here Saturday night was done about two A. M., as when he made that round he found the door to the Fitzgerald Station out of place, and it was all right on the previous round. He had been watching two other men in the west end of the business section, who were possibly decoys put there for the purpose. If he had been assisted by another man, the chances are that they could have caught the robbers Saturday night.

That these birds go prepared to kill was given unquestioned evidence recently with the confession of the two men here who participated in the attempted robbery of the Meadow bank. They informed the jury that two men with winchesters were so placed that they could sweep any amount of men down who attempted to interfere with the robbery. Officers therefore, must be prepared to shoot also, and shoot to kill as these birds do not show any mercy.

We always admire the recklessness of the fellow who dares to order a meal in a swell restaurant without looking at the prices on the menu.

CIRCUS WILL SET NEW RUN RECORD

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 16.—The longest engagement ever played under canvass by any circus in the world, will play at the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 12 to 27, when the Hagenbeck-Wallace moves on to the "grandstand lot" for a 32 performance engagement. This circus will come to the State Fair with the greatest number of wild animals ever taken on tour by any organization.

One of the big features of the show is the act of Clyde Beatty, 24 year old animal trainer who handles a mixed group of "cats"—lions and tigers. Beatty has an act in which 32 "cats" perform. He worked all last winter putting the lions and tigers through their routines.

The circus will unload in Dallas the night before the Fair opens and be on the "lot" before the gates open on Oct. 12.

The State Fair engagement is not only the longest run ever made under canvass by a circus, but is also the greatest number of performances ever played by one show at one place in the entire South. There are but few cities in the entire country which can support a circus for 32 performances.

By the way, he did not pay 2 per cent, or the federal reserve 6 per cent discount rate, either.

It looks like a real fight by Standard and other big oil companies against the British "Shell" invading these United States.

Standard Oil cuts prices. Shell says, "I call you" and also cuts prices. Interesting war and a better kind, with dollars instead of men lost.

In his government Mussolini held eight posts, minister of foreign affairs, marine, colonies, war, aviation, etc. Now the powerful Italian resigns seven of his cabinet offices, retaining premier and minister of the interior only.

The king announces the changes by royal decree. Mussolini told him what to announce.

The years are passing. Mussolini knows it, and seeks to build a government machine that will survive.

The Italian question is "After Mussolini, what?"

Lord Rothermere in a signed article asks Britain to give up the mandate and withdraw from Jerusalem. He thinks Jews would prefer "a national home in the United States to patriarchal poverty in Palestine."

A majority of Jews do prefer such a home. There are only 2,000 American Jews among 100,000 in Palestine. But for a minority there is a passionate desire to restore Jerusalem. It may not be understood by a Scotchman not interested in returning to Edinburgh. But a Frenchman who never loses the memory of Paris understands.

Baltimore, planning to be the country's greatest airplane city, celebrated its two hundredth birthday with flags, speeches, and warships, on water and in the air.

More than one hundred years ago the guns of Fort Mifflin kept the British fleet from descending on Baltimore. "The Star-Spangled Banner" was written to celebrate that event.

Baltimore, two hundred years old, is younger and more energetic than ever.

Twenty-seven European nations are working at a plan called "the United States of Europe plan." Germany says she will join but not if there is a "anti-American pact."

That's another hint to President Hoover, and others responsible, to make this country strong enough to take care of itself.

A young German, J. F. Balmhoert, clubbed out of the trenches, took off his steel helmet when the war ended, aged seventeen.

Instead of spending the rest of his life selling what a hero he had been he went to work. He now amazes a scientific gathering at Minneapolis, proving that he can divide the supposedly indivisible molecule of hydrogen gas into two different substances.

No money in it, as yet, but Doctor Taylor, of Princeton, calls it the "greatest scientific discovery of 1923."

Britain considers the situation safe and has withdrawn from Malta the battleship "Royal Sovereign" that had been ordered to stand by for Palestine trouble.

Britain also has "moral experts" that object to progress.

They object now to building a tunnel under the English Channel to connect France and England by rail and automobile.

Nevertheless, the tunnel will be built. It will cost $150,000,000, and employ 12,000 men for four years. With the arrival of the ship, Britain is no more an island than France or Germany, and no longer fears invasion by tunnel.

Big business grows bigger and bigger. Everybody was excited, and bankers raked furiously, when said Standard Oil was supposed to be worth half a billion. Now, split up, it's worth many billions. No one worries.

Highway sign painters and their customers make the country hideous. Illinois has a plan to fight that evil.

Trees and shrubs will be planted close together along highways, beginning with places where offensive signboards are already located.

Other states might adopt the idea, not patented.

If you are a bear, waiting for that "big smash in stocks" that is to make you rich, postpone your hopes awhile.

Our Commerce Department says everything is going admirably. For the last quarter of this year net earnings of corporations will run 25 per cent ahead of the same quarter in 1928. That means not a little money, but BILLIONS. We do things on a big scale.

With everything from lunch counters to steel mills incorporated, corporation earnings reflect national prosperity.

DEATH ANGEL CALLS COUNTY TREASURER TO REWARD

Wilburn Y. Pippin, deceased, was born in Oklahoma 1899, then moved to Haskell County, Texas 2 years later and resided there until January 1920 when he moved to Terry County, and settled in the Tokio community, where he kept books for the Tokio Gin for three seasons. He obeyed the Gospel at the age of 16 years and lived a consistent christian life until the end came September the 22nd at 2:30 P. M. and was laid to rest in the Brownfield Cemetery, September 23rd at 3 P. M.

Wilburn was serving his second term as County Treasurer of Terry County, which office he appreciated as much as any officer could. He liked the office and the office fitted him, and if any errors were ever made it was not done intentionally. His interest was the people's interest, always striving to please his fellow man, and the destitute never appealed to him in vain for when the donation sheet was passed around Wilburn always paid his part.

He left to survive him, his father, J. T. Pippin, eight sisters and one brother. All residing in Terry county.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church by Bro. E. O. Stewart, Christian preacher of Sweetwater, where a great throng of friends and neighbors had gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to one they had loved so well. The lovely floral offerings bespoke the love and esteem every one held for him.

He was laid to rest beside his mother who preceded him in 1922. A host of friends join in sympathy with the bereaved ones to mourn his departure. He is gone but not forgotten.

LAST MEXICAN WAR SURVIVOR IS BURIED

Washington, D. C.—With members of Lafayette Lodge of Masons acting as pallbearers, Owen Thomas Edgar, 98 years old, last survivor of the American forces that fought in the War with Mexico, was buried recently.

The services at the grave in the Congressional cemetery were brief but impressive. The rituals of the Spanish War Veterans and of the Masonic Order were read, then the flag-draped casket was lowered into the grave, three volleys were fired and "Taps" were sounded by a bugler.

Mr. Edgar died at the John Dickson Home here recently after an illness caused by a fall from his chair. Until recently he shared the distinction of being a survivor of the Mexican War with William Fitzhugh Buckner, of Paris, Mo. Mr. Buckner died last June 16.

We are sorry to report that John C. Scudday is very low with heart trouble at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. F. Lane. All the children have been called in to his bedside. He was confined in the Lamesa sanitarium a week or two for treatment.

Don't forget Methodist Fair Booth for Bake Sale and sweets.

E. Goeth, with the E. C. Palmer Paper Co., of Dallas, was a business visitor here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Randal, accompanied by Miss O'Brien, were visitors in the home of Mrs. Bettie Criswell and family at Plains, Sunday.

The steps are now advertising formal apparel to go with the rumble seats. We did not think the rumble seat would ever become so popular as to demand a special dress for it.

Most of us poor hard working men will be broke by the time we get gas piped in and cooking and heating stoves paid for, but we'd better be broke than frozen this winter.

The killing of the district attorney Berger recently by gangsters of that city was one of the most rotten things pulled in Texas in a long time. That burg should be given the cleaning of its eventful life and kept as an example.

And now the packers and chain operators are having their ending. The packers are wanting to get back in the grocery business because the chain stores are handling their own meats, is the reason given. But it would take a smarter man than we to understand all the underlying causes back of it.

The Ralls Banner wants to know why more than 800 sparrows were killed there, although more hail fell elsewhere than in Ralls. Some years ago a hard rain fell here late in the fall that killed more of them than the present hail, but that rain was both beneficial and as chilly as ice almost, which first chilled them until helpless and then drowned them.

Yes, the merchants of Brownfield know where the Herald office is located, but nevertheless the Herald needs a representative around each town to solicit their business. News papers should be consistent if they put it on non-advertising merchants and jazz them about saying people know where their store is and what they carry in it.

John Ringland is grabbing off just about all the circuses there are that amount to anything. He acquired five of the largest only recently. It begins to look like us country boys will soon have to go to the larger cities if we want to feed peanuts to the elephant, for all the circuses are getting too large for the smaller cities.

The Avalanche-Journal came out Sunday morning with a whole of an issue, advertising the South Plains Fair. It contained 136 pages, which if the entire edition of some 16,000 copies had been laid out end to end would have reached from Lubbock to Dallas, it was said. It contained some very valuable information about this section, and so much did we think of that we sent out a copy of it ourselves.

And now the hog men are another set who are trying to pry in to the private affairs of the fair sex, and to sum it all up the thing is none of their business. They want to know why it is that although women's apparel is constantly becoming lighter and less of it what in thunder makes their trunks so confounded heavy. Well, it is their business to load the trunks—if they can—and keep their jaws closed.

At least four O'Donnell men believe that 13 has some kind of a Jonah about it. They were recently arrested and thrown in jail in Arizona while touring that section on Friday the 13th, on the 13th day that they were away from home and spent 13 hours in the bustle or until the real guy who robbed a filling station was arrested. They were not allowed to explain anything, although 100 miles from the gas station when it was burglarized.

The State Treasurer of Texas is now borrowing money from private banks to meet current expenses and to keep from having to issue warrants that have to be discounted. Which reminds us that in former years we have had to hold treasury warrants for six months or longer. We do not believe that a state or county has any more right to give a cold check or warrant than private individuals. The latter are subject to prosecution, and as the people compose the state the creature should be as subject to laws as is the creators.

There is a friend of ours what howled loud and long when he saw a female parading about the streets in pants. He wondered what the world was coming to and said a few things about decency and the tribulations the Lord was visiting upon us. We want to say that if our friend lives very long he is in for a hard and miserable life, as it would not surprise us if we, the upstanding men of this nation don't forsake the field of masculine dress and don mother-hubbards, while the sweet young things come forth sporting waxed mustaches, etc. However, right here we want to declare that when that time comes, we will be violently opposed to kissing, as we don't imagine wax mustaches are exactly what we would like—of course, we like to buss them occasionally, and keep in practice by "smacking" our wife in a fatherly way at least once a year. —Ropes Hustler.

YOUR BANK ACCOUNT

YOUR BANK ACCOUNT must always rank among the most important of your possessions. It is a business convenience of the first order, as well as an essential protection to your family and your home.

The value of your bank account to you depends primarily upon how large you make and keep it, but it is conditioned also upon how the bank you patronize regards it, upon the spirit in which the bank approaches your problems and serves your needs.

This institution regards your account as important to itself as to you, for you do not lose your identity here, nor does your business. Our service is personal in its essence and our aim is to match that service to your individual needs.

WEST TEXAS' NEXT TEN YEARS

The population survey of West Texas cities and towns just completed by the Fort Worth Association of Commerce confirms other evidences of the tremendous development of this section since the last federal census, at the same time going a bit further than most similar surveys in the past. It indicates an increase of more than 200 per cent in the urban population of West Texas cities and towns has trebled since 1920. Since the rural development has undoubtedly been as great, or even greater, than the city development, large as the latter has been, the Fort Worth association's survey amounts to a forecast that the 1930 census will show a general population increase for West Texas of 200 per cent or more.

This will hardly surprise Texans. For a long time everybody in the State has been aware of the fact that West Texas is the area of the State's greatest development. Thousands of farms and farm homes have arisen where once white-faced cattle grazed with only an occasional windmill to dent the horizon. Cities stand where stood villages 10 years ago, and hundreds of new towns and cities have come into being. There has been more railroad building in West Texas during the past 10 years than in almost the entire remainder of the country. The 1930 census will be the first to make a record of the tremendous surge of development in this favored region.

TEXAS TO HAVE BIGGEST SALT MINE IN THE WORLD

For years Grand Saline has been a center of salt operations in Texas, the saline solution being drawn up from deep wells and the salt secured by evaporation. Now the Morton Company has found south of the town what its engineers say is the thickest structure of rock salt ever discovered and the mine they are now sinking will be one of the great salt mines of the world. Borings indicated a solid salt structure 1,000 feet in thickness at a depth of about 200 feet from the surface of the ground. A shaft will be sunk to the salt stratum and by the time the mine is in full operation about 600 workers will be employed.

HENS PAY WELL FOR MEDICAL ATTENTION

Albany.—That it pays to combat disease in the poultry yard has been brought out in the demonstration flock of Mrs. Theron Fincher of Shackelford county. Sore head, contracted in her flock of 60 White Leghorns in May reduced the June production to 16 eggs per hen, but sanitation and vaccination and the killing of all infected birds brought the production back to nearly 20 eggs per hen in July. Her profits above feed cost rose from $5.50 in May to $26.37 in July. This is a remarkable increase in hot weather, according to A. C. Magee, county agent.

THE EDITOR'S CALLING

Running a country newspaper is a business and a profession; a science and a calling. Its successful operation requires no less exacting application of correct business practice than does the operation of the bank in the same town. But that alone is not enough. It must combine ideals with industry, soul with mind. It must analyze the financial, cultural and moral needs of its people, and work intelligently and tirelessly for their welfare. At the same time it must above all be a faithful mirror of the daily life of its people. It must give the news of its community honestly, sympathetically and interestingly. To do this requires more than a high order of ability. It requires a love for the work—a "calling." In probably half the towns and cities of the state the editor of the leading paper could operate successfully the biggest business of the town. Often the man who heads that business would be a flop as an editor. For mere business ability not of sufficient avail unless one has heard the call to serve as well as to gain. With a newspaper of this character, a community is fortunate. Without, it is dead.—U. S. Publisher.

COMFORT IN HONORABLE DEFEAT.

Anyhow this writer will always be glad that he voted and worked for Lynch Davidson for Governor. It is apparent to many that he was a logical man. It seems to be a crime with some voters that a candidate for office should be rich, even though he made his money by showing business sagacity and honorable dealings throughout. Many would rather vote for a man because he is a good hand-shaker and knows how to spread on the Kings English in a big ballyhoo of a speech. He never has made a success himself in anything he undertook and so that qualifies him for State office we suppose. With a man of Lynch Davidson's type and with any sort of support from the legislature you would see the penitentiary muddle and several other burdens Texas is carrying, straightened out and a real business administration given the tax-payers.—Uvalde Leader-News.

Deep Breaking Subject In Terry and Gaines

Every agricultural section seems to have problems peculiar to itself, and upon the solutions of which depend to a large extent the permanent prosperity of the country. In many counties of the Western Plains are localities in which the top soil, though very fertile, is of a sandy texture which while it will hold moisture better than tighter soils has a tendency to blow during the Spring winds and makes the starting of tender plants hazardous. Also, the finer silt, or that part containing the greatest plant food, seems to have the habit of blowing more readily and after a few years of cropping the land becomes less productive and its fertility is lessened by what has become known as wind erosion.

While every county on the South Plains has this type of soil to some extent, Gaines, Terry, the western part of Hockley, Cochran and portions of Lamb counties are subject to considerable annoyance from drifting of the top soil in seasons of extreme wind. It can also be said that these sections on account of the moisture retaining qualities also produce the bulk of the corn grown on the Plains, as well as being just as good for other row crops.

In an effort to hold the soil more firmly, a series of experiments were begun in Gaines and Terry Counties a few years ago by the representatives of the State Extension Department, co-operating with the more progressive farmers, which from results shown by a Field Day Demonstration held in those two counties on Tuesday of this week, bid fair to not only solve the problem of wind erosion, but in addition adds to the fertility of the soil an also its moisture retaining qualities, thus insuring a heavier yield of field crops and a corresponding greater value of the land.

In fact so successful have been these experiments that they have attracted the attention of the agricultural experts everywhere, and the demonstration given Tuesday was attended by O. B. Martin, Director of the Extension Service of the Texas A. & M. College; S. C. Evans, District Agent of College Station; E. D. Tinsley, Agricultural Agent of the Santa Fe Railway of Galveston; R. E. Shaver, County Agent of Lynn county; D. F. Eaton, Agent Lubbock County; W. O. Logan, Agent of Scurry County; and W. T. Magee, Agent Hockley County. The demonstrations were features of the work of County Agent R. B. Davis of Terry County, and R. F. McFrittridge, County Agent of Gaines County, and it was these two men who had charge of the sight-seers, which numbered about two hundred farmers and county officials from various counties in this part of the state.

The experiment referred to above has been that of breaking the ground to a depth of from 15 to 20 inches, or until a quantity of the clay subsoil has been brought to the top and mixed with the sandy top soil. From the records over two or three years, this seems to stop blowing, and from figures presented by County Agent Davis, of Terry, ground thus treated in 1928 produced 55 per cent more corn, and 80 per cent more maize, while the farmer was enabled to secure a stand of cotton on land where before it was impossible to grow it on account of the wind. Owing to the ravages of insects last season the yield of cotton could not be measured aside from the fact that it made a healthy stalk.

The crowd assembled at the farm of O. L. Berry, two and one-half miles southeast of Seagraves. Mr. Berry has a farm of 640 acres with about half in cultivation. This land has been in cultivation for sixteen years and the top soil shows some deterioration. He began the deep plowing experiments two years ago when he broke twelve acres about fifteen inches deep, with a mould-board plow being drawn by eleven mules. Last year the Commissioners Court loaned him one of the road tractors and two small tractors were ploughed across the fields, each this year containing about sixty rows of corn and other feed. In crossing his fields the beginning of the deeply ploughed areas can be discerned from a distance by the greater growth and more vigorous plants. The crops on the ground broken in 1927 are better than those broken last year, showing that the effect of deep ploughing will last for years. Mr. Berry is of the opinion that the maximum results may be obtained for a period of at least five years.

The fact that Mr. Berry has co-operated with the Extension Department in the pursuit of better and more profitable methods, should place him in the progressive farmer class. He is a diversified and on his farm of over 300 acres in cultivation has but 53 acres in cotton. He has a herd of five Jerseys and stated that he was milking fifteen cows at the present time. When asked if he found farming more profitable here than in the section from which he came, he replied: "I am getting by here, and have no desire to leave." He has a nice country home in his surroundings indicate that while he might have many of the failings common to humanity, boasting was not one of them

LAW TO BE ENFORCED ON SALES OF SUBSTITUTE

According to a statement made today by Geo. C. Hopkins, Collector of Internal Revenue for the Second District of Texas, Dallas, the District Court for the Western District of Missouri rendered a decision favorable to the Government in the case of Harlow-Taylor Butter Company vs. Crooks, Collector, involving the question as to whether or not manufacturers of, or wholesale or retail dealers in, certain so-called artificially colored cooking compounds are subject to internal revenue taxes as manufacturers of, or dealers in, colored oleomargarine.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue advises that wholesale and retail dealers of these products are subject to the special tax as dealers in colored oleomargarine, and shall comply with the provisions of Treasury Department Regulations No. 9 and that the immediate enforcement of collection of such special tax shall be made with respect to any wholesale or retail dealer who sells such products on and after October 1, 1929.

Brownfield invites you to the Fair!

and his answer was characteristic.

Mr. Berry is conducting other experiments and the best piece of corn shown on the entire trip, was a tract on which he had turned under a heavy growth of pea vines last year, breaking the ground about 10 inches deep. The clay on this farm is more than 10 inches below the surface, but he stated that the sand did not blow this Spring on this tract. This corn had large, well formed ears and had advanced to maturity, and when it is known that the nearest government rain gauge at Seminole showed only a seven and one-half inch rainfall since September 1, 1928, it is a remarkable crop.

It is Mr. Berry's opinion that deep breaking, the turning under of green manure and adding humus to the soil will prevent blowing and at the same time conserve moisture and keep up the fertility of the land, and perhaps make the sandy soils of West Texas the most dependable and valuable of all our lands.

Demonstrations of ploughing to a depth of from 16 to 18 inches were given by the County Tractor and the implement companies on his farm.

The next farm inspected was that of W. H. Wharton, who lives seven miles southwest of Seagraves. He also had an acreage of corn on deeply broken ground and other corn adjoining, planted the same day and cultivated identically in all respects. The corn on the deeply broken plot is still green and vigorous and has uniformity of growth which is lacking in the other corn. Anyone can tell that the greater yield will pay for the breaking in one year.

The farm of H. C. Griffith, in Terry County, was next visited and this was the one cotton demonstration shown. Mr. Griffith had heard much about deep breaking and with ten horses and a tractor had broken about 50 acres to a depth of from 18 to 20 inches. His cotton field extends into this land and anyone can tell where the deeply broken ground begins for a distance of at least 200 yards. The stalk is from four to six inches taller and a number of cotton men counted the bolls for a given distance and estimated that the cotton on the deeply broken plot would yield at least one-third more than the cotton planted in the ordinary way.

It is believed from the demonstrations given that in addition to whatever benefits that might be derived from protecting the land from the wind, deep breaking, once it is thoroughly wet, will conserve moisture—a vital element in any part of West Texas. Also that the turning under of pea vines and other legumes will also give texture to the land and enable it to hold more available moisture for growing crops and also keep the land in a state of high productivity.—Levelland Herald.

PEOPLE AND NOT THE RAILWAY COMPANY TO BLAME

Every Monday we read in the newspapers about a lot of autoists being killed at railway grade crossings while pleasure riding on Sunday, and occasionally we read of some railway company being sued for damages resulting from the aforesaid accident.

This procedure should be reversed and the railway companies sue the survivors of the wrecks or their estate where there is no survivors, when they carelessly drive upon a grade crossing or deliberately try to beat the train to the crossing thereby endangering the lives of their trainmen and passengers and jeopardizing their property. We believe such a course would reduce the number of auto and train collisions.

Since people know that railroad is there and that trains cannot stop at every crossing to ascertain if some careless persons are coming in an automobile, occupants of an offending car and not the railway company should be made liable for the damage suit resulting from a wreck.—Jayton Chronicle.

GARDEN INSECTS PLENTIFUL—POISONS SUGGESTED

College Station—Whether the insect or the human family eats the vegetables is a test of a gardener's ability. Fall gardens are more in danger of insect attack than the earlier spring gardens, and especially is this true of plant lice which multiply rapidly at this time of year on a large variety of garden crops.

"Kill them with nicotine sulphate dust," is the advice of J. F. Rosborough, Extension Service horticulturist, to the garden demonstrators among the home demonstration clubs of the state. "Start dusting the infested plants with nicotine sulphate dust made by mixing four ounces of the material into five pounds of hydrated lime until it is a fine dust. Nicotine sulphate is a liquid but it may be mixed with the lime into a dust quite easily. The dust may be applied with an ordinary dust gun or from a bag of coarsely woven cloth. Best results are obtained when applications are made at a temperature of 70 degrees or above, and the effectiveness may be still further increased by covering the plants for a few minutes after dusting with a canvas.

"Worms and other biting insects which are now abroad should be allowed to eat themselves to death on a menu of arsenate of lead sprayed on the plants at the rate of one-half pound of arsenate to 15 gallons of water," Mr. Rosborough states. "Defoliated plants and those with holes bitten through the leaves mark the presence of biting insects to be controlled in this manner. The arsenate of lead may also be dusted on by mixing together equal parts of poison and lime or flour. Poisoned plants are all right as food if washed before eaten."

A closed-fisted man bought two tickets at a raffle and won a $1,500 car. A friend rushed up to his home to congratulate him, and found him looking as miserable as could be.

"Why, man, what's the matter with you?" he asked.

"It's that second ticket. Why I ever bought it I can't imagine."

BARE LEG THREAT WORRIES MAKERS OF SILK HOBIERY

A serious threat to the silk business lies in the bare-leg fad. Manufacturers of hosiery, fearing that the fad might develop into a style, are opening a trial advertising campaign in the hope of checking the increase of stockingless legs.

The initial advertising started about the middle of July in Kansas City and San Antonio. The first advertisement, typical of the series, quotes Beatrice Fairfax as saying: "Don't give the wrong impression, girls... don't go bare-legged." Three reasons for wearing stockings are stressed in this and the succeeding advertisements: (1) Bare legs "give the wrong impression." In other words, they speak "brazenness... often coarseness." (2) Appearance—"bare legs are often the one jarring note in an otherwise perfect ensemble." (3)—The fact that men prefer to see women's legs clad.

This last point receives special emphasis in a boxed-off paragraph headed "Queer but true!" which says: "Why is it that men give scarcely a passing glance at the bare legs of women at the beach... and yet these same men turn to look at the silk clad on the avenue?" "The answer is: There is little charm in anything which is completely revealed."

ROOSTERS ARE TEN TIMES AS IMPORTANT AS HENS

COLLEGE STATION, August 1.—In the poultry world the male is perhaps ten times as important as the female, E. C. Johnson, head of the poultry husbandry department of John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville, declared in speaking before the poultry section here Monday. "In selecting males for next year's breeding flock," said Mr. Johnson, "the first point to consider is individuality and this includes constitutional vigor and vitality. Select the cockerel that matures rapidly and normally, one that is masculine and shows the sex characteristics to a marked degree so there is no guessing whether it is male or female. Finally the breeding male should conform to the standards of his breed and variety."

"Ancestry and pedigree are also important," Mr. Johnson said, "and our entire breeding program is based on such work, but sometimes individuality and vigor are sacrificed for a sensational pedigree and this is bad. The trap nest record of a male's dam should show that she laid from 60 to 80 eggs from November to February, inclusive, that she is a persistent summer and fall producer, a late moulter and that she has laid consistently over a long period of time."

Uniformity Is Emphasized
"For years we have bred for numbers of eggs and not for size and quality. Egg laying contests are now emphasizing 24-ounce-to-the-dozen eggs and the quickest way to get them is to breed males whose dams have the characteristics of large sized eggs."
"The progeny test, that of getting records on a sire's daughters, is by far the surest and most important thing to consider in selecting breeding males. This is the only sure basis," the speaker concluded, "of forming a judgment as to the ability of a bird to transmit the character of high production."

DEATH

Funeral services for Mrs. Burson, 22, were held Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of F. B. Caylor, 1909 29th street, under direction of Bynum Brothers. Burial was in the Lubbock cemetery.

Mrs. Burson died yesterday morning at 1:30 o'clock in a local hospital following a few days' illness. She was formerly a student of Texas Technological college, and her husband is employed by the T. A. T. line and is stationed at Amarillo.

Other than the husband, survivors are parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Hearne, three brothers, Claude, Earl and Don, and five sisters, Helen, Mabel, Blanche, Marion and Maurine, all of Seagraves.—Lubbock Avalanche.

The deceased was a daughter-in-law of Mrs. Lon Burson of Jones Dry Goods store here.

Until he came here three or four years ago, Harry Longbrake knew nothing about the tin business, but that time has built up a reputation as a tinner that few people have after following the business all their lives. He has natural ability to start work. He has been doing a lot of tin work for the girls here in connection with sections that can't be beat this side of Dallas, and his prices are well in line.

Mrs. L. R. Pounds handed us a dollar bill on the streets this week to put their paper in advance.

ANTHRAX AMONG CATTLE IN NOLAN COUNTY

Anthrax has broken out among cattle in the vicinity of Sweetwater. The Mitchell and Munroe ranches have been heavy losers and the disease has spread throughout the Bitter Creek community, according to statements of Dr. S. A. Burnam, assistant State veterinarian.

This is a very serious situation for livestock owners. The disease can not be stamped out. It will be necessary to vaccinate cattle every year.

Dr. Burnam has issued a warning to all stockmen as to the necessity of continuous treatment. "We have finally and definitely determined the disease to be anthrax," he said.

"This means that Nolan county is now in a known anthrax area, and it will be necessary for the stockmen to immunize their stock every spring from now on. Anthrax is a disease that cannot be stamped out. Its germs live from year to year through all sorts of weather conditions, and there is but one way to meet it—vaccinate every spring."

OVER 9,000 MILES OF PIPE LINE CONVEYING TEXAS GAS

Texas has over 9,000 miles of natural gas pipe lines, between 1,300 and 1,400 active gas wells and an open flow of about 13,000,000,000 cubic feet a day.

The 1929 commercial tomato crop of Texas brought an estimated return of $3,500,000 more than twice the value of the 1928 crop.

WHY HE QUIT

"Please take my name off your membership list," an official of a certain establishment in Lubbock requested an employee in the office of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, a few days ago.

When questioned why he wished to discontinue his membership the citizen refused, at first, to comment on the matter. Later he acknowledged that he had absolutely no fault to find with the work the Chamber of Commerce is doing or any suggestions of work that should be added to the projects now being looked after.

"Well, I used to get some business from some of the force in your office and now I don't, and so I don't want to continue paying the dollar a month the dissatisfied member finally stated.

The membership was discontinued. Likely he never considered the fact that the comparatively few actual employees of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce can not hope to trade with every member of this organization. It is entirely likely that he overlooked the fact that numbers of members of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, who have made it possible for him to get business here, support his concern and will continue to, whether or not he does his part toward the developing of Lubbock.

He is now saving a dollar a month. This amount of money is taken from the community building fund each month. The matter was a trivial affair but it does show an entirely false conception of what a Chamber of Commerce is.

Such a spirit would never build a city.

100 YEARS FROM NOW AS SEEN BY EARL BIRKENHEAD

The Earl of Birkenhead, one of England's foremost statesmen, in a recent article entitled "One Hundred Years From Now," attempted to prophesy some of the forces which civilization in 2029 will have at its command. Among other striking statements he made are the following:

1. Babies will be produced by chemists in laboratories.
2. The entire institution of marriage will be changed.
3. We will all live to be 150.
4. No one will need to work more than two hours a day.
5. Agriculture will be obsolete—except as a hobby—all foodstuffs will be produced synthetically.
6. Man will be able to alter the geography or climate of the earth.
7. Coal mining will be an extinct industry.
8. A 48-hour day will come into being by retarding the rotation of the earth.
9. Sitting in our homes we will see and hear events the world over.

POP WAS WRONG

Son: Pop, I got in trouble at school today an it's your fault.
 Pop: How's that, son?
 Son: Remember I asked you how much $1,000,000 was?
 Pop: Yes, I remember.
 Son: Well "a helluva lot" isn't the right answer.—Exchange.

"COLDEST SPOT IN WORLD TO BE IN TEXAS"

"The coldest spot in the world" will soon be in existence near Amarillo where the United States is constructing a helium gas plant to supply its dirigibles with a non-explosive gas. The process by which helium is extracted from natural gas is by cooling it to 300 degrees below zero, when all the elements in the gas except helium are liquefied, permitting the helium to be drawn off from the fluid residue.

SCOTCH STORY NO. 7036

The usual morning collection was taken in Church one morning, and the minister noticed a lot of dollar bills in the plate and two pennies. "Ah," said he facetiously, "I see there is a Scotchman present."

Whereupon an old Scot arose from the back of the Church and said "Yes, sir, there are two of us."

Work has started on a 230-mile steel gas pipe line by the Magnolia Gas Co. from Bruni, Webb county, to San Antonio and New Braunfels. It will have a daily capacity of 125,000,000 cubic feet.

MUST BE SOME MISTAKE

Roy Simpson, negro laborer, was putting in his first day with a construction gang whose foreman was known for getting the maximum amount of labor out of his men. Simpson was helping in the task of moving the right of way and all day long he carried heavy timbers and ties until at the close of the day he was completely tired out. Came quitting time. Before he went home he approached the boss and said:

"Mister, you sure you got me down on the payroll?"

The foreman looked over the list of names he held.

"Yes," he said finally, "here you are—Simpson—Roy Simpson. That's right, isn't it?"

"Yes sah, boss," said the negro, "dat's right. I thought maybe you had me down as Sampson."

M SYSTEM CORPORATION BOUGHT BY NEW YORK CO.

By United Press.
 NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Formation of the Chain Stores Development Corporation has been announced here. The company's initial interests will be in grocery and food stores. At the outset it will control Standard Dairy Stores, Inc., of New York City, and the "M" System Stores Corporation, which services 264 stores in 14 Southern and Southwestern States. In addition, the new corporation will own contracts for the acquisition of a group of 73 stores operating in Texas and Oklahoma, 85 per cent of which are "M" System stores.

WIZZLE

Sambor: "I tell you that 'procrastination' is to 'put off.'"
 Professor: "I am the significance of that—yes sah!"
 Sambor: "Why did that street car come along when I says: 'Procrastinate at 21st street!'"

Top-worked pecan trees on the place of Charles Meurer, near Fredricksburg, raised the price of the nuts from 9 and 10c a pound to 25c a pound. The five acres in proportion to time and labor spent paid him better returns than any other five acres of his farm.

Haskell County Road District No. 7 voted road bonds by a majority of 211 to 65 and a paved road through the southwest part of the county toward Spur will be built.
