John Burnett Brings In Some Fine Peaches

If everyone was like John Burnett, there never would be any occasion for a poor old country editor starving, for he certainly knows how to treat them. He knows they have to work so hard in order to make both ends meet and to keep from being whipped by some of the irate subscribers because they do not get out a better paper, that they do not have the time to spare on raising nice fruits and vegetables themselves. So he just supplies the breaches made in the editorial bill of fare. He came in the past week with a bag of as nice, smooth October peaches as one ever sees. They were big fellows too, and only two or three of them would make you think you had consumed a real meal. They were of the clear seed variety, a nice yellow meat, and when full ripe had a mealy taste, although plenty peppy with enough acid to give them a real peachy taste. They would have been excellent fellows for pickling.

Drenching Rains Here Past Week Slow Cotton

Rains of one and one-half inches here the past week-end put a crimp in the fast movement of the cotton crop that had been going on for the past two or three weeks, and gave the ginners a chance to catch up with their sleep. Up to that time the gins had been running night and day for the past three weeks, and many of the fields were almost over the first time. The rain Thursday night, which fell following several days of mirky weather, amounted to a little better than a half inch. This was followed by another Friday night and Saturday morning that amounted to nearly an inch. Since that time there has been so much cloudy weather that the ground has not dried off sufficiently to let the people in the fields. Tuesday of this week it was doing its best to dry off but clouds seemed to keep coming from somewhere. Anyway we have a fine fall season, and that was the reason we had a good crop this year—a good fall season last year. It will mean another good wheat harvest in the wheat growing section of the south plains and Panhandle if nothing happens, as there has been good rains all over this section.

Texas has 937.69 miles of electric railway. New York with 4,792.35 is first in electric railway mileage. Texas has 4,500 miles of electric transmission lines with many new miles under construction.

Some Things Asked By Judges and Com.

County Judge H. R. Winston, and Commissioners L. L. Brock, Mrs. Tennie Stewart and J. W. Laster attended the County Judges and Commissioners convention at Houston, Texas, on October 2, 3, and 4.

The convention adopted the following resolutions: That State Highway Commissioners be elected instead of appointed, and that Federal and State Highways be constructed and maintained by the Federal and State Governments, without the counties helping.

That the automobile registration fees be raised to at least the amount of the former weight fees, and that the counties keep all the money to work their lateral roads with up to One Hundred Thousand Dollars, and the money over that to go to the State Highway Commission. On this point it seemed that all the smaller counties were for it, and the larger counties against it, for the reason that it would not help the larger counties, but would help the smaller counties to get more money, without putting a tax on real property. In Dawson county for instance, they would get about $4000 per year from auto registration instead of about $20,000 for next year; Terry county would get about $20,000 from auto registration instead of the $10,000 that they will get next year under the present law. If the next Legislature would pass such a law, the Commissioners would have $10,000 more per year to work the roads with, and the money would come out of pockets of the car owners and not out of the land owners.

Other resolutions adopted recommended: Creation of a State Hospital for drug addicts, imbeciles and idiots. Legislation for sterilization of the insane, idiots, imbeciles and feeble-minded. An appropriation for a negro tubercular hospital. Adequate appropriations for all eleemosynary institutions and especially for those caring for the insane and feeble-minded. Creation of a training school for delinquent and dependent negro girls. Creation of a State home for aged and dependent men and women. Relief of congestion at State hospitals and additional appropriations for enlargements and construction of new hospitals. Enforcement of the rural letter carriers' efforts toward better lateral roads. Legislation limiting the purpose for which the County General Fund may be used and how any new tax levied upon it to the amount of that fund accruing for one year. Adjustment of the Confederate pension law so as to provide equal amount for all those entitled to pensions. Various other subjects were taken up and discussed. Houston showed us a good time. Judge J. G. Strong of Panola county was elected president and Commissioner J. C. Abbott of Williamson county vice president for next year, and Fort Worth was chosen as the convention city for 1930 in preference to Eagle Pass and Waco, who had extended invitations also.

We note that cotton had begun to come in a little again Tuesday. W. J. Baldwin was in from the south route Saturday, trading with our merchants.

Eddie Dowling, Marian Nixon and Frankie Darro in the Sono-Art Production, 'The Rainbow Man.' A Paramount Picture

Melodious Film at Rialto

"The Rainbow Man," a lyric romance, starring Eddie Dowling, with Marian Nixon, Frankie Darro, Sam Hardy, Lloyd Ingraham, George Hayes and the Rounders Quintet supporting. A Paramount all-talking picture, produced by Sono-Art. Directed by Fred Newmeyer, will be shown at the Rialto Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of next week.

In these dizzy days when jangling jazz seems to reach into every part and parcel of life, it is refreshing to get an eye-fel and an earful of entertainment which has for its musical motif of drowsy tinkling of cowbells in the distant meadows than of raucous fanfare of xylophones in the immediate vicinity.

"The Rainbow Man" is an all-talking and singing screen romance, plentifully supplied with instrumental music which contains not one note of "blues" or "vo-dee-do." But the fact that it defies the great American jazz tradition is not alone the reason for recommending "The Rainbow Man." It is first of a real, human story, simple, but true and plausible. In the second place it contains acting of a high calibre in the hands of everyone in the cast. Eddie Dowling is a small-time minstrel man who adopts the little boy, Frankie Darro, after his father, George Hayes, is victim of vodvil accident. Marian Nixon is the daughter of a small-town hotel proprietor. She falls in love with Dowling while his troupe is playing her town. The plot goes forward through sunshine and tears and comedy seasoned with episodic drama, until finally the lovers are joined in a touching scene wherein the rainbow of their romance comes shining through.

"MAKE TRADE AT HOME" MEAN SOMETHING

May Be "A Big Booster" Outwardly, But At Same Time May Be Bleeding Home Town, Says Judge Neill, At Rotary Meeting

In a recent address by George W. Neill, before the local Rotary Club on the subject of Endurance tests, which he handled in his usual burlesque and humorous manner, deviated from the subject and discoursed on those who trade out of town. We quote below a few excerpts from his remarks:

"The gentleman who invited me here, told me to speak on any matter I pleased. This chance is taken to express my condemnation of the lately increasing hobby of some of our people in doing their 'shopping' in a certain town. I get a personal kick in doing this for some of these same people, recently referred to me as one of towns chief mosshacks and old fops: Well I am rather conservative alright, at least have not reached that altitude of advancement and modernity that I can't get what I want in Brownfield. (laughter). I'd like to meet some of them, and just let them pour that old ox-cart, log-cabin, Georgia stock, stereotyped spiel all over me, and then with a smile reply, 'well poured and accepted, but I do my trading at home.' (Applause.) Talk about knockers and hold backs, why it seems to me these 'foreign shoppers' are the real knockers of the town. Oh, we discuss, disagree and vote adversely on local projects, sometimes wrong, but its all among ourselves, but when you go away to trade, you advertise to the people of your town, and to the merchants and people of the other town, that your town is so sorry and back-woodsy, that you can't get the commodity suitable to your standard style and taste. Isn't that a direct knock, and when we measure the calibre and station in life of some of the said 'shoppers,' thus appearing on the streets of the other town, I throw up my moss-covered hands and moan 'my gawd what an awful knock that is on our town. (Laughter). We can understand why Mrs. One-Line, with a frivolous, or absent mind will go there and buy things she don't handle, and how Mrs. Other-Line, to retaliate will go there to get the things, the first one deals in, and vice versa, all the way around, but I can't understand how either can claim eligibility to the smart set. (Laughter). In the meantime our town, like an innocent bystander, suffers the loss. It may be self praise or a libel on our merchants, owing to the rank you put me in, but I've always found everything I needed, and better, in this town. Ignorance may be bliss, and the lowly may be happy, but there is more joy in the feeling that our town is bigger and above our reach, than in the feeling that you are above the towns reach, and usually more truth. It is easier and wiser to screw your standard, down to fit the towns ability, than to jack-up your expenses to meet some classical taste, and a darn sight more sensible. (Applause.)

"It is far better to encourage the town by your trade, to build itself up to the ultra needs of its people, than to punish it by foreign spending. Towns are built by commercial feeding, and not by dieting. What does it profit us to gain the paving, gas and other recent civic improvements, and then bleed the town white by trading elsewhere? Far be it from me to offend anyone, but I just have no sympathy for those folks who parade their civic pride on some gala day, and then get the towns resources, between times. There is nothing to a 'lip' patriot. Its action that counts. Its true in smaller towns, and not long since in the history of this town, and yet, in some odd commodities, the town may be unable to supply a demand, folks are justified in going to the nearest source, but this town has reached, or just about to reach, that position where it can supply the various multiplied needs of its territory, and its just downright pity, that as we are about to reach the goal with a touchdown, to be tackled and hindered by some of our town team. (applause.)

These are just my sentiments voluntarily expressed, without request from any merchant in this town ever gave me, but a bill on the first and sometimes it seems they all have one, but let me admonish them, they must keep their prices and service right, you must meet the people half way, this is no one-sided problem. While it gladdens our pride and breaks our purse to keep up with you, yet, if you'll join us in the golden rule, we will build a town in spite of ourselves. (Applause.)

But with it all, speaking again of endurance tests, Terry county deserves the blue ribbon of Texas, look how our crops have endured the recent drought, when others to the east were withering, ours withstood it to abundant maturity. . . Endurance. Why any county like this, that is blown out in the spring, dried out in the summer, traded out in the fall, and then make enough crop to pay off the installments and get a new car, and still go on building and prospering deserve more glory, than all the aeroplanes that ever soared and safely landed. (Applause.)

Herald Man Sees Milking Machine In Operation

Ever since the writer was a kid he had always seen the lactical fluid drawn from the udder of Old Jersey, Old Pride, or Old Red as the case may be, by the hand of man or woman, with a kind of squeeze and pull movement. Monday was the first time in our lives that we were privileged to watch milk persuaded out of a cow's udder with any kind of man made machine. We are learning something new almost every day now. Man is continually trying to perfect something to save time and manual labor.

We were invited down to the Sanitary Dairy just in the draw in the southern part of the city, where C. W. Tankersley and Sons conduct an up-to-now dairy, that is all the name, Sanitary, implies. They were just starting the afternoon milking operations, and had the machine well lumbered up when we got there. It was busy "juicing" about four at a time. The operation is not unlike a calf getting its dinner, or for that matter the human hand doing the milking. We asked Mr. Tankersley if it finished the operation known to us country lads as "stripping." Yes, but it is better to do that by hand as it keeps the cows' udders from caking. You know that something has to take the place of the "hunch" of the calf, and the machine won't do that.

After the inspection of the milking operation, we were carried into the bottling department, which like the milking department, has concrete floors, and they had just been nicely flushed with clean water. Here we found a large boiler to keep the water scalding hot when needed for keeping the vessels clean. They fire this boiler with cobs from nearby where they operate a coal boiler through the open season, and ready for bottling the milk is pumped into a machine that gives it a rotary movement and finally through a strainer and cooled and finally through all the fresh or animal tests. From this machine, the milk is bottled for use, and the delivery wagon starts at once making its rounds. Thus, milk just fresh from the dairy tastes good, even though milked less than an hour ago.

Mr. Tankersley has 23 cows now giving milk, twenty of the Jerseys and three Holsteins. They are all in prime milking order, all healthy and hearty, and are frequently inspected for disease. Asked which breed he liked best, he said he liked the Jerseys best as they did not consume the food, and seemed to give some richer milk than the Holsteins. While the Jersey is the most nervous of the two breeds, the Holstein will prove to kick more. In fact, each of the Holstein's legs were strapped as all were kickers, but there was not a kicker among the Jerseys. Mr. Tankersley has a nice herd of porkers which he is constantly bringing ready for market with skinned milk and corn chops.

Mr. Tankersley has several thousand dollars invested in cows and machinery at the dairy, and is constantly adding to them. It is in the incorporated limits of the city, and is paying for and helping maintain the streets, lights and other utilities of the city and as he is giving as good grade of milk as can possibly be purchased he deserves the patronage of the citizenry here.

Fain And Co., to Open Here by November 1

Contractor A. L. Whisenant and crew are rushing the Holly building as fast as it is humanly possible in order to have it ready for opening by Nov. 1st. It will be one of the prettiest buildings in the city when completed.

We have it on the authority of W. G. Harris, who will have charge of the store when completed that Fain & Co., will open a very beautiful and up-to-date stock of variety goods when the building is ready for them. Each and every show case will be mirrored and the whole building will reflect the touch of the artist in arrangement and display.

Modish, Always--- Moderately Priced, Ever

The very definite advantages of style at moderate prices is ever evident in this store's displays of new garments. Right now we are featuring a varied range of newest mid-season modes, each priced well within your budget.

SOMEBODY GOT IT!

"Somebody got it," seems to be an expression we all know and say often, either from force of habit or because we really feel that way about it. It might be a book, a pencil, a ruler, a cap or any other article used in school, but if it disappears we know that "somebody" picked it up when he knew perfectly well it did not belong to him. The most logical solution to all this is to look right where we left it, on the ball court, in the study hall, in some nook of the corridor or out on the entrance steps.

True, there is usually a mysterious "somebody" in every school who thinks he must swipe, he calls it, someone's property from a songbook to the teacher's register to get any kick out of life. He feels very proud when he makes someone lose their better judgment and become very "peevish." He does his mischief to our backs now, but someday he will outgrow that timid nature and then is when he is likely to get caught and put in a place where he cannot molest other people, and will be protected from himself as well.

VALUE OF A SCHOOL LIBRARY.

It is noticeable that in all schools of any size or standing there is a good library. This is a great help to a school since selected books help to cultivate a reader's better tastes. A good library does not contain only books of fiction but there are source books and encyclopedias. When we say source books, we do not mean they are only for history students. They are for the general use of the high school on any subject. The library of a school is a laboratory for all departments. Then there are magazines in the library also. The magazine is of as much use as the books. In them we get subjects for oral theme work, debates, current event reports and other things that stimulate reading tastes.

Every high school must have a library which measures up to requirements in order to retain its standing. The student can help in obtaining a good library by careful use of the books. This will help to generate a spirit of originality and resourcefulness. With a good library every opportunity is provided for the development of a taste for wholesome reading and the student enlarges his intellectual horizon.

WHO'S WHO

The honor of making the highest grade in the freshmen class last month belongs to Virginia Toole, who has an average of A.

Virginia was born May 21, 1917, on a ranch in New Mexico near the Texas line. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Toole, who recently moved to Brownfield from Forrester. She is the second child, having two brothers and three sisters.

Virginia went to school with her mother, who is a teacher, when only three years old. She did her first work in school at Matador, Texas at the age of 5. Her next school year was spent at O'Donnell. She later went to school at Ackerly and at Wilson, which are in Dawson county. The three years just preceding this, she has attended school at Forrester.

She is of a quiet, retiring disposition and one can easily guess the secret of her being able to make such good grades by watching her sit quietly in the study hall, absorbed in the book she is studying, oblivious to everything that is going on around her.

THE SOUNDS I LIKE TO HEAR AT NIGHT

I would like to be out on the prairie away from any human being and cook my supper over a campfire, listening to the crackling of the fire and the sizzling of the grease in the frying pan. After the supper has been prepared and eaten, the dishes washed and put away, I would like to roll my bed out on the grass, using the earth for a bed and the sky for a shelter.

Then at the midnight hour I hear the dismal howl of the coyote, the call of the hoot owl, and mournful note of a yellow-breasted bilingsting saying, "Got left, left left, got left." Soon comes the lowing of the cattle which have bedded down in the distance and are now leaving their bed-ground to graze awhile. In addition to this there is the whispering of the growing grass as it is stirred by the wind, the chirping of the crickets, and the many noises of the insects, rodents and creeping things. I can also hear the footfalls of my saddle horse which is picketed near by. These with numerous other sounds characteristic of a night on the open prairie, are the sounds I like to hear.

SCIENCE CLUB ORGANIZES

A number of science students met Friday, October 4, and organized a club. The following officers were elected: President, David Perry; vice-president, Florence Holt; secretary, Frances Carpenter; reporter, Richard Chisholm; program committee, Eunice Elmore, Barney Holgate and Mary Corning.

This club will meet every two weeks at the second period on Friday and will follow the program made by the program committee. In connection with the program the club will go on scientific expeditions through the country and study things of scientific interest to every one in the club.

Each student is expected to bring up the part assigned to him by the committee and if this be the case the club is sure to be a success.

MARSHMALLOW TOAST

About sunset Friday evening, October 4, girls could be seen dressed in overall attire strolling in front of the High School. No, they were not going to a ball game, but were out for a marshmallow toast with Miss Patterson, Harvester Girls' Sponsor, as hostess. After making the downtown "drag" singing familiar airs, they found their way to the railway bridge. The new members acted during the evening as fire makers, singers and readers, making much merriment. Toasts were given in song and yells. Those present were: Doris Bandy, Lucille Jones, Alma Brown, Lucille McSpadden, Florence Holt, Bernice Carpenter, Phyllis Holgate, Mae Holgate, Eileen Ellington, Lenore Brownfield, Frances Brownfield, Pauline Hunter, Cordia Mae Shepherd, Nettie Thompson, Mary H. Anderson, Ruth Henson, Lorraine Eiche, Frances Carpenter, Juanita Murphy, Juanita Perkins, Marlen Hill and Miss Faye Martin.

BROWNFIELD CUBS TIE IDALOU

The Brownfield Cubs played the Idalou team on the local field last Friday the 11th. The score was 6 to 6 with Neill featuring with a 70-yd run for the Cub's only touchdown. The Idalou boys made their touchdown in the second quarter after a series of passes. In the second half of the game it looked as if the game might be called off on account of rain. However the shower lasted only a few minutes. The Cubs played hard during this game and showed that they have the real stuff that it takes to make a football team.

Following is a play by play report of the game with Idalou:

Idalou kicked off and Goodpasture brings the ball back to the Cub's 40 yard line. After a play through the line which resulted in no gain, Huckabee puts and Idalou brings ball to their 5 yard line. The Cubs hold and Idalou is forced to kick. Markham brings ball back to the Cub's 40 yard line. Miller passes to Graham for 15 yard gain. Brownfield pegalized 5 yards on next play for being offside. Ballard makes 15 yard gain around left end. Ballard makes 8 yards through center. Goodpasture makes 2 yards for 1st down. Goodpasture fumbles on next play and is thrown for 8 yard loss. Idalou holds for downs and they punt out of danger. Center overthrows ball to Goodpasture, which loses 15 yards. Huckabee passes to Ballard for 32-yard gain. Huckabee tried to kick field goal, but failed.

SECON QUARTER: Idalou kicks and tackles Neil on Brownfield's 30 yard line. Brownfield fails to make first down and Huckabee kicks to Idalou's 40-yard line. Idalou completes a pass and run for a touchdown. They fail to make their field goal. Idalou kicks off and Goodpasture brings ball to the 35-yard line. Ballard makes 5 yards, through the line. Idalou intercepts pass. Idalou is held for downs. Brownfield's ball. Goodpasture makes 20 yards gain. Goodpasture catches pass, but fumbles and Idalou covers the ball. Idalou is forced to punt from their 45 yard line and Neill brings ball back to Brownfield's 35-yard line. Goodpasture catches pass for 8-yard gain. Neill makes 1 down as quarter ends.

THIRD QUARTER: Brownfield kicks and downs Idalou on their 28 yard line. Idalou is forced to kick and Neill is down on Brownfield 32 yard line. Brownfield kicks and stops Idalou on 35 yard line. Idalou kicks and Neill runs 70 yards for a touch down with the help of good interference. The Cubs failed to make the extra point.

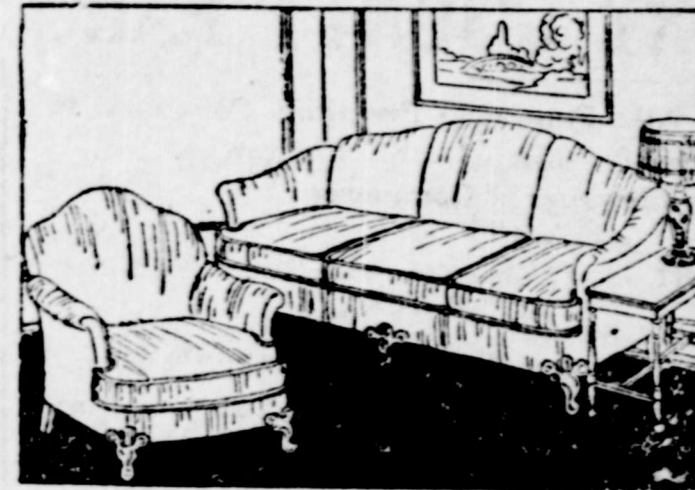

Brownfield kicks off and downs Idalou on their 30 yard line. Neill intercepts pass. Ballard catches pass for 15 yard gain. Idalou intercepted a pass. Graham intercepts Idalou's pass and runs 15 yards. Barrett takes Burson's place at tackle. Huckabee fumbles and loses 14 yards. Brownfield kicks and down Idalou on their 22-yard line. Idalou's ball on their 28 yard line as quarter ends.

FOURTH QUARTER: Idalou kicks to mid-field. Goodpasture makes 23 yard gain. Ballard fumbles for 15-yard loss. Goodpasture completes pass for 10 yard gain. Idalou intercepts pass on their 20 yard line. Idalou fumbles ball. Brownfield covers the ball. Brownfield fails by two yards to make a first down. Idalou's ball on their 8 yard line. Graham throws Idalou for 2 yard loss. Idalou kicks. Brownfield ball on Idalou's 22 yard line. Ballard completes pass for 10 yard gain and first down. Brownfield is held for downs. Ballard intercepts pass on Idalou's 20 yard line. Brownfield ball on Idalou's 20 yard line as game ends.

POLICE HELPED AS DRUG CHEATS DEATH
 Holdup Suspect, Wounded in Fight, Dies Twice.

Detroit, Mich.—John Jones, a negro, twenty-two years old, suspected of being a holdup man, was shot as he dived out of an alley in a running bat with the police, and died twice.

He was removed to the receiving hospital, where he died before the police could question him and secure information regarding holdups which they were sure he could furnish.

Death had cheated the law, for dead men tell no tales.

Science then stepped in and cheated death. Dr. Courtney Fremont, a member of the hospital staff, injected a charge of adrenalin into the heart muscle of the man who had been dead about half an hour and he came back to life. He lived for five hours, giving the police ample time in which to question him and secure such information as he was willing to give. He then died again.

Victory of Science.

The shooting and double death of Jones took place several weeks ago, but passed practically unnoticed as a news item. As a shooting and single death it was just one more item in the list of crime news that passes daily out of the police department. The scientific angle, however, became a matter of medical record and as such it has survived as another almost unnoticed victory of science.

Bringing persons back from the grave to live again is no longer a novelty. It has been done scores of times. When the miracle was first performed it received little publicity. It seemed as if there must be some fake about it and, of course, newspapers could not be victimized by fakers, so the stories were published with numerous qualifications hedged about all statements.

Now that it has become well established as a bona fide miracle of science it does not possess quite the novelty it did at first, and even spectacular events such as the Detroit incident pass almost unnoticed.

The first case on record in which a baby born dead was brought back to life occurred in a Brooklyn hospital. Mrs. Bertha Isaacson gave birth to twins, a boy and a girl, at the Dorso Park Maternity hospital. The boy, weighing three pounds, was born dead. The girl weighed two and a half pounds. Dr. Philip Mininberg administered adrenalin to the boy by hypodermic injection. It stimulated the infant's heart to action and life returned.

Both infants were fed with a medicine dropper and were raised in an incubator until they had attained sufficient growth. The boy who was brought back to life is still alive, but his sister died before reaching her fourth birthday. They were born on Lincoln's birthday, 1923. Since then the miracle has been repeated scores of times in Brooklyn as well as elsewhere throughout the country.

In Philadelphia a few years ago a man of forty who had suffered from tuberculosis half his life died. Twelve doctors gathered around his bed and for an hour studied every known test for a sign of life, without finding any. At the end of two hours rigor mortis had set in. A small amount of adrenalin was then injected into the heart. At the end of two minutes the skin assumed a pink tinge which gradually changed to a flesh color. Ten minutes later the man was breathing faintly. His eyelids fluttered and he sighed as though awakening from sleep.

"How do you feel?" the man was asked.

"All right," he answered in a tired but very ordinary tone.

 "Did you have any dreams?"
 "No. I slept." His tired eyes closed.
 "No unusual sensations?"
 "No."
 Shortly afterward he returned to an unending dreamless sleep.

2 Years in Death Cell Used to Educate Self
 Columbus, Ohio.—The other day Sabo observed the second anniversary of his incarceration in "Death row." His attorneys have tried in vain to save him. When Sabo was "dressed in" two years ago he could neither read nor speak English. Now he speaks fluently.

His tutors were companions in "Death row"—13 of them—who have paid society's capital penalty. Sabo can read well, too, and he spends most of his time poring through the Bible and other religious books.

Educator to Translate Book of 6,175 Pages
 Crawfordsville, Ind.—Prof. C. H. Oldfather, formerly of the Washburn college faculty here, now with the University of Nebraska, has been commissioned to translate the "Diodorus of Sicily," which will run about 13 volumes, a total of 6,175 pages. The commission was given by the Loeb classical library. Diodorus has never been translated into English. Professor Oldfather says. He is an original writer but also is an important authority for several periods in ancient history.

Statue of Savior to Guard Rio de Janeiro
 Rio De Janeiro.—A great statue of Christ, to watch over Rio de Janeiro from a 220-foot hill commanding the harbor and city is being built on Corcovado (Hunchback) peak, and will be finished in two years.

This 125-foot figure, which with its pedestal will reach 150 feet above the famous Hunchback, will vie with New York's Statue of Liberty in prominence and will surpass greatly in size the Christ of the Andes, which stands on the border of Chile and Argentina as a symbol of perpetual peace between those nations.

A fund of $720,000, which the statue will cost, is being collected by the Catholic Center of this city. Work was begun two years ago. Thirty workmen are putting up the ironwork for the reinforced concrete pedestal and body, over which will be placed a surface of blue-green tiles. The Christ's outstretched arms will cover 125 feet of width, and can be seen for many miles both on land and sea.

Paul Landowski, a Russian sculptor, designed the monument, and Silva Costa is the architect. It bears the words, "Christ conquered, reigns, rules," in Latin.

Cat Brings Rat Home for Kitten's Playmate
 Ashbury Park, N. J.—Employees of a Main street grocery store were treating to the unusual spectacle of a rat playing about with Mollie, a local cat, and her four kittens. What made it most unusual is that Mollie is a feline known to be rough on mice, and had just killed two rodents before taking up with this one.

The rat, ungrateful that Mollie had spared its life, tried to wander away, but Mollie picked him up by the scruff of the neck and returned him among her brood. He climbed up on Mollie's back and went to sleep.

O. T. Ray, who owns 60 acres just north of Seagraves, was in Tuesday, and renewed for his Herald going to his home at Tyler, Texas. Mr. Ray informed us that the Herald's weekly visits were highly appreciated, and that if conditions got better in that section to where he could sell his property, he aimed to move out here and improve his land. We mentioned sandstorms, but he said he got used to them in his boyhood days in the Dakotas.

Official paper of Terry County.

Well, the old county is wet again deep down to the old red clay, ready for the production of a bumper crop in 1930.

The press of Texas sympathizes with Editor Sam Braswell of Clarendon in the loss of his wife recently. This is worse and harder to overcome than any financial loss.

Well, this section is now full of little circuses, so called, that are not worth a penny. Just a few poorly kept animals and some old stale jokes and acts seen 40 years ago is the essence of them. To get the money is the main question with them.

Although we hate to see the nice white fleecy staple held up by rains when gathering was at its height, we must learn to take the weather as it comes and say nothing about it. We must have water in this section to make crops the same as elsewhere, although of course not as much.

Gov. Moody has appointed Pat M. Neff, former governor to take Clarence Gilmore's place on the railroad commission. This will suit a great majority of Texas citizens, we believe. Neff would in all probability be holding down a federal position at Washington had it not been for the efforts of Earl Mayfield during the lame duck session of congress. Earl played it up that Neff was against labor, when as a fact Mayfield was opposed to Neff because Neff did not support him for the Senate.

The dries including the officials of the Anti-Saloon League are inclined to oppose Morris Shepherd's latest bill and bid for popularity of making the purchaser of booze equally guilty with the bootlegger in the sale of intoxicants. They figure and rightly so, that when such a law is passed it will almost nullify the 18th amendment in that in most cases there will be no chance for witnesses, as no one is forced according to our constitution to incriminate themselves. Some, and this includes wets as well as dries, say the bill would be unconstitutional.

The bond market is just about as rotten as it ever gets to be, and our school board is having a hard time disposing of the bonds for $75,000 voted some time past for the erection of a new high school building. But from what we can gather the board is delaying action as they do not wish to sacrifice the district in order to hasten matters, but are hoping for a better market soon. Rife speculation on the New York and other large city exchanges is given as the reason for a poor bond market. After the boys have played with stocks until they are tired of that game, maybe the bonds will then have a short ending.

Most of the editorials we noted the past week on the loss of Clarence Gilmore to the state and nation, mostly dwell upon the political side of his nature, and his great knowledge of law, his success as a newspaperman, and especially his knowledge and the splendid conduct of the State Railroad Commission of which he has been a member for twelve years and chairman for a number of years, or since the death of the late lamented Allison Mayfield, we believe. But none of those editorials that we read told of the intensely human side of the man. At his attendance upon the meetings of the Texas Press Association, of which he was attorney when he passed away, he was just one of the boys, and as small fry editors received just as much recognition as those whose editorials are quoted almost as much as the bible. Then, too, we sat at a table with him at Amarillo when he over-turned his tea in his lap. He not only did not care for the rest of us boys laughing at him and joking him about the matter, but had just as much fun himself as the rest. Clarence Gilmore was a real human.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The County Fair has gone into history as one of the leaders if not the leader of county fairs that was staged in Texas this year. It was more complete in many departments than the one of last year and the only noticeable shortage was in the general agricultural department and this was not caused from the fact that the staff was not available, but because farmers were busy in cotton fields and could not spare the time to bring an exhibit.

One main thing was demonstrated and that was, that our fair has become too large to handle in the manner that it has been in past years. We can't depend upon cotton compress sheds for a place to hold it and nothing else is available that is large enough. We must put it upon a permanent basis or abandon it. A plan is being worked out to form a fair association, secure land and erect buildings to house the various exhibits. It is believed that it can be put over and within the next few weeks citizens of the town and county will be given an opportunity to assist in its development. Our location is such that we can build a large district fair and there is no question whatever but what it would be one of the most valuable assets that our county could possess. The South Plains Fair at Lubbock, was developed under much more difficult conditions than ours would have to encounter and it is the most valuable asset possessed by that county, the Tech college not accepted. It has been the cause of more actual agricultural development of Lubbock county than any activity ever sponsored by its citizens. We have the territory, we have the land, we have the money. Let's put it over. A list of the premium winners appears in this issue of the Herald. Checks have been mailed out to all of them and if any person is of the opinion that she or he has a premium coming and has not received it, call at this office and we will go over the records.

You are hereby commanded that by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Yoakum for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof (same being 42 days after date of issuance hereof,) the first publication thereof to appear within 13 days from the date of issuance hereof, you summon J. T. McClanahan, W. R. Moore and J. N. Gaines, whose residences are unknown, to be and appear before the District Court of Tarrant County, Texas, 67th Judicial District, at the Court House in the City of Fort Worth, on the Monday next following the expiration of forty-two (42) days from date of the issuance of this citation, said Monday being the 18th day of November, A. D. 1929, and then and there to answer, at or before ten o'clock a. m., the original petition of Dick Lotzpeich, as Plaintiff, filed in said Court, on the 30th day of September, A. D. 1929, against J. T. McClanahan, W. R. Moore and J. N. Gaines, as defendants, said suit being numbered 85036, the nature of which demand is as follows, to-wit: That on or about September 12th, 1928, the defendant, J. T. McClanahan made, executed and delivered to Ben S. Long his seven vendor's lien notes, as follows: No. 1 to 4, inclusive for $100.00 each, and No. 5 for $150.00 and Nos. 6 and 7 for $250.00 each, all of said notes bearing interest at the rate of 7 per cent, and secured by a vendor's lien upon 120 acres of land out of survey No. 181, Block D,

John H. Gibson Grant in Yoakum County, Texas, described by metes and bounds as follows: Beginning at the N. W. corner of said survey No. 181; Thence south 71.6 vrs; thence East 956.4 vrs; thence North 711.6; thence West 950.4 vrs, to the place of beginning. That thereafter on October 26th, 1928 the said Ben S. Long sold the above described notes to Virginia Lotzpeich wife of plaintiff and transferred the lien securing the same. Plaintiff alleges that none of the said notes have been paid, and that the first three are now past due and unpaid. That the said McClanahan and wife sold to one H. C. Lee, and conveyed to said McClanahan three promissory notes for the total sum of $400.00, said notes being dated January 30th, 1926, that said notes executed by the said H. C. Lee are executed vendor's lien notes on the above described property. That the McClanahan sold notes Nos. 1 to W. R. Moore and plaintiff believes that said McClanahan sold notes Nos 2 and 3 to defendant J. N. Gaines.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that upon a final hearing hereof that he have judgment for his said debt, interest, attorney's fees, a foreclosure of said lien as against all defendants herein, and for the title and possession to said land and premises, all costs of suit and general relief.
Herein Fail Not, but on the return day hereinafter named, have you then and there before said Court, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

WITNESS, R. E. Neely, Clerk of the District Court of Tarrant County.
Given under my hand and seal of said Court in Fort Worth, this 30th day of September, A. D. 1929.
R. E. NEELY,
Clerk District Court, Tarrant Co. Tex.

MARTHA LEE BEAUTY WEEK
October 21st to 26th, 1929

We will have in our store during this Educational Beauty Week, a Toilet Goods Specialist direct from the manufacturers of the MARTHA LEE TOILETRIES. We have arranged a private booth in our store where you may consult with this Specialist about your beauty problems, and where the ladies who make appointments will be given—

Free Skin Analysis and French Pack Facial

As this Specialist will be with us only a short time and can take only a limited number of appointments we would advise that you call at our store or telephone now for an appointment, to avoid waiting.

We urge that you take advantage of this opportunity to obtain expert beauty advice without charge or obligation.

HOOVER SAYS MELLON TO CONTINUE IN POST

WASHINGTON.—Andrew W. Mellon will guide the fiscal affairs of the United States for the duration of the current administration. This announcement by President Hoover is intended to lay the rumors that the 74-year-old financier, who has held the treasury portfolio longer than any of his predecessors, is planning to retire.

HE NEEDED HIS LAWYER

HOUSTON.—Justice court was jammed as usual and justice was being ground out as case after case, rushed through. A portly man fell victim to after-luncheon drowsiness. He gently snored the case of a negro charged with theft was called. The assistant district attorney had nearly finished with the first witness, when a negro defendant his face a perfect picture of something gone wrong, leaned over and tapped Deputy Sheriff Morrison on the shoulder. "Mistuh Sheriff, wud you all min' wake up dat man—he's mah lawyer," he pleaded. An alarm clock gale of laughter awakened the lawyer and the charge was later dismissed. Our old side kick, A. L. Turner, called in Friday to renew.

TELEGRAM

From the Acorn Store Company New York: Arrangements completed for management of all Acorn Stores by new board of directors whose policy will be to promptly re-merchandise all Acorn Stores. Shipments will be made immediately on reasonable merchandise and usual low Acorn prices maintained.

The Board of Directors Is In Favor Of Using NATURAL GAS

Every home is in some respects like a corporation; Dad is President, and mother and the "Kiddies" are the Directors. Ask them and they'll tell you that they're strong for Natural Gas. At first Dad was reluctant to change from old-fashioned wood, coal and oil to gas, but the Board of Directors changed his mind and now he's glad they did. For natural gas has made Mothers task easier, made the house warm and healthful for the children, and enabled Dad to throw away the coal shoe.

MARRIED

Mr. Dalton Bibles and Miss Hazel Graves, popular young people of the Pool ranch settlement, came in last Sunday, and Rev. E. V. May said the words that united them for life's journey. We understand that they will make that community their home in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ransal left Saturday for Sweetwater where she will be joined by her nephew, Gus Farrar, and then go to Rising Star to visit a sister, then on to Palo Pinto to visit another sister, Mrs. Charles Randal of Seymour will meet them in Palo Pinto and all four sisters will be together for the first time in several years.

L. H. Bridger of the Herald a regular read-across from the bronze tablet referred to above. It is a cement affair. Inside is a casket lined with satin and through the glass top old Rip can be seen reposing in his last resting place. It is fitting that this best known of all frogs should be thus conspicuously remembered. May he long remain to whet the curiosity of those visiting the courthouse.

AESCULAPIAS.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to use this as one way of expressing our thanks to our many friends and neighbors for the kindness shown us by the gathering of our cotton and the many other deeds of kindness shown us in the past year of our trouble, also the gifts for ginning a part of the cotton.

May the Lord's richest blessing rest and abide on each of you in our never ceasing prayer.

Signed,
J. E. PATTERSON AND FAMILY.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE

THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF TERRY.

By virtue of an Order of Sale issued out of the District Court of Terry County, Texas, on October 1, 1929, on a judgment rendered in said Court on September 10, 1929, in Cause No. 1132, in favor of First National Bank of Meadow, against R. S. Nabors and G. T. Mitchell for the sum of $1903.38, with interest thereon from September 10, 1929, at 10% per annum, and costs of suit, and against G. T. Mitchell and Lula Mitchell for foreclosure of lien for the satisfaction of the sum of $533.45 of said judgment, with interest on said amount at 10% per annum from September 10, 1929, until paid, and all costs of suit, on the property hereinafter described, the said Order of Sale directed and delivered to me as Sheriff, I did on the 8th day of October, 1929, at 1:00 o'clock P. M., levy on the following described property situated in Terry County, Texas, as the property of G. T. Mitchell and Lula Mitchell:

Lots Nos. Nine (9) and Ten (10), Block No. Sixteen (16), of the Original Town of Meadow and all improvements thereon; and on the 5th day of November, 1929, between the hours of 10:00 o'clock A. M. and 4:00 o'clock P. M., at the Courthouse door of Terry County, Texas, in the City of Brownfield, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction, for cash, all the right, title and interest of the said G. T. Mitchell and Lula Mitchell in and to the said property.

WITNESS my hand this 8th day of October, 1929.

J. M. TELFORD,
10c Sheriff, Terry County, Texas

abutting property, or any interest therein, shall be and appear and will be fully heard concerning said improvements, the cost thereof, the amounts to be assessed therefor, the benefits to the respective parcels of abutting property by means of the improvement on the portion of avenue or street upon which the property abuts, and concerning the regularity, validity and sufficiency of the contract for, and all proceeding relating to, such improvements and proposed assessments therefor, and concerning any matter as to which they are entitled to hearing under the law in force in the City and under the proceedings of the City with reference to said matters. Following such hearing assessments will be levied against abutting property and owners thereof, and such assessments when levied, shall be a personal liability of the owners of such property and a first and prior lien upon the property as provided by the law in force in the city, and under which the proceedings are taken, being the Act passed at the First Called Session of the 40th Legis-ature of the State of Texas, and known as Chapter 106 of the Act of said Legislature.

The improvements on each said portion of avenue or street constitute an entirely separate and distinct unit of improvement, all to the same extent as if entirely separate and distinct proceedings had been taken with reference to the improvements and assessments therefore in connection with improvements on each such portion of street or avenue, and the assessments against the property abutting upon any unit shall be and are in no wise affected by any fact or circumstance relating to or connected with the improvements in other units.

Of all said matters and things, all owning or claiming any such property, or any interest therein, as well as all others in any wise interested or affected will take notice.

DONE by order of the City Council of the City of Brownfield, this 4th day of October, A. D. 1929.

City Secretary, City of Brownfield, Texas.

CONTROLLED VOLATILITY...

What have tank cars to do with motor cars? Just this. Every day, tank cars filled with Phillips 66 are shipped North, South, East and West. The volatility of the gasoline in each of these tank cars is scientifically controlled to fit the climatic conditions of the locality in which it is sold. The result? Instant starting, quick warm-up, rapid acceleration, remarkable power and mileage—regardless of weather—of no extra cost! For best results try a full tank of Phillips 66... or 66 Ethyl.

CAN A CHRISTIAN BE LOST?

Is apostasy, or what is commonly called falling from grace, possible? Can a regenerated person be lost? What does the Bible teach on this important subject? Pastor E. V. May of the Baptist Church will discuss this subject at the service Sunday evening, October 20, at 7:30. Be sure to hear him. "The Secret of A2 Service," is the subject for the sermon at 11 a. m. Sunday School at 10 a. m. Classes for all ages. E. Y. P. U.'s meet at 6:30. You are invited to attend all of these services.

MacDonald's Work
Lesson for Farmers
The Brain's White Temple
Mr. Mellon Stays

Ramsay MacDonald's work in America is well done. The United States and Britain have solemnly pledged themselves against war as between the two countries, and to the promotion of peace by all proper means everywhere.

What the future will bring forth what the British government following the present labor government, or what American public opinion may desire in the future, no one can say. But at least war has been classed as barbarous. The two most powerful nations in the world have declared against it, and that is progress.

It took human beings thousands of centuries to abandon cannibalism. Often, undoubtedly, they resolved to eat men no longer. And over and over the resolution was broken, when hunger came and the edible man was easily caught.

But cannibalism has disappeared. AND WAR WILL DISAPPEAR. Nevertheless, in days when the more civilized men were giving up cannibalism, they kept themselves ready to repel those that might come to eat them.

The United States and Great Britain, denouncing and abandoning war as between Britain and America, should keep ready and able to repel others that might seek to enforce war upon them.

Farmers, crying for "relief," may learn from New York's striking truck drivers that real relief can be found in organization.

The drivers haul farmers' produce and wanted an increase in pay representing as much as the average farmer earns. It was not difficult. The agreement was made that any farm produce hauled into New York must be unloaded from the farm truck and reloaded into a truck operated by a member of the Market Truckmen's association before it could be delivered to a commission house.

Who pays for that reloading, for the second truck and the services of another truckman, all unnecessary?

THE FARMER PAYS, OF COURSE.

Manufacturers of safes, co-operating with electricians, have made a gigantic steel box, so delicately arranged that it sounds an alarm if a burglar so much as lays his hands on it.

The slightest touch, even the laying of a hat on top of the safe, is felt, reported and brings policemen.

Such things amaze us, but each of us is just such a safe. A system of nerves covering the whole body sounds the alarm when anything is punctured or touched. And the brain always knows what is going on in the outside world. Lying gray and cold inside its "ivory temple," it sees, hears, feels, tastes and smells, and we don't know how.

There's a really wonderful safe.

President Hoover's announcement that Secretary Mellon has promised to remain in office until 1932 is good news. The public appreciates the willingness of Mr. Mellon, one of the two or three richest men in the world, to neglect his own business for the public business.

It requires not much intelligence to realize to what extent Mr. Mellon's work has contributed to national prosperity.

Himself a heavy taxpayer, directly or through corporation ownership, Mr. Mellon has paid off already many billions of the national debt. He continues the "pay as you go" policy, not shouldering war debts on future generations that may be less able to pay than today's prosperous generation.

Senator Shepard of Texas, as dry as the deepest spot in Death Valley, suggests amending the Volstead act to make purchasers of liquor as guilty and criminal as bootleggers.

Such an amendment, of course, would strengthen prohibition enormously. Respectable prosperity would refuse to buy, leaving jail and blackmail after buying.

But Senator Shepard's amendment probably will not pass; many legislators are themselves bootleg customers and don't believe in taking prohibition too seriously.

Thomas E. Mitten, recently drowned, had reorganized Philadelphia's street car system, establishing good relations with labor.

His will leaves millions for "the promotion and advancement of the cause of co-operation between capital and labor."

Rather a difficult program, even with several millions back of it. Labor wants from capital a fair share of what both produce, and doesn't always get it.

Capital wants from labor earnest co-operation, a real day's work, and doesn't always get it.

Peace between capital and labor is an issue, even more important than peace among nations, since it refers to a war that is always on.

While the police were hunting Alfred Hawthorth for swindling, Mrs. Ellen Manning of Chicago he returned to her home twice to get more money.

T. I. Brown has returned from South Texas, where he has been buying cotton.

Texas has an annual mineral production in excess of $500,000,000. Its mineral, farm, ranch and lumber production is around $2,000,000 a year.

Why Garza County Wins At The Fairs

There is nothing mysterious about the constant winning of Garza county at almost every fair in this section if one knows just how they manage to do it. This year they have won at both Lubbock and Abilene, and two who have traveled any know that Garza county has one of the best crops in Texas, and much better than that of other counties in this section. They have had no better crop other years when they have been constant winners.

They do not like this and perhaps other counties depend upon crops that farmers grow, but the chamber of commerce of Post is said to have purchased and employ a man to look after and cultivate a choice plot of land near the city for this very purpose, and he has nothing else to do from one end of the year to the other but to grow and prepare exhibits to show score cards at fairs. In view of this fact, it is nearly impossible for a county that depends on getting out among the farms two or three days before a fair comes off and gather together an exhibit, hardly that will compete with one that has been under preparation for months. No one blames Garza county for doing this, least of all the Herald. In fact, we admire the spirit and determination to win. But as long as the does this and other counties depend on the old plan outlined above, they as well not have an exhibit, for it is not even a fair test of what the county is producing that year.

These men having read of the deep plowing that has been done in Terry county were interested in the results and after being shown over the deep broke plots said that it reminded them of the fertilizer demonstrations of their country, the broke land showing about the same increase in yield over the listed land as fertilized over unfertilized land.

Mr. W. W. McGee expects to make Terry county his home while his father may move out later.

Mrs. J. K. Epperson, one of the early settlers of the south side, was in this week and informed us that she was moving to Tulia. We hope her removal will be only temporary.

Stewart Gives Figures Makes Correction

Editor of the Herald: We notice an article in last week's issue saying that the litter of pigs from two sows owned and fed out by the writer, brought $422.00. This is a bit misleading, but will state what I did say to a party recently, who was looking at the hogs at my place, and from whom we suppose the Herald got its information, that I had fed and sold two litters of pigs from these two sows this year (1929) that brought $433.00. But I should have stated it this way: The pigs saved from two litters, which was 29 in number, brought $433.00. We also told the same party that we had fed out and sold the pigs saved from four litters from these sows that brought $800.00. This was as I remembered, but when I got the correct figures, I found that I had sold $739.74 worth of hogs from the four litters, had killed one and will butcher another one soon for home use, which figured at the average of the ones sold, would make a total of $829.74 from these two sows. This is to correct the statement in the Herald and the one made by myself to one of my neighbors before getting the correct figures. We still have these two sows and 12 pigs, and will feed out and sell the two sows this year, and get the pigs ready for the spring market. Yes, we were at the Lubbock fair, and saw some of the finest livestock we have seen since we visited the Fat Stock show at Ft. Worth. Which proves beyond a doubt that the Plains will in the near future be the banner stock farming section of Texas. Yours for more and better stock farming in Terry.

Parks Puts His Herd Of Cows to the Test

A study of the September report sent out by the Cow Test by Mail Association to J. A. Parks of Tokio shows that his herd of five cows on test made an average of 33.7 pounds of butter fat for the month. At market prices for cream and skim milk these five cows produced $79.76 worth of these products.

The feed bill was $15.20 for cotton seed meal and $7.50 for ground kafir. This would leave a profit of $56.06.

Differences in cows was showed in this report also. One cow "Bob" produced 43.7 pounds fat that netted a profit above feed of $15.84 cents while "Greedy" produced 24.7 pounds that netted a profit of $6.70.

Mr. Parks says that he wants the cow that will give around 40 pounds of butter fat for a period of several months and that the best way to check up on them is to put the herd on test.

Franz Anna Zertrus of Dresden was heavily fined for selling her baby for $1,500.

HANDLESS WOMAN LOOPS HER PLANE

Stubs Serve as Arms, But She's Expert Pilot.

Los Angeles.—With stubs only six inches long to serve as arms, Miss Josephine Callaghan, twenty-two year old wealthy rancher and sportswoman recently graduated from the "stunt class" at Dyer airport when she piloted her plane alone through all the maneuvers required in the post-graduate division.

Miss Callaghan bought a Lincoln Page biplane when she was allowed to solo after 30 hours of instruction from Charles F. Dyer, chief pilot for the Dyer School of Commercial Aeronautics.

Instead of the regulation short control stick, Miss Callaghan had the plane equipped with a stick extending shoulder-high. At the top of the stick is a padded forked rod, and in the Miss Callaghan inserts one of her shortened arms.

Because of her height Miss Callaghan also had the pilot's seat raised so that she can see out and had the foot rudder bar moved up and back. Switches and throttle control also have been placed so that she can work them with her fingerless members.

Just before she zoomed her ship through a series of loops, wing overs and spins Dyer took her aloft for her last instructions.

"She tried two loops," Dyer said "and slipped out of both of them. That often unnerves the average pilot, but Miss Callaghan just nosed the ship over for the third time, gave it the gun and made a perfect loop. She is better than many of the men students I have instructed, having a high degree of persistence, nerve and ability to follow instructions."

"Nothing like it," Miss Callaghan declared. "Why, I can pilot that plane easier than I can drive an automobile and look at the time I save. Also it's the greatest thrill in the world, and I ought to know, because I've been riding my jumpers in horse shows for several years and driven all makes of automobiles."

Miss Callaghan keeps a stable of blue-ribbon winners on her estate at Encino and takes them East each season for competition in shows.

Woman's Two Weddings Just Two Too Many

Oklahoma City, Okla.—A modern version of the tale of Enoch Arden, but without the climax of love and sacrifice, is being re-enacted in court here.

Ella Mae McMullen, who is divorcing one husband because "she already had a husband," seems likely to lose both men. Her other mate, husband No. 1, threatens to sue her also.

Now all she asks is that her five-year-old daughter be returned to her. Ella Mae married E. W. McGruder, twenty-eight, years ago in Norman, Okla. After being happily married for three years she left him to visit her father. Returning she found her husband had gone to South America. This was in 1920.

He was later reported killed in an airplane crash there. The "widow" married Earl McMullen. Believing her first husband dead, she failed to divorce him.

Recently McGruder, now operating a filling station at the municipal airport here, appeared. Learning of his wife's second husband, he has threatened to sue her for divorce.

Materials for Candles

The Romans made candles of string surrounded by wax or dipped in pitch. Splinters of wood covered with fat were used in England about 1300. The Chinese make candles from wax obtained from the candleberry tree.

Pessimistic Inscription

A wealthy merchant in Trenton, N. J., died the other day. His will, after directing the disposal of his property, ordered that his tombstone bear this inscription below his name: "Has lived and accomplished nothing."

Famous Old Canal

The original canal connecting St. Marys falls and rapids was a crude affair made by trappers and traders in 1773 to connect with the Northwest country in order to permit them to complete in the transportation of furs with the Hudson's Bay company. This work was practically destroyed by United States troops in 1814 during the war with Great Britain, and in 1853 a system of canals was begun by the state of Michigan within the United States borders to connect Lakes Superior and Huron. This cost $1,000,000 and had two locks. It was enlarged in 1870 in co-operation with the United States government, and in 1882 Michigan relinquished control to the federal government.

Theatrical "Snow"

Few who slither through a "blizzard" on the moving picture screen know that the "snow" is cornflakes driven along by blowers. A mill in Chicago and another in Quebec make this "snow" out of white corn. This corn is first made into pearl hominy, then flaked, cooked and finally baked, when it is ready to be a "snowstorm." Breakfast cereals are made the same way except that salt and sugar are added, which gives them the brownish color. Flakes used in movie blizzards weigh only five ounces to the gallon. After a scene they may be swept up and used again.

"Standing Pat"

Pat is an adjective, probably from the French "pat," meaning that which suits the purpose of the occasion or meaning exactly suitable. The expression is used in poker to refer to a hand so satisfactory that its holder does not care to exercise the privilege of discarding and drawing cards. Hence the expression "stand pat." This came to mean opposition to a change of any kind, especially in United States politics. The phrase in this sense was first used to express the attitude of leaders of the Republican party by Senator Hanna in 1902.

Yearning for Red Hat Gets Boy in Trouble

La Plata, Mo.—A "whooper" hat led Leon Carlock, eleven-year-old schoolboy, into trouble here.

He longed for one of the new collegiate red hats. In fact, he told off-ficers that he couldn't think of anything else. Finally his desire got the best of him. He broke into a local meat market, taking $25 from the cash register.

The boy was in such a hurry for his hat that he asked the proprietor of a clothing store to open up after closing hour in order that he might get one. The owner of the store became suspicious of Leon and called police. The boy confessed.

Britain Wastes Millions Carelessly Each Year

London.—Great Britain throws away $750,000,000 in petty waste every year. That's the computation of an unnamed authority quoted by the Sunday Express. One important item of waste he lists is $15,000,000 worth of material left on the edges of plates. He also lists soap, match ends, candle ends, cigarette butts, tickets, pins and clips, gas, electricity and fuel, bones, town refuse, tin cans and waste paper.

Kansas Town Anxious to Sell Nice Hoosergow

Erie, Kan.—Would some one like a nice, comfortable hill? Erie has one that is going to be auctioned off in the near future to satisfy three years of back paying taxes. It is not that Erie has been reformed, but that prisoners are now kept in the county hoosergow instead of the city jail. In recent months the jail has been satisfactorily used as a cow barn.

DIED

W. E. Henson was a Dallas visitor last Thursday. S. J. McLeroy was a pleasant visitor at the Herald office Saturday.

Mrs. Clinton Edwards, (known here as Miss Lois Grimes) of Girard, Texas, passed away at a sanitarium at Baird after an illness of several weeks.

She leaves to mourn her going a husband, infant twin sons, her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Grimes of Tokio community, two sisters, Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Jeter of this place, and four brothers, Jim, O. W., A. D. and Weldon Grimes.

She was a consistent christian and faithful wife. She was patient and uncomplaining to the end although she suffered much. Although it is sad to give her up, may her friends and loved ones console themselves with the thought that she has gone to a better land where there is no sorrow or pain.

of least resistance. Self sacrifice is another essential. One must be able to turn down chances of enjoyment in order to prepare himself for school; that is learn to sacrifice present pleasure for future gain.

Thursday morning Miss Patterson especially stressed the need of study in our own high school. As proof of this fact statistics on the first month's work were given. She also gave some very good advice, which is as follows: To study effectively the student must know the correct assignment and enter into it with a vigor and determination. The old adage, "Work while you work and play while you play" is a good motto for every high school student. Work independently. Ask for help only when you have exhausted your own resources. Something worth while gained alone is worth many many things gained through aid of others.

Friday morning Miss Lang began by asking the assembly why do we study? So that we may learn to conquer difficulties is the answer. When you cannot solve a problem the first time, try again and again until you conquer it even though it takes a year. Never give up when you study study with your whole mind. Do not interrupt your studying by speaking to your neighbor in study hall, sharpening your pencil, punching one in front of you, when you think the teacher is not looking. School is a preparation for the future therefore if you get the habit of studying and conquering in school you will love to conquer the difficulties that arise in your later life.

The series was continued Monday morning when Miss Perkins briefly emphasized the two points of first, getting the assignment correctly and second, the use of willpower to keep one's self at the sometimes distasteful task of studying.

On Tuesday morning Mr. Lawless brought out the point that our training in high school is calculated to teach us to conquer difficulties that may come up later in life. He stressed the point that we should realize our opportunities and take advantage of them.

TALES OUT OF SCHOOL

Mr. Lawless: Have any of you ever done without four meals right straight in a row?

David: I do not do without my meals, but I put them off sometimes.

Mr. Hayhurst: You have to amuse yourself or you will go crazy.

Kathryn: You never do amuse yourself do you?

Miss Patterson: R. L. spell hyena.

R. L. J-A-M-E-S M-I-C-H-I-E.

Mr. Hayhurst had been talking about how the men of Colonial times could do anything. He said, "They even made their own trousers."

Somebody was heard to say, "Their wives made them."

Miss Perkins: It is very interesting to compare the length of life of Holmes with that of Poe who was born the same year. Poe had been dead forty-two years when he died.

Roy has very high ambitions, he also likes to meet people. He and Flip seem to be very well acquainted with the members of the "South Plains Fair association." We just wonder why?

Mary Handley is a very capable driver. What man could talk and steer and powder his nose at the same time.

"This one is on the house," said the hen as she laid an egg on the roof.

Dick Burson: Away out here where there's nothing going on I never know what to do with my week-end.

Gillian Graham: Why not put your hat on it?

Theo: What are you doing with an apple on the end of your fishing line?

Woodrow: Fishing.

Theo: Yes, but what's the apple for?

Woodrow: Bait.

Theo: Bait, you should have a worm.

Woodrow: Well, there's a worm inside the apple.

Miss Long: Ah, the table is groining with good things to eat.

Lee: That ain't the table that's groining. It's dad. He's counting up what the dinner cost him.

Mr. Hayhurst: What is the shape of the earth?

Nettie: Round.

Mr. Hayhurst: How do you know it's round?

Nettie: All right, it's square, then; I don't want to start any argument.

When Vernon Bell went to Lubbock to the fair he decided that the cotton there was so much better than it is here that he just spent the night in the cotton patch, so he would get an early start picking, but prices not being as good as he thought they should be, he walked home.

Cicero Smith Purchases Southwest Corner Lot

The Cicero Smith Lumber Co. announced Monday that they had closed a deal with W. G. Hardin for the two west lots, one a corner lot on the south side of the square. This company has been negotiating for this piece of property, for some time, and as we understand they aim to improve the property, all property owners in that section will be glad to know the deal has been put over. The purchase price was $3,500 we understand.

While we have not been definitely informed by the company as to their intentions toward the new property, we have heard it rumored that they will erect a nice brick office building and supply storage on the property 50x150 running back to their lumber buildings in the rear. Their old buildings cover half a block and with this addition, they will be one of largest institutions, if not the very largest of its kind in this section. This property will be paved on both sides, and will then be very valuable.

WELL EQUIPPED

The small daughter of a motor car tire salesman was playing on the lawn of their home when her attention was attracted, for the first time, by trip-lets. She ran excitedly into the house crying, "Mother, mother, I've just seen twins and a spare."

WASTING TIME

Artist—"You'd be surprised to know how much time was spent on this painting."
Friend—"Yes, I've heard that people stand here by the hour trying to make out what it represents."

A Trip To Chicago And How to Win It

The Santa Fe again offers nineteen free trips to 4-H clubs of Texas. Any boy between the ages of 1 and 31 who is enrolled in the 4-H club and resides within a county touched by the Santa Fe railway is eligible to try for one of these trips.

Only one boy from any one County can make the trip and one one trip can be made by any boy.

Winners will be selected by a committee at A. & M. college from record books submitted to them by County Agents.

The basis of awards will be:
A. Production 30%
B. Profit 30%
C. Record (judged on accuracy and completeness) 20%
D. History (including a complete story of work done, such as exhibits, news stories, pictures, 20%

Total 100%
All club boys over 14 years of age should submit their record books to the County Agent by October 25th.

This trip was won by Herbert Chessir last year and is without a doubt the greatest opportunity offered to a boy. It is hoped that Terry county will again have a boy to make this trip and he will be a fortunate boy indeed, who gets this free trip to America's largest city to see the world's largest livestock exposition.

All boys who wish to try for this trip should see the county agent at once.

THE APPEAL

He glanced at the beautiful woman beside him, his look heavy with anxiety and humble pleading, but she was unconscious of his appeal. For long moments he watched her, struggling with his emotions, desiring, yet afraid, to ask the question, that trembled on his lips. At last he spoke, wistfully:
"Ma, c'n I have the little piece of pie that was left from dinner?"

PAYING UP

Many are paying up their subscriptions before we go to $1.50 in county. Most of these are Terry County people. We are expecting to get a response from out of county people or we will be obliged to cut them off. It is too expensive to send out duns. Watch the label on your paper.
