OURS ABOUT EQUAL TO NEW ENGLAND WEATHER

If You Ever Want to Know Anything Else about the Weather in This Section, You'll Have to Address all Communications to Your Wife's Kin Folks

We fellows and fellowettes who are well into our forty's whether we acknowledge it or not, either studied Swinton's or McGuffey's readers—the writer tried both. In one or the other was an extract from Mark Twain's description of New England weather. We use to read and reread the piece, and laugh and re-act. We could always find something funny in Mark Twain's writings every time we read them that we failed to get the first time. There was always a bit of sublime wit hidden under a few words that we had failed to note before, having at first only unearthened the big laugh on the surface, as it were.

In this article he tells us that one will start out in New England without an umbrella and get drowned before they return. Or perhaps it looks like rain, but before they get to a short destination, they are sunstruck. An earthquake arrives, and they catch a telephone pole to steady themselves, and are felled by a bolt of lightning. He even once built a tin roof over his bedroom, as he always liked to head rain on a tin roof, but it skipped his roof every time.

We have no such luck out here in the dry, dry west as having rain to skip any kind of roof lately. It rains on tin ones, shingle, tar paper, tar and gravel or no roofs at all, every week without end, clouds or no clouds, with the wind from any direction, cold or hot, warm or indifferent. It rains, it pours, it floods, and our Arkansas citizens are no longer ashamed to show their feet as everyone else has webbed feet too, now.

We've told the readers so much about the weather lately that they are beginning to think that's all we know to write about or have gone goofy, but we have not been more persistent than the weather. We have promised this and that one that when it cleared in the day time and the wind got in the southwest, they could expect clear weather. It did both Sunday, and as we write this Tuesday night, we expect rain any minute. We have based our predictions on our 21 years experience with the weather in Terry county, but we now and hereby tender our resignation to the newest tenderfoot in the county, black or white, male or female.

Digging Up Back Taxes Hardship on Many

The officials of Terry County are now busily engaged in making people dig up back taxes over a period of a number of years, and woe to him who is not able to show a tax receipt, or cannot find someone else who has one on the property. The law says that these taxes must be paid, and the officers are only attending to their sworn duty when they force the payment of these taxes.
But it is working an injustice to a number of innocent parties. We do not blame county officials to make people pay these taxes, but it is unfair to wait so long to launch such a drive. There are scarcely any one who keeps their poll tax receipts more than a half dozen years at the most, and if the property has been paid on every year to their certain knowledge, but due credit was not notated on the books, or they have lost their tax receipts, it is just too bad. Or perhaps the one who should have paid the taxes has moved away, or died, or gone out of business. Well, the next owner has to pay it or is involved in a law suit.
To illustrate, the writer was subjected to just such a coincidence the past week, and we have heard of others. He bought a piece of property in the year 1916 that the town-site company required and should have paid the taxes for that year. But they did not, and there is not on any such thing as a Brownfield Township Co. The next year, 1917, he sold this property, but paid the taxes for that year, and has not owned the property since, but he gave a deed that said he and his heirs would defend the title of the purchaser of this property, and as suit for the 1916 taxes was threatened, he had to pay these taxes with its long accumulated interest, penalties, etc. There was no one to go back on that is functioning at this time.
Now, if you call that justice, we have no objection, but we don't. These taxes, if collected at all, should have been brought to light 13 or 14 years ago, and not waited till the good year 1929.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Herald of last week contained an article taken from the Lynn County News, which stated that that city had put over its county fair without calling on its citizens for a single dime, as the chamber of commerce had provided the funds that were needed in addition to those received from carnival concessions. Looks pretty good on paper, but when it is known that the Taboka organization has a budget of around $5,500 annually and that the Brownfield organization is functioning on less than $3,000, and putting over a similar program, it is not so startling. The Taboka paper of last week also stated that their secretary had talked to several fair managers in other sections of the South Plains and that theirs was the only one that had not called on citizens to take care of a deficit. This does not apply to Terry County Fair, altho we had a small deficit, not as large as last year, and it is being taken care of out of chamber of commerce funds and no individual has been requested to assist in wiping it out. I don't see much difference, if any, as the money to keep the chamber of commerce going is provided by the same fellows who subscribed to our fund and its just as broad as it is long. We still maintain that we put over the best county fair held in West Texas this year and were informed by the owner of a carnival company that was playing in a neighboring town and who visited us on a tour of inspection, that he had covered Texas and Oklahoma for seventeen years and that there was more co-operation exhibited between merchants and farmers than at any place he had ever visited.
For more than a year the chamber of commerce band, has been disorganized and there has been a number of times when a band was badly needed, but nothing was done, aside from wishing we had it. A few days ago, a Mr. Blackwell, appeared here and after talking with the secretary, proceeded to undertake to organize what he terms the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce band and form all reports, he is meeting with success and has interested a membership of about thirty, a majority of whom are seasoned players. He plans to furnish music for the American Legion celebration of Armistice Day on the 11th and also play a concert on the first day of the Terry County Teachers Institute which will be in session within the next few days. Nothing equals a band when you want to put over a celebration in the best way and for other publicity purposes and we should not have allowed our other organization to die from a lack of financial support. It takes some money to keep a band in running order, just the same as anything else and Mr. Blackwell, expects to call upon the citizens for some financial support, but is not going to ask them to subscribe to his fund until he is able to show as that he can deliver the goods. The writer has been elected Manager, but has not attended any of the rehearsals, altho there has been several.
The American Legion Armistice Day program will begin about 5 A. M. on the 11th and if you are awakened by loud noises, don't think that it is an earthquake or an aerial attack. The parade will occur about 9-10 and

Rotarians Had Interesting Meeting Friday

Two good Rotarians invited the writer out to their program and splendid repast at the Hotel Brownfield last Friday. As Will Alf Bell hit us up first, we claimed his invitation, and held the one by County Agent Roy Davis in reserve. But Will Alf was late and it looked like we would just have to stand around and hear the preachments, and watch 'em eat all the good fried chicken and roast ribs while 'em mouth watered. But it was music in our ear when Roy noticed our woe-begone expression, and sang across the table that "be had us" and to sit down.
Dick McDuffie had charge of the program, which started immediately after the meal was over, with a Rotary song, "Get Together." This was followed by an unusually fine paper by Miss Lenore Brownfield on the subject of fire prevention. We want to say right here if the older citizens of this town had given the subject of fire prevention the thought from every angle the young lady has given it, there would be precious few fires here. And if schools are teaching fire prevention to all pupils, and they have taken the lesson at this young lady, the fellow that has a fire without good cause in the next generation, will be classed as either a fool or careless individual, which means about the same thing.
Dick then delivered a fine preachment on how the club could keep a good spirit of cooperation and friendship among the business men of the town who ran business institutions in competition with each other. Several others, including Dr. Dodson endorsed Dick's sermon, which was fine from every angle. A hot contest between the teams of Rotarians is on as explained last week, and you can bet your son—that they are watching each other and counting noses and reading by-laws on just what constitutes attendance. All were invited out to see the boy scout court of honor that night by Rev. E. V. May.

Uncle Johnny Explains Radio Disturbances

Uncle Johnny King, erstwhile corn buyer of this city, but who at present it out at Farwell, Texas, "chousing" the farmers of that section out of their grain, writes in under the date of the 30th to tell us that he has a full explanation of the noises the editor of this sheet recently heard over the radio and laid it on some of the guys in this town who are using old worn out motors.
Uncle Johnny says that one night recently while sitting comfortable at home he heard a noise as if a small battle was taking place down town. Thinking all the banks in the town were being robbed, and having 35c in one of them himself (we just guessed at the amount) he grabbed his old forty-some-odd and hit a bee line for town. As the noise receded, Uncle Johnny gave even faster chase, until he suddenly found that he was a mile or so the other side of the city, and friend wife trailing him some two blocks behind trying to tell him to not kill anybody. He finally found that he had been chasing a model 13 Ford that was harking.
Somehow, we have our doubts about this explanation, as he says it was night and he at home. To our notion he just wanted an excuse to get out that night and had hired this old Ford man to run by his house with the buckfire apparatus wide open, and that was the signal for him to make his getaway. But, it seems that Mrs. King can run just about as fast as Uncle Johnny, and after that individual ran himself down, he was gently but firmly led back home to the family fireside.
However, we still think a lot of Uncle Johnny, as he sent us another dollar for the Herald along with his wild story.

Deep Breaking Starts Early in Terry County

Breaking sod to the depth of 16 inches was begun Monday on the Arthur Sawyer place south of Lahey. This extraordinarily deep breaking is of the Lone Star Grader Co., of Lubbock. A "Sixty" caterpillar tractor and a twenty inch J. I. Case brush being done by Jno. L. Chesley, mgr. plow are being used in turning the shinnery, and mesquite bushes under. These implements ask no favors but take the grubs large or small.
Breaking of this 160 acres will be the largest plot that has been broken in the two years of experimenting with deep breaking and will be the first trial on new land. There has been around 150 acres broke at depths of 1 1/2 to 20 inches in Gaines and Terry counties the past two years and without an exception it has yielded about fifty per cent more than on listed land.
The cost of breaking is another problem that will be solved in this demonstration. A number of farmers will have a part of their farms if it can be done at a reasonable cost.
Further information will be given as the plowing progresses and every one who is interested is urged to visit the demonstration.

New Variety Store to Open Saturday A. M.

Fain & Co., the big new variety store will formerly open here for business Saturday morning in the beautiful building just completed for them on the north side of the square, between the Head-Hargrave store and the 'M' System store. They have a big line of special bargains that day, and will have an array of them all the time, but they are very special Saturdays.
Mr. Fain himself is here from the headquarters store at Childress and with the local manager, Mr. W. G. Harris, personally to see that all have a great welcome to the new trading center of the city. We call your attention to their large display ad in this issue of the Herald. Bend all of it and be prepared to a bargain feast Saturday.
R. F. Edwards, Maytag washing machine agent, called recently and became a regular reader.

Alvin Mitchell to Work For Church of Christ

Beginning next Sunday, Alvin Mitchell, of Lamesa, will take charge of the work of the local church of Christ. He filled the pulpit both Sunday morning and night to good audiences who enjoyed his discourses. He is a young man, having just finished at A. C. C. last year, but is wonderfully well read for a man his age, and has good delivery as most preachers twice his age.
He took as a bride one of the young ladies of Lamesa last week in order to better fit himself for the work here. This week they are visiting his parents at Hillsboro, as he wanted to show mother and dad the new daughter before starting his work here. He will return Saturday, and he seems to be chuck full of energy, the congregation is expecting a good work from him, even though he has not had a great deal of experience. He worked one year for the Comanche church before coming to Lamesa.

Shell Explodes and Injures Local Teacher

While burning trash in the yard last Saturday, Mrs. Eva Savage happened to get into the trash, panned to a very painful accident when a large caliber pistol shell, exploded from the heat. The shell passed through the fleshy part of the calf of her limb and left a very ugly wound.
She carefully cleaned and dressed the wound herself, and continued her household duties for the rest of the day, and we understand is back in the school room this week seemingly as usual for the experience.

Yes, Brownfield Has Its Quota of Machinists

It makes one feel a little more secure that has to run a lot of intricate machinery way out here in a little city, far from the marts of manufacture, to know that we have some of the best machinists in this section in case anything goes wrong, and one of the best of these is one of the old timers, Roy Harris, who settled with his parents in this county some 25 years ago.
Several years ago we broke a large casting to our old Model L lineotype machine we had in those days, and we were almost positive that New Orleans, La., the nearest Mergenthaler branch was the closest place to rescue us. That meant a wire and one or two days to wait. But we called up Roy and he had us going by 3 P. M., and the break happened at noon.
A large casting on our new press broke several weeks ago, that had to be put together just right, as it had cog teeth and holes for bolts that had "FIT" right. He fixed it. We broke the last old cast iron case for the 16x15 jobber recently, and as they are no account to begin with, we carried an old chase made of steel up to Roy's shop, and out of it they made us a good steel chase out of it by cutting and reconstructing it from beginning to end, and it cost less than we could have bought a second hand one, and we could not have secured one either new or second hand perhaps this side of Dallas.
When you break down, don't be too sure your break can't be fixed until you see Roy Harris, and there are other good ones here too, that we will tell you about from time to time.

Get a "Close-up" of Football at the Riako

An amazing close-up of an Army-Navy football game, one of the annual classics of the gridiron world, is afforded theatre-goers in "Salute," John Ford's thrilling all talking Fox Movietone picture which comes to the Riako Theatre Sunday and Monday.
The story is climaxed with exciting events, both heard and seen, in an Army-Navy game played at the Polo Grounds in New York. George O'Brien, Helen Chandler, William Janney Stepin Fetchit and Frank Albertson are among those featured in the production.
Details of action lost to football crowds because of the very immensity of present day stadiums were caught by the Fox Movietone camera's magnifying lens. All the talk that snaps across the line of scrimmage is clearly audible in some of the most remarkable scenes of their kind ever filmed.
O'Brien is shown as an All-American halfback on the West Point team, while Janney depicts the role of O'Brien's brother, a substitute end on the Annapolis squad. Director Ford and fifty players from the Fox West Coast Studios spent six weeks at Annapolis and West Point.
West Point and Annapolis football formations and styles of attack were closely followed. Many Navy and Army stars actually appear.

West Texas Gas Co. Moves Into New Home

The West Texas Gas Co. has moved into its permanent and new home constructed for them by Leo Thompson, local contractor, on east main street. While not largest by any means, this is one of the most beautiful buildings architecturally speaking in the city, and at the same time is one of the best arranged and appropriate for that which it was intended. It certainly does grace the section of the city in which it is built, being right out at the dividing line of the business and residential sections of the city. But of course in a few years, it will be in the business section strictly.
It is just as beautiful on the interior as exterior, and is made especially to display gas cooking stoves, heaters and other gas appliances and fixtures. It even has a few place gas heaters that give the best office the suggestion of home, yet the place is heated by steam radiators generated by gas, and the temperature can be regulated to any desired degree. A built in sink is also a feature, for keeping the books and other valuable papers.
Besides being a change and display room, less they will arrange their gas gauges so that they may be able to see at a glance just how the gas pressure is over the city, and lower or raise it according to needs.

Both Banks to Close Armistice Day—Mon.

The Brownfield State Bank and the First National Bank of this city take this means of notifying their customers that they will be closed all day, Monday, November 11th, which is Armistice Day and a national holiday.
Customers should make their arrangements accordingly on Saturday the 9th to tide them over both Sunday and the holiday. The banks will be open Tuesday morning, November 12 as usual, at the usual hour, for business.
TERRY COUNTY HERALD

OIL AND WEST TEXAS

An echo from the recent official announcement of the Bureau of Mines that Texas has assumed first place among the oil-producing States was heard in the hearing at San Antonio on the application of the Abilene & Southern, a branch of the Texas & Pacific, to extend from Ballinger to San Angelo. The need of increased rail facilities to handle the oil development of West Texas was stressed by the T. & P. as a cogent reason for granting the application.

While the cattle industry was not overlooked in the railroad argument, the importance attached to oil transport creates a new picture of the West Texas plains. Not many years ago, the section almost in entirety was regarded as cattle country. Its prosperity depended on the price of beef and hides. Its one crop grazed on the hoof. West Texas is still a cattle section, as Texas is still a cattle State. But in thirty years, for all the tremendous increase in value, the number of Texas cattle has decreased from nearly nine and a half million to a little more than five and a half. It is a numerical decrease that can be charged less to changes in the industry than to the development of West Texas, to decrease of range acreage in favor of towns and cities, and to the rise of other interests to crowd the cattle baron into his own corner.

Not the least of these developments is oil. In 1900, when there were 9,430,000 cattle in Texas, oil had hardly been heard of. Today petroleum ranks with cotton as the Texas money crop. West Texas with its remarkable production in the Permian basin is the factor which has swept the State from third to first place in production.—Dallas News.

The Herald is now going to Capt. P. M. Burnett at Clarendon, complimentary of his son John, who reports that his dad, while very feeble, seems to be feeling some better since cooler weather came on.

We are sorry to announce that Tom Glover, old timer of this section, is with his family moving to Colorado City. He has a position there with a drug store, he informs us.

PRISONS

"Stone walls do not a prison make, Nor iron bars a cage," was written by Sir Richard Lovelace, a writer of the Puritan Age of English Literature in his "To Althea, from Prison," and those two lines hold worlds of significance. We think of a prison as a place where people who are menaces to society and the common welfare are kept that they may not steal, murder or commit some other hideous crime. We think of a cage as a place where wild animals are kept, but we can, by just drifting along and going the way of least resistance, put ourselves in a prison without stone walls or in a cage without iron bars. Our intelligence and ability to overcome difficulties of everyday life determine the bounds of the prison in which we live. To keep the walls from closing in on us until we can not live, but barely exist, we must decide what we are going to do in life and work to that end. The question of a life's work is one that every individual must decide for himself, because no one else can do it for him satisfactorily. During school life, when we are young and bubbling over with energy and ambition, is the time to make that decision. A goal, a definite aim in life will spur us on to accomplish greater things. We will be able to better live for ourselves as well as others, and thus determine the bounds of the world in which we live.

THE SCHOOL

We have heard the saying, "Life is what you make it." So it is with a school. If we go into a school room, cross and have our lessons unprepared we find that the teacher is cross and everything is irritating. If we go into the room cheerfully but quietly we find that our instructor is very good humored and willing to instruct.

As Mr. Hayhurst says, "Get the school spirit." We should all get the "school spirit." Not that we need to yell and sing about it but we must dig into those studies and grasp the real meaning of school. Of course we need our yells and songs for a "pull work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." But if

"We work while we work,
And play while we play,
We will find life,
Bein' happy and gay."

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

During Fire Prevention Week beginning Monday Oct. 21, a representative from each class gave a talk on fire prevention at the morning assembly.

The first talk was on "Fire Waste" delivered by Juanita Perkins, a senior. Lenore Brownfield, a junior, gave a talk on "Fire Prevention, As a Civic Benefit" Tuesday morning. The Freshman Class was represented by Ray Brownfield who spoke on "Dangers of Dry Cleaning in the Home." Nettie Thompson delivered a talk on "Fire Prevention in Rural Communities" for the Sophomores.

DR. PRESTON SPEAKS TO HIGH SCHOOL

Dr. Preston spoke to the students and teachers on "Life" Monday, November 4, at the morning assembly. He began by asking if any one could name something of value which wasn't of relative value to life. He said in effect: health and death have been mentioned but how could there be health or death without these first being life. Stone has been mentioned but it is used mostly for building purposes and as man does the building life is still required. As life is so important, begin it rightly instead of trying to adjust it after maturity.

Rome had a great army; Athens was a great educational center. Both fell and America will fall unless it produces noble men and pure women. If America would produce such men and women, character must be developed, the fundamentals of which are truth and virtue.

BROWNFIELD TIES FRESHMEN TECH

Brownfield played the Freshman team of the Texas Tech on the local field last Thursday the 24th. The Tech team had a much larger team, but the local boys had the best of the contest although the result in the end was a scoreless tie. The line showed up better in this game than any other game besides the game with Post. The star of the game for the local boys was Mr. Hayhurst who is coach of the local boys.

The first quarter:
Tech kicks off and Brownfield carries the ball to their 30 yard line. After two plays the Brownfield boys kick and down Tech on the 30 yard line. Tech makes first down and after failing to make any gain the next play kick to Brownfield's 20 yd. line. Brownfield makes first down. Brownfield kicks to Tech 40 yard line. Tech pass for a 38 yard gain. Quarter ends. Cubs 0; Tech 0.

Second Quarter:

BROWNFIELD SCORES ANTON 20-6

The Brownfield Cubs played the Anton team on the local field last Friday the 1st and defeated them by a score of 20 to 6. Although the Anton team was heavier than the local players, Brownfield outplayed them badly. In the first quarter Brownfield pushed over a touchdown and in the next quarter made two more touchdowns when Ballard caught a pass and fell over the touchdown line and when Miller broke loose on an off tackle play and ran for sixty yards. The only touchdown for the Anton players came in the last quarter after a series of long passes.

SENIOR RINGS COME

After long watching and patient waiting, the Senior rings at last arrived. Before some of the Seniors received their rings, people could not distinguish the Seniors from the Juniors but now one can very easily distinguish between them for there is a smile on every Senior's face and the left hand is always in a conspicuous place.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Thursday night at 7:30 a large crowd of pleasure seekers met at the home of Frances Brownfield to enjoy another halloween. Bernice Carpenter read the definition of halloween—after which all had their fortunes told by witches and ghosts. All day suckers were served.

From there the crowd went next to the House of Horror, at Cordie Mae Shepherd's. Here popcorn balls were served. The next place was at the home of Kathryn Holgate. Many games were played and the ones most cleverly dressed were Florence Holt and Lee Brownfield. Hot chocolate and cookies were served.

TALES OUT OF SCHOOL

Mr. Hayhurst: What do we take up in history this morning?
Don: (absent-mindedly) We take up the map.

Miss Patterson: Roy can you prove this proposition?
Roy: I don't have to prove it. I will admit it is so.

A group of high school boys were watching a terrapin race and they noticed that Theo was jumping up and down and hollering "come on somethin'." Don went over to him and asked him, "Why don't you call on the name of the one you bet on." Theo answered, "Cause I bet a nickel on each one and I want one of them to win."

Mr. Teece went into a barber shop and sat down in a barber chair to get a shave. After awhile he found out that the man who was shaving him had been drinking. He stayed there until the man finished and there were a few cuts on his face. Wishing to show the man a lesson he pointed to the cut places on his face and said, "See here, this is the results of drinking liquor." Barber: "Yes, sir it sure does give you a tender skin, don't it?"

Mr. Lawless: What did the man at the door want?

Halloween has passed and the youngsters left the old town whole and like it was the night before which speaks well for the younger set coming on now.

A U. S. Senator was publicly censured by his colleagues Monday for his indiscretion of inviting a big manufacturer to set in the Senate Conference when the committee was considering a tariff schedule.

At present there seems to be one fly in the ointment of the peace of the world, and that is Italy, led by a conceited freak, who imagines that he is the world's combined Nero, Caesar, Napoleon, Wellington, Washington and Lincoln.

It is reported that a man dropped into a local restaurant and asked if he could do some work for a meal, whereupon the big hearted proprietor advised him that he had sufficient help to do their work, but he would not allow him to go hungry, and told him to sit down and he was served one of their regular fifty cent meals.

When we stop to consider the matter we find that about as many if not a majority of people are killed over frivolous things that could easily have been settled if one or both parties had used just a bit of judgment instead of trying to show the other fellow that he was a man not to be tampered with.

land, the percentage will automatically decrease as over there. There are more murders in some of our larger cities with two or three million people than there are in the British Isles with their 60 million people.

Today more than 100 billion dollars insurance is carried in the United States. Insurance men say this figure will be doubled in the next ten years. Life insurance policies are devised to meet business situations as well as to protect widows and children.

While the figures for divorce in Terry County in comparison with marriages are low compared to counties having large cities within them, here were lots too many of them even here, and we hope that our present law making marriages more difficult will cause a halt in legal separations in Texas.

Pantages says he thinks he got a raw deal. Its possible, but hardly probable it was raw enough. If the evidence of the young lady in the case was true, and no doubt it was, she got the raw deal, in the defaming of her character.

But there is serious doubt in the minds of many that the girl in question did not actually frame this old man. It is an admitted fact that Pantages did not want to put on her dance as he considered it indecent.

CON. JONES ADDRESSES LETTER TO FARM BOARD

October 29, 1929 Honorable Alexander Legge, Chairman, Federal Farm Board, Washington, D. C.

I desire to call your attention to H. J. Res. 96, which I have introduced in the House, and which authorizes the granting of the same freight rate reductions on surplus wheat and cotton intended for export, that are now granted certain industrial articles; and authorizing and directing the Interstate Commerce Commission to make the same or similar reductions.

When iron and steel are shipped from Pittsburgh to New York for domestic use the rate is 34 1/2 cents per hundred. When intended for shipment abroad the rate between the same points is 20 cents per hundred.

On fertilizer shipped from St. Louis to Galveston, the domestic rate is 36 cents per hundred; when intended for export the rate is reduced to 23 cents per hundred.

modities above named. Don't you think this would be fair?

After our fight of last winter the Commission temporarily reduced some of the rates on wheat intended for export, but those reductions in addition to being temporary were mainly from the terminal centers rather than from the production centers.

I want to ask the Farm Board to join in a request to the Commission to correct these inequalities, either by reducing the export freight rates on cotton and wheat, or by doing away with all of the reductions on industrial export commodities, so that the entire rate structure may be brought down.

I appreciate the difficulties of the Farm Board, and am making this request in the utmost good faith and for the purpose of rendering any possible aid in correcting these manifest inequalities. This would mean a saving of millions of dollars to the wheat and cotton growers of America, and

Lovelace Gro. Moving To New Location

The W. R. Lovelace grocery has moved from their old location on west Main to their new place on the north side of the square this week. In the building formerly occupied by the Enterprise Food Palace, conducted by Earl Anthony. This building which has been thoroughly cleaned and garnished, is some 20 feet longer than the old building, giving them room for expansion.

Somewhere about Saturday the 23rd of this month, this store will enter the chain store grocery under the name of the Jack Long Helpy-Selfy line, and before that time will be remodeled for that purpose. In the mean time customers will find them at the new place under the old name doing business as usual and with their usual line of grocery bargains.

City Has New Tractor On Street Work Now

Someone was rearing old blazes with Street Com. Tom May about the deplorable condition of our streets not long since, and he informed them that the little old 15 horse power tractor that has done service on the streets for the past few years seemed to have come unglued all at once and dropped to pieces, but that he was looking for one of a later type and 35 horsepower most any day.

The tractor came in a week or two ago, and the city has kept it going pretty well when the weather permitted since, and if they could get two or three weeks of clear weather streets back in passable shape.

It is expected that the paving contractors will get on east Main to make their grade in the next few days, and Hill and Broadway will have to carry a lot of traffic until it is paved.

"FAREWELL SERMONS"

At the Methodist church next Sunday at 10:50 a. m., the sermon subject will be "The Greatest Magnet in the World." This will be an inspiring sermon pointing toward the final triumph of Jesus Christ.

At 7 p. m., the sermon subject will be "How to Get the Greatest Kick Out of Life."

The young and the old; the rich and the poor; the educated and the ignorant ought to hear this sermon. It will give a real philosophy of life, told in a most interesting way.

My "Farewell Sermons" in Brownfield. You are cordially invited to hear them.

Rev. B. W. Dodson, D. D.

J. M. Johnston, one of our old readers on the south route who maintains that he went broke when all the other farmers of Terry county did in 1926, and had to quit the Herald then on account of that fact, is back on the job as a regular reader. We hope he don't go broke again.

M. R. Shaw, of south route, was a pleasant caller at the Herald office the past week.

Paul Crawford, who has been here for several months in the employ of the Hunter Drug Store, is leaving this week for his old home in Paris, Texas, where he will work for an oil concern.

H. W. Nelson, of the Alexander Drug Store, who with Mrs. Nelson, have just returned from their honeymoon, are occupying the Glajys Green residence.

The White House Grocery has gone into the Grocery Guild, beginning Saturday, which is one of the popular chain groceries. Read their ads as they are giving some rare bargains, and are serving good coffee free all day Saturday.

Good News, Generally
Senator Nye in a Hurry
And Hear John D. R.
200 American Dialects

The Federal Reserve bank, realizing suddenly that this is a nation and not a pawn shop, reduced the rediscount rate from 6 to 5 per cent.

Perhaps it will influence professional money lenders to suspend for a while the orgy of usury.

New Jersey, first among the states, has absolutely wiped out the gypsy moth.

Governor Larsen and the state agricultural department are to be congratulated on a fine achievement.

More money than Wall Street could lose in a dozen panics would be saved if science could eliminate agricultural pests, boll weevil, corn borer and the rest of the army.

Excellent news comes from Florida as to the success of that state in dealing with the Mediterranean fruit fly. It has been a costly battle, but worth the money and trouble.

Samuel Insull and other big employers, following the example of Julius Rosenwald, supply money to protect employees from losses in stock speculation.

Henry Ford wouldn't agree with that idea. Two years ago when this writer mentioned certain stocks in which there were bound to be heavy losses, Ford said: "Of course. But that's the only way people can learn."

Whether it is wise not to let nature take its course in gambling as in other things, is questionable.

Senator Nye of North Dakota wants Wall Street and "all speculation sifted." What's more, he wants a remedy ready by February 1. That's a short time for so big a job.

The Malay, in his breech-cloth, bets on cock fights.

The proud red Indian piles up his shirt and blanket, bets them on a pony race, standing in dignified nudity.

Two ways of getting something: one is to work, the other to gamble.

Ninety per cent of human beings prefer the gambling way.

That will be changed a good deal later than February 1, 1930.

From Pocomo Hills, where John D. Rockefeller is enjoying life at the age of ninety, came a statement that to the distressed was like a drink of cool water in the middle of Sahara:

"My son and I have, for some days, been purchasing sound common stock. We are continuing, and will continue, our purchases in substantial amounts at levels which we believe represents sound investment values."

Mr. Rockefeller, who has given away $70,000,000 to science, education and fighting disease, rarely makes any public utterance. His statement about the purchase of stocks by himself and his son is his first public statement on business since 1911. It will do more than anything else could have done to restore confidence.

These purchases, of course, will probably enable Mr. Rockefeller to give away another hundred millions. Everybody knows that his purchases are based not on a desire for profits, but to restore confidence and prevent unnecessary loss of millions.

Doctor Greet teaches English to girls at Harvard college, and proves, with the phonograph, that there are 200 American dialects between the two oceans, the Great Lakes and the Gulf.

At least, all Americans understand each other.

It is not so in France, where a peasant from Brittany cannot understand another from the Midi.

The number of American dialects reminds you of a beautiful poem about the soldiers each remembering a different name, but "All Sang Annie Laurie."

Americans may speak 200 dialects, but they all understand each other when they talk about the dollar, which is a sort of national "Annie Laurie."

You will be glad to hear that the Federal Reserve board says the Wall Street earthquake is over, public fears calmed.

It may be permissible to remark therefore, while the earthquake is still fresh in many minds, that gambling is dangerous.

And it isn't necessary. There are other better ways of making a living in the United States. In addition to which gambling is NO WAY to make a living.

It used to be said, "Wise man take your profits." That has changed to "Wise man, take your losses," meaning, don't sell in a panic and regret at leisure.

Two more great oil fields have been found, one in Texas, one in Kansas. And it is called "a misfortune" because of the price of oil stocks.

It ought to mean general satisfaction, proving the limitless wealth of this country. Unfortunately, all our panics and government combined have not learned to protect all resources and prevent criminal waste.

Mr. E. J. King, secretary of the Texas Theatre, accompanied by Ralph Egan, were visitors to Taboka last Wednesday night for the opening of the English Theatre. They pronounced it a very fine building with splendid equipment.

F. E. Walker, local carpenter, called on Saturday, to take advantage of the $1.55 rate on the Herald and Dallas Farm News.

LUBBOCK MAN GETS PATENT ON COTTON STRIPPER

LUBBOCK, Oct. 24.—Floyd R. Friend, local banker, has just obtained from United States patent office, a patent upon a novel stripper brush for cotton picking machines.

The invention represents several noteworthy improvements. It provides rotating brushes which engage the cotton as the machine passes over it, stripping the mature cotton from the plant and depositing it in a suitable receptacle carried by the machine. The device operates without stirring the leaves or unopened bolls of the plant and thus eliminates a large quantity of foreign matter which is usually stripped from the cotton plant by machines now in use.

WHY DOES FORD BUILD ABROAD

A friend out in the state of Washington submits to the writer a very interesting query after this fashion: "Dear Sir: In your article of even date, you say among other things, 'Look at Henry Ford's statement, 'If booze comes back into the United States I am through with manufacturing.' 'Doesn't that ring strong and true?' " "I, too, thought that was quite a statement, and sent it to a friend of mine who does not look with favor on the prohibition law, when he and behold! he comes back with the following question: 'If Ford feels as strongly as he says he does why is he opening up in all the European countries?' " "I sent the above query on to Mr. Ford under date of September 9, but as he has not answered, I feel free to pass it on to you, for I desire the question answered. With all good wishes, " "We have wondered about that very thing ourselves and we have sent the letter along to the Anti-Saloon League for an answer, knowing they are vitally interested in anything of this kind. We don't doubt but that Mr. Ford has some good reason for his action, despite the fact that whiskey and automobile gas won't mix. When, and if we get a reply we will pass it on to you.

Johnson News

We are having real cold weather at this writing. Rather early. Rev. A. L. Burnett filled his regular appointment here Sunday eve. Mr. Logan Green and family and Miss Edna all visited Nute Green and wife Sunday. We had some good singing here Sunday afternoon, several other communities being present, and the Johnson class met with Tokio Sunday night. Carl Wheatley and friend Henry Tompson of Haskell, who are picking cotton up close to Littlefield visited J. O. Wheatley and family the last of the week. There was a Halloween party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Proctor Friday night. A large crowd and lots of fun. Miss Louise Teague of Rule visited her uncle T. O. Teague last week. Mr. and Mrs. George Ammonds have a real sick baby at this writing. A Mr. King and wife and son who has purchased land close to Seagraves visited Mr. Proctor and family last Friday. We call your attention to the Anderson Bros., army store ad in this issue of the Herald. They recently moved their store here from Wink, and are established on the north side of west Main street. They have some real bargains awaiting you; read their ad. Andrew Copeland, vice-president of the State Bank, handed us one-fifty recently to keep the Herald going to his Nephew, Master Paul Campbell, at Pharr, Texas. Lee Huse, prominent farmer and hog raiser of the Lekay community was in Monday on business. R. A. Crews, or Wellman, is now a regular reader of the Herald.

E. G. Alexander Drug Store

The banks have announced that they will close next Monday, which is Armistice Day, and we might add that it should be universally observed by the other business institutions of the city who can possibly do so. This is a great day in the history of the civilized world, for from that date the nations seem to have once again become sane and forgot war for a season. That is sufficient enough for the civil pursuits to forget commercialism for a few hours and join the millions of boys who came out of the muddy trenches of Europe on that date 11 years ago, and make the welkin ring with their glad shouts, for then they could return HOME to their loved ones and again follow the pursuits of peace. Bill Cook says the markets here are kinder keeping him busy of late supplying them with porkers. Since the advent of cold weather fresh pork has been greatly in demand.

RULE PASTOR WILL MOVE TO PORTALES

RULE, Oct. 30.—Rev. C. E. Ball, who has been pastor of the First Baptist church of Rule for the past three years, has resigned and accepted the pastorate of the First Baptist church at Portales, New Mexico. His resignation at Rule will take effect the first of November.

During Rev. Ball's pastorate here he has done a wonderful work. The church has grown and prospered under his leadership and is known as one of the strong churches in this association. A beautiful $1,000 brick parsonage has been built during his stay in this city.

We are sorry to report that Miss Lela Duke has been unable to fill her position at the State Bank since being injured on the Merry-go-round during the fair.

The lumber men say they are busy with the rest of them these days; always a wagon or truck being loaded with material at the local yards. While little of it is for new farm houses now, it shows that the country communities are improving. A little later, when crops are out, real building operations will start.

Jim Parks, of the Tokio community, was in Tuesday and informed us that his father, J. H. Parks, of near Springtown in Parker county, passed away last Friday and was buried Saturday in the old Veal Station cemetery. His father was nearing the 80 year mark.

Will C. Brown was in from the farm recently and insisted on us taking another dollar on subscription.

H. D. Leech was in the city Saturday getting his regular week day shave. After the shave he also had a dollar for another year of the Herald.

Methodist Annual Conference, Pampa, Nov 3

PAMPA, Nov. 2.—Bishop John M. Moore, of Dallas, will preside at the Northwestern conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which will convene in its twentieth session at the Methodist church in Pampa, November 13. Appointments of preachers for the ensuing year will be made.

The Rev. W. M. Murrell, presiding elder of the Clarendon district and the Rev. T. W. Brabham, pastor of the Methodist church in Pampa, are clerical hosts to the body which will bring approximately 500 delegates and visitors.

Closes Quadrennium.
The approaching session marks the close of a quadrennium and consequently the election of delegates to the next quadrennial general conference which meets in Dallas, May, 1930, is a matter of paramount importance. The Northwest Texas conference is entitled to ten seats in the general conference, five clerical and five lay delegates, who will have a voice and a vote in the enactment of legislation and election of bishops and other officers of the church in the next sitting of Methodism's supreme organization.

Assignment of preachers for the ensuing church year claims the attention of Methodists of this section. Under Methodist law a preacher may be returned annually to the same place for any number of years with the exception of a presiding elder whose tenure of office is limited to four years. The presiding bishop is generally limited to a quadrennium of service although there is no rule prohibiting him serving a longer period.

Halloween Prankers Rather Scarce Here

The ghosts walked—and rode—here last Thursday night until the wee small hours but the occasion was mostly one of parties for the various size and aged folks, where they kept indoors and played many interesting and funny games. That is, they were funny to those who watched the other guy or gylene tricked.

But as far as coming to town and tearing up Jack like they usually do, there was nothing of it. Those who came down to their places of business the next morning found everything as they left it the night before. Even the barber shop poles and various kinds of implements were all in their usual places. We imagine that a vigilant sheriff's force was a big factor in "persuading" the youngsters to let other people's property alone.

And yet, we'll bet a gingercake to a load of cedar posts that the youngsters had just as big a time as ever in their lives, with no remorse of conscience next morning. There is no one except for a few old grouches who dislike for youngsters to have a nice time, and least of all the Herald. We can never forget that we were once young, and had to have some outlet for our youthful vigor. And we cannot say that we did not at times overdo the good time just as people do now who feel the urge of their youth. But we always felt better when we had a reasonable good time and did not monkey with other people's property. Young people are the same yesterday, today and tomorrow, and we elders should not forget this.

The Tate-Lax Free Shows, will be here all next week according to the advance man. There will be much fun and foolishness and other modes of amusement according to this individual, and their ad which you will find in another part of this paper. Well, we have attended some free shows that were better than others we have paid for. The old King-K and Sharpshooter and East India shows of other days.

H. A. Moore, of Brundage, sold $3,000 worth of sweet peppers off a five-acre plot sown to the crop, which he found to be largely immune to insect attack and in good demand.

Maury Hargrave of Ralls, and J. W. Head of Quitaque, were here Wednesday. They are well pleased with the business the Head-Hargrave store is receiving here.

DR. HALL'S GIFT TO TECH COLLEGE MAY BE $15,000

Amount of the residue of the will of the late Dr. R. J. Hall which is to be a gift to the Tech loan fund will total between $10,000 and $15,000, according to present indications, Dean J. M. Gordon of Texas Technological college announced today.

The clause in Dr. Hall's will which states that one-tenth of the residue of his estate shall be presented to the college as a revolving fund for worthy young men and women students, was made public last Saturday.
