HONESTY IN ADVERTISING VIRTUE OF OUR DEALERS

No—We Will Wait Until Next Week—Don't Like to Advertise Goods That We Cannot Deliver—They May Get Here But Anything Could Happen to Them.

A misstatement of facts in an advertisement might be a drawing card for a merchant right at the time being, but in the long run when the customer found out that he had been bamboozled by having a substitute of the real thing palmed off on him, or yet some inferior article at just a little below the real thing, he not only quits that merchant for good, but he tells others. In fact, a dissatisfied customer can give more adverse advertising to a merchant or anyone else in business than a half dozen pleased customers will give in good advertising. Not that the pleased customer is ungrateful for the bargains and good service that the merchant renders, but he is simply pleased, and being pleased he maintains silence. On the other hand, the displeased customer is naturally talkative, and is willing to inform the world if it will just lend its ears. He of course gives his side, the business man having no chance to refute, and he will perhaps lose several good customers, and he should, if he has not been square.

For that reason, local merchants are very careful of what they put in cold type, and they are very particular that the printer gives the readers just what they say, and exactly the prices they quote. Once in a while a mistake appears, but it is nearly always the printer's fault, and any customer that wants to do or believe the right thing will take the merchants word that it was a mistake of the printer, and not like the original copy. This ought to be sufficient explanation, and is to most people—the other else is honest except them and their wife, his son John and wife.

We have in times past approached our merchants for advertising and they would indicate they had a shipment of something special coming, but were afraid it would not get in in time, although they had every reason to believe it would be in by the time the paper came out. We have rather insisted that they run it in the Herald and take the risk, but they always told us that they would wait till next week. Something might happen to the goods enroute. After we grasped their standpoint "truth and honesty in advertising" we have never from that day to this insisted that they run an ad in the Herald that could not be fulfilled in every way. And at the same time, we learned to respect our local merchants the more highly for their stand in this one point alone.

The oldest established firms in America, some that perhaps your dad or granddad did business with are still in existence and doing a good business because they have stayed with the truth in advertising, and have always instructed their clerks to never misrepresent anything they sold. Otherwise, they would have been gone and forgotten.

Seagraves to Have Its Own Paper Plant

We are glad to announce that our neighboring city of Seagraves to our southwest, at the terminal of this branch of the Santa Fe is to again have its own newspaper plant. For the past few years the Seagraves Signal has been printed in other plants over the South Plains, and that is not only inconvenient, but does not pay either the plant that publishes it, or the publisher who has the printing done. If the paper is printed at home, they always are open to their customers to do their job work, or what have you.

Mrs. W. D. Rhea came up Tuesday of this week and closed a deal with the Herald for the small newspaper press that we recently took out when the large one was installed. This press will nicely care for a six or eight page paper under 1000 circulation. Indeed the Herald used it when most of our issues were ten and twelve pages. So the Signal will have a press that will care for their printing nicely for the next few years at least.

The Herald as a next door neighbor wants to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Rhea in providing a home plant for the home town where they will be ready to care for their needs handsomely. We do not know whether they will use a machine now, or hand set the paper, but a typesetting machine will come along as they grow and the town gives them support. They have employed an expert all around printer to take charge of the shop for them, and help them to get started.

Poor Has a Modern Bakery Plant Here

Mr. T. I. Poor, proprietor of the Bon Ton Bakery, called us in one day recently to see his plant, as he said he wanted us to see how Golden Kream bread and pies and cakes were made in this plant, and especially to see that the handling of his breads and cookies was done so in the latest approved and sanitary way.

In the first place, we found the floors, walls and tables used all nice and clean so far as we could see, and even the ovens where the bread is baked as clean as could be desired or made as far as that is concerned. He showed us a large vat where the dough is made up with machinery made for the purpose of mixing it, and he informed us that this machinery did the job much better than human hands could possibly do it. When it comes from the oven, it is immediately wrapped with sanitary wrapper while steaming hot and before it can possibly become contaminated.

He treated us to a supply of his cookies which were as crisp and nice as any that are shipped in from the large cities. Mr. Poor said all he asked was a fair comparison of his bread with any other.

Terry County Way Ahead of '28 Ginning

According to the Ginners Report of November 14th, Terry county had cut out 14,364 bales of cotton of the 1929 crop in comparison with only 2,989 on the same date a year ago, or almost five times as much. In fact, Terry county has already ginned more this year by several thousand bales than it did in 1928, and the fleecy staple is rolling in at a rapid rate yet—thanks to the deep sandy lands in this county that some of our hard land neighbors like to disparage. It holds water like a jug and makes a crop when tight lands fail.

We promised this week to give an up-to-date report of the ginnings in the county, but the first, came on us this week, and we have been so busy stalling creditors that we did not know which end was up, but we are going to make a supreme effort this week to get the dope. At Meadow, we are going to ask Aesculapias to officiate for us and get the totals of the three gins there and phone us; at Tokio, we will ask Mrs. Leo Allen to phone us and Wade Headstream, Wellman. As Mr. Barton manager of the Barton Gin at Union has no phone, we are going to kindly ask him to mail us his ginnings up to and not later than Tuesday, so that we will get the letter Tuesday night. All phone calls will be paid by the Herald. Call us collect.

Don't forget and lets get the totals of all the cotton ginned in Terry county up to noon next Tuesday. Thank you.

Girl Fights Knight in "The Sophomore"

She was a maiden fair of old. He, her knight, a warrior bold. And yet the two fought one of the fiercest and funniest fist fights ever staged. This novel situation transpires in "The Sophomore," a Pathe all-dialogue picture, in which Eddie Quillan and Stanley Smith play the leading roles in a classical drama which the football team of a university put on to earn money for their activities.

Sworn enemies, the fact that Eddie is dressed in the feminine habiliments which his part as "leading lady" calls for, and Stanley garbed in the tights and frills in which knights specialized, does not prevent the two from making use of between-act intermission to settle their private squabbles. The result is said to be one of the most riotous scenes ever captured by those twins of the studio, the camera and the microphone.

"The Sophomore," which ran serially in College Humor, under the title "Joe College," was brought to the screen under the direction of Leo McCary. It will be shown at the Rialto theatre on Thursday and Friday next. Sally O'Neil and Jeanette Loff have the leading feminine roles.

Horace Randal of New Mexico, was here this week visiting with his brother, John and family.

Orders Are Now Being Taken

(Copyright, W. N. U.)

No More Statements to Be Sent to Readers

For some time the Herald has been contemplating the discontinuance of sending out statements to readers, and we have finally decided that it is for the best all around, and from this on readers, who wish to be kept on the mailing list will have to watch out for "number one" and see to it that their labels on the paper do not fade out on them.

There are several reasons we are adopting this course, but the main ones to be frank is the expense and work. Some of our readers respond quickly when a statement is sent them, while two or three will have to be mailed others. In other words, counting the work and worry, several cents out of the dollar, or dollar and a half as the case may be has to be expended in order to get that amount. In view of the fact that we are selling the Herald at or about cost of production, we cannot afford this expense and money.

There is no reason why readers themselves cannot keep up with when the time is up on their papers, for the little label with their name on it will tell the tale any time it is consulted, and to make sure that you do not miss any copies, it will be entirely safe to remit a month or two before expiration. You need not fear that your time will not be extended a full year from the time it expires, he what it may. Here is the way the little label appears on your paper to give an example:

John Doe 15Dec29

That simply means that Mr. John Doe's paper will expire on the 15th day of December, 1929. Now isn't that as plain as the nose on your face? The figures to the left always indicate the date or day, the middle portion the month in abbreviation and the last figures the year.

If you miss your Herald from the mails from this on, it will be a good indication that the time has expired, and that your renewal is due or rather past due. However, if you think we have made a mistake, notify us at once, and if we have done so, we will take great pleasure in making good our error. We thank our fine bunch of readers for their patronage in the past, and hope you will see fit to renew even if we have to cut you from our list temporarily. Let us assure you that it is no part of pleasure for us to cut an old reader off our list.

Collins Putting On a Big Christmas Sale

We call your attention to the big ad of the Collins Dry Goods Co., in this issue. This firm seldom puts on a sale, but when it does, it is really a sale in every sense of the word, and they are giving the people of this territory one of the greatest bargain events that has been put on here in a long time. Be sure that you visit this sale early and often for such another event may not be put on here again for months.

They will have a number of extra clerks to take care of the rush of customers, and will show you every courtesy that is due you during this sale as well as at all times. Mr. Collins is expecting you and we are sure you will not disappoint him.

Craig & McClish to Handle Plymouth Cars

The appointment of Craig and McClish as local dealer for the Plymouth Motor Corporation, a division of Chrysler Motors, was announced this week at Detroit by Avon Dezer, General Sales Manager for Plymouth. Spacious showrooms are located at corner west main and 7th street, where the various Plymouth models are on display. The new models of the Improved Plymouth which are being shown in a number of new color combinations have created widespread attention and are causing favorable comment on the part of those who have visited the new place of business.

"The Plymouth has established itself firmly among the leaders in the low-price field," said Mr. Craig, Sales Manager, of the new company. "It is an interesting fact that with in four months after the new plant of the Plymouth Motor Corporation was opened, production reached one thousand cars per day—a record not only for Plymouth but for the entire industry.

"Real quality at low cost is the explanation for its success," he continued. "The Plymouth was created by Chrysler engineers because they knew there was a need for a low-price, full-size automobile, built according to Chrysler standards of quality, and equipped with weather-proof, internal-expanding hydraulic four-wheel brakes, comparable to those used on much higher priced cars.

"The enthusiasm with the Plymouth has been greeted and the remarkable sales and production records that it has made are proof of the fact that the Plymouth stands out as a distinctive car in its class. "As Plymouth Dealers in this territory," Mr. Craig continued, "we have established in addition to our sales organization, complete service facilities of the most modern type. Plymouth owners are assured of receiving prompt, courteous and efficient service at all times.

Vienna to Hollywood And Married—See This

With its opening scenes laid in Vienna, intermediate scenes on an ocean liner headed for America and final scenes in the film colony in Hollywood, "Married In Hollywood," the first Viennese operetta to come to the talking screen, was produced with a lavishness not surpassed by any prior screen effort.

One of the high lights of the production, directed by Marcel Silver, is an opera staged in Vienna. You see and hear an orchestra of 60, directed by the famous concert master, Arthur Kay. On the stage are 60 vocalists and 40 trained dancers. In addition to this there is a cast of 20 and for this particular scene a replica of the Vienna opera was designed and constructed by William Darling, art director for Fox Movietone.

"Married In Hollywood," opening for a two day run, beginning next Sunday at the Rialto Theatre, is based on the operetta by Oscar Straus.

W. R. Bridges was in the city Tuesday of this week.

Grandpa and Grandma Spear Hurt in Wreck

We are very sorry to report that Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Spear are still in rather serious condition from the effects of their car wreck beyond Post Wednesday of last week, in which both were seriously hurt, especially grandma. We learned Tuesday of this week that they are resting as well as could be expected considering how badly they were shaken up, and the age of each.

It seems they were driving along at a more rapid rate than Mr. Spear thought, and in making a turn his car failed to take the curve, and the car went into the ditch. Besides numerous bruises Grandma sustained a broken shoulder on one side and an arm on the other side. About the worst wound Grandpa sustained was where the steering wheel caught his thigh. The imprint of the steering wheel is plainly seen on his leg yet.

The aged couple were on their way to Snyder to visit their son when the accident happened. They were picked up by some tourists and brought back to Post, where medical attention were given them, and later brought back to this city. We hope for steady improvement in their condition, and in this the Herald is joined by numerous friends of the family.

No Mail Service on Christmas Day Here

Extract from statement issued by Walter F. Brown, Postmaster General:

"It is my desire and purpose that the maximum number of our employees in postoffices be able to participate fully in the observance of this the greatest of all holidays and be with their families for their Christmas dinner. "To permit of this there will be no carrier deliveries or window service on Christmas Day. With the exceptions stated, all work in postoffices will be suspended from 12 o'clock midnight December 24th to 12 o'clock midnight, December 25.

"All special delivery mail will be handled and delivered promptly upon receipt, and everyone is urged to make use of the special delivery mails for parcels and letters that they wish to be delivered on Christmas Day.

Only sufficient clerks to receive and store, but NOT work, incoming mails, will be on duty Christmas Day.

STREET PAVING FINALLY UNDER WAY IN THIS CITY

Workmen Are Now Busy Pouring the Concrete For the Gutters And Curbing. Paving Starts When This is Finished Guarding on Streets Progressing Nicely.

Well, they have started at last. There is no paving done, it is true, but the concrete for the curbing has been run on Sixth street just north of the square, and workmen are this week digging the ditch for the curbing on the west side of the square. Considerable other portions are surveyed for curbing, including south Sixth, and the work, we understand will be rushed along as fast as weather conditions will permit.

The whole thing will necessarily be slow through the winter months, as concrete cannot be put down with any degree of success if the weather is real cold. However, by covering up the work as it is put down, with dry sand, concrete work can be carried on in ordinary winter weather. Then when the gentle spring weather arrives, the work can really be rushed without stopping, as we have little rain here before April. The engineers inform us that they are being bothered a great deal as to the cost, and that they find that proposition hard to explain to an ordinary citizen who does not understand their methods of figuring, but they try to do their best, although really it is not their job to do so. They are merely employed to put the grade for the construction company to follow. While we are on the question of streets, we wish to compliment the street building department under Tom May for the fine condition they are putting our streets in since the weather cleared up. They now have an engine that will really do the job, and we believe they have men who will take care of the machinery, and understand how to run it. In a few more weeks, the resident streets of the city ought to be in splendid condition to go through the holidays, and carry the traffic without endangering life or car with maximum speed allowed on the streets.

Work is being done on south Sixth this week, and the hill opposite the West Texas Gin, and this street should be put up in good shape as after it is paved, it will carry most of the traffic in the south part of the county and to Wellman and Seagraves sections.

Terry County Raisers Form Turkey Pool

In a mass meeting at Brownfield of turkey growers from all over Terry County 1200 No. 1 turkeys were signed up by thirty-five growers. Judging from the interest shown at this meeting and from the inquiries from Yoakum County and Eastern N. Mex. the greater part of the turkeys that are marketed in this section will be sold through the Terry County Turkey pooling association.

J. A. Johnson was elected president of the association and Dayton Couchman, secretary. These two men together with C. J. McLeroy will serve as a board of directors and were instructed to obtain bids and accept or reject such bids as they saw fit.

Bids for the turkeys will be received through the County Agent up to 3 p. m., Tuesday, December 10th. All bids must be on live birds f. o. b. Brownfield at such a time as the buyer may designate. Cold weather and a big feed crop have put turkeys in the best condition that they have ever obtained at this time of the year in this section.

Growers may join the association as late as noon Dec. 10 by paying the dues of fifty cents and signing a contract to market his turkeys through the association. No one but members can sell their turkeys through the association.

Our 4-H Club Boy Leaves For Chicago

J. O. Hobbs, winner of one of the free trips to the International Livestock Exposition, given by the Santa Fe Railway to 4-H Club boys, left last Friday for Chicago. J. O. joined other boys from the Plains at Lubbock and proceeded to Newton, Kansas where they joined the remainder of the Texas group of thirty-five boys.

This trip to the world's largest annual exposition is perhaps the greatest trip that can be won by a 4-H club boy, unless it is the National Encampment held at Washington.

J. O. will see the finest livestock that are grown in the world, for it is the International at Chicago that draws the champions of all countries. The club boys will be banqueted by such organizations as the International Harvester Co. and they will have the opportunity of going through the production plants of such great industrial companies.

Surely no greater week could be spent than the one at Chicago and the thought of winning such a trip with all expenses paid should spur every club boy to make a great record in 4-H club work for the coming year.

The club boys of Texas should be and are proud of such companies as the Santa Fe Railway, who give them chances of winning free trips to America's greatest show.

Business Men to Support Our Band Again

A committee of the business men of the city, including the secretary of the chamber of commerce, were around among the business men of the city last week to see what could be done about supporting the band for a few months at least, or until it can be determined by a vote of the property tax payers whether or not a tax will be voted for the maintenance of the band. We understand that the committee met with quite a nice reception, as most people here can now see where we are at without a band, especially when we have public functions of any nature.

In the two or three months that Mr. Blackwell has had charge of the band, they have shown us that they are really capable of good production, and are playing now like veterans. Of course many of them were members of the old band and only needed practice to bring them back to former standing, but some are new, and have started from the ground, but are making rapid progress. Armistice Day when they made their first real public appearance, proved that we have a real band in the making.

It was our understanding that Conductor Blackwell would not ask any public donations until he thoroughly convinced them that he was making a real band here, and for this reason, the response was more liberal than if help had been asked in the beginning. Let's help the band all we can, for we must all admit that we certainly need an organization of this kind in our city, especially when we are entertaining conventions and other public gatherings.

Thanksgiving Celebrated in Pool Community

On Thanksgiving morning people of the Pool community gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pool to celebrate another Thanksgiving which has been our custom the past four years.

Through the generous efforts of Mrs. Pool and her neighbor women the tables reeled and groaned until seventy thankful happy hungry people relieved it of a thirty-five pound turkey and its fixings, boiled ham, roast beef, salads, pies, cakes, etc.

As we talked of the first Thanksgiving dinner way back in 1621 we could but be proud we live in the 20th century in the State of Texas. Yes, in good old Terry county and even in the Pool community. Mr. and Mrs. Pool know exactly how to welcome a crowd into their ranch home.

Those who enjoyed the returns of the day were: Butlers, Browns, Kyles, Harbors, Colbanks, Suttons, Mrs. Cross, Hendersons, Denims, Bill Foster, Cleveland, Joe Bozeman, Brackmans, Walters, Mother Rambo of town, also Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Bazeman of Gomez.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Redford of Shamrock, Texas, were here over the Thanksgiving holidays visiting with his parents—and they brought a daughter home with them this time. Terry is teaching at Shamrock.

P. G. Stanford, and M. G. Stanford, both of Plains, but no kin that we know of, were in the city Tuesday on business.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR HEALTH

This is the time of the year that we are most susceptible to colds, and they are serious because the after effect is often uncontrollable. It doesn't pay to let colds run on. When you have one see your Chiropractor at once and she will help nature overcome it.

These pains which you are having that you call rheumatism are not at all pleasant, but you say, "Oh! They will be better tomorrow." This is the reason so many people are invalids. See your Chiropractor at once and let her relieve the nerve pressure which is the cause and you will get well. Please do not wait because the longer you wait the longer it will take.

Adjustments are not painful and they have opened the gate to health for thousands of people.

Meadow Briefs

By Aesculapias

Much water has passed under the bridge since I last wrote for the Herald. However the paper has continued to be printed and distributed to the subscribers just the same. So likes Burnes Wag, "For had you staid whole night away your wives they had n'er missed ye." No one is really missed in this busy world however important he may esteem himself.

The gins continue to run well into the night on clear days when people can work and cotton is fast disappearing from the fields. Business continues good in all lines and preparations for the coming crop are in evidence. Around the Hardware store I see a number of Farmalls as if quite a number intended to use more machinery in their farm operations the coming year.

The new school building is under way but due to cold weather, largely, the progress has been slow.

The Bank has been overrun with business and we find the force working into the wee small hours of the morning. Deposits are larger than ever before and the country is prosperous as never before since this scribes arrival on the Plains nine years ago.

Thanksgiving passed as if the day had no meaning to the business of the town. If any one closed except the bank and postoffice I failed to note it. For one I am thankful that the day doesn't come oftener as it cost me considerable and then I made myself sick on the dinner, besides Christmas is just ahead when we will be expected to make a greater outlay and ourselves sick again.

Since Mr. Volsteads activities some years ago I lost interest in most holidays. I can no longer invite my neighbor over for a Nog or feel good just once a year anymore without hunting up a bootlegger which I have never done—not from any qualms of conscience at violating the Amendment—but I am afraid of the bootlegger's wares. All the noise about violating the Volstead Act is the veriest buncombe and twaddle. The only thing that anyone cares a tinkers dam about the miserable piece of legislation is getting caught. In spite of the howling at the enormity of the crime it is at worst only a misdemeanor. One's habits are his own so long as he or she does not interfere with others. If all who have contributed to the violating of the Act were caught and punished, sixty percent or more of the population would be in the penitentiary.

In this connection it is interesting to note that some of the church people are bombarding doctors and drug-stores about the so-called wines being sold to young men and boys. I personally know that boys do not buy at the drug store in Meadow unless it is done through older men. This making of wine is done by the Department at Washington and could be stopped as also the use of the large amounts of alcohol used in extracts and sold by our pious merchants everywhere.

Booze is easily had anywhere and most of the drinking here and elsewhere is bootleg. This matter was pretty thoroughly sifted by the Grand Jury nearly a year ago. There were three members of that body from here and near here and they appeared to put in their time trying to put better men in trouble over the wine business. There were other offenses known to these men but if they tried to investigate it isn't known.

Over zealous men and women have in all times tried to make men better by law to have the constable keep their children or rather their neighbors children in the straight and narrow way, their own—the fellow who does the howling—doesn't need attention for his, and if they slip they are misled.

If the children of those parents ever measure up to the druggists and many of them will, they will have accomplished much. There are worse things happening all the time than drinking a little bootleg but they are not investigated. Few people know or care where their children go nor who with, nor when they will return. Many of them are necked up in cars on the byways and highways, in front of their homes and the churches. Some of them will doubtless go wrong but whether the proportion is larger than in former times it is difficult to say.

No laws will ever reach these cases nor will booze cease to be drunk until man's appetite for stimulants has subsided. To make it a penal offense is the damnable crime of the age. I have more respect for a bootlegger than such cattle.

Much is also being said about Sunday closing. Personally I don't care anything about it. When I owned and operated the drug store a few years since I closed at ten and opened at three but I was compelled many times to reopen to get medicines for sick people. With trucks and trains running, garages open to sell anything they happened to have for that purpose, eating houses and markets, with some grocery stores open and even the unco good hauling cattle and hogs across the country and pushing the ox into the ditch in many other ways very little will be accomplished by forced closing.

When I wish to go to church, which isn't often, it doesn't bother me a bit for the other fellow to do as he wishes and Sunday closing will not fill the pews but the youngsters will wander away and try the magic of the dice or cards. The devil is in them and you can't chase it out by severe penalties or by depriving them going where they can chat and have a cold drink on the side. Loose herding beats the corral. Yes I have had considerable experience along the lines indicated.

I have no apology to make for this homily, you may take it in the spirit that it is offered or the other way.

There were two burials here Sunday; one the infant of Mr. Allison living northwest of town; the other a Mrs. McCutcheon near Brownfield who had been ill for a year or more. The new arrivals for the past month: A boy to Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Young on the 5th; boy to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Moorhead on the 6th; girl to Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Sells on the 7th; boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Nowlin on the 11th; boy to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaver on 12; boy to Mr. and Mrs. Jose Trevino on the 20th; boy to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Allison on the 30th. Storks are on their way South.

Gins are near the six thousand mark. Don't know exactly.

Lahey News

Thanksgiving Day of '29 will long be remembered by the people of Lahey community as one of true Pilgrim spirit and heartfelt thanksgiving. The crowd assembled at 10 o'clock at the school house and the program began with a talk on the history and purpose of Thanksgiving by W. E. Thompson, Supt. of our school. Mr. Jimmie Thomason gave a very touching discourse on our duty to the flag, and also very interesting flag etiquette as only an exservice man who has seen men die for the honor of the flag can give.

Reverend Vinson and Reverend Curry gave interesting talks and the singing service was conducted by Mr. Malcolm Thomason. After which the Thanksgiving dinner was spread on the ground in the regular old fashion way, and it was a real Thanksgiving dinner in every particular,—with turkey and all the trimmings, besides chicken, cakes, pies, etc., etc. There was more than the crowd could eat and several boxes were filled and sent to people who could not attend.

In the afternoon the school rendered a short but impressive program, conducted by Miss Alma Parrack and Miss Johnnie Polk. There were several songs and readings; a pageant representing the first Thanksgiving with Indians, Pilgrims and even the pipe of peace and the Indian war dance.

The program was concluded by a short song service.

Miss Johnnie Polk, one of our teachers spent last week end with her parents near Lubbock.

The Wellman B. Y. P. U. will render a program here December 1st.

Health Is At Your Window

Oxygen is necessary to breathing. Oxygen is taken from the air by a gas flame just the same as by any other kind of flame. Fresh air supplies oxygen.

So, for your health's sake, let a little fresh air in.

If you must have a fire to dress by, have it in another room. If you live in a small apartment and sleep in your living room, turn out the fire and raise the windows when you go to bed.

Water Heaters Without Flue Pipes Are A Menace

Many gas appliances, including some well-constructed room heaters, are safe to use without flue connections in WELL-VENTILATED rooms. However it is advisable that all appliances using gas in considerable quantities should be connected with flues, for even the most efficient types may produce poisonous gas when the flame is first lighted.

If your water heater, or any other kind of a heater, is in the bathroom, turn it out when you are ready for your bath. It requires approximately 10 cubic feet of air to supply sufficient oxygen to burn one cubic foot of gas, and there usually is little or no fresh air coming into the average bathroom.

Natural Gas, when properly used, not only is efficient and economical, but IT ALSO IS SAFE.

West Texas Gas Company places a higher value on the health, safety and good will of consumers than upon any revenue it might derive from gas that is not properly used.

Official paper of Terry County.

Not only should we deal honestly in our advertising, but honestly with our word. Reputations are built upon honesty and truth. Mighty few times in our lives that a lie will answer better than the truth—if any.

The Herald offers its sympathy to Editor Oran McClure of the Texas Spur in the death of his brother, Roy, who accidentally shot himself while hunting in the Davis mountains two weeks ago. We never know today with its love and pleasures what bitterness of mind and spirit the morrow will bring. But we must buckle up the very best we can, for death is in the world, and we must make the best of it we can.

Those who do not work but sit around on our sidewalks would have you believe that they are the source of all knowledge about what they say in the bad condition of our country. The world naturally has a black outlook to them. But you ask the busy, working man that is tired at night and ready to go home to his family when dark comes, and nine out of ten will tell you that they have no complaints—everything rosy.

We note that many of our exchanges copied our article of week before last on the criminal lawyer, and some even made it a front page article. We are glad of this, not because we were originators of the article, but because we believe that those who copied it did so because it was their opinion, and they wanted their readers to know how things are drifting. No paper agrees with everything they copy, but today the professional criminal lawyer in our legislature keeps us from court reforms and the people should know it.

In the death recently of Senator Frances Warren of Wyoming, went the oldest member of the United States Senate in point of service at least. He had served in the senate for 34 years without a break, and was the father-in-law of our world war hero, Gen. John J. Pershing. This leaves the senate without a member that served on either side during the Civil War, but there is an Ex-Confederate in the lower house from one of the Carolinas. Senator Warren was a Federal soldier.

We have been a very critical reader of the editorial opinion of Texas since the mobbing of that arch criminal at Eastland to see for our own satisfaction what was the real honest to goodness opinion of our editors about the matter. In a nutshell, they were almost unanimous in condemning mob violence, but the same percent of them took our courts severely to task and evrlastingly scored them for unnecessary delays in carrying out the mandates of the law. All agreed that delays were responsible to a great extent for that lynching, at least.

E. G. Senter, of Dallas, and candidate for Governor of Texas, takes our red headed governor Dan to task for promising President Hoover a lot of building in Texas in order to help, as he terms it, "to rehabilitate wall street." That famous street has recently caved in its own roof with bad effect on them, and as it did not seriously hurt anyone but the gamblers themselves, they want the rest of the country to come build them up again so that they may try and have more of a general panic on the next collapse. And strangely enough, a lot of our leaders are biting.

A Boy Scout Master recently came out in an article in the press, for the benefit of mothers of these boys, telling them that people who camp and sleep outdoors do not catch cold, and went on to tell them why. We just wondered if a few of them had not let Willie go with the rest of the troop on a hike for fear he would catch cold. We have heard about the same remarks about the women who have peddled apples on our streets this fall and slept in wagons with sheets none too good, apparently. But they seem to actually thrive on the out door life. People who "catch" colds did so because they got too hot.

The "Believe It or Not" cartoonist makes a fling at us fundamentalists lately with an announcement that ocean waves really do not move. We suppose he meant ocean waves, as there was a picture underneath of Old Salt. But he could have meant radio waves. Now we have been taught from our first faint recollection of the old Blue Back Speller that the moon moves the tides of the ocean, and this is the first time we have ever heard it the least disputed. What are we coming to? What is the matter with our free and unlimited country press and the balance of you scientific and God fearing gentlemen that you will sit by on your editorial tripod as it were and let this raging cartoonist rage on? Let's all take a high handed fling at him and sink his theory in oblivion.

We could not help but notice, and we are sure that our readers observed the same thing last week, when the postoffice floor was literally covered with sales circulars and the waste basket was also packed to overflowing with the same kind of literature. These sales bills were from various places around and were offering to the buying public, goods at greatly reduced prices. On one of these days that so many of these sales bills were seen on the floor of the postoffice lobby was the same day that the Crosbyton Review was placed in the postoffice. The thought occurred that here might be found a concrete example of the most effective advertising, newspaper vs. circulars; so a Review representative began to search the floor for a discarded Review and not a single one was found. Surely then, one will be found in the waste basket, but upon investigation not a Review was found in the waste basket. We were somewhat puzzled, yet satisfied, for this bears out the theory that we have always advocated, that newspaper advertising is the most profitable to the merchant.

If we are sincere in our conclusions we must admit that there is a cause for these findings and the cause furnishes the reason why newspaper advertising is more effective than that of the circular. A local newspaper has a personal touch that a circular does not possess and for this reason one never finds a Review on the postoffice floor either does one find them in the waste basket. A circular has value as a sales herald, but a newspaper has greater value.

Owing to the fact that the first of the month came on us this week when we generally get up most of our local reading matter, this department may not be up to standard this week. But we have done the best we could. Some weeks, it seems that local reading matter is rather scarce anyway, and especially so this week, as all the farmers are busy in the fields.

Imagine your Motor

Constantly immersed in Oil

That, in effect, is what happens when you fill your crank case with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—none of its hundreds of moving parts are ever without lubrication.

35¢
Per Quart - for All Grades
Except Special Heavy and Extra Heavy

A MOTOR OIL, to do a 100% job, must lubricate all the time. That means that it should provide a lubricating film at every stage of motor operation including starting when the engine's cold. In other words, the motor should have a perpetual oil bath.

And that's exactly what happens when you use Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil for the very good reason that this super-lubricant because of the patented germ process by which it is produced, actually combines with the bearing surfaces to form a film which adheres indefinitely. It never leaves the bearings—and that means constant lubrication.

Think of the saving this means to the motoring public! Automotive engineers estimate that from 40% to 60% of the destructive wear and tear on a motor is caused in the starting operation because, with ordinary oil in the crankcase, the moving parts have no lubricating film when the engine is cold—and the oil is not distributed until 5 or 10 minutes after starting. Imagine the abuse to the engine during these periods of running with absolutely no lubrication! No wonder Conoco Germ Processed Oil is hailed as the revolutionizing motor lubricant. Its "carry-over" film has solved the greatest lubrication problem of the day. It assures longer life and smoother operation in any motor where it is used.

And never forget that to produce Conoco Germ Processed Oils the exclusive germ essence principle is applied to only carefully selected paraffin base crudes, resulting in a lubricant with greater film strength, greater adhesiveness, greater tenacity, greater stamina and lower friction than any other oil on the American market.

Draw up to the Conoco Red Triangle and give your motor a perpetual oil bath. Ask for Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

W. McSpadden and Mrs. W. C. Smith; high cut prize went to Mrs. C. F. Hamilton and low cut, to Mrs. Ike Bailey. The table prizes were oriental wall pockets, high cut was an oriental vase and low was a bulb bowl.

The guests for this jolly party were Mesdames McBurnett, Baldwin, John Seudday, Webber, H. W. McSpadden, Hamilton, Claude Hudgens, Harry Longbrake, Wingerd, Ike Bailey, Kendrick, Pat Brothers, Gracey, W. C.

A ROUND-UP OF OLD FRIENDS

A number of old friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Wheeler Thanksgiving Day to celebrate Thanksgiving and the birthdays of Mr. Powell, Mr. Smith, Denison Cook, Mrs. Wheeler and Richard Wheeler—their birthdays coming close together.

A real old-fashioned feast with its turkey and all the trimmings was spread. The birthday cake for the boys held the correct number of candles, but there was something "phony" about the number on the cakes for the older heads.

In the afternoon Mr. Powell furnished violin music while Miss Barbara Jean Henson and Miss Pauline McCollough entertained with the charleston and Mrs. Bridges and Mrs. Powell demonstrated some of the old time steps to the great delight of all.

The guests for this hospitable occasion were Mr. and Mrs. John S. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Smith and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Henson and family, Mrs. W. B. English, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Cook and Denison, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bridges, Mrs. McCollough and daughter, Pauline, Mr. and Mrs. Spivey, Grandma Lovelace, Grandma Henson and Earl Ball of Portales, New Mexico. Reverend and Mrs. Ball of Portales, New Mexico and Mrs. K. W. Howell were afternoon guests.

—In Terry County Twenty Years Ago—

Taken from the files of the Terry County Herald, Week of December 4, 1909.

The Maids and Matrons Club will put on a play Xmas night.
We had occasion this week to take a short spin in Chas. Copeland's new four cylinder Cadillac.
W. A. Pyatt was in from his plantation this week end and reports that everything is moving on nicely.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Head, a fine girl last Sunday.
How are you going to vote on the matter of exterminating the pesky and worthless prairie dog.
The Institute just closed has in many ways been one of the best ever held in the county.

J. F. Winston returned last week from his home in Rosenberg, where he had been on business. He returned more satisfied than ever. He will move his family up in a few days.
Jno. Burnett has been gone something like a month somewhere. Wish we knew where, as he says he will stop the Herald and his ad if we don't report his goings and comings. Cigars to the man who will tell us where he went.
Earl Hill went out into the sand hills last week and brought down a large deer.

Luther French and the Editor took an auto spin into the country last night to the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Jno. S. Powell, who run a cozy little sheep ranch 5 miles south of Brownfield. We certainly enjoyed Jersey milk, butter and cream and Oh! you 45c per dozen eggs. We're going back some more too.

Moon Mullins has resigned his job as engineer at the city plant, and has joined Uncle Walt in the filing station game on east Main, where he will move his wrecking house plant about the first. City plant Superintendent Eunice Jones says Mullins is one of the best and most faithful hands he has ever had, and that he hated to give him up. Geo. Berry takes Mullin's place at the plant.

Several of the local nimrods hid themselves to the north Plains the past week end with the intention of hunting geese, but we understand the whole party got so cold they could not shoot a gun, and it said that our mayor has not gotten warmed up yet.
About all the information you can get out of any of them is the high sign of a pinched nose.

J. P. Perkins was among those in the city the past week after supplies.
Mr. Perkins is one among the old time farmers of the county.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox, prominent farmer of Terry county, are visiting relatives of Mr. Cox at McKinney, Texas. Mr. Cox's mother died there August 4, and due to the fact that a letter, telling of her illness, never did arrive, he didn't get to attend the funeral. They will return next week.

Mrs. Flem McSpadden informed us this week that they had purchased lots on east Broadway and would right after the first of the new year erect a nice home on it. They have a fine location for a home near the McBur-nett home.

Uncle Joe Hamilton was on the streets Tuesday and reported that he was feeling fine, and so far as we could see, was enjoying himself.

According to weather announcements coming to us in the dailies; November was the coldest November in the past 60 years.
