

BLIZZARDS HAVE BEEN OUR JONAH'S OF LATE

The Blizzards, Three in a Row Have Just About Got Our Goat. Our Famous Three Wire Fences Fail To Turn Them. Declared Outlaws. Grand Jury Investigating

Folks, old Terry is certainly having its rounds of weather here of late. We don't know what has come over the country unless the weather man thinks we really belong in the "Solid North" after the way we voted last fall, and wants to give us what he thinks we really expect. But this fall, Texas will again swing into the arms of Democracy and we will have the regular winters in Texas again. This section is not by itself, judging from reports from other parts of the state. All Texas and the whole U. S. A. for that matter, seem to be having a mess of weather.

Some of our friends stopped on the streets one day this week and asked us what we were going to do about the weather. Nothing friend, absolutely nothing. We haven't a chance—not one. If we had a daily paper, perhaps we would have some show with the weatherman, but he is changing his tactics so fast on us of late that a weekly paperman has about one chance in six trying to down or guy or humor the weatherman. So, the best a poor weekly paperman can do is try to relate the casualties of the past and leave the future to the Almighty and the elements.

One blizzard no more than passes and gives us one decent day to stretch and look at the sun until another is heralded in the general direction of Amarillo, and we get on all the clothes we have, under all the covers we have, turn on all the gas we have and pray for the best. In passing, we wish to say, poor old Amarillo, "thou mighty but much slandered city." If a cold spell comes up, Amarillo is the first city to be mentioned in the report to the daily press. One daily "shot" writer recently mentioned that he would not be satisfied to worship Byrd and his Anarctic expedition until they had spent one winter in Amarillo. Yet, in face of all this, the government reports show that many, many places over the state in north and east Texas, had a lower thermometer during the blizzard last week than poor old Amarillo, the much maligned seat of that wonderful boister and home defender, Gene Howe.

But to get back to our part of the affair, and as stated above, will try to tell the reader what has already past into history. To begin, will say that one of these frigidares don't more than sizzle off the caprock than another puts in its appearance north of us fresh off Pike's Peak, and as there is nothing more stable than a three wire fence in that direction to head them off, they seem to go into full stamped by the time they reach here, and its "under the bed little ones, your daddy's coming home drunk." Two weeks ago the past Wednesday night, we had our first one, and we thought it rather funny next morning with the mercury around zero to wade around in the big snow which stayed on the ground several days, but most of us had lost our sense of humor about the matter when the second one hit us last Friday morning, less than ten days from the first, and before the ground had thawed. It hovered under zero all day, and Friday night sent the "bug" down to about 8 below.

Sunday afternoon and Monday were fair winter days, and we were getting a smile back when another was reported on the way to take all the joy out of life. And with a lot of people with water pipes still congealed from the last spell, this last one did not have a single sympathizer—not a soul to get out and welcome its approach on our splendid community. But it came on unheralded and unsung anyway. It got here about three o'clock Tuesday morning of this week, but so cold was the reception accorded it, the sun smiled on Tuesday afternoon. Like its immediate predecessor, it carried a blanket of snow that fairly covered the earth. According to schedule, which is shortening all the time, the fourth one is due the last of this week some time, unless they have run out of soap at the blizzard factory for awhile. We hope so anyway.

Dist. Court In Session Here This Week

The mid-winter term of the district court of Terry county was formerly opened for its four weeks grind here Monday morning when District Judge Gordon B. McGuire of Lamesa, District Attorney T. L. Price of Tahoka, and the court stenographer appeared, and the former empaneled and swore in the grand jury for the term and put them to work under the direction of the district attorney. No petit jury was called for this week.

There are a few civil and land cases in which the titles are clouded that will likely be tried this week before the judge. Otherwise any criminal cases will be held over for future weeks when petit juries will be ready to handle them, or any cases that the grand jury may make ready for them this week.

Altogether, this will not likely be a very heavy term of court, as most cases were cleared in docket at the last term, and unless the unforeseen happens, the jurors called for some weeks may find little to do and be promptly dismissed. As far as we are aware petty thefts constitute the worst crimes that have been committed here since the last term, and some of these have not been apprehended, perhaps, but that is part of the work of the grand jury.

METHODIST ANNOUNCEMENTS

Fourth Sunday afternoon preaching will be held at Union School at 3 o'clock.

We welcomed into our fellowship recently Mrs. Dee Elliott and Mrs. T. I. Poor. While no protracted meeting is being held, yet the Lord is striving mightily with men and women these days and He expects His people to be in their places with prayers in their hearts for the unsaved, at every regular church service. "Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord."

The Hi-League had a good attendance and program Sunday and Junior as well as Senior Leagues will function in the near future.

The young women's Sunday School class was organized Sunday.

Visitors are especially invited to be present.

First Annual Poultry Show Here Feb. 7-8

The first Annual Terry County Poultry Show will be held in Brownfield on February 7-8. This show was not prompted as a means of poultry raisers making some additional money by means of premiums but is the outgrowth of the desire of a number of breeders of fine birds to show and advertise the quality of their flocks.

While Terry County has not had the stimulus of special poultry shows and there has been no organized efforts towards pedigreed poultry yet a large number of progressive farmers and farm women have improved their flocks and now have stock that is comparable with the best in Texas. A good poultry show was held in connection with the County Fair but at that time of the year poultry do not show in the best of condition and this show will bring many more birds of apparently a higher standard.

Due to the severe cold this winter consideration will be given to combs and wattles that have been frozen and affected birds will not be scored off on this account.

All persons who have birds to show please take note of the dates and rules and begin selecting your entries. All persons who have breeding stock to sell may bring them to the show. Space will be provided but exhibition coops will not be furnished for birds that are for sale only. Everyone who is interested in buying breeding stock are urged to attend the show and to look at poultry that is for sale.

A poultry short course with lessons in selecting show and breeding birds, culling for egg production, hatching and brooding, and feeding will be given by poultry specialists.

Attend these meetings and the show and learn more about the poultry business.

R. B. DAVIS, County Agent.

J. C. Hunter was called by wire Monday afternoon to attend the bedside of his father who was reported to be very ill and not expected to recover. He and family left immediately for that place, intending to spend the night at Roscoe, and drive through Tuesday to Paris, where his father resides.

Tunes in the Talkies That You Can't Forget

When "Hearts in Dixie," Fox Movietone 100 per cent dialogue production, is seen and heard on the screens of the world, it is almost certain that the singing of spirituals and folk songs will linger in the memories of auditors for a long time.

Particularly will this be true of "Lonesome Road," the strains of which bring the story to a close. It is a masterpiece of its kind. There is an interesting poetic quality to the lyrics:

"Look down, look down that lonesome road,

Hang down yo' head an' cry,

The best of friends must part some time,

An' why not you an' I?

True love, true love, what have I done,

That you should treat me so?

You caused me to walk and talk with you

Like I never done before."

MARY EATON
in the Paramount Picture
"Glorifying the American Girl"
you

The history of "Lonesome Road" is somewhat vague. Evelyn Cary Williams of Lynchburg, Virginia, who has made extensive researches on the subject of folk songs, was unable to trace the origin of "Lonesome Road" other than to find it was taken down from the singing of Charles Galloway, an uneducated worker on roads in Virginia. It is not unlikely that the song will become widely popularized through its use in the picture, as, perhaps, will several others.

"Hearts in Dixie" abounds in spirituals rendered by a mixed chorus of sixty voices and faithfully reproduced on the screen through the medium of Fox Movietone.

Paul Sloane directed the picture from a story by Walter Weems, who also composed the dialogue.

From what we can gather from the two Spur papers, Dickens county seems to be about on the eve of a county seat election. The old courthouse at Dickens needs repairs badly, and a lot of the voters want the county seat removed to Spur and a new courthouse built, it would seem.

The big Abilene championship roping event to be held at the fair grounds this week has been postponed until Jan. 25th on account of bad weather.

Gas Pressure Good During Cold Weather

One thing that allayed suffering during the recent cold weather was the fact that there was good gas pressure all the time, and the fuel men had a good supply of coal on hand for those who do not use gas. In fact the gas pressure seemed to be well up to that maintained here during moderate weather, but of course the booster stations along the lines were kept constantly at work to do so. There were no bursted or leaky pipes in this entire section that we are aware of that caused a close down any time during the past two weeks of frigid weather.

We, on the other hand have had serious trouble with water pipes, and many families have been getting no water at homes and in some instances hotels and business houses for the past several days. It was the second blizzard of last Friday that seemed to play "whaley" with the water pipes. As the city has no plumbers, people mostly have had to do the best they could, but the frozen places have been hard to find in the frozen ground, which some report is now 13 inches deep, and unless we have quite a duration of moderate weather, some will have to continue borrowing water from neighbors for some time yet. The plumbing firms here have been kept busy patching bursted pipes, and could give little time toward thawing them out. From what we can pick up on the streets, most people here would now welcome some moderate weather like we usually have on the South Plains.

There has been quite a lot of complaint from moisture in the gas, many complaints of soiled paper on the walls, not to mention damaged furniture. One man informed us that his piano was in such condition that his daughter had to discontinue her practice. Others complain that their furniture is cracking, that is the paint or varnish on them is cracking. We imagine the stoves in these homes are not ventilated sufficient to carry the moisture out of the rooms. This moisture from burning gas comes out as vapor, and is very light, and if properly vented would likely go out these vents before congealing into water.

It may just be possible that some of this moisture is from the air that is naturally pumped into the gas mains by the booster pumps that are maintained by the company to keep up the pressure during this cold weather, and will not be so bad when the weather moderates again, if ever. Anyway, any representative of the West Texas Gas Co., if called to your home would likely suggest a remedy that would at least reduce this trouble to a minimum.

Reports coming from the sanitarium at Lubbock are to the effect that Deputy Sheriff Arch Fowler is not doing as well as his friends could expect. His trouble seems to be an infection from an engrowing toe nail.

Moore Now Has Up-to- Date Produce Building

We had the pleasure this week of calling upon Jim Moore in his new location just across the street east of Chisholm Bros. mercantile establishment, and found that he is now so situated that he can keep an absolutely sanitary place, something much desired, but so seldom found in connection with a produce building. They are usually so ill arranged that cleaning up the floors is almost out of the question, and an odor so offensive greets one on entrance that it almost disgusts one with a sensitive nose to cream products or poultry.

In the front of his new location where cream is received, Jim has concrete floors which will be easily cleaned daily if need be. He has a large gas water heater which will give him abundant sizzling hot water at all times to keep all vessels cleaned and scalded. A partition separates this compartment from the poultry department. This latter department is so arranged that all poultry will be kept indoors out of bad weather, as well as away from thieves. This department like the front has concrete floors that can be flushed out after each shipment of poultry and made as clean as a grocery store.

We are glad to see this improvement for the day has come when people demand that the dealer they buy from or sell to keeps a nice place, clean and sanitary. It is said to the credit of some of the chain stores that if they never do a town any other good, they have taught the local stores to paint up and clean up their places, which is indeed worth something, not alone to the merchant but to the general public. Merchants are supposed to be leaders in the community, and if their places show sloveness and filth, it tends to encourage such in the homes of the community. On the other hand if his place is spick and span, the same influence is felt in the community.

Jim you owe us one fryer for this ad.

National Bank Elects Officers and Directors

The First National Bank of Brownfield held its regular annual stockholders meeting on January 14th. Directors were elected for the ensuing year as follows: S. J. Dixon, J. J. Kendrick, R. M. Kendrick, Jake Hall and W. R. McDuffie. The board of directors reelected all officers, namely: R. M. Kendrick, President; W. R. McDuffie, Cashier and Jake Hall, Assistant Cashier.

Report of officers to the meeting showed that this bank made a net income of 20% of which 15% was paid to the stockholders in cash dividends and the remaining 5% added to the surplus and reserve accounts.

IS A CIVIC CLUB CIVIC IF NOT FOR IMPROVEMENTS?

Civic Clubs Are Supposed to And Do Bear Vital Relation With A City's Development. But Civic Clubs Cannot Afford To Play Politics. Rotarians Want Information.

There is some discussion now under way at the Rotary Club as to the attitude that it should take in regards to matters of improvement in the city, or county for that matter. This is a very broad subject and should be approached in a spirit of fair play and with all regards to the right of the belief of others who may be members of the club. Some there may be that oppose bond issues for any purpose, while others wish them for making any extensive improvement in the city in which funds are not already available.

There is now a move underway to bring some good speakers on the subject from other places to put us as near right on this subject as possible. We know that in other places, notably at Lubbock, when recently a million dollars was voted for paving roads in that county, that the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs all stood abreast for the measure, and even went so far as to publicly parade the city of Lubbock as bodies in order to impress the voter of their stand in the matter, and help put it over. Up until now the local civic clubs have seemingly not stood for anything, except an annual clean up in which there could possibly be no opposition. As a consequence, there are a few perhaps who have come to the conclusion that it is nothing more nor less than a luncheon club, many of which exist in the larger cities under various names.

The Herald is inclined to take the position that a civic club should declare itself on propositions that obtain to the welfare of the city in which they exist, and this goes for the Lions, from what we know of them. Otherwise they cease to be civic clubs, and the members are only meeting to be entertained and fed. No impression of the latter kind should be allowed to leak out in the community. If they meet once a week for purely entertainment purposes or to be fed, they would be doing the town just as much good perhaps by meeting the immediate family around the home table, outside of the fraternal part of getting men of the same business or other businesses together to become better acquainted.

It is our candid opinion that whether it sponsors some big undertaking or just the mater of a clean up campaign, the civic clubs should come out plainly and unmistakably for that thing, and if some perhaps in the city does not for instance want to clean up his place, or the alleys back of it, they ought to appoint a committee to wait on this individual and make it very impressive that they stand for something, and ask him to clean up or move on, if it really comes to such a show down. In other words, use all the eloquence and persuasive methods possible, but at the same time make it plain that they want real results. Personally, the Herald would not under any circumstances join a civic club if it did not stand for civic improvements of a reasonable nature, and being business men, no set of them like the Rotary or Lions would want to put over anything on a town that would ruin or even hurt the town or any individual if possible.

But, as our county agent, Roy Davis stated last Friday at the Rotary meeting, the club, civic or otherwise does nothing, stands for nothing nor wants nothing except just exist, is scheduled to pass out and they deserve to die.

School For Swine Breeders at Meet Here

CANYON, Jan. 18.—Directors and friends of the Panhandle Swine Breeders association on the South Plains will find themselves school boys next month at Brownfield, if the plans now being arranged by Professor Frank Phillips, head of the department of agriculture at the West Texas State Teachers College are carried out.

A two day school and sale will be held beginning February 11. The ideal type of hog one should select for breeding will be stressed the first day. The discussion of this subject is planned to help prospective buyers in selecting during the sale on February 12th the kind of hog which will best serve their interests.

Mr. Charles L. Franz of Turkey, president of the Texas Swine Growers Association, and Secretary E. M. Regenbrecht, of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, will also be present and take part in the discussions. Teachers from the Texas Technological College at Lubbock will participate in the school.

Midland C of C Buys Terry Co. Club Pigs

Mr. Frank Wendt, county agent of Midland County, and Mr. J. R. Vandeventer, were in the County last week looking over the pure bred pigs of the Terry County pig club boys. They were well pleased with the fine stock of the club boys here and Mr. Wendt returned this week and selected six nice Poland China pigs from Jack Tongate and R. E. Ratcliffe.

These six pigs were purchased by the Midland C. of C. and given as prizes to Midland County Club boys for their achievement in 4-H club work this year.

This makes thirty-one registered pigs that have been selected by neighboring County Agents and Vocational Agricultural teachers from the 4-H club boys of Terry County.

Want Ad Last Week Brought Good Results

We have always advocated the judicious use of our want ads, and to prove that we have faith in them, we sometimes use them ourselves. We reported to this method last week in order to get ten more dollars out of the office of county judge. Perhaps we were a little more long winded in the use of want ads than those not owning a paper would or could afford to use, but we got results, and that was what we wanted. Perhaps, too, some will say that we put our ad on the front page, whereas, we consider others to the regular classified columns. But this is just another prophecy fulfilled which says: "it will be read in any part of the Herald, in fact you can't hide it in the Herald." Anyway, we brought Judge Neill out for the office of County Judge, and we are satisfied. We don't care whether anyone else runs now or not we have the ten spot for that office, and if Neill runs like he used to run it will take a good one to head him anyway.

But it seems that Sears and Wheatley wanted to get in without the ten, or run for some higher office, like governor or the United States Senate, and to switch this editor down to Lieutenant Governor so they could boss us. Well, now we are not going to hold that office unless Sears or Aesculapius promise to go to Matamorras quite often and let us get in a few pardons while they are gone. Otherwise, there would be nothing in the office except honor for us—and we are not without honor here in our own county. So we are not going to form any filibuster with Sears.

Perhaps our ad reached further than the office of Judge, for we have another with us this week from Meadow, as John Cadenhead has decided to ask the voters for the office of Assessor. But John has company for that office and will not get lonesome. The Herald is becoming in need of some new machinery as well as a determination to liquidate some of our debts, and we are merely hitting up the iron while the hammer is hot. Come to Terry!

Jess Smith came in this week to have his paper changed to Hart, Texas, which is in Castro county. Jess and family are moving up there temporarily to look after a 400 acre wheat crop, and a bunch of hogs which he is running on the wheat. He indicated that he would be gone about 7 or 8 months. Harry back, Jess.

Earl Williams informed us this week that he was out of the baking business for the time being and was helping out in the implement department of Bell-Endersen Co.

C. Sears Visits East Texas During Holidays

January 1, 1929
I will drop in a few lines from over in Brownfield's Highland addition. Everything is OK on this side. Have one of the gloomiest days we have had since we have been in the county.

Our Xmas Holidays have come and gone. Crops all gathered and money spent.

I spent Christmas holidays in East Texas. Left here on Sunday, December 22 and spent the night with my friend, Lee Fowler. We left at 4:00 traveled through lots of snow until we passed through Snyder. It was Mrs. Fowler's birthday. That was the first birthday dinner I ever ate in a car. We ate our dinner running 50 miles per hour and it sure was fine; we had a wonderful dinner. We stopped at Cross Roads in Parker county for a while. There we met up with Bill Pickett's family. Then we left for Weatherford. There Lee began to look for his kin. At 4:30 I took a hand car to Ft. Worth, getting there at 5:20. Spent the night with two of my old friends I hadn't seen in 28 years. Lived neighbors to them in 90. One of them has been working for the T. P. Railroad 15 years. We sat up until 2:30 and talked about our boyhood days. The other works for the F. & M. Bank. I went through the bank Sunday night. We went to the top of the building which was 24 stories high. It was 9 p. m. and we could see the lights at Dallas, Waco, Hillsboro. I turned to see if I could see a light at home and wondering if my wife had supper ready, but she must have been gone for there was no light there. We then came down, went home and had supper, spent the time later listening in over the radio to Frank Norris speaking to his congregation. Lots of people think he's great, but I don't think a preacher that used the sort of language he used is very much of a preacher. That is the first time I have ever heard him and I don't care to hear him again.

I spent the day in Ft. Worth. Found some cousins I hadn't seen in 47 years. Spent the night with them and we left for Rockwall county; ate dinner with my brother, then made our way to Hunt county to my sister's. 18 of us spent the night Tuesday and 9 more came and ate Xmas dinner with her. She sure was a happy person. Had a big turkey, the largest I have seen in many days. Wednesday p. m. spent the night in Rockwall; went to Dallas Thursday morning and left for Waco and ate dinner with the family of my old friend Bob Buchanan, who left this world about a month ago. Went over in West Waco and walked across the bridge I walked when a child. Ate dinner Friday with man I rented land from 5 years in McLennan county. Left there for Cameron, Texas spent the day and night with my wife's sister.

By this time I was wondering how I would get back to the Plains for I was broke. Thought once I would wire our agent for a ticket but found a friend, gave him a cold check on

Hunter News

Oh gee, hasn't it been cold the past week.

Our school is still progressing nicely altho some of the pupils have been absent through the bad weather.

Mr. Orville Bockman is now among our set of stern old bachelors. He comes from Arson, Texas. He and Deward Williams say they are going to deserve honorable mention in these columns from now on—and how!

Mr. Lee Lyon is now among the tractor farmers. His success will be watched with interest. Surely he will succeed as he is one of our best farmers.

Mr. Oris Breecland of Lubbock was down in this part Sunday. He will move to his farm just vacated by J. B. Williams in the next few days.

Mr. M. S. Williams from near Tahoka has moved back to our community.

Willard Cheek visited Deward Williams Sunday night.

Miss Vurtal Montgomery visited Mrs. Lee Lyon Sunday.

George Byrd and family have moved to Colorado, Texas.

Miss Ruby Mills spent Tuesday night with Miss Delma Williams.

We are glad to have Mr. Smith and family back with us again.

Mr. Everett Woodall of Seymour, Texas is going to make this his home again this year.

The pastor of our church has moved closer to us and is now prepared to render the best of his services.

Why not attend church and Sunday School at Hunter next Sunday?

W. I. Pickett of route one was in recently to renew for the Herald and Farm News.

J. R. Whately, of Meadow, candidate for Com. Pre. No. 2, was a pleasant caller at the Herald office recently.

Walter Luker of this city was in recently as his time was about to expire.

the State Bank, boarded the Santa Fe and made my way to Lubbock.

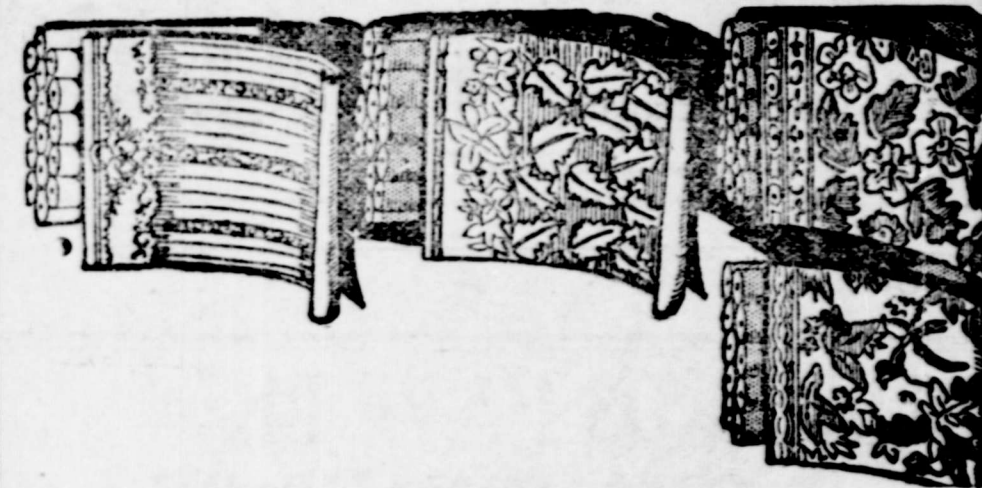

They had begun to stir politics in East Texas. Never saw Jim but got scent of him in different places.

I think we will have a meeting and put Walter Hogue or our Meadow writer out for governor. I believe we can beat Jim with either of these. If we do we will put out our Irish Editor for Leuit. Gov.; but then I don't know what we would do for a paper if he were elected.

I see our county candidates are increasing. I think I will make the race for County Attorney or for Commissioner Pre. 2.

I saw my old friend J. O. Wheatley and his wife is still sending him to school. She sent him to singing school 90 days last summer and he is now studying Texas history. It seems as though she intends to make something out of him yet.

AVERY Premium Lister

Handles all listed crops

The Avery Premium Lister stands supreme because it handles all dry-and-windy-country crops with equal ease. A careful inspection of this lister will surely impress upon you three outstanding points:

(1) To change from one crop to another is only a few seconds' job and no tools are needed, due to quick detachable, combination and special hoppers.

(2) Hopper is mounted on the beam, getting rid of bad planting and seed sputter troubles. This location is made possible by a counter-balancing device under the planting gear.

(3) Better and more uniform work is secured by a leveling device on the beam which maintains equal pitch at all times.

In addition the Avery Premium Lister uses all of the many Avery hoppers, plates, etc. Each of these equipments is satisfactorily operated. You can list milo maize without cracking the seed. Such crops as cotton are handled according to seasonal and personal requirements. This, plus sturdy construction, means good work, easily done, and years of economical, trouble-free service.

The Avery Premium Lister has back of it Avery's century of experience and the world's finest implement factory. Let us give you a complete demonstration and full details.

There is a full line of famous Avery walking, riding and tractor plows, tillage implements, and Champion harvesting and haying machines.

JUDGE NEILL ANSWERS OUR CALL FOR A VOLUNTEER
Dear Mr. Editor:
In your want ads last week, the prominence you gave to the missing candidate for County Judge, seems to have borne results, for I have been deluged this week by requests from many citizens of the county, here attending Court, to fill that gap in the ticket. Sensing a sincerity in their urge, and remembering my relations to them and the County, I can only answer "Here am I, send me, send me."
I served in this position back in the good old days when things were far between, and the pay was thin, now that the county and the office has reached respectable proportions I would like to have it a term. I feel well known to argue the matter here more than to say, that the knowledge gained of experience and observation, mixed with legal study, will be applied to the functions of that office, and to assert my thankfulness for a kindness done.
Very respectfully,
GEO. W. NEILL.

JOHN CADENHEAD ASKS FOR ASSESSOR'S OFFICE
To the voters of Terry County:
I wish to announce, through the columns of the Herald, my candidacy for the office of Tax Assessor.
I have never before announced for public office, however, I believe that I am qualified to fill the place I am asking for. If nominated and elected, I shall discharge the duties of that office to the utmost of my ability.
Thanking you in advance for your support and influence, and assuring you that same shall be greatly appreciated, I am,
Yours very truly,
JOHN W. CADENHEAD.

ANNOUNCING FOR PUBLIC WEIGHER OF PRECINCT 4
To the Voters of Meadow Pre. 4:
I take this method of announcing myself a candidate for Public Weigher. Your vote and influence will be appreciated.

Crowds Visit Opening of Our Newest Store
Nice crowds were in attendance Friday and Saturday at the opening of the Clyde Lewis Dry Goods store at the stand recently vacated by the Hogan Dry Goods store, and many of those who visited bought something before they came away.
Clyde and Clarence, both of whom we understand are interested in the store, are old timers in Terry and are both well and favorably known here, and the Herald bespeaks for them a good trade. They have a new, up-to-date and clean stock of dry goods, and will give you the advantages of close prices and quality merchandise.
Bowers Bros. are now putting feed on the market manufactured right here in Brownfield and from Terry county feeds, using local labor to make them, and they guarantee them to be just as good as those shipped in. Read his ad and try Bowers Feeds.

Believes Judge and Supt. Office to Divide
In conversation with Judge H. R. Winston, county judge and ex-officio school superintendent one day recently, he explained why he was not very desirous of the office again. While he did not say so, but from other things that have come up, and what was said at this interview, we gathered that Judge Winston is making preparations to follow something else at the conclusion of his present term of office.
He informed us that Terry county at present had around 2500 school children, and the next enumeration will let in the 6 year old class, according to the new law, which will run it up to some 2800 at least and with the new class of 7's and the natural increase from immigration, he expects the school population this fall to run over the 3000 mark, which means that then the office of county judge becomes a separate one from the county superintendent, and another man must be appointed or elected to fill that office, which will cut some $90 per month off the salary of the county Judge.
Well, that is something else too, but we have heard some people say they had rather have the office without the superintendent part, despite salary decrease. But Judge Winston started his career as a school teacher, and we imagine he likes that part of the work connected with the office of Judge.

Frank E. Givan, manager of the John W. Gordon ranches and other property on the south Plains as well as on the north Plains, was down this week looking after their property interests in this county. While here he dropped in to see how the Herald was getting along, and to pay up in advance. Frank says while they have had some very cold weather in the Hereford section they have not had the rains and snows we have had, and that lands are showing the effect of the drought. But the cool weather has held the wheat up mighty well, he says.
John Fitzgerald was in from Yoakum county Tuesday and reported that his cattle had gone through the cold weather remarkably well. But he began feeding early, and had his stuff in prime order. This is one thing the people have learned here, not to wait until the cattle are poor and weak and a blizzard on to begin feeding.

If you have not had enough hog killing weather lately to satisfy you, then you must either be a fiend for cold weather, or you have a world of hogs.

The Houston Mirror wants to know just how Tom Love's "conscience" will effect him should he be defeated this summer, and if his successful opponent be opposed by a republican that Tom likes personally better than the Democratic nominee, will Tom have another case of "conscientious" this fall. This is quite a pertinent question to ask a politician, but we bet he's asked that very question before this campaign is over—Jim Ferguson too, for that matter. But a politician is always ready with an alibi.

And again we say unto you, don't forget to get a poll tax receipt for every member of the family that is 21 years old or over. They might be worth a lot to you this summer. We have seen people that would have paid many times what they cost to have had the privilege of voting when a real pinch comes on in the community, county, state or nation.

Gov. Moody claims that he is not trying to dictate to the legislature concerning the relocation of the penitentiary system, but is merely going by and basing his message on the report of the majority of the commission, who made the recommendation that the system be located near Austin. He claims to want the cooperation of the legislature and not its opposition. Even so, majorities are not always right, and the legislature should satisfy itself about all reports of the relocation committee, there being three distinct reports, we understand—a majority, a minority, and a compromise report.

It is a pitiable condition when the good people of a city permit racketeer controlled politicians to squander the funds provided through taxation to educate the children as is the case in Chicago at present, when teachers have not been paid in months, and there is a threat to close the schools. Another citizen of Illinois, who now resides here, informed us recently that Peoria is in the same condition. Peoria is another politically controlled city. Politicians and business never have mixed to the advantage of the citizenship. They should be separated and some statesmen put in office, if they can be found. All the graft, however, is not confined to the north, nor the republican party.

Snow that fell two weeks ago and no more than fell here is still reported on the harder lands north and east of us. All that fell here has long since soaked into the deep sandy earth here to be stored for use in breaking and bringing up the crops in the spring. On the hard lands where melting is slow, much of this good moisture has gone up as vapor, evaporated by the winds, and has done the land little good. If the hard lands gets lots of rain, they beat us acre for acre generally, but if not, then we make fair crops and they make nothing. The year 1929 demonstrated this again as has lots of past years. Sandy lands are better for general farming in this section where the rainfall is not always what it should be. Consider this in looking out a future home.

The Herald is real proud of its community correspondents, for they are doing all they can to help the Herald make a bigger and better Herald, for which we thank them. People like to read about what is going on in the local, alright, but they also like the local community happenings just as well. Also, town people like to read the community happenings, and the two together makes a well balanced county paper. Anything of special interest in the rural community should be enlarged upon by the writers, and not just mentioned like some mention of a visitor. For instance, if some one in the community has sold a fine hog that brought an unusual price; or Bill Smith's cow has made a high butter test record; or John Brown's hen has laid more eggs than usual and established a record in the community, such things should be enlarged upon.

killed by germs from your own parrot is humiliating. Many husbands, seeing their opportunity, have turned pet parrots over to the authorities to be disposed of, mercifully sacrificing many that never had psittacosis. Sad for parrots, but no great loss. After all, a parrot cannot say anything that you cannot say yourself better, and its shrieking annoys neighbors.

The only negro student at West Point is dismissed "honorably" for deficiency in mathematics. Sixty-three white men failed in examinations with him and were also dismissed.

Prejudice had nothing to do with it, although Alonzo Souleigh Farham, the negro cadet dismissed, is the fourteenth to enter the academy and the eleventh to be dismissed at the end of six months.

Earth's Ozone Blanket
Wise Ben Franklin
To Have Thin Ankles
The Postmaster's Fleet

Scientists of Smithsonian institution hope to learn about magnetic disturbances and weather phenomena generally, by studying the earth's "ozone blanket."

That "blanket" is a thin layer of superior atmosphere, thirty miles above the earth's surface. By measuring the thickness and contents of the earth's ozone blanket, it may be possible to tell what is happening on the sun, 93,000,000 miles away.

It might be possible also later to bring down some of that ozone, with its wonderful qualities for the improvement of the lungs and blood. Future advertisements may read: "Ozone fresh from the ozone blanket every day."

Going up thirty miles from the earth's surface seems a great achievement.

But a microbe living on the face of an ordinary apple would do as much if he rose from the surface of his apple as much as one-hundredth part of an inch.

Thirty miles is much less than one two-hundredth part of the earth's diameter.

Here is good advice for youth or old age: "Dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that is the stuff life is made of."

More good advice is this: "He that goes a-borrowing, goes a-sorrowing."

And for a nation in which ninety old men out of a hundred die worth less than $100, this is valuable: "A man may, if he knows not how to save as he gets, keep his nose to the grindstone."

Those wise things were said by Benjamin Franklin, born 224 years ago. There is material for a thousand good sermons in Franklin's common sense talks.

Dr. Olga Stastny of Omaha, "official physician to America's organized business women," says working girls should learn to "loaf like a man." "Women, to be successful, must learn to sit as men do with their heels on a desk higher than their heads and relax."

Many men, including probably John D. Rockefeller and Herbert Hoover, have succeeded without putting their heels higher than their heads during business hours. And a considerable number of "heels-higher-than-heads" young gentlemen are far from success.

However, the learned Doctor Stastny says that putting their heels on the desk will "change girls' thick ankles into thin ankles." Girls will pay attention to that.

Mr. Brown, postmaster general, suggests a $76,000,000 program to build a fleet of North Atlantic superhips for American passengers and mail. The postmaster demands "a service which could compete with any foreign flag service on the North Atlantic."

Americans will congratulate Postmaster Brown and President Hoover on that proposition, and hope that they will not only compete with but eclipse every foreign service on the North Atlantic and everywhere else. Why should a country with the best engineers, from the President down, and with more money than anybody else, ever play second fiddle on the ocean or in the air?

Pity the poor parrot, now in the limelight because of his disease, psittacosis, which, when human beings contract it, usually kills them. The number of deaths is small, compared with other death causes. But psittacosis is a long name, and to be

A "Divided" Church

Not long ago, a congregation in New York built a new church. They did not have the title insured. In applying to a local savings bank for a mortgage loan, the bank's attorney insisted on a title insurance policy before granting the loan.

Examination disclosed that there existed a 6-foot strip of land extending through the center of the building, to which the church had no title due to the failure of the two lots comprising the church property to join.

A substantial payment was required to unite the "divided" church, which title insurance would have saved.

Whenever you buy or lend on real estate a New York Title policy is always your best policy.

Rev. E. V. May stopped us on the streets this week to tell us how much he appreciated the nice things the Herald had to say about the ministers of the town recently in these columns, and especially that part concerning himself. Well, we like to hear the good as well as the bad, and an editor likes to be told he is giving the readers a good paper just like the ministers like to be told they are preaching good sermons. Our work is very similar, and the preacher, the teacher and the editor of the community should work together for the good of the general public.

Burnett Cox, of Lubbock, representative of the International Harvester Co, was down Tuesday.

THE THEATRE SHOULD LISTEN TO FRIENDLY WARNING

Mr. E. H. Sothern, distinguished Shakespearean actor, is credited in the daily press with having issued a solemn warning to the institution to which he has given his life. Despite the fact that there seems to be a reaction in the theater against the horrible degradation of the last few seasons, Mr. Sothern's words should be carefully pondered by the highminded men and women who are giving their lives to the American stage. He says: "The stage in this country has become commonplace, often vulgar and despicable, primarily commercialized, he said. "What a tragedy it seems to me when I attend the theatre and witness these wide-mouthed, pop-eyed men and women drinking in filth and vulgarity."

"Just as well as all this depth dredging nastiness, we could have a noble and beautiful theatre," the noted actor said. "Fifty years ago we led the world in stock companies of fine standards. To-day we are in lewd and vulgar depths."

The majority of actors and actresses are conscientious, self-respecting, clean-minded men and women, and it is impossible to believe that they are entirely at the mercy of producers of another type. An appeal to decency is indicated in the interest of the box office.

Many people have been encouraged by the very evident trend away from nudity, blasphemy, revolting profanity, and discussion of sex perversion on the theatrical stage. It has been a number of years when the plays being produced averaged so high in decency as during the present season. We believe that theatrical producers will find the present season more profitable than recent seasons in which many plays produced have been a disgrace to the American public, and offensive to the American public, an outrage upon the self-respecting actors and actresses who have been forced to earn their livelihood in their interpretation.

SOUTH PLAINS SCOUTS TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

LUBBOCK, Texas, Jan. 20.—Every Boy Scout over the South Plains Area Council will take part in some way in observing the twentieth annual Anniversary Week, celebrating the anniversary of the birthday of the Boy Scout of America when it was incorporated Feb. 8, 1910.

The anniversary week will be observed from Feb. 8 to 12. Arrangements are being made by the office of the council to have ministers of churches that sponsor some scout troop to preach a sermon Sunday, Feb. 9, that will in some way connect up with scouting and other ministers may also cooperate in the movement.

Here in Lubbock, arrangements are being made to have scout displays in prominent downtown show windows and it is entirely likely that other troops over the area will also have exhibits. Such things as rock collections, insect collections, taxidermy work, scout literature, knot boards, handicraft work, such as wood carving, carpentry, metal work and other products of scout activities will be on display by six troop exhibits over the Lubbock business district that week.

The Lubbock scout troops and scout officials are planning a weiner roast and camp fire program one night during the week at which time not only the scouts and scout officials will be present but the general public has likewise been invited.

Yes we have a poet in our midst and the Box Supper inspired her to show her talent. Friday night, Jan. 31, the P. T. A. is sponsoring a Box Supper at the Challis school house.

The proceeds will go to buy lights and other things probably library books, for the school. Everyone is invited to come and help, we are sure you will not be sorry that you came.

School is going on nicely now with some new pupils coming every week.

The new pupils this week were four Lagon children from the Edith school in Lynn county. We are glad to have them join us.

The trustees came Monday and completed the erecting of the merry-go-round or Giant Wave. The children say they like it better than the slide, but of course it is new.

Miss Laverne Cook visited the school Monday and says she likes the school fine and especially our primary teacher.

We are giving sighs of relief since we safely passed another month's examination. Here is one of the products: (Civil Government question): "What is a county?"

(Pupil's answer): "A county is a county."

And while we are speaking of school that reminds us of the social last Thursday night. In spite of the cold weather about twenty-five of the P. T. A. members met at the school house where old school day memories were recalled. The house was called to order by an old fashioned school teacher, who rang a bell and proceeded to hear lessons. At the noon hour paper sack lunches containing sandwiches and fruit were served.

There was the usual visiting in the community Saturday and Sunday. Too numerous to mention all of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Walters formerly of this community visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Tongate, this past week, until Sunday, when they returned to their home in Goodnight.

Those reported on the sick list are well this week and we know of no others except the many who have colds.

Mr. John and Harvey Dobbs carried their sister Irene to Lamesa where she will leave for Eagle Pass to accept a position in a local hospital as night supervisor.

Don't forget the Box Supper.

W. B. Toone, our hustling school superintendent was in to see us recently, and informed us that the school was moving on nicely despite the frigid weather we are having.

In a jocular mood he informed us that he was getting a great deal of pleasure out of the overshoes old Santa brought him.

Mrs. Neyland, of Tahoka, who has had years of experience in ready-to-wear for ladies, as well as general dry goods, has accepted a position here with Cobb Dept. Store. She would be glad to form your acquaintance.

CHEVROLET TO EXCEED LAST YEAR'S PRODUCTION

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 20.—Chevrolet will sell more cars this month than in January a year ago, according to H. J. Klingler, vice-president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, who announced on Saturday that the month's schedule had to be increased in response to the greatest reception a new Chevrolet model has received in the nineteen-year history of the company.

Directly on the heels of the first showing of the new car on Jan. 4, a flood of congratulatory messages poured into the home office from every quarter of the country. Every message told of unprecedented public interest in the new car and a consequent increase in retail sales, with the result that the January schedule had to be revised upward to meet dealer requirements for immediate delivery, Mr. Klingler said.

We thank J. H. Griffin, prominent and prosperous young Terry county farmer, for his renewal.

J. C. Grimes, splendid citizen of Tokio, was in after supplies Saturday.

Free Hospitalization For Ex-Service Men

To All Ex-Service Men of Brownfield Trade Territory:
The United States Veteran's Bureau is now offering to all Honorable Discharged Veterans, hospitalization and transportation and check to and from Dallas, Texas.

This simply means that if an ex-soldier who has an honorable discharge, has the appendicitis, or some other disease of the abdomen, head, or some other part of the body, will get in touch with some officer of the Howard Post, that they will get you lined up, and you can have your operation free, at Dallas, Texas, the Government paying for the same as well as the train fare, down there and back, and check, and Hospital bill all paid.

If any soldier in the County does not have his discharge recorded he should do so at once with Rex Headstream, and the Commissioners Court will pay the Clerk 50c for recording it and it does not cost the soldier anything. This will enable the service officer, at some time in the future to proof of service, after the soldier is dead and gone, and his offspring will be benefited thereby.

If anyone knows of any soldier that has died and his grave is not marked with tomb stone, please notify the Howard Post and they will get in touch with the parents, or relatives, and get the United States Government to erect him a $100.00 tombstone.

If any soldier knows of another soldier that does not belong to the American Legion at Brownfield, Texas, as they should send his name and address to C. R. Baldwin, Adjutant, Brownfield, Texas, and he will try and get him lined up, and give him the service that he is entitled to. Every soldier in this community should line up with the legion and get the benefits that the Government is offering to Ex-Service men and their families. You need the Legion and the Legion needs you. A bill is now pending in Congress for the creation of a Veterans' Home Building and Farm Loan Association. Loans would range to a maximum of $5,000 bearing interest at 3% and would be repayable in not more than fifteen years.

If any soldier has neglected to get his adjusted compensation, his chances are forever gone, but if he dies between January 1, 1930 and June the 1st, 1930, his relatives can make application for his adjusted compensation, and receive for same from the Government. Yours very truly,
William Guyton Howard Post
No. 269, Brownfield, Texas.

The Legion is A Service Organization

When our Uncle Sam's service men threw down their arms, after attaining victory in the World War and returned home, they banded themselves together in an organization known as the American Legion.

"For God and Country," thus begin its preambles, and its first and true aim was to continue in time of peace the same high type of patriotic service it had rendered its country in time of war.

A loyal and true blue Legionnaire gave or offered to his country all he had, his services. So it is today—each individual post and its membership measures its success by services rendered—to the disabled Buddie, the Community, State and Nation. And we of us who are carrying on would like to let the world at large know that we are not "ex-service" men, but ARE service men.

To our Buddies outside of the Legion we say come on in, give us your service. You need the Legion, the Legion needs you.

By a "service officer."

During Severe Cold Spells

When the piercing winds came out of the North, together with heavy snows, and the drop of mercury shivered and sought refuge at the bottom of your thermometer — you were WARM.

The comfort you enjoyed was not due to any accident - but was the result of the untiring labor of hundreds of employees of an organization which spares nothing in its efforts to keep faith with you. While you were sitting in front of your fire, while you were eating a warm appetizing meal, while you were enjoying a good night's rest, these men were fighting hard and unflinchingly against the bitter elements - perishing winds, ice and snow - to insure your perfect comfort. The result of these efforts is SERVICE.

Natural Gas, without SERVICE, is of little advantage - like a shell without a gun. When, however, it enjoys the companionship of a wholehearted service which we strive unceasingly to give, it immediately becomes the most beneficial, economical and dependable fuel known to man.

Sallie Truman, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stricklin, charmingly entertained a few friends at her home Saturday evening at six o'clock in honor of her eleventh birthday. Her birthday came on Tuesday but her party was postponed until Saturday on the account of school. Games were played and very much enjoyed throughout the evening. Ola Belle Brown gave several fine musical selections and delightful readings. At a late hour lovely refreshments of sandwiches, cake, hot chocolate and candy hearts were served. The birthday cake was very lovely holding eleven burning candles, and when cut was found to hold a ring, dime, thimble and button, which brought much delight to the guests. Friends and guests wishing Sallie Truman a "Happy Birthday" were Ola Belle Brown, Glenn Brown, Buster Brown, Francis Harris, James Harris, Wanda and Twilla Graham, Queenelle Sawyer, George Bruce Hancock, Jeanette Hancock, Ethel Pippin, Clifton and Geraldine Jones, Helen Quante, Verma Brothers, Charles and Eunice Michie, El Ray Lewis, Wilma Frank Dunn, Bonnie Dale Gross, Claude Hudgens Jr., Julia Ruth Markham, Virginia May, R. Not Enough Farmers To Put Out a Fire

Mr. Bruce Knight of this town said in a recent interview that if all the discriminating farmers suddenly had to leave Terry county, there "wouldn't be enough farmers left to put out a fire in the woods." He went on to say that the farmers living in this town and county wanted quality in their implements, knew what to look for in order to get it, and insisted on getting nothing else.

"One of the most interesting changes I have noticed lately in the implement business," said Mr. Knight "is the trend toward better equipment. The time used to be when a farmer would come into my place, look at a plow or a rake and say, 'How much?' before I'd had so much as a chance to tell him a thing about the machine. The first consideration then was price. But instead of haggling and hawing around about price, and talking about some other cheaper outfit, what the farmer today seems most interested in is how well does the implement do the job?—is it going to do the job right along, dependably—or will it require a lot of servicing? If I can satisfy him on that score I usually have no trouble selling him.

Saves Money in the End

"I use that argument often. With a given sum of money to invest in new equipment, it is easy to demonstrate to the sane individual where it is more to his advantage to invest the money in equipment that is efficient and stays steadily on the job than it is to distribute it over cheaper equipment and forced repairs which usually cost more in a year's time than was saved in the first price and throws the machine into temporary idleness in the bargain.

"Folks in this part of the country," said Mr. Knight, "are shrewd enough to want the biggest run for their money and intelligent enough to know that they are doubly certain of getting it in implements backed by experience and reputation." He says they have found out that if they want good planters, till the soil with good tillage implements and harvest with good machinery, and—he said, "That is just what they are buying."

Come Back for More

The implements handled by Mr. Knight are made by B. F. Avery & Sons of Louisville, Ky. He says, "Of course, I believe I have the finest line of farm implements that is made. It's not just because I sell them that makes me believe it, either. It's more because so many buyers of Avery goods come back again and again for more equipment. They tell me that they're satisfied with Avery performance—and that's the acid test, I guess." The slogan of the Avery organization is "There is No Substitute for Experience" and according to Mr. Knight, this is proved by the statements of his customers.

Mrs. E. A. Morgan and daughter, Evelyn, are preparing to leave this week for California.

A NEW AGE OF LUBRICATION BEGINS WITH THIS NEW MOTOR OIL CHARACTERISTIC:

"Penetrative Lubricity"*

CONOCO Alone Has this New Characteristic

Since the discovery of the wheel, lubrication has been a necessity and a problem. The first rude barrows which pre-historic men built, needed lubrication, and one of the brighter tribesmen began rubbing the axles of his primitive cart with raw animal meat.

With Watt's invention of the steam engine in 1763, metal-on-metal friction resulted. Then it was that animal and vegetable oil lubricants became definitely unsatisfactory. Their tendency to leave corrosive deposits ruled them out.

Mineral Oils Are Discovered

After the drilling of the first oil well in 1859, mineral oils became commercially successful. Because petroleum was plentiful and was free from gumming and corroding tendencies, it rapidly supplanted animal and vegetable oils.

But since 1901 there have been practically no changes of fundamental importance in refining motor oils.

Now since 1901, think of the changes that have been made in motors! Probably the make of car you drive today was not even manufactured in 1901. Certainly its needs for oils are far more exacting!

The Development of Germ Process

Foreseeing that ordinary mineral oils would eventually fail to meet the increasing strains put upon them, Wells and Southcombe, two British scientists began a study of the problem which occupied 16 years. The result of their efforts was the isolation of the Germ Essence—a property that provides increased "oiliness" when introduced into mineral oils. These processes were patented and Continental acquired them exclusively for North America. This Continental brings you the first and only fundamentally better oil of the century!

Germ Process and Penetrative Lubricity

The Germ Process adds one startling characteristic to CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oils. It enables them to penetrate metal surfaces! This means that an enduring oil film actually penetrates all working parts and clings under all conditions. In starting when 40% to 60% of motor wear occurs . . . in speeding when any failure of the film is fatal to motor life, remember this—the permanence of this film precludes any possibility of metal abrasion. The germ-essence naturally adds greater "oiliness" and we call that lubricity. So we have Penetrative Lubricity as the outstanding characteristic of this new oil.

When will you begin using CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil?
