

REAL WORK OF PAVING STARTED THIS WEEK

The Pouring Of Concrete Started Wednesday Afternoon On the Higginbotham-Eartlett Block. Lots of Money Being Paid Out Here For Labor and Materials

From this on for the next three months, the pay roll for labor alone in paving the streets of Brownfield will run in the neighborhood of $2,000 per week, according to Mr. L. J. Von Tungeln, who has charge of paving construction here for the Panhandle Construction Co. This is going to be a world of help here not only to the people who are working for them, but for the whole community as most of the money will be turned loose here for clothing, food and room rent. Some of these people, according to Mr. Von Tungeln, have moved their families here for the duration of the work on the streets.

In every instance, when possible, we have employed home men here for the work. Some of the brick layers will be brought in, but they will make this home while here. Of course the work will be pushed with the advent of pretty and warmer weather, and we will finish and get out of the way of you people just as soon as possible. Three blocks east of the Brick garage will be paved first, and workmen are giving the Higginbotham block the final leveling up as this is being written, and concrete will be poured on it and the Herald-Cicero Smith block this week, weather permitting. So you see that the real work of paving is now under way here.

According to Mr. Von Tungeln, the three blocks east of the Brick garage may not be paved at this time, as there was a holdout in signing up for paving by one party in each block, and he said his company absolutely would not sign up to pay for the paving when completed.

This will be had for the whole city as well as these parties who so far have not seen proper to sign up for paving, and the city council may put this paving on other blocks where the property owners are willing to pay their just share of it.

The Best Thing We Know is—Chickens

We want to give you a picture of a small chicken ranch of Chisholm Bros. 20 acre place out on Lamesa road. They have 370 head; about half R. I. Reds and half English White Leghorns. These are the best they could get. Of course these hens are running out except in extreme cold and here is what they are doing.

240 eggs per day at 4c—$9.60 per day; $9.60 per day for 30 days—$288.00; Feed expenses for month $77.20; NET $210.80 for a month on the present basis of production.

These hens are producing right along through the cold weather when eggs were as high as 50 and 60c per dozen.

They are not properly housed but they have had the right kind of attention and the right kind of feed.

This is a bunch of late spring pullets and they are not at their best yet but this shows what can be done with the right kind of chickens.

Chisholm Bros. want your help to build up the poultry industry in the surrounding country. They do not expect to make much money in the hatchery business but if they can get the farms stocked with good poultry they will be satisfied.

At the present time Chisholm Bros. have one large machine standing idle for want of good hatching eggs and if it were not for their own flocks both machines would be idle.

Here is your opportunity to stock up with good poultry and make a nice income.

METHODIST CHURCH

Our goal for Sunday School attendance is 150. We were within six of reaching this number last Sunday. Will you be one of the six to come?

The Missionary Society is serving a dinner Monday during court.

The Epworth Juniors are giving a party to those in attendance Sunday. This new organization includes boys and girls between the ages of nine and thirteen. They meet at present at three in the church.

Wednesday nights we are meeting at 7:45 for study and worship.

Burglar Caught Who Robbed Store Sun. Nite

A young man who blowed in here Sunday afternoon or early night happened to be the one who is alleged to have burglarized the Collins Dry Goods store Sunday night some time, and is now in jail waiting for trial which will probably be some time during this term of court, and owing to his age will likely be sent to the State Reformatory at Gatesville. The young man admits, according to officers having served one term in the Arkansas Reformatory. His story reads almost like fiction:

After serving his term out in Arkansas, he claims to have left that state, and passed through here on his way to Phoenix, Ariz. There he worked washing cars until he had accumulated about $100. This he wished to use in entering the hamburger business, and a stranger was to put over the deal for him. The stranger got the money, and left in the night. Finding himself broke, he once again hit the road in this direction, and by hitch-hiking landed here Sunday night.

He was hungry, so he had not out in a day or two, and hit up a couple of citizens for food, but was turned down. He decided to enter the Huggens & Knight grocery for food, but on going to the rear he missed his calculations and entered Collins Dry Goods store instead by breaking out a window. Seeing his mistake, he decided to fit himself out in clothes and rifle the cash drawer which contained some $12 or $15. He got some $185 worth of clothing and shoes. Coming out, he had money with no need to beg, borrow or steal food, so hid himself to an all-night cafe where he had his fill.

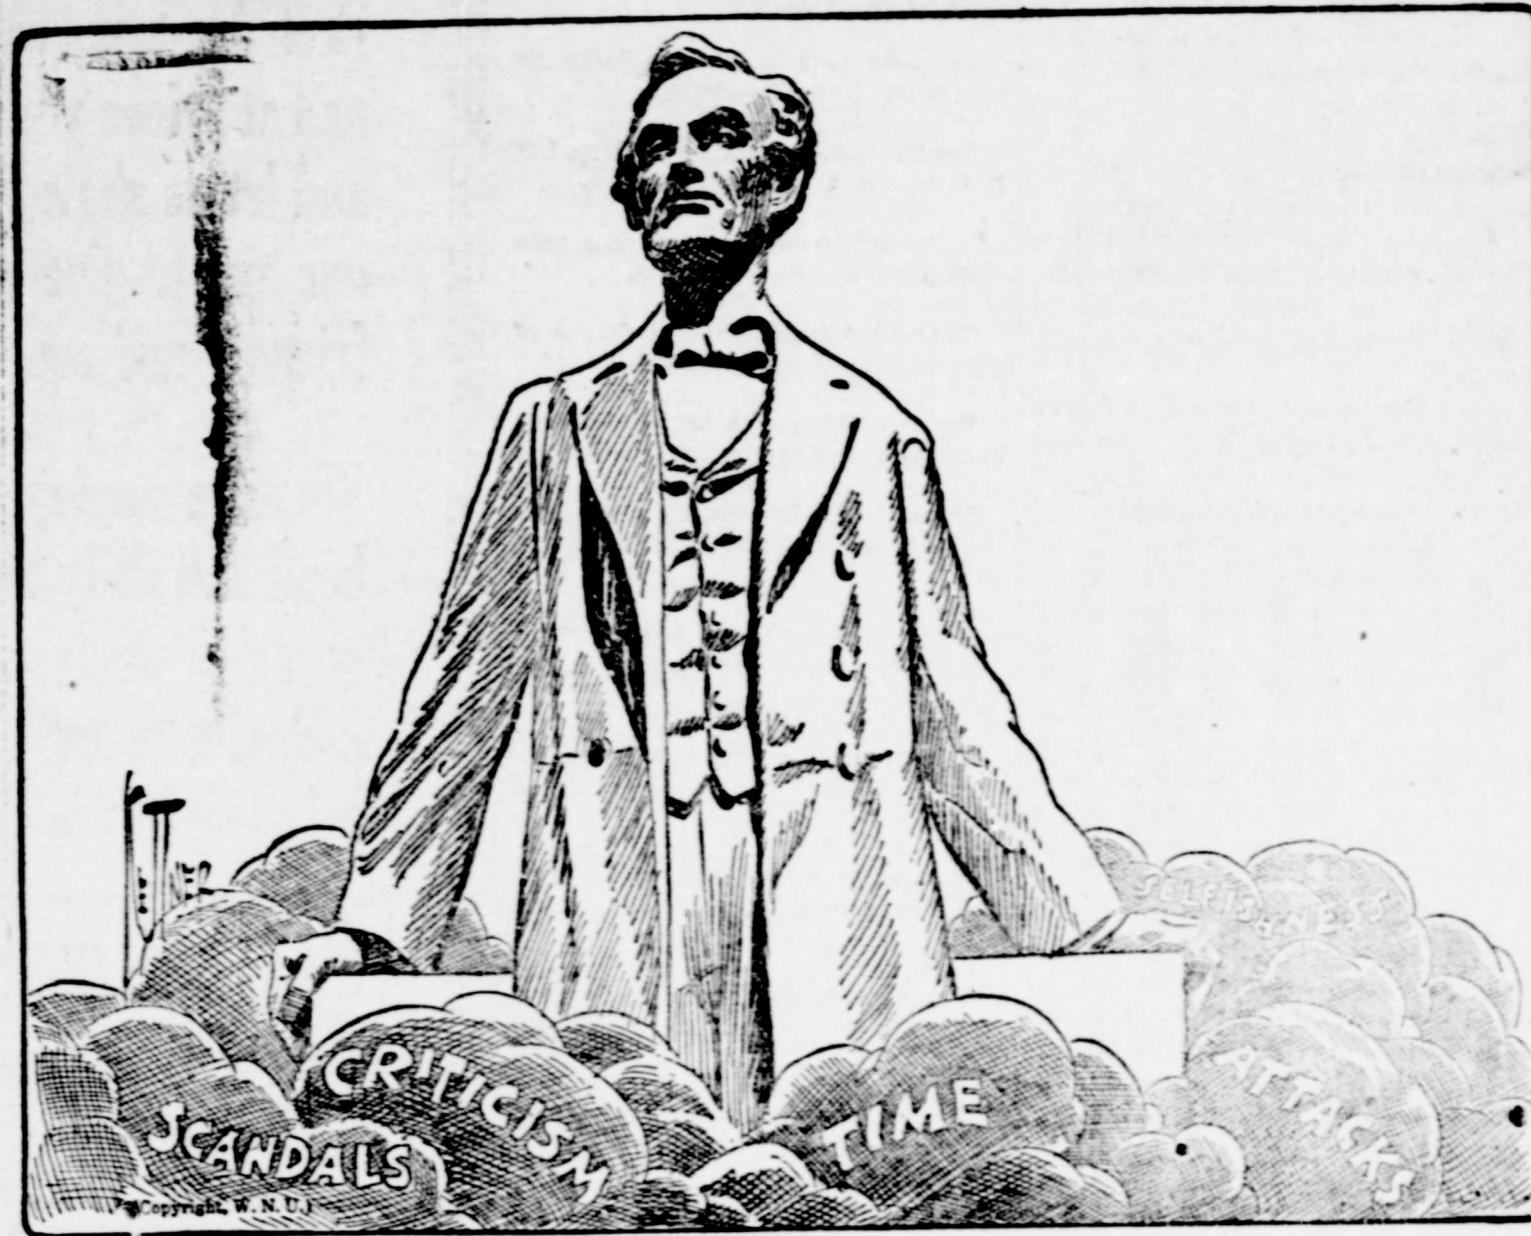

But the burglary so grated on our two nightwatchmen, Frosty Ellington and Gene Brown that neither slept next day, but together with Sheriff Telford and City Marshal Therman, worked on the case all day. One fellow's room was searched, as it was believed that the fellow hadn't left town, but nothing was found. Late in the afternoon Frosty Ellington had a hunch, and while he seemed not to have enough confidence in it to tell the others, he worked on it. He obtained a search warrant and give the room of the young fellow mentioned above the once over, then waited till he put in his appearance, and the arrest resulted. But, the officers are still on a quandary who tried to break in the Huggens & Knight store and the Burks-Winston filling station the same night, but many believe this young that was arrested probably scared some one else out of robbing the Huggens & Knight store while prowling around himself. They are, we understand, trying to get trace of a Buick car that left here early Monday morning.

The Herald sees no need of the officers worrying about the matter other than trying to find the burglars, for the primary purpose of a watchman is to be on the lookout for fires, and their presence is somewhat of a bluff to prospective burglars. In cities where there are policemen every few blocks, stores are robbed. Most thieves have an officer under observation by confederates.

Holgate Rebuys His Interest in Hardware

Not many people were surprised Monday when it was learned generally that S. H. Holgate had purchased his old interest in the Holgate-Endersen Hardware Co., back from W. A. Bell, and the firm name was once more Holgate-Endersen instead of Bell-Endersen. The reason we say they were not surprised is because Simon Holgate has been in the hardware business practically ever since he has been in business and Will Alf Bell on the other hand, had devoted a greater portion of his business life to banking. Both were as fish out of water.

The Holgate-Endersen store is one of the oldest as well as one of the most progressive stores in the county. It was started some 25 or more years ago when Terry county was a baby in swaddling clothes, over at Gomez in the Adams-Holgate store. After the Adams' moved to Brownfield it was conducted for several years as the Gomez Mercantile Co., and was running under that name when the store was moved here after the railroad came to Brownfield. Mr. Endersen then came here from central Texas and bought an interest in the store.

Mr. Holgate took active interest in the store Saturday the 1st, and Mr. Bell is now walking the streets, and so far has not indicated to us that he ever intends to do anything else.

Notice to Pig Club Members and Farmers

The Panhandle Swine Breeders Association will hold their annual meeting and sale in Brownfield next week, February 11 and 12. Questions pertaining to care and management of breeding stock, how to feed for the market so as to make the most money, and all other phases of swine production will be discussed by experienced hog men.

The auction sale of young boars, bred sows and gilts will be held at the Cicero Smith Lbr. Co., and will start at 1 o'clock, Wednesday, February 12. The animals offered for sale will be consigned to members of the association, among which, will be the Lillard Stock Farms who will have ten or twelve high class animals for sale.

Everyone is invited to attend all of the meetings and the sale, but farmers and club boys are especially urged to attend the Wednesday morning program which will be held at the Baptist church starting at ten. This program will be devoted entirely to topics of interest to farmers and pig club boys.

THE RURAL POSTMAN

(From The Texas Carrier)

In the cold and blustery weather
When the frost is on the rail,
Would you love to face a blizzard
With a half a ton of mail?
In the biting blizzard weather
When the snow comes to your knees,
Would you love to fish for pennies,
While your feet and elbows freeze?

When the gleaming snow is drifted
Underneath a foot of sleet,
Would you love to have the chilblains
In your elbows and your feet?
When outdoors the wind is whistling,
And the air is full of snow,
Would you love to have a jitney
And the blamed thing wouldn't go?

Yes, I'd love the good old fireside,
Sipping coffee from a pail,
But I have to buck the snowdrift,
'Cause the farmers want their mail.
I don't mind the frozen snowdrifts
When my knees are stiff with cramps,
If you keep the bloom'n' pennies,
Buy a quarter's worth of stamps.

I get snow mixed in my whiskers
And I get it in my socks,
But it never hurts my feelin's
Like loose pennies in the box.

DON'T FORGET THE BIG HOG SHOW HERE 11-12TH

Some of the Biggest and Most Noted Swine Breeders of Texas To Be Here Next Week With Exhibits. Educational Feat For Terry County Farmers.

This is the last time we will be able to notify Terry and Yoakum county farmers and breeders that next Tuesday and Wednesday, February 11 and 12 is the two days set for the big Panhandle Swine Breeders meet to be held here on that date. We understand that places will be fixed at the Cicero Smith yards for the display of porkers. This will be a good place, as the huge sheds will give ample protection to the stock should the weather be cold.

Remember that some of the biggest and well known breeders of the Panhandle Plains section will be here, as well as some from other portions of the state like Lillard of Arlington, who not only sweeps the boards at State Fairs, but consistently won at all shows in the north, northeast and northwest last year against some of the largest and oldest breeders in the nation. It is from the Lillard herds that most of our own splendid basic stock have come, as it was from his herds that County Agent Roy Davis selected some 80 pigs two years ago, which the banks of Brownfield and Meadow distributed over the county. These breeders or some of them will bring some fine stuff to be auctioned to the highest bidder the second day of the convention. You will have a chance to add some mighty fine blood to your herd at your own figures.

Not alone will the Convention be a good place for the things mentioned above, as good displays are promised by local breeders, but there will be some talks and lectures at the auditorium of the Baptist church, from men who know the ins and outs of the hog industry whether you are breeding for the market or for show hogs. Come along and bring your family, as they will enjoy the show and learn something that you will probably miss.

This is a good opportunity for the entire south plains to attend the convention as it will likely go way north next year as this is the second year on the south plains. Come!

Imposing Review of Famous U.S. Cavalry

The Second United States Cavalry, organized before the Civil War as the Second Dragoons, and the second oldest unit of American mounted troops, is one of the regiments that takes part in the inspiring brigade review sequences in "His First Command," a Pathe dialogue picture, starring William Boyd, which will be on view at the Rialto theatre Saturday.

Displaying on its colors battle standards won in every conflict in which United States has taken part from the Indian wars to the World War, this proud regiment of troopers, with the 13th Cavalry, appears in the first all color and sound scenes shot out doors for a dramatic picture production, the regiment is commanded now by Colonel A. R. Miller, while the 13th Cavalry is in command of Lieut. Colonel William Overton.

The colorful military ceremony of a brigade review, with dashing cavalymen on spirited mounts, the flash of sabers, the brilliant colors of old glory and the regimental colors and the stirring martial music makes one of the most thoroughly inspiring spectacles ever seen and heard in sound pictures. This is part of the colorful background to one of the most effective stories in which Boyd has been starred in some time.

In the supporting cast of the Pathe star are Dorothy Sebastian, Paul Hurst, Alphonz Ethier, Howard Hickman, Helen Parrish, Rose Tapely, Gavin Gordon, Mabel Van Buren and Jules Cowles. "His First Command" was directed and written by Gregory La Cava.

A meeting, sponsored by the Ropesville chamber of commerce, will be held in that city next Wednesday night for the purpose of forming a marketing association to serve farmers within that immediate section. J. A. Summerhill, publicity director of the chamber, announced here Saturday.

"Lubbock will be the marketing center of the association," said Mr. Summerhill. "Through this co-operative effort we expect to find a ready market for butter, eggs, cream and poultry for farmers in the Ropesville territory."

Pulpit Jokes

The late Dr. John Roach Stratton, unbending at Greenwood lake, told a reporter a number of pulpit jokes.

"Then there was a very nervous preacher," Doctor Stratton said, "who gave out as his text one Sabbath, 'Heaviness may endure for a joy, but night cometh in the morning.'"

"Another preacher had to preach before a convention of medicals. He was a joker, that man, and no mistake. His text was, 'A certain woman had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing better, but rather grew worse.'"

"A terrible Scotch preacher officiated at a notorious miser's funeral. This isn't a joke, though. The Scotchman took for the text of his funeral sermon, 'And the beggar died.'"

Softening Toward Him

Representative James M. Beck said at a dinner:

"If they had kept me out much longer I'd have felt as bad as Brownlow."

"Brownlow was running for mayor, and one night at the end of a stormy meeting his campaign manager said: 'You're winning them over, Brownlow. They seemed more inclined to listen tonight. Yes, you're getting more popular all the time.'"

"Popular?" snarled Brownlow. "Look at my coat and vest. Why, they did nothing but bombast me with 'otten eggs.'"

"Yes, but," said the manager, "don't you remember, Brownlow, how it used to be bricks?"

DAWSON COUNTY FREAK IS BORN; LAMB IS UNIQUE

LAMESA, Feb. 1.—Page Banrum! A. H. Merrick, Dawson county farmer, today displayed the talents of his flock of sheep, when he exhibited a six-legged lamb born on his farm three days ago. The lamb was natural in all respects except on the right side was a third pair of limbs with the pedal extremities pointing the wrong way. "He was dead when I found him, but I wish he could have lived so I could see which way he was going to walk," Merrick said, when he brought the unfortunate wool manufacturer to Lamesa.

The First Comes on With Usual Troubles

Well, its here again—the first of the month with its usual commotions, denials and counter proposals. All our bills were larger by a heap sight than we expected, and we have each of us—the heads of the household as we think—bawled out the family and made them promise to reduce expenses to the minimum, or the family just as well pack up for the poorhouse next month. All of us thought that when the Christmas bills were paid that we would have some rest for a season, but the bills rolled in, as of old.

That peculiar whistling noise that you heard around the postoffice about the first was not wind easing through the cracks of the door, but it was the 'old man' opening up his gas bill. Few of us were agreeably surprised when we opened them up, but we heard of a few that found them lower than they anticipated. These guys must have been either very optimistic rascals, or else they were visiting most of the month. Most of us poor but honest souls were disagreeably surprised on opening them. But when we had time to reflect, none of us could remember when there was a month that we could remember that old winter in all his rath bore down on us like he did the past month. Then we remembered that we did not have to bring in coal or kindling or carry out a scuttle of ashes during the whole month. While this eased our pain to some extent, we hoped and prayed that the weather man would let up a bit in February and let us kinder forget the pains of January gas bills.

We had no more got done whistling over the fuel bill till we got our light and water bills, then we fairly sizzled. We reared and roared at the whole creation, but we'll have to ante up by the 10th or be penalized 10 percent, and no one knows this better than our municipal collectors. We sometimes swear that we will move out in the country and ride in every day to town, use our own light and burn grubs and chips, but then we can't sell our property at the price it is taxed for, and we have to remain, grin and endure. The rural folks think they have a hard time, but they are in luck and don't know it.

Also, there is the tax proposition, but our rural friends have them except city taxes, and while we are on the subject of taxes, we wish to advocate a plan whereby a committee appointed jointly by the school board and the city and paid a reasonable amount of money, be put to work and let them continue to do so until they have all taxes equalized. No three men can do this right in one or two days. As it is now, some pay both the city and the school about the same money. Another man will pay the city a third or even 50 percent more taxes than he does the school, and maybe the very next man pays higher school taxes than he does the city. Well, then, you can't begin to argue with us that our tax burdens are equalized, for they are not.

For instance, say a man has $10,000 worth of property. The school exacts a full rendition and the rate is $1.00. He would then pay $100 taxes to the school. The city assesses at 80 percent full value, and the property then would be assessed at $8,000, but the rate is $1.50 per $100 valuation, he would then pay the city $120, but in some cases they pay as much as 140 or more, or probably under $100. Some members of the city council are for a plan as outlined above for a board of equalizers to represent both the school and the city to get the tax muddle straightened out. We are not sore at any one, but like most every one else do not like to pay more or less taxes than our neighbor is paying.

PUBLIC SCHOOL DEFINED BY SENATOR HEFLIN

Washington, D. C.—"The public school is the city of refuge for the children of rich and poor alike. It is the source from which knowledge flows through all the channels of our state and national existence. It is the promise and prophecy of our future, the saving grace and mainstay of things dear to the life of the Republic," stated Senator J. Thomas Hefflin, of Alabama, before the Senate recently.

"In the democracy of the public-school room," the Senator continued, "noble principles and high ideals are born, and from it comes the breath of life to our free institutions. It is the citadel and stronghold of liberty. Destroy the public school and you strike a deadly blow to free government in America."

SHEPPARD DENIES HE HATES THOSE WHO DRINK LIQUOR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Denying statements he "hated liquor and all who drank it," Senator Sheppard, democrat of Texas, dry leader told the senate today that love was part of the prohibition movement.

The statement that I hate anyone, whether in connection with liquor or anything else, is entirely an error," said Sheppard. "I hate nobody. Love for all humanity is one of the principal forces behind prohibition."

Identify Biblical City Destroyed by Joshua

It was some two hundred and fifty years before the wooden horse was pulled into ancient Troy that Joshua brought the sun to a halt upon Gibeon and the moon in the valley of Ajalon. Joshua's military successes against the five kings of the Amorites and the kings of Jerusalem, Hebron, Lachish et al. were so astounding that Jablin, the king of Hazor, was moved to send word to the various kings nearby, and to the Canaanites, Hittites, Jebusites and Hivites, to mobilize against the upstart newcomer and his Israelites. But at the waters of Merom, Joshua and his forces "smote them and chased them into great Zidon . . . and until they left them none remaining." Then Joshua returned and took Hazor, "the head beforesetimes of all those kingdoms," and burned it alone of all the cities he captured; the rest he destroyed, but not by fire.

More than three thousand years has Hazor paid the penalty of oblivion, but now like the fabled phoenix it has risen from its ashes. It has been discovered and identified by Garstang, the great British authority on the Hittites, who for many years has been the director of the British school of archaeology in Palestine.

Incident Gives Proof of Reason in Insects

Students of nature, we are told, are familiar with instances of an animal making efforts to protect another, when in danger. Here is an example: The worm, about five inches long, was proceeding across a path; the beetle, jet black and resembling a caterpillar, was seen running around it and jumping upon it in a state of great anxiety. As the observer came near the beetle withdrew to shelter, and the worm proceeded on the path, which was plainly the path of danger. But the self-sacrificing beetle could not bear to see a fellow-creature running such risks. It rushed again to the worm, seized it by the head, turned it round, and conducted it tenderly to a hole in the ground into which, gratefully, we hope, it at once retreated. That worm on the open path might at any moment have been picked up by a keen-eyed blackbird. It probably owed its life to the disinterested efforts of a friend.—Montreal Family Herald.

Shadow
A young Irishman went in to the minister and told him, with a very long face, that he had seen a ghost. "Where and when?" asked the pastor.

"Last night," said the timid man. "I was passing the church, and up against the wall of it, did I, without the shadow of a doubt, behold a specter."

"In what shape did it appear?" inquired the pastor.

"It appeared in the shape of a donkey," replied the man.

"Go home and hold your tongue about it," rejoined the minister. "You are a very timid man and have been frightened by your own shadow."—Vancouver Province.

Archimedes II

The family was out for a Sunday afternoon ride. Each member of the group entered gayly into the lively conversation about neighbors and the weather—each, that is, except Joe, age six. Joe had said nothing and seemed engrossed in deep thought.

Suddenly a look of surprise and wonderment lighted the young man's face and he broke his silence in the voice of one who had just made a strange discovery.

"Poppa," he cried, "I can look straight ahead with one eye and look around with the other!"

Tell Mother I'll Be There

"Tell mother I'll be home by ten o'clock," phoned a young girl to a neighbor when she couldn't rouse her own home by wire.

"Sure," said the obliging friend. He went down the street to tell the mother, but she wasn't home. An hour later he went again. It was ten o'clock soon, and neither girl nor mother at home. At 11:30 he got trying and wrote this note:

"Dear Little Mary—How can I tell your mamma you won't be home until ten o'clock when at 11:30 neither of you are at home at all?"

World's Queerest Trade

The movies have been responsible for some strange trades in their time, but none of them has excelled that of the cobweb maker. In certain films it is necessary to stage horrid looking cellars, complete with suggestive trappings and cobwebs.

There is no time to set spiders to work. The cobweb man is sent for and he arrives with his whirling spray apparatus, operates it, and, lo and behold, a delicate tracery of the most beautiful lacelike cobwebs makes its appearance at once.

Fraternal Oddities

It is estimated that the membership in America's fraternal orders exceeds 23,000,000. In their quest for titles the organizations have almost exhausted the animal kingdom, there being among others, orders of Bears, Beavers, Blue Geese, Buffalo, Bucks, Camels, Cooties, Deer, Ducks, Eagles (Red and Golden), Elks, Fleas, Gouts, Larks, Lions, Monkeys, Moose, Mules, Orioles, Owls, Red Roosters, Reindeer, Serpents, Shrimps, Stags, White Rabbits and White Rats.

THE OLD-TIME SHERIFF PASSES

The Tulsa Tribune, covering a recent convention of the Oklahoma Peace Officers Association, remarked on the fact that the old-time western sheriff is gone.

Time was when the western sheriff was a leathery individual with drooping mustachios, two six-shooters and a bandy-legged gait that came from countless hours in the saddle. Now the sheriffs are trim young chaps, as the Tribune remarks, "who look like preachers and second lieutenants and smart business men."

It is not only that the old west has passed; police methods too, have changed. A manhunt was once an individual contest between officer and fugitive, with the officer sticking in the saddle until he caught his man. Now it is a matter of getting to the telegraph wires and enlisting the aid of officers in surrounding towns. The fleeing bandit is more apt to run into a trap than to be caught from behind. Cooperation has replaced individualism.—Plainview Evening Herald.

Lots of money for labor is being turned loose here now, and all that they possibly can be is being given local people.

Concrete is being run on the first block on north sixth as this is being written. Thus, the preliminaries of the first hard surfaced street ever run in Terry county is under way.

Most of the residential streets have been nicely smoothed up since the cold weather, but one has to keep a watchout for ditches where water pipes have been dug up to thaw out.

Many good people both heavy and light tax payers are of the opinion that tax equalization is anything from perfect in this city, and are advocating a real joint adjustment of city and school district taxes.

We note that theatres have kinder gone back to the old style of advertising with condensed gothic type. Theatre ads in the dailies now remind one of the gay nineties with this kind of type and make up.

As we understand the matter, Tom Love and his friends wants all voters to pledge themselves to support him if he is the nominee, in the general election, but as to Tommie, he has conscientious scruples.

The rural aid injunction has been lifted for the time being and once again money is pouring in to relieve the small schools. Let's get all of it we can before the door is closed again and scare us nigh onto death.

According to the general belief of farmers themselves, their merchant and banker friends, not to mention the agricultural departments of both federal and state governments, if the farmers plant a big cotton crop this year, they are just simpletons, that's all. It remains to be seen.

That 42,000 pints of prescription whiskey is no whiskey to speak of for Dallas in one year with its some 300,000 people is being maintained by her citizens. But the worst of it is that Dallasites claim that visitors are drinking most of it. Not very good advertising for the city, however, to acknowledge that they get sick the moment they arrive there.

There was no doubt about Mr. Groundhog seeing his shadow all day here the 2nd, providing he was not up late the night before and slept through Sunday. So, according to this old saying we are still in for six weeks of winter. But we have our sincere doubts about there being any groundhogs in this section, unless you count pork sausage.

self, and in the last issue he asked the citizens to lay off. They have to be told the same thing in every town, and they will run over you on their way to a fire if you don't watch them. Peculiar birds, these self appointed fire chiefs.

The bolters will be allowed to come back into the Democratic party in Texas, but they will not be allowed to make a race on that party ticket, according to the State Democratic Executive Committee. In other words, the committee believes they ought to show for a year or two that they have repented before being allowed to get their heads in the swill bucket again.

The Scurry County Times at Snyder comes out in their last issue squarely for the chain grocery store, qualifying their statement with the fact that all their so-called chain stores were owned by Snyder men. After looking over their paper one could hardly blame the Times-Signal for its stand, for there was not one inch of so-called home owned grocery advertising in their paper, and an editor's bread must be buttered the same as other people's. Both should advertise, then there would be no doublet either way.

DR. LIVELY PASSES

Mrs. W. A. Bell was called to Marshall, Texas, last week where her father, Dr. J. W. Lively, 81, Methodist minister lay at point of death. She reached the old home at two in the afternoon of last Tuesday, and her father passed away at 7:40 the same day without ever recognizing her. Dr. Lively's body was laid to rest on Thursday last, at the old Scottville cemetery out a few miles from Marshall, with all the children home except one, who arrived after burial. Besides Mrs. Bell of this city, the surviving children are, R. T. Lively of Dallas; L. T. Lively, Jacksboro; Mrs. Vernon Jenkins, Marshall; Mrs. Ame Turner passed away several years ago.

Dr. Lively was one of those old pioneer circuit riders that we now read about but see little of. Several years ago before he became feeble, he would visit Brownfield almost every summer, and the regular Methodist pastor here would always give way at least one Sunday for Dr. Lively. In those days we had little preaching here, and everyone turned out to hear him. Dr. Lively's sermons were most always more like lectures than sermons. He liked rather to plead and persuade by examples than to threaten and command. He believed the majority of the race was really good at heart, and the hearers were not in for a skinning when he entered the pulpit. He spent some 55 years as a regular minister, and probably did more good in the world than lots of preachers who are heralded from one end of the land to the other. Peace to his dust.

A "Divided" Church

Not long ago, a congregation in New York built a new church. They did not have the title insured. In applying to a local savings bank for a mortgage loan, the bank's attorney insisted on a title insurance policy before granting the loan.

Examination disclosed that there existed a 6-foot strip of land extending through the center of the building, to which the church had no title due to the failure of the two lots comprising the church property to join.

A substantial payment was required to unite the "divided" church, which title insurance would have saved.

Whenever you buy or lend on real estate a New York Title policy is always your best policy.

SAVED FROM DEATH, BUT HAD GRIEVANCE

In the early days of Cape colony a wretched Hottentot was sentenced at Worcester to be hanged for the crime of sheep stealing.

As the sentence was about to be carried out the rope broke, and the thief fell to the ground unconscious. While in this state a messenger galloped up to the jail gate demanding admittance. He proved to be none other than an officer bearing a letter of reprieve for the doomed man.

When the prisoner came around, he tried to rise from the ground, and was then informed that the sentence would not be carried out. This information did not seem to impress him greatly, as he began to fumble about in his pockets, evidently looking for something that he missed. Suddenly he fished from out his ragged receptacle some bits of wood, at which he gazed with rueful eyes. Then he said:

"Ek het goed sweet dat lets verkeer was. Met al julle nenkerij hot julle my ou pijs gerbroek!" (I well knew there was something wrong. With all your nonsense you people have broken my old pipe!)

ASSERTED CLAIM TO FOUNTAIN PEN IDEA

There recently passed away in a New York hospital a man who spent almost a lifetime and considerable money in an endeavor to prove that he was the inventor of the fountain pen. He was unable to win out against the powerful influences arrayed against him. It is a fact that he was certainly active in the field years and years before the use of the fountain pen became general. His first pen was operated by a screw cap which forced the ink to the pen point by an occasional turn. He afterward invented a self-filler. In the early '90s his advertisements appeared in P. T. Barnum's first circus program and in the program of Tony Pastor's theater, both ventures which established a name for the big fire, which was wiped out by the big fire. This broke the inventor beyond recovery and since that time he had presided over a small pen-repairing establishment, assisted by his wife and daughter.

Locusts Herded by Plane

When locusts, which recently have been taking heavy toll of crops in the Philippines, defied the planes sent to rout them, aviators had to herd the insects. Army planes were used to spray poisonous dust on the crop destroyers, and, at first, left them dead in windrows on the plantations. Then the locusts changed front, and when an airplane motor was heard they vacated areas in vast swarms, often flying into the paths of the planes and menacing the pilots. Aviators then changed their methods, and herded the swarms of insects, much as cowboys herd cattle, slowly driving them out of the crop districts. Pilots declare locust punching requires skill in avoiding the insect columns while keeping them moving.

An Awful Accident

Mrs. Sinclair Lewis paused in a discussion of Theodore Dreiser's alleged plagiarism of her work to discuss the American accent.

"Well, anyhow," she said, "the American accent doesn't draw a hard and fast line between the sheep and the goats, the way the English accent does. In England, if your accent isn't the Oxford kind, you're a goat forever."

"The goat accent is awful, certainly. In the east end school one day the teacher was telling the little cockney children about fairies. To see if they had profited by his words he said: 'Now, children, what's a gnome?' 'The children answered in prompt chorus: 'An 'ouse.'"

Played in Luck

Mrs. Clarence Appleby of Kenedy, Texas, boarded a bus for Victoria. On arriving there she found that her diamond necklace was missing. Three days later she returned to Kenedy and began searching around the bus station in front street. There near the curb was the necklace intact, save for two stones loosened from their mountings, but lying nearby. The valuable ornament had lain on a busy thoroughfare for three days undiscovered.

Hangar Quickly Emptied

A huge hexagonal hangar for airplanes at Los Angeles has been designed for rapid unloading in case of fire. Each of the six sides have doors which may be easily opened by one man and as the floors slope outward, it will be an easy matter for the same man to move one of these planes single handed.

ANSWERED

This seems to be open season with political gunners on Tom Love. A few weekly newspapers and a lot of scribblers in the daily press have been shooting their little pop guns at him for maintaining that a free-born American citizen has the right to carry his conscience with him to the ballot box. We should like to ask these gentlemen who have been flinging their slurs and sneers at him, what is a conscience for anyway? Is it a thing a man should take with him to church and use in his religion but discard in his politics? Is it a thing that he should use in his home, in his store, in his newspaper office, but not in the voting booth? Our good friend, Jack Stricklin over at Brownfield might answer.—Tahoka News.

"Might" is not as strong a term in this instance as we would like, and we will substitute the word, "shall" answer it. Yes, Bro. Hill we agree that we should take our "conscience" with us to church and also that we keep it there. For instance, Hill is a Baptist, and he's no turncoat Baptist either. He's a Baptist from the little bald spot on top of his pate to the ingrown toe nail on his left foot. No matter what comes on, he stays behind his guns, a storm within the fold may rage, the invading army of sin may advance to the roar of guns and the tom-tom of drums; the steeple may be shot away and the walls may crash, but Bro. Hill will come from under the wreckage, rub the dust from his eyes, pull the splinters out of his hair, spit the mud out of his mouth and tell the world that he is still a good Baptist. The deacons may do something he don't like, the preacher may cross his path or not come up to his expectations, some of the members to his notion may be infused with too much hypocrisy to suit Hill, but he stays right in and pitches. He don't get swelled up every few Sundays and stray over to the Methodist or Presbyterian flocks—not a bit. And speaking again of "conscience," Bro. Hill has so much of it he is "self-conscious." He knows he has done wrong in straying over to the Fall-Denby camp, and every time a neighboring editor says anything about the G. O. P., it stings Hill like a nettle, and he comes back with some kind of a "sourcastic" remark. He's almost got the figures from his "conscience-stricken" condition, and has almost come to the conclusion that all but the 18th of our amendments have been repealed, and he thinks that every mortal that does not like the one left is criminal minded. Shake yourself together, Hill like you used to be when we helped Ma Ferguson lick the three K's. If our old jasadak has become rotten, lets fight it out on the inside, like we do in our churches, if it takes all summer.

Meadow Briefs

By Ascalapina.

February has arrived looking pretty and if the legendary Groundhog peeped out we are to have some very messy weather the next four or six weeks. I have always found the month the worst of the year and will be agreeably disappointed if it does not cut some disagreeable capers. In the war of the Crimea the Emperor of Russia said that General January and General February were his best generals as the English and French died like a plague stricken area. It has always given me more work than any two months of the year and just now there is quite a lot of sickness which will increase as days pass.

The State Democratic Executive Committee have met and decided that Tom Love and his ilk cannot go on the Primary Ticket. This is undoubtedly a just decision but it would have been wiser perhaps to turn the bunch loose as there is no sure enough democrat going to mistake them for anything but what they really are. If they should be beaten in the Primary they would probably run independent or go with the Republicans to beat the ticket nominated. Turn the rascals loose so we can have the pleasure of scratching them.

The legislature is dragging along doing nothing that will benefit the state. Why in heavens name don't they quit and go home.

That Judge they are trying at Austin, is near the end of the efforts being to save him from the just punishment of the electric chair. He may learn that too much women and wine gets a fellow into trouble and whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap. He knew perfectly well what he was doing, but the asylum or a light penitentiary sentence is the outlook. Lord, Lord, when will the country arouse against insanity pleas. Murder is a most uncommon thing with the truly insane which any one can prove by visiting any insane asylum. Yet it is the every day practice throughout the United States to spring this plea as a last resort, and juries can be found glib enough to give them the benefit of the doubt, when there isn't any.

It seems that we are soon to have an oil well started on the old L 7 Ranch southeast of Meadow. The location has been made and leasing of small holding together with sales of royalties have been made in that section. If they should find oil in paying quantities our berg will be the metropolis of the county—well, let us have the oil anyway.

A few of our citizens are getting interested in the Hobbs oil field and are preparing to go in business down there. It is a pity however to see the beautiful Plains ruined with oil development and our cities and towns turned into Borgers wherever the golden liquid is found. My experience and observation is that the rank and file are benefited but little by its discovery, while murder, robbery and all the baser passions are in the ascendant wherever it is found.

The new school building is moving along very slow on account of the cold weather. It will take two or three months at the present rate to complete the work.

The late arrivals are a boy at the home of A. O. Snowden at 1 p. m the 29 of December, and another boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Thornton at 10:30 p. m., also the 29. All of them Democrats. May their tribe increase.

Meadow First in Two-Day Meet At Morton

MORTON, Feb. 1.—The Meadow High school quintet outstepped all competition here Friday and Saturday to win the final round and the championship here tonight in the Interstate Basketball tournament held at the local high school gymnasium. The final go between Meadow and Watson was perhaps one of the most thrilling games of the tourney there being only a one-point margin when the closing whistle sounded for a win by Meadow of 17 to 16.

Second place went to Watson while third place was won by Shallowater after defeating Morton in the semifinals 26 to 22.

A consolation tournament was staged following the regular schedule which featured four teams, Sudan, New Home, Levelland and Cobleland. Levelland won this round after defeating Cobleland 32 to 15 and Sudan 18 to 13.

Trophies in the tournament, which was sponsored by Albert Morrow, coach of Morton High School, were given valued at $85. The gymnasium was filled to capacity both days.

According to the government ginners report of January 16, Terry county had ginned 22,049 bales of the 1929 crop, and stood ahead of such counties as Taylor, Tarrant, Parker, Hood, etc. in central Texas. Lamb county, second tier north of us, had ginned over 49,000 bales of cotton at that time.

I. M. Smith, of route 2, was in Monday and indicated that he was about to pitch a new crop.

Oscar Jones, manager of the West Texas Gin, dropped in recently as his paper expired February 7th.

PHENOMENAL GAIN IN TRUST SERVICES

By JOHN G. DONSDALE
President American Bankers Association

SO phenomenal has been the increase of trust business that statisticians are unable to keep a true record of its advancement. There are now something like 3,500 active trust departments in banks in America, while in 1900 only 165 active trust departments had been established.

In becoming the custodians or the guardians of the property of others, bankers as John G. Donsdale has been fittingly described as one of the "most exalted human relationships ever created by law." They become at once a big brother, a big sister, an advisor, or a confessor, sworn so to conduct themselves that clients will be won to them by their ability and integrity.

Thousands of little children have received an education and have been started off right in life through the trust department's safe keeping and guidance of the family estate, numberless widows have been protected from merciless stock swindlers, many thousands of business men have been relieved of troublesome details in the conduct of their business through the creation of a living trust and still others have safeguarded their business enterprises through life insurance trusts.

The favorable reaction of the public toward trust department service is not accidental. It may be traced jointly to the growing intelligence of the American people in financial affairs and to advertising to the world at large the merits of trust services. Advertising used in a sensible, judicious way is necessary, a power that has accomplished much good for humanity.

Among the detailed services rendered by a trust department the one that seems to be winning favor the fastest is the life insurance trust. Life insurance is the quickest known way of creating an estate. In reality it affords the possessor the opportunity of setting up a positive monetary safeguard for his family and then paying for it on the installment plan.

A married man is not fair to his family if he fails to carry life insurance. I would say to the young man, "Buy insurance before you buy the ring," and to the young woman I would say, "Marry no man so thoughtless as to scoff at life insurance."

To Death Barefoot
A Dwarf Can Kill
Safer Flying
An Old Man's Money

Los Angeles, Calif.—In Orleans, Augustine Agogue, twenty-seven years old, who killed her mother to get the mother's farm, was sentenced to death in accordance with the Napoleonic code, seeking to humiliate and punish more severely those that murder their parents, Augustine will walk barefoot to the guillotine.

Interesting historical contrast between her death and that of Joan of Arc, the maid of Orleans. One walks to the guillotine barefoot for murdering her mother. The other walked barefoot to the stake, burned alive for saving her country.

In New York a dwarf only four feet high, Peter Arata, is sentenced to death for murder.

The modern "automatic" pistol makes it easy for Peter to kill. In ancient days when men fought with clubs, maces and swords, he would only have been a jester, too small to murder.

Similarly a small nation, as small as Hungary, or Holland, or Switzerland, in these days of flying machines and poison gas might be the most efficient international killer in the murder game of war.

Conditions change. A five pound baby taken up in an airplane might release a poison gas bomb that would kill 500,000 in a big city.

Mr. Young, assistant secretary of the Department of Commerce, announces that passenger airplanes must carry two-way radio facilities to receive weather information and send emergency messages.

Presently more powerful engines, bigger ships, better understanding of air navigation, will eliminate the importance of weather conditions.

Meanwhile the government, not youthful, enthusiastic pilots, should decide on flying or not flying.

A pilot, with youth's dread of being called "yellow," is inclined to risk any weather. At every airport whence passengers depart, the question "to fly or not to fly" should be left to some solemn person, not a pilot, and one influenced entirely by the passengers' safety.

Mr. B. C. Forbes, asking himself "What is this all about, this terrific strenuousness and strain?" as he talked to George F. Baker, richest banker in the world, says of a certain multi-millionaire, not Mr. Baker, that he would "trade all his riches for youth." The multi-millionaire thinks he would do it, but he wouldn't.

A man like Edison might desire renewed youth, to live another life of useful invention. But a man who has only made money would be foolish to live his life again.

An intelligent man, after working hard through a lifetime, would not go back to the gate by which we enter, but rather look to the door at the far end of life, as a trained dog in the show years for the moment when he may get down on all fours and trot off the stage.

Old men cling to money that protects them from the rough world. It is the one reality extracted from life's unreal dream.

A fortune to an old man is like an old oyster's rough shell to the oyster. A protecting reality taken from the waters of life's changing sea.

He who thinks he understands the character and emotions of women deceives himself.

Mrs. Della ("Dot") Lee, manicure lady who lived here, sent $50 to her sister, writing: "I think something is going to happen. If it does and Howard gets me, bury me in white with yellow roses in my hand. This money will pay for the dress."

Her womanly intuition did not deceive her. Something did happen. Howard, twenty-eight, old mechanical engineer, called. She shot him dead as he slept, killed herself and is presumably wearing the white dress, holding the yellow roses.

A lady killing a gentleman, or vice versa, is part of civilization's routine. But why did the lady specify a white dress and yellow roses? No man planning suicide would demand blue serge and purple orchids.

There is something in woman's character more puzzling than a dozen Einstein theories.

Investigators in California's San Quentin prison find that idleness is the curse of prison life, leading to rebellion, brooding and vice. Investigators might make the same report, far from San Quentin, at Palm Beach, Agua Caliente, Newport and other well known resorts.

Phoenix, Ariz., not far from here, as western distance is reckoned, reports the greatest mining year that Arizona has known. In copper alone the state produced more than $33,000,000 (99) pounds, 100,000,000 pounds more than last year, value $19,200,000. (© 1930, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Lady Customer—"How much are these chickens?"
Butcher—"A dollar and a half."
Lady Customer—"Did you raise them yourself?"
Butcher—"Yes, they were $1.25."

Parson Dudley: "Deacon Smith, will you lead us in prayer?"
Deacon Smith (awakening from a sound sleep): "Lead yourself—I just dealt."

MODERN EDUCATION REVERSES OLD IDEAS

Business Institutes Use the Plan of Getting People to Think Rather Than Merely to Learn.

There is one general principle at the basis of all good teaching and it is that a person learns more readily by assimilating the experiences which he himself encounters than in any other way, says Harold Steiner, National Educational Director of the American Institute of Banking. This institute is the educational section of the American Bankers Association through which 35,000 bank men and women are receiving scientific instruction in their chosen business.

"The most advanced people in teaching today are emphasizing the importance of activity on the part of the student," he says. "In the school-room of former days we often heard such phrases as, 'Be still!' 'Learn by heart.' 'Don't do that.' 'What does the book say?' The newer education asks, 'What do you think?' 'What was your reaction to that experiment?' 'What did you discover?' 'What reasons have you for answer?'"

The New School Calls for Action

"The 'expressing' school is taking the place of the repressing and listening school. The classroom is becoming an open forum, a studio of self-expression, a place of mental growth. The modern concepts of education are personal experimentation, individual investigation, critical discussion and creative self-expression. The pupil really learns only as he is able to assimilate the new meanings of facts and principles with his previous experiences. Activities therefore constitute the pivotal force around which are grouped the new factors in education. The primary responsibility of the teacher is to furnish a constant stream of activities which will afford the stimulating urge to mental growth.

"Education is a process of experiencing, and the program of the institute is so arranged as to give the greatest opportunity to gain by such experience. Through this we develop the art of thinking. Thinking has been described as the ability to handle experience and to bring it to bear on a problem. Effective thinking arises when we are presented with the choice of conduct. Our previous experiences become helpful as we marshal them and bring them to bear upon the matter of our choice."

The students in the American Institute of Banking by reason of the fact that they continue to go on about their employment in banks while taking the banking association's study courses have an opportunity to combine learning with practical thinking and action.

ON DISPLAY TODAY

THE NEW OAKLAND 8

$1045 AND UP

General Motors' Lowest-Priced Eight . . .
. . . the Car with Superior Performance

Today a new eight-cylinder motor car makes its appearance. It is the newest General Motors eight and by several hundreds of dollars the lowest in price. It is the New Oakland Eight with bodies by Fisher.

The New Oakland Eight develops 85 horsepower and is the first stock car of its size and weight to employ an engine of such high power. Since performance depends largely on the ratio between horsepower and weight, the New Oakland Eight is exceptionally fast and powerful because it produces one horsepower to 37 pounds of car weight.

The New Oakland Eight has all the smoothness which results from the overlapping power impulses inherent in eight-cylinder engine design. In addition, it enjoys exclusive mechanical advantages which make it even smoother and more delightful to drive.

Several of the engineers who participated in creating General Motors' first eight back in 1914 were responsible for the development of the New Oakland Eight. To this latest task they brought a wide knowledge of eight-cylinder design. It is reasonable to expect that the Oakland is a finer eight because of this fact.

A demonstration will reveal how well the New Oakland Eight merits the description "the car with superior performance."

The New Oakland Eight, $1045 and up, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list price. Bumpers, rear fender guards and spring covers extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

NEW SERIES PONTIAC BIG 6

$745 AND UP

A Famous Name—A Finer Car
Introducing Important Improvements

The announcement of the first Pontiac in 1926 brought to the low-price field a new order of beauty, performance and reliability. And each Pontiac announcement since that time has introduced a car which represented an improvement even over its own highly regarded predecessors.

Now comes the New Series Pontiac Big Six—an even finer car with a famous name. It retains all those excellent qualities which have been responsible for Pontiac's success in the past. And in addition it introduces many improvements.

New bodies by Fisher make this latest Pontiac Big Six more beautiful than ever.

NEW FRIGIDAIRE CARES FOR WILTED VEGETABLES

A means of restoring wilted vegetables to their original, fresh-from-the-garden appearance, and storing fresh vegetables for many days at a time in their best condition has been discovered by Frigidaire Corporation, leading manufacturers of electric refrigerators, according to a national announcement made today by this General Motors subsidiary.

Tests made in the experimental kitchens and bacteriological laboratory of the company at Dayton, O., have shown that celery, lettuce, spinach, radishes, carrots, parsley, water-cress, endive, green beans and similar varieties can be revived to their original crispness and wholesomeness after having wilted to such an extent that they would be discarded by most housewives and cooks, the announcement explained.

The new electric refrigeration achievement, which is known as a hydrator, also will keep sandwiches in perfect condition for long periods of time. It is stated in the announcement. The hydrator will be placed on display at all Frigidaire show rooms today and besides being a part of all new household electric refrigerators will be available for installation in models now in use, it was announced.

BANKERS FIND GROUP BANKING WIDESPREAD

Over 13 Billion Dollars of Bank Assets in Affiliated Systems Numbering 1,850 Members—In Nearly Every State.

Over 1,850 banks with more than thirteen billion dollars in resources are shown to be associated with chain or group banking systems in the United States in facts recently gathered by the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association. The chairman of the commission, R. S. Hecht of New Orleans, pointed out that the facts indicate that "almost 75 per cent of our banks and over 18 per cent of our banking resources are in the great net of group or chain banking that now covers almost every part of the country."

The commission's facts comprised chain and group banking affiliations in the broadest sense of the term, the report said. They included those groups in which the controlling element was a particular bank, there being reported 78 instances of this class involving 407 banks and about $6,473,000,000 in combined banking resources. They included also groups in which a non-banking holding company, not subsidiary to any particular bank, was in control and of this class 28 instances were found, involving 380 banks and nearly $5,325,000,000 in resources. The report also included groupings in which control was exercised by individual persons and these cases numbered 167, involving 1,071 banks and about $1,468,000,000 in assets.

The Total Figures

The total was over $12,275,000,000 in aggregate resources. Some of the systems comprised 50 to 100 banks each. Head offices of the groups were found in all jurisdictions, but nine of the states and the District of Columbia.

"We have not included in these figures," the report says, "banking groups in which a commercial bank, a trust company and an investment house, and sometimes a savings bank, are tied together by some form of stock holdings and operated as complementary elements in an organization rendering complete financial services." "We have held that such groups are similar to a departmentalized bank and different in the purposes and operations from a chain or group banking system.

"For purposes of the present report we define chain or group banks as systems in which centralized control, whether corporate or personal and either rigid or informal, directs the operations of two or more complete banks, not functionally complementary, each working on its own capital and under its own personnel and located in one or more cities or states."

Commenting on the question whether the rapid development of chain banking was in the nature of a reaction against restrictions imposed on branch banking by the banking laws in many states the report says that observation does not wholly confirm this theory since chain banking is prevalent in some states where virtually no restriction is imposed on branch banking, as well as in those where the establishment of branch banks is prohibited. It adds:

"The question of branch banking and anti-branch banking laws have been a factor in some cases, and probably in some sections, in the spread of chain banking. Instances have come to our attention where expansion along chain bank lines has been carried out by state banks whose expansion along branch bank lines was stopped by the passing of state laws prohibiting further branches. Yet whether expansion would have been along branch bank lines if the laws had imposed no barriers, it is impossible to say. There is obviously a well developed banking opinion in some sections that the chain bank method brings to outlying banks the strength and efficiency of a big organization without depriving them of their local individuality and sympathies. In view of the mixed factors noted, we feel it is unsafe to generalize as to what bearing branch banking laws have on chain developments."

"The recent era of rapid chain bank developments has found specific reflection in some state legislative action tending to restrict or control chain or group banking. Also we find a sharp difference of opinion among state bank commissioners who have expressed their sentiments regarding chain banking."

In a foreword to the report, issued in booklet form by the association at its New York City headquarters, Chairman Hecht says that "the Economic Policy Commission does not take a stand in advocacy of or in opposition to this new method of concentrating banking resources through the affiliation of banks into groups and chains, but is simply offering as a fact finding body what we believe is the first complete national picture of this rapidly growing movement.

SCHOOL SAVINGS GROW

A total of 4,222,935 school children participated in school savings banking in the United States during the last school year, depositing $28,222,496 and rolling up net savings of $10,539,928, bringing total bank balances now credited to this movement to above $9 million dollars, according to the annual report of the Savings Bank division of the American Bankers Association. Schools to the number of 15,597 are enrolled in the plan.

AVERY Premium Lister

An all-crop lister

Where high winds and sparse rainfall are a constant danger, the Avery Premium Lister saves crops and increases profits. It is truly without limitations because it handles all dry-sud-windy-country crops with equal ease. A close examination will emphasize three outstanding features.

(1) To change from one crop to another is only a matter of job, and no tools are needed, due to quick detachable, combination and special hoppers.

(2) Hopper is mounted on the beam, getting rid of planting and seed sowing troubles. This location is made possible by a compensating device under the planting gear.

(3) Better and more uniform work is assured by a leveling device on the beam which maintains equal pitch at all times.

The Avery Premium Lister uses all of the many Avery hoppers, plates, etc. It does unusually good work in any crop. Milo maize is listed without cracking the seed. Cotton and other crops are handled to meet seasonal and personal requirements.

In addition, the Avery Premium Lister is easy to handle, does its work with a minimum of wear and breakage, gives long years of economical service. Back of its unusual success is Avery's century of experience and the world's finest implement factory. Come to our store for complete demonstration.

There is a full line of famous Avery walking, riding and tractor plows, tillage implements, and Champion harvesting and haying machines.

Census Work to Begin This Week Says Barr

Actual work on taking the first census of distribution will begin about Feb. 8. Dr. I. E. Barr, supervisor of the Seventh District of Texas, announced upon his return from Dallas where he attended a meeting of the 29 Texas and 13 Oklahoma supervisors with William M. Stewart, director of the census, E. K. Ellsworth, Chief of the Field Division of the Bureau and Robert M. Davis, of McGraw-Hill & Company, New York Publishers, who is serving as a "dollar a year" man to help give the census of distribution publicity.

The information to be compiled in the first census of distribution will be available to local people as well as to large manufacturing and distributing concerns that are looking for new markets to establish branch plants and distributing houses. Dr. Barr says, "The information of the individual concerns will be held strictly confidential, each enumerator being sworn to secrecy under a heavy penalty for violation of the regulation."

The regular census of manufacturing will be taken at the same time of the census of distribution.

A total of $40,000,000 has been appropriated by congress for the taking of the several censuses this year. Dr. Barr says, the job being the biggest undertaking of its kind ever attempted. Starting April 2, work on taking the census of population, agriculture, irrigation, drainage, mines, unemployment, blind and deaf mutes will start.

"In this census of Distribution and Manufacture the cooperation of every individual is very necessary," Dr. Barr says. "It will facilitate the work of the enumerators if everyone will give prompt and courteous answers to every question the enumerators ask. The census covers every business, either wholesale or retail. Each enumerator will carry a Certificate of Appointment to guard the public against imposters."

COLLEGE COMPLETES 7TH BUILDING ON NEW CAMPUS

Abilene Christian College's new $35,000 gymnasium is to be completed by February 1, it was announced from the office of President Batsell Baxter yesterday. The new building, which is to be used for physical training classes and basketball, is to be the seventh brick, fire-proof building completed in one year on A. C. C.'s new campus east of Abilene. These buildings have cost the college approximately $500,000.

The new buildings, however, are still inadequate to meet the increased growth of the college. Wooden shacks are being used for chemistry laboratories and other purposes. The college has the largest enrollment in its history, in spite of the general financial depression over the country, and the dormitories are all full.

We are glad to say that Deputy Sheriff Arch Fowler is reported to be better.

Roping Contest to Be Held at Midland

Special to the Herald. Hugh Bennett of Abilene and Plains, Texas and Allen Holder of Rankin, Texas will contest each other for a purse of $1,500 in a calf roping contest at Camden Park, Midland, Texas. They will rope 20 calves each. Both are champion ropers of the day.

Bennett won two days money in big steer roping at Pendleton, Oregon and finished third in the average. Also won second in calf roping. Also won two first day moneys in calf roping in New York and one first and two seconds in steer wrestling. Then in Chicago won one first, three seconds in calf roping and one first, one second and two thirds in steering wrestling.

Bennett is a three year man in Abilene Christian College; played football and was on the track team, and can run the hundred yard dash in 10 seconds.

IS ACCEPTABLE?

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The New York Times today quoted William E. Sweet, former governor of Colorado, as expressing opinion that Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York would be acceptable to dry democrats as a presidential candidate in 1932.

Mr. Sweet, who has been a leader in prohibition movements in his own state, is visiting New York. He said it was time for the dry democrats and democrats of the south to get together; otherwise, Alfred E. Smith was likely to get the nomination again with no prospect of election.

From mechanical analysis of soil samples gathered by the County Agent and sent by The Texas Exp. Station to the Bureau of Soils of the U. S. Dept. of Agri., deep breaking increases the fine silt content of the surface six inches, 6.5% while the clay content was raised 6.7%. Further analysis will be made to determine the average amount of clay that can be turned up in deep breaking.

These samples were taken last spring on the Griffith farm at Wellman and the analysis reveal that the top six inches of soil before plowing contained 2.3% silt and 4.4% clay. It is these very fine soil particles that will pack or harden and prevent blowing. 63.7% of the sample was fine sand and 22.7% was classed as a very fine sand.

May Stage a Big Wolf-Hound Rodeo Here

Roy Moreman, of Yoakum county, was over this week and informed the Herald that it was his intention in the near future to stage one of the biggest Coyote Rodeos ever put on in this section of the country. He intimated that the contest would likely be held a few miles north of the city somewhere the early part of March. When final arrangements are made, he aims to do considerable advertising.

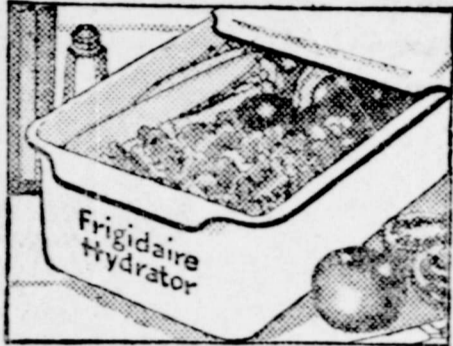

As now decided, Mr. Moreman thinks there will be around $100 for distribution, with a first prize of some $40. Two dogs will be allowed to chase the wolf. Mr. Moreman already has 16 live wolves in an empty silo near home, and hopes to get several more when he begins trapping out on the Brownfield and Lumsden ranches in the next few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Moreman trap together through the winter, and began their operation about the first of the year, 1928. Since that time they have trapped and killed in Terry, Yoakum, Andrews and Cochran counties 935 wolves, as follows:

In 1928	325
In 1929	335
This year so far	275

Greater Beauty - Finer Performance

Never has a Chevrolet car won greater praise for its appearance than the new Chevrolet Six. Its new Fisher bodies reveal in every detail the artistry that has made the Fisher name famous throughout the motor car world. In beauty of line and color, in balance and harmony of design, they represent one of the greatest style triumphs in Fisher history. Upholsteries are richer and more durable. The instrument panel carries a new and more attractive grouping of the control instruments. Seats are wider and deeper. In fact, not a single feature has been overlooked that would add to the comfort and convenience of both driver and passengers.

In addition to its new beauty, the new Chevrolet Six represents a remarkable advance in every phase of performance. Its improved six-cylinder valve-in-head engine has been increased to 50 horsepower—giving faster acceleration, and greater reserve power. Steering has been made safer and easier. Four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers provide exceptional riding comfort. Fully enclosed, internal-expanding, weather-proof brakes give positive braking control. Chamber of Commerce About 2000 Qualified Voters in Terry Co.

The annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Hancock Cafe on Wednesday night, February 12, 7 o'clock, and the attendance will have to be mostly limited to the present membership, due to the lack of room. Former arrangements made by officials to hold the banquet in the Hankins building, under the auspices of the Methodist Missionary Society, have been abandoned, due to the fact that the building has been rented and will be occupied within the next day or so. It was the desire of the directors to have each business and professional man in attendance, accompanied by their wives and it is hoped that with the coming of warmer weather that an affair of this kind can be staged.

Don't forget the poultry show here, today and tomorrow. It is being held in the old Harris Motor Co. building on east Main, that is now partially occupied by the Pennant Filling Station and from all information the show will be a good one and will compare with most of the other shows in surrounding counties.

Also remember, the Panhandle Swine Breeders Association, which is to meet with us Tuesday and Wednesday next week, February 11 and 12. The school and business meetings will be held in the Auditorium of the Baptist Church and the hogs and auction sale will be located at the Cicero Smith Lumber yards. Don't forget the place and date as some of the finest stock in the state will be here for exhibition and sale.

Something should be done regarding the planting of cotton in this territory as it seems that we have gotten into the short staple class and are being severely penalized for it. The Experiment Station at Lubbock has been conducting a series of experiments over a period of ten years and has recommended a certain kind of cotton as being best suited to the South Plains and Carl Williams, cotton member of the Federal Farm Board, makes the statement that unless the staple length is improved, that the Federal Farm Board, nor any other agency that can be created,

Inquiries at the Collectors office this week revealed the fact that about 1967 voters of Terry county have qualified themselves as electors this year. This is we believe considerably more than last year, but if we are not mistaken, some 2200 men and women were qualified voters in the county in 1928.

We are confident there are really more people here who could have qualified this year than in 1928, but for some cause or another, they failed to do so. It appears that the more people advocate a full vote of the citizenship the less interest some take in elections, and as long as this continues, we will have a minority rule instead of majority rule in our land, because those with axes to grind will always be found armed.

With the new comers, many of which are landing here now, who will likely bring tax receipts with them from their old counties in Texas, our vote will be considerably above 2000. Then there are always more or less exemptions.

will be able to assist us in getting a better price. The purchase of improved seed from an approved breeder might be vastly to our advantage. A mass meeting of farmers in Brownfield, is suggested, in order that some action may be taken as to the kind and quality of seed that would be best suited to our climate.

The writer has been putting in several hours this week on a questionnaire that is being prepared for use by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in placing the advantages of West Texas before the people and if it is used according to their plan it should result in much benefit to the section in general. A copy of this paper will be kept on file at our office for public inspection and is well worth looking over.
