

WHAT KIND OF COTTON IS BEST FOR PLAINS FARMS

Below We Give a List of All the Well Known Breeds As Tried Out at the Lubbock Experiment Station. Make Your Choice of Early Maturing, Long Staple Breed.

Mr. D. L. Jones, Supt. of the Lubbock Exp. Station, gave the following figures at a recent meeting of ginners, bankers and business men, that was held in Lubbock. These figures represent an average for the years 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927 and 1928 except on Half and Half which is for the four year period 1925-1928 inclusive.

A number of the varieties have been grown longer than the 5 year period, however all have not and the figures for 5 years will serve as a basis.

Three factors should be considered by farmers in selecting cotton varieties for planting, Don Jones said. They are: staple length of 7-8 to 1 inch, yield or production qualities, and early maturity qualities. The records of the Experiment Station will serve as a guide to farmers in selecting varieties that have the best combination of these qualities.

The First Indication of Spring

NO—I AM NOT SHIPPING COTTON SAYS LOCAL MAN

It Won't Pay the Transportation Charges From Here to Houston. I Am Shipping Out Some Terry County Corn. Cotton to Go Lower. Cut the Acreage.

We happened to be up at the depot one day last week to have a few words with our old friend and neighbor, Bob Harris, who has charge of Mr. Santa Fe's business in this city, as we had not interviewed him for some time, and while we were conversing, a former heavy buyer of cotton in this city, T. I. Brown to be exact, happened in with a hand full of bills of lading, and we asked him if he was shipping out some cotton.

Heck, no, says T. I., why the darn stuff would not pay the freight to Houston, and he believes it will go lower yet. And, indeed, we have heard many express themselves that they hoped it would go a little lower and stay that way until after planting time, anyway. Otherwise, if it goes a few cents more there will be the same old acreage planted, and we may see 10 or even 8c cotton next fall.

But back to T. I. He was shipping out a car or two of good old Terry county corn to the natives of central and east Texas, and it is one commodity this year that will pay for the shipping and then some. There never has been but about one year in the 21 that we have been here that corn did not do well, even during some of the moderately dry years, and we can't help believe that an increased acreage of corn would be one of the best things in this section to replace the cut in the cotton acreage. There has always been some kind of a demand for our corn crop, and as it requires much less work than cotton, to make and gather, it comes much nearer being the money crop than cotton here, one year with another. It has about gotten so in some of the black land counties, as well as the harder central west Texas counties that they cannot raise corn, as they have grown cotton until they have taken all the fertility out of their land, and we are their nearest corn market that really has any to sell.

But the best plan is to not only raise more corn than last year, but to prepare to feed out more of it here at home. The big white homes and tall red barns of Iowa and Illinois were not built by the farmers up there shipping out their corn, but most of it was made by shipping in cattle from Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma, and feeding their corn and selling it wrapped into the hides of these steers. Ask them. Then, if they can make money on their $200 and $300 per acre land raising corn to be fed to cattle shipped in from 500 to 1000 miles away, why in Sam Hill can't Terry county people make a profit feeding corn raised on $25 acre land with the cattle here almost in their back yards?

Why? We ask you!

Sheep Shearing Time At Local Stock Pens

The Herald representative went over to the stock pens this week where more than 2400 sheep are being sheared by several Mexicans, and we want to inform you that they know their okra when it comes to lifting the wool from the sheeps' backs. If Wall Street can take the fleece from the lambs any faster, then they are some fleecers up there. These Mexicans have a power shearing machine with four shears attached, and two others do the sacking and packing. One old Mexican was taking it off at the rate of one sheep every four minutes. The others required about six minutes to the sheep.

These 2400 head of sheep have been fed this winter of Terry county feeds by H. W. McSpadden & Son. We were shown through the pens and the shearing department by Flem. He explained that these sheep had been picked up over this section, but mostly in Lea county, New Mexico in small bunches and trucked into this city and put in the pens. While the great majority are last spring lambs, there are some old ewes in the bunch, and all are doing well. A carload will be shipped out the next week or ten days to market, which will include all that are in prime order, while the rest will be kept perhaps a month longer. We presume the wool will be marketed in San Angelo, which is now one of the biggest wool markets in the world.

These sheep have been fed a balanced ration of corn that has been crushed, cut, shuck and all, together with bundle cane or maize which has been shredded into small particles. This has been fed into troughs that are impossible for the sheep to climb. They certainly have a nice bunch of sheep over there that are going to stand them a nice profit after using thousand of dollars of the surplus Terry county feeds.

We see no reason on earth why the small farmer could not do the same thing if he has a small crusher on the farm, and most farmers have them now, or at least one neighbor will crush feed for a small fee, or it can be brought to town and crushed. When finished, a lot of them could ship out together in order to make up a carload. We are almost sure that corn wrapped up in wool and mutton, or the hide of some steers would bring more money than it does in the shuck.

Lloyd Lee, Kenneth Purlert, J. O. Hobbs, J. B. Gillentine and B. F. Moore reported to County Agent R. B. Davis Saturday afternoon and began training for the dairy cattle judging team which will represent this county at Plainview on April 7. Last year the team from here won third place at Plainview and third place in the State contest at A. & M. Intensive training will be given the 4-H club boys on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

The County Agent reports much interest among the poultry growers at this time. He assisted in culling the flocks of Mrs. Chamlee, Mr. Ramsey, W. H. Black, Ross Black and Willie Winn this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lazelle Huckabee, Mrs. Rachel Hardin and Bill Youree all attended the Fat Stock Show and report a fine time.

Will It Pay to Milk Cows at Present Prices

At the present price of cream will it pay to fool with cows? This is a question that is being thought of and discussed by cream producers all over the country. With a view of ascertaining the cost of production and getting some facts and figures on dairying on the Plains why dairy farmers are being encouraged by the banks and the Texas Extension Service to keep records on the individual cows of their herds.

The Terry County banks and the County Agent have enlisted the following co-operators, R. H. Timmons, H. S. Hawkins, S. A. Banks, J. A. Parks, T. L. Causseaux, and G. L. E. Meils. These men are keeping daily milk records on each cow and are testing each cows milk once per month through the mail order testing and are keeping an account of the feed fed to each cow. The following figures are taken from their February records:

From the six herds or twenty-six cows 14763 lbs. of milk and 741.6 lbs. of butterfat was produced in February. At the average price for which fat was sold (31.4 per pound), and valuing the skim milk at 40c per cwt. the products from these cows brought $285.04. All feed, including pasture and roughage, that was fed amounted to $158.08 leaving $128.96 or an average of $4.84 per cow above feed costs.

In examining the records we find that the cows varied in the amount of milk and fat for the month. They varied from 966 lbs. to 336 lbs. in milk and from 51 lbs. to 12.7 lbs in fat. Naturally this would mean a variation in profit which run from a profit of $12.52 to $0.63. The cost per pound fat varied from 11.3 cents per pound to 45.4c.

In studying the above figures you must take into consideration that in February everything that the cows ate was charged up to her at farm prices. There was no grass to help lower costs. Then the fact that the majority of cows were not fresh but were advanced in their milking period. Then skim milk fed to laying hens or growing hogs was worth more than the 40 cents per cwt. or 3.0c per gallon.

While it may be doubtful as to whether cows are paying at present yet we know definitely that some cows are paying well and that others are a loss. It would be foolish for a man to sell off his cows, yet, it is equally as foolish to keep some cows.

One month's milk and fat is not sufficient to pass judgment on a cow but the time has come when if at the end of a milking period a cow shows a meager profit or a loss, she should be removed from the cow lot.

Mrs. S. A. Banks reports having sold 153 dozen eggs from 147 hens during the last three weeks of February. Market eggs brought $35.82, while laying mash bought amounted to $6.82 leaving $29.00 for labor and skim milk.

Mrs. Ike Bailey is attending the Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth and visiting her husband, who is attending a pharmaceutical school down there.

A Boston man promised to retire when he had made a million, and he kept his word. We are sometimes tempted to make a similar vow.

Idol of Radio Here in First Feature Picture

Rudy Vallee's first great feature picture, "The Vagabond Lover," will introduce the wonder singer of radio to his army of admirers here at the Rialto Theatre, next Wednesday and Thursday.

Crooning four delightful new songs Vallee makes his bow in a lavish production created by Radio Pictures under the direction of Marshall Neilan.

RUDY VALLEE

With him are the Connecticut Yankees, the seven boys as familiar to Radio audiences as Rudy himself.

It is to Sally Blane, Radio Pictures' charming little starlet, that Rudy croons the four new love songs. They are "A Little Kiss Each Morning," "I Love You, Believe Me, I Love You," "I'll Be Reminded of You" and "If You Were the Only Girl in the World."

In supporting roles are Marie Dressler, Eddie Nugent, Daney O'Shea, Norman Peck, Nella Walker, Alan Roscoe, Malcolm Waite and Charles Sellon.

Gaines County Man In With Nice Hogs

J. W. Childers, hog and cattle feeder of Seminole, brought in a couple of trailer loads of top hogs last week, which he sold to the local firm of Howell and Lovelace. He has a nice bunch of calves on feed at this time and reports them as doing well on a ration of ground corn, cotton seed meal, ground bundles and a little black strap molasses.

With an average feed crop this last year and the good market prices being paid by local buyers many hogs are being brought into Brownfield from Terry and adjoining counties. There is a healthy demand for feeder pigs and for bred sows and gilts. The corn supplemented with skim milk, tankage, cotton seed meal, or prepared protein feeds is bringing around a dollar a bushel according to farmers who are marketing it through thrifty pigs.

Rev. John Chisholm sent us an invitation this week to attend the opening of their new Methodist church at Panhandle. The invitation was gotten up in style by the board of stewards, but Dr. John got it here to late, as the church opened last Sunday—and we may have missed some chicken.

Let's Keep Our Back Alleys Cleaned Up

Now that the streets in the business section are being paved and will give us a chance to keep them clean, it will give us a chance to devote more attention to the back alleys in keeping them clean and free from swarms of flies and other filth. This can easily be done if we just will go at the matter with a determination to put the matter over. The citizenship should ask the city health officer and the city marshal to give them full co-operation in making these clean up that otherwise refuse.

In the first place, after the paving has been finished in the business section, the city engineer should be asked to set the grade that will drain the back alleys after rains, and at the same time not flood the back ends of the stores. Then they should be cut to this grade and a lot of the calcie dirt hauled up and put on them and then kept level and clean. Each place should be either provided with a good, strong, close wired burning basket, or better still the city put in a small incineration plant out where gas can be piped to it, and a man given the job of hauling off the refuse at stated time to be burned and charged to the account of the merchant. All that could be arranged satisfactorily, we are sure.

Well, says one, that would cost some money. Sure, brother, but it costs money and effort to do anything right, or to keep anything clean. But, on the other hand it would cost no more to run this plan one month than it would cost to treat one case of typhoid fever one month. Sickness costs more money anytime than prevention does. Had you ever figured it that way?

We have a good chance right now while the city has an engineer employed to get this done, and if we do not take advantage of the opportunity to get it done and put it in force, we need say nothing if we have an epidemic here this summer. If we clean up before fly time and keep clean, we will not have as many of the nasty things as we usually do.

Good Hat Cleaning and Blocking Done Here

There is absolutely no use to send your hat away from Brownfield any more to get it cleaned and blocked, for this can be done here now as well as any place else. A gentleman who has had years of experience in this line of work is now located permanently at C. Cye's, and is ready at a moment's notice to give you good service.

The writer has had some very satisfactory work done there and has seen others and talked with them that were well pleased with all the work received. There is absolutely no use to throw away a good hat that cost from $5 to $10, when for a small sum it can be made as good as new.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cruce and son, John L., have returned from the Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth. They report a nice time and many thrills and spills down there.

Our Rodeo Article Caused Quite a Stir

You may kinder get by talking about a man's wife, if you don't get too rank about the matter. For instance you may say she is lean or lank, fat or stout, or even hint that she is fussy about little things, and a man will not say much. Kinder wink and pass it along. You may even hint that his daughter is a little fast and furious, or you might say his boy ought to be in the reformatory without having to fight him, but be careful what you say or do to his dogs. Don't kick his hounds around.

Some fellow intimated to us that there would be some trouble at the rodeo a week before it happened, but we, trying to look on the bright side told him that we believed that if everything was made perfectly clear to all the entrants before the show started that there need be no trouble about the matter, but it seems that all the gaps for trouble were not closed. We live to learn. By trouble, we do not mean fights or even fusses. Simply that there were some misunderstandings, and that some of the contestants were not pleased, and that Mr. Moreman in order to keep down any quarrels or misunderstandings paid out more money than he had promised, to people who at great expense had come long distances to help make the show great, and had not been in any way responsible for and differences in the books kept on the show.

While the Herald had nothing whatever to do with any of the decisions or the awarding of any of the prizes, it nevertheless came in for criticism, we understand, because of the way we reported the matter, when as a matter of fact, we printed what was given us, and it may or may not have been our private opinion of the matter. In fact, the Herald man was never nearer than 400 yards to the place where the books were kept, and we did not know whether the dogs that we saw catch the wolf belonged to Johnny Shoe-string or Billie Whipplebritches, and didn't care. We were out for the sport, and that's what we got.

The Herald had always rather lose a little money than make anyone sore. Mr. Moreman is a good friend of ours, so was several of those who had dogs in the races, and we hope that all will adjust their difference and be good friends as usual.

Big Spring Firm Gets High School Contract

J. M. Morgan & Co., of Big Spring, who built our beautiful courthouse got the contract to erect our high school building here, which was let Wednesday night, according to Fred Smith, president of the school board. The complete job including heating and plumbing was $66,235. The Morgan bid for construction alone was $56,885. The job will likely be ready when school opens in September.

This does not include any of the equipment, such as desks, etc. The bonds in the amount of $75,000 for its erection were sold this week to the State of Texas at par and accrued interest.

Herald Has to Clean Up Subscription List

The Herald is sorry to have to part with a lot of its readers but it costs real money to issue a paper, and those who do not think enough of the home paper to pay up, will just have to be dropped from the list. This week we cut off between 50 and 100 some of which had been on the list for years, but we are determined to have a paid up in advance subscription list. Therefore, all whose papers expired prior to Jan. 1st this year, were cut from the list. In another month, we will have to cut off all whose papers expire in January and February this year, and after that all will be cut off as fast as they expire, if not renewed.

We have been warning the readers for the past month or so that we were going to do this, and hundreds have responded, but a few have not heeded the call. Not so much as came in to see about the matter. So we figure that they did not want the Herald longer, and if they do not want it, we would be the last person on earth to try to force it on anyone. If there are those however who think they were paid up that have been cut off, we hope they will call and go over the matter with us and we are sure that the matter can be adjusted to their entire satisfaction.

The Herald has always tried to give the readers their money's worth in a paper, and we can truthfully say that we are selling it cheaper than any county seat paper in this section in order to accommodate the people. As we told the readers some time past, we are selling the paper too cheap to go to the trouble and expense of sending out statements as a very small percent of people heed them anyway, and lots of times three or four has to be sent to get results. The best way is to cut them off, and then if they want the paper they can come in and subscribe again. The label on your paper will tell you each week how you stand, and there is no need for a statement.

Retail Merchants to Get Cold Check Artists

Due to the fact that the COLD CHECK evil has reached such proportions as would cause it to make serious inroads into the profits of several lines of business aside from the fact that it is unlawful to write checks upon accounts that do not exist, the Retail Merchants Association has decided that drastic action should be taken. And hereby gives notice that a reward of $5.00 will be paid for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any habitual cold check writer or passer of a fraudulent draft or other instrument used for purposes of securing money or merchandise.

Garage Transformed—Chevrolet Improves

When the old Brick Garage was built, it fully met the needs as well as the convenience of the builders, and as for beauty, it complied in every way with the uses for which it was to be put at that time. That was in the good old days when people considered that most any building was good enough for a garage so it would not leak, was warm, and tolerably fireproof. It was the first brick building to be put up in this city and the people were proud of it, and so named it the Brick Garage—all the rest being wood or tin—and it has born the brand ever since. It was erected by A. M. McBurnett directly after the railroad got here.

The building now belongs to L. H. Plain of Lubbock who is having the building remodeled with a new roof, and the front transformed into a beautiful new drive in station with a nice cream colored brick that is setting off the appearance of the whole structure, giving it a real up-town appearance. The rear end where the mechanical part of the building is located, will remain considerably as yours, except a good non-leak roof. As soon as complete, it will be one of the prettiest filling stations in the city, and will be connected with the pavement with nice sloping driveways.

The 50 feet space between this building and the Carter Chevrolet Co., has also undergone a great transformation, which makes that part of the business district appear 100 percent better than formerly. With the aid of some beautifully cut pailings and an arched gateway painted a gleaming white and Chevrolet O. K. signs all over the entire arrangement in scarlet red, it gives one the idea that it is the entrance to a big city park or perhaps a pleasure pavilion. At the same time it hides all the down and out cars in the rear that needs the attention of the expert mechanics, and the brush of the artist and the O. K. of the Chevrolet Co. to make them presentable on the streets again.

This aid is worth several dollars to these firms, but we are making no charges. Whatever of good it is to them is being charged as a donation to our fair city and to them for helping to make our little city more civilized.

Chamber of Commerce By the Secretary

At the second meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce which was held last Wednesday night, a number of matters were brought up for attention, among them being the matter of cotton acreage reduction and seed variety. The outcome of the discussion was that no suggestions will be offered concerning either matter, the opinion being that the farmers know as much concerning the cotton situation as any one else and were capable of managing their own affairs through their own organizations.

The subject of fire prevention was also discussed and the secretary was directed to secure data from the Fire Insurance Commission with a view to improving our present inspections provided that the base rate could be reduced thereby.

A clean-up campaign and yard contest will probably be commenced which will run over a period of several months and be sponsored by the various civic organizations including the chamber of commerce.

A reduction of the domestic water rate has also been requested and is under favorable consideration of the city council. The minimum rate will remain as it is but the quantity rate will be drastically reduced during the summer months in order to encourage more liberal use of water on flowers, grass and shrubbery. It is not a foregone conclusion that rates will be reduced but the chances are very favorable at this time.

A county fair will be held this year and an effort will be made to make it more self supporting than has been the case in the past. In other words our business men will not be called upon to subscribe in such large amounts as has heretofore been the case. This does not mean that an admission charge will be made as it is expected that free admission to the grounds will prevail as in the past.

Great interest is being taken in highways and the one that occupies our greatest interest at this time is the Carlsbad Cavern route and everything possible to promote it is being done by us. The secretary was directed to attend a meeting of the association at Matador, which was done. He was accompanied by W. E. Henson, Chester Gore, Flem McSpadden and Marion Craig. The meeting was very interesting and among other matters developed, was the fact that a considerable amount of the mileage was already completed with funds made available to practically complete every mile of the route with the exception of Terry and Yoakum counties. A few miles remain in Oklahoma and a few miles in Cottle and Hardeman counties for which arrangements have not been completed to hard surface but the mileage involved does not amount to a great deal. Thousands of tourists are expected to use this route during the coming season. Probably twice the number of last year.

Gyp advertising, Gyp charity and habitual cold check writers were up for discussion and arrangements will be completed within the next few weeks to have all applications for the first two subjects to be referred to this office for action by a special committee. The cold check proposition will be handled by the Retail Merchants Association and they are going to act in a drastic manner in order to curb the growing evil.

Car parking in front of business houses by town people was discussed but it was decided that this could not be changed, at least until the paving now under way was completed.

The secretary was permitted to write a series of articles concerning hard surfacing of highways, but the directors would not go on record as pledging the organization to a hard surfacing program. So the articles as they appear will only undertake to show the advantages of paved highways and the probability of an amendment of the state highway law or submission of amendments to the constitution calling for a state wide bond issue. This will be done without pledging the organization in any manner to a bond issue as it is very probable that some of the members are opposed.

Need of more money with which to operate the chamber of commerce was discussed and a committee was appointed to secure a few members who have not heretofore been affiliated and to ask for increases on some others who are not paying in proportion to others in the same line of business.

Several other activities that could not be reached, will be taken up at the next meeting of the directors which will occur within a short time. In the meantime if any citizen, whether a member of the chamber of commerce or not, thinks of any activity that should be sponsored by the organization, it will be appreciated if he or she will make it known to the secretary, who will place it before the directors.

One very important matter that will be acted upon, is the resumption of community visits which have not been made for the past few years, but if our band continues to operate, we will probably appear in every community in the county with some time during the summer months.

In our clean-up campaign, we expect to offer prizes for the most attractive rural school grounds. Plans for the campaign in all of its phases

DEFECTS REPLACED FREE BY CHEVROLET DEALERS

The Chevrolet Motor Company today announces a new and broader service policy. Any Chevrolet owner, experiencing defective workmanship or material on a Chevrolet car under the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty, is invited to call upon any authorized Chevrolet dealer in the United States or Canada where the work will be done at no cost to him.

The plan, known as the Owner's Service Policy, is now in effect in the 10,000 authorized Chevrolet service stations in the United States, operating under the general supervision of the 52 Chevrolet branch offices.

The new policy takes the form of a written agreement given the purchaser by the Chevrolet dealer when the new car is delivered. It puts down in plain, understandable language the greater service protection to which every Chevrolet owner is now entitled.

Well, the people here are kinder getting used to paved streets and are not joy riding over them as much as they did a week or so ago. It takes gas even to drive on paved streets.

Peculiar Disease in Horses Found by Davis

There have been reports of farmers losing horses the past few days with some disease that appears to affect horses in much the same way as does blind staggers.

After describing the symptoms to Dr. Harbough, Veterinary Instructor of the Tech College, he was of the opinion that it was a form of forage poisoning which might have been produced by eating damaged bundle stuff, smutty grain or bad dusty feed. It seems that dusty and damaged feed will sometimes contain a toxic poison that causes a horse to lose its senses and sometimes get weak in the loin.

A purgative with a change of feed was the remedy and preventive that Dr. Harbough gave. Some farmers soak their corn and heads a few hours before feeding. Moldy, smutty or damaged feed of any kind should not be given to horses.

Dr. Harbough was of the opinion that it was not Hemorrhagic Septicemia as the symptoms of this latter disease are more like those of distemper in horses. However there have been some losses of cattle of this disease and it is advisable that cattle and horses be vaccinated as a safe precaution.

Further information will be looked for and supplied through the paper.

Rotary Sponsors Tree Planting in Terry Co.

The Rotary Club of this city is getting behind a movement to help in every way they can the rural schools of the county in planting trees and otherwise beautifying their school grounds. In the very near future, probably next Friday, a tree planting program, or some program suggestive of tree planting will be put on by the club at the noon day luncheon, and an effort will be made to launch the drive at that time.

Rotarian John King, local nurseryman says that trees can safely be planted out yet for several weeks in Terry county, and that he is willing to lend his assistance in every way possible to make the campaign a success. There is nothing more lonesome than a school house or private dwelling way out on a prairie without a shade tree in sight. Trees are not only a good wind break and a comfort in hot weather, but are restful to the eye and a means of contentment for the citizenship of the home and community.

Secretary Shelton of the Chamber of Commerce is working on a plan to offer prizes for beautiful and well kept yards in this city to be inspected monthly and finally prizes awarded in the fall, so that the premises will not be clean for just one month, but for the entire year. He is getting the civic clubs, such as the Lions and Rotary as well as the Chamber of Commerce behind the movement.

Konjola Wins Triumphs Everyday, Everywhere

New and Different Medicine Welcomes Any Test—Results Are What Count.

MR. RAYMOND SCHMIDT

Results are what count; mere words and promises mean nothing. Konjola has won fame and friends just by making good, and that is the medicine sufferers want and should have. Imagine the joy of Mr. Raymond Schmidt, R. F. D. No. 1 Sedalia, Mo., when he was able to say: "Though I know it to be true I find it hard to believe Konjola in just three months, ended my sufferings of nine years duration. For that long time I suffered from indigestion, constipation, kidney trouble and catarrh. No food agreed with me; every night I had to get up numerous times, and the catarrh certainly added to my misery. In those nine years I tried no end of medicine and treatments, and everyone was a miserable failure. But how different with Konjola! Week by week I grew better, and in three months I was my old self again. To me Konjola is the most wonderful medicine in the world, and I recommend it with all my heart."

Konjola is sold in Brownfield at Alexander Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all town throughout this entire section.

Editor Suits of Lorenzo reports that Mrs. Suits and their heir are off visiting, then tells us how lonesome he is. Pretty good stuff, J. L. Send her a paper and she'll think you are staying in nights.

Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board says that the cooperatives are having their effect on the wheat and cotton markets. We hope so, for they certainly need some effect just at this writing.

The Literary Digest promises us some surprises in the nation wide straw vote on prohibition. Well, if Kansas goes wet and New York dry, we'll agree to be surprised. Otherwise we'll keep our shirt on.

And now comes the statistician with the information that if Dallas, Harris and Tarrant county had been left out of the election last fall, Texas would have gone for Smith. Well, they weren't left out, though, so why bring that up?

There were 60 failures in Texas in February this year compared to 35 last year. We started to say this was some more Hoover prosperity, but we don't want our Hoovercrat friends to think we just wanted to say something mean to them.

Well, we of the South Plains thought we were catching it last Thursday, but when the dailies of the next day or two told us of the gruesome wrecks, the killed and maimed left in the wake of cyclones in Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi, we decided we would take another sandy or two in the place of what those people got.

town people at their centennial in 1933, and they know they must have a respectable city if people come to their exhibition. But why did they wait until the vipers had poisoned and infested the whole city including officials?

It seems that Editor Luke Roberts insulted a fellow over there last week when he gave him the price on printing some stuff on a cardboard that was worth nothing when printed, but which said fellow wished to collect a lot of iron men off the business men there when the job was finished. The fellow appeared here Sunday to get our figures, but after he told us how he talked to Roberts, we told him there were several print shops at Lubbock.

Way up north where they really engage in the dairying business, a survey was recently made and it was found that with the high priced cream of a few months ago, the farmers got in the habit of selling all their cream and buying butter for their own use that was made of coconut oils and other substitutes, and now cream has taken a tumble on this account. The old saying still holds good that you can't have your cake and eat it. We hope Terry county farmers did not do this.

Last week over in Lynn county, a self acknowledged bootlegger from Fort Worth, who had with him a woman that registered as his wife, who was not, fifty-one pints of liquor in his car, also a loaded six-shooter on the seat, and who resisted arrest, was given a five year suspended sentence. Editor Hill raised all manner of hades editorially about the matter, but 12 men practically freed him, and the same thing is going on all over the state. All of which leads a lot of people to think that perhaps our pro laws are too stringent, and jurors thinking so, interpret the law to suit themselves. Just so.

This is a world of opportunities as well as a world of trials. It is he who overcomes the trials who also takes advantage of the opportunities. Every department of science, every branch of art, every profession and trade, every human activity having for its object the promotion of the welfare and happiness of mankind, is awaiting the coming of men with talent and energy, determination and love for God and man; men with holy ambition and unflinching energy; men with purpose and patience, to aid in the greatest work that can engage the attention and capacities of the most gifted.—Rochester Reporter.

We note from all over the state that papers, both weekly and daily, together with influential private citizens are talking of drafting Lynch Davidson or some other business man of the state to lead us out of the wilderness of bankruptcy at Austin and put old Texas on its feet once more. Well, a $100,000,000 outfit is too much for little Dan or any other politician we have learned to our sorrow, but we are inclined to think that the people are not ready to change yet. They still prefer a man that can denounce and vilify to a man that can plan and execute. We are sorry to think Texas people are so darned ignorant that they fear a man that has made a success in life and prefer a man of small caliber that hasn't ten thousand dollars' worth of taxable property, but they're that way, just the same.

Once more the grim reaper has moved over the land and the United States has only one ex-president living, Mr. Coolidge, with the passing of Chief Justice William Howard Taft of the United States Supreme Court, last Friday. Mr. Taft was the first Republican president since the civil war that began to get away from old established prejudices and put southern people in his cabinet and other places of trust. If we are not mistaken, Mr. Taft was the man that elevated Chief Justice White, now deceased, of Louisiana to that position of trust. His smile was universal and contagious. He loved and was loved. Children were his pals, and the aged of every condition in life admired the big man, both physically and mentally, who had spent his life in the service of his country. William Howard Taft had no enemies north or south of the Mason and Dixon line. The flags over the local post office and on the courthouse square were flown at half mast from Saturday until Tuesday.

J. O. Wheatley was in town Saturday and handed us another dollar on subscription, thus cinching our vote, unless Sears can think of a better scheme to get it.

Not long ago, in a nearby town, a group of executives and attorneys of two corporations sat at a conference table. A document had been drawn, signed and approved by the lawyers, whereby one company decided to the other a suburban sub-division of a good many acres.

"Well gentlemen," said the President of the Corporation which had sold the land, "so far as I can see this business is completed—except for the detail of filing the deed at the Court House. With your approval, I shall be glad to attend to that matter."

Approval came forthwith. The president filed the deed. But first he added to that document a paragraph stating that his company would keep title to certain building lots. When the deed was recorded our friend mortgaged these lots.

Result: The purchasers were put to great trouble and expense before the property could be sold. Title Insurance would have protected them against this.

And that is not all you will see. The latest household cabinets in Porcelain-on-steel will be on display. The famous "Frigidaire Cold Control" will also be demonstrated. You will be shown how this device freezes ice cubes faster—how it permits you to make scores of unusual desserts that require extreme cold.

Will you be our guest?

New Formations Being Explored in Caverns

The exploring party now going thru newly opened portions of the Carlsbad Caverns are viewing each day wonderful new sights that have never before been viewed by the human eye. The new tunnels and rooms are to be opened as soon as lights can be installed, stairs made and it is assured that each entrance is safe. The exploring party's report said of one day's work:

We continue on and on down our newest discovered tunnel, encouraged with the thought of its bringing us to another entrance, a new big room or to the banks of the lost river. The floor is covered by a thick brittle formation that crumbles and allows our feet to sink ankle deep in the soft white dust below. The fact that we have not at any spot in this tunnel found the coating disturbed is concrete proof that we are in an area never before visited by man. As we progress, the rays of our lights fight off a heavy blackness that clings ghostlike about us. Darkness in the Carlsbad Caverns is such as no dweller on top can know unless he is completely blind. It is utter sightlessness, a blackness so heavy, so intense as to be almost suffocating. The stillness so absolute that one's ears ring. It is as if we are cut off from all the world and have journeyed to a strange, weird, grotesque country where no human has lived. About us are immense formations millions of years old tinted a delicate orange by water impregnated by iron. For the most part these formations are surprising likenesses of jungle and barnyard beasts, flowers and tree trunks, gracefully rounded, delicately etched that tower a half hundred feet above our heads. Here also are fathomless pails, smooth as glass, never the faintest ripple to disturb their calm terraced bowls of onyx marble, from which we drink water pure and clear as crystal. Where this tunnel that seems endless is leading us is problematical. We are highly optimistic over the possibilities and mean to carry on and on until we find the answer at the farther end.

Ex-Sheriff Wood E. Johnson called in recently to help us out financially by renewing for another year. Wood is making good on his farm, in which he is ably assisted by Mrs. Johnson. They do not confine their aim to no one thing, however.

40,000 Head Cattle Being Fed in Hockley

A. L. Smith, beef cattle specialist from A. & M. College, who was here Tuesday conferring with County Agent W. T. Magee on conditions in this county, is authority for the statement that in 50 counties in this section there are now about 40,000 head of cattle being fed for the markets by farmers, using home-grown feeds.

Mr. Smith states that by feeding a small bunch of cattle, or hogs, the farmer is enabled to get from $30 to $50 per acre out of his feed, which makes the grain sorghums a very profitable crop. He also says that the banks are willing to furnish the money with which to buy the cattle, the security is recognized as being safe, especially where the farmer has raised the feed. Feeding sheep is supposed to be one of the most profitable ventures of this nature.

Mr. Smith stated that with the great possibilities here for raising feed, there is no reason why the feeding and finishing of livestock for the markets should not soon become one of our most profitable industries.—Levelland Herald.

Collins Dry Goods Company
"We Show The Newest Things First"

This Week

by Arthur Brisbane
S. O. of N. J. Cuts Down
The King's Maxim
A Keeper Killed
If War Did Come

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey sets an example to other oil concerns, voluntarily reducing its refinery operations by one-seventh. Refining is a continuous process, and must continue seven days a week, but only six days' actual work will be done, to prevent overproduction. And most important part of the good example, men will not be discharged or have their wages cut.

An English clergyman reveals King George's six maxims, all hung up on the walls of his library. The first is: "Teach me to be obedient to the rules of the game."

Excellent for a constitutional monarch, obeying the will of his people. Rulers of a different kind, Alexander, Caesar, Napoleon, had a different maxim: "See that you obey the rules of the game as I make them."

We do not understand management of prisons, or our criminals are different from other criminals. Weeks ago, Warden Hoffman, of Auburn prison, New York, told a reporter: "We are sitting on a powder keg."

Recently, a convict stabbed the head keeper of the prison to death. He knew that the electric chair, nearby, would inevitably avenge that murder. Nevertheless, he committed it.

Swift trial and punishment should protect the other keepers. Careful investigation should find what treatment and conditions drove a convict to so desperate an act.

General Ely, commanding the second corps area, has a plan to defend New York city in war. He would "mobilize the civilian services."

If modern war came the civilian services would mobilize themselves. And with them the six million population of New York, as many as survived the first gas and bomb attack, would mobilize themselves by scattering through the country, abandoning the city as rats leave a ship when it is sinking.

In case of an attack by airplane, which would be the first sort of attack in a new war, it would not be necessary for General Ely to worry about his suggestion for "guarding the water supply."

After the first half hour, there wouldn't be anybody left in New York to drink water. The dead couldn't drink it and all the living would have left the city.

Our good neighbor, Cuba, is to be congratulated upon the opening of a first-class school of civil aviation, President Machado attending.

Students volunteering already exceed the school's capacity, which will be increased.

Young Cubans have imagination and courage, qualities essential to good flying.

One gentleman in the senate wants "an end of secrecy" in regard to our London naval limitations conference. Washington also would like an end to secrecy. So far, other countries haven't told us any secrets.

They take our delegates to see where Samuel Johnson made a greasy mark on a wall in the old Cheshire Cheese, and show them interesting graves in and out of Westminster abbey.

But not France, Japan, nor Britain, has let any American delegate know anything that is really planned.

An encouraging statement comes from Mr. Edsel B. Ford, now in Florida. He is one who talks rarely, and thinks first. President of the Ford company, knowing the sales from day to day, possessing sound information about business conditions, he reports steady improvement in business, particularly in industrial lines.

Von Tirpitz, head of the German navy in the great war, is dead, and Germany will not forget him. It was his decision to wage unrestricted submarine war on all nations, including this one, that forced the United States into the war.

Had the United States stayed out, the former kaiser might not be living in Holland.

Leaders of new "cults" often convince themselves. At St. Joe, Ark., Irwin C. Graham, leader of the "Incoming Kingdom" and later leader of the "Visionary" branch, planned with divine aid to cure himself of illness by fasting. He did, and died of hunger.

This is not new. In the Middle ages a man announced that he was the real Messiah, would go down to the Busporus, and walk upon the surface. His crowd of believers followed him and all were drowned.

We have among us a four-billion-dollar concern named A. T. & T., otherwise the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

It is the biggest private business in the world, its total assets being more than four billion two hundred and twenty-eight million. (© 1930, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Clyde Gross informed us this week that he was moving to Lamesa, where he will take charge of Frigidaria sales. His brother and family have moved here from Lubbock and will have charge of the sale department in Brownfield. However, we are glad to say that Clyde will be here every few days.

Drinking may decline, but drinkers seldom do.

THINK OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE IN TERMS OF TOMORROW

Ultimate cost is as important as first cost in the purchase of an automobile

WHEN you purchase an automobile you are making an investment of a considerable amount of money. It is essential, therefore, that you give careful thought to the best selection and know what you are getting for your automobile dollars.

The first cost is important because it may mean an immediate, satisfactory saving. Of equal importance is the ultimate cost after thousands of miles of service. This ultimate cost is the true measure of automobile value.

THE first cost of the new Ford is unusually low not only because of economies in manufacturing, but because the same principles that inspire these savings are extended to every other step that means greater service to the public. It is easy to see that economies in production would be of little value if they were sacrificed later through high charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories.

The Ford dealer, therefore, does business on the same low-profit margin as the Ford Motor Company. His discount or commission is twenty-five to fifty per cent lower than that of any other automobile dealer. You gain because he makes a small profit on many sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales.

The difference in selling cost, combined with the low charges for financing and accessories, amounts to at least $50 to $75 on each car. This is as important as economies in production in keeping down the price you pay for the new Ford.

THE low ultimate cost of the new Ford is the result of sound design, quality of material and unusual care in manufacturing. Friction and wear are reduced by the accuracy with which each part is made and assembled.

These factors combine to decrease the cost of operation and add months and years to the useful life of the car. The good performance and low yearly depreciation of the new Ford are indicative of the enduring quality built into it at the factory.

SERVICE charges are on the same fair, economical basis as the making and selling of the car and replacement parts are always available at low prices through all Ford dealers. In two, three or five years, depending on how much you drive, the saving in operating and maintaining a new Ford will amount to even more than the saving on the first cost.

Think in terms of tomorrow, therefore, when you purchase an automobile. For tomorrow will reveal its true worth.

Meadow Briefs

By Aesculapias

The past week was not altogether uneventful, as the stiff breezes continue to blow and the chicken thief has been on the job in the community. It was a widow woman's chickens and a very old one at that. Arrests have been made and the accused parties are out on bond. Hope they are not guilty, for stealing chickens isn't a very lucrative business and is one of those very small things one would always regret to have said about him, when he moved into a new community. There have been many other complaints by parties living east of Meadow. It would seem that there is more than one gang plying their trade as some chickens were found stowed away along the railroad track north of town and uncovered by the track workers of the Santa Fe.

Mrs. A. C. White living in the western part of town, died Thursday morning the sixth at 3:30 o'clock after an illness of several months with Senile Gangrene of the foot. She was in her eighty-third year. She leaves a husband, two daughters and one son with a number of grand children. She was buried in the Meadow Cemetery.

I have always wished that when we have lived to old age that the call should be quick and thus be saved a lingering struggle that can have but one result—death.

The Sunday papers tell us of the passing of two eminent men William Howard Taft and Justice Sanford of the Supreme Court of the U. S. Both had reached old age. Judge Taft has been ill for months and his death expected at any time. Sanford made a quick exit, the ideal way. It is probable that Justice Taft is the best beloved of all our public men and has filled more places of trust than any I can recall and while he made bad blunders as President his heart appears to have been in the right place. His character is worthy of emulation by those seeking a place in the public life of the country.

Ex-President Coolidge visited San Antonio a few days since and made a visit to the Alamo. Standing inside the structure whose history is familiar to every child of grammar school advancement, he asked the guide "What was the Alamo built for anyway?" Perhaps he had never heard of Goliad, San Jacinto, nor of Crockett, Bowie, Bonham and others that assisted in giving to the United States an empire. Was it intended as a joke? It was the occasion of the Ninety Fourth Anniversary of the Fall of the Alamo; he was certainly not joking. What if a noted Texan standing at the monument of Bunker Hill should ask, what occurred here that a monument should be erected on this spot? Perhaps he is like Ford who says history is bunk and when asked who Benedict Arnold was replied, "he was an author." Perhaps when the ex-president writes that five hundred word history of the U. S. to which he was appointed by President Hoover he will "Remember the Alamo." His administration proved that he was familiar with the needs of Vermont and Mass., and any other of the manufacturing States. Perhaps he is like Gen. Sheridan, who said, "If I owned Texas and Hell I would rent out Texas and live in Hell." Well he has gone to reside in some place and it isn't in Texas.

The circus at Austin is still holding on with ring master Moody still welding the whip. When the legislature isn't rowing with Moody they are taking a fall out with one another. A majority of them take great offense when a resolution calling for a statement of expenditures of the State's money for personal use. One of them is said to have blown in seventy-five dollars telephoning his wife and others. He had better take his wife along next time or be content with a daily post card. Doubtless it would not be pleasant reading to some for the public to know just who was on the line.

Under a ruling of the prison board there will be no more prisoners sent to the penitentiary until provision is made for housing them. Well the most of the jails are already full and unable to properly care for them why not turn about two thousand of the best behaved loose on parole thus making room for a few more chicken thieves and bootleggers. Dan could do this and get ahead of Jim Ferguson who will certainly solve the prison problem in some way if he is elected. The tax payer would be glad to have a solution.

There were exercises at the School Auditorium Friday night to determine which of the boys and girls should be presented at Brownfield Saturday the 15 to contend for first place in the county Declamation Contest. Miss Loma Hawkins was chosen as Senior Girl and Herman Chesher as Senior boy. I do not recall the victor in other grades.

The new arrivals are a girl on Feb. 20 at G. C. Turpins; March 2, a boy at H. S. Lusk's; March 6, a girl at P. L. Hagins. So you see we are having something more than wind and sand in these parts.

IN MEMORIAM

On March 6th, 1930, the death angel visited the home of sister Jewel Farrell and claimed as his victim her beloved husband, Jack Farrell. Bro. Jack who was only sick a few weeks, was lovingly attended by those around him. He gave his heart and life to God in 1926, afterwards uniting with the Church of God of which he still remained a worthy member until the time of his death.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, sister Jewel Farrell; his little daughter Peggy Gene; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Farrell; three brothers and one sister, Earl Farrell of Houston, Texas; Arp Farrell, Bobby Farrell and Miss Gladys Farrell of the Forrester community, besides a host of friends and other relatives.

I say to those who mourn his loss to weep not as those who have no hope, for Bro. Jack is awaiting them on yonder shore where there will be no more partings or sad good-byes to be said.

His pastor and wife,
A. L. and Myrtle Cason.

Scudday News

(Delayed)

Those upon whom we depend are very diligently tilling the soil this week, in spite of all these sand storms. We are all expecting a good cotton crop this year.

Oh yes! We Scudday people were all out to see the Coyote-Hound Rodeo last Saturday. We all believe it is safer to pay 50 cents and see 27 coyotes killed in the fight, than to get out and ride a horse 90 to nothing and maybe get killed ourselves and then not see the fight. Sure, we are conservative.

The play was a real success. Had several visitors from other communities and certainly appreciate their coming out to see our play and invite each and everyone back again.

Miss Ruby Lee Collier from Wolfarth was a visitor at our play.

Mrs. Eaves has been on the sick list for the past week, but is recovering fast.

Scudday has organized a Literary Society among the young people.

The outside boys have organized a baseball team and will challenge anybody. Come on folks, lets have a good time this summer.

RETAIL MERCHANT WRITES WHOLESALE ABOUT A DUN

My Dear Friend:

I beg leave to inform you that the present shattered condition of my bank account makes it impossible for me to send you a check in reply to your request for funds.

The state of my present financial condition due to the effects of federal laws, state laws, county laws, corporation laws, by-laws, brother-in-laws, sister-in-laws, mother-in-laws and outlaws, that have been foisted upon an unsuspecting public. Thru these various laws, I have been held up, walked on, sand-bagged, flattered and squeezed until I do not know where I am, what I am, or who I am, or why I am.

These laws compel me to pay a mercantile tax, capital tax, stock tax, excess profit tax, income tax, real estate tax, property tax, state auto tax, city auto tax, gas tax, water tax, light tax, improvement tax, cigar tax, cigarette tax, street tax, real tax, school tax, surtax, suntax and carpet taxes.

In addition to paying taxes I am requested and required to contribute to every society and organization that the inventive mind of man can organize. To the Society of St. John the Baptist, the Woman's Relief, the Navy League, the Children's Home

Fund, the Policeman's Benefit, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Boy Scouts, the Jewish Relief, the Near East Relief, the Gold Diggers Home; also every charitable organization in town, the Red Cross, the Black Cross, the White Cross, the Public Cross and the Double Cross.

The government has so governed my business that I do not know who owns it. I am suspected, expected, inspected, disrespected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, commanded and compelled until all I know is that I am supposed to supply an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race, and because I refuse to donate all I have and go out and beg, borrow and steal money to give away, I am cursed, discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, held down and robbed, until I am nearly ruined, so the only reason I am clinging to life is to see what in the Hell is coming next.—Exchange.

Life expectancy in the United States is now fifty-eight years. Fifty years ago forty-three was the figure. So it will be seen that children mind their ma, and husbands hold tight to the apron strings of their wives, that longevity may increase. In the middle ages the average duration of human life was only twenty-five years. But America is a wonderful country and after awhile most everybody may live a century or two—if they don't go too fast.

THE GOVERNOR'S PAJAMAS

If by any chance Commander Lothar Von Arnould de la Periere of the German cruiser Emden calls on you, don't go down to answer the doorbell in your green pajamas. Gov. Huey P. Long of Louisiana did that the other day, and Von Etcetera got as angry as a dashund that has just been offered catnip. He sent the German Consul around to demand apologies—and got them.

But the mystery yet remains as to why Governor Long let the newspapers find out that he wears green pajamas. Imagine a Texas Governor ever managing to live down such a thing. It is as much as a man's political future is worth in this State so much as to admit that he wears pajamas at all. The common people are capable of misinterpreting such an effete foible.

In Texas nightshirts are being worn by the backbone of the Commonwealth, so to speak. Green pajamas! Why, they might as well have been pyjamas and be done with it. Mr. Long is evidently a bold, thoughtless man.—Dallas News.

IN AND OUT THROUGH OUR SOUTHERN PORTS

How important a role our so-called "agricultural states" of the South and West are playing in the huge drama of world trade is evidenced by a recent survey from the Department of Commerce. As a group, the states of Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas lead all other sections of the country in volume of exports, and are second in volume of imports.

In plain figures, more than 20,000,000 tons of export products passed through southern ports during the past fiscal year. Texas led the group, with Louisiana second and Virginia third. In volume of imports, Louisiana and Maryland stood first. The port of New Orleans is second only to the mighty port of New York, while Baltimore has risen to fourth place, Houston to eighth, and Norfolk to tenth. Galveston, Baton Rouge, Mobile, Tampa and Newport News have achieved permanent places in the ports of the South.

Don't call a man lazy too hastily. The poor fellow may be suffering from voluntary inertia.

WHEN WILL YOU BEGIN USING THIS NEW OIL?

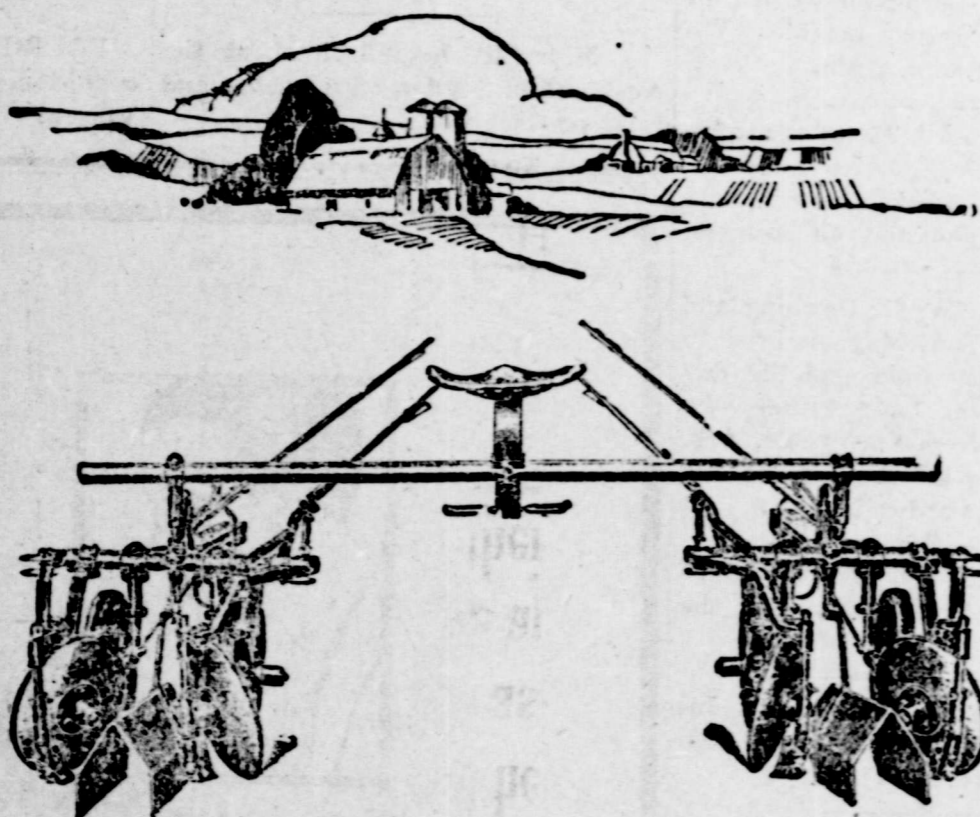

It is being rumored (and truthfully) that no other American motor oil has been so speedily accepted by motorists. Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil has smashed all precedents by its amazing reception... And this oil is as unusual as its introduction. Its superiorities are so apparent, that even before its announcement was well under way, literally thousands of new users were appearing at Red Triangle stations.

CONOCO
GERM
MOTOR OIL

Its name seems to intrigue motorists and much conversation has dwelt on the Germ Process, and the whys and wherefores... the story is this: Under exclusive Conoco-owned patent rights, a precious oily essence is added to a superbly fine paraffin base oil. This essence is lacking in all other oils, including the one you are now using. The Germ Process makes possible the metal-penetrating safety factor that we call "penetrative lubricity." And this oil, of all on the market, provides a saier, more positive motor protection, from the time you start the motor until you turn off the ignition. So... when will you begin using this new oil?... at the sign of the Red Triangle.

AVERY Two-Row Listed Corn Cultivators

Give a good crop a good start

When your listed corn is young, is the time to lay a foundation for profitable growth. Careful cultivation at this time brings a generous reward.

Listed corn farmers who work their corn through the early stages with Avery Sled and Two-Row Cultivators, bring down to the young crop exactly the required amount of finely pulverized soil and give their crop the best possible start. They do the most for the crop, in the easiest and best way, when good care is most needed.

In designing the Avery Sled Cultivator, which runs in the furrow astride the row, every essential has been provided for doing the work easily and accurately. The Avery Two-Row Listed Corn Cultivator offers a broader development of the same principles, but due to the exclusive Avery equalizers and other features, it cultivates two rows with the same ease and accuracy as does the single-row machine.

Avery Sled and Two-Row Cultivators bear the unmistakable quality characteristics of all Avery tools. Because they do better work and last longer, they are the most economical in the end to buy. They are built in America's finest implement factory—to meet a need that springs direct from the soil—by men inspired by 100 years of implement-building leadership.

Ask us for the details. We will gladly give you all the facts upon request.

There is a full line of famous Avery walking, riding and tractor plows; chisel implements, and Champion harrowing and haying machines.
