TERRY COUNTY CROP PROSPECTS BEST IN YEARS

Recent Heavy Rains, Followed By Hot Sun Shiny Weather Put The Crops To Growing Rapidly. Cotton Acreage Will Be Greatly Reduced. Advance Average.

The heavy rains of last week, which fell generally over the county not only enabled the farmers to finish their late plantings, but put sufficient moisture in the ground to guarantee abundant production. Followed this week by several days of hot weather, most of the very latest planting is up with good stands, and the earlier stuff is growing rapidly. We are advised by numbers of farmers from over the county that they have the very best prospects for a fine crop this year.

Considerable damage was done to a few farms in south part of county last Saturday by hail, though it seemed to be scattered. Some report pasture ranges have better grass than for many years. We learned also that many farmers have reduced their cotton acreage considerably, one man near town with 400 acres, has only 150 in cotton and will plant most of the rest to corn, pointing out that while cotton is regarded as the money crop of the south, that year in and year out, corn is a close second, especially in Terry county due to our success in growing corn. It is easy harvested, brings fairly good returns, besides it can be utilized in so many different ways.

Army of Movie Talent Banishes All Gloom

Squads of sweeties, platoons of pipkins, companies of cuties, regiments of roaring comedians, brigades of beauties, divisions of dancers, armies of ace-actors! That's "Paramount on Parade," the all-time film sensation, the festival of the stars, which will open a 3 day engagement at the Rialto theatre, starting Sunday.

Never before has anything quite as gorgeously entertaining and delightfully intimate been seen on the screen. Paramount has brought together all the beauty and talent of Hollywood to support its glittering roster of famous stars and featured players in "Paramount on Parade." Eighteen starring interludes, each a complete show in itself, present the Paramount stars in the things you like best to see them.

A dozen real song hits, sung by the stars, are only one feature of the great film frolie. The comedians, such as Harry Green, Jack Oakie and Helen Kane, whose wit brought them fame, combine with the great dramatic titans, such as George Bancroft and Ruth Chatterton, and the gorgeous dancing darlings, such as Nancy Carroll and Lillian Roth, to make an entertainment that will be talked about for years. Eleven Paramount hit-makers collaborated in the direction of this sensational show. Maurice Chevalier sings. Charles (Buddy) Rogers makes love. Clara Bow displays the personality that won the "It" title. Skeets Gallagher springs some brand new laugh gags. And the most beautiful show and chorus girls in Hollywood furnish a glittering background for the spectacle. Many of the scenes are filmed in Technicolor, and music is furnished by such tremendously popular units as Abe Lyman and his band.

Jesse L. Lasky, Paramount production head, says "Paramount set out to make a show that would be like the ten biggest Broadway hits rolled into one, and we surpassed our own ambitious aims."

METHODIST CHURCH

The pastor was glad to get back in the pulpit last Sunday, and to know that every service was well conducted during his absence. For the first time in six weeks there was an increase in Sunday School attendance, but many were still absent who attended in the Spring. Let us not fall into a Summer slump, but come every time we are in town. Visitors expect you to be there to welcome them and our Lord expects loyalty. Would He let the Summer keep Him from serving you? Then we must not slacken our service to Him.

We are planning a Vacation Bible School which we hope will meet a hearty response from those who should teach in it and also from the pupils.

Boys! We are to organize Sunday School baseball teams. Will you play? Sunday we will set a date for organizing class teams.

Geo. E. Turrentine.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY T. L. PRICE MARRIES

A recent wedding of considerable interest over the South Plains is that of Thomas L. Price, of Tahoka, district attorney of this district, and Mrs. Gladys Wright, also of Tahoka, which took place in Clovis, N. M.

The couple was married at the home of Rev. Mix, pastor of the First Baptist church of Clovis.

After a short wedding trip, which included several New Mexico and West Texas towns, the couple returned to Tahoka where Mr. Price has been making his home for the past year.

Brownfield Had One Shack Burned on Square

In conversation with a good citizen a few days ago, he remarked that Brownfield was one of the most honest towns he had ever lived in. That there had been fewer mysterious fires here than any place he had ever lived, such fires as render suspicion of the general public that they were burned for insurance, and at that time neither of us could recall of a single building having been burned on the square. But there was one, and old building that stood where the 'M' System now stands. But occurred in day time, and was caused from a gasoline stove explosion in a cafe, and was entirely accidental. While it did not burn down, it was unfit for occupancy and Mr. Marchbanks rebuilt directly with brick.

But as this gentleman remarked, there has not been a building burned in the past 15 years wherein there was a breath of suspicion that it was done for the insurance. Most of the old wooden buildings on the square and near it were removed and replaced by modern bricks. These old buildings were then in turn torn up and chicken houses or barns made from them, and no waste of good lumber occurred. Every building that is needlessly burned is just that much less material on the market and has a tendency to elevate price of lumber. Brownfield certainly has a very fine fire record.

Another gentleman telling us why he loved to live here, remarked that the town he came from was much larger than Brownfield, although he has every modern convenience they enjoy. In fact, he said he was born in and had always lived in larger towns than Brownfield, but that he and wife had rather live here than any place they ever lived. The town he came from is not a million miles away, but he said the old familiar western style was over there and the people merely greet you with a nod if at all. But in Brownfield the people called one by their first name after a few weeks here and indeed had a little time to stop you on the street and engage in conversation. He remarked that while no one seemed to be real wealthy here, that they were the most self sacrificing people he ever knew; that they would go far to accommodate one another than any people he ever lived among.

Search as you may, you'll never find the superior of the Brownfield citizenship. If you are worthy and living on the square with the rest of the world, you'll always have a host of friends here.

FORMER TERRY MAN DIES AT CARLSBAD

John Hays, a pioneer settler of Terry county, but for past 15 years a ranchman near Carlsbad, New Mexico passed away last Sunday, following a siege of pneumonia. Mr. Hays, his father and brothers, were among the first settlers of this county owning and operating a ranch a few miles southwest of Wellman and for many years was among our most prominent citizens. He married Miss Ruby Bynum, here, who is a sister of our fellow townsmen, Arnet, Virgil, Travis and Ralph Bynum.

He is survived by his wife and two children, and two brothers.

HARMONY REPORT

Hurrah! for old Harmony. It is coming right along with the other clubs. We had our first club meeting last night. We have had such bad weather that we just didn't have any meeting before, but all the same if "Old Harmony" is a long time about starting she won't be the very last one on record.

All of the boys are planning on going in swimming on July 11, and all of the Club members being there we know that we will have a nice time. All of us are going to put up a chicken and get it real fat for the day.

There were sixteen members present at our club meeting. Twenty members in our club and we think there will be several more to join yet. We are hoping so anyway.

Woodrow led several songs. They were good for him. He is a real good song and yell leader.

We have decided to keep our old name—"Harmony, Hen, Hog, Hominy Club." We meet every other week on Tuesday night. Everyone is invited to come.

Mr. Davis and wife were with us last night. We surely were glad to have them and enjoyed his talk. He gave us a good talk on club work.

The report of our club this year is: 64 acres of cotton, 12 acres of corn, 2 heifers, 1 pig and about 57 chickens.

Everyone is invited to the "Sack Supper" at Harmony next Friday night week, June 27. Come and lets have a big time. We are going to try to get the candidates to come out and talk some for us. I know that you all will enjoy hearing them. Everyone be sure and come and see what a sack supper is. It will be fun for all.

The colored people of Brownfield celebrated June 19th, the anniversary date of their freedom from slavery, with a barbecue and festival at the Goodpasture farm 3 miles south of town.

The Editor Returns From 1800 Mile Trip

The editor of this sheet returned Tuesday evening from his long trek to the other end of the state, where he attended the session of the Texas Press Association, or was supposed to, as well as taking an extensive trip over into the Republic of Mexico at two points. Folks, it was an inspirational journey, and we have returned freshened and ready for work, although we have returned shr rums h though rather worn from the 1800 mile journey.

We wish to say that we appreciate the good paper that Judge Neill and the regular force on the Herald got out while we were away. Indeed, we believe they do better when the "boss" is gone if anything, and we believe the readers will say the same thing. The paper will be a bit light on local matter this week we believe as Judge Neill misunderstood that he was to help out on this issue until late, but we will have everything ironed out and in running order next week.

Next week, we aim to give the readers in detail a story of our trip, not especially for the benefit of local readers, but for others in other states who wish to know something about the great size of our state. Also, we wish to pay our compliments to the people from Waco south to Brownsville, Texas, who labored to make the whole trip one of the most pleasurable Texas editors have ever taken. This was the unanimous verdict.

CLERK GETS MIXED UP ON SHORTS AND SHORTS

SNYDER, May 28.—(Special)—A certain McKinney dry goods clerk, formerly in the general store line at Farmersville, may "know his dry goods" but he does not know groceries—that is not yet.

The clerk had worked in the Farmersville dry goods store for some time and knew his business fairly well. The store burned out so he hiked down to the county seat and got a job in a general store and was assigned to the whole store.

The other morning a young woman entered the store and the clerk promptly accosted her and said "Good morning, is there anything I can show you this morning?"

"Yes," she replied, "I want some shorts."

Promptly the clerk inquired "would you like them for a gentleman or a lady?"

Curtly, she answered rather curtly, "I want them for a cow."

It took him some time to recover sufficiently to show her to the grocery department.

Bro. Turrentine will preach Sunday afternoon and Sunday School will be held in the school building. The last appointment was rained out. Don't let work keep you from your duty to the God of the harvests. His blessings are far above our deserts.

M. C. (Dad) Crawford has been very ill for past several days but was reported improving, Wednesday. His youngest son came in Monday and is at his bedside.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE CERTIFY NAMES ON TICKET

The Names of Candidates Were Drawn For Places on Ballot and They Were Assessed For Expense of Holding the Election According to Importance of the Office.

As prescribed by law the Democratic executive committee for the county convened at the Courthouse Monday evening, with R. M. Kendrick, Chairman, Joe J. McGowan, O. K. Tinsgate, J. O. Wheatley, and Lee Lyon, committeemen and proceeded to canvass the applications filed for names on ticket for the various county and precinct offices, and by drawing, fixed the rotation in which their name will appear on the ticket. Then the cost of the primary election was estimated and prorated between the candidates for different offices as follows:

County Judge, $40; Sheriff, $50; County Clerk, $50; County Attorney, $40; County Treasurer, $40; Tax Assessor, $40; Commissioners $20; Justice of the Peace and Constables, $5.

Under the law candidates for State offices only have to pay $100.00 to the State Committee, and district offices such as State Senator, Representative, District Judge and Attorney pay to each County just $1.00, while all the expense of holding the primary election, paying election officers, is taxed against the County candidates. Following is the list in order in which they will appear on the official ballot:

County Judge: J. Barret, W. E. Henson, Geo. W. Neill;
County Clerk: Rex Headstream, Sheriff: J. M. Telford,
County Attorney: W. W. Price,
Tax Assessor: John Cadenhead, S. L. Pyeat, Elmer Green, T. C. Hogan,
County Treasurer: Lola Smith, Jessie Randal, Roy Ragdoll, J. T. Pippin; Commissioners:
No. 1—L. L. Brock;
No. 2—S. T. Miller, J. L. Langford, W. A. Hinson, J. R. Whately,
No. 3—J. W. Lasiter, R. L. Cook, Will C. Brown;
No. 4—G. M. Thomason,
J. P. Brownfield—J. E. Shelton.

Dairy Specialists See Several Terry Herds

Fifty-four dairy farmers made the tour of the dairy herd demonstrators of this county last Monday. These men together with these visitors from out of Terry County namely: J. H. McClain, assistant director of Bureau of Dairying, Washington D. C., H. H. Williamson and Sterling C. Evans of the Extension Service A. & M. College, Prof. K. M. Renner, Tech College, County Agents, D. F. Eaton of Lubbock, W. H. Magee of Levelland, and R. E. Shaver of Tahoka, Mr. S. B. Pierson, banker of Ropes, H. L. Gonz, field editor of Farm and Ranch and other interested men spent the day in seeing what is being done by Terry County dairymen.

The farms of R. H. Timmons, S. W. White, T. L. Causseux, S. A. Banks, H. S. Hawkins and Hugh Hulse were visited and the records which they are keeping were gone over carefully. These records revealed the fact that cost of production is just as important in making money on cows as is the price being paid for cream.

In his talk at noon Mr. McClain brought out the point that feed is always at least half the expense in producing milk. He said that the only feed that a farmer could afford to feed was that which he grew on his own farm and not feed that was grown on the farm of some one else.

Prof. Renner gave an interesting talk on the cream situation. An underconsumption of butter rather than an over production was the chief reason for the present decline. He said that there was still a fair market for good quality butter and that it would always sell.

A BILLION AND A HALF APPORTIONED FOR ROADS

During 1930, the States and their counties will spend over $1,001,000,000 for highways improvements, $250,000,000 more than in 1929.

According to the Department of Agriculture, $663,667,000 of this will be spent on local roads and bridges and the balance on State highways. Officials of 45 states estimate the total length of roads to receive attention as 32,532 miles.

At present our greatest need is the construction of feeder or farm-to-market highways. The American Farm Bureau Federation has been a leader in an aggressive campaign to obtain for the farmer the year-round, hard-surfaced roads that, as one of foremost producers and shippers, he deserves. So long as a great majority of farmers are out off from their markets during many months of the year, it is certain that agricultural progress is retarded.

If our vast road building appropriations are fairly and efficiently used, with the aim of obtaining the best possible results, adequate feeder roads can be built without burdening the taxpayer. Every state should adopt a program for constructing farm-to-market roads for every mile of main highway.

The United States has four times the number of automobiles of all the rest of the world combined, and less than half of the world's road mileage. Our good roads movement is just getting well started.

Terry county had 119 classified as unemployed according to the recent census. Out of nearly 9000 people.

Meadow Oil Well Has Resumed Operations

After being closed down for several weeks, changing from the rotary drill to a standard rig and machinery, the Penn Oil Company has resumed drilling on the well 4 miles southeast of Meadow on the Arnett ranch, and have reached a depth of near 2700 feet, with a double shift day and night crews, rapid headway is being made, and unless some serious accidents happen, they will likely complete the contract depth of 5000 feet in the next 30 days. Their new machinery and cables are said to be one of the most modern equipped outfits in this line.

Some favorable reports are also had from the well just west of Bronco, indicating production, but at present a drill bit is fastened in the bottom of the hole, which is now a mile deep and at this depth the work of extracting it is very slow.

Widely Known Pastor Killed By a Taxicab

WEWOKA, Ok., June 15 (AP).—The Rev. T. W. Phillips, who for the last five years had been pastor of the Church of Christ here, died Saturday at a hospital from injuries sustained when a taxicab crashed into him at Holdenville.

Mr. Phillips was sitting in front of a Holdenville hotel conversing with Fines Wagner, blind Holdenville magazine salesman, when a taxicab became unmanageable and ran upon the curb, crashing into the two men.

The minister was widely known in this State and Texas, where he had engaged in evangelistic work for many years.—Dallas News.

Elder Phillips held a meeting for the local Church of Christ this June one year ago, and had many friends on the South Plains.

RAPID GAIN SHOWN IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Washington, D. C.—Enormous increase in public school enrollment in the United States compared with the small increase in that of private schools indicates the confidence of the people in the facilities and opportunities afforded by the tax-supported institutions, stated David T. Blase, of the statistical division, United States Office of Education, recently.

The publicly supported institutions, he said, have more funds with which to introduce a variety of courses and to offer greater educational facilities attractive to the students.

The American states expended $63,396,666 on secondary education in 1929, and steadily increased the amount to $2,184,336,638 in 1928. In 1928 there were 25,179,696 students enrolled in the public elementary and high schools compared with 2,669,661 students enrolled in similar private schools, Mr. Blase pointed out.

Virgil Head and wife from Bryan, Texas spent several days here this week visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Head. Virgil was born and raised in Terry county. After finishing at the A. & M. College, he now occupies a remunerative position with the City Government of Bryan.

A. F. Small, of Fort Worth, former Brownfield townsman, is here this week.

SANTARY BARBER SHOP

LITTLE BIDDIE HAS NOW TAKEN DIETING CRAZE

Farmers who fail to provide their poultry flocks with a sufficient number of square meals each day are practicing false economy, agriculture experiment stations have discovered in a series of experiments which prove the necessity for balanced rations to high egg production. The little red hen, once such an amiable creature, has gone in for the new fangled diet craze, and has got to the point where she refuses to work if she doesn't eat properly.

According to figures, high egg production per hen is the surest way to good profits. Farmers who secured high egg yields last year had to increase food costs, it was discovered but returns were enough greater to more than pay the difference.

It is not enough, in these days of high egg prices, to permit the hens to forage for themselves. A balanced ration, sufficient to permit each hen to produce her full quota of eggs, should be fed if a worth while profit is to be reaped from this branch of the farm.

This is especially true in winter, when forage is hard to get. Hens allowed to loaf through the winter almost invariably show a loss for the year, because the time lost then is never made up.

The foundation of every profitable flock, however, must be good stock, the experiment stations point out. Hens which eat heartily and produce only occasionally eat up the profits of the high egg producers. Thousands of farmers, depending upon their flocks for a large share of the "ready money" produced by their farms each year, have adopted the practice of replenishing their flocks each spring. The best way of doing this is through the commercial hatcheries of the country, particularly since the leading ones have banded together under the slogan, "Hatchery Chicks For Greater Profits," to pledge profit-producing stock, and fair dealing.

A good, average farm hen should return between $2.00 and $3.00 profit during a year, the agricultural experiment station men claim.

South Texas Land Squabble

For the past several months the Rio Grande valley is having some adverse advertising about its land deals, values etc. Recently a prominent Secretary of the C. of C. down there, came to Plainview and said "several hundred thousand dollars" are being spent to knock Texas out of land buyers, and later the Governor has spoke out on the matter. We may not understand it accurately, but as we do understand it, last year Wisconsin, and possibly other States up that way, through a State Realty Board, perhaps officially, declared a quarantine on land buyers going to Texas, and charged great swindles, fraud, excessive prices, etc. This of course as to the whole State of Texas is gross error and unfair. There likely is two sides to the controversy. We suspect it originated a few years ago, when some Kansas City, promoters, more gramatically known as D-m grafters, obtained large tracts of land in the valley, subjected it to irrigation, applied this high pressure salesmanship, with California advertising, and Wall Street values, went up "nawth" and rounded up a lot of those fellows with more money than—; run them down in excursion trains, free trip, guarded them along the trains, hotels, and from place to place on the ground and sold them. "Sold" them was right—small places at 3 times its worth and 2 times higher than same stuff could be bought of the natives, and hurried them home again. In due time, of course, they woke up, minus the hide, skinned; now the cat is out. Now Wisconsin is against the whole state, and the Valley wants the whole state to defend it. They are both wrong. No censure of fraud attaches to the natives of the valley, but likely they winked at the transactions, they acquiesced in it, and accepted whatever came their way. We were not a party to the cause, nor should we bear the effect. Let the parties be tried where the offense was committed.

But there is a moral lesson in this affair: The situation is just simply the universal, inevitable result, of excessiveness, exaggeration, and intemperance, indulge in those things and it almost invariably boom-er-ranges back on the participant. This theory applies in politics, government, laws, society, business and every walk of human life. Extremeism, exaggeration, intemperance, breeds resentment. The valley is paying the belated price of their impatient greed to get rich quick, and get it off the man instead of the land.

But we have little sympathy for these said buyers, why were they such willing dupes, and permitted themselves to be herded like cattle. Likely they thought they were getting something for nothing, as usually most skin-ees do. But better still why didn't they come to Terry county, or the South Plains where the land is 10% of the cost, 90% as productive, less than 1-4th the expense in cropping, and the products by far more evenly stabilized. Had they done so, and bought this land at its highest prices, they would now have comfortable homes, a reasonable income, beside the pride in usefulness to this embryo empire. Perhaps they didn't know Terry County existed, this is our fault. Why didn't and why don't we make it known to them, the values, products and opportunities, of this country, to our mutual benefit.

Instead of defending the errors of the valley, lets extoll the virtues of the Plains, where honesty is as certain and refreshing as the summers breeze.

An old sage remarked the other day that they had about quit making the five passenger automobiles. We disagree, they have not quit making them they have just changed the name, they call them "coupes" now.

I Cannot Praise This Konjola Too Strongly

Says Wichita Lady Suffered For 12 Years From Stomach Trouble.

MRS. DELLA SETTLE

"I cannot praise this Konjola too strongly, because I tried many other medicines and treatments, but none gave the remarkable relief that Konjola did," said Mrs. Della Settle, 1719 Mildred Avenue, Wichita. "I just had to force myself to eat, and nearly everything I ate made me sick. I had cramping pains in my stomach and bowels until I could hardly endure them, and I simply felt miserable all the time.

"Finally I decided to put Konjola to the test. That proved to be a wise decision. Right from the start I noticed improvement. I now have a much better appetite, and meals are a pleasure as food digests without pains or misery in my stomach. My bowels are functioning as they should and it is certainly a relief to be rid of that tired, worn-out feeling. I gladly endorse this splendid medicine that restored my health."

Konjola has become the most talked of medicine in America because it makes good. And Konjola makes good in the most stubborn cases when given a fair trial and from six to eight bottles are used.

Konjola is sold in Brownfield at Alexander Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

THE HAUGHTY DOLLAR

Fresh and crisp in his new green attire, the dollar lay in the churchman's billfold. Jangling about with the pennies and nickles, a little dime played.

"You'd better have a good time," the dollar spoke through the partition, hearing the noise. "You won't be here long."

"How do you know?" The little dime stopped its frolicking, frightened at the idea.

"Because you're going to Sunday school."

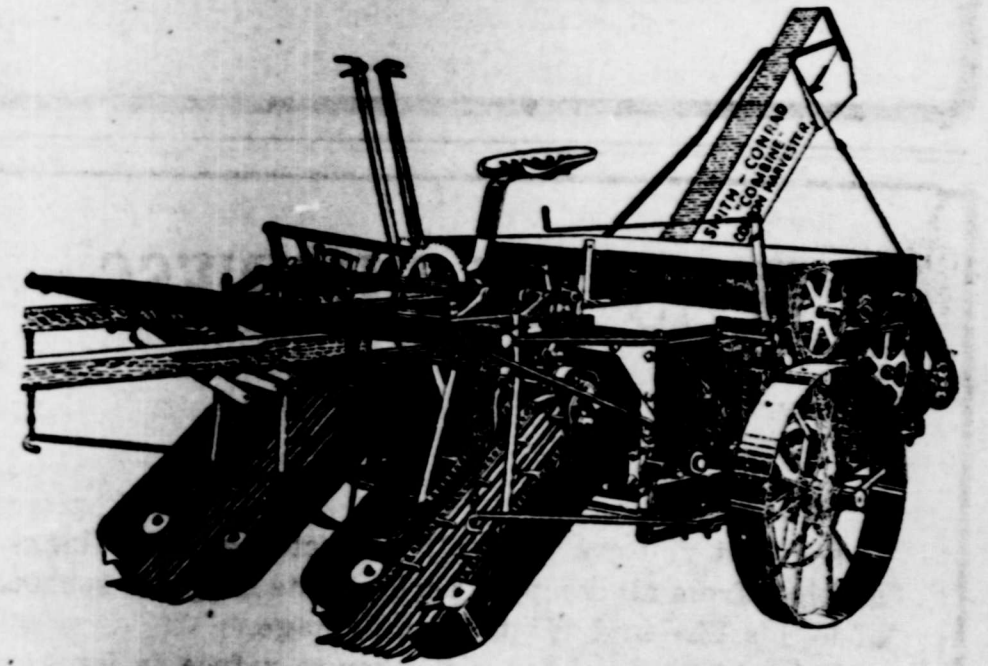

"Do you go to Sunday school?" asked the dime of the dollar.

"I?" exclaimed the haughty dollar, in surprise. "Of course not! I go to shows and gasoline stations and parks. Sunday is my big day, but I don't spend it in Sunday school. That's a place for small fry like you."

"CONSISTENCY, THOU ART A JEWEL"

We have a Federal Farm Board charged by Congress to discover the cause or causes of the illness of Agriculture and to apply a remedy. We have a Department of Agriculture of many Bureaus, and Extension workers in every State in the Union. We have Experiment Stations and costly laboratories and are spending hundreds of millions of dollars annually in an effort to develop a permanent and prosperous agriculture. The Federal Farm Board is making an effort to organize the dairy farmers and to improve their market and methods of marketing, and county agents and dairy specialists, tax paid employees of the Government, are encouraging dairying as a means of balancing the farm program. "As agriculture goes in this country, so goes business," is generally conceded to be a terse statement of fact. But, in governmental matters, the right hand knows not what the left hand is doing.

In the late year book issued by the Department of Agriculture, we find the following statistics:

Table with 2 columns: Pounds, Production of oleomargarine, 1924 215,403,000, Consumption per capita 1.87, Production of oleomargarine, 1928 333,122,000, Consumption per capita 2.74, Cottonseed oil used in manufacture of margarine, 1917 36,450,000, Cottonseed oil used in manufacture of margarine, 1928 28,173,000, Coconut oil used in manufacture of margarine, 1917 61,773,000, Coconut oil used in manufacture of margarine, 1928 171,412,000. These figures show a decrease in the use of cottonseed oil, a domestic product, and nearly 300 percent increase in the use of coconut oil in the manufacture of oleomargarine. This coconut oil is produced by foreigners who have obtained cheap concessions in the Philippine Islands, and who send their product to the United States free of duty.

interesting facts on how the Federal Government offers help to farmers with one hand and takes away from him with the other. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, the Federal hospitals consumed: 502,407 lbs. of butter substitutes. 91,356 lbs. of butter. The Federal penitentiaries consumed: 196,627 lbs. butter substitutes. 20,139 lbs. of butter. The managers of the State Veterans' hospitals are to be congratulated on serving butter to their soldier guests, they having consumed 979,918 pounds of butter as against 157,073 pounds of substitutes, the substitutes being used altogether in cooking. In this report of Congressman Blaine, we find that St. Elizabeth hospital for the insane, near Washington, served no butter to its patients; that in the eleven hospitals or homes for disabled volunteer soldiers only 91,356 pounds of butter was served as against 502,407 pounds of substitutes. The Veterans' bureau hospitals, the Marine hospitals, and the United States Army hospitals are all serving butter. Butter substitutes are not without merit. Many of them are uniform in quality, and are a tasty food. From a food value standpoint, however, none of them equals butter. But that is not the point. If this Government is anxious to serve American farmers, why not patronize them instead of increasing the consumption of vegetable oils imported free of duty?—Farm and Ranch. HEALTH FAD SKEPTICS The subject of how to live long is always of interest, which perhaps accounts for the eagerness of the average mortal to seize upon various methods which are recommended for promoting health and longevity, such as doing daily exercises to radio music and the like. In spite of all the propaganda on the subject, however, there are many who are skeptical regarding the real benefits of strenuous physical activity. One of these wrote a letter to the Cleveland Press, pointing out that Walter Camp, famed athlete and originator of the "daily dozen," died at 65, while he, the writer, had never taken any kind of exercise to speak of and was still in excellent health, although a great-grandfather. He added that "the longest-lived people are the physically lazy but mentally alert."

Commenting on the letter, William Feather, a well-known editor, declares that several years ago he adopted a vigorous health program, including vegetarianism, cold baths and the daily dozen, with this result: "Acute indigestion led to the abandonment of vegetarianism on doctor's orders. Another doctor recommended discontinuance of cold baths. The daily dozen are still pursued, but faith in them has been shaken by the untimely death of their inventor." After the First Twenty-five Thousand Miles

THE VALUE of sound design, good materials and careful craftsmanship is especially apparent in the new Ford after the first twenty-five thousand miles. Long, continuous service emphasizes its mechanical reliability and economy of operation and up-keep.

As you drive the Ford through many months and years you will develop an increasing pride in its appearance and a growing respect for the substantial worth that has been built into it. From every standpoint—in everything that goes to make a good automobile—you will know that you have made a far-seeing, satisfactory purchase.

Wherever you go, you hear enthusiastic praise of the car and this significant, oft-repeated phrase—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

A FORD owner in New York tells of a 13,000-mile trip across the United States and back in sixty days and says "the car was extremely economical to operate, comfortable and speedy." A grateful father tells how the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield saved his wife and children from serious injury.

To test tires, a large company drove a new Ford day and night, for an average of 500 miles every twenty-four hours. It was still giving satisfactory service after 105,000 miles.

A Ford car that had fallen into Fernan Lake was submerged for twelve days before being raised. After a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed, it was driven back to Spokane under its own power.

Many police departments have written of the special advantages of the Ford in crowded traffic because of its alert speed, acceleration, and ease of control. An increasing number of fleet owners are also purchasing the Ford because their cost figures have given conclusive proof of its economy of operation and up-keep.

In addition to important triumphs in Germany, France and Italy, the Ford won six out of seven leading places in a contest in Finland, first and second in the Rafaela races in Argentina, first and second in the run from Copenhagen-to-Paris-to-Copenhagen, three gold medals in England, first ranking in the durability test over the tortuous Amancaes road in Peru, and first place in the 1930 reliability run conducted by the Royal Automobile Club of Sweden.

This contest was an exceptionally severe test of endurance and sturdy construction because it was held in the dead of winter and covered 600 miles of steady running over snow-covered country roads and mountainous hills.

TEXAS' GROWTH MAKES WALL ST. TAKE NOTICE

Rapidly growing industrial activity in Texas and the Southwest, brought about largely through the comparatively recent oil, natural gas and sulphur development is attracting considerable interest in Wall Street from the investment viewpoint.

Seldom, if ever, has such a large area of the United States or any other nation experienced such a rapid industrial development, most of which has been within the past 10 years, the survey states, continuing:

"This unusual development shows constantly growing proportions. Public utilities alone are planning the expenditure of $180,000,000 in the Southwest, mostly in Texas, during 1930.

"Ten years ago Texas was noted chiefly for its immense size, its huge cotton crops, its enormous herds of beef cattle and its vast grain harvests. It was a country largely dominated by cowboys and cotton planters. Its cities were small and its general development was slow. Business was leisurely and typical of the Old South.

"There was little industrial activity. The big majority of Texas railroad tonnage was inbound. For the most part, railroad cars were sent into Texas loaded and were returned empty. A few loaded ships called at the Port of Galveston, but for the most part they, too, cleared with empty holds. There was little, if any, traffic with Mexico, just across the border. Political revolutions and not industry were attracting the attention of Mexico in those days.

"Then came the awakening! Oil, natural gas and sulphur deposits of huge and practically unlimited size were discovered in many sections of the State and in the adjoining States of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Louisiana.

"At about the same time agriculturists discovered that with irrigation the sage brush and cactus lands of the lower Rio Grande Valley, with its semitemperate climate, would bear the choicest citrus fruits.

"Almost overnight the Lone Star State emerged from the doldrums into a sea of intense business activity, which has continued to grow by leaps and bounds.

"Texas today is the biggest natural gas producing area in the world, and furnishes about one-fourth of the country's production of crude oil. Texas sulphur mines along the Gulf Coast produce 90 per cent of the world's sulphur supply. The formerly arid lands of the Rio Grande Valley are furnishing thousands upon thousands of carloads of citrus fruits and winter vegetables to the markets of our largest cities.

"Ships from the seven seas and from nations in all parts of the world crowd the six principal ports of Texas for cargoes of oil and oil products, cotton, sulphur, cattle, grain and manufactured goods. The ports of Houston, Galveston, Port Arthur, Beaumont, Corpus Christi and Freeport are scenes of the greatest shipping activity. Outgoing railroad freight tonnage is now considerably greater than the ingoing.

"Discovery of oil and gas immediately attracted manufacturers, one railroad alone reporting that 2,788 new manufacturing concerns have been established along that particular railroad in the past 10 years. Another railroad reports that it has tripled its business in Houston within the past eight or nine years.

"Industry, in turn, attracted population, until today Texas can boast of many important cities, including four of metropolitan size—Houston, San Antonio, Dallas and Fort Worth. Discovery of oil and gas suddenly changed drab spots on the prairies into bustling, bustling towns. Sleepy little cowtowns were transformed in the space of a few weeks into thriving cities. Things happened rapidly. For instance, the town of Borger, Hutchinson county, attained a population of 25,000 in less than a year, due to oil activities.

"An important development of the past few years has been the expansion of cotton growing into the western part of the State.

"Much of the Southwest's remarkable growth is, of course, being financed by Wall Street. Cheap labor, favorable climatic conditions and the almost unanimous belief that the Lone Star State's great wealth hardly has been scratched are combining to make Texas an usually bright spot in the investment world."—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Tremendous Power from the Wind

THE Aermotor Co. is now making a self-oiling windmill 20 feet in diameter. If you have a well 1000 feet deep, or if you want to raise a large quantity of water from a shallower well, this is the windmill you need. This new Auto-Oiled Aermotor weighs nearly 2 1/2 tons without the tower. It is a giant for power.

Whatever your water requirements may be there is an Auto-Oiled Aermotor of the right size for the work. They are made from 6 feet to 20 feet in diameter. Use the smaller sizes for the shallow wells and the larger ones for the deep wells or large quantities of water. Our tables, sent upon request, tell you just what each size will do.

The Improved Auto-Oiled Aermotor, the genuine self-oiling windmill, is the most economical and the most reliable device for pumping water. It works every day and will last a lifetime. Every size of Auto-Oiled Aermotor has double gears running in oil. All moving parts are fully and constantly oiled. One oiling a year is all that is required.

The Auto-Oiled Aermotor is made by the company which originated the steel windmill business. For full information write

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapias

They tell us this is dad's day. The old gentleman should roach up whatever stray hairs that still remain from the numerous encounters with his so-called better half and don his best coat and pants left over from the two past years, trip off to church with a new handkerchief given by one of the children.
Not accustomed to going to church he startles the congregation and every time he glances around he finds some one regarding him with a half smile.
The Pastor also has a rather sickly expression when he glances at you and taking his text on Abraham, Isaac and Jacob proceeds to tell you how very important you once were to the family and the race. One wave of the hand, a side glance, put things to moving and even the madam got busy when father asserted himself.
The pastor's wife clears up her throat, hubby looks in that direction and shifts to the mothers of the country. He grows eloquent, tells you of the Mother of Moses and the story of the Bullrushes and the Egyptian Maiden; dilates on Samuel's Mother, tells you about Deborah and Ruth the Pagan girl who put one over Boaz. With tears in his eyes he relates the story of that sad mother, one of the wives of Saul, whose sons were cruelly murdered with permission of the tender hearted King David and their bodies thrown on the side of the mountain to rot, how she slept near them for more than a month until the King had them buried. Other mothers are brought into view and by the time he looks at his watch you feel so very small and unimportant you leave by the door in the west end of the building. Thus closes your part of Daddy's Day.
The County Agent with a number of Higher-Ups and citizens of other communities visited here Monday inspecting Dairy Stock. The homes of R. H. Timmons, S. W. White, Tom Causseaux, Sam Banks and Mr. Hawkins were visited and stock inspected. Dinner was served at home of Tom Causseaux. A profitable time was had by those present.
Politics continues to warm up the candidates and they in turn are trying to entuse the voter who is still rather lukewarm.
The Plainsman in Monday's issue of the Lubbock Journal uses most of his column to tell us the bad things that will happen if Ma Ferguson should be nominated and a high powered man like Butte is named by the republicans. In imagination one can see the Democrats tumbling over one another to get to vote for Butte or Old J. I. Love. So far as I am aware Butte has done nothing politics but get beat. If he has demonstrated any great ability in any particular field it is as a teacher. In this connection you generally see the word good instead of able.
There will be no great exodus from the ticket in this section if Ma should be nominated. Sure, very few want her as a governor, but if she is nominated every sure enough democrat will support her or stay at home election day.
There isn't any greater quantity of brass collar politics now than in the past. We have always had disgruntled voters shy at the ticket when they lost their man, will always have them.
The Plainsman confesses to have fallen by the wayside and he seems to be paving the way to take another fall along with the conscience stricken Tom Love and Alvin Moody.
Like my jolly good Plainsman, I sincerely hope we shall not have another bolt. It never was necessary. The siren voice of Tom will carry no democrats away in a bolt. Half Breeds, Yes perhaps.
Herbert Neill and wife of Big Spring are visiting relatives here, this week.

WEST TEXAS GROWTH

Census reports have got far enough along to make it clear that some of the older counties of the State are going to show less population, while West Texas counties are going to show percentages of gain which seem fabulous until the figures are produced to support them. But it has scarcely begun to enter into its heritage.
Texas will have to accustom itself to the idea that there is a swing in the balance of financial and political power under way. West Texas is yearly gaining more population, more wealth and consciousness of its power. The type of people who constitute West Texas is unusually sturdy, open-hearted and resourceful. If every American frontier had had this kind of material to breed its present generation America would be a remarkable country even beyond what it is.
Home-owning, self-confident, self-starting Americans these West Texans are. And yet thousands of them came from the older villages of Texas and other parts of the South, where life is of even tenor from dawn to dawn year's end to year's end. Transplanted to a new soil, they develop new energy and ambition, and become citizens resourceful in the development of the agriculture and commerce of a land where any man is as high as his reach.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Elliott and sons, Bert and Madison and Mr. and Ben Hilyard were visitors to Two Draw Lake near Post, Sunday.

Relief From Curse Of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."
But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.
Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Alexander Drug Co.

"FREAK LETTERS" STOPPED

The postal department works wonders when it comes to being able to deliver letters that are defectively addressed. In recent years it has even gone to the trouble to puzzle out freak addresses, or addresses placed on envelopes just to see if they would reach their destination. Now this is to stop. An order has just gone out, and Big Spring letter writers will do well to keep it in mind, that no letters will be handled unless they are plainly legible to the ordinary postmaster and mail clerk. Any address put on a letter as a test will be sent direct to the dead-letter office. Uncle Sam always has time to be painstaking and his postal employees pride themselves on their ability to decipher some pretty tough specimens of handwriting. But they're too busy to devote time to jokers. So from now on letter bearing "freak addresses" will reach but one destination—the dead-letter office at Washington City—Big Spring Herald.

The editor of the Terry County Herald wrote up his turn-down of a sox peddler, and the Brownfield merchants each donated him a pair of sox, netting him seven pairs of the best sox handled in the town, and one of the best neckties. Now if they will turn down the printing peddlers the same way the editor did the sox peddler, it will be showing genuine gratitude.—McLean News.

Hon. Tobe Lynn, County Judge of Jack Benton and wife, Wayne Yoakum and J. W. Townsend a prominent stockman of that county were business visitors here early this week. Brown and wife took Sec. J. E. Shelton, of the chamber of commerce to the highway meeting at Haskell, Tex.

CHEVROLET TRUCKS USED TO CLEAR PIKE'S PEAK ROAD

Colorado Springs, Colo. June 2.—A concrete example of the tremendous strides made by automotive engineers toward the goal of mechanical perfection in the modern motor car is provided here daily on the Pike's Peak highway.

A few years ago, a car that would scale the Peak was a front-page feature throughout the country, while today, thanks to the automotive engineer, a car's ability to perform ably and satisfactorily in the thin rarefied air and on the long steep ascents of the Peak is taken more or less for granted.

Despite a greatly improved highway up the Peak, the long continuous climb and the light air pressure in the high altitudes, which used to mean a boiling radiator and an engine too hot to make a grade, provide one of the severest tests in America of the mechanical condition of a car.

Even more outstanding than the performance of those tourist automobiles which make a single trip up the steep incline is the record of a fleet of trucks used to maintain the highway in constant repair. The fleet now in such service includes three Chevrolet sixes which see almost daily use up in the region above the cloud-levels.

Recently the fleet has been used to haul away huge mountains of snow to prepare the highway for the Summer tourist travel. The route was expected to be opened early in June. With the snow cleared away, the fleet will continue in daily service doing maintenance and repair work on the highway.

The Chevrolets used in this work have been in operation for more than a year. That the cars are operating today with the same degree of economy and dependability as a year ago is a fitting tribute to the achievements to those engineers who work quietly behind the scenes in the interest of improved performance at lower cost.

J. G. Currie of Wellman and I. A. Lowe, leading farmers of the south part of county were visitors in Brownfield early this week and report crop conditions in their vicinity in fine shape.

It's easy to find fault, and be unfair. That must be the reason so many people love easy things.

NO Battery is a known value below the SAFETY POINT

A poor battery, no matter how low its cost, is an expensive investment if it leaves you stranded on the road, or continually requires recharging or other upkeep service.

The safe way to save on batteries is to buy at the safety point, where dependable quality is not sacrificed for low price.

WHOLE HOUSE OF STRAW

In spite of the fact that the largest percentage of the Literary Digest's straw vote was cast for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, both wets and dries regard the final figures as favoring their cause. The justice of either view depends upon the value given the 29.11 per cent which voted neither wholly wet nor wholly dry. As a matter of fact, the 1,399,314 persons who ask for modification of the Volstead Act to permit light wines and beers must be wet in sentiment. But it is probably true, at the same time, that a large majority of them would prefer to struggle along with prohibition rather than to experience a return of the open saloon, which unmodified repeal would permit.

Since an outspoken wet would accept a compromise in the direction of his moist views rather than a continuance of complete prohibition, the Literary Digest ballots prove one point conclusively. Of 4,806,464 people of the United States who went on record, 3,342,366 would vote today to restore light wines and beers to public use. The value of this expression of 69.54 per cent opinion depends upon the credence given Digest straw votes as indices of popular opinion. Not all students of their distribution accept them as corresponding to subsequent votes on the questions with which they have dealt, but their astonishing fidelity to election returns entitles this journal's test ballots to serious consideration.

The Digest poll, predominantly urban, may now be contrasted with the Pathfinder's similar ballot, admittedly mostly rural, and accounting for a little less than a tenth of the number of the Digest votes. The Pathfinder used a different questionnaire, but the replies can be roughly grouped in the Digest divisions to show 61.23 per cent for enforcement, 21.58 for repeal and 17.19 for modification. How little possibility of effective comparison there is in the two polls is evidenced by the missing 15,000,000 of the 20,000,000 ballots the Digest sent out.

Two conclusions are possible from the Digest's vote. First, the collective strength of enforcement advocates and modificationists augurs ill for wet hopes of a repealed amendment, even if it could be accomplished by immediate appeal to popular vote. Its prospect is dim indeed when the mechanical difficulty of constitutional change is taken into consideration. Secondly, modification of the Volstead Act, requiring congressional action and Supreme Court indorsement, looms as an active threat to the dries.

That it is taken as such by the latter is evidenced by the intensive drive proposed by the Anti-Saloon League, an organization that has every reason to thank the present agitation in political circles and in such records as the Digest vote for helping it secure the sinews of its dry war.—Dallas News.

"I want a pair of shoes, mister, so as not to pinch my feet—the larger the better, and never mind about the style and cut."

Dr. Johnson, daughter and children of Ft. Worth, spent the night with W. T. Patton west of Brownfield as they were returning to their home from a short stay on their ranch at Plains, recently. The object was to be with Mrs. Irene Beauchamp, recently of Fort Worth and were great chums and friends while living there. Dr. Johnson said he would still boost for this country as it was his home several years ago, when a buggy ride from Fort Worth to Plains was a real joy ride.
