MANY ASK US IF BUILDING T. P. WILL BE BENEFICIAL

Many of The Advantages are Cited Below, and There Are Perhaps Many Others that Could be Mentioned. No Good County Seat Town Was Ruined By Railroads.

Many of our friends have asked us if the building of the T. & P. through Brownfield will directly help us. A very few of these questioners have been skeptical of benefits. Most of them have a sincere desire to know for themselves in order that they may answer others. It is not the desire of the Herald to lay too much on the building of a railroad these days, but there are many good points, just the same. Some say they had rather have a paved highway east and west through the county, and that would be fine if it was connected at both ends with pavement and started somewhere and went somewhere. It would sure enough be hard to beat. Might actually be better than another rail line. But on the other hand, we might offer something good for building the rail line.

In the first place, all financiers are agreed that if all firms with a lot of dough laying up in the big city banks would turn some of it loose for building construction, improvements, etc., it would open many avenues of employment, those employed in turn would be heavy buyers, and this in turn would open many shut down factories and put other men to work at good wages. Let us say for instance, that the T. & P. will spend around a half million dollars for construction in Terry county. Probably this is a low estimate, probably high, but this would give one thousand men 100 days of work at $5 per day. Don't you think that would help matters? They may not all be Terry county men, but they will spend a great deal of their money while here and that will help every farmer and merchant in the county while that construction is under way, and will last a year or more, and by that time we hope to be over this depression.

After the construction is over, the road will then pay annually into the county and school treasurers several thousand dollars in tax money which will directly benefit every man, woman and child in the county, but the building of the road will not cost one cent above actual cost of securing the right of way. If it were a highway we would pay bond taxes on it for the next 40 years. Had you ever thought of that?

As we are now situated on a branch line, we have no more chance of securing a differential than a cow has of securing a milk coat. We are therefore always thrown into a disadvantage on both incoming and outgoing freight rates with our neighbors just a few miles from us who happen to be on the main line. With the securing of this line, our grain rates to Dallas and Fort Worth will be a big saving each year, not to mention hundreds of other items. El Paso is the best poultry market we have now but it takes too long for them to go there in our circuitous route. Too many are dead. We will have an overnight route if this line is built with that fine market, not to say a better one to the Pacific Coast.

It is estimated that the people on this proposed line who live in Dawson, Terry and Hockley, perhaps Lamb and other counties pay from $6 to $10 more per year to own an automobile than their neighbors in Scurry, Garza and Lubbock counties do on account of these people having the advantage of the better freight rates. Don't you think this is worth saving? It is conservatively estimated that the new line will save Terry county farmers some $30,000 dollars each year in grain shipments, and more as the population grows. Don't you think this is worth going after?

There are numerous other things, among which, it will increase our population, both city and rural, as we have about reached our maximum development, with present facilities. Last, we have never seen a good county seat town hurt by another rail line. Have you?

Seldom Plays Towns The Size Brownfield

The schools as well as individuals, merchants and churches get kinder stung once in awhile on some show. We understand that the one that was here last week barely left enough money here to meet advertising and other necessary expenses. In the first place, this show had to be paid $50, and then a certain percent after that sum was reached, no matter if $1000 had been taken in. The young lady that settled with the Herald for advertising said the school was barely breaking even.

In their letter to school authorities, we have been informed that this show intimated that "they seldom played a town the size of Brownfield, but inasmuch as they were in this section, they would be glad to make Brownfield one night." The scheme worked. The show worked two or three rural schools that we know of last week after "working" Brownfield. They may still be in the county for all we know. However, we are not saying the show was no account. On the other hand most people that saw it says it was a good sleight of hand show—perhaps above the average, but what we are saying is that he played some of his "sleight" on Brownfield when he made us believe that he seldom visited a "small town" then worked some of our rural communities.

It would seem to the Herald that if we would develop our own talent to put on some plays we would benefit at both ends of the line. In the first place, we would get all the money taken in, and in the second place, we would be developing some talent in an art in which they are perhaps already naturally talented, and would stand them in good stead to help out in the community in after life. This writer remembers way back some 20 years ago when Brownfield had less than 100 scholars that all the plays here then were home talent, and we had some good ones. Ask any of the old timers.

Let the show come on their own merits. You don't guarantee Harley Sadler anything, but he come just the same and leaves a percentage to the fire boys.

Mrs. Theo. Smith, of Wichita Falls, is here this week visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Holt and family.

Insurance Agents to Buy Some Turkeys

Proving that he believes in the propaganda he spread during the recent political campaign, Col. W. E. Talbot, Agency Manager of the Southland Life Insurance Company, has announced that prizes in the production contest to be held by the Southland Life this month will be Texas-produced turkeys. Col. Talbot based his entire campaign on the "Buy-made-in-Texas-products" idea.

Under the terms of the contest, each agent will be given a turkey for each $10,000 accepted business received between November 15th and December 20th. The turkey will be purchased on an order authorizing the agent to buy a 20-pound turkey from his local merchant of farmer, billing the Southland Life direct for the cost.

Usually the difference between a profit and a loss to the Texas farmer on his products is caused by a surplus. Where this surplus is consumed, higher prices are bound to result. If other firms would follow this example and this surplus were eliminated, there is no question but that our farmers would get an excellent profit on their turkeys this fall.

Local charities or churches in Texas will have an opportunity to profit this contest since each eligible agent may receive the maximum number of turkeys allowed, "five."

Great affairs are not necessarily engineered by men who get up early in the morning.

The melancholy days of fall are here again.

Thanksgiving Day

Big Crowds Shopping With Merchants Sat.

Saturday was another great day in Brownfield, and the folks came in from the four points of the compass to take in the bargains offered by our merchants each week-end. Most of the fore part of the week had been good gathering weather, but Saturday was rather too raw for cotton gathering and they were here from the forks of the creek, and if you think for a moment that the local merchants were not waiting on customers, you just ought to have visited some of the stores anywhere from P. M. to dark and after.

The writer made nearly every place in town, and everywhere we went all were sharing in the business. The dry goods man, the groceryman, the hardware and furniture dealer, the druggists, the garagemen and the cafe men. Even the barbers were complaining that their hands and arms and feet were tired.

It was just another demonstration that they are coming to Brownfield from all points to buy, and that they are pleased with their purchases here.

Another Physician Decides to Locate

Dr. Robt. F. Harp, of Oklahoma, together with his wife are now at home in Brownfield. His office is in the Wines apartment just north of the Wines hotel, where he will be found. Dr. Harp comes not only well recommended by people where he has practiced medicine, but some of the best medical colleges and hospitals of the country. Dr. Harp was raised in Hale county and graduated from the U. of T. Medical college at Galveston in 1918, and has both the B. S. and M. D. degrees. He has specialized in diseases of children.

Among the places where he has a special is Sealy Hospital, Galveston; diagnostician in Torbett Sanitarium, Marlin; post graduate work in Women and Children hospital Galveston, Lying-in Hospital New York; diseases of Women and Children in Post Graduate Medical school, and a special course in the treatment of pneumonia. He has also had a number of years as general practitioner.

Moves Radio Shop to A New Location

H. H. Stevenson has moved his radio and broadcasting station from the Chisholm building to a new location on east Main Street, first door east of the First National Bank, where his friends will find him when in need of anything in his line.

Mr. Stevenson handles the famous R. C. A. line of radios, and if you find that your radio is not giving good service like it should, he is one of the best doctors for them to be found anywhere. Call him in. His charges are reasonable.

Former Sheriff Quits The Walks of Men

The writer can honestly say with perhaps hundreds of others in this county that when J. N. (Jim) Lewis breathed his last time last Thursday evening at about eight o'clock at the Lubbock sanitarium, that their best friend had passed from this vale of tears. Jim had been a sufferer for years with two much sugar in his blood. This had gradually grown worse, and about two weeks ago it became necessary to have an operation performed on his chest that had become abscessed. Later the eye on that side became involved and had to be removed, but at no time did the surgeons believe he had much chance of recovery. Although his death was hourly expected, it was none the less a great shock to the community when he passed away.

Jim was born 55 years ago in the state of Arkansas, but his parents moved to Fannin county Texas in his childhood, where he lived a few years and on to Comanche county where he was raised. In 1898, he volunteered his service for the Spanish-American war, was trained at San Antonio, but the war closed before he left for Cuba, and he never saw active service. He married Miss Lula Howard, daughter of the late Wm. Howard and wife after the close of the war, and removed to Terry with Uncle Billie and family about 1901, being one of the real pioneer families here several years before organization.

Jim was elected about 1914 as Sheriff and Tax Collector for Terry county, which he held for four terms, and made an excellent peace officer. Jim had his faults as well as all humans, but he was his own worst enemy. He could have saved some money while in office, but he did not. No one was ever turned away from him empty handed. It can be truly said that Jim handed out many flowers in his lifetime, but he did not wait until the person passed from this life to do it. His motto was "flowers for the living." He was a great pal of all children, and no man whom children love is anything but a good man. The body was brought to Brownfield by the Brownfield Hardware Undertaking Co. At 3:30 Friday afternoon, a great crowd that filled and overflowed every space in the large auditorium of the Baptist church came to hear an old time friend and pastor, Rev. J. B. Vinson, deliver the funeral oration. Rev. Vinson told some of the many charitable side of Jim's life. The casket and rostrum was banked with flowers which bespoke the esteem in which he was held.

One of the longest funeral possessions in the history of the city followed his remains to the cemetery, where he was laid to rest with military honors by the local American Legion Post.

Besides his wife and son, Carl, Jim leaves his aged mother and three brothers, Daulton, Clyde and Clarence, and four sisters, Mesdames Jim Hucklebee, Geo. Warren, J. C. White and Ulyess Sawyer, all of whom live here but Mrs. Sawyer, who lives at Cap Rock, New Mexico. All attended the funeral except Mrs. White, who was very ill herself; also three grandchildren survive him.

Country Weeklies Get Bad Deal From Ford

Mr. Henry Ford is putting out a good product for the money asked for it. Users of the Ford car are pleased with their investment. As a general thing, the local dealers of Ford cars are some of the best people of the town. This is true here in Brownfield. But the local dealer has little to say about the advertising policy of Mr. Ford. We know that the local dealer here wants some ads run in the local paper. He has told us on numerous occasions, but Ford continues the use of the daily and the big magazine.

The Herald for one paper would not say one word about the matter if the Ford Motor Co. did not persist in offering us the free gratis stuff. About every two weeks we get a large cut from the advertising agency of this firm stating that "they know we will be tickled to run it in our columns." Last week we got one that figured exactly $8.25 if paid for at the regular rates. In a day or two we got a large popular magazine that contained a double page spread at $10,000 per page. Then our blood fairly boiled. The Herald has always junked these ads by pulling the metal off and using the base for somebody's paid ad and will continue to do so.

But we noticed that a lot of country weeklies that come to our desk persist in running these ads free of charge. That is, we guess they do, unless the local dealers pay for them, and a scene in Ford's factory is no advertising for a local dealer. He wants the ad to tell about the cars or parts. As long as country weeklies run this stuff free just that long Mr. Ford will spend his millions with the magazines and laugh at the poor little country weekly for its folly. If on the other hand they stand hitched and refuse this free matter, Mr. Ford will spend some money with them, for he knows as well as you do that most of his cars are sold in rural and small town communities.

One more thing for the country weekly to consider is, the big magazine has no space for Mr. Ford's free matter.

Well, Kids, Let's Start Our Letters to Santa

Our next issue will be the first December, and as usual the Herald opens its columns to the kiddies of this section for them to tell old Santa Claus just what they want him to bring them. Heretofore, they have sure showered down on the old friend at the North Pole, and we hope they don't disappoint him this time.

The only condition is that they be brief and to the point. If you can't write very plain, have mama or dad to write for you as the lino-type operator is always very busy and cannot take the time to figure out letter difficult to read. Come on kids—let's go!

Bob Owens and his force, most of whom are Rotan people, left Monday night for that place to spend Armistice.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES ORGANIZED MON. NIGHT

With the Pooling of Funds of All the Clubs and Churches and Lodges, We May Hope to Handle the Charitable Situation Here. Let's All Meet Monday Night.

A very few gathered at the high school building Monday night to perfect an organization to be known as Brownfield Associated Charities. From the way some seem to be achieving about the number of calls on them for charity and help, all would have been there to help perfect some organization whose object is to take the load off a few who have to bear the brunt and put it on the whole city where it belongs. But those who did attend were very enthusiastic and willing to do their part toward the work. Two churches were not officially represented but it is presumed they will lend their assistance to the work. All civic clubs had representatives.

After a short talk by Rev. Geo. E. Turrentine on the object of the work, C. R. Baldwin was elected temporary chairman and P. F. Lawlis temporary secretary. Both were later made permanent. The following organizations were represented at the meet: Christian Church, Methodist church, Church of Christ, Federated Missionary Societies, American Legion, the Legion Auxiliary, Boy Scouts, Lions Club, Rotary Club and the Chamber of Commerce. J. E. Shelton was named Sec-Treasurer and A. J. Stricklin publicity man, but we want no publicity of the organization any more than it takes to inform our own people of the matter.

After some discussion, it was decided to make the local pastors an investigating committee into cases where help is needed, which only consists of two, Rev. Geo. Turrentine, and Elder Robt. Drennon at the present time, to be augmented by the Baptist pastor when they call one, and Rev. Surface during the two weeks of each month he is here. They are to call to their aid any lady members of their churches when needed to help in the work.

Birdmen to Know This City When They Come

Airplane pilots will not longer have to guess where they are at if they fly over Brownfield in the day time, for by looking down on the city, they will be enabled to see in huge letters the word BROWNFIELD standing out in bold relief, with one arrow pointing directly north, and another pointing toward the landing field near the residence of A. M. Brownfield. This is something that has been needed here for some time. It has been discussed time after time, but no one was found to take the lead in the work.

Last week a gentleman came to town who makes such his business and personally went among the business men to get up sufficient money to pay for the sign. He soon had it, and the sign was finished by Friday night. It was inspected by Prof. Lawlis, and the merchants and professional men paid the man.

The sign is on top of the high school gymnasium, and the word BROWNFIELD is 100 feet long with letter we understand are some 15 feet high, and can easily be read hundreds of feet in the air. It is painted yellow, which contrasted with the black top of the gym, which gives the most visible letter from the air.

Correspondents Must Give Their Real Name

For the past two or three weeks we have been receiving a communication from some one in the Harmony community that writes in a rather humorous vein, but gets a little personal with some of the nesters in that section which might cause some of the more touchy to get rampant and demand a correction and apology. Suppose then we were unable to tell him who wrote the stuff. Well, it would just be our hard luck—that's all.

We must know therefore who writes articles for the Herald or they will not appear. We do not wish to know your real name in order to print it, but in order to be able to pass the buck if we have to do so on account of some blunder the writer makes. If you wish your articles published, you'd have to tell your real name to this newspaper.

Young children and some employees seem to construe kindness as a sign of weakness.

Renew at the old rate now.

Much time was taken in discussion of ways and means, but it was finally decided to have but one central soliciting committee under the direction of Homer Nelson as chairman, in order to keep down duplicity as some belong to both church and some lodge or club. A place will also be provided for clothing probably at the courthouse or Legion hall where cast off or outgrown clothing can be stored for the needy. The following were elected to serve with Mr. Nelson on this committee:

Mrs. J. M. Telford, Mrs. Homer Winston, Mrs. Eunice Jones, Mrs. Clarence Lewis, Mrs. Jack Stricklin, T. I. Poor, Will Fitzgerald, H. R. Winston and Abe Lincoln, with Mrs. W. M. Schroeder of Wellman. Other members from rural communities will be added from time to time. Country people will be asked to donate peas, beans or anything of that nature they may have to spare. It was decided if possible to keep the meeting from daily papers as we do not wish others to come here to be looked after as Brownfield and Terry county will likely have their hands full.

Another meeting is called for next Monday night same time, same place in the high school building at which we hope to have a much better representation. No matter whether you represent anything or not, come anyway. We must care for the hungry, sick and naked here this winter. It will cost you much less with concerted effort and co-operation of work and pooled money and clothing than it will cost us singly. Some objects of charity who have plenty of brass get more than their share and some that need help badly get nothing if kindly timid if we work haphazardly. Put your shoulder to the wheel.

Baptist Church Here Calls New Pastor

Rev. J. M. Hale, of Falls, Texas, was here last Sunday and filled the pulpit at the morning and evening service. At a business session of the church later, Rev. Hale was unanimously called as pastor of the First Baptist church here. We understand that he will return Sunday and give the church here a definite answer whether or not he will accept the call.

Rev. Hale is a graduate of Baylor University and also of the Southwestern Baptist Seminary of Fort Worth, and has had several years of very satisfactory work as local pastor. The Herald joins other friends of this church in congratulations on having obtained another pastor.

Shop and Mail Christmas Packages Early

Shop now and mail your Christmas packages early! Wrap parcels securely but do not seal with stickers. Address all mail plainly, give street and number, place your own return address on all mail.

All postal employees will be at home Christmas Day. This is given by order of Arch Coleman, First Assistant Postmaster General.

If you will follow these suggestions it will save lots of time and delay in the delivery of all Christmas mails. J. H. Carpenter, Postmaster.

Herald to Go to $1.50 After January First

It may be a rather bad time to raise the subscription rate on the Herald, but we have been thinking seriously of doing so for a good many years, as we are losing money on the deal as it now stands. All weekly papers in the class of the Herald have been getting from $1.50 to $2.00 for their papers for years. We will positively raise our rates to $1.50 in Terry and Youakum counties after January 1st, and $2.00 elsewhere.

So in order to give all a chance to renew at the old rate we are publishing this warning. You can renew for any number of years you wish, but be sure and come in or see Mr. Otis Draper about your renewal before January 1, 1931.

No Comfort For the Wets Says Commis'n

LAW ENFORCEMENT COMMISSION IS AGAINST ANY CHANGE IN AMENDMENT.

A decision against repeal of the eighteen amendment had been reached by President Hoover's law enforcement commission, and that actual writing of its prohibition report was nearer than at any time during the past 12 months according to press reports Saturday.

Although a final decision on the recommendations to be included was described as still in the offing, some general agreement has been reached and not only repeal but four percent beer or any request for a national prohibition referendum were authoritatively reported out of the picture.

Meantime those charged with enforcement of prohibition as it now stands were busy on figures to be presented to the house appropriations committee, including among other things the cost of adding 500 additional men to the enforcement personnel.

After a conference late yesterday, both Prohibition Director Amos W. Woodcock and Attorney General Mitchell today pored over their estimate of future costs.

Only a few of the 11 members of the Hoover law enforcement commission were here today. Technically freed of their task by a 10-day recess, they nevertheless worked on statements to be laid before the whole commission when it convenes November 24.

Under present plans five or six such statements will be ready by that date, and with these before them the members will discuss the tentative conclusions, possibly change some of them, and weld the whole to a final report.

TEXAS GAINS THREE SEATS IN CONGRESS

Washington, Nov.—Twenty-one States will lose a total of twenty-seven seats in the House of Representatives, and eleven States will gain a like number as a result of the new apportionment prepared by the Bureau of the Census, and announced by President Hoover Tuesday. Texas will gain three new members, bringing its House representation to twenty-one.

If the law under which the apportionment is made is not changed by Congress during the short session, it goes into effect automatically, and is so certified to the State. Efforts are to be made during the short session, however, to amend the law so as to prevent the loss of representation to any State, or at least, to reduce the total loss to the minimum. The law contemplates that the House shall be retained at 435 members. To prevent loss the House size would be increased materially.

Gains in Members.
The gains in members would be California 9, Michigan 4, Texas 3, New Jersey, New York and Ohio 2 each, Connecticut, Florida, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Washington 1 each.

The losses would be Missouri 3, Georgia, Iowa, Kentucky and Pennsylvania 2 each and one each in the following States: Alabama, Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Dakota, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia and Wisconsin.

losers in the new apportionment will launch a fight this winter to prevent aliens from being figured in the rural districts which are the heaviest number of members of the House.

Fearless Four of the Movietone Pictures

Four comrades—a French officer fleeing from the spectres of the past, a burly German, an aristocratic Russian and a hard-boiled American—none of them a credit to his country—all hiding the bitter memories that drove them into the last refuge, the French Foreign Legion—rebellious of discipline—but loyal to each other, if to no one else—these are the "Renegades."

In the picture of that name, coming to the Rialto Theatre next Sunday and Monday the adventures of this queer quartette and their joint battle with the treacherous woman spy who had betrayed their leader, from the plot on which a strikingly vivid and breathless portrayal of Legion life has been based. Warner Baxter plays the leading role of the ex-officer, with Noah Berry, Gregory Gaye and George Cooper as his companions and Myrna Loy as the woman in the case.

Tremendous Power from the Wind

THE Aermotor Co. is now making a self-rolling windmill 20 feet in diameter, if you have a well 100 feet deep, or if you want to raise a large quantity of water from a shallower well, this is the windmill you need. This new Auto-Oiled Aermotor weighs nearly 2 1/2 tons without the tower. It is a giant for power.

Whatever your water requirements may be there is an Auto-Oiled Aermotor of the right size for the work. They are made from 6 feet to 20 feet in diameter. Use the smaller sizes for the shallow wells and the larger ones for the deep wells or large quantities of water. Our tables, sent upon request, tell you just what each size will do.

The Improved Auto-Oiled Aermotor, the genuine self-rolling windmill, is the most economical and the most reliable device for pumping water. It works every day and will last a lifetime. Every size of Auto-Oiled Aermotor has double gears running in oil. All moving parts are fully and constantly oiled. One oiling a year is all that is required.

The Auto-Oiled Aermotor is made by the company which originated the steel windmill business. For full information write AERMOTOR CO. 2500 Roosevelt Rd. CHICAGO Branch Houses: Dallas, Des Moines, Oakland, Kansas City, Minneapolis

I WONT ADVERTISE THIS WEEK
How many times the advertising solicitor has been told this. The merchant who makes a decision like this makes a mistake. Many firms advertise every day. They have learned by experience that it is necessary to advertise to build up a business and to secure new customers.
In a town where the paper is a weekly, no merchant should let a week pass by without an advertisement of some sort in the paper. It takes time and thought to write a good advertisement, it is true, but every merchant who can run a store can write a good advertisement.
An advertisement is simply a story about the store, the goods it has to sell, the service it has to offer and this is something that every merchant should endeavor to tell the people of his community every opportunity he gets.—Burnet Bulletin.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH TEXAS

Nothing is wrong with Texas except entirely too many of us get up in the morning at the alarm of a Conn. clock, button on a pair of Ohio suspenders to a pair of Chicago pants put on a pair of Mass. shoes, wash in a Pittsburg tin basin, using Cincinnati soap on a cotton towel made in New Hampshire; sit down to a Grand Rapids table, eat pan cakes made from Minneapolis flour spread with Vermont maple syrup and Kansas City bacon fried on a St. Louis stove, buy fruit put up in California seasoned with Rhode Island spices and sweetened with Colorado sugar, put on a hat made in Philadelphia. Hitch a Detroit Mule fed on Oklahoma gasoline to an Ohio plow, and work all day like H—on a Texas farm covered with New England mortgages, send our money to Ohio for auto tires, wondering why Texas Taxes are $2.75 per acre while the Ohio farmer pays only $1.00 and drives on pavement; and at night gets under a New Jersey blanket to be kept awake by a dern dog. The only home product on the place, wondering all the while why ready money and prosperity are not abundant in this wonderful state of ours.—
The remedy is, Texans should patronize Texas industries. Buy Texas made merchandise, eat Texas grown meat, buy Texas milled flour, ride on Texas trains, burn Texas wood and coal, buy Texas made furniture, and lumber from Texas mills sawed out of timber grown in Texas forests. Wear Texas grown cotton goods manufactured in Texas cotton mills etc.

For what is grown and made in Texas, Makes Texas.—Ex.
PRESIDENT HOOVER ENDORSES SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS
President Hoover has the following to say in regard to the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale: "The Christmas Seals of the National Tuberculosis Association which are sold at Christmas time every year provide funds for one of the most valuable of all services to mankind in helping to prevent and destroy a disease which threatens millions of homes and weakens millions of the children and youth of the Nation. I commend this yearly campaign to all our people."
The Texas Tuberculosis Association is conducting the sale of Tuberculosis Seals throughout Texas and they are the only means of financing the fight against the great white plague. Although the deaths from tuberculosis have been more than cut in half during the past 25 years but between the ages of 15 to 40, tuberculosis is still the leading cause of death. The work of the Texas Association will be concentrated on this age group and the children.
Tuberculosis does not recognize any economic conditions and at times such as we are now having it is imperative that the sale should increase in order that the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its local associations may take care of the increased number of calls they are receiving.
Some of the highly endowed peace societies might extend their efforts to China.

No Terry county boys will be on the trip to Chicago given by the Santa Fe this year. This is the first time we have missed having one in three years. No county agent is the answer.

R. B. Creager, republican national committeeman from Texas says that if prosperity does not pick up before 1932, the United States will elect a democrat next time. That's a long time to wait for prosperity's return, and the Herald would risk having Hoover four more years rather than wait that long for the return of the full dinner pail.

In their recent meeting at Houston, the national W. C. T. U. came out squarely for better enforcement of the pro-laws and against any kind of modification. These good ladies have spent years and years on the battle front and are still strenuous fighters. Whether you agree altogether with them or not, you cannot but admire their fighting spirit.

We noted some verse of a poetically minded citizen of a neighboring city recently that sounded very good. In fact the theme of the verse was to teach those who drive their limozines down the highways to be mindful of the weary pilgrim along the hot, dusty road. Pick him up, advised the poem, for he might be the lowly Nazarene. Yes, and on the other hand, he might also be a hijacker. No, thanks, we'll pass 'em up and risk not being the guy that hauled the Savior in our old bus.

A Cleveland Ohio physician a millionaire is giving a carload of good fresh eggs as his contribution to the Thanksgiving menu of the poor of that city, stating that eggs and milk are the two nearest perfect foods of the human race, both being rich in essential vitamins. Some think the world is growing worse and more selfish, but the Herald believes that more and more the rich are becoming more sympathetic toward the poor.

Houston is another place in Texas that thinks the South Plains has seen sufficient development. Houston has made a very rapid growth in the last ten years much of which can be directly attributed to the growth of this section, but it displays a selfishness in its protest against the building of the T. P. Northern of a nine o'clock village. Houston is the home of the incoming governor who was elected on a platform of general development of all of Texas. It is very certain that he is connected somewhat with the civic and commercial bodies of that city. Wonder what will be Gov. Elect Sterling's attitude in this instance? Houston again bears out its reputation of thinking only of "heavenly Houston."

There is no doubt in the minds of most people who believe in real sport that football must be put on a basis of honesty and fairness or absolutely quity business. The way many have tried to cheat this year has put a bad taste in the mouths of many football fans of high school players. If there is cheating and the use of players not entitled to do so, it is no longer a sport but a gamble. The Herald had rather see Brownfield have a team that never won a game in its existence than to have one that won the district championship if it carried with it even a breath of suspicion and crookedness. One can generally judge the people of a town by the sportsmanship they display. If they cheat at games, they cheat all other ways. They are bringing another generation into the world that will be as bad if not worse than they.

Al Hill, who edits the Plains Progress, at Lubbock, came out again last week with a long front page editorial in which he explains why Lubbock should not tear its shirt for the building of the new railroad through this section, but it seems to the Herald that he is really tearing his shirt for fear it will be blown away. Contrary to its name—PROGRESS—this paper of Al's is doing all it can to block progress in this section—provided that progress does not help Lubbock more than anyone else. Al says we don't need any more roads. Might hurt Lubbock he avers. What if it should, isn't the rest of the South Plains worth something? But really it won't hurt but will be the making of Lubbock with the rest of the South Plains. Al it appears is trying to publish a paper of general circulation over the Plains as its name would indicate, but will he succeed as long as he tries to block the progress of the rest of this section outside his own town and county. The Herald is glad to say the afternoon and morning papers of Lubbock have not taken such a narrow attitude as Al seems to have taken in the matter, but have consistently boosted for all the South Plains. When Lubbock was locating the Tech College, no South Plains town stopped to think whether it would benefit them directly, but all pulled for it. South Plains towns knew that when the Denver came to Lubbock that would be its terminal and it would help them but little directly. They got behind Lubbock anyway and helped to put it over. When it was a question of whether or not the Texas Pacific or the Santa Fe would build into Hobbs and Lovington, Brownfield and Seagraves both knew that the Santa Fe extension would not help them one bit, but they helped Lubbock on this all they could, although the plan failed. Now when other South Plains towns need something Al gets his back up. He belongs to the piney woods section of East Texas—not to the wide open spaces of this section.

H. M. Price in Marshall News: A grocery merchant assures me he received this order over the phone from a young married man not long since: "This is Blank. I want you to send me fifty pounds of flour, a pound of coffee and one-fourth lb. of tea. The stork brought us a fine boy last night and five pounds of starch. He weighs eight pounds and a rat trap, two pounds of salt with blue eyes and a package of pepper. Yes, she is getting along fine and a pound of breakfast bacon and she says the baby looks just like me and a can of sardines."

As you gather your harvest this season make this bank your storehouse, we appreciate the opportunity of co-operating with you.

Count No. 2.
Plaintiff further alleges and says that she has had and held peaceable, continuous and adverse possession of the lands and tenements set out in Count No. 1. of this petition for more than three years since the defendants' claim for said premises accrued.
Plaintiff further alleges that she and those whose title she holds have had peaceable, continuous and continuous possession of the lands and tenements set out in Count No. 1. of this petition, cultivating, using and enjoying the same and paying all taxes as the same became due thereon for a period of more than five years before the commencement of this suit.
Plaintiff further says that she and those whose title she holds have had peaceable, adverse and continuous possession of the lands and tenements set out in plaintiff's petition, cultivating, using and enjoying the same for more than ten years prior to the commencement of this suit, during which period she has had such lands and tenements actually enclosed under a fence.
WHEREFORE, The plaintiff prays that the cloud cast upon her title by such adverse claims made by the defendants and each of them be cast therefrom and that her title be in all things quieted and for citation by publication, requiring the defendants to answer the petition herein as in such cases made and provided, and for such other and further relief as she may be entitled to.

THIS DEED mentioned 2 sisters — not 3 brothers

A Mr. J. purchased a lot. The deed stated the grantor was the sole heir at law of two decedents, his sisters. Later a Bank's attorney discovered the grantor had three brothers: one missing, one incompetent, one deceased but with heirs. A partition action, costing hundreds of dollars, had to be borne by the grantee. Title Insurance would have saved all expense.

Dallas Man Suffering With Kidney Ailment Finds First Relief In New Medicine

MR. W. E. ROWLEY

"For over a year and a half I suffered with rheumatism and kidney trouble," said Mr. W. E. Rowley, 216 Bryan street, Dallas. "I had dull aching pains across my back and was forced to rise frequently at night. A constant pain in my right leg caused me much misery and I limped in getting around. Pains in my back and side did not permit a good nights rest. I felt dull and listless and my vitality became lower and lower. "A friend, who knew my condition, told me about Konjola. Konjola did so much for me that I am at a loss to express my appreciation. The rheumatic pains in my leg have left me for the first time in a year. My kidneys are once again functioning properly. My sleep is no longer by pains in my side and back. I have only taken two bottles but I certainly shall continue the treatment." It is recommended that Konjola be taken over a six to eight week period. Best results are usually obtained in such cases. Konjola is sold in Brownfield, Texas at the Alexander Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Mrs. W. B. Toone and Mrs. W. A. Bell left Wednesday for Marshall and Dallas.

CORN BELT PAPERS FLAY THE TARIFF

It is interesting to note the constantly increasing dissatisfaction of the citizens of the States in the corn belt with the present tariff. Not a week goes by but that some publication in that section turns its editorial batteries upon this pet measure of the Industrial East. It is so following each session of Congress when the tariff is revised, but at every election our corn belt friends jump at the crack of the party lash and send to the National legislative halls men who make a loud noise in protesting the proposed schedules and then vote for it.

In a recent issue of Wallace's Farmer, the editor lays the hard times, now general throughout the world, to the high tariff wall erected around this country. We quote that publication as follows:

"Our greatest sin, especially in the eyes of the Germans, is that we insist on England, France and Italy paying their debts to our Government...."

"The United States tariff policy is even more responsible for maintaining world-wide depression than our stand on the allied debts. Political propaganda has deceived some of the European Nations into thinking that the tariff is the source of our prosperity, and so the Nations of the world are trying to set themselves apart from each other by tariff walls. It is a terrible thing that this should come right at a time when modern steamships, airplanes, radios, cables, etc., make it really possible to bring about the maximum of international prosperity by a free interchange of goods. What a tragedy it is that the United States, which really stands for the highest ideals, for brotherhood and international goodwill, should lead the way by her tariff example to international misunderstanding and widespread depression."

The greed of the industrialist of a few States, the most of which are in the Eastern section, is responsible in a very large degree for the unrest that is apparent throughout the world, according to the editor of Wallace's Farmer. Yet there are not enough United States senators in those States to have passed the present tariff law without the aid of the senators in the agricultural States. There are not enough congressmen even to have given the bill a hearing in the House, had not the congressmen from the States other than those who hoped to benefit by it, toed the mark and jumped at the command of party leaders. The industrially-minded States are not solely to blame for the tariff monstrosity from which we are suffering. Enough representatives and senators from the rest of the country joined in to make such a bill into a law.

While only about one-third of the people of this country live on farms, more than half of the people either live on farms or in small cities and towns and are directly dependent upon agriculture. These people, if they will, can control Congress and frame a tariff law more suitable to the needs of the country. But, just so long, as we countenance the purchase of seats in the Senate at a cost of more than a million dollars per seat, we may expect legislation favorable to those interests that can afford to pay the price.—Farm and Ranch.

METHODIST CHURCH

Unless providentially hindered the adults of the Sunday School are urged to be present at 9:45 Sunday. The Young People's and Children's Department have held up their attendance remarkably well. Now Dad and Mother are asked to join with them in attendance and quit playing hooky. We are trying to co-ordinate and unify the whole educational work of the church. The pastor rejoices that he is to labor in Brownfield again this year and requests the co-operation of each individual member in that part of the work for which he is especially fitted. If you would like to work see the pastor and get an assignment and let us be about our Master's business.

Services of the Church at eleven and seven-thirty o'clock.

ARMY TO USE NEW AUTOMATIC RIFLE

Washington, Nov.—A newly-designed automatic rifle which army ordnance experts believe will fill the long-felt want for such a weapon will be ready for test at an early date.

The new rifle was revealed in the annual report of Maj. Gen. Samuel Hof, chief of ordnance of the army.

Recently Hof, in an address before a body of ordnance manufacturers, pointed out that thus far no nation has adopted a light automatic rifle satisfactory in every respect for the use of infantry.

The weapon soon to be tested is the result of great research. It will be of the .30 calibre type and sufficiently light to be carried by foot-soldiers. The possibility exists that if the gun is found thoroughly satisfactory it may lead to a redistribution of infantry forces into smaller units, which, however, would have the same firing capacity as the present unit of 250 men equipped with rifles whose magazines hold only five bullets.

Hof's report also revealed that during the last year a semi-automatic 37 mm. gun has been completed and successfully tested.

Still another development of the last year in the ordnance field is a medium tank weighing 15 tons, equipped with two heavy guns and two machine guns, and having a speed of 15 miles per hour. It will be ready for tests soon.

Messrs. R. Pendleton and Bert Schremschertz, of Oklahoma, have opened a typewriter and adding machine cleaning and repairing plant in the Stevenson Radio Shop on the south side of the square. Mr. Pendleton has had years of experience in this work and knows his business. They will appreciate any business of this nature and guarantee to please and save you money.

Fire Losses in Texas Show Steady Decline

The economic period which we are experiencing shows a wholesome effect on the Fire Losses in the State of Texas, and the October Fire Loss of $455,747.00 is the lowest since June 1927. Also, the October Fire Loss for this year is over fifty per cent less than the October Fire Loss of 1929.

The records of the Texas Fire Insurance Department show that the Fire Loss in Texas for the first ten months of 1936 is approximately ONE MILLION DOLLARS less than the first ten months of 1929. The Fire Loss for the first ten months of 1929 was $10,607,049.00 as compared with $9,700,213.00 for the first ten months of 1936, showing a reduction of approximately $900,836.00 during the year of 1936 over the same period of 1929.

The Fire Loss in Texas during 1936 thus far, perhaps shows a lower loss ratio than any other State on comparative figures on total premiums and population basis, and this statement is based on facts and figures out by the National Board of Fire Underwriters of New York, which show that the Fire Loss in the United States for the first nine months of 1936 is approximately $20,547,085.00 greater than the first nine months of 1929, or an increase of something more than eight per cent.

The Texas Fire Insurance Department attributes the reduction in the Fire Loss of Texas during this year to the intensive campaign that has been waged by the Fire Prevention Division, and to the splendid cooperation that the department has received from the city officials, fire chiefs, fire marshals, civic clubs, and the splendid publicity accorded Fire Prevention by the newspapers of the various towns and cities of Texas.

Specific reference is made to the fact that the people of Texas are at last learning that the lower Fire Loss they have in their respective towns and cities the cheaper they will be able to secure insurance, and no doubt this has caused the people of Texas to become active in behalf of Fire Prevention and the reduction of their Fire Losses.

COTTON BURS PEP UP ALFALFA

Plainview—Adding cotton burs from the gin to an alfalfa field increased the yield 100 per cent this year for Fred Lowe, master farmer of Hale county who put the burs on this land because it had dropped in yield after years of watering and working. Alfalfa and oats were sowed on the field last spring and were placed the alfalfa is knee high as compared to ankle high alfalfa elsewhere.

WALTON'S FARM POLICY IS URGED FOR TEXAS

Seven poignant considerations are contained in a farm policy outlined for and urged upon Texas farmers by Dr. T. O. Walton, president of Texas A. & M. college. This farm policy is deftly explained in an article concerning the purpose and work of county agents, both farm and home, which appears under the title "Our Salt of the Earth" in the November issue of Texas Opportunities, a magazine published by the Texas Power and Light company and devoted entirely to discussion of subjects pertaining to Texas, its business and economic problems.

Dr. Walton's plan is outlined as follows: (1) preservation of land as capital stock; (2) Use of adapted crops and livestock; (3) Balancing the farm business; (4) employing low-cost methods; (5) living at home; (6) production of quality products; (7) marketing products on quality basis. The article embodying Dr. Walton's plan is written by W. H. Darrow who delves into the workings of county agents, particularly their activities that have resulted commendable results on Texas farms. Mr. Darrow declares "If extension work should end to-day there would be three million of acres protected by terraces; high producing dairy cows from pure bred bulls introduced in bull circles; countless were only native; modern home steam pressure canning; thousands of beautiful farm homes and living rooms and efficient kitchens—and about a score of advances that are permanent."

A "HITCH-HIKER" LESSON

In Colorado the driver of a truck owned by a corporation gave a ride to a "hitch hiker." The self-invited passenger fell while emerging from the truck at the end of the ride, and sustained serious injury. He sued the owner of the vehicle for damages and the trial jury awarded him $4,000.

That is the newest lesson on the bothersome subject of "hitch-hiking." Fort Worth is well acquainted with the practice. Recently a new traffic ordinance penalized it, but there seems to be little observance of the edict. Morning and afternoon find the usual number of youths lined up in the streets adjacent to the public school buildings. They express the familiar gestures of disdain toward those who ignore their importunities. The Fort Worth-Dallas Pike has its regular patronage, also. It may be presumed that there is an attractive percentage of rides to be found among the auto drivers or the system would automatically disappear.

It is to be regretted that the friendly old time system of giving rides to people walking must needs be discarded. It would be a nice privilege to pick up people along the route and it might be said parenthetically that the majority of people practiced it happily before it became too dangerous. First, the inventive genius of the petty criminal saw many potentialities in the friendly act and began a new species of "hitch-jacking" that shortly included murder. Then it was discovered that the simple appearing act of kindness carried damage responsibility. The Colorado instance is an example of the latter.

It is merely self-preservation to harden the sympathies against those who are walking or waiting while we are riding by. Those who would appreciate a ride are made to suffer with those who enjoy doing acts of kindness because of the possible consequences both criminally and civilly.

The "hitch-hiker" is due to permanent elimination.—Star-Telegram.

TEXAS BANKERS SEES PLAN FOR "COME BACK"

"We want joy riding and are just coming back home" is the concluding observation of an article by R. L. Thornton, president of the Mercantile Bank and Trust company of Texas and produced in the November issue of Texas Opportunities, a publication of Texas Power and Light company.

Mr. Thornton introduces his capable discussion of Texas business with reference to various questions asked each day of business leaders such as "What's the matter with business? When will it come back, etc." After admitting that a condition of serious nature has been in existence for several months, Mr. Thornton turns to a discussion of what can be done about it and the substance of his entire observation is that sane living by Texans will do more to help the state than any of the many other suggested remedies. The writer insists that not enough importance is placed upon the relation of income to expenditure by too many. There is wisdom in Mr. Thornton's urge "Go to work—work from sun to sun if necessary. Live within our incomes and pay for what we buy and buy what we can pay for. Practice frugality; for a dollar bill will buy more today than it has for several years. Our progress may be a little slower, but, if so, it will be more certain."

The Bible lesson was led by Mrs. McDonald and there were nine old members and three new ones present.

NEW RELIGIONS—WHO MAKES THEM?

"Humanism a new religion" reminds one of a statement made from his pulpit by Bishop Sam Hay when pastor of old Shearn Church, "Any fool with sufficient fool's cap paper, pen and ink can start a new religion."

The Open Forum is making a splendid record for itself this season. First the Wilson-Darrow show, pulling plenty of money from the crowd for the Forum sending plenty out through the pockets of Darrow and Wilson, while half the people shiver with hunger and cold. Everybody agrees it was a good show, and taking money out of a town is the first principle of every show. So that's that!

Now comes one Potter under auspices of the Forum who assumes to be the proponent of a "New Religion" who says he likes goats but does not like sheep so well.

It is strange how far people will stray seeking something new. So it was in the day of Paul the Apostle when he was accosted by the Athenians. "May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?" ("For the Athenians and the strangers which were there, spent their time in nothing else, but to either tell, or hear some new thing.") And Paul stood in the midst of Mars Hill, and said "Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious, for as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD." "And the times of this ignorance of God winked at; but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent."

Today Athens is numbered among the decadent people of the earth—Houston Mirror.

IT IS AND IT AINT

A few years ago it was a popular custom for merchants to advertise special sales as "Everybody Wins" sales. This seems to have been the case in the recent election. First we hear the Democratic donkey bray, "We win!" trumpets and g. o. p. elephant, "we win." Then the rabid "wet" shouts that we will soon be wading in beer, and points with gusto to some new moist garments that will be seen in the next congress; but the "dry" disciple, with a hoarse croak, calls attention to the fact that many voters cast "Democratic" ballots instead of "wet" ones, and insists that congress is still "safely dry."

Well, as there seems to be no danger of either a drought or a flood, as far as we are concerned we believe we'll survive, whichever way the darned animal went.—Sudan News.

HANKINS REPRESENTS CCH AT CHIHUAHUA

Mrs. and Mrs. J. W. McDonald of Lamesa were here Tuesday the guest of their brother S. L. McDonald and wife.

Not According to Gossett

It was reported to the late Dr. McCosh, while president of Princeton University, that a party was being held in one of the dormitories, "after hours". Thither the good doctor wended his way to investigate. To his knock at the door came the response.

"Who's that?"
"It's me," replied the doctor.
"Who's me?" came the query.
"Dr. McCosh," answered the doctor.

You're a liar; if it is old Jimmie he would say "It is I. Go about your business—" which Dr. McCosh did, on tiptoe, and refrained from telling the story for at least four years.

UNITED STATES HAS POPULATION OF 122,775,046

Washington, Nov.—The 1930 population of the United States is 122,775,046.

This figure was announced Saturday by the Census Bureau as the final total of the compilation started at the beginning of the year. All revisions have been completed.

The census report shows the number of inhabitants of the forty-eight States increased in the preceding decade by 17,064,426, or 16.1 per cent. The 1920 population was 105,710,620.

In the column showing the percentage of increase by States was a key to several important trends of the last ten years. Leading in this table was California with 65.7 per cent, Florida on its heels with 51.6 both showing the pull of climatic attractions. Third with 32 per cent was in Michigan, center of the fast growing automobile industry. Fourth was Arizona with 30.3.

Cause of Texas Increase.

New Jersey had 28.1 suggestive of the shift from metropolises to adjacent suburban territory. Texas, 24.9, and North Carolina, 23.9, pointed to the Southern advance in industry and agriculture. Oregon had 21.8, a symptom of the westward shift. New York, ninth in rank, had 21.2.

For tenth place West Virginia and Oklahoma tied at 18.1 per cent.

California led also in total gains, adding 2,250,390 inhabitants while New York State gained 2,202,839. Michigan, Texas and Illinois were the only other States to gain more than one million. Only one State, Montana, lost population, dropping 11,283.

The announcement included the outlying territories and possessions, except for the Philippine Islands. Substantial increases were shown by Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Canal Zone, with the Virgin Islands the only loser.

Sam Miller has moved back to the farm north of town. He just don't seem to like city life.

We noted some highway cops on the streets this week. They are keeping pretty close tab on the highways these days. Better watch out.

Bob Harris, local Santa Fe agent says their business is picking up now. Having to do some overtime occasionally. This is a pretty good indication of general conditions.

G. W. Hicks was in from the farm Saturday and reports operation out there moving along nicely.

Miss Paterson—"There's a boy who knows his A-B-C's and always minds his P's and Q's."

James Michie—"Yes, his mother probably weaned him on alphabet soup."

Wayne—"Felton surely is religious now."

Mitchel—"What's happened?"

Wayne—"His flivver stalled in front of a church and when he tried to crank it, it kicked the Devil out of him."

Nut Diffey—"Where will we eat today. Sap?"

Sap Burleson—"Let's go eat up the street."

Nut Diffey—"No, I don't like asphalt."

Mr. Lawlis—"I know every language but Greek."

Miss Patterson—"Let me hear you speak French."

Mr. Lawlis—"Oh, that's all Greek to me."

Lloyd—"Ma, these pants are to small for me, they are tighter than my skin."

Mother—"Don't be foolish, son, nothing is tighter than your skin."

Lloyd—"I know better cause I can sit down in my skin, but I can't in these trousers."

Mother—"If you wanted to go swimming, why didn't you come ask me first?"

James Parker Davis—"Because I wanted to go swimming."

Mr. Hayhurst—"Is this a second hand store?"

Clerk—"Yes."

Mr. Hayhurst—"Well I need one on my watch."

James—"I heard Cecil was hurt, how did it happen?"

Mitchel—"Do you see that ditch over there?"

Mitchel—"Well, he didn't."

Mother—"What's the matter, can't you skate?"

Leo—(trying for first time) "I don't know yet, I can't stand up long enough to find out."

Miss Perkins—"Luther, name some collective nouns."

Luke—"Fly paper and vacuum cleaners."

Mr. Lawlis has made an announcement of a scientific discovery of his. He says that, "one-half of the married people in the world are men."

Miss Taylor—"Name two corn products."

Venus—"Corn beef and acorns."

Mr. White—"Give me the definition of the word, generous."

Jack Stricklin—"A woman General."

Miss Long—"How much time did you spend on your Spanish?"

Louise—"I judge between 30 and 40 minutes."

Miss Long—"I understand, about 10 minutes."

Mr. Hayhurst—"Oh, Miss Taylor, I'm sick, call me a taxi quick."

Miss Taylor—"Alright you're a taxi."

HOOVER, THE PRESIDENT; HOOVER, THE MAN

(Tucumcari News)

Just two short years ago last week Herbert Hoover was elected president of the United States by the most overwhelming majority a man was ever given for a high office.

Millions and millions of citizens of the United States thought him one of the greatest men of the world.

But what a change two short years have brought about.

Intwo short years he has become, to a great majority of the people, the greatest apostle of hard time yet to appear on the public stage of American affairs.

He is looked upon by a majority of those who were worshipping him as a hero, as a demi-god, as the anathema of everything that brings misery, suffering and hard times.

He's the same as he was two years ago, has the same ideas, ideals, but how he has fallen!

Herbert Hoover must awaken in mind of the thoughtful sympathy, sorrow for his plight at this time, and he deserves that sympathy.

Think of the thoughts in the president's mind, of the feeling in the president's heart—when he recalls two years ago, then reads the newspapers and the magazines and turns the dial on the radio.

Two years ago he was virtually worshipped by the American people, but what of today?

No president was ever in as many hearts as was Hoover and no president has ever been slapped in the face as was Hoover last week.

A man of vast pride—how that pride must make him suffer—the emoluments of the high office in no way alleviate that suffering.

A mind picture of our president, in the cold still hours of the night, thinking, thinking. It can but arouse sympathy in the mind of the thoughtful.

But such is politics, such is fame, such is life.

How times do change! The fire-eating Mabel Wilderbant Walker of the Hoover campaign, who saw red whenever intoxicants of any description was mentioned, is now the attorney for a corporation engaged in the manufacture and sale of a new form of grape juice which carries with the specific directions for making wine instantly from the product. And she and her company is getting by in the sale of the product as far as the prohibition enforcement officers are concerned, although Al Capone and his gang have given notice that the sale of this new beverage will not be tolerated in his territory.

THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX HAS MANY IMPROVEMENTS

The introduction of the new Chevrolet Six marks the most impressive forward step in Chevrolet's twenty-year record of constant progress and improvement.

For this Bigger and Better Six offers new beauty of line and color, new luxury, new completeness and new quality—yet it sells at lower prices!

In every curve and sweep of Chevrolet's modern lines—in every detail of its smart new Fisher bodies, you will see the fine hand of the master designer and the skillful craftsman. And the more closely you inspect it, the more deeply impressed you will be.

The improvements in the new Chevrolet Six begin at the smart new chrome-plated headlamps and extend throughout the entire car. The radiator is deeper and unusually efficient. Due to the increased wheelbase, the lines are longer and lower, giving an air of exceptional fitness and grace. And the new Fisher bodies combine with this more attractive exterior appearance, a new degree of interior luxury.

The upholstery is of fine quality mohair or broadcloth, carefully tailored and fitted. The number of individual springs in the rear seat cushions has been increased by 25%. The windshield and windows have been redesigned to provide wider vision. And all interior fittings have been made more pleasing to the eye.

The chassis of the new Chevrolet Six has also been refined and advanced in a number of different ways. The frame is heavier, deeper and stronger than before. There is a smoother operating, long lived clutch; a sturdier front axle; an entirely new steering mechanism of the worm and sector type; an easier shifting transmission. In fact, every vital feature of the new car has been made better and more satisfactory to the owner.

Obviously, these many improvements are responsible for a higher standard of quality than before. And they become doubly significant when you consider that they are offered in a car which provides the smooth, quiet, flexible performance of a 50-horsepower, six-cylinder motor—the comfort of four long semi-elliptic springs and four hydraulic shock absorbers—the safety of a gasoline tank at the rear of the car—and an economy of operation not surpassed by any automobile.

AT NEW LOW PRICES

Fine as it is, the new Chevrolet Six now sells at lower prices—making the economy and satisfaction of Chevrolet ownership even more outstanding. We urge you to come in and see the Bigger and Better Chevrolet. Its modern design reflects the spirit of the times—and it represents a value which will command the interest of every buyer in the low-price field.

Big Poultry Show
At Slaton Dec. 10-12

Slaton, Texas, Nov.—All arrangements for the first annual Texas Panhandle-Plains Poultry Show here on December 10, 11 and 12, are being completed rapidly, and prospects are that there will be 1,000 or more birds on exhibition, according to Taylor White, of Tahoka, president of the Panhandle-Plains association.

Nearly 2,000 catalogues and premium lists for the show have been sent to leading breeders and producers in the 54 Panhandle-Plains counties. Interest in the show is gratifying and splendid co-operation is being shown through the area, Mr. White said.

Separate premium lists have been prepared for fancy classes and production types or utility fowls, and separate judges will make awards in these two divisions.

A highly attractive educational program has been arranged, including a one-day Poultry Short Course on Thursday, December 11. Leading speakers will include a number of poultry experts.

Special meetings have been planned for hatchery operators and for vocational agriculture teachers of the Panhandle-Plains section. The hatchery men will meet on December 10 and the vocational men on December 12. All exhibitors at the show will be urged to attend the annual banquet of the association on the night of December 10.

A number of educational displays will be set up in the showrooms. A brick building 50 by 140 will house the show, and regardless of weather conditions all birds will be well cared for.

Reports indicate a large attendance upon the show from all parts of the Panhandle-Plains territory, officials have said.

AMARILLO WILL BUILD NEW $420,000 COURT HOUSE SOON

Amarillo, Nov.—Bids will be received by the Potter County Commissioners on Dec. 11 on the new courthouse to be erected here. As a result of a recent bond issue, 420,000 is available for the erection of the new building, which is to be an eight-story structure.

Dig Wells to Test
Out Silica Products

Further silica tests are now being made in the lake lying across the highway seven miles south of Tahoka to determine the feasibility of mining the silica deposits to be found beneath the surface in this lake. Seven test holes are now being dug on this land with a view to determining the thickness and the depth of the deposits. The lease is held by Dr. J. W. McDonald of Houston who is having the tests made.

Recent analyses of the deposits show them to have the following mineral content: Potassium oxide, 5.26 per cent sodium, 3.22 per cent; lime, 2 per cent; magnesia, 1.16 per cent; iron, 2.37 per cent; Aluminum, 14.63 per cent; silica, 64.55 per cent; water, 6.8 per cent.

Silica is the base for soaps and cleansers and other useful products, and there is a wide demand for it.

It is understood that Dr. McDonald is now negotiating with prospective purchasers of the product and if a deal should be closed mining operations will probably be begun at an early date.—Tahoka News.

Bowers Bros. Buy
Seagraves Feed Store

Announcement was made last week that Armstrong & Nickell had sold their wholesale and retail feed business to Bower Bros., of Brownfield. The change in ownership was effective last week. Mr. John Turner will be retained as local manager for the new owners and extends an invitation to call and see him.

This change in ownership will give the patrons a wider range of feed stuff to select from since Bower Bros., operate a grinding and mixing plant at Brownfield in which they use home grown feed in making up several of their special brands. See their ad in this paper.—Seagraves Signal.

A ROVING ALLEY-CAT
By Mary Cockburn Romke

I'm an alley cat—
A lean cat and lone.
A bad cat; a ragged cat and sad.
I'm a lanky, serawny, tailless cat,
A bobbed cat—a Tom.
A hungry, fighting cat and mad.
The minstrel of the night—
The still night; the dark night and light.
I'm no one's petting party.
Not for me the cozy fireside or the hearth—
I'm no lap or cushion cat.
But a night hawk bold and free
A wild cat—and glad!
A half fed cat—and starved.
No ribbon 'round my neck,
No saucer filled with "muck."
I'm just living on my luck.
I'm a bold cat with fleas,
The kind dogs like to tease,
I'm a target for your missiles and your jests—
I've been sworn at and thrown at,
I'm lame and have but half an ear
But my voice is strong and clear
As I sing my song of cheer
On the back fence,
In the alley at the rear.

Farmer Speaks Mind On Huskster Stalls

The Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a letter from one who signs himself "Just A Farmer" in which he has much to say concerning the parking of Huskster Trucks along the North side of the square. He wonders why the chamber of commerce, commissioners and city officials permit the practice and says that there is a number of other citizens, including farmers, who are not pleased upon account of the fact that they are forced to park their cars in out of the way places and then come in to do their trading. His letter is right interesting and would be published but for the fact that he fails to sign his name and unsigned communications cannot be used by a newspaper without an element of risk. It might be well to advise the writer of the letter, that city officials are investigating the manner in which other towns are handling similar propositions and if a way can be found to place a ban upon the promiscuous sale of merchandise along the curbs, they expect to undertake to put a stop to it, but under the state law from which the city is operating, the payment of $1.50 for each quarter or $6.00 annual license is all that is required to be collected from trucks or cars for the sale of merchandise such as is offered at this time.

West Texas Products Exceed Many States

Stamford, Nov.—Value of agricultural production of West Texas exceeds that of either California, Missouri or Florida, according to information compiled by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce from the United States agricultural census. Comparative figures on the four states were called to the attention of the nation during the weekly WTCC radio hour over WBAP, Fort Worth, on Wednesday evening, November 12, from 11 p. m. to midnight.

West Texas farmers, according to the 1925 census of agriculture—the latest available figures—received an average of $23.73 per acre from their crops, while California farmers averaged $19.63 per acre. In 1924, the values of all the farm crops in the 132 counties in West Texas aggregated $223,574,743. This wealth was produced on 13,637,637 acres of cultivated land. For the same year, from 8,401,342 acres of farm land, California produced $154,883,599 worth of crops.

Total areas of the two sections are approximately the same. West Texas has an area of almost exactly 100,000,000 acres of land and California approximately 99,000,000. The West Texas farmer received, according to the government figures, $1.208 from the same amount of crop land that paid to his brother tiller of the ground in California, an even $1.00. Missouri, in 1924, had a cultivated area of 15,278,436 acres which produced $249,120,835 worth of crops. A comparison of these figures with those for West Texas for the same year show that West Texas was considerably ahead on an acre for acre return.

The cultivated area of West Texas is about three times that of Florida—the last named state having 35,000,000 acres devoted to crops in 1924, as against the 100,000,000 in West Texas. The value of crops in Florida was approximately 35 million dollars as compared with around 323 million for West Texas, or a ratio of more than 8 to 1 in favor of West Texas.

This is the first time these interesting comparative figures have been called to the public attention and they are attracting much attention as have a number of other items which have been included on the WTCC radio programs. An average of 15 letters and telegrams are coming to the regional organization each day from people in various parts of the United States and Canada who have "listened in" to the broadcasts, asking for more detailed information about the advantages and resources of the territory.

The radio program on West Texas is made possible through the generosity of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Record-Telegram management owners of station WBAP. The entertainment part of the broadcasts is furnished by the Fort Worth All-Ladies Band, the gold medal band of the WTCC for this year.

SHE KNEW HER STUFF

Not all motorists are ignorant of traffic rules, red and green lights, and other rules and regulations for public safety in cities. In Lubbock last Saturday we witnessed an incident of traffic knowledge by a well-known lady of that town. She had done everything wrong.

She had disregarded the signal lights, then stalled in the middle of the street, and before starting had taken out her powder puff and started to apply it to her face. An irate traffic officer rushed up: "Say lady, do you know anything at all about traffic rules?" "Why, yes. What is it that you want to know?"
